BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXX. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 4, 1905 NO. 12.

County Correspondence.

GUNPOWDER.

Jan. 2.—J. H. Walton was in this neighborhood last Saturday on official business. He made the writer a brief call.

J. H. Tanner and wife entertained with a big dinner last Sunday.

Mrs. Lizzie Bartell, of Florence, is visiting friends in this neighborhood.

P. O. Griffin and family, of Erlanger, were guests at M. R. Tanner's Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. J. C. Hankins and little daughter, Oma, of Hebron, spent last Friday with Mrs. Florence Floyd.

We learn from a private wire that Albert Beemon has taken up his abode with his brother-in-law, Geo. Delph.

J. P. Snyder, the hustling feed store man of Erlanger, was in our burg last Saturday, taking orders for corn, millstuff, feed, &c.

John Tanner holds the record of having hauled more water than any body in this neck of the woods, but he has left off that part of his business since the rains and says he has water to burn now.

J. M. Utz, who accompanied his son-in-law, John Aylor, to Hot Springs, returned last Wednesday. Mr. Aylor will remain a while for the benefit of his health. We are glad to say he was improving when Bro. Utz left.

o o o

RICHWOOD.

Excelsior Grange meets Saturday the 7th inst. at 2 p. m

Mr. Clark and son, Richard, of Ludlow, were guests of Ell Carpenter, last week.

Eldridge Carpenter is the proud owner of a new shot gun presented by his parents.

Jasper Boothe has a new phonograph which made its debut at the Excelsior oyster supper Wednesday

The heavy winds played havoc last week. Will Gaskon and Bud Carpenter received reminders of its force.

M. R. Tanner has sold his farm near Sandlick creek to Frank Williams and has purchased a place on Long Branch.

We have better luck with our ferrets than the Burlington fanciers. Ours have performed very satisfactorally up to date.

Woodford Carpenter will be with the bank for another year. We congratulate the bank officials and Woodford too.

J. T. Powers, Martin Bailey and Carry Carpenter gave parties or hops to the delighted young folks during the holidays.

Richwood base ball manager has signed several players for the season of 1905, while some are holding out for more money.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Carpenter attended the funeral of Mrs. Carpenter's grandmother, Mrs. Swetman, at Independence, Saturday.

Excelsior Grange supper was a success notwithstanding the rough roads and intense cold. A good sized crowd enjoyed a good supper.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

Jan. 2.—Sunday was an ideal New Year's day.

Mrs. Will Jones is quite sick.

Mrs. Legrand Gaines will leave for Florida, tomorrow.

Mrs. John Conner is visiting at Logan port, Indiana.

Francesville, accept Idlewild's thanks for your good wishes.

Luther Scothorn and wife visited relatives at North Bend, Sunday.

Courtney Walton and wife were guests at B. C. Graddy's, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gaines were guests at R. C. Gaines' one day last week.

Mrs. Albert Gray is with her father at Harrison, Ohio. He is very sick.

John Harvey, who has lived at R. C. Gaines' for several years moved to Allie Corn's.

Mrs. W. A. Gaines entertained the young people, Saturday. Covers were laid for seven teen.

Mrs. Milton Souther spent one day last week with her sister, Mrs. Owen Allen, near Petersburg.

Bernard Gaines was at home during the holidays, and looked as though college life agrees with him.

Mrs. B. R. Gaines and Misses Ida Berkshire and Virginia Gaines called on Idlewild friends Saturday.

Mrs. Ella Terrill, sister of Mrs. B. R. Gaines, is spending the winter in Boston with her brother, Dr. Woodward.

Milton Souther and wife spent New Years day with her brother, William Stephens, and family, near Petersburg.

Of what county is the ferret a native?—[Ask John Baldon and Charles Westaby. They are authority.—ED.]

Prof. Everett Jones gave us considerable information in regard to the minute app their lives while he was at home.

Mr. J. T. Gaines, of Ludlow, was here one day last week, and reported the Boone county colony there as doing well.

Rev Edgar Riley was looking well as he passed here Saturday on his way to Bellevue to see his best girl and fill his appointment.

It is now thought that it will not be necessary to amputate the foot of Jesse Bowman, the young man who accidentally shot himself last week.

Saved From Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Robbitt, of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles Free at all Druggists.

NORTH BEND.

Last Tuesday Miss Bessie Cropper gave a delightful dinner party to several of her friends. About 15 guests attended, and after a royal feast and a glorious time they departed for their homes, singing the praises of the whole Cropper family. Miss Bessie always entertains beautifully, and with the assistance of her intelligent and interesting mother as hostess, and her big hearted, hospitable father, as host, her guests are assured a hearty welcome and delightful time at any of her social entertainments. Her mother and father jointly possess that happy personality that makes their guests feel that they are not merely welcomed, but that they are delighted to have them there. Miss Bessie is a model young lady. She is handsome, beautiful and intelligent, easily approached and possesses that charming faculty of making one feel perfectly comfortable in her presence. Her cheerful disposition enables her to carry sunshine into every circle she enters. The handsome and commodious homestead of this hospital family stands upon a beautiful mound in the midst of stately forest trees, near the foot of the hill which forms the southern boundary of that rich, fertile and picturest body of land, composing the North Bend Bottoms, and commands the view of the country north and south of the river, and for miles east and west. I had to forego the pleasure of accepting Miss Bessie's kind invitation to be a guest at her dinner party on account of official duties, but I applied a soothing balm to my frustated desire to be present by communicating my profound regrets over the telephone in the midst of the feast.

o o o

COMMISSARY.

Dec. 31.—A clean youth makes a clear old age.

Mrs. Leomer Louden spent Xmas with Mrs. Jesse Louden.

Geo. Ranes, of Lost Section, spent Xmas with Asa Delph, of Clore's Ridge.

We have better luck with our ferrets than the Burlington fanciers. Ours have performed very satisfactorally up to date.

Woodford Carpenter will be with the bank for another year. We congratulate the bank officials and Wood ford too.

J. T. Powers, Martin Bailey and Carry Carpenter gave parties or hops to the delighted young folks during the holidays.

Richwood base ball manager has signed several players for the season of 1905, while some are holding out for more money.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Carpenter attended the funeral of Mrs. Carpenter's grandmother, Mrs. Swetman, at Independence, Saturday.

Excelsior Grange supper was a success notwithstanding the rough roads and intense cold. A good sized crowd enjoyed a good supper.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

Jan. 2.—Sunday was an ideal New Year's day.

Mrs. Will Jones is quite sick.

Mrs. Legrand Gaines will leave for Florida, tomorrow.

Mrs. John Conner is visiting at Logan port, Indiana.

Francesville, accept Idlewild's thanks for your good wishes.

Luther Scothorn and wife visited relatives at North Bend, Sunday.

Courtney Walton and wife were guests at B. C. Graddy's, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gaines were guests at R. C. Gaines' one day last week.

Mrs. Albert Gray is with her father at Harrison, Ohio. He is very sick.

John Harvey, who has lived at R. C. Gaines' for several years moved to Allie Corn's.

Mrs. W. A. Gaines entertained the young people, Saturday. Covers were laid for seven teen.

Mrs. Milton Souther spent one day last week with her sister, Mrs. Owen Allen, near Petersburg.

Bernard Gaines was at home during the holidays, and looked as though college life agrees with him.

Mrs. B. R. Gaines and Misses Ida Berkshire and Virginia Gaines called on Idlewild friends Saturday.

Mrs. Ella Terrill, sister of Mrs. B. R. Gaines, is spending the winter in Boston with her brother, Dr. Woodward.

Milton Souther and wife spent New Years day with her brother, William Stephens, and family, near Petersburg.

Of what county is the ferret a native?—[Ask John Baldon and Charles Westaby. They are authority.—ED.]

Prof. Everett Jones gave us considerable information in regard to the minute app their lives while he was at home.

Mr. J. T. Gaines, of Ludlow, was here one day last week, and reported the Boone county colony there as doing well.

Rev Edgar Riley was looking well as he passed here Saturday on his way to Bellevue to see his best girl and fill his appointment.

It is now thought that it will not be necessary to amputate the foot of Jesse Bowman, the young man who accidentally shot himself last week.

Saved From Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Robbitt, of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles Free at all Druggists.

BEAVER.

Mrs. C A. Slater has a severe attack of lagrippe.

Prof. Elmore's singing class met at J. L. Jones', last Friday night.

Our local fur dealers report furs very scarce in this part of the county.

Annie Pearl, daughter of T. J. Hughes, is very sick of pneumonia.

The Baptists here have called Rev. Wills to preach for them the ensuing year.

Miss Annie Cleek, who has been spending the holidays at home will return to Georgetown college, this week.

J. S. Taylor, manager of the Beaver Mercantile Store, who has been suffering for some time of rheumatism, has gone to Hot Springs, Ark., for a few weeks' stay.

In looking over our diary we find in the last year in this precinct we have had 6 fatalities, 4 males and 2 females. Married, 5—3 males and 2 females. Births, 13—5 ma[illegible] and 8 females.

o o o

BELLEVUE.

Jan. 2.—How do you get along writing it 1905?

Mrs. Mary Corbin is still very ill.

Mrs. Belle Clore's little child is getting better.

Mrs. Mary Klopp, of Woolper, is visiting relatives here.

Phelix Arnold, of Owensboro, is visiting his brethers and sisters here.

Misses Blanch Kelly and Alma Corbin have returned to school at Aurora.

Everybody here is grieving because of the serious illness of Mrs. James Rogers.

Horace Hewitt and wife, of Aurora, were guest at Sebern Berkshire's, last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Stella Barker makes an efficient postmistress, and we hope Uncle Sam will continue her in office.

Last Sunday was just such a New Year's day as that of 29 years ago, but nothing like that of 41 years ago.

Rev Edgar Riley preached an excellent sermon here Sunday. The attendance at Sunday school was 82.

o o o

BULLITTSVILLE.

The mercury dropped 20 degrees in about an hour, last Tuesday.

Dr. Ed Grant and wife, of Louisville, visited relatives here last week.

T. G. Willis spent several days last week with C. A. Gaines and family, of Ludlow.

Jim Day and wife spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Grace Murphy, in Cincinnati.

Will Pepper and sister, of North Bend, visited Earnest Brown and wife, several days last week.

Kenneth Baisley who has been dangerously sick the past three weeks, we are sorry to say, does not improve He now has an abscess on one of his lungs.

Jas. Brown and wife, of Idlewild, Mrs. Wm. Brown and children of Francesville; Mrs. Chas. Uizinger, of Garrison; and Mrs. Wm. Helm, of Indiana, spent Sunday with Earnest Brown and wife.

Strayed or stolen, 5 turkeys, 2 dark hens with gray wings, 2 black hens and 1 black tom. They have tips of their wings clipped and the tom has a wire ring around one foot. Been gone since Dec 25th. Any information conceruing them will be thankfully received by Bert Smith at the toll gate between Bullittsville and Idlewild, address Idlewild, Ky.

o o o

MCVILLE.

A large crowd of friends and relatives attended the turkey dinner given by R. D. Akin and wife on the 25th inst.

Miss Clara Rice spent a few days in Waterloo neighborhood, last week.

On Tuesday the 27th of Dec. we spent one of the pleasantest days we ever had, attending the dinner given by the Bellevue Masonic Lodge. The ladies of McVille and the surrounding country helped to serve the greater part of the feast. After dinner the members of the lodge adjourned to their hall and elected officers as follows for the coming year: Jeff Williamson, Master; Walter Marshall, sr. Warden; W. W. Grant, jr., Warden; Moses Scott, Sec. R. O. Ryle, Treasurer, W. H. Williamson, 1st Steward; M. McMullen, 2d Steward. George R. Williamson, Tyler; J. P. Ryle, S. Deacon, Chas. Maurer, Deacon. After the installation of the officers the members offered resolutions of thanks to the ladies of McVille and surrounding country for the kindness shown their lodge in its annual meeting.

o o o

BEECH GROVE.

Tench Stephens' little baby is very low with pneumonia.

J. W. Ryle took off another bunch of furs last Thursday night.

Several from this neighborhood attended the oyster dinner given by the Masons at McVille, last Thursday night.

Do Not Suppress a Cough.

When you have a cough do not try to suppress it, but remove the cause. The cough is only a symptom of some disease, and the disease is what you should cure, then the cough will stop of itself. The most common cause of coughing is a cold. Anodynes will promptly suppress the cough, and preparations containing chloroform, opium, etc., are used for that purpose, but they do not cure the cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on the other hand does not suppress the cough, but relieves it by removing from the throat and lungs the mucus which obstructed the breathing and allaying the irritation and tickling in the throat. It also opens the secretions and effectually and permanently cures the cold as well as the cough. For Sale by all Druggists

There will be a public installation of the officers of Greenwood Grange at the Grange Hall, Hebron, Ky., at 2 p. m., Thursday, Jan. 12th, 1905. Hon. Mortimer Whitehead, Past Lecturer of the National Grange will conduct the installation. Everybody invited.

Burley Tobacco Growers.

It seems now that the great movement among the farmers which has been under head way for the last two years for the purpose of better prices for our tobacco has been almost completed. The capital stock has been taken and the typing of tobacco is under headway, in different counties, but it will necessarily take some little time to cover all the counties in the organized district. Now a word to the many who have not had an opportunity to subscribe their tobacco to the Growers Company. We most earnestly urge that every one of the class hold their tobacco until our receiving points are established by the board of control, which will be made as convenient to all as possible. Then haul your tobacco to this company where you will receive from $25 to $40 more per acre than you have been able to receive for the last 15 years.

Now, a word to the many who have had a chance to subscribe their tobacco and have refused to lend a helping hand to this, one of the greatest movements (if successful) ever set on foot by the farmers for better prices. To the last named class, for the benefit of yourselves, your neighbor, your faithful tenant who has been so poorly paid for his hard labor, wont you repent of the past mistake and take hold of this movement with all your might and main. Remember, if this is a success this year you need not fear but what it can be made a success for years to come. In regard to stock in the association, there has been arrangements made so the farmers can still take stock as well as subscribe his tobacco. Every farmer who will stop to give one moment's thought to this question will at once realize that the farmer is the one to hold the stock so as to fully control the movement. Bro. Farmers, just think how solid this organization will be when every tobacco grower subscribes his tobacco, and then to think we are only asked to take ten dollars to the acre in stock, and receive the advance mentioned before. In all the work we have done we have the first man to find who did not say at once if it can be accomplished it will be a great help to the farmer. Now, is the movement not worth an effort? You must admit that it is and now is the time for all to act. As I heard a banker of Union say it seemed to him it was the tobacco growers time to act now or never. Failure this time would mean the old prices, from five to seven cents, for their tobacco. A few arguments which have been put before the people are in the first place when the farmer began to try to organize the great trusts stood back and told them to go ahead with their organization. They had enough tobacco on hand to last them three years and could starve them out. Now about this threat? After learning that the company had come so near making a success and fearing an effort would be made another year they changed their argument. After buying up at least 80 per cent of the 1903 crops, the price was raised from 7 cents to about 18, and the trust then told us the supply was so short it was necessary to do this to keep the Independent manufacturer from getting the tobacco. This last argument was made inside of ten months from the first. Does either argument look reasonable? I should say no. The first was simply a bluff; the second was for a purpose. Which came nearest being successful as it was very hard for the farmer (or at least some of them) to understand the game the great trust was playing. We hear some men speak of the farmers organization as a trust. Let this be as it may, we know when we sell an article for 7 cents per pound and buy it back at 40 cents per pound with enough cheap ingredients added to make up for loss in manufacturing, we are being robbed of at least half what should be ours.

JOE W. CLEEK.

VERONA.

The public school will have new slate black boards put in this week.

Prof. J. H. Craven, of Covington, came home to spend the holidays.

John E. Roberts will return to Asbery college Tuesday to resume his studies for the ministry.

John Wilford has resigned as postmaster here, and O. K. Whitson and Lafe Kennedy are applicants for the office.

Misses Maggie and Susie Johnson, of Walton, who have been visiting relatives here, returned home last Wednesday.

A very interesting revival meeting has been in progress during the holidays here, at the M. E. church. Rev. Moulin is a very able and instructive gospel leader. The good seed has been sown and it is hoped that it will bring forth many fold yield for the Master's cause. Rev. Hardin was a splendid vocal leader.

A very quiet wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Roberts, on Wednesday, Dec 21st at 5 p. m. The contracting parties are Miss Bertha and Mr. Robert Baker. Rev. S. M. Adams officiated in a very impressive manner, pronouncing them man and wife. The bride and groom repaired to the home of Mr. Clay Baker, his father, where a sumptuous reception awaited them.

Bought Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and Sent it to a Friend.

Mr. E. W. J. Fletcher, a druggist in Victoria, Australia, says: "A customer of mine, was so well pleased with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which she had used for her children when suffering from colds and croup, that during a fortnight's time she obtained at my shop, nine bottles, which she sent to her friends in different parts of the state, telling them how much good it had done and advising them to give it a trial. For sale by all Druggists.

Jailer Samuel Adams continues on the sick list.

BIG BONE

J. M. Baker, of Covington, was here among his many friends Saturday and Sunday.

Harry Jones and wife were visiting their parents J. E. Jones and wife at Midway Sunday.

W. L. H. Baker and family attended the birthday dinner at Mr. Perry Johnson's, Saturday.

The supper given at I. O. O. F. Hall Dec. 27th was well attended and all had a good time J. D Moore our popular merchants took the prize awarded to the one eating the most. He ate 1 quart of oysters, 6 plates of soup and ½ of a goose.

The Old Reliable who made his journey around through the county had better come again and let the people get better acquainted with him. That dinner he ate at Mr. Allen's was not when they were away from home, and the night he spent with Mr. B. H. Stevens was a surprise to him and his family. As he don't believe in story telling he would like for the gentleman to call again and explain.

UNION.

Mr. Cropper, of Bullittsville, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Elizabeth Huey.

The Ladies Baptist Aid Society will meet with Mrs. L. L. Tanner, Thursday, Jan. 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wolf and children, of Richwood, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Tanner, Saturday.

The Ladies Baptist Society surprised Mrs. Crouch Saturday afternoon with a delightful lunch. Dr. and Mrs. Crouch leave shortly to spent several months in the South.

The following guest were present at the luncheon given by Miss Fannie Long at her home near Richwood, on Friday afternoon: Mr. and Mrs. John Delehaunty, Misses Alva Williams, Eva Smith, Opha Riley, Stella Taylor, Anna Hearn, Messrs. Jesse Delehaunty, Courtney Williams, Charles Denedy, Harry Riley, George Scott, Frank Smith, and John Broughton.

A Very Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor, from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by All Druggists.

QUARTERLY REPORT

Of the Union Deposit Bank at the close of business on Dec. 31st, 1904:

RESOURCES

Loans and Discounts		$24,024 83
Overdrafts uncured		63 19
Due from National Banks		7,775 98
Banking House and Lot		1,815 35
Mortgages		3,885 00
Specie	$ 135 57
Currency	1,408 14	1,543 71
Furniture and Fixtures		1,598 76
Current Exp. Last Quarter		293 15
		$40,989 76

LIABILITIES

Capital Stock paid in, in cash	$20,000 00
Surplus Fund	370 57
Undivided Profits	713 17
Due Depositors	19,906 02
	$38,475 76

Supplementary.

Highest amount of indebtedness of any stockholder, person, company or firm (including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof) directly or indirectly, if such indebtedness exceeds 20 per cent of capital stock actually paid in, and actual amount of surplus of the bank.	0
How is indebtedness in above item 1 secured?	0
Highest amount of indebtedness of any director or officer, if amount of such indebtedness exceeds 10 per cent of paid up capital stock of bank.	0
How is same secured?	0
Does amount of indebtedness of any person, company or firm including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof, exceed 30 per cent of paid up capital and actual surplus?	0
If so state amount of such indebtedness.
Amount of last dividend.	0
Were all expenses, losses, interest and taxes deducted therefrom before declaring dividend, and was not less than 10 per cent of net profits of the bank for the period covered by the dividend carried to the surplus fund before said dividend was declared.	0

State of Ky. County of Boone. } ss.

I, J. L. Frazier, cashier of Union Deposit Bank, a bank located a doing business in the town of Union in said county, being duly sworn, says the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said bank, at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec., 1904, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31st day of Dec., 1904, as the day on which such report shall be made.

J. L. Frazier, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by J. L. Frazier, cashier, the 3d day Jan., 1905. H. Bannister,

Notary Public Boone County, Ky.

My commission expires Jan. 18, 1908.

J. W. Kennedy, Director.

M. J. Crouch, Director.

Ezra A. Blankenbeker, Director.

The PRIMROSE PATH

NAN PATTERSON HAS FOLLOWED IT TO THE PRISON BARS.

Whether Innocent or Guilty of Murder She Is Paying the Penalty of a Life of So-Called Pleasure.

Attracted by the Glare of the Footlights She Forsakes Family and Friends for the Tinsel of the Stage---A Moral in Her Tragedy.

NAN PATTERSON

New York.—"From the Glare of the Footlights to the Gloom of a Cell in the Tombs," would be a fitting title to a story of the life of Nan Patterson, the former show girl, charged with the murder of Caesar Young, the well-known horseman and bookmaker.

Only a short step and a few brief moments from the stage with the plaudits of hundreds still ringing in her ears as she gaily danced in the famous "Floradora" sextette in the glare of the calcium, to the dismal depths of the prison, to be branded as a murderer by thousands and to hear the bitter and cutting words of the stern prosecutor as he laid bare the secrets of her past life.

Such, in brief, has been the experience of Nan Patterson, and it has turned her from a beautiful and care-free girl to a prematurely aged woman.

There are those who declare her innocent of the crime charged to her; say she is only an unfortunate victim of circumstances who is reaping the reward of a life generally and generously known as "fast."

DEATH OF CAESAR YOUNG.

Whether she is guilty or innocent of the murder of Young will probably never be positively known to any but her and her Maker. She has been brought before the earthly bar of Justice, where crafty and skillful lawyers have tried to fasten the crime on her while others have tried to free her, and the 12 men have been unable to agree.

Adopts Life of Stage.

Nan Randolph Patterson was quite well known along Broadway among theatrical people for several years before she so suddenly took the center of the stage. Among the profession though it was simply Nan Randolph.

She was born in Washington, D. C., the daughter of a minister, and was raised amid the religious surroundings of a Christian home.

Always of a wild and wilful disposition, the simple life did not appeal to her. She was an uncommonly beautiful child, and the praise called forth by her good looks, as she grew older, turned her thoughts in directions wholly opposed to that intended for her by her parents, and before she was many years in her teens she went to New York and obtained a place in the chorus.

Stage life caused her to forget the religious training she had received. The glitter of the spangles and the gay life of the actor folk appealed to her, and she decided to become a great actress.

Surely there was nothing harmful behind the footlights, she thought.

Fine clothes and a "good time" were to her liking.

She was handsome in face and form and it was not long before young scions of wealthy families and elderly men of means who haunt the "bald head" row began to haunt the stage door and make her acquaintance.

The flowers and champagne suppers they furnished were also not amiss. Jewels and gems were showered on her and more than one, smitten with her beauty, laid their hearts at her feet and begged her hand in marriage.

But she refused them all, and finally married a young man in the profession named Martin.

Her Meeting with Young.

The confining bonds of matrimony were evidently not to her liking, and when "Floradora," a musical comedy which had gained great popularity in London mainly through the famous sextette, was imported, she applied for and obtained a position in the front row.

The company was organized to tour the country, and was to extend to the Pacific coast. This gave her an opportunity to visit California, something she had always longed for.

It was on this trip that she met Young, whose tragic death has caused her so much misery and sorrow.

Young was a prominent and successful horseman and bookmaker. He had horses running on nearly all of the prominent tracks of the country, and was reputed to be worth half a million dollars.

Although a married man, he immediately fell a victim to the charms of the beautiful and vivacious show girl. On their arrival in San Francisco he installed her in a handsome flat in Oakland, across the bay, and for some months led a dual existence. Anything she wished for was at her command. During the trial it was shown that during their acquaintance he had given her thousands of dollars.

Leaves Stage for Young.

While on the coast she sued for a divorce from her husband at his suggestion, and also deserted the stage.

With all his faults, Young maintained an outward show of respectability, living in a pretentious home in an exclusive section of San Francisco. He had a certain respect for his wife, and when she discovered the double existence he had been leading, he was driven almost crazy by the exposure. With the recklessness of a man insane, he entered upon a long debauch, and lost a fortune on the block before he recovered himself.

According to his racing partner, he repeatedly tried to sever his unholy relations with the chorus girl, but his infatuation was too strong or his will power too weak, for he never succeeded, and she was his friend and companion to the day of his death.

Young began his career on the Pacific coast as a foot racer, and was said to have been one of the fastest runners that the world has ever known. From the cinder path he drifted to the race track, and his luck from the beginning was phenominal.

Her Fatal Beauty.

Nan Patterson's beauty has been the cause of other troubles in which lives have been forfeited. An actor in another who had proposed to her became insane over her refusal and committed suicide in her presence. Another admirer of hers killed himself on the coast.

Nan Patterson remained in the west with Young until last spring. They visited the tracks at Los Angeles, Oakland and other prominent racing centers on the coast, and returned east in March for the first time since their meeting.

Young returned to the coast the following month, and it was but a few days before she was speeding westward in response to a telegram from him.

All this was brought out in the testimony at the celebrated trial. Seldon were they separated by a very great distance, and then only when it was unavoidable.

During all this time he tried to hide his relations with the Patterson girl from his wife. His friends and relatives pleaded with him to give up the show girl, and finally induced him to agree to take a trip to Europe, where they hoped she could or would not follow, and where he might forget her.

The Fatal Shooting.

It was on the morning that he was about to leave, on Saturday, June 4, that the tragedy occurred. He had seen her the evening previous, told her of his proposed trip and, according to her story, had asked her to follow and meet him in London. She had given him an indefinite answer, but had agreed to meet him the next morning and see him off. They had sent a light of carousal and drinking, and Young was considerably under the influence of the liquor when he finally left her at her sister's home and returned to his.

It was early next morning when they met again. After Young had several more drinks they entered a cab and started for the pier, where Young's wife was awaiting him. It was at an hour when the streets were not very crowded. There was a pistol shot, and Young fell forward, his head in the girl's lap. He was dead, and a bullet had fulfilled its mission.

For some days an absolute silence prevailed. Then a flood of alleged eyewitnesses turned up. Their stories, however, could not stand investigation, and one after another they were cast aside as sensation seekers.

But there was one exception; an old man, Martin Hazleton, of Oneonta, N. Y. He saw the man and woman, their hands clasped and held face high, then a flash, a puff of smoke and the report of a revolver broke the stillness of the morning.

Hazleton was the most important witness placed on the stand by the defense, and the efforts of the prosecutor to shake his brief but vital testimony ended in failure.

Then the defendant herself went to the witness chair and told the whole story of her relations with Young. It was a trying ordeal—before the curious crowd in the courtroom—as she repeated the history of her life from the day she met the man who was to turn her life in tragedy's path to the fatal moment in the cab.

Finally the trial was completed, and the jury, after deliberating for 24 hours, declared they were unable to agree as to her guilt or innocence.

Story with a Moral.

This, in brief, is the story of the life of Nan Patterson, or that part of it that had an ultimate bearing on the death of Caesar Young, and the trial that has been a three times nine-days' talk in New York and probably throughout the country.

Little did she suspect when she embarked upon her theatrical career and her life of pleasure and gaiety of the tragic ending and the accompanying sorrow and pain in store for her, or she would have undoubtedly reconsidered the matter.

Although one young and wayward girl has dearly paid the price of her folly, the case has served to point a moral to others that the snares and pitfalls of the innocent maiden behind the footlights are many, and more than one, unable to stand the temptations offered, has partaken of the fatal apple.

To the uninitiated, the Primrose Path means a life of pleasure, of ease and gaiety, strewn with roses red, but to Nan Patterson the glamour has been removed, and it is streaked with the life blood of Caesar Young.

FOLLOWING THE PRIMROSE PATH.

FINDS HER HUSBAND'S BODY ON A COLLEGE DISSECTING TABLE.

Had Been Lying in Yale Medical Cold Storage Room for Two Months.

New Haven, Conn.—Mrs. George Klea, of New York, took her husband's body back to that city, after rescuing it from the cold storage room of the Yale medical school. Mrs. Klea made a sorrowful tour of the undertaking shops of the town, looking for the body of her husband, whose death two months ago she had only learned of. On learning that the body had been sent to the medical school, she hurried thence, to find the body embalmed ready for dissection. She secured a permit to remove it to New York.

Klea was a shoemaker here, and, being ill last June, was taken to the Springside home, where he stayed until his death early in October. The officials there for the first time learned of his wife, whose address was found in his pocket. Efforts were made to locate her by letter and telegram, but, receiving no reply, the officials finally turned the body over to the medical school, according to the law of this state.

In speaking of the matter Prof. Ferris, of the anatomical department of the medical school, said:

"When the bodies are turned over to us we are instructed to hold them awhile to see if relatives or claimants appear. In this instance we held the body about two months."

Suffers Excess of Mother-in-Law.

Detroit.—"Too much mother-in-law" is Alfred J. Ashton's claim in answering the second bill for divorce filed by Julia B. Ashton. He denies his wife's assertion that September 6 he deserted her, but explains he left the house for a few days to prevent Julia Pfannenschmidt, his mother-in-law, from "inflicting great bodily injury" on him, "as she did on and before that day." On another occasion when his mother-in-law "was abusing him" with a broomstick, Ashton says his wife "upheld her mother and declared she would get a divorce."

Truly Wild and Woolly.

Portland, Ore.—Visitors to the Lewis and Clark exposition in Portland next year will not "take in the Midway" nor "go down the pike." They will "bit the trail."

For a Bible, $8,250.

London.—Robert Burns' family Bible, containing interesting family entries, was sold at auction here for $8,250. The purchaser was a London dealer.

REAL PROTECTION WANTED.

The Kind That Will Protect the Country from Too Much Protection.

Either in the anticipation of what the president's views on the subject of tariff revision will be in the special message he has promised, or in defiance and disregard of them, the leaders in congress are taking steps to prevent any tariff tinkering whatever. The most influential members of the senate have placed themselves fairly on record, and Speaker Cannon has made no effort to conceal his views. Unless, therefore, Mr. Roosevelt recedes from the position he took more than two years ago or refuses to admit that the present situation offers the kind of case that calls for revision, he is bound to come in conflict with the party leaders in congress, says the Detroit Free Press.

In arriving at their decision these leaders have seen fit to interpret the sentiment expressed at the election as confirmatory of the stand pat principle. Just how they will justify their action is a matter of interest rather than importance. They may add something to the sum of the ambiguities, the insincerities and the evasions of the party position in respect to the tariff, or they may stand boldly forth, like Senator Aldrich, admit all the arguments of the opposition as true and proclaim that the tariff has nothing to do with the conditions that are complained of. When it is proved beyond the possibility of denial that commodities are sold abroad for a much lower price than is asked at home, they may announce that such things are well-known habits of the commercial world, irrespective of tariffs. They will probably state that English and German manufacturers are accustomed to sell goods this year at apparently unfruitful prices, in order by driving competition away to reap a fuller harvest of profit in the future. That is a part of the scheme of "dumping," and possibly it has no relation to the tariff, but the American case is different in one vital particular. Our manufacturers have secured a high tariff on the plea that they could not possibly compete with the foreigner without it. Consumers at home have been asked to tax themselves in order to prevent the foreign producer from swamping us with cheap goods. Yet here we have our protected industries underselling the dreaded foreigner in his own market, while they maintain the artificially high prices at home. Possibly that is not a breach of faith, but it looks like it. We cannot imagine congress—even the present congress under the present circumstances — entertaining a proposal to protect a manufacturer who had shown that he could cut under foreign prices. Such a bill would be hooted out of congress.

The objections to the Dingley schedules are not based on hostility to the protective principle, but to the unjust and inequitable measure of protection that it affords by them. This untoward degree of protection simply makes extortion legal. It is a clear case of the tariff sheltering monopolies. What the country needs is not protection from the foreign producer, but protection from so much protection. There is a mean between the two extremes of Dingleyism and a tariff for revenue, or positive free trade. Are the republicans incompetent to ascertain what that balance is or are they too prejudiced and hidebound to attempt to find it?

SECRETARY SHAW'S STAND

Head of the Treasury Has Constituted Himself Champion of Bourbon Protectionists.

From every statement we have seen coming from the reputed leaders of the republican party it is plain that the republicans find themselves hopelessly entangled in the tariff net, and it will be a matter of surprise to those observers of the present situation if the leaders are able to get together and pull the party out of its difficulties on the subject during the next four years, says the Indianapolis Sentinel.

Secretary Shaw, who is said to have presidential ambitions, has constituted himself the champion of the bourbon protectionists. In an interview the secretary declared that there is no possibility that congress will consent to a reduction of protective duties and urged that instead of devoting itself to a revision of the tariff the republican majority should content itself with providing for rebates of duties on raw materials that are used in manufactures for export. Where articles are imported to be used in manufactures and the manufactured goods are exported, the secretary would have the government refund the duties paid on raw material.

The Dingley act provides for rebates of duties on certain raw materials used in manufactures for the foreign trade, but it offers no relief to the American consumer. It is not altogether plain why congress should legislate to give the foreigner cheap goods and compel the American consumer to pay monopoly prices.

There is little to be hoped for in the way of a reduction of the tariff from the republican party of to-day. The "revisionists" on one side and the "standpatters" on the other, are at the "beck and call" of the trusts and combines.

——It is singular how the election improved Secretary Shaw's mental vision. He can now plainly see a treasury deficit where there was no sign of one before the votes were counted.—Montgomery Advertiser.

——The republican papers are now asking for a revision of the tariff by its friends. But that is something republicans cannot accomplish. The republican party does not own its own vote on the tariff question.—Memphis News.

——Fortunately, Mr. Roosevelt will be so busy with other things that there will be little time to swing the big stick.—N. Y. World.

TO MULCT THE TREASURY.

Evidence That the Ship-Subsidy Scheme Is Yet to Be Reckoned With.

It would be a mistake to assume that all but universal hostility to every proposition that has yet been made to restore the American flag to the sea has had its basis in enmity to the idea that the ocean traffic of this country at least should be carried in American ships. There is no doubt, say the Detroit Free Press, that the people of the country would have a sentimental pride in the knowledge that in maritime affairs the position held by the United States was as great as in the commercial and industrial world. There is no doubt that the presentation of satisfactory evidence that some government assistance was necessary to start the work of upholding our merchant marine would be followed by the approval of the public provided the methods suggested were free from taint of fraud and inadequately designed to meet the end desired as near as such end could be attained without the teachings of an absolute experiment, although there is a very considerable number of people who object to governmental paternalism in any form. But there has as yet been no opportunity whatever to consider the matter on its merits.

So far in the proceedings every plan has been a scheme and every scheme has shown such palpable evidence that it was conceived with the idea of graft, that a "raid on the treasury" was the purpose rather than the upbuilding of our merchant marine, and that it has carried its own condemnation with it. The first measure introduced, of which Senator Frye, of Maine, was the putative father, and Senator Hanna one of the sponsors, was so phrased that the direct beneficiaries would have been the transatlantic lines, which are not in need of a subsidy at all. There was no apparent intention on the part of the promotors of the affair to make the subsidizing general, there was nothing whatever to indicate an intention to foster steamship companies that might undertake the establishment of lines to ports that now enjoy no direct connection with any of our chief Atlantic or Pacific ports.

The vigorous objection to and denunciation of the measure as a graft pure and simple was effective to accomplish the abandonment of the original method. Thereupon the promoters resorted to artifice and the maritime commission was appointed for the ostensible purpose of gathering information—for the real purpose of devising a plan of attaining the same end by a more indirect means.

In the Lewiston Journal, which is supposed to be a newspaper in close touch and sympathy with Senator Frye, there recently appeared an editorial lamentation, not on the failure of the congress to devise some sensible and honest plan of upbuilding the merchant marine, but on the failure of the original graft measure to pass. There was a wail because the transatlantic mails are carried in fast British ships, that the subsidies paid by other countries forbid competition for the business by the unsubsidized concerns in this one—in fact, a general repetition of the old arguments that were advanced when the Frye bill was under consideration. That was one side of the case and the side that was doomed to failure.

The other side is presented in a news paragraph to the effect that the democrats in congress have decided to fight the subsidy "as nothing more than a scheme to mulct the treasury for the benefit of a few big transportation companies." That is what it is, and the matter will never win without justified and vigorous opposition and it will be as earnestly opposed if a law is framed according to the wishes of the grafters. If the proponents of the measure would first absolve themselves of suspicion and then present a plan that would be honestly honest in its purpose to accomplish something that is desirable, the project would be viewed with more patience and would meet less heartfelt opposition.

Platt's Monstrous Bill.

On Senator Platt's recent bill to reduce representation on denial of suffrage the Memphis Commercial Appeal, after two columns of editorial concludes thus:

If the republican party should pass the Platt bill, it would commit a gross violation of the constitution. There is nothing to show that it would have any conscientious scruples against such political vandalism and the Commercial Appeal has no hopes of restraining it. But we have shown beyond peradventure, that there is not a single law in the south that disfranchises a negro because of his color, and consequently none of these laws comes in conflict with the constitution of the United States and not coming in conflict with the constitution, congress cannot legally and constitutionally cut down our representation. If the contemplated wrong is perpetrated it will recoil upon the head of the republican party.

——In spite of the president's prosperity message the charity organizations are finding uses for all the money they can get hold of.—Rochester Herald (Ind.).

——If President Roosevelt is really in favor of publicity for the trusts, it might be a good idea for him to make Tom Lawson his next secretary of commerce and labor.—Atlanta Journal.

——"I think it is a good time to rest and think," was the comment of Senator Platt, of Connecticut, when he visited the white house, and was asked for an expression of his views regarding an extra session and tariff revision. Mr. Platt will never be "an old man in a hurry," to quote an English description of Gladstone, in revising the sacred schedules. — Springfield Republican (Ind.).

AGRICULTURAL HINTS.

A CHEAP SILO.

The Following Plan of Construction Is Recommended by George E. Scott.

It is always difficult to give full instructions how to build a silo correctly so that the majority can comprehend the full idea of what is meant.

In sections where the soil and subsoil made up of gravel formation, the bottom should be cemented, as the liquor from the silage would leach away and ultimately spoil the silage. On the other hand, if the soil is clay and a clay subsoil, if well compacted I would prefer it to even cement, as it can be made waterproof very readily.

In our illustration the bottom and sides of wall will have to be cemented water-proof up to the top of wall, as there would not be any opportunity for drainage and outside water would get in and soon destroy the silage, at least to the top of the ground. It is not practical to go more than four feet in the ground with a pit, as no one wants to lift ensilage more than four feet, if that high.

It would be better to break stone six inches over the bottom of the excavation and begin the wall on top of it. Grout the top of the stone and then put a cement coat on, one inch thick, and up the sides of the wall to the lining.

In Ohio nearly all the silos are made of 3¼-inch flooring seven-eighths-inch thick, commonly known as Georgia pine well matched and secret nailed. To undertake to break joints in lining up a silo makes a lot of trouble, and while a little stronger, it has never been proven worth the time, as none of those made in sections have as yet racked in the least, and were I going to erect a new one I would make it just like the one described in this article, and the article referred to. If the doors are closely fitted with bevel edges, there is little danger of spoiling, but if the doors are too loose, then it would be wise to pad them with felt.

There seems to be some fear with people that the lining would shrink through the summer so badly as to affect the keeping of the ensilage, but we have not found it the case with ours. I think that more silage is spoiled because not evenly tramped, as it should be. I know, last season, I was forced to take one of two men out of the pit and left an inexperienced man in, who could not keep it well distributed and tramped near the top, and the result was the silage spoiled some on one side down a few feet. It is not doing it this year, as the men kept it well packed. I spoke of not roofing the silo and that, aside from the snow getting in it was better for the rain that would fall on it. We have prepared to put a roof on it more for the looks than utility. It may last a little longer, but we have not weatherboarded it, nor shall we this year, although our illustrations show both patterns with siding on them. In case I did side the silo I would arrange to make the joint on another hoop below the one on which the lining was joined.—Ohio Farmer.

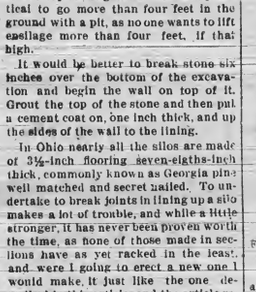

FIG. 2.

PLAN OF SILO.

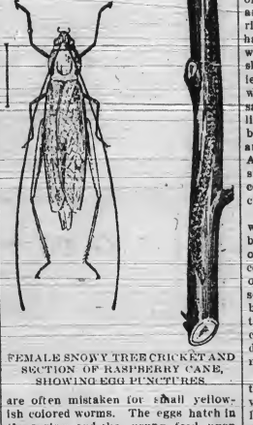
DISCARD THE ICE WATER.

Where a Little Trouble and Expense Will Bring the Dairyman Good Returns.

"On many farms cattle are allowed to go to some distant pond or creek, where a hole is cut in the ice for them to drink, when, at an expense of perhaps $50, water in abundance could be got at the barn, writes Mr. T. B. Terry in the Practical Farmer. "This is just the way it used to be on my farm. But after getting fixed, it is no more work to pump the water than to go and cut the holes in the ice; and the manure saved in a single season would go a long way toward paying the $50, to say nothing of the saving in feed from having the water some 20 degrees warmer, and the comfort of the stock.

"Cattle often do not drink half enough when the water is freezing cold, and hence they do not thrive as well. If I am thirsty I cannot drink ice water enough at one time to quench my thirst. It will chill my stomach, and for the moment make me think I have enough; but soon I want more. If I go to the well and get fresh water at a temperature of 50 degrees, I can drink enough to satisfy me at one time. How much more will this be true of animals, which drink so much more in proportion to their size, on account of their food being so much drier!"



THE SNOWY TREE CRICKET

Serious Enemy of the Raspberry and How the Pest May Be Dealt With.

One of the most serious insect enemies of the raspberry is the Snowy Tree Cricket. This is a pale green insect with very transparent wings folded on its back when at rest. The male insect may often be heard during the latter part of summer making shrill musical notes in the raspberry patch.

The female deposits her eggs in the raspberry canes, cutting diagonally about two-thirds of the way through the cane and depositing an egg in the slit. Then moving along, she deposits another close to this, and so on until there is a whole row of eggs usually containing from 5 to 20.

The eggs develop considerably in the autumn and early in the spring, and are often mistaken for small yellowish colored worms. The eggs hatch in the spring, and the young feed upon other insects and sometimes upon leaves. In this stage, however, they do little damage, the principal damage being done to the canes when the eggs are deposited within them. This often so weakens the canes that they break off or bend over. Many times the canes die above the point of injury.

FEMALE SNOWY TREE CRICKET AND SECTION OF RASPBERRY CANE, SHOWING EGG PUNCTURES.

From the habits of the insect, it will be seen that it is difficult successfully to spray to kill it, and the best way to keep it in check is to cut out all of the canes containing eggs each fall. This is not so difficult a task as might appear, as the incisions are readily seen as regular rows of wounds. By spitting the canes the large eggs may be seen laid regularly in the canes.

If this cutting out of infected canes is done when the patch is pruned it may be done with very little extra labor. Constant watchfulness will hold the tree crickets in check, so that they will not do serious damage.

It is difficult to entirely exterminate them, as they deposit eggs not only upon the raspberry, but upon the apple, cherry, grape, peach and other fruit trees, as well. Upon these, however, the injury is seldom serious.

The accompanying cut shows the female snowy tree cricket (Oecanthus ulvens) and the appearance of a cane upon which eggs have been laid.—Iowa Experiment Station.

Compost the Manure.

Manure for garden purposes should always be composted, for the double purpose of getting the plantfoods in it in most readily available form and of killing all weed seed in it. If the manure is piled up and allowed to heat then turned from time to time so as to mix the outside with the inner portions, adding water, liquid manure, or soapsuds from the family washing, or any slops that may be available, in quantity just sufficient to prevent fire fang, but keeping up the hot fermentation, the pile will soon get into good shape for garden work, and be free from weed seed besides. It is a good time now to prepare the manure for next year's garden.—Farm and Fireside.

Some "Don'ts and Dos."

In an address before the National Apple Shippers' association at St. Louis, Mr. R. J. Graham, of Ontario, closed with the following injunctions: Don't put poor apples in cold storage; don't put any apples in cold storage of a lower grade than No. 1; don't handle apples roughly; don't use a long time in getting your apples from the orchard to cold storage; don't be influenced by the opinion of other people. Now for the doing: Do sell everything when there is a profit; do sell quickly when there are signs of decay; do sell at a loss rather than to assume risks you cannot afford to carry; do try to have quality in your apples rather than quantity.

Feeding of Steers.

The most money may be made in feeding steers by observing two or three rules: Decreasing the amount of grain in winter and substituting clover hay and winter pasture. Using cheap grain food, such as cotton seed, if available. By causing the calves to be dropped before Christmas, and keeping them only two winters until they are ready for market.

Warm Quarters for Sheep.

Prepare good winter quarters for the sheep, give them careful attention and liberal feed, and you will be liberally repaid in a good crop of lambs a fine shearing of wool, and big sheep for mutton, the veritable golden fleef, if you have the pure-bred sheep of the improved mutton breeds.

NOTES OF THE FASHIONS.

Velvet and Corduroy in Great Favor —Silk and Fur in Combination.

In every perfectly appointed wardrobe this season there is at least one velvet and one velveteen or corduroy gown. Never were these materials so popular. They are wonderfully pliable and are shown in the most exquisite shades, as well as black, says the Delineator. When the entire velvet costume is not possible, there must be at least a coat or skirt of the rich fabric. The association of cloth and velvet, matching in color, is one of the fancies of the season.

The smartest walking costumes are made of the hollow-cut cords, a new corduroy weave. The skirts of these costumes are plaited, with the plaits stitched down below the hips and flaring prettily below, and are in comfortable walking length. The jacket may be either of the long-skirted variety or in tourist style. An important example of this corduroy suit was in a rich bronze shade. The Louis XIV. coat had a vest of suede in pale tan, fastened with bronze and gold buttons, and the skirt was a plaited model in instep length. To be worn with this costume was a blouse of chiffon cloth in the same shade as the corduroy, having relief notes of Chinese embroidery in brilliant-hued silks, and collar, cuffs and belt of suede matching the vest. A hat of the corduroy, in tricorne shape, simply adorned with a suede band and a coq pompon, completed this attractive creation.

The latest fashion in millinery for wee girls is the large white felt or beaver hat, trimmed with big clusters of velvet and silk roses to match the color of the little cloth or silk pelisse or coat. This particular fashion possesses a definite advantage, the roses being infinitely easier to match than the headgear itself, while a single hat can be made to do duty for two or three different toilettes. Brown is, besides, much worn by the nursery folk.

Among the dress accessories are little waistcoats of silk, ornate velvet, vesting, cloth or leather, the last usually being cut to order. They are precise and severe in finish, though all sorts of devices are wrought upon them in braid needlework, jet, and even in beads. The smartest examples are to be worn with the open coats, of which there is a great variety.

There is a new weave of veiling, quite heavy, called Panama voile, that is used for street and semidress gowns. It is shown in both plain and embroidered effects and in the most fashionable colors.

The association of silk with fur is extremely smart. Some of the most attractive visiting, church and reception gowns are fashioned of the new soft silks and either trimmed with fur bands or accompanied by a handsome wrap or pelerine and muff.

HOW TO INSURE HAPPINESS

The Joy of Living Is Often Lost Through Overlooking Small Pleasures.

Many of us miss the joys that might be ours by keeping our eyes fixed on those of other people. No one can enjoy his own opportunities for happiness while he is envious of another's, says Success. We lose a great deal of the joy of living by not cheerfully accepting the small pleasures that come to us every day, instead of longing and wishing for what belongs to others. We do not take any pleasure in our own modest horse and carriage, because we long for the automobile or victoria that some one else owns. The edge is taken off the enjoyment of our own little home, because we are watching the palatial residence of our neighbor. We can get no satisfaction out of a trolley ride into the country or a sail on a river steamer, because some one else can enjoy the luxury of his own carriage or yacht. Life has its full measure of happiness for every one of us, if we would only make up our minds to make the very most of every opportunity that comes our way, instead of longing for the things that come our neighbor's way.

Caramel—for Coloring Soup.

Put into a saucepan half a pound of granulated sugar and a tablespoonful of water. Stir constantly over the fire until it has a bright, dark brown color, being careful not to let it burn or blacken. Then add a teacupful of water and a little salt. Let it boil for a few moments longer. Cool and strain it. Put away in a close-corked bottle, and it is always ready for use.—Philadelphia Press.

Cream of Vegetable Oysters.

Scrape six roots of salsify (vegetable oysters) and cut in slices about half an inch thick. Throw in water to which has been added a teaspoonful of vinegar. This will keep them from turning black. Cook until tender. Rub through a sieve or put through a ricer, and add one pint of milk, one large tablespoonful of butter, and salt and pepper to taste. Boil up and serve very hot.—Household.

Sweet Potato Souffle.

Peel six medium-sized sweet potatoes, cut into dice and line the bottom of a buttered dish; sprinkle with brown sugar and drop over it bits of butter, next a layer of potatoes, then sugar and butter, and so on till the dish is full and the sugar layer is on top. Bake and serve hot.—Boston Budget.

Foolish Investment.

"Papa, what does it mean to be goldbricked?"

"When your mother persuades me to put up ten dollars a seat and go to grand opera with her."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Sunken Station.

The pumping station and coal shed at Galion, on the Burlington railroad, a short distance east of Sterling, O., which began to disappear into the earth recently, is entirely out of sight now, with the exception of the top piece of stovepipe, which is still visible in the large circular hole in which the buildings disappeared.

Friendly Suggestion.

Windig—I don't know what we are going to do with our youngest boy, Joblots—What's the trouble?

"He's getting so we can't believe a word he says."

"Why don't you get him a job in the prediction department of the government weather bureau?"—Chicago Daily News.

Fourteen-Year-Old Bride.

A marriage at an exceptionally early age—so far, at least, as the British Isles are concerned—was made at Melton when a girl of 14 was wedded to a man of 22. The nuptials of the very youthful bride, who hails from Harby, in the Vale of Belvoir, took place in the local registry office.

Cream Pancakes.

Mix the yolks of three well-beaten eggs with half a pint of cream, sweeten with two ounces of sugar, flavor with powdered cinnamon, name and grated nutmeg, and fry quickly in sweet, heated lard, drain and dish, sprinkling with granulated sugar, and serve halved oranges.—People's Home Journal.

A Rough Route.

Stranger in Detroit—I don't see why they charge three cents on one street car line and five cents on the other.

Old Resident—The three-cent line throws off two cents for wear and tear on the passengers.—Detroit Free Press.

Worry Over Small Things.

People worry over such mean things, and eat out their hearts and destroy their chances of happiness over microscopic grievances which are not worth a moment's serious consideration.—Madame.

A Human Propensity.

Nothing seems to tickle a homeless cur like a chance to lick the everlasting snuffing out of a curled and scented poodle in a silver-plated harness.—Chicago Post.

Really Dangerous Duel.

The Deroulede-Jaures opera bouffe French duel had more dangerous features than is common in such affairs. Both principals arrived on the scene in automobiles.—Brooklyn Times.

Most Sanguinary Battle.

The most sanguinary of modern battles was probably that of the Moskowa in 1812, when of the 120,000 French 30,000 were lost, and of the 140,000 Russians 60,000.

Did He Drink It?

A policeman who has been on the force of London for six years has been sent to prison for stealing milk from doorsteps.

Creased Hats Next.

Now that coats and overcoats have to be creased as well as trousers, the London News says that collars and tall hats will be creased next.

Live Up to Them.

It's no use bragging of your ancestors unless they should feel like returning the compliment.—Chicago Tribune.

Hypnotism for Drink.

Moscow asylum authorities are experimenting on a hypnotic cure for alcoholism.

MARKET REPORT.

Cincinnati, Dec. 29.
CATTLE—Common	$2 50	@	3 50
Heavy steers	5 10	@	5 25
CALVES—Extra		@	7 50
HOGS—Ch. packers	4 80	@	4 85
Mixed packers	4 65	@	4 80
SHEEP—Extra	4 50	@	4 65
LAMBS—Extra	7 15	@	7 25
FLOUR—Spring pat.	6 10	@	6 25
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 20
No. 3 winter		@	1 12
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	46½
No. 2 white		@	47
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	33¼
No. 2 white		@	34
RYE—No. 2	81	@	82
HAY—Ch. timothy		@	12 75
PORK—Clear mess		@	12 75
LARD—Steam		@	6 45
BUTTER—Ch. dairy		@	17
Choice creamery		@	29
APPLES—Choice	2 50	@	3 00
POTATOES—Per bbl	1 60	@	1 65
TOBACCO—New	5 00	@	13 00
Old	4 50	@	14 75
Chicago.
FLOUR—Winter pat.	5 10	@	5 25
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 15⅝	@	1 17¾
No. 3 red	98	@	1 12
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	45½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	29⅝
RYE—No. 2		@	74½
PORK—Mess	11 25	@	11 35
LARD—Steam		@	6 75
New York.
FLOUR—Win. sPrts.	5 25	@	5 40
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 21½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	55½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	35½	@	36½
PORK—Family	11 00	@	11 50
LARD—Steam		@	7 15
Baltimore.
CATTLE—Steers	3 75	@	4 50
SHEEP—No. 1 fat	2 50	@	3 00
LAMBS—Choice	6 00	@	6 50
CALVES—Choice	8 00	@	8 50
HOGS—Dressed	6 25	@	6 50
Louisville.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 18
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	55½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	33½
PORK—Mess		@	11 00
LARD—Steam		@	7 00
Indianapolis.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 18
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	45	@	50
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	33	@	35

HE DID THE TALKING.

And His Self-Importance Blinded Him to the Possibility of a Mistake.

A lively-looking porter stood on the rear platform of a sleeping car in the Pennsylvania station, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, when a fussy and choleric old man clambered up the steps. He stopped at the door, puffed for a moment and then turned to the young man in uniform.

"Porter," he said, "I'm going to St. Louis, to the fair. I want to be well taken care of. I pay for it. Do you understand?"

"Yes, sir, but—"

"Never mind any 'buts.' You listen to what I say. Keep the train boys away from me. Dust me off whenever I want you to. Give me an extra blanket, and if there is anyone in the berth over me, slide him into another. I want you to—"

"But, say, boss, I'm—"

"Young man, when I'm giving instructions I prefer to do the talking myself. You do as I say. Here is a two-dollar bill. I want to get the good of it. Not a word, sir."

The train was starting. The porter pocketed the bill with a grin and swung himself to the ground.

"All right, boss!" he shouted. "You can do the talking if you want to. I'm powerful sorry you wouldn't let me tell you—but I ain't going out on that train."

GAVE HIS MAN MUCH TIME

He Could Take Sixteen Hours a Day to Do His Work If He Required It.

Judge Saunderson, who is practicing law in Everett, Wash., formerly lived in Kentland, Ind., the boyhood home of George Ade, the humorist, relates Success Magazine.

"Ade was a peculiar character, in his younger years," says the judge. "He made my office a sort of a loafing place during the little time he spent in loafing. He was employed on a farm owned by a banker. One day he walked into the office and said to me:

"'That man is the best I ever worked for.'

"'Why?' I asked, for I knew that something funny was coming from Ade.

"'Well,' he replied, 'he doesn't ask a man to do a day's work in ten hours—he gives him 16.'

"As a boy we didn't suppose that Ade would amount to much," continued the judge, "though his drollery was always amusing."

Fine Politeness.

Newrich—How'd you get along at the dinner?

Mrs. Newrich—Fine. When they eat pie with a fork, I done it, too, so as not to let 'em see their break.—N. Y. Sun.

Shouting Their Praises.

Kirkland, Ill., Jan. 2nd.—(Special)—Cured of the terrible Rheumatic pains that made him a cripple for years, Mr. Richard R. Greenhow, an old and respected resident of this place, is shouting the praises of the remedy that cured him, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I had the rheumatism in my left limb so that I could not walk over ten to fifteen rods at a time, and that by the use of two cans," Mr. Greenhow says. "I would have to sit or lie down on the ground when I was out trying to walk, and the sweat would run down my face, with so much pain. I could not sleep at night for about five or six weeks.

"I tried different doctors' medicines, but they were all no good. Then I sent for Dodd's Kidney Pills and almost from the first they brought relief. By the time I had taken fourteen boxes of them my rheumatism was all gone and I can truly say I feel better than I have in the last twenty-five years."

A man thinks it awfully stupid for a woman to lose her pocketbook, but he forgets how often she has to help him find his collar button, and remembers for him just where he put his hat.—Baltimore American.

ULCERS FOR THIRTY YEARS.

Painful Eruptions from Knees to Feet Seemed Incurable Until He Used Cuticura.

Another of those remarkable cures by Cuticura, after doctors and all else had failed, is testified to by Mr. M. C. Moss, of Gainesville, Texas, in the following letter: "For over thirty years I suffered from painful ulcers and an eruption from my knees to feet, and could find neither doctors nor medicine to help me, until I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, which cured me in six months. They helped me the very first time I used them, and I am glad to write this so that others suffering as I did may be saved from misery."

A Michigan editor has had a streak of bad luck. He was just about to step into his new $10,000 automobile the other night when three bed rails gave way and he awoke.—Auto Era.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

Like our experience with other pretty girls, we sometimes find that when we think Fortune is smiling on us, she really has her eye on the tall man behind us.—Puck.

I am sure Piso's Cure for Consumption saved my life three years ago.—Mrs. Thos. Robbins, Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

When a man in his pajamas bumps his shin on a rocking chair it is surprising what a weak, washy thing his vocabulary seems to him.—N. Y. Press.

ALWAYS CALL FOR A CIGAR BY ITS NAME

"CREMO"

MEANS MORE THAN ANY OTHER NAME

BROWN BANDS GOOD FOR PRESENTS

"Largest Seller in the World."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT KILLS PAIN

FOR FARM FACTORY AND FAMILY USE

AN ENTIRE MEDICINE CHEST

DR. EARL S. SLOAN. 615 ALBANY ST., BOSTON, MASS.

THE FARMERS ON THE FREE HOMESTEAD LANDS

FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE!

of WESTERN CANADA carry the banner for yields of Wheat and other grains for 1904.

100,000 Farmers

receive $55,000,000 as a result of their Wheat Crop alone.

The returns from Oats, Barley and other grains, as well as cattle and horses, add considerably to this.

Secure a Free Homestead at once, or purchase from some reliable dealer while lands are selling at present low prices.

Apply for information to SUPERINTENDENT OF IMMIGRATION, Ottawa, Canada, or to

H. M. WILLIAMS, Law Building, Toledo, O. Authorized Canadian Government Agent.

Please say where you saw this advertisement.

PENSIONS on appeal. Civil War or on disability by any war, and for widows. Has 8 records of most loyal soldiers serving, and ages of Ohio men; 29 years practice. Laws and advice FREE. A. W. McCORMICK & SON, 918 Walnut St., CINCINNATI, O.

PATENTS 48 page book FREE. Highest references. FITZGERALD & CO., Box K, Washington, D. C.

Dyspepsia Was Thriving.

Now and then Marshall P. Wilder will have a touch of indigestion; but the trouble in nowise dampens his spirits.

One day when the humorist was suffering in a mild degree a friend, meeting him for the second time in the afternoon, asked:

"Well, Marshall, how's the dyspepsia now?"

"Very nicely, thank you," was the reply; "but I am not so well myself."—Sunday Magazine.

Just as with Her Father.

"Your daughter's music is improving," said the professor, "but when she runs the scales I have to watch her pretty closely."

"Just like her father," said Mrs. Nutrich. "He made his money in the grocery business."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Are You Going to Florida or New Orleans?

Tickets on sale via Queen & Crescent Route and Southern Railway to Florida, New Orleans and other points south at greatly reduced rates, good returning May 31st, 1905.

Also variable route tickets good going to points in Florida and Cuba via Atlanta, and returning via Asheville. For rates and other information address:—

W. A. Beckler, N. E. P. A., 143 Adams Street, Chicago, Ill.

D. P. Brown N. E. P. A., 11 Fort Street W., Detroit, Mich.

W. W. Dunnavant, T. P. A., Warren, Ohio.

W. C. Rinearson, G. P. A., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Chicago is to have a daily paper for women, about women, by women. Look out for scraps—also topics, Gainesboroughs and turbans.—Indianapolis News.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.

Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

The etiquette of horsewhipping has been fixed. When a woman attacks, run.—Des Moines News.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children

Bears the Signature Of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

PILES ANAKESIS gives instant relief and PERMANENT CURE IN FIVE TO FOURTEEN DAYS. Write for free sample address "ANAKESIS," Wilcox building, New York.

BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP cures coughs and colds.

A. N. K.—E 2055

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

BOONE CO.. RECORDER.
Wednesday, - - Jan. 4, 1905.
W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher

SOME times when Uncle Sam begins telling what he knows about the crops in the country he plays havoc with prevailing pricee

THE Carrollton News, which claims to be the first paper to advocate a Tobacco Growers' Association, says the Association is a go.

THE correspondents will have to bear with us this week, as a rush of matter compelled the omission of a part of each and every communication.

THE law of courtship declares one girl is company; two a breach of the peace. Remember this, young man, and the further fact that this is not leap year.

THE authorities at Frankfort have sustained the County Superintendent in his position that he had no jurisdiction in the matter referred to him and in which the Walton Graded School was interested.

SOMEBODY has figured out that John D. Rockerfeller's income this year will be only $14,000,000, as compared with $17,000,000 last year. Poor fellow, it looks like he will soon have to take a trip over the hill to the poor-house.

A NEW fad among women which will appeal to the class who went in for pet chameleons several years ago is carrying of pet marmosets in the big muffs that are still the correct thing in furs. The marmoset is a small squirrel-like monkey hailing from South America.

IT use to be said that the young man from the city could be distinguished from the country bred lad by the superiority of his dress and general outward appearance, but today the only difference is the young man from the country has some of Uncle Sam's currency in his pockets, while the young man from the city has none. Unquestionably there is more veneer in culture as well as in dress to be found in the city than in the country.

AT Louisville Judge Evans sent two negro women to jail at the government's expense, to insure their appearance in the spring to testify against the policemen and negroes under indictment for interferring with an election. The women will be paid $1 a day and expenses while held in custody, it being the first time that the Federal Court has taken advantage of a statute permittiug the confinement and payment of witnesses. No doubt but the women's financial condition will be greatly benefitted by their sojourn in prison.

BY the great improvement in farm machinery much of the drudgery of farm life has been eliminated. This has added much to the attractiveness of agriculture as an occupation. That there are just as good financial prospects along this line as along any other needs no proof; indeed, all things considered, the farmer is much surer of a good living and a comfortable home than is any other class; the chances being less than one in twenty that he will ever become bankrupt. Even though there is an ambition to accumulate considerable wealth, there are as great possibilities along agricultural lines as can be found in any other field of operation if only the right sort of ability is brought strenuously to bear.

REFERRING to the prospective visit by Mr. Roosevelt to the South, the Houston Post says that "if it is necessary that anything be done, rather let the president exhibit a spirit of broad nationality and repair the mischief he has done so far as he can. Personally, he knows little about the South, its institutions, its civilization, its problems, except what he has gained from sectional partisans and an unfriendly press. Let him inform himself thoroughly and act with wisdom, and it is in his power to restore the conditions which McKinley brought about. Let him look the South over and see if he can revise the opinion he holds of us as set forth in his writings and manifested by his acts. He has the power to correct his own mistakes; it is not within southern province or power. The South will hold to its self respect and look to the future for the vindication of its position and for the justice and fair dealing which ought never to be withheld from any state nor any section. In the meantime, the South is busy."

FAIR PLAY.

To the Editor of the Recorder:

About four years ago a new road was opened between O. P. Conner's then residence and a point near Locust Grove school house, a distance of 1.21 miles, at an expense to the county of over $400. This road was made for the special convenience of about seven or eight families and a general convenience for the public travel between Burlington and East Bend, making the distance about one mile further so as to shun the hills on the old road. This new road adds 1.21 miles to the roads to be worked by the county, and, as the average cost of working the public roads is about $25 per mile each year, this new road cost about $30 a year for work.

Now, we have no complaint to make on this side of the question, but pay our part of these additional taxes cheerfully, on the grounds that it is for the public good. But we think there is another side to this question.

About 20 years ago the road known as the Dog Leg road was opened. When the commissioners, who were appointed to lay out this road, met for that purpose, Noah Rouse owned the land now occupied by J. W. Clore, and he would not consent to have the road on his land, therefore, the commissioners, to avoid the expense of forcing the road over his lands, run it around on parties who were willing to donate the land, thus making a bend, and also over a hill route and across a narrow valley, where a bridge had to be made, and where in times of heavy rains the water spreads out over the road, causing quite an accummulation of mud, and as one of the gates on the road is on this low ground, those passing in vehicles have to wade through mud frequently several inches deep in order to get through the gate. Ladies have also to encounter these inconveniences.

So taking the bad condition and the circuituous route to be traveled in consideration, the county court was petitioned to have commissioners appointed to change the road, which was done. They met and viewed the old and proposed new route, and reported the new one the most practical. Elbert Rouse, a son of Noah Rouse, like his father, objected to the road going over any part of his land, so a jury was empaneled, who allowed him $140 for land and fencing. J. W. Clore, C. E. Clore and Oscar Gaines, the other parties over whose lands the road was run, agreed to remove the gates, donate the lands, make their necessary fencing, and pay all expenses except the $140, if the county would assume that much. This the county court refused to do, requiring the petitioners to pay the whole amount in order to have the new route opened. This we regard as not fair play.

Now, a few words in contrast: The first road mentioned cost in the first place over $400 to have it opened. The other road cost nothing but the surveyor's and clerk's fees to open it. The first makes 1.21 miles more to work and about one mile further for the public travel. The other 1¼ miles less road and about ¾ mile shorter travel from Hebron to Burlington, and only about ½ mile further from Bullittsville to Burlington, making a much better road between these points in winter when the roads are muddy.

Now, in view of the fact that it cost the county comparatively nothing for opening our road, we think it nothing but justice for the county to have assumed to pay the $140, and thus give us a better and shorter road. This new road if opened will be a special convenience for 12 families besides the general convenience of the public.

OSCAR GAINES.

O. P. Conner received his first purchase of tobacco yesterday.

Robert Green, of this county, captured Speckman's premium on tobacco, at the Eagle Sample Rooms, Aurora.

The Fiscal Court appolnted Orin Phipps superintendent of the County Infirmary for the ensuing year, yesterday.

When bilious try a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and realize for once how quickly a first-class up-to-date medicine will correct the disorder. For sale by all Druggists.

The fiscal court appropriated $250, yesterday, with which to buy a pair of blood hounds. The sheriff is to have charge of them.

Kelly-Rouse.

The marriage of Miss Effie J. Rouse to Mr. Elbert T. Kelly was solemnized by Rev. Slater at his home, Wednesday, December 28, 1904, The attendants were Miss Bessie Houston, of Covington, and Mr. William Kelly, brother of the groom. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's brother, Mr. F. H. Rouse, where an elegant dinner was spread. Those present from a distance were Mr. C. C. Hedges, of Lexington; Miss Bessie Houston, of Covington; and Mrs. J. W. Hedges and Miss Gladys Wilson, of Walton, and many others. The following day an elegant luncheon was served at the home of Mrs. H. W. Rouse, sister of the bride. On Friday the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rouse, C. C. Hedges Miss Gladys Wilson spent the day at the home of the parents of the bride, where there were quite a number of friends assembled to greet the bride and groom. Another elegant wedding spread was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly have a host of friends who wish them a long and happy life.

Notice to Tobacco Growers.

A meeting will be held at 10 a. m. in Burlington, next Saturday, January 7th, for the purpose of organizing the County Board of Control and Executive, and the transaction of other business pertaining to the Tobacco Growers' Company. We want everybody interested in this movement to be sure and attend. Come prepared to help if you have not already done so. L. H. VOSHELL.

The citizens of Petersburg were surprised last week when Miss Mae Thompson, daughter of Jas. M. Thompson, announced that she and Earl Whiting, until recently a citizen of that town, had been married since August, 1902. They were married in Cincinnati, to which place they went from the Florence fair. They have gone to housekeeping in Cincinnati.

An effort is being made to organize and put in operation another bank in Burlington.

QUARTERLY REPORT

Of the Walton Deposit Bank at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec., 1904.

Resources:

Loans and Discounts	$80,563 57
Overdrafts, unsecured	139 72
Due from National Banks	20,989 35
Due from State Banks and Bankers
Banking House and Lot	1,000 00
Mortgages	42,044 00
Specie $1,140 78
Currency 5,939 00	7,079 78
Furniture and Fixtures	1,000 00
Current Exp Last Quarter	711 57
	$153,527 99

Liabilities:

Capital Stock paid in, in cash	$50,000 00
Surplus Fund	5,350 00
Undivided Profits	1,258 16
Due Depositors	96,919 83
	$153,527 99

Supplementary.

Highest amount of indebtedness of any stockholder, person, company or firm (including in the liability of the company or firm or the the liability of the individual members thereof) directly or indirectly, if such indebtedness exceeds 20 per cent of capital stock actually paid in, and actual amount of surplus of bank	0
How is indebtedness in above item secured?
Highest amount of idebtedness of any director or officer, if amount of such indebtedness exceeds 10 per cent of paid up capital stock of bank	0
Does amount of indebtedness of any person, company or firm including the liability of the company or firm or the liability of the individual members thereof, exceed 30 per cent of paid up capital and actual surplus	no
If so, state amount of such indebtedness.
Amount of last dividend	$2,000
Were all expenses, losses, interest and taxes deducted therefrom before declaring dividend, and was not less than 20 per cent of net profits of the bank for the time covered by the dividend carried to the surplus fund before said dividend was declared?	yes

State of Ky, County of Boone, ss:

R. C. Green, cashier of the Walton Deposit Bank, a bank located and doing business in the town of Walton Ky., in said county, being duly sworn, says the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of said bank, at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec., 1904, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said Bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31st day of Dec., 1904, as the day on which such report shall be made. R. C. Green, Cashier.

G. W. Ransler, Director.
O. Percival, Director.
D. M. Bagby, Director.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by R. C. Green, the 31st day of Dec., 1904.

P. F. Curley, N. P. B. C.

My commission expires Feb. 13, 1906.

Lets Talk it Over

among ourselves about

Tea

and Goffee.

We know you enjoy a good cup of either and want one that will "Just Suit" you. We believe we can please any one who will say just what kind he likes.

We don't sell our "35c Java and Mocha" for 20c nor our "$1.00 Tea for 75c" or "75c Tea for 60c," as some dealers claim to do—day in and day out.

We do sell as good Tea as can possibly be given for the money and believe we take more care and pains in selecting and having it of uniform quality than most people, and want you to try it for yourself.

O. K. Coffee, per pound..... 12½c
Salvador Coffee, per pound..... 15c
Money Worth Blend Coffee, per lb.... 17c
Three pounds for 50c.
Golden Blend Coffee, per pound..... 20c
Caracas or Gutamala Coffee, per lb... 25c
Java and Mocha Coffee, per pound..... 30c
Mixed Tea, Gren Tea Oolong, Gunpowder Tea, per pound..... 40c
Capitol Blend Tea, per pound..... 60c
Sunbeam Blend Tea, per pound..... 75c
Gunpowder Tea per pound...40, 60, 75c

Geo. G. Goode,
—Agent,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, Ky.

TAKE WINE OF CARDUI AT HOME

Are you a sufferer?
Has your doctor been unsuccessful?
Wouldn't you prefer to treat yourself—AT HOME?

Nearly 1,300,000 women have bought Wine of Cardui from their druggists and have cured themselves at home, of such troubles as periodical, bearing down and ovarian pains, leucorrhea, barrenness, nervousness, dizziness, nausea and despondency, caused by female weakness.

These are not easy cases. Wine of Cardui cures when the doctor can't.

Wine of Cardui does not irritate the organs. There is no pain in the treatment. It is a soothing tonic of healing herbs, free from strong and drastic drugs. It is successful because it cures in a natural way.

Wine of Cardui can be bought from your druggist at $1.00 a bottle and you can begin this treatment today. Will you try it?

In cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, The Ladies' Advisory Dept., The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Subscribe for the Recorder

Deposits Earning Interest.

THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK & TRUST COMPANY, Inc.

N. E. Cor. Sixth St. and Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, KY.

Receives deposits of money subject to withdrawal after a specified time, or subject to check without notice,
ALLOWING INTEREST ON ALL DAILY BALANCES.

Interest is credited semi-annually on the first days of January and July and when the same is not withdrawn it is added to the principal AND DRAWS INTEREST.

It is not necessary to call in person to open an account, as all communications by mail receive prompt attention.

In its several departments, THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY
Acts as Agent; Collects Rents and Renders Accounts as desired; Loans Money on Approved Security; Rents Safe Deposit Boxes; Administers Estates and Acts as Guardian, Trustees, etc;
Attends carefully to Trust Estates of Widows, Minors, Etc.
—ALL TRANSACTIONS CONFIDENTIAL.—

CAPITAL STOCK, $100.000.
Stockholders' Liability, $100.000.

JNO. P. ERNST, President. JOHN A. SIMPSON, Vice-President
C. W. SIMRALL, Sec'y & Treas.
Long Distance Telephone, South 214.

J. G. BENTLER & SON,
Lexington Pike, ERLANGER, KY.

Practical Horse Shoeing, General Blacksmithing
and Wagon Repairing of all kinds,
All kinds of Tool Grinding. - Also Bicycle Repairing.
Grinding of all Kinds to Order.

Hay and Grain,
AND ALL KINDS OF MILL FEED,
By Retail or Car Load. Call and Learn Our Prices.

CORN.

ARE YOU READY TO lay IN YOUR SUPPLY?

We are loading cars every day at our Elizabethtown Elevator in the Miami Bottoms, and you know what quality that is.

We are prepared to put it at any point along the Southern, and would like to hear from you when you are ready to buy.

Early & Daniel,
—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in—
Hay, Grain, Feed and Flour,
Pike St. and L. N. Ry.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.
GOLDEN GRAIN FLOUR OUR SPECIALTY.

In our opinion a business conducted on an honest basis, furnishing the best "VALUES" possible for the "MONEY" and extending fair treatment to all

'ALWAYS WINS'
—Our Watchword has and always will be—
Honesty, -- Honest Clothing at
"HONEST PRICES."

We show a fine line of Mens', Boys' & Children's

CLOTHING

Men's Suits	$5.00 to $15.00.	Boys' Suits	$4.00 to $10.00
Men's Overcoats	4.00 to 15.00.	Children's Suits	2.50 to 5.00
Childrens Overcoat	2.50 to 5.00.	Boys' Overcoats	4.00 to 10.00

These are made in every conceivable style and fashion.

Mens' Corduroy Suit, $5, $7.50, $10 and $12—these are made to stand the rough usage and abuse. We also carry a complete line of Corduroy and Jean Pants, Duck Coats, and other clothing necessary for health and comfort.

ROLFES & WACHS,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Subscribe for Your Conty Paper, $1.50.

Local News.

Not much demand for turkeys now.

Some very fine winter weather last week.

Fill that ice house the first opportunity you have.

The boys found enough ice last week on which to skate.

No ice houses have been filled in this part of the country.

This is Nineteen Hundred and five and don't you forget it.

Don't be a borrower of your county paper again this year.

The smaller the promissory note of some persons, the more valuable.

Rev. Amos Stout will preach at Bellevue Baptist church next Sunday.

Albert Conner has installed a training plt for ferrets out at his farm.

The freezes the latter part of December were hard on the puny small grain.

For Sale—Good cow and her calf. Apply to Menter Martin, Bullittsville.

Tuesday and Wednesday of last week were the roughest days of the winter.

Try Red Hill Bourbon, at Rodenberg's, Lawrenceburg, Ind. $1.75 per gallon. 4t

So soon as the tobacco crop begins to move the tobacco growers will have plenty of money.

You can't shoot quails now, the law forbidding that sport having gone into effect on the 1st inst.

The man who makes the most noise is not always the individual who is doing the most mischief.

Some persons who think they are living in this world are mistaken—they are only staying here.

Some say the late cutting of tobacco is very irregular in color, while the entire crop is of light weight but of very fine texture.

Horace Hewitt, of Aurora, was a pleasant caller at this office last Saturday. He is the leading sewing machine man in this part of the country.

Springfield church, in Bath county, is one hundred and eight years old, and the first marriage that ever occurred within its ancient walls was solemnized last week.

Leo. W. Wever, 23, of Ohio, and Miss Dora Belle Baker, 21, daughter of Geo. W. Baker, of Limaburg, were married on the 28th inst. Here is wishing them a happy life.

Notice—My land is posted against trespass of all kinds, and especially are dogs forbidden to go thereon, as I will certainly shoot them.
T. E. Dixon, Richwood, Ky.

The old year was retired with the usual ceremonies, while the new year was welcomed by a general commotion on the part of everything that was not nailed down.

E. T. Kelley, son of W. B. Kelley, 20, of Waterloo neighborhood, and Miss Effie J. Rouse, 20, daughter of the late A. F. Rouse, were quietly married last Wednesday. May their married life be long and happy.

Mr. Wm. S. Crane, of California, Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did and it effected a complete cure. This liniment is for sale by All Druggists.

Thomas Strader, colored, who works for Nattie Carpenter, a mile west of town, killed a 5½ foot black snake on Tuesday of last week. Tuesday morning was very warm and his snakeship had not gone to sleep since the thunder storm of the Saturday night before, and had come forth and stretched itself out on top of a log.

Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c, at all Druggists.

Upon the eve of his departure for Hot Springs, Arkansas, W. C. Respass, of Newport writes for the Recorder to be sent to him at that place. He says: "Tell Blufe to go slow on coons this winter as the crop of pepper is light this year." He requests that Blufe visit him at the Springs, saying, "as it is a very moral place I know he would like it. It is too much so for me but guess I will have to stand it."

Wonderful Nerve

Is displayed by many a man enduring pains of accidental Wounds Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Sore feet, or stiff joints. But there's no need for it. Bucklen's Arnica Salve will kill the pain and cure the trouble. It's the best Salve on earth for Piles, too. 25c at all Druggists.

Old people cannot be too careful of themselves at this season of the year. All of our exchanges are reporting an unusual number of deaths of aged people from pneumonia or as a result of falls. It doesn't take much of a cold to develop into deadly pneumonia and the slightest injury from a fall is apt to result fatally.

One day, recently, Jack Webb sent the gold brick and gold dust, sent here last summer by his brother, John A. Webb, from his placer mines on Solomon river, near Cape Nome, Alaska, to the U. S. Mint at Philadelphia, and last week received "the coin" in return, over $700. The Courier may had the pleasure of handling one of the 20's.—Williamstown Courier.

The following item appeared in Ohio County Recorder, March 22d, 1873, published at Rising Sun, Ind:
"For the six months ending December 31, 1872, the deposits in the National Bank of Rising Sun, averaged $32,000. For the past week it has averaged $50,000."
Were the deposits of that bank to decline to either of the above amounts now it would consider itself about out of business.

Have you a sugar camp to open this year? if so it will not be long before the tapping season is here. The modern plan of working a sugar tree for the sugar and molasses that may be made from the water it produces dispenses with the very hard labor that use to make the sugar season a period to be dreaded by the average boy, who canvassed from tree to tree until he collected all the water he could carry to the boiling camp. When a fellow carried sugar water all day he generally slept well at night.

As Mrs. Pink Rice, of Idlewild neighborhood, was coming to Burlington, last Friday afternoon, the horse she was driving slipped and fell on the road near Hon. Jos. A. Gaines'. Knowing considerably about how to handle horses, the animal had hardly struck the ground, before Mrs. Rice was out of the buggy and sitting on its head to prevent it from getting up. Wilber, her little son was with her, but was not strong enough to unbuckle the straps that were under a strain, if his mother had allowed him near the horse, nor was he heavy enough to hold down the horse's head, so he was started to hunt assistance. Finnally a man came along and proposed to release the horse by cutting the harness, but this Mrs. Rice would not permit as she knew the horse was perfectly gentle. Finnally Dr. H. H. Hays appeared on the scene, and assisted to adjust matters, the only damage of any consequence being the fracturing of one of the shafts. This fracture was reduced by the Doctor by the liberal use of fencing wire, and Mrs. Rice was again started on her journey arriving in Burlington about night, having been on the road half a day.

As Miss Ida Grubbs, of Richwood station neighborhood, was going to the postoffice at Richwood, last Wednesday morning she discovered a man lying on the side of the road about one mile north of Richwood. She tried to arouse the man but soon discovered that he was dead. She hastened on to Richwood and informed the people there of the discovery she had made, and it was not long before several persons were at the side of the dead man. The man's coat, vest, umbrella and shirt were lying near him. An examination revealed three small wounds over the heart, apparently made by a pocket knife, although the knife could not be found. There was no indication of a struggle about the scene where the body was found, as a light snow had fallen during the previous night. If there had been a struggle the evidence was covered with snow.

As soon as Justice of the Peace John Watson, of Walton, could be gotten on the ground, a jury was empaneled and an inquest held, and from papers found on the body it was learned that the dead man was Jacob Kelz, a Covington wine merchant. The body was taken to Walton where it was taken in charge by friends who removed it to Covington. Kelz had been in a bad condition, mentally, for several days, and arrangements had been made to take him to a sanitarium. The last time Kelz was seen alive was near his home in Covington on Tuesday afternoon. At what time Tuesday night he reached the point where he was found next morning will never be known. That he committed suicide there is no doubt, as his gold watch and other small articles of value were found in his pockets.

Personal Mention.

Miss Bessie Berkshire dined several of her friends, Sunday.

Rev. A. F. Hensey was a guest at Sheriff Allphin's, one night last week.

Miss Essie Parish returned home Sunday from a visit with relatives at Erlanger.

Miss India Perkins, of Covington, was the guest of Mrs. Edward Hawes, last Friday night.

Having spent the holidays at home James Allphin has returned to his school at Lexington.

Col. G. C. Graddy, of Petersburg, was a guest at the Boone House, last Saturday night and Sunday.

I. G. Hamilton, of Georgetown, was a guest at J. C. Revill's from Saturday until Monday afternoon.

Howard and Garnet Huey, of Walton, were visiting relatives in Burlington a day or two last week.

William Kirkpatrick, of Limaburg neighborhood, was transacting business in Burlington, last Friday.

C. H. Acra, of Bellevue, was in town last Friday, securing legal advice in some matters of importance.

Rankin Revill and Mrs. Dr. Furnish and children, of Covington, visited at J. C. Revill's Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Colsher, of Cincinnati, was the guest of his relatives, Mesdames Sarah and Aggie Carpenter, several days last week.

Miss Sheba Roberts returned from a visit of several weeks, with relatives in Walton and Verona neighborhoods, Sunday.

Mrs. Maud Williams after a visit of several days with her mother at this place, returned to her home in Indianapolis, Monday.

Mrs. J. E. Rouse, of Payne's Depot, Scott county, spent several days last week, with her parents, O. P. Conner and wife, here.

John Crisler, of Gunpowder, was in town last Friday, looking as though he stood the drought well and is wintering nicely.

Mrs. J. G. Furnish and children, of Covington, came down last Friday to spend a few days with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Revill.

The body of Jacob Kelz, who was found dead, near Richwood, last Wednesday, was incinerated in the Cincinnati Crematory last Friday afternoon.

Elza Harper, of Hebron, was transacting business here last Friday. He was well pleased with the Christmas present the weather clerk presented the public.

Geo. Riley, of Bullittsville, while visiting friends in Burlington, one night last week, slipped and fell on the asphalt sidewalks and sprained one of his wrists quite badly.

J. M. Barlow, wife and daughter, of Gunpowder neighborhood, and William Clore and wife, of Locust Grove neighborhood, were guests of Mrs. Susan Acra, and daughter, Miss Bettie, last Friday.

Ben Crisler, of Long Branch neighborhood, was a visitor to the hub, last Friday. He was in much better spirits than when here about two weeks before—it had rained and he is no longer a carrier of water.

James White, of Flickertown, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Frank Voshell, was in town Friday afternoon. Frank has been visiting with his brother Charles over in Indiana, and he is evidence of Charlie being a bountiful feeder.

James Wilhoit, of Florence, and representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, was in town last Friday. He reports his company as having done a tremendous business in 1904, and there is no question but what James did his proportional share of it.

Samuel Laird, of Cochran, Indiana, accompanied by Reuben Akin, was among the Recorder's callers last Saturday. He is a very pleasant gentleman and is a descendant of one of Indiana's early settlers. His wife was Miss Nancy Jarrell, a daughter of the late Reuben Jarrell, who lived on Woolper creek. She is a most estimable lady.

J. J. Duncan has gone to Louisville, where, as trainer, he will take charge for the season of Scott Hudson's stable of noted trotters. Mr. Duncan has worked himself up to one of the best trainers in the country, and this season finds him in charge of about the most successful string of trotters on the road. Success to him.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

The uniform success of this remedy has made it the most popular preparation in use for bowel complaints. It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant to take. For sale by all Druggists.

The Ninth Street, Cincinnati Baptist College League presented Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Snyder a nice butter dish as a Christmas present.

Very fine winter weather.

Sheriff's Sale for Taxes.

The Sheriff of Boone County, Kentucky, hereby gives notice to the Delinquent Taxpayers of Boone county, that he will in compliance with Chapter 106 of the Kentucky Statutes and amendments thereto, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, for cash, all or so much of the property hereinafter described, listed to the respective persons named as per Assessors returns for 1904, as may be necessary to pay State and County taxes assessed against same together with all penalties, cost of advertising and commissions, at the Court House Door in Burlington, Boone County, Kentucky, on Monday, February 6th, 1905, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 3 o'clock p. m., the following described property. Reference is had to the Original Assessor's book at County Clerk's Office, Burlington, Ky., for the more particular description of the property herein advertised.

BURLINGTON PRECINCT.
Flora Sheets, nr., 112 acres	17,55
BULLITTSVILLE PRECINCT.
Henry Schafer, 15 acres	6,45
Ben Walnscott, nr., 3 acres	3,85
FLORENCE PRECINCT.
J. C. Boekner, tow lot	11,05
J. C. Carpenter, 2 town lots	21 60
G. W. Crouch, nr., town lot	3 50
W. J. Cody, town lot	7,05
Marcus Fane, 15 acres	5,15
Albert Golway, town lot	4,00
Clara Myers, town lot	3,15
F. H. Nead, nr, town lot	2,85
Jas. Nead, nr., town lot	2 85
Harry Robinson, 4 acres	6,50
Sam Johnson, (col), town lot	2,85
PETERSBURG PRECINCT.
Catherine Baur, 20 acres	12,20
Debora Bradley's est., town lot	4,15
Henry Hoffman, nr., town lot	3,85
Fannie McGuire, nr., town lot	3 50
D. C. Peck, nr., town lot	3,50
B. A. Pease, town lot	5,35
W. W. Smith, est., town lot	2,15
J. B. Tolin, 4 acres	6,65
E. D. Whorton, town lot	4,60
Francis Gibbs, (col) town lot	2 85
Melvina Parker, (col), town lot	2,15
BELLEVUE PRECINCT.
Elizabeth Aiken, 49 acres	8,15
Frank Buffington, nr., 6 acres	3,10
T. J. Clore, town lot	16,20
Mrs. I. Kidwell, town lot	4 85
Ohio Wall Paper Co, nr., 36a	4,15
John R Presser, town lot	4,35
Noah West & Lewis Merrick, 36a	9,00
UNION PRECINCT.
Robt. Adams, nr., 11 acres	2,80
John T. Davis, 26 acres	6,00
A. M. & F. Hall, town lot	2,65
F. H. Nelson, nr., 4 acres	2,80
G. V Rouse, town lot	3,95
Catherine Weaver, nr., 25 acres	5 50
Mrs. Lucinda Weaver, 23 acres	10,20
Nancy Frasier (col), 5 acres	3,50
BEAVER PRECINCT.
J. B. Eldred, town lot, 2 years	8,25
William Giplin, town lot	5,30
Mrs. Elizabeth Gorden, 73 acres	14,90
A. R. Underhill, town lot	4,85
O. D. Williams, 156 acres	18,35
CONSTANCE PRECINCT.
Mary Bills, town lot	2,80
Henry Fox, 2 acres	2,15
Mary A. Gilchrist, town lot	3,50
Mrs. Mildred Klasserner, t. lot	3,70
Minnie Marshall, town lot	2,85
Edgar Morehead, 2 town lots	6,20
John N. Reeves, 6 acres	5,20
Wm. Smith, 2 town lots	6,20
W. B. Vickers, 25 acres	10,50
B. F. Zimmer, town lot	11,95
Fred Zimmer, 27 acres	16,80
CARLTON PRECINCT.
Anna Acra, 48 acres	5,50
O. P. M. Ford, nr., town lot	4,15
Smith N. Riggs, town lot	5,00
Joseph Riggs, 4 acres	7,15
Mart Staley, 6 acres	5,65
Wm. Stephens (col) nr., town lot	1,85
HAMILTON PRECINCT.
Clara Clark et al, 21 acres	4,85
W. H. Isbell, town lot	4,20
G. L. Pitcher, town lot	5,65
Martha A. Rich, 37 acres	4,15
Nathan Smith, 68 acres	14 20
Wm. Shinkle, 30 acres	6 65
Thos. B. Wilson, 10 acres	6,85
VERONA PRECINCT.
Mrs. W. C. Adams, 48 acres	7,30
E. W. Benson, 20 acres	6,95
J. J. Brumback est., town lot	3,50
Lillie Hoard, nr., 10 acres	2 15
G. E. Jarman, nr., 10 acres	2,65
W. E. McKinzie, 30 acres	5,50
Wm. Washum, town lot	5,50
Conway Webster, 2 acres	4 85
Wm. Sleet, (col) town lot	3,30
WALTON PRECINCT.
C. Y. Dyas, town lot	4,85
Daniel Franks nr., 13 acres	4,15
Henry Florence, 17 acres	5 65
John Grubbs, town lot	5,65
Eliza Gormap, 2 acres	7,85
Miss Ye'cha King, 3 town lots	6,15
Mrs. Ermma Lermond, t lot	8,15
Mrs. M. E. Martin, town lot	11,50
P. S. Norman, 101 acres	13,70
Rebca Ross, nr., 3 acres	2,15
Ross heirs, nr., 7 acres	2,85
Leona Rousey town lot	2,50
W. O. Rouse, 2 town lots	8,15
Edward Stamler, town lot	9,85
Elza Vallandingham, town lot	4,15
Mrs. R. L. Weaver, nr., town lot	3,20
Chas. Wilson, nr., town lot	3,10
I. O. O. F. Hall (col) town lot	4,15

B. B. ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

FOR SALE

Good Farm of 200 Acres,

Three miles north of Guilford, Ind., fine tobacco land; can be sold in parts. Six room brick residence, barn 40x60. Price reasonable. Warren Tebbs, Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Having decided to not keep leather boots after this season, I will sell all I have on hand at cost, and less for some kinds.
C. W. Robinson.

If you want blue grass seed that will grow, write R. B. Huey & Co., Walton. They have them.

Do It Now enjoys a vacation while After While is struggling for bread.

All the bank statements appear in this issue. They afford many interesting facts.

JANUARY BARGAINS.

We want to make room for Spring Goods which will arrive in a short time. In order to do this we have put the prices on our Winter Goods away down, in some instances away below cost. We have room to mention only a few of our many bargains.

Schofield's Flannel Skirts, worth.....50c reduced to....38c
Schofield's Jeans, worth....50c to 60c yd reduced to 35c yd
Outing Flannels, worth....10 to 12½c yd reduced to 08c yd
Ladies' Lined Shoes, worth.....$1 25 reduced to 80c
Ladies' Lined Shoes, worth.....$2 00 reduced to $1 25
Men's Storm Coats, worth.....$2 50 reduced to $1 00
And many other goods including Flannels, Gloves, Caps, &c.

W. M. Rachal & Co
UNION, KY.

H. G. BLANTON,
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.
Special Rates to Traveling Men.
First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.
Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.
Leave Orders with J. C. Revill, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.
Tested Field and Garden Seeds.
Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.
Largest and Best Stock of
GROCERIES IN THE CITY.
Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.
When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Livery and Sales Stable.
ALLPHIN & HUME, Proprietors,
Walton, Kentucky.
Horses kept by the Meal, Day or Month. Good safe rigs for hire at all times.
Horses Bought, or Sold on Commission
Stable Near Southern Depot. BRUCE ROBERTS, Manager.
'Phone 172½, Hughes' Line.

CEILINGS. SKYLIGHTS. CORNICES
The Porter Iron Roofing & Corrugating Co
27 and 29 West Front Street,
CINCINNATI, - - OHIO.
--MANUFACTURERS OF--
Iron, Steel, Galvanized & Felt Roofing.
Our Agents will give you wholesale prices.
Agents:—Bruce Anderson, Constance, Ky. L. L. Tanner, Union, Ky.
Our Unexcelled "Heating Drums" are the best. Inquire for Prices.

OH HOW DELIGHTFUL!
The Perfect Deodorizer and Disinfectant
FRAGRINE
Refreshes. Perfumes. Invigorates. Endorsed by Physicians. Most Pleasant of Toilet Requisites.
Most healthful of Household Necessities. Call and try it at
JOHN ALLISON'S, Undertaker, Covington, Ky.

Dr. G. M. Terrill,
DENTIST,
Walnut Street,
LAWRENCEBURG, - INDIANA.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

Notice is hereby given that my farm opposite Addyston, Ohio, known as the "Old Chambers farm," is posted, and all trespass by hunting and otherwise, thereon, is positively forbidden.
Miss Margaret C. Kruthoffer.

Notice is hereby given that our lands in Constance precinct is posted against all kinds of trespass, and hunters are warned to keep off.
Joseph Schuch.
Mary J. Schuch.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, • • • KENTUCKY.

JANUARY...1905

Sun.	Mon.	Tues.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28
29	30	31

N. M. 5th. F. Q. 13th. F. M. 21st. L. Q. 27th.

CURRENT TOPICS.

The crops have been very small in certain counties in Sweden owing to a prolonged drought.

The Russian minister of finance has raised the question of the creation of chambers of commerce.

The Illinois court of appeals has decided that the city of Chicago is responsible for damages resulting from fireworks in its limits.

The Chinese voice lacks two notes; its scale has six notes, instead of eight. The fourth and the seventh notes are the missing ones.

In Colorado they still remember Gov.-elect Douglas of Massachusetts. When a young man he conducted a little cobbler shop at Golden.

The most powerful dredge in the world is that used by the Susquehanna Iron Co. at Buffalo to dig an inland barbor through solid rock.

The Great Northern railway's huge steamship Minnesota has made a sensation in San Francisco and is being visited by thousands of people.

Salt Lake City has planned an extension of its water supply that will cost $1,000,000 and make the supply ample for a city of 750,000 individuals.

Finding a long, rusty nail in his morning roll, a Vienese citizen charged his baker with endangering the public safety. The baker was fined $4.

Sufficient sherry wine to supply the world's demand for a quarter of a century is said to be contained in the storehouses of Jerez de la Frontera in Spain.

France hopes to achieve the bloodless conquest of Morocco by establishing a schoolmaster and a doctor in each of the towns on the Algerian frontier.

It is reported that, owing to the losses suffered at the hands of ticket scalpers, several Mexican railways have decided to issue no more round-trip tickets.

That the Japanese would one day be rulers of the ocean coast of Asia is the prediction made almost a century ago in the book of a Russian naval observer.

Some Oxford undergraduates recently thought it funny to ride in a big wagon around and around a woman's college in the middle of the night, yelling "Fire."

The Union Trust Co., of San Francisco, which is putting up a new building, is the first to introduce there the New York system of working three shifts of men night and day.

A new fad among women which will appeal to the class who went in for pet chameleons several years ago is carrying of pet marmosets in the big muffs that are still the correct thing in furs.

The Sonoma County (Cal.) Medical society has decided that after January 1 it will exclude "lodge doctors." The society objects to the system of attending lodge members at so much per month.

Following the lead of John D. Rockefeller, J. P. Morgan has had a photo of his most recent portrait in oil copyrighted so that the newspapers throughout the country will not be able to print it.

The high and handsome tower of a Los Angeles church, which is being pulled down, is to be re-erected on a hill in the neighborhood of the city and used as an observatory by a local man of science.

Prof. Willcox, of Cornell university, for the census bureau, has found that in continental United States there are 1,638,321 more males than females, or about two more males than females in every 100 population.

Railroad men while digging gravel in Black, Butte Mountain, near Lisson, Siskiyou county, Cal., came recently upon an immense buried mass of ice, believed to have been there from time immemorial.

State statistician Johnson says: "It is considered by those interested that wheat can no longer be raised in Indiana at a profit. In 1904 the average yield was a small fraction more than ten bushels to the acre."

Agricultural education is making great strides in Jamaica under the auspices of the agricultural societies. From time to time technical lecturers are sent throughout the island lecturing to the small cultivators on improved methods of farming.

After holding out a long time and trying all kinds of compromises, the seniors of the University of California have yielded to their military instructor and the secretary of war, and have consented to march in and out of the captain's classroom in military style.

Many Americans with the two historical dates of 1607 and 1620 firmly fixed in their minds may be surprised to learn that for nearly a century before the days of Jamestown and Plymouth Rock Christian altars had been standing on this side of the great water.

STEAMSHIP WRECKED.

After Desperate Efforts the Captain and Crew Were Rescued.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 30.—After being imprisoned on the wrecked oil steamer Northeastern, nine miles off Cape Hatteras for 36 hours, Capt. Wilder and his crew of 21 men were taken ashore at noon Thursday by the crews of Kinnakeet, Creeds Hill and Hatteras life saving stations.

The big steamer is pounding Diamond Shoals under a terrific sea and the crew say will be a total loss. In a bewildering fog Tuesday night the Northeastern, on her way up the coast from Port Arthur, Tex., to New York, with a cargo of crude petroleum, shoved her prow into the deadly sands off Hatteras and was fast in the clutches of the grave yard of shipping before her crew realized what had happened. This was at 11 o'clock and before day had come the gale that swept over the country from the middle west had struck the sea and waves were crashing over the helpless vessel incessantly.

The force of the wind and tide threw her on her port beam and the flood of water extinguished her fires before her inflammable cargo could become ignited. Had this not been the case, the 22 men aboard the Northeastern would have met a horrible fate. When morning dawned the wreck was sighted by the life savers. She was nine miles off shore and the water between was a seething mass of mountainous waves so that the life guards had to stand by and watch the big ship being pounded by the waves as helpless to aid those on board as the crew was to aid itself.

Wednesday night preparations were begun to make desperate efforts in the morning to reach the ship. The crews of Creeds Hill and Kinnakeek life savers were summoned and Thursday morning at sunup the life savers began their attempts to get a surfboat through the heavy seas.

Again and again the stanuch lifeboats were sent head-on into the sea only to be hurled back on the beach. After a three-hour struggle, at 9 o'clock three lifeboats were safely across the breakers and battling with the outside seas on their way to the steamer. When the surfmen reached the wreck they were confronted with a problem of great danger and difficulty. The sea, while it had subsided to some extent, was still in angry mood and the little lifeboats were being tossed like cockleshells about the helpless mass of steel. Lines were finally strung between the boats and the Northeastern and after much trouble every man was taken from the vessel in safety.

The Northeastern is an ocean steamship built of steel in Chicago in 1901, and is owned by C. Counselman, of Cincinnati. She is 256 feet long, 42.02 feet beam and 26.5 depth.

BUFFETED BY HEAVY SEAS.

Steamer Drumelzier a Total Wreck—Captain and Crew Rescued.

New York, Dec. 30.—With her signals of distress and her half-masted ensign still flying the steamer Drumelzier was abandoned Thursday night as a total wreck by her captain and a dozen officers and crew who were taken off the craft and landed on Oak Island by the crew of the Fire Island and Oak Island life saving stations. Early in the day 18 men of the crew were taken off the stranded steamer by the surfboat of the Sandy Hook station which was towed down to the scene. The men were brought to this city later on a tug.

At 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon the captain decided that it was unwise to remain longer on the ship, which was being terribly bufeted by the heavy seas, and asked immediate rescue. The crews of the nearby stations responded to his signals and after a hard struggle the men were taken off and landed at Oak island. The rescue of the men on the Drumelzier was hazardous in the extreme and was attended by many thrilling incidents.

GAS ASPHYXIATION.

Man and Woman Dead, Two Women in a Dying Condition.

Cbanute, Kan., Dec. 30.—Jesse Rupert, aged 28 years, and his sister, Cecil Rupert, aged 16 years, are dead and Rupert's wife and another sister, Ethel, aged 19 years, are in a dying condition as the result of natural gas asphyxiation at the Rupert home in this city Thursday. Rupert came here from Ohio six months ago. He was an experienced oil man.

The Colorado Election Troubles.

Denver, Col., Dec. 30.—Chief Justice Gabbott bas announced that the supreme court had not found time to consider the petition of Gov.-elect Adams to open all the ballot boxes used in Denver at the recent election.

Capt. Hamilton E. Smith Dead.

Salina, Kan., Dec. 30.—Capt. Hamilton Ezra Smith, inventor of laundry machinery in general use, and of the first round bale cotton binding appliance, died here Thursday, aged 85 years.

No More Shore Leaves.

Santiago, Chile, Dec. 30.—The American charge d'affaires here had a conference with the government, at which it was agreed that American sailors shall not be granted further shore leave, so as to prevent the recurrence of disorders.

Senator Clark Coming Home.

Paris, Sec. 30.—United States Senator William A. Clark, of Montana, with his wife and child, will sail for New York on board the North German Lloyd steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm on January 4.

FOR MRS. CHADWICK.

A Syndicate Ready to Furnish $40,000 Bail.

Gov. Odell Issues a Warrant for the Arrest of Her Husband—He Will Be Taken to Cleveland, Where He Is Indicted.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29.—The amended requisition of Gov. Herrick, of Ohio, was presented to Pardon and Requisition Clerk Joyce Wednesday morning by Sheriff Barry in the executive chamber. After a short examination it was pronounced sufficient.

Clerk Joyce said, however, that he wished to communicate with Gov. Odell before issuing the warrant. He promised to do so at once and to send the papers to the sheriff at New York police headquarters as soon as the governor had given his formal consent. The sheriff and his attorney accepted this decision without argument. No application for extradition of Dr. Chadwick to Massachusetts has thus far been received here from the Boston authorities.

The sheriff will arrest Dr. Chadwick the moment the Pretoria, the vessel on which he sailed, arrives at New York.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 29.—A syndicate for which Attorney P. D. Quigley, of this city, is spokesman, is said to be ready and willing to furnish bail up to the sum of $40,000 to procure the release of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, held in jail here awaiting trial on the charge of forgery. Attorney Quigley would not give the names of the prospective bondsmen of Mrs. Chadwick, but says that they are well able to furnish any reasonable sum of money required if Mrs. Chadwick is permitted to go out on bail.

The federal officials are said to be not in favor of giving Mrs. Chadwick her freedom and will, it is understood, discourage such a proceeding without, however, infringing on the prisoner's constitutional rights.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 30.—It was reliably stated Thursday night that Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick will be released on bail within a few days. At least an effort will be made in that direction. Mrs. Chadwick herself has expressed her desire to terminate her residence in the county's bastile, and according to her attorney, Jay P. Dawley, on Wednesday, she alone has the deciding vote in the bail question.

"Bail can be given in ample quantity," declared Dawley. "We have it. It is assured if she wants it. The minute she wants to she will be released on bail. Does she want to? I do not know. But it is up to her."

And Mrs. Chadwick has cast her vote for the affirmative. She is reported to have said Thursday night that her original reasons for refusing bail no longer exist, and that she is now ready to avail herself of the proffered offer.

Oberlin, O., Dec. 29.—President Beckwith, of the Citizens' National bank, of Oberlin, who is under indictment for misapplication of funds of that bank, became suddenly and seriously ill Wednesday. His physician says the illness is a serious case of heart trouble and is the result of worry and anxiety over his financial troubles.

THE DAY OF THE STRIKE.

T. V. Powderly, Former Head of the K. of L., Believes It Is Over.

New York, Dec. 30.—"I firmly believe that the day of the strike is over," said T. V. Powderly, former head of the Knights of Labor, Thursday. Mr. Powderly had just arrived in the city from Pittsburg.

"I don't mean by that that there is never to be another strike," he continued, "but I do mean that each year will see fewer causes for strikes and that, as a natural result the strike will be a thing of the past as a means of bringing employers and workingmen to amicable relations.

"I know of nothing so encouraging as the recent conferences between capitalists and laboring men. They have talked things over in many controversies during the past year or so, and with the invariable result that a peaceful solution of the problem has come."

A Head Tax on Aliens.

New York, Dec. 30.—A head tax of $2 on aliens entering the United States from Canada for the purpose of crossing to some Atlantic port on their way to Europe, was proposed Thursday at a meeting of the Atlantic steamship conference with the three trunk line passenger associations.

Failed to Agree on a Price.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 30.—Isador Mautner, of Fort Wayne, and John Heenan, of Terre Haute, and John Gantzel and his partner, Philip Arnold, of Louisville, failed to agree Thursday afternoon on a purchase price for the Grand Rapids Central League franchise.

Senator Depew to Succeed Himself.

New York, Dec. 30.—Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, will succeed himself for a term of six years as United States senator from the state of New York, continuing as the colleague of Senior Senator Thomas C. Platt, who has four years to serve.

Will Represent Peruvian Government.

Washington, Dec. 30.—The Peruvian government has requested Hon. Henry G. Davis, of West Virginia, to represent it in the international Railway Congress which convenes in Washington in May. Mr. Davis has accepted.

BATTLE WITH CONVICTS.

Three Were Killed and Three Others Seriously Wounded.

Folsom, Cal., Dec. 30.—Seven of nine convicts at the state prison made a break for liberty Thursday and as a result three are dead and three are in a critical condition from bullet wounds.

Capt. R. J. Murphy, a prison official, was wounded by a shot in the leg and received two slight knife wounds.

The convicts who engaged in the break were all employed in the rock crusher, where 325 of the most desperate prisoners were at work. Capt. Murphy was acting as general overseer about the rock crusher, and four other prison attaches, I. Daly, A. Hogan, Charles L. Taylor and Charles Jolly were employed as "pushers" to keep the men at work. A large sledge hammer was thrown into the crusher, causing the ponderous machine to come to a standstill. This attracted Capt. Murphy, Charles Jolly and Taylor to the place immediately.

Thereupon the desperate convicts rushed to seize Murphy, Jolly and Taylor. They succeeded in catching the two first named. The others endeavored to take the other free man, who escaped them. During this time the scene of trouble was under cover and the guards on the outside could not see the struggling men, although they soon had an intimation that something was wrong. The convicts, with their captives, made their way towards a small post commanded by Guard W. H. Harris, who was armed with a rifle. Five of the gang surrounded Capt. Murphy and two of them had Jolly. The convicts had knives in position for immediate execution should the guards attempt to free themselves.

They had no sooner stepped into the open than the seven guards commenced firing, and within 20 seconds fully 100 shots had been fired and seven convicts were on the ground helpless.

At the time the first shot was fired Warden Yell was in his office. He rushed to the bluff overlooking the prison and thence down near the scene. He signalled the guards to continue shooting and put his revolver into operation also, at the same time giving orders to the remaining convicts who were crouching behind rocks and in other safe placea to line up and march in. This they did in quick order. The appearance of the warden in the midst of the fighting gave the guards encouragement to carry out his orders. During all the trouble only one Gatling gun was brought into play and that only to frighten the participants.

THE CHANNEL BLOCKED.

Four Coal Boats Containing 100,000 Bushels of Coal Sunk.

Pittsburg, Dec. 30.—The channel of the Ohio river was completely blocked and all coal shipments stopped after 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon by an accident to the tow of the Crescent, of the People's Coal Co., which sank four coal boats containing 100,000 bushels of coal at Merriman. The wreckage is being dynamited and shipments will be resumed Friday.

A total of 1,785,000 bushels of coal were sent out of the harbor Thursday and with the exception of about 175,000 bushels belonging to the Crescent's tow, all this fuel is now well under way for the southern markets. Friday the Sprague and the Jim Wood will leave with about 1,000,000 bushels while the shipments of the independent companies is expected to raise the day's shipments to 1,500,000 bushels.

A NEGRO LYNCHED.

Was Strung Up to a Tree and His Body Riddled With Bullets.

Neal, Ga., Dec. 30.—Herbert Simmons, a Negro, was lynched here for the killing of J. A. Park, a white man. The Negro was taken from the officers by infuriated citizens while being carried to the Zebulom jail and after being strung up on a tree his body was riddled with bullets. Mr. Park was murdered on the night of December 27, his skull being crushed in with a large stick. The coroner's verdict was that he came to his death at the hands of Herbert Simmons.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

Killed Mother-in-Law, Attempted to Kill Wife and Shot Himself.

Thomasville, Ga., Dec. 30.—After killing his mother-in-law, Mrs. Wm. H. Parish, making a desperate attempt to kill his 18-year-old wife, and shooting himself twice with a Winchester rifle here, J. B. Barrow is lying in the city hospital in a precarious condition, closely guarded by officers. Barrow is 38 years old and had been married but two years. Domestic infelicity is given as the cause of the tragedy.

Deputy Collector Is Missing.

San Juan, P. R., Dec. 30.—Santiago Simonet, of Utado, a deputy collector of internal revenue for the district of Arecibo, is reported to be missing. It is alleged that his accounts are in bad condition.

Official Biography of Senator Hanna.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 30.—Elmer Dover, private secretary to the late Senator M. A. Hanna, is collecting data to be used in the official biography of the statesman. Mr. Dover has undertaken the work at the request of the Hanna family.

The Law Is Constitutional.

New York, Dec. 30.—Justice Olmstead handed down an opinion in the court of special sessions Thursday holding that the law against the selling or giving away of street railway transfers is constitutional.

THE RIHLUNG FORT.

Russians Dislodged and the Japs Occupied It.

Intense Hatred Exists Between Some of Opposing Forces in Trenches Close Together in the Vicinity of Mukden.

Tokio, Dec. 30.—The headquarters of the army besieging Port Arthur telegraphs that on the night of December 28, after the occupation of Rihlung fort, a small body of Russians still offered resistance in the passage between the siege gun line and the gorge.

At 3 o'clock in the morning they were dislodged entirely and the occupation of the fort became secure.

According to the statement of three prisoners the defenders of Fort Rihlung numbered about 500 beside some sailors. A majority of the defenders were killed.

The trophies captured with Fort Rihlung include four large caliber guns, seven small caliber guns, 37 millimeter guns, two machine guns and much property as yet unenumerated.

Rihlung fort, situated on Rihlung mountain, formed part of the inner circle of the chain of forts defending Port Arthur. Rihlung is situated about two miles from the outskirts of the town of Port Arthur, from which it bears due northeast. The fort just captured is a mile and a half southeast of Keekwan fort, recently captured by the Japanese. The possession of these two forts should make a most important breach in the fortifications of Port Arthur and cut off communication between the Golden Hill forts and the forts of the western section of the inner circle of fortifications.

Outside of the capture of 203-Meter hill on the western section of forts, little is known of the exact positions occupied by the Japanese, but it would seem from the material available that the inner circle of forts is now cut in three pieces and that 203-Meter hill prohibits communication with the Liaotie section forts just as possession of Rihlung and Keekwan forts cuts off communications with the Golden Hill forts, except by the many underground ways which are said to exist in various parts of the fortress. From Rihlung mountain, which is nearly opposite 203-Meter hill, it would appear that the Japanese fire will be able to reach anything in the harbor and town which the Japanese heavy guns on 203-Meter hill are unable to hit, thus making it apparently impossible for the Russian second Pacific squadron to make any use of Port Arthur even should the Japanese content themselves with holding the strong positions they now occupy.

Mukden, Dec. 30.—Cossacks Thursday brought in the body of Capt. Eridaroff, a noted scout, who was killed in an attack on the village of Tifanty.

Intense hatred exists between some of the opposing forces in trenches close together notwithstanding the friendly terms existing at other parts on the fronts of the two armies. The Japanese try to heat their shelters at advance positions with charcoal fires concealed in small braziers, so as to show no light. One of these recently was broken and the fire exposed the position of the Japanese picket. The whole party were immediately wiped out by a furious Russians fire.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Drenched Horses With Kerosene Oil and Set Fire to Them.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Evidence said to connect Stephen Gorrick with drenching seven horses with kerosene oil and setting fire to them and the barn they were in has been discovered by Fire Department Attorney Johnson. As a result Gorrick is under arrest. The horses belonged to Mrs. Mary Dooley, a widow.

Desire for revenge is given by the investigators as the motive for the act. Gorrick formerly lived at Mrs. Dooley's house and is said by Johnson to have been ejected by her.

NEW BATTLESHIPS.

Preparing Designs For the Most Powerful Ones in Existence.

London, Dec. 30.—According to the Daily Mail the admiralty is preparing designs for new battleships of 17,000 to 18,000 tons and carrying ten 12-inch guns. It has not been decided whether the keels will be laid down in 1905. These battleships will be the most powerful in existence, as the biggest in the American navy carry four 12-inch guns and ten 10-inch guns.

Russian Refugees Arrive.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—Of the 705 steerage passengers brought over on the steamer Merion, which arrived here, more than 550 were Russians. Most of these were able-bodied men between the age of 20 and 30 years and liable for duty in the army.

The Iroquois Theater Fire.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Almost to a day, on the anniversary of the Iroquois fire, Judge Charles M. Walker decided that the city of Chicago is not liable for damages growing out of the loss of life in connection with the famous theater fire.

President Invited to Visit Mobile.

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 30.—Jones M. Withers Camp No. 575, United Confederate Veterans, Thursday forwarded to President Roosevelt an invitation to visit Mobile, assuring him of a hospitable southern welcome.

THREE YEARS AFTER.

Eugene E. Larlo, of 731 Twentieth avenue, ticket seller in the Union Station, Denver, Col., says: "You are at liberty to repeat what I first stated through our Denver papers about Doan's Kidney Pills in the summer of 1899, for I have had no reason in the interim to change my opinion of the remedy. I was subject to severe attacks of backache, always aggravated if I sat long at a desk. Doan's Kidney Pills absolutely stopped my backache. I have never had a pain or a twinge since."

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents per box.

TALES OF THE TITLED.

The Duchess Cecile, of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, whom the crown prince of Germany is to marry, has been brought up in many respects after the fashion of the German housewife. She is proficient in all domestic duties, and said to be a first-class cook.

The little prince of Piedmont, unlike his sisters, Princesses Yolanda and Mafalda, is being nursed by his mother. Queen Helene reluctantly gave the other children up to the nurse, but when the long-hoped-for heir to the throne arrived she absolutely refused to let any other than herself give him nourishment.

King Leopold, of Belgium, has appointed Henry Gabriels, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Ogdensburg, an officer of the Royal Order of Leopolds, which was founded by the first king of Belgium. This honor recognizes the labors of Bishop Gabriels in his writings on various subjects published in Belgium and the services frequently extended by him to emigrants from Brigium to this country.

Lord Charles Beresford, the commander-in-chief of the Channel fleet, is as popular in political circles as he is in the navy. In the house of commons his speeches were always invariably good-humored, and marked with sound common sense. On one occasion Lord Charles created a roar of laughter by explaining how he would deal with captured slave traders. "I'd give these men a fair trial, Mr. Speaker," said he, "and then I'd bang them!"

When she was Consuelo Vanderbilt the duchess of Marlborough had a sweet voice—not remarkable for its timbre, but pleasing—and she used to shock her musical instructors a little by displaying a decided liking for the quaint melodies of the old plantation darkies. Now, even as a stately and dignified duchess, she loves to sing these old ballads and the more modern "coon" songs for the entertainment of her friends, and she has made the melodies so popular they have become all the rage in the families of the nobility. The duchess of Westminster has taken them up, and so has Princess Henry, of Piess.

WHEN WOMAN ENVIES MAN.

When he gives his hair a neat brush and his coiffure is complete.

When he doesn't have to kiss his sworn enemy, and tell him how sweet he looks.

When the children cry and he can whistle a tune, get his hat, bang the door, and go out.

When he trips up the street ahead of her on a rainy day with his trousers jauntily turned up and no skirts to carry.

When he doesn't have to twist his arms to hook his bodice up the back or drag six superfluous yards of dress goods behind him—and do it gracefully, too.

Why They Were Cleaner.

Teacher—How is it that your hands are so much dirtier than your sister's?

Tommy (after a period of intense thought)—Why, ma's got to wash up the tea things.—Ally Sloper.

Telling the Truth.

Bill—Did you have your head shingled when you were a lad?

Jill—No, not my head.—Yonkers Statesman.

HABIT'S CHAIN.

Certain Habits Unconsciously Formed and Hard to Break.

An ingenious philosopher estimates that the amount of will power necessary to break a life-long habit would, if it could be transformed, lift a weight of many tons.

It sometimes requires a higher degree of heroism to break the chains of a pernicious habit than to lead a forlorn hope in a bloody battle. A lady writes from an Indiana town:

"From my earliest childhood I was a lover of coffee. Before I was out of my teens I was a miserable dyspeptic, suffering terribly at times with my stomach.

"I was convinced that it was coffee that was causing the trouble and yet I could not deny myself a cup for breakfast. At the age of 36 I was in very poor health, indeed. My Sister told me I was in danger of becoming a coffee drunkard.

"But I never could give up drinking coffee for breakfast although it kept me constantly ill, until I tried Postum. I learned to make it properly according to directions, and now we can hardly do without Postum for breakfast, and care nothing at all for coffee.

"I am no longer troubled with dyspepsia, do not have spells of suffering with my stomach that used to trouble me so when I drank coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Look in each pkg. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

THE WORLD BUILDER

OUR SERMON STORY by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher

(A Vision Between the Lines of God's Inspired Word.)

(Copyright, 1901, by J. M. Elson.)

Scripture Authority:—"In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth."—Gen. 1:1. "God . . . created all things by Jesus Christ."—Eph. 3:9. "By Him were made by Him; and without Him was not anything made that was made."—John 1:3.

T WAS in the beginning. Within the Realm of the Eternal and Almighty One there was great stir and activity. Father, Son and Holy Ghost, assembled in the Palace of the Secret Presence, had conferred together over the vast project of the universe. The Father, with His eternal purposes well laid, and with plans and specifications for the worlds and all that in them is, carefully drawn through the infinite wisdom and faithfulness of the Godhead, had counseled long and earnestly with the Son and the Holy Spirit as to their execution.

The angelic hosts, as they went hither and thither in obedience to the Divine will which operated in perfect harmony throughout all the Realm, were conscious that some mighty enterprise was under contemplation. They wondered even as they worked, and their expectant eyes were turned toward the Palace of the Secret Presence, waiting for the revelation of the Triune God.

At last in the fullness of time, the Palace doors swung open and the shining presence of the Son came forth. Within one hand He carried the scroll of plans which God had given Him, and upon the other rested the almighty power of the Father; while at His side there walked His inseparable Companion and Helper, the Holy Spirit.

At sight of these two glorious ones, the angels bowed in reverent love and worship, and thus remained until the gentle but authoritative voice of the Son bade them rise. He then thus addressed them:

"It is fitting that you, as inhabitants of the Realm of the Eternal and Almighty One, should be enlightened as to some of the purposes and plans of My Father, and your Lord and God Be it known unto you, therefore, that it hath been decreed in the counsel of His will that the limitless regions beyond this Realm, within which you have hitherto served, shall be molded and organized into the universe, where you will find enlarged and glorious service. All that concerns this universe through time and eternity is locked within the knowledge and will of the Father, but into My hands He has placed the plans for the creation of this universe, and He has bid Me go forth with His blessing and power to the execution thereof. The Holy Spirit, who is with Me at all times, has been specially commissioned of the Father to aid Me in this vast enterprise."

Having finished speaking, the angels again bowed low, and then, being graciously dismissed by the Son, they passed swiftly away, each upon the duty which the Divine will indicated. As the rustle of the garments of the white-robed hosts died away in the distance, the Son turned to the Holy Ghost and, unrolling the specifications and plans which the Father had given Him, they both considered them carefully and earnestly, in order that not one shadow of deviation might be made in the will and purposes of the Father. Then they both looked out and saw that all was waste and void, and that impenetrable darkness was upon the face of the deep. This was the material which the Father had given into the hands of the Son to be molded and shaped according to the plans before them.

"How shall we proceed?" asked the Son of the Holy Spirit, in sweet deference and loving confidence.

"Thou shalt remain here, oh mighty and glorious Son, and I will go forth in willing obedience to the Father's will, and move upon the face of the waters. Then shalt Thou speak as the Father has bade Thee, and through Thy faith and Thy power it shall come to pass even as God hath decreed." So saying the Holy Spirit sped forth upon His mission, while the Son prepared to say the word that would give expression to God's will.

"Let there be light!" The words, like the living messengers which they were, pierced the thick darkness and reached the uttermost borders of the chaotic mass.

The Holy Spirit in quick obedience to the Divine command moved upon the face of the waters and there was light. And the Father, beholding from the Palace windows, saw that it was good, and the Son, seeing as with the eyes of the Father, was satisfied. But the first process was not yet complete, and the Son proceeded to separate the light from the darkness, and the light he called day and the darkness night.

Then came the Holy Spirit, returning from His great mission, and they two, the Son and the Holy Spirit, retraced their steps to the Palace of the Secret Presence, and the first period of the creation was passed. And without the Palace walls there gathered the angel choirs to sing the praises of the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost.

Again the doors of the Palace swung wide on their golden hinges and, as before, the Son and the Holy Spirit come forth with glory, and majesty and power. Again the angels prostrate themselves before them and wait for the Son to speak. Again He bids them rise and sends them forth with His blessing upon their ministry of service. And again the Son and the Holy Spirit turn to the task before them. The Holy Spirit becomes the active agent of God's will, and, permeating the universe, waits for the command of the Son, to be given in obedience to the Father's will "Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters." When God speaks the elements listen and hasten to obey, but not so with man, for he, oh too often, is indifferent to His voice. The voice of the Son speeds forth to the uttermost bounds of space, and the moving Spirit of God operates mightily upon the waters and separates one body from another. And this firmament the Son called Heaven, and the return of the Holy Spirit, and the bursting song of the angels marked the close of the second of the creation days.

The third day brought the dry land, the springing grass and herbs, and the spreading, fruit-laden trees. The fourth day added the wonders of starry heavens and the sun and moon. The fifth days its living creatures in the air above the earth and in the waters upon the earth, and the sixth day was marked by the cattle and the creeping things and the beasts of the earth issuing forth from the creative hands of the Son. Each day brought new glory and honor to the Father Who had planned, and the Son and the Holy Ghost Who had wrought out the Divine will. Each day brought new wonder to the angels as they beheld all the mighty works of the Triune God, and each day gave them inspiration for a newer and better song of praise.

And on this sixth day, with the earth radiant in its verdant beauty and teeming with life, with the glorious heavens stretching their encircling splendor about the earth, and the new-born sun shedding its light and warmth over all it seemed to the angels as they beheld all these marvelous creations that there remained nothing more to make them complete. But they were not within the circle of the Father's counsels; they did not realize that all this was but preparatory and preliminary to the last great act of creation. The Son and the Holy Spirit had withdrawn to the Palace. A mysterious silence fell upon the angelic hosts as they waited and the Son tarried within. A spirit of expectancy took possession of all. Surely some great event was pending, some marvelous climax was approaching.

Suddenly the Palace flung wide its doors and forth stepped the Son and His inseparable companion. On the threshold stood the Father and He whispered to the Son as He released Him from His loving embrace: "Be sure that Thou make it according to the pattern shown Thee."

The prostrate angels wondered what it could be, but ere they had time to question, the Son called them to arise and to go forth with Him. Forth from the Realm of the Eternal and Almighty One proceeded the glorious hosts and journeyed until they came to the new-born earth. They looked and saw that everything that had been created was good. Amidst the charming beauty of fresh, young nature they all came to rest, and the Son spoke as follows:

"It is but fitting, oh, ye angels, that you should know the purpose of our visit hither. The crowning glory of creation is yet to be realized. God hath purposed within the counsels of His own will to make man in His own image, and place him here upon earth that he may have dominion over it and rule it in righteousness, even as the Realm of the Eternal and Almighty One is governed. It is His purpose that His Spirit shall be in man, even as it is in you, and sends you hither and thither in fulfillment of His will. But there is to be one great essential difference between you and this new creation, man. He is to be given the power of choice. He must choose whether God's Spirit shall rule his life, or whether man's spirit shall usurp the place of God, while you are pure and holy through the limitations which God has placed upon you as inhabitants of the Realm of the Eternal and Almighty One. All that this crowning act of the Father's creative power means it will take the events of the ages to unfold."

As the Son finished speaking the angels again bowed low before Him in loving reverence, and they heard Him say: "Thou shalt tarry here while We go yonder to perform the Father's will."

Long it seemed to them they waited, but at last were heard the footsteps of four walking in the garden and the voice of the Son speaking His blessing upon the man and his helpmeet which had been formed from the dust of the ground. "Be fruitful and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it; and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the birds of the heavens, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth. Behold, I have given you every herb yielding seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree in which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for food, and to every beast of the earth, and to every bird of the heavens, and to everything that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, I have given every green herb for food." And having again blessed them, the Son and the Holy Ghost rejoined the waiting angels and returned to the presence of the Father, where the Son was heard to speak of the man made in the likeness of God in purity and holiness of character, and the Father replied: "Yea, I have created him for My glory." And the angels as they went about performing the will of the Father wondered at the first revelation of the mystery which was to take the ages to unfold.

MEN IN SUICIDE PACT.

One is Dead and the Other in Jail in New York.

Bostonians Downhearted and Discouraged Over Financial Reverses Take Poison in a Hotel and Agree to Die.

New York, Dec. 29.—Benjamin J. Willey, of Brookline, Mass., Wednesday night declares that he and Orestes A. Weed, of Boston, came to this city with the intention of committing suicide together. The two men were taken from the Grand Union hotel early Wednesday suffering from morphine poisoning and Weed died at the hospital, after the physicians had tried for hours to save him. Riley was revived Wednesday afternoon and was transferred to the prison ward of Bellvue hospital, where he is held on a charge of attempted suicide. It is thought that he will recover.

According to Coroner Scholer, Riley made the following statement:

"Weed and I have been chums since boyhood. We knew each other well, and when we became older we separated and met only occasionally. We saw each other at least three or four times a year and last Sunday we happened to meet in Boston. We chatted for some time, and told each other of the trials we had encountered during the past six months.

"Both of us had met with bad success and we were both what you may term as down and out.

"Neither of us had anything that gave any promise and we were downhearted.

"In some manner, now, I do not know, our talk drifted to suicide and one of us proposed, I can't tell which one of us did, that we should commit suicide together. Both of us agreed and then we made preparations to die."

Riley then told the coroner of how they left Boston and came to this city. They went immediately to the Grand Union hotel, where they registered and were assigned to a room. Riley said that in their room he and Weed discussed the best methods of ending their lives and it was finally decided to take morphine. They left the hotel late in the afternoon together, he said, and went to a drug store where they purchased the poison.

"We were to die last night," the man continued, "but one of us proposed to put it off for a few hours. We had some money and we decided to spend that before we died. Then, too, we were very nervous. We went around the city and visited several of the theaters and also drank heavily."

Riley then stated that they went to the room on Tuesday night shortly before midnight and that each took a dose of morphine. When he had finished his story he was told by the coroner that Weed had died. Riley then said:

"I am now awfully sorry that I tried to die. I want to live and in the future will do my best to earn my living. I am awfully sorry to hear that Weed is dead. He was a fine fellow and was married and had two children."

Mrs. Weed was notified and came on from Boston at once. Mrs. Weed stated that she will take the body after the autopsy to Boston for burial.

THE COAL COMBINE.

Citizens of Cincinnati Demand That the Government Investigate It.

Cincinnati, Dec. 29.—Demand was made Wednesday by citizens of Cincinnati upon United States District Attorney Sherman McPherson, to investigate the coal combine, as the outgrowth of the recent increase in the prices, which has caused much indignation throughout the city.

The statements from the railroad people indicated that the advance was arbitrary, and, after conferences, it was decided by prominent trades union men and socialists to ask that an investigation be made under the Sherman anti-combine law.

THE CANNERS' CONVENTION.

It Will Be Held in Columbus During the Week Beginning February 6.

Columbus, O., Dec. 29.—More than 2,000 delegates are expected to attend the national convention of canners and packers to be held in Columbus during the week beginning February 6, according to J. T. Staff, of Terre Haute, Ind., secretary of the Canning Machine and Supply Association of the United States and Canada, who is here arranging for the convention. This is twice the number of delegates that attended the convention last year.

To Decorate President Francis.

St. Louis, Dec. 29.—A cablegram was received by Wong Kaikah, Imperial vice commissioner general to the World's fair from China, stating that the emperor of China has decided to decorate President David R. Francis.

Meat For Russian Soldiers.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 29.—It is understood that 2,000 tons of salt beef will comprise a part of the cargo of the steamship Tacoma, which is now loading here. It is surmised that the meat is for Russian soldiers at Vladivostok.

Liabilities $154,662.40; Assets $5,615.

Sherman, Tex., Dec. 29.—E. T. Morris, well known cattleman of Gainesville, filed a voluntary application in bankruptcy. He lists his liabilities at $154,662.40, and his assets at $5,615, all of which are claimed exempt.

TO FOREIGN LANDS.

International Money Orders Issued in New York For the Holidays.

New York, Dec. 29.—The United States played Santa Claus to the world at large, according to reports secured from General Superintendent Joseph Elliott, of the money order division of the New York post office. From December 1 to December 24, the night before Christmas, no less than 334,081 international orders were forwarded to other lands from this city, and these orders called for $4,664,628.90.

"The remittances," said Mr. Elliott, Wednesday, "were the largest in the history of the post office. The figures show an unusual distribution also. For instance, Italy came second in the list of beneficiarice, in point of money received, and a good first in the amount of individual orders.

"Great Britain, as a matter of course, got more money and more orders, but averaging the amount of the separate orders it is seen that the British recipients got but little more than $10 a piece. The Italian orders show an average of more than $30 each.

"Portugal had the smallest average. The average of the orders forwarded to that country was $2. In making the holiday remittances $4,117,495.11 worth of exchange was bought and in the buying a tidy amount was saved for Uncle Sam. International money orders are obtained from the post office department at a fixed rate of $4.87 irrespective of what the market quotation may be. Mr. Elliott buys his exchange at market rates, furnished him daily by 21 bankers, and the postal fund gets the difference. Last year it amounted to $142,000. The liner Majestic conveyed to the other countries money orders calling for a larger total than any other vessel which had sailed in December up to Christmas eve. When she left her dock on December 21 she had in her mail pouches 58,233 orders, amounting to $730,638.98.

MYSTERIOUS CASE.

Dead Body of An Infant Found Suspended From a Suspension Bridge.

Cincinnati, Dec. 29. — Suspended from a thin iron girder below the footwalk of the suspension bridge connect Cincinnati and Covington, the body of a male child, about two months old, was found Wednesday morning by Daniel Fordyce, foreman of the bridge. How many hours the body had been hanging, exposed to the zero winds that swept along the Ohio river is not known, but the frail little figure, when found, was frozen, and even the scant clothing on it was stiff. It is believed the child's body first struck against the iron railing of the bridge, on being tossed over, the guilty person expecting to conceal the deed by the waters carrying away the body. Instead, however, it struck on an iron girder five feet below the footwalk, and catching under the chin, hung for hours. Coroner Tarvin, of Covington, does not accept without question the theory of murder. He says the child had been suffering from bowel complaint, and from conditions thinks that the strange child was dead before the attempt to throw the body into the river was made, either because they were not in position to let it become known there was such a child, or were too poor to provide burial.

ANOTHER MYSTERY.

Young Woman Found Dead at the Foot of An Airshaft.

New York, Dec. 29.—A young woman bearing many evidences of prosperity was found dead Wednesday night at the foot of an airshaft in a tenement house, in Delaney street. The police are undecided whether her death was the result of a crime or accident.

She lay with her head bent under her body and her neck is thought to have been broken. She was about 30 years of age and well dressed. She wore a plain gold wedding ring marked "L. B. to C. C., April 19, 1900."

The police are looking for a man who was seen in the hallway into which the airshaft opens, and who, when asked his business there, replied that he was an inspector of the building department.

Unknown Steamer Stranded.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 29.—Battered by heavy seas that have been lashed to fury of a 40 mile gale, an unknown steamer was helpless on the inner diamond shoals, eight miles off Cape Hatteras Wednesday night and faint lights seen now and then carry a message to the life saving corps on shore that there are human lives aboard the wrecked craft that can not be saved until wind and sea have calmed sufficiently to allow the life boats to be launched.

Kissed a Girl Against Her Will.

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 29.—James Robinson was sent to jail for 30 days for an assault. The offense for which he was committed was kissing a young lady against her will at Bayou La Batre, this county, during a party.

His Heart Pierced.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 29.—The body of Capt. Howard W. French, constructing quartermaster at the new army post here, was found Wednesday with a bullet hole through the heart. He is supposed to have committed supicide.

Awarded the Lelande Gold Medal.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—Prof. Sherburne Wesley Burnham, astronomer at the Yerkes observatory, has been awarded the Lelande gold medal from the French academy of science as a result of his researches in astronomy.

STATE NEWS HAPPENINGS

MARCUM DAMAGE TRIAL.

The Case Was Resumed After a Couple of Days' Recess.

Winchester, Ky., Dec. 28.—After a recess of a couple of days the trial of the Marcum case was resumed Tuesday and about 20 witnesses for the defense answered to their names.

So far the witnesses examined Tuesday have been clerks in Hargis Bros.' store. They agree that when Marcum was killed Tom White came across the street at once from the courthouse; that Judge Hargis ordered the courthouse searched and that the searching party found nothing; that Hargis expressed a desire to find out who did the killing and a willingness to issue a warrant for his arrest. Capt. Ewen, who was with Marcum when he was killed, repeatedly said he did not see who did the killing.

The testimony Tuesday afternoon in the Marcum case was not of a sensational character. Several witnesses testified as to the familiar facts to the killing of Marcum, that Judge Hargis ordered the courthouse searched without effect, that he expressed an earnest desire to capture the assassin, that Ewen declared that he did not know who killed Marcum and other facts that have been previously brought out.

Several witnesses declared that the reputation of Capt. Ewen for truth and veracity was not good and the moral character of Ruck Cottongane and wife was bad.

Several members of the special grand jury which investigated the death of Marcum and indicted Tom White and Curt Jett for the crime were present to testify that the testimony of Henry Noble on this trial was different from that given before that body. Judge Benton decided that they might testify; that they were members of that body and that Noble was before it, but that the secrets of the grand jury room should be kept inviolate and should not be made public.

Winchester, Ky., Dec. 29.—The testimony in the Marcum case Wednesday afternoon was wholly devoid of sensation and was principally devoted to attacks on the character of Buck Cottongane and wife.

Capt. B. J. Ewen, a prominent witness for the defense, and a number of witnesses are here for the same purpose, who have never been examined. Nearly all the witnesses testified that the moral character of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Cottongane was very bad and the reputation of Capt. B. J. Ewen for truth and veracity was bad. Several witnesses testified to the relative positions of Marcum's house and the rock quarry from which it is alleged an attempt was made to assassinate Marcum.

Winchester, Ky., Dec. 30.—Thursday was another day of inactivity in the Marcum case and the evidence was all of a fragmentary character. The defense is evidently nearing the completion of its testimony and the whole matter will probably be closed up next week, most of the evidence is of a nature attacking the veracity of witnesses for the plaintiffs and show that some of the facts testified to are physically impossible.

A LIQUOR "CURE."

Five-Year-Old Negro Died After Being Given a Dose.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 29.—John Clark, a Negro five years old, is dead at the home of his parents in Lyndon of acute alcoholism, in consequence of excessive doses of wine and a mixture of wine and whisky administered to him by his step-father and his mother, in an effort to keep him from ever having a desire for drink by making him sick on it.

Sheriff McInerny's Quietus.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 30.—Sheriff M. D. McInerny, of Kenton county, settled in full with the state auditor for the state taxes from Kenton county and received his quietus. When the accounts were made up it was found that the state owed McInerny about $1,300, which amount he carried home with him.

Arrested as He Left the Pen.

Paducah, Ky., Dec. 28.—Thomas Stewart, about 30, was arrested at the Eddyville penitentiary as he walked out after serving a three-years' sentence for burglary at Bowling Green and brought to this city Tuesday by Deputy Marshal G. W. Saunders, charged with robbing a post office at West Toledo, O., in March, 1901.

Thomas F. Owen Died Suddenly.

Owensboro, Ky., Dec. 29.—Thomas F. Owen, a well-known young man of this city, died suddenly at the home of his father, Judge William T. Owen. He was a brother of W. W. Owen, the democratic nominee for county judge. He was 42 years old.

Big Sale of Burley Tobacco.

Mt Sterling, Ky., Dec. 30.—The best sale of new crop of tobacco made in this county in years was made when R. C. Gatewood sold to J. N. Hisle, for Continental, about 20,000 pounds at 13½ cents. Hisle also bought 10,000 pounds at 10 cents.

Editor Duncan's Announcement.

Brandenburg, Ky., Dec. 30.—Editor David M. Duncan announces in his paper, the Messenger, that he is a candidate for the democratic nomination for representative from Meade county.

BELL COUNTY COAL LANDS.

They Are to Be Developed By a New Company.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 30.—Quite an important conference was held in this city Thursday between local and eastern Kentucky capitalists, with a view to forming a stock company to develop the coal fields of Bell county and the erection of a mammoth coal elevator in this city for handling the output of the mines when opened. The company was organized and C. K. Oldham, of this city, elected president. Its capitalization is fixed at $50,000, divided into 500 shares at $100 each. Associated with President Oldham are State Treasurer Henry M. Bosworth, John C. Fitzpatrick and Judge J. F. Bosworth, both of Middlesboro; Attorney C. J. Bronston, Judge F. A. Bullock and Bosworth Bros., of this city; Maj. H. E. Helburn, of Pineville, and J. W. Keyer, of West Liberty. The location of the new mines will be on Clear creek, in Bell county. A special committee of the stockholders of the company has been appointed to confer with President Milton H. Smith, of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co., with a view to obtaining the construction of a branch of that road into the new coal fields.

THE RICHWOOD MYSTERY.

The Death of Jacob Ketz Is Still Unsolved.

Covington, Ky., Dec. 30.—The mystery surrounding the death of Jacob Kelz seems to deepen. A search of the scene Thursday revealed nothing tangible that would lead to dispelling either the theory of murder or suicide.

There was no indication of a struggle having taken place and no trace of the weapon that caused his death can be found.

Members of the family are heartbroken over his death, and will venture no expression that might aid in clearing the mystery.

The watch and chain found in the vest, a small amount of change and two lottery tickets found in his pockets are held by Coroner Murat, of Boone county.

STABBED THREE TIMES.

An Unknown Man Found Dead on the Pike Near Richwood.

Richwood, Ky., Dec. 29.—An unknown man was found dead about one mile north of Richwood, Ky., on the Cincinnati and Lexington turnpike, about 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. He was stabbed three times through the heart with apparently a small, sharp instrument, such as a small blade of a pocket knife. The trunk of the body was bare of clothing. A coat and vest lay near by, with a watch and chain and some other small valuables. There was no sign of a struggle. A light snow fell during the night, which perhaps covered up traces of a struggle, if any took place. The victim was a middle-aged man, weight about 190 pounds, with a light mustache.

Noted Hotel Burned.

Glasgow, Ky., Dec. 29.—The Mentz hotel at Glasgow Junction was destroyed by fire. Loss estimated at about $9,000, with $5,000 insurance. This was one of the best known hotels in the United States, as most of the people who visited Mammoth Cave stopped there.

Contracted For Twelve Wells.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 29.—Contracts have been made by William Meter, on whose place a strong flow of natural gas was recently discovered, with Benjamin Talbott, of Chicago, whereby the latter is to sink one dozen wells on the farm at the depth of 2,000 feet each.

Want an Eruptive Hospital.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 29.—The Franklin county board of health called on the fiscal court of the county to join with the state prison commission and the city of Frankfort in the erection of an eruptive hospital for the care of smallpox patients.

The Caleb Powers Case.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 28.—A petition for rehearing in the court of appeals will be filed by the attorneys for the prosecution in the Caleb Powers case. This has been positively determined and much speculation as to the outcome is being indulged in.

Judge Cantrill's Successor.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 30.—Gov. Beckham appointed Hon. Robert L. Stout, of Woodford county, to the circuit judgeship of the 14th judicial district, to succeed Judge James E. Cantrill. Judge Stout will preside at the next trial of Caleb Powers.

Kentucky Distillers Sued.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 30.—Auditor's Agent A. M. Harrison, of Lexington, filed in the Franklin county court information against several distillers for taxation of omitted valuation of holdings as warehousemen for five years past.

An Overloaded Musket.

Covington, Ky., Dec. 30.—George Smith, 16, loaded an old musket and started out to hunt rabbits Thursday. He spied a cottontail and fired. The "kick" of the gun dislocated his shoulder and the bunny made his escape.

QUARTERLY REPORT

Of the Farmers Bank of Petersburg at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec., 1904:

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$36,299 45
Overdrafts, unsecured	68 12
Due from Nat. Banks	12,042 07
Due from State Banks and Bankers	2,881 65
Banking house and lot	1,149 40
Specie	818 29
Currency	1,394 00
Other items carried as cash	67 39
Furniture and Fixtures	1,114 05
Current expenses last quarter	244 26
Current ex. 1st quar.	247 37— 491 63
	$ 56,326 06

LIABILITIES:

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$15,000 00
Surplus Fund
Undivided Profits	1,983 96
Due Depositors	39,342 09
	$ 56,326 05

SUPPLEMENTARY.

Highest amount of indebtedness of any stockholder, person, company or firm (including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof) directly or indirectly, if such indebtedness exceeds 20 per cent. of capital stock actually paid in, and the actual amount of surplus of bank $ 0

How is indebtedness stated in above item secured ? 0

Highest amount of indebtedness of any director or officer, if amount of such indebtedness exceeds 10 per cent of paid up capital stock of bank 0

How is same secured ? 0

Does amount of indebtedness of any person, company or firm incinding in the liability of the company or firm the liabity of the individual members thereof, exced 30 per cent of paid up capital and actual surplus 0

If so, state amount of such indebtedness 0

Amount of last dividend 0

Were all expenses, losses, interest and taxes deducted therefrom before declaring dividend and was not less than 10 per cent of net profits of the bank for the period covered by the dividend carried to the surplus fund before said dividend was declared 0

State of Kentucky, County of Boone. }ss.

I, J. C .New, cashier of the Farmers Bank, Petersburg, Ky., a bank located and doing business in the town of Petersburg in said county, being duly sworn, says the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said Bank, at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec., 1904, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said Bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31st day of Dec., 1904, as the day on which such report shall be made.

J. C. NEW, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by J. C. New, the 31st day of Dec., 1904.

SOLON EARLY, N. P. B. C.

My commission expires Jan. 22, 1906.

QUARTERLY REPORT

Of the Boone County Deposit Bank at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec., 1904

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$ 74,490 05
Overdrafts, unsecured	12 82
Due from National Banks	18,878 15
Due from State Banks and Bankers	6,798 74
Banking House & lot	1,221 16
Mortgages	22,348 32
Other Stocks and Bonds	58,442 56
Specie	$4,690 23
Currency	4,018 00 — 8,608 23
Furniture and Fixtures	2,078 84
Give description, location, value and how long owned, all real estate except banking house and lot, if any owned longer than five years	None
	$192,878 87

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock paid in, in cash	$30,000 00
Surplus Fund	30,000 00
Undivided Profits	5,413 15
Due Depositors	121,284 02
Unpaid Dividends	6,181 70
	$192,878 87

SUPPLEMENTARY.

Highest amount of indebtedness of any stockholder, person, company or firm (including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof) directly or indirectly, if such indebtedness exceeds 20 per cent of capital stock actually paid in, and actual amount of surplus of bank None

How is indebtedness stated in above item 1 secured? None

Highest amount of indebtedness of any director or officer, if amount of such indebtedness exceeds 10 per cent of paid-up capital stock of bank None

How is same secured? None

Does amount of indebtedness of any person, company or firm including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof, exceed 30 per cent of paid-up capital and actual surplus No

If so, state amount of indebtedness None

Amount of last dividend 1,500

Were all expenses, losses, interest and taxes deducted therefrom before declaring dividend, and was not less than 10 per cent of net profits of the bank for the period covered by the dividend carried to the surplus fund before said dividend was declared? Yes

State of Ky., County of Boone } ss.

Jo C. Revill, cashier of Boone Co. Deposit Bank, a Bank located and doing business in the town of Burlington, in said county, being duly sworn, says that the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said Bank, at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec., 1904, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said Bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31st day of Dec., 1904, as the day on which such report shall be made.

J. C. REVILL, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by J. C. Byland, cashier, the 2d day of Jan., 1905.

B. F. Bedinger, N. P. B. C.

My commission expires Jan. 27, 1908.

WILSTAR,

Record 2174.

Will make the season of 1905 at McHenry's livery stable in Rising Sun In diana. Persons booking mares before the first of April will save $5. After that time the terms will be $30 to insure a living colt.

SCRANTON BROS., Owners,
apr1 Rising Sun, Ind.

Just a Few of the many bargains to be found at CLARK'S the Jeweler.

7 Jewel, 18s, Elgin or Waltham movement in Silverine case $ 6.25

7 Jewel, 18s Elgin or Waltham movement, o. f. gold filled case $ 8.25

7 Jewel, Ladies' 0s, Elgin or Waltham movement, in 10 year filled case $ 8.25

17 Jewel, 18s, Elgin or Waltham movement, in 25-year filled case 14k $14.25

17 Jewel, 18s, Elgin movement, in 20-yr filled case. $12.25

These prices are for open face watches, hunting cases are a little higher.

8 Day Alarm Clock, wood. $3 up
1 Day Alarm Clock, $1 up
8 Day Alarm Clocks $5.75 up

All timepieces sold by me are guaranteed for one year. Compare these with prices of other jewelers and you will find I can save you from 15 to 30 per cent.

R. W. CLARK
JEWELER,
Burlington, . . Kentucky.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Roberts, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

C. C. ROBERTS, Admr.

said Bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31st day of Dec., 1904, as the day on which report shall be made.

Jo C. Revill, Cashier.
W. L. Riddell, Director.
D. D. Rouse, "
N. E. Riddell, "

Subscribed and sworn to before me by Jo C. Revill, the 31st day of Dec., 1904.

Cecil L. Gaines, N. P.
for Boone county, Ky.

Commission expires Mch. 7, 1908.

QUARTERLY REPORT

Of the Richwood Deposit Bank, at the close of business on Dec. 31, 1904:

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts	$32,444 89
Overdrafts, unsecured	58 14
Due from National Banks	6,806 00
Banking House and Lot	1,808 45
Mortgages	00
Specie $162 95
Currency 1,277 00—	1,429 95
Furniture and Fixtures	1,626 76
Current Expenses Last Quarter $ 520 52—	520 52
	$44,686 71

LIABILITIES:

Capital stock paid in, in cash	15,000 00
Surplus Fund	100 00
Undivided Profits	1,247 27
Time certificates of deposits (on which interest is paid)	5,000 00
Deposits subject to check (on which interest is not paid)	23,339 44
	$44,686 71

SUPPLEMENTARY.

Highest amount of indebtedness of any stockholder, person, company or firm (including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof) directly or indirectly, if such indebteness exceeds 20 per cent. of capital stock actually paid in, and actual amount of surplus of bank 00

How is indebtedness stated in above item 1 secured 00

Highest amount of indebtedness of any director or officer, if amount of indebtedness exceeds 10 per cent. of paid up capital stock of bank 00

How is same secured? 00

Does amount of indebtedness of any person, company or firm including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof, exceed 30 per cent. of paid-up capital and actual surplus 00

If so, state amount of such indebtedness 00

Amount of last dividend $450 00

Were all expenses, losses, interest and taxes deducted therefrom before declaring dividend, and was not less than 10 per cent of net profits of the bank for the period covered by the dividend carried to the surplus fund before said dividend was declared Yes

State of Ky. County of Boone } ss

J. C. Byland, cashier of Richwood Deposit Bank, a bank located and doing business in the town of Richwood in said county, being duly sworn, says the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said bank at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec., 1904, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31st day of Dec., 1904, as the day on which such report shall be made.

J. C. BYLAND, Cashier.
Gaines Robinson, Director.
J. L. Jones, Director.
J. C. Hughes, Director.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by J. C. Byland, cashier, the 2d day of Jan., 1905.

B F. Bedinger, N. P. B. C.

My commission expires Jan. 27, 1908.

QUARTERLY REPORT

Of the Verona Bank at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec, 1904:

Resources:

Loans and Discounts	$36,154 76
Due from National Banks	4,997 06
Banking House and Lot	1,755 99
Mortgages	3,400 00
Specie $ 388 20
Currency 1,406 10—	1,694 30
Furniture and Fixtures	1,776 35
	$49,778 48

Liabilities:

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$15,000 00
Surplus Fund	285 00
Undivided Profits	657 99
Due Depositors	33,835 49
	$49,778 48

Supplementary.

Highest amount of indebtedness of any stockholder, person, company or firm (including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof) directly or indirectly, if such indebtedness exceeds 20 per cent. of capital stock actually paid in, and actual amount of surplus of bank 00

How is indebtedness stated in above item 1 secured 00

Highest amount of indebtedness of any director or officer, if amount of such indebtedness exceeds 10 per cent of paid-up capital stock of bank 00

How is same secured? 00

Does amount of indebtedness of any person, company or firm including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof, exceed 30 per cent. of paid-up capital and actual surplus 00

If so, state amount of such indebtedness 00

Amount of last dividend $450 00

Were all expenses, losses, interest and taxes deducted therefrom before declaring dividend, and was not less than 10 per cent of net profits of the bank for the period covered by the dividend carried to the surplus fund before said dividend was declared Yes

State of Ky. County of Boone } ss.

I, J. E. Franks, Cashier, of Verona Bank, a bank located and doing business in the town of Verona, in said county, being duly sworn, says the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said bank at the close of business on the 31 day of Dec., 1904, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31 day of Dec., 1904, as the day on which such report shall be made.

J. E. Franks, Cashier.

W. M. Whitson, O. K. Whitson, R. O. Powers, } Directors.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by J. E. Franks, cashier, the 31st day of Dec., 1904

M. H. DeJarnett, Notary Public.

My commission expires Jan. 22, 1906.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.

Quarterly Report of the Erlanger Deposit Bank of Erlanger, Ky., at the close of business Dec., 31st, 1904:

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$107,385 03
Overdrafts, unsecured	295 14
Due from Nat. Banks	30,981 68
Banking House and Lot	8,780 70
Mortgages	32,875 00
Specie 1,562 49
Currency 7,875 00
Exchange for Clearing 225 00—	9,662 49
Furniture and Fixtures	1,785 15
	$186,765 19

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock paid in	$50,000 00
Surplus Fund	7,550 00
Undivided Profits	2 490 00
Individual Deposits	126,725 19
	$186,765 19

SUPPLEMENTARY.

Highest amount of indebtedness of any stockholder, person, company or firm (including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof) directly or indirectly, if such indebtedness exceeds 20 per cent of capital stock actually paid in, and actual amount of surplus of the bank 00

How is indebtedness stated in above item 1 secured?

Highest amount of indebtedness of any director or officer, if amount of such indebtedness exceeds 10 per cent of paid-up capital stock of bank 00

How is same secured?

Does amount of indebtedness of any person, company or firm including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof, exceed 30 per cent of paid-up capital and actual surplus No

If so, state amount of such indebtedness 00

Amount of last dividend $2,500

Were all expenses, losses, interest and taxes deducted therefrom before declaring dividend, and was not less than 10 per cent of net profits of the bank for the period covered by the dividend carried to the surplus fund before said dividend was declared Yes

State of Kentucky, County of Kenton:

S. L. Webb, cashier, of Erlanger Deposit Bank, a bank located and doing business in the town of Erlanger, Ky., in said county, being duly sworn, says that the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said bank, at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec, 1904, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31st day of Dec., 1904, as the day on which such report shall be made.

S. L. Webb, Cashier.

W. A. Price, F. A. Uiz, J. H. Graves, } Directors.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by S. L. Webb, the 31st day of Dec., 1904.

T. J. Childress, Notary Public Kenton County, Ky.

Commission expires January 21st, 1906.

QUARTERLY REPORT

Of the Florence Deposit Bank at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec., 1904:

Resources:

Loans and Discounts	$10,201 80
Due from Nat. Banks	17,816 01
Banking House and Lot	2,946 24
Mortgages	2,860 00
Specie $890 20
Currency 1.580 00—	2,390 20
Furniture and Fixtures	1,994 78
Current Ex. last quar $239 77
	$37,716 73

Liabilities:

Capital Stock paid in in cash	$7,500 00
Surplus Fund	200 00
Undivided Profits	186 13
Deposits subject to check (on which interest is not paid)	29,830 60
Capital Stock not paid	$7,500
	$37,716 73
Gross earnings from July 25 to Dec. 31, 1904	$350 90
Disposed of as follows:
Divid'd No. 1, 3 per cent	$225 00
Amt. placed to surplus	200 00
Exp. from July 25 to December 31, 1904	239 77
Bal. Undivided Profits	186 13
	$850 90

Supplementary.

Highest amount of indebtedness of any stockholder, person, company or firm (including in the liabilities of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof) directly or indirectly, if such indebtedness exceeds 20 per cent of capital stock actually paid in, and actual amount of surplus of the bank $3,142 00

How is indebtedness stated in above item 1 secured ?

Collateral Bank Stock and Mortgage on Real Estate.

Highest amount of indebtedness of any director or officer, if amount of such indebtedness exceeds 10 per cent of paid up capital stock of bank No

Does amount of indebtedness of any person, company or firm including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof, exceed 30 per cent of paid-up capital and actual surplus? Yes

If so, state amount of such indebtedness $1,112 00

Amount of last dividend...00

Were all expenses, losses, interest and taxes deducted therefrom before declaring dividend, and was not less than 10 per cent of net profits of the bank for the period covered by the dividend carried to the surplus fund before said dividend was declared Yes

State of Ky., County of Boone } ss.

I, Edith E. Lancaster, cashier of Florence Deposit Bank, a bank located and doing business in the town of Florence in said county, being duly sworn, says the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said bank, at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec. 1904, to the best of her knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said bank has been transacted at the location named, and and elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31st day of Dec., 1904, as the day on which such report shall be made.

Edith E Lancaster, Cashier.

W. H. Rice, J. N. Pearson, C. W. Myers, } Director.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by Edith Lancaster, the 2d day of Jan 1905.

J. F. Murray, N. P.

My commission expires Jan. 22, 1906

In the District Court of the United States, for the Eastern District of Kentucky, In Bankruptcy.

In the matter of Elmer Beall a Bankrupt.

On this 30th day of Dec., A. D., 1904, on considering the petition of the aforesaid bankrupt for discharge, filed on the 28th day of Dec., A. D., 1904, it is ordered by the court that a hearing be had upon the same on the 24th day of January, A. D. 1905, before said court at Covington in said district at 10 o'clock, in the forenoon, or as near thereto as practicable, and that notice thereof be published one time in Boone County Recorder, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

Witness the Hon. A. M. J. COCHRAN, Judge of said Court, and the seal there of, at Covington in said district. on the 30th day of Dec., A. D., 1904.

{seal} Jos C. Finnell, Clerk.
J. W. Menzies, D. C.

For the Best Flour, Try

OLD KENTUCKY

BLENDED PATENT.

—GUARANTEED.—

For Something Good, Try

VIRGINIA OAK

WINTER PATENT.

—WARRANTED.—

Clifford E. Nadaud,

515 Chamber of Commerce,
CINCINNATI, O.
Room 10 Boone Block,
COVINGTON, KY.

Administratrix Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Edward S. Underhill, decd., must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

JERRY UNDERHILL, Admr.

There is only one way to do right.

What More Could You Possibly desire in Clothes

Than to have them made from thoroughly tested fashionable fabrics—have them tailored in the best possible manner—have them fit satisfactorily, and have them make you appear a thoroughly dressed man? that's the sort that you get from

PIPER & WALTON,

Merchant Tailors

142 E. Fourth St.,

Cincinnati, - - Ohio.

Rooms 2 and 3.

Our Fall & Winter Goods are now ready for inspection. Call and examine our stock. In attendance at Burlington County Court days with samples.

"Always Reliable."

W. N. HIND & CO.

Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,

213 W. 5 h S., Cincinnati.

Having Just Purchsaed

—MY—

FALL AND WINTER

Stock of Millinery

I now have on sale all of the new styles in

"Ready to Wear" and Trimmed Hats, at City Prices.

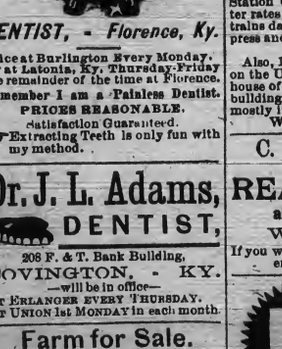
I cordially invite all to examine my stock and prices before purchasing elsewhere.

MRS. LEE CLEEK, Walton, Ky

Rogers Bros. General Merchants,



BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.

Coal Kept in the Yard.

Country Produce taken in Trade.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST, - Florence, Ky.

Office at Burlington Every Monday. " at Latonia, Ky. Thursday-Friday the remainder of the time at Florence.

Remember I am a Painless Dentist.

PRICES REASONABLE.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Extracting Teeth is only fun with my method.

Dr. J. L. Adams,

DENTIST,

208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.
AT UNION 1st MONDAY in each month.

Farm for Sale.

145 acres near Woolper creek in Boone county, Ky., now the property of Eneas Barnett, of Lawrenceburg, Ind. This farm has a large tobacco barn, large stable, two story frame house of 8 rooms, good cistern and well at house; large apple orchard and all other fruits. All this property is in first-class condition. For further information apply to B. B. Grant, who is now on the place, or to D. M. Snyder, Burlington, Ky.

Take the Recorder.

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D Rouse's store.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029.
Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.

Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK

(Incorporated 1886.)

CAPITAL $80,000
Surplus and undivided profits $0,000

Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptremitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK

(INCORPORATED 1893.)

ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY

Capital Stock paid in $50,000
Surplus $3.000

Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its RATES are LOWER

Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.

WITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

in keeping their property insured.

Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.

Edgar Cropper, Pres., Idlewild, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, "
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Maichus Souther, Secy.,
R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
W. M. Rogers, Agent, Walton, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, "
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Couner, Solon Early.

FARM FOR SALE.

The A. P. Collins Farm Near Richwood, Ky.

Fine blue grass farm in Boone county, Ky., containing about 105 acres; good 6 room house and porches, barn, all kinds of out buildings, good fencing, well watered with springs, wells, cistern and pond. A private avenue runs to the Lexington pike. The house is about 8 minutes walk to Richwood Station C. & O. and R. R. Commuter rates to the city, 7c a trip with four trains daily. Telegraph, telephone, express and post office—four daily mails.

Also, 105 acres the H. O. Boone farm on the Union and Florence pike; good house of 7 rooms and all necessary outbuildings; well watered and land mostly in grass. Apply to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN
REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.

If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXX. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY JANUARY 11, 1905 NO. 13.

County Correspondence.

CONSTANCE.

Miss Alva and Blanche Zimmer were visiting relatives at Riverside, last week.

Miss Ella England visited her cousin Mrs. Lizzie England, at Covington, recently.

Raymond Jackson, of Anderson Ferry, Ohio, was calling on friends here the other day.

Mr. Fred Huddleson and Miss Lonise Reeves were guests of Mrs. August Noll one evening recently.

Miss Celia Anderson and brother Charlie were visiting relatives at Mt. Auburn several days recently.

The watch party given at Miss Margaret Crigo's was a success. Everyone present reported an excellent time.

Mrs. Adeline Haberle and son Elmer entertained a number of friends with a euchre party New Year's eve.

Miss Donna Colna and Anita Hempfling, of Taylorsport, were guests of Mrs. Louis Kottmyer, one day recently.

Misses Maggie and Caroline Dolwick and Nellie and Charlotte Hempfling were guests of Miss Dora Carr near Hebron, a few days since.

o o o

HATHAWAY.

Health of the community very good.

No sales of tobacco in this neighborhood yet.

H. O. Adams and wife entertained with a delightful party a few evenings since.

Uncle Sam will be petitioned to appoint Nicholas Moore postmaster at this place.

N. L. Moore has rented the store building at this place, and will occupy it as soon as Houston & Weaver vacate which will be about March 1.

While Sanders Horton was out hunting a few days since he went to where John McElroy and Arch Rouse were sawing wood, and Let is Houston, who was in the crowd asked to be allowed to take a shot with the gun, which he was permitted to do. When the gun went off it knocked young Houston down, and the other barrel was discharged and came very near shooting the young man. Fortunately the only injury received was a cut about three inches made on one of his legs.

o o o

FLICKERTOWN.

Ben Hensley is on the sick list.

Chas. Sullivan will work for Gaines Bros. this year.

Chas. Hensley and wife entertained with cards, Tuesday night.

Gid Kite and Doc Clore, of Waterloo, were in our town, Thursday.

E. B. Huey, the Walton insurance man, was in this locality last Wednesday.

Charles Wilson, of Idlewild, made a business call on Mrs. Mary Klopp, last Thursday.

Ben Hensley and family visited Nick Oberding, of Lawrenceburg, last Saturday and Sunday.

Ed Hensley and family, of Locust Grove, visited his mother near here last Thursday and Friday.

Charles Hensley and James White were over at Waterloo on telephone business, last Wednesday.

C. L. and Frank Voshell, of Indiana, were guests of James White and family last Friday and Saturday.

W. S. White and wife, of Hathaway, visited their son James and family here last Sunday and Monday.

Mr. Vel Cook and Miss Stella Surface, of Dayton, Ohio, spent the holidays with Ben Hensley and wife.

There is talk of building a farmers' telephone line from Petersburg to Waterloo. It would be a great convenience to this part of the county.

Local tobacco buyers are slow to take hold, and no sales about here are reported, and 10 cents is the price the farmers are holding for.

Clareuce Whiteford and bride, of Sparta, Indiana, visited James White and wife last Thursday. The bride is the daughter of Charles Voshell.

C. E. White and wife dined several of their friends Sunday. Those present were Ed Hensley, wife and daughter, of the Locust Grove neighborhood; Charles Hensley and wife, and James White and wife, of Ashby Fork, Lenie Eddins, of the hub, Charles Clore and wife, and Hubert White and wife, of High Street. All had a delightful time.

o o o

GASBURG.

Jan. 7.—Miss Mary Swing, 62 of near the Aurora ferry, who has been very sick is improving some.

The peach buds are all right to date.

Born, to William Burres and wife, a daughter.

Bernard Berkshire moved to the Schwartz farm, last week.

Tobacco stripping is being pushed vigorously. No sales reported.

Sam Laird, of Cochran, Ind., bought 10 shoats from your reporter, Friday.

Hogan Wingate, who lives on Mrs. Scott's upper farm, will move to Clore's Ridge.

George Terrill had 2 cattle to get seriously injured by a hay stack blowing over on them.

Ben Berkshire and Lloyd Norris bought one mile of wire fence of Scott Bros. of Ghent.

Jimmy Clint Moreland is now a resident of this place, having taken up his abode with Al Nixon.

The Japs have taken Port Arthur and the Nixons have taken Gasburg—5 families of them now live here.

Mrs. Arthur Dayles and family, and John Burres and family, moved to J. B Teany's farm near Aurora, Thursday.

Elijah Parker may have a fine memory but he has no recollection of going to school with Old Reliable in the forties.

Edson Riddell was laid up for repairs several days last week.

HATHAWAY.

Jan. 9.—This month is furnishing plenty of winter weather.

Colds are quite prevalent in this neighborhood.

W. L. Stephens had a woodsawing last Thursday afternoon.

Marcus Ryle gave the young folks a play party last Friday night.

Mrs. Sarah E White and Mrs. June Ryle spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. G. A. Ryls.

J. C. White and family spent last Friday very pleasantly with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Rector, near Waterloo.

M. M. Ryle and family spent one day last week as guests of Nathan Clements and family, of this place.

Frank Rue, of Lexington, has been visiting here for several days. He has a good position and is looking well.

The Waterloo and Hathaway Telephons Co. elected new officers for the ensuing year as follows: R. O. Ryle, president; A. D. Williamson, vice president; Moses Scott, secretary; Jeff Williamson treasurer; Whit Ryle, J. D. McNeely, and G. N. Smith as directors.

The Waterloo coon hunters have been prospecting for a lucky find of coons for some time, and located a big tree that they thought was full of coons. They consulted the owner of the tree and got his permission to cut it provided there was coons in it If there were not the famous hunters were to pay him the sum of $1 They cut the tree which took them several hours, and when the tree fell there was only a little, grey squirrel which escaped from the hunters that had supplied themselves with clubs for the battle that was declared off. The owner of the tree is now demanding pay for the tree, Boys, pay up for the fun you had and make sure of a coon den next time.

o o o

MCVILLE.

Stripping tobacco is the order of the day here.

Born, on the 4th, to Bert Staley and wife, a boy.

Chas. Ryle is wearing a pleasant smile, it is a girl.

Capt. W. H. Williamson and Bros., have beached their ferry boat for the winter.

Paris Akin, teacher of McVille school has been very much indisposed for a couple of days.

Little John, son of Tom Staley, who has been seriously ill for the past few weeks, has improved very much.

Dave Akin's three little children are spending the winter with their grandfather, Mr. Hammond, near Limaburg.

Miss Doll Ryle, of Sedamsville, O formerly of this place, spent several days visiting her aged mother here this week.

John Smith, jr., of this place, enroute for Cincinnati, was on the Avolyn when she collided with the tow boat, Jim Martin, tearing up her tow considerably. The Avolyn was not hurt.

Anna Belle Stewart departed this life Dec the 26th at her home in White Water Junction, O. She was born Jan the 24th, 1879, and joined the Baptist church at Califronia, Ky., 11 years ago. She had devoted the most of her time to the interest of her church. She was a kind and loving daughter, a kind sister and loved by all who knew her. She leaves a mother and sister and a host of friends and relatives to mourn her loss.

o o o

WATERLOO.

Jan. 7.—Born, to Kirb Conner and wife, on the 2d inst., a 14 pound boy.

John White of Hathaway was in town, Tuesday.

Oscie Kelly, son of Z T. Kelly, started too California, Friday.

Leslie Acra, of Middle Creek, was shopping in Rising Sun, Wednesday.

Mrs. Laura Clore and two daughters spent Sunday at Perry Clore's in Bellevue.

Wm. Clore is the first in this neighborhood to begin plowing for a 1905 crop.

Lester Gulley, of near Burlington, spent the holidays with his parents here.

Mrs. America Conner, of Cincinnati, is visiting her son, Kirb and wife, of near here.

Leslie Sullivan is repairing his house to which he intends moving as soon as completed.

Gid Kite was hauling hay from George Ward's East Bend farm, one day last week.

W. G. Kite and J. S. Clore were sojourning in Woolper neighborhood last Thursday.

Miss Effie Beemon and father were pleasant guests of Everett Clore and wife, Wednesday.

The stockholders of the Waterloo and Rabbit Hash Telephone line had a meeting Wednesday.

J. W. Kelly and family, of near Hebron, spent Sunday with his brother, Charlis Kelly, of this vicinity.

Bluford Clore, of Clore's Ridge, spent Thursday night and Friday with his cousin, Kirb Clore, at Bellevue.

Owen Presser, of Bellevue, who has been confined to his room with grippe, was able to make your reporter, a call, Thursday.

Several of the young people from here attended the dance at Charles Clore's Thursday night, and report having a good time.

In a short time we will be in connection with the telephone line running from Clutterbuck's store, Burlington, to the Locust Grove neighborhood.

Miss Nannie Hamilton, the popular principal of the League Institute at Verona, was the recipient of a handsome souvenir spoon, presented as a Christmas present by her 1904 class.

BELLEVUE.

Jan. 9.—Mrs. Mary Corbin is still quite poorly.

Johnny Maurer is home with his parents this week.

Bob Rouse and wife, of Hebron, were the guest of Mrs. Corbin a couple of days last week.

We are counting on a telephone line from Bellevue to Petersburg in the near future. Hope it will be a success.

Harry Acra was around among his beef patrons Saturday, to ascertain how many are in need of a new set of teeth.

Miss Willie May Corbin, of Lawrenceburg, came down Saturday to remain with her sick grandmother for a while.

Mrs. Fannie Snyder and daughter, Miss Mary, of Petersburg are visiting their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Corbin.

Nat Carpenter, wife and Miss Virgie Snyder, of Burlington, were down to see their sick grandmother Mrs. Corbin, last Thursday.

John P. Ryle, of Rabbit Hash, has several fine bronze turkey gobblers and a couple of hens for sale at 13½ cents per pound. Any one in need of such fowls would do well to secure them at once.

Your reporter was in Rabbit Hash last Friday and found all in fair health and doing well. Old R. H. is noted for energy and prosperity. Although stuck on a hillside she is there all the same.

Charles Mauer and Mrs. Josie Grant were married in Newport on the 4th inst. They came to the home of the groom's parents that evening, and after a bountiful supper they were called on by about 100 festive musicians whose presence so enthused the groom that he made them a rattling nice little speech, after which they all took cigars.

It is with sadness that we chronicle the death of Mrs. James Rogers, which occurred in a Cincinnati hospital last Friday at 9 p. m. The remains were brought home yesterday on the Mail Boat, which arrived here at noon. The funeral was preached today by Rev. Atwood at the Baptist church in the presence of a large congregation of grief stricken relatives and sorrowing friends. The remains were interred in the new cemetery. Obituary next week.

o o o

COMMISSARY.

Jan. 9.—Solomon Winkle and family, of near Idlewild, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Nick Fleck and family.

Mrs. Leomer Louden is visiting relatives in and near Lawrenceburg, Indiana.

Mrs. Harry Acra, of Middle Creek, who has been spending a few days on Ashley returned Tuesday.

Jesse Louden and wife, of near Bellevue, visited their cousin Richard Lacy and wife last Sunday.

William Fleck and wife, of near Limaburg, visited relatives near Commissary Saturday night and Sunday

The cold wave that was due here the 1st, 2nd and 3d, did not reach here until the 3d. but it got here all the same.

Wood McGuyre, who spent the summer in Gallatin county, spent Tuesday with his brother Jasper near here

Jacob Fleck and sister, Luella, of near Limaburg, were calling on their sister, Mrs. Ed Burres, near here last Sunday evening.

Ed Burres bruised his thumb stripping tobacco, and it is very paluful, but he keeps on at work. It takes more than a sore thumb to stop Ed.

Richard Koons, a former resident near here, but now of Lawreuceburg, spent the latter part of last week very pleasantly with relatives and friends here.

Gilly Welsiokle, of Middle Creek, sold his farm to Robert Kite for the sum of $900, and is to give possession the first of March. Mr. Welsiokle will probably locate in Indiana.

Big Bone, it was not the intention of Old Reliable in his jotting by the way to deceive the readers of the Recorder. He was only aiming to keep pace with the other correspondents.

The Boone County Recorder goes to every box on our R. R except three Where is the route in old Boone, or in any county that can say as much of its county paper? We dont believe there is any that can.

We called at the Flickertown store last Monday and found it full of ladies making purchases. Ben was "kept busy handing down, pricing and tying up goods. He is a skillful clerk and looks quite captivating behind the counter. He reported trade good and increasing every day.

One of our citizens called me a liar on the street last Tuesday, and while I could have punched his head in return, I simply shrugged my shoulders and passed on. The correspondent who loses his dignity can never stand the same before the public again. We may sleep on a straw bed and go hungry half the time but my dignity must and shall be preserved.

Charles Mauer, of Bellevue, and Mrs. Josie Grant, of near Commissary, were quietly married in Newport, last Wednesday, by the Rev. Charles Garrison, at the Parsonage, 825 Maple Ave. The bride and groom are a worthy couple. We wish them a prosperous and happy journey down the river of life. After the ceremony they returned to Bellevue and were given an old time charivari.

Summer in winter smilingly greets you as you look at the Boone County Recorder, the best paper in the county. It is fresh and fair, skyblue eyes and curly hair, rosy cheeks and dimpled chin, choose your partner and step in. Don't you want it in your home? No home in Boone County is complete without it. It will do you good, make you better and happier. Subscriptions given Commissary will receive prompt attention.

Joe Weaver, of Hathaway, has purchased of Alonzo Whitson his 40 facre farm near Union for $2,000. What does Joe intend to do?

PETERSBURG.

Jan. 9—Sid Fenton, of Newport, was visting the Beidens, last week.

Navigation suspended again in river this (Monday) morning.

A protracted meeting will begin at the Christian church shortly.

Deputy Collector Graddy sold $12,000 worth of stamps? one day last week.

J. H Berkshire after quite a lay off is on duty again on the Workum

Ben Calvert, of East Bend, visited his sister, Mrs Agnes Grant, last week.

The new wheel for the str. Pauline has arrived from Chicago and is being put in place.

W. T. Snyder, Walter Kelly and C. C. Hughes are all on duty at the distillery here.

H. E. Wilkens, son of the President of the Whisky Trust, is yeast maker at the distillery.

Mr. Ollis Jones and Mrs. Jane Bailey were married in Lawrenceburg, one day last week.

J. I. Wingate and wife, of Cincinnati, are visiting Mr. Wingate's mother here, last week.

Capt. Alex Hyatt has returned home after a visit of several months with his son in Pittsburg

Abe Hogan, of Nashville, Tenn., and owner of the cattle at the distillery, was in town Sunday.

A muskrat cut a hole in the cornboat, causing it to leak so badly that it had to be docked.

Miss Alice Snyder, of North Bend, was the guest of her cousins, the Misses Alden, last Sunday.

Miss Dora Cook, a pretty young lady from Indiana, is making her home with aunt Susan Wingate.

The towboat, Tom Rees, was the flag ship of the Pittsburg coal fleet that passed here a few days ago.

Nelson Gridley, of Walnut Hills, O, was visiting relatives, here, last week, and calling on his best girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanden Canfield, of Aurora spent several days, last week, with T. B. Mathews and wife.

Samuel Caldwell and family, of Cincinnati, were visiting his sister, Mrs. Eilhn Alden, one day last week.

Miss Pearl Crisler has returned from a protracted visit to friends and relatives in North Bend neighborhood

Capt. Tim Smith says, "when you see a great many sea-gulls flying about the river, look out for cold weather."

Dr. Hubert Walton has returned to Louisville, and W O. Alden to Lexington, after spending the holidays here.

Since the distillery started there is more shipping from this landing than any between Cincinnati and Louisville.

Felix Arnold, of Owensboro, and his brother, Will, of Belleview, were guests of Judge Arnold and wife, Sunday.

E. A. Stott, assisted by three other men, drove 850 cattle through from Walton, Friday. They came from the South.

Hogan Wingate, who has lived in this vicinity for a number of years has moved back to his old home in East Bend neighborhood.

Mrs. John Pease, whose maiden name was Sebree, and well knowu here is lying at the point of death at her home in Lawreuceburg.

B. R Smith and family, of Denver, Colorado, are visiting his sister, Mrs. P. D. Smith and family. Ben is having better health than usual.

Miss Effie Hensley attended a reception given by Miss Mae Cutler at her handsome home on Milton street, Cincinnati, last Wednesday.

Warren Fitch, of Indianapolis, Misses Ella Silvey, Elizabeth Collins and Joe Shaw, of Lawrenceburg, were calling on Miss Ione Buchanan, last Monday

Chas. Arnet, of Shelbyville, is boss cattle feeder at the distillery. They are feeding 1400 head, in addition to the 800 they are feeding hay and cotton bulls.

Physicians from here and Lawrenceburg amputated the leg of Frank Bowman, the young man who was accidently shot by a companion, a few days ago. He died Friday night.

We had not read "Old Reliable's" article very far down until we recognized the writer of it. He may switch his items to any part of the county and we will apprehend him. He need not change his color for we can tell him by his note.

No person was ever missed any more from a community than Miss Mae Thompson, but the best wishes of all go with her and her nice and kind companion. Here is to you Earl, and your pretty bride, and may you live long and prosper.

The most enjoyable gathering of the holidays was at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Crisler, when the youth and beauty of the town gathered to enjoy themselves in conversation and games.

Rev. Rowland, Presiding Elder, held his second quarterly meeting at the Methodist Church here, last Saturday and Sunday The next quarterly meeting will be held at Burlington some time in April.

Sullivan Black, while crossing cattle at Aurora ferry one day last week, was run over and knocked down by a steer and the whole drove ran over him. He was badly hurt and was unconscious for some time.

Dr. G. M. Terrill, of Lawrenceburg, was taken suddenly sick at Hotel Crisler, last Sunday night, and a physician had to remain with him for several hours. His fever was over 104, with symptoms of pneumonia.

The Fiscal Court did a sensible act when it appropriated money to buy a pair of blood hounds for this county. They will soon pay for themselves by calls from other counties. Then they will stop lawlessness in the county and especially the boulder throwing at this place.

Several of our citizens were caught in a squall on the Daisy a few days since and for some time it looked as if the steamer would be dashed to pieces by the hughe waves that rolled as high as the pilot house, and to add to the consternation the only means for escape from a watery grave, the skiff, broke loose and drifted up the river, but Capt. Alden steamed into port safely.

PLATTSBURG.

Plenty of good winter now.

John Deck and family visited at Lewis Sullivan's, Sunday

George Weindell and wife are guests of Charles Sebree and wife.

Mrs. Belle Kinney and daughter have been quite sick for several days.

Cad Sullivan and wife entertained the young people with a party one night last week.

Misses Genia and Nellie Sebree were visiting the Misses Aylor, last Saturday and Sunday.

Lewis Hensley has rented a farm near Hartford, Ind., to which he will move in March.

Clarence Whitford and wife, of Sparta, Ind., visited relatives and friends here, several days last week.

o o o

FRANCESVILLE.

Mrs. Mike Muntz is very sick.

Asberry Henry is still improving.

Mrs. Zeke Aylor spent last Tuesday with Mrs. Wrightman.

We are sorry to hear that Kenneth Baisy is still quite low.

O. C. Henry has returned to Louisville to resume his medical studies.

Harry Kilgore and wife entertained several of their relatives on the 8th.

Henry Beall is the hustling agent for the Columbia grapophone and zonophone.

William Kilgore, who is employed in the city, is the guest of his brother Harry near here.

Wash Watts and wife were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wrightman, last Sunday afternoon.

It is reported that Bro. W. S. Taylor will preach at Sand Run on the fifth Sunday in this month

Emmet Kilgour reports the party at the Port, Saturday night, well attended and a very enjoyable affair.

Harry Rouserts, wife and daughter spent last Saturday night and Sunday with his parents near Burlington.

Holland Goodridge and wife entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lon Crutcher and Wm. Sprague and daughter, last Sunday.

Wm. Boman's son, who met with such a sad accident, while hunting a few days since, died Thursday night and was buried at Sand Run, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs Geo. McGlasson entertained a number of friends week before last. Mr. and Mrs W. G Graves and Mr. and Mrs. Wash Watts entertained the same week.

Things fuuny to see—Charlie Beall come home from the Port when the weather is bad.—Stanley Graves stay at home from a party.—Joe Graves ice bound and snowbound at home.—Harby Killgore seem at ease when not at work.

o o o

HEBRON.

Will Rouse, of Pleasant Ridge, Ohio, made a short visit to his old home in Boone, last week.

Mrs. Barbara Steilen, of Covington, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Birkle.

Mrs. Mary Quick is spending several weeks with her son C. E. Quick and family, near Independence.

Bart Aylor and Miss Daisy Harding were quietly married at the home of Rev. John Miller, in Covington, Dec 28th. Here are best wishes for their happiness.

The following officers were elected to take charge of the Sunday school here beginning first Sunday in April: Walter Crigler, Supt.; W. H. Clayton, Assistant Supt.; Will Crigler, Treas.; Miss Lorena Hafer, Secy.

Do Not Suppress a Cough.

When you have a cough do not try to suppress it, but remove the cause. The cough is only a symptom of some disease, and the disease is what you should cure, then the cough will stop of itself. The most common cause of coughing is a cold. Anodynes will promptly suppress the cough, and preparations containing chloroform, opium, etc., are used for that purpose, but they do not cure the cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on the other hand does not suppress the cough, but relieves it by removing from the throat and lungs the mucus which obstructed the breathing and allaying the irritation and tickling in the throat. It also opens the secretions and effectually and permanently cures the cold as well as the cough. For Sale by all Druggists

In renewing his subscription, Rev. John L. Presser, of New Franklin, Missouri, writes under date of December 20th, 1904:

"Inclosed you will find money order for $1.50 for which please renew my subscription to the Boone County Recorder. Also I beg pardon for delay in renewing. Of all county papers in my knowledge. I believe the Boone County Recorder comes nearer in filling the ideal of what a county paper should be. The paper and printing is good and its job work par excellence, while its news columns have improved to the extent that it is now a clean, worthy paper in every respect and worthy of the patronage of the citizens of Boone. While not casting any reflection on any of its correspondents, I especially congratulate the 'Commissary' on his excellent news items. Wishing the Recorder a prosperous year just dawning, I remain a loyal friend to Boone County and her people."

Saved From Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Robbitt, of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skilful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles Free at all Druggists.

VERONA.

Jan 8.—We are having considerable winter, snow 7 inches deep.

Miller Fling's little daughter is very low of malarial fever.

Ben Judy is breaking sod land. He has the best tobacco land in the neighborhood.

Very little ice has been harvested in this vicinity on the account of snow falling on it.

The Baptist Sunday school is progressing nicely under the management of Supt. Omer K Powers.

Miss Nannie Hamilton will give an Elocutiou and musical entertainment Tuesday evening, Jan. 10.

George B. Johnson, who has a position at Lakeland, came home last week. He returned Monday.

Rev. Pollitt will preach at the M. E. church on the 4th Sunday at 3 p. m., and on the 5th Saturday and Sunday.

The remains of Mrs. Ollie Cotton, of Louisville, were shipped here last Saturday, and interred in New Bethel cemetery.

Farmers, generally, are preparing to grow a large crop of tobacco this year. A great many tobacco plant beds were burnt last fall, which will aid in getting plant beds sown early.

Last Wednesday was the annual meeting of the stockholders of Verona Bank. The old board of directors was reelected. W. M Whitson, President and R. O. Powers, Vice-President, were reelected. J. E. Franks, present accomodating cashier will hold the fort another year. At the noon hour oyster soup was served to the delight of all. Your correspondent was present and did ample justice to the soup which was splendid.

o o o

GUNPOWDER

Jan. 9 —J. A. Smith is still in a critical condition.

George Barlow and J. H. Tanner shipped a load of cattle last Monday.

W. H. Rice and B. A. Rouse are the first in this neighborhood to report any lambs. They had six at last account.

L. H. Rouse, better known as Pony, had a paralytic stroke about a week ago. His entire left side is affected. He is improving slowly.

Mrs. Arrie Rivers and daughter, who have been visiting her mother, Mrs. Caroline Tanner and other relatives for several weeks, left for their home at Bisbee, Arizona, on Tuesday of last week.

Lou Thomson has the credit for being one of the best workers in the county for the tobacco growers' association. If we are informed correctly he has subscribed the largest number of acres of any man in the county.

At a recent meeting of the Florence and Union Telephone company the following officers were elected: N. C. Tanner, president; S S. Smith, secretary; W. H. Rice, treasurer and H. F. Utz, J. Surface and Billie Smith trustees.

At the annual congregational meeting held at Hopeful the 6th inst the following officers were elected: N. C. Tanner, Elder; B. A. Floyd and J. H. Tanner, Deacons; E. O. Rouse and Sam Blankenbeker, Trustee; Miss Lelia Floyd, Organist; John N. Swim, Sexton. Mr. Swim has had the office of Sexton for several years and as an appreciation of his work they raised his salary for the present year.

o o o

LIMABURG.

Jan. 9.—Little Georgia Kirkpatrick has been very sick of late.

E. I. Rouse has a horse very sick with pneumonia.

Mrs. Wm. Garnett and son Earl, spent Friday with Mrs. J. Beemon.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kelly were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Rouse.

Mrs. R. W. Rouse went to the hospital Saturday to have an operation performed.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Aylor, of Gunpowder, spent last week with T. B. Aylor and family.

M. I. Baker, our enterprising young blacksmith, spent a few days last week with his sister, Mrs. Wever, of Cincinnati.

Frank Carpenter, of Gunpowder, came for Mrs. J. Beemon, Sunday, to stay with Mrs. Jemima Tanner, who is very sick.

o o o

PT. PLEASANT.

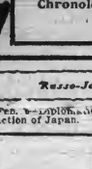
Mrs. Charles Allen is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Bradford.

Mrs. W. S. Gordon, of Dayton, O., is at home on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Yount.

Tom Bradford and wife, from Grange Hall, were visiting relatives in this neighborhood last Sunday.

Miss Lucille Rucker has returned to the Hamilton Female College, Lexington, after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rucker.

Mr. Webster Robinson died at the home of his son, L. G. Robinson, in Newport, Jan. 6, 1905. After the funeral services on Sunday, the remains were taken to Aurora, Ind., to be laid by the side of his beloved daughter, Katie Sherman. Mr. Robinson would have been 60 years old the last day of this month, and for nearly four years past he has been a sufferer from paralysis. He was born and raised in this county, at what is known as the Old Robinson place, now owned by Frank Russell, his mother having lived there 40 years, almost 40 years ago. For several years he has been a resident of Home City. A wife, one son and three grandchildren, and a host of friends are left to mourn his death.



The death of Mrs. Jas Rogers, of Bellevue, brings sorrow to the heats of all with whom she was acquainted. She lived to see her five sons grow to useful men in life, and she and her husband had just compled for themselves a delightful home in which to spend their old age, when she was stricken never to recover,

Past Year in Review

Chronological Record of Most Important Happenings at Home and Abroad During 1904

Russo-Japanese War

Feb. 8—Opening of action of Japan.

MARSHAL OYAMA.

8—Japan wins first naval engagement....Issues official statement setting forth position....Sec'y Hay sends note inviting France, England and Germany to join U. S. in preserving China's integrity.

16—Russians capture Newchwang....Russian cruiser Boyarin blown up, 197 of crew lost.....600 Russians frozen to death crossing Lake Baikal.

17—Japan agrees to Hay's note.

15—Russia issues proclamation declaring that she was unprepared for war. Charges Japan with treachery.

13—6,000 Russians drowned by breaking through ice on Lake Baikal.

21—In preliminary Yalu river battles 2,000 Russians are killed.

22—Four Russian torped.-boat destroyers taken by Japs.

22—Russian torpedo boat sunk, Port Arthur.

Mar. 1—Japan denies Russia's charges saying Russia forced war.

1—Two Jap cruisers sunk off Vladivostok.

11—Russia and Japan reach coast torpedo boat in Port Arthur battle.

Apr. 13—Russian battleship Petropavlovsk sunk off Port Arthur; 800 of crew drowned, including Vice Admiral Makaroff and Vassili Verestchagin.

14—Skrydioff succeeds Makaroff, in command of Black sea fleet.

15—Russian torpedo boat destroyer Brezatrashni destroyed....Popedia badly damaged.

19—Skrydioff relieved by Skrydioff.

25—Attempt by kings of England and Denmark to end war fails.

26—Vladivostok squadron sinks 4 Japanese transports.

27—Russian submarine boat sunk by Japanese, 600 lives lost.

May 1—Japs rout Russians in Yalu river battle. Jap losses, 500; Russian over 2,000.

2—Russia loses in battle of Kiulencheng 2,000 men and 40 officers....73 Japanese officers and men killed or drowned in sinking of transport by Russians.

3—Attempt by Togo to bottle Port Arthur fails.

6—Togo's fleet bombards Port Arthur for two days.....Russian fleet escapes from Port Arthur, fearing siege.

13—Japanese torpedo boat destroyed off Dalny.

16—Japanese dispatch boat Miyako sunk.

17—Russians evacuate Newchwang....Russian cruiser sunk by Japs at Takushan, Katsumoto.

20—Japanese routed in advance on Mukden.

24—Anju destroyed by Russians....Togo sinks Russian battleship in assault on Port Arthur.

26—Kinchou and Nanshan taken by Japs. Japanese loss, 744; Russian, $39.

30—Dalny captured.

Jun. 5—Russian gunboat Gilliak sunk.

8—Russians blow up Siantan....Japanese attack on Port Arthur repulsed.

10—Japs take Siuyen.

13—Russians retire in ambush.

18—Two Jap transports sunk; 1,000 die.

18—Japanese transport Idzumi sunk.

GEN. KUROPATKIN.

22—Russians lose 1,200 in battle near Kinchou.

23—Admiral and 750 Russians drowned in battle.

25—Kaiping taken by Japan.

30—Russian regiment annihilated near Port Arthur.

Jul. 1—Port Arthur attack repulsed; 30,000 killed, wounded.

14—Yinkow occupied by Japs....Japs take Liaoyang and Liaoyang.

21—Lieut. Count Keller killed, Ximse pass.

25—Russians defeated in 14-hour battle at Telchelkho.

Aug. 1—Vladivostok fleet nearly annihilated.....17,539 Japs killed and wounded; Russian loss, 17,000.

6—Big twenty-day battle at Liaoyang results in great Jap victory.

Sep. 22—Ta pass taken by Japs.

23—Czar virtually deposes Kuropatkin as commander-in-chief by giving Gripenberg a second army.

Oct. 6—Peace congress asks for end of war.

9—Russians take Mukden and Bantzialingtzen....Jap gunboat Heiyen wrecked at Ugeen bay, 307 drowned.

19—Great battle of Shakhe river ends in overwhelming Jap victory.

21—Number of Russians killed in battle of Shakhe river, 12,000; wounded, 55,868.

23—Russian Baltic fleet fires on fleet of English vessels in North Sea, killing a captain and mate, wounding a score and sinking ship.

24—Great British demands explanation of Russia for North sea incident.

25—Oyama reports casualties in Shakhs river battle to be 5,820....Kinchell succeeds Kuropatkin, commander-in-chief of all land forces. Czar expresses regret at action of Baltic fleet.

27—Japanese capture village of Jerdagan after long fight.

29—Danger of war between Russia and England averted by agreement to leave dispute to The Hague tribunal.

Nov. 2—Week's attack on Port Arthur results in promise to fort....Departure of Russian Baltic fleet from Vigo, Spain, causes war scare in England.

3—40,000 Japs killed, wounded at Port Arthur in last 3 months.

10—Japan offers through England to end war. Offer not accepted by czar....Mine explosion at Port Arthur kills 700 Russians....Gen. Stoessel ranks admiralty.

12—Kuroki reported killed by shell. Report declared false.

16—Russian destroyer Rastoropny blown up by own officers.

21—Japanese ships capture German vessel trying to run into Port Arthur blockade.

Gen. Kuroki reported killed.

30—Japanese capture 203-Meter Hill at Port Arthur, losing 15,000 men.....Russian cruiser Saljen sunk by mine.

Dec. 7—Russian battleship Peresviet sunk by Japanese shells in Port Arthur harbor.

8—Reported that all Russian battleships and cruisers are sunk or destroyed.

9—Czar recalls Baltic fleet from far east.

14—Russian battleship Sevastopol, last of Port Arthur fleet, torpedoed.

16—Seven Russians escape from Port Arthur with dispatches for czar.

15—Japs torpedo Russian battleship Sevastopol, losing two torpedo boats.

Business Failures

Jan. 14—Auburn (Ind.) Farmers' bank.

16—Mt. Ayr (Ia.) Citizens' bank; $468,000.

22—Cleveland (O.) Product Exchange bank and branches at Belford, Hudson and Ilefiance.

25—Elkhart (Ind.) Nat. bank.

30—New York, A. B. Baxter & Co., cotton brokers; $2,000,000.

Feb. 2—New Orleans, Kirby Lumber Co. and Houston Oil Co....Clarksburg (W. Va.) Traders' Nat. bank.

4—McGregor (Ia.) Citizens' Nat. bank.

10—New York Equitable Nat. bank....Bank of Dunn, C.

11—Syracuse (N. Y.) Exchange Nal. bank; $600,000.

16—Rock (Ia.) Savings bank.

25—Opelika (Ala.) bank; $150,000....Tanton (Miss.) bank; $600,000.

Mar. 3—Hot Springs (Minn.) bank; $95,000.

10—Garden Grove and Cole (Ia.) banks.

12—Daniel Bully, New York cotton king; $7,000,000.

22—Lonaconing (Md.) Savings bank.

28—Riverside (Cal.) bank....B. C. Miller, banker, Providence, Ia....National bank of Noldenville, Ind. T., suspends operations.

31—John Trust, Boston; $1,600,000....Federal Trust, Cleveland; $1,000,000.

April 1—Capital Nat. bank, Guthrie, Okla.; $50,000....W. M. Mack, New York.

5—Citizens' bank, McLeod, Okla....Akron (O.) Savings bank....Chicago Women's Business club.

6—Wanner & Co., Chicago grain merchants.

7—Commercial City (Ia.) Exchange bank; $50,000....Bank of Ganado, Tex.

18—McCoy's bank, Rensselaer, Ind.

May 12—Farmers' State bank, Nardin, Okla.

24—First national bank of Cape May, N. J., closed by special order.

Jul. 27—First Nat. bank, Saratoga, N. Y.....Grinnal (Ia.) First Nat. bank.

29—Mansion (Wis.) bank.

Oct. 11—Bank of Plainfield, Wis., closed by state commissioner.

Nov. 10—Federal Stock and Grain Co., Boston, assigns, liabilities $150,000.

17—Because of run, Berlin, Wis., bank closes.

23—Janney Co., Ottumwa, Ia., goes to receiver.

25—Davenport, Wash., national bank declared insolvent.

28—Gen. Coxey, of Mount Vernon, O., bankrupt; liabilities, $287,000.

Dec. 5—C. H. Slack & Co., prominent Chicago brokers. Liabilities, $167,000; assets, $100,000.

20—First national bank, Conneaut, and Machine bank, Conneaut Harbor, O., suspend.

22—Dedham savings bank, Dedham, Ia., closed.

Foreign

Jan. 12—Persia recognizes Independence of Panama.

Feb. 4—Yaqui Indians hold up stage near Las Cruces, Mex., killing 6.

5—San Domingo insurgents fire on U. S. launch, kill engineer.

11—Dr. Amador elected first pres. of Panama....Port of Wiju opened by Korean government to world's commerce.

15—30,000 Albian rout 2,000 Turks at Babaghost, 800 Turks killed....Port Arthur fires on and detains British steamer.

21—14 killed, 29 injured, in Paris celluloid factory.

25—12 die in St. Feliclen, Quebec, fire.

Mar. 5—Field Marshal Waldersee, Germany, dies.

16—27 die in Madagascar magazine explosion.

Apr. 4—Earthquake kills 25, injures 40 and destroys 1,500 homes in Macedonia.

8—French-English treaty signed giving various rights.

9—Isabella, queen of Spain, dies.

12—Premier Maura, Spain, attacked in Barcelona.

20—100 miners buried by avalanche near Pragelato, Italy.

27—43 Africans killed in fall of 2,000 feet in Johannesburg mine.

28—60 die in cave-in of Seville mine.

May 12—Earl Grey, governor of Jamaica, resigns....Province of British North Borneo, 120 massacred by rebels.

18—Chinese imperial edict opens 3 ports....Attempt made to assassinate czar of Russia.

20—Second anniversary of Cuba's independence.

22—France recalls ambassador from Vatican.

Jun. 16—Armenian villages destroyed, 3,000 killed.

16—Count Bobrikoff of Finland assassinated.

19—Swedish revolutionists at Helsingfors, Finland, attack governor's office, killing 18.

24—Perdicaris and Varley released by Bandit Raisuli....30 perish in train wreck in Spain.

30—Prince Sultan Murad V. of Turkey dies in prison.

Jul. 1—Diaz elected pres. of Mexico.

9—7,000 Thibetans slain in battle with British.

12—31 drowned off New South Wales.

14—Paul Kruger dies at Clarens, Switzerland.

18—200 die from cholera at Teheran, Russia.

19—Germany demands explanation of Russia for seizure of mail steamers.

21—English steamer Mailaca captured by Russians is released.

26—German bark Scandia, captured by Russian volunteer fleet, released. Fleet ordered to desist....British steamer Knight Commander and by Russians.

28—M. von Plehve, Russian minister of foreign affairs, assassinated.

Aug. 9—Turks massacre Armenians and burn 25 villages.

12—Son and heir born to czar of Russia.

20—Drown off coast of Ireland.

23—Czar takes large gifts to Finlanders.

24—Czar's heir christened with great pomp.

26—Assasin of Von Plehve sentenced to death.

30—Massacre of Americans by Chinese boxers threatened,....70 drowned at Lodz, Poland, in wreck of Warsaw express.

Sep.—Von Plehve's assassin escapes.

15—Queen Helena, Italy, gives birth to heir.

18—Germans massacre 50 Jews at Sasnovitch.

21—Peter crowned king of Servia.

Oct. 1—Sir Harcourt dies at Oxford, England.

4—Bartholdi, French sculptor, dies in Paris.

5—English ship Sishan taken by Japs.

25—Dutch capture Baodebatoe in Achi after sharp battle.

27—Extradition treaty between Belgium and Cuba concluded.

Nov. 3—Liberals sweep Canada, sustaining Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

4—Fierce riot in French depuly chamber following assault on Gen. Andre.....Hundred drowned in French steamer Gironde sinks off Algerian coast.

11—Henry, "Father of French Constitution," dies in Paris, aged 92.

15—Gen. Andre, French war minister, resigns.

25—Swiss confederation signs arbitration treaties with United States, Great Britain and Italy.

Dec. 1—Diaz inaugurated president of Mexico for seventh time.

20—Storm on north coast of Portugal kills 37.

21—Admiral Ommanney, "father of British navy," dies at Portsmouth, Eng.

22—Czar rejects zemstvos' appeal for constitution.

Casualties

Jan. 8—As result of fire in Iroquois theater, Chicago, in which 601 persons perished, every theater in city is closed.

5—Near Wilmington, Del., 17 in Rock Island railroad wreck.

8—In straits of Juan de Fuca, 52 drowned by sinking of steamer Italian.

15—Hicks Lake, Mich., 6 by boiler explosion.

16—St. Louis, by falling down elevator shaft....Pratt City, Ala., 10 in burning jail.

18—James City, N. C., 7 by boiler explosion.

19—Johnstown, Pa., 14 in steam pipe explosion.

21—Rouse, Col., 6 in mine cave-in.

23—Off Long Island, 9 in wreck of schooner Augustus Hunt.

25—Cheswick, Pa., 180 by explosion in mine.

26—Victor, Col., 15 by falling of cage in mine.

30—Mahony City, Pa., 9 by boiler explosion.

Feb. 1—Council Bluffs, Ia., 5 in burning home.

6—Trenton, Pa., 6 burned to death.

9—Sand Point, Ont., 14 in railway collision.

17—Family of 6 in Croton (N. Y.) fire.

19—29 in Jackson (Utah) explosion.

22—Ehrenfeld, Pa., 5 in locomotive explosion.

24—Waukegon (Ill.) sugar refinery, 5 in explosion.

25—Dyersville (Ia.) railway wreck, 5.

Mar. 2—20 in collapse of New York building.

6—9 in collapse of Yellow Creek bridge in Ohio.

8—Kewanee, Miss., 9 in collision.

21—Pitcsburg, Pa., 11 in explosion.

Apr. 3—Mills, Ia., 4 in explosion at Citizen's national bank....At Locust, Ind., 8 in collision at Vandalia freight wreck.

10—Santa Barbara, Cal., 5 in derailing of street car.

12—On battleship Missouri, 32 by explosion during target practice.

17—Indianapolis, Ind., 7 as result of fire panic in St. Vincent's hospital.

21—Winona, Minn., 4 tramps, ground to pieces by train.

23—Lansing, Mich., 4 in hotel fire.

May 1—Council Bluffs, Ia., 4 tramps in burning box car.

4—Newport, Ind., 4 in blowing up of Northwestern Powder company's mill.

8—Locust Gap, Pa., 5 miners as result of burning of colliery.

11—Herrin, Ill., 9 in powder explosion.

20—Findlay (O.) explosion; 12.

Jun. 4—Miners suffocated by gas in Wellington mine.

20—Near Carrick, Tenn., 6 in dynamite explosion....Salida, Col., 5 drowned in inundation of Arkansas river bridges.

Jun. 27—Near Chalk Bluff, O., 6 in railroad wreck.

4—Independence, Col., 13 by dynamite.

13—Glenwood (Ill.) picnic train wrecked, 19. Blame on engineer.

18—1,000 persons perished by burning, crushing or drowning on excursion steamer Slocum in East river, New York.

29—Real lake, Mich., 6 drowned.

30—Near Ehrenfeld, Pa., 4 in locomotive boiler explosion.

July 3—Steamer Norge sunk in North Atlantic, leaving 700 perishing....76 in Litchfield, Ill., train wreck.

4—Muskegon, Mich., 4 drowned in capsizing of sailboat.

8—Near Rockford, Canada, 7 in dynamite explosion....Thebes, Ill., 7 on Mississippi river.

10—In New Jersey excursion train wreck, 17.

Aug. 5—In Mississippi at Alton, Ill., 8 drowned.

8—Train wreck at Pueblo, Col., 100.

11—Gold Hill, N. C., 8 in flooded mine.

14—In Solomon river, 16.

15—Steamer Penguin on African coast is wrecked; 32 die.

Sep. 2—Yellow Creek, W. Va., 7 in oil explosion.

6—St. Louis, Mo., 7 in train wreck....5 in nitro-glycerin explosion near Sandusky, O....5 in capsizing launch on Lake Erie.

8—Near Brycelin, Minn., 5 in boiler explosion.

9—Pendiston, Mo., in train wreck, 8.

13—Near Ashland, Ky., 4 in train crash, 8.

21—Melrose, Mass., 10 in dynamite explosion.

28—Near Grove, I. T., 6 in collapse of scaffold over mine.

29—Pleasant Ridge, O., 9 girls in collapse of school.

24—Near Newmarket, Tenn., 58 in collision on Southern railway.

Oct. 2—Louisville, Ky., 4 crushed under 100 tons of earth.

5—6 suffocated in St. Clair river (Mich.) tunnel....10 drowned in Pensacola bay, Fla.

10—Near Warrensburg, Mo., 29 in railroad collision.

11—Steamer Wentworth sunk off Cape Cod; 12 drowned.

Nov. 2—In mine at Nanticoke, Pa., 10 in fall of cage to bottom of shaft....9 in collapse of burning elevator at Kinston, N. C.

13—Near Green River, Wyo., 11 in head-on collision of passenger and freight trains.

18—Grand Crossing, Ill., 6 in railroad wreck.

20—Brooklyn, N. Y., 12 in burning tenement.

Dec. 5—Near Walla Walla, Wash., 14 miners in explosion of fire damp.

18—Steamer Glen Island destroyed by fire in Long Island sound; 6 die.

19—At mouth of Big Sandy river, Ky., 12 from wood alcohol poisoning....7 in falling walls of Minneapolis, Minn.

22—In mine near Bolivar, Pa., 7 suffocated.

26—In wrecks at Maud's Station and Charleston, Ill., ten.

Lynchings

Jan. 7—Buena Vista, Ark., negro attempted assault on white girl.

14—Butch Tinsley (negro), near Tallulah, Miss.; murder....Edmore Moseley (negro), in Sussex county, Va., after being acquitted of crime....Jim Clark (negro), at White Springs, Fla.; assault.

15—"General" Lee (negro), in Dorchester county, S. C.; assault.

Feb. 2—John Winters (negro), at Doddsville, Miss., for murder.

7—Talbot and wife (negroes), burned at stake at Doddsville, Miss., for murder of James Eastland....Two Cleveland (Miss.) negroes, Charles Brewer...Hickmond Dixon (negro) taken from jail by Springfield (O.) mob.

29—Fayette Sawyer and Burke Harris, negroes, charged with murder, at Cleveland, Miss.

21—Montgomery (Tex.) negro for robbery.

25—13 negroes during week's race war at Atlanta, Ga.

Jun. 1—A. Thompson (negro), at Arlington, Ga.; murder.

4—T. M. Myers (negro), near Crooks Covial, Idaho.

5—J. Woods (negro), near La Grange, Ga.

26—S. Dunham (negro), at Europa, Miss.

Jul. 1—John Jones (negro), near Cartersville, Ga.

13—Negro, for assault on white man at Clayton, La.

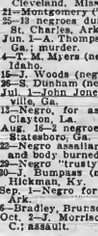
Aug. 2—Negroes during race war at Statesboro, Ga.

22—Negro assailant of girl shot to death and body burned at Conway, Ga.; Hickmond Dixon (negro) taken from jail by Springfield (O.) mob.

29—Fayette Sawyer and Burke Harris, negroes, charged with murder, at Cleveland, Miss.

Sep. 1—Negro for assault near Crossett, Ark.

6—Bradley, Brunson, Fla.; negro murderer.



Oct. 2—J. Morrison (white), Kershaw, S. C.; assault.

Government and Politics

Jan. 4—Wm. H. Taft (O.) nominated for sec'y of war and Luke Wright (Tenn.) for gov. gen. of Philippine Is....Pres. sends congress special message on Panama resolution.

5—Gov. John Marvin (Hawaii), inaugurated for second term.

7—G. A. Beets (Miss.) inaugurated second term.....Sec'y Hay forms Gen. Reyes, Colombian envoy, that Panama question will not be reopened.

PHILANDER C. KNOX.

8—U. S. Sen. Dietrich acquitted at Omaha, Neb., of bribery.

9—Gen. Chaffee becomes chief of staff U. S. A., succeeding Young.

11—Gov. Herrick (O.) inaugurated.

12—Ex-Cong. Driggs convicted in New York of accepting money for contract while in congress. Sentenced to one day in jail and fined $10,000....U. S. Sen. Hanna reelected.

13—Gov. Edwin Warfield (Md.) inaugurated.

19—U. S. Sens. A. J. McLaurin and H. D. Money (Miss.) reelected.....Gov. Vardaman (Miss.) inaugurated.

23—U. S. Sen. Burton indicted in St. Louis for accepting bribe.

27—U. S. Sen. John W. Daniel (Va.) reelected.

Feb. 1—Taft takes oath of office....Gov. Wright and Vice Gov. Ide inaugurated at Manila.

6—American occupation of Cuba ended by withdrawal of troops.

9—W. C. Forbes, Boston, takes Taft's office of civ. sec. of Philippines....Secret'y A. Caster elected from 2d Pennsylvania district by company vacancy of Henry Burk, deceased.

22—Panama canal treaty ratified by senate.

Mar. 2—Mayor Low's police reforms passes bill providing separate cars for negroes on railroad trains.

5—Northern Securities company declared unlawful.

22—Dick, Hanna's successor, takes oath.

24—Charges Diaz agents, of bribery 5 years.

28—U. S. Sen. Burton (Kan.) convicted of bribery.

Apr. 15—McCall committee clears members of house of Bristow charges.

16—Panama canal bill passed in senate.

18—Chinese exclusion bill passed in senate.

19—House passes statehood bill creating states of Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

27—Title to Panama canal given to U. S. on payment of $40,000,000.

28—Second session 58th congress adjourned.

May 5—Don Quadis appointed minister from Panama to United States.

Jun. 7—D. J. Murphy elected secretary of Panama republic.

9—Atty.-Gen. Knox selected for Quay's place.

20—Republicans nominate Fairbanks and Roosevelt at convention in Chicago.

29—Tenth national prohibition convention held in Indianapolis, Ind.

30—Prohibitionists nominate Swallow and Carroll at Indianapolis.

Jul. 1—Treaty between U. S. and Cuba ratified.

5—Populists nominate Watson and Tibbles at Springfield, Ill.

9—Democrats nominate Parker and Davis at St. Louis.

27—Roosevelt notified of nomination.....Thos. Taggart (Ind.) elected democratic chairman.

Aug. 3—Fairbanks notified.

5—Judge Parker, New York supreme court, calls 8-hour law unconstitutional.

16—Parker notified.

19—Davis notified.

Sep. 8—Cuban senate ratifies extradition treaty.....Vermont gives republican plurality.

Oct. 6—La Follette faction wins decision in Wisconsin fight.

Nov. 1—Arbitration treaty between United States and France signed in Washington.

7—U. S. Supreme court upholds Wisconsin anti-trust law.

8—Roosevelt and Fairbanks, republican candidates for president and vice-president defeat Parker and Davis, Democratic nominees by over two million plurality. Entire country participates in republican landslide.

23—American-German arbitration treaty signed in Washington.

23—American-Portugal arbitration treaty signed in Washington.

Dec. 6—President's message read in both houses.

12—Arbitration treaty between United States and Great Britain signed.

13—House of representatives passes resolution for impeachment of Judge Swayne for "high crimes and misdemeanors."

14—Arbitration between Italy and United States signed.

27—Minnesota legislature abolishes grand jury system.

Sporting

Jan. 12—Joe Gans successfully defends title to lightweight championship against Flizgerald, of Brooklyn, at Detroit....Henry Ford, automobilist, covers mile in 0:39 2-5, at Detroit.

25—Steamer Deutschland makes trip from New York to Gibraltar in 6 days, 23 hours.

28—Barney Oldfield wins American auto championship at Ormond, Fla. Time, 59 2-5.

30—K. Vanderbilt breaks auto record for 50, 20 and 10 miles; 40:49 4-5, 17:02 and 7:29 4-5, respectively.

Feb. 1—Abe Attell knocks out Harry Forbes in fight for featherweight championship at St. Louis.

12—Krauss and Spies, Washington, D. C., win 2-men team bowling champion-ship....National bowling championship won by Martin Kern, St. Louis.

19—H. Elliot, Denver, sets new bowling mark, 715.

23—Young Corbett knocks out Sullivan in 11th round.

Mar. 25—Jimmie Britt whips Young Corbett.

26—F. Slosson breaks world's billiard 18-inch balk line record; runs 291.

Apr. 16—National and American League baseball seasons opened.

May 5—Elwood wins Kentucky Derby.

Jun. 5—Oregon first to target practice.....Young Wing cup captured.

18—Hig'ait wins American Derby; time, 2:38.

25—Syracuse wins intercollegiate 8-oared race.

Jul. 1—Yale wins 8-oared race from Harvard.

10—Wm. Anderson captures national golf championship on Onwentsia links, Ill.

24—Yale-Harvard defeat Oxford-Cambridge in athletic meet. Score, 6 to 3.

Aug. 22—Earl Kiser breaks world's auto record. Mile in 0:54.

Sep.—Jeffries whips Munros in 2 rounds at Frisco.

27—T. Hicks wins St. Louis marathon race.

Nov. 24—Omaha wins Western League pennant.

Oct. 10—Boston wins American League pennant.....New York wins National League pennant.

14—Miss Bishop, Bridgeport, Conn., wins national golf championship at Philadelphia.

22—Prince Direct and Morning Star driven to pole at Memphis, in half-mile in 1:09¾, breaking record.

24—Mal Sedgwick circles mile track at Memphis in 2:01¾, breaking record for 4-mile paced trotters.

28—Dan Patch at Memphis paced mile in 1:56, fastest ever paced by harness horse.

Nov. 11—Lou Dillon sets world's, record (1:59.0) for unpaced mile.

12—Michigan defeats Chicago at Ann Arbor, 22 to 12, capturing football championship of west.

17—Dan Patch breaks world's record for paced mile on ½-mile track at Oklahoma City, Okla. Time 1:57¼.

Dec. 20—James Britt defeats Battling Nelson in 20 rounds in 'Frisco.

Fires

Jan. 5—Pisek (N. D.) business section destroyed.

20—Shelby (O.) Steel Tube Co.'s plant; $1,000,000.

28—Progresso, Mex., $2,000,000 blaze.

31—Hollandale, Tenn., destroyed.

Feb. 1—Grand Chain, Ill., nearly entire business section.

4—Lake Valley, Ark., almost totally destroyed.

8—Baltimore, Md., almost 75 blocks devastated, including post office, courthouses, banks and newspaper offices. One dead, 50 injured. Loss, $125,000,000.

10—Oswego, N. Y., three buildings of corn products; $1,000,000.

16—Business section Greenup, Ill., destroyed.

25—Conneaut Harbor (O.) business section wiped out.

26—Business section Nicholson, Pa., destroyed.....Capitol, Madison, Wis., destroyed.

Mar. 5—Oklahoma prairie; loss, $500,000; three dead....Large portion of Rock Mount, N. C., swept away.

7—Lyceum and Auditorium theaters in Elmira, N. Y., destroyed.

Apr. 3—Toronto, Can., flame swept; loss, $12,000,000.

20—Marramec, Okla., wiped out.

May 10—Entire business portion of La Follette, Tenn., destroyed.

26—Yazoo, Miss., almost wiped out; loss, $1,000,000.

29—Jersey City, N. J., $1,000,000 on piers.

Jun. 5—Peoria (Ill.) distillery. Loss, $1,000,000; 15 killed.

6—Danville, Va., Loss, $600,000.

13—Cromwell, Ky., almost destroyed.....Half business section Conway, Wis., wiped out.

16—Entire business section Norton, Va., destroyed.

21—Part of business section Macomb City, Miss., destroyed.

24—Almost entire business section Union Grove, Wis., destroyed.

27—Main portion Sioux Cal., destroyed.

Jul. 5—Pier and elevator, Boston. Loss, $1,250,000.

11—Walworth, Wis., 8 die.....Robison, Ia., 3 children perish.

15—Nearly entire village of Kimball, Mich.....Duluth, Minn., Omaha docks and warehouses swept away. Loss $4,000,000.

19—Rhinelander, Wis., over half destroyed.

Aug. 5—2 die at Glidden, Ia.....Buffalo (N. Y.) business building destroyed, causing $100,000 loss.

23—100 die at Binang, Luson. Loss, $200,000.

Sep. 2—Business portion Gem, Idaho, swept. Loss, $100,000; 4 dead.

9—$1,000,000 loss at Progresso, Mex.

12—Business section Idaho Falls, Idaho, wiped out.

17—6 lives lost in New York tenement.

Oct. 6—Business section Ellis, Kan., destroyed.

Oct. 7—St. Joseph, Mo., 4 die in hotel fire.

Nov. 4—West side of Marion, Mich., destroyed, causing $200,000 loss.

16—Entire business district, Dublin, Miss., wiped out.

Dec. 8—Business district Minneapolis nearly destroyed, 2 killed, loss $630,000.

20—Sioux City, Ia., 25 buildings destroyed, fireman killed, loss $2,000,000.

Crimes

Feb. 8—E. S. Heydenburg, Eldora, Ia., sentenced to life imprisonment for killing wife.

9—Chuck, Rockville, Mo., kills rival and self for hand of sweetheart.

15—F. G. Senter, Denver, Col., kills wife and self.

16—W. Laning kills Emma Buegler and self at Hipon, Wis.

25—S. Mauck, Sioux City, Ia., kills daughter and self.

26—Lewandowski, Chicago, killed wife and self.

Mar. 1—J. H. Huddy, Jackson, Mich., kills wife and self.....A. W. Pressel and wife, Huntington, Ind., commit suicide in Chicago.

Mar. 5—Mrs. Stanson, Ark., and little husband, son and self.

14—Wm. Gunsauer killed Mrs. Anna Palmer (colored) and self, at Leavenworth, Kan.....McDonald indicted for Sarah Schafer's murder at Litchfield, Ill.

22—C. Kirschoffer, Brooklyn, kills wife, son and self.

26—Geo. Koch, Georgetown, O., kills Isa Matthews and self.

Apr. 5—W. P. Taylor killed Mrs. Hoggemeyer, his paramour, and self, at Meyersdale, Pa.

15—Louis Pesant, murderer of Mrs. Mary Spilka, hanged in Chicago.

21—Bank at Clay City, Ind., robbed of $6,000 by safe blowers.

29—Frank Rose, wife murderer, shot to death at Salt Lake City, Utah.

May 12—E. Osgood, Hiram, Me., kills wife and self.

May 1—Wm. Sheffield, wife and two daughters murdered near Valiant, I. T.

30—Mayor McLane, Baltimore, committed suicide.

Jun. 6—J. M. Pouch, Roselle, N. J., kills 4 children and self.

8—R. Smith, Lumberton, Miss., kills wife, baby and self.

Jul. 15—S. Riggs, Clinton, Ia., kills wife and self.

14—Frederick Nelson, near St. Cloud, Minn., killed wife and self.

17—Wm. Washburn, board of trade man, N. Y., kills wife, daughter and self.

24—Morgan, Chicago, kills wife, throws acid in face of sister-in-law and commits suicide.

25—American, Kolodzik, Chicago, killed three children and self by asphyxiation.

27—Hodges, wife and three children killed at Statesboro, Ga., in burning of home by negroes.

Aug. 1—Illinois Central train held up outside Chicago by robbers.

15—Negro publicly burned at Cedartown, Ga.

23—G. Benneway, Madison, Wis., kills wife and self.

Sep. 1—Joseph Ragnet, Irving Park, Ill., killed wife and self.

7—Buffalo aldermen indicted en bribery charges.

Oct. 2—Chas. Gettrell, Obrien's Landing, Mo., kills 4.

9—Freeland (Ind.) bank destroyed by dynamite; $20,000 taken.

22—Daniel Loos, Elgin, Ill., kills wife and self.

27—Mrs. Rae Krauss, Hartford City, Ind., confesses murder of stepdaughter, receiving life sentence.

29—Randall, Pedlicord, near Parry, Ia., killed wife and self.

Nov. 4—Wm. Muthart, near Munger, Mich., kills 4 children and self.

15—Adolph Hummel, Hamilton, O., killed son and self.

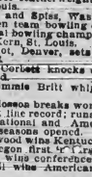
20—Isaac Chies, postmaster, murdered in north Fremont, Neb., by unknown.

23—Frank Lee, Jr., Henry Henderson and uncle, Geo. Henderson, at Philadelphia.

Dec.—Dr. Tucker, Des Moines, Ia., killed domestic and self because of wife's jealousy.

17—Banes, Rochester, Ind., killed wife, her employer and self. Jealousy the cause.

18—Brenton, S. C., B. B. Hughes, wife and two daughters murdered by unknown persons.



21—Bandits rob Peoria, Ill., national bank of $3,000.

22—Post office at Reinbeck, Ia., robbed of $2,500....Mrs. Chadwick indicted on forgery charge at Cleveland, O.

24—Robbers looted Rice Station, Minn., bank securing $17,000.

Industrial

Jan. 26—John Mitchell reelected pres. of United Mine Workers at Indianapolis convention.

JOHN MITCHELL.

Feb. 7—4 men shot in a duel at Coal Creek, Tenn., in fight between union and non-union miners.

Mar. 1—More than 2,000 laborers employed on building in connection in New York go out on strike.

14—Peter St. Paul elected president of national Window Glass workers' association.

22—Martial law declared in Trinidad building section in Colorado, because of war between union and nonunion miners.

25—1,000 Iowa miners vote to walk out and all strike.

Apr. 18—Coal operators and miners sign 3-year agreement at Mounds, Ia.

18—Minneapolis flour mills shut down, throwing thousands out of work.

May 3—Site secured for purchase exposition formally opened at St. Louis. Attendance, 19,694,578.

2—12,000 Santa Fe railroad employes strike.

3—10,000 Chicago teamsters made idle by strike and lockout.

12—Lake strike declared in Chicago threatens disaster; 10,000 men idle.

24—Hundreds are made idle in Chicago.

Jun. 1—Hanging Rock, O., declared under martial law because of threatening attitude of striking workers.

10—Colorado strikes since Jan., 1903, cost $25,000,000.

14—Tie-up on great lakes ended by conference in Cleveland.

21—50,000 New York clothing trades men strike.

Jul. 12—50,000 meat packers all over U. S. strike.

20—Truce in meat strike.

22—Strike of meat packers again resumed.

29—50,000 cotton millers strike at Fall River, Mass....Sympathetic strike in Chicago packing houses, involving all allied trades.

26—Military rule in Teller county, Col., called off.

Aug. 3—Site strike rioters clash with Chicago police in long battle.

15—Five dead riot of meat strikers in Chicago.

21—Cripple Creek (Col.) mob deports many strikers.

24—Packing house strike called off, strikers losing fight.

6—New England cotton millers resume work.

28—Pennsylvania miners win checkweighman.

Oct. 21—Hoisting engineers numbering 800 strike in Illinois mines rendering 50,000 idle.

Nov. 1—Illinois mine troubles settled.

7—Illinois hoisting engineers lose strike, but gain wage increase.

27—Gompers unanimously chosen president American Federation.

Dec. 31—St. Louis world's fair closed. Total attendance, 19,741,073.

Meteorological

Jan. 22—Moundsville, Ala., swept by tornado; 37 killed.

Mar. 16—Flood damages thoughout north estimated at $9,000,000.

17—Cleveland ballstorm on record caused $500,000 damage in Cleveland.

Apr. 17—Judge A. H. Ward, in Cynthia, Ky., aged 90.

21—U. S. Commissioner Pound, at Lockport, N. Y.; aged 62.

May 1—Col. A. R. Keifer, ex-mayor St. Louis.

4—Sam Parks, labor leader, in Sing Sing prison, aged 45.

8—Mc Nally, in California, of pneumonia.....Ex-Cong. Sparks, in St. Louis.....Brig. Gen. Greenleaf, in Washington.

9—Sir H. M. Stanley, explorer, in London.

24—Former Cong. Carlos D. Sheldon, at Houston, Miss.

26—Maj. Gen. Sir John C. McNeill in London.

28—Sen. Quay, at Beaver, Pa.

Jun. 1—Ex-Lieut. Gov. Gue (Ia.), at Des Moines.

5—L. Z. Leiter, Chicago, at Bar Harbor, Me.

16—Dr. N. S. Davis, Chicago.

17—Rear Admiral Greer, in Washington.

20—Ex-Sen. Mitchell (Wis.), in Milwaukee.

Jul. 7—Gen. Howard, noted orator, at Washington.

12—"Golden Rule Sam" Jones, mayor, Toledo, O.

Aug. 1—H. E. Patterson, ex-governor Pennsylvania.

2—Maj. N. A. Miles, at West Point.

SENATOR HOAR.

4—Ex-Gov. Lewis, at Columbus, Wis.

6—Sen. Vest (Mo.); aged 74.

Sep. 30—Sen. Hoar (Mass.), at Worcester, Mass.

Oct. 4—H. C. Payne, postmaster general, at Washington.

6—Cornelius Van Cott, postmaster of New York city, of heart disease.

28—Gen. Wm. Wood (O.), from heart disease in Columbus, O.

Nov. 7—Judge E. H. Thayer, Clinton, Ia., aged 90....Ex-Gov. Hill, Albany.

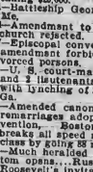
11—Alex. Sutherland, last survivor of famous Balaklava "Six Hundred," at Denver.

13—Clara Conway, southern educator, at Memphis....Ex-Gov. Rice, ex-Missouri congressman, at Marshall, Mo.

18—Ex-Judge Moran, Chicago, in New York, aged 90.

20—Col. Breckinridge, soldier, statesman, editor and lawyer, at Lexington, Ky.....H. S. Thompson, ex-governor South Carolina.

22—Ex-Rear Admiral Bartlett, at St. Louis.



Dec. 1—Rev. Dorse, pioneer minister of northwest, at La Crosse, Wis.....James Tyner, postmaster general under Grant, in Washington.

15—Rev. Luther H. Trowbridge, Detroit, Mich., at Los Angeles, Cal.

21—Mrs. Mary Anderson, temperance worker and suffragist, at Laporte, Ind.

Necrology

Jan. 2—Gen. Longstreet, famous confederate leader, at Gainesville, Ga., aged 83.

SENATOR HANNA.

7—Parke Godwin, editor Evening Post, New York; aged 88....Gen. Gordon, noted confederate, at Miami, Fla.; aged 72.....Ex-Gov. Chas. Foster, at Springfield, O.; aged 76.

11—Hao Yen

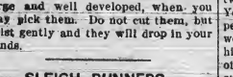
AGRICULTURAL HINTS

MUSHROOMS IN SOAP BOX.

A Diversion for the Farmer Which Will Provide a Table Luxury at Little Expense or Trouble.

Just for amusement and pastime I started a mushroom bed in a box 16x28 inches and 18 inches deep. It is astonishing all who have called to see it. I have clusters of mushrooms 2½ to 3½ inches across and 1½ inches thick, seven to eight in a cluster. They are certainly handsome as well as tempting. The bed was made the first week of August and by September 10 it showed mushrooms and by the 22d I gathered 2½ quarts with prospect of bearing till April or May.

In preparing a mushroom bed it is necessary to select good horse manure, fresh and specially clean droppings if possible, free of coarse straw, says Farm and Home. Place the manure outdoors in a pile, let it stand a day, then turn over thoroughly so as to cause fermentation to set in. When cooled down, renew operation for a couple of days and it is ready for use. When the manure is ready, spread about four inches deep in the bottom of box. Pat it down quite hard, then spread over 1½ inches good loam and pat it down evenly. Then add on top six inches of your compost and loam mixed together, and be sure to press it down good, and for last layer about three inches of the manure.



Let bed stand for a couple of days so that it will generate an even heat through the loam. Now it is ready for planting. Secure good English mushroom spawn, which comes in compressed bricks. Cut the spawn in two-inch squares with a hatchet and be careful to save all small particles. Make openings in the bed about two inches deep and insert the squares of spawn eight inches apart. Spread on the fine particles of spawn. Cover up carefully and press down as before and your bed is ready.

The best place for a bed is in a dark, warm cellar. Mushrooms do not want sun or light, but must have an even temperature of 70 to 80 degrees. If the bed gets rather dry, take warm water and soak it well and repeat in ten or 12 days. It will require five to six weeks before one can tell about the success of his bed. At that period if O K you will notice little bits of buttons of a brownish white color, which are your mushrooms. The day after they will be large and well developed, when you may pick them. Do not cut them, but twist gently and they will drop in your hands.

SLEIGH RUNNERS.

Made from Iron Pipe and Are Adjustable to Buggy or Spring Wagon.

A very good sleigh can be made out of any buggy or spring wagon. For runners use iron pipe, 1¼ inches to 1¾ inches according to size of axles. The pipe should be slightly larger than the axles. Cut the pipes long enough so that they will bend without denting. They can be bent by heating and placing in a vise. For fastening the runners on axles, use a T the same diameter as the pipe. Plug ends of runners and screw the T on. Place a round iron bar through the T the same size as the axles, and run babbitt around the iron bar. Take the iron out as soon as the babbitt has set. The object of the babbitt is to make the runners solid and to keep the iron from marring the axles. Place the runners on the axles, cut a piece of pipe and slip on remaining part of axles. Have it long enough so that when the nut is put on, it will bind against it tight. These runners can be made by any blacksmith, says the Agricultural Epitomist, and ought not to cost over three dollars.

IRON PIPE SLEIGH RUNNERS.

FARMING FACTS.

Northern Minnesota will begin a war on wolves, which are threatening stock and men, as soon as staying shows come.

Minnesota creamery men are seriously considering the purchase of milk on grade, similar to the manner in which wheat is purchased.

Poor shredded corn stover is not nearly so good as coarse sorghum hay. The animals will eat the sorghum up clean, while much of the stover will be left.

The bureau of forestry, in its new experiment stations in Wisconsin and Michigan, will make seasoning tests of cedar and tamarack telephone and telegraph poles that have been submerged for varying lengths of time.—Rural New Yorker.

We like to hear the cows calling for their milker, and looking around waiting for him to begin. It means they have full udders and expect to be relieved in a gentle manner; otherwise they would not greet you in such a pleasant way.—Rural New Yorker.

A new apple has been discovered in Kentucky. As far as known it is the only apple which originated in that state. The tree was found in a swamp and its development has been the product of years of patient work.—Prairie Farmer.

THE FIRST COST OF DUCKS

Some Hints Which Will Aid in the Successful Managing of Duck Farm.

A trio of good, ordinary market stock should be purchasable for about seven dollars. Ducks are not like hens; they do not lay all the year round, ... when they start they are attentive to the business of egg production daily, so that a couple of mature Pekins will provide you with a setting in six days. As you will want to keep some of the young ones for next year's stock, ask the breeder you buy from to ship you birds two years old, as their progeny is stronger.

Pekins never want to sit, so hens must be used for hatching until your stock is large enough to fill an incubator in a few days artificial duck raising is without doubt the best. Think of one farm in Massachusetts that markets 45,000 young ducks annually, sells two tons of feathers, and keeps 1,200 breeders! Would such an immense business be possible in the old way?

Though Pekins don't need water to swim in, they ... quantities to drink, always fresh and clean, which means that drinking pans must be refilled three times a day, and be so constructed as to enable the bird to submerge the whole bill in the water. Why? Because there are two small holes at the base of the bill which become clogged with feed or mud, and unless they can rinse these out when drinking the poor things smother.

A man who had a broiler farm near our place, three years ago, bought a hundred ducks' eggs, hatched out a fine lot of youngsters, and lost every one within two weeks through using a water fountain in the brooder that was too shallow. As I had lots of ducks at the time, he brought some over for me to see. There was nothing whatever the matter with them except that their little nostrils were all stopped up with the soft food. So pray remember this very important direction when you are arranging drinking water for ducks, young or old—they must not be able to get into the pan with their feet or bodies, but their entire heads must have free entrance.—Pearson's.

HINT FOR BEEKEEPERS.

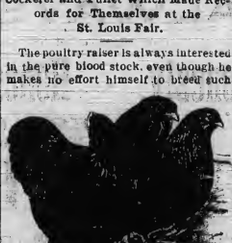
How to Secure Full Service of the Honey Makers Without Weakening the Colonies.

Apiarist Edwin Bevins claims to have discovered two ways in which laying worker colonies can be disposed of so as to get all the service out of the bees that they can render and yet keep the numbers of the colonies up to what it was before.

One way is to place the hive containing the laying workers over a strong colony with a fertile queen, placing a newspaper with a small hole in it between the two hives, says the New York Farmer. The bees will unite peaceably, and when considerable worker-brood appears in the upper hive the hive can be placed on another stand and the bees will rear a queen from the brood, if the old queen can be introduced about three days after the removal of the hive.

The other plan involves the taking of a couple of frames of hatching brood from a hive and placing them in another hive over a strong colony, with a frame having a wire cloth nailed to both sides of it between the two hives.

Thus a fertile queen and her escort are released on two combs, and in a few days there will be a nucleus strong enough to take care of the queen. This hive is then set down by the side of the hive holding the laying workers.



Every two or three days a frame with the bees must be transferred from the laying worker hive to the nucleus. By the time all but two of the frames are placed in the new hive the queen is at work there and everything is harmonious.

As regards the two frames taken to form the nucleus, they can be returned to the places from which they were taken, or these places can be filled by the frames remaining unused in the laying-worker hive.

PRIZE WINNERS.

Cockerel and Pullet Which Made Records for Themselves at the St. Louis Fair.

The poultry raiser is always interested in the pure blood stock, even though he makes no effort himself to breed such high-class fowls. In an illustration we show a pair of Partridge Wyandottes, bred by a Kansas fancier. They won medals in one of the greatest poultry prize winning contests ever held.

PRIZE WINNING WYANDOTTES.

The Southdown.

For quality of mutton, the Southdown is equalled by very few breeds, and is surpassed by none. They mature early, are apt fatteners and thrive on the barest keep. The improved Hampshire owes all its good qualities to the Southdown blood.—Charles Scott.

Farmers do not bite at every hook nowadays. Sometimes they put their feet on the hook, and either break the line or pull the fisherman in.—Rural New Yorker.

New Species of Dog.

In the New York Zoological park is a white raccoon dog from northern Japan, which is regarded as representing a new species and has been named Nyctereutes Albus, says a scientific journal. The ordinary raccoon dog of Japan and China is an animal closely allied to the true dogs, but with a marked superficial resemblance to a raccoon. If the New York specimen really indicates the existence of a white species of a raccoon dog, the fact will be of considerable zoological interest.

Peanut Cookies.

Shell and rub off the inner skin of sufficient roasted peanuts to measure one-half pint—when chopped fine. Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter and one cupful of sugar; add three eggs, two tablespoonfuls of milk, one-fourth tablespoonful of salt, the chopped nuts, and flour to make a soft dough. Roll out and bake in a moderate oven.—Housekeeper.

No Telling.

The young woman had refused him.

"I never could marry a man of your habits," she said. "Still I hope you will do nothing desperate on account of this."

"I don't know," he said. "I can't promise. Some day I may get drunk enough to come and propose to you again."—Chicago Tribune.

Chili Chicken.

Boil a chicken until tender, let it cool off and chop it fine; wash and dry a cupful of rice, put into a suitable pot containing hot lard or butter, and fry a few moments; then add chopped tomatoes, onions, salt and chili powder to taste; now pour into it the chicken and some of the broth in which it has been boiled.—Good Housekeeping.

First Campaign Emblem.

So far as known the first campaign emblem was the finger ring of copper. It was worn by the adherents of John Quincy Adams in 1825, when he ran for president, and was inscribed "John Quincy Adams, 1825." Tintypes and medallions were among the insignia of the 1860 campaign.

Crimean Veterans.

All the Crimean veterans in receipt of small pensions who are in necessitous circumstances are now being granted special increases, provided they were either wounded or discharged for inability, or are at present suffering from a disability clearly due to their military services.

Cranberry Sauce.

Do not cook cranberry sauce too long and do not add too much water. The finest sauce can be made from one quart of cranberries with one cupful of water. Boil for ten minutes, then add two cupfuls of sugar, stir well and set away to cool.—Woman's Magazine.

Behind the Times.

Emphatically the young man who is 25 years old by the calendar and who is only 18 years old in mind and manner, is handicapped to-day as he never before could have been handicapped in history.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Vegetarian Cat.

A kitten was lately brought up on an exclusively vegetable diet by a London family of vegetarians. The result is that it will not touch animal food and pays no attention to rats or mice.

For a Delicious Nut Bread.

Add chopped nuts, hickory or English walnuts, to any entire wheat or graham bread recipe, allowing two-thirds of a cupful of nuts to each medium-sized loaf.—Housekeeper.

MARKET REPORT.

Cincinnati, Jan. 7.

CATTLE—Common ..	$2 50	@	3 75
Heavy steers	4 75	@	5 25
CALVES—Extra	6 75	@	7 00
HOGS—Ch. packers .	4 77½	@	4 80
Mixed packers	4 60	@	4 70
SHEEP—Extra	4 65	@	4 75
LAMBS—Extra	7 00	@	7 50
FLOUR—Spring pat.	6 10	@	6 25
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 20½
No. 3 winter		@	1 12
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	46½
No. 2 white		@	46½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	33½
No. 2 white		@	33¾
RYE—No. 2	82	@	83½
HAY—Ch. timothy ..		@	12 75
PORK—Clear mess..		@	13 65
LARD—Steam		@	6 30
BITTER—Ch. dairy .		@	17
Choice creamery ..		@	30
APPLES—Choice ...	2 50	@	3 00
POTATOES—Per bbl.	1 50	@	1 60
TOBACCO—New	5 00	@	13 00
Old	4 50	@	14 75

Chicago.

FLOUR—Winter pat.	5 10	@	5 20
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 16½	@	1 19½
No. 3 red	1 00	@	1 13
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	42½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	29½
RYE—No. 2		@	75
PORK—Mess	12 12½	@	12 25
LARD—Steam		@	6 55

New York.

FLOUR—Win. str'ts.	5 30	@	5 45
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 21½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	53½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	37½
RYE—Western		@	75
PORK—Family	14 00	@	14 50
LARD—Steam		@	7 00

Baltimore.

CATTLE—Steers ...	3 75	@	4 50
SHEEP—No. 1 fat ..	2 50	@	3 00
LAMBS—Choice	6 00	@	6 50
CALVES—Choice ...	8 25	@	8 75
HOGS—Dressed	6 25	@	6 75

Louisville.

WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 16
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	56½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	34
PORK—Mess		@	11 00
LARD—Pure steam..		@	6 75

Indianapolis.

WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 16
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	49
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	31½

WENT TOO MUCH BY NAME

Lady Hotel Guest Receives Some Enlightenment from Colored Waiter.

A woman lives at one of the Kansas City hotels who has the reputation of being rather finicky and hard to please in the manner of food. A day or two ago at lunch, relates the Kansas City Journal, after looking over the dessert list, she decided on some ice cream pudding. The meal had been one with which she had considerable difficulty in finding fault, but when she had about half finished the dessert she called the waiter over and said:

"George, what do you mean by calling this ice cream pudding? There isn't any ice cream about it, and you know it."

"Yes'm," said the waiter. "I know dere ain't no ice cream in it. Dat's jes' a name they give it. I do' know why."

"Well," she continued. "I think that if they give a dish such a name they ought to make it conform to the name, and if you call this ice cream pudding, you ought to bring some ice cream with it."

"Yes'm," answered the servitor, "but you know we can't allus do it that way. You know we doesn't bring a cottage in with cottage pudding."

The waiter's reply brought a burst of laughter from the people who heard the conversation, ... woman's criticisms of the menu have been few and infrequent.

Lacked Lawyer's Facility.

Lawyer to Witness—Never mind what you think, we want facts here. Tell us where you first met this man.

Woman Witness—Can't answer it. If the court doesn't care to hear what I think, there's no use questioning me, for I am not a lawyer and can't talk without thinking.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Shallows Murmur.

"He talks a great deal about his family tree."

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne. "A family tree is much like other trees. The smallest twigs do the most rustling."—Washington Star.

Accounting for Blueness.

"Somebody has found a blue lobster in New York."

"Blue lobster? Pessimistic, I suppose."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Especially for Women.

Champion, Mich., Jan. 9th.—(Special)—A case of especial interest to women is that of Mrs. A. Wellatt, wife of a well-known photographer here. It is best given in her own words.

"I could not sleep, my feet were cold and my limbs cramped," Mrs. Wellatt states. "I had an awful hard pain across my kidneys. I had to get up three or four times in the night. I was very nervous and fearfully despondent.

"I had been troubled in this way for five years when I commenced to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and what they caused to come from my kidneys will hardly stand description.

"By the time I had finished one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I was cured. Now I can sleep well, my limbs do not cramp, I do not get up in the night, and I feel better than I have in years. I owe my health to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Women's ills are caused by Diseased Kidneys; that's why Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure them.

"I never become angry because a man does not think quite as I do," remarked the professor; "for when I find a man who disagrees with me I realize that it is probably with difficulty that he thinks at all."—Judge.

CUTICURA OINTMENT

The World's Greatest Skin Cure and Sweetest Emollient—Positively Unrivaled.

Cuticura Ointment is beyond question the most successful curative for torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, ever compounded, in proof of which a single anointing with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed in the severer cases by a dose of Cuticura Resolvent Pills, is often sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing forms of itching, burning and scaly humors, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure when all else fails. It is especially so in the treatment of infants and children, speedily soothing and healing the most distressing cases.

One New York actor hit another over the head with a reel ax, instead of the property weapon provided for the stunt. An actor occasionally meets the desires and expectations of the audience.—Washington Post.

Winter Tourist Tickets

Are now on sale at very low rates via the Louisville and Nashville R. R. from St. Louis, Evansville, Louisville and Cincinnati to all the Winter Resorts in the South, Southeast and Cuba. For illustrated booklets on Florida, Cuba or New Orleans, time tables and rates, address, C. L. Stone, General Pass. Agent, Louisville, Ky.

A self-made man has an idea that if he had gone to college he would have been much more of a success, and a college man that if he hadn't he might have been much less of a failure.—N. Y. Press.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

The good-natured person must choose between being continually imposed upon and having a reputation for being painfully stubborn.—Puck.

Piso's Cure for Consumption is an infallible medicine for coughs and colds.—N. W. Samuel, Ocean Grove, N. J., Feb. 17, 1900.

It is better to have a dollar bill in your pocket than a lot of them on margins.—N. Y. Press.

Miss Whittaker, a prominent club woman of Savannah, Ga., tells how she was entirely cured of ovarian troubles by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a Uterine Tonic and Regulator. I suffered for four years with irregularities and Uterine troubles. No one but those who have experienced this dreadful agony can form any idea of the physical and mental misery those endure who are thus afflicted. Your Vegetable Compound cured me within three months. I was fully restored to health and strength, and now my periods are regular and painless. What a blessing it is to be able to obtain such a remedy when so many doctors fail to help you. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is better than any doctor or medicine I ever had. Very truly yours, MISS EASY WHITTAKER, 604 30th St., W. Savannah, Ga."

No physician in the world has had such a training or such an amount of information at hand to assist in the treatment of all kinds of female ills as Mrs. Pinkham. In her office at Lynn, Mass., she is able to do more for the ailing women of America than the family physician. Any woman, therefore, is responsible for her own trouble who will not take the pains to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free.

A letter from another woman showing what was accomplished in her case by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: I am so grateful to you for the help Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me that I deem it but a small return to write you an expression of my experience.

"Many years suffering with weakness, inflammation, and a broken down system, made me more anxious to die than live, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound soon restored my lost strength. Taking the medicine only two weeks produced a radical change, and two months restored me to perfect health. I am now a changed woman, and my friends wonder at the change, it is so marvellous. Sincerely yours, MISS MATTIE HENRY, 429 Green St., Danville, Va."

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women prove beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.
Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND—CERRODANIE RHEUMATIC CURE. A Positive Cure for Rheumatism and Neuralgia in Capsules. Write TO-DAY for Free Booklet which contains our new theory—the cause and cure of Rheumatism and many testimonials. These capsules destroy and remove the cause of Rheumatism. CURE MUST FOLLOW. Price by Mail, $1.40; 4 Boxes for $4.00. Manufactured by CERRODANIE CO., Decatur, Ill. For sale by T. P. TAYLOR & CO., Third and Jefferson Sts., Louisville, Ky. AGENTS WANTED. Cut this ad. out as it may not appear again.

His Occupation.

Jones—What business are you in now?

Smith—I am in the meat business.

Jones (incredulously)—Where is your shop?

Smith—I haven't any shop. I am the ham in an advertising sandwich.—Minneapolis Times.

Are You Going to Florida or New Orleans?

Tickets on sale via Queen & Crescent Route and Southern Railway to Florida, New Orleans and other points south at greatly reduced rates, good returning May 31st, 1904.

Also variable route tickets good going to points in Florida and Cuba via Atlanta, and returning via Asheville. For rates and other information address—

W. A. Beckler, N. P. A., 113 Adams Street, Chicago, Ill.

D. P. Brown, N. E. P. A., 11 Fort Street, W., Detroit, Mich.

W. W. Dunnavant, T. P. A., Warren, Ohio.

W. C. Rinearson, G. P. A., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Laugh at another man's jokes and he will laugh with you; spring one of your own and you laugh alone.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.

Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

Man is a fearless animal because, failing in one amusement, he has so many others.—N. Y. Times.

St. Jacobs Oil

The Old Monk Cure

For Soreness and Stiffness

From cold, hard labor or exercise, relaxes the stiffness and the soreness disappears.

Price, 25c. and 50c.

Twenty Bushels of Wheat to the Acre

FARMS WESTERN CANADA

IS THE RECORD ON THE FREE HOMESTEAD LANDS OF WESTERN CANADA FOR 1904

The 150,000 Farmers from the United States, who during the past seven years have gone to Canada, participate in this prosperity.

Also variable route tickets good going to points in Florida and Cuba via Atlanta, and returning via Asheville. For rates and other information address—

The United States will soon become an importer of Wheat. Get a free homestead or purchase a farm in Western Canada, and become one of those who will help produce it.

Apply for information to SUPERINTENDENT OF IMMIGRATION, Ottawa, Canada, or to H. M. WILLIAMS, Law Building, Toledo, O. Authorized Government Agent.

Please say where you saw this advertisement.

YOU TRAVEL—OR WILL

If not today, then tomorrow. There is quality in railway travel as in everything else. Track, trains and time are the essentials. The M. K. & T. Railway has that quality, I want you to know of it, try it and be convinced.

At this time of the year you are probably thinking about a winter trip. Is it amongst the Gulf Coast of Texas, San Antonio, Old Mexico or California, or being about as nearly perfect as climate and environment can make them. I have some very attractive literature about these resorts that I'd like to send you. May I? I'd rather talk to you, but if this is impossible, drop me a line and I'll be pleased to give you all the desired information. There are some special inducements too in the way of rates and through Katy Sleepers that I'd like you to know about. Write to-day

M. K. T. "KATY" ST. LOUIS, MO.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

A. N. K.—E 2053

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors silk, wool and cotton equally well and is guaranteed to give perfect results, ask dealer or we will send post paid at 10c a package. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

BIG BONE.

Dr. Ryle entertained his fatherin-law and wife, Geo. Ossman and wife and Joseph Cleek and wife with an oyster dinner, last Thursday.—That item in which the name of the champion eater was given, failed to state he ranges in weight from 87 to 90 lbs. —If the same howl goes up all over the county that has here in regard to that appropriation for the purchase of blood hounds, they will not be bought.—Rev. Wilson held services at the Methodist church Sunday. A large crowd was out.—Everybody will applaud the last grand jury for indicting the Florence Fair. The directors should be held responsible for all that goes on within the inclosure.

UNION.

Mrs. Owen Conner, of Burlington, and Mrs. John McAtee, of Ludlow, spent Sunday with Mrs. Mary Carpenter.—Miss Louise Bristow and Miss Addie Conner were pleasantly entertained last Saturday by Miss Jessie Utz.—Misses Ella Adams and Osa Howlett, of Big Bone, and Maud Kent, of Chillicothe, Mo., spent last Saturday and Sunday with frends at this place.—Misses Ella and Eva Boggs, of Alexandria, spent several days last week with Dr. and Mrs. Robertson.—Mrs. John Crouch gone on an extended visit to her daughter, Mrs. Quisenberry, of Indianapolis.—The Baptist church has called Rev. Sam Wilson as pastor.

RICHWOOD.

T. J. Hughes' daughter is improving, but his son is dangerously ill yet. —Miss Mary Aydlotte entertained Friday evening.—No reward was paid for finding the body of Jacob Kelz.—Robert Chambers, of Kensington, will move to William Lancaster's house.—Friends of Dr. Park Gilmore will regret to learn of his father's death.—Miss Grace Odenwald, who is boarding in Cincinnati, is at home for a short stay.—The Deposit bank at this place declared the semi-annual 6 percent dividend.—Miss Emily Hughes returned Monday to Danville school.—Mr. John Broughton, of Erlanger, spent Friday here with friends hunting.—Mrs. Marion Grubbs has been confined to the house several weeks with rheumatism.

BEECH GROVE.

Fine winter weather.—Bud Rector and wife were guests at Tommie Stephens', last Friday.—Mrs. Bettie Sullivan, of Lawrenceburg, is visiting her relatives here.—Mrs. Eliza Gully and children, and Tommie Stephens and wife, spent last Saturday with James McAtee and family. —Lawrence Pope and wife gave the young folks a party last Tuesday night.—James Rice and wife, of Big Bone, and Tommie Stephens and wife and Wade H. Ryle, spent last Sunday at B. S. Smith's on Gunpowder. —Mat Ryle and family and Miss Hattie Marshall spent last Sunday with Waller Marshall and wife, of Locust Grove.—Mrs. Susie Stephens spent last Wednesday with her mother, Mrs. Perry Weaver.—Ribern Williamson and wife, of near Burlington, spent last Saturday night and Sunday with his parents, David Williamson and wife, of this place. —Don Williamson and wife Sundied with Boone Wiliamson and wife on Gunpowder.

HAMILTON.

Quite a number of tow boats has passed down in the last few days.—John Stachel has moved to James Allen's farm near here. Mr. and Mrs. John Sayre spent Tuesday night and Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Feldhaus, near Landing.—Miss Sarah Black spent last Saturday and Sunday with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Feldhaus, near Landing.—Geo. Huff has returned to Lawrenceburg after a few days visit with his parents here.—Eight of G. L. Miller's sheep were killed and crippled by dogs, a few nights since. —It is said that W. R. Miller will start a store at Hamilton.—J. E. Marksberry bought G. M. Allen's tobacco at 8cents around. J. E. Marksberry and wife have gone to housekeeping in the beautiful new house recently built by Mr. Marksberry near Hamilton.—J. W. Kite, Gov. Light House keeper, is sick.—Chas. Isaac has returned after a visit of several days with frieds in Grant county.—Geo. Kite and wife spent Sunday afternoon very pleasantly with J. W. Kite and wife.—James Aylor and family, of Big Bone, were guests of James Allen and wife one day last week.—Chas. Feldhaus is spending a few days at J. M. Feldhaus' near Union.—The Hamilton school is progressing nicely under the management of Miss Rose Adams.—Mrs. Cynthia Wilson was the guest of Mrs. J. E. Marksberry last Thursday afternoon.

IDLEWILD.

Jany. 9.—Miss Nannie Winston, of Covington, is spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. George Gaines. —Several of our farmers are hauling 42 cent corn from Indiana.—W. A. Gaines and W. L. Cropper sold horses, last Friday, to a Mr. Becker, of Aurora. Earl Walton sold a pair of mules for $240.—Mr and Mrs. Courtney Walton entertained 23 of their relatives and friends at dinner on the 4th inst.—Mrs. R. C. Gaines entertained a few of her friends on the 5th inst.—Last Saturday Mrs. J. J. Dumean entertained with a dinner.—The youngest child of James Masters, which died of pneumonia last Friday, was buried at Bullittsburg yesday.—Sorry to report Kenneth Balsly worse since operated on.—Everett, son of the late Rev. Robt. Graves, many years a citizen of this county, died at Evansville, Indiana, a few days ago, was brought to Bullittsburg and buried today.—A drove of 350 cattle, belonging to a Mr. Hogan, of Tennessee, and in charge of ten men, that passed here, one day last week, enroute to Petersburg, was a sight the like of which was never before witnessed in this county.—Miss Hattie Kirtley, who has been with her sister, Mrs. W. L. Cropper, ever since the family left the old homestead, is now visiting in Lawrenceburg and Erlanger.—A recent letter from Rev. J. L. Sproles informs us of the family's continued good health and his success as an evangelist.

The Tobacco Growers' meeting held at the Court-house, last Saturday, was attended by about 50 people. Considering the day the meeting was quite a success. Hon. N. S. Walton and L. H. Voshell each made a speech, after which considerable stock and many acres of tobacco were subscribed. At the close of the meeting it was announced that in Boone county about $4,000 worth of stock had been taken in the Company while 1,000 acres of tobacco had been subscribed. Those who attended last Saturday's meeting are enthusiastic in the matter, and exceedingly anxious that the Company prove a success. The Kentucky Observer, published at Lexington says:

"President Hawkins left Wednesday night for New York, prepared to meet every requirement of the financiers who are to back our Company. Able to meet every demand and exaction, he seemed to be in high spirits, and told the Observer that everything [illegible] that conditions could not be improved on. He was more sanguine than ever, and said to tell the growers their day of deliverance was at hand.

"For the past week the daily papers have been full of a lot of rot, alleged reports of admitted secret meetings, etc. These all bear the impress of what they are, malicious lies, and are given space only by the trust organs and representatives of the warehouse combines. The first was sent out from here, where the Continental knows they have the fight of their life on hands. This was followed by a special from Cincinnati, in yesterday's Courier Journal, stating that President Hawkins had gone to New York to get a release from the contract he had signed to secure the money. Is there a sane man in the country who will for one moment believe that he would ask to be freed from an agreement which he has been trying for more than two years to obtain? The fact is three concerns want to furnish the money, and it is a matter of choice to him—that is the one who will offer the best terms.

"Another story—or rather lie—purports to say that the capitalists have all been bribed by the Continental. This is about as silly a statament as was ever given space in a paper. Big as it may be—financially—the trust cannot accomplish everything that it would. It may be able to purchase a fews pacewriters and papers without principle, but the men behind this movement are not of the purchasable kind.

"In the absence of any authoritative statement from President Hawkins, we feel that we are perfectly safe in saying that everything is working as smoothly as he anticipated it would on his departure."

He was shot in old Kentucky, where they make the mountains dew, and the mothers feed their babies on hot revolver stew, where you wake up in the morning shot full of bullet holes, and find your sole companions are disembodied souls.

He was shot in old Kentucky, where their aim is always true, and the principal amusement is shooting people through, where the doctors use as medicine, for all the human ills, a dose or two of bullets instead of giving pills.

He was shot in old Kentucky, where "feuds" grow on the trees, and the bullets from the rifles buzz through the air like bees, where the instruments they play on, when they give a dance or hop, are their musical revolvers, and they "call off" with a pop.

I have heard that old Kentucky is a fine old commonwealth, that the women are all noted for their beauty and their health, but I'll stay in Illinois, where the women cut less figure, and the men are not so nasty nor so quick to pull a trigger!—Montgomery News.

THE gall of some editors of country newspapers is unlimited. Here is a quill pusher who would hardly know an ox from a cow, telling the farmers how to milk:

"Milking is an operation which requires skill. Dairymen know that there is as much difference in milkers as in cows, and that a good cow may be ruined by a poor milker. The milker should not handle the cow any more than he can help. The hands should be kept dry and the pail should be held close to the udder. As soon as the milking is done, the milk should be taken to the dairy room and not allowed to stand."

When bilious try a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and realize for once how quickly a first-class up-to-date medicine will correct the disorder. For sale by all Druggists.

NOTICE!

There are 900 Delinquent Tax-payers in Boone County. After 60 days all persons who have not paid their Poll-Tax will be advertised, and I will appoint a deputy to levy on property belonging to the Poll tax payers of Boone County. If you don't want your names in the paper and your Horses, Buggies and Cows and other personal property advertised and sold you had better pay your taxes.

B. B. ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

The latest presentation of the official vote for President in November—the one prepared for permanent preservation in the Tribune Almanac for 1905—shows that the total vote for Mr. Roosevelt was 7,620,332; and his plurality was 2,541,291. The total vote for William McKinley in 1900 [illegible] Bryan's plurality 870,061. This makes some very interesting arithmetic. While the Roosevelt vote was only a little more than 400,000 greater than that for McKinley, the Roosevelt plurality was 1,681,230 greater than McKinley's. There was a large increase in the vote for minor candidates, but not large enough to account for the great variation as to the principal candidates. There must have been an army of Democrats who folded their arms and remained in their tents on election day. It will never be possible to completely differentiate the vote. The falling off in the straight Democratic vote may have been much greater than is represented by the difference between the votes of Bryan and Parker. A lot of Democrats went to Debs et al. And does the 400,000 increase in the Republican vote represent the Democrats who were not content with Populism, Socialism or sequestration, but, went pellmell over to the Republican ticket? But these are details for analysts who will never be quite satisfied with their researches. A knowledge of the general result is enough for the busy citizen. It does not require much deliberation to read the lesson.—Enquirer.

Personal Mention.

Cecil Gaines has been ailing for several days.

Mrs. P. E. Cason has been sick for several days.

Miss Scott, of Florence, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Bentler, near town.

W. R. Rouse, of Hebron, was looking after business in Burlington last Friday.

James Allphin, son of Sheriff B. B. Allphin is attending medical college in Louisville.

Atty. John L. Vest, of Independence, was in Burlington a day or two last week on professional business.

Rev. M. D. Early arrived from Texas, last Friday evening. When he left Texas the weather was spring-like, but when he landed at home it looked like he had been transferred to polar regions.

J. R. Johnson, of Verona, and the popular and very successful manager of the Snyder canning factory at Walton, was a member of the Board of Equalization that was in session here last week, and speaking of the cannery he said it handled about 400 acres of tomatoes for the local growers last year, and would do at least that well this year. He was expecting to be ready to make contracts for the 1905 crop in the next few days.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

The uniform success of this remedy has made it the most popular preparation in use for bowel complaints. It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant to take. For sale by all Druggists.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale at my residence on Woolper creek, at the mouth of Double Lick, on

Tuesday, Jan. 24th, 1905,

The following property:

1 Horse, 1 Cow, Corn in the crib, Oats in stack, Fodder, Breaking Plow, 2 Double Shovel Plows, Single Shovel Plow, Sled, and other Farming Implements, and some Household and Kitchen Furniture, 4 or 5 bus. Potatoes, &c.

TERMS—Sums of $5 and under, cash; Sums over $5 a credit of 6 months will be given, purchasers to give notes with good security, negotiable and payable in Boone County Deposit Bank.

W. H. SEBREE.

Sale to begin at 1 o'clock p. m.

Lets Talk it Over

among ourselves about

Tea-Coffee.

We know you enjoy a good cup of either and want one that will "Just Suit" you. We believe we can please any one who will say just what kind he likes.

We don't sell our "35c Java and Mocha" for 20c, nor our "$1.00 Tea for 75c" or "75c Tea for 60c," as some dealers claim to do—day in and day out.

We do sell as good Tea as can possibly be given for the money and believe we take more care and pains in selecting and having it of uniform quality than most people, and want you to try it for yourself.

O. K. Coffee, per pound..... 12½c
Salvador Coffee, per pound..... 15c
Money Worth Blend Coffee, per lb.... 17c
Three pounds for 50c.
Golden Blend Coffee, per pound..... 20c
Caracas or Guatamala Coffee, per lb... 25c
Java and Mocha Coffee, per pound..... 30c
Mixed Tea, Gren Tea Oolong, Gunpowder Tea, per pound..... 40c
Capitol Blend Tea, per pound..... 60c
Sunbeam Blend Tea, per pound..... 75c
Gunpowder Tea per pound...40, 60, 75c

Geo. G. Goode,
—Agent,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, Ky.

NOTICE

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Roberts as a member of the firm of G. W. & D. B. Roberts or otherwise are hereby notified to meet me at Verona, Boone county, Ky., on Thursday, February 9th, 1905, to settle same.

C. C. ROBERTS, Admr.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in coarser form than Thedford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.

It costs 25c. a can and saves ten times its price in profit.

PITTSBURG, KAS., March 25, 1904.

I have been using your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time. I have used all kinds of stock feed but I have found that yours is the best for my purpose.

J. S. HASSON.

Notice—My land is posted against trespass of all kinds, and especially are dogs forbidden to go thereon, as I will certainly shoot them.

T. E. DIXON, Richwood, Ky.

For Sale—Yearling steer—five months old calf. R. J. Underhill.

For Sale—Cow and calf. Apply to Chas. Sebree, on Woolper.

Deposits Earning Interest.

THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK & TRUST COMPANY, Inc.

N. E. Cor. Sixth St. and Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, KY.

Receives deposits of money subject to withdrawal after a specified time, or subject to check without notice,
ALLOWING INTEREST ON ALL DAILY BALANCES.

Interest is credited semi-annually on the first days of January and July and when the same is not withdrawn it is added to the principal AND DRAWS INTEREST.

It is not necessary to call in person to open an account, as all communications by mail receive prompt attention.

In its several departments, THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY Acts as Agent; Collects Rents and Renders Accounts as to [illegible] Loans Money on Approved Security; Rents Safe Deposit Boxes; Administers Estates and Acts as Executor; [illegible]

—ALL TRANSACTIONS CONFIDENTIAL.—

CAPITAL STOCK, $100.000.
Stockholders' Liability, $100.000.

JNO. P. ERNST, President. JOHN A. SIMPSON, Vice-President
C. W. SIMRALL, Sec'y & Treas.
Long Distance Telephone, South 214.

J. G. BENTLER & SON,

Lexington Pike, ERLANGER, KY.

Practical Horse Shoeing, General Blacksmithing and Wagon Repairing of all kinds,

All kinds of Tool Grinding. - Also Bicycle Repairing.
Grinding of all Kinds to Order.

Hay and Grain,

AND ALL KINDS OF MILL FEED,
By Retail or Car Load. Call and Learn Our Prices.

CORN.

ARE YOU READY TO lay IN YOUR SUPPLY?

We are loading cars every day at our Elizabethtown Elevator in the Miami Bottoms, and you know what quality that is.

We are prepared to put it at any point along the Southern, and would like to hear from you when you are ready to buy.

Early & Daniel,

—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in—
Hay, Grain, Feed and Flour,
Pike St. and L. N. Ry.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.
GOLDEN GRAIN FLOUR OUR SPECIALTY.

In our opinion a business conducted on an honest basis, furnishing the best "VALUES" possible for the "MONEY" and extending fair treatment to all

'ALWAYS WINS'

—Our Watchword has and always will be—

Honesty, -- Honest Clothing at "HONEST PRICES."

We show a fine line of Mens', Boys' & Children's

CLOTHING

Men's Suits.....$5.00 to $15.00. | Boys' Suits.....$4.00 to $10.00
Men's Overcoats.. 4.00 to 15.00. | Children's Suits.. 2.50 to 5.00
Childrens Overcoat 2.50 to 5.00. | Boys' Overcoats.. 4.00 to 10.00

These are made in every conceivable style and fashion.

Mens' Corduroy Suit, $5, $7.50, $10 and $12—these are made to stand the rough usage and abuse. We also carry a complete line of Corduroy and Jean Pants, Duck Coats, and other clothing necessary for health and comfort.

ROLFES & WACHS,

RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Subscribe for Your Conty Paper, $1.50.

Local News.

Judge Cason held court nearly every day last week.

Orin Phipps moved to the county infirmary, last Friday.

When did the oldest inhabitant ever see just such a morning as this?

The snow-clad trees last Friday morning presented a beautiful picture.

Snow, snow and snow upon top of snow is Old Prob's program this winter.

It use to be that a large crop of snow was the forerunner of a good wheat crop.

The letter that was looked for and never came is the one that worried the young man.

Dr. Furnish came out last Friday to see Samuel Adams, who has been sick for several weeks.

Clarence Rouse moved to J. Tanner's farm, the Limsburg neighborhood, last Friday.

For Sale—City broke work and carriage horse 16 hands high. Address, M. Riddell, Burlington.

A Maysville firm has shipped 20,000 rabbits and expects to ship 20,000 more before the season closes.

The Waterloo and Hebron telephone systems now have connection at Dr. W. O. Rouse's in Burlington.

The Methodist have been engaged in an interesting protracted meeting since last Wednesday evening.

In Mason county the Continental bought Kubel Bros.' 17,000 pound crop of tobacco at 13 cents per pound.

It was generally believed out this way that the jury in the Gillespie case tried at Rising Sun would acquit or fail to agree.

The Boone County Telephone Company will have a new directory ready for distribution to its subscribers in the next few days.

The men and boys had lots of fun last Friday pelting each other with snow balls, which could be made almost as hard as a rock.

Mrs. Malinda Ross, as administratix of her deceased husband, Henry Ross, will have a sale of personal property on the 17th inst.

James A. Duncan came very near losing his nice young buggy horse of distemper, last week. For several days it was thought it would surely die.

Mr. and Mrs. John Early moved from the county infirmary to their delightful hill-top home, overlooking the town of Petersburg, last week.

The rabbit roasters have been enjoying some excellent roasts in the last week. The meetings of the club was held off until the price of rabbits declined.

W. P. Sullivan claims to be the champion shot in this part of the county. He killed a rabbit one day last week, 125 yards with a rifle. He says that is shooting some.

The RECORDER sent out quite a number of bills to foreign subscribers at the beginning of the year, and the promptness with which so many responded is very gratifying.

When persons who want to conduct teachers' institutes begin writing to county superintendents in verse as one addressed Supt. Snyder, last week, they are surely in need of the jub.

For county purposes taxes are levied as follows in Carroll county for 1905: Paupers, 5 cents; roads and bridges, 25 cents; county levy, 8 cents; funding debts, 12 cents; poll tax, $1.50.

Last Wednesday night a mole worked up a large hill in Mrs. Annabelle Kirkpatrick's yard, near a big maple tree. It seems that the little animal anticipated the thaw that began that day.

A drove of 820 cattle passed through Burlington at noon, last Friday, enroute to Petersburg, where they will be slopped at the distillery. It was the largest drove that ever passed here.

The item in last Wednesday's Kentucky Post credited Judge Cason with doing what Cyrus Riddell did over 20 years ago while he was county judge. The Judge was not tickled any to speak of by the item.

Mr. Wm. S. Crane, of California, Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did and it effected a complete cure. This liniment is for sale by All Druggists.

New Grocery.

Having opened a grocery in Union, where everything first class in that line will be kept, I solicit your patronage. N. W. BURKETT,
Union, Ky.

The Cincinnati Post and the Times-Star are proposing a big bet in a roundabout way as to which has the largest circulation. The Time star first named $10,000 and the Post came back at it, doubling that amount.

In the quarterly report of Union Deposit Bank, last week, an error crept into the total liabilities, which was not discovered until all the papers were off of the press. The report is corrected in this issue to correspond with the figures of the cashier.

The RECORDER proposes to publish the transfers of real estate this year, and hopes that there will be no requests left with the county clerk not to permit the same done. When a deed to real estate is recorded it is then a matter to which the public is entitled.

J. B. Rouse will occupy his new house out on the Florence pike in the next few days. He will be comfortably situated but it is the unanimous opinion that Bert is a confirmed (not a confounded) old bachelor, and will enjoy his commodious home by himself.

Jesse Bowman about 16 years of age, son of William Bowman and wife, of Idlewild neighborhood, of whose accidental shooting himself of which mention was made in the RECORDER last week, lingered until last Thursday night when he died. He makes the third child his parents have lost in the last 12 months and they have the sympathy of all

Wonderful Nerve

Is displayed by many a man enduring pains of accidental Wounds Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Sore feet, or stiff joints. But there's no need for it. Bucklen's Arnica Salve will kill the pain and cure the trouble. It's the best Salve on earth for Piles, too. 25c at all Druggists.

The following transfers of real estate have been recorded since the first of this month:

Hubert Ryle and wife to D. M. Ryle, 102 acres in Carlton precinct —$3,000.

Walter Ryle and wife to D. M. Ryle, 9.85 acres in Carlton precinct —$200.

B. L. Rich and wife to Mike Holsworth 57.1 acres— $2,500.

Myrix J. Crouch and wife to M. L. Tanner, 32½ acres near Union—$1,130.

Nancy L. Rouse to E. J. Rouse, 71 acres; same to E. O Rouse, 74.2 and one other small parcel—love and affection.

In this issue appears the advertisement of the Feed and Seed Store of R. B. Huey & Co., at Walton. This store will prove a great convenience to the country for miles around Walton as it will carry a stock equal to any similar store in the city, while the prices will be as favorable to buyers. All kinds of grass seeds will be handled, and those desiring to buy blue grass seed will find it especially to their interest to investigate their prices. As to the quality of the seed there is no question.

All guessing contests, such as guessing how many seeds are in a watermelon, how many votes the candidates for certain offices receive, how many persons will be represented on an occasion of public interest, or in fact any contest where prizes are offered for successful guessing, are a lottery, according to recent decisions of the United States Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court, and the decisions are such that Mr. Moody disagrees with his predecessor in regard to guessing contests, and must order prosecutions. A Justice of the Supreme Court declared that such schemes are not legitimate and are clearly violations of the lottery law

One of the experts of the Bureau of Forestry says: "Kentucky people are beginning to experience what Spain and Judea and other deforested countries have experienced, and that is torrential floods alternating with drought, and at the same time a diminished and fluctuating rainfall from the same general cause. A well wooded country is a well watered country. The removal of the forest works a change in a climate, there is less humidity and the extremes of heat and cold are more marked. If it be deforestry that is working the change for the worse in Ohio region and causing the drought—and there is every reason to believe that such is the fact—it behooves the people to turn and help their own prayers—that is by taking measures through legislature enactment and otherwise for the preservation of the forests."

Two degrees below zero yesterday morning—coldest of the winter.

FISCAL COURT.

Numerous small allowances were made by the court.

Ennis Nixon was allowed $11.20 for summoning witnesses in Commonwealth cases.

The claim of Henry Ruflift for $235.27 for keeping Henry Thorp a blind pauper from June 30, 1903, to January 30, 1905 at $3 a week was rejected.

Pauper practice in precincts, except Bullittsville, let same as last year. Esq. Gaines authorized to let out pauper practice in Bullittsville precinct.

Ordered by the court that D. E. Castleman be and he is now appointed a committee to build a fence on line between county poor farm and lands of W. A. Gaines.

The report of the superintendent of the county infirmary for the year 1904, shows that the institution was maintained at a cost of $1060.81 with an average of 14 inmates.

"Ordered by the court that a levy of ten cents be and the same is now made on each $100 worth of taxable property (except franchise, railroad and whisky) for road purposes for the year 1905."

P. E. Cason, county judge, and D. E. Castleman, county attorney, were appointed a committee to put hat and coat rack in circuit court room, and to paint and paper hall of court house, and necessary shelving put in county clerk's office.

"Ordered by the court that the county levy for general county purposes for the year 1905, be and the same is now fixed, and a levy of two cents on each one hundred dollars worth of taxable property in this county is made for general county purposes for the year 1905."

B. B. Allphin and D. E. Castleman were appointed a committee to purchase two blood hounds for the county, and an appropriation of $250 was made for that purpose. The Sheriff is to prepare a kennel on his premises where the dogs are to be kept until January 1, 1906, or until the further order of the court. The sheriff is to maintain and work the blood hounds, and is to use them in this county on all reasonable calls free of charge. When he takes them out of the county he is to charge what he pleases.

"Ordered by the court that B. B. Allphin, sheriff, be and he is allowed 900 delinquent polls, 295 dogs and 22 bitches for year 1904, said Allphin agreeing in open court to appoint a collector for such delinquent tax in each voting precinct of this county and stand responsible for all such taxes as collected by said collectors. Said Sheriff also agrees to collect all of said tax that he can, without any commission therefor, and said collectors of said tax are hereby allowed a commission equal to one-third of the gross sum collected by them. Said sheriff further agrees that he will proceed to make it public and generally known that after 60 days from this date he will advertise the names of every delinquent poll in this county.

Orin Phipps was appointed superintendent of the county infirmary and farm at $250 for the year payable quarterly, which is to be the entire amount received. All revenues occurring in anywise from the house, farm, orchard or stock, or other source shall be accounted for strictly by him. The superintendent is to look after and keep up the ordinary repairs of the buildings, fence, &c., the county is to furnish the expense thereof except for labor, and the superintendent shall require all inmates who are able to assist him in any work about the premises. He is to see that the garden is properly cultivated, the orchard cared for, and the fruit and vegetables preserved if possible for winter use. He will be required to care for the poultry and cows (no turkeys to be raised) and these shall be for the exclusive benefit of the infirmary. He is to furnish the tools and do all the plowing. County to furnish all necessary seeds. He is allowed to keep two horses.

"Paddy" Johnson says they tell the following on Scott Myers, the Verona mill man who knows how difficult it is to operate a large steam mill when water is very scarce. After it had rained a few days last month the pond that supplied his mill filled and the water began running over the dam. Remembering the long drought Mr. Myer's could not resist making an effort to save all the water, and got a couple of buckets and tried to carry the water back and pour it into the pond.

The telephone wires looked like cotton cables last Friday morning.

Bought Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and Sent It to a Friend.

Mr. E. W. J. Fletcher, a druggist in Victoria, Australia, says: "A customer of mine, was so well pleased with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which she had used for her children when suffering from colds and croup, that during a fortnight's time she obtained at my shop, nine bottles, which she sent to her friends in different parts of the state, telling them how much good it had done and advising them to give it a trial. For sale by all Druggists.

Sheriff's Sale for Taxes.

The Sheriff of Boone County, Kentucky, hereby gives notice to the Delinquent Taxpayers of Boone county, that he will in compliance with Chapter 106 of the Kentucky Statutes and amendments thereto, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, for cash, all or so much of the property hereinafter described, listed to the respective persons named as per Assessors returns for 1904, as may be necessary to pay State and County taxes assessed against same together with all penalities, cost of advertising and commissions, at the Court House Door in Burlington, Boone County, Kentucky, on Monday, February 6th 1905, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 3 o'clock p. m., the following described property. Reference is had to the Original Assessor's book as County Clerk's Office, Burlington, Ky., for the more particular description of the property herein advertised.

BULLITTSVILLE PRECINCT.

Ben Wainscott, nr., 3 acres	3.85

FLORENCE PRECINCT.

J. C. Buckner, town lot	11 05
J. O. Carpenter, 2 town lots	21 60
G. W. Crouch, nr, town lot	3 50
W. J Cody, town lot	7.05
Sale, [illegible]	9 00
Albert Golwsy, town lot	4.00
Clara Myers, town lot	8.15
F H Nead, nr, town lot	2.85
Jas. Nead, nr., town lot	2.85
Sam Johnson, (col), town lot	2.85

PETERSBURG PRECINCT.

Catherine Bane, 20 acres	12 20
Debora Bradley's est., town lot	4 15
Henry Hoffman, nr., town lot	3.85
Fannie McGuire, nr., town lot	3 50
D. C. Peck, nr., town lot	3,50
B. A. Pease, town lot	5 35
W. W. Smith, est., town lot	2.15
E. D. Wlhorton, town lot	4 80
Francis Gibbs, (col) town lot	2 85
Melvina Parker, (col). town lot	2,15

BELLEVUE PRECINCT.

Elizabeth Aiken, 49 acres	8.15
Frank Buffington, nr., 6 acres	3,10
T. J. Clore, town lot	16.20
Mrs. I. Kidwell, town lot	4 85
Ohio Wall Paper Co., nr., 36a	4 15
John R Presser, town lot	4.35
Noah West & Lewis Merrick, 35a	9.00

UNION PRECINCT.

Robt. Adams, nr., 11 acres	2 80
John T. Davis, 26 acres	6.00
A. M. & F. Hall, town lot	2 65
F. H. Nelson, nr., 4 acres	2 80
G. V Rouse, town lot	3 95
Catherine Weaver, nr., 25 acres	5 50
Nancy Frazier (col), 5 acres	3,50

BEAVER PRECINCT.

J. B Eldred, town lot, 2 years	8.25
William Gilpin, town lot	5.30
Mrs Elizabeth Gorden, 78 acres	14.90
A. R. Underhill, town lot	4 85
O D. Williams 156 acres	18.35

CONSTANCE PRECINCT.

Mary Bills, town lot	2 80
Henry Fox, 2 acres	2.15
Mary A. Gilchrist, town lot	3.50
Mrs. Mildred Klusserner, t lot	3.70
Minnie Marshall, town lot	2.85
Edgar Morehead, 2 town lots	6.20
John N Reeves, 6 acres	5.20
Wm. Smith, 2 town lots	6.20
W. B. Vickers, 25 acres	10.50
H. F Zumner, town lot	11 95
Fred Zumner, 27 acres	16.80

CARLTON PRECINCT.

Anna Acra, 48 acres	5.50
O P. M. Ford, nr., town lot	4 15
Smith N. Riggs, town lot	5.00
Joseph Riggs, 4 acres	7 15
Mart Staley, 6 acres	5 65
Wm. Stephens (col) nr., town lot	1,85

HAMILTON PRECINCT

W. H. Isbell, town lot	4.20
G. L Pitcher, town lot	5,65
Martha A. Rich, 97 acres	4.15
Nathan Smith, 63 acres	14 20
Wm. Shinkle, 30 acres	6 65
Thos. B. Wilson, 10 acres	6,85

VERONA PRECINCT.

Mrs. W. C. Adams, 48 acres	7.30
E. W Benson, 26 acres	6.95
J J. Brumback est, town lot	3 50
Lillie Heard, nr., 10 acres	2 15
H E. Jarman, nr., 10 acres	2 65
W. E McKinzie, 30 acres	5 50
Wm. Washum, town lot	5.60
Conway Webster, 2 acres	4 85
Wm. Sleet, (col) town lot	3,30

WALTON PRECINCT.

C Y. Dyas, town lot	4,85
Daniel Franks nr., 13 acres	4 15
Henry Florence, 17 acres	5 65
John Grubbs, town lot	5,65
Eliza Gordan, 2 acres	7.85
Mrs. Emma Lemond, t lot	8,15
Mrs M E. Martin, town lot	11,50
P. S. Norman, 101 acres	13 70
Rebecca Ross, nr., 3 acres	2.15
Ross heirs, nr., 7 acres	2.85
Leona Rouse, town lot	2,50
W. O. Rouse, 2 town lots	8 15
Edward Stamler, town lot	9 85
Eza Vallandingham, town lot	4 15
Mrs. R. L. Weaver, nr., town lot	3.20
Chas. Wilson, nr., town lot	3.10
I. O. O. F. Hall (col) town lot	4,15

B. B. ALLPHIN, S B. C.

KRAUSER'S
Liquid Smoke,
75c
QUART BOTTLE—enough for four hogs—new way to smoke meat—no fires.
GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.,
—GROCER,—
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, KY.

Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c, at all Druggists.

Subscribe for the Recorder

JANUARY BARGAINS.

We want to make room for Spring Goods which will arrive in a short time. In order to do this we have put the prices on our Winter Goods away down, in some instances away below cost. We have room to mention only a few of our many bargains.

Schofield's Flannel Skirts, worth....50c reduced to....38c
Schofield's Jeans, worth....50c to 60c yd reduced to 35c yd
Outing Flannels, worth....10 to 12½c yd reduced to 08c yd
Ladies' Lined Shoes, worth.....$1 25 reduced to 80c
Ladies' Lined Shoes, worth.....$2 00 reduced to [illegible]
[illegible] worth.....$2 50 reduced to [illegible]
And many other goods including Flannels, Gloves, Caps, &c.

W. M. Rachal & Co
UNION, KY.

H. G. BLANTON,
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.
Special Rates to Traveling Men.
First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.
Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.
Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.
Tested Field and Garden Seeds.
Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.
Largest and Best Stock of
GROCERIES IN THE CITY.
Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and CEM Brands of FLOUR.
When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W Seventh Street,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Livery and Sales Stable.
ALLPHIN & HUME, Proprietors,
Walton, Kentucky.
Horses kept by the Meal, Day or Month. Good safe rigs for hire at all times.
Horses Bought, or Sold on Commission
Stable Near Southern Depot. BRUCE ROBERTS, Manager.
'Phone 172½, Hughes' Line.

CEILINGS. SKYLIGHTS. CORNICES
The Porter Iron Roofing & Corrugating Co
27 and 29 West Front Street,
CINCINNATI, - - OHIO.
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Iron, Steel, Galvanized & Felt Roofing.
Our Agents will give you wholesale prices.
Agents:—Bruce Anderson, Constance, Ky. L. L. Tanner, Union, Ky.
Our Unexcelled "Heating Drums" are the best. Inquire for Prices.

OH, HOW DELIGHTFUL!
The Perfect Deodorizer and Disinfectant
FRAGRINE
Refreshes. Perfumes. Invigorates. Endorsed by Physicians.
Most Pleasant of Toilet Requisites.
Most healthful of Household Necessities. Call and try it at
JOHN ALLISON'S, Undertaker, Covington, Ky.

Dr. G. M. Terrill,
DENTIST,
Walnut Street,
LAWRENCEBURG, - INDIANA.
Subscribe for the Recorder.

Notice is hereby given that my farm opposite Addyston, Ohio, known as the "Old Chambers farm," is posted, and all trespass by hunting and otherwise, thereon, is positively forbidden.
MRS MARGARET C. KRUTHOFFER.

Notice is hereby given that our lands in Constance precinct is posted against all kinds of trespass, and hunters are warned to keep off.
JOSEPH SCHUCH.
MARY J. SCHUCH.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, • • • KENTUCKY.

JANUARY...1905

Sun.	Mon.	Tues.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28
29	30	31

N. M. 5th. F. Q. 13th. F. M. 21st. L. Q. 27th.

CURRENT TOPICS.

Great Britain uses about 12,000,000 silk hats annually.

Single eyeglasses are prohibited in the Germany army.

The sultan of Turkey is trying to negotiate a loan of $15,000,000.

Switzerland's annual income from tourists is said to be $25,000,000.

The average depth of the Atlantic is estimated to be about 16,000 feet.

A Russian publishing house is producing an art edition of the Koran.

The average depth of the sand in the deserts of Africa is from 30 to 40 feet.

The late M. de Cassagnac was concerned as principal or second in more than 70 duels.

Australia has 210 churches to every 100,000 people, England has 114 and Russia about 55.

A Kansas man claims to have a swarm of bees that made 20 pounds of honey in three days.

Rats give trouble in the London underground railway by eating the rubber insulation off all wires.

A penny-in-the-slot machine in Vienna supplies post card gramophone discs of the operator's voice.

The druggists of Rome have formed a corporation to bring suit against Baedeker for saying their shops are unreliable and expensive.

Almost the entire commercial wealth of India, with its population of 300,000,000, is said be in the hands of less than 90,000 persons.

Mrs. Emma Weathers, aged 19, of near Jasper, Ind., the other day became the mother of a son that has seven fingers on each hand.

Ambassador Choate is generally acknowledged to be the wittiest and most brilliant conversationalist among all the diplomats in London.

Several former cabinet ministers of Hayti have been sentenced to prison service of varying length for complicity in a fraudulent bond issue.

Eli Richardson, of Martin, Tenn., who died recently at the age of 70 years, boasted that he had never put his lips to a woman's, though he was married.

The earrings worn by Italian women indicate the part of Italy the wearers come from; the longer the earrings the farther south the original homes of the women.

A bill to prohibit cigarette smoking by persons under 16 years old has passed its second reading in the South Australian legislature and probably will become a law.

Joseph Conrad, who has made such a reputation as a writer of sea stories, is well known to he a Pole by birth, but few of his many readers are aware that his real name is Korzeniowski.

Looping the loop on skis, a feat never before attempted, will be one of the great attractions at the annual tournament of the ski riders of America, to be held in ishpeming, Mich.

To manufacture tobacco grown in Canada a factory is about to be opened in Winnipeg. Experts say that the Canadian tobacco is hardly distinguishable from the Havana product.

The high death rate in Porto Rico it attributed by Dr. L. L. Seaman to the so-called hook worm, known to science by the more terrifying and imposing title of ankylostoma duodenale.

A pawnbroker about to open a new business in Yarmouth, Eng., announces that all persons making pledges with him on the first day will be presented with a quarter of a pound of tea.

A Dannish engineer recently built a vessel after the lines of Noah's ark, as laid down in the Bible. It made a craft of 306 tons. It made a trial trip near Copenhagen and proved a good seaboat.

Fashionable society women are discussing with delight the appearance of the monocle in Philadelphia as an article of feminine attire. Several months ago the monocle became the rage among the court beauties in London.

A peremptory decree reported to have been made by the French minister of foreign affairs commanding that all the employes of the foreign department, high and low, shall shave off their mustaches and beards, has created considerable excitement.

Buried in the last annual report on British New Guinea is the interesting story of the tribe in the northeastern part of the colony that have lived so long—perhaps for many generations—in boats and huts erected on piles in the middle of swamps and lakes that they can scarcely walk.

A Vienna society has been formed to aid people with short memories. A card is issued, upon which the purchaser writes the date of an engagement and posts to the society's office. By the first post of the day of his engagement the card is received by the purchaser.

THE NEWS CONDENSED

Interesting and Important Happenings of a Week.

Items From All Parts of the United States Told Briefly, Together With the Latest Foreign Intelligence.

CONGRESSIONAL NOTES.

On reconvening after the holidays the senate plunged into the bill for the admision of two states to be composed of Arizona and New Mexico and Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

Representative Baker (N. Y.) introduced a number of resolutions containing allegations relating to corporations and rebates.

Bills for the reorganization of the medical corps of the army and regulating promotions of army officers in the ordnance department have passed by the senate.

The government's cotton statistics as prepared by the agricultural department and census bureau formed the subject of an extended discussion in the house.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS ITEMS.

A civil service system similar to that in operation in the Philippines is expected to be instituted shortly in Porto Rico.

The headquarters of the Mormon church will some day be located in Independence, Mo., said John Henry Smith, one of the 12 apostles of the Mormon church.

Creditors of Mrs. Chadwick filed an amendment to their original petition in bankruptcy against her in the United States district court at Cleveland. It is averred that Mrs. Chadwick committed several acts of bankruptcy shortly after the beginning of her financial troubles.

At Salina, Kan., John Dillon was accidentally killed by falling down a stairway, it was learned that Dillon, who formerly lived at Franklin, Ind., was known there as Wayne Conger, and was, it is said, a nephew of E. H. Conger, American minister to China.

Theodore Thomas, the noted orchestra leader, died of pneumonia at his residence in Chicago. He was 70 years old.

At Portland, Ore., George H. Williams, ex-chief justice of Oregon, attorney general in President Grant's second cabinet, mayor of Portland and a man with the snow of 85 winters upon his head, was indicted by the county grand jury of Multnomah county on the charge of malfeasance in office in refusing to enforce the statutes regulating gambling while mayor.

A fire in Berlin, N. H., destroyed property to the value of $200,000.

The superior board of health reports that there are not more than one or two cases of yellow fever in Mexico, and those are being isolated.

Four polygamists hold appointments as postmasters in Idaho, says Senator Defoe.

Secretary Metcalf sent to the house a report as to the needs of the immigration service at San Francisco and recommended the construction of a station on the government reservation at Angels island.

Chocolate coated strychnine and nux vomica tablets, prescribed by a physician for their mother, caused the death of Laura, 3, and Joseph Barsuglia, 6, at Philadelphia. They mistook the tablets for candy.

In his annual report to the secretary of the interior, Gov. Otero, of New Mexico, takes a decided position against the uniting of that territory with Arizona as one state.

The International Mahogany Co., of New York, Cincinnati and Mobile, has just consummated a deal for 56,000 acres of the finest mahogany and cedar timber lands in Cuba.

Mexico is maturing a plan to establish a number of meteorological stations all over the republic which will be connected by wire with the meteorological observatory of this city.

Gov. John H. Mickey was inaugurated for the second time as governor of Nebraska.

The interior department declared Boynton, a town 22 miles west of Muskogee, I. T., a government town site.

A slight earthquake shock was felt in the remote districts of the state of Oaxaca, Mex. At Ometepec the shock was severe.

The senate committee on foreign relations authorized a favorable report on certain amendments to the extradition treaty between the United States and Sweden.

Rt. Rev. W. O'Connell, bishop of Portland, Me., received a papal brief appointing him assistant to the pontifical throne, accompanied by a complimentary letter from Pope Pius X.

The Jews of Germany have resolved to endeavor to check the emigration of Jews to the United States, as they think that if the present rush of Jews across the Atlantic continues anti-Semitic movements may arise even in the United States.

New York diamond dealers have been advised of an advance of 5 per cent. in the cost of rough stones, making a total of 45 per cent. increase since 1901.

Col. A. A. Rodman, grand captain general of the Grand Commandery Knights Templar of Iowa and author of Rodman's tactics, is dead of apoplexy.

Enraged by jealousy of Frank Dunne, whom he believed to have alienated his wife's affection, Henry K. Loomis killed Dunne and Mrs. Loomis and then committed suicide at Portland, Ore.

An imperial decree appoints Vice Adm. Skrydloff a member of the council of admirals.

A bill has been introduced fixing a penalty of not more than five years' imprisonment and a fine of not more than $500 for resisting service of any process of a court of the United States or assaulting any officer in the employ of the United States to prevent the exercise of any of his functions.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Paris edition of the New York Herald telegraphs that Vice Adm. Rojestvensky's flagship, the battleship Knlazsouvaroff, has struck a rock and foundered.

The government decides that the owner of a rural mail route box has absolutely no control over it.

The federal authorities have assumed control over Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick's case. No one will be allowed to see her without permission.

As a memorial to the memory of the late "master leader," Theodore Thomas, a movement has been inaugurated to change the name of the magnificent home of the Chicago Musical College, Thomas hall.

The Elks will erect a club house in Baltimore to cost approximately $300,000.

A training school for bakers will be established at Fort Riley, Kan., the classes to be drawn from cavalry, infantry and artillery.

It is estimated that it cost the Japanese 80,000 men to take Port Arthur.

Gen. Stoessel has been ordered home to stand courtmartial for surrendering Port Arthur.

Senator Bailey submitted to the senate a proposed amendment to the constitution fixing the term of the president at six years and making him ineligible for re-election.

Maj. Walter A. Bethel, judge advocate of the department of the Columbia, has been assigned to duty in the Philippine islands, as judge advocate of the department of the Luzon.

Sir Thomas Lipton is looking for a new designer to build another Shamrock to compete for the America cup.

Belle Cole, famous American singer, died in London. Mme. Cole was the leading contralto of the late Theodore Thomas.

Secretary Hay has asked congress to appropriate $7,500 annually to provide for an envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Morocco.

Sing Yow, a Chinaman, was hanged in the California penitentiary for the murder of a Chinaman in 1902.

Japanese Minister Motono presided at a banquet of the Paris Japanese colony in celebration of the fall of Port Arthur.

During the last year 572,798 steerage passengers arrived at the port of New York. During the same time there were 68,704 cabinet passengers and 93,685 came in the second cabin.

The storm that prevailed over Pittsburg was the most severe of the season. The fall of snow for 24 hours was about 6 inches. Two deaths are traceable to the storm.

Reports from all the mine inspectors in the anthracite region for the year 1904 show that 564 mine workers were killed in the region, leaving 574 widows.

Application for a new trial for James Gillespie, convicted at Rising Sun, Ind., for the killing of his twin sister, was overruled and he was sentenced to prison for life. He will appeal to the supreme court.

The controller of the currency has in his possession an emerald ring and a diamond sunburst brooch that are said to have at one time belonged to Mrs. Chadwick.

Bills were introduced in both houses of the Idaho legislature making the practice of polygamy and adultery criminal and imposing severe penalties.

Japan has made no overtures for peace to Russia, directly or indirectly, through the United States or any other power and contemplates no such action.

The United States senate ratified the extradition treaty between the United States and Panama and a treaty amending the convention between the United States, Sweden and Norway.

A bill was introduced in congress to increase the salary of the president to $75,000 a year, the vice president to $15,000 and to give the president after his retirement from office an annual salary of $25,000 per annum for life.

The nomination of W. D. Crum, a Negro, to be collector of customs for the port of Charleston, S. C., was confirmed by the senate by a vote of 33 to 17.

The resignation of Frederick Emory, chief of the bureau of trade relations, had been accepted by Secretary Hay and he will retire March 31.

M. Percy Lawrence, 17, son of M. J. Lawrence, a wealthy newspaper owner of Cleveland, O., was accidentally shot and killed on Orange lake near Citra, Fla., while duck hunting.

Bishop John L. Spalding is at his residence in Peoria, Ill., suffering from a severe paralytic stroke. His condition is said not to be dangerous.

During an evidently designed stampede of the officers' horses at Fort Hamilton, four prisoners escaped from the guard house at the post. One of them was recaptured, but the other three are believed to have perished in the icy waters of the harbor.

That a cadet at West Point is not an officer in the army in the meaning of the law applying to the dismissal of such officers was decided by the supreme court of the United States.

Gov. Geo. H. Utter was inaugurated and the other state officers of Rhode Island chosen at the November election assumed their duties.

James Gillespie, who with his sister, Mrs. Belle Seward and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Barbour, was indicted for the murder of his twin sister, Miss Elizabeth Gillespie, at Rising Sun, Ind., was found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment. The other three defendants will be tried separately later.

The lioness and male baboon which formed part of King Menelik's recent gift to President Roosevelt, have died at the National Zoological park, Washington.

President Roosevelt is an honorary member of the Campfire club of America. The chief object of the organization is the protection of the forests and game of the country.

The mail car of the Atlantic Coast line train that arrvied in Montgomery, Ala., was robbed about five miles east of that city. A large amount of registered mail was secured and the bandit made his escape, dropping off the train as it entered the outskirts of Montgomery.

The Maple Leaf grain elevator, in Kansas City, Kan., owned by the Chicago Great Western Railway Co., was burned with 300,000 bushels of wheat, entailing a loss of $550,000 on building and contents; fully insured.

George Clifton, of Cincinnati, sergeant of Troop L, 1st cavalry, and sergeant of Troop L, First cavalry, was killed at Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex., through the accidental discharge of a carbine in the hands of Private Balcomb, a member of the same troop.

More than twenty members of the chorus of the Metropolitan opera company were seriously injured in New York by the collapse of the bridge scene in the opening act of "Carmen."

A "union" church, with a union pastor, janitor and Sunday-school superintendent is the newest manifestation of industrial progress at hand. The inspiration came to the Flat Janitors' union of Chicago. Before many Sundays have passed it is hoped that all loyal trades unionists will be sitting fraternally in pews, engaged in bona fide "union label" religious worship.

Organization of the Dering Coal Co., a $5,000,000 corporation, under the laws of Delaware, is reported to mean the consolidation of 14 of the leading bituminous coal mining interests in Indiana and Illinois along the lines of Evansville & Terre Haute railroads. Officers of the new corporation are to be located in Chicago.

Ruslan Nihilists are swarming into Switzerland, and in their wake are innumerable Ruslan spies. Two of the revolutionary leaders are at Zurich superintending the arrangements for this work and for the active propaganda in the future.

Exclusive London society is gambling crazed. There is more gambling at cards going on in London than at any time within the last half century. The spirit of the eighteenth century, when leaders of state and society spent their days and nights in playing for enormous stakes, has revived.

Growing out of the opposition of his family to his marriage to Miss Alice Webb, of Chicago, last month, proceedings have been taken which resulted in Brodie L. Duke, half brother of Jas. B. Duke, being commited for examination as to his sanity.

Attorney Dawley states that there would be no delay in the trial of the Chadwick case, so far as the defense was concerned.

Solemn services in honor of those who fell in the defense of Port Arthur were held at the Kazan cathedral and the Troitka monastery, St. Petersburg.

The expected advance of the Japanese, which the Chinese prophesied would take place on the Russian Christmas, did not occur. Even the usual cannonading has not taken place.

Bettina Girard, the actress, daughter of Gen. Ordway, of Washington, died in Roosevelt hospital, New York, of acute pneumonia.

The post office at Auburn, Ala., was entered, the safe blown open and stamps to the value of $1,200 stolen. Three hundred dollars in cash was also taken.

The Japanese intend to establish a naval station at Port Arthur. Vice Adm. Y. Shibnyama will probably be placed in charge of it.

Information has reached the state department that, complying with the insistent demands of the United States, the Persian government has made to the widow partial reparation for the murder of Rev. Benjamin W. Labaree, an American missionary, by a gang of fanatics.

The Canadian government has decided to send an expedition to the Labrador coast 100 miles north of Belle Isle on the 30th of August to witness the double eclipse of the sun.

Near Joliet, Ill., William Rapson, after a family quarrel, fatally shot his son Herbert, after which the old man called Herbert's wife out to the barn, shot and killed her and then shot and fatally wounded himself.

By the capsizing of a sailboat on Lake Pontchartrain three men lost their lives and two were unconscious from nearly two hours exposure when rescued.

The board of directors of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co. decided that the federal government be advised that the exposition company wishes to turn back for melting and reminting 190,000 of the 250,000 gold souvenir dollars coined for the World's fair.

Capt. Clado, of the Baltic fleet, says Adm. Rojestvensky never intended to approach Port Arthur. His destination was Vladivostok.

Mrs. John Seager, wife of the private secretary to Chief Engineer Wallace of the Panama canal, died from yellow fever.

HELD A CONFERENCE

Emperor Nicholas and Members of the Council Met.

They Considered the International and External Situation in Russia—No Indication That Continuation of War Will Be Abandoned.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 9.—The conferences which Emperor Nicholas has been holding with members of the council of the empire, M. Witte and other ministers and advisors on the international and external situation, have not yet been concluded, but nothing has occurred which would indicate that the government is prepared to depart from its present program of continuing the war to the bitter end. Nevertheless, talk of peace was heard in many quarters, the foundation for it being ascribed to Foreign Minister Lamsdorf's alleged position in favor of such a course on the ground that aside from the humiliation to military prestige involved, it would only mean the relinquishment of Manchuria to which Russia already is formally pledged. There is no confirmation of this statement of Count Lamsdorf's position beyond the general knowledge that he always has belonged to the peace party.

It is probable that the peace talk gossip has been produced by the arrival of foreign papers, as it receives no encouragement in responsible quarters here.

THE CHADWICK TRIAL.

There Will Be No Delay So Far As the Defense Is Concerned.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 9.—Commenting upon the fact that he had been served with an order by the federal authorities "To produce certain diamonds and gems," Attorney J. F. Dawley, counsel for Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, said:

"I have not received so much as a pewter shoebuckle from either Mrs. Chadwick or her husband, Dr. Chadwick. The serving of such an order strikes me as being humorous. Mrs. Chadwick has certainly not turned any diamonds over to me."

Mr. Dawley stated further that there would be no delay in the trial of the Chadwick case, so far as the defense was concerned.

COLORADO GOVERNORSHIP.

Legislature Canvassed the Vote and Declared Adams Elected.

Denver, Col., Jan. 9.—Alva Adams was declared by the legislature to be the duly elected governor of Colorado. The returns showed Adams 123,078, Peabody 113,304; plurality for Adams 9,774.

The republican candidates to all the other state offices were declared elected. Under the terms of the agreement reached by the various factions of the legislature, no notice of contest can be filed by Gov. Peabody until after the inauguration of Mr. Adams, which is set for 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

It has not yet been definitely decided by Gov. Peabody whether or not he will make a contest.

Russian Prisoners.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The Japanese legation Sunday received the following from the foreign office at Tokio:

"Gen. Nogi on Sunday reports delivery of Russian prisoners under capitulation was completed on Saturday. The total of the prisoners were 878 officers and 23,491 men, whereof 441 officers and 229 orderlies gave parole so far. Gen. Smirnoff, Gen. Fock, Gen. Corbatovsky and Adm. Willmann preferred to be sent to Japan as prisoners, while Stoessel will leave Dalny for home on the 12th of January."

Disobeyed the Sunday Closing Law.

New York, Jan. 9.—Despite Saturday's action of the police in warning the saloonkeepers of the city that the Sunday closing law must be observed Sunday the Raines law hotels did business as usual throughout the day and saloons were also open.

Celebrated Fall of Port Arthur.

New York, Jan. 9.—The fall of Port Arthur was celebrated here at a mass meeting of Japanese residents of the city, held in Carnegie hall. The affair was intended to be solely for the Japanese residents, 500 of whom attended.

Miss Eva C. Booth.

Boston, Jan. 9.—Miss Eva C. Booth, the new commander of all the Salvation army forces in the United States, was given an enthusiastic welcome by two large audiences which she addressed at a theater.

Memorial Meeting Held.

New York, Jan. 9.—A memorial meeting in honor of the late Samuel M. Jones, who for several years was mayor of Toledo, O., was held here at Cooper Union. Nearly two thousand persons attended.

Dined With the President.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Gov. Higgins, of New York, and Nevada L. Stanahan, collector of the port of New York, dined with the president at the white house, the other guests being Gifford Pinchot and Commissioner of Corporations Garfield.

To Build New Big Liners.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 9.—The steamer Keemut, which arrived from Liverpool via Japan, brought news that the Toyo Kisen Kaisha has decided to build two 12,000 ton liners for the San Francisco and Yokohama route.

FROM FOREIGN SOURCES.

Single eyeglasses are prohibited in the German army.

Only one man in 700 pays an income tax in India, though the tax is levied on all incomes of $165 and upward.

Prof. William Smart, the political economist, says that if British wealth were divided equally each person would receive $195.48 a year, or $3.62 a week.

Speaking at Exeter, England, Rider Haggard said he had seen people herded together in England under conditions to which Kaffirs or wild Africans tribes would not submit.

An authentic Madonna of the great fifteenth century Venetian painter Giovanni Bellini, painted on wood, has just been discovered in the house of a family at Trieste, in Austria.

The amount of money advanced to Irish tenants for the purchase of their lands under the various acts of parliament passed since 1886 is, according to a parliamentary paper, $128,866,015.

A Russian officer, who with six others broke his parole and escaped from the interned cruiser Askold at Saigon, was reprimanded when he arrived at St. Petersburg for breaking his parole and then congratulated on behaving like a sailor. The seven officers have asked to be sent back to the far east.

The British government has decided to withdraw the British troops from Egypt. Only the native army will be left in possession and a new police force will be created. For a year the garrison will consist of a field battery, a mountain battery and two battalions of infantry. At present the army is 18,000 strong.

An agitation is going on in London for horse ambulances, for, incredible as it may seem, a person injured in the streets of London is joggled to the hospital in a two-wheeled hand barrow, drawn by one or two policemen. There are only three horse ambulances in the whole city, and they are owned by private parties, who charge for their use. There is no first aid system.

HUMOROUS CULLINGS.

"He said I was tall and willowy," remarked the girl who likes flattery. "Do you think I look like a willow tree?"

"No; you look like a chestnut," retorted the savage young man in the loud vest.

"Ah, good morning, Chesterfield," said the M. D. "How are you this morning?"

"I'm sorry to say," rejoined the polite Chesterfield, "that I'm feeling remarkably well this morning."

In the heart of the great pine forest we found the old man sitting by his cabin door.

"But it is so quiet here," we said, "it is a wonder you don't feel lonesome."

The old man dropped his corncob in his astonishment.

"Quiet, did you say? Why, boss, I hab a wife, a mule an a phonograph."

"A man who tells me how his wife wants me to cut his hair makes me tired," said the barber at the second chair, after the customer had departed. "I want a man to tell me how he wants his hair cut, not his impressions of his wife's views."

"It can't be helped," replied the boss barber. "Once when I went to a house to cut a man's hair he called his wife into the room to tell me how to do it."

The purchaser of the horse rushed back to the dealer in anything but a peaceful mood.

"Take back this beast," he demanded, at the same time brushing the mud from his hair.

"What is the matter?" said the surprised dealer. "Didn't I tell you this horse was not afraid of automobiles?"

"That's just the trouble. He wasn't afraid of them and almost every one we met ran into him."

Came In Handy.

Hoax—By the way, old man, how was that cigar I gave you yesterday?

Joax—Fine. My wife made catnip tea out of it for the baby.—Chicago News.

ALL DONE OUT.

Veteran Joshua Heller, of 706 South Walnut Street, Urbana, Ill., says: 'In the fall of 1899 after taking Doan's Kidney Pills I told the readers of this paper that they had relieved me of kidney trouble, disposed of a lame back with pain across my loins and beneath the shoulder blades. During the interval which has elapsed I have had occasion to resort to Doan's Kidney Pills when I noticed warnings of an attack. On each and every occasion the results obtained were just as satisfactory as when the pills were first brought to my notice. I just as emphatically endorse the preparation to-day as I did over two years ago.'

For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., proprietors.

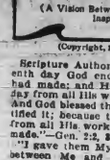
$1.00 A YEAR PAYS for the CHICAGO DAILY REVIEW, a Delightful Daily Newspaper for the American Home. All important news, market reports, fine departments for men, women and children. Prints nothing which parents cannot read to their children. Price, $1.00 a year; 75 cents for 6 months; 50 cents for 3 months. All subscriptions stopped when time is out. Subscribe to-day. Address CHICAGO REVIEW CO., 358 Coca Cola Building, Chicago, Ill.

BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP cures coughs and colds.

PATENTS 48-page Book free. Highest references. Best results. FITZGERALD & CO., Box E, Washington, D. C.

THE FIRST DAY OF REST

OUR SERMON STORY by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher



(A Vision Between the Lines of God's Inspired Word.)

(Copyright, 1904, by J. M. Edson.)

Scripture Authority:—"And on the seventh day God ended His work which He had made; and He rested on the seventh day from all His work which He had made. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it; because that in it He had rested from all His work which God created and made."—Gen. 2:2, 3.

"I gave them My Sabbaths, to be a sign between Me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that sanctify them."—Ezek. 20:12.

"The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath."—Mark 2:27.

NIGHT had settled down upon the earth. The gentle breezes, touching the fragrant flowers of the Garden as they passed, came laden to the bower home where the happy pair rested in quiet slumber. The whispering in the trees, the sweet music of the rippling waters before their doorway and the song of the night birds were Nature's orchestra pouring forth its soothing melody and bringing refreshing and peaceful repose. It was their first night on earth. But a few hours before, while the sun was kissing the fair earth with his golden beams of light and saying his last lingering good-night, Adam and his fair helpmeet had watched the Son and Holy Spirit and all the angelic hosts depart for the Realm of the Eternal and Almighty One. The consciousness of the Divine blessing resting upon them, bestowed as the Son of God turned to leave, brought unspeakable peace and joy to their souls. Long after the Heavenly visitors had disappeared they stood in reverent silence. Eve was the first to speak. Looking up into the eyes of her husband as she laid her hand in trustful, loving confidence upon his arm, she said:

"They have gone, and yet I can but feel that our Lord, the One who did speak such words of benediction and blessing upon us, is still present with us. Within my soul there abides a sweet assurance that, though we see Him not, still His eye is upon us and His sheltering care about us."

The face of the man glowed with a responsive light, as he earnestly exclaimed: "Tho hast but expressed the thoughts of my own heart, and how sweet it is to feel that He who has called us into being, and given us every good and needful thing, is not far away." And thus communing together over the Lord who filled their thoughts, they turned and, in the deepening twilight, slowly made their way over the flower-decked pathway to their bower home.

And while they slept God, indeed, did keep watch over them, as He has not ceased to do from that day to this, for He that keepeth us "will neither slumber nor sleep."

The return of the Son and the Spirit and the attendant angels was heralded by the glad burst of song of the angelic choir. Never did warrior returned from victorious conquest receive greater homage and praise than did the Son as He entered the great gates of pearl and passed up the streets of gold. The song of welcome of the waiting angels burst forth and mingled in full, rich harmony with the songs of praise of the attendant angels behind. Thus, while Heaven was ringing with the praises of the Son and the wonderful story of the creation, He reached the Palace of the Secret Presence. The Father stood waiting to welcome His well-beloved Son, and together they passed to the throne room where the seraphim, bowed in worship, chanted: "Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts: the whole world is full of His glory. Blessing and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and honor and power and might, be unto our God, forever and ever. Amen."

And while earth was clothed in darkness and man slept, Father, Son and Spirit conferred together over that which had been done.

"Father, Thy plans and purposes have been carried out, and all things which have been created are good, "thus spake the Son. "And We have created man in the image of Thy perfect purity and righteousness, and commissioned him in Thy name to have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the birds of the heavens, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth."

While the Son was making His report His head rested lovingly upon the bosom of His Father, and as He ceased speaking the Father laid His hand upon Him in fond, proud approval, and said:

"Thou hast done well and faithfully, my Son, and now that man may not too soon forget Me and Thee, and that they may have a perpetual reminder of their God and Creator, and may have opportunity of worshiping Him, it seemeth well that We should plan together how this may be brought to pass. What think You?"

"Ah, I think, even as Thou dost at this very moment, for We are at one always in thought and purpose. What more fitting and necessary than that the first day which man spends upon the earth which has been created for him and filled with every good and perfect gift should be blessed and sanctified to the worship and service of God. Thy creative work is complete; let man pause and consider that in Thee is all completeness. Let him rest in the midst of the things of time and contemplate Thee and the things of eternity. Let this day of rest be a sign between man and Thee, that he may know that Thou art the Lord that sanctified and blessed him." And the light which filled the Father's face and the pressure which He gave the hand that rested within His own told plainer than words that the Son had given expression to the Father's thought and will.

"We will, indeed, My beloved Son, sanctify and set apart for man this seventh day. It shall be the Sabbath of the Lord, his God, and shall be kept holy. And Thou shalt have the honor and the joy of taking to man this great and crowning gift," and as the Father ceased speaking, He bent and kissed the Son, who in eager obedience arose prepared to depart upon His sacred mission.

Thus the conference ended, and the seraphim before the throne again bowed low and chanted their adoration and praise of Father, Son and Holy Ghost. Without the Palace the waiting angels heard the song of the seraphim, and burst into loud hosannas of praise as the doors swung open and the Son and Spirit came forth. Ah, we cannot know the brightness and glory of that coming, we cannot realize the splendor of that scene, but some day when our feet shall tread the courts of Heaven, when our eyes shall behold its beauties, and our ears drink in the music of the angelic choirs, then we shall know.

The sun has set his signals in the eastern sky announcing the coming of another day. With the first gray glimmerings of light, the birds are astir, and their glad songs as they rise to greet the coming sun have filled the air and awakened to consciousness Adam and fair Eve. It is their first morning in Eden, freshness in the air, the stir of Nature all about, the first faint glimmerings of light dancing on the walls of their leafy bower, bring new thoughts and experiences to them. What charm has the early morning! Nature is ever new and fresh at that hour. Those who have gloried in numberless mornings, and have come to know Nature well in her varying moods and tenses, know full well how she never disappoints the one who seeks for some new wonder, some fresh experience, some rarer beauty. Though we have seen thousands upon thousands of early morning splendors, and heard the voices that burst forth in glad rejoicings at that time, still we know how Nature greets us with fresh surprises and brings us deeper joys each time as we awaken and go forth while yet the sun is busy behind the horizon splashing the eastern sky with his golden and crimson colorings. And with what charmed ear and fascinated eye must this happy pair have listened and looked as Nature first unfolded her rare and beautiful treasures before them.

"It was but yester night that we saw the sun disappearing just as the Lord and His Heavenly host were leaving us," exclaimed Eve, with new expectancy and hope in her voice, "and surely the coming of the sun again will mark the return to us of Him who is our Creator and Lord."

Hardly had she ceased speaking, and before her husband could frame the words to express the thoughts that were flooding his heart, when there burst upon their ears a new and glorious sound. It was not the songs of the birds; it was not the music of the rippling, splashing waters. It was the harmony of a multitude of voices lifted in praise of Him about Whom they had just been speaking and Who had been for us a conscious presence all through the night. Down the shafts of light which came from the gleaming sun floated the Heavenly host, and they came to rest in the Garden near the place where Adam and Eve were standing.

Reverently the man and his wife bowed themselves to the ground and listened while the angel choir finished their anthem of praise, recounting the wonders of the creative days and rising in volume and harmony until in one grand burst of melody the story of man's advent was told. In the impressive silence which followed, the hearts of the worshiping pair were prepared for the message of the Son, who now advanced and touched them on their bowed heads and bade them rise.

"Thou hast just heard the story of creation as rehearsed by the angels in their song. Six days did the Father and the Son and Holy Spirit labor in bringing these wonders to pass, and this the seventh day—the first which you have seen begin in all its beauty—it is the purpose and will of the Father to bless and sanctify. Every seventh day hereafter you shall observe as a holy day. It shall be a sign between you and God, that you may know that I am the Lord that made and sanctified you. This day is set apart for your physical and spiritual good. On this seventh day the Lord has rested from His creative work, and so shall you rest each seventh day after your busy week of toil. It is fitting that this beginning of days to you should be set apart for the worship and service of your God."

Thus began a day of sweet and restful fellowship with God and His angels. The man and his wife learned their first songs of praise from voices that had been trained in Heaven. All through the heat of the day they rested in quiet seclusion, intent in their hearts on the thought of God and trying to understand all the wonderful things that had come to pass, and in the cool of the evening hour while the sun was dropping to rest they walked through the lovely Garden paths with the Lord as their Companion and Teacher. And as the Son and the Spirit withdrew, followed by the angels, the latter overheard Eve exclaim: "What a blessed day this has been." And Adam's response was: "Yes, dear, this has been a beginning of days, indeed, with us. How good God is." And the day of rest continues with us still, and we may have the Son with us, too! We may hear Heavenly harmonies in our souls, and may welcome at the beginning of the day God's messengers. It is the day God has given to us to be a sign between us and Him that we may know the Lord, and be sanctified by Him. Will we make it such?

FIGURES OF THE ELECTION

Roosevelt's Victory Due More to Democratic Slump Than to Republican Gains.

It has of course been known for some time that the recent republican victory was due rather to democratic weakness than to republican strength. But the complete returns, which are now published, make this very clear, says the Indianapolis News (Ind.). In the first place the total vote this year is 400,000 less than it was four years ago, which of course means that a great many people refused or neglected to vote. The comparatively slight gain made by the republicans over 1900—400,822—proves that Mr. Roosevelt after all got comparatively few new democratic votes. On the other hand Judge Parker received 1,277,772 fewer votes than were cast for Mr. Bryan in 1900. Yet in one sense the basis of comparison is not fair. For in both 1896 and 1900 McKinley got many democratic votes, and as Roosevelt gained over both those years, it must be concluded that he retained all that was gained by his predecessor. McKinley in 1896 gained 2,000,000 votes over Harrison in 1892. Naturally therefore his gain in 1900 was slight, being only about 100,000. From this point of view Mr. Roosevelt's gain of 400,000 is significant, being made over the very great republican votes of 1896 and 1900, when the high-water mark was reached.

At the same time the noteworthy fact is the tremendous democratic slump of more than a million votes. It is principally to this that Mr. Roosevelt's great majority of 1,746,768 over all, and his plurality of 2,547,578 over Judge Parker, are due. The comfort for the democrats in these figures is the assurance that there are plenty of democrats in the country. The problem is to get them together in support of some well-defined and coherent policy. When this is done—and, of course, it will not be easy to do—the party will show at least a respectable strength. Just now it looks as though the republicans are absolute masters of the situation. They won a most remarkable victory, and the returns prove conclusively that they had the confidence of the people. Mr. Roosevelt was a strong candidate, and his party made a good fight. Judge Parker was a weak candidate, and the democrats made practically no fight.

But, though the democratic party was weak in the last campaign, democratic principles will survive. There are enough democrats left to make things interesting for their adversaries in future elections. Even the victors are being influenced by democratic principles, as is proved by the republican demand for tariff reform, and by the president's avowed purpose to accomplish something in the way of controlling corporations. There is thus not the slightest probability that the democratic party will go out of business. What its future will be depends on the wisdom and good sense, not only of the leaders, but of the rank and file. Even under the present depressing conditions democrats can accomplish much good by fair and intelligent criticism of the measures proposed by the majority, and by honest and manly cooperation with it in the enactment of wise legislation.

OPINIONS AND POINTERS.

—Congress ought to have a committee appointed to invent some new aliases for raids on the treasury.—Washington Post.

—An administration that with failing revenues puts off tariff revision and takes up ship subsidies ought to go one of Prof. Rieber's logic machines right away.—N. Y. Herald.

—Mr. Shaw would have the drawback provisions of our tariff law simplified. They cannot be simplified much, for the drawback is at best a cumbersome affair. The real remedy for present conditions is a lower rate of duty and free raw materials.—Indianapolis News.

—The only tariff revisionists who will accomplish anything are the protected industries, who will frame new schedules giving them a little more "protection."—The Commoner.

—Postmaster General Wynne speaks of the adverse balance in the department's accounts of nearly $9,000,000 as a "so-called" deficit. If it wasn't called a deficit, could he figure out of it something to the credit of the republican party? It is the greatest deficit in the history of the post office, and the attempt to belittle it does not make the figures any smaller.—Florida Times-Union.

WAS PURELY ACCIDENTAL.

The Windfall in Missouri Attributable Only to Democratic Default.

An interesting and fairly typical explanation of Missouri's present political status is given by Representative Cochran, who declares that many of the voters, being unable to perceive sufficient difference between the republican and democratic platforms this year, became indifferent and remained away from the polls.

Republicans will find small satisfaction, but democrats are afforded ample encouragement, says the St. Louis Republic, in considering Mr. Cochran's statement that since Missouri last gave a republican electoral vote, more than 30 years ago, the democrats have carried nearly every state in the union. He points out that they have elected governors in Massachusetts five times and in Pennsylvania twice. Yet it is difficult to regard either of these rock-ribbed republican states as even doubtful. "Two years hence," says Mr. Cochran, "Missouri will go democratic by 40,000."

Missouri is quite as likely to return to its normal democratic majority as were Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, after several periods of democratic control, to resume their republicanism; very much more likely, in fact, since those states were not merely permitted to go by default, but were turned by political changes in the voters, whereas 30,000 stay-at-homes were responsible in Missouri. Missouri's democrats are democrats still few of them voted the republican ticket.

A democratic default has resulted in a republican windfall in Missouri; nothing more. The state is not conquered and possessed. Republicans should make the most of the luck while it lasts. Democrats will exert their strength at the first test to throw off the condition of evil and return to their unfettered mastery of the situation.

COST OF THE PHILIPPINES.

Government by the United States Greater Than Other National Dependencies.

With an export trade of $32,000,000 the Philippine islands are called upon to pay $12,500,000 in 1903 for the expenses of insular government; in other words, for every $100 worth of produce exported from the islands the general government costs $39. If to this we add municipal and provincial government, says Alleyne Ireland, in Atlantic, the ratio of expenditure on government account to value of exports is raised to 46 per cent.

Comparing the cost of government, on the basis adopted above, with that of five British dependencies in various parts of the tropics—Ceylon, Barbadoes, British Guiana, Trinidad and the federated Malay states—the average is 27 per cent., as against 46 per cent. in the Philippines.

But this does not close the comparison. In the British dependencies every charge connected with the government, whether of a civil or a military nature, is paid by the local government; in the Philippines all military expenses are paid by the United States; and the islands do not even pay for their own police work, as a body supplementary to the Philippine constabulary, are on the army pay-roll.

—For about two decades Tom Platt has allowed all the other republicans in New York state no representation in the affairs of the republican party; yet he is the man who wants to cut down representation in the south.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

—Now the election is over the thing that worries republican party managers is to make their party press "stand pat" on the tariff question. If only democrats were robbed by the Dingley tariff it wouldn't be so difficult. But even a republican will grumble when it pinches him.—Washington Post.

—We would respectfully suggest that some one would introduce a bill to cut down the representation of the trusts both in the senate and in the national house of representatives. It is alleged that in some instances a single corporation is represented by as many as a half dozen congressmen and senators.—Charleston News.

—The prosperity so lavishly ladled out in promises by republican spellbinders already is in evidence. A "combine" of Wisconsin physicians announces an advance of 50 cents for professional calls beginning January 1.—Los Angeles Herald.

FROM ALL OVER THE STATE

THE MARCUM TRIAL.

Attorney Byrd Made the First Speech For the Plaintiff.

Winchester, Ky., Jan. 4.—Speaking in the Marcum case was resumed on Tuesday morning by A. F. Byrd, who is making the first speech for the plaintiff. His arraignment of the defendants is terrific and he declares that the desperate efforts of the defense to break down the testimony of Capt. Ewen and Henry Noble is not so much to avoid paying damages as in this case to avoid criminal prosecution for the murder of Marcum, if this testimony is not discredited.

Winchester, Ky., Jan. 5.—In the Marcum trial Wednesday afternoon Mr. Stevenson spoke for the defense. He eulogized the defendants who by industry, frugality and good judgment had raised themselves from poverty and had become leaders in their community. He compared them with the disreputable witnesses by which the plaintiffs were endeavoring to fasten crime upon them and declared it to be an outrage. The interest remains unabated and each speaker is greeted with crowded houses.

Winchester, Ky., Jan. 6.—The fourth day of speaking and the fourth speech in the Marcum-Hargis damage suit was made Thursday. B. R. Jouett, for plaintiff, began Thursday morning and made a telling argument. He attacked the defendants for the interest shown in Curt Jett and Tom White, the murderers of Marcum, before the killing, and inferred from the actions of defendants that a conspiracy to kill Marcum existed. He berated defendants for bringing the name of Gov. Beckham into it and for using their alleged influence with him as a promised recompense to the murderers of Marcum. He traced the connection of Tom White with defendants until after the killing and drew therefrom a perfect understanding on the part of defendants.

BOOK COMPANY PENALIZED.

Sold School Books Cheaper in Alabama Than in Kentucky.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Jan. 7.—In the circuit court of Lawrenceburg, in the case of Commonwealth and W. L. Chowning, county school superintendent, against Maynard, Merrill & Co., school book publishers of New York, the jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiffs for the sum of $10,000, the penalty named in the bond given the state board of education. The breach of th bond proved was the selling of "Reed's Word Lesson" in Anderson county for 25 cents a copy, while the same book was sold in Alabama for 20 cents a copy. The case will be appealed at once.

PENNIES FOR DIMES.

A Young Man Arrested on the Charge of Counterfeiting.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 7.—United States District Attorney Hill Friday received information from Caneyville, Ky., of the arrest there of Logan Gray, a young white man, on the charge of counterfeiting. The specific offense is that he plated a number of pennies with a preparation of quicksilver and passed them for dimes. He was arraigned before Commissioner H. W. Story and held to answer to the federal grand jury at Owensboro at the spring term of the United States court.

Jury Failed to Agree.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 5.—The jury in the case of Lewis Mitchell, the Negro who, it is charged, attempted to poison the family of Judge James Mulligan, failed to agree and was Wednesday morning discharged and a new jury will be impaneled. The jury stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

To Send Missionary to India.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 7.—By a unanimous vote the student body of Kentucky university decided to send Miss Stella Lewis as missionary to India at the expense of the students. For this purpose a fund was created to defray the expenses of travel and the maintenance of the missionary.

Killed While "Swapping."

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 5.—While examining a pistol with the intention of "swapping" it Willis Roberts, 13, shot and fatally wounded Walter Dunn, 18, in Frank Lawrence's second-hand store. Roberts was arrested, but, after an investigation, was released.

Charged With Larceny.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 5.—A handsome solitaire diamond ring, valued at $350, was found and returned to its owner, Mrs. Moore, wife of Thomas C. Moore, the well-known turfman. Florence Kimbrough and Wash Stepp are under arrest charged with grand larceny.

Powell Gets Certificate.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 7.—The contest of C. E. Sugg against L. W. Powell for the nomination for county clerk in the recent democratic primary election, was heard by the entire committee and the certificates of nomination awarded to L. W. Powell.

He Was Mistaken for a Turkey.

Harlan, Ky., Jan. 7.—Henry Farley accidentally shot and fatally wounded Henry Gilbert. Farley was turkey hunting in Black mountains, and when he saw Gilbert coming through an ivy patch mistook him for turkey.

THE TOBACCO GROWERS.

They Fix Sixty-Five Cents Per Hundred as the Prizing Rate.

Guthrie, Ky., Jan. 6.—Fifteen counties of this, the dark tobacco district, were represented at a conference of planters held in this city to discuss plans for the advancement of the association. It was decided to refer the acreage proposition back to the various counties for instructions and decision. It was ordered by the executive committee that the rate per hundred for prizing should be 65 cents. The planters are determined upon making the present movement a success.

[illegible] Garner, of Springfield, [illegible] addressed a mass meeting here Thursday, taking evidence for use in pushing the fight against the combine.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

Gov. Beckham Issues a Proclamation Convening the General Assembly.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 5.—Gov. Beckham Wednesday issued a proclamation convening the general assembly in extraordinary session on Thursday, January 12th, next, for the purpose of authorizing and providing another site in the city of Frankfort, or contiguous thereto, for the proposed million dollar capitol building. Under the proclamation no other matters can be considered at the extra session. Gov. Beckham thinks the present location is inadequate for the new structure.

GIRL ASSAULTED.

Officers With Bloodhounds Have Taken Up the Trail of the Negro.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 6.—Miss Alice Brightwell, a protege in the family of John T. Bate, a bank teller, was assaulted by a Negro in Mr. Bate's residence at Crescent Hill, a high class residence section of Louisville. The young woman was badly injured. A detail of police was at once sent to the scene and four officers with bloodhounds have taken up the trail of the Negro.

The Crescent Hill district is in a state of high excitement.

ED TAYLOR CONVICTED.

Found Guilty of Murder and Death Fixed as the Penalty.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 7.—After being out an hour the jury in the case of Ed Taylor returned a verdict of guilty and fixing death as the penalty. He is one of the three Negroes who Sunday, November 29, killed Wm. Moore in a raid on "White Dogs," firing a fusilade into a company of white men in a saloon. Militia guarded the prisoners for several weeks. Three mobs to lynch the Negroes were organized but were overawed by strength of militia and police.

After the Collectorship.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 7.—The fight for the collectorship in this district has narrowed down to Sam J. Roberts, the present incumbent, and Stanley Milward, a local republican leader. Mr. Roberts is after the indorsements of the chairman of the several county republican organizations.

William Britton's Trial.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 6.—The trial of William Britton, charged, with Curtis Jett, with the murder of Jim Cockrill in Jackson in April, 1902, was called in the circuit here Thursday morning and set for January 11. A number of witnesses from Jackson were here.

Two Killed in An Explosion.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Jan. 6.—The boiler at the sawmill of James Bailey, near Elizabethtown, blew up, killing two men and wounding several others. The explosion blew the boiler and engine into the woods. James Bailey and James Melton were killed instantly.

Boy Killed While Hunting.

Campbellsville, Ky., Jan. 7.—A 14 year-old boy named Brady, who lived near Toledo, Ia., shot and killed himself while out hunting. He was the grandson of Samuel Woodrun, a prominent farmer of this county.

Strike at Owensboro.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 7.—Thirty buggy-top makers went out on a strike for a 10 per cent. increase of wages at F. A. Ames & Co.'s carriage plant. The cushionmakers also went out on a sympathetic strike.

Miss Marcum to Wed.

Winchester, Ky., Jan. 7.—Miss Nellie Marcum, the eldest daughter of the late Attorney Marcum, will be married here January 25 to James Flanery, of Fargo, N. D. She is 19 years of age.

To Increase Teachers' Salaries.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 7.—At a meeting of the Lexington school board every white teacher in the city schools was dismissed. This was done in order to increase the salaries paid teachers and could not be done while the teachers were employed.

An Octogenarian Dead.

Shelbyville, Ky., Jan. 7.—Jesse A. Glass, sr., a prominent citizen of this place, died at his home of the infirmities of old age. He was born in Scott county, Ky., 87 years ago, and came to this place about 60 years ago.

RABBIT HASH

[In 1975]

J. J. Stephens, jr., is quite sick at this writing.

The census of 1970 gives our town 750 inhabitants.

Glad to state that our beautiful city is gradually growing.

Died, Jan. 6th, 1975, Mr. John M. Hodges, aged 94 years, 4 months and 16 days.

Joseph H. Riddell, son of the late C. G. Riddell, has one of the finest stores in the county.

Preaching at the Baptist church on the hill, next Sunday, by the Rev. Frank Hodges, jr.

We are sorry to hear of the serious illness of the venerable James B. Tolin, of Petersburg.

The citizens of this place are trying to have the toll reduced on the pike from here to Big Bone.

Johnny, grandson of B. R. Stephens, came very near being killed by the electric cars, last Sunday.

William Clore, son of the late Bart Clore, is building a fine residence on Hillside Avenue. He inherited his father's immense wealth, and is adding to it every year.

Married, Jan. 10th, 1975, by the Rev. Angus Walton, Mr. Benjamin Stephens, jr., to Miss Wealthy Scott, daughter of the late Frank Scott. Many thanks for the nice cake.

Rising Sun will take a vote on the proposition of giving the right-of-way to the D. O. I. & K. R. R. We hope Rising Sun will get a Railroad, as the citizens have been trying for almost a century.

Messrs. Ben and Z. G. Wilson, sons of the late H. J. Wilson, have a steam ferry boat. They say their ferry is the best on the Ohio river. The boys are very accommodating gentlemen. Success to them.

At the old Settlers' meeting, the other day, Mrs. Adah Wilson received a pair of handsome gold glasses for being the oldest lady present, and B. R. Stephens, a gold headed cane as the oldest man.

John S. Riddell, candidate for County Attorney, was calling on the voters at this place, last Saturday. Mr. Riddell is the son of the late N. E. Riddell, who was county attorney for two terms back in the beginning of this century.

B. W. Adams, candidate for County clerk, was in town interviewing the festive voters, last Wednesday. While some object to Mr. Adams on account of his age, a great many are for him. He will carry this precinct by 150 majority.

JOHN CALVERT, JR.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., Dec. 29th, 1904.

Mr. W. L. Riddell,
Burlington, Ky.

Dear Sir:—In looking over some old papers that came to the hands of my father, who administered on the estate of Col. Cave Johnson (his grandfather), who died in 1850, I find a plat of the old city of Bullittsburg, laid off on the land now owned by Charles Balsly, just opposite the tomb of President Wm. H. Harrison, on the Ohio river and near the Northwest corner of Cave Johnson's farm, where he died. farm now owned by Joseph Chambers, a grandson. I have often heard father speak of the old city being laid off there, near the first old Bullittsburg church, but never had the pleasure of seeing either. I don't know who surveyed off the city, but the records will show that Col. Cave Johnson was the first clerk of the county and also a surveyor, &c. I send this old paper to you as a curiosity, you being so well acquainted with so many of the members of the present old Bullittsburg church, which I believe is said to be the oldest church in the county. W. O KIRTLEY."

The severe and protracted drought prevailing in October and November continued during the greater part of December in the Ohio Valley, but was generally relieved by the snow during the last week. The greater part of the winter wheat belt was protected by snow covering most of the month, but was exposed during the cold period of December 27 to 29. The unfavorable effects of the drought noted at the close of the previous month are now less marked, a very general improvement being indicated especially in portions of the Ohio Valley. A decided improvement in the condition of winter wheat is generally reported through out the Middle Atlantic States. In Central and Northern California the condition of winter wheat is excellent, and, while the wheat regions of Oregon and Washington have suffered from lack of moisture the outlook for wheat in portions of these States is encouraging.

A Very Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor, from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by All Druggists.

QUARTERLY REPORT

Of the Union Deposit Bank at the close of business on Dec. 31st, 1904:

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts		$24,024 63
Overdrafts unsecured		63 19
Due from National Banks		7,775 98
Banking House and Lot		1,815 36
Mortgages		3,885 00
Specie	$ 135 57
Currency	1,408 14	1,543 71
Furniture and Fixtures		1,696 75
Current Exp. Last Quarter		288 18
		$40,989 76

LIABILITIES

Capital Stock paid in, in cash	$20,000 00
Surplus Fund	370 57
Undivided Profits	713 17
Due Depositors	19,906 02
	$40,989 76

Supplementary.

Highest amount of indebtedness of any stockholder, person, company or firm (including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof) directly or indirectly, if such indebtedness exceeds 20 per cent of capital stock actually paid in, and actual amount of surplus of the bank. 0

How is indebtedness in above item secured? 0

Highest amount of indebtedness of any director or officer, if amount of such indebtedness exceeds 10 per cent of paid up capital stock of bank. 0

How is same secured? 0

Does amount of indebtedness of any person, company or firm including in the liability of the company or firm the liability of the individual members thereof, exceed 30 per cent of paid up capital and actual surplus? 0

If so state amount of such indebtedness. 0

Amount of last dividend. 0

Were all expenses, losses, interest and taxes deducted therefrom before declaring dividend, and was not less than 10 per cent of net profits of the bank for the period covered by the dividend carried to the surplus fund before said dividend was declared. 0

State of Ky. County of Boone, ss.

I, J. L. Frazier, cashier of Union Deposit Bank, a bank located a doing business in the town of Union in said county, being duly sworn, says the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said bank, at the close of business on the 31st day of Dec., 1904, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31st day of Dec., 1904, as the day on which such report shall be made.

J. L. Frazier, Cashier.
J. W. Kennedy, Director.
M. J. Crouch, Director.
Ezra A. Blankenbeker, Director.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by J. L. Frazier, cashier, the 8d day Jan. 1905 H. Bannister,
Notary Public Boone County, Ky.
My commission expires Jan. 18, 1908.

PUBLIC SALE!

I will sell publicly to the highest bidder at the residence of the late Henry Ross, on the Union and Mt. Zion, road, on Tuesday, Jan. 17th, 1904,

The following property:

Two No. 1 farm Mares, 4-yr. old Horse, 6 Milch Cows—one with calf by her side; Heifer, Jersey Bull, 7 Hogs, Corn in the crib, 2 stacks Hay, Road Wagon, Box-bed, Haybed, two Mowing Machines—1 new; good Harness, Plows, Harrows, Cultivator, Hayrake, Corndrill, good Sled, and other Farming Implements; also Household and Kitchen Furniture such as Beds and Bedding, &c.

TERMS—Sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of 9 months, without interest, will be given, purchasers to give notes with good security, negotiable and payable in the Florence Deposit Bank at Florence, Ky., before removing property.

MALINDA ROSS, Admrx.
Sale begins at 10 a. m.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale to the highest bidder, at my residence near Gunpowder, Boone county, Ky., on Monday, Jan. 30th, 1905,

The following property:

2 Horses, 2 milch Cows, 1 yearling Heifer, 26 Sheep, 4 Sows—been bred; some Chickens, Road Wagon, 2 Spring Wagons, Mowing Machine, Hayrake, Plows, Harrows, Scalding-box, set double Wagon Harness, 2 Sleds, Corn, Hay and Fodder, about 15 bu. Potatoes, Household and Kitchen Furniture, &c.

TERMS—Sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of 10 months, without interest, will be given, purchasers to give notes with good security, negotiable and payable in the Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky., before removing property. H. O. ROUSE.

Sale to begin 1 o'clock p. m.

A press dispatch says: The best sale of new tobacco made in Montgomery county in years was made when R. C. Gatewood sold to J. N. Hisle, for the Continental, about 20,000 pounds at thirteen and a half cents. Hisle also bought 10,000 pounds at ten cents. This is the Continental's first purchase in that county.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,

GRASS SEEDS, FLOUR AND SALT.

We have it, you want it, come and get our choice Hay, Timothy, Clover, and Straw by

The Bale or Ton.

CORN by the car load or bushel—shelled or ear;

OATS, the best, in any quantity;

MILL FEED at lowest price for good quality of feed;

SALT that will not harden in the barrel;

GRASS SEEDS including Timothy, Clover and Blue Grass

—THAT WILL GROW.—

We are making a specialty of Good [illegible] Seeds and have a nice lot of Fancy Cleaned Hand-Stripped Seed that has

Been Tested and it Grows.

OUR FLOUR CAN'T BE BEAT!

It is made from the best wheat that can be had, and it makes good bread; Try a Barrel and if you don't like it bring it back and get your money back.

WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

We want your trade, give us a trial and be convinced that you

.....Want Our Goods.....

R B. HUEY & CO.,

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WHAT IS HOME

WITHOUT AN UP-TO-DATE

IRON FENCE?

—MAKES HOME ATTRACTIVE.—

Lasts a Lifetime. Low Prices-Surprising.

For Best Prices Call or Write to

HENRY QUICK, Hebron, Ky.,

—SPECIAL AGENT FOR—

The Stewart Iron Works Company,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

WILSTAR,

Record 2171/2.

Will make the season of 1905 at McHehry's livery stable in Rising Sun Indiana. Persons booking mares before the first of April will save $5. After that time the terms will be $30 to insure a living colt.

SCRANTON BROS., Owners,
apr1 Rising Sun, Ind.

Just a Few of the many bargains to be found at CLARK'S the Jeweler.

7 Jewel, 18s, Elgin or Waltham movement in Silverine case..... $ 6.25

7 Jewel, 18s Elgin or Waltham movement, o. f. gold filled case..... $ 8.25

7 Jewel, Ladies' 0s, Elgin or Waltham movement, in 10 year filled case..... $ 8.25

17 Jewel, 18s, Elgin or Waltham movement, in 25-year filled case 14k..... $14.25

17 Jewel, 18s, Elgin movement, in 20-yr filled case. $12.25

These prices are for open face watches, hunting cases are a little higher.

8 Day Alarm Clock, wood. $3 up
1 Day Alarm Clock,..... $1 up
8 Day Alarm Clocks..... $5.75 up

All timepieces sold by me are guaranteed for one year. Compare these with prices of other jewelers and you will find I can save you from 15 to 30 per cent.

R. W. CLARK

JEWELER.

Burlington,...Kentucky.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Roberts, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

C. C. ROBERTS, Admr.

Administratrix Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Edward S. Underhill, decd., must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

JERRY UNDERHILL, Admx.

When Winter Makes You Feel the Need of a

HORSE BLANKET or Lap-Robe

Call at Jackson's

Harness Shop

—AND SEE HIS—

Hoese Blankets from 75c up

Plush Robes from $1.50 up

1½ in. Leather Halter at 65c

And all kinds of harness at the same rate.

P. E. JACKSON,

Liedertafel Building,

Lawrenceburg, - Indiana.

For the Best Flour, Try

OLD KENTUCKY

BLENDED PATENT.

—GUARANTEED.—

For Something Good, Try

VIRGINIA OAK

WINTER PATENT.

—WARRANTED.—

Clifford E. Nadaud,

515 Chamber of Commerce,
CINCINNATI, O.
Room 10 Boone Block,
COVINGTON, KY.

FOR SALE

Good Farm of 200 Acres,

Three miles north of Guilford, Ind., fine tobacco land; can be sold in parts. Six room brick residence, barn 40x60. Price reasonable.

WARREN TEBBS,
Lawrenceburg, Ind.

There are 2,835 licensed automobiles in the State of New York.

What More Could You Possibly desire in Clothes

Than to have them made from thoroughly tested fashionable fabrics—have them tailored in the best possible manner—have them fit satisfactorily, and have them make you appear a thoroughly dressed man? that's the sort that you get from

PIPER & WALTON,

Merchant Tailors

142 E. Fourth St.,

Cincinnati, - - Ohio.

Rooms 2 and 3.

Our Fall & Winter Goods are now ready for inspection. Call and examine stock. In attendance at Burlington County Court days with samples.

"Always Reliable."

W. N. HIND & CO.

Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,

213 W. 5th St., Cincinnati.

Rogers Bros. General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.

Coal Kept in the Yard.

Country Produce taken in Trade.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST, - Florence, Ky.

Office at Burlington Every Monday. "at Latonia, Ky. Thursday-Friday the remainder of the time at Florence.

Remember I am a Painless Dentist.

PRICES REASONABLE.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Extracting Teeth is only fun with my method.

Dr. J. L. Adams, DENTIST,

208 F. & T. Bank Building,

COVINGTON, - KY.

—will be in office—

AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.
AT UNION 1st MONDAY in each month.

Farm for Sale.

145 acres near Wooper creek in Boone county, Ky., now the property of Enoch Barrett, of Lawrenceburg, Ind. This farm has a large tobacco barn, large stable, two story frame house of 8 rooms, good cistern and well at house; large apple orchard and all other fruits. All this property is in first-class condition. For further information apply to B. B. Grant, who is now on the place, or to D. M. Snyder, Burlington, Ky.

DR. FENNER'S

KIDNEY and Backache CURE

All diseases of Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs. Also Rheumatism, Backache, Heart Disease, Gravel, Dropsy, Female Troubles.

Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write Dr. Fenner. He has spent a life time curing just such cases as yours. All consultations Free.

I had severe case of kidney disease and rheumatism, discharging bloody matter, suffered intense pain. My wife was seriously affected with female troubles. Dr. Fenner's three sterling remedies, HANDRUM, Backache sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Druggists, 50c., $1. Ask for Cook Book—Free.

ST. VITUS' DANCE Sure Cure. Circular. Dr. J. D. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

For sale by Aylor & Hafer, Hebron

Take the Recorder.

G. G. Hughes, ATTORNEY AT LAW,

BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Burlington, Ky.

Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Burlington, Ky.

Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D Rouse's Store.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.

Clore, Dickerson & Clayton, ATTORNEYS-at-LAW

Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Corner 4th & Vine, Room, Main 2029. Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

D. E. Castleman, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Burlington, Ky.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

W. E. VEST, Real Estate Agent.

Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK

(Incorporated 1886.)

CAPITAL,..... ....$50,000
Surplus and undivided profits 30,000

Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK

INCORPORATED 1893.)

ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY

Capital Stock paid in..... .....$50,000
Surplus,.. ..... $3,000

Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire

INSURANCE COMPANY,

OF BOONE COUNTY,

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its RATES are LOWER Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co. HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE in keeping their property insured.

Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.

Edgar Cropper, Pres., Idlewild, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, Ky.
F. A. Uts, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Scudder, Secy., Florence, Ky.
R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
W. M Rogers, Agent, Walton, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, Ky.
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

FARM FOR SALE.

The A. P. Collins Farm Near Richwood, Ky.

Fine blue grass farm in Boone county, Ky., containing about 105 acres; good 6 room house and porches, barn, all kinds of out buildings, good fencing, well watered with springs, wells, cistern and pond. A private avenue runs to the Lexington pike. The house is about 6 minutes walk to Richwood Station C. N & T. P. R. R. Commuter rates to the city. 72c a trip with four trains daily. Telegraph, telephone, express and post-office—four daily mails.

Also, the [illegible] O. Rouse farm on the Union and Florence pike; good house of 7 rooms and all necessary outbuildings; well watered and land mostly in grass. Apply to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

C. L. GRIFFITH,

DEALER IN

REAL ESTATE and Negotiable Notes,

WALTON, KY.

If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.

EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXX. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1905. NO. 14.

County Correspondence.

HATHAWAY.

Jan. 16.—Born on the 9th inst. to Cland Ryle and wife, a son.

Cage Stephens of Woolper, visited W. L. Stephens and family last week.

John Horton has rented and moved to the farm of D. M. Ryle on Gunpowder.

O. B. Uts, of Long Branch, was here last Thursday and spent the day with R. R. Houston and family.

Ransom Ryle has rented of Joseph Weaver and will move to his place on Long Branch, about [illegible].

J. C. White and family, spent last Monday with O. B. Mason and family, and Monday night at G. L. Smith's.

The Hathaway and Waterloo telephone line has put in new batteries, which added very much to the service.

Your writer made a business trip to Rabbit Hash, last Friday, and took dinner with this friend, Dr. Y. Frank Hopkins.

Mrs. Bettie Aylor, of Lawrenceburg, and Miss Lula Ryle, of Waterloo, spent a couple of days the latter part of last week visiting relatives on Gunpowder.

J. C. White, of this place, is still an authorized agent for the Recorder, which should be in every home in Boone county. It will afford him great pleasure to receive and receipt for all subscriptions and renewals. Come thick and fast.

ooo

WATERLOO.

Jan. 14.—Gus Moore, of Ludlow, is spending a few days at J. S. Clore's.

Roe Clore has bought some 50 cent corn of Samuel McConnell, of East Bend.

William Clore and wife and two daughters spent Sunday with Plum Gulley and family.

Hogan Wingate, of near Petersburg, moved to Mrs. Georgia Clore's farm near here last week.

Walter Hagedorf, of East Bend, was calling on his best girl in this neighborhood last Sunday evening.

Ask Willie Sechell and Geo. Smith about that coon tree they cut on Lewis Clore's farm and the coons they did not get.

Lewis Merrick and wife, of near here, spent Sunday with his sister, Bertha, of Rabbit Hash, who is very low with pneumonia.

On account of the icy condition of the roads Wednesday, Hubert Conner abandoned his trip with his huckster wagon to these parts until Thursday.

The following are those who spent last Tuesday with E. K. Aylor and wife of near McVille: Misses Gracie Clore, Alberta Kyle, and Ben Stephens, Clarence Ryle, and Hubert and Binford Clore. The afternoon was spent in playing 5inch and enchre.

ooo

BUFFALO.

Jan. 14.—Mrs. J. W. Aylor spent Thursday with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willis.

Robert Moore had a wood sawing last Thursday.

Mrs. J. S. Mason's health is very much improved.

Joseph Hney is the champion flinch player in Buffalo.

Mrs. S. H. Marshall spent last Friday with Mrs. Susie Uts.

John Feldhaus has moved to the house vacated by Tom Bradford.

J. Q. Elstun and family attended church at the Springs, last Sunday.

Mrs. Ella Uts and Mrs. Mary Allen spent Thursday with Mrs. A. J. Uts.

Mrs. Mary Aylor was visiting her old friends in Buffalo a few days since.

John Moore went to the hospital last Tuesday and was operated on last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Feldhaus spent last Friday with relatives in Erlanger.

J. L. Hney and nephew, Jimmie Huey, left last Wednesday for the sunny South.

R. Feldhaus is nursing a badly bruised hip, caused by falling out of a tobacco barn.

Clark Rouse has a very bad case of Southern fever. He is thinking of selling out and joining the rest of the Boone boys in the South.

Miss Jessie Utz met with quite an accident last Friday. She run a hayfork through her ankle which is giving her a great deal of trouble.

Word reached here last night that the operation had been preformed on John Moore and that he stood it well. It is hoped he will soon be with his family again. They have the sympathy of the entire community.

What has become of Old Reliable? When is he going to take another trip through these hills? His travels were very interesting to some of the readers, who hope he will soon write again. The only fault of the piece it was not long enough.

ooo

PLATTSBURG.

Jan. 15.—Chas. Wilson will work for J. J. Lillard this year.

Miss Genia Voshall has gone to the city to spend several days.

Owen Beemon has bought W. H. Sebree's farm for $800 cash.

Our people were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. James Rogers.

Woodie Sullivan sold to William Huey a good work mare for $95.

Chas. Sebree's youngest child was quite sick for several days last week.

James Jarrell sold his corn to Claborn Campbell at 55 cents a bushel.

James Gaines spent last week with his brother V. W. Gaines, in Ludlow.

Woodford Sullivan was the first in this neighborhood to finish stripping tobacco.

James Gaines sold a good young horse to John Becker, of Indiana, last week, for $125.

William Sebree will leave shortly after his sale on the 24th for Hot Springs, Arkansas.

FLICKERTOWN.

No ice harvested yet.

George White was on the sick list last week.

Cage Stephens made a business trip to Hathaway last week.

Paris Akins was at home last week, not being able to teach school.

James Minor sold his corn to Waller Campbell, at 55 cents per bushel.

Will Smith, the huckster, made his regular trip in his sleigh last week.

Charles Wilson and family are visiting James White and family a few days since.

James Gaines was visiting in the Burlington neighborhood several days last week.

John Deck has sold his Ozier willows to the Mauer firm at Belleview, to make baskets.

Miss Ann Robinson, of Rising Sun, was visiting her sister, Mrs. Andy Parsons, Saturday and Sunday.

Wm. Sebree has sold his farm to Owen Beemon. Hear that Mr. Sebree will go to Oklahoma in the spring.

Ver Gaines, of Ludlow, passed through our town on foot, one day last week. Guess it was too cold to ride.

The telephone line through here seems to be a slow go. People say that they do not need a telephone for that they do not want to talk to any one on the proposed route. Half of the required number of boxes has been subscribed to the line.

ooo

WALTON.

Following is the Honor Roll of Walton Graded School, 4th month.

1st Grade—Marie Menefee, Beulah Jones, Mary Rogers, Vallie Craddock, Blanche Jones, Etta Carroll.

2nd Grade—Mary Hance, Russell McKean, Rowe Rogers, Harry Mayhugh, Viola Fornash, Ruth Fullilove, Zula Mayhugh, Alice Houston, Fleming Fields, Clifford Youell, Bertha Johnson, Susie Rassler, Alice Carpenter, Clayton Roberts.

3rd Grade—Agnes Haley, Erroll Jones, John Conrad, Isabel Tompkins, Ines Stephenson, Clifford Laws.

4th Grade—Hoard Johnson, Lambert Rouse, Ray Hicks, Bessie Houston, Mary Rassler, Seena Byland.

5th Grade—Sumlee Sullivan, Robert Lassing, Edna Watson, Estella Rassler, Margarette Youell, Edith Fields, Mary Graham, Raymond Roberts.

6th Grade—Anna Haley.

7th Grade—Edith Lipscomb.

8th Grade—Robert Robinson, Chas. Carroll, Myrtle Murphy, Katie Bolington, Harry Dahling, Mabel Powers, Robert Rouse.

Freshman—Lucy Hearne, Mamie Haley, Maud Hume, Mary West, George Hoffman, Earl Robinson, Garnett Huey, Wheila Hance, Geo. Kipp, Hattie Hearne, Philip Hume.

Sephomore—Robert Craig, Charles Deandy.

Junior—Zella Mayhugh, Estelle Huey, Etta Haley, Lucile Hind, Katie Bents, Gladys Wilson, Pauline Curley, Leslie Jones.

Senior—Nannie Chambers, Hattie Taylor, Charles Jones.

The oyster supper at the school, last year, was such a success socially and financially that the board has decided to give another one this year, for the benefit of the school. This has been arranged for Friday January 27th, 7 p. m. A large attendance of the patrons and public is desired, and it is promised in advance that no effort will be spared in making the occasion pleasant and profitable.

This week closes the first term of the present session. The mid-winter examinations are much in evidence, and expressions that will make impressions are most desired by the pupils.

The enrollment for the first term is as large as that of the entire session of last year. The attendance has been better than usual. A strong effort has been made to keep up the standard and to secure the best results with the least friction.

Aside from mental training attention has been given to physical development. After the boys put their foot ball togs in winter quarters and retired from the field until the base ball season, the High School and 8th Grade girls began playing basket ball, a new indoor game. The game is full of plenty of physical exercise and calls for quickness and accuracy of judgment. There are three rival teams captained by Misses Chambers, Taylor and Menefee. Each team is working hard for the championship.

The Philamathian Literary of the High School Department is in a flourishing condition. An interesting program is rendered each week.

The officers elect for the next two months are as follows: Pres., Zella Mayhugh; Vice-Pres., Cecil Menefee; Recording Secy., Katie Bents, First critic, Leslie Jones. second critic, Carrie Watson, First Editor, Gladys Wilson; Marshal, Wayne Byland; Prosecuting Attorney, Virgil Cluster; Treas., W. P. Dickey, Librarian, Geo. Kipp; Doorkeeper, Hattie Taylor.

Saved From Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M L. Robbitt, of Bargersville, Tenn., saw her dying, and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles Free at all Druggists.

HEBRON.

Will Clore was appointed sexton of the Lutheran church for 1905.

The Farmers' Telephone Co. held a meeting here Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Dr. Hafer, of Bullittsville, was visiting relatives here, one day this week.

Miss Laura Beall, of Cincinnati, came down Saturday for a few days' visit.

Mrs. C. E. Clore and children were guests of Geo. Baker and wife, of Limaburg, Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Bradford entertained Mr. and Mrs. Allie Corn, of Bullittsville, last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lundgren entertained a large number of young people Saturday evening with a play party.

Miss [illegible] burg, attended court here, Sunday, and were guests of Mr. T. Hafer and family.

ooo

BELLEVUE.

Jan. 13.—River full of ice.

Forest Rice was hauling goods from Erlanger for E. E. Kelly, one day last week.

Mrs. Fannie Snyder and daughter, of Petersburg, are staying with Mrs. Mary Corbin, who does not improve.

Clay White passed here last Thursday with his goods and chattles enroute to his new home ever on Gunpowder.

James B [illegible] wife and daughter, of Gunpowder, passed through last Thursday enroute to their son Ezra's near Burlington.

R. B. Huey, of Walton, and agent for the Boone county Insurance Company, was in town a few days since. He is the right man in the right place.

W. W. Grant went to the hub, last Thursday, and came back somewhat disappointed as neither Sam Adams nor Orin Phipps would receive him in his public institution.

The boys went across the river one day last week, to Ira Powell's with their dogs and gave the Hoosier reynard the hottest chase he ever experienced. They got it so hot for him he took refuge in the ground. Kentucky dogs are made of the right stuff.

ooo

CONSTANCE.

Jan. 14.—Robert Hood is on the sick list.

Mrs. Carl Zimmer is very poorly.

William Price is improving slowly.

We are glad to report Miss Maggie Dolwick able to be out again.

Miss Celia Anderson entertained Miss Olga Hann, one day last week.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Penn was buried at Hebron, Thursday.

Miss Viola Hann, of New Haven, O., was visiting her sisters at this place Sunday.

Frank Robinson, who is in California, writes that he is much pleased with the country.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sonther entertained their children and grandchildren with a turkey dinner, Sunday.

ooo

GUNPOWDER.

No ice has been harvested in this neighborhood

Pony Rouse has not improved any since our last report.

J. P. Tanner, of Florence, was in our burg last Friday.

Mrs. Ada Surface, who has been on the sick list for about a week, has about recovered.

Uncle Lank Crigler, who has been a sufferer with a cancer for quite awhile, is in a critical condition.

Rob Tanner sold a good horse to Sam Hicks and E. L. Huey, last Thursday. Price private.

Mit Beemon, of way down on Gunpowder, was transacting business in our burg, one day last week.

Cland Rouse and wife, of Kenton county, were guests of his parents, Ollie Rouse and wife, last Sunday.

Joe Weaver, of Hathaway, was a caller here last Friday. Some one without knowing his business suggested he was hunting a housekeeper.

Les Wingate, who has been driving a team for J. S. Rouse for several years, has quit that job and will assist Will Beemon on the farm this year.

Garnett Richards is handling a nice foot very carefully. He stepped on a nail a few days since and for several days was unable to walk without crutches, but has improved sufficiently so much that he has laid them away.

Mrs. Mary Carpenter received a telegram, last Sunday, announcing the death of her son, Dr. Eugene Rice, of Wallace, Ind. Dr. Rice was formerly a resident of Florence, this county and for several years a prominent and successful physician. He has many friends here who are sorry to hear the sad news.

ooo

KIDVILLE.

W. E. Popham is about done stripping tobacco.

This has been a fine winter for burning fuel and testing stoves.

The dance at Robert Brown's was a grand success. Many attended.

Chas. Moore has purchased a large cream separator. Plenty of butter now.

Misses Kittie Brown and Nellie Maxwell have returned after a week's visit with friends in Ludlow.

Cland Rouse has about completed his one-mast cross cut saw machine, which will cut double the amount of wood in a day than does the one he bought last fall.

Misses Lida and Emma Tanner, two charming young ladies of Hopeful neighborhood, were pleasantly entertained by Misses Ada and Stella Popham, a couple of days last week.

Chas. Tanner, of Kidville, has some very fine thoroughbred Chesterwhite hogs, and a number of visitors from a distance has been at his pens this winter. He has made a recent purchase of a pair of fine pigs.

COMMISSARY.

Jan. 16.—Ye scribe spent last Sunday afternoon with Jasper McGuyre.

W. T. Ryle is quite indisposed with a severe cold.

Mrs. Harriett Slayback, near here, is ailing with rheumatism.

R. A. Brady and wife have been staying with Mr. Lillard during his sickness.

Lewis Slayback and wife moved in with his brother Ben on J. J. Walton's farm, the first of the week.

John Scott is visiting relatives and friends here, and was a guest of W. T. Ryle, Wednesday afternoon and night.

Last Monday morning Gilly Weisickle, of Middle Creek, started on a tour through Indiana to look for a location.

Gennie [illegible] tertained Cecil Pope and Willie [illegible], last Saturday night, until bed time and all had a very pleasant time.

The Believe merchants are hauling their goods from Erlanger again. Tobacco passed through Friday morning after goods for Gene Kelly.

The weather prophets forecast for January was bad enough, but the weather has been much worse than they predicted. All we did was sit by the fire.

It is said that J. L. Conner has the best and nicest post and nicest put up box on our mail route. We are glad he has pride. Now he ought to subscribe for the Recorder.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, of Missouri, a sister of J. J. Lillard, arrived here Wednesday night, and will stay with Mr. Lillard for a while at least, and perhaps make it her permanent home.

Bert Berkshire, William and Cecil Snelling, Harry Acrs, James Feeley and Arthur Delph were callers at the Commissary, last Tuesday, with whom we spent a couple of hours very pleasantly.

One on Ira Ryle;—Ira Ryle made a nice present to a——and Commissary got the credit. All the talking he could do would not convince the recipient but what it was a gift from Thomas.

Last Saturday we received a letter from Mrs Pheobe J. Nettles in which was inclosed the wherewith necessary to insure the Boone County Recorder to be a weekly visitor at her home for one year. Such letters are always welcome.

We have been informed that Caddy Mauer will quit the river and Doc Rice take his place as pilot on the Daisy. Mr. Mauer has a position in some of the shops in Aurora, and he and better half will begin housekeeping there in the near future.

In issues of the Recorder, Jan. 4th and 11th, the correspondents reported 400 items—127 were visiting items; 7 marriages; 6 deaths; 6 births; which leaves 254 miscellaneous items. The talk that the correspondence is nothing but visit, visit, is all rot. Suppose they were, what of it? They interest a greater number of people than any other class of items. Take the two issues as an average of all classes of items, there will have been reported at the close of 1905, 3,124 visiting items; 182 marriages; 156 births; 156 deaths; miscellaneous items. Add to this the local news and personal mentions, what an array of news we have. Lets hear no more said about the Recorder being high priced—subscribe and be up-to-date.

John Gilligan was down on Middle Creek a few days since with his famous fox hounds. They jumped a fox and run it all over the surrounding hills, between Commissary and Belle view to Woolper, up Woolper to Brandywine, up Brandywine on to the farm of T. J. Walton near one of his tobacco barns, and there they treed. Billy Slayback and Ed Barres were stripping tobacco in the barn and after the dogs had barked something near an hour they went to see what they had and whew. They found them at a very large hollow elm tree in which there is a large hole at the ground. They thought of smoking the fox out, but as the tree was near the barn they were afraid of fire. Ed said, "I believe I can twist him out." Ed cut a pole 8 or 10 feet long and split one end so as to get a good hold, and run it up the hollow and touched what he supposed was the fox, and they heard some one say, "hello there." They looked around expecting to see Mr. Gilligan, as they knew, the dogs were his, but they did not see him. They waited 5 or 10 minutes, but he did not show up. Ed then twisted his pole until he had a good hold. It took their combined strength to pull him out, but instead of having the fox on the end of the pole they had Gilligan, and Gilligan had the fox by the tail. Mr. Gilligan was so overjoyed at his deliverance that he let go the fox to embrace Billy and Ed and the fox escaped. Mr. Gilligan had worked his way up after the fox and got fast. Ed says, if they had not gone to the dogs it would always have been a mystery what went with John Gilligan.

ooo

FLORENCE.

Miss Carrie Clarke is visiting her brother in Cincinnati this week.

Miss Emma Hinton is in Sherman, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Dan Ponnts.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Aylor visited Mr. and Mrs. Hallet Highhouse, of Ludlow, Monday.

Miss Mary Korn, of Ludlow, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Fiske, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Caroline Latham has returned home after spending a week with relatives and friends in Covington and Ludlow.

Miss Irella Tanner entertained the Misses Miller, of Price Pike, and Miss Nora Eubanks, of Crescent Springs, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Ned Goloway died last Thursday eveuing after a week's illness of double pneumonia. Her remains were put in the vault at Hopefut Sunday morning.

PETERSBURG.

Jan. 16.—River full of ice.

The Pauline is making regular trips to Lawrenceburg.

There are three steamboats tied up at the landing here.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. James Rogers.

Henry N. Gordon is assisting in keeping books at the distillery.

Two below zero here Sunday morning—the coldest of the year.

There is one steer in the pens at the distillery that is 18 hands high.

Miss Pearl Crigler and her mother have been quite sick for several days.

It takes ten government men to guard Uncle Sam's interests at the Boone Co. Distillery.

Cecil Burns sold his crop of 10,000 lbs. of tobacco for 1-W. Feeshler—on 10c all around.

Col. W. H. Lyons, who was Senator Debee's private secretary, is on duty here as gauger.

J. B. Wathen, of Louisville, and the head man of [illegible] Trust, was here one day last week.

The whisky that is made here during this run is sold at auction on Tuesday of each week in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Lou Terrill got several of her fingers badly mashed in a clothes wringer which Lou was operating.

A. E. Chambers has arrived home from Peoria, Ill. He reports the Boone county aggregation doing all right.

Walter S. Gordon was elected Secretary of the M. E. Sunday School in place of Miss Mae Thompson, resigned.

Col. Graddy says he could marry without any trouble, but that it is causinghim considerable trouble to keep from marrying.

One of the peculiarities of Commissary's correspondence is, if someone does not throw bouquets at him he throws them at himself.

We can't write up your social gatheringa unless we are present. We can comprehend more in a minute by being present than you can tell us in a week.

Wm. Wilson, a lineman for the Boone County Telephone Company, was here last Thursday stringing wires from the main line to the distillery office.

Jas. P. Strother, of Trimble county, and a near neighbor of D. C. Peck, is one of the government men here. He reports the Doctor in poor health and in Florida.

Out of 1,412 cattle billed for this place only 2 were lost in transit—1 was killed on the track at Walton, and one got away at Lawrenceburg and run itself to death.

Eugene Witham, who has farmed the Randall land opposite Aurora for several years, will move to the house John White vacated. Eugene Randall goes to the old place.

While working in the aging room at the distillery a few days since, Judge Arnold let a barrel of whisky fall on his foot, mashing one of his toes so badly that he is laid up.

Rev. Ira S. Boswell, of Cattanooga, Tennessee, a shining light in the Christian Church, will begin a series of meetings at the Christian church here on the night of the 23d inst. Everybody is invited.

Thousands of crows float down the river every day on cakes of ice, gathering food. At sun down they fly back to Hartman's woods, near Lawrenceburg, where they remain until morning, when they make another voyage down the river.

The Frank Miller was towing grain several days last week, for the distillery, and inquiry was made by one of the crew for the man who made the geese bone prediction several months ago, saying that there would be a flood in the river by Christmas. The owners of the boat are residents of Constance, and built their boat themselves.

ooo

LIMABURG.

Jan. 16.—Sam Conrad's health has been very bad during the past few weeks.

Bob Brown gave the young people a dance last Tuesday night.

Mrs. Mary E. Crigler is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. William Houston, of Covington.

Misses Kittie Brown and Nellie Maxwell spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs Owen Aylor.

Do Not Suppress a Cough.

When you have a cough do not try to suppress it but remove the cause. The cough is only a symptom of some disease, and the disease is what you should cure, then the cough will stop off itself. The most common cause of coughing is a cold. Anodynes will promptly suppress the cough, and preparations containing chloroform, opium, etc., are used for that purpose, but they do not cure the cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on the other hand does not suppress the cough, but relieves it by removing from the throat and lungs the mucus which obstructed the breathing and allaying the irritation and tickling in the throat. It also opens the secretions and effectually and permanently cures the cold as well as the cough. For Sale by all Druggists.

John Baldon left yesterday with his command for the logging camp down on Gunpowder. He will have his mill in operation as soon as possible.

The first shipment of tobacco hogsheads for the 1904 crop was received at the warehouse here yesterday.

From now on some farmers will take advantage of every day that will do and have their plows on the go.

Rabbits are growing scarce, but no wonder as thousands have been killed and the slaughter continues.

James Smith has filled his and Joe Revill's ice-houses with nice five inch pond ice this week.

Edgar Cropper, of Woolper Highlands, was looking after business here yesterday.

RICHWOOD.

Mrs. Amanda Carpenter has been sick.

Oh! to where has our free rural route flown?

Coal is kept in stock by both of our merchants.

Mrs. Laura Carpenter who has been quite sick is better.

John Densdy and John Rasealer had a fine car of corn shipped here.

Excelsior Grange meets Saturday 21 at 2 p. m. Members are requested to be present.

Nearly all of our Richwood scholars at Walton school get on the roll of honor each month.

The Bell Telephone Co. is stringing 8 more wires on their long distance route, making 20 wires in all.

The [illegible] ears our ever weary club house and [illegible] at their club rooms in Jackson's block.

If the young men do not have a cutter these snowy days they are not it, but if they have one they should be right in it with the only one they ever loved.

Some of our friends are complaining about the use of ferrets in chasing our rabbits. We feel that it is wrong, but when we get a chance to hunt the town hunters have them all but two or three that escape into culverts, and there is where we come in with our ferrets and get a mess of rabbits. See?

The knife with which Jacob Kels killed himself was found about 200 yards from where the body was found. He evidently walked as far as he could and then crawled to where he was found. The knife was a small pen knife with two blades, the smaller one not over two inches in length, being open and bloody.

Richwood is becoming noted for things that happens, and last Saturday when we found a man hanging to a telephone pole and it was bitter cold, we supposed he had frozen to death: but he had not; he was just stringing wire for the Bell Telephone Co., and had climbers and was strapped to the pole.

ooo

BIG BONE.

Whooping cough is epidemic here.

Mr. Bondurant's children have whooping cough badly.

Eggs are bringing 27 cents a dozen; oil, 9 cents a gallon.

Mrs. George Houston is at the bedside of her sick mother in Ludlow.

J. W. Kennedy has bought two crops of tobacco, paying 10 cents a pound.

Uncle Charles Stevenson, who has been sick, is stopping at the Clay House.

Miss Maud Kent has returned to her home after a visit of several months in Kentucky.

J. N. Moore has had the second operation performed on his leg, and he is getting along nicely.

James Hostelw died last Saturday, and was buried at Pain' Lick on Monday. He was ill just a week.

List Stephens and Dr. Slater were initiated into the mysteries of Odd-Fellowship at the last meeting of Harmony lodge.

There is more railroad talk. If the people alone, the route will build the road there is a company that will operate it for them.

John Rich is morningthe loss of his favorite coon dog. He went the road that $250 appropriation will travel if a thief gets in reach of the kennel.

A Very Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without an appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor, from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by All Druggists.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cowen, widow of the late Samuel Cowen, died this morning at four o'clock of pneumonia. She was 74 years old last July.

THE SICK.

Mrs. W. C. Goodridge has been quite ill of pneumonia for several days.

Albert Snyder, son of Superintendent D. M. Snyder, has been very low all this week.

Kenneth Baisly, of Bullittsville, who has been very low for several weeks, is said to be improving some in the last few days.

Mrs. Sidnor, of near Florence on the Burlington pike, who has been quite sick of appendicitis for several weeks, is improving.

Jailer Sammie Adams, who has been sick several weeks, has improved considerably in the last few days, and he feels much encouraged.

Mr. J. J. Lillard, of Commissary, has been seriously ill for a week or more. His sister, Mrs. Johnson, of Holden, Missouri, is with him.

Bought Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and Sent it to a Friend.

Mr. E. W. J. Fletcher, a druggist in Victoria, Australia, says: "A customer of mine, was so well pleased with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which she had used for her children when suffering from colds and croup, that during a fortnight's time she obtained at my shop, nine bottles, which she sent to her friends in different parts of the state, telling them how much good it had done and advising them to give it a trial. For sale by all Druggists.

The sowing of plant beds will begin as soon as the weather will permit. About the usual acreage will be pitched again this year.

You'd better fill that ice-house at the very first opportunity that offers. The season for an ice harvest is short.

THE HORRORS OF WAR IN RUSSIA

POLISH PEASANTS FORCED TO FIGHT FOR A HATED RULER.

SOLDIERS KILL THEIR FAMILIES

Rather Than Leave Them to a Fate Worse Than Death, Fathers and Lovers Murder Their Loved Ones Before Leaving for the Front—Stirring Appeal of a Polish Woman to All American Mothers.

New York.—On a dark, stormy night in October Stanislaus Mazurowski left his humble home in southern Poland and swam the Vistula river near Sandomiers, on the border between Russia and Austria. In this manner he escaped military service in the Russian army in Manchuria, and started on his long journey to America.

Concealed in a tightly sealed rubber case Mazurowski carried with him a letter to the American people from a Polish woman of noble birth. His capture with that letter in his possession would have meant death not only to himself as a deserter, but death also to the fair woman for whom he was acting as messenger. Knowing this, every possible precaution was taken that he should escape the vigilance of the Russian army and police, but the precautions would have all proven fruitless had it not been for his own powers of endurance, his determination to escape military service for a hated ruler and the assistance of a devoted wife, who managed to throw the officers off the scent until her husband should be well over the Austrian boundary.

The sealed rubber package carried by Mazurowski on that night contained a message to the newspapers of America which they were asked to give to the mothers of America. It tells of present conditions in stricken Poland; of husbands ordered to the front, who, rather than leave their families to suffer, kill them before joining their regiments; of lovers, who, rather than leave their sweethearts to become the prey of licentious army officers, kill them and then themselves. It tells of conditions so revolting and so terrible that it is almost impossible for the enlightened people of this free land to believe them, and yet this noble Polish woman asserts they are true.

The Appeal.

Her letter to American mothers is as follows:

When several years ago, at the wish of Czar Nicholas II., the first peace conference gathered at The Hague, it was received by the friends of humanity with applause. It seemed to herald the dawn of a new era. We Poles alone knew that the whole project of Muravieff was a fabrication to mislead the civilized nations. The czar announced peace, but in his own land there was no cessation of strife. At the time of the conference half the provinces were under martial rule; and now, while a second conference is about to take place—but this time on the initiative of a despot, but of an elected leader of the American people—Russia, unmasked, is conducting in the far east such a devastating, unnecessary war as is unparalleled in history.

It is not a war; it is a massacre! All scientific and technical progress intended for the increase of the power of the human race is being used for the work of devastation. A hail of bullets covers whole regiments. Battlefields are so thickly strewn that it is necessary to burn the bodies or to place the dying and the dead in one grave. New regiments of victims crowd from all portions of that great country which Russia claims to hail, by order of their subjects, the "peace-loving czar."

It is said that the government of the czar did not wish this war. No, it was not war that was desired, but new possessions. Therefore it preached disarmament to deceive your alertness, that it need not fear foreign armaments.

The Czar, Not Russia.

The Russian government, you must not forget, governs unchecked by the people. It is untrue that the government of the czar is Russia. That government never receives the sanction and mandate of the people. The government acts, Russia is silent. It is false that Russia is Russia. Russia is Poland, Finland, Lithuania, Armenia, Georgia. Russians are Tartars, Kurds, Lapps and other peoples harnessed under the yoke of despotism.

It is false that necessity compels Russia to the war. The moral necessity was to evacuate Manchuria at a time set by herself. It is false that the interests of Russia required a further occupation.

Not the interest of the people is here at stake, but the interest of a handful of titled and untitled parasites, who send the people to massacre and to be massacred in order to protect their monetary speculations, forests, lands, mines and railroad grants.

It is false that defenders not of the country but of forcibly annexed lands go to death eagerly and die in the ecstasy of patriotism.

In the first lines of battle are placed not Russians but peoples persecuted by the Russians—Poles, Jews, Finlanders. Our brother Poles constituted 40 per cent. of the first Manchurian army. Amid the groans and prayers of the dying, our Polish tongue was heard on all the bloody battlefields. It filled the darkened earth with curses for the perpetrator of this devastation.

Opposed to the War.

It is false that voluntary contributions are given by the Poles. These "voluntary contributions" are deducted from the salaries of officials without their consent or obtained from citizens by threats. They knew the money would disappear into the pockets of official thieves who fattened on the hard earnings of the Russian people. To-day the Russian papers report that a hero who received a decoration for courage on the battlefield had not even a shirt on which to pin the symbol. It is false that the injured rise from their beds and rush into the lines eager to fight again. The injured have no beds; the moneys appropriated for the purpose are stolen.

We knew all this long before you did. You saw only the immense empire which haughtily spread over two hemispheres; we saw the vermin gnawing its vitals. You now see only bodies on land and sea; we look upon misery that crushes millions.

It is not enough that our brothers are perishing by thousands in a foreign land, paying with their blood for the perfidy of that government which tore from them their freedom and their fatherland. Our people are brought to the last stage of misery. Tens of thousands without work—fathers who cannot feed their children—walk the streets of Warsaw and Lodz.

Yet there is not enough misfortune. Mobilization is announced. Another 40,000 victims are drafted from Poland—the land of graves and crosses.

Savage Despair.

You cannot imagine the savage despair which overpowers the masses torn from the plow, from the hearth, from wife and children. "If we are going to perish, let us perish in our own country! Let us die by the hands of those who are our enemies!" is the cry of the reserves. "The very stones cry out when they take us. They clamor to the people of Warsaw. We are not going to defend Russia. Our country is here!"

You do not know that we throw ourselves under the wheels of the trains that carry their relations to the far east; that cases of sudden death and madness occur every day; that in Poltusk, Czenstochowa and Lodz, soldiers fired into the people and killed many. In Gostynin, when the order was given to decimate the resisting reserves, the colonel, Dawonkowski, a Pole, shot himself in front of his regiment.

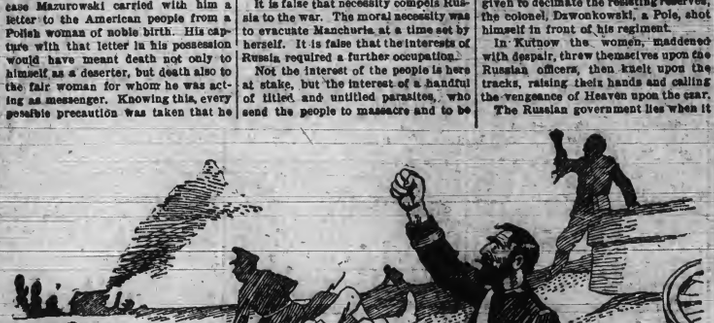
In Kutnow the women, maddened with despair, threw themselves upon the Russian officers, then knelt upon the tracks, raising their hands and calling the vengeance of Heaven upon the czar.

The Russian government lies when it says they do not call to the front fathers of families. That is only written for you of Europe and America. They take widowers with large families of small children. One of these men, called to the service, hung his three small children and reported the fact to the military authorities. There was no one with whom to leave them.

Another, called to the ranks on the day of the death of his wife, who left him a two-year-old baby and a newborn infant, took an ax and killed the children and placed them in the coffin with their mother. Another man when called to the army killed his wife, his children and himself.

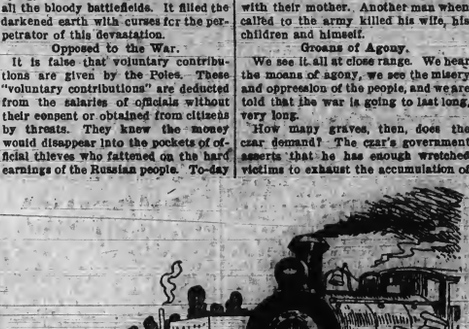
Groans of Agony.

We see it all at close range. We hear the moans of agony, we see the misery and oppression of the people, and we are told that the war is going to last long, very long.



How many graves, then, does the czar demand? The czar's government asserts that he has enough wretched victims to exhaust the accumulation of Japanese bullets and grenades, to strew the valleys of Manchuria and fill the mountain passes that he must be victorious regardless of cost.

A Polish woman protests against this iniquitous determination. She calls not in the name of a clique or party, but in the name of those peasant women who threw themselves under the car wheels; in the name of those mothers who with their little children are thrust helpless into the streets; in the name of those who suffer, weep and curse.



To you, free people, I direct an appeal. How long will the principles of humanity be the laughing stock of triumphant militarism? How long are we to measure culture by the improvement of deadly weapons?

To American Mothers.

Women of all nations, let your motherly hearts be filled with the suffering of Polish mothers! You have a voice. Your lips are not sealed by the censor.

Wounded Russian Soldier Cursing the Czar on the Battlefield.

Women Throw Themselves Under the Wheels of Troop Trains.

Killed His Wife Rather Than Leave Her Alone.

Your homes are not surrounded by gendarmes and spies. You can move the consciences of your brothers; you can demand that they put an end to this horrible massacre, which sets on the twentieth century in its infancy a brand of shame.

If you will not do this, if our voice rouses no response, then there are no longer any human beings; there is only a silent, unpeopled desert, on which hyenas dwell. Then the proposed congress of peace is, like the first, a perfidious comedy, a profanation, a derision of the untold misery of a wretched people.

AWKWARD DINING IN JAPAN

The First Meal Partaken Of by an American There Is Sure to Be Trying.

If it's your first Japanese dinner you're having a dreadfully hard time. In the first place, writes Bertha Runkle, in "Child Life in China and Japan," you must sit on the floor, for they don't have any chairs in Japan. You kneel down, and then you turn your toes in till one laps over the other, and then you sit back between your heels. At first you are quite proud to find how well you do it, and you don't think it's so very uncomfortable. But pretty soon you get cramped, and your legs ache as if you had a toothache in them. You don't say anything, because you think that if the Japanese can sit this way all day long, you ought to be able to stand it a few minutes. Finally both you feet go to sleep and then you can't bear it a moment longer, and you have to get up and stamp round the room to drive the prickles out of your feet, and all the dancing girls giggle at you. This isn't your only trouble, either. All you have to eat with is a pair of chopsticks, and you're in terror lest you spill something on the dainty white matting floor. Now the floor of a Japanese house isn't just the floor; it's the chairs and sofas and tables and beds as well. At home it would be mortifying enough to go out to dinner and spill something on the floor; but in Japan, where people sit and sleep on the floor, it seems even worse. So you are unhappy till your little nesan (who is the waitress, and almost as prettily dressed as the dancing girls, but not quite) comes laughing to your aid, and shows you how to hold your chop-sticks. After that you manage nicely the rice and the omelet, but the fish and the chicken you can't contrive to shred apart without dropping your chop-sticks all the time. So, between dances, the maiko—little girls about 12 years old—kneel down beside you and help you. They can't keep from giggling at your awkwardness; but you don't mind—you just giggle, too; and everybody giggles and has a lovely time.

TOLD OF BALDHEADED MEN

They Want More Hair Cuts Than Men with Hair, Says a Barber.

The secretive, taciturn barber was finally induced to talk, says the Providence Journal. He remarked: "I've noticed one peculiarity about my customers that I could never quite explain. The less hair a man has the more attention he pays to it.

"There's a real estate agent who comes in here nearly every week for a hair cut, and if I shaved him clean from the back of his collar to his forehead you'd never know that I'd touched him. He's got a short, light colored fringe, that plays around under the rim of his hat, like the soft, fluffy fringe you see on those shawls the women wear over their shoulders, but you'd think to hear him that he could braid it and do it up in coils. Wants me to be particular and trim it close on the neck and around the ears. I humor him, of course. I take a handful of somebody else's hair and sprinkle it on the cloth I put on him and then I snip the air gently for ten or 15 minutes and make a great ado when I whisk him off.

"And when he leaves the chair and says he mustn't let it grow so long again I say it was pretty long. I hope the Lord will forgive me. Nine out of every ten of the bald heads are that way, but men who've got plenty of hair will keep away from here until they look like the edges of an old-fashioned hayloft. It's serious and, as I said, I never could account for it."

Real Cruelty.

Beggar—Kind sir, could you help a victim of the trusts? I am starving!

Citizen—How are the trusts responsible?

"They shut down the factory where my wife had a job, sir!"—Puck.

Hint of Coming Rain.

Bimbi—Papa, is it always damp when you raise mushrooms?

Papa—Yes, my son.

"Is that why they look like umbrellas?"

Harry—When I grow up I'm going to be a soldier.

Mamma—But soldiers are often killed by the enemy, my dear.

"Oh, then I guess I'll be an enemy."

Teacher—Johnny, what useful article do we get from the whale?

Johnny—Whalebone.

"Right. Now, Tommy, what do we get from the seal?"

"Sealing wax."

"Be all things to all men," read the Sunday-school teacher. "Now, Johnny, can you tell me what that means?"

"Yes, ma'am," answered Johnny. "It means a fellow must be any old thing to anybody."

Teacher—Nellie, I'm afraid you didn't study your lesson. What will you do without an education when you grow up?

Nellie (aged six)—Oh, I'll be a teacher and make other little girls study.

"Now, Minnie," said the Sunday-school teacher, "can you tell me what happened to Lot's wife?"

"Yes, ma'am," answered Minnie. "She was always fussin' with the neighbors, and one day when she got too fresh God came down and put her in a sack of salt."

WEST INDIAN PROVERBS.

Spider an' fly no mek good bargain.

What man no know is good for know.

When fowl merry, hawk him catch chicken.

When dog hab too much owner, him sleep widout supper.

When berryin' day come at you door, you no pick an' choose gravedigger.

ALL CROPS GOOD IN WESTERN CANADA.

"Potatoes the Finest I Ever Saw."

Owing to the great amount of interest that is being taken in Western Canada, it is well to be informed of some of the facts that are bringing about the great emigration from portions of the United States.

The Canadian Government have authorized agents at different points, and the facts related in the following may be corroborated on application. At the same time they will be able to quote you rates, and give you certificates entitling you to low rates on the different lines of railway. The following letter copied from the North Bend (Neb.) Eagle, is an unsolicited testimonial, and the experience of Mr. Austen is that of hundreds of other Americans, who have made Canada their home during the past seven or eight years:

"I presume some may be interested to know how we have progressed this year in the Canadian North-West. We have no complaint to offer. We have had a good year, crops were good and we have had a delightful season. I threshed from my place 8,650 bushels of grain. My oats made 65 bushels per acre and weighed 42½ pounds per bushel. My wheat made 31½ bushels per acre and is No. 1 quality. My barley made about 30 bushels of good quality. My crop is a fair average of the crops in the Edmonton district.

"All crops were good here this season. Potatoes the finest I ever saw, and all vegetables adapted to the climate. We have had a very fine fall but no exception to the rule as the fall season is, I think, the most pleasant of the year. We have had no snow yet (Nov. 9), and have been plowing and working the land preparing for an early seeding next spring. Last night the mercury dropped lower than any previous night this fall and this morning there is a crust of frost on the fields sufficient to prevent field work. No doubt many would imagine that Alberta had put on her winter overcoat before this and that the people were wrapped in furs, but it is only a question of time when this country will not be looked upon as an iceberg, but a country fit for the best of mankind to live in.

"We are now assured of a transcontinental railway, which is to be built to the Pacific during the next five years. The Canadian Northern road is graded to within seventy-five miles of Edmonton. It comes from Winnipeg, and will reach us next summer, so with one railroad already at hand, the second to reach us in less than a year, and the third to penetrate our city and open up this country to the west across the Rockies to the coast within five years, we surely have reason to believe that the country is progressing.

"Very respectfully,

"L. J. Austen."

Scientific Discovery.

After reading about these cracks in the evening luminary we naturally reflect that the man in the moon must be the lone tenant.—Kansas City Journal.

Are You Going to Florida or New Orleans?

Tickets on sale via Ohio & Cincinnati Route and Southern Railway to Florida, New Orleans and other points south at greatly reduced rates, good returning May 31st, 1905.

Also variable route tickets good going to points in Florida and Cuba via Atlanta and returning via Asheville. For rates and other information address

W. A. Beckler, N. W. A., 113 Adams Street, Chicago, Ill.

D. P. Brown N. E. P. A., 11 Fort Street, W., Detroit, Mich.

W. W. Dunsavant T. P. A., Warren, Ohio.

W. C. Rinearson, G. P. A., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Made Him Look So.

"Are you a married man?"

"No. I'm just recovering from appendicitis."—Cleveland Leader.

J. W. Walls, Superintendent of Streets of Lebanon, Ky., says: "My nightly rest was broken, owing to irregular action of the kidneys. I was suffering intensely from severe pains in the small of my back and through the kidneys and annoyed by painful passages of abnormal secretions. No amount of doctoring relieved this condition. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and I experienced quick and lasting relief. Doan's Kidney Pills will prove a blessing to all sufferers from kidney disorders who will give them a fair trial."

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., proprietors. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.

AN ENTIRE MEDICINE CHEST

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

QUICKLY RELIEVES PAINS AND ACHES

Kills Germs

FOR MAN OR BEAST

DR. EARL S. SLOAN 63 ALBANY ST. BOSTON MASS.

10,000 Plants for 16c.

Above seven packages contain sufficient seed to grow 10,000 plants, and a lasting wealth of brilliant flowers and rich vegetables. Together with our great catalog, telling all about Flowers, Vegetables, Small Fruits, etc., all for 16c. in stamps and this notice. Mailing 25c. postage alone, 6c.

JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., La Crosse, Wis.

BUSINESS CHANCES

In the Southwest are worth looking into. A comparatively new country, with a fertile soil and a wonderful produce of plants and crops, oil, gas, coal, etc.—a territory capable of sustaining a population many times that of the present, means opportunity if it means anything. We give you some of the facts and figures in our pamphlet, "Business Chances." Isn't it worth your while to investigate? Write for a copy of the pamphlet. Read it and think it over. We will gladly send you a pamphlet and any additional information you may want on request. Address

M. K. & T. R'Y

Box D-911. ST. LOUIS, MO.

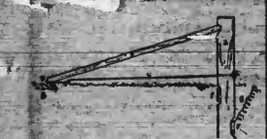
PENSIONS all cases at 62.—Civil War; or on disability, any war, and for widows. Have records of most local soldiers' service, and name of Ohio men. 20 years practice. Laws and advice FREE. A. W. McCORMICK & SON, 618 Walnut St., CINCINNATI, O.

BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP cures coughs and colds.

HARD WORK MAKES SHIFTLESS PEOPLE

MINARD'S LINIMENT

GOOD FOR ACHES AND PAINS AND ALL THAT IS CURABLE BY A LINIMENT



PUT ON AND RUB WELL

Horticultural Hints

A GOOD END POST.

Those of the Figure 4 Style Good When Constructed Properly—A Practical Experience.

In a recent Ohio Farmer, one of the readers advises others against the figure-4 style of end-post braces for fence. I have on my farm, says Chancy Avery, 14 end posts of this type, all giving as good service as I think it possible to get from any wood post; some of them have been set for six years, and the truss rods have needed no tightening, and I am confident that with the right principle of construction, carefully executed, this style of bracing will be found the best. Thorough work is essential to success with any style of bracing. Too short a [illegible] with the end post, and END POST BRACE.

I think the main source of failure in erecting the Fig. 4 type I set my posts as shown in the sketch. The post A is 14 to 18 inches in diameter and set 2½ feet in the ground and has two pieces 2x13 plank three feet long, spiked to faces on the post, as shown at F, F. The large stone, D, is flat and about twice as large as a man can lift, and finely settled in its bed with its top about three or four inches above ground. On this stone rests a brace shoe of ⅝x4 inches wagon tire iron, bent as shown, with a hole in the straight end, through which the rod C is bent or hooked as shown. C is a three-fourths inch rod 12 feet long and has five inches of thread, a nut and very large (three or four-inch) washer on the other end which passes through a one inch hole in the post about six inches above the surface of the ground. If the post ever sags forward, it can be righted, by removing dirt from the back of post as indicated by shaded line G, and then tightening the nut on the rod. R is a good plan to fill the thread on the rod thoroughly with axle grease, to prevent rust, before putting it in. If readers desire I will in future describe some other posts I have in use, which evidently will be all right at the dawn of the next century.

PRESERVING FENCE POSTS.

They May Be Made to Last Much Longer If They Are Dipped in Tar Before Being Set.

There are several methods whereby fence posts may be made to last much longer than if set untreated. An application of coal tar mixed with 1-10 oil of turpentine and applied hot is one of the best preservatives. To do this, have an ordinary large iron kettle, in which to heat and mix the tar, and a deep vat, which may be an old wash boiler or similar tin vessel, which must be at least three feet deep and ten inches in diameter. Have the tar quite hot when the posts are dipped. Allow them to remain a moment, then remove and pile with the ends free and allow to dry.

A mixture of three parts coal tar and one part clean, unsalted grease, to prevent the tar from drying until it has had time to fill the pores of the wood, is also a first-class preservative, says the Farm and Home. One barrel coal tar should cover 300 posts. This may be painted upon the posts, but better be applied in a bath as described above. In either case the posts should not be set deeper than the tar has been applied. An application to the top or exposed part of the post need not be so thorough. Good paint is more valuable for exposed portions.

Posts used in this way should be thoroughly dry and well seasoned before the tar is applied, otherwise when set they will rot quite as rapidly as if untreated. Heavy tar oils, such as carbolineum, are better than paints or coal tars, but are expensive for general use. Charring posts before setting is not a good practice, because when charred large cracks appear, which are openings for rot.

BITS FOR THINKING FARMERS.

Stop the leaks.

Be a good neighbor.

Good seed—good luck.

Pile up and burn the rubbish.

Does the house or barn need painting?

Are there any tools or implements uncared for?

Running down a farm don't run up a bank account.

How about the cellar? It needs some attention these days.

Devote your attention to that breed of stock you like best.

The farmer who is smaller than his farm plays a losing game.

"It is never too late to mend"—a broken gate, door or leaky roof.—Midland Farmer.

The Asparagus Bed.

Now is the time to burn off the asparagus beds and clean the ground thoroughly, applying manure plentifully. All brushes or weeds that have been cleared from the ground will serve as harboring places for mice and insects.—Midland Farmer.

THE TIME TO FIGURE.

How the Farmer May Follow Closely the Business End of the Farm.

Now that the work of filling the silo is again completed, it is an excellent time to look over the method this season and compare it with former years, and see if any new idea has been brought into use that has had a tendency to reduce the expense and labor of accomplishing the work. There is a certain amount of work on the farm that might be termed seasonable, that is, it is done about the same time each season from year to year. The farmer is his own manager; he outlines and accomplishes to a large extent the work carried on upon the establishment; consequently he has unbounded opportunity of studying his own conditions and discovering new and better methods.

There are farmers who have at hand records of their operations, and can refer to and compare accurately, by figures, the cost of completing certain kinds of work, and who have the advantage of knowing the variation of expense from year to year, and can compare methods of accomplishing the work. At "Forest Grove Farm" we do not feel at all satisfied with our farm operations unless we have at hand figures to compare, and in this way accurately reckon up variation of production from one year to another.

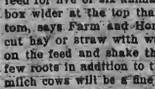
As space will not admit of giving a detailed account of our silo filling operations, I will only here outline the work and compare it with the preceding year:

Machinery for filling—engine and cutting box, 9 days at $2 per day	$18 00
Seven men—four at $1 and three at $1.50 per day	22 25
Farm team force, including three teams at $1 per day	7 50
Binder, including twine, per acre for 10 acres	12 20
Wagons we own, three at 50 cents per day	3 75
	$60 70

As will be noted, boarding the men is not included because most of the men boarded themselves.

Year 1903.

Machinery for filling	$18 00
Eight men, four at $1 and four at $1.50 per day	36 00
Farm team force, including three teams at $1 per day	7 50
Binder, including twine for 10 acres	12 50
Wagons we own, three at 50c per day	3 75
Total	$68 75



Comparing the two accounts for 1904 and 1903, we notice a difference in total cost of $5.05 in favor of this season's work. In making out an itemized account of this nature and comparing it with former years we must take into consideration the variations in prices of both labor and prices of materials purchased. As will be observed, there is a slight difference in binder, including twine; this is accounted for in difference in price of twine and the amount used. Some years twine will be a little lower than others and the crop somewhat heavier, but as a rule it costs somewhere around $13 to cut the crop with the corn harvester. Taking into consideration the variation in prices of materials and labor, the two years compare very favorably in respect to cost.

As our corn field this year was within 20 rods of the silo, we were able to move the work along very rapidly with two teams and three wagons, the same as last year, thus making the cost in this respect practically the same, says Ohio Farmer. We found by changing around, in throwing the corn on in the field, one man could do the work about as easily as two had done it formerly, and in this way reduced the extra hired force one man. In making a comparison of the two years' account, it will be noted that we have figured in our own labor and tools at a fair price, not that we care to add to the cost of filling the silo, but it gives a better idea as to the exact expense. If the regular farm force, including in particular our own labor and rental on tools, were subtracted from the total expense it would be seen that the cost would be materially reduced.

GRAIN AND HAY FEED.

How to Arrange Box in Which They May Be Mixed—Good for Milch Cows.

The practice of cutting hay or straw and mixing it with the grain feed and wetting down with water is well understood by farmers and stock keepers in many parts of the country. A box two feet deep, 18 inches wide and seven feet long will be large enough to mix the feed for five or six animals. Have the box wider at the top than at the bottom, says Farm and Home. Wet the cut hay or straw with water, sprinkle on the feed and shake thoroughly. A few roots in addition to the ration for milch cows will be a fine thing.

Cows Creatures of Habit.

Cows are creatures of habit, and this applies as much to their food as to anything else. A change of feed frequently means a falling off in the amount of milk the animals produce, and this occurs, too, in relation to the most succulent of foods. No food is considered better for cows than June grass, yet a prominent dairyman informs the writer that when his cows are changed from silage to pasture they invariably fall off temporarily in their milk flow. He says that the same is true if he changes from old to fresh silage. This should be borne in mind, especially in changing from succulent to dry feeds.—Farmers' Review.

The Cement Floor.

The cement floor in the dairy barn has doubtless come to stay. The only objection against it is the fact that it is cold for the cows to lie on. This may be obviated by the use of bedding, and bedding is very abundant on most farms.

GROWTH OF WASHINGTON.

Pacific Coast State Has Made a Gain of 50 Per Cent. in Population in Four Years.

Seattle, Wash.—Washington's population at the present time, officially estimated, is 825,000. A. W. Frater, deputy state commissioner of statistics, has completed an estimate of the population of this state, basing his figures on the total number of children of school age as shown by the school census. This estimate will be compared later with figures prepared from the total vote cast in the various counties.

According to the figures of Mr. Frater the state of Washington has gained since the census of 1900 a total of 306,897 inhabitants, or in four years the increase has been 59 per cent., while during the preceding ten years the gain in population was but 18.3 per cent.

In the ten years prior to 1900 the state of Washington showed a gain of population of 168,718, or but little more than half the gain in the four years just past.

King county, during the four years last past, has gained approximately 66 per cent., or in other words, has gained nearly twice as much as in the preceding ten years. The gain made by King is larger for the past four years than the total population of the county in 1890. In that year the federal census showed King had a population of 53,989, and ten years later the figures were reported at 110,053. At the present time Mr. Frater figures this county has 180,418 persons within its borders, almost three times as many as there were in 1890.

WOMAN BUYS A CITY HALL

Old Town, Me., Female Levies on the Village Official Building and Then Bids It In.

Bangor, Me.—The city hall of Old Town was levied upon and sold at auction to satisfy an execution of about $375 issued by the supreme court in favor of Mrs. Cythera A. Jordan. The hall was bid in by Taber D. Bailey, counsel for Mrs. Jordan, for the amount of the execution.

The execution was given to satisfy a claim which Mrs. Jordan had against the city for alleged damages in building a road across her land. Judge F. D. Whiting, city solicitor, says that the execution upon which the sale was made was of no value inasmuch as the supreme court had no authority to issue such an execution. He further states that Mrs. Jordan has not been damaged because the road has not yet been built across her land.

Mrs. Jordan's attorney says that all forms of law have been complied with, and that the execution which made the sale possible was issued by the highest court in the state. If the city does not redeem the property and pay the interest and other charges within the lawful limit, Mrs. Jordan is assured by her attorneys that the entire city hall property will be hers.

Dream Worth a Fortune.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—Andrew Sabel, 21 years old, employed in the Keystone flour mill at Nanticoke, some time ago in a dream saw an invention for separating foreign substances from grain just before it was ground. He told some friends and asked their assistance in making it, but they laughed at him. Preserving a clear conception of the invention in his mind, he went to work, built a model, got a patent on it last month, and has now received an offer of $10,000 for the patent rights from a Massachusetts firm. The principle of the invention is magnetism. It removes foreign substances from the grain and averts accidents to the grinding machinery.

MARKET REPORT.

Cincinnati, Jan. 14.
CATTLE—Common	$2 50	@	3 75
Heavy steers	4 75	@	5 25
CALVES—Extra	7 50	@	7 75
HOGS—Ch. packers	4 80	@	4 85
Mixed packers	4 65	@	4 75
SHEEP—Extra	5 00	@	5 25
LAMBS—Extra	7 65	@	7 75
FLOUR—Spring pat.	6 20	@	6 45
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 21	@	1 23
No. 3 winter	1 16	@	1 17
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	46
No. 2 white		@	46½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	33½
No. 2 white		@	33¾
RYE—No. 2	83	@	85
HAY—Ch. timothy		@	13 00
PORK—Clear mess		@	13 35
LARD—Steam		@	6 62½
BUTTER—Ch. dairy		@	18
Choice creamery		@	31
APPLES—Choice	2 50	@	3 00
POTATOES—Per bbl	1 50	@	1 60
TOBACCO—New	5 00	@	13 00
Old	4 50	@	14 75
Chicago.
FLOUR—Winter pat.	5 10	@	5 20
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 17½	@	1 19½
No. 3 red	1 02	@	1 15
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	43¼
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	30¾
RYE—No. 2	74½	@	75
PORK—Mess	12 37½	@	12 40
LARD—Steam		@	6 65
New York.
FLOUR—Win. str'ts.	5 30	@	5 45
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 20
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	52½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	36½	@	37½
RYE—Western		@	75
PORK—Family	18 25	@	16 00
LARD—Steam	6 75	@	7 05
Baltimore.
CATTLE—Steers	3 75	@	4 50
SHEEP—No. 1 fat	2 50	@	3 00
LAMBS—Choice	6 00	@	6 50
CALVES—Choice	8 25	@	8 75
HOGS—Dressed	6 25	@	6 75
Louisville.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 18
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	47½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	34
PORK—Mess		@	11 00
LARD—Pure Steam		@	6 50
Indianapolis.
WHEAT—No. 3 red.		@	1 21
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	44
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	32

Long Felt Want.

"Now, some patent medicine man ought to get out 'Regulator for Thills and Fever' to control the thrill and fever."

"What do you mean? An ague cure?"

"Well, no; I mean a regulator that'll make the chills come on warm days and the fever on cold days."—Cleveland Leader.

Just in Time.

"Gracious! I can't find the right department," sighed the exhausted shopper. "Oh, my! I'm nearly dead."

"Undertaking department in the basement, ma'am," suggested the prompt and attentive floorwalker.—Philadelphia Press.

The Baltimore clergyman who inquires: "What shall we do with our old men?" labors under a misapprehension. The longevity and the precocity enjoyed by the present generation leave us neither old men nor children.—Washington Star.

CAUSE AND CURE OF RHEUMATISM.

Shown by Numerous Cases Made by Dodd's Kidney Pills—They Cure the Kidneys and the Rheumatism Cures Itself—Remarkable Case of Maggie E. Beckert.

Eagle River, Wis., Jan. 16th.—(Special) That rheumatism is caused by disordered kidneys is proved by the cures Dodd's Kidney Pills are making in every state in the Union. They cure the Kidneys and the Rheumatism cures itself. A cure that has caused deep interest in this neighborhood is that of Maggie E. Beckert. In speaking of it she says:

"I had kidney trouble and rheumatism, and was so lame I could not walk. I could not sleep, for I ached all over. I was in a terrible state and firmly believe that if I had not used Dodd's Kidney Pills I would be dead. I took nine boxes of them and they have done me more good than all the other medicines I ever took. Now my aches are all gone, I can eat and sleep and I am feeling good. I want the world to know the Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

In England a man cannot marry his deceased wife's sister, but in this country he may marry his divorced brother's wife.—N. Y. World.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture gives to Salzer's Oats its heartiest endorsement. Salzer's New National Oats yielded in 1904 from 150 to 300 bu. per acre in 30 different States, and you, Mr. Farmer, can beat this in 1905, if you will.

Spelts or Emmer, above illustrated, gives 80 Bushels grain and lots tons hay besides per acre. It's wonderful. Salzer's seeds are pedigree seeds, bred up through careful selection to big yields.

	Per Acre.
Salzer's Beardless Barley yielded	121 bu.
Salzer's Home Builder Corn	300 bu.
Spelts and Macaroni Wheat	80 bu.
Salzer's Victoria Rape	60,000 lbs.
Salzer's Teosinte Fodder	160,000 lbs.
Salzer's Billion Dollar Grass	50,000 lbs.
Salzer's Pedigree Potatoes	1,000 bu.

Now such yields pay and you can have them, Mr. Farmer, in 1905.

SEND 10c IN STAMPS

and this notice to the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., and you will get their big catalog and lots of farm seed samples free. [K. L.]

All the fun of having a bank account is destroyed for a woman because the cashier knows how much money she hasn't got.—N. Y. Press.

Winter Tourist Tickets

Are now on sale at very low rates via the Louisville and Nashville R. R. from St. Louis, Evansville, Louisville and Cincinnati to all the Winter Resorts in the South, Southeast and Cuba. For illustrated booklets on Florida, Cuba or New Orleans, time tables and rates, address, C. L. Stone, General Pass. Agent, Louisville, Ky.

After a man once loses his reputation it is pretty hard for him ever to lose it again.—Judge.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

To insure accuracy naval chronometers are kept on ice.

Piso's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of as a cough cure.—J. W. O'Brien, 322 Third Ave., N., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6, 1900.

A great mind will neither give an affront nor bear it.—Home.

The whipping post has lately been suggested as a cure for about everything except frenzied finance. Why not try it on that?—N. Y. Mail.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF TORTURE.

Itching and Painful Sores Covered Head and Body—Cured in a Week by Cuticura.

"For fifteen years my scalp and forehead was one mass of scaba, and my body was covered with sores. Words cannot express how I suffered from the itching and pain. I tried many doctors and treatments, but could get no help, and had given up hope when a friend told me to get Cuticura. After bathing with Cuticura Soap and applying Cuticura Ointment for three days, my head was as clear as ever, and to my surprise and joy, one cake of Soap and one box of ointment made a complete cure in one week. (Signed) H. B. Franklin, 717 Washington St., Allegheny, Pa."

The man who struggles unsuccessfully against fortune is apt to feel that he has been robbed of the decision.—Puck.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.

Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

The first successful flour mill was erected in London in 1704.

THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends as has

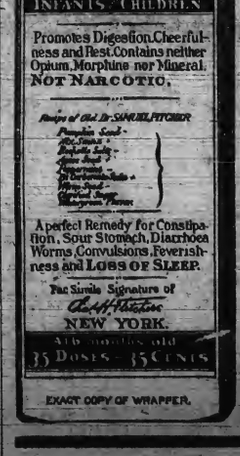
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacement of the Womb, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Leucorrhœa than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the Uterus in an early stage of development.

Irregular, Suppressed or Painful Menstruation, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Flooding, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to it. Womb troubles, causing pain, weight and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it invigorates the female system, and is as harmless as water.

It quickly removes that Bearing-down Feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, Dizziness, Faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues" and Headache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the Uterus, which this medicine always cures. Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex, the Vegetable Compound always cures.



Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

The Feeble Lad.

Indulgent Mother—John, I wish you'd quit sending that boy around on all sorts of errands. He's not a bit well lately and hardly able to get back and forth from the practice meets of his athletic club.—Baltimore American.

The 1905 Calendar of N. W. Ayer & Son, of Philadelphia, is 14x28 inches and designed for office or library. The color scheme is gray and white and is very harmonious. These Calendars have enjoyed a steady sale for years at twenty-five cents each; for this sum, which barely covers cost and postage, a copy may be had as long as the edition lasts.

Pity the boy who, at his birth, is sentenced to idleness for life.—Chicago Record-Herald.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

ALWAYS CALL FOR A CIGAR BY ITS NAME

"CREMO"

MEANS MORE THAN ANY OTHER NAME

BROWN BANDS GOOD FOR PRESENTS

"Largest Seller in the World"

UNITED STATES

FARMS WESTERN CANADA FREE

IMPORTING CANADIAN WHEAT IS NOW A FACT.

Get a FREE HOMESTEAD in WESTERN CANADA, or buy some of the best wheat lands on the continent, and become a producer.

The average yield of wheat this year will be about twenty bushels to the acre. The oat and barley crop will also yield abundantly. Splendid climate, good schools, and churches, excellent marketing facilities.

Apply for information to SUPERINTENDENT OF IMMIGRATION, Ottawa, Canada, or to H. M. WILLIAMS, Law Building, Toledo, O. Authorized Canadian Government Agent.

Please say where you saw this advertisement.

$1.00 A YEAR

Will Buy the CHICAGO DAILY RECORD-HERALD

A Dollar and a Half Daily Newspaper for the American Home. All important news, market reports, fine department for men, women and children. Printing nothing which persons cannot read to their children. Price, $1.00 a year; 8 cents for 6 months; 50 cents for 3 months. All subscriptions stopped when time is out. Subscribe to-day. Address CHICAGO RECORD-HERALD CO., 84 Cass Cola Building, Chicago, Ill.

PILES ANAKESIS gives immediate relief and permanently cures in 10 days. FREE TRIAL. For free sample address ★ ANAKESIS, Suite 1, 1122 Broadway, Manhattan Building, New York.

PATENTS 32 page book FREE. Highest references. Best results. Send sketch or model for free report as to patentability. Patents secured by us advertised for sale at our expense in World's Progress. Letters from inventors everywhere. Address, PATENT-GETTER, PITTSBURGH, PA.

A. N. K.—B 2067

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

BOONE CO., RECORDER
Wednesday, - - Jan. 4, 1905.
W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher

THE Statehood Bill is engaging the attention of the National Senate this week

THE Japs and the Russians have not been doing much since the fall of Port Arthur.

Lafayette Georgia comes to the front with a $40,000 bank robbery. The thieves escaped.

THE legislature will do the proper thing by selecting the site for the new capitol if it decides that the old grounds are too small.

Two legal hangings in Kentucky last week—on Tuesday at Winchester, and one at Lexington on Friday. They both went through the same scaffold.

IF you will read the inside pages of the RECORDER each week you will find therein much valuable information. The local and neighborhood news are not its only valuable features.

NOTING the fact that a big circus is to be sold at auction the Washington Post suggests that the government bid it in and use it to entertain the country while congress is not in session.

THE Beckham-Blackburn quarrel is creating much interest among Kentucky politicians just now. Each man has his friends and the quarrel will not redound to the interest of the party in the State.

When bilious try a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and realize for once how quickly a first-class up-to-date medicine will correct the disorder. For sale by all Drug gists.

AT last accounts the Tobacco Growers' Company had not completed all the arrangements necessary for handling the 1904 crop, although those on the inside express themselves sanguine of its ultimate success.

AND what do you think? President Roosevelt has come out in opposition to the proposition to reduce the South's representation in Congress, and that settles that question so long as he is an occupant of the White House.

WITH the coming retirement of Senator Cockrell of Missouri will go the last pair of cowhide boots from the senate. When he first took his seat, twenty-nine years ago, he wore this antebellum footgear, and he still clings to it.

In response to its invitation Hon. W. J. Bryan addressed the Indiana legislature one day last week. It looks like the political millennium is approaching when a Republican body of lawmakers call on Mr. Bryan for a speech.

GEO. B. COX, of Cincinnati, has declared for Herrick's renomination as Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio, which settles the contest for the nomination. The boys in the trenches will have nothing to say in the matter.

THE selection of a site for the State Capitol seems likely to be left to the State Capitol Commission. Senator George has introduced a bill in the Senate making provision to this effect, and a nearly identical bill will probably be brought forward in the House.

GOV. BECKHAM and Senator J. C. S. Blackburn are engaged in a newspaper scrap. The Senator is reported as saying in Washington that he does not want any of the Beckham machine's assistance in his reelection, and that the Beckham machine, if not destroyed, will be the ruination of the Democratic party in Kentucky. At that statement the Governor took umbrage, and went into the card writing business.

Mr. W. G. Vanderbilt has issued a pamphlet showing how a cool million can be made out of a little thousand, and he believes his book and advice ought to be in the hands of every man who works for a living. If Mr. Vanderbilt will send out the "little thousand" with each of his books, he will enable a great many persons to give his theory a trial, who, otherwise, will not be able to make a start for the million. Come, Mr. Vanderbilt, give the readers of your book a chance to prove that you know whereof you are writing.

Farmers say they have never known help to be as hard to get, nor have prices ever been so high. Any kind of a hand wants almost twice his worth, if he will work at all. One farmer, near town is paying a dollar a day and three meals for hands to shuck corn, and we know of one who last week not only paid this price but came to town in a wagon every morning, hauled the negroes to his farm, fed them and then hauled them to town at night. This was kept up until his large crop of corn was shucked. There are plenty of negroes here, but not one in ten will work at any price. The good ones are eagerly sought after, and any man who can work and will work can get most any wages he wants. Many farmers are renting their places and moving to towns for the simple reason that they cannot get help to handle the crops.

This state of case exists all over Kentucky, and every exchange coming to our desk contains articles on this subject. In some towns a good cook is worth her weight in gold, and a house girl, a luxury few people can afford. Many of the better class of darkies have moved to Indiana and Ohio, as they claim to get better wages up there. In this claim they misrepresent, for if they would work as hard and as faithfully down here as they do up there they would be worth more money and get better prices in Kentucky. It is a very serious proposition to the farmers and house keepers, and a problem hard to figure out. —Lancaster Record.

That a man who had been cowhided, beaten, shot full of holes, carved by bowie knives and "left for dead" should die at 80 in bed was the late Colonel Dan Anthony's way of illustrating "life's little ironies."

Anthony, a brother of Susan B., was a Kansas editor. He went to the state 50 years ago, when it was one big fighting field. Once his paper, the Leavenworth Times, bitterly assailed a local editor. The men met on the street, pistols drawn. Afterward people came from behind the trees and picked Anthony up. His aorta was cut, and as no one had then survived that wound—or so it was thought—the doctor said he would die soon. The bitter cold of winter checked the flow of blood, however, and he was put to bed.

After a short sleep Anthony woke to ask the nurse what time it was. "Six," she replied.

"Say, that's a good joke on 'Doc,'" chuckled the editor. "He said I'd be dead by 5:30."

Once, in 1875, a rival editor, Mr. Imbry, "shot Anthony up." He threw on the treatment. During the war he was knifed while trying to rescue a slave, but lived. As Mayor of Leavenworth, years ago, he was a favorite target for the turbulent. Cowhidings and beatings with heavy canes were incidents.

Anthony's last encounter was in 1899, when he was 76 years old. Ex-Sheriff Bond, a giant in statue, helped by another man, got the old editor down and beat him and stamped upon him. He drew a revolver, but the friend saved Bond by knocking the weapon up. Anthony recovered. "I'm going to die of disease or old age," he said.

Anthony wasn't always bloodthirsty. An actor, angered by Kansas criticism, came to his office one day to "lick the editor." He turned the hose on the visitor and went back to his desk. Once he was arrested for carrying a revolver wrapped up in paper. The lethal weapon turned out to be a piece of lead pipe bent pistol-shape—not a bad defensive weapon.

Curiously enough, Anthony wasn't a good shot. He never killed any one but a man named Setterlee. Once a gang of some 15 men opened fire on him, and he emptied two six-shooters in their direction. "Upon my honor," he said, "I never touched a man. I concluded that bricks were much more deadly weapons than pistols."

Why do we always talk of putting on our coats and vests, when we always put on first our vest and then our coat?

Why do we refer to the coverings of our feet as shoes and stockings when the socks are first put on?

Why do we invite people to wipe their feet, when we mean their shoes.

Why in the olden times did a father tell his son he would warm his jacket when every one knew he meant his pantaloons?—Globe-Democrat.

NOTICE!

There are 900 Delinquent Taxpayers in Boone County. After 60 days all persons who have not paid their Poll-Tax will be advertised, and I will appoint a deputy to levy on property belonging to the Poll-tax payers of Boone County. If you don't want your names in the paper and your Horses, Buggies and Cows and other personal property advertised and sold you had better pay your taxes.

B. B. ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

John T. Stamper, pltfs
vs. Equity.
Carrie E. Williams, &c, defts

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Dec., term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public sale, on Monday the 6th day of Feb., 1905, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabouts, being county court day, upon a credit of 6, 12 & 18 months, the following described property to-wit:

Parcel No. 1:—A certain lot of land situated in the county of Boone, and State of Kentucky, lying in the town of McVille, and bounded as follows: Beginning at the North-west corner of lot No. 5, at its intersection of Alley No. 3 and Center Street; thence with Center Street to Vine Street; thence with Vine street 38 feet; thence at right-angles with Vine Street and parallel with Center street to Alley No. 3; thence with alley No 3 to the place of beginning. Book 38, page 372, Boone County Records.

Parcel No. 2:—A tract of land lying and being in Boone County, Kentucky and bounded on the East by the lands of Peggy A. Kyle, Harvey Marshall and J. H. Walton; and on the West by the lands of Elizabeth Akin; on the North by the lands of Isaac McMullen; on the south by the lands of Mary Wingate, containing 8 acres. Deed Book 45, page 586.

Parcel No. 3:—Being lot No. 1 in the division of the lands of John Henderson between his children James Henderson and Nancy Henderson, and bounded thus:—Beginning at a Beech tree, corner of Mrs. Rhoda Underhill's dower, and also corner to Edwin M. Gaines; thence with said Gaines' line s 46¾ w 61½ poles to a hickory tree; thence crossing a deep hollow s 80 w 27½ poles to a stone, corner to Gaines; thence s 22 e 112 poles to a stone in William Bondurant's line, corner of lot No. 2; thence with a line of said lot s 85¼ e 72½ poles to a leaning swamp ash on an island in Gunpowder creek; thence up said creek, making the center thereof the line, n 24 e 20 poles, n 37 w 53½ poles to two Sycamores, lower corner of Mrs. Underhill's dower; thence with her line n 61 w 42 poles to a stone and honey locust bush; thence n 12 e 50½ poles to a White oak and stone; thence n 22 w 40 poles to the beginning, containing 59 acres. Book E. Wills and Iuvt., page 369, Boone County Records.

Parcel No. 4:—Being lot No. 1 in the partition of the lands of John Henderson, deceased, and bounded thus:—Lying and situated in Boone County, Kentucky, Beginning at the upper corner of the Nancy Stamper tract on Gunpowder Creek; thence with the line of said tract n 58¾ w 13 68 chains to a stone and haw bush; thence n 14¼ e 13 87 chains to a stone, a corner with George Campbell; thence with his line north 31 e 7 66 chains to a stone; thence s 42¼ e 22 97 chains to a stone on Gunpowder Creek; thence down the creek s 53¼ w 15.24 chains, s 16¾ e 5 chains, s 36¾ e 5. 30 chains to the beginning, containing 30 A., 3. R and 29 poles. Commissioner's Deed Book No. 3 page 236, Boone County Records.

(Parcels Nos 1 & 2 will be sold separately. Parcels Nos. 3 & 4 lie adjoining, and will be offered separately and then together, and the bid making the most money will be accepted.)

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities must execute bond, bearing legal interest from date of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Hebron Perpetual Building and Loan Association, plaintiff
against Equity.
B. F. Zimmer, &c., defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Dec., term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court-house door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder at public auction on Monday the 6th day of February, 1905, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being county court day, upon a credit of 6 & 12 months, the following described property, to-wit:

A lot or parcel of land in Boone county, Ky., and bounded thus: Lying and being in Constance, Ky., and being the east portion of lot No. 2 in the division of lands of William Masters, deceased: Beginning at a stone on the Ohio river, lower corner of Duly Masters; thence with his line s 20¼ w 90½ poles to another corner of said lot in J. W. Hood's line; thence with said line n 69¾ w 61 7-11 feet to a stone in said line; thence n 20¼ e 90 1-5 poles to a corner under the bank of the Ohio river; thence s 70 e 61 7 11 feet to the beginning, containing 3 acres and 29 7-11 poles of land more or less.

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment, with a lien retained thereon until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $551 82.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

Lets Talk it Over

among ourselves about

Tea-Coffee.

We know you enjoy a good cup of either and want one that will "Just Suit" you. We believe we can please any one who will say just what kind he likes.

We don't sell our "35c Java and Mocha" for 20c, nor our "$1.00 Tea for 75c" or "75c Tea for 60c," as some dealers claim to do—day in and day out.

We do sell as good Tea as can possibly be given for the money and believe we take more care and pains in selecting and having it of uniform quality than most people, and want you to try it for yourself.

O. K. Coffee, per pound..... 12½c
Salvador Coffee, per pound..... 15c
Money Worth Blend Coffee, per lb.... 17c
Three pounds for 50c.
Golden Blend Coffee, per pound..... 20c
Caracas or Gutamala Coffee, per lb... 25c
Java and Mocha Coffee, per pound..... 30c
Mixed Tea, Gren Tea Oolong, Gunpowder Tea, per pound..... 40c
Capitol Blend Tea, per pound..... 60c
Sunbeam Blend Tea, per pound..... 75c
Gunpowder Tea per pound...40, 60, 75c

Geo. G. Goode,
—Agent,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, Ky.

C. J. WOLFF,
SPECIALIST FOR
TRUSSES, BRACES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
Personal attention given every case.
Experience 40 years.
13th & Race, opp. Washington Park, Cincinnati, O.

Miss. Agnes Westley
816 Wells Street.
Marinette, Wis.

816 Wells Street,
MARINETTE, WIS., Sept. 25, 1903.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

AGNES WESTLEY,
Sec'y, North Wisconsin Holland Society.

Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui and a 25c. package of Thedford's Black-Draught today.

WINE OF CARDUI

WILSTAR,
Record 2174
Will make the season of 1905 at McHenry's livery stable in Rising Sun Indiana. Persons booking mares before the first of April will save $5. After that time the terms will be $30 to insure a living colt.
SCRANTON BROS., Owners,
apr1 Rising Sun, Ind.

Deposits Earning Interest.

THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK & TRUST COMPANY, Inc.

N. E. Cor. Sixth St. and Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, KY.

Receives deposits of money subject to withdrawal after a specified time, or subject to check without notice, ALLOWING INTEREST ON ALL DAILY BALANCES.

Interest is credited semi-annually on the first days of January and July and when the same is not withdrawn it is added to the principal AND DRAWS INTEREST.

It is not necessary to call in person to open an account, as all communications by mail receive prompt attention.

In its several departments, THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY

Acts as Agent; Collects Rents and Renders Accounts as desired; Loans Money on Approved Security; Rents Safe Deposit Boxes; Administers Estates and Acts as Guardian, Trustee, etc; Attends carefully to Trust Estates of Widows, Minors, Etc.

—ALL TRANSACTIONS CONFIDENTIAL.—

CAPITAL STOCK, $100.000.
Stockholders' Liability, $100.000.

JNO. P. ERNST, President. JOHN A. SIMPSON, Vice-President
C. W. SIMRALL, Sec'y & Treas.
Long Distance Telephone, South 214.

J. G. BENTLER & SON,
Lexington Pike, ERLANGER, KY.
Practical Horse Shoeing, General Blacksmithing
and Wagon Repairing of all kinds,
All kinds of Tool Grinding. - Also Bicycle Repairing.
Grinding of all Kinds to Order.

Hay and Grain,
AND ALL KINDS OF MILL FEED,
By Retail or Car Load. Call and Learn Our Prices.

CORN.
ARE YOU READY TO lay IN YOUR SUPPLY?

We are loading cars every day at our Elizabethtown Elevator in the Miami Bottoms, and you know what quality that is.

We are prepared to put it at any point along the Southern, and would like to hear from you when you are ready to buy.

Early & Daniel,
—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in—
Hay, Grain, Feed and Flour,
Pike St. and L. N. Ry.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.
—GOLDEN GRAIN FLOUR OUR SPECIALTY.

In our opinion a business conducted on an honest basis, furnishing the best "VALUES" possible for the "MONEY" and extending fair treatment to all

'ALWAYS WINS'
—Our Watchword has and always will be—
Honesty, -- Honest Clothing at
"HONEST PRICES."
We show a fine line of Mens', Boys' & Children's
CLOTHING

Men's Suits.....	$5.00 to $15.00.	Boys' Suits.....	$4.00 to $10.00
Men's Overcoats..	4.00 to 15.00.	Children's Suits..	2.50 to 5.00
Childrens Overcoat	2.50 to 5.00.	Boys' Overcoats..	4.00 to 10.00

These are made in every conceivable style and fashion.

Mens' Corduroy Suit, $5, $7.50, $10 and $12—these are made to stand the rough usage and abuse. We also carry a complete line of Corduroy and Jean Pants, Duck Coats, and other clothing necessary for health and comfort.

ROLFES & WACHS,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Subscribe for Your Connty Paper, $1.50.

Local News.

Public sales this month: H. O. Rouse's 30th; Mrs. Laura Vaughn, 26th.

Now is the time to have your clock cleaned before the roads get bad. Clark does the work right.

W. [illegible]dy, of Florence, will be in Burlington every Monday morning from now on with a supply of nice, fresh meat.

The Woolper Telephone Company will hold a meeting at Woolper school house January 21st. All who are interested are requested to attend the meeting, which will be at 10 a. m.

What is three-sevenths of chicken, two-thirds of cat, and one-half of goat? Of course you give it up. Well, the answer is Chicago. 'Chi' is three-sevenths of chicken, 'ca' is two-thirds of cat, and 'go' is one-half of goat.

Congressman-elect Joseph L. Rhinock was in Washington, D. C., last week, and recommended Archibald McGlasson, son of George E. McGlasson, of Bullittsville neighborhood, as a cadet at Annapolis Naval Academy.

Mr. Wm. S. Crane, of California, Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did and it effected a complete cure. This liniment is for sale by All Druggists.

Mt. Pleasant Grange will hold an All-Day Session at its hall next Saturday, January 21st. Mortimer Whitehead, Past Lecturer of the National Grange, will be present and deliver an address. It will be and open session, and a basket dinner. The public is invited. Installation of officers will be public.

Walter Lassing, son of Dr. H. O. Lassing, of Union, who has been attending Annapolis Naval Academy, will be sent to sea for a two years' cruise. He stood second out of a class of 113 in rifle practice, and fourteenth in general gunnery practice, and at the head of the class in modern language.

The owners of the ferret had one big day last week. They bagged 15 nice, fat juicy rabbits, which they sold at 10 cents around. Out of one rendezvous the ferret brought 7 rabbits, all which were captured, owing to Mr. Baldon's lightning work with his hands and the unerring aim of Elmer Beall with his shot gun.

An Exchange has just discovered that the moon gets full, but he keeps on a shining; rain drops but it gets up again; the stars shoot but do not kill; the willows weep but do not shed a tear; night falls but does not break; the day breaks but does not fall; the fly swallows and the swallows fly; the bees buzz and so do the girls.

The person or persons who carried away from my residence on the day of Mrs. Casey's funeral, or within several days after, six tablespoons, silver—her bridal presents—also 3 silver teaspoons, initials T. D., tablespoons, initials, N. A. C., will please return and oblige, and no questions will be asked.

H. J. Casey.

Will somebody please chase the cow down this way," asked the funny man who wanted some milk for his oatmeal Sunday morning. Seizing the cream pitcher and starting it down the line, the landlady rushingly replied. "Please hurry the cow to where that calf is bawling." The funny man now takes his meals at the restaurant.

Dr. Geo. Smith, coroner, of Dearborn county, Indiana, was attending to business in Burlington, one day last week. The Doctor has bought the McCollough drugstore in Lawrenceburg, and being a Boone county product he is entitled to a good trade from this side of the river and there is no doubt but Boone county people will be loyal to him.

Boone County Pomona Grange will have a public installation of officers in Burlington on Saturday, January 28th, beginning at 10 a. m. Hon. Mortimer Whitehead, Past Lecturer of the National Grange, will conduct the installation ceremonies. Every Granger in the county is requested to be present, and to bring provisions for the basket dinner. The public is invited.

Attorney F. E. Curley, of Walton, has filed in the Boone circuit court a 50,000 damage suit wherein Grover Bowlington, of Walton, seeks to recover that amount against the L. & N. Railroad. He was working for the road and was using a whitewash when the compound exploded, destroying the sight of one of his eyes and injuring the sight of the other one badly.

In Memory of Mrs. James Rogers.

Laura V. Walton was born March 24th, 1853, and was united in marriage with James Rogers, October 5, 1871. To that union five sons were given to bless their home, all of whom are now living and married, and useful and honorable citizens, and were the pride and joy of their mother. She united with the Bellview Baptist church in October, 1881, and was a useful and devoted member the remainder of her life. She departed this life Friday, January 6th, 1905. Her summons was sudden but she was fully prepared to meet her Savior. She had made the most careful and detailed preparation for her departure. While pleasantly situated with those who carefully and lovingly cared for her she awaited the summons from on high. She was a kind and true companion, a loving and indulgent mother, an honored daughter and a devoted sister, and esteemed neighbor. Her cheerful and sunny temperament shed a luster of happiness over all whom she met, and her presence was always like a sunbeam to her associates, among whom she was ever regarded as one whom it was wise to follow. Life was sweet to her as long as there were hopes, but as the last ray of hope faded how sweet it was to die, and resigned was she to leave this world of trouble, and enter into that beautiful haven of rest, where parting is unknown and farewell tears are never shed. After a brief religious service at the church of which she was a member, on the 9th inst., conducted by Rev. Atwood, the remains were laid to rest in the new cemetery at Belleview. The throng of relatives and friends that followed the remains to the grave was a strong testimonial of the esteem in which Mrs. Rogers was held, and the deep sympathy manifested for the bereaved husband and sons.

The pall-bearers were the five sons, Alpha, Ome, John, William and Bernard, and a brother-in-law, Dr. Riffe, of Erlanger.

One less at home!
The charmed circle broken—a dear face
Missed day by day from its accustomed place;
But, cleansed, and saved, and perfected by grace—
One more in heaven!

C. H. A.

Burlington School.

The names of the following pupils were placed on the Honor Roll for December:

Primary Department.

Edwin Duncan, Atha Eddins, Jessie Clore, Virgil Gaines, Sally Castleman, Margaret Hughes, Walton Dempsey, David Beall, Everett Tungate, Kenneth Baldon, Shirley Maxwell, Ida Ratcliff, Maud Utz, Florence Maxwell, Carrie Porter, Pearl Clore, Mary Vest, Leola Clore, Kittie Beall, John Walton, Ruth Maxwell, Mary Castleman, Laura F. Riddell, Harold Gaines, Marshall Hall.

Grammar and High School.

Alice Carver, Mary Utz, Laura Porter, Lester Culley, Frances Grant, Robert Gaines, Frank Gibson, Stanley Eddins, May Clore, Tommy Rice, Henry Adams, Grover Snyder, Gordon Gaines, Tommy Fowler, Willie Ryle, Shirley Tolin, Bessie Hall, Jenny L. Castleman, Laura Maxwell, Russell Smith, Garnett Tolin, Tommy Hensley, Cleveland Snyder, Dudley Blythe, Craig Baldon, Cecil Gaines, Elmer Fowler, Nellie Berkshire, Mary Roberts, Eddie Bentler, Jessie Gibson, Newton Sullivan, Willie Duncan.

I have completed and opened a well equipped livery stable on Carneal street near Elm, where horses and rigs will receive the best of attention. Boone county people will find it to their advantage to leave their horses and buggies with me.

I make two trips daily to the city with my express wagon.

B. S. CLORE, Ludlow.

Wonderful Nerve

Is displayed by many a man enduring pains of accidental Wounds Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Sore feet, or stiff joints. But there's no need for it. Bucklen's Arnica Salve will kill the pain and cure the trouble. It's the best Salve on earth for Piles, too. 25c at all Druggists.

Card of Thanks—We take this method of expressing our gratitude to our many friends, far and near, for their kindness shown us in our sad affliction in the loss of a dear wife and a mother, and especially to Mrs. Slater, of Erlanger, for her donation of a box of beautiful flowers.

James Rogers and sons.

Wanted—Young man or lady to sell coffee and tea direct to consumers. A good salary to a hustler.

Kentucky Grocery Co.,
Ludlow, Ky.

Notice—Examination for Common School Diplomas will be held in Burlington on Friday and Saturday, January 27 and 28.

D. M. Snyder, County Sup't.

Geo. Blyth came over to town with his one horse power scraper, last Wednesday morning, and removed the snow from the sidewalks and street crossings.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Ed Hawes is visiting her father, near Florence.

James L. Clore is sojourning for a few days at Columbus.

Mr. Oscar Gaines and daughters dined several of their friends, last Sunday.

John Clore, of Hebron, was in town Monday. Everything, he said, was alright in his country.

Dr. Gordon McKim, of Cincinnati, was the guest of his parents here a few days last week.

Joseph Bullock, the Hebron tailor, was over last Thursday talking spring suits to Burlington patrons.

W. B. Arnold, of Bellevue, was in town last Thursday, and reported everything in his locality in good shape for the cold weather.

John Mannin, the Hebron telephone man, came over last Thursday and put in a telephone for Johnnie Hogan on the Hebron line.

Ennis Nixon, the Gasburg peace officer, was ansacting business in Burlington, one day last week, and incidentally made the Recorder a call.

Thomas Cowen, who is engaged in the insurance business in Memphis, Tennessee, is here, having been called home by the serious illness of his mother.

James Stephens, of the Union voting precinct, was among the visitors to town last Monday. He was looking like a twenty year old, and was in fine spirits.

O. P. Conner, Johnnie Hogan and J. L. Riley have formed a partnership for buying tobacco. They will handle tobacco at Burlington and Bullittsville, and may be at some other point or points in the county.

County Clerk Adams received a consignment of dressed coons from a Limaburg friend, one night last week. He hung the carcasses out to ripen, at the conclusion of which process he had a feast on coons and p'pper.

Revs. Selby and Carter concluded last Sunday night, the series of meetings in progress at the Methodist church. There were no additions, but probably much good seed was sown. Rev. Carter is an interesting preacher, and has a bright future.

Edward Maurer, pilot on the steamer Cincinnati, and William Maurer, pilot on the Workum, were among the Recorder's callers last Monday. They are both elegant gentlemen, and are among the best steamboatmen on the river. They are Belleview boys—natives of a town that has furnished more steamboat pilots than anyother town of its size in the United States.

Joe Weaver, of Hathaway, who will soon be on the list of retired merchants, was in town last Monday. He says he will farm on an extensive scale this summer, beginning as soon as the sign is right in March. Besides a large crop of tobacco, he says he will raise a large herd of shorthorn poultry and a large flock of Plymouth Rock cattle. He was hunting hands to sign to help him hoe tobacco next summer.

It is about time another cold wave was sweeping across the country.

The Grangers will have a big day at the court house in Burlington on the 27th inst.

The coal wagons are doing some business this week. The last few weeks have required the consumption of considerable fuel.

New Grocery.

Having opened a grocery in Union, where everything first class in that line will be kept, I solicit your patronage.

N. W. Burkett,
Union, Ky.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

The uniform success of this remedy has made it the most popular preparation in use for bowel complaints. It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant to take. For sale by all Druggists.

The following transfers of real estate were recorded last week:

John Weisicle to Laura B. Marshall, 14 acres near Rock spring—$900.

W. H. Sebree to Owen Beemon, 50¼ acres on Woolper and Doublelink creeks—$825.

E. J. Anderson and others to W. W. Tunner, 8¼ acres—$200.

Mr. Jacob Rouse, of Limaburg, has one of the most industrious turkey hens in the county, and her business record for 1904 is hard to beat. She did not settle down to business until the month of April, in which month she laid 13 eggs; in May she laid 16; when she went to setting and hatched a brood of 16 young turkeys, which she raised. In October she laid 17 eggs; in November and December, 23, completing her work on the 23d of that month.

Sheriff's Sale for Taxes.

The Sheriff of Boone County, Kentucky, hereby gives notice to the Delinquent Taxpayers of Boone county, that he will in compliance with Chapter 108 of the Kentucky Statutes and amendments thereto, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, for cash, all or so much of the property hereinafter described, listed to the respective persons named as per Assessors returns for 1904, as may be necessary to pay State and County taxes assessed against same together with all penalties, cost of advertising and commissions, at the Court House Door in Burlington, Boone County, Kentucky, on Monday, February 6th, 1905, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 3 o'clock p. m., the following described property. Reference is had to the Original Assessor's book at County Clerk's Office, Burlington, Ky., for the more particular description of the property herein advertised.

BULLITTSVILLE PRECINCT.

Ben Wainscott, nr., 3 acres	3,85

FLORENCE PRECINCT.

J. C. Buckner, town lot	11,05
J. O. Carpenter, 2 town lots	21,60
G. W. Crouch, nr., town lot	3,50
W. J. Cody, town lot	7,05
Marcus Fane, 15 acres	5,15
Alber Golway, town lot	4,00
F. H. Mead, nr, town lot	2,85
Jas. Mead, nr., town lot	2,85

PETERSBURG PRECINCT.

Catherine Baur, 20 acres	12,20
Debora Bradley's est., town lot	4,15
Henry Hoffman, nr., town lot	3,35
Fannie McGuire, nr., town lot	3,50
D. C. Peck, nr., town lot	3,50
B. A. Pease, town lot	6,35
W. W. Smith, est., town lot	2,15
E. D. Whorton, town lot	4,60
Francis Gibbs, (col) town lot	2,85
Melvina Parker, (col), town lot	2,15

BELLEVUE PRECINCT.

Elizabeth Aiken, 49 acres	8,15
Frank Buffington, nr., 6 acres	3,10
T. J. Clore, town lot	16,20
Mrs. I. Kidwell, town lot	4 85
John H. Presser, town lot	4,35

UNION PRECINCT.

Robt. Adams, nr., 11 acres	2,80
John T. Davis, 26 acres	6,00
G. V Rouse, town lot	3,95
Catherine Weaver, nr., 25 acres	5,50

BEAVER PRECINCT.

J. B. Eldred, town lot, 2 years	8,25
William Gilpin, town lot	5,30
O. D. Williams, 156 acres	18,35

CONSTANCE PRECINCT.

Mary Bills, town lot	2,80
Henry Fox, 2 acres	2,15
Mary A. Gilchrist, town lot	3,50
Mrs. Mildred Klasserner, t. lot	3,70
Minnie Marshall, town lot	2,85
Edgar Morehead, 2 town lots	6,20
John N. Reeves, 6 acres	5,20
Wm. Smith, 2 town lots	6,20
W B. Vickers, 25 acres	10,50
B. F. Zimmer, town lot	11,95
Fred Zimmer, 27 acres	16,80

CARLTON PRECINCT.

Anna Acra, 48 acres	5,50
Smith N. Riggs, town lot	5,00
Joseph Riggs, 4 acres	7,15
Wm. Stephens (col) nr., town lot	1,85

HAMILTON PRECINCT.

G. L. Pitcher, town lot	5,65
Martha A. Rich, 37 acres	4,15
Wm. Shinkle, 30 acres	6,65
Thos. B. Wilson, 10 acres	6,85

VERONA PRECINCT.

Mrs. W. C. Adams, 48 acres	7,30
E. W. Benson, 26 acres	6,95
Lillie Hoard, nr., 10 acres	2,15
G. E. Jarman, nr., 10 acres	2,65
W. E. McKinzie, 30 acres	5,50
Wm. Washum, town lot	5,50
Conway Webster, 2 acres	4,85
Wm. Sleet, (col) town lot	3,30

WALTON PRECINCT.

C. Y. Dyas, town lot	4 85
Daniel Franks nr., 13 acres	4 15
John Grubbs, town lot	5,65
Eliza Gorman, 2 acres	7,85
Mrs. Emma Lermond, t lot	8,15
Mrs. M. E. Martin, town lot	11,50
Rebecca Ross, nr., 3 acres	2,15
Leona Rouse, town lot	2,50
W. O. Rouse, 2 town lots	8,15
Edward Stamler, town lot	9,85
Eliza Vallandingham, town lot	4,15
Mrs. R. L. Weaver, nr, town lot	3,20
Chas. Wilson, nr., town lot	3,10

B. B. ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

50 WOMEN
WILL BE TAKEN
BY THE
Cincinnati Commercial Tribune
ON A
TOUR OF EUROPE
They will go as guests of The Commercial Tribune absolutely
FREE,
With all expenses paid.
Read the Sunday Cincinnati Commercial Tribune for particulars.

FOR RENT.
A good farm of 112 acres, with house and barn ½ mile from Southern Railroad, near Buffington Station. Apply to Leona B. Stephens, 1049 Scott Street Covington, Ky.

Subscribe for the Recorder

JANUARY BARGAINS.
We want to make room for Spring Goods which will arrive in a short time. In order to do this we have put the prices on our Winter Goods away down, in some instances away below cost. We have room to mention only a few of our many bargains.

Schofield's Flannel Skirts, worth	50c	reduced to 38c
Schofield's Jeans, worth	50c to 60c yd	reduced to 35c yd
Outing Flannels, worth	10 to 12½c yd	reduced to 08c yd
Ladies' Lined Shoes, worth	$1 25	reduced to 80c
Ladies' Lined Shoes, worth	$2 00	reduced to $1 25
Men's Storm Coats, worth	$2 50	reduced to $1 00

And many other goods including Flannels, Gloves, Caps, &c.
W. M. Rachal & Co
UNION, KY.

H. G. BLANTON,
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.
Special Rates to Traveling Men.
First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.
Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.
Leave Orders with J. C. Revill, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.
Tested Field and Garden Seeds.
Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.
Largest and Best Stock of
GROCERIES IN THE CITY.
Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.
When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Livery and Sales Stable.
ALLPHIN & HUME, Proprietors,
Walton, Kentucky.
Horses kept by the Meal, Day or Month. Good safe rigs for hire at all times.
Horses Bought, or Sold on Commission
Stable Near Southern Depot. BRUCE ROBERTS, Manager.
'Phone 172½, Hughes' Line.

CEILINGS. SKYLIGHTS. CORNICES
The Porter Iron Roofing & Corrugating Co
27 and 29 West Front Street,
CINCINNATI, - - OHIO.
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Iron, Steel, Galvanized & Felt Roofing.
Our Agents will give you wholesale prices.
Agents:—Bruce Anderson, Constance, Ky. L. L. Tanner, Union, Ky.
Our Unexcelled "Heating Drums" are the best. Inquire for Prices.

OH HOW DELIGHTFUL!
The Perfect Deodorizer and Disinfectant
FRAGRINE
Refreshes. Perfumes. Invigorates. Endorsed by Physicians. Most Pleasant of Toilet Requisites.
Most healthful of Household Necessities. Call and try it at JOHN ALLISON'S, Undertaker, Covington, Ky.

For Sale.
Business property in Constance, Ky., consisting of House, Store, Feed Room, Livery Barn of 20 stalls. Will sell property and invoice goods—will sell property and keep stock; also for rent a blacksmith and wagon makers shop.
C. W. ROBINSON,
Constance, Ky.

Dr. G. M. Terrill,
DENTIST,
Walnut Street,
LAWRENCEBURG, - INDIANA.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, . . . KENTUCKY.

CURRENT TOPICS.

Honduras rates fifth in the commercial reports of the world.

Cornwall is the only county in England which has no theater.

Cubans are buying cattle in Venezuela at the rate of 160,000 head a year.

An open box of fresh lime placed in a damp cellar makes the air purer and drier.

In Formosa a man must have a license before he is allowed to smoke opium.

Last year's shipments of oranges from California were the largest ever reported.

Moscow asylum authorities are experimenting on a hypnotic cure for alcoholism.

The ground value of the city of Berlin is said to be worth twice what it was in 1887.

Bolivia and Siam are the only civilized or semi-civilized powers without a national debt.

Mexico stands at the head of the Spanish-American countries in the matter of letters.

Russia has a per capita investment in industrial enterprises of $4, while the United States has $125.

The United States has 139,817 Sunday-schools, or more than half the number of the entire world.

When an unmarried woman dies in Brazil the coffin, hearse and livery of the coachman are all scarlet.

A man won a smoking contest in Paris by keeping a cigar alight for two hours and twenty-five minutes.

St. Moritz, in Switzerland, has the biggest toboggan slide in the world. It is three-quarters of a mile long.

A London fireworks firm has received hundreds of orders from persons "desirous of celebrating the fall of Port Arthur."

Nineteen competitors took part in a race in Paris for men with wooden legs. The winner did a mile and a half in 12 minutes.

The funeral of a young girl, who died after less than two days' illness of diphtheria, was held at Woodsville, N. H., by telephone.

Judge John J. Jackson, of the northern district of West Virginia, still discharges his judicial duties, although over 80 years of age.

Nearly 1,000,000 barrels of oil were produced in the Kentucky-Tennessee field during the year 1904, nearly twice the output of the previous year.

Cuban honey is shipped to Germany, the United States, France and other countries. The amount gathered in 1904 exceeded $600,000 in value.

According to the California Fruit Grower, California in the year 1903-4 produced 165,000,000 pounds of prunes, and 120,000,000 pounds of raisins.

A striped bass three feet six inches in length and weighing 25½ pounds was caught in Russian river, California, recently. It took several hours to land him.

A Turk from Smyrna has applied for membership to the New York stock exchange. He is very rich and a heavy dealer in cotton in Asia Minor and Egypt.

It is estimated that to collect one pound of honey from clover 62,000,000 heads of clover must be deprived of nectar, and 3,750,000 visits from bees must be made.

A postal curiosity is the fact that one of the smallest countries in the world, San Salvador, has issued the enormous number of 405 different postage stamps.

Nearly 40 per cent. more women are working this year at men's labor than worked ten years ago; while the increase of male workers is only a trifle over 25 per cent.

Alabama planters are being urged by banking interests to grow more grain and potatoes, thus reducing the cotton acreage and preventing low prices for the staple.

An investigation by Konradi has shown that the anthrax bacillus may survive in water for three and a half years and the typhoid bacillus for more than 500 days.

Outside the polar regions there remains unexplored, it is claimed, about one-fiftieth of the land surface of the globe. Fifteen years ago the unknown portions were about one-eighth of the earth's total.

Garfield county, California, contributed $270,000 worth of potatoes to the agricultural wealth of the centennial state for 1904. Fifteen hundred carloads is the estimate of the potato crop for that county.

California has a law against the docking of horses' tails. The first arrest under it has just been made, in the person of a veterinary surgeon. He may be fined $500 or imprisoned for six months.

By a recent amendment to the law taxing traveling salesmen in the state of Tabasco, Mexico, all representatives of foreign business houses will have to pay a license fee of $10, and those of local business men $5.

There are more counties in the United States named for Washington than for any other man. The capital, a state and two cities exceeding 10,000 in population bear his name.

Roast swan was a holiday dish in England last year with those who could afford it. A 15-pound bird cost about $10. The flavor of the flesh is said to be a blend of goose and hare.

In a mass of meteoric stone Prof. Meunier, the celebrated French physician, has discovered a number of diamonds of microscopic dimensions, but of regular octahedral form and perfect water.

SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

What Has Transpired During the Past Seven Days.

THE DOINGS IN THE CONGRESS.

Interesting Happenings Throughout the Globe Given in a Condensed Form —The Russian-Japanese War in the Far East.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The bill reported by the committee on banking and currency "to improve currency conditions" was under consideration in the house.

In the senate all amendments to the statehood bill except that relating to liquor traffic in Indian Territory were agreed to.

The appointment of Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles as inspector general of the state of Massachusetts overshadowed all other questions in the discussion of the army appropriation bill in the house.

The senate committee on military affairs recommended the sale of all obsolete rifles, belts and bayonets to posts of the Grand Army, organizations of Sons of Veterans and United Spanish War veterans.

The senate committee ordered a favorable report on Senator Proctor's bill authorizing the president to reward officers for distinguished and especially meritorious service in the army by creating for them grades on the active list to which they may be promoted, known as the "Distinguished service list."

Representative Kyle (Ohio) in a bill introduced authorizes and empowers the president to appoint to the naval service the three midshipmen who were dismissed from the naval academy November 16, 1903, as a result of a court-martial.

RUSSIAN-JAPANESE WAR NEWS.

Nothing has been seen or heard of the Rusian Baltic fleet. It is supposed to be sheltering either in some harbor off Madagascar or off the Comoro islands.

Vice Adm. Doubassoff, the Russian member of the North Sea commission, submitted to Emperor Nicholas a program for a reorganization of the navy, which is absolutely indispensable for success in the war against Japan. Twenty months will be necessary for its execution.

A French military attache returned from the far east expressed the firmest confidence that despite the reverses suffered by the Russians on land and sea, they woud prosecute the war to a successful finish.

The Japanese war office has notified American Minister Griscom that it will be pleased to permit Gen MacArthur and one aide-de-camp to accompany the army of Japan in Manchuria.

The Japanese transport Kamakuru, from Port Dalny, with Gen. Stoessel and others on board, arrived at Nagasaki.

The Russian cavalry was defeated in the neighborhood of Yinkow and retreated in disorder to North Takaokan, leaving 62 killed and six wounded behind. Many abandoned their arms and accoutrements in their flight.

Capts. Kosinoff and Triotgki, with 75 Cossacks, drove the Japanese out of the villages of Mitai and Tchangay and captured a large amount of forage at both places.

Some of the St. Petersburg newspapers are claiming that the Japanese are using the British island of Labuan, near Borneo, as a base, and that the British are concealing the fact.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Gov. Douglas, of Massachusetts, is making an endeavor to end the textile strike in Fall River, Mass.

A book containing the text of Shakespeare's Titus Andronius printed in London in 1594 was discovered at Lund, Sweden. The oldest edition hitherto known is the 1600/quarto.

Attorney General Moody, before the supreme court, presented his arguments in the case against the beef trust.

The Colorado senate, by a party vote, seated James B. Dick in place of Senator Robert M. Born. Dick was unseated by the democratic majority during the contest over election of United States senator two years ago.

Rev. Frederick L. Guthrie, a missionary in Hinghue, China, is dead. He was the founder and principal of the boys' school in Hinghue.

Three men were killed and a woman was burned to death in a wreck on the Cotton Belt railroad at Piggot, Ark. A local freight was standing at Piggot station, when a locomotive crashed into the caboose, reducing the car to kindling wood.

President Palma has forwarded to President Roosevelt an elegantly bound copy of the documents in fac simile recording the establishment and recognition of the Cuban republic.

Louise Michel, prominent as a communist and revolutionary agitator for the last 35 years, died in Marseilles, France, aged 75 years.

John Matthews, an actor who for a time was held as a suspect in connection with the assassination of President Lincoln, died at his boarding house in New York.

The last official act of retiring Gov. Winfield T. Durbin, of Indiana, was the unconditional parole of Rev. Wm. E. Hinshaw, convicted of the murder of his wife, Thurza Hinshaw, whose death occurred at Bellville just ten years ago.

Gen. Matthew C. Butler, formerly United States senator from South Carolina, and Mrs. Walter Whitman, of New York, were married in Grace Chantry, New York.

Dr. Rooss, medical director of the navy in Panama, in an interview, stated that the only way to prevent heavy mortality on the isthmus is to exterminate the mosquito.

Through contributions of persons connected with the New York Red Cross, that society is to have a new hospital. William T. Wardwell, formerly treasurer of the Standard Oil Co., president of the New York Red Cross, has given $100,000 for a site.

A lot, 29 feet 4 inches, at the corner of Fourth and Vine streets, Cincinnati, was sold for $10,300 a front foot.

Five persons were suffocated in a fire in the basement of No. 133 West 130th street, New York.

While attempting to cross the Yazoo diversion canal at Vicksburg, Miss., four Negroes were drowned. The Negroes undertook to cross the canal in a skiff, and in midstream the craft was swamped.

William Shoo, an industrious farmer, who lived eight miles west of Sterling, Ill., was his first drunk and was burned alive in the city jail at Prophetstown, 13 miles west of Sterling.

Alexander Von Fielitz, of Berlin, whose compositions are known in the United States, and who lately was director of the West End orchestra, has been engaged by the Chicago Musical college.

Prof. Alcee Fortier, of Tulane university, has declined the invitation of the University of Cincinnati to become the head of the French department of that institution.

Frustrated in an attempt to break into the room of Miss Elsie Devault, an actress, in the American hotel, Chicago, William McManus turned upon Thomas Davis, who defended the young woman, and shot him dead.

More interesting than all the developments that have so far come to light as the result of recent investigation is the fact that Alice Webb, who claims to be the bride of Brodie L. Duke, the wealthy tobacco manufacturer, not long ago served as a subject for a Chicago clairvoyant.

William J. Quinlan, owner of the Albany baseball team of the New York State League, died at his residence in Albany, N. Y. He had been ill for some months. He was a writer on sporting topics before his advent as a baseball manager.

President Roosevelt favors the earliest possible action looking to a revision by congress of the tariff. He so informed the senators and representatives who were in conference with him at the white house, and he has made plain his position to others since that conference.

A prominent member of the ways and means committee of the house says that the poll which the leaders of the house had conducted of the republican members on the question of tariff revision showed that 90 per cent. of the members who had been approached were against revision.

A statement in opposition to tariff revision is being signed by members of the house from the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast states.

In the Reed Smoot investigation Frank Martin and F. H. Holzheimer, prominent Idaho democrats, testified that a majority of the democrats of the state opposed "an unnecessary attack" on the Mormon church.

Gen. Maximo Gomez, of Cuba, has published a letter declining to allow himself to be mentioned as a candidate for the presidency of Cuba. Gen. Gomez has frequently been mentioned as a possible candidate.

At the republican caucus of the West Virginia legislature, Senator Nathan Bay Scott was unanimously chosen as the candidate of the caucus for United States senator to succeed himself.

Levi P. Morton, former vice president of the United States and governor of New York, is the giver of the $600,000 contribution to the fund for the completion of the cathedral of St. John the Divine, New Orleans.

By order of Judge Smith, in the district court at Helena, Mont., five agents, residing at Butte, who were arrested in the famous beef trust cases, were discharge from custody and their bondsmen exonerated.

According to the report of the bureau of animal industry there was an increase of 43.7 per cent. in the number of American cattle exported and an increase of 116.5 per cent. in sheep exported in 1904 as compared with 1903.

Dr. F. R. Carson, of South Bend, Ind., was elected president of the Central Baseball League, at the meeting held in Dayton, O. He succeeds Geo. W. Bement, who declined renomination.

Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the president, was appointed guardian of her children, Kermit and Ethel C., in connection with the legacy of $5,000 left to each in the will of James King Gracie, of Oyster Bay.

The ninth legislature of Washington convened. The house organized with the election of Joseph Megler, of Wahkiakum county, as speaker.

With a pistol and razor, John Miller, of Chicago, killed his wife and two little daughters and then, after shooting himself through the breast, cut his throat.

Mrs. Cornelia Baxter Tevis, formerly of Denver, Col., and daughter of former Gov. and Mrs. George W. Baxter, of Tennessee, was married to Andrew Hartuppe McKee, of Pittsburg.

The cattle section of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona have been visited by the heaviest and most general snowfall known in many years. A good range is assured for the coming year.

Rebellion against John Alexander Dowie has broken out among his followers in Zion City. Six members of the Zion City colony, whom Dowie ordered ejected, have refused to leave.

William T. Mason, a lawyer, and his family, consisting of wife and two children, Ellen 4 years old, and Marion, 6 months, with a servant, Annie Wells, lost their lives in a fire in New York city.

At the Nicholas station, Moscow, while Gen. Trepoff was bidding farewell to Grand Duke Sergius a young man wearing a students cap fired three shots from a revolver at the general. All the shots missed.

William Williams, commissioner of immigration at New York, has tendered and the president has accepted his resignation.

Fire in one of the main business blocks of Hoopestown, Ill., caused a loss of about $100,000.

George H. Harris, aged 45 years, of Waverly, Mass., for several years a specialist in the bureau of entomology of the agricultural department, was found dead in his room in a hotel in Washington.

Frank Johnson was killed and eight persons were injured by the explosion of gas used for heating purposes in the basement of J. W. Fashing's bakery at Garnett, Kan.

While cleaning a revolver, which he supposed was unloaded, Frank W. Welch, a well-known Chicago attorney, was accidentally shot and instantly killed.

Mrs. Ida McKinley Morse, favorite niece of William McKinley, and namesake and companion of the widow of the late president, wedded Harry Powell Cooper, of San Francisco.

Word reached Manila of an engagement on January 8, on the Island of Jolo, in which Lieut. James J. Jewell and a private of the 14th United States cavalry was killed. Second Lieut. Ashbrook, of the 17th infantry; Capt. Halstead Dorey, of the Fourth United States infantry; Lieut. Richardson, of the 4th cavalry, and several privates were among the wounded.

John Carver, a member of the posse of revenue officers in charge of Capt. Kit Speare, of the raiding force at Knoxville, Tenn., was shot and instantly killed in Cocker county while on a raid.

Four men were instantly killed and two others injured at a shaft which is being sunk at Rockland, Mich., by the Victoria Mining Co. for a hydraulic power plant by the breaking of a cable.

Alva Adams, democrat, of Pueblo, was inaugurated governor of Colorado for the third time.

Secretary of the Navy Moody and Adm. Dewey inspected and reviewed the Battleship, Coastwise and Caribbean squadron at Hampton Roads. It was the most powerful war fleet ever gathered there under the American flag.

Gov. Jefferson Davis was inaugurated with simple ceremonies for his third term as governor of Arkansas.

A deal for the sale of a controlling interest in the Chicago City Railway Co. to a new syndicate headed by J. Pierpont Morgan, which also will control the Chicago Union Traction Co., was closed.

A charity ball given by society leaders in Chicago resulted in a net profit of between $20,000 and $25,000 for the charities to be benefitted.

United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and W. Murray Crane were unanimously nominated to represent Massachusetts again at a caucus held by the republican members of the legislature.

Secretary Shaw, with the approval of the president, has named a committee to test and examine the weight and fineness of the coins reserved at the several mints during the calendar year 1904.

Charges of ballot box stuffing, substitution of prepared ballots for those cast by voters and miscounting by election judges are included in the specifications of fraud made by ex-Gov. Peabody in his contest against the state election.

Elvira and Bexara Hanserm, sisters, aged 55 and 60 respectively, were burned to death at Boston.

It is announced that the king and queen of England are to tour their Canadian dominions some time this year.

Frightened by the activity of District Attorney Jerome, who has announced that he intends if possible to suppress gambling in New York, hundreds of card sharps are preparing to leave the city.

Chief Edward F. Croker, of the New York fire department, has recommended to Fire Commissioner N. J. Hayes that steps be taken at once to prohibit the use of all fire works except firecrackers on July 4.

Joseph L. Bristow, who has resigned as fourth assistant postmaster general, has been appointed a special commissioner to make an investigation into the present trade conditions and freight rates.

Frederick S. Pinkus, of the firm of Jaffe & Pinkus, linen importers, of New York, was arrested charged with smuggling and attempted bribery.

The official records at Ellis Island show that for the first month of the new year immigration to this country is likely to exceed all records. From the 1st to the 10th of January the arrivals number over 14,000.

R. B. Glenn, of Winston, was inaugurated as governor of North Carolina. The other state officers also took the oath of office. Gov. Glenn declared for the disfranchising suffrage amendments even at the loss of congressmen.

Thomas W. Hynes, of New York, has been appointed auditor of the island of Porto Rico.

SMUGGLED JEWELS.

Investigation Shows Mrs. Chadwick Dealt Largely in Them.

Over $250,000 Worth of Diamonds and Other Gems Have Been Traced and Located—She Gave Most of Them To Friends.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 16.—Investigation into the charge that Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick smuggled large quantities of diamonds, gems and other precious stones into this country has developed the fact that the woman dealt in precious stones to an almost fabulous extent. In order to make a case on the charge of smuggling it was found necessary for the government authorities to trace all the deals for diamonds and jewelry made by Mrs. Chadwick, both in this country and Europe. The statement has been made by Collector of Customs Leach that considerably more than $250,000 worth of jewelry and precious stones handled by Mrs. Chadwick has been traced and positively located. It is added that this great amount of jewelry has been uncovered, with the investigation still incomplete. Of this amount the government is directly interested in about one-third.

It is simply the truth to say that Mrs. Chadwick handled pearls, rubies, sapphires, emeralds and garnets almost literally by the peck, said a government official. Testimony of experts show that the woman did not handle anything but the finest jewelry in the entire lot that has been traced.

According to government officials by far the greater portion of the jewelry is in the hands of innocent persons scattered all over the country. The work of informing these people that their claim on the jewelry is to be protested is going on.

FANATIC PATRIOTISM.

Rosseau Confessed That He Attempted to Destroy the Frederick Statue.

Philadelphia, Jan. 16.—Gessier Rosseau, who was arrested in this city with an infernal machine in his possession, admitted to the police that he is the man who attempted to destroy the statue of Frederick the Great in Washington last Tuesday and also that it was he who sent the trunk containing an infernal machine to the British tramp ship Umbria, in New York, in May, 1903. The prisoner, whose right name is not known, made these admissions in the office of Capt. Donaghy, of the Philadelphia detective bureau, after he had been identified by persons brought here from New York and Washington for that purpose. He gives no reasons for the attempted outrages except that "There are too many foreign affairs in this country."

After having Rosseau under fire all afternoon, the police classed him as an "American patriotic fanatic." The prisoner gave no information voluntarily to the police, he admitting only those things which the police had fastened on him.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—"Gessler Rosseau," who was arrested in Philadelphia, is well known to the Chicago police. He lived under the name of Russell at 237 Washington boulevard, where he had his workshop. As far back as 1886 Russell came under the notice of the police. In November, 1902, he was under surveillance because of his apparent activity in manufacturing. He seemed well supplied with money and paid liberally for everything he bought.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

Charles Eckburg Killed John Brant and Then Shot Himself.

Veedersburg, Ind., Jan. 16.—John Brant, of the Veedersburg News, and Charles Eckburg, a barber, were found dead in a barber shop where they had gone to balance the books of the Odd Fellows' lodge, in which both held official positions. At a late hour they had not appeared and citizens began an investigation which resulted in their finding Brant in a barber's chair, shot through the head, and Eckburg lying on another chair, shot through the temple. A revolver was found in a cuspidor near Eckburg's body. The shots were heard by several citizens.

On Eckburg's body was found three letters. One was addressed to the public and was dated January 1st. In it Eckburg declared his intention of killing himself because of his financial troubles. He admitted that he was short in his accounts and that he could not adjust the shortage. The second letter was written to Harry Wertz, the dead man's best friend. In it he said that he had determined to take his life and that he would "take Brant with him."

Ida McKinley Morse Weds.

New York, Jan. 16.—Mrs. Ida McKinley Morse, favorite niece of Wm. McKinley, and namesake and companion of the widow of the late president, slipped away to the Little Church Around the Corner to become the bride of Harry Powell Cooper, of San Francisco.

Filipino Students Arrive.

San Francisco, Jan. 16.—A party of Filipino students, numbering 31, sent here by the insular government, arrived on the Sherman. Three are girls. They will be distributed among several high schools and colleges in various parts of the country.

President Loubet's Mother Dead.

Paris, Jan. 16.—Mme. Loubet, mother of the president, died at Marsanne from congestion of the lungs, aged 93 years. The president's son, Paul, and other members of the family, were at her bedside when she expired.

PROVES GREAT POWER

When Regular Medical Treatment Failed, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Her Rheumatism.

Hundreds of people afflicted with rheumatism have spent years under the care of excellent physicians in vain. Then they have settled down to the conviction that it is fastened on them for life. Mrs. Dinsmore was not willing to join the ranks of the hopeless merely because her doctor did not know how to help her. Here is her story:

"Four years ago I suffered greatly with rheumatism in my hands and knees. After I had been sitting a while my limbs seemed so heavy I could hardly walk on the first attempt. So long as I kept moving I was all right, but just as soon as I stopped, something seemed to settle in my knees and make them ache. My hands were so bad I couldn't touch the palms of them on a flat surface; they were swollen and pained so."

"Did you call in a physician?"

"I doctored steadily for over a year; then one doctor said: 'You have taken medicine strong enough to kill almost anything.' Still, it did not kill me nor the rheumatism."

"How, then, did you get rid of it?"

"At different times I had read in various publications about Dr. Williams' wonderful Pink Pills for Pale People, and I finally decided to try them. I took them steadily for four months in accordance with the directions. By that time I was completely cured."

"Have you been free from it ever since?"

"Since then I have had but one slight return of my trouble, and a box or two of the same pills made me all right again."

Mrs. F. A. Dinsmore lives in hearty enjoyment of her recovered health at Woburn, Mass., entirely freed from the grave anxieties that rheumatism always brings. When it appears in but a single joint it shows that the blood is in a faulty state in the whole body. It may at any moment break out elsewhere, and one of the dangers is that it may break out in the heart and then the result must be fatal. The only security is to keep the blood all the time in a perfectly sound condition.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make healthy blood. All other relief is superficial. This is thorough. These pills are sold by all druggists.

JEST AND JOLLITY.

Softleigh—I say, deetah, do you—aw—think I have the bwain fevah?

Doctor—No, indeed; but you have the fever, all right.

"Did you ever attend a cooking school?" asked the Chicago girl.

"No," replied her Boston cousin, "but I graduated from a college of gastronomy."

"I manage to keep my boarders longer than you do," said the first landlady.

"Oh, I don't know," rejoined the other. "You keep them so thin that they look longer than they really are."

"You are sweet enough to eat," said the very young man who imagined he had the love market cornered.

"Thanks," rejoined the matter-of-fact maid. "There's a small restaurant just around the corner."

"I'm afraid you're not very wise," said the fair girl.

"Why?" demanded the persistent suitor.

"Because a word to the wise is sufficient and I have said 'No!' to you."

"Yes, but I'm wise enough to know that a woman's 'No' may eventually mean 'yes.'"

"Can't yer do a little something fer an old soldier?" whined Tired Timms.

"Well, I don't know," replied the portly citizen. "If you can show your discharge papers, I may do something for you."

"I hain't been discharged yet, boss," replied the hobo. "It's a soldier of fortune I am."

MIGHT HAVE SAVED IT.

A Lot of Trouble from Too Much Starchy Food.

A little boy of eight years whose parents did not feed him on the right kind of food, was always nervous and suffered from a weak condition of the stomach and bowels. Finally he was taken down with appendicitis and after the operation the doctor, knowing that his intestinal digestion was very weak, put him on Grape-Nuts twice a day.

He rapidly recovered and about two months thereafter, his Father states, "He has grown to be strong, muscular, and sleeps soundly, weighs 82 pounds, and his whole system is in a fine condition of health." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

It is plain that if he had been put on Grape-Nuts at an earlier period in his life, and kept from the use of foods that he could not digest, he never would have had appendicitis. That disease is caused by undigested food decaying in the stomach and bowels, causing irritation and making for the growth of all kinds of microbes, setting up a diseased condition which is the active cause of appendicitis, and this is more marked with people who do not properly digest white bread.

Grape-Nuts is made of the selected parts of wheat and barley and by the peculiar processes of the cooking at the factory, all of the starch is turned into sugar ready for immediate digestion and the more perfect nourishment of all parts of the body, particularly the brain and nerve centres.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," found in each pkg.

Simple Life of the Garden Home

OUR SERMON STORY by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher

(A Vision Between the Lines of God's Inspired Word.)

(Copyright, 1908, by J. H. Eaton.)

Scripture Authority:—"And the Lord God planted a Garden eastward in Eden; and there He put the man whom He had formed . . . to dress it and to keep it. And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the Garden thou mayest freely eat; but of the tree of knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die."—Gen. 2:8, 15, 16, 17.

NOT since the period which God's record gives us here has the earth known perfect peace and harmony and the conserving and economic power of the simple life. . . . misdirected energies where God's Spirit rules supreme, no wasted time, no neglected duties, no lost opportunities, no conflicting, jarring elements warring one against the other. In that Garden home before sin had entered to disrupt it and drive the guilty pair forth, it was God's will "done on earth as it is in Heaven." It was so then when time had first begun to count off its years for man, and it shall be so again when He comes to reign supreme. Then the wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf, and the young lion, and the fatling together; and a little child shall lead them. And the cow and the bear shall feed; their young ones shall lie down together; and the lion shall eat straw like the ox. And the suckling child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the cockatrice's den. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all My holy mountain: For the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

Do you know what it is to sit in sweet, silent fellowship with Nature alone? Away from every human sight and sound, lost for the moment in rapt contemplation, an exquisite influence has pervaded the soul. You have felt a commingling of your spirit with the spirit of Nature. A new bond of union and sympathy has been born. Perfect harmony and fellowship prevail. Do you know what it is to have the little songster in your home, which has been tamed by your loving care, perch contentedly and fearlessly upon your shoulder or finger, or with fluttering wings, as it rested on the buoyant air, take from your lips the dainty morsel you have temptingly placed there? Do you know what it is to have the faithful dog welcome your return with joyful bark and playful antic, to have him thrust his cold, wet nose within your palm in mute but expressive appeal for the affectionate caress, to have him lift his soulful eyes to yours and speak through them of love and devotion to you, receiving gratefully from you what you willed to give, and offering service and life itself in return? Do you know what it is thus to feel a bond of sympathy and fellowship between yourself and the dumb creature; a harmony which flows to the blessing of every living creature? There is such relationship, such experience, and it is but a pleasant echo, a blessed heritage coming down to us from that perfect harmony and unity and activity which marked the Garden life. For God's Spirit ruled there. Man and beast, and bird and every creature, and Nature, too, yielded sweet obedience to the Divine will.

We may not draw comparisons between the simple, natural, free life of the Garden and the complex life which has developed with the centuries, and which has come as man has advanced in the scale of civilization, but we may emphasize the perfect harmony which prevailed there under the ruling Spirit of God. We would not go back to that primitive state, and give up all the wonderful gifts which God has bestowed upon humanity through the study and achievement of man, but we would that we might bring down to this present age a consciousness of the power and blessing to be found in perfect obedience to the will and Spirit of God.

Another fair morning has broken over the teeming earth. All Nature is rejoicing in the returning light. Myriad sounds fill the air from the bird notes, dropping gently like messengers from Heaven, down to the cheery chirp of the cricket in the dewy grass. Off in the distance can be heard the lowing of the kine and the deep-toned roars of the beasts of the field, while the chatter of the squirrels in the tree tops and the rustle amidst the shrubs and bushes and ferns upon the ground tell the story of the smaller animal life that is astir in the early morning. Down at the foot of the verdant flower-decked slope the broad, placid river flows, sending its waters rippling over the stones near the shore, and reflecting in its mirrored surface the overhanging trees and blue sky. The music of the waters as they play hide and seek among the rocks and stones can be heard through the open doorway of the bower home. The great towering trees stand sentinel at the rear and sides of the simple, humble abode. No marbled palace was ever so fair a home or dear a spot to its inmates as was that shelter which the friendly branches and intertwining vines willingly provided. Did happiness and contentment depend upon the elaborateness of the things possessed, then would they have been strangers in that first home on earth. It is not upon the external conditions but upon the internal consciousness of the presence of God that true rest, rest and contentment rest. About and in this first home the gentle touches of Nature were apparent. The softest of mosses carpeted the floor, and upon the walls there bloomed the most fragrant and beautiful of flowers. In the early morning light their petals were just opening prepared to give the sun smiling welcome as he rose above the trees and flashed his morning greetings upon them.

The call of the birds and the stir of Nature have awakened the inmates of the home, and their voices are heard in adoration and praise, for their first waking thought has been of Him Who made them and gave them the breath of life, and blessed them, and provided them with the shelter and bounty of the Garden.

The happy pair pause upon the threshold and drink in the beauty of the scene before them. Eve's face mirrors the joy that fills her soul, and she smiles up into the face of her husband, while he, with earnest, thoughtful look, watches the sun play his light upon the tall tree tops.

The fruit-laden trees on either hand hold out their tempting viands, and as they went they gathered and did eat. The birds visited hither and yon in search of seed and berries, the animals great and small throughout the Garden were satisfying their hunger, for God in His Nature had spread a bountiful table for all, and none had reason to lack.

Without realizing the direction in which they were going, they came to the center of the Garden just as they had finished their simple but abundant repast. Before them stood the trees of mystery, the ones to which the Lord had made special reference in His talk with them. Right at hand the great spreading branches of the tree of knowledge of good and evil, ladened with fruit, swayed in the breeze. The sight gives a new direction to their thoughts, as they recall the Lord's solemn admonition and warning.

"Why should we wish to partake of the fruit of this tree when our Lord has given us freely of every other tree of the Garden?" both exclaimed, almost in the same breath.

"Yea, before we reached this point God had satisfied us with His good thing," Adam continued. "It were to take that for which we have no need, if we did eat of the fruit of this tree. We may well be content with the bounties on every hand." So spake Adam. And is it not always true that we have no need of the things which are contrary to the will of God for us?

"But why, I wonder, did God put this tree here? Why did He forbid our eating of it? What did He mean when He spoke of death?" Thus musing, Eve turned to her husband, but he shook his head in answer, and said: "I cannot tell. It is enough that God has spoken. We must wait to understand."

Poor Eve, little did she realize that day the bitter way which lay before her! And not until years later as she gazed in anguish upon the face of her dead boy, her beloved Abel, did she begin to know the penalty of disobedience and sin.

The days came and went in the Garden home. Peace and purity reigned supreme. The Lord came to visit and talk with them. The days of rest brought their sweet fellowship with the Heavenly hosts, and the harmony of their rich, full voices and harps. During the days of toil Adam labored faithfully in dressing the Garden and training the vines and branches. Each day found some new comfort added to the home, and brought some new discovery of the wealth and resources of the Garden. The creatures of the Garden yielded ready obedience to Adam's wise and kindly care. No task which he put upon them was beyond their strength or unnecessary to be done. All the activities of the beautiful place were but the expression of God's will. Man and beast and bird filled each his own allotted place, and delighted in the unity and peace and harmony which prevailed.

Another day had begun like all the rest. The morning awaking with the birds, the songs of praise and the outgoing thoughts toward God, the bright greetings of the sun, the walk in the garden and the simple repast. Adam had gone forth to the work of the day, and Eve was busy at home. It seemed like all the other days, and gladness and peace were all about. Suddenly the darkness of midnight fell over the Garden, and Adam was heard rushing and stumbling down the pathway to the home. All in a trouble Eve threw herself into the arms of her husband, and cried in terror: "What is it? What can it be?"

With effort Adam steadied his voice, and then replied: "I know not. As I worked out in the clearing I thought I heard a sound as of rumbling away off in the distant heavens, and then while yet the sun was flooding the earth with his light this awful blackness aped between. I know not what it can mean, but surely God is with us. We need not fear." As he ceased speaking, and while yet the blackness continued, there was a flash across the heavens as though some heavenly body sundered from its moorings had fallen. Then the darkness lifted and the day shone as brightly as before. The Garden in all its beauty was displayed and the birds took up the strain of their songs where a few moments before they had been rudely interrupted.

The days following this incident brought no explanation, and failed to dispel the feeling of impending trouble. As Adam and his wife walked through the Garden paths, though their eyes saw naught but the accustomed sights, though the birds sang overhead and the creatures all about them peacefully fed, still they had the feeling that other presence was there, that other eyes were upon them. But the questionings of their hearts found no answer.

NEED OF SOME REVISION.

Republican Organ Admits the Necessity of Tampering with the Sacred Tariff.

The New York Evening Mail is a protection organ, but at last a gleam of light seems to have penetrated its hitherto darkened mind. The Mail has discovered that the sacred tariff can be revised, to some extent at least. We would call the attention, says the Indianapolis Sentinel, of those republicans in Indiana that believe new, as the Mail formerly did, that the tariff schedules are sacred, to this ominous quotation from its columns: "Secretary Shaw utters an important, if obvious, truth when he says that 'the policy of public improvements cannot be enlarged upon without providing some measure for a corresponding increase in revenues.' Thus the desirability of some revision of the tariff is suggested by the needs of the government as well as by the change in industrial conditions since it was enacted."

There we have, first Secretary Shaw, who at last owns up, that public improvements must stop unless the revenues are increased. Then the "organ" with its ardent belief in the old flag and an appropriation, jumps at the conclusion that a reduction of the tariff is necessary, both on account of the needs of the government and the change in industrial conditions. Now to revise the tariff for the purpose of producing more revenue is an unnecessary proceeding, for if economy was used in making appropriations, there is no doubt that the present revenues are sufficient. If more revenues are raised from the tariff, or from any other source of taxation, the people will have to pay those taxes, either directly or indirectly through the increased cost of what they purchase. The republican claim that the foreigner pays the tariff tax is acknowledged to be an exploded idea.

Just what rate of tariff duties will produce the most revenue is a disputed point. Is the Mail and are the republican leaders also willing to revise the tariff as low as necessary to produce the most revenue? That is the democratic position. A tariff for revenue. One can fancy the dismayed faces of the trust barons and the tariff monopolists if such a revision was proposed by the committee on ways and means under a republican administration. We know that a tariff lower than the present one, as the McKinley tariff was, will not produce more than the present tariff does, so the cut would have to go deeper than that, though that depends upon business conditions which govern the importation of foreign goods to some extent regardless of rates.

There is, however, a more important matter to the masses of the people than the amount of revenue a certain tariff will produce, and that is how much the rate must be reduced to prevent the trusts and monopolists from adding more than a fair price to their products. The fairest tariff to the manufacturers and to the consumers would be the adjustment of the schedules so that too many foreign goods will not be imported and yet low enough to prevent the price of home manufactured products from being sold for more than a fair profit. As long as the people of the United States are satisfied with raising revenue on imports, the above happy medium is as near perfection as can be arrived at. It would prevent our products being sold for less to foreigners than they are here, would produce the maximum of revenue and should be collected with much less expense than at present, for smuggling and that other curse of a high protective tariff, undervaluation, would be eliminated.

How can any fair man, that it, not an arrant partisan, object to such a reasonable revision as is here outlined. Yet we have no idea that the republicans will revise the tariff after this fashion, and looking at it from the democratic partisan side, we can hardly wish it. It would eliminate their most potent political issue, but for the good of the whole people we believe the democrats would vote for and help to enact such a law and allow the republicans to have the credit for it.

PARAGRAPHIC POINTERS.

—Subsidy by any other name will be as vile.—Indianapolis News (Ind.).

—Presently, congress will turn over a new leaf—of the congressional record.—Albany Argus.

—The deficit last month was a little over $4,000,000 and the demand for gold for export exhausted the bullion in the treasury. We shudder to think what the G. O. P. organs would say about this if a democrat happened to be occupying the white house.—The Commoner.

—Editorially, the leading republican organs are silent. Not a word of advice or protest, not even a line of expository comment do they print. For them, the bitter party warfare does not exist. The reason is, of course, that the tyrannical government of the party has robbed them of freedom of speech. Not daring to say that their souls are their own, they must wait to see who comes out victor in the struggle, and then instantly they will make themselves "fortune's champion," proving once more that their only function is to be "ever strong upon the stronger side."—N. Y. Post (Ind.).

—Elihu Root seems to be the innocent bystander of republican politics. When situations become strained, he is injected, as a possibility, just in time to persuade the brethren to agree to something else.—Albany Argus.

—That plan of the republican house leaders in congress to have all appropriation bills prepared by one committee, looks like a plan to bunko the country members out of their "pork." The proposed plan is to apply to the next congress and not to this one, so we won't worry about Indiana getting her small proportion of "pork" just yet.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

ADVICE FOR DEMOCRATS.

To Fulfill Its Mission the Party Must Have a Union of Its Forces.

Between 1900 and last summer the democratic party was deluged with advice on the twin subject of reorganization and regularity. Some thousands of political doctors told the party how to win success with new leaders, and some other thousands fulminated threats against everybody who had not fully agreed with the leadership of 1896 and 1900.

Preliminary utterances indicate, says the St. Louis Republic, that we are to have another four years of the same fluent advising.

Sensible democrats may profitably begin at once to combat the idea that one faction or another is to administer the affairs of the party by proscribing other factions.

In the struggle of contemporary ambitions, in the honest or simulated enthusiasm over temporary beliefs, many men lose sight of the eternal purpose of the democratic party. That party has one purpose, which gives it a life as long as that of the human race; and that mission is the protection of the individual against the encroachments of power. The democracy of the world is organized under various forms. In the United States the organization is most definite and complete, but in every country there is a democratic movement, and in essentials it is everywhere the same. Equal rights to all and special privileges to none is the beginning and end of democratic energy. Every question of a particular time must be, by the democratic party, judged under the test of its application to this principle.

And democratic organization was never more needed. All other political bodies are moving toward a renewal of feudalism and oligarchy. All other tendencies are toward the limitation of manhood by the selfish wishes of privilege. The recent campaign in the United States, ending in apparent disaster, was of vast service in developing lines of action for the democracy. The democratic party lost few of its supporters. Many were not aroused and did not vote, but they are democrats and are ready to be loyal voters, when their minds seize upon the issues which the times present.

Discussion within the party may proceed; must proceed. But, to be profitable, it must clarify questions, not inflame factional distrust. Every man who believes in the exaltation, the encouragement, the development of the individual is a democrat and every such man should be welcomed as a part of the democratic organization.

ECONOMY TO SOME EXTENT

Congress Will Find It Necessary to Look to the Treasury Leaks.

It is set forth, in a Washington dispatch, that the responsible leaders in congress have put their heads together in an effort to meet the situation strikingly exemplified by Speaker Cannon, when he declared that there was a $30,000,000 gap between Uncle Sam's vest and breeches." It futhermore appears, says the Albany Argus, that these leaders have concluded that it is "the duty of congress to reduce that gap rather than widen it," and that they, the leaders, must "stand guard and use their best endeavors to keep expenditures down near the revenues of the government and reduce the deficit in the treasury."

There is something whimsical, in lauding as austere virtue, and self-denying economy, a decision to spend not much more than the government's revenues will amount to, and to "reduce the deficit"—rather than to wipe it out. Financiering which is content to keep expenditures only a block or two ahead of the revenues, within hailing distance, as it were, and to wipe out a little of the deficit at a time, would make quick time to bankruptcy, if applied to private instead of public business.

But it is the modern idea, in governmental affairs, when expenses mount up, to look about for something new to tax,—for all new revenues are inevitably the result of new taxation of some sort. Neither in the nation, nor in the state, does there exist, at the present time, a policy or even a desire of wholesale, wholesome retrenchment.

Temporary economies may be practiced, while awaiting the opportunity to devise and levy some new kind of taxes; but such enforced, temporary economy is like the brief "swearing off" of the old toper, who makes up for it, with compound interest, as soon as he lets loose again.

The new congress, which assembles next year, will be confronted by an apparent deficit, and by a real deficit which is much greater than the apparent one, between the receipts of the government, and the expenditures which the whole policy and tendency of the existing regime called for. Then, the alternatives will be, either increased revenue, or an increased deficit.

—If President Roosevelt proposes to countersign all the bonds of Honduras, Costa Rico, Nicaragua, Guatemala, etc., he will do well to have a rubber stamp inserted in the end of his "Big Stick."—N. Y. World.

—Those republicans who, in speaking of the new departures and proposed changes of law that President Roosevelt is going to bring about, seem to entirely ignore the fact that congress is the law-making power.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

—Roosevelt's assumption of the sole control of the federal machinery is an act of self-control which will not suit congressional ideas. No matter what rules may regulate lawmaking or admission, the senate and the house have traditions concerning patronage and will fight for that when they are indulgent on other lines.—St. Louis Republic.

FROM ALL OVER THE STATE

FATALLY WOUNDED.

From Ambush Moonshiners Fired On the Officers.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 16.—While engaged in breaking up a "moonshine still" on Bull's creek, in Letcher county, the posse headed by United States Marshal Randall was fired upon by men in ambush, and Deputy Marshal Francis Blair was seriously wounded.

The posse had succeeded in destroying a still and several hundred gallons of beer and whisky in the garret of Bony Jent's house, and had captured Jent and his brother, Will Jent, and were on their way to Whitesburg when the firing began from the roadside.

The posse returned the fire, and for ten minutes the battle raged, but the officers were handicapped by the fact that they were out in the open while the "moonshine" party were in thickly settled undergrowth.

When Deputy Marshal Blair fell from his horse mortally wounded, the posse withdrew and hurried the wounded man to Whiteburg, where his wounds were dressed by physicians. After securing additional officers Marshal Randall returned to the scene of the battle, where they found the moonshiners dressing the wounds of the two of their number who had been shot by the posse. They were surprised by the officers, and before they could retreat three more were captured and landed in jail at Whitesburg.

J. W. BESS HANGED.

He Smiled As He Stood on the Scaffold and Said Good-Bye.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 14.—James W. Bess, twice convicted for the murder of Mrs. Martha Martin, was hanged in the jail yard here. He went to the scaffold in the same cool manner that has characterized him during his long confinement in jail. He addressed the large crowd in the jail yard and told them that he hoped to meet them all in Heaven. He knelt in prayer for three minutes, and, with a smile on his face, bade good-bye to the people, many of whom, he said, he recognized as old friends.

Bess confessed to the death watch that he had planned to take his own life, and that he carried a small knife blade in his mouth for that purpose, but, after telling this to the guard, he handed over the blade, saying that he wished to die like a man.

J. GARFIELD SMITH GUILTY.

Took the Jury 16 Minutes To Fix the Death Penalty.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 13.—After a deliberation of only 16 minutes the jury in the case of the commonwealth vs. J. Garfield Smith, colored, charged with the murder of William Moore, found the defendant guilty, and fixed his punishment at death. This is the second death penalty imposed for this killing, as Ed Taylor, also colored, charged with the same offense, was found guilty only two weeks ago and sentenced to be hanged.

John Taylor, another Negro, has yet to be tried on the same charge. The defendants entered the saloon of Geo. Laigart, in this city, on the night of Sunday, November 20 last, when they started to clean out the place and shot and killed William Moore.

WILL NOT SEEK ELECTION.

D. H. Smith Declines To Enter into the Senatorial Fight.

Glasgow, Ky., Jan. 16.—D. H. Smith, the recently elected congressman from the Fourth district on the democratic ticket, and who has been favorably mentioned for the United States senate, has given out a statement saying that he would not be a candidate for the senate, nor will he be a candidate for re-election to congress.

It has been known several weeks by his intimate friends that he would probably not make the race for the senate, but his determination not to accept again the nomination for congress is a surprise.

The Holcombes Arrested.

Sergent, Ky., Jan. 16.—After an engagement with Deputy Sheriff Day and posse, Joseph and William Holcombe, the brothers who, it is charged, killed John and Buford Roark in a bloody engagement at a "blind tiger," in Letcher county, gave up and were taken to the Letcher county jail at Whitesburg.

Fatal Religious Dispute.

Middlesboro, Ky., Jan. 16.—On the creek of "Kingdom Come," made famous by John Fox, Alphonse Baker was killed by Thomas Quarles. Baker was a Baptist and Quarles a Methodist. They quarreled on the question of infant baptism.

Jury Disagreed.

Leitchfield, Ky., Jan. 13.—In the case of Hartford Logsdon, charged with the murder of Frank Pierce in this county last summer, the jury disagreed. William Logsdon, his father, was fined $500 and given six months' imprisonment.

Threw Himself in Front of a Train.

Newport, Ky., Jan. 16.—John Huttonlocher, 533 Columbia street, threw himself in front of a west-bound C. & O. train at Saratoga street and was instantly killed. Despondency over the death of his wife.

HARGIS-MARCUM CASE.

Plaintiffs and Defendants Filed Motions For New Trials.

Winchester, Ky., Jan. 12.—Both plaintiffs and defendants have filed motions and grounds for new trials in the Hargis-Marcum damage suit, in which Mrs. Marcum secured an $8,000 verdict. Defendants Ed Callahan and James Hargis will be allowed to file a statement of additional grounds for a new trial. No arguments will be made by their side in support of these motions and Judge Benton has announced that he will give his decision in the matter Wednesday.

Winchester, Ky., Jan. 13.—Shortly after the commencement of the Hargis-Marcum trial here Mrs. Marcum filed a sensational affidavit in which, among other things, she alleged that Felix Feltner had been paid $1,500 if Mose Feltner would not testify in the trial; also that defendants had, by bribery, threats and intimidation, defendants had induced Mose Feltner and Sam Fields, witnesses for plaintiffs, to leave the state, and for this she asked for a rule of contempt. A warrant has been sent to the sheriff of Leslie county for the arrest of Felix Feltner for this purpose, and if the officers of that county fail to get him a special bailiff will be sent after him.

EXTRA SESSION CONVENED.

The Legislature Will Select a Site For the New Capitol.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 13.—The extraordinary legislative session was convened Thursday at noon, with 29 senators and 63 representatives present. Lieut. Gov. Thorne was given an ovation by the senators when he ascended the speaker's rostrum. The usual committee was appointed to notify the governor of the convening of the legislature. The governor sent in his message by Secretary Ed Leigh, and it was read in full to both houses. The legislature then adjourned until Friday in honor of Col. Breckinridge.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 14.—The senate adjourned till Monday. Lieut. Gov. Thorne appointed a committee of nine senators to investigate the title to the present state house grounds and ascertain if the grounds revert to the original owners under any state of case.

TWO MEN KILLED.

Twenty Shots Were Fired During a Row Over Cards.

Middlesborough, Ky., Jan. 16.—In Redbird, in Clay county, James and John Denton engaged in a pistol fight with Ralph and Paul Dunbar over a game of "seven up." About 20 shots were fired. James Denton and Paul Dunbar were killed and John Denton mortally wounded. Ralph Dunbar escaped with a scalp wound. Both the Denton and Dunbar families are influential and further trouble is expected. The Dentons are relatives of "Jim" Howard, under life sentence for the assassination of Gov. William Goebel.

President Taylor's Grave.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 13.—J. J. Taylor, of Chicago, a relative of President Zachary Taylor, has arrived in Louisville to investigate the condition of the grave of his distinguished relative at St. Matthews. It is the intention of his family, in the event of the refusal of the government to repair the grave, to expend a sum of money sufficient to put it into condition befitting the last resting place of a president of the United States.

Hotel Fire at Elizabethtown.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Jan. 13.—The Sinclair hotel, owned by J. H. Stewart, was gutted by fire. There was no insurance. The loss is $2,000. Mr. Sinclair saved his furniture. Prof. E. E. Olcott, who roomed in the building, suffered a loss of about $800.

Johnson Recovered $4,000 Damages.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 14.—Judgment was rendered in the Franklin circuit court for $4,000 damages for personal injuries in the case of Kendrick Johnson vs. W. A. Gaines Co., distillers. Johnson had both legs broken in an accident at Old Crow distillery.

Noted Insurance Case.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 16.—The jury in the case of Wm. Egard, charged with forging the name of Thomas L. Farley to the assignment of a policy in the New York Life Insurance Co., after being out 26 hours, failed to agree. The jury was then discharged.

Blaze in a Distillery.

Cynthiana, Ky., Jan. 16.—At the F. S. Ashbrook Distillery Co. a blaze threatened the entire plant, but the firemen confined it to the distillery building. The loss is $10,000, partially covered by insurance. Several firemen had their ears and hands frozen.

A Cocking Main.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 16.—Foxhall P. Keene, who is visiting Castleton stud here, was the guest of honor at a cock fight. The main was pitched in the veterinary infirmary of Bryan, Hagyard & Shannon and ten birds were pitted.

A Big Bargain.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 16.—Local horsemen agree that Garrett D. Wilson struck a good bargain by purchasing from J. C. Milam, for the reported price of $2,500, the well-known brood mares Northumbria and Clara Bee.

Under the heading, "What One Woman Did," the Kentucky Journal pays Miss Edith E. Lancaster, cashier of Florence Deposit Bank, the following nice compliment:

"One would think," said Mr. Ben Watt, Bank Clerk in the office of Secretary of State H. V. McChesney, that bankers were the most careful business men to be found anywhere, but this is not true. There is hardly ever a quarter that at least fifty of the three hundred and fifty bank reports to come in do not have to be returned for correction. Especially is this true of the report ending December 31st, because more is asked for in this report.

"This time the call was for the regular report, the printed report, the list of officers and stockholders and the check for filing, all under one cover. Several of them did not contain the check, still more did not enclose the printed report, many of them failed to send the list of officers and stockholders and more than half of them left out something that had to be sent back for or corrected in some particular.

"Strange as it may seem, the very nicest, the neatest arranged and the most easily to handle of any report sent in for this quarter was prepared by a young lady cashier. There are not many ladies holding positions of this kind in the State, and all these are not as careful as they might be, but this one, Miss Edith E. Lancaster cashier of the Depoeit Bank at Florence, Ky., certainly understands how to prepare and send in her reports."

Postmaster Hall, of Bucyrus, O., has a ruling from the government which is of interest to every community where the rural free delivery system is in force. A local carrier found in a mail box on his route two letters that were intended for the owner of the box and had been put there by some one in passing. The letters were confiscated and sent to the government at Washington with a request for a ruling. The government approved the action of the carrier and said that all mail found in any box without stamps or the proper amount of money for postage must be collected and taken to the post-office from which the route is operated and held for postage. This ruling means that the owner of the mail box has absolutely no control over it.

There never was a paper in any locality that gave all the news. Persons often come and go that the reporter does not see. It often happens that a family is missed several times. They get the impression that the paper does not care to mention them. It is a mistake. The paper has no ill feeling, nor spite nor enmity against anybody. Do not be afraid to give us items of interest. Perhaps you think the paper shows partiality, but try and see if it doesn't treat you well if given a chance. If you don't see us to tell us of any happening or news item at your home, use the telephone or drop it in the post-office, but don't fail to give your name so there will be no mistake about it.

In memory of Robert Bradford, deceased, Hebron, Ky.

The reaper came and gathered in the ripened sheaf. No palsied frame, no tottering steps are his, no faltering tongue as in the past, but in the light and warmth of God's eternal love he dwells; all pain is moved, all sorrows fled, he sings as was his wont the praises of his king. Though tears may fall, what blessed tears, for well we know he is not lost but gone before. But we shall meet again where partings never come, by faith we say, "He doeth all things well."

The thanks of the family are extended to the entire community for kindness, sympathy and favors so freely given. THE FAMILY.

The following business has been transacted in the county court in the last week:

J. J. Walton qualified as administrator of Mary Belle Williams.

Laura D. Vaughn qualified as administratrix of Orville A. Vaughn.

Mary A. Field settled and resigned as guardian for Maggie F. Rice, and J. W. Rice qualified in her stead.

Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c, at all Druggists.

Lost—Last Monday on the road between O. W. Gaines' and George W. Gaines', a new, gray shawl. The finder will please return to George W. Gaines', near Bullittsville.

COAL!

I have a yard full of good Raymond City Coal, which I am selling at 10 cents a bushel—80 pounds to the bushel. J. D. HUEY.
Erlanger, Ky.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Hebron Perpetual Building and Loan Association, Plf.
vs. Equity.
George W. Crouch, &c., Defts.

By virtue of a Judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Dec., term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder at Public Sale on Monday, the 6th day of Feb., 1905, at one o'clock p.m., or thereabout, being County Court day, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

A certain lot or parcel of land situated in the town of Florence, Boone County, Kentucky, and being the property known as old Hotel property owned by J. P. Snyder, and bounded thus:—Beginning at a stone, a corner of John Olsner in Glassford's line; thence with said line n 78 w 137 feet to a stone in the edge of the Lexington pike; thence along the said pike s 4½ e 66 feet; s 22 e 41 feet to a stone in the edge of said road, a corner of John Olsner; thence with his line 127 feet to the place of beginning.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price of said land the purchaser with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bear interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained thereon until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $159 16.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Mary A. Harrison, pltf.
vs. Equity.
H. L. Harrison, &c., defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the April term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public sale on Monday, the 6th day of Feb., 1905, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabouts, being county court day, upon a credit of six months, the following described property to-wit.

Lying and being in Boone county, Ky., on the Ohio river immediately below Sand Run creek, and bounded thus: Beginning at a stone on the bank of the river, corner of the land formerly owned by the children of John Hunt; thence s 80½ e 190 poles to the county road; thence s 50½ e along said county road 68 poles; thence n 60½ w 220 poles to a point on the bank of the Ohio river; thence down the river bank s 24 w 65 poles to the beginning, containing eighty-five (85) acres of land more or less, excepting therefrom the family burying ground and a passway thereto from the public road.

(The Master Commissioner is ordered to start said property at Harrison Clore's bid of $3,200, as shown by said Clore's offer and bond filed herein.)

For the purchase price the purchaser with approved security or securities must execute bonds, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Ben Kelly, pltf.
vs. in equity.
John C. Buckner, &c., defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the December Term, thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public sale on Monday, 6th day of Feb., 1905, at 1 o'clock p.m., or thereabouts, being county court day, upon a credit of 6 and 12 months, the following described property, towit:

Situated in the town of Florence, Boone county, Ky., and beginning on north side of the Covington & Lexington pike, at the corner of P. Hampton's grocery building; thence along the sidewalk n 41½ e 127½ feet to the south corner of W. T. Zollicoffer's corner in Linville Souther's line; thence with Souther's line n 45½ w 13 poles and 23 links to a stone near a branch; thence n 71 w 7¾ poles to a stone and a hickory tree said Souther's corner; thence s 48½ w 6½ poles to a beech tree; thence 45½ w 4 poles and 2 links to a post in Harmon Yeager's line, corner with Sam Lindsay; thence with his line s 46½ e 33½ poles to a stone; thence s 47 e 10½ feet to a locust post in Lindsay's line, corner to P. A. Hampton's lot; thence with the lines of said lot n 54 e 38 feet to a stone; thence s 46 e 80½ feet to the beginning, being a part of a lot conveyed to Richard Rice by J. J. Dulaney.

For the purchase price the purchaser with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien reserved therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

KRAUSER'S

Liquid Smoke, 75c

QUART BOTTLE—enough for four hogs—new way to smoke meat—no fires.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.,
—GROCER.—
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, KY.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,

GRASS SEEDS, FLOUR AND SALT.

We have it, you want it, come and get our choice Hay, Timothy, Clover, and Straw by

The Bale or Ton.

CORN by the car load or bushel—shelled or ear;
OATS, the best, in any quantity;
MILL FEED at lowest price for good quality of feed;
SALT that will not harden in the barrel;
GRASS SEEDS including Timothy, Clover and Blue Grass

—THAT WILL GROW.—

We are making a specialty of Good Blue Grass Seeds and have a nice lot of Fancy Cleaned Hand-Stripped Seed that has

Been Tested and it Grows.

OUR FLOUR CAN'T BE BEAT!

It is made from the best wheat that can be had, and it makes good bread; Try a Barrel and if you don't like it bring it back and get your money back.

WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

We want your trade, give us a trial and be convinced that you .....Want Our Goods.....

R B. HUEY & CO.,

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WHAT IS HOME

WITHOUT AN UP-TO-DATE

IRON FENCE?

—MAKES HOME ATTRACTIVE.

Lasts a Lifetime. Low Prices-Surprising.

For Best Prices Call or Write to

HENRY QUICK, Hebron, Ky.,
—SPECIAL AGENT FOR—
The Stewart Iron Works Company,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

FOR SALE

Good Farm of 200 Acres,

Three miles north of Guilford, Ind., fine tobacco land; can be sold in parts. Six room brick residence, barn 40x60. Price reasonable. WARREN TEBBS, Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Roberts, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

C. C. ROBERTS, Admr.

Administratrix Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Edward S. Underhill, decd., must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

JERRY UNDERHILL, Admx.

Administratrix Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of O. A. Vaughn, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

LAURA D. VAUGHN, Admx.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale at my residence on Woolper creek, at the mouth of Double Lick, on Tuesday, Jan. 24th, 1905,

The following property:

1 Horse, 1 Cow, Corn in the crib, Oats in stack, Fodder, Breaking Plow, 2 Double Shovel Plows, Single Shovel Plow, Sled, and other farming Implements, and some Household and Kitchen Furniture, 4 or 5 bus. Potatoes, &c.

TERMS—Sums of $5 and under, cash; sums over $5 a credit of 6 months will be given; purchasers to give notes with good security, negotiable and payable in Boone County Deposit Bank.

W. H. SEBREE.

Sale to begin at 1 o'clock p. m.

Notice—My land is posted against trespass of all kinds, and especially are dogs forbidden to go thereon, as I will certainly shoot them.

T. E. DIXON, Richwood, Ky.

For the Best Flour, Try

OLD KENTUCKY

BLENDED PATENT.
—GUARANTEED.—
000
For Something Good, Try
VIRGINIA OAK
WINTER PATENT.
—WARRANTED.—
000

Clifford E. Nadaud,

515 Chamber of Commerce,
CINCINNATI, O.
Room 10 Boone Block,
COVINGTON, KY.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale to the highest bidder, at my residence near Gunpowder, Boone county, Ky., on Monday, Jan. 30th, 1905,

The following property:

2 Horses, 2 milch Cows, 1 yearling Heifer, 26 Sheep, 4 Sows—been bred; some Chickens, Road Wagon, 2 Spring Wagons, Mowing Machine, Hayrake, Plows, Harrows, Scalding-box, set double Wagon Harness, 2 Sleds, Corn, Hay and Fodder, about 15 bu. Potatoes, Household and Kitchen Furniture, &c.

TERMS—Sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of 10 months, without interest, will be given, purchasers to give notes with good security, negotiable and payable in the Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky., before removing property. H. O. ROUSE.

Sale to begin 1 o'clock p. m.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Roberts as a member of the firm of G. W. & D. B. Roberts or otherwise are hereby notified to meet me at Verons, Boone county, Ky., on Thursday, February 9th, 1905, to settle same.

C. C. ROBERTS, Admr.

For Sale—2 fresh Jersey cows.
H. R. Hearne, Richwood, Ky.

What More Could You Possibly desire in Clothes

Than to have them made from thoroughly tested fashionable fabrics—have them tailored in the best possible manner—have them fit satisfactorily, and have them make you appear a thoroughly dressed man? that's the sort that you get from

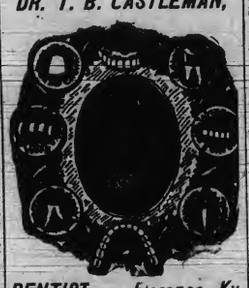
PIPER & WALTON,

Merchant Tailors
142 E. Fourth St.,
Cincinnati, - - Ohio.
Rooms 2 and 3.

Our Fall & Winter Goods are now ready for inspection. Call and examine our stock.

In attendance at Burlington County Court days with samples.

"Always Reliable."



W. N. HIND & CO.

Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
213 W. 5th S., Cincinnati.

Rogers Bros. General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.
Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST, - Florence, Ky.

Office at Burlington Every Monday. "at Latonia, Ky. Thursday-Friday the remainder of the time at Florence. Remember I am a Painless Dentist. PRICES REASONABLE. Satisfaction Guaranteed. Extracting Teeth is only fun with my method.

Dr. J. L. Adams, DENTIST,

208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.
AT UNION 1st MONDAY in each month.

Farm for Sale.

145 acres near Woolper creek in Boone county, Ky., now the property of Enoss Barrott, of Lawrenceburg, Ind.—This farm has a large tobacco barn, large stable, two story frame house of 8 rooms, good cistern and well at house; large apple orchard and all other fruits. All this property is in first-class condition. For further information apply to B B. Grant, who is now on the place, or to D. M. Snyder, Burlington, Ky.

DR. FENNER'S KIDNEY and Backache CURE

All diseases of Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs. Also Rheumatism, Backache, Heart Disease, Grave, Dropsy, Female Troubles.

Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write Dr. Fenner. He has spent a life time curing just such cases as yours. All consultations Free.

"A gravel lodged in my bladder. After using a few bottles of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure I passed a gravel half as large as a marble. The medicine prevented further formations. I was cured.
W. T. OAKES, Cyrls, Va."

Druggists, 50c., $1. Ask for Cook Book—Free.

ST. VITUS' DANCE Sure Cure. Circular. Dr. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

For sale by Aylor & Hiller, Hebron.

Take the Recorder.

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections
Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D. Rouse's Store.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029. Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL,..... $80,000
Surplus and undivided profits 30,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... $50,000
Surplus,..... $8,000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE in keeping their property insured.
Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Idlewild, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, Ky.
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy., R. F. D. 1, Ludlow, Ky.
W. M. Rogers, Agent, Walton, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, Ky.
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

FARM FOR SALE.
The A. P. Collins Farm Near Richwood, Ky.
Fine blue grass farm in Boone county, Ky., containing about 105 acres; good 6 room house and porches, barn, all kinds of out buildings, good fencing, well watered with springs, wells, cistern and pond. A private avenue runs to the Lexington pike. The house is about 8 minutes walk to Richwood Station C. N. & T. P. R. R. Commuter rates to the city, 7½ a trip with four trains daily. Telegraph, telephone, express and post-office—four daily mails.
Also, 105 acres, the H. O. Rouse farm on the Union and Florence pike; good house of 7 rooms and all necessary outbuildings; well watered and land mostly in grass. Apply to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXX. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1905 NO. 15.

County Correspondence.

COMMISSARY.

Jan. 21.—Wise people respect the man: fools respect his good clothes.

Neighbor Lillard is improving slowly.

Woodford Sullivan had a wood sawing last Monday.

T. J. Walton sold to Critcher, of Sedamsville, 3 cows and calves for $105.

We have heard that W. S. Aora, of Platteburg, will move to Aurora in the near future.

Our old bachelor friend, Wm. Slayback, says a certificate of birth is a milk ticket.

Mrs. Josie Mauer and Mrs. Carrie Smith, of Bellevue, were guests of Mrs. Scott, near here Tuesday.

Miss Artie and Stella Ryle entertained Ed Botts and sister and Miss Martha Randall, Wednesday night.

T. J. Walton filled his ice house with ice between 4 and 5 inches thick last week, finishing Wednesday evening.

Gilly Weisickle, of Middle Creek, has returned from his tour in Indiana, but failed in suiting himself in a location.

Geo. Ranes and son, Henry, of Lost Section, entertained quite a number of their friends and neighbors with some fine instrumental music, last Sunday night.

Some people wear their feelings on their sleeves, and are always getting them hurt. They should wear them where they ought to have them, under their coat, where they will be kept warm and free from injury.

Quite a number met at the Commissary last Monday night and organized a reading club. Jack Coons was elected president; Fode Snelling, secretary and Cecil Snelling, treasurer. Club meets every Saturday night.

We have been considerably indisposed from a severe cold all week. We thank Xen Scott and sister, Mrs. Maud Riley, Mrs. Georgia Louden, W. T. Ryle and Mrs. T. J. Walton for kindness shown us during our indisposition.

Charles Hensley, of Ashby, called on us last Monday and talked telephone. He has his piece well learned and delivers it in good style. He said he would not take $10 for his mail box and do without daily mail until he could get another.

Last Monday we received a letter from Hubert Parsons, of Cincinnati, from which we learned that his mother-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Popham, of South Hogan, Ind., returned home on Thursday of last week from a two weeks' visit with Mr. Parsons and wife.

Four of the Bellevue sports were at the Commissary Wednesday and warmed themselves by our fire a couple of times, while waiting for their dogs to brlug the fox around. They left before the fox and dogs came this way. We saw the fox cross the field of T. J. Walton next to the Commissary. The dogs were in the adjoining field and had completely lost the trail. Two of the dogs came into the field through which the fox passed and with their noses on the ground crossed the trail 4 different times and didn't catch it. This was less than 10 minutes after the fox had passed. They seemed to have lost all sense of smell and I don't believe they would ever have found the trail had not Ed Botts' dogs butted in and found it for them. If we had auch dogs we would shoot them and go out of biz.

o o o

BUFFALO.

Mrs. F. P. Neal is on the sick list.

Ed Utz and son were in the city, last Friday.

Glad to report Miss Jessie Utz improving.

Mrs. Ed Utz spent last Tuesday with Mrs. A. J. Utz.

Joe Huey moved, last Wednesday, to J. Q. Elstun's farm.

Several from here attended the sale last Tuesday at Mrs. Ross.'

Mrs. S. H Marshall spent last Tuesday with Mrs. Etta Clements.

Glad to report Mrs. J. Q Elstun improving, after a week's illness.

Your Hathaway correspondent was calling in Buffalo, last Monday.

Little Neal Clements has a very sore finger, caused from a gathering.

J. Q. Elstun made a flying trip to the city, last Friday, on business.

J. W. Aylor and A. F. Mason are hauling saw logs from the Springs.

Mrs. Mary Aylor and children spent last Friday with Mrs. J. Q. Elstun.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Marshall were in Florence, last Thursday, on business.

Mrs Florence Bristow and Mrs. Ada Love spent Friday with Mrs. Annie Huey.

Mrs. Ella Utz, Mrs. Mary Allen and Mrs. Mary Aylor, spent last Tuesday with Mrs. J. S Mason.

Miss Edith Feldhaus spent last Saturday and Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. Annie Bradford, at Hebron.

Little Emma Clements, while playing with a little friend, was accidentally thrown against a tree, bruising her face badly.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore entertained the young folks with a party, last Saturday night. It was well attended and enjoyed by all.

Bought Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and Sent it to a Friend.

Mr. E. W. J. Fletcher, a druggist in Victoria, Australia, says: "A customer of mine, was so well pleased with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which she had used for her children when suffering from colds and croup, that during a fortnight's time she obtained at my shop, nine bottles, which she sent to her friends in different parts of the state, telling them how much good it had done and advising them to give it a trial. For sale by all Druggists.

BELLEVIEW.

Jany. 23.—Mrs. Mary Corbin remains quite ill.

Young lambs are appearing among some of the flocks.

Xen Scott and mother were down, Sunday, visiting her children.

Uncle Lewis Snyder is able to leave his bed after an illness of several days.

This is delightful winter weather, a fine time for getting wood and feeding stock.

Mrs. Ira Powell, of Prospect Hill, Indiana, visited her father at this place a few days last week.

Charlie Wilson, wife and son passed here last Friday enroute to East Bend, to visit their friends. They will soon move to J. J. Lillard's farm.

Your reporter and wife spent Sunday with his parents on Middle creek. They are passing through the winter exceedingly well, considering their age.

Uncle Joel Corbin, of near Aurora, spent several days last week with Mrs. Mary Corbin and Albert Snyder. He is the same pleasant, good humored Uncle Joel.

Asa Cason, of the high lands, was down on Middle creek, last Sunday, hunting dogs that had been killing sheep. He found one at Mrs. Laura Marshall's, and he dispatched it in short order.

Sorry to hear that our dear young friend, Albert Snyder, is not improving. We do hope that he will recover, for he is a model young man, one who always practiced self abnegation for the comforts of his friends.

We were very sorry as well as surprised, to hear of the death of Mrs. Cowen. This writer was intimately acquainted with her for many years, and knew her to be a worthy and Christian lady. Although being confined to her bed 35 or 40 years, she bore her affliction patiently, and was pleasant and cheerful, and strove to make her associates, when in her presence, feel at home. She tried to emulate her Savior in every way possible. Her children lose a dear and loving mother, and her friends and neighbors a true and worthy associate. We extend our heart-felt sympathy to the bereaved children, and hope they may ever remember her examples.

o o o

RICHWOOD.

Lou Aydelotte's haud is improving slowly.

Wm. Vest sojourned in our city Wednesday night

Several of H. R. Hearne's family are ill with Lagrippe.

Robert Chambers is moving to the Wm. Lancaster place.

Uncle Jeff Carpenter who has been quite sick is better.

O F. Glacken is about the last to kill hogs in this vicinity.

The young folks enjoyed a dance at Greene Field's Monday night.

Ben Carpenter is quite sick. Mrs. Lucy Carpenter and daughter Alice are also sick.

L. D. Jackson and Lee Gaines filled their ice houses Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Wheat and other small grain is not very promising in prospects as yet but they may recover.

A. E. Tanner and sister, Miss Nellie, were guests of C E. Rector at Independence, Sunday.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hughes sympathize with them in the loss of their child.

The sale of the property of the late Henry Ross was well attended and only fair prices were obtained.

Wm. Metcalfe, John Byland and Henry Folmer divided the Lampton homestead property, last week.

Lee Gaines received a 1000 bushel car of corn, Wednesday; and sold some to parties at 53½ cents per bushel.

Edward Finn, an old time resident of this place, died at his home in Covington, of pneumonia, last week.

Louis Lampton, of Kenton, was a guest of friends here, last week, while dividing his late sister's property.

George Odenwald has accepted a position as fireman on the C. S. road and will report the first of next week.

Some one asked L. D. Jackson, P. M., how many Recorders were received here and he replied one million and a half.

Burglars visited our town, Tuesday night, breaking into Charles Wolfe's shop, where they secured about $2 in nickels, and a fruit cake that was in the express office They ate the cake in the office. They evidently were frightened off before they entered other houses here.

Two nervy "hoboes" struck our town one night last week. At one place they called a man out of his house and introduced themselves as Mr. Black and friend, and asked for board and bed for the night. Being refused they went on and the next place they succeeded in getting quarters for the night. Next morning the hostess was surprised when told they were moneyless, and they proceeded on their way full and happy.

Do Not Suppress a Cough.

When you have a cough do not try to suppress it, but remove the cause. The cough is only a symptom of some disease, and the disease is what you should cure, then the cough will stop off itself. The most common cause of coughing is a cold. Anodynes will promptly suppress the cough, and preparations containing chloroform, opium, etc., are used for that purpose, but they do not cure the cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on the other hand does not suppress the cough, but relieves it by removing from the throat and lungs the mucus which obstructed the breathing and allaying the irritation and tickling in the throat. It also opens the secretions and effectually and permanently cures the cold as well as the cough. For Sale by all Druggists.

FLICKERTOWN.

Mrs Egbert Nichols is quite sick.

The sick are all improving slowly.

Wood Sullivan had a wood sawing last Monday.

Otto Rector, who has been real sick for some time, is better.

Robert Patterson has moved from Happy Hollow to Petersburg.

John Beck and family were visiting Ben Akin and family, Sunday.

John Smith and Robert Terrill filled their ice houses with five inch ice.

Mrs. Leslie Nichols was calling on her parents near the hub, Wednesday.

Ben Hensley has become somewhat of a trader, and will trade for most any old thing.

Charles Hensley was calling on his brother, Ed and family, of Locust Grove, Monday.

Mrs. Lottie, of Sedamsville, was in this neighborhood buying fresh cows, one day last week.

David Walton, the Wooiper school teacher, visited at his home in Indiana, last Saturday and Sunday.

Charles Finn would like to buy some small shoats. Anyone having them to sell would do well to see him.

Henry Jarrell says that if those persons who make weather predictions and signs his name to them, would go to work they would have more bread and meat in their houses than they have.

o o o

MCVILLE.

Jan. 21.—River full of ice, coal barges and log rafts.

Mrs. R. L. Sullivan bought a new buggy, last week.

Captain W. H. Williamson has worn his straw hat all winter.

There is talk of another telephone line coming to this town.

Fred McAtee and Lucien Louden visited at John Ed Louden's, last week.

Geo. Williamson visited friends and relatives in Waterloo neighborhood, last week.

Roll and Robert Akin, our local steamboat men, are at home during the suspension of navigation.

Mrs. Armie Sullivan entertained Meadames Will Sebree, Robert Akin, J E. Louden and Miss Nancy Stucky, a few days since.

The residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Akin, near here, together with nearly its entire contents, was burned last Thursday before noon. There was no insurance on any of the property, and the loss is the more distressing because of the extreme age of Mrs. Akin—81 years. Her brother, Hogan Presser, who lived with her, lost everything he owned except the clothes he was wearing. No one was at the house when the fire was discovered except Mrs. Akin and Richard Stephens' little son, and they were unable to save anything of consequence. It is supposed that the fire was communicated to the building by a pan of ashes that was taken out of the fire place that morning. Mrs. Akin and Mr. Presser have the sympathy of all in their loss.

o o o

HATHAWAY.

Jan. 23 —Fine weather last week, for stripping tobacco.

Colds and coughs are quite prevalent in this neighborhood.

R R. Houston atteuded the sale of Henry Ross, near Union, last Tuesday.

Robert Houston has for sale 25 barred Plymouth rock cockerels, at $1 each.

Cage Stephens, of Woolper, has purchased S. H Marshall's Gunpowder farm, for $1,000.

Tobacco buyers have not been swinging around this circle yet. Some few growers are done stripping.

Robert Sullivan gave the young folks a delightful play party, last Thursday night. All had a good time

Thomas J. Stepheus got badly hurt last Friday morning. While splitting wood his ax struck the clothes line, causing the pole to strike him on the head, cutting an ugly gash.

The Riddell's Run and Hathaway Telephone Company organized last Thursday with E H. Baker, president; M. W. Ryle, secretary; Wm. Phillips, treasurer and Claud and G. A. Ryle, directors.

Your writer celebrated his 31st birthday last Friday with a dinner. Those present were W. S. White and wife, James White and wife, Clay White and family, and Mrs. Florence Smith and daughter. All spent the day very pleasantly.

o o o

BIG BONE.

Mary and Sallie Baker are visiting for a few days at the Springs.

J. T. Hughes put in a 'phone for W. R. Miller and his son, T. H., Friday.

Farmers are anxious to sell their tobacco. A buyer would do well here.

Mrs. W. R Miller has a few choice White Holland Turkeys for sale at 12½ cents a pound.

Z. T. Baker says that Big Bone is accused of being the worst place in the county for scrapping, but he knows Beaver Lick beats it 10 to 1,

Misses Mattie and Myrtle Miller entertained quite a crowd of young people with a finch party, in honor of their cousins, Misses Mary and Sallie Baker, of Covington.

The Warsaw Independent published an interview in itslast issue with M. I. Barker, of Carrollton, in which he said if the land owners along the proposed route would give the right of way, the L. and O. electric road would be built.

o o o

FLORENCE.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allie Laile is able to be up after an illness of two months.

Mr. and Mrs J. B. Berkshire and children, of Petersburg, visited Mrs. John Ryle last week.

(Mrs James Tanner left Sunday for a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Thorpe, of Worthville.

Miss Agnes Tanner, of Kidville, was the pleasant guest of her cousin, Mrs. Lloyd Aylor several days during the past week.

GRANT.

The local sick are no better.

No coal for sale at any of the yards. River rising and scattering ice running.

Your scribe visited the hub last Saturday.

The packets and mail boats came out Saturday night.

Chas. Mauer made a business trip to the hub, last Thursday.

One death, two births and one marriage here since January 1.

Flick Bros have begun harvesting their large crop of willows.

Tobacco will be received at both the local warehouses this season.

James Thompson and H. D. Brady will receive tobacco at this place.

Several tobacco strippers in this precinct will finish stripping this week.

The Daisy took shelter at the foot of Laughery island during the run of ice.

E E Kelly and wife visited relatives at Waterloo, last Saturday night and Sunday.

Henry Deck, of Woolper, was delivering willows to Mauer & Son, here Saturday.

Ed Sandford and Alfred Smith would like to sign with some good ball team the coming season.

Charles Mauer and wife and James Smith, jr., and wife spent Sunday with Sebe Scott and wife.

Effie Beemon, of East Bend Road, was visiting Cordia Clore here, Saturday night and Sunday.

Andy Cook and Misses Cordia and Grace Clore visited Albert Snyder, Friday, who is quite sick at his home near Burlington.

Your reporter and the Belleview pedagogue will leave for Kansas in a few weeks to take up a homestead on the government land in that state.

In regard to what Commissary said about Bellevue being such a rowdy town, we want to call attention to the fact that Bellevue has 100 inhabitants to Commisary's 1. There is always more corruption in large cities than there is in small country villages.

The basket firm of Mauer & Son contemplate building or renting a larger building for a basket shop, and working 15 or 20 hands this summer. If it is a go Caddie and wife will probably go to housekeeping in the house now occupied by Al Rogers. Officers of the new firm are, Joseph Mauer, president; Caddie Mauer, vice president; Dony Cook, foreman; Jake Cook, assistant foreman; Andy Cook, inspector.

o o o

BULLITTSVILLE.

Rev Early is boarding at Lee Crop pers while his wife is visiting in Texas.

Several icehouses were filled last week with six inch ice of a fair quality.

Enis Mulleus went to the city Sunday to visit his mother and to look for a job.

Menter Martin took his saddle horse to the city to sell him one day last week.

Dick McMurry, wife and sister spent Saturday and Sunday with Earnest Brown and wife.

Kenneth Baisley who was reported as improving last week was not so well this morning.

Rev. Early will move in the spring to the place that John Cropper recently purchased of Esq. Clinton Gaines.

Bob McIntosh was the first in this neighborhood to finish stripping tobacco. There have been no sales to date that we have heard of.

On account of the ice in the river last week some of the Petersburg merchants were trying to make a bargain with our hay haulers to haul their goods to them.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

Jan. 23 —What has become of the query box? Have heard nothing of it lately.

All put up fine, fresh six inch ice here last week.

The new pastor preached at Bullittsville, last Sunday.

The river is falling and leaving immense banks of shore ice.

May the Recorder's list of subscribers increase as the new year passes.

Hon. N. S Walton attended the Mt. Pleasant Grange meeting last Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Watts is quite sick. The little daughter of W. L. Cropper is better

Mrs. B R Gaines spent Saturday in Petersburg with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Parker.

The Executive Board of the North Bend Association will meet in Burlington April first.

Mrs. Edgar Cropper and Mrs. Carrie Gaines visited Mrs. John Walton, at Home City, last week.

Mrs. Legrand Gaines writes that she is well pleased with Jacksonville, Fla., but she will go further south.

Miss Maud Wiugate, of Petersburg, has returned home after spending a week with Mrs. Charles Baisly.

Mrs. Lucy Walton, of Petersburg, after visiting Mrs. Kreyleich, one day last week, went on to Burlington on business.

Enoch White has bought a 151 acre farm 6 miles back of Aurora, Indiana. We hope he will soon return to Kentucky to live.

Mrs. John Early, of Petersburg, visited Kenneth Baisly last week and reported him improving, but he is not so well at this time.

Idlewild unites with the entire community in extending condolence and sympathy to the family of Jas. Rogers in their sad afflictiou.

Miss Eunle, daughter of T. G. Willis, will start to Cleveland, Ohio, Tuesday, to spend several months with her sister, Mrs. Edgar Jones.

All miss the old reliable Farmers and Mechanics Almanac. Hope that they will be prepared to renew their publication again next year.

Last week was so pleasantly spent by your scribe at elegant dinners at R G. Gaines', H. C. Duncan's and J. J. Duncan's, that she left her column in the Recorder for others to supply.

BEAVER.

J L. Jones has Lagrippe.

There is scarcely a family in this neighborhood that is clear of sickness.

J. C. Hughes bought several crops of tobacco last week, paying from $4 to $10 per 100.

Little Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Gilpin, who has been very low of pneumonia and whooping cough, is thought to be out of danger.

Mrs. G. M. Slayback, of Marshall, Ind , who has been visiting her son, G. A. Slayback, here for several days, left last Saturday for Crescent Springs, where she will spend a few days before returning home.

Died, on the 16th inst., of pneumonia, little George William, 18 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hughes Funeral services were conducted at the residence the next day by Rev Everett Bedinger, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Chapel cemetery.

We see our sheriff has been allowed 900 delinquent polls. This is getting to be a matter of great importance to this county. Poll tax ought to either be done away with entirely or some plan invented to collect it As those who pay the least tax frequently make the most noise about election times, how would a law do requiring each and every voter to produce his tax receipt at the polls. This would inconvenience the man who pays his tax very little, and I would be willing to wager the hulls off of a nickels worth of peanuts, that there would not be 20 delinquents in the county.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

Jan. 16.—J. L. Rouse, of Spring Place Ga., arrived here last Wednesday. There is no percetible change in him, and he is well pleased with his new home after a trial of two years.

W. N. Surface attended the funeral of Dr Rice, at Wallace, Ind

Clint Blankenbeker and wife were visiting at Beaver, last Sunday.

Rev. Slater and family broke bread with the writer on Tuesday of last week.

Rev. Slater attended a special meeting of Miami Synod at St. Paris, O., last Tuesday.

William Dixon and two sons, of near Richwood, were guests at B. C. Surface's last Sunday.

Mrs. Ross' sale, last week, was attended by a large crowd and every thing sold for fair prices

Will Carpenter and wife, of Richwood, spent several days last week with his sister, Mrs. Susie Surface.

L. P. Aylor, our poultry man, has sold 25 Plymouth Rock roosters this winter. Pete has spent considerable time and money to get up a strain of fancy chickens, and he has made it a success. His favorite breeds are white and B. Plymouth Rocks and Buff Orpingtons.

After an illness of several years of heart disease, James A. Smith died at his home near Union, last Saturday, the 21st inst., aged 73 years and 7 months. Mr. Smith was very patient through all of his years of suffering and fully realized his condition, and often spoke about it to his family and friends very calmly, which was evidence that he was submisive to the Master's will. He was united to Elander Frances Tanner in marriage Sept. 16, 1858. To this union five children were born, all of whom survive him, except one daughter, who died in her infancy. In his death the community loses one of its best citizens; the family, a kind and affectionate husband and an indulgent father. The funeral services were conducted by Pastor Slater at Hopeful church, last Sunday. He was buried in Hopeful cemetery by Golden Grange, of which he was a devoted member since its organization. His popularity was demonstrated by the large audience, which gathered to pay their last token of respect to him The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

o o o

CONSTANCE.

Mr. Dressel's daughter is on the sick list.

Louie Kottmyer has a pet on his nose—an abscess.

Frank McGlasson and entire family are on the sick list.

Adam Dolwick is making extensive repairs on his recently purchased farm.

The ice is nearly all out of the river, and the ferryboat will soon be running.

You can reach Coroner Murat by phone by calling our accommodating livery stable man, Walter Klasner.

Frank McGlasson's child who was reported dead of pneumonia was quite low, but is yet a very live child, thanks to Dr. Murat.

Several of the boys who crossed the river on the ice to get to their work, broke through, but fortunately they escaped with only thorough wettings.

The Constance Building and Loan Association pays larger dividends than any other association in the county, and larger than the Ludlow Association.

o o o

LIMABURG.

W. J. Tanner has a good fresh cow for sale.

Lloyd Weaver has been on the sick list of late.

Carl Craven, of Constance, visited his parents near here Sunday.

Mrs. Delila Utz is suffering from the effects of a bad fall, which she had last week.

Miss Sadie Beemon was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Aylor from Friday until Sunday.

Mrs Geo. Baker spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. Wever, who has been sick.

Mrs. Mary E. Grigier has returned from a two weeks' visit to her daughter, Mrs. Houston, of Covington.

Misses Grace and Clara Anderson entertained their school mates with a finch social, one night last week.

J. D Aylor has concluded that to be without a telephone is to be out of the world, and he is going to have one put in his house.

Saved From Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs M L. Robbitt, of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles Free at all Druggists.

HAMILTON.

Pearl Kite, son of J. W. Kite, is quite sick of Lagrippe.

G. M. Allen and Lou Miller filled their ice houses with very fine ice, last week.

Charlie Feldhaus was the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. E. Markesbery, last Sunday.

Mrs. Ben Allen, of near Landing, spent the day last Friday with Mrs. James Allen, of Hamilton.

Mrs. John Conly, of near this place, spent last Friday with her mother, Mrs. Annie Taylor, of Landing.

Miss Carrie and Lulie Buff, of this place, spent last Sunday very pleasantly with Miss Liddy and Lilly Taylor, of near Landing.

Abb Sayre's boat which was moored at Landing was broken loose by the heavy ice, and with him and his wife on board it was carried to Sugar creek, where it grounded on the bar, and after Mr. and Mrs. Sayre made their escape to the Indiana shore the boat was carried on down stream, and the last heard of it was at Madison, Indiana. Loss, $150.

o o o

BEECH GROVE.

Lagrippe and colds are prevalent in this neighborhood.

Mrs. Viola Ryle has been on the sick list for several days.

We had a new huckster this week—Lewis Craig, of East Bend

Mrs. Susie Stephens was on the sick list several days the past week.

Mrs. Nan McAtee spent last Thursday with Mrs. Viola Ryle and daughter.

J. W. Ryle and George Smith have another load of furs to go off the last of this week.

Lawrence Pope and wife gave the young folks an oyster supper last Saturday night.

Tommie Stephens was one among the first to get through stripping tobacco in this neighborhood.

Mat Ryle and family spent the day very pleasantly, last Sunday, with Dave Williamson and wife.

Mrs. Viola Ryle and Mrs. Sallie Smith spent last Monday with Mrs. Fannie McNeely, of Gunpowder.

Mrs. Lina McMullen, Mrs. Viola Ryle and daughter spent last Tuesday with Mrs. Wm (Sulley of Waterloo.

Charlie Kelly, wife and children, and Mode Scott and wife, Sundayed with Sam Pope and wife, of Beech Grove.

Milton Adams, of Walton, was down to see his brother-in-law and sister, Tommie Stephens and wife last Wednesday night and Thursday.

o o o

RABBIT HASH.

Jan. 19.—Born, Jan. 19, to Thomas Kent and wife, a son.

Truman Riggs' little boy is threatened with pneumonia.

Mike Bailey gave the young people a dance, Friday night.

Miss Myra McConnell, of East Bend, has been suffering with rheumatism.

Lizzie Anderson, of Cincinnati, is visiting her aunt, Mrs Ennie Wingate.

The Grangers had an all day meeting for installation of officers at the hall, Saturday.

B. W. Nelson is able to be about again, and it is said he will take charge of Chas. Craig's store.

Mrs. Elizabeth Akin, whose dwelling was burned last week, is making her home with her nicce, Mrs. R. T. Stephens.

C. C. Craig purchased the lower store room of Vet Gaines and has started a grocery there with S. J. Stephens as temporary clerk.

H. D. Brady purchased a crop of tobacco from Mike Bailey for 11 cents and one from Richard Stephens for 10 cents per pound.

The K. of P entertained their families with an oyster supper, last Saturday night. The ladies were also invited to the lodge room to witness the installation of officers.

A Very Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Ballamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Week, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor, from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by All Druggists. Price 50 cents.

Winter stays with us.

The sick are all about the same as last week:

Born to Homer Clutterbuck and wife, on the 24th inst., twin girls.

Lawrence Phipps, delinquent tax collector, is making considerable progress.

Leonard Rouse and Chas. Youell, of Limaburg, and Noah Barlow, of Gunpowder, was transacting business in Burlington yesterday.

Notice—Notice is hereby given that I will shoot every dog I find on my premises, that is not accompanied by its owner. CHAS. E. WHITE.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, • • • KENTUCKY.

CURRENT TOPICS.

Spain has 1,027 iron mines, 461 coal and 21 lead and silver mines.

The average rise of the Nile at Thebes is 40 feet.

Twenty per cent of the students at Swiss universities are women.

Brazil consumes every year dried beef to the amount of $6,000,000.

In British India rice culture occupies an area almost four times the area of wheat.

The first Mormon temple ever erected in Europe has just been completed in Stockholm.

The dowager empress of China has already spent nearly $4,000,000 on her own monument.

On a rough average, 45,000 sovereigns pass over the Bank of England's counters every day.

Smokeless powder throws off a faint haze which is clearly discernible through violet glasses.

Soldiers of the civil war are dying at the rate of 150 a day, according to Pension Commissioner Ware.

Influenza is more prevalent and more fatal in Chicago this winter than at any time since the epidemic year of 1891.

The national house of representatives made a new speed record by passing 457 pension bills in 108 minutes.

It is estimated that the 1904-5 beet sugar crop of Europe will fall over 20 per cent short of that of the previous year.

The first Japanese ever brought back under the extradition treaty was sentenced at Honolulu on December 5 to imprisonment for perjury.

The Bulgarian government has appropriated the sum of $250,000 for the purchase of modern agricultural machines and implements.

A Madrid restaurant keeper has sued a woman for a meal. He swears that she ate and drank without ceasing from 8 p. m. to 2 p. m.

Upwards of $16,000,000 worth of oil cake and oil cake meal were exported from the United States in the first 11 months of the calendar year 1904.

There are 44,000 hotels in the United States representing an invested capital of over $6,000,000,000. These establishments employ 3,500,000 persons.

During the week of July 4, 1904, there were 308 fires in Greater New York, of which 128 were traceable to fireworks on last Independence day.

The first shipment of wheat was recently made from Queensland—doubtless the beginning of an export trade which may assume large proportions.

The name Dieppe comes from deppa, which means deep, and, true to its name, it is said to be the surest and deepest port on the English Channel.

William J. Tyndall, congressman-elect from the Fourteenth Missouri district, has just visited a city for the first time and taken his first ride on an elevator.

In defense to a charge of selling milk wholly devoid of fat an English cowkeeper said that his cows had been eating cabbages, but the defense did not aid him.

A bee that works only at night is found in the jungles of India. It is an unusually large insect. The combs are often six feet and from four inches to six inches thick.

Six gallons of oil fed to an angry sea protected the passengers of the big Hamburg-American liner Pretoria from the fury of a tempest all day long the other day.

There was a new feature introduced in the Kansas legislature when the house held its first session. The feature was the repetition of the Lord's Prayer by the assembled legislators.

Infant mortality is reported to be greater in Prussia than in any country except Russia. The deaths the first year are 6 to 7 per cent in Sweden, 15 in France and 23.6 in Prussia.

The street railroads of San Francisco, in accordance with a request by the board of health, have issued an order against carrying of soiled clothes on their cars in bundles or baskets.

Santa Fe detectives disguised as tramps have found that its trainmen have been carrying passengers at greatly reduced rates on the company's California lines and pocketing the money.

Director John R. Sage, of the weather and crop service, estimates that the Iowa corn yield will go beyond his first figures of 300,000,000 bushels made several weeks ago. The total may reach 325,000,000 bushels.

Japanese exports for 1904 showed an increase of $6,424,159 over 1903 and the imports increased $10,080,597. Nearly all agricultural products were abundant, especially rice, which amounted to 248,145,000 bushels.

There is a belief among the South Sea islanders that no man can enter paradise who has lost a limb. For this reason it sometimes happens that a man will choose to die rather than submit to amputation.

The meanest man has been discovered in Spokane. He was caught robbing an orphan's mite box in a store in which he was employed as watchman.

Sawdust is now used by some Paris restaurants, the Gaiois says, as a dressing for cutlets instead of bread crumbs. It costs only thirty cents a sack.

Opium smoking has reached immense proportions in the French ports on the Mediterranean sea. Laws have been passed in Marseilles and Toulon forbidding the "rolling of pills" in public places in those cities.

NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD.

Happenings of Interest Gathered and Condensed For the Busy Reader.

CONGRESSIONAL AND WAR ITEMS.

Crimes and Casualties—Interesting Intelligence From the Capital of the Nation, With a Selection of Foreign Notes.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The national house of representatives adopted the 12 articles of impeachment against Judge Charles Swayne, of the district court of the Northern district of Florida, which had been presented by its special committee of investigation.

The house of representatives passed the army appropriation bill, after voting to incorporate in it an amendment providing that hereafter retired army officers assigned to the militia of the several states shall not receive any pay or allowance additional to their pay as retired officers.

Representative John Sharp Williams called a caucus for the purpose of resigning leadership of the minority.

The Woman's Army and Navy league presented a petition to the senate committee on military affairs for the restoration of the beer canteen at army posts.

Representative Hearst introduced a bill to authorize the acquisition of the entire capital stock and property of the Panama Railroad Co., and to provide for the maintenance, operation and development by the government of the railroad and steamship properties so acquired.

RUSSIAN-JAPANESE WAR NEWS.

The population of Mukden is leaving in expectation of a Japanese advance. Natives report that 40,000 Japanese from Gen. Nogi's forces at Port Arthur have advanced north to join Field Marshal Oyama.

The British steamer Powderham, which sailed from Barry, Eng., November 12 for Vladivostok, has entered the port of Woosung, her crew refusing to proceed to Vladivostok for fear of capture by the Japanese.

A considerable increase has been noticeable in the range of the Japanese artillery. This fact affords ground for the belief that part of the heavy guns used in the siege of Port Arthur have been sent north.

Twenty-seven men and women, comprising the first party of refugees from Port Arthur, arrived at Cheefoo in a junk. They stated that 22 other junks, bearing more than 500 non-combatants, were also coming.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Blood poisoning, caused by the pinch of a lobster, has caused the death of Otto Zimmerman, a chef in a big Harlem restaurant.

John McNeil, president of the International Boiler Makers and Shipbuilders' union, has been suspended from office by the executive council on the ground that McNeil has not worked for the best interests of the union in the recent Union Pacific strike.

The national convention of the United Mineworkers of America adopted a resolution forbidding membership to all saloon keepers, owners of saloons or barkeepers.

Four Americans and one Mexican were ambushed and killed by Yaqui Indians four miles east of Cobachi, 35 miles east of La Colorado, state of Sonora, Mexico. Names of the Americans are: Dr. R. C. Coy, Chicago; John K. McKenzie, Chicago, M. A. Call, Toledo, O.; Walter Stubinger, Kewanee, Ill.

A. A. Smith, editor of the Buena Vista (Ia.) Vidette, shot and probably fatally wounded H. F. Schultz, formerly county attorney, in the latter's office.

In the hope of getting a cure for his crippled son by means of medical attention in New York, Carl N. Spencer, of Des Moines, Ia., has for four years systematically robbed the Des Moines National bank. He was arrested and admitted defalcations amounting to $9,000.

Shortly after leaving her father's store on her way home Miss Belle Bloodworth, daughter of a well-known merchant, was found murdered in an alley in New Decatur, Ala. No clew.

In a recurrence of earthquakes in Tessaly a village was destroyed and several persons were killed or injured. Floods are general in Greece, especially at Sparta.

President Roosevelt, who is stated to have accepted the invitation of Williams college to attend the commencement June 20, will receive the degree of LL.D.

Both houses of the New Mexico legislature passed strong resolutions protesting against the passage of a joint statehood bill and insisting that New Mexico is entitled to statehood within its present boundaries.

Cuba's production of tobacco for 1904 was 416,000 bales, an increase of 74,000 bales over 1903. The production of tobacco in Western Cuba increased and that in the central and eastern parts of the island diminished.

The estate of Theodore Thomas is valued at $50,000, according to his will, filed for probate.

A very strong and promising vein of gas was struck on the Jacob Gilbert farm in the Beaver dam, near the Cherry Fork creek, two miles west of Columbiana, O., by the Ohio Knob Oil Co.

With the shipment of 2,000 tons of California oil asphalt by the Barkentine Hollis Wood, for New York, a new era begins in the output of this matter from San Francisco, and probably the largest tonage ever moved in the history of the industry.

While speeding his racing automobile on the beach at Daytona, Fla., Frank Croker, son of Richard Croker, collided with a motor cycle chair driven by one of the Ormond hotel employes. He died several hours later from his injuries.

The second annual session of the American Breeders' association, of which Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is president, will be held at the College of Agriculture, Champaign, Ill., February 1, 2 and 3, immediately following the meeting of the Illinois Live Stock Breeders association.

The president has directed the appointment of a joint board of army and navy officers to consider and report upon the advisability of the introduction of the study of jiu jitsu in the United States Military and Naval academies.

As a result of the hubbub raised by the retired general officers of the army getting full pay while serving with the organized militia of the several states, Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired, will request President Roosevelt to rescind the order assigning him with the Massachusetts National guard.

Fearing the vengeance of blackmailers, who have poisoned two of his finest horses and burned his barn, Moses Muncey, of Huntington, W. Va., has appealed to the authorities, and armed deputy sheriffs keep guard over his home day and night.

A head-on collision between two freight trains, one a double-header, on the Louisville & Nashville railroad at Shawnee, Tenn., resulted in the death of four railroad men and the injuring of four others, two of whom will die.

Capt. Orlan Cullen, representative of the Imperial Marine Association of Tokio, received a cablegram from Constantinople to the effect that 1,500 Circassians had revolted and killed the Russian guard, numbering 200, at Siavina, in the Cauchaus.

The residence of George Barnes, one of the best known farmers in North Wisconsin, was burned. Four persons perished.

The Dominican republic, after mature consideration, has formally and freely invited the government of the United States to assist in the way of its customs revenue and to aid it in the fiscal system upon a firm and business like basis.

H. L. Miller and Charles E. Tolerton, who escaped the Indian massacre in Sonora, Mex., passed through Nogales, Ariz., with the bodies of Dr. R. C. Coy, of Chicago; I. K. Mackenzie, M. A. Call and James Stethinger, bound for Chicago.

Charles Tuxhorn, a farmer living 14 miles southwest of McPherson, Kan., killed his two sons, 6 and 10, respectively, burned his house and barn with all of the contents, and shot and killed himself.

Near Chattanooga, Tenn., John Gossel killed John Doaner with a knife. He severed his head from his body, cutting out his heart and inflicting 25 other wounds.

Several women were injured in a stampede of thousands of excited Russian subjects who clamored for admittance to the West Side Auditorium, Chicago, to hear the news from St. Petersburg.

Evans Thomas, who played a practical joke on his friend, Charlie Bell, was shot and killed by him on Auckland plantation, Jonesville, La.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was the chief speaker given at a dinner in his honor by New York Middlesex club.

Work on the Santiago (Cuba) water works was formally begun.

J. D. Greene, secretary to President Eliot, or Harvard, stated that the proposed advance from $150 to $250 in the tuition fee has been postponed indefinitely.

The interior department has temporarily withdrawn from all forms of disposal except under the mineral laws 15 townships, embracing 322,560 acres of public lands in the East Coruces, N. M., land district.

The fathmian canal commission has received a requisition from the canal zone for 30,000 tons of coal for use in conection with the construction work.

J. K. McKenzie, a well known mining engineer, of Chicago, was killed by Indians in the state of Sonora, five miles from Hermosillo, Mex.

Senator Reed Smoot testified in his own behalf. He said there were no obligations taken by Mormons to avenge the blood of the prophets upon either "the nation" or "this generation," as had been testified to by witnesses for the prosecution.

The laborers on the large sugar plantations in the Loiza, Rio Grande and Mameyes districts, Porto Rico, have struck for an advance of wages from 50 cents a day to 75 cents.

Two physicians were called to see Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick in jail in Cleveland. She is said to be suffering from physical and mental collapse. Attorney Dawley says she is afflicted with heart trouble.

At a special meeting of the Leather Belting Manufacturers' association it was unanimously resolved to advance the price of belting 15 per cent. above the price in force on November 1, 1904.

Gov. Folk, of Missouri, has issued an order which requires professional lobbyists to report to him and get out of town within 30 hours without issuing any railroad passes.

A joint report of the five borough presidents, recomending the purchase of land for for more than score of new parks in Greater New York, to cost $13,000,000, was presented to the board of estimate.

The question of organizing a Grocers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. will be discussed at the National Retail Grocers' association convention to be held in Cincinnati.

President Pro Tempore Frye, of the senate, appointed Messrs. Foraker and Gorman as tellers on the part of the senate to count the electoral vote on February 8.

A. G. Stewart, of Iowa, has been appointed attorney general of Porto Rico to succeed Willis Sweet, of Idaho, resigned.

The tribute of the legislature of Massachusetts to the memory of the late United States Senator George Frisbie Hoar was formally paid.

Brodie L. Duke, the half brother of the president of the American Tobacco Co., who has been kept in a sanitarium following his marriage to Alice Webb, was brought into the supreme court in Brooklyn and discharged from custody.

By invitation Booker T. Washington briefly addressed the two houses of the Kansas legislature.

Wichita, Kan., hotels refused admittance to Booker T. Washington.

In the national convention of the United Mine Workers, John Mitchell, president, was accused by Delegate Randall of having been a traitor to the miners' organization and of having entered into a conspiracy with the mine owners, D. M. Parry and Gov. Peabody's peace organizations to ruin the Colorado miners and lose them the recent strike.

Salmon B. Ormsby, recently indicted by the federal grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the United States government of public land, entered a plea of not guilty at Portland, Ore.

The capital of Russia seemingly is on the verge of an incipient revolution. Thousands of people paraded the streets; 100,000 workmen are on strike. The government augmented the garrison of the city with 2,500 cavalry and 1,000 infantry from Tsarskoeselo and filled the streets, especially in the dissatisfied quarter, with heavy patrols of soldiers.

Delegate Robert Randall, of Wyoming, who charged President Mitchell with having sold out the Colorado miners, was expelled from the United Mine Workers.

The grand jury at Pueblo, Col., returned 257 indictments, alleging irregularities and crimes in the last election.

John J. Rooney, "the giant gripman," a well-known wrestler, threw ten Boers in 28 minutes and 11 seconds at Chicago.

President Angell, of the Michigan university, tendered his resignation to the board of regents, but it was not accepted.

President Roosevelt received a genuine Sioux war bonnet and a Sioux buckskin coat. They were presented by John Flinn, superintendent of the Indian school at Chamberlain, S. D.

A party of Black Hills cowboys is being organized to go to Washington for the inauguration of President Roosevelt.

President Loubet has accepted the resignations of the Combes ministry, but requested the ministers to continue the duties of their offices until a new cabinet had been formed.

Frank Evans and William Elmer Browning were arrested at Bedford, Ind., on warrants sworn out by John H. Underwood, an attorney, charging them with the murder of Miss Sarah C. Schafer on the night of January 21, 1903.

The strike of the cotton mill operatives at Fall River, Mass., which affected about 25,000 persons and has been in progress for six months, was settled through the mediation of Gov. William L. Douglas.

The number of railway accidents in the United States during the months of July, August and September, 1904, were 228 passengers and 183 employes killed, and 2,154 passengers and 1,593 employes injured in train accidents. Other accidents bring the aggregate casualties for the quarter up to 1,032 killed and 13,207 injured.

Judge Wing, of the federal court at Cleveland, fixed the bond of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, under indictment there, at $20,000, which will be furnished. She will immediately be rearrested by the county authorities under other indictments.

Andrew Carnegie will make good the losses of those who suffered worst in the failure of the Citizens' National bank at Oberlin, O.

The secretaries of war, state and navy have declined to permit the buildings of their departments to be used as temporary quarters for troops which will attend the inauguration.

Philander C. Knox was elected United States senator for the short and long terms to succeed the late Senator Quay by the Pennsylvania legislature.

Senator Nelson V. Aldrich was nominated by both houses of the Rhode Island general assembly for a fifth term by the republicans.

Corporal punishment for men who beat their wives, or any other female, is provided for in a bill filed in the Massachusetts senate.

John R. Platt, of New York, white and wealthy, is suing Hannah Elias a Negress, to compel her to return $685,000 which he claims she extorted from him during an acquaintance of 20 years.

Resolutions demanding of congress the immediate repeal of the 15 per cent. duty on hides were passed unanimously at the annual meeting of the New England Shoe and Leather association.

AGAIN THE SHIP SUBSIDY.

Something That the People Will Soon Express Their Opinion On.

In many respects the new ship subsidy bill prepared by the merchant marine commission, is one of the worst bills dealing with this subject that have ever been before the country. Under it the government would be compelled to pay a "subvention" of $5 a gross ton to any American vessel running to a foreign port, no matter how short the voyage. Nor would it make any difference as to the character of the vessel. This bonus would go to the great ocean greyhounds which carry practically no freight. These ships average about 11,000 tons, so they would get $55,000 a year without rendering any service to the government. They are already paid for carrying the mails. This money, therefore, says the Indianapolis News (Ind.) would be a present to them. Little ships and big ones alike, whether they carry any freight or not, are expected to be taken care of.

Another interesting feature is the provision that ships, to get the "subvention," need only have one-sixth of their crews American. One of the great arguments for the subsidy is that our ship owners cannot afford to pay the high wages demanded by Americans. This very report "deals with the handicap upon American shipping created by subsidies and bounties bestowed upon most of the merchant fleets of foreign governments," and reference is made to "the lower cost of foreign ships and the lower cost of maintenance of these ships—due in both cases, primarily, to lower wages." Yet there is nothing in this bill compelling ship owners to pay higher wages; and under its provisions they may employ crews five-sixths foreign. In other words, it is urged that we shall pay ship owners $5 a year a ton in order that they may pay high wages, and then permit them to hire cheap foreign labor to sail their ships.

Nor is the provision looking to the establishment of a naval reserve or militia by any means unobjectionable. The plan is to enroll officers and men engaged in foreign trade or employed on deep-sea fishing boats, these men to be paid an annual retainer of from $15 to $100. No officers and sailors engaged in the coastwise trade or in the lake trade could get into the naval militia. We shall doubtless hear much of this naval reserve scheme from those who are anxious to cover up the subsidy feature of this vicious bill. In addition to everything else it is proposed to impose a tonnage tax of from 8 cents to $1.60 on all vessels entered in any port of the United States from a foreign port, and to increase the tonnage taxes on all vessels, American or foreign, now entering our ports in foreign trade.

As has been said there is no discrimination in regard to the size or character of the vessels or as to their speed. The largest subsidy would go to the biggest ships which carry no freight. Nor is there any requirement as to the number of trips to be made in a year, though there is a provision that the largest subsidy shall be paid to ships "engaged" in foreign trade or deep-sea fishing for 12 months. The subsidy is then graded down to $4, and $2.50, for ships so engaged for nine, or six months. As far as we can see the bill is objectionable from every point of view. It does not repeal the law under which mail subsidies are now paid; though it provides that ships receiving the new subsidy shall carry the United States mails free of charge "if the postmaster general shall so require." But it is suggested that he would be a brave postmaster general "who would stand up against the combined shipping interests of salt water ports and refrain from paying them the ordinary mail rates in addition to the subsidy under this act."

Some day—we hope—the American people will have a merchant marine. If they ever get it it will be by repealing the silly taxes now imposed on material going into ships, wiping out our foolish restrictions, allowing our people to buy ships where they please and sail them under the American flag. As for this bill, we think that the political party that consents to father it will hear from the people in a way that it will not like.

CRITICISM AND COMMENT.

—Just now the trouble with congress seems to be that it not only doesn't know what to do, but it doesn't even know how to do it.—Indianapolis News (Ind.).

—Having selected Mr. Morton, the railroad man, to assist him in preventing the practice of freight rebates, the president should now select Mr. Gates or Mr. Morgan to assist in the work of preventing stock speculations.—The Commoner.

—President Roosevelt has the fullest confidence in Secretary Morton's judgment and integrity, and as the secretary's seamanship is not to be questioned we may assume that the navy is as safe as the third Baltic fleet.—St. Paul Globe.

—One of the Chicago packers says "the packing industry is subjected to the severest kind of competition, and the profit is less than in any other business." Will not some congressman earn undying gratitude by proposing a subsidy for the impoverished packers?—Pittsburg Dispatch.

—Secretary Morton's conscience is not so sensitive as to condemn Vice President Morton of the Santa Fe railroad for granting secret rebates in violation of the law.—N. Y. World.

—A democrat who attended the republican senatorial caucus at Jefferson City said that he was pleased to observe some improvement in the republican party. Had he been permitted to speak at length he would have added that he was surprised at even such little improvement. When referring to the improvement of the republican party in Missouri it is necessary to make very fine distinctions.—St. Louis Republic.

A GREAT SUFFERER

LAY HELPLESS AND SPEECHLESS FOR HOURS AT A TIME.

Sinking Spells, Headaches, Rheumatism, All Caused by Poor Blood—Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

When Mrs. Williams was asked for some details of the fearful illness from which she had so long suffered, she spoke as follows:

"Ever since I had nervous prostration, about thirteen years ago, I have had periodical spells of complete exhaustion. Any excitement or unusual activity would throw me into a state of lifelessness. At the beginning my strength would come back in a moderate time, but the period of weakness kept lengthening until at last I would lie helpless as many as three hours at a stretch."

"You were under medical treatment, of course?"

"Yes, when I became so bad that I had to give up my housework, in May of 1903, I was being treated for kidney trouble, and later the doctor thought my difficulties came from change of life. I was not only weak, but I had dizzy feelings, palpitation of the heart, misery after eating, hot flashes, nervous headaches, rheumatic pains in the back and hips. The doctor did me so little good that I gave up his treatment, and really feared that my case was incurable."

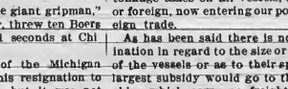
"What saved you from your state of hopelessness?"

"In July of 1903 I had a very bad spell, and my husband came in one day with a little book which told of remarkable cures effected by a remedy for the blood and the nerves, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He bought a box for me, and that was the beginning of my return to health. My appetite grew keen, my food no longer distressed me, my nerves were quieted, and my strength began to revive."

"How long did you take this remedy?"

"For two months only. At the end of that time I had regained my health and cheerfulness, and my friends say that I am looking better than I have done for the past fifteen years."

Mrs. Lizzie Williams is now living at No. 416 Cedar street, Quincy, Illinois. The pills which she praises so highly, cure all diseases that come from impoverished blood. If your system is all run down, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the very best remedy to take. Any druggist can supply them.



Nothing But the Truth.

"My work," remarked the bald-headed dentist, "is so painless that my patients often fall asleep in the chair while I am at work."

"Huh, that's nothing!" retorted his rival. "My patients nearly all insist on having their pictures taken while I am at work, in order to catch the expression of delight on their faces."—Chicago Daily News.

10,000 Plants for 10c.

This is a remarkable offer the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., makes.

Salzer Seeds have a national reputation as the earliest, finest, choicest the earth produces. They will send you their big plant and seed catalog, together with enough seed to grow

1,000 fine, solid Cabbages,
2,000 rich, juicy Turnips,
2,000 blanching, nutty Celery,
2,000 rich, buttery Lettuce,
1,000 splendid Onions,
1,000 rare, luscious Radishes,
1,000 gloriously brilliant Flowers.

This great offer is made in order to induce you to try their warranted seeds—for when you once plant them you will grow no others, and

ALL FOR BUT 10c POSTAGE,

providing you will return this notice, and if you will send them 20c in postage, they will add to the above a big package of the earliest Sweet Corn on earth—Salzer's Fourth of July—fully 10 days earlier than Cory, Peep o' Day, etc., etc. [K. L.]

The Real Thing.

Ethel—Who was that man you just bowed to?

Penelope—That was Dobson, the great composer.

"A composer, did you say?"

"He manufactures soothing syrup."—Tit-Bits.

Are You Going to Florida or New Orleans?

Tickets on sale via Queen & Crescent Route and Southern Railway to Florida, New Orleans and other points south at greatly reduced rates, good returning May 31st, 1905.

Also variable route tickets good going to points in Florida and Cuba via Atlanta, and returning via Asheville. For rates and other information address:—

W. A. Beckler, N. P. A., 113 Adams Street, Chicago, Ill.
D. P. Brown, N. E. P. A., 1 Fort Street, W., Detroit, Mich.
W. W. Dunnavant, T. P. A., Warren, Ohio.
W. C. Rinearson, G. P. A., Cincinnati, Ohio.

It has been discovered that more than 2,300,000 grown people in the United States are unable to read. Only those who live in such a literary atmosphere as hovers constantly over Indiana can understand what a blow this information is.—Indianapolis News.

CONSTANT ACHING.

Backaches all the time. Spoils your appetite, wearies the body, worries the mind. Kidneys cause it all and Doan's Kidney Pills relieve and cure it.

H. B. McCarver, of 201 Cherry St., Portland, Ore., inspector of freight for the Trans-Continental Co., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for back ache and other symptoms of kidney trouble which had annoyed me for months. I think a cold was responsible for the whole trouble. It seemed to settle in my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills rooted it out. It is several months since I used them, and up to date there has been no recurrence of the trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

WINTER PALACE AT ST. PETERSBURG.

RUSSIA RENT BY INTERNAL STRIFE

Workmen's Effort to Present a Petition to the Czar Balked by Troops.

VOLLEY FIRED AT THE MARCHERS.

The Estimates of the Killed and Wounded in St. Petersburg Vary From 500 to 5,000.

It Is Predicted War With Japan Will End and Russia Will Have a Constitution or the Czar Lose His Head.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—There was a day of unspeakable horror in St. Petersburg. The strikers, goaded to desperation by a day of violence, fury and bloodshed, are in a state of open insurrection against the government. A condition almost bordering on civil war exists in the terror-stricken Russian capital. The city is under martial law, with Prince Vasilchikoff as commander of over 50,000 of the emperor's crack guards. Troops are bivouacking in the street and at various places on the Nevsky Prospect, the main thoroughfare of the city. On the island of Vassili Ostrov and in the industrial sections infuriated men have thrown up barricades, which they are holding. The empress dowager has hastily sought safety at Tsuskoe Selo, where Emperor Nicholas II. is living.

Minister of the Interior Sviatapolk-Mirsky presented to his majesty the invitation of the workmen to appear at the winter palace and receive their petition, but the emperor's advisers already had taken a decision to show a firm and resolute front, and the emperor's answer to 100,000 workmen trying to make their way to the palace square was a solid array of troops who met them with rifle bayonets and saber.

The priest Gopon, the leader and idol of the men, in his golden vestments, holding aloft the cross and marching at the head of thousands of workmen through the Narvagate, miraculously escaped a volley which laid low half a hundred persons. The figures of the total number killed or wounded here, at the Moscow gate, at various bridges and islands and at the winter palace vary. The best estimate is 500, although there are exaggerated figures placing the number as high as 5,000. Many men were accompanied by their wives and children.

But the street approaches to the square were cleared by volleys and Cossack charges. Men and women, infuriated to frenzy by the loss of loved ones, cursed the soldiers, while they retreated. Men harrangued the crowds, telling them that the emperor had foiled them and that the time had come to act. Men began to build barricades in the Nevsky Prospect and at other points, using any material that came to hand and even chopping down telegraph poles.

Towards 8 o'clock in the evening the crowds, exhausted, began to disperse, leaving the military in possession. As they retreated up the Nevsky Prospect the workmen put out all the lights.

A member of the emperor's household is quoted as saying that this conflict will end the war with Japan and that Russia will have a constitution or Emperor Nicholas will lose his head.

The strikers manned and held a small edifice at the corner of the admiralty gardens and poured out constant objurgations and reproaches at the troops. It was in vain that officers requested them to disperse.

"We have come to present our homage and grievances to the emperor." "Let the emperor come out and hear us; we do not wish to do harm." "Long live Nicholas II. If he only listens to our grievances, we are sure he will be just and merciful." "We can not longer endure our sufferings. Better die at once and end all." Such were the cries repeatedly heard from many strikers.

"You soldiers are our brothers; you can not shoot these little ones," they exclaimed. But as the pickets and patrols continued driving off the people the demonstrations began to give way and the bitterest insults and oths, in which the Russian vocabulary is particularly rich, became frequent.

"We are not Japanese; why brutalize us? Will you shame the mother who bore you, who was a Russian like ourselves," were some of the cries that were heard.

Later such exclamations as "scoundrels," "mercenaries," "dogs" and worse were heard.

Every time the troops moved the crowds hissed them. Strikers also gathered at the entrance of the Grand Morskaia and of the avenue leading to the Molka canal. The crowd at the latter place swelled to huge proportions, blocking the bridge across the canal. The order came at 1:30 p. m. to clear them off. The colonel commanding the horse guards uttered a short, sharp command; the troopers drew their swords and advanced at a quick trot, and then broke into a gallop, heading straight for the Molka, where they were lost in a cloud of snow. Shrieks from the wounded resounded. Then came a deadly silence, broken only by the galloping of ambulance horses.

The next 20 minutes passed without incident. Nothing indicated the approach of the horrible butchery which was destined to stain the corner of the admiralty gardens with human blood. The crowd there persisted in refusing to move on, clamoring for the emperor and continually hurling abuse at the troops, but attempted no violence. Two companies of the Preobranjensky guards formed and marched at double quick towards the fatal corner. Events followed with awful swiftness. The commanding officer shouted "Disperse! Disperse! Disperse!"

Many in the crowd turned to flee, but was too late. A bugle sounded and the men in the front ranks sank to their knees and both companies fired three volleys, the first two with blank cartridges and the last with ball. A hundred corpses strewed the sidewalk. Many women were pierced through the back as they were trying to escape. Mangled corpses of persons of all ages and both sexes strewed the ground. One boy of 13 had his skull pierced and rent by bullets. Great splashes and streams of blood stained the snow.

It was now the turn for the crowd stationed at the Marskaia entrance to the square where the horse guards repeated the exploit with which they had cleared the Molka, and drove the people pell mell down the thoroughfare.

A crowd quickly formed outside a drug store and an orator was found for the occasion. Standing on the steps of the drug store he addressed the impromptu meeting thus:

"Comrades: We came humbly and peacefully to meet the emperor and lay our grievances before him; but the emperor refuses to see us and instead soldiers were sent to shoot us down. Then all I can say he is no emperor." ("Down with the emperor!" shouted the crowd.)

"We have suffered under the sway of the Chinovinks." ("Down with the Chinovinks!") "We hoped for redress but hope is no longer possible; we can win our rights only by fighting." ("Down with the autocracy!" yelled the crowd.) "Our only chance of redress is from representatives of the people." ("Long live the constitutional assembly!") "Then all I have to say is to arms, comrades, to arms!"

"To arms!" was the thunderous response. The crowd, now aroused to a state of frenzy, at the sight of the wounded who were being brought out of the drug store and placed in an ambulance, saluted them as martyrs. Every head was uncovered as the victims were conveyed away.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—At Kolpinoff, near the capital, 20,000 workmen attacked a division of infantry at Noskokski railway crossing. Fierce fighting is reported and 700 were killed. Officials withhold the military casualties. Eleven infantry regiments guard the Baltic shipyards. Workmen have seized an ammunition depot in a southwestern suburb and established a homh factory.

Fired on the Mob.

Buda Pest, Hungary, Jan. 23.—The gendarmerie were called out to quell a disturbance following a meeting of local liberals at the village of Turoszlya. The gendarmes fired on the mob, killing four and wounding one of them.

Nearly 100 Mules Burned To Death.

East St. Louis, Ill., Jan. 23.—In a fire that destroyed three large frame barns of the National horse and mule market, with eight carloads of baled hay, nearly 100 mules were burned to death. Loss estimated at $35,000.

Large Anarchist Demonstration.

Paris, Jan. 23.—The funeral of Louise Michel, the revolutionary agitator, at Levallois Perret, was the occasion of a large anarchist demonstration. The street were heavily guarded hy military and police and there was no serious disorder.

Prayers For the Czar and His People.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Fervent prayers were offered in many of the churches for the Russian emperor and for his people. Intense interest in the struggle at the Russian capital was manifested.

TARIFF MAKES TROUBLE.

Vigorous Opposition of Some Republicans to the President's Policy.

It is hinted in Washington that there is the prospect of a serious split in the republican party on the subject of the tariff. In the house, under the leadership of Speaker Cannon, there is vigorous opposition to the president's policy of tariff revision. Of tariff revision the republican national platform said, "To a republican congress and a republican president this great question can be safely trusted." They can be. They can be trusted, as we predicted at the time the platform was adopted—trusted to do nothing. Tariff revision, "by its friends" has been the cry of the republican party for the past 12 years. That has been the specious promise of the party for campaign purposes, and apparently for campaign purposes only, says the New York Observer. What amusement these repeated platform declarations must afford those who control the legislative acts of the party. It must be a huge joke to them, these repeated declarations that the tariff is to be revised. They know too well that the republican party is not going to revise any tariffs to the hurt of their profits. They know that the party to whose support they are such generous contributors will not cut down their opportunities to make larger profits at home than they do abroad.

The "stand patters" at the capitol, of whom Speaker Cannon is the recognized head, heard yesterday that it was the purpose of the president to call an extra session of congress for October next to consider a revision of the tariff. At once there became manifest a strong opposition to carrying out any such programme, even to the extent of a split in the party. Speaker Cannon declared that if the president did call such a session it would be in direct opposition to the wishes of the leaders of the party and on misleading information as to what the great majority of the republican party desires. While the speaker opposes any tariff revision whatever, he believes that if such a thing is to be attempted the special session should be called in the spring; that a fall session would be suicidal. He was very outspoken in regard to the president's plan, and seemed determined that, if an extra session is to be held, he shall have something to say as to when it shall be.

There were several things in Washington that day calculated to disturb the equanimity of Uncle Joe. In the first place he doesn't believe there is any general demand for tariff revision. He doesn't believe it will be possible to revise a few schedules without opening the whole subject to discussion. Representative Tawney, of Minnesota, had stated to the president that his interviews with his fellow members in the house had forced him to the conclusion that there was a strong demand for tariff revision. This is directly contrary to Speaker Cannon's opinion of sentiment in the house, and he manifested considerable irritation toward Mr. Tawney. He also feels it would be unwise to let the fact that the tariff is to be revised become known so long in advance. As one correspondent says:

"Mr. Cannon holds that to let the news go out that there is to be an extra session in the fall to consider the tariff would be to serve notice on the country that tariff revision is inevitable. This would cause a great stagnation of business in this country, in his opinion, which would begin at once and would extend until the new tariff bill was in operation—probably more than a year. It would check imports. The result would be a period of hard times and a great loss of revenue. There is already a deficit in the treasury, and the excess of expenditures over receipts to-day for the five months and nine days of the present fiscal year amounts to $22,110,498.39.

"Speaker Cannon seemed to be inclined to lay great stress on the condition of the treasury, which confronts the administration if the country was to go through the next 11, 12 or 14 months with tariff agitation in the air. He predicted a much larger deficit under these circumstances.

"This is why the speaker is insisting on an extra session in the spring if there must be an extra session at all. His watchword is: 'If you must revise the tariff, do it quickly, and avoid upsetting the country for eight or nine months before you begin.'"

The net result—or the nit result—will be what it has been for so long a time, nothing done. The tariff should be revised, but the men who control the republican party are not willing it should be, and the rank and file of the party are unable to force revision. Those that could won't, and those that would can't.

Democracy's Chances.

It is a great mistake to assume that the republican party is of necessity intrenched in power for a long period to come. The voters who elected democratic governors in Minnesota and Massachusetts this year might easily elect democratic congressmen two years hence, or a democratic president four years hence, if conditions should arise to convince them of the desirability of changing the party balance in the house, or the political character of the next administration. This enhanced mobility in the voting mass ought to yield a new zest to politics. It helps to break down the tyranny of mere machines and bosses. It opens wider the field in which Mr. Roosevelt himself has fought his way to the top.—Review of Reviews (Ind.).

——Senators Depew and Platt are again running noiselessly.—Houston Post.

——Uncle Joe Cannon says "economy" will he the watchword of this congress and the next one. Uncle Joe is becoming mixed in his words. He doubtless means that "economy" will be a hy word.—The Commoner.

——If Mr. Garfield's suggestion is made into a law the corporations would doubtless show that they can conduct the affairs of the federal government as effectively as they have conducted those of the several states.—Detroit Free Press.

STATE NEWS ITEMS

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE.

Both Houses Divided on the Question of a Capitol Site.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18.—To all appearances the Kentucky legislature is drifting into a hopeless tangle on the only question it can consider at this session, namely, the changing of the capital site to some other point in Frankfort. The number of legislators who believe that the present session has the right and authority to amend or repeal the act making the capital appropriation is increasing, as was clearly shown in the senate. Senator Whitt presented a resolution providing that a joint committee be appointed to draft a bill, to be presented to the next legislature, providing for a vote of the people on the question of changing the site.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 19.—The feature of Wednesday's legislative session was the talk by the architect, Frank M. Andrews, of Dayton, O., delivered to both house and senate in an informal joint session. It was a business talk, and the legislators were greatly impressed by arguments in favor of another site for the new statehouse. In the senate a test resolution was offered by Senator George declaring it the sense of the senate that the commission be empowered to select a new site. A vote was not reached on it. The Senator George bill, appropriating $50,000 to buy a new site, was given its second reading.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 20.—The legislature made some progress on the work for which it was called together, and it seems almost certain that a vote will be reached in the senate on the George bill, and it seems equally certain it will pass. The bill provides for an appropriation of $50,000 to purchase a new site, leaves the selection of the site to the commission and empowers the commission to institute condemnation proceedings if necessary. The bill was unanimously approved by the committee on library and public buildings, and was reported to the senate by Senator Cammack. The house had its usual flood of unimportant resolutions, but made slow progress toward a vote on the capital site bill.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 21.—The long looked for test vote was taken in the house of representatives on the statehouse site question, and the only interference that can be drawn from it is that a majority of the house is not in favor of any particular site, though a majority does favor some other site than the present one. The house, in session from 10 o'clock till 1 and from 2:30 till 6, listened to oratory the entire time. Representatives Gulty, Wells, Newman, Salin, Gooch, Drewery, Kennedy, Rogers, Proctor, O'Connor and Worthington all made speeches, and Miller, of Madison, closed the debate with an eloquent plea for a straight out business settlement of the question, stripped of all its personality, politics and prejudices.

A LOUISVILLE MAN,

Was Drugged and Robbed of His Roll in a New York Saloon.

New York, Jan. 21.—Hanley D. Raejan, of Louisville, staying at the Hotel Victoria, has reported to the police of the West Thirtieth street station that he believed he had been drugged and robbed in a Sixth avenue saloon. He said he left the "L" at Sixth avenue and Forty-second street and entered a saloon in the avenue, where he had several drinks with congenial companions, none of whom he had known previously.

The next thing he remembers is finding himself in a doorway very sick and minus a roll of $140 and a watch valued at $150. Detectives Finley and Uninger are at work on the case.

A Tonsilitis Epidemic.

Newport, Ky., Jan. 19.—The upper portion of Campbell county is experiencing an epidemic of tonsilitis. At the county seat more than two-thirds of the population are suffering from the disease. Two physicians are laboring heroically with their patients are prostrated.

Lumber Plant Sold.

Salt Lick, Ky., Jan. 20.—The Yale Lumber Co. sold to the Licking River Lumber Co., in Farmers, Ky., the entire plant at Yale, Ky., and all the timber lands belonging to the company, about 12,000 acres lying on the Licking river, and about 20,000,000 feet of poplar and oak timber.

Aged Physician Dead.

Lancaster, Ky., Jan. 19.—Dr. H. C. Herring, aged 72 years, the oldest practitioner in Garrard county, died at his home on Richmond avenue, this city, from blood poisoning produced by a fall three weeks ago. He leaves a large estate.

Forced Into Bankruptcy.

Covington, Ky., Jan. 21.—The Ideal Shoe Co. was forced into bankruptcy in the federal court by the Charles Mels Choe Co., Helmers, Bettman & Co. and Runkel & Roth who allege defendant company is indebted to them to the amount of $2,619.65.

Strike Nearing An End.

Newport, Ky., Jan. 21.—All hut $12,000 of the $42,000 that has been asked for the Newport brass foundry has been raised by the strikers, who will start a co-operative plant. The remainder will be secured from a building association.

Two Dead and Three Fatally Hurt.

Somerset, Ky., Jan. 21.—A terrific explosion occurred in a sawmill near Bernetta. Wodoson Dalton and Milton Roberts were killed and John Carver, Tom Norfleet and Charles Gaston were fatally injured.

JETT AND BRITTON.

They Were Seen By Witnesses After the Shooting at Jackson.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 20.—In the trial of William Britton for the murder of Jim Cockrill, Harrison Blanton, of Jackson, testified that a few minutes after the shooting he was in the corridor of the court house in Jackson and that he met Curt Jett, Bill Britton and Jesse Spicer together. He testified that there was no other person in the corridor at the time, and that Jett pulled out a pistol and remarked: "Well, here's what laid him on the cooling board. I'll go and see my kinfolks now."

Mortimer Forbes, of Jackson, testified that three men were at the window from which the shots were fired. He recognized Curtis Jett, but failed to recognize the others. He saw Jett Britton, Egbert Hargis and Jesse Spicer in the corridor of the court house and suggested that they should go upstairs and find out who did the shooting, to which Spicer replied: "If you do you will get your d—d head shot off."

Albert S. Johnson, James Blanton, W. H. Pelfry, W. N. Cope and Sebastian Williams testified, and all agreed as to seeing Jett at the window.

BOND FORFEITED.

Bowling, Who Was Indicted For False Swearing, Failed To Appear.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Jan. 20.—George Bowling, indicted for false swearing in connection with the Jett-White trials, did not appear in court for trial. His bond of $1,000 was declared forfeited and a bench warrant issued for his arrest. Bowling is said to be ill in Jackson. The bond is signed by Elbert Hargis, brother of James and Alex Hargis, and was taken by Sheriff Callahan. Bowling was one of Curt Jett's alihi witnesses in the Marcum trial.

THE MARCUM CASE.

Motions For New Trial Continued Until Tuesday.

Winchester, Ky., Jan. 19.—Judge Benton continued until next Tuesday morning the motion for a new trial of the Marcum and Hargis damage suit. Judge Benton said he had received notice from the attorneys for the plaintiffs that they wished to file additional grounds. The continuance was mutually agreed to.

JAMES PIERSALL ARRESTED.

He Is Charged With Wounding a Man and Assaulting Two Women.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 21.—A Negro assaulted and beat into insensibility Mrs. R. L. Jones, assaulted Mrs. Chas. Wagoner, shot and probably mortally wounded Charles Wagoner, who attempted to protect his wife, and attempted to assault other women. Jas. Piersall was arrested on suspicion and taken to Louisville for safe keeping.

For An Army Post.

Greenup, Ky., Jan. 19.—A report from Washington says that an effort is being made to interest the government authorities in Greenup county's advantages as an army post site. A site has been found near Advance that meets all requirements. It is said an option has been given on 1,600 acres, and that United States officers are expected here in a few days to investigate.

Tyler W. McAtee Died Suddenly.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 20.—Tyler W. McAtee, one of the best known business men of Owensboro, dropped dead in his room at the Planters' hotel. Mr. McAtee had been confined to his room since he was brought home from a deer hunt in Louisiana, where he was severely injured by falling from a horse.

Attached By Bizot.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 21.—State Revenue Agent A. J. Bizot attached the Western Union Telegraph Co. and the Postal Telegraph and Cable Co. in suits for taxes for five years past on personalty amounting to $250,000 and $150,000 respectively.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 19.—The following is the report of offerings on the Louisville market, including all the warehouses: Burley 871 hhds, dark 147 hhds, total 1,018 hhds; original inspections 924 hhds, reviews 94 hhds, rejections 51 hhds.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Louisville, Jan. 21.—The following is the report of offerings on the Louisville market, including all the warehouses: Burley, 539 hhds.; dark, 189 hhds.; total, 728 hhds. Original inspections, 6,001 hhds.; reviews, 127 hhds.; rejections, 213 hhds.

A New Industry.

London, Ky., Jan. 21.—S. E. Lenkerk, of Reynoldsville, Pa., has been here to interest the people of London and Laurel county in an enterprise to establish a large brick and tile plant at East Bernstadt with a capital stock of $150,000.

Bishop McCloskey Ill.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 21.—Rt. Rev. William G. McGloskey, bishop of the Catholic church for the diocese of Louisville, is ill at the rectory of the Cathedral of the Assumption. There is apprehension among his friends.

FOR PASTEUR TREATMENT.

Anything, Even "Dad," So Long as It Gave Them a Chance to Go to Paris.

Charlemagne Tower, the American ambassador to Germany, spoke of the Americans' love of Paris at a dinner that he gave in Philadelphia, says the Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Our love of Paris is, no doubt, great," he said, "but I am sure it is not so great as our European cousins would have us believe. We all, of course, have heard the European saying: 'When a good American dies he goes to Paris.' In Berlin, from a bearded French diplomat, I heard last year a novel variant of this theme.

"It was at a dinner party in Berlin. The French diplomat, regarding me with a smile, said he was sure I would sympathize with the profound and ingenuous emotion of the young American girl whom he was going to speak about. She lived, he said, in a bleak western city. There were in those days no institutes few the treatment of rabies or threatened rabies save in France. The young girl's life was ugly and monotonous, and one day she burst into a neighbor's house, almost beside herself with joyous excitement.

"Her dark eyes flashed. Her cheeks had a delicate rose flush. Panting a little, she cried in a tremulous voice:

"'Thank goodness, we are going to Paris at last. Dad has been bitten by a mad dog.'"

A Wonder.

Stranger—You advertise suburban lots "a stone's throw from the station."

Agent—Yes, sir. Have you seen the lots?

"I have. I am the manager of Darnell & Gillie's side show, and I want to see the man who threw that stone. He can have any salary he wants."—Cleveland Leader.

How He Put It.

"Well," said the warm advocate of cremation, "I'd have you know that cremation is a live subject. You can be dead sure of that!"—Yonkers Statesman.

HIS EXPERIENCE TEACHES THEM.

That Dodd's Kidney Pills Will Cure Bright's Disease—Remarkable Case of George J. Barber—Quick Recovery After Years of Suffering.

Estherville, Iowa, Jan. 23d.—(Special)—The experience of Mr. George J. Barber, a well known citizen of this place, justifies his friends in making the announcement to the world "Bright's Disease can be cured." Mr. Barber had kidney trouble, and it developed into Bright's Disease. He treated it with Dodd's Kidney Pills, and to-day he is a well man. In an interview he says:

"I can't say too much for Dodd's Kidney Pills. I had Kidney Disease for fifteen years and though I doctored for it with the best doctors here and in Chicago, it developed into Bright's Disease. Then I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and two boxes cured me completely. I think Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best in the world."

A remedy that will cure Bright's Disease will cure any other form of Kidney Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure Bright's Disease.

The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la, cut a very poor figure in comparison with the high-priced buds that bloom all the year around in hothouses. —Birmingham Age-Herald.

SORE HANDS, SORE FEET,

Itching, Burning Palms and Painful Finger Ends—Complete Cure by Cuticura.

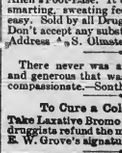
One Night Treatment: Soak the hands or feet on retiring, in a strong, hot, creamy lather of Cuticura Soap. Dry, and anoint freely with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure and purest of emollients. Wear, during the night, old, loose kid gloves, or bandage lightly in old, soft cotton or linen. For red, rough and chapped hands, dry, fissured, itching, feverish palms, with brittle, shapeless nails and painful finger ends, this treatment is simply wonderful, a single treatment affording the most grateful relief, and pointing to a speedy, permanent and economical cure, in no other ailment have Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment been more effective.

Sweet 16 is famous, to be sure, but it is the average woman's twenty-fifth birthday, perhaps, that is most celebrated.—Puck.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot-Ease. It cures painful, swollen, smarting, sweating feet. Makes new shoes easy. Sold by all Druggists and ShoeStores. Don't accept any substitute. Sample FREE. Address "A. S. Olmsted, " Roy, N. Y.

There never was any heart truly great and generous that was not also tender and compassionate.—Smith.



To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

When Vanity enters at the front door Reason steals out the back way.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Do not believe Piso's Cure for Consumption has an equal for coughs and colds.—J. F. Boyer, Trinity Springs, Ind., Feb. 15, 1900.

You cannot convince without conviction.

THERE IS NOTHING more painful than Rheumatism
and Neuralgia
but there is nothing surer to cure than
St. Jacobs Oil
The old monk cure. It is penetrating, prompt and undoubting.
Price 25c. and 50c.

BOONE CO., RECORDER
Wednesday, - - Jan 25, 1905.
W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher

THE Czar has a sure enough revolution on his hands.

THE average milage of an Indiana legislator is $40, probably more than he would make during the session if he was at home.

SOME of the never-let-go-of-a-good-thing legislators at Frankfort would be delighted if they could prolong the present session of the General Assembly to the end of sixty days.

When bilious try a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and realize for once how quickly a first-class up-to-date medicine will correct the disorder. For sale by al Drug gists.

THE fellow who said a child, with a caudal appendage two feet long, was born in Indiana, one day last week, was mistaken as to the length of the tail—it was only two inches long, which will be sufficient for tin pan purposes.

THE Czar's subjects threaten a general uprising at home, which is very much to the liking of the Mikado, whose subjects are intensely loyal, making practicable almost any military undertaking necessary to vanquish the Russian soldiers who come to their shores.

IN Pendleton county there are twenty-eight Democratic candidates for nomination for the several county offices. The primary election will be held on February 28th. Bro. Williams has about exhausted his stock of nice things to say about the boys as they announce themselves.

THE ordinary citizen cannot comprehend why it should require so much time to settle a simple business proposition like the selection of a site for a new capitol. The dimensions of the proposed new buildings show whether the old site is large enough, and if not there is but one of two things to do—increase the size of the old site, or purchase a new one. Two or three good business men would dispose of the whole proposition in at least ten days. The trouble is there is too much talent engaged for the size of the work before it.

Mary Rogers is under sentence to hang in Vermont, January 16. Kate Rogers is to be hanged in Pennsylvania Feb. 3. Each of these women is charged with murdering her husband. Mrs. William Blickensderfer, wife of the vice president of the Blickensderfer Manufacturing company at Stamford, Conn., has issued an appeal to the women of America to join in protest against the execution of these two women. Mrs. Blickensderfer's grandmother was a schoolmate of Victor Hugo and the creator of Jean Valjean is quoted frequently in the appeal.

Napoleon used to say when looking over the imperial accounts that no virtue paid his as well as brandy. Without echoing his cynicism, we can realize that liquor furnishes a great proportion of the funds required to operate our Government. Thus of the $494,178,683, the aggregate of customs collections and internal revenue receipts the first fiscal year, $196,538,616, came from liquors of all kinds, imported and domestic. Through customs and internal revenues the Government collected $65,832,101 on tobacco and its manufactures. The total of the two items is $262,370,717, or enough to pay the pension charges and leave $120,000,000 over.

L. H. Voshell, Executive Committeeman for the Burley Tobacco Growers Company in this county, was in town yesterday. He says there is no doubt about the Company being a go. He is confident the required 10,000,000 pounds will be subscribed before February 2d. Many local dealers who have been buying tobacco this winter have joined the Company and turned their purcases over to it. The Boone county growers are awakening to the situation and are taking hold of the move with alacrity, and some who have heretofore opposed the Company are now giving it hearty support. Mr. Voshell says everything indicates a general rush for membership in the Company since the prospects for success are so flattering, and he sees no reason why every Burley grower should not come into the Company at once and share the benefits that are bound to result for its success.

During the session of the late Legislature, Hon. Henry George, of Graves county, introduced a bill providing for submission to the voters of Kentucky the issue as to whether or not the secret ballot shall be abolished and the old viva voce method of voting restored. The bill became a law, is in effect to-day and will be voted upon in the November election of 1905.

Of course, it is understood that this change in the voting system can only be accomplished through constitutional amendment, and it is this amendment that will be voted on next November.

It is conceded by even its most earnest advocate that the secret ballot has fallen far short of accomplishing the purposes aimed at. Frauds have not diminished; contests are frequent; corruption has not decreased. On the other hand, it is a question whether these conditions will not continue to prevail under the open ballot.

The man who buys or sells his vote under the secret ballot can buy or sell equally as readily with an open vote. There is no danger to good government with one form of ballot-casting in effect that does equally prevail under any other form. The remedy for the evils now surrounding the polls, and sapping purity out of politics, lies with the people themselves. As long as there are vote sellers there will be vote buyers.

There ought not to be corruption under either the secret ballot, or open ballot system. There is fraud under both. Honest voters should ponder long and earnestly which method they prefer. —Glasgow Times.

A Washington dispatch to the Louisville Times, of the 12th inst., gives the following, which will interest Boone county people:

"Walter Lassing, the bright young Kentucky naval cadet, and brother of Circuit Judge John M. Lassing, dismissed from Annapolis on account of a slight defect in his vision and reinstated by Secretary Morton on Senator McCreary's prompt appeal, is a hero of Uncle Sam's training school. Loving the State that gave him birth, but dearer still his sister, he declined to lead a german with Miss Edith Roosevelt, the daughter of the President. He preferred to do honor to his sister from Kentucky, who was his guest, rather than lead the dance with the second daughter of the Chief Executive of the nation, and who in any land other than free America would be a Princess. This did not become known at the department until today, after young Lassing's departure for Annapolis to prepare for a two years' cruise with the graduating class, of which he is a member.

"As president of the class at Annapolis, he was selected during the recent holiday gayeties to lead the big American german. Miss Roosevelt came to attend the dance. The cadets suggested that he ask the President's daughter to assist him in leading the german. "I should like to do it," he replied, "but if you still want me to lead it my dancing partner will be a Kentucky girl—my sister." That was final, and the Kentucky girl had the place of honor.

"After four years of hard study, having attained a standing of fourteenth out of a class of 113 and having attained a grade of second in rifle practice, his vision was declared defective, and for a day his hopes were crushed. He wired Senator McCreary, boarded a train for Washington and was before Secretary Morton within a few hours.

"The record has been made up," said the Secretary. "But unjustly so," retorted the Kentucky Senator. "As a Senator, I cannot permit, without protesting, a young man's life hope to be shattered when your books will show he stands fourteenth in his class and second in the rifle practice. If this young man's vision is bad, it is due to his working in equipping himself to serve his country. Our President, himself a gallant soldier, wears glasses, and should he have been kept from the front at San Juan because his sight may have not been as perfect as that of others.

"The appeal was too strong. Secretary Morton at once issued the order reinstating Cadet Lassing, and he left here this morning the happiest boy in the world. At the Navy Department today there is not an official who is not glad that "Lassing of Kentucky." still belongs to Uncle Sam's big navy."

Stock advertisements in the RECORDER for the season 1905, will be charged for at the rate of 7 cents per inch each insertion.

NOTICE!

There are 900 Delinquent Taxpayers in Boone County. After 60 days all persons who have not paid their Poll-Tax will be advertised, and I will appoint a deputy to levy on property belonging to the Poll-tax payers of Boone County. If you do not want your names in the paper and your Horses, Buggies and Cows and other personal property advertised and sold you had better pay your taxes.

B. B. ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

John T. Stamper, pffs
vs Equity.
Carrie E. Williams, &c., defts

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Dec., term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public sale, on Monday, the fifth day of Feb., 1905, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabouts, being county court day, upon a credit of 6, 12 & 18 months, the following described property to-wit:

Parcel No. 1:—A certain lot of land situated in the county of Boone, and State of Kentucky, lying in the town of McVille, and bounded as follows: Beginning at the North-west corner of lot No. 5, at its intersection of Alley No. 3 and Center Street; thence with Center Street to Vine Street; thence with Vine street 38 feet; thence at right-angles with Vine Street and parallel with Center street to Alley No. 3; thence with alley No 3 to the place of beginning. Book 38, page 372, Boone County Records.

Parcel No. 2:—A tract of land lying and being in Boone County, Kentucky and bounded on the East by the lands of Peggy A. Ryle, Harvey Marshall and J. H. Walton; and on the West by the lands of Elizabeth Akin; on the North by the lands of Isaac McMullen; on the south by the lands of Mary Wingate, containing 8 acres. Deed Book 45, page 566.

Parcel No. 3:—Being lot No. 1 in the division of the lands of John Henderson between his children James Henderson and Nancy Henderson, and bounded thus:—Beginning at a Beech tree, corner of Mrs. Rhoda Underhill's dower, and also corner to Edwin M. Gaines; thence with said Gaines' line s 46¼ w 51½ poles to a hickory tree; thence crossing a deep hollow s 30 w 27½ poles to a stone, corner to Gaines; thence s 22 e 112 poles to a stone in William Bondurant's line, corner of lot No. 2; thence with a line of said lot s 56¼ e 72½ poles to a leaning swamp ash on an island in Gunpowder creek; thence up said creek, making the center thereof the line, n 24 e 20 poles, n 37 w 53½ poles to two Sycamores, lower corner of Mrs. Underhill's dower; thence with her line n 61 w 42 poles to a stone and honey locust bush; thence n 12 e 50½ poles to a White oak and stone; thence n 22 w 40 poles to the beginning, containing 59 acres. Book E. Wills and Invt., page 369, Boone County Records.

Parcel No. 4:—Being lot No. 1 in the partition of the lands of John Henderson, deceased, and bounded thus:—Lying and situated in Boone County, Kentucky, Beginning at the upper corner of the Nancy Stamper tract on Gunpowder Creek; thence with the line of said tract n 58½ w 13 68 chains to a stone and haw bush; thence n 14½ e 12 37 chains to a stone, a corner with George Campbell; thence with his line north 31 e 7 66 chains to a stone; thence s 42½ e 22 97 chains to a stone on Gunpowder Creek; thence down the creek s 53½ w 15.24 chains, s 16½ e 5 chains, s 36½ e 5. 30 chains to the beginning, containing 30 A., 3. R and 29 poles. Commissioner's Deed Book No. 3 page 236, Boone County Records.

(Parcels Nos 1 & 2 will be sold separately. Parcels Nos. 3 & 4 lie adjoining, and will be offered separately and then together, and the bid making the most money will be accepted.)

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities must execute bond, bearing legal interest from date of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Hebron Perpetual Building and Loan Association, plaintiff.
against Equity.
B. F. Zimmer, &c., defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Dec., term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court-house door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public auction, on Monday the 6th day of February, 1905, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being county court day, upon a credit of 6 & 12 months, the following described property, to-wit:

A lot or parcel of land in Boone county, Ky., and bounded thus: Lying and being in Constance, Ky., and being the east portion of lot No. 2 in the division of lands of William Masters, deceased: Beginning at a stone on the Ohio river, lower couner of Duly Masters; thence with his line s 20½ w 90½ poles to another corner of said lot in J. W. Hood's line; thence with said line n 69½ w 61 7-11 feet to a stone in said line; thence n 20½ e 90 1-5 poles to a corner under the bank of the Ohio river; thence s 70 e 61 7 11 feet to the beginning, containing 2 acres and 26 7-11 poles of land more or less.

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $551 82.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C C.

Lets Talk it Over

among ourselves about

Tea-Coffee.

We know you enjoy a good cup of either and want one that will "Just Suit" you. We believe we can please any one who will say just what kind he likes.

We don't sell our "35c Java and Mocha" for 20c, nor our "$1.00 Tea for 75c" or "75c Tea for 60c," as some dealers claim to do—day in and day out.

We do sell as good Tea as can possibly be given for the money, and believe we take more care and pains in selecting and having it of uniform quality than most people, and want you to try it for yourself.

O. K. Coffee, per pound..... 12½c
Salvador Coffee, per pound..... 15c
Money Worth Blend Coffee, per lb.... 17c
Three pounds for 50c.
Golden Blend Coffee, per pound..... 20c
Caracas or Guatamala Coffee, per lb... 25c
Java and Mocha Coffee, per pound..... 30c
Mixed Tea, Gren Tea Oolong, Gunpowder Tea, per pound..... 40c
Capitol Blend Tea, per pound..... 60c
Sunbeam Blend Tea, per pound..... 75c
Gunpowder Tea per pound...40, 60, 75c

Geo. G. Goode,
—Agent,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, Ky.

C. J. WOLFF,
SPECIALIST FOR
TRUSSES, BRACES, CRUTCHES, Etc.
Personal attention given every case.
Experience 40 years.
13th & Race, opp. Washington Park, Cincinnati, O.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, biliousness, headaches and fevers. Colds attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if the liver were always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown.

Thedford's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly, the poisonous acids along with the waste from the bowels get back into the blood and virulent contagion results.

Timely treatment with Thedford's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively forestall the inroads of Bright's disease, for which disease in advanced stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of Thedford's Black-Draught.

WILSTAR,
Record 2171,
Will make the season of 1905 at McHenry's livery stable in Rising Sun, Indiana. Persons booking mares before the first of April will save $5. After that time the terms will be $30 to insure a living colt.
SCRANTON BROS., Owners,
apr1 Rising Sun, Ind.

Deposits Earning Interest.
THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK & TRUST COMPANY, Inc.
N. E. Cor. Sixth St. and Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, KY.
Receives deposits of money subject to withdrawal after a specified time, or subject to check without notice,
ALLOWING INTEREST ON ALL DAILY BALANCES.
Interest is credited semi-annually on the first days of January and July and when the same is not withdrawn it is added to the principal AND DRAWS INTEREST.
It is not necessary to call in person to open an account, as all communications by mail receive prompt attention.
In its several departments, THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY
Acts as Agent; Collects Rents and Renders Accounts as desired; Loans Money on Approved Security; Rents Safe Deposit Boxes; Administers Estates and Acts as Guardian, Trustees, etc; Attends carefully to Trust Estates of Widows, Minors, Etc.
—ALL TRANSACTIONS CONFIDENTIAL.—
CAPITAL STOCK, $100.000.
Stockholders' Liability, $100.000.
JNO. P. ERNST, President. JOHN A. SIMPSON, Vice-President
C. W. SIMRALL, Sec'y & Treas.
Long Distance Telephone, South 214.

J. G. BENTLER & SON,
Lexington Pike, ERLANGER, KY.
Practical Horse Shoeing, General Blacksmithing
and Wagon Repairing of all kinds,
All kinds of Tool Grinding. - Also Bicycle Repairing.
Grinding of all Kinds to Order.

Hay and Grain,
AND ALL KINDS OF MILL FEED,
By Retail or Car Load. Call and Learn Our Prices.

CORN.
ARE YOU READY TO lay IN YOUR SUPPLY?
We are loading cars every day at our Elizabethtown Elevator in the Miami Bottoms, and you know what quality that is.
We are prepared to put it at any point along the Southern, and would like to hear from you when you are ready to buy.
Early & Daniel,
—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in—
Hay, Grain, Feed and Flour,
Pike St. and L. N. Ry.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.
GOLDEN GRAIN FLOUR OUR SPECIALTY.

In our opinion a business conducted on an honest basis, furnishing the best "VALUES" possible for the "MONEY" and extending fair treatment to all
'ALWAYS WINS'
—Our Watchword has and always will be—
Honesty, -- Honest Clothing at "HONEST PRICES."
We show a fine line of Mens', Boys' & Children's
CLOTHING
Men's Suits.....$5.00 to $15.00. | Boys' Suits.....$4.00 to $10.00
Men's Overcoats.. 4.00 to 15.00. | Children's Suits.. 2.50 to 5.00
Childrens Overcoat 2.50 to 5.00. | Boys' Overcoats.. 4.00 to 10.00
These are made in every conceivable style and fashion.
Mens' Corduroy Suit, $5, $7.50, $10 and $12—these are made to stand the rough usage and abuse. We also carry a complete line of Corduroy and Jean Pants, Duck Coats, and other clothing necessary for health and comfort.
ROLFES & WACHS,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET, Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Subscribe for Your Conty Paper, $1.50.

Local News.

New Stoves and Stove Repairs at M. Riddell's.

Steamboat men are having quite a rest this winter.

January has furnished considerable first-class winter.

Mr. W. T. Smith passed his 86th birthday, last Sunday.

M. Riddell will sell you first-class N. O. Molassess at 45c.

Snow has been in sight ever since the first one of any consequence fell this winter.

W. Lee Cropper, of Bullittsville neighborhood, was looking after business in the hub, last Friday.

Now is the time to have your clock cleaned before the roads get bad. Clark does the work right.

Frank Robinson, of Richwood, brought a big slice of a carload of corn down to W. E. Vest, one day last week.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Furnish and Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Westbay, of Covington, attended Mrs. Cowen's funeral last Friday.

N. E. Riddell, agent for the American Bonding Co. of Baltimore, was around distributing nice calendars, one day last week.

Rev. Early will preach for his congregation here next Sunday at the usual hours in the forenoon and at night. Everybody invited.

Claud Robinson, one of the prosperous young farmers of Crescent neighborhood, was transacting business in Burlington last Friday.

Conner, Hogan & Riley made their first shipment, 3 hogsheads of the 1904 crop of tobacco, last Thursday, and struck a fairly good market.

Don't forget that Boone county Pomona Grange will have a public installation of officers and a basket dinner at the court house, next Saturday.

Lawrence Phipps has been appointed and qualified as collector of delinquent taxes, and is authorized to levy on personal property and sell same to pay taxes.

Notice—My land is posted against trespass of all kinds, and especially are dogs forbidden to go thereon, as I will certainly shoot them.

T. E. Dixon, Richwood, Ky.

Mr. Wm. S. Crane, of California, Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did and it effected a complete cure. This liniment is for sale by All Druggists.

The McVille correspondent reports the burning of the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Akin, widow of the late T. J. Akin, of Belleview. She and her brother, Hogan Presser, who lived with her, lost nearly everything they had in the house.

Dogs raided Charles White's flock of sheep, a few nights since, and killed and mangled 27 out of 31. The dogs were apprehended and killed. A few nights before W. J. Rice discovered that dogs were after his sheep, but he scared them off before any damage was done.

The boys have purchased two pairs of boxing gloves and every afternoon practice the manly art. There is not much probability of any talent in that line being developed, although Jeff Eddins thought he had collided with about six feet of it when Leslie Jackson knocked him over the ropes the other afternoon.

I have completed and opened a well equipped livery stable on Carneal street near Elm, where horses and rigs will receive the best of attention. Boone county people will find it to their advantage to leave their horses and buggies with me.

I make two trips daily to the city with my express wagon.

B. S. CLORE, Ludlow.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

The uniform success of this remedy has made it the most popular preparation in use for bowel complaints. It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant to take. For sale by all Druggists.

While Geo. Blyth and Bert Sullivan were loading hay out at Mr. Gibson's barn one day last week, the mules attached to the wagon became frightened at a calf that ran around the barn, and started to run. Mr. Blyth, who was on the wagon which was nearly loaded, jumped off and was shaken up considerably. One corner of the hay bed struck a fence post and was broken some, otherwise no damage was done.

Another Old Citizen Gone.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cowen, whose death occurred at her home in Burlington on the 18th inst., was born July 28, 1830. She was Miss Elizabeth Rouse, daughter of the late Joshua and Elizabeth Rouse. Her first husband was Watson Harper, of Indiana, to whom she was married when she was 17 years old. Mr. Harper lived 10 years after their marriage, and died of cholera. To them were born three children, one daughter and two sons, Elzie Harper, of Hebron, being the only living child by her first husband.

She and Samuel Cowen were married October 30th, 1856. To them were born three children, Mrs. Laura Martin, Thomas and Pinkie Cowen, all of whom are living. Mr. Cowen died in 1897.

Since 1864 Mrs. Cowen had been confined to her bed as a result of some spinal trouble, and although not able to be up and about as other people, she was resigned to her lot, and looked on the bright side of life. She was an implicit believer in the doctrine of predestination, although she never united with the church.

Although not able to mingle with her neighbors, Mrs. Cowen will be greatly missed, as it was a pleasure to her lady friends to sit at her bedside, where the enjoyment was mutual. She kept thoroughly informed as to the movements and intentions of her neighbors, as Mrs. Cowen had to be the first one in the town to whom news was related, and it was this thoughtfulness on the part of her friends that made pleasant and bright a life that otherwise would have been more or less of sadness.

After brief religious services at the house last Friday at noon, conducted by Rev. Selby, of Petersburg, the remains were conveyed to Hebron cemetery, where they were placed in the vault, from which they will be interred by the side of those of her son, Johnnie Harper.

Our mother has crossed the dark river,
Passed through the Golden Gate.
Entered the home without sorrow,
There for her loved ones to wait.

Judge Cason and wife each contracted a case of ptomine poison last week. One night at supper they ate of rabbit and blackberries, Mrs. Cason not much more than tasted the latter. Not long after supper the Judge was taken violently ill and suffered intensely for several hours. Having had experience with ptomine poison several years ago he knew soon after the attack what ailed him, and supposed that he had been poisoned by the shot that were in the rabbit. On the second evening only the blackberries were eaten at supper, and they by Mrs. Cason, who in a few hours thereafter, was intensely sick. This was proof that the berries were the cause of all the trouble. The berries were prepared in a new porcelain vessel and put in a glass jar, no tin nor other metal having ever been about them, and as other cans of the same lot of berries had been used by them this winter without bad effects, Judge and Mrs. Cason are at a loss to account for how that particular can happened to give them such trouble.

The 1905 January sales of horses in Cincinnati are said to be away above the 1905 January sales, and that all indications point to a much better business along that line than for some time. It is said that there is a scarcity of horses in the country, farmers not having enough with which to do their work, and, as a result, the demand is better than usual. The market is in need of more horses of every description. Mules are not selling as well as they usually do, and Kansas City and other mule markets are complaining of a dull trade.

W. H. Lassing, son of Dr. H. C. Lassing, of Union, is sending to his friends in this county the following card, he being a member of the graduating class:

The Class of 1905
requests the honor of your presence at their Graduation Exercises to be held Monday Jan. thirtieth
Nineteen Hundred and Five
United States Naval Academy
Annapolis Maryland.

In its court notes, last week, the Carrollton News said: "Judge J. M. Lassing is coming into greater favor every term of court, and everybody recognizes his qualifications as a jurist. His decisions on all points of law are readily given and they are seldom reversed by the higher court. In our opinion Judge Lassing will, before many years, be selected to the bench of the highest court in Kentucky."

Wonderful Nerve

Is displayed by many a man enduring pains of accidental Wounds Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Sore feet, or stiff joints. But there's no need for it. Bucklen's Arnica Salve will kill the pain and cure the trouble. It's the best Salve on earth for Piles, too. 25c at all Druggists.

All kinds of mill-feed can be had at J. L. Clore's livery stable.

SUNNYSIDE.

While in Burlington a few days since, we called on the Editor of the Recorder, not to see our name in print, and he stated that his paper was without a correspondent from this part of the county. Feeling that this was the best part of the county, hence it was left until the last. We decided that this part should not be left out, so we send these few items, and, if they are not turned down, we may try again.

W. A. Ramsey is visiting in Cincinnati, this week.

R. R. Bullock called on your scribe, last Sunday.

Lewis Jenkins, of Walton, passed through this place one day last week. He did not remember us until we brought to mind the circumstance of when we first met, and then he remembered distinctly.

Miss Mabel Lamb, a dashing brunette of Possum Ridge, is visiting in the neighborhood.

Jim Will Ryle, of Beech Grove, was in the neighborhood last week, buying fur.

To the people of this vicinity we will say, don't forget us when you have an item of news. If you have company tell us, if you are not ashamed of your visitors. If a youngster arrives at your house and demands food and raiment, buy a dozen cigars and come around and, if you are a cash subscriber, we will furnish a name for him or her, as the case may be. If you have a big dinner and invite a few friends, bring around a big cake, six or seven pies and a ham, not necessarily to eat but a guarantee of good faith. We mention a few things because we want the news, and we will have it. We don't intend to get struck on ourselves and be all the time puffing our own self in the paper, or have every nine out of ten paragraphs about our own folks. Our object is to furnish interesting items for the whole county.

Bring on the blood-hounds.

A friend made this remark in our hearing the other day, "Why is it that none of the correspondents of the "Recorder" never have anything to say about the girls in Burlington?" The girls, O what shall we say about them—lovely, intelligent, amiable, accomplished, interesting, good-natured, industrious, beautiful and a host of other qualities too numerous to mention. We would fain make a few remarks to one of them, but what shall we say? To express our admiration of them would be impossible so we'll call on our brother correspondent, of Petersburg, through brotherly courtesy, to finish this paragraph for us in his next communication.

We had the pleasure of meeting Col. R. A. Brady and Lieut-General Lawrence Phipps, last Thursday. Both seemed to be enjoying the best of health. Both in good humor, especially so was the Lieut-General. Wonder if he remembers not many moons ago how he tried to mislead us as to who his girl was. Ah, General, you did not expect to see us Saturday. We won't tell.

While down on Middle Creek, last week, we passed the ruins of the old mill. It has ceased to grind now and very few traces are left to tell of its former existence—

That old mill-wheel is silent now,
It rots upon the ground,
And few can tell how merrily
It used to whirl around.

To think of how many hundred Boone county citizens have gone to this old mill with their grist of corn, and like the old mill-wheel, have passed away, awakens sad memories to all who read these few lines.

We wonder if J. P. Ryle has sold those turkeys yet.

We met our old friend, Moses Aylor, of Hebron, last week, who we have not seen since we attended his wedding in 1882. Surely time has dealt gently with him, as he looks as young as he did that day. We are glad to know he is prosperous and contented.

New Grocery.

Having opened a grocery in Union, where everything first class in that line will be kept, I solicit your patronage. N. W. Burkett,
Union, Ky.

Card of Thanks—We desire to express to those who were so kind to us and our mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Cowen, during her fatal illness, our heart-felt thanks, and acknowledge the debt of gratitude we owe so many dear friends.

The Family.

RINGS, WATCHES
and CLOCKS
LAVED
AND REPAIRED
KNOWINGLY.

Sheriff's Sale for Taxes.

The Sheriff of Boone County, Kentucky, hereby gives notice to the Delinquent Taxpayers of Boone county, that he will in compliance with Chapter 108 of the Kentucky Statutes and amendments thereto, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, for cash, all or so much of the property hereinafter described, listed to the respective persons named as per Assessors returns for 1904, as may be necessary to pay State and County taxes assessed against same together with all penalties, cost of advertising and commissions, at the Court House Door in Burlington, Boone County, Kentucky, on Monday, February 6th, 1905, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 3 o'clock p. m., the following described property. Reference is had to the Original Assessor's book at County Clerk's Office, Burlington, Ky., for the more particular description of the property herein advertised.

FLORENCE PRECINCT.

J. O. Carpenter, 2 town lots	21.60
G. W. Crouch, nr., town lot	3.50
W. J. Cody, town lot	7.05
Marcus Fane, 15 acres	5.15
F. H. Nead, nr, town lot	2.85
Jas. Nead, nr., town lot	2.85

PETERSBURG PRECINCT.

Catherine Baur, 20 acres	12.20
Debora Bradley's est., town lot	4.15
Henry Hoffman, nr., town lot	3.35
Fannie McGuire, nr., town lot	3.50
D. C. Peck, nr., town lot	3.50
B. A. Pease, town lot	5.35
W. W. Smith, est., town lot	2.15
E. D. Whorton, town lot	4.60
Francis Gibbs, (col) town lot	2.85
Melvina Parker, (col), town lot	2.15

BELLEVUE PRECINCT.

Elizabeth Aiken, 49 acres	8.15
Frank Duffington, nr., 6 acres	3.10
T. J. Clore, town lot	16.20
Mrs. I. Kidwell, town lot	4.85
John H. Presser, town lot	4.35

UNION PRECINCT.

Robt. Adams, nr., 11 acres	2.80
G. V Rouse, town lot	3.95
Catherine Weaver, nr, 25 acres	5.50

BEAVER PRECINCT.

J. B. Eldred, town lot, 2 years	8.25
William Gilpin, town lot	5.30
O. D. Williams 155 acres	18.35

CONSTANCE PRECINCT.

Mary Bills, town lot	2.80
Henry Fox, 2 acres	2.15
Mary A. Gilchrist, town lot	3.50
Minnie Marshall, town lot	2.85
Edgar Morehead, 2 town lots	6.20
John N. Reeves, 6 acres	5.20
Wm. Smith, 2 town lots	6.20
W. B. Vickers, 25 acres	10.50
B. F. Zimmer, town lot	11.95

CARLTON PRECINCT.

Anna Acra. 48 acres	5.50
Smith N. Riggs, town lot	5.00
Joseph Riggs, 4 acres	7.15
Wm. Stephens (col) nr., town lot	1.85

HAMILTON PRECINCT.

G. L. Pitcher, town lot	5.65
Martha A. Rich, 37 acres	4.15
Thos. B. Wilson, 10 acres	6.85

VERONA PRECINCT.

E. W. Benson, 26 acres	6.95
Lillie Hoard, nr., 10 acres	2.15
G. E. Jarman, nr., 10 acres	2.65
W. E. McKinzie, 30 acres	5.50
Conway Webster, 2 acres	4.85
Wm. Sleet, (col) town lot	3.30

WALTON PRECINCT.

C. Y. Dyas, town lot	4.85
Daniel Franks nr., 13 acres	4.15
John Grubbs, town lot	5.65
Eliza Gorman, 2 acres	7.85
Mrs. M. E. Martin, town lot	11.50
Rebecca Ross, nr., 3 acres	2.15
Leona Rouse, town lot	2.50
W. O. Rouse, 2 town lots	8.15
Edward Stamler, town lot	9.85
Ella Vallandingham, town lot	4.15
Mrs. R. L. Weaver, nr, town lot	3.20
Chas. Wilson, nr., town lot	3.10

B. B. ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

50 WOMEN
WILL BE TAKEN
BY THE
Cincinnati Commercial Tribune
ON A
TOUR OF EUROPE
They will go as guests of The Commercial Tribune absolutely
FREE,
With all expenses paid.
Read the Sunday Cincinnati Commercial Tribune for particulars.

FOR RENT.
A good farm of 112 acres, with house and barn 1½ mile from Southern Railroad, near Buffington Station. Apply to Leona B. Stephens, 1049 Scott Street Covington, Ky.

COAL!
I have a yard full of good Raymond City Coal, which I am selling at 15 cents a bushel—80 pounds to the bushel. J. O. HUEY,
Erlanger, Ky.

For Sale—2 fresh Jersey cows.
H. R. Hearne, Richwood, Ky.

Don't forget M. Riddell will handle Oliver Chilled Plows, and Paints this season.

JANUARY BARGAINS.
We want to make room for Spring Goods which will arrive in a short time. In order to do this we have put the prices on our Winter Goods away down, in some instances away below cost. We have room to mention only a few of our many bargains.

Schofield's Flannel Skirts, worth....50c	recued to	....38c
Schofield's Jeans, worth....50c to 60c yd	reduced to	35c yd
Outing Flannels, worth....10 to 12½c yd	reduced to	08c yd
Ladies' Lined Shoes, worth.....$1 25	reduced to	80c
Ladies' Lined Shoes, worth.....$2 00	reduced to	$1 25
Men's Storm Coats, worth.....$2 50	reduced to	$1 00

And many other goods including Flannels, Gloves, Caps, &c.
W. M. Rachal & Co
UNION, KY.

H. G. BLANTON,
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.
Special Rates to Traveling Men.
First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.
Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.
Leave Orders with J. C. Revill, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.
Tested Field and Garden Seeds.
Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.
Largest and Best Stock of
GROCERIES IN THE CITY.
Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.
When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Livery and Sales Stable.
ALLPHIN & HUME, Proprietors,
Walton, Kentucky.
Horses kept by the Meal, Day or Month. Good safe rigs for hire at all times.
Horses Bought, or Sold on Commission
Stable Near Southern Depot. BRUCE ROBERTS, Manager.
'Phone 172½, Hughes' Line.

CEILINGS. SKYLIGHTS. CORNICES
The Porter Iron Roofing & Corrugating Co
27 and 29 West Front Street,
CINCINNATI, - - OHIO.
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Iron, Steel, Galvanized & Felt Roofing.
Our Agents will give you wholesale prices.
Agents:—Bruce Anderson, Constance, Ky. L. L. Tanner, Union, Ky.
Our Unexcelled "Heating Drums" are the best. Inquire for Prices.

OH, HOW DELIGHTFUL!
The Perfect Deodorizer and Disinfectant
FRAGRINE
Refreshes. Perfumes. Invigorates. Endorsed by Physicians.
Most Pleasant of Toilet Requisites.
Most healthful of Household Necessities. Call and try it at JOHN ALLISON'S, Undertaker, Covington, Ky.

For Sale.
Business property in Constance, Ky., consisting of House, Store, Feed Room, Livery Barn of 20 stalls. Will sell property and invoice goods—will sell property and keep stock; also for rent a blacksmith and wagon makers shop.
C. W. ROBINSON,
Constance, Ky.

Dr. G. M. Terrill,
DENTIST,
Walnut Street,
LAWRENCEBURG, - INDIANA.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

WHEN LOVE IS BLIND

The Experience of Wealthy Brodie L. Duke with a "Woman with Schemes."

MARRIED IN HASTE, REPENTS AT LEISURE.

Takes a Wife Under What Is Said to Be Peculiar Circumstances—His Family Object and the Investigation Brings Out Some Startling Statements—Was He the Victim of a Deep-Laid Scheme—Rich Victims of Questionable Women.

New York.—Somehow New York overlooked the announcement of the marriage of Brodie L. Duke and Miss Alice Webb on December 21, 1904. The fact that the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Coe, chief assistant of Rev. Charles Parkhurst, of Madison Square Presbyterian church, who became famous some years ago because of his crusade agianst vice, ought to have attracted attention. Ordinarily the mere name of Duke would have been enough to excite gossip. For Brodie L. Duke is the half-brother of James B. Duke, the head of the American Tobacco Trust.

It was James B. Duke who, starting in a small way at Durham, N. C., founded the tobacco trust and made it the great power that it is. Since that day James B. Duke's progress to wealth has been phenomenal. The trust virtually controls the entire tobacco business of this country, and several years ago invaded England and fought the big tobacco interests there to a standstill.

James B. Duke is the sturdy, square-jawed, silent type of man, who gives the impression of force, but carefully avoids notoriety. There are a dozen men connected with the Tobacco Trust who are more talked about than he and whose real achievements as money makers and busines organizers are not half so great. Lately he has built a palatial country place at Somerville, N. J., where he now makes his home. He, too, not long ago married a wife who was unknown to the society of millionaires, which men of his type usually aspire to enter in New York.

Brodie L. Duke is quite a different type of man. Through his family relationship he has shared to some extent in the good fortune of James B. Duke, and has had the reputation of being wealthy. But most of his life has been spent in hard work in North Carolina, and the attractions of New York proved too much for him. He is said, in fact, to have dissipated a large part of his fortune before his marriage and to have been a frequent cause of anxiety to his family.

After the Ceremony.

Two weeks after the quiet little ceremony at the home of Rev. W. W. Coe, a mysterious patient was taken one night to the psycopathic ward of Bellevue hospital. Every care was taken to conceal the identity of the patient. It was no until the next day, when the detectives of District Attorney Jerome appeared at the hospital and demanded the delivery of some $40,000 in stocks and bonds, and a quantity of valuable jewelry, that it was revealed that Brodie L. Duke's family had taken steps to have him declared irresponsible. The next step was to secure his commitment to a private sanitarium at Flushing, L. I., where he was put under close guard.

Mrs. Alice Webb-Duke and Her Husband.

Then the circumstances of Duke's marriage became public, and two days later suit was brought for the annulment of the marriage. To one of his sons Duke frankly expressed amazement when told that he was married.

"I didn't know that I married Miss Webb," he is reported to have said. "I don't remember having asked her to marry me, nor do I recollect appearing before the minister with her. It is all very strange."

At Bellevue hospital they said plainly that Duke was suffering from alcoholic dementia, and it was even intimated that his condition might have been brought about by the use of drugs. Naturally, Mrs. Alice Webb Duke had quite a different story to tell, and her friend, Mrs. Agnes Despiaines, bore her out in most of the details. But it happened that private detectives employed by the Duke family and the detectives from District Attorney Jerome's office had unearthed enough of the records of the two women to cast strong suspicion on them, and the grand jury was put to work investigating the matrimonial tangle.

For some time the Dukes had not known where Brodie Duke was. He had been in the habit of spending a good deal of his time away from his South Carolina home. Last October he dropped out of sight for an unusually long period. Then one day he turned up at Durham, N. C., with Miss Alice Webb. Then came another disappearance, and it was not until his son, Lawrence Duke, had arrived in New York to find out what had become of his father that the truth was known. One day late in November Benjamin N. Duke, a half-brother of Brodie Duke, who lives at the Hoffman House, was called up at the hotel by a woman, who said:

Caught by the Texas Girl.

"This is your new sister-in-law. I called you up to tell you that I have married your brother Brodie. I want to tell you that we are very happy. Mr. Duke wants to talk to you himself."

Then Benjamin Duke heard some conversation and a voice which he recognized as his brother's came over the 'phone. It said: "This little Texas girl has got me, and got me good."

Benjamin Duke asked his brother if he was satisfied, or something to that effect, and there was a conversation at the other end of the telephone in which he heard women's voices. Then his brother said: "Yes, it is alright. I am satisfied."

A Strange Disappearance.

At that time the Dukes didn't know where Brodie Duke was. What really caused them to put private detectives to work was the knowledge which came to his family that Brodie Duke had gone back to North Carolina and tried to wind up his affairs there, among other things asking that about $100,000 worth of securities he held there should be forwarded to him in New York. On top of that they discovered that he had given a check for $4,200 on a bank where he had abused the relatives, and particularly the son who was instrumental in getting his father away from her. The detectives pushed Duke out of the apartments, and the next day the bride was asked to leave the place. For awhile she went into hiding, but when at last she was located she told a story in which sentiment and business was strongly mixed.

Mrs. Duke has all along claimed to have large property interests. She is about 50 years of age, perhaps five years she junior of her husband. For several years she has figured as a promoter of a certain kind of industrial concern of more or less magnitude. Her business correspondence is written on nicely engraved stationery, under the heading of "The Texas-Cuba Tobacco Company," of which Alice M. Webb figures as the president. The offices of the concern are in the Continental bank building, of Chicago, and, according to Mrs. Duke, it owns a considerable area of tobacco land in Texas. She is also interested in the firm of Taylor, Webb & Co., which has its headquarters with the tobacco concern. Mrs. Duke is the Webb of the firm. It is engaged in promoting all sorts of projects and stock enterprises. According to Mrs. Duke, her first meeting with her husband came about in the way of business.

Not Uncommon in New York.

A High Priestess of Finance.

"I have large property interests in Texas," she explained, after her husband had been committed to the hospital. "It was in connection with these that I came to New York from Chicago in the latter part of November. I wanted to secure additional capital to develop the property, and naturally I meant to seek wealthy investors. Of course I heard of the Dukes as men of wealth.

"On arriving in New York, I sent a telegram to Brodie L. Duke, asking him for a business appointment. By mistake my message fell into the hands of his brother, who came to see me at the Astor House. When I discovered that he was not the man I expected to meet, I told him my message had been intended for Brodie L. Duke. Then I explained what my mission was, and before leaving he made me an offer of $15,000 a year for my services in his business affairs. I declined the offer after telling Mr. Duke that my services were not for sale.

"Then I sent a second telegram to Brodie L. Duke, at Durham, N. C., and we met for the first time at the Astor House. I explained my business proposition to him, and he expressed great interest in it. I met Mr. Duke by appointment a number of times, and he made inquiries about me and my business affairs. One day, to my great surprise, he said to me:

Wanted Woman, Not Lands.

"'Little girl, I don't want your tobacco stock, and I don't want your lands, nor do I want to consider any of your business propositions. But I do want you.'

"I was dumbfounded at what he said, and explained to him that such a step would cause no end of comment on the part of his friends. I told him that his family would probably raise objections to his marriage, but he said he didn't care what the family thought and that he was old enough to know his own affairs.

"A few days later I met Mr. Duke again and consented to marry him. I knew that when our engagement was announced there would be a great deal of publicity about it, and I decided to go to some obscure hotel. Mr. Duke and I discussed our business projects every day, and he agreed to take charge of all my interests in Texas, and also got a financial interest in my lands in that state. He readily consented to put up the capital for the development of a large tract of land on which I had an option. In the meantime, to show good faith, Mr. Duke had a certified check made out and deposited it with his lawyer. He also entered into negotiations for $20,000 for the purchase of the land.

"When Mr. Duke and I were discussing our coming marriage one day I asked him if his brothers and sons were likely to raise any objections to it. He said: 'The family home is mine, and my relatives will respect you, or have to get out of it.'"

Mrs. Duke also had much to say about the plans she and her husband had formed for building a church in Durham, N. C., and improving the condition of the poor people of the great tobacco city.

Denies Drinking Stories.

"I want to deny emphatically," she said, "all the reports about Mr. Duke and me indulging to excess in drinking, and that we were often in an intoxicated condition together. It is all a wicked falsehood, and intended by the members of the Duke family who have been persecuting me ever since my marriage to Mr. Duke to destroy my good name. I consented to an early marriage at the urgent plea of Mr. Duke. The following day we went, on with our business arrangements, but Mr. Duke contracted a severe cold and his condition became so serious that I thought it safest to have the doctor give all of his time to him."

"A Beautiful" Marriage.

Mrs. Agnes Despiaines, who has figured as Mrs. Duke's closest friend, has called the Duke marriage a "beautiful" one. She declares that Miss Webb is a very capable business woman, and that when Mr. Duke came to see her "it was a case of love at first sight, for they soon stopped talking about tobacco." According to Mrs. Despiaines, the clever Miss Webb was all business, but the second time Mr. Duke called on her he insisted upon marrying her.

"Finally," said Mrs. Despiaines, "he refused to talk business. Then Miss Webb saw it was no use to refuse, and, as she really loved him, she at last consented to marry him. She was afraid his family would object, but Mr. Duke waved her objections aside and declared he would never be satisfied until he got her. It was a hasty courtship and a hasty marriage. Only three days elapsed between the first visit and the second when he proposed marriage. If any woman could make a man happy she is the one. Now they have torn him away from her in the very midst of their honeymoon. It was cruel to separate them, but it will not last."

These things and many more were told by Mrs. Despiaines to District Attorney Jerome, who has charge of all criminal cases in New York county. In the meantime it was discovered that she had something of a record of her own, and that her acquaintance with Mrs. Alice Webb dated back many years. It seems that Mrs. Despiaines in 1894, when the state legislature ordered a searching investigation of police conditions in New York city, appeared before the Lexow committee and acknowledged that she was the owner of "a Raines law hotel" that had been raided by the police. The Raines law hotels are a peculiar institution in New York city, by which it is made possible to sell liquor on Sunday. There are some 7,000 of them licensed, and as a class they are dens of vice and infamy.

Mrs. Duke's Past.

There have been many interesting chapters in the life of Alice L. Webb-Powell - Hopkinson - Masterson - Duke since she left the Erie county orphan asylum in Buffalo. The New York police say that Alice Webb first came to that city in 1878 to begin a life full of excitement. One of the first incidents in her career that brought notoriety to her was her attempt to shoot a man named Murat Masterson, who represented himself to be a wealthy Arizona miner. The two had been associates for some time, and their quarrel was the ordinary case of jealousy so common among people of a certain class. Masterson and Alice L. Webb were arrested, but as neither would make a complaint both were discharged. This was in 1890.

Three years later the woman brought a suit against George W. Hopkinson, a wealthy manufacturer of perfumeries, for alimony. According to affidavits now on file, Hopkinson lived at a fashionable hotel in New York city in 1877. He had been introduced to a woman calling herself Alice Osborne, who told him that she had been married to a man called Osborne, and afterwards been charged with "endeavoring to blackmail Mr. Osborne's estate." Hopkinson induced Alice Osborne to leave the Desplaines boarding house. She set up an establishment of her own and lived in considerable luxury. Some years later, when Hopkinson tried to drop her acquaintance, he took the precaution to have papers duly drawn up and signed in the presence of his attorney. The woman acknowledged that she had never been his lawful wife, and for two or three years he heard nothing more of her. Then he began to receive gentle requests for money, and in 1893 the woman, as Mrs. Hopkinson, began her action for alimony against him, saying that she had married Hopkinson on November 24, 1878, when she was 18 years old. Hopkinson denied ever having married her, said that she was at least 25 years old at the time he met her, and generally exposed the woman's character in court. The questionable authenticity of her marriage resulted in his attorney having the suit dismissed in 1895.

It has also been learned in the investigation of the woman's record, that Alice Webb married Edward H. Powell, a hotel clerk, in Pittshurg, Pa., in 1895. Powell is now believed to be in Chicago or Alleghany City.

The "Doctor's" Story.

Further light was thrown on this remarkable case by a man named "Dr." E. T. Osbaldeston, who was employed as a nurse in the Duke apartments durmg Mr. Duke's indisposition after his marriage. He told the criminal authorities that when he first saw Duke he was under the influence of liquor or drugs. "Mrs. Desplaines," he testified to the district attorney, "mixed something, put what looked like whisky in one glass, and took from another what seemed to be milk. Soon after this was given to Mr. Duke, he fell back on his pillow, his jaw dropped and he was asleep and breathing hard." The nurse also declared that on the day before the marriage he found Duke so near death that he insisted that a doctor he called. The next day Mrs. Desplaines told him Duke and Miss Webb had gone away to he married, and the day after the marriage, so Osbaldeston told District Attorney Jerome, Mrs. Duke came to him and showed him her marriage certificate, saying:

"Now address me as Mrs. Duke with the $20,000,000. Oh, my God, what I have gone through and suffered in the last few weeks to get this I can't tell you. But, thank God, it is over."

It is a curious part of this extraordinary case that nearly every body connected with it has a record. Osbadeston admits that he was once arrested in Montreal with a woman named Louisa Weiss, who was accused of theft, and that he spent several years in an insane asylum there. In August, 1892, he was shot while investigating a suspected dive in New York city. Later he had a silver plate inserted in his skull to cover the hole made in it by a colored man who shot him while he was thus engaged in another raid. In 1901 the Weiss woman went to Germany where Osbaldeston followed her. There in the course of his life of adventure he was assaulted by a man named Weil, whom he shot dead. Osbaldeston was chased by a mob and fired and killed the leader. Subsequently he was set free on the ground that he fired in self-defense. He was also once arrested in Washington, D. C., for extorting money from the owner of a massage establishment, but this case was dismissed.

While the examination of the persons principally involved in the Duke marriage tangle was under way and evidence was being prepared for submission to the grand jury, District Attorney Jerome was informed that Mrs. Duke did not own the valuable tobacco lands in Texas which had figured in her business relations with the impressionable Mr. Duke. She once held title to some property, but it had previously been sold under sheriff's execution for $350, and instead of being very valuable it was probably worth only about that sum.

A High Priestess of Finance.

In any case, Mrs. Duke declared that she would stand on her rights as a lawful wife and began habeas corpus proceedings for the recovery of her husband from the hospital. The Duke family are equally determined that the separation shall be final, regardless of the mortification and scandal growing out of court proceedings.

The Ways of the City.

One fact which has come to light in the course of the inquiry made by the criminal authorities in this case is that there are a number of disreputable women in the city of New York who live in good style, in pretentious quarters, and make it their special business to keep informed about the habits of men of wealth who are given to dissipation and loose living. They maintain elegantly furnished apartments, are women of good manners and pleasing address, and under the pretense of carrying on regular business operations are really concerned with wheedling money out of their victims by fair means and foul. Several of these cases which have been uncovered have been surpressed by the victims for fear of disgraceful

The Morning After.

publicity. The Duke case has gone too far to be suppressed. Whether or not charges of conspiracy can be proved in court, exposure should help to check similar operations by women hanging on the fringes of society.

INITIATED ON THE CURB.

Tenderfoot Begins His Brokerage Career in New York with an Exciting Session.

New York.—Isaac Siegel, who left his large law practice recently to become a Wall street broker, will, in all probability, remember his first day on the curb as one of the most exciting days in his career. He will also remember International mining stock, a phantom issue organized for his enlightenment and as a species of initiation to the curb.

For two hours Mr. Siegel traded in International mining stock with all the enthusiasm that only a youthful votary at the shrine of Finance can exhibit. He got some of the brokers short of the stock, and so mixed matters that a veritable corner was precipitated in the phantom issue, and at one stage of the speculation he stood to win $100,000.

While all this was going on he was surrounded by a howling mob of brokers, apparently panic stricken, dealing in huge quantities of the stock, the price moving upward and then declining with frightful rapidity. His hat was smashed, his collar spattered with mud, his clothing and hair disheveled, but he stood forth valiantly, thoroughly believing that he was the most important man in Wall street.

When finally a kind relative took him by the neck and shoved him out of the center of the crowd and explained matters to him he looked like a man recovering from a six weeks' attack of typhoid fever.

GIRLS BURNED AS WITCHES

Twin Sisters in Siberia Declared to Be Possessed of Evil Powers Suffer Awful Tortures.

Moscow.—A horrible story comes from the village of Kasimirovka, Siberia. "In this village," runs the report, "for three years past all the cattle have died from the Siberian plague.

"A witch doctor announced that the village was cursed by the presence of a family of witches. He singled out a young girl named Soldatenko. The villagers seized her and her twin sister. The sisters were solemnly tried and condemned to be burned. They were bound to a rude wooden cross, round which was built a high pile of faggots and logs.

Liefen (the witch doctor) declared that the most innocent child in the village must light the torture fire, and a little girl of three was given the torch and told to thrust it among the faggots.

"The flames burst up. The wretched girls screamed frantically, but in vain, while their frenzied mother tried to rush into the fire and rescue them. The villagers, convinced that they were at a pious work, sang hymns and prayed. As the girls sank back in the flames their father, who had been absent from the village, returned. Hearing the news, he dashed among the crowd with a hatchet and clove the witch doctor's skull to the chin."

Lord Nelson and Soap.

"As occasional squalor is the worst evil of poverty and labor, so cleanliness should be considered the greatest blessing of luxury and ease," argued Mr. Frank Prindle in expatiating on the moral force of his own business, which is the importation of soap. "However," he continued, "those in the seats of the mighty are not altogether without reproach on this subject. It is a well authenticated fact, if not generally known, that the celebrated Lord Nelson had not washed his hands during the last eight years of his life, and Napoleon shunned a bath as though he was a cat. A clergyman once told me that he believed the expression 'cleanliness is next to godliness' referred to moral cleanliness and that the fashionable daily morning bath was of little consequence to health or habits. We should, he said, make our manners as well as our teeth, make our temper as sweet as our breath, and cut off our peccadilloes as well as our nails."—N. Y. Herald.

THE TRAGEDY OF HEAVEN

OUR SERMON STORY by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher.

(A Vision ...deen the Lines of God's Inspired Word.)

(Copyright, 1900, by J. M. Hixon.)

Scripture Authority:—"The Devil sinneth from the beginning."—1 John 3:8. "The Devil was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him."—Luke 8:44. "God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment."—2 Pet. 2:4. "The angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation He hath reserved in everlasting chains, under darkness, unto the judgment of the great day." —Jude 6. "Jesus said: I beheld Satan as lightning fall from Heaven."—Luke 10:18.

IT IS the most perfect day of summer sometimes which feels the cruel blow of the raging storm. The peace and quiet of the midnight hour is often the chosen minute of the rending earthquake's power, when the sleep of restful repose is suddenly changed to the sleep of death. The gladdest moment is sometimes filled unexpectedly with the crushing burden of sorrow. To the lips which have just been vibrant with the joyous song may be pressed the bitter cup of anguish. Upon the life which has never known aught but peace and purity and happiness there may fall, like lightning out of a clear sky, the weight of sudden disaster, or heart-breaking tragedy. It is the perfect calm which often is the prelude to the wild notes of the mad tempest.

Such, man has learned, are the experiences which earth brings unbidden into the life. And in Heaven once, at least, did the angels know such experience. Once in Heaven God's will was broken. Once the perfect peace which filled the blissful realm was shattered by the roar of battle. Once the quiet industry of the busy place was interrupted by the call to arms, and the martial tread of the angelic hosts. Once, once at least, as God's sacred record tells us, the government of Heaven was torn by awful rebellion, and upon the Celestial plains was waged the fiercest conflict of the ages.

Gabriel, the Archangel, who "standeth in the presence of God," and rules over the regions about the palace, was busy directing the preparations for the conference which was to be held that day with Satan, the Archangel of the distant province, and Michael, the Archangel of the province which lay between.

At last all is in readiness, and word is brought by a swift messenger that Michael and his retinue have entered Gabriel's province and are coming towards the palace. Quickly the Archangel Gabriel summons his attendants, and in stately splendor goes forth to meet them. Glad welcome is spoken and the music of the attendant choir fills the air.

"In the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit I greet thee, and welcome thee to the Palace of the Secret Presence. May thy coming be to the honor and glory of God, and fruitful in His service," said Gabriel, as he embraced Michael. "But where is the Archangel Satan?" he quickly added, as he noted that he was not in the company.

"I know not," replied Michael, "save that he sent word at the last moment —and while I was awaiting his coming to make the journey with him—that he was detained, and that I should proceed without him. The messenger whom he sent seemed either unwilling or unable to answer the questions I put to him, and I could not discover the nature of the business which detained him, nor just how soon he would follow."

Thus in earnest conversation Gabriel and Michael and the attendant angels proceeded, and entered the spacious wing of the great Palace where Gabriel held court and conducted the affairs of his province.

And while they are waiting, let us see what is transpiring in the distant province.

That something unusual is on foot there is at once apparent. The hurrying angels, as they speed in excited groups towards the mansion of Satan; the whispered conversation and averted glance, as though they feared the listening ear or the observing eye of some unwelcome foe; the feverish haste of Satan's special emissaries as they go hither and thither amidst the hosts of the angels already gathered; the atmosphere of suppressed emotion and brooding passion which enveloped the place, all spoke too plainly of some momentous event about to transpire.

Near the entrance to the mansion there stands a group of angels who at a glance it is seen are of superior rank. Satan's close confidants and advisers. They are evidently talking over the experiences of the past few days while they wait the coming of their chief, the Archangel Satan, for one is overheard to say:

"It was no easy task for me to win the angels of my division over to the project, but I note with satisfaction that they are all here to-day, and to judge from their looks and their words the seeds of rebellion which I sowed have taken deep root," and the speaker chuckled in a self-satisfied way.

"Yes," spoke up another, "it took much deceitful insinuation and many lies to destroy the influence of the Son in my division, but I was well fortified with these by our chief, and succeeded quite to my satisfaction, and to his, too, I am sure, for all are here and eager to enlist under his banner."

These fragments of conversation will be better understood when it is explained that a few days before this, the Archangel Satan had summoned his captains to secret conference and had with deep-laid cunning and ingenious lies laid bare his diabolical plot against the Son, and won them heart and soul to his support. It seems that Satan had noted with growing jealousy and hatred the praises which were being sung of the wonderful works performed by the Son in the creation of the worlds, and he determined to ... the power of the Son had grown too great that he would raise rebellion against Him, seize the Palace and rule in His stead. This was the state of Satan's mind when the summons had come to proceed to the Palace for conference. Hastily gathering his captains about him, he first won them to his wicked schemes and then sent them out to sow the seeds of jealousy and hatred among all the angels under his rule. His emissaries had in the evil spirit of their master wrought well, as the great concourse of angels now gathered before the mansion strikingly attested.

A sudden hush fell upon the gathered hosts as the doors of the mansion opened, and the multitude of expectant eyes were turned to watch for Satan's appearance. Forth he came, and the strange, deep light, unseen and unknown before in Heaven, burning in his eyes, held them spellbound. The fires of hatred and jealousy burned fiercely and unrestrainedly, and no longer archangel, but archdemon, he stood before them. His magnificent form towered above them all, and his proud head appeared as only waiting for its crown. Thus he stood and surveyed the mighty hosts, and then slowly spake:

"Fellow angels, and spirits of this great realm, it is known to you how the Son hath created the earth and placed man thereon, and that it is His purpose to make of you ministering spirits to that new region. In furtherance of this plan I, your chief, have been summoned to the Palace to swear fresh allegiance to the Son in this new project, and to promise you as vassals in His cause. What say you?"

A thousand fires may spring from the glowing sparks sent out like firebrands into the dry stubble, and a thousand hearts, yea, a thousand thousand hearts, were kindled that day, and a thousand thousand voices were lifted in sudden rage as they cried: "We will not have this Son to rule over us."

Meanwhile at the Palace, Gabriel and Michael waited. A sudden summons came to Gabriel to present himself before the Son. Directly he returned and held a brief but excited conversation with Michael, and the latter instantly withdrew, and gave numerous orders to his faithful attendants.

Scarcely had they disappeared speeding on their several errands, before the belated Archangel Satan was seen approaching. With no sign in face or manner to show that the Son, who Knoweth all things, had revealed the conspiracy, Gabriel went forth to meet him. He suffered his fawning embrace of greeting, he listened silently to his profuse apologies for being late.

As they reached the top of the staircase leading to the Palace, Satan paused as though to speak to his followers, while he stole a look out over the plain to see if his legions were coming. Like the swift wind of an approaching storm they swept down upon the Palace, and in an instant Satan had sprung into their midst, and seemed everywhere giving orders. His hosts forgot, nay lost forever, their godly fear, and fought like demons.

Repeatedly they stormed the Palace walls, but each time the unseen power of the Almighty arm within hrushed them back. Again, and again, and again, the assault was made, for the fury of Satan was centered upon the Son, and he knew if he could but destroy Him, victory would be his.

The din and roar of battle filled the Heavens, and the curses and groans and relentless rage of Satan and his demon hosts were most awful.

Thus the battle raged when Michael, at the head of his mighty legions, came up with the swiftness of the wind. Quickly wheeling them to the right of the enemy, he sent them wedged shaped between Satan's hosts and the Palace walls. Inch by inch he forced them back. And with renewed fury and desperate hate Satan rallied his hosts.

If the Spirit of God controlled the movements of Michael's hosts, so must the flaming spirit of Satan have animated the hearts of his followers. Shoulder to shoulder they fought, and madly, desperately struggled to hold their ground.

But back, back, back, Michael's legions forced them. The defeat before the palace walls became a retreat, and the retreat broke into hasty flight as Satan sought to gain his own province and make another stand.

But fiercely did Michael pursue, moved by the righteousness and truth of the mighty God. Across the plains of the province, and then up into the fastnesses of the rocks they were driven. But on, still on, Michael pressed the foe.

On the giddy heights of the battlements of Heaven, Satan and his now despairing hosts make one fierce stand, and then are swept over into the yawning black abyss below. One red, vivid, awful flash of light, one thunderous yell of impotent rage, and the darkness of the pit closed around Satan and his legions.

And the Son, witnessing the awful scene from the Palace gates, turned and said to the Father:

"Father, thy will continues supreme in Heaven."

And as in Heaven, so on earth some day, His will shall be supreme.

Ye Have Need of Patience.

We often give ourselves a great deal of trouble and lose much peace by worrying over questions which can only be solved by time and will be so if we have patience.—Rev. Alexander McLaren, D. D.

BEHEAD FAILING BANKERS.

Summary Treatment of Chinese Financiers Who Are Unsuccessful in Business.

Col. H. O. S. Heistand, assistant adjutant general, U. S. A., has, locked up in his safe at department headquarters on Governor's Island, a Chinese bank note, only one other of which is known to be in existence. That other one is in the possession of the British museum.

The bank note which is guarded so zealously by Col. Heistand is more than 15 inches long, very nearly a foot in width, and is gray and crumbling with age. The good quality of the ink used by the Chinese is evidenced by the clearness of the characters, considering that the note was printed in 1401 A. D., or nearly 100 years before Columbus set foot on the shores of America.

This ancient specimen of John Chinaman's banking efforts was secured by Col. Heistand during the occupation of Peking by the foreign troops in 1900, when he was chief of staff of the American forces in China. The bank note is an accurate proof of the antiquity of certain customs which are in vogue to some extent throughout the civilized world to-day. While Columbus was trying to make an egg stand on end and to prove that the earth was round, the Chinese were printing newspapers. They had banking laws and were versed in philosophy and science to a degree that far exceeded the knowledge of the discoverers of the new world.

The custom bequeathed to present day civilization is that of burying in the corner stone of public buildings and places of worship coins of the nation. The bank note secured by Col. Heistand was found in the stomach of a Buddha idol which was thrown down and broken at the time of the fire in the summer palace in Peking, during the occupation of the city by the foreign troops.

The note came into his possession intact, together with specimens of all other forms of Chinese currency. The bank note was taken to the leading Chinese scholars of the empire, who identified it and assured him of its authenticity. It is a treasury note issued by the Chinese board of revenue during the reign of Hung Wu, in 1401 A. D., the first emperor of the Wing dynasty. Similar notes were then in general circulation and were equivalent in value to 1,000 Chinese pennies, one tael or one ounce of pure silver.

The laws against counterfeiting in China are much more severe than in Uncle Sam's domain, and while the bank notes were in circulation Hung Wu, who must have been a strenuous monarch, authorized the Chinese board of revenue to behead him who should counterfeit a note and to reward with 250 taels any person who should arrest the counterfeiter.

Chinese banking laws are all severe, but, according to Chinese savants, the end has justified the means employed to keep the nation free of "frenzied finance." When a bank fails in China all the clerks and managers have their heads cut off and thrown among the books of the firm, which are set on fire. As a result of this penalty for over 700 years a hank has never been known to fail.

THE CHILDREN'S HOLIDAY.

In China New Year's Is the Great Day Among the Little People.

Except at the Chinese New Year, which comes in February, it is very hard to catch a glimpse of children in China, writes Bertha Runkle, in "Child Life in China and Japan," in St. Nicholas. Little beggars will run beside you for miles to earn one "cash," a copper coin with a square hole in the middle of it, worth the twentieth of a cent; but children who have parents to care for them seem to be kept indoors all the time, or only allowed to play in walled yards and gardens. We used to say to each other: "Why, where are the children? Haven't they got any?" But at New Year's we found out that they had. This is the great holiday of all the year in China, when everybody hangs out flags and colored lanterns and sets off firecrackers. (We borrowed our custom of fire-crackers for the Fourth of July from Chinese New Year's.) All the people put on their very best clothes, and the children the best of all, jackets and trousers of bright blue or green or yellow or purple, the boys and the girls so much alike that you can only tell them apart by their hair. The boy's, of course, is braided in a pigtail, and the girl's is done up on her head with silver pins, or, if she's a very grand little girl, with gold or jade. Thus decked out, the children go walking with their proud papas and mammas, and often go to the theater, which is a rare treat for them.

Perhaps Chinese children have romping plays together, but they always look as if they were born grown up.

Electric Light Aids Vegetables.

Electric light is known to have a stimulating influence on the growth of vegetables. Two farms on Long Island which are equipped with arc lamps are said to yield remarkable products in much less than the time usually required. The effects of an exclusive electric light on the colors of flowers are still to be determined, although all kinds of plants are reported to grow with uncommon rapidity and to bear blossoms of deeper tone when subjected to the rays. One florist believes he will yet show a coal-black rose by the use of this light with globes of certain colors.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Frigid.

"She used to consider the Blugores the cream of society, didn't she?"

"Yes, but that was before she tried to get into their set. I think she considers them the cold cream of society now."—Philadelphia Press.

HAWAIIANS LIKE BASEBALL.

American National Amusement Finds Great Favor Among All Classes on the Islands.

Boston.—Baseball is catching on in Hawaii, and a letter from Lorrin Andrews, attorney general of ... territory, says:

"Hawaii is an enthusiastic center for baseball and has been for a number of years, as far back as the 70's, we having teams here who have played in amateur leagues. We have never had any professional league, but from that time there have been a series of so-called league games played in Honolulu. The great drawback, however, has been that, being out of touch with mainland players, the game has not developed as rapidly as in the states.

"A number of players from the California coast drop down from time to time, and, while greatly aiding in improving the technique of the game, have in all cases found their equal among the local players. The Hawaiians especially are born baseball players, and I assure you that many of the players here would do well in minor leagues in the states.

"I think the characteristic that would strike you most familiarly in our teams is the divers nationalities of which they are made up; for instance, the winning team of this season comprises three full-blooded natives, one Portuguese, three half-castes, two of whom are mixtures of the American negro and Hawaiian, and the star third baseman of the league is a full-blooded Chinaman."

WIFE CAN SMASH WINDOW.

St. Louis Judge Frees Woman Who Used Heroic Means to Enter Her Own House.

St. Louis.—Mrs. Richard Randolph, charged with disturbing the peace and maliciously destroying property by throwing a stone through the plate glass door of her home recently, has been discharged.

The complaining witness was the woman's husband, Richard Randolph, who testified that next day after the trouble he filed a divorce suit against his wife, upon the advice of his attorney, he said, after previous trouble, he barred his front door against his wife, shutting her out of doors. He used a kitchen chair and ironing board, a bread board and a step ladder in doing so.

After smashing the glass, his wife stood outside and indulged in an argument through the broken door with her husband, who was inside. The husband testified that his wife threw a silver of glass through the aperture and cut him on the arm. Finally both were arrested. The justice discharged the woman on the ground that she had a right to adopt heroic means to get into her own home, which was barred against her, and held that there was no evidence to show that she did so maliciously.

Twins Divorced from Twins.

All records for divorce were broken when twin brothers who were wedded to twin sisters were simultaneously separated each from his wife by the hand of the law. The brothers are Aivin and Alvi Bruckles, farmers, who live in Champaign county, Ohio. In 1895 they were wedded on the same day to twin sisters. Five years from that time, to the very day, each filed a divorce petition. In both cases willful absence was given as the cause, the brothers claiming that their wives had deserted them. The cases came up for hearing and the decrees were entered.

Origin of the Idea.

The man who claims to have spanked Theodore Roosevelt when the latter was a boy may have imparted to the future president his first crude idea of the strenuous life.

MARKET REPORT.

	Cincinnati, Jan. 21.
Heavy steers	4 60	@	5 00
CALVES—Extra		@	7 50
HOGS—Ch. packers	4 75	@	4 80
Mixed packers	4 60	@	4 75
SHEEP—Extra	5 10	@	5 25
LAMBS—Extra	7 65	@	7 75
FLOUR—Spring pat.	6 20	@	6 45
WHEAT—No. 2 red,	1 19	@	1 21
No. 3 winter		@	1 16
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	45½
No. 2 white		@	46½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	33
No 2 white		@	33¾
RYE—No. 2	83	@	85
HAY—Ch. timothy		@	12 75
PORK—Clear mess		@	13 95
LARD—Steam		@	6 27½
BUTTER—Ch. dairy.		@	18
Choice creamery		@	31½
APPLES—Choice	2 50	@	3 00
POTATOES—Per bol	1 50	@	1 60
TOBACCO—New	5 00	@	13 00
Old	4 50	@	14 75
	Chicago.
FLOUR—Winter pat.	5 10	@	5 20
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 16½	@	1 19
No. 3 red	1 02	@	1 14
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	43	@	43½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	30½
RYE—No. 2	74½	@	75
PORK—Mess	12 45	@	12 50
LARD—Steam	6 75	@	7 00
	New York.
FLOUR—Wln. str'ts.	5 50	@	5 85
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 19¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	52½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	37	@	38
RYE—Western		@	75
PORK—Family	13 25	@	16 00
LARD—Steam	6 75	@	7 00
	Baltimore.
CATTLE—Steers	5 00	@	5 50
SHEEP—No. 1 fat	3 00	@	5 00
LAMBS—Choice	6 00	@	8 00
CALVES—Choice	4 00	@	8 50
HOGS—Dressed		@	5 20
	Louisville.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 18
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	47½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	34
PORK—Mess		@	11 00
LARD—Pure steam.		@	6 50
	Indianapolis.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 21
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	44
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	32

Women in Our Hospitals

Appalling Increase in the Number of Operations Performed Each Year—How Women May Avoid Them.

Miss Ruby Mushrush

Mrs Fred Seydel

Going through the hospitals in our large cities one is surprised to find such a large proportion of the patients lying on those snow-white beds women and girls, who are either awaiting or recovering from serious operations.

Why should this be the case? Simply because they have neglected themselves. Ovarian and womb troubles are certainly on the increase among the women of this country—they creep upon them unawares, but every one of those patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in that bearing-down feeling, pain at left or right of the womb, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, leucorrhœa, dizziness, flatulency, displacements of the womb or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the ovaries or womb, and if not heeded the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved thousands of women from surgical operations

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy.

The following letters cannot fail to bring hope to despairing women.

Mrs. Fred Seydel, 412 N. 54th Street, West Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

Dear Mrs. ...ckham:—

"I was in a very serious condition when I wrote to you for advice. I had a serious womb and ovarian trouble and I could not carry a child to maturity, and was advised that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I could not bear to think of going to the hospital, so wrote you for advice. I did as you instructed me and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and I am not only a well woman to-day, but have a beautiful baby girl six months old. I advise all sick and suffering women to write you for advice, as you have done so much for me."

Miss Ruby Mushrush, of East Chicago, Ind., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have been a great sufferer with irregular menstruation and ovarian trouble, and about three months ago the doctor, after using the X-Ray on me, said I had an abcess on the ovaries and would have to have an operation. My mother wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and it not only saved me from an operation but made me entirely well."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice and medicine have restored thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

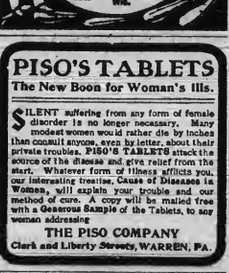
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

WINCHESTER

Take-Down Repeating Shotguns

Don't spend from $50 to $200 for a gun, when for so much less money you can buy a Winchester Take-Down Repeating Shotgun, which will outshoot and outlast the highest-priced double-barreled gun, besides being as safe, reliable and handy. Your dealer can show you one. They are sold everywhere.

FREE: Our 160-Page Illustrated Catalogue.



WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO. NEW HAVEN, CONN.

Cold cash, what a warm-hearted companion thou art!—O. Picayune.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.

Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if Pazo Ointment fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

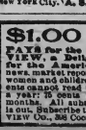
The scandalmonger is always sure of an audience.—N. Y. Times.

Salzer's National Oats.

Greatest oat of the century. Yielded in Ohio 167, in Mich. 91, in Mo. 85, and in S. Dakota 119 bus. per acre. You can beat that record in 1905.

For 10c and this notice

we mail you free lots of farm seed samples and our big catalog, telling all about this and wonder seed thousands of other seeds.



JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO. LA CROSSE, WIS.

PISO'S TABLETS

The New Boon for Woman's Ills.

SILENT suffering from any form of female disorder is no longer necessary. Many modest women would rather die by inches than consult anyone, even by letter, about their private troubles. PISO'S TABLETS attack the source of the disease and give relief from the start. Whatever form of illness afflicts you, our interesting treatise, Cause of Diseases in Women, will explain your trouble and our method of cure. A copy will be mailed free with a Generous Sample of the Tablets, to any woman addressing

THE PISO COMPANY
Clerk and Liberty Streets, WARREN, PA.

MOTHER GRAY'S SWEET POWDERS FOR CHILDREN,

A Certain Cure for Feverishness, Constipation, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders, and Destroy Worms. They Break up Colds Nurse in 24 hours. All Druggists, 25 cts. or ... Home. Sample mailed FREE. Address, New York City. A. S. OLMSTED, Le Roy, N.Y.

$1.00 A YEAR

PAYS for the CHICAGO DAILY REVIEW, a Delightful Daily Newspaper for the American Home. All important news, market reports, fine departments for men, women and children. Prints nothing which parents cannot read to their children. Price, $1.00 a year; 25 cents for 2 months; 50 cents for 3 months. All subscriptions stopped when time is out. Subscribe to-day. Address CHICAGO DAILY REVIEW Co., 358 Cook Colb Building, Chicago, Ill.

BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH

SYRUP cures coughs and colds.

PATENTS 48-page book free. Highest references. Best results. PHILIP B. LEE & CO., 809 F. Washington, D. C.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

50¢ AND $1.00

CURES HOG CHOLERA

SEND FOR CIRCULAR WITH DIRECTIONS

DR. EARL S. SLOAN BOSTON, MASS. ALBANY, ST.

Mixed Farming, Wheat Raising, Ranching.

FARMS WESTERN CANADA FREE

Three great pursuits have again shown wonderful results on the FREE Homestead Lands of Western Canada this year.

Magnificent climate—farmers plowing in their shirt sleeves in the middle of November.

"All are bound to be more than pleased with the final results of the past season's harvests."—Extract.

Coal, wood, water, hay in abundance—schools, churches, markets convenient.

Apply for information to SUPERINTENDENT OF IMMIGRATION, Ottawa, Canada, or to

H. M. WILLIAMS, Law Building, Toledo, O.
Authorised Canadian Government Agent.

Please say where you saw this advertisement.

THE KATY FLYER FROM KANSAS CITY

The M. K. & T. R'y has inaugurated a new fast train from Kansas City to Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas points. This train leaves Kansas City at 2:20 a. m., daily, arriving at all the principal Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Texas points the same day. There are now three daily trains from Kansas City Southwest via "The Katy"—2:20 a. m., 12:35 noon, and 9:00 p. m. Ask the agent or write

MKT "KATY"
ST. LOUIS, MO.

A. N. K.—E 2058

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

Letter from Georgia.

Amsterdam, Ga., Jany. 21, 1905.

We have been here about six weeks, and find the climate most healthy and congenial.

We have had some very disagreeable weather, but it is nothing to a Kentucky winter. There has been ice here about half an inch thick several times this winter, and quite a number of big frosts. We have lots of rain, scarcely a week going by without one or more. The rain here does not hurt a person like the rain up North. The rain seems too soft, and is somewhat salty.

I am located in a very healthy place, have plenty fine spring water, and we are surrounded by pine forests. You can scarcely see a mile in any direction for the pines. The spring water is very peculiar to us. It is softer than our rain water and lathers more easily and profusely than our cistern water.

I have seen lots of land here that has been under cultivation since the civil war, that is now covered with pines from 1 to 2½ ft. through. They are what is called Old Field or Short Straw pine. There are 3 kinds of pine here. The Long Straw, Short Straw and a Swamp Pine.

I have been through several Turpentine Orchards, and it is quite a pretty sight. A box, it is called, is cut near the ground, about 6 or 8 inches wide and 3 or 4 inches deep, to catch the sap as it runs down. Then they cut the bark off above this box with an ax a few inches at a time and let it stand a number of days before the barking is repeated. This hacking is kept up until they get up the tree 5 or 6 feet. The first sap is the best and is somewhat like oil, but the latter part of the crop is a kind of a waxy substance, and it has to be cut or scraped off the tree. The timber owners get 40c per hundred for these boxes, and the trees on an average of about 3 boxes per tree. After a tree is tapped it is ruined for lumber, as all the life is taken out of it. Thousands of fine, big pines are ruined every year by the "Turpentine Man," in this country.

There are many other interesting subjects I could write on, but for fear of taking up too much space I will say adieu. C. M. BALDON.

Please allow me space to give a brief account of my visit to Carroll and Owen counties, the latter the banner Democratic county in Kentucky.

I arrived at Eagle station, Carroll county, at 6:40 p. m. This little town is beautifully situated on the L. & N. in the midst of the fertile valley of the creek of that name. From there I went to Dallasburg, my destination. It is a beautiful little town about 2½ miles from Eagle. The next morning I spent in viewing the town, and met some of the cleverest people I ever met in my life. They greet you with cordial welcome and treat you with true Kentucky hospitality. That evening I went to New Liberty. Owen county, which was a victim of a severe fire on the night of Oct. 11th, and was nearly destroyed. On Dec. 19th, I went to Sanders it also is situated in Eagle valley, midway between the cities of Cincinnati and Louisville. A Blue Lick spring is located there and also a good hotel for those who come to drink that famous water. From there I went to Ghent. It is a small town on the Ohio river, midway between Cincinnati and Louisville.

Returning home I came by the way of the L. & N., arriving at Cincinnati at 11:20, and at home at dark, thinking there is no place like home, although my visit which extended over two weeks was a most pleasant one, many old acquaintances renewed and many new ones made A. S. WINSTON.

The following transfers of real estate were recorded last week:

Emily J. Alden, &c., to Lucretia Alden, &c., lot in Petersburg—$1, love and affection.

Corda A. Whitson, &c., to Joe Weaver, 40 acres on Gunpowder creek—$800.

Hattie D. Cook, &c., to Etta M. Smith, one-eighth interest in 89.3 acres, the John Moody farm—$300.

Wallace Garrison, &c., to B. L. Rich, 391 acres near Big Bone church—$19,500.

W. C. Clore, &c., to Lucy Walton, 31½ acres, lot 2 in the division of the Benjamin Clore land.

Ellen Morrisson, &c., to W. C. Moxley, lot in Walton—$825.

S. H. Marshall &c., to M. C. Stephens, two parcels of land on Gunpowder creek—$1,000.

John Laws to W. C. Moxley, &c., lot in Walton—$400.

Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c, at all Druggists.

Rev. Hasking will preach at Bullittsville Christian church next Sunday.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Hebron Perpetual Building and Loan Association, Plff.
vs. Equity.
George W. Crouch, &c. Defts.

By virtue of a Judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Dec, term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder at Public Sale on Monday, the 6th day of Feb., 1905, at 1 o'clock p.m., or thereabout, being County Court day, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

A certain lot or parcel of land situated in the town of Florence, Boone County, Kentucky, and being the property known as old Hotel property owned by J. P. Snyder, and bounded thus:—Beginning at a stone, a corner of John Oisner in Glassford's line; thence with said line n 73 w 137 feet to a stone in the edge of the Lexington pike; thence along the said pike s 4½ e 66 feet; s 22 e 41 feet to a stone in the edge of said road, a corner of John Oisner; thence with his line—60½ e 127 feet to the place of beginning.

Unless sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price of said land the purchaser with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bear legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $159 16.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Mary A. Harrison, pltf.
vs. Equity.
H. L. Harrison, &c., defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the April term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public sale on Monday, the 6th day of Feb., 1905, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabouts, being county court day, upon a credit of 6 & 12 months, the following described property to-wit,

Lying and being in Boone county, Ky., on the Ohio river immediately below Sand Run creek, and bounded thus: Beginning at a stone on the bank of the river, corner of the land formerly owned by the children of John Hunt; thence s 60½ e 190 poles to the county road; thence n 50½ e along said county road 68 poles: thence n 60½ w 220 poles to a point on the bank of the Ohio river; thence down the river bank s 24 w 65 poles to the beginning, containing eighty five (85) acres of land more or less, excepting therefrom the family burying ground and a passway thereto from the public road.

(The Master Commissioner is ordered to start said property at Harrison Clore's bid of $3,200, as shown by said Clore's offer and bond filed herein.)

For the purchase price the purchaser with approved security or securities must execute bonds, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Ben Kelly, pltf.
vs. in equity.
John C. Buckner, &c., defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the December Term, thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public sale on Monday, 6th day of Feb., 1905, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabouts, being county court day, upon a credit of 6 and 12 months, the following described property, to-wit:

Situated in the town of Florence, Boone county, Ky., and beginning on north side of the Burlington & Lexington pike, at the corner of P. Hampton's grocery building; thence along the side walk n 41 e 127½ feet to the south corner of W. T. Zudieffer's corner in Linville Souther's line; thence with Souther's line n 45½ w 13 poles and 23 links to a stone near a branch; thence n 71 w 7⅞ poles to a stone and a beech tree said Souther's corner; thence s 48¾ w 6¼ poles to a beech tree; thence 45½ w 4 poles and 2 links to a post in Harmon Yeager's line, corner with Sam Lindsay; thence with his line s 45½ e 33½ poles to a stone; thence n 41½ e 20 feet to a stone; thence s 47 e 10¼ feet to a locust post in Lindsay's line, corner to P. A. Hampton's lot; thence with the lines of said lot n 54 e 33 feet to a stone; thence s 56 e 80½ feet to the beginning, being a part of a lot conveyed to Richard Rice by J. J. Dulaney.

For the purchase price the purchaser with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien reserved therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

KRAUSER'S

Liquid Smoke, 75c

QUART BOTTLE—enough for four hogs—new way to smoke meat—no fires.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.,
—GROCER—
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, KY.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,

GRASS SEEDS, FLOUR AND SALT.

We have it, you want it, come and get our choice Hay, Timothy, Clover, and Straw by

The Bale or Ton.

CORN by the car load or bushel—shelled or ear;
OATS, the best, in any quantity;
MILL FEED at lowest price for good quality of feed;
SALT that will not harden in the barrel;
GRASS SEEDS including Timothy, Clover and Blue Grass

THAT WILL GROW.

We are making a specialty of Good Blue Grass Seeds and have a nice lot of Fancy Cleaned Hand-Stripped Seed that has

Been Tested and it Grows.

OUR FLOUR CAN'T BE BEAT!

It is made from the best wheat that can be had, and it makes good bread; Try a Barrel and if you don't like it bring it back and get your money back.

WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

We want your trade, give us a trial and be convinced that you

.....Want Our Goods.....

R. B. HUEY & CO.,

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WHAT IS HOME

WITHOUT AN UP-TO-DATE

IRON FENCE?

MAKES HOME ATTRACTIVE.

Lasts a Lifetime. Low Prices-Surprising.

For Best Prices Call or Write to

HENRY QUICK, Hebron, Ky.,
SPECIAL AGENT FOR
The Stewart Iron Works Company,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

FOR SALE

Good Farm of 200 Acres,

Three miles north of Guilford, Ind., fine tobacco land; can be sold in parts. Six room brick residence, barn 40x60. Price reasonable. Warren Tebbs,
Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of D, B, Roberts, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.
C. C. ROBERTS, Admr.

Administratrix Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Edward S. Underhill, decd, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.
JERRY UNDERHILL, Admx.

Administratrix Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of O. A. Vaughn, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.
LAURA D VAUGHN, Admx.

SALE OF

HORSE BLANKETS And Lap-Robes.

An over stock of Robes to be sold at your own price, and 15 per cent discount on Blankets
CALL AND SEE US
before you buy your

Spring Harness

And you will see that you can save 10c on every dollar that you spend. The best stock of Collars and Harness in Town
at Jackson's

New Harness Shop,
Walnut Street,
Lawrenceburg, - Indiana.
2½ blocks from Big 4 R. R.

For the Best Flour, Try

OLD KENTUCKY
BLENDED PATENT.
—GUARANTEED.—

For Something Good, Try

VIRGINIA OAK
WINTER PATENT.
—WARRANTED.—

Clifford E. Nadaud,
515 Chamber of Commerce,
CINCINNATI, O.
Room 10 Boone Block,
COVINGTON, KY.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale to the highest bidder, at my residence near Gunpowder, Boone county, Ky., on Monday, Jan. 30th, 1905,

The following property:

2 Horses, 2 milch Cows, 1 yearling Heifer, 26 Sheep, 4 Sows—been bred; some Chickens, Road Wagon, 2 Spring Wagons, Mowing Machine, Hayrake, Plows, Harrows, Scalding-box, set double Wagon Harness, 2 Sleds, Corn, Hay and Fodder, about 15 bu. Potatoes, Household and Kitchen Furniture, &c.

TERMS—Sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of 10 months, without interest, will be given, purchasers to give notes with good security, negotiable and payable in the Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky., before removing property. H. O. ROUSE.
Sale to begin 1 o'clock p. m.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Roberts as a member of the firm of G. W. & D. B. Roberts or otherwise are hereby notified to meet me at Verona, Boone county, Ky., on Thursday, February 9th, 1905, to settle same.
C. C. ROBERTS, Admr.

NOTICE—Examination for Common School Diplomas will be held in Burlington on Friday and Saturday, January 27 and 28.
D. M. SNYDER, County Sup't.

What More Could You Possibly desire in Clothes

Than to have them made from thoroughly tested fashionable fabrics—have them tailored in the best possible manner—have them fit satisfactorily, and have them make you appear a thoroughly dressed man? that's the sort that you get from

PIPER & WALTON,
Merchant Tailors
142 E. Fourth St.,
Cincinnati, - - Ohio.
Rooms 2 and 3.

Our Fall & Winter Goods are now ready for inspection. Call and examine our stock. In attendance at Burlington County Court days with samples.

"Always Reliable."

W. N. HIND & CO.

Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
213 W. 5th S., Cincinnati.

Rogers Bros. General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST, - Florence, Ky.

Office at Burlington Every Monday. " at Latonia, Ky. Thursday-Friday the remainder of the time at Florence.
Remember I am a Painless Dentist.
PRICES REASONABLE.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
☞ Extracting Teeth is only fun with my method.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.
AT UNION 1st MONDAY in each month.

Farm for Sale.

145 acres near Woolper creek in Boone county, Ky., now the property of Eneas Barrott, of Lawrenceburg, Ind. This farm has a large tobacco barn, large stable, two story frame house of 8 rooms, good cistern and well at house; large apple orchard and all other fruits. All this property is in first-class condition. For further information apply to B B. Grant, who is now on the place, or to D. M. Snyder, Burlington, Ky.

DR. FENNER'S

KIDNEY and Backache CURE

All diseases of Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs. Also Rheumatism, Backache, Heart Disease, Gravel, Dropsy, Female Troubles.

Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write Dr. Fenner. He has spent a life time curing just such cases as yours. All consultations Free.

"A gravel lodged in my bladder. After using a few bottles of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure I passed a gravel half as large as a marble. The medicine prevented further formations. I was cured.
W. T. OAKES, Orrix, Va."

Druggists, 50c., $1. Ask for Cook Book—Free.

ST. VITUS' DANCE Sure Cure. Circular. Dr Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

For sale by Ayer & Hebron

Take the Recorder.

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections. Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D Rouse's Store.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029.
Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged. Money to Loan on Real Estate. Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
☞ All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL, ... $50,000
Surplus and undivided profits 30,000
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... $50,000
Surplus,.. ..... $8.000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.

Every Farmer In the County
should take a policy at once.

Edgar Cropper, Pres., Idlewild, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, "
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy., R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
W. M. Rogers, Agent, Walton, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, "
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

FARM FOR SALE.

The A. P. Collins Farm Near Richwood, Ky.

Fine blue grass farm in Boone county, Ky., containing about 105 acres; good 6 room house and porches, barn, all kinds of out buildings, good fencing, well watered with springs, wells, cistern and pond. A private avenue runs to the Lexington pike. The house is about 8 minutes walk to Richwood Station C. N. & T. P. R. R. Commuter rates to the city, 7½c a trip with four trains daily. Telegraph, telephone, express and post-office—four daily mails.

Also, 105 acres, (1 m H. O. Rouse farm on the Union and Florence pike; good house of 7 rooms and all necessary outbuildings; well watered and land mostly in grass Apply to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXX. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1905. NO. 16.

County Correspondence.

COMMISSARY.

Jan. 28.—Selfconfidence is the essence of heorism.

H. P. Parson called on Commissary, last Sunday.

Jesse Louden and wife spent Sunday afternoon with father and mother Louden.

T. J. Walton had a cow to slip and fall, putting a leg ont of place, one day last week.

Mrs Leomer Louden was a guest of Mrs. Minnie Kelly, last Saturday night and Sunday.

R. A. Brady had a nice heifer to die last Sunday, supposed to result from eating tobacco.

Miss Stella Ryle's school closed last Wednesday. She did not have a pupil who missed a single day, nor none who was ever tardy. Can anyother teacher say as much?

John Gilligan passed through the Commissary last Saturday, looking—as natural as ever. He says he will never crawl in after another fox. The experience he had is enough.

Mrs. Will Ryle, near here, was taken quite sick very suddenly Thursday. Mr. Ryle had gone down on Ashby to a telephone meeting and word was sent him by the mail carrier.

A letter was mailed in New York on Friday, of last week, addressed to Mrs. Mary Johnson, Holden, Mo., and was forwarded from there to Burlington, Ky., and was received by Mr. Johnson on last Monday. Quick work this, considering the distance traveled.

We understand the Bellevue sports have it in for us for what we said about their dogs. Alright gentlemen, you can find us if you want us. We are prepared to prove all we said, except it may have been Nathan Walton's dogs that butted in and found the trail instead of Ed Botts'.

Petersburg, we all have our peculiarities. If you mean by throwing bouquets, that when I am not praising some one else I am praising myself, I plead guilty to the charge. My neighbors are kind and obliging and it would be difficult to praise them amiss and I see such a goody-good fellow myself, that I can throw them with out missing.

Sunnyside, Lieut General Lawrence Phipps says: "You did not meet him Thursday, nor see him Saturday, and that you know as little about who is his best girl as the man in the moon, and that he did not try to mislead you. He says he den't know who you are, nor don't care, but you have proven yourself good on the makeups.

We wish to say that Sunnyside is being heard from every week, and has been for near three years, and in all this time only two issues have been missed. It is heard from under the name of Commissary and will continue to be heard from under that name. Last week was the first we knew of Mr. Lillard calling his farm "Sunnyside." We advise the writer to wait until the "old hen hatches before counting her chickens." The reason none of the correspondents of the RECORDER have anything to say about the girls in Burlington, is because it is so near Commissary, where there are girls that are so much better looking that they refrain from saying anything about the Burlington girls.

Scientists have found that malt starch, sugar and other life producing elements may be reversed—may be treated in an opposite way to that which converts them to our use until they are restored to their original composition. Acting on the hypothesis that if things which make life can be reversed life itself can be recreated. These scientists have pursued their investigations until they say they are able to make an old person grow backward and wind up where he commenced. I suppose in doing this he must forget all he ever learned and do it gradually, as he learned it and do everything else in a way exactly the reverse to what he did in growing up—must have the mumps, measles, chickenpox and seven year itch backward. I am not sure that such a reversal of nature's laws would be all it is cracked up to be I am inclined to think that most of us would shy at going backwark through some of our experiences. Some of them have been painful, and perhaps disreputable enough in the ordinary way. I shall not believe the scheme until I see it tried.

Last Saturday night the Commissary Reading Club met in regular session. Meeting called to order by President Koons; role called by Sect. Snelling; members all present; minutes read by Sect. and approved. Mayor Thomas addressed the president and said, "I have a surprise for the members of the Club," and then read from Aurora Bulletin as follows: "Married in Lawrenceburg on Saturday the 16th inst., by the Rev. George Mall, Mr. August Popham and Miss Mertie Bennett, of South Hogan, Ind. Sunday they went to the home of the bride's parents where they found a host of friends and a nice dinner awaiting them. After receiving congratulations and partaking of the dinner, in the evening they went to the home of the groom's parents, and on Monday night were treated to some nice instrumental music with shot guns, cow bells horns and tin pans. They took the treat good naturedly. The bride and groom are Kentucky bred, and are a worthy couple." At the conclusion of the reading, Bro. Cecil Snelling offered the following resolutions which were adopted: Resolved, That this club extend Mr. Popham and wife its congratulations, wishing them prosperity and happiness as they drift down the river of life, trusting that during their wooing they studied each others characteristics, tastes, distates, likes and dislikes, sufficiently to enable them to avoid the old logs, snags, hidden rocks, quicksands and saudbars along down the river of life on which their happiness might otherwise be wrecked; and be it resolved, that the Commissary correspondent incorporate said resolution in his writeup, and mail a copy of the RECORDER to Mr. Popham and wife.

o o o

FLICKERTOWN.

Jan. 28.—Henry Jarrell is quite sick

Chas. Hensley's entire family has been sick this week.

Charles Wilson and family are visiting at Rabbit Hash.

Earl Walton, of Petersburg, hauled ice from Wooiper, last week.

Ben Hensley sold to Louie Messmer, last week, one hog, weight 220 pounds, as $4 40 per cwt.; James White sold to John Botts, 2 hogs, average weight 325, at $4 40 per cwt.

Wm. Sebree's sale, last Tuesday, was well attended, considering the blustry day. and things brought good prices; theborse, $72; cow, $27; corn, 83c. Mr. Sebree left immediately after the sale for Hot Springs, Ark. He said this was too cold a climate for him

The Wooiper Telephone Co., met at James White's, Thursday, and elected its officers as follows: W. T. Ryle, president; Robt. Terrill, vice-president; E T. Krutz, treasurer; J. W. White, secretary; Chas. Hensley, Wm. Walton and Dr. Weindell, directors. The survey will be made next week and work will be pushed.

o o o

MCVILLE.

Jan. 28.—Mrs. J. E. Louden is quite sick.

The sick in our town do not improve much.

Rod Ryle made a flying trip to Rabbit Hash, last Monday.

Sebe Scott visited his mother, at Commissary, last Friday.

Henry Stucky is visiting his brother Chas., of Latonia, this week.

Uncle Hogan Presser came up from Richard Stephens', yesterday.

Len Stewart and wife visited at Wm. McMullens' one day last week.

Mrs. R. D. Akin has been the victim of a severe cough for some time.

Go and pay your delinquent taxes and keep yourselves out of trouble.

John Ed Louden is visiting his father, over on North Hogan, Indiana.

C. C. Dolph, the local blacksmith, is doing conseiderable repairing about his shop.

Will Stucky, of Latonia, was visiting his grandfather at this place last week.

Kirby Ryle has about completed stripping his crop of 7 acres of tobacco. Kirb is a hustler.

The Swan came out for a round trip Tuesday but had to go back into port again on account of ice.

The Farmers' Tobacco Growers Association has been creating quite an excitement in this neighborhood, and several have signed their tobacco to the company.

Oscar Beemon is done stripping tobacco and is ready to move to Hoosier as soon as the river gets clear of ice. The citizens of this place will be sorry to see Awk and his family leave, as they are worthy citizens.

Quite an excitement was created last Wednesday evening about 7 or eight o'clock when the alarm was given that John Ryle's house was on fire. Fortunately the fire was discovered and extinguished before any damage was done.

o o o

LIMABURG.

Ray Craven is on the sick list.

Owen Beemon has pneumonia.

Clint Weaver has a very sore throat.

Martin Ferrell, sr., fell, last week, and dislocated his left shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Israel Rouse entertained James Kelly and wife, Sunday.

Miss Nora Ryle was a guest of her cousin, Mrs. George Smith, near Waterloo, Sunday.

Elmer Kelly and wife, from near Waterloo, visited at Hubert Rouse's a couple of days last week.

Mike Ferrell, of Hamilton, Ohio, and Martin Ferrell, of Ludlow are visiting their father and brother here.

The Gunpowder Sunday School presented superintendent Asa McMullen with a handsome willow rocker, last Sunday.

o o o

VERONA.

Jan. 20—Chas. A. Roberts is sojourning in Columbus, Ohio.

W. M. Whitson filled his ice-house, a few days since.

The young people have been having a fine time skating.

O. K. Powers is staying in the bank learning the business.

Ben Judy has been quite ill the past fet days with asthma.

Jeff Powers, who is having a large barn built has it ready to raise.

New Bethel church has not called a preacher for the ensuing year.

Boys, get your tin pans ready. Rumor says there will be a wedding soon.

Rev. Follett failed to fill his appointment here, Sunday, on account of sickness.

Mrs. Ruth Roberts is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Laura Cleek, near Beaver Lick.

Late Kennedy has been appointed postmaster at this place, and the office will be moved in the near future.

The people here have been very charitable the past week toward Andy Ward and wife, who were very much in need.

B. C. showers sold his crop of 4000 lbs. of tobacco to John Boothe, of Walton, for 8 and 6c per pound. It was delivered last week.

Much interest has been manifested in the Tobacco Growers' Company the past week, and about all of last year's crop has been pledged. Each of our merchants has pledged his purchase.

HATHAWAY.

Jan. 30.—Every farmer around here is signing his tobacco to the association.

E. C. Franks made a trip to Rich wood, last Friday, for a load of coal.

Ice houses were filled with a fine quality of nice 6 inch ice, last week.

Geo. L. Smith and wife spent Saturday with your pencil shover and family.

Clay White has been on the sick list for the past week with a severe cold and cough.

G. A. Ryle, wife and son spent last Sunday at their son, Ransom Ryle's on Gunpowder.

Lucien Stephens entertained with a wood sawing, last Friday evening, and got a lot of wood.

Mrs. Pearl Brady, of near Landing, spent last Saturday night and Sunday with her parents at this place.

There will be a swell wedding to report in the near future. It will take place at Big Bone Baptist church.

W. M. Rector and family, of near Waterloo, spent last Sunday week at Mr. and Mrs. W. S. White's, near here.

Robert Houston, our very clever merchant, has been very much indisposed for several days. Hope he will be on the mnd soon.

J. C. White, assisted by J. Q. Elston, James Stephens and Jotie Huey, filled a large ice house at Mr. Elston's last Friday with 6 inch ice.

The Riddell's Run and Hathaway Telephone company survey its line route, last Saturday, and will soon be ready to be setting poles and constructing the line.

John Baldon has moved his sawmill to Gunpowder, near Harry Stephens', and will purchase a lot of oak timber of Mr. Stephens, which he will saw into lumber of all kinds.

Your writer made a business trip to Union, last Friday. He found Dolph Riley busy reading some good literature. The Burkett Bros. were filling their ice house with nice 6 inch ice. Prof. Voshell was hitching up a team preparatory to doing something sure—going for ice, hay or some other finished article. He called on J. L. Frazier the most obliging cashier of the enterprising bank of that place. He was transacting considerable business along that line. J. W. Conner was assisting him.

At Waterloo, last Monday afternoon, we met "hello" man, P. E. G., who always has something good to tell as a joke. He is an all round good fellow, if his feet aint mates. We called at J. W. Kite's store, which was a full house. There we found R. L. Huey and Wilbur Conner preparing a horse trade, which wound up in their telling of the former trades that they had made, which was quite amusing. Next we met was Lucien Clore, who was representing the tobacco association. He had good success in getting subscribers to the organization—in which a great many are interested and we hope that the enterprise will be a great benefit to the growers of the Burley tobacco. We remained at the little hamlet until late that evening, when we started homeward to find, when we arrived a good warm supper awaited us,

o o o

GRANT.

Jan. 30.—Uncle Lewis Snyder is improving

Gene Kelly filled his ice house with good ice from Middle creek.

Mrs George Smith, of near Waterloo is seriously ill of peritonitis.

Miss Martha Welsh is about again after a severe attack of Lagripp.

Sam Braddock, of Middle creek, was the guest of James Ryan, Sunday.

Robert Sandford, jr., of Covington, is the guest of his uncle, Tim Sandford.

The business houses were all closed Monday during Mrs. Corbin's funeral.

Work at the basket shop was suspended several days last week on account of the cold weather.

Misses Harriet VanNess and Gladys Ryle, of Rabbit Hash, and Mrs. Chas. Dolph, of McVille, spent Friday with Mrs. T. J. Clore.

Clarence Ryle, of East Bend; Dode Pope, of Waterloo, and Clyde Akin, of Woolper, were calling on the ladies at this place, Sunday.

The growers in this vicinity have signed enough tobacco to the Growers' Company to make this a receiving and shipping point.

Miss Blanch Kelly, who attends the Aurora High School, was among those whose names appeared on the honor roll published in the Bulletin last week.

Bro. Thomas, the Bellevue sports say your mental "equilibrium is in an advanced stage of decomposition," if you say it was their dogs that passed your town that day. They say they were Nathan Walton's dogs, and are too slow to flag a hand car.

The Bellevue string band held its first rehearsal at E. E. Kelly's store Saturday night. Following are the members: Kirb Clore, guitar; Spinny Smith, banjo; Dave McCarty, accordian. T. J. Clore was solicited to play the violin, but declined on account of his bashfuiness. Jake Cook may take that position. Some excellent pieces were rendered and the performers were cheered to the echo.

o o o

PT. PLEASANT.

J. W. Riggs has been laid up for several days with a severe case of gripp.

The party at Mr. Madeina Souther's Wednesday night was well attended.

Miss Virgie Riggs spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Crescent Springs.

Miss Elizabeth Kenyon entertained at dinner, last Sunday, for Miss Irene Vogel, and Mr. Will Kenyon, of Cincinnati. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Walton, Mr and Mrs. J. W. Riggs, Misses Irene Vogel, Agnes Tanner, Virgie Riggs, Eva Clutterbuck and Lulu Parks. Messrs. Sylvus Riggs, Ira Hazel and Elvin Walton, Ben Clutterbuck, Ed Osborne and Elmer Haberle.

IDLEWILD.

Jan. 30.—Winston Gaines is visiting his brouder Bernard at Oxford, Ohio.

We have had 27 snows since Nov. 13

Query—When did Daniel Boone die, when and where is he buried?

Fletcher Clore is killing hogs today. Now is a good time to visit him, Mr. Editor

Howard, son of Dr. Hays, is employed by the Mammoth Coal Co., in Cincinnati.

Miss Alberta, daughter of O. W. Gaines, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Breylich.

Milton, youngest son of C. A. Gaines of Ludlow, was the guest of A. S. Winston, Sunday.

Mrs. John Conner has been sick since her return from her visit to Logansport, Indiana.

Chas. Scothorn and daughter, of Francesville, were guests at Luther Scothorn's, Saturday.

W. B. Shotwell is visiting his niece, Mrs. Eyal, in Petersburg, where he is receiving medical treatment.

George Kreylich and Milton Souther sold their calves, last week, to Chritcher, of Sedamsville, at good prices.

W.D.Cropper visited Kenneth Baisly Sunday, and reports him improving—able to talk and laugh with friends.

Col. G C. Graddy, of Petersburg, visited his children near here last week and attended Rev. Haskins' services.

Most of the growers are done stripping tobacco, and John Jones has sold his crop to Wingate & Thompson at 10 cents a pound.

The many friends of Felix Gaines, of Philadelphia, are glad to hear of his continued good health and prosperity. His weight has reached 165 pounds.

Hon. J. A. Gaines and A. S. Winston and mother spent last Monday with Mrs O. W. Gaines It was her father's 81st birthday. He is in feeble health.

The people uuite in petitioning the world renowned ground hog not to go back to his winterquarters when he comes forth on the 2 of next month.

Hon N. S. Walton is a zealous Granger. and braved the cold last Saturday to attend the meeting at Burlington. His wife accompanied him as far as Mr. Kreylich's, where she and her son Courtney and wife spent the day.

o o o

CONSTANCE.

Jan. 30.—All the sick are improving.

Mrs. H. McGlasson is very sick of pneumonia.

The sick at Frank McGlasson's are convalescing.

John Wenz and wife visited Mrs. H. Garnett, Sunday.

Mesdames Hoffmyer and Curtis moved to Covington, Saturday.

Robert Wilson got his arm broken by letting a large piece of ice fall on it.

Mr and Mrs. Chas. Kotmyer visited their daughter, Mrs. Chas. Hemfling, this week.

Albert Kotmyer has proven himself the champion at the skating carnivals on Dry creek.

John Wenz has been appointed administrator of the estate of William Weimer, deceased.

The boys whose work is on the other side of the river walk to Ludlow and cross on the bridge.

There is talk of the doctors of the county organizing an association for their mutual benefit.

Scott Peno, of Taylorsport, was in town one day last week. He has been visiting his brother John.

o o o

BELLEVUE.

Jan. 30—Mrs. Laura Botts is much better.

Capts Ed and Will Maurer are at home, watching the ice flow down the Ohio.

W. W. Grant was visiting Ira Powell and family, of Prospect Hill, Ind., last Sunday.

Gillie Weiskle has rented a field of Mrs. Belle Clore for corn and tobacco. He is the man who can raise those crops.

Bro. Edgar C. Riley, of Lexington, will preach next Sunday morning and evening for the Christian church congregation

Tom Staley's little boy, who had about recovered from a severe attack of typhoid fever, had a relapse and is dangerously sick again.

W. L. Acra, of Middle creek, called on us last Thursday, the first time for months. His wife is still confined to her bed with spinal trouble.

In the death of Mrs. Mary E Corbin, which occurred Saturday the 23d inst, at 8 o'clock p. m., after many weeks' confluement to her bed, this community loses a most estimable neighbor and friend. She was a loving and indulgent mother, one who never failed to respond to a call for aid in sickness or distress, and attended strictly to her own affairs. Never was she known to be the inventor of anything, or aid in it that which would injure a human being. She always advocated peace in every and all instances, and was spoken of by all who knew her in the highest term. She will be greatly missed in this community and especially by her children. She leaves three daughters and two sons and ten grand children, who have the sympathy of the community in their sad affliction. She was in her 80th year. After a brief service at the residence her remains were laid to rest by the side of her husband in the old cemetery on Monday, January 30th, at 2 p. m., in the presence of a large and sorrowing assemblage of friends and relatives.

When You have a Cold.

The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This Remedy liquefies the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by all Druggists.

HEBRON.

S. S. Clore, of Ludlow, made a flying trip to Hebron, Sunday.

Walter Garnett has purchased the old Casey farm between Hebron and Limaburg.

A large number attended the party given by Misses Zetta and Mamie Frances, Saturday night.

Verner Hann, of Harrison, Ohio, was visiting friends in this vicinity last Friday and Saturday.

Webb McGlasson and wife have adopted a 15 months old girl from the Louisville Orphans' Home.

W. O. Hafer has secured a position in the city, and the firm of Hafer & Aylor is changed to Aylor Bros

Ad Batterson and family will move to Bromley, and Lloyd Aylor and wife will move here from Florence.

o o o

WATERLOO.

Jan. 30—W. S. Kite was in Cincinnati, last Wednesday.

Mrs. Eyal, and mother spent Friday at J. S. Clore's.

R. L. Huey, of Big Bone, was in our midst, last Friday.

Paul Aylor, of Gunpowder, spent Tuesday with friends here.

Walter Rector, who had gunsy very badly, last week, is convalescing.

Oscie Kelly returned last Monday after spending a month in California.

Mrs. Bettie Sullivan, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., is visiting relatives here.

Minnie Ryle and mother spent Friday with Mrs. Johnson sold his crop of tobacco to Conner & Hogan at 8c per lb. He delivered it Saturday.

Misses Effie Beemon and Zelma Kelly, Lewis Beemon and Elbert Clore attended the dance at Wib Conner's, last Tuesday night.

Lucien Clore was out three days last week getting subscribers to the Tobacco Growers' Company, and met with good success, getting over 150 000 lbs.

One day last week Owen and Perry Presser found, what they supposed was a large coon track in the snow, which they tracked to its den in the ground, and after two hours' of hard labor dug out, to their surprise, a large groundhog. Next time notice the track more closely. A ground hog has five toes on each foot and a coon has only four.

o o o

PETERSBURG.

Jan. 30.—Thursday morning was the coldest of the year—3 below zero.

Rev. Selby and family are all sick.

Norris, son of B. H. Berkshire, is very sick.

Richard Acra has been selected as janitor of the M. E Church

A little child of John Brock, colored, died very suddenly, Thursday.

Capt. Chas. Maurer, of Bellevue, was a visitor to our town one day last week.

Old Sleuth Wingate and the bloodhounds will be terrors to evildoers.

Miss Lou Allen, of Owen county, was visiting him last week.

Mrs. Susan Wingate, the venerable mother of M. F. Wingate, is in poor health.

There is no more livlier town in the State than this when the distillery is running.

On account of ice in the river the mash at the distillery has been reduced one-half.

Ernest Grant and wife, of Belleview, were guests at H. E. Arnold's, last Thursday.

River full of heavy, floating ice and unless it warms up will block at Aurora in the next 24 hours.

Some lone wanderer has made his home in a hole in the ground just across the river from here, all winter.

Seiners caught some nice fish at the mouth of Tanner's creek, one day last week, by cutting away the ice

Will Snyder has gone to New Orleans to take charge of a large distillery. His wife and little girl will go in a few weeks.

Col. Wm. Casey, of Cape Geardeau, Mo., is visiting his old home. Billy is from "Missouri" and he don't have to show me.

Rev. Boswell, of Chattanooga, Tenn., who was to have held a meeting at the Christian church, failed to come on account of Providential hinderance.

The following citizens are sick with grippe: Misses Florence and Sallie McWethy, W. F. Henaley's entire family, Miss Lou Allen, Harry McWethy and W. S. Alloway.

Ben R. Johnson, who had charge of Lawrenceburg Lumber Co., and whose wife is a daughter of Elijah Parker, has gone to Toledo, Ohio, where he has charge of one of the largest Lumber Co.'s in the world.

Mr. Perry Applegate an aged citizen went to his back yard to carry a heavy locuet post to the front part when his feet slipped from under him and he fell the post falling on his head, cutting an ugly gash and rendering him unconscious, in which condition he was found by his son a few hours later, almost frozen to death. Mr. A. is 73 years old.

Earl Walton had a valuable horse to go mad, one day last week, and it had to be killed. How or when the animal contracted hydrophobia no one knows. It would go into spasms and kick and bite everything in its way and would remain in these deliriums until it became exhausted. During one of its rayings it bit Elijah Acra on the arm bruising it but not breaking the skin. Dr. Jackson finally gave it a dose of morphine to end its suffering.

We feel proud of the invitation that Miss "Sunnyside" gave us to write a finish to her praises of Burlington girls. We feel inclined to flirt with Miss Sunnyside as we know she has such a lovable disposition and such dreamy eyes, and a voice that squeaks like a rusty door hinge, and such dainty little, fairy boots, we almost imagine we can see her kicking the boulders off of Woolper pike with her No. 11s. Now, Sunnyside, if you still insist on me giving the finishing touches to your article on Burlington girls, you will hear from yours truly, Mr. Dooley, later on.

A called meeting of the "Old Widowers Club" was held at "Shoo-Fly-Inn" on the banks of Honey Run, one day last week, with Geo. Hurd in the chair and M. F. Wingate, secretary. Letter of regret was received from the President, Edward Gaines "After an animated discussion as to an order admitting bachelors over 65, which was defeated, an election of officers was held and the following persons elected: Daddy House, pres.; M F. Wingate, sec'ty; Geo. Hurd and Dr. Hays, committee on finance. Some apprehension is felt for Col. Graddy that the club may lose him.

o o o

MIDWAY.

We have 23 cases of whooping cough in a radius of one mile.

Geo. Friend has moved to Jerry Carr's farm on Mud Lick.

We are glad to report all the pneumonia patients on the mend,

Miss Susie Kraus spent last week in the city, visiting relatives.

J. C. Hughes sigued 100 000 pounds of tobacco to the Growers' company.

It looks now like the man who predicted 32 snows for this winter could have doubled it and been perfectly safe.

William Wilson lost a weanling colt one night last week. It was all right when he fed it at night, but was dead next morning.

Last Friday night Mrs. Cassie Carroll took, by mistake, a spoonful of Dr. Fenner's Golden Relief, which came near proving fatal.

Willard Eidred and wife have gone to housekeeping in the house recently vacated by Miss Denigan, who moved to her own property near the school house.

Our school has been closed for two weeks on account of sickness among the pupils. The trustees met, Saturday, and decided to keep it closed two weeks longer.

Uncle Ben Moore, who has been staying with G. M. Moore for several weeks, has gone to his son William's in Gallatin county, where he will make his future home.

Some sneak has broken one of the large glass in the front of the Christian Church. This is the second time this has occurred. These glass are very expensive and it is likely if the trustees of the church apprehend the guilty party they will pay dearly for their mischief.

Six of the Beaver boys are very anxious to know what has become of Mr. Cannou, the Modern Woodman, organizer. He has left here with $24 of their money. They desire to warn their neighbors to be careful in their dealings with him, as he has had their money since October.

The social event of the week was the play party given by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Moore, on the night of the 23rd in honor of Misses Mary and Sallie Baker, of Covington. Other young ladies present from a distance were Misses Mamie Stewart, and Emma Stahl, of Stone Lick, Gallatin county.

o o o

BULLITTSVILLE.

Rev. Haskins spent last week here among his flock.

We are sorry to report that Kenneth Baisly does not improve.

Miss Eunie Willis, left today, for Cleveland, Ohio, to visit her sister, Mrs. Edgar D. Jones.

Our mail carrier was under the weather several days last week, and Mike Clore, of Hebron, was on the bns.

We read Callie Baldon's letter last week with much pleasure. We hope he and his wife will soon return restored to perfect health.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Sebree's sale down on Woolper, last Tuesday and met Ed Botts and Al Cook, two of the local sports, who had been working hard all day tryiug to dislodge something (supposed to be Gilligan) that their dogs had treed in a hollow tree the day before.

Alfred Ogden had a narrow escape from being killed while hauling tobacco to the city for Jas. Riley, last Thursday. He was waiting at the top of the river hill for Lee Masters to come with an ice outter, and his team became unmanageable and started down the hill in a dead run. He was kicked on the leg by one of the mules, which rendered him almost helpless. The team was stopped just as they were about to turn a sharp curve in the road, which would undoubtedly have thrown wagon, team and driver over a steep embankment about 50 feet high. Young Ogden is pretty badly crippled from the kick, and his nerves are almost completely wrecked from his awful experience.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs M. I Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by all Druggists.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you, is our name on the wrapper Look for it, on all Dr. King's or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. BUCKLEN, & CO., Chicago, Ill., and Windsor, Canada. For sale by all Druggists.

THE RECORDER

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, - - - KENTUCKY.

1905	FEBRUARY					1905
SUN.	MON.	TUE.	WED.	THU.	FRI.	SAT.
			1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28

Three million song birds are killed each year for the purpose of adorning women's hats.

A London mother offered to sell her baby for a quart of beer. This fact came out at a subsequent inquest into the child's death.

Strassburg has been making rapid advancement during the past two years, possibly as rapid advancement as any other city in Germany, considering its size. Within the past year there have been erected 11 new public buildings, 89 apartment houses and 121 residences and other buildings, the latter immediately outside the walls of the city.

In the Grand Duchy of Baden during 1903 there were engaged in the cultivation of tobacco 35,091 small planters, who had under cultivation 16,610 acres, chiefly in the valley of the Rhine. Many of the plots contain but a few square rods of land, cultivated by men and women working side by side in the fields.

The Lake Shore and New York Central railroads have ordered 7,000 steel cross ties. These are laid in certain sections of each road. Will steel ties last long enough to more than make up the excess of their cost over that of wooden ties? If they do, wooden ties are doomed, and the steel lords have more money coming to them.

After years of effort Sioux City promoters, including a score of leading men, have interested capitalists of Philadelphia and St. Louis and secured contracts with the Rock Island and Louisville and Nashville roads for establishing a new deep water harbor on the Gulf of Mexico. It will be at Fort Morgan, Ala. Millions are back of the movement.

Kane county, Illinois, has taken the lead in utilizing electricity as a power for farms, says the Chicago Tribune. The current that is used by the electric railroad line is being switched to the farms through which the roads run for the purpose of running feed choppers, pumping water, sawing wood, operating creameries and for many other purposes.

During the year 1903 $2,604,325.38 was sent, in postal orders, from the United States to Sweden, and $429,097.48 from Sweden to the United States, leaving a balance of $2,175,227.90 in favor of Sweden. Since the postal money-order system between the United States and Sweden has been in existence, April 1, 1885, there has been sent from the United States to Sweden $19,004,872 more than from Sweden to the United States.

The five sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Leroy, of Fayette county, Kentucky, celebrate their birthday together. Each came into the world on January 15—the first on January 15, 1900. Without exception since then the 15th day of the first month of the year has brought a new member of the Leroy family. Singularly Mr. Leroy's birthday is December 15, just one month earlier, and Mrs. Leroy's entrance into the world was on February 15, just a month later.

The extent to which insects are employed as food furnished the subject for an investigation by M. G. Durand, a French scientist, which has recently been published and has been commented on in the European and American medical press. His examination of the subject has been so thorough that he has been led to believe that insects of almost every family are eaten in one part or another of the globe. The practice is of ancient origin, as the larvae of the capricorn beetle and of the horn beetle were eaten by the old Romans.

In the United States the taste for chocolate is growing with the greatest rapidity. In 20 years the importation of cacao (the chocolate bean), has grown from 9,000,000 pounds to 63,000,000 pounds. The finest cacao bean in the Philippine Islands. These beans grow in a very odd fashion, in large, pear-shaped pods from five to ten inches in length. They are attached to the trunk of the tree by short stems. Ripeness is indicated by a delicious aroma of chocolate that pervades the orchard, perfuming the whole neighborhood.

The Alaska telegraph system, under the direction of the U. S. signal service, now covers some 3,800 miles, and includes more than 2,000 miles of cable, more than 1,500 miles of land lines, and 107 miles of wireless. The last, installed last summer, is the longest commercial system in the world, and carries the heavy business of the Nome district. Every telegraph station in northern Alaska has to be stocked with food for a year in advance, or the men would starve. Repair work with the thermometer 60 below zero is no joke.

HAPPENINGS IN ALL PARTS OF THE GLOBE

News in a Condensed Form Collected For the Benefit of Our Readers.

CONGRESS AND WAR IN THE EAST.

What the Government Officials Are Doing—Interesting Foreign Notes, Progress of Russian Strike and Other Matters.

CONGRESSIONAL NEWS.

A bill has been introduced in the house providing that in labor disputes an injunction shall not be issued until opportunity shall have been afforded the adverse party to the proceedings to be heard in court.

Senator Foraker introduced an amendment to the post office appropriation bill increasing from $500,000 to $800,000 the appropriation for the extension of the pneumatic tube service.

James L. Cowles, the secretary of the Postal Progress League, submitted to the house committee on post offices and post roads an argument in behalf of the bill now pending before that committee for the consolidation of third and fourth class mail matter.

The house passed the agricultural appropriation bill without material amendment. The usual discussion of the provision for free seed distribution was indulged in.

A bill authorizing the construction of a bridge across Red river at Shreveport, La., was passed by the senate, also a bill restoring to the public domain lands at the head of the Mississippi.

Senator Martin introduced an amendment to the rate making bill providing for an increase of the interstate commerce commission to nine members and requiring that one member be appointed from each of the judicial circuits.

The naval appropriation bill was reported by Chairman Foss, of the house committee on naval affairs. The bill carries an appropriation of $100,070,097, while the estimates aggregated $119,699,638.

Senator Proctor's resolution asking the secretary of war why the fresh meat used by the American troops in the Philippines was not purchased in the United States was passed by the senate.

In the house a resolution was agreed to authorizing the department of commerce and labor to investigate the iron and steel industry of the United States.

MISCELLANEOUS.

At Warsaw a group of Hussars ran down British Vice Consul Muoukain. Two Hussars rushed at him with their swords, inflicting severe cuts across his face and lower lip. Warsaw is in a state of complete anarchy. Many have been killed or wounded in charges by troops, and the recklessness of Swashbuckling Hussars.

A serious mutiny has occurred among the Russian troops at Mukden as a result of the privations they have had to undergo.

At a conference of representatives of labor organizations of the United Kingdom, having a total membership of 900,000, resolutions of sympathy with the St. Petersburg strikers were adopted.

The American steamer M. S. Dollar, en route for Vladivostok with a cargo of provisions and forage, was seized by the Japanese in the Pacific Ocean east of Hokkaido Island.

A telegram from Chansiamutun says the Russians lost 45 officers and 1,000 men killed or wounded at the capture of the village of Sandepas. The Russians took 102 Japanese prisoners, besides arms, wagons and ammunition.

The Russians are massing 65,000 troops on the Japanese left and bombarding the left flank and center. Small forces of Russians are attacking all along the line.

A special grand jury found indictments against James Hargis, county judge of Breathitt county; Alex Hargis, former state senator; Elbert Hargis, of Jackson, brother of the other two; Ed Callahan, sheriff of Breathitt county, and Jesse Spicer, a former deputy sheriff under Callahan, all charged with conspiring to bring about the death of James Cockrill, city marshal of Jackson, Ky.

A resolution to officially recognize "Carnation day," January 29, in honor of President McKinley's birthday, was passed by the American Carnation society at the closing session of the 14th annual convention.

A representative audience of St. Louisians assembled at the Mercantile club witnessed the ceremonies of the presentation of the bronze bust of Emperor William II., which was on exhibition during the World's fair, to the city of St. Louis.

A gift of curios, valued at $500,000, has been offered to the Smithsonian institution by Charles L. Freer, of Detroit.

Fighting has commenced in the streets in Santo Domingo. The United States converted cruiser Dixie with marines, has been ordered to the island.

The report of the commissioner of patents for the calendar year 1904 shows receipts of $1,657,327; expenditures, $1,476,000, and balance in treasury to the credit of the patent office January 1, last, $5,863,867, which includes receipts of past years.

The Retail Grocers' National convention elected the following officers: President, John A. Green, Cleveland, O.; vice president, Lorens F. Padberg, St. Louis; secretary, Fred Mason, St. Paul, Minn.; treasurer, H. W. Schwab, Milwaukee, Wis.

Failure of the National Retail Grocers' association, before adjournment, to indorse the national pure food bill now up in the senate, is attributed to the work of a strong lobby.

In addition to the $10,000 a week which the miners federation of Great Britain has promised the striking German coal miners, the Metal Workers' League of Stuttgart has contributed $15,000 to the strike fund.

An explosion of 300 pounds of dynamite at the Shoenberger plant of the American Steel and Wire Co., Pittsburg, brought painful injuries to 40 persons, temporarily disabled 15 residences and broke at least 2,500 windows.

Nearin Hanoon, mother of Chekib Bey, minister of Turkey in this country, is dead at the Turkish legation in Washington.

The First National bank of Nederland, Tex., was ordered closed by the controller and Christopher L. Williams, receiver of the Citizens' National bank, of this city, has been placed in charge.

The armored cruiser Maryland attained on her official trial trip an average speed of 22.305 knots an hour, thereby exceeding her contract requirement of 22 knots.

Four railway employes were killed in a collision on the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad near Tullahoma, Tenn.

Gov. Davis, of the canal zone, reports that a determined effort is being made to stamp out the yellow fever in Panama. An increased force of men is now engaged in mosquito extermination work.

Capt. J. H. V. Trigg, aged 63, a native of Indianapolis, died suddenly at Duluth, Minn., from liver complaint.

The sale of water colors and oil paintings of the art collection formed by Thomas E. Waggaman, of Washington, at Mendelssohn hall, New York, realized $223,225.

Former Gov. James H. Peabody denied a report that he intended to withdraw his contest for the governorship or that he had been approached with any proposition for a compromise.

In the Nebraska state senate a bill was introduced to abolish capital punishment. The bill is simple, substituting life sentence for the optional death penalty which the jury may recommend.

At Nogales, Fred Walters, gambler, entered a saloon and killed three men wounded another and committed suicide. He had formerly been employed there and was discharged.

D. M. Parry, president of the National Manufacturers' association, says the manufacturers will oppose the bill introduced by Representative Jenkins to regulate the use of injunction suits in labor troubles.

A Lehigh Valley locomotive of the compound type drawing a freight train exploded at Chaiwick, N. Y. Three engineers were killed and a fireman seriously injured.

Practically the entire Tennessee legislature will go to Washington March 4 in a special car to participate in the inaugural parade.

Advices from throughout the Florida orange belt show that of 500,000 boxes of oranges and grape fruit remaining on the trees about 75 per cent. has been frozen and made unsaleable.

News of the death of Gen. Christian T. Christensen, of Brooklyn, at Copenhagen, Denmark, was received. Gen. Christensen served throughout the civil war, participating in the first and last battles.

The Montana senate passed the house resolution memorializing congress to submit to the people a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

Gadsden and Attala, Ala., experienced an earthquake shock during the night. Many citizens were awakened. In some instances glassware was thrown from tables.

In a fire in Westchester avenue, New York, two small children were burned to death and one was seriously injured. All three were the children of Louis Saxon, who lived on the third floor.

A small group of nobles of Institute of Moscow has prepared a petition asking Emperor Nicholas to convoke a national assembly.

Stricken with an attack of apoplexy, John Decimus Huleat, 66, assistant manager of the New York Bible house, fell from the opened window of his sleeping room on the fourth floor of his residence, in Brooklyn, and, striking the stone flagging of the areaway below, was instantly killed.

Joseph Glatz, a noted chemist, is dead at his home, in Brooklyn, from the effects of an explosion of chemicals in his laboratory.

Severe cold is prevalent in Italy. Mount Vesuvius is covered with snow and even at Palermo, Sicily, snow fell abundantly for the first time in 20 years.

At Battle Creek, Mich., Harry A. Knickerbocker, a painter, shot and instantly killed his wife in their home and then killed himself. They had domestic troubles, it is said.

Peter Scheffke, 65, was found frozen to death in a hut near the Cottonwood river, several miles south of New Ulm, Minn.

The illness of Cardinal Satolli has taken a serious turn and it is feared pneumonia will ensue.

Capt. R. F. Canterbury, 82, a civil war veteran and trans-Missouri pioneer, died in Kansas City. Capt. Canterbury was born in Kentucky.

The general assembly of North Carolina adopted a joint resolution asking the representatives of the state in congress to vote for the passage of the Hepburn-Dolliver bill prohibiting interstate shipping of whisky into prohibition territory.

Fire destroyed part of the business portion of Gillespie, Ill. Loss $75,000.

Plans have been made at the navy department for placing the armored cruiser West Virginia and the protected cruiser Galveston in commission about February 15.

W. H. Hunt, who was connected with the Pan-American bank of Chicago, which closed its doors several days ago, has been arrested in New York, charged with embezzlement.

Fears that Yaqui Indians had harmed William C. Potter, a relative of Secretary of the Navy Morton, have been allayed. A telegram announcing Mr. Potter's safety has been received by Mrs. John K. McKenzie, whose husband was slain by the savages.

William Wise, 52, an engineer on the Pennsylvania, is dead from exposure during the storm. Edward Lapp, of Berwind, Pa., his fireman, is missing and is believed to have been frozen to death.

Mrs. J. G. Speicher, wife of Acting Overseer Speicher, of Zion City, is dead as the result of consumption. Here is the second death which has followed a recent inroad of sickness among John Alexander Dowie's chiefs and followers.

Menifee county, Kentucky, is the most unique in the state in many respects. Not one Negro resides within its boundaries, nor is there a saloon anywhere in the county.

An immense, almost startling increase in immigration is shown by the figures for the month of December which have been compiled by Commissioner of Immigration Sargent. The increase in the number of immigrants from both Russia and Austria-Hungary is particularly noteworthy.

United States revenue agents broke into the home of Edward Anderson in St. Louis and arrested Anderson, his son Thomas, George Hughes, John Frank and Laura Thomas on a charge of making oleomargarine without paying the government tax.

Many meetings were held in the principal towns of Italy to protest against the alleged Russian cruelties.

Gov. Folk will send to the Missouri legislature a message asking for the enactment of a law to make the carrying of firearms a felony.

While her husband was in bed helpless from a horse's kick, which broke his leg and injured him internally, Mrs. Fred Buesking, of Burkesville, Ill., hanged herself in the kitchen of her home.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Armstrong left Washington for Palm Beach, Fla., where they will spend a few weeks.

Sympathizers with the Russian revolutionary movement thronged the Academy of Music, New York, and applauded addresses delivered by prominent speakers.

Fifteen hundred people at Boston applauded sentiments denouncing the Russian aristocracy and promising financial aid to the revolution.

The boiler of a freight engine on the Big Four railroad exploded ten miles west of Bloomington, Ill. The fireman was killed and a brakeman badly injured.

The fumes from a hard coal stove caused the deaths of Mrs. Louise Mullen, 60, and her grandchildren, Nora and Clarence Jones, aged respectively 12 and 11, all being Negroes, at St. Louis.

Fire in the wholesale district of Omaha, Neb., did damage to the amount of more than half a million dollars.

The Southern hotel at Champaign, Ill., was destroyed by fire. The loss is $75,000, covered by insurance.

Mrs. Alice Webb Duke, wife of Brodie L. Duke, was arrested at an office in Broad street, New York, on requisition papers issued by the Texas authorities for making alleged false statements.

A colored man during a fire in a dwelling in Norfolk, Va., saved his clothing and suffered two colored women in the next apartment to burn to death. He said he had to work too hard to buy his clothes to lose them saving women.

Ten deaths in the steerage of the Red Star line steamer Vaderland were reported when she arrived at New York from Antwerp and Dover.

At Ormond, Fla., Arthur E. MacDonald, driving a 90-horse power American automobile, reeled off the five miles in lightning-like speed, covering the distance in 3 minutes and 17 seconds flat. The world's record for the distance was held by W. K. Vanderbilt, who last year covered five miles in 3:31 1-5.

Col. Carl P. Stern, an associate with the so-called prophet Elijah III., of Zion City, died suddenly on board the steamship Miamia, near Miami, Fla.

Cliff Torrence, deputy United States marshal, and William Curry, a special city officer, discovered a counterfeiters' cave near the Country club house half a mile north of the city limits of Waco, Tex.

The Montana house passed the senate joint memorial asking congress to enact legislation giving the inter-state commerce commission power to adjust railroad rates and to enforce its rulings.

The marriage of Miss Helen Frances Warren, the daughter of Senator Francis F. Warren, of Wyoming, to Capt. John Joseph Pershing, general staff, U. S. A., took place at Epiphany Episcopal church, Washington.

Advices received by the steamer Espana are to the effect that a revolution is brewing at Puerto Cortez and other parts of Spanish Honduras.

BALDWIN'S AIRSHIP.

Ohio Man Made Successful Flight in it at Los Angeles, Cal.

The Craft Was Turned in All Directions, Describing Complete Circles Within Small Radius, and Recrossing Certain Points.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 30.—Roy Knabenshue, of Toledo, O., the aeronaut, made a successful flight in Capt. Baldwin's airship "The California Arrow," at Chutes park. Knabenshue was in flight about 45 minutes, during which time he circled within a radius of about one mile of the park, executing all sorts of maneuvers with the big aerial craft, returning finally and landing within the enclosure of the baseball grounds, from which he had started. The weather was perfect for the experiment, with just the faintest suspicion of a southwest breeze blowing. Immense throngs gathered at the ball park, the chutes and the streets for blocks distant to watch the flight. At 3:25 the airship rose gracefully from its anchorage at the ball park and soared away to the northeast for half a mile, gradually rising as it gathered speed.

When about 700 feet high Knabenshue began his maneuvers, turning the craft in every direction, describing complete circles within a small radius, crossing and recrossing the park above the heads of the thousands of spectators.

Capt. Baldwin had fitted the "Arrow" with a new and more powerful motor and this important work of the mechanism worked to perfection. The new motor gave great impetus to the propeller, and this, apparently, made the big irregular shaped balloon much easier to handle. It responded readily to every turn of the steering gear and was driven in every direction at sharp angles as the aeronaut desired.

At no time did the ship rise to a height of more than 1,500 feet and the manipulation of the mechanism of the airship by the operator was plainly visible to the spectators below.

A MORMON'S PREDICTION.

He Says Congress Can Not Stop the Practice of Polygamy.

Salt Lake City, Jan. 30.—J. Golden Kimball, general secretary of the first council of 70, and a very prominent Mormon, in a speech at the Gaiche stake conference at Logan, is reported to have strongly defended polygamy and predicted that congress would be unable to stop the practice. In a special dispatch to the Tribune from Logan, Kimball is quoted as saying:

"These good women in the east want congress to stop this thing polygamy. I would like to see congress try it. They will have something on their hands if they do. They want to put this down and legalize race suicide. They can't do it. The more they try it, the more it will grow. We do not believe in race suicide. When we are persecuted we will live it the more. Congress and the country knows all we have done and can not find out anything more."

IN A STEAM BATH ROOM.

Two Young Men Were Scalded To Death in New York.

New York, Jan. 30.—Shut in the steam room of a Russian bath house in Hester street, two young men were scalded to death before their plight was realized by the attendants. Evidence that both had made frenzied efforts to attract attention was afforded by cuts and bruises on both the bodies and by blood stained scratches in the plaster of the walls against which they had groped in their efforts to find an outlet. The victims were Abraham Pastern and Peter Roos, both tailors living in Norfolk street. Abraham Stern, the proprietor of the bath house, and five of the attendants were arrested and held pending an investigation.

A LONE ROBBER.

He Held at Bay 50 Men on a Chicago Street Car.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Operating alone, a robber held 50 men at bay on a Chicago avenue street car while he held and robbed P. H. Dickin, a farmer from Dickinson, N. D. Beating off several passengers who attempted to rescue Dickin from the clutches of the bandit, the robber forced his victim to the car railing, and after stealing his valuables, fought his way off the car, beating men and women who obstructed him, and escaped after an exciting chase.

Crusade Will Be Continued.

St. Louis, Jan. 30.—Chief of Police Kiely returned from a conference with Gov. Folk, and declared the crusade recently commenced in St. Louis against wine rooms, gambling houses and general suppression of vice will be continued.

Cheered the Red Flag.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 30.—Two hundred men and women, members of socialistic societies, rose to their feet and cheered a red flag at a mass meeting held here. The object of the meeting was to raise money for Russian workmen.

Can Not Attend the Inaugural.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 30.—Negro troops from Georgia will not be allowed to attend the inauguration of President Roosevelt March 4. Gov. Terrell will not grant permission to the colored troops to leave the state.

NOTED BY NATURALISTS.

Birds, however wary, are curious, and will approach a strange object at the risk of their lives, as wild-fowl shooters know.

Brazilian ants make little gardens in the tree tops and sow them with pineapple and other seeds. The gardens are found of all sizes, some containing a single sprout and others a densely grown ball as large as a [illegible]

There are several species of fish, reptiles and insects which never sleep in the whole of their existence. Among fish it is positively known that pike, salmon and goldfish never sleep at all, also that there are several others in the fish family that never sleep more than a few minutes a month. There are dozens of species of flies which never indulge in slumber.

In the proceedings of the Philadelphia academy Miss A. M. Fields records three instances of curious traits displayed by ants kept under observation in the laboratory at Wood's Holl, Mass. In the first case the actions recorded suggest something akin to hypnotism, while from the third there seems a possibility that these insects may be able to remember and recognize individuals of their own kind after a separation of several years.

The annelid, Podynce cirrata, is a mean-looking worm about an inch and a half in length, of flattened shape, blunt at both ends, apparently covered by a smooth skin of dull brown color. On being touched it throws itself into elegant serpentine curves, and then what appears to be the upper skin is seen to be composed of a great number of round flat membraneous plates or shields, arranged in two rows, overlapping each other. These, though of larger size, are attached to the body by a small point in the center of their sides, so that when the animal moves the edges of the shields are lifted and reveal their live structure, sliding upon each other in a singular fashion.

RUMORED OF ROYALTY.

Nineteen pianos, every one of which was a wedding present, are in the possession of the prince and princess of Wales.

Prince Eugen of Sweden, youngest of King Oscar's four sons, is regarded as one of the most accomplished landscape painters on the continent.

The sultan of Morocco has the pleasant habit of turning about 20 lions loose in the courtyards of his palace every night. He thinks they guard his 6,000 wives more safely than soldiers could.

Queen Wilhelmina in appointing a Roman Catholic, Jonkherr Van Green, as her private secretary, puts one of that faith in a responsible position in the royal household for the first time since the reformation.

Queen Elena of Italy is said to believe in the Montenegrin superstition that it is unlucky for a child to sleep in a room into which any light penetrates, and light-proof shutters are the order in the nursery at Rome.

In one respect at least Prince Edward does not take after his father. He is fond of making little speeches when opportunities present themselves. The prince of Wales, on the other hand, dislikes nothing more than having to deliver a speech.

Apropos of the kaiser's latest performance as a conductor of a new opera at a dress rehearsal in Berlin, his patronage of music is something as magnificent as are his excursions into the realms of art, mechanics and chemistry. "I do not think many Germans know," said the emperor at a dinner at Count Von Buelow's a few evenings ago, "that I spent last year out of my private income $1,000,000 on operas and theaters."

A WOMAN'S MISERY.

Mrs. John La Rue, of 115 Paterson Avenue, Paterson, N. J., says: "I was troubled for about nine years, and what I suffered no one will ever know. I used about every known remedy that is said to be good for kidney complaint, but without deriving permanent relief. Often when alone in the house the back ache has been so bad that it brought tears to my eyes. The pain at times was so intense that I was compelled to give up my household duties and lie down. There were headaches, dizziness and blood rushing to my head to cause bleeding at the nose. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me so much that I continued the treatment. The stinging pain in the small of my back, the rushes of blood to the head and other symptoms disappeared."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

10,000 Plants for 16c.

More gardens and farms are planted to Salzer's Seeds than any other in America. There's reason for this. We own over 5,000 acres for the production of our warranted seeds. In order to induce you to try them, we make you the following unprecedented offer:

For 16 Cents Postpaid

1000 Early, Medium and Late Cabbages,
2000 Fine Juicy Turnips,
2000 Blushing Celery,
2000 Ripe Early Lettuce,
1000 Splendid Onions,
1000 Rare Luscious Radishes,
2000 Gloriously Brilliant Flowers.

Above seven packages contain sufficient seed to grow 10,000 plants, furnishing bushels of brilliant flowers and lots and lots of choice vegetables, together with our great catalog, telling all about Flowers, Roots, Small Fruits, etc., all for 16c in stamps and this notice. Big 16-page catalog alone, 5c.

JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., La Crosse, Wis.

SHIPWRECKED ON A CANNIBAL ISLAND

Terrible Experience of Five Survivors Among Savages.

Escape a Watery Grave Only to Be Captured and Fattened for a Feast of the Man-Eaters—Rescue Finally Effected By One of Their Number.

Philadelphia.—Few persons would relish the terrible but thrilling experience of four sailors, Thomas Ellis, John Niessen, Thomas Davis and Robert Macgregor, who recently arrived at Philadelphia, and many a man less hearty would have died through sheer fright had he undergone the ordeal.

To be saved from a watery grave when their ship was wrecked on the rocky coast of an island off New Guinea, only to be washed up on a shore of a land infested by cannibals, then to fall into the hands of a band of savages to be tortured and mutilated at their pleasure and finally to be fattened for a feast, is a fate not pleasant to contemplate, but the victims still live and bear the scars of their experience to corroborate their remarkable story.

Wrecked in Terrible Storm.

Last July while the ship Aigburth was sailing near New Guinea, bound from New South Wales for Java for a cargo of sugar for Philadelphia, the vessel encountered a terrible storm. It was a storm typical of these parts and rent the ship from stem to stern. Storms at sea are no uncommon occurrence, but if ever an earthquake struck a ship, the Aigburth encountered one on this trip.

Capt. Reed, commander of the vessel, seeing that the ship could not long withstand the terrible pounding of the waves and water, ordered the boats lowered. Ellis, Davis, Niessen, Macgregor, the captain and two seamen were the last to leave the dismantled and sinking craft. The two seamen were soon swept overboard and were lost in the angry waters. The rest, after a trying experience, made their way to the shore.

Only Five Saved.

Of the 27 souls aboard, only these five were saved. They had hardly left the tattered hulk before the remains of the once stanch vessel were dashed to pieces on the rocks.

The survivors congratulated each other on their narrow escape from the briny deep, and thought the worst of their experience was over. Although there were no signs that the island was inhabited, they thought that after the storm had swept its course, they would be able to rescue enough foodstuffs from the wreck to sustain them until they could signal some passing vessel and make their way to civilization, but the worst was still to come.

Land of Strange People.

They had been on the island hardly an hour before they noticed a swarm of natives over their heads, passing from branch to branch among the trees like monkeys, and with hardly a sound greater than that which might be caused by a whisper. The shipwrecked sailors were considerably frightened by the sight, but later learned that it was one of a tribe of many others on the island that used both their hands and feet with equal ease in traveling.

They found that much of the land on the island was low and marshy and that the natives had to travel in the trees or not at all. The latter were trained to this method of locomotion from childhood, but the sight of their dexterity astonished the Americans, who naturally had never seen anything like it before.

They were all big, powerful men, and their arms and legs were covered with ornaments, fashioned out of shells and stones, strung on a sort of fiber that they used as we use twine and rope.

Shipwrecked Men Made Prisoners.

The natives seemed as much frightened on the advent of the shipwrecked sailors as were the latter, but after some little sign making and advances, some of the leaders came down from the trees. Four of them lifted their boat out of the water and carefully examined it.

Reed, the captain, had managed to save a rifle from the wreckage which he had brought with him. This was something new to the natives, and when he fired it they immediately swarmed up the trees, but finally came back again.

They Passed from Branch to Branch Among the Trees Like Monkeys.

It was not long before several hundred had gathered, and they soon made the five men prisoners. For a day they were treated with some consideration, when a new leader appeared.

Then their troubles began.

Capt. Reed shot one of the men, killing him, and during the excitement which followed the shipwrecked sailors made off into the woods.

Rival Bands in Battle.

They did not dare to go far inland, and before long fell in with another band of savages.

The latter indicated by signs that they were looking for the camp the white men had just left.

The two tribes were evidently not on friendly terms, and together they made their way back to the scene of the wreck, where a battle was fought, in which the new-found friends won the day. The shipwrecked sailors then established a camp near the shore and for nearly a week were not disturbed, when they were again attacked by their first captors, but with the assistance of some of the members of the other tribe managed to beat them off.

Then followed another period of two weeks of comparative rest and quiet, when another fierce fight took place, and their friends were defeated and routed.

Fought with Poisoned Arrows.

Ellis, in relating their experiences, says the savages fought with lances made of a very hard wood, and with arrows, thrown out of the hand by a neat trick that he had never seen before. The warriors took the arrows with the point forward and, resting them between the two first fingers, with the thumbs down, and the little finger up, made a sort of a spring out of their fingers and shot the darts with amazing speed and accuracy. The tips were all dipped in poison, so that only a superficial wound was necessary to cause death. These darts were not very heavy, nor long.

They later learned the welcome news that they were to be eaten, and that they were safe from that form of death, as the savages will not eat any body who has been killed by the deadly poison.

The natives, however, held the single rifle, the only means of protection of the white men, in great awe, and while they remained in possession of it their lives were comparatively safe.

Their peace, however, was short-lived, for before long they were again captured by their original foes.

Tortured by the Savages.

One of the men, Niessen, received an unmerciful beating for letting a pole fall on the head of one of the chiefs. The accident was entirely unintentional, and while he lay insensible on the ground the savage hurled a heavy rock down upon him and crushed three of his toes.

The rest of the prisoners were all securely bound and could render their partner no assistance, but finally one of the men managed to release himself and cut off the poor fellow's toes before he regained consciousness. This act undoubtedly saved Niessen's life.

Others of the survivors have terrible remembrances of their experience. One, Davis, was branded with a red-hot stone on his back, and the livid scar still remains. Ellis has two such brands. Macgregor had a sharp lance almost permanent camp of the tribe. Here they learned from the logs of other vessels that had been wrecked on the unfriendly coast that they need expect no mercy at the hands of the savages.

Tortured by the Cruel Savages.

More than one poor soul had evidently been offered up here as a sacrifice to the cannibal chief. They were some distance inland, and there were no hopes of signaling any passing vessel.

Here they were given rude huts to live in and left to themselves. The cannibals, however, kept a rigid watch over their captives and they were given to understand that they would be well treated if they made no attempt to escape.

Fattened for a Feast.

Food was regularly brought to them, and the men at that time had no knowledge of what was in store for them.

Their only hope was that Capt. Reed would in some manner effect their rescue, or that another wreck would bring some men with weapons and boats to the island.

With nothing to occupy their time, they passed much of their time sleeping, which seemed to greatly please the natives. One big, ugly-looking native, evidently the chief, kept close watch on their condition, and soon the terrible truth dawned upon them that they were being fattened for a feast of the cannibals, but they were helpless and alone and with no seeming hope for escape from the terrible fate.

There was not a weapon of any kind among them, not even a knife, with which they might have killed themselves, had they so desired.

But life was dear to them and they proposed to make the savages pay dearly for their feast. They also hoped against hope that Reed might come to their rescue.

It was a trying experience for the shipwrecked men, and it is remarkable that they lived to tell the tale.

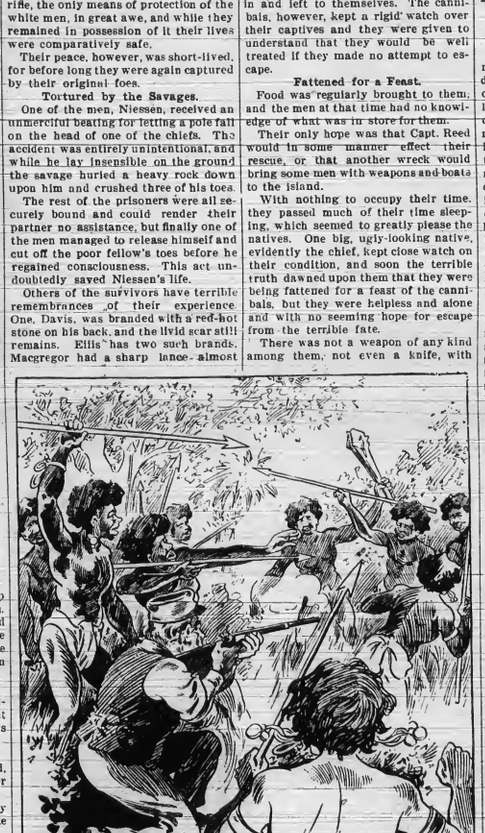
Awful Fate of Others.

They learned from the writings of sailors who had probably figured in cannibal feasts in other years, and their fate was very similar; their situation and daily life was much the same. But all the time their ultimate doom was approaching, they were fast fattening under the lazy life they were leading, to the great satisfaction of the cannibals.

Nothing was heard of Reed, and it was feared that he had also met an untimely fate.

In the center of the camp was a large and rudely built oven, or rather funeral pyre, on which some former poor victim had probably been executed. It was a sickening sight for the poor captives. They were later taken to a small island some distance from the mainland, where they were kept under a close guard.

The cause of this, as they afterwards learned, was that a battle was impending. They also learned that they were to be served at the dinner which was to follow the victory which was anticipated.



Rescued by Comrade.

But here their plans were defeated, as the leading force was led by none other than Capt. Reed, and although the battle was long and desperate, lasting three days and nights, Reed with his rifle, for which he had an abundance of ammunition, was able to inspire the smaller force with a degree of confidence that brought ultimate victory.

The captives were then released from their prison on the island and for several days rested in comfort in the camp where their former captors had intended they should be served as food. A few days later they made their way back to the scene of the wreck, where a goodly stock of the stores of their vessel was found.

The life boat was still there and in good condition, and they decided to risk their lives on the water, rather than remain any longer on the island. After several days of a more or less perilous trip, they were finally picked up by a vessel bound for an Australian port. From there they made their way to England and finally shipped on board a vessel bound for Philadelphia.

Tales of experiences of shipwrecked sailors on islands inhabited by cannibals are common in works of present day writers, but none are more strange or wonderful than this, which goes to prove the saying that "truth is stranger than fiction."

Rescued by the Aid of a Single Rifle.

THE KEEPING OF APPLES.

The Market Now Demands a Full Supply All the Year Around.

Apple storage has become one of the most important features of the fruit industry. The demand for apples has increased greatly, and to meet the demand large areas have been devoted to orchards in sections where conditions do not favor ease in holding or length of keeping, says the New York Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin. The necessity of disposing of this fruit quickly tends to overstock the market in the fall and early winter, and frequently to reduce prices far below the limit of profitable handling. Accordingly, the ability to hold part of the crop until the perishable surplus has been disposed of often means higher prices, easier sales and better accommodation to the public.

Consumers are also gradually but surely learning discrimination and demanding not only good apples, but an ample supply of them throughout nearly the entire year. It is possible, by some system of storage, to avoid the glutted market and to hold the crops with little loss for sale late in the season, and make good profits from the practice; but, like all farm and orchard operations of the present time, apple storage must receive careful attention to insure success.

The grower or buyer must learn what varieties are suitable for storage, what conditions must be provided to secure the best and most economical management of the stored fruit, and at what time and under what conditions the different varieties must be put on the market. Apples are exceedingly variable in length of keeping. Early harvest often becomes too ripe and mealy for choice eating, while still upon the tree; while schodack, in ordinary storage, may keep well until midsummer of the next year. They also vary in behavior in storage, some varieties scalding, shrinking, losing flavor and becoming dull colored and unattractive, while others, after six months' keeping, come out smooth, bright, fragrant and crisp. These variations in behavior are to a great extent varietal characteristics; yet the same variety grown upon sand or upon clay, grown in the north or in the south, grown in a wet season or a dry one, may show very striking differences.

The problem of selecting varieties and storing them properly is therefore a complex one, and requires careful study. The efficiency of the different systems of storage differ greatly with different varieties, but in general storage with low temperature secured by the use of ice extends the keeping period from one to four months beyond the limit in ordinary storage, and chemical cold storage prolongs the life of the variety at least half a month—often much longer—beyond the life under ice.

A Little Flat Breakfast.

"Come on up and spend the night in my apartment," said Mr. "Al" Halbrook to Mr. Frank Daniels one night last fall, when both had been detained in the city late. "We can put you up all night and give you a little flat breakfast in the morning."

"A little flat breakfast," replied Mr. Daniels. "What's that—a griddle cake?"—N. Y. Herald.

Patriotic Jap.

A Japanese porter in a San Francisco saloon had saved $39. He borrowed one dollar from the bartender and sent the $40 to Japan for the war fund.

THE HOMESTEAD ACTS

ALMOST FIFTY YEARS SINCE THE FIRST WAS PASSED.

This Great Change in the Land System Made Only After a Hard and Persistent Battle by Its Adherents.

Recently, before the American Forest Congress, bitter attacks were made on various features of the homestead laws, which makes the reader ask concerning the length of time these laws have been in operation, something concerning their origin, and the results of their operation.

It was back in 1852 that the granting of national free homes from and on the public domain became a national question. The free soil democracy adopted this plank in their platform: "That the public lands of the United States belong to the people, and should not be sold to individuals nor granted to corporations, but should be held a sacred trust for the benefit of the people, and should be granted in limited quantities, free of cost, to landless settlers."

It grew into a burning question, and war was waged anent it until its passage in 1862. Petitions for and against it were raised, public sentiment was thoroughly roused. It was understood that without question it would cause an entire change in the settlement laws. "Instead of the public lands being sold for cash, for profit, or being taken, first, under the preemption system, which eventuated into cash purchases, they would be given to actual settlers who would occupy, improve and cultivate them for a term of years, and then receive a patent free of acreage charges, with fees paid by the homesteader sufficient to cover cost of survey and transfer of title."

PRESIDENT LINCOLN, WHO SIGNED HOMESTEAD ACT.

Everybody took sides. Political economists pointed to the evils that had resulted in the past in the purchase of large holdings—the usual result was the bankruptcy of the holder.

"A bill to secure homesteads to actual settlers in the public domain" was before the house in 1859, but was voted down. In 1860, a homestead bill passed both houses, but was vetoed by President Buchanan; among the objections cited were the following: That the government had no right to "give away" such a magnificent gift as the public domain; that it would prove unjust in its operation among the actual settlers themselves, especially be unjust to those early ones that had paid $1.25 for their holdings; it would work injustice to the old soldiers who had received land warrants, reducing the market value of their warrants; it was unequal; confined to one class of people, the cultivator of the soil; unjust to the older states; the bill would open one vast field of speculation.

The bill failed, lacking the requisite two-thirds vote to pass it over the veto. In 1861, another bill was introduced, and, after undergoing various vicissitudes in the two houses, was finally passed; and on May 20, 1862, Abraham Lincoln approved and signed "an act to secure homesteads to actual settlers on the public domain."

President Johnson, who was one of the original promoters of the homestead act, said concerning it in his annual message of 1865: "The homestead policy was established only after long and earnest resistance. Experience proves its wisdom. The lands in the hands of industrious settlers, whose labor creates wealth and contributes to the public resources, are worth more to the United States than if they had been reserved as a solitude for future purchasers."

The original homestead act has been amended a number of times, an extension of privileges being an important change. In 1872, the soldiers' and sailors' homestead act made provision that honorably discharged soldiers and sailors from the army and navy of the United States might have the five years' time required of the homesteader reduced, the time of actual residence for these citizens being put as low as one year. Thomas Donaldson, in "The Public Domain, Its History," says (writing in 1883) the homestead act is now the approved and preferred method of acquiring titles to the public lands. It has stood the test of 18 years, and was the outgrowth of a system extending through nearly 80 years, and now, within a circle of a hundred years since the United States acquired the first of her public lands, the homestead act stands as the concentrated wisdom of legislation for settlement of the public lands. It protects the government, it fills the states with homes, it builds up communities and lessens the chances of social and civil disorder, by giving ownership of the soil, in small tracts, to occupants thereon. It was copied from no other nation's system. It was originally and distinctly American, and remains a monument to its originators.

CHRISTOPHER WERSTER.

BOONE CO., RECORDER
Wednesday, - - Feb. 1, 1905.
W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher

THE sick in and about Bulington are too numerus to mention. Albert Snyder is some better and Sammie Adams about the same.

A complete line of coffins, caskets and undertaker's supplies in the front room of the News office.—Milton News.

An instance in which the fighting editor is well equipped.

AND "Uri" is making predictions as to the result of the contest for U. S. Senator in Kentucky. Only a few months ago he was predicting a national Democratic landslide.

IF Governor Beckham really wants the capitol site settled, let him have Judge Cason convene the Boone Fiscal court, and then refer the matter to it. It can be settled in about thirty minutes by that body.

THE growers will evidently be on hand with that additional 10,000,000 pounds of tobacco, and the eastern capitalists who have agreed to finance the Company may as well begin counting out their money.

THE Rivers and Harbors Bill reported to the House carries $15,000,000 cash and nearly $17,000,000 for authorized continuing contracts. For improving the Ohio river at Louisville the sum of $80,000 is appropriated.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has swung around to the Democrats' way of thinking on several important subjects, and has the endorsement of many of the leading men in that party in his effort to bring about certain reforms.

IT is claimed that the Republican members of the General Assembly are trying to embarrass the Democratic party in Kentucky by opposing every proposition that comes before that body. If that be true are not the Democrats who are voting with them quietly of exactly that with which the Republicans are charged?

THE dispatches sent out from the large tobacco growing counties, last week, indicated that there was a general rush on the part of the growers to become members of the Burley Growers' Company, and, further, that if the move is a failure this time the cause can not be ascribed to the lack of interest on the part of the producers.

THE veterans of the civil war are passing away in large numbers every year, and one would suppose that the pension roll would begin to show a decrease, but, on the contrary, there was an increase of $2,000,000 last year. When an old soldier dies he generally leaves a widow and several children to draw pensions in his stead.

THE extra session of the General Assembly will add several thousand dollars to the cost of the new capitol, all because the law establishing the commission to have the building erected was left imperfect. It would have taken no longer to pass the original act, perfected as it should have done, than it did to put it through as it was done.

IF the Burley Tobacco Growers' Company is a success, it may be the stepping stone to other combinations on the part of the farmers to protect their interests. If the farmers can combine to control the prices of one article of production, why can they not combine to control others, and every time they succeed in making one combination, the next to follow will be the easier.

If the new capitol is not built in Frankfort under the present appropriation, and in a very few years, it will not be built anywhere in the next twenty years. If the question of removal is opened up again it may take another hundred years to settle it. Let the Legislature get the best site in sight, and the work of erecting the building begin in the spring.—Williamstown Courier.

AS Gov. Vardeman, of Mississippi, was returning home, a few nights not long since, from a trip out in the State, he was informed that a negro, who was charged with killing two men, was on the train. He at once borrowed a pistol from the conductor and went forward to the coach in which the negro was riding and compelled him to surrender. Vardiman is about the only Governor in the country who would have done the like.

A farmer asks whether it would be a violation of the law for his brother and his son, who have their last year's crop of tobacco still on hand, to advertise and sell the same in 5, 10 or 15-pound lots put up in the hand and sent by expsess or otherwise to the purchaser. He was advised that they could do this and such sales would not be in violation of the law, provided the tobacco in hand is in its natural state as grown on the farm, and has not been manipulated in any way, as the law permits the farmer and grower to sell tobacco of his own growth and raising without restriction, and without payment of tax, to any person and in any quantity, so long as it is sold in its natural condition as cured on the farm; that this, however, was a personal privilege accorded the farmer and grower only, which could not be delegated to any other person.

AFTER the vote is counted and before the nominees of the Democratic primary election for county offices, held in Trimble county on April 29th, is declared, each of the successful candidates will be required to take the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear that I have never, in person, nor by directions, nor through my friends, either directly or indirectly, given, loaned or promised to any voter or any one for him any money, property, spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or any thing of value for the purpose of promoting or influencing my election and no one to my knowledge has done any of these things for my benefit, and if they have, I do solemnly swear that I will not reimburse them in any way whatever, and that my race has been a just and honest one."

The influence the above oath will have in the Trimble county primary will be closely watched from abroad.

[Lexington Morning Herald]

In other columns will be found an interview with Senator Blackburn, attacking Gov. Beckham as the head of a self-perpetuating machine, and a statement from Governor Beckham, expressing his gratification at the fact that he has Senator Blackburn's contempt and the hope that he will continue to merit and have the contempt of the Senator and such men as he. These statements do not make pleasant reading for Democrats, nor for Kentuckians. Senator Blackburn is the senior Senator from Kentucky—he is today the most distinguished Kentuckian in public life; for over a generation he has represented Kentucky in the Congress of the United States. Whatever our private opinion of him may be, it would be unfrank to say we have a very definite opinion as to him, his qualities both as a man and as a Senator. We regret any exhibition he makes of himself that makes the Senator from Kentucky ridiculous; regret any attack on him which shows lack of respect for the Senator from Kentucky.

Governor Beckham is the twice elected Governor of Kentucky—the only man since Shelby who has been twice elected to that office. A gentleman by birth and breeding, with the best traditions of Kentucky as his heritage, in the first flush of young manhood, it is not becoming in him to reply to abuse with abuse—denunciation is no answer to either statement of fact or falsehood. These two gentlemen, who occupy the two highest offices in the gift of the people of Kentucky, are Democrats, and we are a Democrat. But we are a Kentuckian before we are a Democrat, and we believe we express the sentiment of all Democrats and of the vast majority of Kentuckians of every political belief when we express regret at such statements being given out by men holding such positions.

What Are They?

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. A new remedy for Stomach troubles, biliousness, and constipation, and a good one. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

This year's All-American will be picked from members of the Electoral College team. They haven't been scored on yet.—New York Mail.

Commissioner Jones says the Indian is rapidly passing. Another proof that 85 per cent of the white man's whisky is bad.—Denver Republican.

It is reported that the Empress of Korea is an Ohio girl. These Ohioans will go to any length in order to get an office.—Philadelphia Ledger.

NOTICE!

There are 900 Delinquent Taxpayers in Boone County. After 60 days all persons who have not paid their Poll-Tax will be advertised, and I will appoint a deputy to levy on property belonging to the Poll-tax payers of Boone County. If you don't want your names in the paper and your Horses, Buggies and Cows and other personal property advertised and sold you had better pay your taxes.

B. B. ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

John T. Stamper, pltfs
vs Equity.
Carrie E. Williams, &c., defts

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Dec., term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public sale, on Monday the 6th day of Feb., 1905, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabouts, being county court day, upon a credit of 6, 12 & 18 months, the following described property to-wit:

Parcel No 1:—A certain lot of land situated in the county of Boone, and State of Kentucky, lying in the town of McVille, and bounded as follows: Beginning at the North-west corner of lot No. 5, at its intersection of Alley No. 3 and Center Street; thence with Center Street to Vine Street; thence with Vine street 33 feet; thence at right angles with Vine Street and parallel with Center street to Alley No. 3; thence with alley No. 3 to the place of beginning. Book 38, page 372, Boone County Records.

Parcel No. 2:—A tract of land lying and being in Boone County, Kentucky and bounded on the East by the lands of Peggy A. Kyle, Harvey Marshall and J. H. Walton; and on the West by the lands of Elizabeth Akin; on the North by the lands of Isaac McMullen; on the south by the lands of Mary Wingate, containing 8 acres. Deed Book 45, page 566.

Parcel No. 3:—Being lot No. 1 in the division of the lands of John Henderson between his children James Henderson and Nancy Henderson, and bounded thus:—Beginning at a Beech tree, corner of Mrs. Rhoda Underhill's dower, and also corner to Edwin M. Gaines; thence with said Gaines' line s 46¼ w 61½ poles to a hickory tree; thence crossing a deep hollow s 30 w 27½ poles to a stone, corner to Gaines; thence s 22 e 112 poles to a stone in William Boudurant's line, corner of lot No. 2; thence with a line of said lot s 56½ e 72½ poles to a leaning swamp ash on an island in Gunpowder creek; thence up said creek, making the center thereof the line, n 24 e 20 poles, n 37 w 53½ poles to two Sycamores, lower corner of Mrs. Underhill's dower; thence with her line n 61 w 42 poles to a stone and honey locu-t bush; thence n 12 e 50½ poles to a White oak and stone; thence n 22 w 40 poles to the beginning, containing 59 acres. Book E. Wills and Invt., page 369, Boone County Records.

Parcel No. 4:—Being lot No. 1 in the partition of the lands of John Henderson, deceased, and bounded thus:—Lying and situated in Boone County, Kentucky, Beginning at the upper corner of the Nancy Stamper tract on Gunpowder Creek; thence with the line of said tract n 58½ w 13 68 chains to a stone and haw bush; thence n 14½ e 12 87 chains to a stone, a corner with George Campbell; thence with his line north 31 e 7 66 chains to a stone; thence s 42½ e 22 97 chains to a stone on Guupowder Creek; thence down the creek s 53½ w 15.24 chains, s 16½ e 5 chains, s 36¾ e 5.36 chains to the beginning, containing 30 A., 3 R and 29 poles. Commissioner's Deed Book No. 3 page 236, Boone County Records.

(Parcels Nos 1 & 2 will be sold separately. Parcels Nos. 3 & 4 lie adjoining, and will be offered separately and then together, and the bid making the most money will be accepted.)

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities must execute bond, bearing legal interest from date of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Hebron Perpetual Building and Loan Association, plaintiff
against Equity.
B. F. Zimmer, &c., defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Dec., term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court-house door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder at public auction, on Monday the 6th day of February, 1905, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being county court day, upon a credit of 6 & 12 months, the following described property, to-wit:

A lot or parcel of land in Boone county, Ky., and bounded thus: Lying and being in Constance, Ky., and being the east portion of lot No. 2 in the division of lands of William Masters, deceased: Beginning at a stone on the Ohio river, lower corner of Duly Masters; thence with his line n 20½ w 90½ poles to another corner of said lot in J. W. Hood's line; thence with said line n 69½ w 61 7-11 feet to a stone in said line; thence n 20½ e 90 1-5 poles to a corner under the bank of the Ohio river; thence s 70 e 61 7-11 feet to the beginning, containing 2 acres and 26 7 11 poles of land more or less.

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $551 82.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

Lets Talk it Over

among ourselves about

Tea-Coffee.

We know you enjoy a good cup of either and want one that will "Just Suit" you. We believe we can please any one who will say just what kind he likes.

We don't sell our "35c Java and Mocha" for 20c, nor our "$1.00 Tea for 75c" or "75c Tea for 60c," as some dealers claim to do—day in and day out.

We do sell as good Tea as can possibly be given for the money and believe we take more care and pains in selecting and having it of uniform quality than most people, and want you to try it for yourself.

O. K. Coffee, per pound..... 12½c
Salvador Coffee, per pound..... 15c
Money Worth Blend Coffee, per lb.... 17c
Three pounds for 50c.
Golden Blend Coffee, per pound..... 20c
Caracas or Gutamala Coffee, per lb... 25c
Java and Mocha Coffee, per pound..... 30c
Mixed Tea, Gren Tea Oolong, Gunpowder Tea, per pound..... 40c
Capitol Blend Tea, per pound..... 60c
Sunbeam Blend Tea, per pound..... 75c
Gunpowder Tea per pound...40, 60, 75c

Geo. G. Goode,
—Agent,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, Ky.

C. J. WOLFF,
SPECIALIST FOR
TRUSSES, BRACES, CRUTCHES, Etc.
Personal attention given every case.
Experience 40 years.
13th & Race, opp. Washington Park, Cincinnati, O.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN

If you are nervous and tired out continually you could have no clearer warning of the approach of serious female trouble.

Do not wait until you suffer unbearable pain before you seek treatment. You need Wine of Cardui now just as much as if the trouble were more developed and the torturing pains of disordered menstruation, bearing down pains, leucorrhoea, backache and headache were driving you to the unfailing relief that Wine of Cardui has brought hundreds of thousands of women and will bring you.

Wine of Cardui will drive out all trace of weakness and banish nervous spells, headache and backache and prevent the symptoms from quickly developing into dangerous troubles that will be hard to check. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui today. If your dealer does not keep it, send the money to the Ladies' Advisory Dept., The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and the medicine will be sent you.

WINE of CARDUI

WILSTAR,

Record 2171,

Will make the season of 1905 at McHenry's livery stable in Rising Sun, Indiana. Persons booking mares before the first of April will save $5. After that time the terms will be $30 to insure a living colt.

SCRANTON BROS., Owners,
aprl Rising Sun, Ind.

Deposits Earning Interest.

THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK & TRUST COMPANY, Inc.

N. E. Cor. Sixth St. and Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, KY.

Receives deposits of money subject to withdrawal after a specified time, or subject to check without notice,
ALLOWING INTEREST ON ALL DAILY BALANCES.

Interest is credited semi-annually on the first days of January and July and when the same is not withdrawn it is added to the principal AND DRAWS INTEREST.

It is not necessary to call in person to open an account, as all communications by mail receive prompt attention.

In its several departments, THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY

Acts as Agent; Collects Rents and Renders Accounts as desired; Loans Money on Approved Security; Rents Safe Deposit Boxes; Administers Estates and Acts as Guardian, Trustees, etc; Attends carefully to Trust Estates of Widows, Minors, Etc.

—ALL TRANSACTIONS CONFIDENTIAL.—

CAPITAL STOCK, $100.000.
Stockholders' Liability, $100.000.

JNO. P. ERNST, President. JOHN A. SIMPSON, Vice-President
C. W. SIMRALL, Sec'y & Treas.
Long Distance Telephone, South 214.

J. G. BENTLER & SON,

Lexington Pike, ERLANGER, KY.

Practical Horse Shoeing, General Blacksmithing

and Wagon Repairing of all kinds,

All kinds of Tool Grinding. - Also Bicycle Repairing.
Grinding of all Kinds to Order.

Hay and Grain,

AND ALL KINDS OF MILL FEED,
By Retail or Car Load. Call and Learn Our Prices.

CORN.

ARE YOU READY TO lay IN YOUR SUPPLY?

We are loading cars every day at our Elizabethtown Elevator in the Miami Bottoms, and you know what quality that is.

We are prepared to put it at any point along the Southern, and would like to hear from you when you are ready to buy.

Early & Daniel,

—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in—

Hay, Grain, Feed and Flour,

Pike St. and L. N. Ry.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

We have opened a BRANCH HOUSE at Erlanger at E. H. Riggs' old Stand, and will Keep a full line of Hay, Grain and Feed on hand, and would thank you to call and get our prices.

GOLDEN GRAIN FLOUR OUR SPECIALTY.

In our opinion a business conducted on an honest basis, furnishing the best "VALUES" possible for the "MONEY" and extending fair treatment to all

'ALWAYS WINS'

—Our Watchword has and always will be—

Honesty, -- Honest Clothing at "HONEST PRICES."

We show a fine line of Mens', Boys' & Children's

CLOTHING

Men's Suits.....$5.00 to $15.00. | Boys' Suits.....$4.00 to $10.00
Men's Overcoats.. 4.00 to 15.00. | Children's Suits.. 2.50 to 5.00
Childrens Overcoat 2.50 to 5.00. | Boys' Overcoats.. 4.00 to 10.00

These are made in every conceivable style and fashion.

Mens' Corduroy Suit, $5, $7.50, $10 and $12—these are made to stand the rough usage and abuse. We also carry a complete line of Corduroy and Jean Pants, Duck Coats, and other clothing necessary for health and comfort.

ROLFES & WACHS,

RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Subscribe for Your Connty Paper, $1.50.

Local News.

The river is full of ice.

The local buyers received considerable tobacco last Saturday.

The twins born to Homer Clutterbuck and wife, last week, died.

Rising Sun is considering a proposition to provide electric lights for the city.

Moses and E. K. Tanner, of Gunpowder, were among our callers last Saturday.

Are you going to tap those sugar trees? if so, you would better be getting ready.

Jerry Delph will start his sawmill again shortly. Logs are accumulating in the yard.

Bruce Clore has been driving the mail wagon since Oscar Ryle has been laid up with his knee.

There appears to be more sickness in Burlington and vicinity than anywhere else in the county.

Everyone who has an ice house has had a good opportunity to put up a supply of ice for next summer.

The good horsemaster always has plenty of blankets with which to cover his horse when he stops driving him.

The early farmer has not had much opportunity to do much plowing this spring, but many are ready for the work.

Stock advertisements in the RECORDER for the season 1905, will be charged for at the rate of 7 cents per inch each insertion.

The period of bad roads will not be so long this year unless there is a considerable change in the weather program from what it has been so far in 1905.

Attorney F. E. Curley, of Walton, was in town Monday either to distress some railroad or to consult with Capt. Jackson and other base ball magnates.

When the number who have grippe, colds and pneumonia in this part of the county are considered together, a considerable showing of sickness is made.

Notice—My land is posted against trespass of all kinds, and especially are dogs forbidden to go thereon, as I will certainly shoot them.

T. E. DIXON, Richwood, Ky.

The ladies of St. Paul's church, Florence, will give a musical recital, progressive euchre and supper on the night of the 22d inst. for the benefit of the church. Tickets, 25 cents.

Worthy Master Wolcott, of the Kentucky State Grange, and Past Lecturer of the National Grange, Mortimer Whitehead, made the RECORDER a pleasant call last Saturday.

A letter received by a friend from Otto Crisler, who is sojourning at Alexandria, Louisiana, a few days ago, read, in part: "Stay with old man Jeff—I'll be back to sell rubber balls at the fair."

Clutterbuck Bros. failed to make their rural mercantile trip, last week, the first time in the five years they have been going over the route. Sickness and deaths in the family were cause of last week's failure.

Last Friday Perry Beemon delivered to Hogan, Conner and Riley his crop of tobacco at $10 around, William Clore delivered his crop of 1,040 pounds at $12 around. Mr. Beemon contracted his crop before it was planted.

Mr. D. C. Peck writes from Tarpon Springs, Florida, where he is spending the winter: "I am in the Land of Flowers, but I can not describe either country or climate. In a word the climate is the most delightful I have been in."

G. A. Ryle, from away down on Gunpowder, was in the Recorder's office, last Friday, and when he went to leave he could not locate the exit, owing to the anti-storm arrangement at the door, and he had to be furnished a guide.

A letter was recived at this office, last Saturday, requesting T. W. Finch's paper sent to 919 18th st., Los Angeles, California, to which city they have moved. The letter was from his daughter, Mrs. J. J. Griffith, who says they are delighted with their new home.

Poisons in Food.

Perhaps you don't realize that many pain poisons originate in your food, but some day you may feel a twinge of dyspepsia that will convince you. Dr. King's New Life Pills are guaranteed to cure all sickness due to poisons of undigested food—or money back. 25c at all Druggists.

The ground hog will, on tomorrow, settle the weather conditions for the next six weeks. His announcement is anxiously awaited in this part of the country where coal is scarce and the price thereof is high.

The following Common School pupils were examined last Friday and Saturday for ——— School graduation: Emil Regenbogen, Irwin Regenbogen, Laura Biel, Milton Carpenter, John Miller, Martin Lundgren, Flora Dye, Grace Eddins, Ira Cody, Martin May, Fannie Ryle, Lorena Hafer.

Attorney F. E. Curley filed suit for Arch Kite against the Q. & C. railroad, last week, for $2,000. While attempting to board the train at Kensington, on the 21st of last December, Kite slipped and broke one of his legs. He alleges that the accident was caused by the train starting just as he was boarding it.

Capt. Jackson, who lead the Burlington Grays to victory on so many fields last year, will be out early the coming season with a strong team, among which may be found two or three of last year's Boone's which he contemplates drafting, as that aggregation's 1904 work brought some of its players up to the Gray's standard.

Agonizing Burns

are instantly relieved, and perfectly healed, by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. C. Rivenbark, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., writes: "I burnt my knee so dreadfully that it blistered all over. Bucklen's Arnica Salve stopped the pain, and healed it without a scar." Also heals all wounds and sores. 25c at all Druggists.

In the death of Mrs. Mary Corbin, of Bellevue, another of the pioneer citizens of this county has passed away. Mrs. Corbin was of the class of good, old time citizens, which are growing scarce, only a few more of those who came upon life's stage with her being left to answer the final call. She was the widow of the late Albert Corbin.

I have completed and opened a well equipped livery stable on Carneal street near Elm, where horses and rigs will receive the best of attention. Boone county people will find it to their advantage to leave their horses and buggies with me.

I make two trips daily to the city with my express wagon.

B. S. CLORE, Ludlow.

County Clerk Adams was presented with another brace of fat coons by a Gunpowder admirer, a few days ago. He finds his pepper bill is assuming immense proportions this winter, and the writer suggests that a long string of red peppers with each coon would be a considerable financial relief to Mr. Adams in the matter of eating coons.

Another Case of Rheumatism Cured by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

The efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the relief of rheumatism is being demonstrated daily. Parker Triplett, of Grigsby, Va., says that Chamberlain's Pain Balm gave him permanent relief from rheumatism of the back when everything else failed, and he would not be without it. For sale by all Druggists.

Sales of Real Estate.

W. E. Vest, real estate agent reports the following sales of real estate last week:

G. S. Webb, trustee for Mamie Black to Mrs. Annie Hind, 29 acres adjoining the town of Walton—$5,500.

Mrs. A. W. Smith to Bruce Allen, 89 acres near Verona—$3,750.

Mrs. Victoria Arnold to Alice Booth, 65 acres adjoining the town of Walton—$3,105.

Ed Bristow to George Rice, house and lot in Walton, $1,300.

The 20 acre parcel has been sold by Mr. Vest three times in the last twelve months.

Grangers Meeting.

The Pomona Grange had a public installation of officers at the Courthouse last Saturday afternoon. The attendance was small, especially on the part of the Grangers. Past Lecturer of the National Grange, Mortimer Whitehead, conducted the installation ceremonies in a very impressive manner, and at the conclusion of the installation he delivered a brief but very excellent address on matters pertaining to the aims and objects of the Patrons of Husbandry. Worthy Master Wolcott, of the Kentucky State Grange was present. The officers installed were:

Master—Daniel Dobbins.
Overseer—Noah Tanner.
Lecturer—Wm. Batterson.
Stewart—Wm. Gaines.
Assistant Stewart—Wm. Clayton
Chaplain—N. S. Bristow.
Treasurer—Jerry Underhill.
Secretary—H. H. Hays.
Gate Keeper—Wilson Conner.
Ceres—Mrs. Noah Tanner.
Pomona—Miss Lillie Hammon.
Flora—Mrs. Clyde Hafer.
Lady Assistant Stewart—Miss Stella Carpenter.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, The Grand Architect of the Universe has seen fit in His wisdom and goodness to remove from us to that celestial lodge on high, our badly missed and much honored brother, Leonard Walter Lassing, therefore, be it

Resolved, That in his death Boone Union Lodge No. 304, has lost one of its most useful and efficient members; the community, one of its most true and upright citizens, and his daughter an ever kind, faithful and loving father.

Resolved, That Boone Union Lodge extends to the bereft daughter its deepest heartfelt sympathy in her great sorrow and affliction and directs her to that kind Father, Who doeth all for the best.

Resolved, That these resolutions be recorded in the minute book of our lodge, a copy sent to the bereaved daughter, and a copy sent to the Boone County RECORDER for publication.

Committe—Geo. H. Stevenson.

Boone Union Lodge 304 F. & A. M.

Whereas, It has pleased the maker of the Universe to call our Bro. Charles M. Allen, of Union, Ky., a member of Boone Union Lodge No. 304, into the Supreme Lodge above, to enjoy the rest that remaineth for the people of God,

Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Allen Boone Union Lodge has lost one of its most devoted members; his wife, a kind husband; his children, an indulgent father, and the community a good citizen; that we extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy, and commend them to the All-wise Father who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minute book of this lodge, and a copy sent to the family and one to the Boone County RECORDER for publication.

Committee—Geo. H. Stevenson.

Union and vicinity was startled last Saturday afternoon about four o'clock by the announcement that Levi Tanner, a very estimable gentleman and citizen had committed suicide by shooting himself in the temple with a rifle. Saturday his wife and daughter went to Lute Tanner's who had just moved to the neighborhood, to assist straighten up about the house, and he declined to accompany them, saying he would remain at home and attend to some work that was on hand. About 2 o'clock that afternoon Perry Corbin called and spent about an hour with him, noticing nothing unusual. At 4 o'clock the wife and daughter returned home, and failing to find him or get an answer from him when called, they began a search for him, and his body, not yet rigid, was soon found in the summer kitchen, which he had entered, closed and fastened the door and then commiteed the rash act. The rifle was lying on the floor by his side. Mr. Tanner had not been in good health for some time, and this it is supposed so preyed upon his mind as to work him up to the taking of his life. His wife and daughter are almost distracted with grief, and have the sympathy of all.

Mr. Tanner was a member of the Union Masonic lodge, which conducted his funeral Monday, the sermon being preached by pastor Slater. Interment in the Rice cemetery.

The following transfers of real estate were recorded last week:

Eliza May Whiting to Mrs. Lucy Walton, lot in Petersburg.

J. G. Tomlin to John Poston, lot in Walton—$158.

Noah Barlow to Steven Robins, 29¼ acres on waters of Gunpowder creek—$1,000.

H. J. Casey to Walter Garnett, 61.1 acres on road between Limaburg and Hebron—$1,344 20.

A. B. Allen, &c., to Julia West, 96 acres—$1 love and affection.

Felix Myers to Minnie Myers, &c., lot in Florence—$1 love and affection.

H. J. Casey to Charles Youell, 15.96 acres on road between Limaburg and Hebron—$346.

Alice Jones to R. W. Jones, lot in Florence—$150.

Nothing Equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. P. B. Spears, of Pinchard, Ala., has become acquainted with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and uses it in his own family and in his practice. He says: "It beats any preparation I have ever seen for all bowel complaints. I do not think of recommending any other, and also use it with my own children." This remedy is for sale by all Druggists.

NOTICE.—Persons who write deeds and mortgages will confer a great favor by complying with the law by mentioning the name of the party from whom the grantors got the land, and the Deed Book and page on which the deed is recorded in Boone county clerk's office.

B. W. ADAMS, County Clerk.

The Baptist congregation is putting a gasoline light plant in the church building.

This one hails from Texas: Recently a man while shaving sliced off the end of his nose, and very naturally dropped the razor, which in falling cut off one of his big toes. A local surgeon bandaged him up, but in the excitement of the moment bound the end of the toe to the nose wound, and put the nose where the toe ought to be. The mistake was not discovered for three days, when the bandages were removed and by that time, thanks to the wonderful curative powers of the recently discovered radium water, perfect union had taken place, and both wounds were found to be completely healed. The only inconveniences the patient now experiences is trimming the toe nail on the end of his nose and taking off his shoe when he wants to sneeze.

An Ohio man gives out the following inexpensive and simple plan for ridding a persons premises of rats: On a number of pieces of shingles put a teaspoonful of molases and a small quantity of concentrated lye. Distribute about the premises where the rats are, and what are not killed will leave.

Sheriff's Sale for Taxes.

The Sheriff of Boone County, Kentucky, hereby gives notice to the Delinquent Taxpayers of Boone county, that he will in compliance with Chapter 108 of the Kentucky Statutes and amendments thereto, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, for cash, all or so much of the property hereinafter described, listed to the respective persons named as per Assessors returns for 1904, as may be necessary to pay State and County taxes assessed against same together with all penalties, cost of advertising and commissions, at the Court House Door in Burlington, Boone County, Kentucky, on Monday, February 6th, 1905, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m., and 3 o'clock p. m., the following described property. Reference is had to the Original Assessor's book at County Clerk's Office, Burlington, Ky., for the more particular description of the property herein advertised.

FLORENCE PRECINCT.

J. O. Carpenter, 2 town lot	21.60
G. W. Crouch, nr., town lot	3.50
W. J. Cody, town lot	7,05
F. H. Nead, nr, town lot	2.85
Jas. Nead, nr., town lot	2.85

PETERSBURG PRECINCT.

Debora Bradley's est., town lot	4.15
Henry Hoffman, nr., town lot	3.85
Fannie McGuire, nr., town lot	3.50
D. C. Peck, nr., town lot	3.50
B. A. Pease, town lot	5.35
E. D. Whorton, town lot	4.60
Francis Gibbs, (col) town lot	2 85
Melvina Parker, (col), town lot	2,15

BELLEVUE PRECINCT.

Frank Burlington, nr., 9 acres	3,10
Mrs. I. Kidwell, town lot	4 85
John R Presser, town lot	4.35

UNION PRECINCT.

G. V Rouse, town lot	3.95
Catherine Weaver, nr, 25 acres	5,50

BEAVER PRECINCT.

J. B. Eldred, town lot, 2 years	8.25
William Gilpin, town lot	5.30
O. D. Williams 156 acres	18,35

CONSTANCE PRECINCT.

Mary Bills, town lot	2.80
Henry Fox, 2 acres	2.15
Mary A. Gilchrist, town lot	3 50
Minnie Marshall, town lot	2 85
W. B. Vickers, 25 acres	10,50
B. F. Zimmer, town lot	11 95

CARLTON PRECINCT.

Wm. Stephens (col) nr., town lot	1,85

HAMILTON PRECINCT.

G. L. Pitcher, town lot	5,65
Thos. B. Wilson, 10 acres	6,85

VERONA PRECINCT.

E. W. Benson, 26 acres	6,95
G. E. Jarman, nr., 10 acres	2.65
W. E. McKinzie, 30 acres	5 50
Conway Webster, 2 acres	4.85
Wm. Sleet, (col) town lot	3,30

WALTON PRECINCT.

John Grubbs, town lot	5.65
Eliza Gorman, 2 acres	7,85
Rebecca Ross, nr., 3 acres	2,15
W. O. Rouse, 2 town lots	8 15
Edward Stamler, town lot	9,85
Mrs. R. L. Weaver, nr., town lot	3,20
Chas. Wilson, nr., town lot	3,10

B. B ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

50 WOMEN

WILL BE TAKEN

BY THE

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune

ON A

TOUR OF EUROPE

They will go as guests of The Commercial Tribune absolutely

FREE,

With all expenses paid.

Read the Sunday Cincinnati Commercial Tribune for particulars.

New Grocery.

Having opened a grocery in Union, where everything first class in that line will be kept, I solicit your patronage. N. W. BURKETT,
Union Ky

JANUARY BARGAINS.

We want to make room for Spring Goods which will arrive in a short time. In order to do this we have put the prices on our Winter Goods away down, in some instances away below cost. We have room to mention only a few of our many bargains.

Schofield's Flannel Skirts, worth	50c	recuced to 38c
Schofield's Jeans, worth	50c to 60c yd	reduced to 35c yd
Outing Flannels, worth	10 to 12½c yd	reduced to 08c yd
Ladies' Lined Shoes, worth	$1 25	reduced to 80c
Ladies' Lined Shoes, worth	$2 00	reduced to $1 25
Men's Storm Coats, worth	$2 50	reduced to $1 00

And many other goods in Flannels, Gloves, Caps, &c.

W. M. Rachal & Co

UNION, KY.

H. G. BLANTON,

FUNERAL & DIRECTOR

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.

Special Rates to Traveling Men.

First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.

Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.

Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,

Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants

Tested Field and Garden Seeds.

Largest and Best Stock of

Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.

GROCERIES IN THE CITY.

Sole Agents for the Celebrated

RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.

When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.

27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY

Livery and Sales Stable.

ALLPHIN & HUME, Proprietors,

Walton, Kentucky.

Horses kept by the Meal, Day or Month. Good safe rigs for hire at all times.

——Horses Bought, or Sold on Commission——

Stable Near Southern Depot. BRUCE ROBERTS, Manager.

'Phone 172½, Hughes' Line.

CEILINGS. SKYLIGHTS. CORNICES

The Porter Iron Roofing & Corrugating Co

27 and 29 West Front Street,

CINCINNATI, - - OHIO.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Iron, Steel, Galvanized & Felt Roofing.

Our Agents will give you wholesale prices.

Agents:—Bruce Anderson, Constance, Ky. L. L. Tanner, Union, Ky.

Our Unexcelled "Heating Drums" are the best. Inquire for Prices.

"OH, HOW DELIGHTFUL!"

The Perfect Deodorizer and Disinfectant

FRAGRINE

Refreshes. Perfumes. Invigorates. Endorsed by Physicians.

Most Pleasant of Toilet Requisites.

Most healthful of Household Necessities. Call and try it at

JOHN ALLISON'S, Undertaker, Covington, Ky.

For Sale.

Business property in Constance, Ky., consisting of House, Store, Feed Room, Livery Barn of 20 stalls. Will sell property and invoice goods—will sell property and keep stock; also for rent a blacksmith and wagon makers shop.

C. W. ROBINSON,
Constance, Ky.

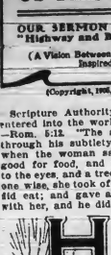
Dr. G. M. Terrill,

DENTIST,

Walnut Street.

LAWRENCEBURG, - INDIANA.

Subscribe for the Recorder.



THE TRAGEDY OF THE GARDEN

OUR SERMON STORY by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher.

(A Vision Between the Lines of God's Inspired Word.)

(Copyright, 1908, by J. M. Bidson.)

Scripture Authority:—"By one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin." —Rom. 5:12. "The serpent beguiled Eve through his subtlety."—2 Cor. 11:3. "And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat; and gave also unto her husband with her, and he did eat."—Gen. 3:6.

HELL was holding high carnival. Not since it had opened its gates of darkness to receive Satan and his angels as they fell headlong from heaven had there been such rejoicing. The awful gloom and bitter anguish and sullen passion which had marked the place since the coming of these apostate angels had given way to a mad glee and fiendish expectancy.

Satan had just returned with tidings from the earth. But a short time before this he had gone forth in response to the advice and counsel of his followers. Though defeated and cast out of Heaven they were not subdued, but, like the conquered foe that plots secret revenge and waits but for the favored moment to strike, they with one voice and one purpose counseled war against high Heaven. That open conflict was folly, they had but too recently learned. But if they could not successfully measure arms with Michael and his hosts, they determined that by strategy and subterfuge and trickery, which have come to be the favorite methods of warfare of Satan and his angels, they would inflict sore disaster upon their enemies, and perchance regain the paradise they had lost.

In pursuance of this plan Satan had gone forth and at last found his way to the earth, which the Son had but so recently formed. Fair indeed was the place, as we know, and to the eyes of Satan how beautiful and refreshing after the blackness and foulness of the pit.

While he stood thus thrilled by the new hope and purpose that had taken root within his black heart, two objects drew near and stopped on the other side of the clump of bushes behind which Satan stood concealed. No sight since coming to earth had so stirred him as did these two fair creatures. They could be none other than the man and the woman who had been the crowning triumph of the Son's creative power, for he beheld in them the likeness of the Father and the Son, and knew that it was of these the angels had spoken in Heaven.

Voices broke the spell which held him, and he heard the woman say:

"See, Adam, there stands the tree of which God said we should not partake. How often we come thither without realizing it."

"Yes," responded Adam, "I have noted that each path from our dwelling leads hither, for the tree stands in the midst of the garden."

"It is as though God would have us realize that every step we take leads in the direction where we must choose His will rather than our own," spoke up Eve, with woman's quick intuition.

"Thou art ready with thy thoughts, my love," exclaimed her husband, appreciatively. "I verily believe thou hast spoken a wonderful truth. But thou hast not yet offered explanation of the darkness which suddenly rolled in upon us three days ago and of the vivid flash of light which sped through space," he challenged, half playfully, half earnestly.

"No, neither can I even venture a guess," slowly and thoughtfully Eve replied. "Yet I cannot dispel the feeling that some new danger lurks about us." And drawing closer to the side of her husband she stood in silence, while he in gentle response clasped his arm more closely about her.

"Aha!" chuckled Satan, in fiendish glee, as he withdrew and sped back to the regions where his legions of demon angels awaited his coming. "Revenge is sweet, and verily I shall have my fill, for man shall feel my power and the earth shall become my dwelling place." Thus musing he entered in high spirits the gates of hell, and quickly related all his marvelous story.

The blood-curdling cheers and cries which filled the dismal place when Satan had ceased speaking had scarcely died away before the conference had begun as to the best methods to pursue in accomplishing their purposes. Some were for instant invasion of the earth and assault in force upon the inhabitants thereof, but Satan reminded them of the irresistible power of God which surrounded all who abode in His will, recalling to their minds the futile assaults upon the Palace and the attempt to get at the person of the Son.

"It were folly to attempt to pass the boundaries which God has set, and it would but reveal to man our true purpose and intent. Neither must we appear a numerous company, else will we affright our prey and lose our quarry. Man is wholly given up to the will of God, and his heart is towards Him. Should we inadvisedly proceed, there is danger that our true character may be revealed, and man be put upon his guard. In all deceit and guile we must handle this matter. As an angel of light must we appear unto them."

Silence reigned for a moment after Satan had ceased speaking and then with unanimous cry they endorsed Satan's counsel, and declared that of all the hosts he, as their chief, should proceed with the business in hand. This being determined on, Satan at once prepared to carry out his plans.

Now of all the beasts of the field the serpent was the most beautiful and wise. Ere God had pronounced his curse upon him he stood erect like man, and was the favorite companion of Adam and the gentle Eve, and they taught him to speak their language and to converse with them. The keen eye of Satan noted all this as he cast about for some medium by which he might approach Adam and Eve and gain their confidence and their ear.

Flattery, that base imp of hell, has wrought untold woe and sin throughout the ages, and first in the garden he captivated the graceful, beautiful serpent, and made him the instrument of Satan's wiles. Thus came it to pass that day, as Eve strolled through the garden, she came again to that forbidden tree, and would have turned away as on former occasions, when she spied the serpent, and as he called to her, she came near and stood under the shade of the forbidden tree.

"Yea, hath God said, ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?" said the serpent, so graciously that she did not sense the unholy taunt, although it pierced her heart like a poison dart.

"We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden," Eve quickly replied, a note of apology sounding in her voice. "But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die."

Ah, soul! why linger in debate over the command which God has given you. Here was where the downfall of man began, and it has ever proved the beginning of transgression of God's laws.

With incredulous smile, the serpent spoke in confident and positive tones: "Ye shall not surely die."

And Eve recalled her questionings as to what death meant. But why had God spoken of death if there was no death? In reply to her questioning look, the serpent continued: "For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened; and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil."

With downcast eyes Eve listened to the words of the serpent, which brought to her heart the first doubts she had had of God, and the desire to examine more closely the fruit of this tree took possession of her. Never before had she come so near to the tree; never before had she allowed her eyes to rest in questioning or longing upon its fruit, but now with it hanging so temptingly near she looked, and as she looked she saw that it was "good for food." How true it is, as James says, that "man is tempted when he is drawn away by his own lust and enticed." How pleasant the fruit appeared to her eyes now. Surely it was "to be desired to make one wise." How foolish and unreasonable the prohibition of God appeared. Reaching up, she took a great, luscious cluster of the fruit in her hand, and did eat, and gave also to her husband, who had joined her while she was yet talking with the serpent.

And the eyes of them both were opened. What an awakening that was! In fear and confusion they fled from the place, and hid in that part of the garden where the trees were the thickest and the shadows the darkest, for sin loveth darkness, and the evil doer cometh not to the light. The covering of God's righteousness had been torn from them, and they realized that they were naked. Naked before God! Fearing His appearance! With feverish haste and trembling hands they sewed fig leaves together and made them aprons, and hardly had they completed their task before they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden.

"Where art thou, Adam?" God called.

The call which heretofore had been such sweet music to the souls of Adam and Eve, and been listened for with such joyful longing, now came with piercing conviction to their hearts, and they were filled with an awful dread.

With trembling voice Adam replied: "I heard Thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself."

"Who told thee that thou wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eat?" the voice of God asked.

Oh, the anguish of that moment, as the souls of this guilty pair were brought face to face with their sin and realized their first separation from God, and felt His sore displeasure. The tragedy of the garden has rung down through the ages, and in its train has stalked hideous sin and grim death. The Divine judgments were spoken, and lest the man and the woman should partake of the tree of life and live forever, "therefore the Lord God sent them forth from the Garden of Eden." But ere they go He must clothe their nakedness, for no covering which man may provide for himself will suffice to make him presentable to God. From Adam's gentle flock of sheep, the Lord selects two precious lambs, a type of the lamb from Heaven which God in the fullness of time was to provide for sinful man, that man might be cleansed from sin and clothed upon with the righteousness of God.

Who can know the feelings of that sinful pair, as they beheld the hand of God slay the lambs and take from them their skins! A life given up for each that each might have a covering for his nakedness. Death the result of sin, but their lives not forfeited first, because of the wonderful grace of God. Ah, may we not sit and ponder this first revelation to sinful man of God's wonderful way of salvation through sacrifice, and the shedding of blood, for without the shedding of blood there is no remission.

So God drove man out; "and He placed at the east of the Garden of Eden, cherubims, and a flaming sword which turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life."

Thankfulness.

It is a pleasant sight to see anybody thanking God, for the air is heavy with the hum of murmuring and the ways are dusty with complaints and lamentations.—Spurgeon.

Chilblains.

Put into a cup of vinegar a generous supply of salt and heat until the salt partly dissolves. Apply to the frost-bitten parts as hot as it can be borne. Repeat two or three times until the swelling disappears and relief is experienced. A few drops of carbolic acid in the water in which the feet are bathed will also take the sting from chilblains, though at first the burning sensation may be increased. Do not use the carbolic too strong.—Washington Star.

Secret of Living.

If we can only come back to nature together every year, and consider the flowers and the birds, and confess our faults and our mistakes under the silent stars and hear the river murmuring in absolution, we shall die young, even though we live long; and we shall have a treasure of memories which will be like the twin flower, a double blossom on a single stem, and carry with us into the unseen world something which will make it worth while to be immortal.—Henry Van Dyke.

Literary Mexico.

Mexico is credited with being at the head of the Latin-American countries in the matter of letters. Besides possessing the oldest organs of Spanish-American journalism, it is said to have in active existence the first library established in America, which is now at least 300 years old. In Chili, Argentina and Peru there are papers that have been published for 80 years and more. One is the El Comercio of Lima, which has had a career of 80 years of uninterrupted daily issue.

New Electric Furnace.

A new electric furnace method has been invented by M. A. Nodon. The electro-negative metal is fused and used as the cathode in an electric furnace with a non-attackable substance as anode and an electrolyte of a fusible, only slightly volatile, halogen compound of the more electro-positive metal. When a current is passed through, the lowermost fused products a combination of the metals, with liberation of the halogen.—Scientific American.

Result of Boycott.

The only place in the United States that guarantees freedom from strikes, lockouts and labor warfare is Battle Creek, Mich.

The story? The work people, merchants, lawyers, doctors and other citizens became aroused and indignant at the efforts of the labor unions throughout the country to destroy the business of one of our largest industries—the Postum Cereal Co., Ld'd, and at the open threats in the official union papers, that the entire power of the National and State Federations of Labor was being brought to bear to "punish" the industries of Battle Creek, and particularly the Postum Co.

This sprung from the refusal of C. W. Post to obey the "orders" of the unions to take the Postum advertising away from various papers that refused to purchase labor of the labor trust—the unions.

Mr. Post was ordered to join the unions in their conspiracy to "ruin" and "put out of business" these publishers who had worked faithfully for him for years and helped build up his business. They had done no wrong, but had found it inconvenient—and against their best judgment to buy labor of the labor trust. It seems a rule of the unions to conspire to ruin anyone who does not purchase from them upon their own terms.

An ink maker or paper maker who failed to sell ink or paper would have the same reason to order Post to help ruin these publishers. So the peddler in the street might stone you if you refused to buy his apples; the cabman to run over you if you refused to ride with him; the grocer order the manufacturer to discharge certain people because they did not patronize him, and so on to the ridiculous and villainous limit of all this boycott nonsense, in trying to force people to buy what they do not want.

If a man has labor to sell let him sell it at the best price he can get just as he would sell wheat, but he has no right to even intimate that he will obstruct the business, or attempt its ruin because the owner will not purchase of him.

The unions have become so tyrannous and arrogant with their despotism that a common citizen who has some time to spare and innocently thinks he has a right to put a little paint on his own house finds he must have that paint taken off and put on again by "the union" or all sorts of dire things happen to him, his employer is ordered to discharge him, his grocer is boycotted if he furnishes him supplies, his family followed and insulted and his life made more miserable than that of a black slave before the war. If he drives a nail to repair the house he has the carpenter's "union" hounds him. He takes a pipe wrench to stop a leaking pipe and prevent damage to his property and the plumbers' "union" does things to him. He cannot put a little mortar to a loose brick on his chimney or the bricklayers', plasterers' or hod carriers' "union" is up in arms, and if he carelessly eats a loaf of bread that has no "union" label on it the bakers' "union" proceeds to make life miserable for him.

So the white slave is tied hand and foot, unable to lift a hand to better himself or do the needful things without first obtaining permission from some haughty, ignorant and abusive tyrant of some labor union.

It would all seem rather like a comic opera, if it did not rob people of their freedom; that kind of work will not be permitted long in America.

Some smooth managers have built up the labor trust in the last few years, to bring themselves money and power, and by managing workmen have succeeded in making it possible for them to lay down the law in some cities and force workmen and citizens to "obey" implicitly, stripping them right and left of their liberties.

They have used boycotting, picketing, assaults, dynamiting of property and murder to enforce their orders and rule the people. They have gone far enough to order the President to remove certain citizens from office because the "Unions" weren't pleased.

That means they propose to make the law of the unions replace the law of this government and the union leader dominate even the chief Executive.

This is a government of and for the people and no organization or trust shall displace it. But the unions try it every now and then, led by desperate men as shown in their defiance of law and support of law breakers.

The "union" record of assaults, crippling of men and even women and children, destruction of property and murder of American citizens during the past 2 years is perhaps 10 times the volume of crime and abuse perpetrated by slave owners during any two years previous to the civil war. We are in a horrible period of lethargy, which permits us to stand idly by while our American citizens are abused, crippled and murdered in dozens and hundreds by an organization or trust, having for its purpose unrusting what it has to sell (labor) upon us whether or no.

Suppose an American in a foreign city should be chased by a mob, caught and beaten unconscious, then his mouth pried open and carbolic acid poured down his throat, then his ribs kicked in and his face well stamped with iron nailed shoes, murdered because he tried to earn bread for his children. By the Eternal, sir, a fleet of American Men of War would assemble there, clear for action and blow something off the face of the earth. No reparation were not made for the blood of one of our citizens.

And what answer do we make to the appeals of the hundreds of widows and orphans of those Americans murdered by labor unions? How do we try to protect the thousands of intelligent citizens who, with reason, prefer not to join any labor union and be subject to the tyranny of the heavily paid rulers of the labor trusts?

Upon a firm refusal by Mr. Post to join this criminal conspiracy a general boycott was ordered on Grape-Nuts and Post um all over the country, which set the good red blood of our ancestors in motion, bringing forth the reply that has now passed into history: "We refuse to join any conspiracy of organized labor to ruin publishers, nor will we discharge any of our trusted employes upon the orders of any labor union. If they can make their boycott effective and sink our ship, we will go down with the captain on the bridge and in command."

This set the writers in labor papers crazy and they redoubled their abuse. Finally one of their official organs came out with a large double column denunciation of Battle Creek, calling it "a running sore on the face of Michigan," because it would not become "organized" and pay in dues to their labor leaders. The usual coarse, villainous epithets common to labor union writers were indulged in.

The result was to weld public sentiment in Battle Creek for protection. A citizens' association was started and mass meetings held. Good citizens who happened to be members of local unions in some cases quit the unions entirely, for there is small need of them there.

The working people of Battle Creek are of the highest order of American mechanics. The majority are not union members, for practically all of the manufacturers have for years declined to employ union men because of disturbances about 11 years ago, and the union men now in the city are among the best citizens.

No city in the state of Michigan pays as high average wages as Battle Creek; no city of its size is as prosperous, and no city has so large a proportion of the best grade of mechanics who own their own homes.

So the work people massed together with the other citizens in the organization of the Citizens' Ass'n with the following preamble and constitution:

Whereas, from 1891 to 1894 the strikes instigated by Labor Unions in Battle Creek resulted in the destruction of property and loss of large sums of money in wages that would have been expended here; and,

Whereas, these acts caused serious damage to the city and in a marked way delayed its progress at that time; and,

Whereas, since the year 1894 the citizens have been enabled, by public sentiment, to prevent the recurrence of strikes and Labor Union disturbances which have been prevalent elsewhere; and,

Whereas, the employers of this city have steadfastly refused to place the management of their business under the control of Labor Unions, but have maintained the highest standard of wages paid under like conditions anywhere in the United States, and hereby unanimously declared their intent to continue such policy; and the employes of this city, a large percentage of whom own homes and have families reared and educated under conditions of peace and the well-earned prosperity of steady employment, have steadfastly maintained their right as free American citizens to work without the dictation and tyranny of Labor Union leaders, the bitter experience of the past offering sufficient reason for a determined stand for freedom; and,

Whereas, the attitude of the citizens on this subject has been the means of preserving peaceful conditions and continuous prosperity in marked contrast to the conditions existing in other cities suffering from the dictation of Trades Unionism; it is therefore,

Resolved, that the continuance of peace and prosperity in Battle Creek can be maintained, and the destructive work of outside interference avoided under the combined effort and action of all our people by the formation of a Citizens' Association.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE 1.—NAME.

ARTICLE 2.—OBJECTS.

First—To insure, so far as possible, a permanent condition of peace, prosperity and steady employment to the people of Battle Creek.

Second—To energetically assist in maintaining law and order at all times and under all conditions.

Third—To protect its members in their rights to manage their property and to dispose of their labor in a legal, lawful manner without restraint or interference.

Fourth—To insure and permanently maintain fair, just treatment, one with another in all the relations of life.

Fifth—To preserve the existing right of any capable person to obtain employment and sell his labor, without being obliged to join any particular church, secret society, labor union or any other organization, and to support all such persons in their efforts to resist compulsory methods on the part of any organized body whatsoever.

Sixth—To promote among employers a spirit of fairness, friendship and desire for the best interests of their employes, and to promote among workmen the spirit of industry, thrift, faithfulness to their employers and good citizenship.

Seventh—To so amalgamate the public sentiment of all of the best citizens of Battle Creek that a guarantee can be given to the world of a continuance of peaceful conditions, and that under such guarantee and protection manufacturers and capitalists can be induced to locate their business enterprises in Battle Creek.

Then follows articles relating to membership, officers, duties, etc., etc., etc.

This constitution has been signed by the great majority of representative citizens, including our workpeople.

A number of manufacturers from other cities, where they have been suffering all sorts of indignities, inconvenience and losses from the general hell of labor union strikes, picketing, assaults and other interference, proposed to move, providing they could be guaranteed protection.

The subject grew in importance until it has reached a place where absolute protection can be guaranteed by the citizens of Battle Creek on the following broad and evenly balanced terms which guarantees to the workman and to the manufacturer fairness, justice, steady work and regularity of output.

The new-coming manufacturer agrees to maintain the standard rate of wage paid elsewhere for like service, under similar conditions, the rate to be determined from time to time from well authenticated reports from competing cities. The tabulated wage reports issued by the Government Department of Commerce and Labor can also be used to show the standard rate, and it is expected later on that this government bureau will furnish weekly reports of the labor market from different centers, so that the workman when he is ready to sell his labor and the employer when he is ready to buy, may each have reliable information as to the market or ruling price.

The new-coming manufacturer also agrees to maintain the sanitary and hygienic laws and to refrain from any lockouts to reduce wages below the standard; reserving to himself the right to discharge any employee for cause.

The Citizens' Association on its part agrees to furnish, in such numbers as it is possible to obtain, first-class workmen who will contract to sell their labor at the standard price for such period as may be fixed upon, agreeing not to strike, picket, assault other workmen, destroy property, or do any of the criminal acts common to labor unionism. Each workman reserving to himself the right to quit work for cause, and the Citizens' Association further pledges its members to use its associated power to enforce the contracts between employer and employee and to act enmasse to uphold the law at all times.

The new industries locating in Battle Creek will not start under any sort of labor union domination whatsoever, but will make individual contracts with each employee, those contracts being fair and equitable and guaranteed on both sides.

Thus from the abuses of labor unions and their insane efforts to ruin everyone who does not "obey" has evolved this plan which replaces the old conditions of injustice, lockouts, strikes, violence, loss of money and property, and general industrial warfare; and inaugurates an era of perfect balance and fairness between employer and employee, a steady continuance of industry and consequent prosperity. The entire community pledged by public sentiment and private act to restore to each man his ancient right to "peace, freedom and the pursuit of happiness."

Other cities will be driven to protect their work people, merchants and citizens as well as their industries from the blight of strikes, violence and the losses brought on by labor unionism run amuck, by adopting the "Battle Creek plan," but this city offers industrial peace now with cheap coal and good water, first-class railroad facilities and the best grade of fair, capable and peaceable mechanics known.

Details given upon inquiry of the "Secy. of the Citizens' Ass'n."

Identification.

The public should remember that there are a few Labor Unions conducted on peaceful lines, and in proportion as they are worthy they have won esteem, for we, as a people, are strongly in sympathy with any right act that has for its purpose better conditions for wage workers. But we do not forget that we seek the good of all and not those alone who belong to some organization, whereas even the law-abiding unions show undeniable evidences of tyranny and oppression when they are strong enough, while many of the unions harbor and encourage criminals in their efforts to force a yoke of slavery upon the American people. As a public speaker lately said: "The arrogance of the English King that roused the fiery eloquence of Otis, that inspired the immortal declaration of Jefferson, that left Warren dying on the slopes of Bunker Hill was not more outrageous than the conditions that a closed shop would force upon the community. These men burst into rebellion 'when the king did but touch their pockets.' Imagine if you can their indignant protest had he sought to prohibit or restrict their occupation or determine the conditions under which they should earn their livelihood," and to assault, beat and murder them, blow up their houses and poison their food if they did not submit.

The public should also remember that good true American citizens can be found in the unions and that they depreciate the criminal acts of their fellow members, but they are often in bad company.

Salt only hurts sore spots. So, the honest, lawabiding union man is not hurt when the criminals are denounced, but when you hear a union man "holler" because the facts are made public, he has branded himself as either one of the lawbreakers or a sympathizer, and therefore with the mind of the lawbreaker, and likely to become one when opportunity offers. That is one reason employers decline to hire such men.

A short time ago inquiry came from the union forces to know if Mr. Post would "keep still" if they would call off the boycott on Postum and Grape-Nuts.

This is the reply: "The labor trust has seen fit to try to ruin our business because we would not join its criminal conspiracy. We are plain American citizens and differ from the labor union plan in that we do not force people to strike, picket, boycott, assault, blow up property or commit murder.

We do not pay thugs $20 to break in the ribs of any man who tries to support his family nor $30 for an eye knocked out.

We try to show our plain, honest regard for sturdy and independent workmen by paying the highest wages in the state.

We have a steady, unvarying respect for the law-abiding peaceable union man and a most earnest desire to see him gain power enough to purge the unions of their criminal practices that have brought down upon them the righteous denunciation of a long-suffering and outraged public, but we will not fawn, truckle, hend the knee, wear the hated collar of white slavery, the union label, nor prostitute our American citizenship under "orders" of any labor trust.

You offer to remove the restriction on our business and with "union" gold choke the throat and still the voice raised in stern denunciation of the despotism which tramples beneath an iron shod heel, the freedom of our brothers.

You would gag us with a silver bar and muffle the appeal to the American people to harken to the cries for bread of the little children whose faithful fathers were beaten to death while striving to earn food for them.

Your boycott may perhaps succeed in throwing our people out of work and driving us from business, but you cannot wrench from us that priceless jewel our fathers fought for and which every true son guards with his life. Therefore, speaking for our work people and ourselves the infamous offer is declined."

POSTUM CEREAL CO., LTD.

Note by Publisher:

The Postum Company have a yearly contract for space in this paper which they have a right to use for announcements of facts and principles. Such use does not necessarily carry with it any editorial opinion.

STATE ITEMS OF INTEREST

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE.

Fight Over the New Site For the ... Is Not Assumes a New Phase.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 26.—The fight over the new site for a statehouse assumed a new phase in the senate, when Senator Cammack cited the act of the legislature of 1860, creating the ... commissioners of the state feeble-minded institute and vesting the title to the institute land and property. He said that this act barred the use of the institute grounds for a statehouse site; first, because having been dedicated and now used for one public purpose, it can not be taken without process of law for another public purpose; second, that before it could be used as a statehouse site the act of 1860 and subsequent acts relating to the institute must be repealed, and this special session had no power to repeal any acts. Senator Campbell took the same view, but Senator Carroll argued that under the governor's call for the extra session the legislature had power "to make all necessary provisions to secure a site," therefore, if necessary to secure an available site to abolish the feeble-minded institute this extra session had the power to take such a step.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 27.—The Hunt site or a deadlock between the house and senate seems to be the result of the work in the legislature. The house passed the Wells bill, naming the Hunt site and the senate adopted a substitute, naming the feeble-minded, but could not pass the bill after the substitute was adopted. The Hunt site bill was passed by a vote of 43 to 33 in the house, and Speaker Brown ruled that as it carried no actual appropriation but simply directed what should be done with part of an appropriation already made, it did not need 51 votes to pass it. In the senate the feeble-minded site bill received 18 votes with 15 against it, but Lieut. Gov. Thorne ruled in direct opposition to Speaker Brown, and declared the bill lost because it did not receive a constitutional majority.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 28.—Harmony seems to be slowly emerging from the chaos on the capital site muddle, and the fabled white-winged dove of peace may be able to do the hovering act. Several democratic members of the house concluded during the night to cease following the republican lead, and when the house journal was being read, they asked and were granted permission to have the journal corrected so as to show they had voted for the Hunt site bill. Representatives Alverson, Bourne, Cochran, Frazier, Scott and Pride were recorded in this way as voting aye. Alverson had declined to vote and Pride was absent. With these votes added, the journal now shows the Hunt site bill reached 51 votes, which is enough to pass it beyond the cavil of the strict constructionists, who claimed that 45 votes did not legally pass it. In response to a request from the senate committee the house appointed the following informal conference committee to try to agree on a bill that will pass both bodies: Gooch, Edwards, McKnight, Cochran and Speaker Brown.

STRANGE DAMAGE SUIT.

Kentucky Man Wants $10,000 of a Patent Medicine Man.

Greenup, Ky., Jan. 28.—A novel damage suit has just been filed in the Greenup county circuit court. Col. Millard F. Wood, republican candidate for county jailer and a former United States storekeeper and gauger, asks $10,000 damages against Dr. W. M. Fenner, a manufacturer of patent medicines at Fredonia, N. Y. Col. Wood alleges that he has lost his hearing from taking medicine from the agency and that he came very near losing his life. The suit is attracting much attention, and results will be watched with interest.

Good Price For Fillies.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 27.—W. B. E. Lockwood, of Norwich, Ct., bought of John E. Madden two fillies by Topgallant and Imp. Sandringham respectively for $10,000. The Topgallant filly is out of Black Whirlwind and the other out of Brenen, dam of Councillor.

Attempted To Cash a Check.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 27.—Through a tip received at police headquarters from Nicholasville, J. J. Flannigan, alias Williams, of this city, was arrested while in the act of attempting to cash a check at the Phoenix National bank for $585.

Judge James Garnett Dead.

Columbia, Ky., Jan. 27.—Judge James Garnett, 70, one of the best known lawyers and jurists in this section of Kentucky, died suddenly of heart trouble, at his home in this place.

Prominent Mason Dead.

Covington, Ky., Jan. 28.—E. C. Stillwell, 69, prominent Mason and member of Robert Burns lodge, died at the residence of his son-in-law, Geo. Biggers, an L. & N. conductor, in Louisville, Ky.

Patient Robbed the Pest House.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 26.—The pest house for white smallpox patients near the city was robbed of clothing and various articles. A tramp named Collier, who came here from Evansville, Ind., and applied for admission at the hospital, is missing.

Fifth Death In Family.

Covington, Ky., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Mary Kemphaus, 68, died at her late residence. Her death is the fifth one in the family in the past five years—two daughters, one son and her husband preceding her to the grave.

THE HARGIS CASE.

Question As To Whether the Trial Will Be in Breathitt or Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 28.—Ex-Chief Justice J. H. Hazelrigg and Judge Louis McQuown, of Frankfort, and Judge J. Smith Hayes, of Winchester, are in Lexington representatives of the Hargis brothers and Edward Callahan, of Breathitt county, in the hope of reaching some agreement as to a method of peaceably determining whether a Breathitt county magistrate or the Fayette circuit court has prior jurisdiction to try the men indicted here on the charge of murdering Jas. Cockrill. A conference which adjourned will be resumed with the commonwealth attorney present. The special bailiff sent to Jackson to arrest Judge Hargis, Senator Hargis, Sheriff Callahan and Elbert Hargis was resisted by Deputy Sheriff Sam Jett, who represented that warrants charging the men named and Jesse Spicer, who is supposed to be in Mexico, with Cockrill's murder, had been sworn out before Magistrate J. W. Edwards. Records were produced, an entry in which represented that two of these warrants had been issued December 3 last (Sunday) and that James and Elbert Hargis had that day been admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000 each.

LOUISVILLE FIRE.

Warehouse and Contents Burned and Grain Elevator Damaged.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 27.—Fire destroyed a warehouse and contents and damaged the grain elevator of Callahan & Sons, millers and dealers in feed and grain. The loss on the stock in the warehouse amounted to $60,000, while the loss on the building itself and the damage to the grain elevator swelled the total to $100,000, partially covered by insurance.

STRANGE INJUNCTION.

A Suit To Restrain a Pastor From Attending Prayer Meeting.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 26.—An injunction was sued out against Rev. S. E. Smith, pastor of the Lexington, Ky., Baptist church, to enjoin him from attending prayer meeting at the church in this city he was formerly pastor of. The members allege he will create a schism. Smith was an alternate from the state at large to the Chicago republican convention.

May Have Frozen To Death.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 26.—With the mercury registering below the zero mark, E. M. Ball, a prominent business man, who had been ill several months, got out of bed and wandered away. No trace of him has been found and he may have been frozen to death.

Captures Prizes At Poultry Show.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 27.—Joseph L. Friedman, of the Pines stock farm, received a telegram from R. E. Jones, who has charge of an exhibit from the Pines farm in the National Chicken exhibit in Chicago, saying that the Pines farm has captured several of the prizes.

Expired In Railway Depot.

Mayfield, Ky., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Nannie Green, wife of J. J. Green, formerly of this place, but now of Memphis, arrived for the purpose of being conveyed to the home of her father in the county. Before she could be removed from the depot, however, she expired.

For a Double Murder.

Williamsburg, Ky., Jan. 28.—The grand jury has returned an indictment against Matt Earles for the murder of George Curd and Emma Durham last November. Curd was shot from the cabin in which the Durham woman lived and the cabin was set on fire. Her charred body was found in the ashes.

Most of Gallatin's Crop Pledged.

Warsaw, Ky., Jan. 28.—The Burley Tobacco Growers' association of Gallatin county has secured the signatures of the growers of about 95 per cent. of the crop in this county for the pool. About two million pounds of tobacco was raised in this county in 1904.

Louisville Girl's Suit.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 28.—Cynthia Ferguson, of Louisville, Ky., has commenced suit in the federal court here against W. H. Kennedy, of Eliot, Ia., for $25,000 for alleged breach of promise.

Johnson Sentenced To Penitentiary.

Williamsburg, Ky., Jan. 26.—Wilbur Johnson was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for malicious shooting. The trial of John Breeden for killing Jesse Pickney at Jellico, two years ago, was begun.

Will Act on Board of Control.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 28.—Thomas C. McDowell, proprietor of Ashland stud, a well-known racing man of this city, has consented to act on the board of control of the American Jockey club, the newly organized turf body of the west.

Death of Robert Holloway.

Versailles, Ky., Jan. 28.—Robert Holloway, aged 65 years, one of the best-known citizens of the southern end of this county, died of heart disease at the home of his son-in-law, Alex S. Mattingly, near Elm Corner.

Canned Fruit Desserts.

Canned fruits may be used for desserts in many ways. The juice in the can should be heavily sweetened and boiled down to a syrup. This makes the fruit richer. Common canned peaches heated in a thick syrup and served with cream are very good indeed. Canned raspberries make a delicious Bavarian cream or charlotte russe.—N. Y. Post.

Sweet Green Tomato Picalilly.

Have ready one peck of green tomatoes; to which add six tablespoonfuls of mustard ground; a half pint of mustard seed, a tablespoonful each of cloves and cinnamon; one pound of brown sugar, three ... tops and three quarts of vinegar. Let all boil slowly for one hour. The tomatoes should be peeled and sliced. Boil all together.—Chicago Post.

Dogs with Coats of Mail.

An armored coat for dogs to serve as a protection against motor cars, has been invented by a New Yorker. The coat is studded with sharp steel points like a steel hedgehog. If the armored dog is run into by a motor car the sharp points puncture the tire, and the consequent rush of released air blows the dog out of danger.

More Like His Father.

"You grow more like your father every day," sharply exclaimed the boy's mother over some misconduct of her six-year-old son.

For over a week the boy went every morning to the mirror to see if his nose was getting red.—N. Y. Times.

Simple.

In proceeding to explain the uses of an incubator a London school teacher asked her class: "In what other way could an egg be hatched than by putting it under a hen?" A bright pupil replied: "You might put it under a duck."

Spain's Output of Lead.

Spain produced 175,100 tons of lead in 1903, exceeding the output of all other countries except the United States. Mexico is the third largest producer, and Australia comes fourth in order.

Good Bacon Dish.

Bacon broiled in the oven is delicious and wholesome. Place the slices in the broiler as usual, and set in the oven over a dripping pan. Cook until browned under a moderate flame.—N. Y. Post.

England's Oldest Newspaper.

The only newspaper in England that can prove an unbroken publication for 184 years—the Northampton Mercury, which was founded in 1720, was sold the other day.

In the Blood.

Mrs. Maguire—'Tis Mary Ann O'Reilly thot's th' foine planny-player intolrely!

Mrs. Clancy—Shure, an' no wondher! Isn't her Uncle Barney a planny-mover?—Judge.

Many Trips.

Capt. Hugh Young, of the Anchor Line steamer Furnessia, plying between New York and Glasgow, recently completed his one thousandth trip across the Atlantic.

Literary Event in Georgia.

A literary dance will be the local literary event of the New Year. The town marshal will be on hand, and good order will be preserved.—Adams Enteprise.

The Blooming Bud.

Ma—How do you like Geraldine's coming out gown?

Pa—Well, I wish she wouldn't come out quite so far.—Cleveland Leader.

MARKET REPORT.

Cincinnati, Jan. 28.

CATTLE—Common .	$2 60	@	3 75
Heavy steers	4 65	@	5 00
CALVES—Extra		@	8 00
HOGS—Ch. packers		@	4 85
Mixed packers	4 75	@	4 85
SHEEP—Extra	5 00	@	5 25
LAMBS—Extra		@	7 75
FLOUR—Spring pat.	6 20	@	6 45
WHEAT—No. 2 red,	1 19	@	1 21
No. 3 winter	1 10	@	1 17
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	46½
No. 2 white		@	45½
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	33
No 2 white		@	33¾
RYE—No. 2	82	@	86
HAY—Timothy		@	12 50
PORK—Clear mess		@	14 15
LARD—Steam	6 75	@	6 87½
BUTTER—Ch. dairy		@	18
Choice creamery		@	31½
APPLES—Choice	2 75	@	3 25
POTATOES—Per bbl	1 50	@	1 60
TOBACCO—New	5 00	@	13 00
Old	4 50	@	14 75

Chicago.

FLOUR—Winter pat.	5 10	@	5 20
WHEAT—No. 2 red	1 17½	@	1 19¾
No. 3 red	1 00	@	1 15
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	42½
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	30½
RYE—No. 2	75	@	75½
PORK—Mess	12 80	@	12 85
LARD—Steam		@	6 87½

New York.

FLOUR—Win. str'ts.	5 25	@	5 40
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 20¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	52¾
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	36½	@	37
RYE—Western		@	75
PORK—Family	13 25	@	13 75
LARD—Steam		@	7 20

Baltimore.

CATTLE—Steers	4 65	@	5 00
SHEEP—No. 1 fat	3 00	@	5 50
LAMBS—Choice	5 50	@	8 00
CALVES—Choice	4 00	@	8 50
HOGS—Dressed	5 25	@	5 30

Louisville.

WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 18
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	47½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	34
PORK—Mess		@	11 00
LARD—Pure steam		@	6 50

Indianapolis.

WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 21
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	44
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	32

WHY HE NEEDED A SPADE.

Drummer Wanted a Bath and Would Have to Dam the Creek to Get It.

Congressman Brownlow is from one of the mountainous regions of Tennessee. He comes from that part of the world where the crests of rock are so high that Gov. "Bob" Taylor once said of them that small children could stand on tiptoe and tickle the feet of angels with a short straw. He is interested greatly, Mr. Brownlow is, says a Washington letter to the New York American, in the good roads movement.

In some parts of Tennessee it is difficult for a stranger traveling from New York, for instance, to imagine that the light of civilization ever has penetrated there. The houses are crudely built; the roadways mere blazes, the post offices sometimes 30 miles apart. Mr. Brownlow tells a story of a Philadelphia drummer having reached one of the villages late at night, and on being awakened early in the morning rubbed his eyes and then asked for a bath. In a few minutes the landlord returned with a spade, a hickory towel and a gourd of soft water.

"What do I want with the spade?" asked the drummer.

"Well, you'll need it when you try to dam the creek," the hotel man said.

That's the Answer.

Smith—I wonder why it is that not a single one of our numerous laws for prohibiting the sale of liquor has ever worked satisfactorily.

Jones—Simply because not one of them prohibited thirst.—Chicago Daily News.

Pa Knew.

Willie—Teacher told us to-day that there's a certain kind o' tree that grows out o' rocks. I can't remember what it was.

His Pa—It's a family tree, I guess.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

New Version.

"What did you say, John?" queries Mrs. John, sewing her full length reflection in the mirror.

"I said," repeated John, distinctly, "it is clothes that break the man."—Houston Post.

Worried.

"Your son William always impressed me as being such a thoughtful boy."

"Yes, his pa and me are worried about him a good deal. We're afraid he's goin' to be a scholar."—Chicago Tribune.

SPREADING THE NEWS BROADCAST.

That Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured His Diabetes—After Long Suffering Mr. G. Cleghorn Found a Permanent Relief in the Great American Kidney Remedy.

Port Huron, Mich., Jan. 30th.—(Special)—Tortured with Diabetes and Bladder Disease from which he could apparently get no relief, Mr. G. Cleghorn, a bricklayer, living at 119 Bailey Ave., this city, has found a complete and permanent cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills and in his gratitude he is spreading the news broadcast.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills made a man of me," Mr. Cleghorn says. "I was a sufferer from Diabetes and Bladder Disease. I was so bad I could do no work, and the pain was something terrible. I could not get anything to help me till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. They helped me right from the first, and now I am completely cured. I have recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to all my friends, and they have found them all that is claimed for them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney ills from Backache to Bright's Disease. They never fail to cure Rheumatism.

We can understand something of the significance of the quotation: "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown," since learning that the prince of Wales has 19 pianos.—Montgomery Advertiser.

BABY CAME NEAR DYING.

From an Awful Skin Humour—Scratched Till Blood Ran—Wasted to a Skeleton—Speedily Cured by Cuticura.

"When three months old my boy broke out with an itching, watery rash all over his body, and he would scratch till the blood ran. We tried nearly everything, but he grew worse, wasting to a skeleton, and we feared he would die. He slept only when in our arms. The first application of Cuticura soothed him so that he slept in his cradle for the first time in many weeks. You don't know how glad I was. One set of the Cuticura Remedies made a complete and permanent cure. (Signed) Mrs. M. C. Maitland, Jasper, Ontario."

The statement in a literary journal that a certain well-known ... writes by candlelight" is not surprising. Very few of 'em can afford gas now.—Atlanta Constitution.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.

Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

Culture simplifies life. All the trouble we used to have about the pronunciation of depot is now obviated by calling it station.—Judge.

GOUNOD'S "AMBER EAR."

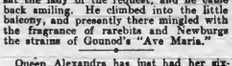
Lady Wanted It Played and Was Accommodated, But Under Different Title.

"Play the 'Amber Ear,'" said the waiter to the leader of the restaurant orchestra, while the people at near-by tables chuckled, relates the New York Press.

"You mean 'The Gondolier,'" corrected the leader, leaning over the edge of the little music balcony.

"No," persisted the waiter. "I asked her was that it, and she said: 'No.' She wants you to play 'Amber Ear.'"

"You go back and ask her again," said the leader with a laugh, and he watched the waiter make his way across the room. In a moment he was back.



"I asked the lady, ... and she wanted you to play the 'Amber Ear,' he said, with a touch of vexation. "She says you ought to know it if you're a musician."

"Wait a minute," the leader said. A moment later he was at the table where sat the lady of the request, and he came back smiling. He climbed into the little balcony, and presently there mingled with the fragrance of rarebits and Newburgs the strains of Gounod's "Ave Maria."

Queen Alexandra has just had her sixtieth birthday celebrated by loyal Englishmen all over the world. What woman would care to be a queen and have her age given away in that fashion?—Houston Post.

A great advance in the building of automobiles is said to have been made during the last year, but as far as has been reported there hasn't been much headway made toward producing a safe and sane motor car.—Indianapolis News.

80 Bu. Macaroni Wheat Per Acre, introduced by the U. S. Dept. of Agr. It is a tremendous cropper, yielding in good land in Wis., Ill., Ia., Mich., Ind., O., Pa., N. Y., 80 bu. per acre, and on dry, arid lands, such as are found in Mont., Idaho, the Dakotas, Colo., etc., it will yield from 40 to 60 bu. This Wheat and Speltz and Hanna Barley and Bromus Inermis and Billion Dollar Grass, makes it possible to grow and fatten hogs, sheep and cattle wherever soil is found.

JUST SEND 10c AND THIS NOTICE to the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., and they will send you free a sample of this Wheat and other farm seeds, together with their great catalog, alone worth $100.00 to any wide-awake farmer. [K. L.]

"A little learning may be a dangerous thing," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "but the man with a little learning is not nearly so dangerous as the man who knows it all."—Yonkers Statesman.

Don't Get Footsore! Get Foot-Ease.

A wonderful powder that cures tired, hot, aching feet and makes new or tight shoes easy. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease. Accept no substitute. Trial package FREE. Address A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

The word germ is for the time being the bogey-man of grown-up children, whose vague and indefinite terrors may be summed up in an indescribable fear of microbes.—Medical Talk for the Home.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

"Whoile some paple trouble to drown drink," said the janitor philosopher, "ithers drink to drown trouble. But, somehow, trouble always has a life-preserver."

I am sure Piso's Cure for Consumption saved my life three years ago.—Mrs. Thos. Robbine, Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

There are many ways to win a women—but only one way for each woman.—Smart Set.

THE FARMERS ON THE FREE HOMESTEAD LANDS

FARMS FOR WESTERN CANADA FREE

of WESTERN CANADA carry the banner for yields of Wheat and other grains for 1904.

100,000 Farmers

receive $55,000,000 as a result of their Wheat Crop alone.

The returns from Oats, Barley and other grains, as well as cattle and horses, add considerably to this.

Secure a Free Homestead at once, or purchase from some reliable dealer while lands are selling at present low prices.

Apply for information to SUPERINTENDENT OF IMMIGRATION, Ottawa, Canada, or to

H. M. WILLIAMS, Law Building, Toledo, O.
Authorized Canadian Government Agent.

Please say where you saw this advertisement.

BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH

SYRUP cures coughs and colds.

PATENTS 48-page book FREE, highest references. FITZGERALD & CO., Box K, Washington, D. C.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children

Bears the Signature Of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

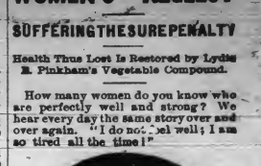
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Free Book

ON DEFORMITIES AND PARALYSIS

will be sent free postpaid upon request. This book is of a hundred pages, handsomely illustrated throughout and tells of an experience of over thirty years in the treatment of Crooked Feet, Spinal Deformities, Infantile Paralysis, Hip Disease, Deformed Limbs and Joints, Etc. It tells of the only thoroughly equipped Sanitarium in this country devoted exclusively to the treatment of these conditions and how they may be cured without surgical operations, plaster paris or other severe treatment. Send for this book, and if directly interested, mention character of the affliction and special literature bearing on the subject will be sent with the book. The L. C. McLAIN ORTHOPEDIC SANITARIUM, 3103 Pine St., St. Louis

MEXICAN Mustang Liniment heals Old Sores quickly.



MEXICAN Mustang Liniment cures Sprains and Strains.

WOMEN'S NEGLECT

SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY

Health Thus Lost Is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

Miss Kate McDonald

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, leucorrhœa.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Kate McDonald, of Woodbridge, N J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"I think that a woman naturally dislikes to make her troubles known to the public, but restored health has meant so much to me that I cannot help from telling mine for the sake of other suffering women.

"For a long time I suffered untold agony with a uterine trouble and irregularities, which made me a physical wreck, and no one thought I would recover, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me, and made me well and strong, and I feel it my duty to tell other suffering women what a splendid medicine it is."

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

ALL EMERGENCIES IN THE FAMILY OR ON THE FARM FOR MAN OR BEAST

SLOAN'S LINIMENT KILLS PAIN KILLS GERMS

DR. EARL S. SLOAN. 615 ALBANY ST., BOSTON, MASS.

WHAT'S THE USE OF SAYING "GIVE ME A 5-CENT CIGAR," WHEN BY ASKING FOR A ...

"CREMO"

YOU GET THE BEST 5-CENT CIGAR IN AMERICA

"The World's Largest Seller"

MOTHER GRAY'S SWEET POWDERS FOR CHILDREN,

A Certain Cure for Feverishness, Constipation, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders, and Destroy Worms. (Worms. They Breed in Children.) Relief in 24 hours. At all Druggists, 25 cts. Mother Gray's Home Sample mailed FREE. Address MOTHER GRAY, A Nurse in Children's Home, New York City. A. S. OLMSTED, Le Roy, N.Y.

PILES ANAKESIS gives instant relief and PERMANENTLY CURES PILES. For free sample address "ANAKESIS," Pittsburg building, New York.

The Enterprising Housekeeper

A valuable little book of 200 tested recipes and kitchen helps. Sells for 25c. Mailed to anyone for 4c postage. ENTERPRISE MFG. CO., Phila., Pa.

PENSIONS on age at 62.—Civil War; or on disability, old war, and for widows. Have records of most loyal soldiers' service, and ages of Ohio men. 20 years practice. Laws and advice FREE. A. W. McCORMICK & SONS, 518 Walnut St., CINCINNATI, O.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

GUNPOWDER.

Several report lambs in their flocks.

Rev. Slater and family were guests at B C. Surface's last Friday.

Arthur Tanner and family are visiting at Ludlow, guests of Wm. Phillipps and wife.

Several from here attended the meeting of Pomona Grange, at Burlington, last Saturday.

A dog or dogs got in B. C. Tanner's flock of sheep, last week, and did considerable damage.

Lute Tanner moved to the farm he purchased of Dr. Crouch, on Long Branch, last week.

Everybody has his icehouses filled with a fine quality of ice, some of it measuring 7 inches thick.

Frank Carpenter, after spending several weeks here, left for his home in Virginia, last Tuesday.

L. P. Aylor bought of N. C. Tanner, last week, 37½ acres of land, it being his interest in his father's estate.

Howard Blankenbeker has a Black Spanish hen that is about 15 years old About 4 years ago she began changing her color, and has gradually changed until she is perfectly white. He is keeping her to see how long she will live. Suppose we will have to call her a White Black Spanish.

J. L. Rouse called on the writer last Sunday and gave him a description of the country around Spring Place, Ga. He expects to raise a large crop of cotton this year. He is going into the peach business pretty extensively, and has quite a number of trees in bearing. He will plant several acres more next spring.

BUFFALO.

T. J. Stephens is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Neal have grippe.

Mrs. Annie Huey spent last Tuesday with her mother.

Lena Love spent last Saturday night with Joe Huey and wife

Rose Shinkle, of Landing, visited his sister here, last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stephens visited Mrs. Stephens' brother, Tuesday.

Little Hiram Stephens has been laid up with rheumatism several days.

Mrs. Myrtle Clements and children spent last Saturday with Mrs. Emma Marshall.

Joe Love and wife spent last Wednesday with their daughter, Mrs. Florence Bristow.

The buffalo flinch champion was defeated badly Friday night by Elijah Stephens.

Word has reached here that John Moore is getting along nicely and will be at home in a few days.

Claud Utz and sister entertained Wayne Adams and sister, of Big Bone Springs, Saturday night and Sunday.

David Marshall spent several days with his parents this week. His friends here are glad to know that he is getting along so nicely at school.

Tommie Stephens and wife, of Beech Grove, and Harry Stephens and wife, from Gunpowder creek, broke bread with Jas. Stephens and family, Sunday.

RABBIT HASH.

Miss Edith Ryle entertained quite a crowd of young folks from Rising Sun and Pleasant Ridge on the 21st. The evening was enjoyed by playing games and charades such as Flinch and Garm mut. Among those present were Miss Mamie Eshel and Joe Palmer, Miss Pearl Earl and Charlie Williams, Mr. James Monroe and Miss Ruby Williams, and Mr. William Monroe, all of Pleasant Ridge; and from Rising Sun Misses Lula Richmond, Mamie Sweazy Mabel Merrill, Harriet Tuny Emma Neal and Mr. Earl Ward. At a late hour they all departed for their homes, hoping to enjoy another such pleasant evening in the near future.

Jan. 30.—The river is full of ice and the ferrymen run a risk crossing it for the mail.

Cad Wilson, of Bloomington, Ill., is visiting relatives here.

Z. T. Kelly had a woodsawing, last week, and there are two billed for this week.

The Grangers spent Thursday evening very pleasantly in a social meeting at Dr. Hopkins'.

Among the sick in this neighborhood are Mrs. Kate Kelly, Mrs. Smith, Truman Riggs and Bernard Hopkins.

George Ward, who got a fall in August, has been under the care of a doctor ever since, and is not so well at this writing.

Chas. Bodee continues to haul logs. When done he and Mr. Houze will have hauled 60,000 feet at 75 cents per M00, which will make a nice winter's job of $450.

L. T. Clore canvassed this precinct in the interest of the Tobacco Growers' Company and has about 150,000 pounds pledged. Tobacco will be received at Corbin's warehouse in Bellevue.

Mrs. Emma Ward and daughter, Ruth, were visiting Mrs. Carlisle Ward, of Rising Sun, last week. Mrs. Rachel Harris, of Detroit, Michigan, is also visiting her mother.

There has been some disagreement among the telephone stockholders about switch board connection, but things are about settled now and did fair to soon be in smooth running order.

There has been some talk of trying to get free rural mail delivery here. Mr. Editor, can you inform us whether it is possible, and what steps are necessary to secure it?—[Write our Congressman.—Ed.]

Chas. Wilson and family, of Idlewild, are visiting relatives here. Look out for another piece from Old Bellsbie, Sunny side or Future Predictions. Charles is somewhat of a scribe, and will have to have some of Bro: Thomas' bouquets thrown at him

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by all Druggists, at 50c a bottle.

A couple of colored boys tried their psychistic science on each other last Saturday after noon. One of them got in jail and the other gave bail. One of them Ed Scales, was tried Tuesday and fined $6 and ten days in jail.

RICHWOOD.

J. R. Carpenter is on the sick list.

Geo. Rice has been laid up with gripp.

O. O. Dixon is still in Bullittsville nursing.

Excelsior Grange meets Saturday 2 p. m. February 4th.

M. Grubbs filled his ice house with 8 inch ice, Friday and Saturday.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Levi Tanner, as he was a good friend and a noble man.

Two loads of furniture of Ira Aylor's passed through here on the way to Covington, where he is moving.

The knife found near the body of Jacob Kelz was taken to Mrs. Kelz, who says it did not belong to her late husband.

The wood heaters break the coal monopoly here, but we fear the owners of woods will form a wood combine equally as strong as the coal trust.

All of our old ball team have signed for 1905, except Hack Sodden, who still holds out for more money; but when we hear "play ball," we hope to see Hack back in his box as of yore.

John W. Carpenter's tobacco stripping house caught fire from a defective flue and would have destroyed nearly 6,000 pounds of tobacco, if it had not been discovered when it first started. About 50 pounds was damaged by water.

A "fly" railroad detective had one of our young men in custody several days last week in connection with the depot robbery here and at Walton. He was not very "fly," or he would have known enough to ask as to the boy's character. He has had his inning and next is the young man's.

One night last week while returning from helping a friend move, we got entangled in a telephone wire in Union in front of Dr. M. J. Crouch's, and we hope the phone company or town council will have the wire raised, as some one will haul it off and then the neighborhood on the line will run out of employment.

Geo. Blyth put out of the way, last week, two dogs that had been after his sheep.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Hebron Perpetual Building and Loan Association, ... Plff.

vs } Equity.

George W. Crouch, &c. ... Defts.

By virtue of a Judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Dec., term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder at Public Sale on Monday, the 6th day of Feb., 1905, at 1 o'clock p.m., or thereabout, being County Court day, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

A certain lot or parcel of land situated in the town of Florence, Boone County, Kentucky, and being the property known as old Hotel property owned by J. P. Snyder, and bounded thus:—Beginning at a stone, a corner of John Olsner in Glassford's line; thence with said line n 73 w 137 feet to a stone in the edge of the Lexington pike; thence along the said pike s 41 e 66 feet; s 22 e 41 feet to a stone in the edge of said road, a corner of John Olsner; thence with his line—60½ e 127 feet to the place of beginning.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price of said land the purchaser with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bear inlegal interest from theday of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $159 16.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Mary A. Harrison, ... Equity. ... pltf.

vs

H. L. Harrison, &c., ... defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the April term thereof, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public sale on Monday, the 6th day of Feb., 1905, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabouts, being county court day, upon a credit of 6 & 12 months, the following described property to-wit.

Lying and being in Boone county, Ky., on the Ohio river immediately below Sand Run creek, and bounded thus: Beginning at a stone on the bank of the river, corner of the land formerly owned by the children of John Hunt; thence s 60¾ e 190 poles to the county road; theuce n 50½ e along said county road 68 poles; thence n 60¾ w 220 poles to a point on the bank of the Ohio river; thence down the river bank n 24 w 65 poles to the beginning, containing eighty five (85) acres of land more or less, excepting therefrom the family burying ground and a passway thereto from the public road.

(The Master Commissioner is ordered to start said property at Harrison Clore's bid of $3,200, as shown by said Clore's offer and bond filed herein.)

For the purchase price the purchaser with approved security or securities must execute bonds, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,

GRASS SEEDS, FLOUR AND SALT.

We have it, you want it, come and get our choice Hay, Timothy, Clover, and Straw by

The Bale or Ton.

CORN by the car load or bushel—shelled or car;

OATS, the best, in any quantity;

MILL FEED at lowest price for good quality of feed;

SALT that will not harden in the barrel;

GRASS SEEDS including Timothy, Clover and Blue Grass

THAT WILL GROW.

We are making a specialty of Good Blue Grass Seeds and have a nice lot of Fancy Cleaned Hand-Stripped Seed that has

Been Tested and it Grows.

OUR FLOUR CAN'T BE BEAT!

It is made from the best wheat that can be had, and it makes good bread; Try a Barrel and if you don't like it bring it back and get your money back.

WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

We want your trade, give us a trial and be convinced that you

.....Want Our Goods.....

R B. HUEY & CO.,

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WHAT IS HOME

WITHOUT AN UP-TO-DATE

IRON FENCE?

MAKES HOME ATTRACTIVE.

Lasts a Lifetime. Low Prices-Surprising.

For Best Prices Call or Write to

HENRY QUICK, Hebron, Ky.,

SPECIAL AGENT FOR

The Stewart Iron Works Company,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

FOR SALE

Good Farm of 200 Acres,

Three miles north of Guilford, Ind., fine tobacco land; can be sold in parts. Six room brick residence, barn 40x60. Price reasonable. WARREN TEBBS, Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of D, B, Roberts, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

C. C. ROBERTS, Admr.

Administratrix Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Edward S. Underhill. decd ,must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

JERRY UNDERHILL, Admx.

Administratrix Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of O. A. Vaughn, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

LAURA D VAUGHN, Admx.

KRAUSER'S

Liquid Smoke, 75c

QUART BOTTLE—enough for four hogs—new way to smoke meat—no fires.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.,

—GROCER.—

N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,

COVINGTON, KY.

For Sale—Lot good stove wood and grate wood at $4 90 a cord delivered in Burlington. Apply to Wallace Tanner, Limaburg.

WANTED.—Keeper for toll-gate near Burlington on the Burlington & Petersburg turnpike. Apply to Legrand Gaines or J. E. Smith.

For the Best Flour, Try

OLD KENTUCKY

BLENDED PATENT.

—GUARANTEED.—

ooo

For Something Good, Try

VIRGINIA OAK

WINTER PATENT.

—WARRANTED.—

ooo

Clifford E. Nadaud,

515 Chamber of Commerce,
CINCINNATI, O.
Room 10 Boone Block,
COVINGTON, KY.

FOR RENT.

A good farm of 112 acres, with house and barn 1½ mile from Southern Railroad, near Buffington Station. Apply to Leona B. Stephens, 1049 Scott Street Covington, Ky.

COAL!

I have a yard full of good Raymond City Coal, which I am selling at 15 cents a bushel—80 pounds to to the bushel. J. O. HUEY, Erlanger, Ky.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Roberts as a member of the firm of G. W. & D. B. Roberts or otherwise are hereby notified to meet me at Verona, Boone county, Ky., on Thursday, February 9th, 1905, to settle same.

C. C. ROBERTS, Admr.

RINGS,

WATCHES

and

CLOCKS

LAVED

AND

REPAIRED

KNOWINGLY.

Subscribe for the Recorder

What More Could You Possibly desire in Clothes

Than to have them made from thoroughly tested fashionable fabrics—have them tailored in the best possible manner—have them fit satisfactorily, and have them make you appear a thoroughly dressed man? that's the sort that you get from

PIPER & WALTON,

Merchant Tailors

142 E. Fourth St.,

Cincinnati, - - Ohio.

Rooms 2 and 3.

Our Fall & Winter Goods are now ready for inspection. Call and examine our stock.

In attendance at Burlington County Court days with samples.

"Always Reliable."

W. N. HIND & CO.

Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,

213 W. 5th S., Cincinnati.

Rogers Bros.

General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.

Coal Kept in the Yard.

Country Produce taken in Trade.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST, - Florence, Ky.

Office at Burlington Every Monday. "at Latonia, Ky. Thursday. Friday the remainder of the time at Florence.

Remember I am a Painless Dentist.

PRICES REASONABLE.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

☞ Extracting Teeth is only fun with my method.

Dr. J. L. Adams,

DENTIST,

208 F. & T. Bank Building,

COVINGTON. - KY.

—will be in office—

AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.

AT UNION 1st MONDAY in each month.

Farm for Sale.

145 acres near Woolper creek in Boone county, Ky., now the property of Eneas Parrott, of Lawrenceburg, Ind. This farm has a large tobacco barn, large stable, two story frame house of 8 rooms, good cistern and well at house; large apple orchard and all other fruits. All this property is in first-class condition. For further information apply to B B Grant, who is now on the place, or to D. M. Snyder, Burlington, Ky.

DR. FENNER'S KIDNEY and Backache CURE

All diseases of Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs. Also Rheumatism, Backache, Heart Disease, Gravel, Dropsy, Female Troubles.

Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write Dr. Fenner. He has spent a life time curing just such cases as yours. All consultations Free.

"A gravel lodged in my bladder. After using a few bottles of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure I passed a gravel half as large as a marble. The medicine prevented further formations. I was cured.

W. T. OAKES, Orrix, Va."

Druggists, 50c., $1. Ask for Cook Book—Free.

ST. VITUS' DANCE Sure Cure. Circular. Dr. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

For sale by Aylor & Tinder, Hebron

Take the Recorder.

G. G. Hughes,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Burlington, Ky.

Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Burlington, Ky.

Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D Rouse's Store.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON

K. T. CLAYTON.

Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,

ATTORNEYS-at-LAW

Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029.

Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

D. E. Castleman,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Burlington, Ky.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

W. E. VEST, Real Estate Agent.

Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.

☞ All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK

(Incorporated 1886.)

CAPITAL,..... $50,000

Surplus and undivided profits $0,000

—)o(—

Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptremitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK

INCORPORATED 1893.)

ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY

Capital Stock paid in..... $50,000

Surplus,.. ..... $8.000

Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire

INSURANCE COMPANY,

OF BOONE COUNTY,

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its RATES are LOWER

Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.

HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

in keeping their property insured.

Every Farmer in the County

should take a policy at once.

Edgar Cropper, Pres., Idlewild, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, "
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy.,
R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
W. M. Rogers, Agent, Walton, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington,
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

FARM FOR SALE.

The A. P. Collins Farm Near Richwood, Ky.

Fine blue grass farm in Boone county, Ky., containing about 105 acres; good 6 room house and porches, barn, all kinds of out buildings, good fencing, well watered with springs, wells, cistern and pond. A private avenue runs to the Lexington pike. The house is about 8 minutes walk to Richwood Station C. N & T. P. R. R. Commuter rates to the city, 74c a trip with four trains daily. Telegraph, telephone, express and post-office—four daily mails.

Also, 105 acres, the H. O. Rouse farm on the Union and Florence pike; good house of 7 rooms and all necessary outbuildings; well watered and land mostly in grass Apply to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

C. L. GRIFFITH,

DEALER IN

REAL ESTATE

and Negotiable Notes,

WALTON, KY.

If you want to buy or sell Town Property or FARMS, write me.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS

DESIGNS

COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXX. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1905. NO. 17.

County Correspondence.

KIDVILLE.

January furnished its quota of zero weather.

Our village has been suffering with an epidemic of colds.

The probabilities are that a telephone line will be built from Limaburg via Kidville to Constance.

Judging from the number of new cross cut saws that have been brought to this neighborhood recently, there'll be quite a number of woodsawings in this vicinity in the near future.

o o o

MACVILLE.

Mrs. R. D. Akin is very sick.

The McVille school will close in two weeks.

Mrs. Arnis Sullivan is making a new carpet for her new home.

The river is frozen over at this place, the first time for several years.

Rellin Sullivan is moving to the farm recently purchased of R. B. Huey

Will Ryle anticipates a very cold wave and has replenished his woodpile.

We forgot to mention last week that C. C. Dolph had purchased a horse of Morris Rice.

Tom Staley's little boy, who has been sick of typhoid fever for about two months, does not improve much.

o o o

FLICKERTOWN.

Henry Terrill is no better.

Six weeks more of winter.

Two below zero here one morning last week.

Samuel Hensley will move to Petersburg in the spring.

James White was calling on W. T. Ryle, Thursday evening.

Clyde Akins is staying with uncle Henry Jarrell while he is sick.

Charles Hensley and Lewis Sullivan filled their ice houses last week.

Miss Lena Messmer called on Mrs. James White, Thursday afternoon.

Robert Ferrell lost one of his cattle this week. Cause of its death not known

Ben Hensley gave the young folks a dance, Friday night. All had a pleasant time

Geo. Ruth filled his ice house with 8½ inch Woolper ice, of which it took about 70 loads.

Mrs. Lizzie White and daughter, Hattie, visited at Charles Hensley's last Wednesday.

Richard Kettle gave the young folks a play party on Tuesday night of last week. All had a good time.

James Snyder, who lives on the old Mosby farm, lost most of his household goods by fire, Friday morning. He also lost 120C pounds of tobacco which he had in part of the house.

o o o

WATERLOO.

Feb. 6.—Good winter yet.

Elbert Clore was laid up with grippe last week.

Hubert Clore made a business trip to Hebron, Friday.

W. B. Kelly and wife spent Friday at Z. T. Kelly's near Rabbit Hash.

Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Phipps made our town a call last Wednesday.

Ezra Asplor, of near Burlington, spent Sunday with relatives near here.

Mrs. Anna Rice and daughter spent Wednesday with W. S. Ryle and family.

Rabbit Hash, you had better try to get a pike instead of a free mail delivery.

The many friends of Chas. Stephens are sorry to hear of his serious illness.

Hogan Ryle and sister spent Friday with their cousin, Frank Scott and wife, of East Bend.

Charlie Craig, sr., and Caleb Ryle, of Rabbit Hash, passed through here Tuesday enroute for Cincinnati.

John Satchwill and wife, of Big Bone, spent Monday night and Tuesday at R. K. Aylor's near here.

R. M. Wilson, of Rabbit Hash, passed through here Thursday with a drove of cattle, enroute to Cincinnati.

Some of the Bellevue fox hunters were in this neighborhood one day last week giving reynard a lively chase for about six hours.

E. E. Parsons went to Constance, one day last week, to see his nephew, Robert Wilson, who got his arm broken while putting up ice at the La[illegible] at Ludlow.

o o o

HEBRON.

Every one in this vicinity is through putting up ice.

Walter Crigler and wife gave a singing social last Saturday night.

Norris Riddell, of Ludlow, came down home for the day Sunday several from this place went to see "Ben Hur" at the Grand, last week.

Prayer meeting and Christian Endeavor at the Lutheran church, Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Quick has returned from a six weeks' visit to her son and family in Kenton county.

Mrs. J. W. Clore and daughter, Miss Callie Lee, were visiting relatives in Covington, last week.

Lester Aylor and wife, of Constance, spent several days last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Aylor near here.

When You have a Cold.

The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This Remedy liquefies the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by all Druggists.

COMMISSARY.

Feb. 4—Busy men are seldom afflicted with fits of melancholy.

Jacob Craig and wife were visiting William Slayback near here last Sunday.

Industry keeps the body healthy, the mind clear, the heart whole and purse full.

Jasper McGuire spent Monday with Commissary and the time spent was profitable to both.

Eddie Lonlaker and wife were guests of Flave Louden and wife last Saturday night and Sunday.

Gilly Weisickle is the first to sell tobacco in this neighborhood. He sold to Johnny Hogan at 11c and 7c.

Wood sawings Thursday at Dick Louden's and Joe West's. Quite a nice lot of wood was sawed at each place.

H. F. Parsons has had the gripp several days but did not get so but what he could do his feeding and milking.

Ott Scott and family are expected to arrive here every day. He will move back here, and live in Petersburg for the present.

Dance at Doc Clore's Tuesday night. Doc is a pleasant entertainer, and his guests are always made feel at home. A pleasant time was had by all.

Mrs. Blufe Adams and Mrs. Ab Gaines, of Burlington; Frank Riley and wife, near here, spent Wednesday with J. C. Lillard.

Rabbit Hash, you would better apply to Commissary for information how to proceed to get a R. R Commissary is a larger and more experienced man than our Congressman.

If the telephone line from Petershurg to Kite's store is a failure, it will not be for want of effort on the part of the president, W. T. Ryle. He is riding almost every day early and late.

We do not intend to quarrel with any of our fellow citizens over terms, but when a letter reaches Commissary directed to the "Eminent Citizen," we know it is meant for us and bust the envelope accordingly.

James Feely, of Sunnyside, returned last Wednesday evening from a three weeks' visit in the vicinity of Idlewild, looking for a location for the coming year. Mr. Feely will probably move to the farm of Charles Finn.

News reached us Friday of the burning of James Snyder's house about four o'clock that morning, and of the death of Mrs. McMullen, wife of Marion McMullen, now of Covington, but once a citizen of McVille for many years.

Old Reliable called on J. J. Lillard, last Monday an hour or two, and at Commissary, but did not find us at home. He then went to Xen Scott's where he filled his bread basket and in the evening went to Rabbit Hash.

John Walton, there were three kids but now there is but one. One died with colic and the other with influenza. Jasper says you would better send down a bottle of Mrs. Sothes winding syrup to carry the other through the teething period.

T. J. Walton has it up his snoot badly. He was foolish enough to think he could walk on the ice on a pond where his cattle went without breaking through, but Jack went through and wet one foot and is now sneezing two ways for Sunday.

o o o

FRANCESVILLE.

Harry Roberts received 12 cents a pound for his tobacco.

Most or quite all, have filled their ice houses with fine ice.

Mr. Add Batterson will move to Bromley as soon as the weather will permit.

Clifford Tanner, of Hebron, was visiting here last Saturday night and Sunday.

Dr. R. H. Crisler, of Ludlow, reports the Boone county colony, there as doing well.

Miss Blanche Moore, of Addyston, Ohio, was visiting her sisters near here last week.

They have been walking across the river on the ice at the Port since last Wednesday.

Mrs. C. D. Scothorn and Mrs. C. W. McFee were guests of Mrs. H. Kilgour, last Wednesday.

The many friends of Geo. McGlasson will be glad to hear that he is recovering from an operation for a tumor in his side.

The Roth Pork Packing Co., of Cincinnati, sent a man to this neighborhood to secure ferrets for ridding their establishment of rats and mice.

Mrs. Temp Gaines has been quite sick. Among those sick are Joseph Graham and wife, Manilus Goodridge and family and Miss Adella Dimmitt.

Rev. W. S. Taylor preached his last sermon at Sand Run, last Sunday, and Sand Run is now without a pastor. Rev. Taylor has four churches for which to preach.

W. H. Graves had a woodsawing in Jacob Tanner's woods, last Wednesday, followed by a party for the young people on Thursday night. All report a good time.

Our enterprising neighbor, C. W. Goodridge, has sent the papers to the proper authorities signed by a number of citizens for a R. F. D. route through here from Ludlow via Hebron, Taylorsport, Francesville and Bullittsville.

Mr. Seymore Wilson was around last week securing members for the society known as Junior Order. He had the required number but will take any more who wish to join. Their meetings are to be held in the Hall at Bullittsville.

Tell your Idlewild correspondent that Daniel Boone died in Missouri September 26 1820, in his 86th year. In 1845 the Kentucky legislature had the remains of him and his wife removed and buried with honor in the cemetery at Frankfort.

The local sick are reported on the improve.

PLATTSBURG.

Larkin Acra is visiting relatives here.

Owen Beemon sold a good work mare the other day.

Tom Hensley came home last Friday from school quite sick.

James Aylor had a fine sow to die and leave eight nice pigs.

Ben Hensley and wife spent Sunday with Mrs. Laura Sebree.

Calven Beemon has caught about $80 worth of furs, this winter.

Chas. Stephens and wife visited at Mrs. Geo. Aylor's, Sunday.

Woodford Sullivan and Edward Botts were among our callers last week.

o o o

BULLITTSVILLE.

Everybody has grippe.

Kenneth Baisly is improving slowly.

The groundhog's first rample was of the real goods.

Mrs. Lucy Walton and Miss Pearl Crisler, of Petersburg, spent Thursday at C. S. Baisly's.

Come again Sunnyside, the best communications have to stand their share of prejudiced abuse.

E. T. Krutz and Ennis Nixon, of Petersburg, passed here enroute to the city, one day last week.

Herbert Kirkpatrick, the Burlington fur dealer, made a tour of this neighborhood last week. He reports that article very scarce.

Valentine Utzinger has been entertaining a family of nice blood hoils for several days. Dr. Hays lanced a couple of them last Thursday.

We were sorry to hear of the burning of Jas. H. Snyder's residence near Gasburg. We had an experience along that line and know how to sympathize with others thus afflicted.

Some men who have a surplus of self-confidence and imagine they have heroism to match, imagine that heroism consists in not being afraid to say mean things about others.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

Thomas Richards has typhoid fever.

Lou Thomson has a severe case of gripp.

Harry Tanner is building a poultry house.

Communion services at Hopeful next Sunday.

Mrs. Fannie Tanner is very sick of severe cold.

Juddy Tanner, colored, is seriously sick of heart trouble.

J. P. Snyder, of Erlanger, was in our burg last Saturday.

Otis Rouse bought of H. O. Rouse 11 acres of land last week at $40 per acre.

After a sojourn here for about two weeks J. L. Rouse left for his home in Georgia.

W. N. Surface, who was on the sick list for several days, is at his post of duty again.

After a sojourn at Florence of about two years, John Vaughn moved back to his farm, last week.

Pony Rouse, after being confined to his room for several weeks with paralysis, is very much improved and is able to be out again.

H. O Rouse and sister, Paulina, and Lou Whitson and wife left last Tuesday for Spring Place, Ga., where they expect to make their future home.

We had some pretty cold weather last week. but Enoch Rouse put in a new up to-date heater, the latter part of the week and it has moderated several degrees since.

A large crowd attended H. O. Rouses' sale last week, and everything brought satisfactory prices. Horses brought from $16 to $92 50; cattle, $17 to $37; hogs $10 to $14.75; sheep $3 75 per head; corn 62 to 63 cents per bushel, and other things in proportion.

Mesdames Susie Surface and Jennie Rice experienced some inconvenience in getting home from Cincinnati, last Wednesday. After the train which they went on crossed the bridge near the Lagoon, the structure gave away, which stopped travel between Cincinnati and Erlanger, and their only way home was to take the L. & N. to Walton and come from there home. They arrived home about 11 p. m.

o o o

CONSTANCE.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Habeile visited relatives here Sunday.

Miss Dorah Kahr entertained with a party, Tuesday night.

Miss Eila England is visiting relatives at Sekitan, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hood were visiting relatives here Wednesday.

According to the ground-hog we will have six more weeks of winter.

Miss Lena Otten was visiting her mother and sisters, here Sunday.

Wm. Masters will move to the house of Dr. A. Murat, Monday.

Mrs. M. E. Woods will give an entertainment at the close of school.

The river being frozen over affords fine skating for our boys and girls.

Miss Louise Zimmer was visiting her sister, Mrs. C. C. Richmond, at Riverside, last week.

Messrs. Walter and Fred Klaserner took their best girls to see Ben Hur Saturday night.

Mrs. M. E Wood and her sister, Miss Olga Hann, were summoned to the bedside of their parents, who are seriously ill.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to be ware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you, is our name on the wrapper. Look for it, on all Dr. King's or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E BUCKLEN, & CO., Chicago, Ill., and Windsor, Canada. For sale by all Druggists.

GASBURG.

[Feb. 5, 1814. Delayed in transmission]

Col. Johnson's big bull dog got mashed to death in John Houston's wolf trap.

Sam Mosby has a likely negro wench he would like to trade for horses or cattle or both.

Patrollers caught Kirtley's negro man, Ben, without a pass and gave him a severe cowhiding.

Bears have been very destructive on hogs this winter. They raid somebody's hog pen almost nightly.

While Sam Johnson was breaking flax the hards took fire and destroyed most everything around.

Expectation has been on tiptoe for sometime on account of a report that a steemboat would pass down the river on its way from Pittsburg to N. O.

Our particular women are busy with spining wheels and looms, making material to clothe the soldiers under Gen. Harrison and Dick Johnson.

Kittlehead John Grant returned lately from the army, near the great lakes, where he was shot in the knee by an Indian and disabled for further duty.

The Keal boat, Christopher Columbus, passed up from New Orleans to Pittsburg, last week heavily loaded with sugar and molasses, 57 days out. It took 3 hours of hard pulling, pushing and cussing to get her through the swift water in front of Laughery bar.

Thos Allen started one of his black boys to the water-mill on Woolper with a grist of corn in one end of the sack and a rock in the other to balance it. The horse scared and threw nigger, rock, corn and all off, the rock falling on the nigger hurting him badly.

Robert Mosby and Mary Spangler were married during the holidays. The bride was handsomely attired in a linsey dress of her own making from the spinning wheel up. The groom looked every inch a man in his regulation suit of brown jeans. Robert Kirtley, the youthful pastor of Bullittsburg church, performed the ceremony.

Col. Sebree and John Horsley, who took a flatboat load of pork to New Orleans, have returned. They gave thrilling accounts of their return afoot through the Indian country. They came through Nashville, Tenn., and met Gen. Jackson raising a large army to meet the British at New Orleans.

Col. John J. Flournoy, who lives in the big house in Petersburg, received a clock from Philadelphia 2 or 3 weeks ago, the first one in this vicinity and probably the first in the county. People from near and far go to see the wonderful machine. Mrs. Parker's black man, Jack, went to see it last Sunday. When he returned he said it had just struck 17 and was clocking again.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

The snow has been very fine on the wheat.

Glad to report Kenneth Baisly improving.

Splendid roads and excellent winter weather.

James T. Gaines and wife are again located in their comfortable home near here.

Mr. John Stephens is with his son, Ben, at Ashland, Kansas, and is enjoying good health.

Wm. Grant has returned home after a visit with his son Ben, who lives on the Kirtley place.

Query—Please name the three ships that were in the service of Columbus when he discovered America.

Mrs. Milton Souther and your correspondent spent Tuesday very pleasantly with Mrs. Owen Allen, of Petersburg.

Miss Hattie Kirtley has returned, and is with her sister, Mrs. W. L Cropper, where several of the family are quite sick.

Mrs. Milton Souther entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Graves, of Hebron, and Mrs. Nigman and daughter, of Covington, last week.

Rev Early was called to Belleview, last Saturday, to preach the funeral of Mrs. McMullen, an old citizen of this county, who died in Dayton, Campbell county.

Mrs. B. R. Gaines, Miss Ida Berkshire and other friends were entertained by Mrs. Lucy Walton, of Petersburg, last Tuesday, that being an anniversary of her birth.

Sunday was a typical winter day, but only a small congregation heard Rev. Early's splendid sermon, at the conclusion of which Mrs. Lizzie Graves united with the Christian church.

At 6 a. m., last Friday, the house on Mrs. Mary Terrill's farm, and occupied by James Snyder, was burned. Among the articles lost by Mr Snyder were 80 bushels of potatoes and 1,800 pounds of stripped tobacco, besides his household goods. A dog that was in the house gave the alarm or the entire family might have been caught in the fire. The building was insured for $400 in the Boone county company.

o o o

BIG BONE.

Not much tobacco sold yet.

Miss Bessie Dunn, of Westwood, O., is visiting friends here.

James Huey and nephew have arrived from the south, and each has a bad cold.

Corn sells rapidly at $2 75; hay, $10 to $12 per ton; hogs plentiful but no buyers.

Aunt Betsy Finnell died on Sunday and was buried at Big Bone on Tuesday. Her age was 83.

W. R. Miller took a load of turkeys and a calf to market, one day last week. He received 15 cents a pound for turkeys, and $12 00 for the calf.

One of the prettiest weddings here in long time was that of Miss Eva Howlett and General Lytle Webb, of Gallatin county, at the Baptist church. The attendents were two of the groom's Warsaw friends and Misses Pearl Allen and Lute Miller. After the ceremony a delightful spread was enjoyed at the residence of the bride's father. They will reside in Warsaw. Mr. Webb is an expert harness maker.

VERONA.

Feb. 6.—The roads are in good condition.

J. G Kennedy is preparing to build a large barn in the spring.

Stock feed is beginning to get scarce in this vicinity, owing to the continued cold weather.

The Laing Bros. from Cincinnati will give a rare entertainment in the Hall on Feb. 10th.

As the old proverb goes six weeks more winter, as the ground hog saw his shadow on the 2d.

A. C. Roberts opened the wall paper season at Walton, last week, by the displaying of samples.

E. C. Showers received 10 and 6 cts. per pound for his tobacco instead of 8 and 6 as stated last week

The public school here proposes to have a tax levied for the purpose of painting and insuring the school building.

Miss Edith M. Drake, teacher of Elocution in the League Institute, recently gave a Recital here. Her native talent and high degree of culture merited the commendations she received from all who heard her. Miss Drake's class gave an entertainment on Feb. 2nd. An interesting program was well rendered.

o o o

BELLEVIEW.

Feb. 6.—Lewis Acra and sister Minnie, of Indiana, are visiting relatives here and at McVille.

Fine skating on the river here.

Uncle Lewis Snyder is still poorly.

T. J. Clore went to the city, Sunday.

Jake and Dony Cook spent Sunday on Woolper.

Gillie Weisicle will soon be a resident of our town.

The Daisy is frozen in the ice at the foot of Loughery island

Prof. E. S. Ryle's school closed last Friday. He gave entire satisfaction.

E. E. Kelly butchered two and Flick Bros. six nice porkers, last Wednesday.

Our darling mail carriers were the first to cross the river on the ice at this point.

Hundreds of people have crossed the river on the ice here and at McVille. It is a novel proceeding for them.

All those who desire that base ball be played here the coming season are requested to assemble at E. E. Kelly's store next Friday night.

Sam McConnell, of East Bend, broke through the ice while crossing the river at Rabbit Hash. Help, fortunately, was near at hand or he would have drowned.

The big tow boat, Jim Wood, is frozen tight in the ice just above Patriot, and is consuming 1,800 bushels of coal per day keeping up steam. Her wheel is kept going and steam is used to keep ice from forming on it.

Mrs. Marion McMullen, who died at Dayton, Ky., on the 21 inst., was buried here by the side of her daughter, Annie. She had been an active member of the Baptist church for 32 years, and had an extensive circle of friends and relatives in this county, who are very much grieved over her death. The deceased leaves a husband, four sons, two daughters, eight sisters and two brothers to mourn the death of a faithful wife, a kind and loving mother, and a devoted sister. She was 56 years, 8 months and 19 days old. She died of pneumonia.

o o o

LIMABURG.

Owen Aylor is improving.

Six more weeks of bad weather.

E. L. Aylor is agent for the Acme Harrow. Call on him for price lists.

The Limaburg school is preparing to have an entertainment on the 22nd inst.

W. C. Rouse purchased a good work horse at H. O. Rouse's sale, Monday. Price, $90.

Noah Craven and Lloyd Weaver have been on the sick list during the past week.

Chas. Youell hauled several loads of hay last week, which he bought from Owen Aylor.

Mesdames Martha Souther, Amanda Tanner and Delila Utz were pleasant guests of Mrs. Jerry Beemon, last Wednesday.

o o o

HAMILTON.

Feb. 7.—The river is frozen and people are walking across.

J. W. Kite is on the sick list.

Stripping tobacco is the order of the day in this neighborhood.

Sam Wilson and wife were pleasant guests of J. E. Markesbery and wife, last Saturday night.

George Huff who has been working in Aurora for some time, is spending a few days at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Markesbery spent last Sunday with J. W. Feldhaus and family, near Grange Hall.

Jake Rich, of near Big Bone, was the pleasant guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Kite, last Saturday night and Sunday.

Charley Ewalt carried the mail from Hamilton to Walton several days last week while Tom Miller, regular mail man, made a business trip to the city.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs M I Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by all Druggists.

A friend called Monday and said, "I never bought a box of blacking nor subscribed for a paper in my life, and I now intend to break my record—put me down for a year's subscription to the RECORDER." And down he went.

WALTON.

Miss Helen Merci Schuster, the talented dramatic reader of Cincinnati, who is the Directoress of The Flowers Academy of Speech and Dramatic Art, will give an entertainment in behalf of Walton Graded School, on the evening of the 18th inst Her recitations and readings will be interspersed with vocal and piano music by well known talent of the Queen City.

o o o

RABBIT HASH.

Feb. 6—F. A. Utz, of Florence, bought some cattle here last week.

Noah West has a sick baby.

Elbert C. Ryle, of Rising Sun, spent Sunday with relatives here.

J. H. Walton put up some nine inch ice last week.

Fillmore Ryle, of East Bend, gave the young people a dance, Wednesday night.

Z. T. Kelly is delivering his tobacco to H. D. Brady today, for 7 cents per pound.

Mrs. Wealthy Scott has been quite sick. Her sister, Mrs. Bettie Sullivan, is with her.

Miss Grace Clore, of Bellevue, is staying with Mrs. Colin Kelly, who has been sick.

L. H. Crisler, vet., made a professional visit to O. J. Harris' farm in East Bend a few days ago.

In an item of last week we were made to say Geo. Ward instead of Geo. Walton is under the doctor's care.

The young people are rehearsing for an entertainment, which they will give at the K. of P. hall in the near future.

Chas. and Wm. Bodee hauled R. L. Pratt's household goods down from Covington, one day last week. Bob came with them and his wife will follow later.

The river is frozen over here and many are crossing on the ice. Sam McConnell, in an attempt to get a shinney ball, broke through and narrowly escaped being drowned Friday.

o o o

MIDWAY.

Several from here attended the wedding at Big Bone church, Sunday.

Thomas Ross has moved to the Murphy farm near Big Bone Springs.

According to tradition the ground hog will have to go away back and sit down.

The sick are too numerous to name, but none are considered in a dangerous condition.

Aunt Maudy Frazier, an old colored lady, who lives on Wm. Wilson's place, is very low of consumption.

Miss Pearl Hughes left here last week for Hume, Illinois, where she will be the guest of her brother Geo.

The many friends of Miss Kate Sleet, who has been quite sick at Latonia, will be glad to hear she is improving.

John Hartman is selling his personal effects preparatory to moving to Wisconsin, where he expects to make his future home.

The last report we have from John Taylor, who went to Hot Springs, Arkansas, about six weeks ago for his health, is not very flattering.

Miss Willa Aylor, of Gunpowder, Misses Sallie and Elizabeth Finnell and Miss Mamie Stewart, of Hume, were guests of Miss Janie Jones, Sunday.

Ben French, while out hunting one day last week, shot himself through the arm with a rifle. The ball passed between the bones doing but little harm.

A pack of hounds have been running a fox through this neighborhood about once a week for some time. Some say they belong to Geo. Burkett, of Union, but be that as it may they surely make reynard get up and go.

Died, on the 2d inst., of whooping cough, little 10 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Snow. Funeral services Friday evening at the Baptist church by Bro. S. M. Adams. The remains were interred in the Baptist cemetery.

I desire to thank all those who were so kind to me and visited me while I was disabled. O. J. RYLE.

Col. William Phillipps, cashier for A. S. Cates, Erlanger, was sojourning in Burlington Monday night and Tuesday.

Senator McCreary has secured a pension of $8 a month for Mrs. Henry D. Malory, with back pay from the date of her husband's death.

Albert Snyder has improved very much in the last ten days. He is entirely free from pain, and has a pretty good appetite for a sick man.

H. F. Blase, the old reliable merchant tailor, of Covington, has an advertisement in this issue conveying information of great reduction in the price of clothing.

NOTICE.—When I went to fill out the policies for the applications accepted by the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, last Monday, I discovered I had very few blank policies, and as it will require several days in which to have the polices priuted, the delivery of the policies will, as a consequence, be delayed. So don't get uneasy; the property in the accepted policies is insured, beginning at 12 m. last Monday. M SOUTHER, Secretary.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by all Druggists, at 50c a bottle.

INTERESTING STATE NEWS

REPUBLICANS IN CONTROL.

Amended Capitol Site Bill Passed By the Kentucky Senate.

Frankfort, Feb. 2.—The senate passed the house bill selecting the Hunt site, with the amendments agreed on by the conference committee. The vote stood 25 to 4, and was a surprise. It was not regarded as an administration victory, for had it not been for the anti-administration senators and the republicans the bill would have been defeated. Senator Cox (rep.), of Mason, is credited with some shrewd move that helped to bring about the agreement in the conference committee. It is believed that the bill, as amended, will have a hard time to pass the house, as Representative Wells, the author of the house bill, will speak against it, and several other members who voted for it before will vote against it in its present form. The republicans probably hold the key to the situation and can pass or defeat the bill, but it is said that only two republicans, Black and Hanna, will vote for it.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 3.—The house of representatives refused to concur in the senate amendment to the house Hunt site bill, which provided for $20,000 additional to buy more ground in front of the site. The other amendments were concurred in. The bill now goes back to the senate, and a vote taken as to whether or not the senate will recede from that amendment. If it refuses a conference committee will come next, which means that another week will be added to the session. Eight or ten senators are absent, and it is quite probable that no vote on the receding proposition will be taken before Monday.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 4.—The senate refused to recede from its amendments to the house Hunt site bill, in which the house refused to concur in, and a conference committee was appointed to try to reach a compromise. The amendments proposed to increase the appropriation $20,000 to buy additional grounds for the site, and to make the appropriation independent of the million-dollar one of last session. Both the senate and house adjourned till Monday at noon in memory of Gov. Goebel, who died five years ago.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

Girl Murdered and Man Found Dying From Bullet Wound.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 4.—In a room at the Laclede hotel, a rooming house, Mrs. Nellie Kleinstuber, of 411 East Walnut street, was found dead with a bullet wound in the back of her head, and Gus Stiefvaler, of 819 Marshall street, was found fatally wounded with a bullet hole in the side of his head. The man had evidently shot the woman and himself. The woman was the wife of Oscar Kleinstuber, but had lived apart from him for several years, and went by her maiden name—Nellie Shaw. She worked at the Falls City woolen mills. Stiefvaler, who is a pipefitter, had been keeping company with the woman for two years, was extremely jealous of her, and on several occasions threatened her. They went to the lodging house and registered as man and wife. Stiefvaler claims the woman killed herself, and that he then shot himself. There is little or no chance for his recovery.

Poison in the Coffee.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 4.—The lives of 20 boarders in the Ansonia apartment house, in Parkland, were endangered by poison in the coffee. The Negro chef, Anthony Haley, drank some of the beverage before sending it to be served, and became ill. He is in a serious condition. He accuses a domestic. The detectives are at work.

Old Soldier Frozen To Death.

Greenup, Ky., Feb. 3.—John Allman, a soldier of the confederacy, was found frozen to death in his shanty a few miles from here. He lived alone ever since the close of the war, and has no known relatives in this country. He was a native of Scotland.

Explosion in a Sawmill.

Madisonville, Ky., Feb. 4.—The sawmill of Anton Brucken, six miles from Madisonville, was blown up by the explosion of the engine and James Hendricks, 29, was instantly killed. The mill owner, Anton Brucken, lives in Evansville, Ind.

A Postmaster Operated On.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 2.—B. F. Bronaugh, Lexington & Eastern railroad agent and postmaster at Montrose, in this county, was brought to the St. Joseph's hospital here and operated on for appendicitis. He is the son-in-law of Representative W. I. Hughes.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 3.—Following is offerings on the Louisville market, including all the warehouses: Burley, 735 hhds; dark, 112 hhds; total, 847 hhds. Original inspections, 601 hhds; reviews, 156 hhds; rejections, 146 hhds.

Newspaper at Campton.

Campton, Ky., Feb. 4.—A corporation has been organized at this place for the purpose of publishing a weekly newspaper here. The paper will be democratic in politics, and the first issue will be published about February 9.

River Closed at Henderson.

Henderson, Ky., Feb. 3.—The Ohio is practically closed here, where an ice gorge has formed just above and against the piers of the Henderson bridge. The river is falling here. The river will freeze across.

WRIT OF PROHIBITION.

It Was Granted To the Attorneys of Hargis By the Appellate Court.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1.—The Kentucky court of appeals granted a temporary writ of prohibition against Judge Watts Parker, of the Fayette city court, restraining him from proceeding under the indictment recently found in that court against James Hargis and others charging complicity in the murder of Town Marshal Cockrill, of Jackson, and from attempting to take the persons charged into custody pending final action by the court of last resort here. The court then set the case down for oral argument before it on Friday, February 10, next, when it will pass finally on the motion of the persons charged for a permanent writ of prohibition. In the meantime the defendants are at liberty to visit Lexington or go elsewhere without fear of arrest.

Attorneys for the Hargises say that when the appellate court passes upon the motion for a writ their clients will appear in whichever court has jurisdiction of the charge against them. No application will be made for troops to bring the Hargises to Lexington until after the court here has acted finally in the matter of jurisdiction.

Jackson, Ky., Feb. 1.—Judge James Hargis expressed himself as being very much pleased with the granting by the court of appeals of a writ of prohibition restraining further proceedings in the James Cockrill case by the Fayette county authorities.

FIRE CLAY PROPERTIES.

Ohio Capital Is Interested Extensively in Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 4.—Capitalists of Cincinnati and Hamilton, O., are in conference with Louisville business men regarding the location in this city of a plant for the manufacture of fire brick and all fire-clay products, the erection of which will cost more than $75,000.

About 500 acres in Madison and Rockcastle counties, which are said to be rich in deposits of fire clay, have been purchased by the Ohio and the Louisville men.

An effort is being made to secure the location of the plant in Cincinnati, but the railroad facilities in regard to the shipping of the clay from Madison and Rockcastle counties are considerably more direct to and from Louisville than to and from Cincinnati, and this, it is thought, will influence the decision in favor of this city.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING.

Cynthiana Will Erect One To Cost About $35,000.

Cynthiana, Ky., Feb. 3.—The board of education of the city of Cynthiana met to award the contract to the architect having the best plans for the new city school building, which is to cost $35,000. Five men are on hand with their plans, among them Hayward & Weber, of Cincinnati. The board did not fully adopt plans, but will closely inspect plans of contending architects. Much interest and lively competition among various architects is shown.

The Feltners Arrested.

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 4.—A telegram from Sheriff McCord announces the arrest of Moses Feltner at Hazard. The officers, McCord and Stokely, will start at once for Winchester with the prisoner. Felix Feltner is also under arrest at his home in Leslie county, but is too sick to be brought here.

Death Sentence Affirmed.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 2.—The court of appeals affirmed the death sentence given George B. Warner, of Louisville, for the murder of Pulaski Leeds, superintendent of machinery for the L. & N. railroad. Warner was a discharged employe and shot Leeds without warning, while he was sitting in his office.

Divorced Couple Remarry.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Feb. 4.—Doc Jenkins, of Bowling Green, and Mrs. Sallie Jenkins, of this county, were married near town by Rev. A. P. Lyon. After living together for ten years they were divorced, and after a separation of 12 years were remarried.

The Tallest Elk Weds.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 2. — Scott Brown, a wealthy young farmer of this county, left for Louisville to marry Miss Lillian Thompson, a teacher of this city. Brown is six feet eight inches tall and won the prize at the Elks' reunion in Baltimore in 1903 for being the tallest Elk in the United States.

Will Burn Natural Gas.

Covington, Ky., Feb. 4.—Covington will soon burn natural gas instead of coal. It has become known that the Kenton Oil, Gas and Mineral Co. has quietly held for several months a gas well producing 300,000 cubic feet a day.

Paducah Streets To Be Paved.

Paducah, Ky., Feb. 4.—The board of public works selected 52 blocks of street to be paved this year with brick, asphalt or some other material. The cost of the improvements will be in the neighborhood of $250,000.

THE TRAGEDY OF BEAUTY.

"Moral Muscles" Are, After All, Best Equipment for the Battle of Life.

One of the best-known models in the city, disheartened by trouble, early weighed the matter of life and death, and deciding that the one was scarcely worth while, calmly went to the other, says the New York Evening Telegram. He was still in the prime of manhood, was exceedingly handsome, and had an almost perfect physique.

Men less favored by nature had envied him her gifts. He was a joy to the artists, who caught the beauty of line, the strength of muscle, and loved to reproduce the firm, healthful texture of the flesh.

The very hope of the hereafter is based on the idea of beauty. In its varied forms it is the actual joy of life. Though this man possessed it it was an impotent charm against the things that beset him.

What was a delight to the eyes of others was to him so much clay shaped by the hands of the Master Molder, nothing more.

It is pathetic that it was so, yet if his character had been as finely formed as his body, he would probably be alive now. A perfect character has tremendous power of resistance, and the spirit of hopefulness that haloes it with gold so heartens one that he never despairs.

It often happens that men and women who possess all the externals of beauty are penalized by the absolute lack of the elements that make strong character, just as some imposing royal bloom of California lacks perfume. On the other hand the most beautiful character may be cabined in an ugly, distorted body.

External beauty is a possession for which the owner is not indebted to himself. It is nature's endowment—nature who is so wise, yet at times so seemingly prodigal and inconsistent.

The inner beauty which defies the ravages of age, growing to a ripened fullness as the years wing on, is a thing of careful cultivation, of constant vigil; a growth which may be fostered amid the unlovely surroundings of poverty or in the velvet embraces of wealth.

Each day that we live we are character building. Some lives are full of symmetry and strength; others take on a fragile delicacy or a lasting rugged simplicity.

Some again are full of sharp angles and so faultily constructed that an observer may see that the builder cannot rear it to any great height. Some, too, there are that never rise much higher than their inadequate foundations.

The real strength and beauty of a man are in his character. A man well muscled morally is better equipped to fight the battle of life than he who possesses only the prowess of Hercules.

THE STREETS OF LONDON.

Are Inferior to Those of New York in Some Respects as Here Shown.

London has 3,000 miles of streets. There are 600,000 buildings upon them, of which a considerable portion are rear buildings.

New York, smaller than London in population, has 2,700 miles of streets, of which 450 miles are in Manhattan, 350 in the Bronx, 750 in Brooklyn, 800 in Queens and about 300 in Richmond. In Queens and Richmond there are more than 500 miles of unpaved streets. In Manhattan, except in the small Inwood district, all the streets are paved, and are better paved than the streets of London, says the New York Sun.

The number of buildings in New York is 250,000, materially less than the number in London, but New York has a very much larger number of higher buildings than the English capital.

London has many more by-streets, side-roads, alleys, lanes and squares than New York; it has more crooked streets, it has more small streets, it has more byways than New York, but in proportion to its population it has fewer streets, fewer arteries of travel, than New York, and as a consequence the traffic of London is more often congested at certain points than the traffic of New York.

While in New York the growth of population and of business is along and corresponds to the growth of main throughfares, in London it proceeds irregularly, with the result that improvements in the way of cutting through the widening streets are constantly being made necessary.

Proportioned to the population, Philadelphia and Washington have more street space than New York, but no European city except London compares with it. London has more vehicular traffic on its streets than New York, but less car traffic.

Those Dreadful Genders.

The English language is supposed to be very simple in the matter of genders. But foreigners who triumphantly handle questions of gender of inanimate things in their own languages often have their difficulties with the English. A Frenchman recently came to grief over his English. "I fear I cockroach too much upon your time, madam," he remarked politely to his hostess. "I'encroach, monsieur," she smilingly corrected him. He threw up his hands in despair. "Ah, your English genders!" he sighed.—N. Y. Tribune.

Millions for Drink.

According to Mulhall's dictionary of statistics, the amount of money annually expended on alcoholic liquors in the United States is $325,000,000, $15,000,000 going for wine, $210,000,000 for beer, $5,000,000 for cider and $95,000,000 for spirits. One hundred and eleven million dollars are estimated to be paid in taxes.

A VALENTINE PARTY.

BY HELEN BUTLER STRAIT.

An enjoyable valentine entertainment may be arranged by introducing subjects of conversation on the topic plan, the attractive silhouette being the means of bringing the couples together.

In a topic party an equal number of guests of each sex should be invited if possible. If not, either the gentlemen may choose two partners if there be an excess of ladies, or a portion of the ladies may pose as gentlemen, or vice versa.

The programme containing the topics to be discussed should be neatly written on cards, or engraved if desired, and enclosed with the invitations issued.

Conversation partners being exchanged with each subject discussed, five minutes is sufficient to allow each topic as several minutes will lapse in changing partners. The hostess, if the party is small and informal, or an assistant if the affair is more formal, should distribute the silhouettes to the gentlemen present, each one of whom will immediately choose the partner indicated by the shadow picture which he holds, and converse with her on the topic in order until time is called by the hostess, by tapping a bell.

The picture should be inclosed in envelopes or folded, and after the gentleman is assured that his guess is correct, he surrenders the silhouette to the hostess who again places it in an envelope for redistribution.

The topics may be suited to the occasion as,—

Origin of the day we celebrate.

Musical affinity or affinity of the professions.

Propinquity.

Cupid's havoc among our friends.

Telepathy.

The bachelor man.

The bachelor maid.

Reminiscences of the day.

If desired live topics of the day may be substituted. All topics on the valentine list should be discussed strictly impersonally. Indeed conversation at all parties or receptions should be impersonal, this being one of the highest tests of true culture and refinement.

Silhouettes should be made of all lady guests prior to the evening in question, it being preferable to keep the gentlemen in ignorance of this part of the entertainment.

These silhouettes may be secured easily by placing the subject opposite the light, neither higher nor lower, as near the wall as is convenient and far enough from the light to produce a sharp outline.

Heavy light brown wrapping paper will do nicely for the drawing paper, which should be firmly held or tacked against the wall, while a careful pencil outline is drawn of the subject. Use care in drawing the hair, following the pompadour or curly head with pencil point faithfully, as there is much character in a stray lock. This drawing should include head and shoulders, and may be cut to the line with a pair of sharp scissors.

If desired to make the entertainment truly artistic and effective the silhouette may be reduced to cabinet size by means of a pantograph, an inexpensive little mechanical device that anyone can manipulate. Or if the hostess or a friend possesses a camera the silhouette may be pinned to a dark background and photographed. If reduced by the aid of the pantograph, the effect is enhanced either by cutting the silhouette from white paper and mounting on a dark card, or from dark paper and mounting on a light card.

Favors or prizes may be given if desired to the ones most apt in identifying the partners. A pretty favor may be made by photographing the silhouettes in a group.

Topic parties with or without the silhouette are always desirable, as wall-flowers are then an impossibility, and the plain girl often converses as well as the pretty one.

Should it be desired to dispense with the silhouette, a few more topics may be added and the change of partners be simply progressive at a tap of the bell.

The game should not last longer than one hour, after which the guests may indulge in a few minutes' general conversation before saying their "Pleasant evening" to the hostess.—Washington Home Magazine.

Delicate Hint.

Friend—Perfume on your handkerchief, eh? I didn't know you were such a fop.

Married Man—I'm not; my wife puts it on them when she wants to remind me to bring home something at night. She says it is better than tying a string on my finger.—Detroit Free Press.

Benevolent Scheme.

"I'm going to endow one of the universities," said the millionaire—"going to establish a chair."

"Chair of what?" asked his friend.

"Well, I don't know what you'd call it for short, but it's a chair that's badly needed—a chair to teach graduates how to get a job."—Brooklyn Life.

Their Usefulness.

"Don't you think these valentines are useless and absurd?"

"Not at all," answered the practical business man. "Why, at this time of year they sell better than anything else in the shop."—Washington Star.

Little Chance of Osculation.

Miss Stalmate—No man who kisses the wine cup can kiss me.

Ferguson—And I suppose it is only the man who has kissed the wine cup has any desire to kiss you? Awfully awkward, isn't it?—Boston Transcript.

MERRY ST. VALENTINE.

The Lovers' Own Day Comes Again with Its Happy Observances.

There is no good reason for believing that Cupid and St. Valentine were on particularly familiar terms. The careful judgment of centuries has not shown any evidence that the old priest and martyr was the least concerned in matters of love. Nevertheless, Valentine has for centuries been known as the patron saint of sweethearts. He was a bishop of Rome during the third century, and is said to have achieved great success in converting the pagan Romans to Christianity. The wrath of the emperor, Marcus Aurelius Claudius, was for this reason visited upon him and he was ordered to be beaten outside the city, and later to be brought within and beheaded. The day of his death was February 14, 270 A. D. When the saint came to be placed in the calendar his name was given to the day of his death, and thus was created a festival which offset that of the Lupercalia, which was observed the 15th of the same month. Now the feast of the Lupercalia was an ancient Roman celebration in honor of Pan and Juno. Among the numerous ceremonies known to have taken place at this time was that of placing in a box slips on which were written names of the young women present. These were drawn out by the young men, and each youth had to offer a gift to the maid who fell to his lot, and to become her partner while the merriment lasted. As the Lupercalian feast and St. Valentine's day were so nearly coincident they came in time to be observed on the same day. And as has so often happened with pagan feasts and modern days of special meaning or interest, the significance as well as the time of these two gradually merged into one.

In due time England took up with much zest the celebration of this lovers' holiday. It found its way also into Scotland and France, and later, of course, into America. An early English writer says: "On the eve of the 14th of February, St. Valentine's day, the young folks in England and Scotland, by a very ancient custom, celebrate a little festival. An equal number of maids and bachelors get together. Each write their true or some feigned name upon seperate billets, which they roll up, and draw by way of lots, the maids taking the men's billets and the men the maids', so that each of the young men lights upon a girl that he calls his valentine, and each of the girls upon a young man which she calls hers. By this means each has two valentines, but the man sticks faster to the valentine that is fallen to him than to the valentine to whom he is fallen. Fortune having thus divided the company into so many couples, the valentines give balls and treats to their mistresses, and wear their billets several days upon their bosoms or sleeves, and this little sport often ends in love."

LOVE'S OWN TIME.

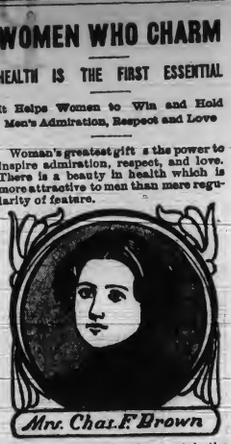
Of course there were various superstitions connected with the day, in a letter written about the year 1754 by a young English girl we have a glimpse of some of the earlier ones. She says: "Last Friday was Valentine's day, and the night before I got five bay leaves and pinned four of them to the four corners of my pillow, and the fifth to the middle. And then, if I dreamt of my sweetheart, Betty said we should be married before the year was out. But to make it more sure, I boiled an egg hard and took out the yolk and filled it with salt. When I went to bed I ate it, shell and all, without speaking or drinking after it. We also wrote our lovers' names upon bits of paper and rolled them up in clay and put them into water. The first that rose up was to be our valentine. Would you believe it?—Mr. Bicesom was my man! I lay abed and shut my eyes all the morning till he came to our house. For I would not have seen another man before him for all the world."



In those days one sent to one's sweetheart—or would-be sweetheart—secret love missives in the form of verses which were sometimes written on plain paper in a disguised hand, sometimes printed and hidden in the depths of paper lace and impossible Cupids. And for the most part—if we are to believe the historians and poets—the expressions were sincere and honest, and offered a somewhat more substantial proof of regard than the degenerate epistle of modern times. The youths and maidens evidently believed that "it is in love as in deer-stalking: one of the most important elements of success must be to conceal oneself."—Detroit Free Press.

WOMEN WHO CHARM

HEALTH IS THE FIRST ESSENTIAL

It Helps Women to Win and Hold Men's Admiration, Respect and Love

Woman's greatest gift is the power to inspire admiration, respect, and love. There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study. At the first indication of ill-health, painful or irregular menstruation, headache or backache, secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

Mrs. Chas. F. Brown, Vice-President Mothers' Club, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For nine years I dragged through a miserable existence, suffering with inflammation and falling of the womb, and worn out with pain and weakness. I finally noticed a statement by Mrs. [illegible] as I was, but who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I determined to try it. At the end of three months I was a different woman. Every one remarked about it, and my husband fell in love with me all over again. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound built up my entire system, cured the womb trouble, and I felt like a new woman. I am sure it will make every suffering woman strong, well and happy, as it has me."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhœa, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

TO BE POPULAR GIRLS.

Be neat. There is great charm in neatness.

Be athletic, as that means health, and healthiness means wholesomeness.

Be affectionate and sympathetic and don't be self-conscious and ashamed to show either quality.

Be natural. People are quick to discern affectation of any kind and have a contempt for it, so give up affectation.

Don't have "moods." Avoid the blues. People like to know how to find a girl, not to have to renew her acquaintance every time they meet.

Be home loving and kind to all old people, poor people and children. These are womanly qualities and all love and admire the womanly girl.

Discomfiture of David.

David had just slain Goliath.

"Yes," they said, "quite clever, but do you know anything of jiu-jitsu?"

Feeling hopelessly out of style, the hero retired to the background.—N. Y. Sun.

HER BLOOD TOO THIN

GENERAL DEBILITY RESULTS FROM IMPOVERISHED BLOOD.

The Remedy That Makes New Blood Banishes Weakness, Headaches, Indigestion and Nervous Troubles.

Hundreds of women suffer from headaches, dizziness, restlessness, languor and timidity. Few realize that their misery all comes from the bad state of their blood. They take one thing for their head, another for their stomach, a third for their nerves, and yet all the while it is simply their poor blood that is the cause of their discomfort.

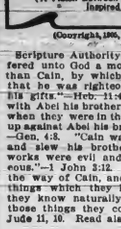
If one sure remedy for making good, rich blood were used every one of their distressing ailments would disappear, as they did in the case of Mrs. Ella F. Stone, who had been ailing for years and was completely run down before she realized the nature of her trouble.

"For several years," said Mrs. Stone, "I suffered from general debility. It began about 1896 with indigestion, nervousness and steady headaches. Up to 1900 I hadn't been able to find any relief from this condition. I was then very thin and bloodless. An enthusiastic friend, who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, urged me to give them a trial and I finally bought a box.

"I did not notice any marked change from the use of the first box, but I determined to give them a fair trial and I kept on. When I had finished the second box I could see very decided signs of improvement in my condition. I began to feel better all over and to have hopes of a complete cure.

"I used in all eight or ten boxes, and when I stopped I had got back my regular weight and a good healthy color and the gain has lasted. I can eat what I please without discomfort. My nervousness is entirely gone, and, while I had constant headaches before, I very rarely have one now. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to women who suffer as I did."

Mrs. Stone was seen at her pretty home in Lakewood, R. I., where, as the result of her experience, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are very popular. These famous pills are sold by all druggists. A book that every woman needs is published by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. It is entitled "Plain Talks to Women," and will be sent free on request.



THE TRAGEDY OF THE HOME

OUR SERMON STORY by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher.

(A Vision Between the Lines of God's Inspired Word.)

(Copyright, 1905, by J. M. Edson.)

Scripture Authority:—"By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts."—Heb. 11:4. "And Cain talked with Abel his brother: and it came to pass, when they were in the field, that Cain rose up against Abel his brother and slew him."—Gen. 4:8. "Cain was of that wicked one, and slew his brother, because his own works were evil and his brother's righteous."—1 John 3:12. "They have gone in the way of Cain, and speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves."—Jude 11, 10. Read also all of Genesis 4.

AND sin when it is finished bringeth forth death?" Sin in Heaven and Satan cast out! Sin in the garden and the guilty pair cast forth! Death in the home—Death the culmination of sin! For "sin when it is finished bringeth forth death!"

What strange, mysterious influence is it which steals upon the soul sometimes, bringing vague dread and fear of some impending trouble or tragedy, while yet the coming tragedy or trouble is unforeseen and unknown? Why the unexplained depression of spirits while yet all is sunshine about and no cloud of the coming storm is visible upon life's horizon?

So it was with Mother Eve on the morning of our story. Not since those blissful days in the garden when, ere the temptation and fall, a mysterious dread had touched her heart while yet unknown to her Satan was plotting her ruin, had such feeling come upon her. She was conscious of the depression almost with her first waking thoughts, and the dark look on the brow of her son Cain as he left the house on his way to the fields drove the arrows of apprehension more sharply into her soul.

Once, long before, she recalled having seen such a look upon Cain's face. It was upon the occasion of one of their days of worship and sacrifice. Father Adam had made the offering of the lamb as God had instructed him to do, and for the first time he was telling to the two boys—for they were then old enough to hear the story of the first lamb God had slain in order that he might provide garments to clothe himself and their mother.

Abel listened with reverent, earnest attention, but his elder twin brother, with apparent indifference, played with the pebbles at his feet, and when his father paused in his story, blurted out:

"I don't see why the skins were any better clothing than the garments you made for yourselves."

Before Adam could reply to the irreverent taunt, Abel, whose heart was stirred by the story of God and God's care, inquired:

"But, father, if such garments were needed, why did not God provide them when He created you."

A painful silence followed. Could he tell the sad, dark side to his life? Could he reveal the tragic secret of his life and the life of Mother Eve? It was a subject which had not been referred to since the expulsion from the garden. But the question of Abel came as a revelation to the father's heart, and he saw that he must make plain to his boys how God had created man in His own image, sinless and pure, and how, by disobedience, man had fallen from that state into one of sin. At last he looked up with tear-dimmed eyes, and with faltering voice he went on and told all the long, sad story.

Cain, impressed momentarily by the solemnity of the occasion, even though the story itself did not seem to affect him, kept silent for a time after his father ceased speaking, and then impatiently exclaimed:

"That was a small thing for God to make so much fuss about, and I don't see how it concerns me, anyway."

Father Adam turned in sharp rebukes upon Cain for his irreverence and willful refusal to receive and understand God's dealings with man.

Meanwhile, Mother Eve and Abel were holding earnest converse. Abel asking questions and his mother explaining these strange mysteries insofar as she could. The father noted this as he was speaking, and he concluded his rebuke by pointing to Abel, and saying:

"Well, might you follow the example of your brother there, and seek with him to understand these mysteries!"

At that moment Mother Eve looked up and her quick eye noted the dark, awful frown which for a moment rested on the face of Cain as he shot an angry glance towards his brother. But it was quickly gone, and the mother thought no more of it. In fact she had quite forgotten it until that morning when she noted the same evil lines distorting his face. She watched him disappear in the distance while the anxious dread and undefined terror clutched at her heart. She tried to think what it could mean.

The day before Abel had left with his flocks for pasturage at some distance from home, and had remained with them all night, as was often his custom. Before starting he mentioned the fact that it was the purpose of his heart to make an offering to the Lord of the firstlings of his flock and both mother and father had commended him for his devotion. Cain, who was present and heard the conversation, thereupon spoke up and said that he, too, was to make an offering that day.

"You shall have one of my best lambs, Cain, for the offering," quickly spoke up the generous Abel, as he passed out the door with his brother.

Cain made no response to the offer and they walked on in silence for some distance. Then Cain suddenly exclaimed:

"I shall make an offering of the fruits of the fields of my fields."

"But, brother," interrupted Abel, "such is not the manner of offerings God would have us make. God would have us remember man's sin and need, and how He provided for that need in the slain lamb, about which, as you recall, father told us."

An impatient grunt was all the response that Cain offered, and there the conversation ended. Abel was soon busy rounding up his sheep and lambs, while Cain wandered through his fruitful fields.

The brothers did not meet again until they both came to the place of offering. Cain, with the discerning care of the careful husbandman, had selected the best of his fruits and grains and with self-confident, self-satisfied air he brought them and placed them upon the altar.

Abel, with humble heart and faith reaching up in obedience towards God, brought his precious lamb and as its life blood flowed he bowed in repentant grief at the thought of sin which made such sacrifice necessary.

While thus bowed before the altar on which the lamb rested the fire of God's presence came down and consumed the sacrifice, and Cain, standing with proud, unbending head before his altar, noted the evidence of God's acceptance of Abel's offering, while his own offering remained undisturbed and unaccepted.

And he was very wroth, and his countenance fell.

And the voice of God came to Cain and said:

"Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance fallen? If thou wert innocent and sinless, a thank offering of thy fruits would have been accepted as a token of thy dependence as a creature, but as thou art a sinner, a sin-offering is necessary, by the bringing of which thou wouldst have met with acceptance, even as was the case with Abel, thy brother."

On his return home that night Cain had made no mention of the incidents of the day and his mother, noting his sullen demeanor, kept silence and next morning watched him depart with that awful frown upon his face. And her heart was sore troubled. Ah, mother, to-day shalt thou drink the bitter cup which thy disobedience back in the garden hath poured for thee!

Toward noon, unable to stand the pressure of that vague terror which filled her heart, she started from the house. She knew not why she went. She noticed not whither she went, but irresistibly her feet were drawn towards the distant fields where Abel's flocks peacefully fed. A deathlike stillness brooded over the spot, save for the occasional bleating of a little suckling lamb as it sought it's mother's side, or the twitter of some mother bird as she fed her young in the tree top. No herdsman's cheery call as he talked to his sheep! no tall form moving about in loving care among his sheep!

The mother's heart stood still. She tried to cry out in the agony of her heart: "Abel! Abel!!" But the words would not come, and she half ran, half stumbled on. What was that dark form lying on the green sward, from which the sheep seemed to draw with dread away? She had never seen one lie so cold and still before. Those eyes, staring wildly up towards heaven! The agony of that white face! The gaping wound in the side! The ground all crimson with the life's blood! With horror unspeakable the mother drew back, and slowly upon her dazed senses there broke the one word God had spoken back in the garden—DEATH! And this was death! This was sin's fruitage! Death! Death!!

But mother love quickly asserted itself, and with one wild, heart-broken cry of anguish, Mother Eve threw herself upon the form of her beloved boy. We may not intrude on the sacred scene. The hours spent there with her precious dead no eye but God's saw, and none but His tender ear heard. And there, late in the night, while the stars kept their silent watch overhead and the moon's gentle beams guided his feet, Adam found her, and mingled his tears with hers, and felt the heart throb of her anguish.

But what of Cain? While the bereft parents keep watch by the side of their dead boy, he is well on his way to the land of Nod, whither he turned his steps after his interview with God. But how changed he is. God's mark upon his brow has fastened there forever the hideous and vengeful face which glowered over his innocent and defenseless brother, as he drove the sharp-pointed flint knife again and again into his quivering side. His mad rage spent, his jealous hate satiated, still that face in all its horrible, misshapen frenzy was fixed for all time. It was a sign set by God, lest any finding him should kill him.

By the early morning light the tender hands of that sorrowing father and mother laid the dear form of their boy, Abel, to rest by the side of the altar where but so shortly before he had stood an humble and accepted worshiper. By faith he had offered a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, and it was that faith that gave him abundant entrance to the presence of God. And by faith the parents, as they wended their way home silently, knew that their darling was safe with God.

But Cain, in the land of Nod, spoke evil of that way of faith which he knew not, and forgot God, and the latter end of that man was worse than the first.

Children.

Put into a cup of vinegar a generous supply of salt and heat until the salt partly dissolves. Apply to the frost-bitten parts as hot as it can be borne. Repeat two or three times until the swelling disappears and relief is experienced. A few drops of carbolic acid in the water in which the feet are bathed will also take the sting from chilblains, though at first the burning sensation may be increased. Do not use the carbolic too strong.—Washington Star.

Could Be Happy If We Wished.

If in a less fortunate time than ours, when the resources of mind and bodies were less varied and plentiful than they are now, men and women took delight in life, warmed both hands in its fire and filled their hearts with joy and gladness, may we not conclude that they were happy simply because they lived, as we might, in the right way, and put to their right uses that which was provided for them?—Christian Register.

Can Be Settled by Arbitration.

Like most men, nations prefer to get on amicably and courteously with their neighbors—in a word, to demean themselves as gentlemen. But when the necessity comes a nation will fight for just the same reason that a man will fight—because he feels that he cannot refrain from fighting without denying his manhood—because he feels that before he can be a gentleman he must first be a man.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Resisting Temptation.

The joy of resisting temptation is the highest joy men can feel. It is a moment grows larger, and we feel ourselves lifted into a wider sphere; we have a sense of fellowship with higher beings, and are somehow conscious of their sympathy. All God's creation smiles upon us and appears made for our joy.—A. B. Davidson.

Apple Custard Pies.

Grate or steam 12 apples; to this add a teaspoonful of salt, sugar, nutmeg, three eggs well beaten, a pint of milk and a tablespoonful of melted butter, the grated rinds of two lemons and the juice of one; pour the mixture into line plates and arrange stripe of paste in a network over the top. Sift powdered sugar over them when done.—Chicago Post.

Positively Insulting.

"I know the pumpkin pie was perfectly insulting, as to the filling," said the landlady, almost crying, "but I don't think he had a right to say what he did."

"What did he say?" asked the second boarder.

"Why, he asked me if I thought the pie couldn't be improved with another coat of paint."—N. Y. Times.

At an Early Age.

Hindoo children are remarkable for their precocity. Many of them are skilful workmen at an age when European children are learning the alphabet. A boy of seven may be a skilful woodcarver, while some of the handsomest rugs are woven by children not yet in their teens.

Queer Island.

Marken, in the Zuyder Zee, is one of the most curious islands in the world. Horses and trees are unknown. The island produces one crop—hay—and of this the women manage the growing and harvesting.

The Whipping-Post.

An average of 35 prisoners annually are lashed at the whipping post in Delaware. In England last year, out of some 11,000 criminals who felt the law's severity, only nine were sentenced to be whipped.

MARKET REPORT.

Cincinnati, Feb. 8.

CATTLE—Common .$2 60	@	3 75
Heavy steers 4 60	@	4 85
CALVES—Extra	@	7 25
HOGS—Ch. packers . 4 9[illegible]	@	5 00
Mixed packers 4 85	@	4 95
SHEEP—Extra 5 10	@	5 25
LAMBS—Extra	@	7 75
FLOUR—Spring pat. 6 20	@	6 45
WHEAT—No. 2 red . 1 18	@	1 20
No. 3 winter..	@	1 12
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	@	46
No. 2 white	@	46½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	@	33
No. 2 white 33¾	@	34
RYE—No. 2 82	@	86
HAY—Ch. timothy ..	@	12 50
PORK—Clear mess..	@	14 20
LARD—Steam	@	6 35
BUTTER—Ch. dairy.	@	18
Choice creamery ..	@	31
APPLES—Choice 2 75	@	3 25
POTATOES—Per bu 1 50	@	1 60
TOBACCO—New 5 00	@	13 00
Old 4 50	@	14 75

Chicago.

FLOUR—Winter pat. 5 10	@	5 20
WHEAT—No. 2 red. 1 15⅞	@	1 20
No. 3 red 1 04	@	1 16
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	@	43¾
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	@	29⅞
RYE—No. 2	@	75
PORK—Mess 12 65	@	12 70
LARD—Steam	@	6 25

New York.

FLOUR—Win. str'ts. 5 50	@	6 85
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	@	1 22½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	@	54½
OATS—No. 2 mixed. 36	@	36½
RYE—Western	@	80
PORK—Family 13 25	@	13 75
LARD—Steam	@	7 15

Baltimore.

CATTLE—Steers 4 50	@	4 95
SHEEP—No. 1 fat .. 2 25	@	2 50
LAMBS—Spring 5 50	@	6 50
CALVES—Choice 4 00	@	8 50
HOGS—Dressed 6 25	@	6 50

Louisville.

WHEAT—No. 2 red.	@	1 16
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	@	47½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	@	34
PORK—Mess	@	11 00
LARD—Pure steam..	@	6 50

Indianapolis.

WHEAT—No. 2 red.	@	1 21
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	@	44
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	@	32

TO BUSY STORK—SHOO!

Human Ingenuity Raises an Obstacle to the Machinations of Fate.

The apartment houses of this age had now reached a stage of such magnificence that tenants were willing to give up all their liberties and salaries for the privilege of living in them. By edict, says the New York Sun, the prattle of children was forever barred from them.

Situated in the ultra-fashionable district was the magnificent apartment house "Race Suicide," through which the agent was showing a prospective tenant and dazzling him with the latest improvement of the Utopian age.

"Magnificent!" said the gentleman, "but your roof looks rather untidy. Why is this roof strewn with bits of broken glass and the chimneys studded with rusty nails?"

"Clever idea of mine," said the agent, naively. "That is to prevent the stork from alighting on the premises."

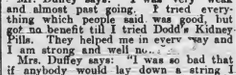
Being a philosopher, the Utopian said nothing, but stood gazing far into the distance where an ocean liner from the tropics was nearing her way past the harbor crowded to the rails with immigrants.

THERE IS JUST ONE SURE WAY

Dodd's Kidney Pills Build Up Run-Down People—They Make Healthy Kidneys and That Means Healthy People—What Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Duffey Say!

Nora, Ind., Feb. 6th.—(Special)—That the sure way of building up run-down men and women is to put their kidneys in good working order is shown by the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Duffey of this place. Both were weak and worn and dispirited. They used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and to-day both enjoy the best of health.

Mr. Duffey says: "I was very weak and almost past going. I tried everything which people said was good, but got no benefit till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. They helped me in every way and I am strong and well now."



Mrs. Duffey says: "I was so bad that if anybody would lay down a string I felt I could not step over it. Since taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I can run and jump fences."

Healthy kidneys insure pure blood; Dodd's Kidney Pills insure healthy kidneys.

The political plum, not unlike the persimmon, sometimes has an unpleasant effect when it is bit into before it is quite ripe.—Indianapolis News.

Earliest Green Onions.

The John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., always have something new, something valuable. This year they offer among their new money making vegetables, an Earliest Green Eating Onion. It is a winner, Mr. Farmer and Gardener!

JUST SEND THIS NOTICE AND 16c. and they will send you their big plant and seed catalog, together with enough seed to grow

1,000 fine, solid Cabbages,
2,000 rich, juicy Turnips,
2,000 blanching, nutty Celery,
2,000 rich, buttery Lettuce,
1,000 splendid Onions,
1,000 rare, delicious Radishes,
1,000 gloriously brilliant Flowers.

In all over 10,000 plants—this great offer is made to get you to test their warranted vegetable seeds and

ALL FOR BUT 16c POSTAGE,

providing you will return this notice, and if you will send them 20c in postage, they will add to the above a big package of Salzer's Fourth of July Sweet Corn—the earliest on earth—10 days earlier than Cory, Peep o' Day, First of All, etc. [K. L.]

Many a man wants de Gospel ter fly; but wen it comes ter puttin' up money fer de wings, he says he's in favor er home missions.—Atlanta Constitution.

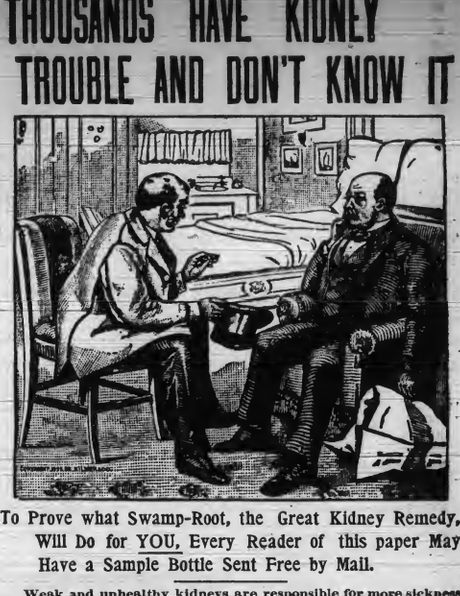
A CLEAR COMPLEXION.

A Simple Home Treatment for Blackheads, Red, Rough and Oily Skins and Disfiguring Humors.

If you are afflicted with pimples, blackheads, red, rough or oily skin, or disfiguring humors, you will find this simple home treatment most agreeable, speedily effective and economical. Gently smear the face with the great emollient skin cure, Cuticura Ointment, but do not rub. Wash off the ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water, and bathe freely. Repeat this morning and evening and you will soon be rewarded with a skin soft, white and clear. Cuticura Soap, the best toilet and complexion soap in the world, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, will preserve, purify and beautify the complexion and keep the skin in a healthy condition, preventing blackheads, pimples, eruptions or the return of eczema and other skin troubles. Used as a shampoo it cleanses the scalp of crusts and scales, removing dandruff and promoting the growth of the hair. For red rough hands, itching palms and painful finger ends, Cuticura Soap and Ointment achieve marvelous results, often in a single night.

"Some men's ides of holdin' down a job," said Uncle Eben, "is to sit around an' wish pay-day would hurry along."—Washington Star.

To Cure a Cold in One Day



Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

It will not be so very long before you are talking about things that happened way back in the year '04.—N. Y. Mail.

Piso's Cure for Consumption is an infallible medicine for coughs and colds.—N. W. Samuel, Ocean Grove, N. J., Feb. 17, 1900.

The ideal man is he who gives thanks that some people are as well off as himself and others better.—Puck.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

To Prove what Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of this paper May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

53 COTTAGE ST., MELROSE, MASS.
JAN. 11th, 1904.

"Ever since I was in the Army, I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine some of my water to-day and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers I am," Very truly yours,

C. C. RICHARDSON.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but it promptly cures kidney, liver and bladder troubles the symptoms of which are—obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brickdust or sediment in the urine, headache, backache, lame back, dizziness, poor digestion, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturbance due to bad kidney trouble, skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, diabetes, bloating, irritability, wornout feeling, lack of ambition, loss of flesh, sallow complexion, or Bright's disease.

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling or has a cloudy appearance, it is evident that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

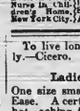
Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is for sale at drug stores the world over in bottles of two sizes and two prices—fifty cents and one dollar. Remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—In order to prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in this paper. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed.

COUPON.

Please write or fill in this coupon with your name and address and Dr. Kilmer & Co. will send you a Free Sample Bottle of Swamp-Root the Great Kidney Remedy.

Name. .....
St. and No. .....
City or Town. .....
State. .....
Mention this paper.



Strawberry and Vegetable Dealers

The Passenger Department of the Illinois Central Railroad Company have recently issued a publication known as Circular No. 12, in which is described the best territory in this country

for the growing of early strawberries and early vegetables. Every dealer in such products should address a postal card to the undersigned at SUBURBAN HOME, requesting a copy of "Circular No. 12."

J. F. MERRY, Asst. Gen'l Pass'r Agent.

MOTHER GRAY'S SWEET POWDERS FOR CHILDREN,

A Certain Cure for Feverishness, Constipation, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders, and Destroy WORMS. They Break up Colds in 24 hours. At all Druggists, 25 cts. Sample mailed FREE. Address, Mother Gray's Home, New York City.

A. S. OLMSTED, Le Roy, N. Y.

To live long it is necessary to live slowly.—Cicero.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease. A certain cure for swollen, sweating, hot, aching feet. At all Druggists, 25c. Accept no substitute. Trial package FREE. Address A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

The gift of gab will not do the work of the grace of God.—Chicago Tribune.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.

Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

Many a mushroom of promise is a toadstool of fulfillment.—N. Y. Times.

Twenty Bushels of Wheat to the Acre

FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

IS THE RECORD ON THE FREE HOMESTEAD LANDS OF WESTERN CANADA FOR 1904

The 150,000 Farmers from the United States, who during the past seven years have gone to Canada, participate in this prosperity.

The United States will soon become an importer of Wheat. Get a Free Homestead or purchase a farm in Western Canada, and become one of those who will help produce it.

Apply for information to SUPERINTENDENT OF IMMIGRATION, Ottawa, Canada, or to H. M. WILLIAMS, Law Building, Toledo, O. Authorized Government Agent.

Please say where you saw this advertisement.

Salzer's National Oats

Greatest out of the country. Yielded in Ohio 187, in Minn. 251, in Mo. 255, and in N. Dakota 320 bus. per acre.

Tons on tons best record in 1903.

For 10c and this notice

we mail you free lots of farm seed samples and our big catalog, telling all about this oat wonder and thousands of other seeds.

JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO. LA CROSSE, WIS.

The Enterprising Housekeeper

A valuable little book of 200 tested recipes and kitchen helps. Sells for 25c. Mailed to anyone for 10 postage. ENTERPRISE MFG. CO., Phila., Pa.

BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP cures coughs and colds.

PATENTS 48-page book FREE. Highest references. Best results. Terms low. Advice FREE. Write nearest office. FITZGERALD & CO., Box 32, Washington, D. C.

NEW PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

The Great Nonesuch Remedy

ST. JACOBS OIL

The old monk cure, strong, straight, sure, has for a large part of a century battled with and conquered the world over. Price 25c. and 50c.

Aches and Pains

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors silk, wool and cotton equally well and is guaranteed to give perfect results. Ask dealer or we will send post paid at 10c a package. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO. Quincy, Ills., U.S.A.

BOONE CO., RECORDER
Wednesday, - - Feb 8, 1905.
W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher

WINTER stays with us.

In shoeing horses it should be remembered that some horses have so strong a development of the horny stricture of the foot that a considerable portion needs to be removed at each shoeing, while others require if it were possible horn to be added, for in them the wear is greater than the growth. Bear this point in mind in getting horses shod.

THE Burley Tobacco Growers' Association is now claimed by its promotors to be a sure go, and that the signing of the papers will be completed today or tomorrow. This will be pleasant news for those who have so patiently awaited the consummation of the deal.

None like the cow! There is not a thing from nose to tail but that is utilized for the use of man. We use the horn to comb our hair; her skins are upon our feet; her hoofs make glue; her tail makes soup; she gives our cream, our milk, our cheese and our butter, and her flesh is the great meal of our nation; her blood is used to make our sugar while her bones are ground to fertilize our soils and even her paunch she herself has put through the first chemical process necessary for the production of the best white card board paper, and now they have discovered that such paper can be made into the finest quality of false teeth.

The spokesman of the independent tobacco factories is very bitter against the Growers' Association and implies that the independents are gaining on the trust and are just getting in shape to wipe Duke off the face of the earth, and therefore the farmers and warehousemen ought to lay down and keep quiet and give their tobacco away, and starve while the independents build up a bigger trust than the American trust. And they have stopped choking Duke and joined in with him to see that the farmer does not get his head above water long enough to get a good breath. We fail to see where the grower would be benefitted by the change, or what difference it would make to him whether the breath was squeezed out of him by the Duke trust or by the independent trust.—Dover News.

Senator Cammack made quite a hit by his speech in the Senate last week on the legal question involved in the taking of the Feeble Minded Institute grounds for the new capitol site. Mr. Cammack contended that under the Governor's call the question of abolishing the Feeble Minded Institute could not be considered. The Judges of the Court of Appeals are all in accord with Senator Cammack's opinion and none save Attorney General Hays and Senator Carroll, of Louisville, take the other view of it. In the course of Cammack's remarks Carroll was disposed to treat the opinion of Cammack indifferently, whereupon the latter said: "Carroll, you are my friend and I like you, but, if I were hunting a lawyer for a curbstone opinion I would not pass you for any lawyer in Kentucky." It seems that Attorney General Hays is playing the role of a chronic kicker to perfection. His conduct will be of great aid to the Republicans in the future.—Owen Democrat.

"Senator Blackburn and Governor Beckham have many mutual friends among our Democrats," remarked Senator R. B. Brown, of Warsaw, Ky., Chairman of the Gallatin County Committee, "and we are awfully sorry to see them in such a bitter wrangle, which can not possibly do either of them or the party any good. If half that either says of the other is true the people think that it would be better that both be retired from public life. I have a warm place in my heart for Senator Blackburn, but am satisfied if Governor Beckham were a candidate for the Senate he would be elected in a race between the two. The Governor has grown very much since he occupied the Executive chair; and is popular with the great mass of Democrats. If Judge Paynter is a candidate for Senator he would get our support, as we are in his district. If he should be elected it is rumored that Governor Beckham would probably appoint Judge Lassing to the vacancy on the Appellate bench."—Cincinnati Enquirer, January 29.

[Pendletonian]

L. R. Williams, of Chicago, representing capitalists of that city, has leased several thousand acres of land in Kenton, Campbell and Pendleton counties, upon which wells will be sunk in the hope of finding oil and gas in commercial quantities. The terms of the leases stipulate that the lessees shall drill at least one well on each tract of land leased within one year from the date of the lease, January 9, 1905, and should they fail to sink such well in the time specified they then agree to pay annual rental of $25 until the expiration of the lease, some of which run one year and others five years.

The lessees further agree that in the event oil should be found one-eighth of all taken from the premises shall be delivered in the pipes or tanks, to be built, to the owner of the land upon which such well is located, in case of gas wells the lessess agree to pay an annual rental of $25 for each well, and also to furnish gas free to one dwelling house.

Agreements for leasing 35 tracts of land in Kenton county, all situated along or near the Licking river, were left at the County Clerk's office in Covington Friday by A. M. Bockover, an attorney of Chicago, who represents the lessees. These 37 leases cover an aggregate of 2,914 acres, and it is understood leases on about as acres in Kenton county have been secured by same parties. They also have leases on lands in Campbell and Pendleton counties the total property in the three counties involving, it is said, about 15,000 acres.

J. T. Earle, a brother of our townsman, John R. Earle, the genial L. & N. agent, and Henry Kruse, two enterprising business men of Latonia, are also in the oil game. They have secured leases on 30,000 acres of land in Pendleton and Kenton counties and the records will be formerly filed at Falmouth and Independence some time this week.

They have been at work for some time past securing options for the leases, and have now decided to close the deals.

Mr. Earl said that he was not banking upon being a millionaire right at the start, but that he and his associate felt confident that they had secured the right to some oil-bearing lands. He was not yet ready to announce when and where they would have the wells sunk.

"Life on the farm is not drudgery unless it is made so. Any life must become one of drudgery unless care, skill and common sense is employed in the labor of living, and drudgery is that labor which is obnoxious to the individual; hence to the lazy man all work is drudgery. The thought and interest we put into our work is what gives it dignity. All labor of whatsoever kind is dignified and honorable if honestly performed, and none more so than that performed on the farm. The boy on the farm must be given an interest in the details of his professions; make him thoroughly acquainted with the detail of daily life, develop his executive ability; give him responsibility; if his ideas are crude show him the right way by suggesting something better In the selling of products, let him participate; the weight of products and their selling price should be as interesting to him as to yourself. Let him know the weight and selling price, and let him figure it out for himself. Let him visit the markets with you, or inspect stock or implements, if to be bought, and encourage him to become practically conversant with the business end, as well as with the daily labor of the matter. Broaden him out, strengthen his ability and get him interested in the dignity, honor and intellectual aspect of the case. Let him have all the book learning you can afford for him, and do not continually harp to him of the poverty which renders it impossible for you to make of him or yourself anything, but a mere machine, forced to grind for mere board and lodging, with no time nor money with which to seek recreation."—Selected.

What Are They?

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. A new remedy for Stomach troubles, biliousness, and constipation, and a good one. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

FOR RENT.

A good farm of 112 acres, with house and barn 1½ mile from Southern Railroad, near Buffington Station. Apply to Leona B. Stephens, 1049 Scott Street Covington, Ky.

NOTICE!

There are 900 Delinquent Taxpayers in Boone County. After 60 days all persons who have not paid their Poll-Tax will be advertised, and I will appoint a deputy to levy on property belonging to the Poll-tax payers of Boone County. If you don't want your names in the paper and your Horses, Buggies and Cows and other personal property advertised and sold you had better pay your taxes.

B. B. ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

PUBLIC SALE.

We will sell at public sale to to the highest bidder at our residence on the Johnson farm near Plattsburg, Boone county, Ky.,

Saturday, Feb. 18, 1905,

The following property:

Good family Mare, 6-yr, old Gelding, good worker; good Jersey Cow, 2 Jersey Heifers, will be fresh in the spring; top Buggy and Harness, lot of Plows, Sidesaddle, Man's Saddle, Iron Kittle, Cross-cut Saw, new Wagon Harness, lot Tools, Sewing Machine, Household & Kitchen Furniture.

TERMS.—All sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of 9 months will be given, purchasers to give note with good security, negotiable and payable in bank, before removing property

W. S. ACRA,
Mrs. ESSIE VOSHELL.

Sale to begin at 12 m.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale at the residence of the late L. L. Tanner, in Union, Ky., on Thursday, Feb. 28, 1905,

The following property:

1 2-year old Colt, broke to drive; 1 family mare, Mowing Machine, Road Wagon, Spring Wagon, Harrow, Heifer, will be fresh in 2 or 3 weeks; set of Carpenter's Tools, Grindstone, lot of Tobacco Sticks, lot of Hay in stack, set of Spring Wagon Harness, set of Wagon Harness, Sled, good Turning Plow, lot Shovel Plows, and some Household and Kitchen Furniture, &c.

TERMS—Sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of 8 months, without interest, will be given, purchasers to give note with good security negotiable and payable in the Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky., before removing property.

EZRA K. TANNER,

Sale to begin at 1 p.m. Admr.

FOR SALE

Good Farm of 200 Acres,

Three miles north of Guilford, Ind., fine tobacco land; can be sold in parts Six room brick residence, barn 40x60 Price reasonable. WARREN TEBBS, Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of L. L. Tanner, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

EZRA K. TANNER, Admr.

COAL!

I have a yard full of good Raymond City Coal, which I am selling at 15 cents a bushel—80 pounds to the bushel. J. O. HUEY, Erlanger, Ky.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Roberts as a member of the firm of G. W. & D. B. Roberts or otherwise are hereby notified to meet me at Verona, Boone county, Ky., on Thursday, February 9th, 1905, to settle same.

C. C. ROBERTS, Admr.

SALE OF

HORSE BLANKETS And Lap-Robes.

An over stock of Robes to be sold at your own price, and 15 per cent discount on Blankets

CALL AND SEE US before you buy your

Spring Harness

And you will see that you can save 10c on every dollar that you spend. The best stock of

Collars and Harness in Town at Jackson's

New Harness Shop,
Walnut Street,
Lawrenceburg, - Indiana.
2½ blocks from Big 4 R. R.

For Sale—Good 4 year old work mule. Apply to or address Thomas Hafer, Hebron, Ky.

Lets Talk it Over

among ourselves about

Tea-Coffee.

We know you enjoy a good cup of either and want one that will "Just Suit" you. We believe we can please any one who will say just what kind he likes.

We don't sell our "35c Java and Mocha" for 20c, nor our "$1.00 Tea for 75c" or "75c Tea for 60c," as some dealers claim to do—day in and day out.

We do sell as good Tea as can possibly be given for the money and believe we take more care and pains in selecting and having it of uniform quality than most people, and want you to try it for yourself.

O. K. Coffee, per pound..... 12½c
Salvador Coffee, per pound..... 15c
Money Worth Blend Coffee, per lb.... 17c
Three pounds for 50c.
Golden Blend Coffee, per pound..... 20c
Caracas or Gutamala Coffee, per lb... 25c
Java and Mocha Coffee, per pound..... 30c
Mixed Tea, Gren Tea Oolong, Gunpowder Tea, per pound..... 40c
Capitol Blend Tea, per pound..... 60c
Sunbeam Blend Tea, per pound..... 75c
Gunpowder Tea per pound...40, 60, 75c

Geo. G. Goode,
—Agent,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, Ky.

C. J. WOLFF,
SPECIALIST FOR
TRUSSES, BRACES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
Personal attention given every case.
Experience 40 years.
13th & Race, opp. Washington Park, Cincinnati, O.

CURES STOMACH TROUBLES

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food sours on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Thedford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Thedford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

WILSTAR,
Record 2173,
Will make the season of 1905 at Mc-Henry's livery stable in Rising Sun Indiana. Persons booking mares before the first of April will save $5. After that time the terms will be $30 to insure a living colt.
SCRANTON BROS., Owners,
aprl Rising Sun, Ind.

Deposits Earning Interest.

THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK & TRUST COMPANY, Inc.

N. E. Cor. Sixth St. and Madison Avenue.

COVINGTON, KY.

Receives deposits of money subject to withdrawal after a specified time, or subject to check without notice,

ALLOWING INTEREST ON ALL DAILY BALANCES.

Interest is credited semi-annually on the first days of January and July and when the same is not withdrawn it is added to the principal AND DRAWS INTEREST.

It is not necessary to call in person to open an account, as all communications by mail receive prompt attention.

In its several departments, THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY

Acts as Agent; Collects Rents and Renders Accounts as desired; Loans Money on Approved Security; Rents Safe Deposit Boxes; Administers Estates and Acts as Guardian, Trustees, etc; Attends carefully to Trust Estates of Widows, Minors, Etc.

—ALL TRANSACTIONS CONFIDENTIAL.—

CAPITAL STOCK, $100.000.

Stockholders' Liability, $100.000.

JNO. P. ERNST, President. JOHN A. SIMPSON, Vice-President
C. W. SIMBALL, Sec'y & Treas.
Long Distance Telephone, South 214.

J. G. BENTLER & SON,
Lexington Pike, ERLANGER, KY.

Practical Horse Shoeing, General Blacksmithing

and Wagon Repairing of all kinds,

All kinds of Tool Grinding. - Also Bicycle Repairing.
Grinding of all Kinds to Order.

Hay and Grain,
AND ALL KINDS OF MILL FEED,
By Retail or Car Load. Call and Learn Our Prices.

CORN.

ARE YOU READY TO lay IN YOUR SUPPLY?

We are loading cars every day at our Elizabethtown Elevator in the Miami Bottoms, and you know what quality that is.

We are prepared to put it at any point along the Southern, and would like to hear from you when you are ready to buy.

Early & Daniel,
—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in—
Hay, Grain, Feed and Flour,
Pike St. and L. N. Ry.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

We have opened a BRANCH HOUSE at Erlanger at E. H. Riggs' old Stand, and will Keep a full line of Hay, Grain and Feed on hand, and would thank you to call and get our prices.

GOLDEN GRAIN FLOUR OUR SPECIALTY.

In our opinion a business conducted on an honest basis, furnishing the best "VALUES" possible for the "MONEY" and extending fair treatment to all

'ALWAYS WINS'

—Our Watchword has and always will be—

Honesty, -- Honest Clothing at

"HONEST PRICES."

We show a fine line of Mens', Boys' & Children's

CLOTHING

Men's Suits.....$5.00 to $15.00. | Boys' Suits.....$4.00 to $10.00
Men's Overcoats.. 4.00 to 15.00. | Children's Suits.. 2.50 to 5.00
Childrens Overcoat 2.50 to 5.00. | Boys' Overcoats.. 4.00 to 10.00

These are made in every conceivable style and fashion.

Mens' Corduroy Suit, $5, $7.50, $10 and $12—these are made to stand the rough usage and abuse. We also carry a complete line of Corduroy and Jean Pants, Duck Coats, and other clothing necessary for health and comfort.

ROLFES & WACHS,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Subscribe for Your Connty Paper, $1.50.

Local News.

Ice houses are all full of ice.

Snow has been in sight practically all this winter.

Jerry Delph operated his sawmill a few days last week.

February is becoming the coldest of the winter months.

The work of filling the local ice houses was finished last week.

The roads have been in excellent condition so far this year—smooth as a good floor.

Ground hog winter took hold without the slightest variation of weather conditions.

Land ought to plow well this spring if long and continuous freezing will produce that result.

Perry Beemon moved, last week, to the homestead of the late Samuel Stephens in the Union precinct.

Considering the fact that snow has been in sight all winter there has been very little good sleighing.

The dark spot on the sun, last Saturday, was viewed through a smoked glass by several persons here.

Marce Riddell invoiced [illegible]ock of merchandise last week. He was assisted by his wife and brother, Walter.

Give Raymond Jackson a tobacco wagon and empty hogshead in which to ride, and he can go to the north pole.

Delinquent tax collector, O. P. Phipps, is on the jump all the time, and is making it interesting for the delinquents.

Mrs. Jennie Barlow will be installed gate-keeper on the Burlington & Petersburg pike on the first of next month.

Some persons entered the public school house several nights since, and almost destroyed the holder for the large dictionary.

The Belle, and the Boone County Telephone companies will soon have their offices at Florence, installed at John H. Ryle's.

My Jersey Bull will be permitted to render service at $1. money due when service is render.
B. C. GRADDY, Bullittsville, Ky.

Mr. Oelsner, of Florence, is moving his general stock of merchandise to his building near the one in which he has sold goods so long.

J. P. Hemphill, of Rising Sun, has set an example in these columns which should be followed by all the Rising Sun business houses.

Oscar Ryle made his first trip for several weeks up in town last Wednesday. He uses two canes. He will soon be in command of the mail wagon again.

In another column will be found the advertisement of J. P. Hemphill, druggist, Rising Sun. Mr. Hemphill has a good trade from this side of the river.

There is no question but what the ground hog saw his shadow in this part of the country, on the 2d inst., which will prolong the winter into next month.

Rising Sun merchants say that it costs them as much to have goods hauled from Aurora in wagons as it does to have it brought from Cincinnati to Aurora by railroad.

Notice—My land is posted against trespass of all kinds, and especially are dogs forbidden to go thereon, as I will certainly shoot them.
T. E. DIXON, Richwood, Ky.

Jailer Adams was taken to Christ's Hospital, Cincinnati, last Thursday, where his knee will be operated on the next day for tuberculosis of the bone. At last accounts he was doing very well.

The residence of James Snyder, jr., of Petersburg precinct, with its entire contents, was destroyed by fire last Friday morning at 4 a. m., the family barely having time to escape, they being awakened by a dog. No insurance.

In connection with the Sock Social to be given at the residence of James A. Huey, on the evening of February 22d, the Ladies Aid Society of Union Baptist church will give a reception in honor of their pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Wilson, of Carrollton.

Poisons in Food.

Perhaps you don't realize that many pain poisons originate in your food, but some day you may feel a twinge of dyspepsia that will convince you. Dr. King's New Life Pills are guaranteed to cure all sickness due to poisons of undigested food—or money back. 25c at all Druggists.

The wife, children brother and sisters of Levi L. Tanner desire to offer their thanks and appreciation to the friends of Union and vicinity for the many acts of kindness and sympathy shown them in their distress.

A gentleman met a member of the legislature in Covington, several days ago, and asked him, "Does your [illegible] go on while you are absent from Frankfort?" and the law-maker answered, "Of course, or I would not be here."

Some claim that an animal that is as weatherwise as the ground hog did not expose itself to the severe weather last Thursday and remained in its winter quarters. One thing is certain, however, if he came out on the 2d inst. he surely saw his shadow.

There have been very few thawouts this winter, consequently the ground has not taken in much water, and unless there are rainfalls at regular intervals during the coming cropping season a scarcity of water will be the result again this summer and fall.

In an other column will be found the advertisement of J. W. Howe & Son, druggist, of Dayton, Ohio. They are manufacturers of Doeller's catarrah and croup cure which is said to be a very fine medicine. Mr. J. W. Howe, was, many years ago, a prominent teacher in the schools of this county.

A check for 99 cents drawn and signed by Castleman & Lassing, in 1898, presented itself at the Boone County Deposit Bank, last Friday, for payment. The firm had long since gone out of business, but the check was presented to Attorney D. E. Caseleman, who paid it. No doubt the check had been lost for a long time.

Ed Scales, colored, was fined $5 and given 10 days in jail last week by County Judge Cason, for resisting arrest by constable J. M. Eddins, when he took him into custody for scrapping with Jum Webb, colored. Webb was tried for the part he took in the scrimmage with Scales, and was acquitted on the grounds of self defense.

Agonizing Burns

are instantly relieved, and perfectly healed, by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. C. Rivenbark, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., writes: "I burnt my knee so dreadfully that it blistered all over. Bucklen's Arnica Salve stopped the pain, and healed it without a scar." Also heals all wounds and sores. 25c at all Druggists.

I have completed and opened a well equipped livery stable on Carneal street near Elm, where horses and rigs will receive the best of attention. Boone county people will find it to their advantage to leave their horses and buggies with me.
I make two trips daily to the city with my express wagon.
B. S. CLORE, Ludlow.

The supervisors of tax made very little change in the assessment of the county as returned by assessor Owen Watts. They found a few pieces of property he had failed to assess, and listed them, but they made no great difference in the total. The total taxable amount in 1904 was $6,524,269 as against $6,574,537 the previous year, making an increase of $49,732 in 1904.

One of Prof. Hughes' pupils handed in the following answer to the Idlewild correspondent's Daniel Boone query of last week:

Daniel Boone was born July 13, 1732 at Exeter Penn. He died Sept. 26th 1820 in Missouri, and was buried there; but in 1845 the Kentucky legislature had the remains of him and his wife brought to Frankfort this state and buried.

Capt. R D. Akin, of the high-headed steamer Swan, is a true son of Ananias. He tells the following: "When I was steamboating away down south years ago, we were running up several small rivers, which were the most crooked I ever saw. Why, one day, in turning a sharp bend in the river, we ran into a wild duck, which was coming ahead on one foot and backing on the other to make the turn."—Rising Sun Recorder.

L. H. Voshell received a telegram last Saturday night, announcing the death of his brother, Alfred R. Voshell, at Hot Springs, Arkansas, that morning. The announcement of the death was the first information Mr. Voshell had that his brother was ill. A. R. Voshell, born Sept. 23, 1853, was a son of the late Mathias Voshell, of Plattsburg, this county, where he received a public school education. Many years ago he went to Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he soon became a very prominent citizen, and was frequently called to fill positions of public trust. Alfred Voshell was well liked by all his Boone county acquaintances, and they drop a tear of sorrow at the departure of his noble spirit. He leaves a wife but no children.

The work of preparing plant beds will engage the attention of tobacco growers so soon as the weather will admit of that kind of work.

Last Saturday was pension day and several of the old veterans called at the county clerk's office to make up their vouchers for their quarterly draw.

The band has increased some in numbers this winter, and the boys have been practicing faithfully. The town ought to give the young men some substantial recognition.

A Polk county, Florida paper says the cold wave which entered Florida caused but little damage in that vicinity. The friends of M. T. Garnett are glad to hear that he was not hurt by the intruder.

NOTICE.—Persons who write deeds and mortgages will confer a great favor by complying with the law by mentioning the name of the party from whom the grantors got the land, and the Deed Book and page on which the deed is recorded in Boone county clerk's office.
B. W. ADAMS, County Clerk.

Henry O. Rouse to Otis E. Rouse, 11 acres on waters of Gunpowder—$500.

Master Commissioner to Will C. Clore, 30¼ acres, in division of Benjamin Clore's lands.

Same to Joe Glinn, lot in Walton—$350.

Same to same, lot in Walton—$950.

This is the time of year for farmers to look over their accounts, to study the cost of production of each field and each kind of crop, the values of the various fertilizers in relation to the soil upon which they were used, and to study up all the economies of the business. The farmer is a manufacturer. His farm, live-stock and tools are the plant, the fertilizer, feed and seed the raw material, and the crop the finished product. As the successful manufacturer of textile, fabrics make a constant study of economies in labor and material, so must the farmer if he would win a competence. Hard and grinding toil alone can never bring success, and now is the time of year to think up new plans and new methods that will make the fields and the live-stock more profitable.

Following is the honor roll of Burlington school for last month:
Primary Department—Sallie Castleman, Jessie Clore, Everett Tungate, Mary Castleman, Harold Gaines, Leola Clore, Pearl Clore, Virgil Gaines, Shirley Maxwell, Kenneth Baldon, Laura F. Riddell, Mary Vest, Kittie Beall, John Walton.
Grammar and High School—Craig Baldon, Tommy Fowler, Willie Ryle, Robert Gaines, Tommy Rice, Garnett Tolin, Francis Grant, Dudley Blythe, Lester Gulley, Jenny Lee Castleman, Laura Porter, Ida Crisler, Edna Riley, Henry Adams, Willie Duncan Eddie Bentler, Cecil Gaines, Mattie Truesdale, Tommy Hensley, Alice Carver, Bessie Hall, Frank Gibson, Mary Roberts, Nellie Berkshire, Newton Sullivan, Shirley Tolin, Gordon Gaines, Laura Maxwell, Jessie Gibson.

Uncle Blufe Remembered.

Last Friday County Clerk B. W. Adams reached the 60th mile-post in his earthly pilgrimage, and the members of Gunpowder Baptist church gave him the most pleasant and appreciated surprise of his life. While Blufe was at his office these friends reached his home without his knowing they were in town, and when he went home at noon he discovered numerous buggies in the street at his barn, when it occurred to him that a birthday surprise was on at his house. Mrs. Adams had been notified of the arrangements and expected the arrivals, who came bearing all kinds of good things to eat, and when her husband came in at the noon hour he was confronted by a veritable feast, prepared by the numerous good cooks of Gunpowder neighborhood. The visitors had complete charge of affairs, and Mr. and Mrs. Adams were their guests, and were never more royally entertained. As the 31st anniversary of their marriage is tomorrow, their friends celebrated that occasion also last Friday, and besides the abundance of edibles they brought table linen and numerous other useful articles. Blufe says it was the biggest day of his life, and will always be remembered as such. The visitors all pledged themselves to Uncle Blufe for clerk in 1975.

Nothing Equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. P. B. Spears, of Pinchard Ala., has become acquainted with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and uses it in his own family and in his practice. He says: "It beats any preparation I have ever seen for all bowel complaints. I do not think of recommending any other, and also use it with my own children." This remedy is for sale by all Druggists.

Resolutions of Respect.

Hall of Wallace Lodge No. 454, I. O. O. F.

Since our Heavenly Father in His wisdom has called to his eternal home, brother E. S. Rice, we sorrow because darkness has entered a happy home, a shadow has fallen on our hearts, a hand whose warm grasp we have felt is taken away, a voice to which we have listened is hushed and a chair is vacant, therefore

As an expression of the esteem in which the departed brother was held by us and our sincere sympathy in this bereavement, be it

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on our minutes, a copy presented to his wife and aged mother and a copy furnished the Veedersburg News for publication.

ALBERT CORY,
F. M. BARNS,
J. E. WOOLLEY, } Com.

Everett Tungate, 10 or 12 years of age, and who makes his home with his aunt, Mrs. Rose Bradberry, of this place, had the misfortune to get one of his legs broken yesterday. He was at work getting wood, and in some manner got a blow on his leg by a limb.

In renewing his subscription, Walter Ryle, of Petaluma, California, says he is delighted with that country, but that he never forgets old Boone and her people. He says he meets a great many Kentucky people. He is with Charlie Asherman.

FOR RENT—Brick Store Room in the town of Florence, Ky., 25x60 ft. all shelved and countered. A good place for a hustling man. Apply to Ben Stephens, D. H. Brown or F. A. Utz, Florence, Ky.

Misses Mary Furlong, Essie Parish, Susan Roberts, Jennie Blyth, Mable Vest and Lottie Hall are visiting relatives and friends in Covington and Cincinnati.

John C. Wenz, as administrator, will have a public sale of the late Wm. Wimmer, at Constance on the 28th inst., beginning at 12 m.

W. S. Acra has a sale of personal property advertised for the 18th inst. See advertisement in another column.

John Bentler, the feedstore man of Erlanger, was in town Monday, and sold considerable 50 cent corn.

A small crowd attended court here Monday.

DOELLER'S
Catarrh and Croup Cure
—IT RELIEVES—
Croup,
Grippe Cold,
Dry Catarrh,
Cold in the Head,
Catarrhal Headache,
Chronic Nasal Catarrh
Sore Throat,
Bronchitis,
Chapped Hands,
Dry Hacking Cough,
Pimples and Black Heads,
Throat and Lung Troubles.
☞Sent prepaid on receipt of price in coin or stamps. 25c each or five packages for $1.
Our Guarantee: Money Refunded if You are not Benefitted.
MANUFACTURED ONLY BY
J. W. HOWE & SON,
No. 30 High Street,
HAMILTON, OHIO.

50 WOMEN
WILL BE TAKEN
BY THE
Cincinnati Commercial Tribune
ON A
TOUR OF EUROPE
They will go as guests of The Commercial Tribune absolutely
FREE,
With all expenses paid.
Read the Sunday Cincinnati Commercial Tribune for particulars.

Wanted—Good farm hand.—Address Clayton Walton, Ludlow, Ky. R. F. D. 1.

Advance Shipment of SPRING GOODS!
We have gotten in our
Early Spring Goods
.....CONSISTING OF.....
Ginghams, Percales, Veils,
Laces, Embroideries, Etc.
Making our contracts early we were enabled to take advantage of the market, and this advantage we will give our customers in low prices.
INDIGO BLUE CALICO 5c yard.
AMERICAN SHIRTING CALICOS 5c yard.
LACES FROM 3c yard up to 15c yard.
EMBROIDERIES FROM 3c yard up to 25c yard.
Our Laces and Embroideries are especially fine and well selected and worth 25 per cent more than we price them. We invite you to come and inspect them.
W. M. Rachal & Co
UNION, KY.

H. G. BLANTON,
FUNERAL & DIRECTOR

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.
Special Rates to Traveling Men.
First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.
Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.
☞Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.☜

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.
Tested Field and Garden Seeds.
Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.
Largest and Best Stock of
GROCERIES IN THE CITY.
Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.
When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Livery and Sales Stable.
ALLPHIN & HUME, Proprietors,
Walton, Kentucky.
Horses kept by the Meal, Day or Month. Good safe rigs for hire at all times.
—Horses Bought, or Sold on Commission—
Stable Near Southern Depot. BRUCE ROBERTS, Manager.
'Phone 172½, Hughes' Line.

CEILINGS. SKYLIGHTS. CORNICES
The Porter Iron Roofing & Corrugating Co
27 and 29 West Front Street,
CINCINNATI, - - OHIO.
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Iron, Steel, Galvanized & Felt Roofing.
Our Agents will give you wholesale prices.
☞Agents:—Bruce Anderson, Constance, Ky. L. L. Tanner, Union, Ky.
Our Unexcelled "Heating Drums" are the best. Inquire for Prices.

OH HOW DELIGHTFUL!
The Perfect Deodorizer and Disinfectant
FRAGRINE
Refreshes. Perfumes. Invigorates. Endorsed by Physicians.
Most Pleasant of Toilet Requisites.
Most healthful of Household Necessities. Call and try it at JOHN ALLISON'S, Undertaker, Covington, Ky.

For Sale.
Business property in Constance, Ky., consisting of House, Store, Feed Room, Livery Barn of 20 stalls. Will sell property and invoice goods—will sell property and keep stock; also for rent a blacksmith and wagon makers shop.
C. W. ROBINSON,
Constance, Ky.

Dr. G. M. Terrill,
DENTIST,
Walnut Street,
LAWRENCEBURG, - INDIANA.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, . . . KENTUCKY

1905	FEBRUARY					1905
SUN.	MON.	TUE.	WED.	THU.	FRI.	SAT.
● New Moon	◑ 1st Qr.		1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28			○ Full Moon	◐ Last Qr.

The coining of the longest word in our language is credited to Mr. Gladstone, "disestablishmentarianism."

Of the patients in the lunatic asylum at Lahore, India, 33 per cent. are believed to have been habitual hemp drug takers.

In the herring season, which extends from the middle of August to the end of December, the fishing boats of Yarmouth, England, caught 525,378,800 herrings.

Dr. L. A. Van Wagner, of Brookfield, has invented a device which is to be attached to the telephone which will give indication if there has been any ... during the absence of the attendant.

During the first nine months of 1904 Germany's imports amounted to $1,134,070,000, exceeding those of the corresponding period of 1903 by $33,201,000. During the same time Germany exported wares valued at $910,112,000, a gain of $13,804,000 over the exports of the first nine months of 1903.

Two of the by-products of sugar factories are utilized in France—the pulp from the presses and the drained treacle, or the molasses from which no more sugar can be obtained by the ordinary processes of crystallization. The pulp serves as food for animals, and is sold to farmers at about five cents per 100 pounds.

The agricultural expert attached to the German consulate general at Cairo reports that American steam plows are being successfully used in that country. He advises German manufacturers to combine and send a good mechanical engineer to Egypt to study agricultural conditions and what machines are best suited for that country.

An extensive camphor forest is said to exist on the borders of Szechuen, Kweichau and Hunan Provinces, China. It is said to extend 100 miles, but it is only recently that the natives have begun to produce camphor for the market in that locality. Little is known of the region, as it is off the regular lines of travel and not visited by foreigners.

English, French and Spanish are the principal languages spoken in Santo Domingo, English and French being especially spoken along the coast. The population is chiefly of mixed Spanish, Indian and Negro blood, with some of pure African descent and comparatively few whites. The total population is estimated at 500,000, at this time, although the official estimate in 1888 was 610,000.

It does not look as if we shall get out of coal, at any rate this winter. It is estimated that beneath the earth's crust there are about 8,000,000,000,000 yards of coal at depths available for the use of man—in round numbers a little over 7,000,000,000,000 tons. Of this store Great Britain has available for use about a fifteenth part, or, according to the best estimates, 145,000,000,000 of tons. The world's store, it is estimated, will be exhausted in about 2,000 years.

The latest plan of the advocates of spelling reform is the urging of a universal phonetic alphabet based upon the present Roman letters—that is, international agreement that the letter should have the same sound in every language. Thus, the letter "a," instead of having the several sounds given to it in the English language, like in "father" and in "language" itself, or as in German and French, would have one fixed sound. Thus a man reading any of the languages would at once know how to pronounce the word.

In 1898 the largest known and at the same time the most complete Brontosaurus skeleton was discovered about three miles west of the Bone Cabin quarry. It was worked out with great care, and is now being restored and mounted complete at the American museum under the direction of Prof. Osborn. When finished it will be the only mounted skeleton of a Brontosaurus in the world, though at the Yale museum the pelvis and hind legs of a diosaur of this kind are mounted, hitherto the greatest curiosity in this line.

Thousands of people are handling certain articles daily without any idea of their dangerous nature. The ordinary soda water siphon, for instance, is a bomb, and an exceedingly powerful one to boot, charged, as it frequently is, up to a pressure of between 130 and 160 pounds. A child who dropped one of these dangerous contrivances in the street the other day was almost as shockingly mangled by the resultant explosion as was M. de Plehve, the recently assassinated Russian minister of the interior, by the dynamite bomb.

THE NEWS CONDENSED

Pithy and Pointed Paragraphs of Recent Interesting Happenings.

EVENTS AT HOME AND ABROAD.

What the Congressmen Are Doing in Congress—Notes From the War in the Far East and the Strike in Russia.

CONGRESSIONAL NEWS.

Representative Foss introduced a bill "to reorganize and increase the efficiency of the personnel of the fleet of the United States." The bill shortens the course at the naval academy until 1913 to three years.

The house provision in the army appropriation bill limiting the pay of retired officers strictly to the retired pay of their rank, which has been the subject of disagreement between the two houses, was settled in conference by the senate conferees accepting the house provision in principle.

Through his counsel, Judge Swayne made formal responses in the senate to the articles of impeachment made by the house of representatives. Each of the 12 articles of impeachment was answered at length.

After nearly a week of discussion on the post office appropriation bill carrying $180,787,418, passed the house.

Senator Dillingham introduced a bill directing that the name of Esther A. Damon, widow of Noah Damon, late of Masaschusetts troops, revolutionary war, be placed on the pension roll at the rate of $24 a month.

The agricultural appropriation bill was reported to the senate by Senator Proctor. It carries appropriations aggregating $6,787,170, an increase of $206,740 over the bill passed by the house.

WAR IN THE FAR EAST.

The British steamer Brinkburn, from San Francisco, sailed with a cargo consisting of 40,446 sacks of barley, 1237 sacks of oats and 39,685 bales of hay. She cleared for Vladivostok.

The Russian admiralty, having definitely committed itself to the policy of rebuilding and greatly increasing the size of the navy is already being besieged by foreign firms anxious to secure contracts.

The Russian attempt to turn Gen. Oku's left flank has proved a complete failure. Over 100,000 men were engaged in the Russian demonstration against the Japanese positions immediately east of Heikoutai, a force strong enough to have been successful, as only about one Japanese division was sent against them. The Russian loss is estimated at over 4,000, although prisoners say that one regiment was practically annihilated.

It is evident that both armies are preparing for a battle when the weather moderates.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS ITEMS.

Serious disturbances are reported at Cracow. Thousands of workmen gathered and Deputy Daszinski, the leader of the Galician socialists, made a speech denouncing the czar.

Maxim Gorky, the author, who was arrested at Riga for his connection with the revolutionary movement, has been released.

At Newport News, Va., the submarine boat Simon Lake X was submerged 38 feet and returned to the surface in 30 seconds. This cuts in half the record held by the French type of submarine which is one minute.

William F. McLaughlin, a pioneer merchant of Chicago, and proprietor of the oldest and largest coffee importing and roasting house in Chicago, is dead.

The interstate commerce commission forwarded to the attorney general a report on the investigation of the charges that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad has been granting rebates to the Colorado Fuel and Iiron Co., the report showing that the law had been violated.

Kentucky court of appeals issued a subpoena directing Magistrate Edwards, of Breathitt county, to appear before that court and testify as to the arrests of the Hargises, Callahan and Spicer, in that county, and to bring a record of his court in the case.

The Isthmian canal commission has awarded a contract for furnishing hewn cross ties, made of red cypress, for construction work on the canal.

Secretary Taft received from Deeming, treasurer of the Panama Railroad Co., a check for $344,435 as a dividend on the government holdings of 68,883 shares of Panama railroad stock.

The Idaho senate passed a bill providing that any person found guilty of polgamy shall be sentenced to pay a fine of from $200 to $2,000 and suffer imprisonment from six months to five years. Another measure makes adultery a crime, punishable by fine and imprisonment.

Personal assurances of his intention to ameliorate the conditions and remove the causes in so far as they are economic which led to the recent strike, were delivered by Emperor Nicholas to workingmen representing all the leading factories of St. Petersburg, who, at his invitation, journeyed to Tsarskoe-Selo.

Fifteen stores were destroyed by fire at Stafford, Kan. Total loss $50,000. The town was saved by a sacrifice made by J. L. Ball, who permitted a back fire to be started in his building on which no insurance was carried.

At Windsor, Vt., a few hours after receiving the last rites of the Catholic church and hearing her father confessor read the prayers for the dying, Mrs. Mabel Rogers, who was sentenced to die upon the gallows for the murder of her husband, was reprieved for four months by the governor.

The Missouri senate, democratic by more than two-thirds majority, adopted a house joint resolution calling upon Missouri's delegation in congress to support President Roosevelt in his proposed railroad legislation.

Frank Gotch, of Humboldt, Ia., successfully defended his title of champion of the United States in a wrestling match with Tom Jenkins, of Cleveland.

The continued freeze threatens to cause an oyster famine. Thousands of tongers have been thrown out of work in Lynn Haven and Chesapeake bay, the James, York and Rappahannock rivers.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Darling tendered his resignation to President Roosevelt. He will be appointed collector of the port of Burlington of the district of Vermont.

Fire entirely destroyed Cedar Court, the country house of Otto H. Kuhn, senior member of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., situated near Morristown, N. J. Loss about $400,000.

Gov. Vardaman and other members of the Mississippi board of control of the state's prison, purchased live stock for the state plantation, which is cultivated by convict labor.

An immense ice floe drifted against intake of the St. Louis water works, for a time diminishing the capacity of the intake two-thirds.

By the will of E. A. Goodnow, of Worcester, Mass., Tuskogee Normal and Industrial institute, Oberlin college, Oberlin, O., trustees of Northfield Seminary, Huguenot Seminary, Wellington, South Africa, Washburn college, Topeka, Kan., get $5,000 each.

Pursued and treed for eight hours by a pack of timber wolves with the temperature 20 degrees below zero, has been the experience of Hans Peterson, a farmer of Corn Valley, near Lacrosse, Wis.

Fire in Shamokin, Pa., destroyed the stocking factory of Pauber & Co., Aucher's planing mill and lumber yards, four dwellings and some other properties. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

T. J. Lannon, 51, retired merchant of Leeds, Mo., must suffer the amputation of his hands and feet as the result of an attack by a footpad. He was knocked senseless and laid in the cold for hours.

Senator Hansbrough introduced in the form of an amendment to the sundry civil bill a measure which, if adopted, would have the effect of repealing the drawback provision of the Dingley act, in so far as it applies to wheat.

Gov. Johnson, of Minnesota, laid before the pardon board a letter from Cole Younger, the former bandit, who was pardoned after serving 25 years of a life sentence in which he asks that the conditional features attached to his pardon be eliminated.

The reprieve by Gov. Bell, of Vermont, of Mrs. Mary Rogers, who was to be hanged, has brought to Gov. Pennypacker telegrams from all over the country asking him to reprieve Mrs. Kate Edwards, who is under sentence of death in Reading, Pa., on February 16.

W. S. Champ, secretary for William Ziegler, has engaged Capt. Kjeldensen to command the Arctic steamer Terra Nova on her approaching voyage to the far north.

Senator Crane introduced a bill appropriating $250,000 for the establishment of a leprosarium for the segregation of lepers, and to prevent the spread of leprosy in the United States.

Fire destroyed a part of the Ingleside home for women at Buffalo. One woman was killed and four were seriously hurt. One may die.

The final contract has been signed for the Chinese government gold loan of $5,000,000 for the payment of the balance required for converting the Boxer indemnity into gold, says a Peking dispatch.

Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick refused to sign a petition to Gov. Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, to commute the sentence of Kate Edwards, convicted of the murder of her husband and sentenced to be hanged.

William C. Lyons was found guilty of illegal voting by a jury in the criminal court at Denver. William Kelley and Charles Mueller pleaded guilty to charges of being accessories to illegal voting and were given 90 days each in jail.

Arrayed in all the glory of wedding finery and with 200 pairs of admiring eyes looking on, Frank Vencunas refused to take Miss Helena Haskins for his bride in St. Joseph's Catholic church at Mahanoy City, Pa., and fled from the church.

The home of Charles Otts and family in Canastota, N. Y., was destroyed by fire, and three young children were burned to death. Mrs. Otts, aged about 35, was probably fatally burned.

The government will establish at Richmond, Ind., a station for field experiments with insects affecting seeds, grains and grasses.

At the Bellaire (O.) plant of the Carnegie Steel Co. occurred a fatal accident in which six men were buried beneath a slide of ore and four were killed.

The monthly comparative statement of government receipts and expenditures shows that, for January, 1905, the receipts were $43,410,285, and the expenditures $49,628,299, leaving a deficit for the month of $6,218,014.

The army transport Sherman sailed for Honolulu, Guam and Manila. She carried the officers and men of the 21st infantry, bound for the Philippines.

John McDonald, a wealthy business man and politician, died at Evansville, Ind., of blood poisoning as the result of trimming his corns with a rusty knife.

Rev. Joseph Walter Warder, a noted Baptist pastor, aged 79, died in Louisville, Ky. For 23 years he was secretary of the Baptist state board of missions in Kentucky.

Gen. George Holquin, financial delegate of Colombia, is in Paris trying to arouse European suspicions regarding the United States' designs on South America. In the course of an interview he points out that the United States is gradually obtaining complete influence there, the final object being to shut out European trade.

While a party of eight boys was coasting down Beach street hill, Battle Creek, Mich., their bobsled crashed into a rapidly moving Michigan Central train. George Lundy, aged 12, was instantly killed and Leo Sharkey, aged 10, had his left leg severed by the car wheels.

At Roanoke, Va., the jury in the case of Charles R. Fishburn, the young banker and broker charged with the murder of Dr. Fred Lefew, a prominent young physician, in October last, brought in a verdict of voluntary manslaughter and fixed the punishment at ... years in the penitentiary.

George H. Armstrong, a well-known telegraph operator employed by the Western Union Co., in Houston, Tex., committed suicide by taking a dose of strychnine.

On complaint of many persons who are said to have invested money in the Co-Operative Turf association, Post Office Inspector C. F. Anderson, with Deputy United States Marshal Fowler, arrested J. F. Barrett, of Chicago, on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Lindsay Owens, of Marietta, O., emptied the contents of a revolver into his wife's body. He then walked to an oil tank on his farm, set it on fire and plunged into the fiery mass. His wife is thought will live.

John Cascae gave an exhibition of how he would commit suicide in New Orleans and as a result is suffering with a bullet wound in the neck. Cascae took four cartridges out of his revolver. He forgot to remove the fifth.

In a crossing collision at Raisin Center, Mich., between a Lake Shore passenger train and a westbound Wabash freight, Engineer Sheldon Stone and Fireman Lancaster, both of the passenger train, were killed.

Leo Ososkie, aged 2 years, and his baby brother James, aged 2 months, children of a shipyard laborer, were suffocated to death by smoke in their home at Wyandotte, Mich.

In a sermon on "Child Labor" at St. Peter's cathedral, Scranton, Pa., Rt. Rev. M. J. Hoban, bishop of Scranton, came out unequivocally for permitting working boys to play athletic games on Sunday.

Twenty-one suits amounting to $147,000 have been filed in the county court at Tuscaloosa, Ala. Each of the suits were for $7,000 and were filed by the non-union miners at Brookwood against the United Mine Workers of America, United Mine Workers of America, District No. 20, and the local organization there, or No. 656.

The strike movement in Poland has spread to the governments of Warsaw, Petrikau, Kalisz, Radom, Lublin and Suvalki. Martial law has been declared in Kalisz, Radom and Siedlec.

Property to the amount of $240,000 was destroyed by fire in Birmingham, Ala.

Miss Louise Schroeder was shot and instantly killed by Emil Bollinger, a janitor, in New York. He was arrested after being seriously injured in an attempt to escape. He says the woman ruined his life.

The dead body of Mrs. John A. Kirkpatrick was found in the back yard of an unoccupied house in Allegheny, Pa., only a short distance from her home. She had been murdered and the morgue physician states that the woman had been criminally assaulted. Norman Geyser, a former admirer of the woman, was arrested.

There is good reason to believe that a revolution in Venezuela is contemplated.

During a snowslide at Telluride, Col., Tyrie Sneed Collard, son of Rev. J. H. Collard, of El Paso, Tex., and nephew of the late Chief Justice Collard, of Texas, was killed.

Locked in the frigid grip of a pyramidal ice gorge and unable to turn wheel or rudder, the big steamer Hudson burned to the water line at Cincinnati.

Maddened by jealousy, James C. Kennedy, foreman at the plant of the Union Springs Manufacturing Co., at New Kensington, Pa., sent seven bullets into the body of Howard M. Ebner.

Brig. Gen. Clarence Smith, commander of the West Virginia National Guard, at Fairmont, died of a nervous disorder. The general never recovered from a disease he contracted in the Spanish-American war.

Dr. James A. Freer, well known physician and surgeon of Washington City, 46, was found dead at a country inn near that city, where he had gone for the night.

President Roosevelt signed a bill which immediately transfers the administration of the federal forest reserves, including timber sales, application for the free use of timber and permits for grazing live stock, to the department of agriculture.

Attorney Victor Roland O'Shea, 21, twice tried for the murder of his young wife, was found guilty by a Chicago jury, which fixed the degree at manslaughter.

The retirement of Interior Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky was officially announced. M. Durnovo becomes acting minister of the interior.

REVOLT IN ARGENTINE

Armed Revolutionists March on the Capital.

Government Is in Possession of Messages Which Express Confidence in the Prompt Suppression of the Outbreak.

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 6.—The revolutionary movement that was announced at Longano, about 20 miles from here, broke out shortly after midnight. Armed groups attacked and took possession of several police stations. They established pickets at various points.

President Quintana and some of the ministers proceeded to the police department here to take measures for the public safety. The minister of war, Gen. Gonoy, took up his post at the arsenal.

Several officers of the army are found to have given their adhesion to the movement, but, though it is believed to be entirely of a military nature, it is impossible as yet to appreciate its true scope.

The Ninth regiment of cavalry and the corps of engineers are pledged to the rising. These troops started from the Campo de Mayo, a military encampment near Buenos Ayres, in a march against the capital, and the minister of war has sent a regiment of cavalry against them.

Owing to the partial interruption of telegraphic and railroad services, precise information concerning the insurrectionary movement in the provinces is unobtainable, but the government evidently is in possession of favorable messages which express confidence in the prompt suppression of the outbreak.

C. T. BECKWITH DEAD.

He Was President of Defunct Citizens' National Bank of Oberlin.

Oberlin, O., Feb. 6.—C. T. Beckwith, president of the defunct Citizens' National bank, of this city, is dead, after two days of unconsciousness during which dissolution was expected at any moment. Only the family surrounded the deathbed of the banker.

Mr. Beckwith was about 65 years of age. On December 14 last the federal grand jury in Cleveland returned five indictments against Beckwith upon the charge of violating the national banking laws in connection with the loans made to Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick by the Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, of which deceased was the president. From the day of his arrest Beckwith's health failed rapidly as a result of worry over his troubles. He frequently declared during his illness that he wanted to die. For several days prior to his death he refused to take food in any form. Death resulted directly from heart trouble.

The death of President Beckwith may materially weaken the case of forgery and conspiracy to misapply bank funds now charged against Mrs. Chadwick.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

The Grangers Want It Observed as "Farm, Home and Factory Day."

New York, Feb. 6.—A proclamation "Addressed to the American People," was promulgated from the various state capitals under the auspices of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry and various national labor and agricultural organizations, declaring that Washington's birthday be observed as "Farm, Home and Factory Day." It advises that upon this day the people concentrate their thought upon the conditions for the betterment of the home, farm and factory. The proclamation recites a number of reforms as the object of the movement, among them being government authority over railroads, "sufficient to abolish unjust rates and discrimination;" a parcels post permitting packages up to 11 pounds in weight, and a post check currency post.

BATTLE OF HOIKUTAI.

Japs Lost 162 Officers and 5,500 Men Killed or Wounded.

London, Feb. 6.—According to the Daily Mail's Tokio correspondent, Lieut. Gen. Tachimi, in command of the Eighth Japanese division, bore the brunt of the fighting in the battle of Hoikutai. He was constantly opposed by superior forces, but continued fighting till the last, with a total loss of 162 officers and 5,500 men killed or wounded.

Death of Capt. J. C. Grannan.

Cincinnati, Feb. 6.—Capt. J. C. Grannan, known throughout the country as one of the notable detective managers of his time, died at the home of his nieces, the Misses Grannan, in West Seventh street. Capt. Grannan had been ill for months with a complication of diseases.

Gen. Matzumura Dead.

London, Feb. 6.—Gen. Matzumura, according to the Tokio correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, died at the front from congestion of the brain. He commanded the operations at 203-Metre Hill and was decorated and promoted for heroism.

Strikers Driven Back.

Sosnovice, Feb. 6.—Strikers to the number of 15,000 marched from Dombrovo to this place and attempted to reach the Warsaw station, but Cossacks drove them back without using their weapons.

AN OLD MAN'S TRIBUTE.

An Ohio Fruit Raiser, 78 Years Old, Cured of a Terrible Case After Ten Years of Suffering.

SIDNEY JUSTUS.

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble, of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything, and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the daytime, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful, and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

A TRIAL FREE—Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents.

SCIENTIFIC SPECIALS.

Science now transforms radishes into potatoes. Showing a process of Pasteur, M. Moillard cultivates a young radish in a glass retort, in concentrated glucose, when the radish develops much starch and swells out, losing its pepperiness, and acquiring the taste, consistency and nutritive properties of the potato.

Prof. Millichau, the well known French savant, has discovered in the spectrum of Jupiter absorption bands similar to those of the spectrum of Uranus. One of them indicates the presence of watery vapor in the atmosphere of Jupiter. As the result of his observations, he agrees with Prof. Janssen that the chief planets of the solar system have atmospheres in the main similar to our own.

Glass hives for bees are well known, but a portable ants' nest, as supplied in London under the name of "The Lubbock Formicarium," is something of a novelty. It is expected that one of these nests will serve six years or more for study or exhibition. The nest resembles a picture frame ten inches square, and contains the small yellow ant in its various stages, with or without a queen, and with associated insects.

The quantity of carbonic acid gas permissible in factories and homes is a question in which the whole world is vitally interested, and, while there are plenty of authorities who assert that this should not exceed nine volumes in 10,000, there does not appear to be any practical device for the visual indication of the freshness of the atmosphere. The best practice provides for the introduction of from 4,000 to 4,200 cubic feet of fresh air an hour for each individual.

Knows a Good Thing.

Mr. Fresch—Sir, I'm looking for a situation.

Merchant—There's nothing for you to do here.

Mr. Fresch—Dee-lighted! How much a week will you give for doing it?—Chicago Journal.

A FELLOW FEELING.

Why She Felt Lenient Towards the Drunkard.

A great deal depends on the point of view. A good temperance woman was led, in a very peculiar way, to revise her somewhat harsh judgment of the poor devil who cannot resist his cups and she is now the more charitable. She writes:

"For many years I was a great sufferer from asthma. Finally my health got so poor that I found I could not lie down, but waked the floor whilst others slept. I got so nervous I could not rest anywhere.

"Specialists told me I must give up the use of coffee—the main thing that I always thought gave me some relief. I consulted our family physician, and he, being a coffee fiend himself, told me to pay no attention to their advice. Coffee had such a charm for me that in passing a restaurant and getting a whiff of the fragrance I could not resist a cup. I felt very lenient towards the drunkard who could not pass the saloon. Friends often urged me to try Postum, but I turned a deaf ear, saying: 'That may do for people to whom coffee is harmful, but not for me—coffee and I will never part.'

"At last, however, I bought a package of Postum, although I was sure I could not drink it. I prepared it as directed, and served it for breakfast. Well, bitter as I was against it, I must say that never before had I tasted a more delicious cup of coffee! From that day to this (more than two years) I have never had a desire for the old coffee. My health soon returned; the asthma disappeared, I began to sleep well and in a short time I gained 20 pounds in weight.

"One day I handed my physician the tablets he had prescribed for me, telling him I had no use for them. He stayed for dinner. When I passed him his coffee cup he remarked: 'I am glad to see you were sensible enough not to let yourself be persuaded that coffee was harmful. This is the best cup of coffee I ever drank,' he continued; 'the trouble is so few people know how to make good coffee.' When he got his second cup I told him he was drinking Postum. He was incredulous, but I convinced him, and now he uses nothing but Postum in his home and has greatly improved in health." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Look in each package for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

BAND OF OHIO FIREBUGS BROUGHT TO JUSTICE

HAVE TERRORIZED A PORTION OF THE STATE FOR LAST THIRTY YEARS.

MANY PROMINENT MEN ARE INVOLVED

State Officials Were Baffled Until They Secured the Confession of Eighty-Year-Old Jack Page, After Which Indictments Followed Rapidly.

History of This Remarkable Band of Incendiaries and Their Methods of Operation—Boldness Marked Every Move—A Desire for Revenge on the Part of Page Finally Caused Their Exposure.

Toledo.—Northwestern Ohio, with its pretty farms and prosperous landowners, is nearing the end of a reign of terror of 30 years, during which time a gang of incendaries, hungry for sudden wealth, have desecrated its beauty with flaming torches, and committed almost every crime on the calendar, from the smallest burglary to attempted murder.

Criminal history tells no story of events so blood-curdling as those which have shocked the residents of this section in the last quarter century. The wildest dime-novel dreamer could hardly imagine so terrible a melodrama as has been acted hy this conspiracy of mercenary firebugs. Revelations made in the past few weeks, by confession, and investigation by state officers, are so startling as to be almost unbelievable. Against one man have been returned 12 indictments, against another there are ten and lucky indeed is the member of the organization who escaped with only a single true bill for the work of the state has been thorough and the law's firm hand has been laid with unrelenting vigor on those known to be connected with the organization.

Only a Beginning.

With the 40 or more indictments, however, it is believed that only a good beginning has been made. Deep under the surface, it is known that more disclosures, still more startling, are to come. Those men effected by investigation now completed, fully conscious that their long terms in prison will effectually prevent them from participation in more work, have shown a disposition to tell at least some of the secrets, and, with the aid of these admissions, Williams and Fulton counties, where the more exciting events have transpired, are determined to punish all the guilty, and remove the stain of dishonor which has been made upon them by their tardiness in ferreting out the criminals.

Thirty years ago, Jack Page, one of the most daring and notorious of the firebugs, was a young man, possessed of a valuable farm and surrounded by friends who wished him only prosperity. Homer Morrison, also young and well-to-do, was his neighbor. Whatever induced these two boys to leave the Puritanic path laid out for them by Christian parents cannot be explained, except in their greed for gold. But the desire to defraud came, and 25 years elapsed before it was satiated. Gathering as clansmen apparently honest and respectable farmers, the gang pursued its course, stopping at nothing, making insurance companies its prey, and pouncing upon them every time an occasion presented itself.

Working as honored men by day, they became the vilest desperadoes by night. A dual existence it was, with church worship an outward sign of the piety in their bosoms. Nothing escaped. Schoolhouses were fired with impunity, just as willingly as were farmhouses; stores and barns made the objects of their incendiarism, for one class of timber made as pretty a flame as another.

Made Arson a Business.

As far as known, only one of the band made arson a business, just to see things burn. This was Freddy Bowman, a genuine pyromaniac, whose lust for adventure induced him to set fire to the Methodist church in Stryker, O. From a small shed nearby he watched the flames devour the small structure. Taken in because he was young and precocious, he was entrusted with small jobs, where the risk of detection was not grest, and where he would be given opportunity to become proficient in the art, and ultimately develop into a talented firebug. One night, without orders from his superiors, he touched off the church, and his subsequent apprehension and confession almost ensnared the remainder of the gang. But, so high in the community did the ringleaders stand, the admissions of the youth were pronounced falsehoods, and nobody but the officers placed faith in them. Not until within the last year, when the boy's confession was substantiated, did it become public that his arrest was one of the first of an organization of men who allowed the commission of no crime, however enormous, to stand between them and the money they coveted.

The traveler unacquainted with the happenings of past years would see little in the seared country nowadays to attract his attention. The fire-destroyed buildings have been replaced with new structures and, under the protection of the state fire marshal, protection has been given sufficiently to allow improvements. But the time was when every man, woman and child stood in mortal fear of the gang. One man could hardly speak confidentially to his neighbor for fear that he would thus address a member of the organization and so jeopardize, not only his property, but the lives of himself and family. So high in social standing were the criminals that their identity was unknown, except in the inner circle. Once a building was fired, he who applied the flames was covered with the garb of good citizenship, and even the bravest feared to point at him the finger of suspicion, for such meant speedy revenge. A remark by one boasting farmer resulted in the burning of his barn the same night.

Task of State Officers.

To hunt down such a lot of beings was the task of state officers. The undertaking was known to be big and fraught with peril. Evidence was collected only after the greatest efforts. Now and then, indications would appear on the surface of what was really happening, and it was from these small clues that the detectives finally unearthed the chief conspirators and turned them over to the law for punishment.

Of this gang of fearless criminals, Homer Morrison, once a respected son of well-to-do parents, was the leader. His cunning brain devised most of the daring jobs during the long years he and his pals worked, unmolested, burning any building for which the owner paid the required fee. Once a man employed the arsonists to transact business, he was in their meshes, for, if he was not aware that he was just as liable to punishment as if he had applied the torch, he was so informed, and thus became an addition to the ranks.

The Killing of Ayers.

It was Morrison's avarice that resulted in the concoction of a plot to kill Samuel Ayers, November 27, 1897. Ayers was a wealthy cattleman, who lived near West Unity, a small village in Williams county. The old fellow was peculiar, believed everybody his friend, and feared harm from no one. Every Friday, as regularly as that day came each week, he visited the little bank in the village, drew out from $1,500 to $5,000 with which to transact business the week following.

ELY STANDS OFF A POSSE.

Morrison was Ayers' best friend, to all appearances. One night, Morrison casually asked the cattleman why he never carried a revolver for protection.

"What's the use?" Ayers asked. "Nobody knows I have money in my pockets but my friends, and I trust every one of them."

Within a week Morrison, fearing to do the job himself, imported Jim Ely, a Kansas City crook, who was to hold up Ayers and murder him if necessary to get the money. Ely balked on the killing. "I have a brother who will do that; he will be here soon," he told Morrison, and in two days C. Waldo Ely dropped in at West Unity, met Morrison in the latter's barn and the details of the crime were planned. Morrison's scouts watched Ayers, learned that he drew about $3,000 from the bank, and shadowed his every movement until the time came to strike.

Meanwhile Morrison remained at home, conscious of the fact that half the swag was to be given him, that the division was to be made in his barn, where the plans for the robbery were made, and that Ely was to be "planted" there until he found a good opportunity to escape.

Yet Morrison and the cattle buyer had been life long friends, and Ayers, if he was to choose any one man more friendly to him than another, would have selected Morrison. But Morrison saw his chance and his wicked mind could not be restrained by mere bonds of friendship.

The night of the assault a dismal rain and cutting wind, almost blinding all who chanced to be out, kept nearly everybody in the village indoors. Ayers had played his usual game of cards and was on his way home. Morrison's men spotted him, signalled Ely, who was lying in ambush, and when Ayers came to the designated spot he found two big guns thrust in front of his face.

Ely was behind them, well masked. "Your dough, please," was all the accomplished stick-up man said.

Ayers reached for an old-fashioned Colt revolver that he had, by mere chance, put into his pocket before leaving home. Afterwards he said that Morrison's admonition made him suspicious.

As he pulled the gun there were two sharp reports as streaks of flame poured from the barrels of the guns Ely held. Ayers fell with a groan. The noise of the shooting attracted people of the town, and in a moment or two several were hurrying to the scene.

Flight of the Murderer.

Ayers had fallen in such a manner that his wallet, filled with bills, could not be reached and Ely was obliged to scud away in the darkness, leaving the prostrate body of Ayers to be found by the villagers. Hastening to Morrison's barn he found that arsonist beside himself with rage.

"Why did you shoot? Why didn't you belt him over the head?" he asked Ely.

"Shut up, you fool, I had to shoot or he would have got me," Ely replied, coolly; "and what's worse, I didn't have time to get the money."

Morrison, cowardly even in crime, wanted to leave Ely to his own fate. The Kansas City crook, however, was too old at the business. "You got me into it, now get me out, or there'll be somebody else beside me sent up for this little job," was his admonition, and it was up to Morrison to furnish the assistance.

With the help of a farm hand who afterwards confessed, Morrison railroaded Ely several miles away, where he was to remain for a week or two, but a posse of indignant citizens pressed too closely on his trail and immediate escape was necessary. Fleeing before the officers and farmers, Ely's escape, as subsequently described by himself, was one so hazardous that he does not to-day know how the shower of bullets sent after him failed to end his life. With the horses pushing him to his utmost he came upon a farmer, driving peacefully along the road. "Stop or I'll shoot," he yelled. The farmer pulled up. Paying no atten to the men following, a quarter of a mile behind, he stood behind the agriculturist and ordered him to drive "like h——, or I'll blow your bloody brains out." Again the farmer obeyed. Suddenly coming upon a dozen ditchmen directly in his path, all hope of escape seemed to be cut off. It was then that the remarkable coolness of the man and presence of mind asserted themselves. Hurriedly jumping from the wagon he cowed the crowd in front with his revolver, calmly unhitched one of the horses and before anybody knew his intentions he had jumped on the animal's back and, with half a dozen shots, dashed on a mad gallop to a stretch of wooded land three miles away. Reaching the thicket he dismounted, turned the horse loose and escaped from his pursuers. It was then that the plans of Morrison to aid in the escape was useful, for Ely found the home of Jack Taylor, one of the gang, gave the password, and was sheltered until he had time to burglarize the residence of William Schwartz, a farmer, and ultimately found his way to Kansas City.

Ely's Confession.

In the investigation of recent years the robbery of Ayers was looked into, and information given by Jack Page resulted in the apprehension of Ely. He was brought to Williams county from his residence in the west, and when the evidence prepared by the state fire marasal was shown him he confessed to the deed, took the officers over the route of his escape and verified all that had been related by Page in his confession. He served one year in the Columbus (O.), penitentiary for his crime, justice having been sidetracked to some extent because he turned state's evidence and supplied the officers with information which, in part, resulted in the arrest and conviction of Morrison, who is now serving a sentence of 30 years in prison.

Jack Page, first in crime after Morrison, enjoys freedom because he gave information of so much value in hunting down the firebugs. A crippled old man now, he does not hesitate to say that he cannot begin to remember how many houses he fired, and how many dark and stormy nights he left his home, with flaming torches, and sold his manhood and soul for a few paltry dollars, to be gained when the robbed insurance companies paid the policies on the buildings consumed.

At present Page is whiling away his time with a secret service guard constantly watching him, for members of the conspiracy have vowed to take his life for the disclosures he made.

Fire Marshall Takes a Hand.

The first visit to West Unity of Walter Payne, who was, during the investigation, assistant fire marshal, will never be forgotten by him. It was by the slightest chance that he ran into a shred of evidence which, followed up from a hundred different directions, finally brought the hoped-for results. Clyde Persing, of West Unity, was indebted to a Toledo firm in a rather large amount, and, neglecting payment, he was drawn upon. Hectored hy the action in presenting a draft to him for payment, Persing lost his temper, and threw care to the winds. At that time he conducted a small restaurant in a building owned by Mrs. Winifred Adolph. The night after the draft came to him the restaurant burned. That was in July of 1902. So bold was the action of the man that it could not fail to arouse the suspicion of Mr. Payne, and, within a few days, he visited the village. He had not been there more than a few minutes before his presence was tipped off to the leaders of the gang. Homer Morrison was there at the time, and his trusty lieutenants made him aware of the fact that the fire marshal was in the village. Payne desired to talk with Frederick Miller, the only banker of the town, and who was the agent for nearly all the insurance companies which had policies placed in the vicinity. The marshal went to the bank, and, to his surprise, the brazen scouts actually followed him, in their attempt to learn the exact nature of his business. Even Morrison, fearless because he thought his dignity in the community protected him from suspicion, listened with eagerness to what the marshal said, and then entrusted the work of shadowing Payne to less distinguished men in the profession.

The officer finally succeeded in evading the fellows on his trail, and held a long conference with Miller, and other prominent men, who, he had learned, had suffered because of their honesty in refusing to participate in the depredations. From citizens of this class, he learned much, and his suspicions that the restaurant fire was of an incendiary nature were strengthened.

But, to his great surprise, he was unable to get one of the men assembled there, to mention the name of a single person who might, possibly, be connected. They actually feared the consequences that would come, when it was discovered that they gave information. Appeal to their manliness was unavailing. They were thoroughly cowed by the threats. They feared their lives would be the forfeit for divulging any of their secrets. Payne pointed out the seriousness of the crime of arson, and showed them the criminal statutes, providing imprisonment for 20 years, of convicted firebugs, but they still refused to talk, but related events of the past, and described how the gang had succeeded, even at elections, to poll votes enough to land candidates who would not prosecute them.

Policy of the Citizens.

Such was Payne's first visit to the actual scene of operations. He left, disgusted with the men who posed as representative citizens of the community. But his subsequent visits changed his mind. He understood, after learning all about the manner of men who were doing the dastardly work, why it was policy for law-abiding citizens to keep their mouths closed, when the law offered them so little protection.

That was the proposition to he worked out, and the necessity of keen detective work was at once apparent.

With a problem of this magnitude, expenditure of much money is necessary, and when Payne reported his findings and suspicions to the state department in Columbus, it was at once decided that funds should be provided. H. H. Hollenbeck was detailed to assist in the work, and, from Toledo, and Bryan, the work was carried on, not for days, or weeks, or months, but for years.

Jack Page Confesses.

Luck favored the officers. Unfortunate Jack Page—his declining years rendering him unfit for active service—was in the way of the younger members of the gang. They resolved to put him out of the way. Murder was out of the question, so he was hired to burn a barn [illegible]gan, and Morrison, still possessing the sagacity of his younger years, so arranged things that the officers from Michigan had an easy task to track Page from the barn to his home in Ohio. There they found a set of harness that Page had stolen from the destroyed barn, and he was caught almost redhanded. In the Michigan courtroom he was an object of pity. Some investigation had been made, and it was known that the captured man was but one of a gang of many more.

"Page, you tell us about your companions, and you will be allowed to go free," the judge informed him.

"Oh, you want me to either turn state's evidence and get free that way, or take my medicine if I just confess my own crime and keep my face closed about the others," was the quick retort.

"That's it exactly," the judge said.

"I'll take my medicine," Page said, and he took it, for three years behind the prison doors of the Michigan penitentiary.

When the convict was finally released, and he returned to his Ohio pals, he was rudely shocked. Instead of being received with open arms, he was made the object of scorn and contempt.

"Why," Page said, "I could have sent all of you to h—l, but I kept my tongue and none of you was pinched."

"Put the dog out of the way, he is express baggage." Morrison said, and Page never forgot the insult. He left with the parting admonition that he would some day get even, and he has, for Morrison is serving in the penitentiary, and a score of his cronies have been indicted, a dozen found guilty and sent to prison, while Page breathes free air, and will probably live the rest of his days outside of prison walls.

The harriers in the way of a confession by Page were broken by Jim Saunders, a respected West Unity man. Saunders and Page were boys together, when they left England, the country of their birth, to try their fortunes in America. Saunders grew up in the straight and narrow path, living as he had been taught to live. Page forgot the good teachings of his youth. The officers got the two men together, Saunders well posted as to his duty. He resolved to do all he could to assist in wringing a confession from the old firebug. But this at first seemed to be useless, for Page, wary to the last, evaded the efforts to get at the truth.

Arrest of Page was finally necessary, and he was taken to Toledo, where the sweatbox was to be tried on him. Saunders accompanied him. The good man denounced the firebugs, talked of the days of long ago, when both stood on the threshold, with an even chance in the world. They had reached nearly the allotted three score and ten. The one was an honest man; the other was a criminal of the worst type. A few rounds of drinks in the Widdell hotel brought out admissions from Page. Then he confessed to some of his actions and asked Saunders' advice.

"Tell the whole truth, you can't afford to lie, now, Jack," said Saunders, and Page, seeing an opportunity to make good the threat of vengeance upon his former pals, disclosed so much that a conference with the fire marshal was arranged.

A man, conscious of the fact that his criminal operations are even partially known to those in authority, and wishing to bring upon his partners in crime the punishment he had already suffered, is easy picking for detectives. Thus it was that Page, the stoic, revealed the inner workings of the gang which had terrorized the community for years. Names were mentioned, and when the disclosures were substantiated by further investigation, the grand juries of Williams and Fulton counties were kept busy for months, indicting men connected with the conspiracy.

Number of Fires Unknown.

Nobody knows how many fires were caused by the torches of these criminals. The number is more than a hundred, but more accurate count than that has not been kept. The insurance companies have paid, it is estimated, more than $1,500,000 to the members of the gang.

Homer Morrison and Jack Page were indicted nearly a dozen times, principally for arson. April 2, 1878, they burned Morrison's home, and got the insurance. Morrison hired Page for that job. A little later, Page was duped into burning John Keller's property, west of West Unity. Then Keller, trapped because he employed Morrison to do the dirty work, was forced into the gang, and he became one of the worst of the lot. He was indicted several times for aiding Morrison and Page. October 13, 1903, he pleaded guilty to arson, and served a year in the penitentiary.

Waldo Ely, Morrison, Wesley Shipman and Frank Colon, all of whom participated in the attempt on Samuel Ayers' life, were indicted. Morrison got ten years in the penitentiary, Shipman two, and Ely one.

In 1895, new men were taken into the fold, and their work resulted in the indictment of Harry Kirkendall, William Bohner, Freddie Bowman, Charles Smith, William Davidson, and a half dozen others. Most of them confessed, and were given sentences ranging from one to four years in prison. William Matthews was another of the later-day criminals. He was sentenced to serve two years. Newton Omey, Jackson Swisher, Charles Hultzberg and one or two more are still at large, having fled from the state. They have remained away, fearing to take the consequences of their actions.

Even with the excellent work already accomplished, the state believes it has not done its full duty. More prominent men are to be dragged from their high pinnacle in society, and their work of the past exposed to the public view. Some have ceased to be active participants in the saturnallua of crime, and are leading respectable existences. But their reformation will not carry them through the present storm of justice. They must answer for their misdeeds, and the confessions, being made almost daily, will cause their downfall, and none but their disgraced families can enjoy the fruit of their ill gotten wealth.

WILLIAMS COUNTY COURTHOUSE.

It Is in This Building at Bryan, O., That the Firebugs Are Being Tried.

SHERIFF W. B. AMES.

Williams County, Ohio, Officer Who Arrested George Letcher, Alleged Incendiary, Now on Trial.

DR. EUGENE S. RICE.

(Veedersburg, (Ind.) News.)

It seems as if when the grand Artificer of the Universe sounds his gavel to call a laborer home to his reward that the blow falls where it could least be borne and oftimes where it is least expected. Especially was it so of poor Eugene Scott Rice. Doc, as he was familiarly called, was born in Boone county, Ky., April 9, 1857. He was the only child of William Buford and Mary A. Cornelius Rice. His father died when he was at the tender age of 14 of the dreadful disease consumption and his entire life was a heroic struggle to ward off the disease himself. Fortunately for him his boyhood days were spent in the care of a good christian mother who spared neither time nor means that her son might be fitted for his chosen profession that of medicine. He came to Indiana in 1895 and located in Wallace. He soon attained the reputation of being one of the best read physicians Fountain county has ever produced, and soon built up a practice and established a friendship that all should envy. He was married Nov. 28, 1900, to Effie M. Clore of Wallace, and has since resided in one of the most beautiful residences in Wallace. He was always a friend to everyone and had a pleasant word for all, but especially for children, who were almost always his constant companions. It was while laughing at one of his boy friends that he met with the injury that caused his death. On Wednesday, Jan. 11, as he was going home he saw Charley Belles slip and fall on the ice. Laughing he helped Charley to his feet and a second later fell himself and as soon as he regained his feet he fell again crushing his hip. The injury did not seem very serious at first. Drs. Caplinger and Wert dressed the wound and he was apparently resting easy until Friday night when his entire nervous system seemed to give away. He soon became unconscious and remained so until his death, Sunday morning, Jan. 15th. By his death Jackson township loses one of her best citizens and Fountain county one of its best physicians. He was also widely known in political circles having twice been elected to the office of County Coroner which position he held at the time of his untimely death. He was a prominent member of both the Masonic and Odd Fellows fraternities. His funeral services were performed by the Masons escorted by the Odd Fellows. Perhaps no one in Jackson township would have been missed more than he. His face always bore a kind and loving smile which was sure to spread sunshine and gladness among all he met. Whilst not affiliated with any church his very being was the emblem of that noblest of Christian virtues, charity. Someone has said:

Blest is the man whose softening heart
Feels all another's pain.
To home the supplicating eye
Is never turned in vain.

Christ himself said, "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another." No one can question that he loved all his fellow men with a never ending love, and his entire life was spent administering relief and comfort to the distressed in both spirit and body. Sweet are there membrances of a well spentlife Then while dropping a sympathetic tear over the bier of our deceased friend let charity incline us to throw a veil over his foibles whatever they may have been and not withhold from his memory the praise that his virtues may have claimed. Suffer the memory of his well spent life to be an ever living record of his many virtues.

Another Case of Rheumatism Cured by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

The efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the relief of rheumatism is being demonstrated daily. Parker Triplett, of Grigsby, Va., says that Chamberlain's Pain Balm gave him permanent relief from rheumatism of the back when everything else failed, and he would not be without it. For sale by all Druggists.

C. L. Griffith, realestate dealer of Walton, reports the following sales: For A. P. Gregory to J. O. Griffith, 82 2-5 acres near Beaver Lick for $7,500; for S. E. Hogsett, of Crittenden, Grant county, two story brick storehouse for $1,975; sold also for same 150 acres to Burle Whaley for $5,250; the William Greene farm of 160 acres, near Zion Station, to Worthington Bros., of Cleveland, Ohio, for $1,810. He has sold two other farms not yet ready to report

Dr. Harryman, a civil war veteran, was found dead in his room in Rising Sun, last Monday. He lived alone, and he had evidently been dead several hours when his body was found. He practiced dentistry many years with the late J. P. Ury, and had many acquaintances in this county.

For Sale—Lot good stove wood and grate wood at $4 90 a cord delivered in Burlington. Apply to Wallace Tanner, Limaburg.

LEVI L. TANNER.

The melancholy death of Levi L. Tanner, which occurred at his home in Union, January 28th, was a terrible shock to the entire community where he was highly respected by all. Death is always an unbidden guest, but when it comes under such appalling circumstances, and takes from us such a noble, good man, we mingle our tears in deepest sympathy, and our hearts are made to grieve. Mr. Tanner had been in poor health since July, but being of an industrious nature and always anxious to provide for the comfort of his family, had continued to work at his trade, carpentering, many days when scarcely able to go. Realizing that his health was fast giving away and the time drawing near, when he could no longer be of help to his loved ones, depression caused him to commit the rash deed. Thirty years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Maggie Anderson. To them were born four children, three of whom survive him. They are Mrs. William Wolfe, of Richwood, Mrs. Thomas Chambers, Columbus, Ind., and Cecil Lee Tanner. The deceased united with Ebenezer church when about 19, and lived a conservative christian life, having filled the office of deacon for many years. When it became known that this good man was dead, the heart of the community was moved. Never has there been seen on any funeral occasion here a crowd more tender nor subdued. Strong men unallied by ties of blood, wept as little children weep. Everything showed the strong hold he had upon the hearts of the people and the deep sense of their loss in giving him up To the griefstricken wife, children and brothers may this be a great comfort and may they lean upon the everlasting arms of a Loving, Heavenly Father, who is ever ready to give comfort to those who ask remembering that "He shall deliver thee in six troubles; yea in seven there shall no evil touch thee." The funeral sermon preached by Rev. Slater was very beautiful and impressive. The Masonic Lodge, of which he was an honored member, very tenderly laid him away in the Union cemetery.

MRS. MARY E. CORBIN.

Mary Elizabeth Corbin, who departed this life January 28th, 1905, was the last survivor of seven children from the union of David Wilhoit (originally Wulhoit) and Mary, known as Polly Souther, who were married in Madison county, Virginia, December 20th, 1808. Aunt Polly drew a pension for a number of years, her husband having served in the war of 1812. David Wilhoit belonged to the fifth generation in the line of ancestry of Andrias Gaar (German), who was married to Eve Seidleman in Bavaria, Feb. 23d, 1711, and migrated to Pennsylvania with his family in 1732 and from there to Va.

The subject of this sketch was born in Virginia May 6th, 1825, and came with her parents to Boone county, in 1838. She often mentioned her experience to the writer in coming from the Old Dominion, much of the journey on foot. She was married to Albert Corbin March 8th, 1849, from which union there were six children, four of whom survive her, her husband having died September 21st, 1897. Mr. Corbin, at the beginning of the Civil war, espoused the cause of the South and was forced to take up arms or do worse, and left the mother the care of the six children, aged from one to twelve years. Possessing those traits of frugality, perseverance and thrift, characteristic of her ancestry, she, with some assistance from friends, took care of the family until the close of the war, when her husband joined her and they were permitted to rear their children to manhood and womanhood. Deceased was connected with the Lutheran church while in Virginia but never took membership after she came to this county. As to her attitude toward religion, the former Pastors of Bellevue Baptist church will testify that her purse was always open to assist the cause to which most of her children were attached. Her house was always open to entertain during large religious gatherings. The neighbors, friends, kindred and needy, alike enjoyed her hospitality. No one has had a better opportunity to know than the writer, that as a mother she was indulgent, thoughtful, kindly disposed and careful, ever interested in the welfare of her family and neighbors.

She passed away with no perceptible pain, and after a brief discourse by Rev. Atwood, of the Baptist church, her remains were laid to rest in the old cemetery beside her husbands.

Dear children, may we be grateful for such a mother, and her noble ancestry, and may we strive to emulate their virtues. † † †

KRAUSER'S
Liquid Smoke, 75c
QUART BOTTLE—enough for four hogs—new way to smoke meat—no fires.
GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.,
—GROCER.—
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, KY.

J. P HEMPHILL
THE DRUGGIST
at Rising Sun, Ind.,
....Carries a full line of....
DRUGS,
PAINTS,
OILS AND
VARNISHES.
In fact any and all articles kept in a first-class Drug Store, and wants to meet his Kentucky friends.
—CALL AND SEE HIM.—
Yours Respectfully,
J. P. HEMPHILL,
Rising Sun, Indiana.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,
GRASS SEEDS, FLOUR AND SALT.
We have it, you want it, come and get our choice Hay, Timothy, Clover, and Straw by
The Bale or Ton.
CORN by the car load or bushel—shelled or ear;
OATS, the best, in any quantity;
MILL FEED at lowest price for good quality of feed;
SALT that will not harden in the barrel;
GRASS SEEDS including Timothy, Clover and Blue Grass
THAT WILL GROW.
We are making a specialty of Good Blue Grass Seeds and have a nice lot of Fancy Cleaned Hand-Stripped Seed that has
Been Tested and it Grows.
OUR FLOUR CAN'T BE BEAT!
It is made from the best wheat that can be had, and it makes good bread; Try a Barrel and if you don't like it bring it back and get your money back.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.
We want your trade, give us a trial and be convinced that you
.....Want Our Goods.....
R B. HUEY & CO.,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WHAT IS HOME
WITHOUT AN UP-TO-DATE
IRON FENCE?

—MAKES HOME ATTRACTIVE.—
Lasts a Lifetime. Low Prices-Surprising.
For Best Prices Call or Write to
HENRY QUICK, Hebron, Ky.,
—SPECIAL AGENT FOR—
The Stewart Iron Works Company,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

DURING FEBRUARY
I will offer all my ready-made Men's, Boys' and Children's Suits, Overcoats and Odd Pants at a discount of 25 per cent for CASH ONLY.

$20.00	Garments,	one-fourth off	$15.00
18.00	"	one-fourth off	13.50
15.00	"	one-fourth off	11.25
12.00	"	one-fourth off	9.00
10.00	"	one-fourth off	7.50
8.00	"	one-fourth off	6.00
6.00	"	one-fourth off	4.50
5.00	"	one-fourth off	3.75
4.00	"	one-fourth off	3.00
3.50	"	one-fourth off	2.63
3.00	"	one-fourth off	2.25
2.50	"	one-fourth off	1.88
2.00	"	one-fourth off	1.50

All Odd Garments at a Discount of From 40 to 50 per cent.
H. F. BLASE,
534 Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, - KENTUCKY.

RINGS, WATCHES
and CLOCKS
LAVED
AND REPAIRED
KNOWINGLY

For the Best Flour, Try
OLD KENTUCKY
BLENDED PATENT.
—GUARANTEED.—
For Something Good, Try
VIRGINIA OAK
WINTER PATENT.
—WARRANTED.—
Clifford E. Nadaud,
515 Chamber of Commerce,
CINCINNATI, O.
Room 10 Boone Block,
COVINGTON, KY.

What More Could You Possibly desire in Clothes
Than to have them made from thoroughly tested fashionable fabrics—have them tailored in the best possible manner—have them fit satisfactorily, and have them make you appear a thoroughly dressed man? that's the sort that you get from
PIPER & WALTON,
Merchant Tailors
142 E. Fourth St.,
Cincinnati, - - Ohio.
Rooms 2 and 3.
Our Fall & Winter Goods are now ready for inspection. Call and examine our stock.
In attendance at Burlington County Court days with samples.

"Always Reliable."
W. N. HIND & CO.
Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
213 W. 5 h S., Cincinnati.

Rogers Bros. General Merchants,
BELLEVUE, KY.
Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade.
DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST, - Florence, Ky.
Office at Burlington Every Monday.
" at Latonia, Ky. Thursday-Friday
the remainder of the time at Florence.
Remember I am a Painless Dentist.
PRICES REASONABLE.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
Extracting Teeth is only fun with my method.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.
AT UNION 1st MONDAY in each month.

Farm for Sale.
145 acres near Woolper creek in Boone county, Ky., now the property of Enos Barrott, of Lawrenceburg, Ind. This farm has a large tobacco barn, large stable, two story frame house of 8 rooms, good cistern and well at house; large apple orchard and all other fruits. All this property is in first-class condition. For further information apply to B. B. Grant, who is now on the place, or to D. M. Snyder, Burlington, Ky.

DR. FENNER'S
KIDNEY and Backache CURE
All diseases of Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs. Also Rheumatism, Back ache, Heart Disease, Gravel, Dropsy, Female Troubles.
Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write Dr. Fenner. He has spent a life time curing just such cases as yours. All consultations Free.
"A gravel lodged in my bladder. After using a few bottles of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure I passed a gravel half as large as a marble. The medicine prevented further formations. I was cured.
W. T. OAKES, Orrix, Va."
Druggists, 50c., $1. Ask for Cook Book—Free.
ST. VITUS' DANCE Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.
Sure Cure. Circular, Ju
Take the Recorder.

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D. Rouse's Store.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029. Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged
Money to Loan on Real Estate,
Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL,..... $50,000
Surplus and undivided profits $0,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptremitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... $50,000
Surplus,... $8.000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.
Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Idlewild, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, "
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Southe, Secy., "
R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
W. M. Rogers, Agent, Walton, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, "
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

FARM FOR SALE.
The A. P. Collins Farm Near Richwood, Ky.
Fine blue grass farm in Boone county, Ky., containing about 105 acres; good 6 room house and porches, barn, all kinds of out-buildings, good fencing, well watered with springs, wells, cistern and pond. A private avenue runs to the Lexington pike. The house is about 5 minutes walk to Richwood Station C. N. & T. P. R. R. Commuter rates to the city, 7½c a trip with four trains daily. Telegraph, telephone, express and post-office—four daily mails.
Also, 105 acres, the H. O. Rouse farm on the Union and Florence pike; good house of 7 rooms and all necessary outbuildings; well watered and land mostly in grass Apply to
W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXX. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1905. NO. 18.

County Correspondence.

BUFFALO.

James Stephens has grippe.

P. P. Neal was not so well the past few days.

Miss Edith Feldhaus has been very sick for several days.

Lennie Love spent several days last week with Joe Huey and wife.

Joe Love and wife spent last Thursday night with their son at Richwood

James Stephens and wife dined with S. H. Marshall and wife last Tuesday.

Mrs. Louis Clore and Mrs. Homer Clore went to the city, one day last week.

Mr. L. J. Riley has been sick for several days, but is some better at this writing.

Miss Emma Clements spent last Tuesday with Mrs. J. Q. Elston, who is still on the sick list.

Robert Moore has taken his father's place and is making weekly trips with his huckster and grocery wagon.

Clark Rouse was called to his son's, last Sunday, on account of their baby having a bad case of pneumonia.

Mrs. Allie Utz and children and Mrs. Fannie Adams and daughter spent last Monday with Mrs. A. J. Utz.

The neighbors gathered at the home of Richard Allen, one evening last week, and sawed him a nice lot of wood. Mr. Allen has been sick for several days.

ooo

WATERLOO.

Feb. 11—Leslie McMullen, of Burlington, spent Tuesday with friends here.

Dr. Hopkins called on twenty different patients Thursday.

This is about as slick under foot as it has been since January, 1871.

Lester Gulley, of Burlington, spent Sunday with his parents here.

Mrs. Genie and May Clore spent Tuesday evening at Mrs. Eliza Gulley's.

Mrs. R. K. Aylor spent a couple of days last week with Sam Pope and family.

There is scarcely enough well per sons to wait on the sick in this neighborhood.

Mrs. Georgia Clore and son Homer and wife, of Buffalo, spent Tuesday in Cincinnati.

Dr. Whittaker, a specialist of Cincinnati, was called to see Chas. Stephens, Wednesday.

The sleet that fell Wednesday broke one of the telephone lines that comes into the switch here.

Marion McMullen and son, of Cincinnati, spent Wednesday with W. T. McMullen near here.

Henry Clore, of Bellevue, informed us that he accompanied by two other men, drove across the river at McVille in his buggy, one day last week.

A telephone message was sent from here to Dr. Menefee, at Walton Wednesday, to notify R. B. Hueyn family that Mr. Huey was at his mother's, at Bellevue, sick with pneumonia.

Mr. Editor, to settle an argument here, tell us was it Isaac Watt or Robert Fulton who discovered the use of steam by watching the lid of a teaketle move?—[It was Watts.—ED.]

Hupert Conner's huxter wagon broke down here last Wednesday, and he could not get it repaired until the next day, so he stayed over night at the hospitable home of J. W. Kite.

L. S. Pope, sr., and sons have secured John S. Mason's drag-saw to saw their wood with. It is run by horses attached to a sweep, and has sawed as much as thirty cords of wood in one day.

The Petersburg and Waterloo Telephone Company surveyed the route for their telephone line last week. It takes 195 poles and 60 trees to make the distance. There are 18 stockholders in the company, and they will begin work on the line right away. Waterloo is be coming quite a telephone center, this line making six coming into the switch.

ooo

HEBRON.

C. E. Clore made a flying trip to Cincinnati, last Saturday.

Ed Erustes and wife gave a party to the young people of this vicinity Friday night.

Oliver Dye has purchased the late Isaac Clore farm on Elijah's creek. Consideration private.

We would like to ask Idlewild if she really is asking her queries because she does not know these facts, or whether she is trying to see how well read your readers are?

In answer to the question asked by your Idlewild correspondent, last week, would say that Columbus sailed with three ships—the Pinta, Nina and Santa Maria, the last named being the one on which he sailed.

"All Sorts" of the Ky. Post seems to have a mania for making a laughing stock of the country correspondents All in all we think though that be is a splendid writer, and believe such a column would be appreciated in the Recorder.

News has reached here from San Francisco, Cala., of the failure in the financial world of Mr. Wm. Corbin, who was formerly a Kentuckian and native of Boone county. Mr. Corbin was one of the leading business men of his city. If this news is true we are indeed sorry, as will be his many friends here and elsewhere.

The thermometer in Burlington yesterday morning ranged from 5 to 10 degrees below zero.

At Limaburg it was 4 below.
At Union, from 2 to 10 below.
At Idlewild, 4 below.
At Petersburg, 2 below.
At Belleview, 2 below.
At Hubert Beemon's, halfway between Burlington and Florence, 8 below.
At James D. Cloud's, 7 below.

Asbery Henry, an old citizen of the Francesville neighborhood, died last Sunday.

COMMISSARY.

Feb. 11.—True christianity consists of deeds rather han of words.

All of W. T. Ryle's folks have been sick except him and Miss Stella.

Joe Walton, of near Rabbit Hash, called on Henry Parsons, last Thursday.

Misses Gracie and Nannie Louden were guests of Mrs. Minnie Kelly, last Saturday.

Robert Brady reports, per Arch Acra, five sick at Ben Casou's, and Mr. Acra's mother very low.

T. J. Walton's little son, Tommie, came near losing one of his eyes, by falling on a blade of a knife.

Gilly Weisickie bought two horses, last week—one of Harry Acra at $95, and one of Charlie Kelly at $80.

School closed at Belleview, last Friday, and we suppose the Grant correspondent will soon be off for Kansas.

Wood Sullivan will soon be a patron of our rural route. Now if he were to order the RECORDER he would be strictly in it.

Miss Grace Louden spent last Saturday night with Mrs C. H. Acra, while Mr. Acra was with his aged mother, who is very ill.

Harry Acra has rented the farm Mrs. Laura Marshall bought of Gilley Weisickie, and will move to it as soon as Weisickie vacates.

Noctie that Old Reliable heads his writeups, this week, Gasburg. He considers himself priviledged to go where and when he pleases.

Mrs. Georgia Louden, of near Belleview, and Mrs. Minnie Kelly, of Lonesome Hollow, spent last Sunday with Mrs Dora Delph near Rabbit Hash.

Gilley Weisickie has delivered his crop of 2 326 pounds of tobacco to Hogan—1,500 pounds at 11 cents; remainder at 7 cents. Total amount of sale—$284 56.

T. J. Walton and wife made a business trip to Aurora, Thursday, and walked across the river on the ice. Quite a crowd assembled on the Aurora side to witness the feat.

The Belleview fox dogs have redeemed themselves. They ran down and caught a hoot owl, last Saturday, and triumphantly carried it into Belleview; at least they passed down Middle creek in that direction.

Our old time friend, John Scott, called on us a few minutes, Thursday. He had spent from Monday evening until that morning with J. J. Lillard, who he said was not getting any better. He went from Commissary to Henry Phipps' to spend a day or two.

T. J. Walton's house came very near burning last Saturday night. A lump of coal fell out of the grate and set fire to the carpet, which burnt to within two feet of the bed. Had Mr. Walton slept a few minutes longer the fire would have been beyond control. A small hole was burnt through the floor.

Little children say some very smart and cute things. A little girl on Middle creek, said to her grandmother: "Grandma, when I marry will I get a man like my papa?" and her grandmother answered, "yes." "If I never marry will I be an old maid like aunty?" and her grandma said, "yes; but why do you ask?" "Cause—aint I in a fix."

T. J. Walton received a letter a few days since from Carl Hunt, of near Ashland, Kansas, in which he says he has sold out and is staying with Weeden Williamson until the weather gets warmer, when he will bid adieu to Kansas and go to the State of Washington. He says it is very cold in Kansas, the thermometer ranging from 15 to 18 below zero.

ooo

PETERSBURG.

Feb. 13—Lots of grippe here.

Capt. Alden will beach the Pauline.

The Christian church has put in a fine, new organ.

Hauling grain across the ice on the river will begin again Tuesday.

Ott Scott and family have arrived to make our town their future home.

Everybody was watching the river, Sunday, expecting a spectular break up of the ice.

The Farmers Telephone line will have its Petersburg office at E. L. Helm's barber shop.

Everett Green, Ben Howard and Charles Peno fell into the river, Sunday, and were thoroughly drenched.

Sometime in March the Christian Church will give an entertainment, the piece rendered being entitled, "The Destrict School."

The roof on the Christian church sprang a leak, a few days ago, and damaged the interior of the building to the extent of about $25.

While in Lawrenceburg one day last week, Col. T. B. Mathews slipped and fell on the icey pavement, breaking his right arm near the shoulder and otherwise bruising himself badly.

The gorge in the river here broke about 11:30 Sunday, and moved about 100 yards, carrying the Pauline and a coal barge away, but they were soon caught and lauded without any damage. About 4 p. m., the second break came and the great mass of ice moved down about 400 yards where it gorged tight again.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by all Druggists, at 50c a bottle.

HATHAWAY.

Feb. 13.—Robert Sullivan is on the sick list.

Elmore Ryle has Lagrippe.

Five more weeks of ground hog weather

Feed for stock is getting scarce in this neighborhood.

Ed Sullivan had a woodsawing at Nathan Smith's, last Thursday.

Ramsom Ryle and wife spent last Friday with Don Williamson and wife.

The public school at this place closed on account of a lack of interest, a deficit in fuel, etc.

The firm of Honston & Weaver will close out its stock of merchandise for the next two weeks at cost.

Dolph Riley, of Union, spent several days recently visiting relatives and friends in this neighborhood.

N. L. Moore lost a valuable horse one day last week. It got [illegible] another animal and had to be killed.

John C White and family spent last Friday very pleasantly visiting Elmore Ryle and wife, on Gunpowder.

Joe Weaver has become quite a mind reader, and any one desiring a reading of the future should apply to Joe at once.

Reuben Riley of near Big Bone, purchased of O. M. Huey 50 acres of land, last week, at $25 per acre. It is near Big Bone church.

R. R. Houston was summoned to the bedside of his sister, Mrs. Ed Hensley, of Locust Grove, last Thursday. She has Lagrippe.

The Riddell's Run and Hathaway Telephone Co. held a meeting at Nathan Smith's, last Friday evening, to make arrangements to purchase its line material.

One of the nicest weddings of many years was that at Big Bone Baptist church last Sunday a week, the contracting parties being Miss Eva Howlett, daughter of Mr Bluford Howlett, and Mr. G. L. Webb, a most splendid young man of Warsaw. At 11:15 o'clock the bridal party arrived and proceeded up the church aisle, keeping step to the wedding march rendered by Mrs. Grace Clore, where they met at the altar Rev. Lanton Maddox, who, in a most solemn manner performed the marriage ceremony which united their hearts for the journey along the pathway of life. After the wedding ceremony the young couple left with their attendants for the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous repast was served, consisting of all the delicacies of the season. The bride was attired in a lovely costume of white cloth, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom wore a fine suit of the conventional black. About fifty guests responded to invitations to the wedding feast. The bride and groom received many useful and attractive presents. The young couple have the best wishes of their many friends and relatives as they journey along down the pathway of life.

ooo

LIMABURG.

Feb. 12.—Tuesday is St. Valentine's day.

Hubert Beemon lost a nice young horse last week of lung fever.

Coy Waters is staying at Owen Ayler's and doing his farm work.

Mrs. Mary Crigler and W. E. Anderson and family are ill with gripp.

W. J. Tanner is expecting to move to the South the first of next month.

The temperature here changed 40 degrees inside of fifteen hours Sunday night.

Misses Lula and Pearl Aylor are suffering with a severe toothache and neuralgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Aylor will move to their new home in Hebron the first of this week.

Uncle Jack Tanner had a very severe fall during the icy weather, but was not seriously hurt.

Joe Ryle and wife are preparing to go to housekeeping down on Gunpowder in the near future.

J. W. Quigley purchased a nice lot of young turkeys from Mrs. Lucy Beemon last week. Price, 12 cents.

Jerry Beemon and J. P. Utz say it is no trouble to climb hills since they have been rough shod. They have spikes for their boot heels.

John Summers, of Burlington, moved a load of his farm tools to his new home here, last Saturday. He has also engaging a seat at the grocery store.

ooo

BULLITTSVILLE.

Kenneth Baisly was very low again Friday, but has rallied some since.

Jas. and Ernest Brown went to the city today with a load of veal calves.

Fletcher Clore spent Saturday night and Sunday at Ezekiel Rice's, near Bellevue.

John Jackson will take charge of the Burlington toll gate on the Petersburg pike the first of March.

Lawrence Phipps, deputy tax collector, was in this neighborhood last week collecting delinquent taxes.

Thomas Grant and wife entertained about a score of their friends and relatives with a big dinner, last Friday.

Those who travel the dirt roads say they have been in better condition all the winter than they were ever known.

Several from here went to see the ice break up in the river Sunday but they were disappointed. It did not move.

Elbert Jones is at home from Cincinnati, where he has been in a hospital for two months. He looks pretty thin but says he feels well.

With the mercury a shade below the zero mark and the wind blowing a stiff breeze from the west, this morning presented a pretty fair sample of winter.

James L. Riley has been prizing and shipping some tobacco, for which he has received satisfactory prices. He has bought several crops for which he has paid from 8 to 12 cents around.

The next meeting of Pomona Grange will be held with Excelsior Grange, Saturday, February 18th.

LILLIAN CORBIN, Secretary.

GUNPOWDER.

Feb. 12.—Miss Northcutt dismissed her school last Friday on account of sickness.

Mrs. J. H. Tanner is wrestling with a severe case of rheumatism.

Query:—Who was king David's mother, what was her name?

W. R. Tanner and Mrs. Bertie Smith spent Sunday in Erlanger.

Miss Dora Black, of Okanus, Ohio, is visiting friends in this neighborhood.

Miss Pearl Phillipps, of Ludlow, is visiting friends in this neighborhood.

Rev. Slater and family were guests at J. S. Surfaces', last Saturday night.

We don't expect to see much of Perry Aylor until the frogs begin to croak.

Geo. Senior and family, of Kenton county, were guests at Ollie Rouse's, last Thursday.

The ground hog is showing his hand [illegible] a with the worst kind of sick, winter weather.

J. H. Corbin has gone back into his winter quarters since the 24 inst., and is likely to remain for six weeks.

Arthur Tanner moved to Ludlow the first of this week, where he is engaged in the service of the railroad

On account of the inclement weather last Sunday, communion services at Hopeful were postponed until some future time.

H. O. Rouse before leaving for Ga., presented to H. L. Tanner his favorite horse, with the understanding he is to keep him as long as he lives.

H. F. Utz passed here last Saturday with another consignment of telephone boxes which will be placed on the Florence and Union line.

Several farmers were hauling 50c corn from Erlanger last week. It was furnished by Bentler and Snyder the hustling feed store men of that place.

P. O. Griffin, of Erlanger, was transacting business in this neighborhood several days last week, and was called home Saturday on account of the serious illness of his wife.

Uncle Lank Crigler, who has been a sufferer with a cancer for quite a long while, passed peacefully to his reward last Sunday morning at the home of Mrs. Emma V. Rouse, near Florence.

Answer to Idlewild query—The names of three ships that were in the service of Columbus when he discovered America were Santa Maria, the Pinta and the Nina. The crew consisted of ninety men and about thirty other persons went out with them as mere adventurers.

ooo

UNION.

Feb. 13—Five below zero here Monday morning.

Coasting is fine in our town.

Dr. Robertson is kept quite busy.

Ask John Hogan how he hurt his nose?

Mike Knaley moved to his new home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Utz are at their home again.

Owen Utz will soon move to the J. S. Bristow place.

Mrs. Willie Smith spent Sunday with relatives in Erlanger.

Misses Burns, Neal and Lafe Riley have been quite sick.

We welcome Lute Tanner and family to our neighborhood.

Harvey, son of Sam Hicks, fell last Thursday and broke his leg.

Nannie Huey was badly hurt while coasting, one day last week.

Coleman Lassing spent last week at home from Danville College.

Miss Ophelia Riley entertained with a flinch party, one night last week.

Remember the Social on the evening of the 22d, and don't forget your sox.

Fielding and Eph Norman left Monday morning for business in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian Becker, Cincinnati, are guests of Fran Afterkirk.

J. W. Kennedy came home Saturday and reports the Capitol site settled

Miss Mabel Huron is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Georgie Youell, of Hebron.

Miss Lucy Russell was called home last week to see her mother, who is quite sick.

Mrs. Maggie Tanner and daughter, Cecil, are guests of Mrs. Will Wolf, of Richwood

Miss Rachel Wilson spent several days, last week, with her cousin, Nannie Bristow.

Mrs. Leonard Gibbs is with her sister, Mrs. Hensly, who is quite ill, near Locust Grove.

Miss Nannie Bristow entertained one evening last week, with a finch party, for Miss Wilson.

Rev. A. P. Gregory preached his last sermon at the Presbyterian church, Sunday morning.

Walter Lassing, who has been visiting his parents here the past week, left Monday on a two years' cruise.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lassing, of Nashville, Tenn., spent Friday and Saturday with Dr. and Mrs. Lassing.

Rev. A. P. Gregory and family will be missed very much in our community. He is such a useful man, an excellent preacher, and it will be hard to find someone to take his place.

ooo

HAMILTON.

Feb. 13.—Wm. Huff, jr., is on the sick list.

Misses Carrie and Lulie Huff were pleasant guests of your writer, last Friday afternoon.

George Burrows and wife are rejoicing over a big baby girl which, arrived at their home Feb 8th.

Mr and Mrs Lytle Webb, who were married last Sunday a week by Rev. Maddox at Big Bone Baptist church, went to housekeeping at Warsaw, last Wednesday, where they expect to make their future home. Mr. Webb has a good position as harness maker.

The Ohio river has the appearance of the polar regions

St. Valentine had a cold day for distributing his annuals.

This month is only half gone but it has furnished enough winter weather for a whole year.

CONSTANCE.

Feb. 13.—Fred Voiising and Miss Delia Golus were married a few days ago.

The remains of Miller Anderson were interred in the cemetery here last Thursday.

Geo. Heizel and Butch Miller crossed the river on the ice in a buggy a few days ago, and Creitzer took a drove of cattle over.

The cupling pole in Joe Peno's wagon slipped while he was loading hay a few days ago, and struck him on the head, cutting an ugly gash.

Several coal boats and barges were brought to this place last Sunday when the ice moved in the river, threatening a general break up. The ice gorged again about 2 o'clock that day.

A telephone line from here to Tay lorsport will be built at an early day some of the poles have been hauled along the route, and the work of setting them will begin as soon as the weather will permit.

Capts. Henry and Louie Kotmyer have been making extensive repairs on gasoline boat, and among other things they have enclosed it with swinging wainscoating, and can use it either as a summer or winter boat.

James Kissener was trying to carry a bale of hay up the steps into his front yard, when he fell and went over a stone wall which is several feet high. He was rendered unconscious and had to be carried to the house.

ooo

IDLEWILD.

Feb. 13.—One year ago today Rev. J. A. Kirtley died. No one could have been missed more.

One above zero here this morning.

29 snows from November 13 up to Febuary 12th.

C. E. Stephens has a good, new wagon bed for sale.

Glad to report all the sick in this neighborhood as better.

Hon. N. S. Walton is recovering from a severe attack of Lagrippe.

Query:—What General of the U. S. A. wept when he performed his duty to his country?

Mr. and Mrs Milton Souther went to see Mrs. Souther's sister, Mrs. Allen, of Petersburg, Saturday afternoon.

The fire steamer New South broke loose from her moorings at Riverside, Sunday, and is now ice bound at Delhi.

A young man named O'Bryan, of Lawrenceburg, got in the river while skating, and was so badly chilled that he died.

Mr. Grant Mathews was here today on his way to see his brother Thomas, who fell on the ice last Friday and broke his arm.

Joseph, son of Owen Allen, of Petersburg, was struck by the tongue of his wagon and badly bruised when he was crossing the river on the ice the other day.

Our farmers are in sackcloth and ashes since Rockefeller interfered with the organization of the Tobacco Growers' Association. Another instance in which money shows its power.

Miss Lizzie Graddy, one of our most popular young ladies, will make Lexington her future home, and has purchased a beautiful cottage home for $1,800. Her brother Joe has gone into the clothing business for himself with bright prospects for success.

Several went from here to Cincinnati, last week to see Ben Hur at the Grand. They report the scenery as the most attractive feature. Sad to think that at the same time the author of the play, Gen Lew Wallace, lay dying at his home in Crawfordsville, Indiana.

ooo

ERLANGER.

Feb. 14—Hubert Rogers and family have moved to his father's farm near Richwood.

Charles Hilker was visiting his sisters, Misses Minnie and Elizabeth, last Sunday.

Rev. J. E. Jester has returned to Louisville after a few days' visit with friends here.

Jeff Stephens has leased the pretty White cottage and with his family removed from Covington, last week.

Christ's message to the churches. A series of Sunday morning sermons in the Erlanger Baptist church: Feb. 26, Thyatira—The Harbor of Heresy; Mar. 12, Sardis—The Dead Church; Mar. 26, Philadelphia—The Faithful Church; April 9, Laodicea—The Rich yet Poor Church. You are cordially invited to attend all the services. Members expected. Visitors and strangers welcome Come!

J. R JESTER, Pastor.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by all Druggists.

Some one has been figuring out the number of words a man utters in a year, and finds the average to be 11,800,000. No one has been found who has the nerve to tackle the same problem when applied to a woman.

A newspaper may devote a column in the praise or commendation of a man and he will forget it in a couple of weeks, but a two-line item that is not altogether pleasing, will be remembered by the average reader for two years.

A marked copy of Sunday's issue of the Lexington Leader, sent to this office by D E. Lawell, shows that that city is rejoicing over the prospect of a union depot. The Christian church property on Main street has been purchased for that purpose by the railroads that enter the city.

FLORENCE.

John Ryle is able to be out after a few days' illness.

Miss Caroline Latham is visiting friends in Ludlow.

Fred Tanner, of Ludlow, spent Sunday with friends here.

J. R. Whitson has been confined to his room with bronchitis.

Uncle Lank Crigler died Sunday morning, aged 76 years.

The Bell Telephone Pay Station is in charge of Miss Cora Ryle.

Miss Gladys Carpenter, of Chicago, is the guest of relatives at this place.

Lee Whitson and wife, of Erlanger, spent Wednesday with their parents here.

Charles Whitson and son Walter, of Walton, were guests of Mrs. J. R. Whitson, last week.

Miss Nancy Latham is spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Albert Conner, at Locust Grove.

Frank Mitchell and family have broken up housekeeping and are boarding in Erlanger.

Ed and Tom Osborn have gone into the butcher business. They are having their market fixed up nicely. The boys are hustlers and we wish them luck.

Progressive Euchre, Supper and Musical will be given by the Ladies of St. Paul's church, Florence, at the Carey Residence on Lexington Pike on the evening of Feb. 22nd.

The person or persons who took a new lap robe from the horse of Elva Weaks, of Erlanger, on the 25th of Nov. at a ball at Florence, had better return same, as party is known, and avoid serious trouble.

The marriage of Miss John Anna Carpenter, of Chicago, to Prof. James Vernon Hall, of Northwestern University, of Evanston, Illinois, took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harrison Fiske, Monday afternoon, Feb. 6th. Mrs. Fiske was matron of honor and Mr. Clare Hall, of Cincinnati, best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev Haskins, of the Erlanger Christian church. Miss Carpenter has the reputation of being the second best lady golf player in the country, having been runner up to Mrs Bessie Anthony Hall, champion in the national contest at Chicago, last year. She was raised in Boone county and is well knowu here. Only the relatives and Miss Caroline Latham, a very close friend of the bride, were present.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you, is our name on the wrapper. Look for it, on all Dr. King's or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. BUCKLEN, & CO., Chicago, Ill., and Windsor, Canada. For sale by all Druggists.

Not much comin' and goin' this kind of weather.

Bruce Clore has been transporting the mail in a sled this week.

That was an awfully cold wind that came from the south yesterday.

So far this week the weather has been very fine for preparing coon meat for the epicure.

Several communications short this week, but what else could be expected when the weather is considered.

If the Lord made anything prettier than a pretty girl, there's a lot of "fellers" that don't know what it is.

Irvin Rue found his cistern frozen over Tuesday morning when he went to draw water to use in cooking breakfast.

The farmers have not been released from the contracts they signed with the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association.

When all the projected telephone lines in this county are completed, it will be one of the best 'phoned counties in the State.

There is a space in the river at Rabbit Hash about a hundred yards wide, in which there is no ice, and the ferrymen are crossing without trouble.

The local tobacco buyers will get a move on so soon as the weather will permit the handling of tobacco so they can obtain some information as to the quality of the weed they are proposing to buy.

Mrs. Reuben Acra, why has been very low of pneumonia for several days, was thought to be some better yesterday, but Chas. Stephens and Mrs. Ed Hensly had improved very little if any. James D. Acra was the latest acquisition to the list of very sick in that neighborhood up to yesterday.

When You have a Cold.

The first object is to relieve you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This Remedy liquefies the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by all Druggists.

THE RECORDER

W. L. HIMBELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, - - - KENTUCKY.

There are 64 shops in Berlin in which nothing but horseflesh is sold.

Physicians are beginning to recognize worry as a disease, to be prescribed for like any other malady.

Iceland produces most of the world's supply of eiderdown, the annual sale amounting to something over 7,000 pounds. Most of this is shipped to Copenhagen and commands from $2.41 to $2.50 per pound.

About 1,500 newspapers and periodicals are published in Berlin at the present time. Among these are about 50 political dailies, 30 suburban papers, 32 political and social-political journals, over 60 comic papers and over 40 women's journals with the "feminist" movement.

A recent statement that the present ivory consumption represents the annual slaughter of 20,000 elephants is denied. At last 85 per cent of marketed ivory comes from the cemeteries to which the elephants have long resorted, and much of it may be hundreds of years old.

The total production of wine for 1904 in France is now estimated at 1,743,959,650 gallons. This surprisingly large total, which is larger than any since 1875, with the single exception of 1900, does not include 158,502,000 gallons for Algeria and 4,226,720 gallons for Corsica. Prices are naturally very low.

At all times it has been an object with French parents to teach a child to be provident and economical. A child of three can become a member of the Mutualite by giving only two cents a week; one cent will entitle it to getting ten cents a day when it is ill, and the other goes toward getting a pension when it is ata certain age.

The large celluloid combs, which ladies are so fond nowadays of wearing in their hair, will, if accidentally brought into contact with a naked light, burst into a flame of explosive violence. Nor is this to be greatly wondered at, seeing that one of the ingredients of celluloid is gun cotton, while another is camphor, than which is no more inflammable substance known to chemists.

A very useful educational purpose is served by the practice of lending to schools of art in different English cities objects of art from the national museums. As an instance, the government Board of Education has this year sent from the Victoria and Albert museum in South Kensington, London, an interesting loan collection of objects of art for use in the Birmingham Municipal School of Art until the close of the current season in June, 1905.

A nervy Frenchwoman is startling Berlin with the newest fool-killer, "A Leap into the Moon." She is hoisted to the top of a steep incline, and, after mounting a motorcycle, shoots downward at a terrific rate of speed. A curve at the bottom of the track causes the machine to shoot up into the air. And after a thrilling flight the daring rider shoots into a receptacle suspended in midair. This receptacle is draped and painted to resemble a huge moon.

Among the leaders of the Capital social set none is better known than Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, wife of the Vice President-elect. As a Daughter of the American Revolution she became as much a national figure as her distinguished husband, and her connection with the work of the order makes the library and office room at her beautiful Massachusetts avenue home a much busier place than a lady's room is ordinarily believed to be.

The increased use of automobiles in France during the last few years has been so enormous that the manufacture of motor cars and their accessories has become one of the most important French industries. From a total of 1,850 automobiles in 1898, valued at $1,602,000, the output in 1904, according to the Chambre Syndicate de l'Automobile de France, has grown to 22,000 cars, of an estimated value of $34,000,000. The statistics of the industry in this country are not yet given, but will show great progress.

Argentina, or the Argentine Republic, is the second largest country of South America, having an area of 1,113,840 square miles and a population now estimated at 6,000,000 Its capital is Buenos Ayres, the largest and finest city in South America, having a population recently estimated at 1,150,000. Argentina is bounded on the north by Bolivia and Paraguay, on the west by the Andes mountains and on the east by the Atlantic ocean. The country has a coast line of about 1,600 miles, running down almost to Cape Horn.

Light literature will receive a severe blow if the New York legislature passes a bill that has been introduced in the assembly. Its provisions are as follows: "The publication, sale or offering for sale within this state of stories or novels containing narratives of adventure, lawlessness or bloodshed, the tendency of which is to incite a spirit of lawlessness, is prohibited. Any persons publishing, selling or having in possession for sale within this state any such publication shall be guilty of misdemeanor."

SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Interesting Happenings During the Past Week.

THE PROCEEDINGS IN CONGRESS.

Intelligence From All Parts of the Globe Gathered and Presented in a Condensed Form For Busy Readers.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The senate passed the joint statehood bill. As passed the bill provides for the admission of the states of Oklahoma, to be composed of Oklahoma and Indian Territory and New Mexico, according to the present boundaries, with Arizona eliminated. The measure originated in the house and will go to conference.

The house and senate met in joint session and canvassed the electoral vote at the late election. Theodore Roosevelt and Charles W. Fairbanks were officially declared to be elected president and vice president respectfully for four years beginning March 4 1905. The result of the count showed that Roosevelt and Fairbanks received 336 electoral votes and Parker and Davis 140.

The military appropriation bill, that was completed by the senate committee on military affairs, carries appropriations aggregating $677,987, as compared with the house bill, aggregating $669,233.

After nearly four days' discussion the house by a vote of 326 to 17, passed the Esch-Townsend bill providing for the regulation of freight rates. The negative vote was made up of 11 republicans and six democrats.

The senate committee on appropriations reported the diplomatic and consular bill carrying appropriations aggregating $2,158,017, an increase of $50,970 over the bill passed by the house.

The following bills were passed in the senate: Donating condemned bronze cannon to the G. A. R. for the purpose of making badges; authorizing the secretary of war to sell magazine rifles to rifle clubs; referring to the court of claims the claim of Madison county, Kentucky, against the United States for a refund of money paid to the collector of internal revenue; prohibiting the use of government devices to indicate the quality of gold used in the arts.

Senator Carmack has introduced a joint resolution declaring it is the sense of congress that it is unwise to take any further steps towards the transfer of the Isle of Pines to Cuba.

MISCELLANEOUS.

King Oscar of Sweden is indisposed and unable to transact business. At the session of the council of state he handed over the reins of government to Crown Prince Gustaf until further notice.

The main elevator of the Liberty Mill Co., near Nashville, Tenn., containing 5,000 bushels of wheat, burned with a loss amounting to $75,000.

By the will of Mrs. Adelaide Richmond Kenny, of Batavia, N. Y., $100,000 is left to St. James P. E. church, $6,000 to Berea college, Kentucky, and $5,000 each to Hobart college and the Society for Disabled Episcopal clergy.

Senator Fairbanks, vice president-elect, received a gavel from a single piece of red cedar. The tree from which it was cut grew on the Vermont shore of Lake Champlain. The gavel was whittled out with a pen-knife by Edward P. Hatch.

The United States court of claims has decided the Porto Rican customs case of Narcisso Basso against the United States, holding that the fine of $1,500 collected from Basso for smuggling goods into Porto Rico was illegally collected and must be refunded.

Ambassador Porter has some reason to believe that he at last has discovered the body of John Paul Jones. Four years ago it was found that John Paul Jones, who died in Paris, had been buried in a small urban cemetery, but had been abandoned early in the last century and its site covered with buildings. It was also learned that the sailor's corpse was not removed when the buildings were erected and that it now reposes beneath them.

Joseph H. Manley, former chairman of the republican national committee, was found dead in bed at his home in Augusta, Me., Apoplexy.

The indictment against Will J Davis, manager of the Iroquois theater, Chicago, which burned in December, 1903, with a loss of 575 lives, was quashed by Judge Kersten.

Judson Harmon, of Cincinnati, who was attorney general during the second administration of President Cleveland, and Frederick N. Judson, a prominent lawyer of St. Louis, have been appointed to investigate the alleged action of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad in granting rebates to the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co.

The house committee on merchant marine and fisheries voted to postpone action at this session on the omnibus fish hatchery bill. This measure provided for the establishment of about 20 fish hatcheries at a cost of $500,000.

Capt. William Dana, 92, said to have been the oldest vessel master on the great lakes, is dead at Algonac, Mich.

The Arizona legislature passed a resolution thanking the United States senate for eliminating Arizona from the statehood bill and asking the house of representatives to concur in the amendment.

A senate joint resolution authorizing the secretary of war to deliver to the Grand Army of the Republic one condemned cannon for the purpose of furnishing official badges for the Grand Army, was reported favorably by the senate committee.

Mrs. Kate Edwards, who, together with Samuel Greason, is under sentence to be hanged at Reading, Pa., for the murder of Mrs. Edwards' husband, confessed that she alone did the deed.

Mrs. H. A. Parkyn, 4020 Drexel boulevard, Chicago, committed suicide at her hotel in Logansport, Ind., by shooting herself in the temple with a revolver.

James B. Reynolds, of Boston, was nominated by the president to be assistant secretary of the treasury.

House committee on military affairs ordered a favorable report of a joint resolution authorizing the organization now known as the Army and Navy Union to wear the distinctive badge adopted by it.

Without a tremor, J. Samuel McCue, former mayor of Charlottesville Va., met death on the scaffold for wife murder. He confessed.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending February 9 number 207, as against 239 last week, 202 in the like week in 1904, 217 in 1903, 265 in 1902.

The president's new team of sorrel horses frightened at an auto and ran away, while the driver, Julius Wheeler, was taking them to the stable from the white house. The horse "Dion" landed on the iron palings of the war department fence, inflicting a 12-inch gash.

August L. Shaffer, the wife murderer, was hanged at the jail at Washington City.

One of the mahogany boxes which contained the official returns of the late election will be presented to President Roosevelt. This will be retained by the president as a souvenir of his election.

A mob of strikers that invaded the yard of the Katharinen works at Sosnovice was fired upon by the military. Twenty-eight persons were killed and 36 seriously wounded, five dying later.

Confronted by living witnesses, at the coroner's investigation into the death of Mrs. Waicker-Hoch, his last wife, Johann Hoch, the much-married man, according to the police, has admitted his marriage to 13 women in the last ten years. Eight of these wives are dead.

Inga Hanson, the Salvation army girl who for five years has been involv in sensational litigation with the Chicago City Railway Co., was found guilty of perjury.

Police of Lincoln, Neb., claim to identify Johann Hoch, of Chicago, a man who about eighteen months ago, under the name of Alfred Hecht, married a Mrs. Mary Goetz, of that city. After getting her money he deserted her.

John B. Guyton, of Missouri, has contracted with the Japanese government to furnish them 1,000 horses to be used in the mikado's army.

A collision occurred between 15,000 strikers and the military at the Russian station of Skarzysko, Poland, in which 24 strikers were killed and 40 wounded.

Former Gov. Jas. E. Campbell, of Ohio, who has been a resident of New York city for the last five years, will resume the practice of law in Columbus.

Only energetic measures by the troops and police at St. Petersburg prevented the resumption of the former tactics of the strikers, marching from factory to factory, and inducing or compelling employes to lay down their tools.

The bill for the separation of church and state, which was introduced in the French chamber of deputies, will be pushed to its passage without delay.

At New Brighton, Pa., a man and two boys were killed, two boys are dying and three more were slightly injured as the result of a bob-sled carrying 16 boys dashing into a train.

The republicans of the house of representatives decided in conference that the house statehood provision shall prevail or that no statehood legislation will be enacted by the present session.

Efforts are being made to induce Gov. Folk, of Missouri, to change the set date for the execution of "Bill" Rudolph to some other day than St. Patrick's day.

After an absence of more than 12 years from the ring, John L. Sullivan publicly challenged J. J. Corbett to a return match. Sullivan declared his sincerity.

Frank H. Croker, who was killed as a result of an accident while racing his automobile at Ormond, Fla., left no will, and as a result his father, Richard Croker, will inherit his entire fortune, estimated at about $400,000.

For two hours 100 veterans and many citizens solemnized with all the rites of the G. A. R. the funeral of J. W. Bogess, an old soldier, at Hull, Ia., only to end after the funeral and interment that they had buried the corpse of a woman taken from a train en route to South Dakota.

The American society for sanitary and moral publicity was organized in New York by 30 well-known physicians, clergymen and men of public spirit. Members of the new society announce that they propose to treat the social evil as the community at present treats any contagious disease.

The litigation involving the guardianship of Moses Fowler Chase, the young Indianapolis millionaire and the administration of his estate, which has engaged the attention of the courts of Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, has been brought to a close. His father is the proper guardian.

Eugene Hester, a railway mail clerk, was arrested at Montgomery, Ala., and is in jail in default of a $3,000 bond. He is accused specifically of abstracting $2,600 from a registered letter.

Jacob Liebenstein, 65, of New York, sank his own and his wife's fortune in Wall street and then attempted suicide.

While temporarily insane James Estes, a farmer, at Marshall, Okla., murdered his wife and daughter Maud, attempted to kill his son Lawrence, who escaped, set fire to the house and committed suicide.

"No, I have gone some, but I never got in his class. Don't charge me with that," said Mrs. Bessie Williamson McGuff, of Lima, O., when shown the report from Chicago that she was one of Hoch's wives.

In accordance with an odd clause in the will of Mrs. Constance Miller, aged and wealthy widow of New Rochelle, N. Y., her ashes were deposited in a work basket she had used for years and buried in a grave alongside her husband's.

An hour after she had concluded her portrayal of the death of Camille on the stage Nellie Gibney, an actress, at Jefferson City, Mo., was seized with pains and coughing and expired.

The $650,000 fire which swept the buildings Nos. 260 to 270 Fifth avenue, Chicago, and in which ten firemen were rescued from death after being hemmed in by the flames, was started by firebugs.

At Cleveland, O., Thomas Hopkins, a carpenter, was starving while at work on the building of the richest man in the world. He had eaten nothing for three days and collapsed.

Wells hall, used as a dormitory for the students of the Michigan Agricultural college at Lansing, Mich., burned.

Otto Erich Hartleben, the noted author, is dead in Berlin.

The members of the cabinet have all tendered their resignation, and on March 6 they will all be nominated for reappointment, with the exception of Mr. Wynne, who is to be appointed consul general at London. Mr. Cortelyou will be nominated for postmaster general.

The Japanese captured an eminence south of Chanchichia, driving off two companies of Russian infantry.

First Lieut. Samuel Willitts, of the Philippines courts, died at Manila of pneumonia, and his body will be sent to the United States for interment.

It is no crime for a public officer in Kansas to solicit a bribe, according to a decision handed down by the state supreme court.

An attempt to assassinate Bishop Kaminski, of the Independent Catholic church (Polish), Buffalo, N. Y., was made. Two shots were fired at him but he escaped injury.

Andrew Carnegie will go to Cleveland to testify against Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, under arrest in that city charged with obtaining large sums of money on alleged securities bearing Mr. Carnegie's name.

Judge Green sustained the motion to quash the indictment against Thomas J. Noonan, manager and treasurer of the Iroquois theater in Chicago, and Cummings, the stage carpenter.

Four small boys were injured, two fatally, in a collision of a bobsled with an automobile at Edgeworth, Pa.

Mortgages were filed in the Lake county (Ill.) recorder's office by which John Alexander Dowie receives through the Merchants' Bank of Chicago a $100,000 loan on about 400 acres of land on the lake front of Zion City.

Capt. James Lee, president of the Lee Line Packet Co., and one of the most widely known river men south of St. Louis, is dead in Memphis, Tenn.

The worst blizzard in ten years, with the thermometer at zero and below, prevailed in North Texas.

Judge A. H. Tanner, United States Senator Mitchell's law partner, confessed to perjury in his evidence given before the federal grand jury in connection with the investigation of the land frauds in Oregon.

Completion of the police investigation into the affairs of Johann Hoch has been made and the case now will be turned over to the state's attorney.

A monster revival meeting is to be held in New York city by ministers representing all denominations.

The Baltimore & Ohio transfer steamer Gazelle was sunk at West Wheeling. The ice has destroyed her almost completely.

Tribute to the memory of the late Senator George Frisbie Hoar, of Massachusetts, was the occasion of a special session of the house of representatives.

A company of Russians attacked Waitaoshan village and were repulsed. A company of Russians attacked Liuchientun and were repulsed. The Russian artillery then slowly shelled Liuchientun and vicinity.

Mathias Driedzina was frozen to death on his doorstep, with his hand on the doorknob, at Chicago.

By the breaking of the ice in the harbor of Cincinnati it is estimated that $200,000 worth of property was destroyed.

Strikers attacked the workers in the electric station at Sosnovice. Troops fired from the windows of the plant, wounding many people.

A terrific explosion at the dynamite plant of the Dupont Powder Co., at Boyles Gap, five miles north of Birmingham, Ala., wrecked the plant and broke windows and extinguished all lights within a radius of two miles.

At Denver, Col., James Feltham pleaded guilty to a charge of fraud at the charter election of September 22, 1903, in the criminal court, and was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail.

THE COLDEST IN YEARS

Decided Cold Wave Prevails in Western States.

There is Much Suffering, With Loss of Life—Prairies Along the Colorado & Southern Road Strewn With Dead Stock.

Kansas City, Feb. 13.—The coldest weather in years prevails in this section. At Kansas City it was 18 degrees below zero; at Concordia, Kan., it was 22 degrees below; at Lawton, Okla., it was 6 below and at Tulsa, I. T., 76 degrees below zero.

In Indian Territory the weather is the coldest since 1899 and there is much suffering among the poor, who were caught unprepared. Cattle also are suffering. A Comanche Indian succumbed to the cold near Lawton.

Guthrie, O. T., Feb. 13.—For the past 24 hours Oklahoma has suffered from the coldest weather in many years. The temperature was 5 below and ranged at zero all day. From all parts of the two territories accounts of sufferings and death as the result of the sudden norther.

Cattlemen here state that range stock will suffer the greatest loss in years and some place the loss as high as 30 per cent. on the ranges in Beaver and Woodford counties.

Denver, Col., Feb. 13.—Reports of intense cold, accompanied in sections by snow fall, were received at the office of the local weather bureau from Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico. In Southern Colorado and Northern New Mexico the worst storm since 1886 is raging, according to dispatches from Trinidad. In New Mexico the storm reached the proportions of a blizzard and great damage to stock is reported. Railroad men report thn prairies along the line of the Colorado & Southern strewn with the carcasses of dead sheep and cattle.

ARBITRATION TREATIES.

They Were Ratified By the Senate In Amended Form.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The senate in executive session ratified the arbitration treaties between the United States and eight European governments.

In the face of a vigorous protest from the president, the senate amended the arbitration treaties which recently were negotiated with European countries, in such a way, in the judgment of Mr. Roosevelt, as to vitiate them. The word "treaty" was substituted for "agreement" in Article 2, and this evisceration will have the effect of nullifying the chief purpose of the pacts that have been prepared with such great care and pride by the administration.

BATTLE HOUSE HOTEL.

The Famous Hostelry, One of the Largest in the South, Burned.

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 13.—Losses estimated at a quarter of a million dollars have been caused by a fire which left the famous Battle house a ruin and swept on to buildings adjoining. The blaze was discovered shortly before 11 o'clock p. m., and burned fiercely for several hours.

Two elevator boys, Joseph Parks and Bernard Constantine, stuck to their posts until all the guests had been gotten out, although the elevators caught fire and the youngsters were burned about the face and hands.

One persons was killed and several were seriously injured in the Battle house.

THE SCHEME FAVORED.

The Czar Has Endorsed the Revival of the Zemsky Zabor.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 13.—The news that Emperor Nicholas has indorsed the scheme for the revival of the zemsky zabor, or ancient land parliament, which old emperors convoked in times of stress, has spread through the city and created intense satisfaction among the liberal classes. The newspapers were filled with articles descriptive of this ancient Russian institution, indicating that word had gone forth that the government had decided to listen to the voice of representatives of the people.

Won't Touch the Tariff.

Washington, Feb. 13.—As a result of a conference of republican leaders at the white house the tariff will not be touched at this session and there will be no extra session of congress called until late in the fall. A tariff schedule will be prepared during the summer.

Railway Rate Bill Dead.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The railroad rate bill, which passed the house almost unanimously, is dead. The senate will not take it up at this session. This fact has been definitely communicated to the president, and he accepts it.

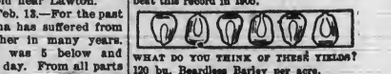
An Internal Deadlock.

London, Feb. 13.—The correspondent at St. Petersburg of the Times, describing the situation, says that the policy of thrift is pervading all classes, government, capital, labor and even the revolutionists, the result being an internal deadlock.

Secretary Taft Will Be the Orator.

New Haven, Ct., Feb. 13.—It is announced that William H. Taft, secretary of war, will be the orator at the annual commencement exercises of the Yale law school next June. Secretary Taft was graduated in 1878.

FACE LIKE RAW BEEF.



Burning Up with a Terrible Itching Eczema—Speedily Cured by Cuticura.

"The Cuticura Remedies cured me of a terrible eczema from which I had suffered agony and pain for eight long years, being unable to obtain any help from the best doctors, and trying many remedies without success. My scalp was covered with scabs and my face was like a piece of raw beef, my eyebrows and lashes falling out, and I felt as if burning up from the terrible itching and pain. Cuticura gave me relief the very first day, and made a complete cure in a short time. To my very great joy, my head and face are now clear and well.—Miss Mary M. Fay, 75 West Main St., Westboro, Mass."

Men are so hungry for office in this country that occasionally one turns up who really wants to be a pension commissioner.—Kansas City Journal.

Salzer's Home Builder Corn.

So named because 50 acres produced so heavily, that its proceeds built a lovely home. See Salzer's catalog. Yielded in Ind. 187 bu., Ohio 160 bu., Tenn. 198 bu., and in Mich. 220 bu. per acre. You can beat this record in 1905.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THESE YIELDS?
120 bu. Beardless Barley per acre.
310 bu. Salzer's New National Oats per A.
80 bu. Salzer Spelts and Macaroni Wheat.
1,000 bu. Pedigree Potatoes per acre.
14 tons of Rich Billion Dollar Grass Hay.
80,000 lbs. Victoria Rape for sheep—per A.
100,000 lbs. Teosinte, the fodder wonder.
54,000 lbs. Salzer's Superior Fodder Corn—rich, juicy fodder, per A.
Now such yields you can have in 1905, if you will plant my seeds.

JUST SEND THIS NOTICE AND 10c in stamps to John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., and receive their great catalog and lots of farm seed samples. [K. L.]

Critics are people so much that the only thing that sustains them is the absolute knowledge that they are always right.—Puck.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.

Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

FOR ENGLISH CONSUMPTION

Kind of Stories Related About America at Some of the London Luncheons.

At a recent dinner in London the conversation turned on the subject of lynchings in the United States. It was the general opinion that a rope was the chief end of a man in America. Finally, relates Modern Society, the hostess turned to an American, who had taken no part in the conversation, and said:

"You, sir, must often have seen these affairs."

"Yes," he replied, "we take a kind of municipal pride in seeing which city can show the greatest number of lynchings yearly."

"Oh, do tell us about a lynching you have seen yourself," broke in a half a dozen voices at once.

"The night before I sailed for England," said the American, "I was giving a dinner to a party of intimate friends when a colored waiter spilled a plate of soup over the gown of a lady at an adjoining table. The gown was utterly ruined, and the gentlemen of her party at once seized the waiter, tied a rope around his neck, and, at a signal from the injured lady, swung him into the air."

"Horrible!" said the hostess, with a shudder.

"And did you actually see this yourself?"

"Well, no," said the American, apologetically. "Just at that time I was downstairs killing the chef for putting mustard in the blancmange."

Only a Guess.

Bacon—Where do you suppose that 203 Meter Hill got its name?

Egbert—Oh, I guess that's where the Port Arthur gas works are located.—Yonkers Statesman.

They are always talking about banks in Wall street, but our experience is that the lamb there is mighty tough.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

A number of water-wagon passengers are already using their transfers.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

READS THE BOOK.

"The Road to Wellville" Pointed the Way.

Down at Hot Springs, Ark., the visitors have all sorts of complaints, but it is a subject of remark that the great majority of them have some trouble with stomach and bowels. This may be partly attributed to the heavy medicines.

Naturally, under the conditions, the question of food is very prominent.

A young man who for that he had suffered for the years from stomach and bowel trouble had two operations which did not cure, and was at last threatened with appendicitis.

He went to Hot Springs for rheumatism, and his stomach trouble got worse. One day at breakfast the waiter, knowing his condition, suggested he try Grape-Nuts and cream, which he did, and found the food agreed with him perfectly.

After the second day he began to sleep peacefully at night, different than he had for years. The perfect digestion of the food quieted his nervous system and made sleep possible.

He says: "The next morning I was astonished to find my condition of constipation had disappeared. I could not believe it true after suffering for so many years; then I took more interest in the food, read the little book 'The Road to Wellville,' and started following the simple directions.

"I have met with such results that in the last five weeks I have gained eight pounds in spite of hot baths which take away the flesh from anyone.

"A friend of mine has been entirely cured of a bad case of indigestion and stomach trouble by using Grape-Nuts Food and cream alone for breakfast.

"There is one thing in particular—I have noticed a great change in my mental condition. Formerly I could hardly remember anything, and now the mind seems unusually acute and retentive. I can memorize practically anything I desire." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

FROM HABERDASHERY TO HIGH FINANCE.

Operations of Munroe Brothers, the "Laundry" Brokers in Wall Street.

BEGAN ON CAPITAL OF $1,600.00

Before Many Months the Two Young Men Were Dealing in Millions and Hobnobbing With Gotham's Most Influential Men—Their Dreams of Wealth Rudely Shattered.

New York.—"Failure in Wall Street." This is a headline that is often seen in Gotham dailies, but it seldom creates much comment. It only records the fact that another firm has been caught on the wrong side of the market and forced to suspend.

But the bankruptcy proceedings recently instituted against the Munroe brothers reveal a remarkable story of the operations of two young men whose only business experience before their advent among bulls and bears had consisted in the selling of collars and neckties in a cantant and virtually foreign city, who came to New York with practically no capital and in the course of a few months were dealing in millions and negotiating with some of the most influential financiers of the "street," until the inevitable crash came.

They hobnobbed with millionaires and some of the best men of the metropolis and saw visions of wealth beyond the dreams of avarice for themselves, but, as a shrewd veteran of Wall street said, "the game grew too big for them."

Plan of the Brokers.

James Stillman, president of the National City bank, describes the transactions by which Munroe & Munroe, the "laundry" brokers, obtained from the bank a daily loan of $60,000 for eight days on an unindorsed and unsecured demand notes for the purpose of washing hundreds of thousands of shares of Montreal & Boston Consolidated mining stock in the curb market, as the act of a junior officer of that institution.

That junior officer was Archibald G. Loomis, second vice president of the bank and the leading member of the Montreal and Boston underwriting syndicate. Of course there had to be somebody upon whom the responsibility could be placed by the public for the unusual transactions, and the curiosity of men on the street was satisfied when Mr. Loomis resigned.

It should be said, however, that in the transactions the bank was in no way discredited. The $60,000 borrowed were paid back by Munroe & Munroe before the close of banking hours each day, so that the bank lost nothing.

An interesting phase of the negotiations was that the Munroes, unknown and untried youths, became close personal friends of Loomis.

Began on Capital of $1,600.

The worldly capital of the Munroes when they quit the genteel occupation of gents' furnishers in Montreal to take up even a more genteel occupation in New York, was about $1,600.

The furniture in the office would have cost more than that—if it had been paid for, and reflected great credit upon the good taste of the gentlemen. The desks were of the finest and most expensive make and the furnishings lavish. There was a grill of chastely ornamental iron work which confined the cashier, and probably kept him from absconding with the firm's heavily bonded debt.

The furniture included a set of big easy leather-lined chairs and an imposing sofa. There were other tasteful touches about the place, and everything suggested to the uninitiated that untold wealth was at their command.

But it was these same furnishings that first brought the trouble that resulted in bankrupcy proceedings.

Bankruptcy Proceedings Instituted.

About October 1, Munroe & Munroe approached McHugh & Co. They wanted a bill of goods sent up to their Broad street offices.

They mentioned as reference the National City bank, the institution which afterward lent them $60,000 daily on their unsecured notes. McHugh & Co. had sold goods to the National City bank. With that reference there seemed to be no doubt that the firm was financially "good." The furniture concern sent up $300 worth of goods, together with a bill. Munroe & Munroe made a few more [illegible] in the course of a week, raising the bill to $389.

The bill wasn't paid in October. Still the furniture man didn't think it worth while to press such excellent customers. In November a short and very polite reminder was sent. No answer.

And still McHugh & Co. were not worried until, on December 2, along came a collector for another firm to whom they were also indebted, who had heard that McHugh had trusted Munroe & Munroe; also that things didn't look quite right. He dropped in to give a friendly little business tip.

Joseph McHugh decided to brook the possible wrath of the National City bank and sent a collector down to Munroe & Munroe. "Why, certainly!" said that firm, obligingly, and drew at once a check for the full amount on a Montreal bank.

McHugh & Co. deposited the check that afternoon — December 2 — and thought no more of it for a week. At the end of the week back came the check marked "N. G."

A member of the McHugh firm went down to investigate. He found a clerk from the sheriff's office in charge of the place.

In the week between the delivery of that check and its return with the two fatal letters across its face Munroe & Munroe had quit laundering copper stocks and gone bust and the law had taken possession.

The Beginning.

Until about four years ago, George and Alexander Munroe kept a little haberdashery shop in St. Catherines street, Montreal. They were quite young men and apparently devoted to their business.

It was generally understood that they received financial backing from J. N. Greenshields, a prominent Canadian broker of that city. George Munroe married a sister of Greenshields and through his influence the brothers were introduced in good circles. There had always been speculation as to whether or not the haberdashery store prospered, but one day it was announced that the Munroes had sold the store. At this time the mining craze was springing up over the country, and the brothers went down to the financial center of Montreal, opened up an office and put out a sign, "Munroe & Munroe, Mining Brokers."

Move to New York.

Although they dealt in a few stocks on commission, it was generally conceded that their chief business was the handling of mining stocks in which Greenshields was interested. Even in the mining business, however, they failed to attract any attention in Montreal, and not long afterward they came to New York and established themselves on Broad street, in the very heart of the financial district.

While in Montreal they had become connected with the Marconi Wireless Telegraphy company, of Canada, and, as it was understood that the stock was valuable, they began to advertise it extensively on their arrival here, and worked up a wonderful trade among the Italians, who were attracted in part, no doubt, because of their kinship of nationality with the inventor.

Meantime the Munroes had also become interested in the Montreal & Boston Consolidated Copper company, which is at the bottom of the present situation. After the smash in copper, two years ago, however, they had a hard row to hoe, and little was heard of them in connection with this company. They nevertheless kept the Marconi stock to the front, and when there came a revival of the demand for copper abroad, their prospects brightened.

Lay Plans for Coup.

They reorganized the Montreal & Boston, got some other properties together, and then laid plans for one of the biggest stock market coups in the history of the curb.

A scheme was formed to have the stock of the company underwritten with the special provision that the work should be done by stock exchange firms, as Munroe & Munroe were not members of the exchange. The stock was of a par value of five dollars a share, and a contract was entered into by which the persons who were to underwrite it were to get the stock at one dollar per share.

Various persons went into the syndicate, with the provision that they were to take or underwrite a certain number of shares, paying one dollar per share, 20 per cent. of the purchase price, at the outset and the balance within certain specified [illegible].

The understanding was, however, that those who had underwritten the stock would not pay the one-dollar price unless the money became necessary for the development of the mining property, the promotion of stock sales, and so on. That is, while they agreed to pay a certain amount should the exigency arise, if it did not arise they would be so much more "to the good."

Resort to Washing.

Brokers who were members of the exchange were readily found who were willing to dispose of a certain number of shares a month, and what they received was to go 60 per cent. to them and 40 per cent. to those who had underwritten the stock in the beginning. It was then decided that in order to sell the stock at a price above one dollar per share it would be necessary to resort to the process known as "washing."

In other words, they agreed to themselves purchase the stock at a high figure, in order to set that as the market rate. Par being five dollars, and they having obtained it at one dollar, they arranged for street sales at $2.50 and $3, themselves buying at that rate, in order to show that the stock was active and to induce the public to buy at the same price.

In point of fact, so as to make a showing of large sales, those who were selling the stock were themselves bidding on it, all the transactions being credited on the books. It has been shown that, lured by this system, one outsider bought 50,000 shares, at from $2.50 to $3.

In disposing of the stock, Munroe & Munroe "washed" about 3,000,000 shares or more in the process of getting rid of about 130,000 shares, for which they are said to have paid the company not more than $130,000 in all. The brokerage on raising this $130,000 is more than $100,000, because they had to pay commissions on the whole 3,000,000 shares.

How Sales Were Made.

The Munroes would give orders to certain brokers to sell and to other brokers to buy. When they sold they would get a check the following morning, and then they would use that check, turning it over to the brokers they had employed to buy. The result was that December 7, the day of the failure, they received checks in payment for the stock sold the day before, and they used these checks to pay for stock they had bought the day before, but when it came to their paying for the stock they bought on December 7, they had not the money; the "endless chain" broke, the Munroes went into bankruptcy, and all these persons are creditors for the stock.

Before this situation was reached, however, the Munroes had their day of prosperity, or, rather, George did, for he is the head and front of the combination, even though his brother was senior member of the firm. When they came here they were aggressive and enthusiastic young fellows, of the type that is liked in Wall street, and they quickly made friends. Mr. Loomis was one of these, and Leach another, and both of these are names to conjure with in financial circles. Loomis became chairman of the syndicate's executive committee, and it was through his influence that the loans were obtained from the National City bank.

Reputed a Millionaire.

The friendship of men like these brought other friends to the brothers, and before long George Munroe was reputed to be a millionaire. It is said he lived at the rate of from $50,000 to $100,000 a year, this young man who only a little while before had been a haberdasher. He had a luxurious home on East Fifty-seventh street, and another at Southampton, L. I., and often he occupied a suite at the Waldorf-Astoria.

A Costly Junket.

He always did things in lavish fashion. When Montreal & Boston was at the height of its exploitation, Munroe thought it would be a good plan to let those whom he was trying to interest in it see the actual mine property. Now, it lies away off in British Columbia, on the foothills of the Selkirks, and it costs money to take a party out there. He never considered the expense. A private car was chartered, loaded with everything of the best in the commissary line, and the junketers started away. George could not go, but Alexander took charge.

The party included senators, bankers, politicians, and newspaper men—everybody, in fact, who might be of some aid in advertising the mine.

They stopped at various cities on the way out and had a jolly time.

Not Unlike Fiction.

The revelations in the Munroe case make it not unlike the story told in one of Emile Gaboriau's novels in which a Parisian set of men in the sixties who needed office furniture rented it by the week from a firm whose business it was to outfit people who needed sumptuous offices temporarily.

The firm Gaboriau pictured could, on short notice, give any office the appearance of glittering wealth. It rented out massive desks, cashier's grills, safes and pictures. It kept constantly on hand a supply of curios for special purposes—mineral specimens for mining companies, oriental curios for people in the China trade, and chunks of crude rubber for rubber companies. Such objects, scattered carelessly about the office, gave an air of busy industry and genuineness to any old enterprise.

But it is not necessary to go as far as this in these days, as it is shown in this case that modern finance has brought improved methods.

THE SUMPTIOUS APARTMENT KNOWN AS THE "OFFICE."

FROM ALL OVER THE STATE

DEPOSITION OF SAM FIELD.

He Is One of the Witnesses Who It Is Alleged Were Enticed Away.

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 10.—The deposition of Sam Fields was taken. He was one of the witnesses who it is alleged were enticed away from here during the Marcum-Hargis trial and is now under arrest for contempt of court. He corroborated Mose Feitner in that B. F. French paid them money and that all the expenses were paid by Feitner. Sheriff McCord received from the circuit clerk of Breathitt county a warrant of arrest for Mose Feitner. It was issued at the request of S. H. Hurst, who is his bondsman for $5,000, for his appearance at Jackson to be tried for the killing of Jesse Fields, and Hurst desired to be released from this bond.

Circuit Judge Benton has stated that so long as the prisoners are in the custody of the Clark county officers they shall not be taken to Jackson. Feitner will, therefore, not attempt to give bond.

It is rumored that troops will be asked for when Feitner is taken to Jackson for trial in a few weeks.

LOCATION FIXED.

Hunt Site Chosen By the Legislature For the New State House.

Frankfort, Feb. 9.—The location of Kentucky's statehouse was settled forever by the passage in the house of the bill agreed on by the joint conference committee on Monday and passed by the senate on Tuesday. There was no delay about a vote, as the bill was taken up as soon as it was reported from the senate. The amendments made by the conference committee were adopted and the bill, as amended, passed by 63 to 14. This fixes the location on the Hunt site in South Frankfort, on an elevated plateau of 30 acres, on which the new building can be viewed with effect from many directions and can be seen plainly from the L. & N. railroad trains going and coming from Lexington.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 10.—The reading and comparing in open session the bill locating the new statehouse on the Hunt site was all the work the legislature had to do and adjourned sine die. The bill is now in the governor's hands. He will approve it.

COLLEGE REUNION.

Most Remarkable Ever Known in the South To Be Held at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 11.—Steps have been taken here to hold the most remarkable college reunion ever known in the south. Kentucky university, the oldest college west of the Alleghenies, called a meeting of prominent alumni, who took up the work. It contemplates a big outdoor dinner on commencement week, with prominent speakers and a gathering of the old students and alumni of the college for 40 years from all over the globe. Steps were taken to get the names of these men.

RESISTED ARREST.

Five Holes Shot Through a Negro Who Tried To Kill a Deputy.

Burkesville, Ky., Feb. 10.—While resisting arrest Lewis Philpot, a Negro, was killed at Willis creek by Jack Gwinn, a deputy sheriff. Gwinn was attempting to arrest Philpot on a warrant for breach of peace, when he cut at the officer with his pocket knife. Another Negro came to help take Philpot, and in the fight that followed Philpot was shot five times. Every ball passed entirely through the Negro's body, and death was instantaneous.

Feitner Fears Assassination.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 9.—Moses Feitner will, through Winchester attorneys, appeal to the governor for troops to guard him, when he is taken to Jackson on the 20th to be tried on the charge of murdering Jesse Fields. As a result of startling evidence given in his deposition at Winchester he fears assassination.

Two Prisoners Paroled.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—The state prison commission granted paroles in two cases as follows: James H. Freeman, of Montgomery county, who was sent up for two years for manslaughter; W. T. Cross, of Metcalfe county, who was sent up March 17, 1904, for two years for housebreaking.

Death Watch on Roy Green.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 9.—The death watch was placed on Roy Green, sentenced to be hanged on Friday, February 17, for the murder of James Coomes at the fair grounds on July 31, 1904. It is believed he will make a confession.

Sues For $25,000 Damages.

Newport, Ky., Feb. 11.—Maggie Starr filed suit against the L. & N. Railway Co. to recover $25,000 for the killing of her husband, David Starr, who was a track-walker in the employ of the company. Starr was killed December 4, 1904.

Joshua Adams Dead.

Harrodsburg, Ky., Feb. 11.—Joshua Adams, one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of the county, died at his home near the city from the effects of a cancer. He is survived by a large family of children.

HARGIS IN LEXINGTON.

He Held a Conference With Judge Hazelrigg and Others.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 9.—Senator Alex Hargis held a conference here with Judges Hazelrigg, McQuown, Hayes and Bach relative to the indictments charging him, his brothers, Judge James, and Elbert Hargis and Sheriff Ed Callahan with the murder of James Cockrill in 1902. These indictments are being resisted, the question of the jurisdiction of the Fayette court now being before the court of appeals. Senator Hargis was on his way from Jackson to Frankfort when he learned that the hearing had been postponed, and had his attorneys meet him here. None of those present would discuss whether any conclusion was reached or what phases of the case were discussed. Hargis will return to Jackson.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 9.—The court of appeals extended from February 10 to 18 its temporary writ of prohibition restraining the Fayette circuit court from taking jurisdiction of the Hargis murder cases from Breathitt county, and sustained a motion by Commonwealth's Attorney John Allen, of the Fayette court, to summon 17 witnesses from Breathitt county to testify orally in this case.

THE WRIT OF PROHIBITION.

Circuit Judge Parker Presented His Response To the Hargis Petition.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—Circuit Judge Parker, of the Fayette circuit court, presented before the court of appeals his response to the petition of the Hargis brothers and Ed Callahan for a writ of prohibition to restrain that court from taking them into custody. The response questions the power of the appellate court to interfere by any mode of proceedure except by review upon appeal, but declares that he will abide the result of its determination by the court. "With a sense of relief" the response will be considered by the court here when the petition is heard on February 18 next.

CHARGES AGAINST OFFICERS.

The Governor Approved the Finding of the Court of Inquiry.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—Gov. Beckham approved a finding of a court of inquiry of state guard officers, recently held at Louisville, to investigate charges against seven officers of the First Kentucky regiment, and as a result of the approval, Adjt. Gen. Haly directed that a general court-martial be held. Several of the officers are to be charged with disloyalty to the governor and adjutant general, and others with failure to make proper return of state and government property in their keeping. The trial will bring about the reorganization of this regiment, as the officers charged are detached from their companies pending the result of the court-martial.

FELL ON THE ICE.

Undertaker Frank Effinger Was Killed at Paducah, Ky.

Paducah, Ky., Feb. 9.—Rain, which froze as fast as it fell, threatened inestimable damage, but a rising temperature caused much of the ice to disappear with the rain. Several thousand dollars' damage resulted to wires, trees and crops in this section.

Frank Effinger, an undertaker, died from a fracture of the skull resulting from a fall on the ice. Twenty-five cases have been reported so far of persons receiving bruises and broken bones. River men now look for big water.

Streams Are Swollen.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 11.—The melting of the heavy crust of ice and snow has swollen the streams and filled the ponds in Central Kentucky to the delight of farmers and stock raisers. The large lake of the waterworks company here was lower than ever before known, but it has now filled almost to its average spring depth.

Kentucky Horse Sales.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 10.—At the Clowing auction of the Kentucky Sales Co. 60 head of trotters averaged $203.25. During the week 276 head were sold for $83,425. The top price was $1,200, for the Veteran, ch. g., 4, by Directum Boy, dam Ozila, bought by Warren Bacon, Paris, Ky.

Aged Woman Burned To Death.

Burkesville, Ky., Feb. 10.—At Burnside Mrs. Mary Seely, an aged lady, was burned to death at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs A. J. Kress. Sitting on her bed, very feeble and partially paralyzed, the old lady attempted to light her pipe.

Death of Capt. J. H. Riley.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 11.—Capt. J. H. Riley, one of the best-known conductors on the Illinois Central road, died at his home in this city after a brief illness of la grippe. He was born in Manchester, Eng., 58 years ago.

Died at the Age of 92.

Unlontown, Ky., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Rebecca Agnew, who had lived with the family of George Marshall, of this county, for a number of years, is dead at the age of 92 years. The immediate cause of her death was a fall

BOONE CO.. RECORDER
Wednesday, - - Feb. 15. 1905.
W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher

THE coal dealers have had things pretty much their own way this winter.

THE Indiana Legislature is one of the most liberal legislative bodies that State has produced in a long time.

Should Hargis and Callahan conclude to take up their abode in Indiana, would Governor Hanly honor a requisition of Gov. Beckham for them?

THE new capitol building will be erected in South Frankfort, so decided the General Assembly, last week, after a protracted wrangle over a matter that ought to have been settled in a few days.

THE President and the Republican majority in Congress are not working together as harmoniously as of yore. The President has injected too many of Mr. Bryan's views into his [illegible] be pleasing to the majority.

John J. Ryan, who was indicted on the charge of having embezzled $100,000 in a "get-rich-quick" scheme in St. Louis, was acquitted under peremptory instructions, a demurrer filed by Ryan's counsel having been sustained.

SENATOR PLATT, of New York, is called upon to face the ugly charge of using his official influence to prevent any legislation by Congress that is inimicable to the railroads. A request has been made that he be expelled from the Senate.

IT begins to look like the millennium is near at hand. It is claimed that a scheme has been evolved whereby the next Democratic primary election held in Kenton county will be conducted in a manner that will be satisfactory to all the factions. Hoora!

A fraud order has been issued by the Post-office Department against the Kentucky Distributing Company, of Covington. The company has been offering to send four quarts of ten-year-old whisky and one quart of fifteen-year-old whisky for $2 80, the fifteen-year-old variety being "moonshine," which was alleged to have been discovered by accident.

IT is claimed that both Russia and Japan would be glad to make peace, but, although badly whipped thus far, Russia is too stubborn to ask terms, while Japan, as the victorious party, can not consistently offer her adversary terms—that is she can't say to Russia, "darn you, I have whaled you most decently, what will you take to quit fighting?"

There are said to be in this country about 1,000 persons who receive a higher salary than the president of the United States. This is just that number too many. An annual salary of $50,000 is as high as compensation should be fixed for anybody. Insurance and railroad companies pay unreasonably high salaries—as high as $100,000. Some corporation attorneys get more than $50,000, but insurance and railroad companies are the most generous in paying high salaries. It is easy enough to figure out who has to pay these big salaries.

C. W. POST, of Battle Creek, Mich., filed with President pro tempore Frye, of the Senate, a petition asking the expulsion of Senator Platt, of New York. The petition charges that Senator Platt, as president of the United States Express Company, is participating in a conspiracy entered into by various companies to violate the anti-trust law, and is using his official position to protect the conspirators by opposing the passage of any act which would have the effect of taking from the companies the monopoly which it is alleged they now enjoy.

THE Court of Appeals has ordered seventeen citizens of Breathitt county summoned to appear before it on Saturday, February 18, to give testimony orally in the hearing of the petition for a writ of prohibition to restrain the Fayette Circuit Court from assuming jurisdiction of the Hargis brothers and Ed Callahan, charged with complicity in the murder of Town Marshal Cockrill, of Jackson. The court also made the State a party defendant in the effort to secure a writ of prohibition, and continued in force, until the hearing, the temporary writ granted on February 10.

Thirteen men are under the shadow of the gallows within the borders of Kentucky. Some of them have exhausted every chance for life and are calmly awaiting execution day, which has already been fixed, while others are yet struggling with fate in attempts to escape the extreme penalty of death. Five of the number who juries have said are guilty of murder and must pay the penalty with their own lives are incarcerated in the Jefferson county jail, while the remaining ones are scattered over the State.

JUDGE HARGIS may be innocent of the charges made against him in connection with the foul assassinations that have disgraced Breathitt county, nevertheless there is a very large element of the Democratic party that regards him as an improper person to be a member of the party's highest state council, and would hail with delight the announcement of his resignation from the state committee. He cannot, with any sort of propriety, take part in the deliberations of the party while [illegible] against him are pending, and he is now a handicap, and no matter what the outcome of the indictments against him, he will continue to be such.

Whatever may have been the feeling toward William Jennings Bryan in 1896 and 1900 there is no discounting the fact that the Parker and Davis ticket had no abler supporter than Mr. Bryan in 1904, and, while results prove that he was unsuccessful in his effort to carry with him the whole of his personal constituency, there is no denying that, once the nominations were made, the full force of his eloquence and his powers of leadership were exerted in behalf of the Democratic nominees. Nor has his course since the election of Roosevelt been less creditable. It is chiefly owing to Mr. Bryan that abuse of Democratic leaders and crimination and recrimination have not been permitted to add still further to the discomfiture of the party staggering under the weight of the most disastrous reverse in its history. At the same time, he has indulged in no useless effort to embarrass the President in carrying out the policies to which the country has given its approval.

If his advice to Democrats is followed and his example made a guide of conduct, the remaining representatives of the Democratic party in Congress will not fall far short of a standard of broad thought and intelligent action. In recognizing that the time has passed when the Democratic party can hope either to deserve or command success by remaining the party of blind opposition, Mr. Bryan has hit on the one method that can eventually change defeat into victory. He is growing steadily in the confidence of many Democrats who formerly opposed him and has lost none of his hold on the men who championed his cause eight year's ago.—Louisville Times.

United States Consul Brittain at Keil, Germany, sends to the Department of Commerce an interesting suggestion on road improvements. He reports that one of the ways for beautifying the country in the Grand Duchy of Baden without any ultimate expense to the taxpayer is the planting of fruit trees along the government highways. These are cherry, apple, pear and some places walnut trees. The trees are planted 32 feet apart along each side of the road and when the fruit is ready for market it is sold at public auction on the trees, the purchaser being obliged to harvest it at his own expense. The amount realized from the sale of the fruit is applied toward the maintenance of the system—the propagation of young trees, their planting and cultivation, etc. He adds that a year ago the revenue derived from the sale of the fruit amounted to nearly $10,000.

What Are They?

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. A new remedy for Stomach troubles, biliousness, and constipation, and a good one. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Representative Comerford was expelled from the Illinois Legislature on the report of the investigating committee to the effect that the charges of corruption made by him against fellow members had not been sustained. The vote stood 121 against to 43 for him.

This has been a good winter to sit by the fire and plan for spring booms.

NOTICE!

There are 900 Delinquent Taxpayers in Boone County. After 60 days all persons who have not paid their Poll-Tax will be advertised, and I will appoint a deputy to levy on property belonging to the Poll-payers of Boone County [illegible] you don't want your names in the paper and your Horses, Buggies and Cows and other personal property advertised and sold you had better pay your taxes.

B. B. ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

CAPITOL FLOUR

the acme of perfection—positively the best Winter Patent Flour produced. Will make the whitest and lightest biscuit, bread, cakes or pastry of any flour on the market, and if you are not using it now just do us the favor and yourself the kindness to try a barrel on our guarantee. You take no chance.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.
GROCERY
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, - Kentucky.

FOR SALE

Good Farm of 200 Acres,

Three miles north of Guilford, Ind., fine tobacco land; can be sold in parts. Six room brick residence, barn 40x60. Price reasonable. WARREN TEBBS, Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of L. L. Tanner, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

EZRA K. TANNER, Admr.

COAL!

I have a yard full of good Raymond City Coal, which I am selling at 15 cents a bushel—80 pounds to the bushel. J. O. HUEY, Erlanger, Ky.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Roberts as a member of the firm of G. W. & D. B. Roberts or otherwise are hereby notified to meet me at Verona, Boone county, Ky., on Thursday, February 9th, 1905, to settle same.

C. C. ROBERTS, Admr.

When You Buy

a pound of our Pure Cream Tartar Baking Powder and say it is not just as good as any, and are not satisfied, tell us and we will refund your money. We absolutely guarantee every can of it.

Pound 30c.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, KY.

Commissioner's Sale,

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

The Covington Savings Bank and Trust Company, plaintiff
against } Equity.
J. O Carpenter, &c., defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Aug., term thereof, 1904, and also Supplemental Judgment rendered at the December Term, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court house door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder at public auction, on Monday the 6th day of March, 1905, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being county court day, upon a credit of 6, 12 and 18 months, the following described property, to-wit:

Situated in Boone county Ky., on the Covington & Lexington Turnpike road, between Erlanger and Florence, and bounded thus:- Beginning at a stone a corner to William Allen's 2½ acre purchase in Milton Goodridge's line; thence with the line of said purchase s 30½ w 16 poles to a stone, southeast of a branch; thence s [illegible] w 10 poles to a stone, also southeast of said branch; thence s 28 e 6½ poles to a corner of said Allen't purchase, in the center of said Turnpike road; thence with its center s 64 w 24 poles; thence n 21 w 96 poles and 21 links to a stone in John Barton's line; thence with said line n 78½ e 23½ poles to a stone, a corner with Milton Goodridge; thence with his line s 36½ e 69½ poles to the place of beginning, containing eighteen (18) acres, one (1) rood and six (6) poles.

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $2 141 16

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale at the residence of the late L. L. Tanner, in Union, Ky., on Tuesday, Feb. 28, 1905,

The following property:

1 2-year old Colt, broke to drive; 1 family mare, Mowing Machine, Road Wagon, Spring Wagon, Harrow, Heifer, will be fresh in 2 or 3 weeks; set of Carpenter's Tools, Grindstone, lot of Tobacco Sticks, lot of Hay in stack, set of Spring Wagon Harness, set of Wagon Harness, Sled, good Turning Plow, lot Shovel Plows, and some Household and Kitchen Furniture, &c.

TERMS—Sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of 8 months, without interest, will be given, purchasers to give note with good security negotiable and payable in the Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky., before removing property.

EZRA K. TANNER,
Sale to begin at 1 p.m. Admr.

PUBLIC SALE.

We will sell at public sale to to the highest bidder at our residence on the Johnson farm near Plattsburg, Boone county, Ky.,

Saturday, Feb. 18, 1905,

The following property:

Good family Mare, 6-yr. old Gelding, good worker; good Jersey Cow, 2 Jersey Heifers, will be fresh in the spring; top Buggy and Harness, lot of Plows, Sidesaddle, Man's Saddle, Iron Kittle, Cross-cut Saw, new Wagon Harness, lot Tools, Sewing Machine, Household & Kitchen Furniture.

TERMS –All sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of 9 months will be given, purchasers to give note with good security, negotiable and payable in bank, before removing property

W. S. ACRA,
Mrs. ESSIE VOSHELL.
Sale to begin at 12 m.

C. J. WOLFF,
SPECIALIST FOR
TRUSSES, BRACES, CRUTCHES, Etc.
Personal attention given every case.
Experience 40 years.
13th & Race, opp. Washington Park, Cincinnati, O.

Wine of Cardui Cured Her.

213 South Prior Street,
ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1903.

I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost fourteen pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman.

OLIVE JOSEPH,
Treas. Atlanta Friday Night Club.

Secure a Dollar Bottle of Wine of Cardui Today.

WILSTAR,
Record 2171.

Will make the season of 1905 at McHenry's livery stable in Rising Sun Indiana. Persons booking mares before the first of April will save $5. After that time the terms will be $30 to insure a living colt.

SCRANTON BROS, Owners,
apr1 Rising Sun, Ind.

FOR RENT.

A good farm of 112 acres, with house and barn 1½ mile from Southern Railroad, near Buffington Station. Apply to Leona B. Stephens, 1049 Scott Street Covington, Ky.

For Sale
60 Acre Farm

Situated 10 miles west of Aurora, Indiana. Five acres in alfalfa, 15 acres in grass. Over ½ under cultivation, balance in timber. Good orchard. Convenient to school, church and R. F. D. A bargain. Good tobacco land. Address CHARLES MCKINSTRY Morgan Park, Illinois.

Deposits Earning Interest.

THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK & TRUST COMPANY, Inc.

N. E. Cor. [illegible] and Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, KY.

Receives deposits of money subject to withdrawal after a specified time, or subject to check without notice,
ALLOWING INTEREST ON ALL DAILY BALANCES.

Interest is credited semi-annually on the first days of January and July and when the same is not withdrawn it is added to the principal AND DRAWS INTEREST.

It is not necessary to call in person to open an account, as all communications by mail receive prompt attention.

In its several departments, THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY
Acts as Agent; Collects Rents and Renders Accounts as desired; Loans Money on Approved Security; Rents Safe Deposit Boxes; Administers Estates and Acts as Guardian, Trustees, etc;
Attends carefully to Trust Estates of Widows, Minors, Etc.

—ALL TRANSACTIONS CONFIDENTIAL.—

CAPITAL STOCK, $100.000.
Stockholders' Liability, $100.000

JNO. P. ERNST, President. JOHN A. SIMPSON, Vice-President
C. W. SIMRALL, Sec'y & Treas.
Long Distance Telephone, South 214.

J. G. BENTLER & SON,

Lexington Pike, ERLANGER, KY.

Practical Horse Shoeing, General Blacksmithing

and Wagon Repairing of all kinds,

All kinds of Tool Grinding. - Also Bicycle Repairing.
Grinding of all Kinds to Order.

Hay and Grain,

AND ALL KINDS OF MILL FEED,

By Retail or Car Load. Call and Learn Our Prices.

CORN.

ARE YOU READY TO lay IN YOUR SUPPLY?

We are loading cars every day at our Elizabethtown Elevator in the Miami Bottoms, and you know what quality that is.

We are prepared to put it at any point along the Southern, and would like to hear from you when you are ready to buy.

Early & Daniel,

—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in—

Hay, Grain, Feed and Flour,

Pike St. and L. N. Ry.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

We have opened a BRANCH HOUSE at Erlanger at E. H. Riggs' old Stand, and will Keep a full line of Hay, Grain and Feed on hand, and would thank you to call and get our prices.

GOLDEN GRAIN FLOUR OUR SPECIALTY.

In our opinion a business conducted on an honest basis, furnishing the best "VALUES" possible for the "MONEY" and extending fair treatment to all

'ALWAYS WINS'

—Our Watchword has and always will be—

Honesty, -- Honest Clothing at "HONEST PRICES."

We show a fine line of Mens', Boys' & Children's

CLOTHING

Men's Suits.....	$5.00 to $15.00.	Boys' Suits.....	$4.00 to $10.00
Men's Overcoats..	4.00 to 15.00.	Children's Suits..	2.50 to 5.00
Childrens Overcoat	2.50 to 5.00.	Boys' Overcoats..	4.00 to 10.00

These are made in every conceivable style and fashion.

Mens' Corduroy Suit, $5, $7.50, $10 and $12—these are made to stand the rough usage and abuse. We also carry a complete line of Corduroy and Jean Pants, Duck Coats, and other clothing necessary for health and comfort.

ROLFES & WACHS,

RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Subscribe for Your Conty Paper, $1.50.

Local News.

Have your potatoes frozen?

The earth needs a thorough wetting this spring to prepare it for the 1905 crop.

Very few sales of property were made for taxes on the first Monday in this month.

Stock water was getting very scarce in some localities last week, the streams having frozen to the bottoms.

R. S. Cowen's entire family has been confined to the house for the last two weeks, but they are now improving.

Some predict a good crop of fruit this year because of the number of sleets that have covered the earth and trees this winter.

H. O. Rouse writes from Spring Place, Georgia, that he arrived safe, and will remain with his brother John for a while.

Such weather as that of last Friday revived the drooping spirits of many, that had for so long a period of cold, gloomy weather.

The freezing and blocking of the river made it difficult to care for the large number of cattle in the pens at the Petersburg distillery.

In this issue appears the amount paid on each claim against the 1904 sheep fund, which paid 49 per cent of the amount of the claims allowed.

Uncle Jerry Beemon, of Limaburg, walked to Burlington last Saturday morning on the ice without making a slip or taking a tumble.

Thomas Adams, the Bullittsville fence builder, was in town Friday, ready to contract with all who desire his service in his line of work, the coming season.

There were not enough well people in the Locust Grove neighborhood, last week, to take care of the sick. There were from one to six persons sick in each family.

The business on the rural mail route out from Burlington is increasing day by day, and nearly every week the carrier finds additional boxes being put up.

There was a fall of 35 degrees in the temperature here between dark Sunday and daylight Monday morning. This winter is noted for rapid changes of temperature.

Notice—My land is posted against trespass of all kinds, and especially are dogs forbidden to go thereon, as I will certainly shoot them.
T. E. DIXON, Richwood, Ky.

C. C. Roberts was in Verona neighborhood a few days last week looking after business pertaining to the estate of his deceased brother, Boone, of which he is the administrator.

Many of the pedertrians confined their movements to the middle of the streets during the days of sleet last week. There were but few falls and no serious injuries during the icy period.

Miss Mary Vest hands the RECORDER the following answer to Idlewild's query of last week: "Pinta, Nina and Santa Maria were the three ships in service when Columbus discovered America."

It has required considerable food for stock this winter, but the weather has been such that the waste has been in a manner nothing, and the supply provided last year has yielded all it was worth to the farmers.

It has been many years since the Ohio river was blocked or frozen over for as great a distance as it has been this winter, and when the final break-up comes the damage to the river craft will doubtless be immense.

Secretary Souther has mailed to the policy holders, about 1,000 in number, of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Boone county, notifying them of a one per cent assessment for the payment of Mrs. Terrill's recent loss of $400.

To what part of the world would a person go to find a worse quality and a greater quantity of weather than that which prevailed here last week? This question is not asked for the information of any person who it is known wants to go to such a climate.

Poisons in Food.

Perhaps you don't realize that many pain poisons originate in your food, but some day you may feel a twinge of dyspepsia that will convince you. Dr. King's New Life Pills are guaranteed to cure all sickness due to poisons of undigested food—or money back. 25c at all Druggists.

The statement heretofore made by the RECORDER that Mrs. Barlow would have charge of the toll-gate on the Petersburg pike was premature. A Mr. Jackson, of Bullittsville, will get the place.

Sunday morning it was raining and everything indicated a break up and a clearing out of the ice, but late in the afternoon it began snowing, and during the night the temperature got on the tobogan and did not stop until zero was reached.

Uncle John C. Mitchell, of Gunpowder neighborhood, took a dose laudanum through mistake, last Thursday evening, which caused him and those with him considerable alarm, but, fortunately the dose was not large enough to have serious results.

The Baptist congregation at this place enjoyed its nice, new light machine for the first time last Sunday night. The church is now lighted in a most satisfactory manner, every part of the large room being equally comfortable so far as light is concerned.

Dr. Whitaker, of Cincinnati, was called to Charles Stephens', of Locust Grove neighborhood, last Wednesday, to operate on him for some trouble of the bowels, or in that region, but the surgeon decided that it would be better not to operate at that time. He is in charge of a trained nurse.

Ben Corbin, of Bellevue, passed through Burlington, one day last week, when it was sleeting to beat the band. Ben sat upright and faced the freezing rain as though it was just to his liking, although away down in his heart he was wishing he was at home by an industrious stove.

A large tobacco warehouse has been erected in Rising Sun, and that city expects from now on to be the largest tobacco market in Southern Indiana. It will, no doubt, handle considerable Boone county tobacco as it is convenient to a large tobacco producing territory on this side of the river.

Agonizing Burns

are instantly relieved, and perfectly healed, by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. C. Rivenbark, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., writes: "I burnt my knee so dreadfully that it blistered all over. Bucklen's Arnica Salve stopped the pain, and healed it without a scar." Also heals all wounds and sores. 25c at all Druggists.

The widow of the late Dr. R. H. O'Hara, of Williamstown, Grant county, committed suicide last Thursday by jumping from the second story window of the Jewish Hospital, Cincinnati. Mrs. O'Hara had not been at herself since the death of her husband a year ago, and had been taken to the hospital for treatment.

The following transfers of real estate were recorded last week:

Liddie F. Nesbet, etc., to John G. Kennedy, one-seventh interest in 21 acres, 1 rood and 15 poles—$152.45.

Sheriff Boone county to L. H. Sprague, lot in Taylorsport.

B. F. McGlasson and wife to C. Roy Tanner, 12.16 acres—$700.

I have completed and opened a well equipped livery stable on Carneal street near Elm, where horses and rigs will receive the best of attention. Boone county people will find it to their advantage to leave their horses and huggies with me.

I make two trips daily to the city with my express wagon.
B. S. CLORE, Ludlow.

The English sparrows will begin to get busy in a few weeks. By the way these birds do not appear to be so numerous about here as they were a few years ago, and their presence can be dispensed with entirely to the advantage of the country. They never look to the work they were imported to do, finding a better way to make a living than that which it was claimed they pursued in the old country—destroying worms and insects.

A well supplied coal bin has been a luxury this winter, but now many of them, the sides of which bulged a few months ago, are assuming a lean, hungry look, and it becomes evident that they will have to be replenished with 20-cents-a-bushel fuel. This makes the owner of the bin with declining contents, hope to see the ground-hog prediction fail along with other weather predictions once at least.

Generally by this time of the year the majority of the growers has sold their tobacco, and a very large per cent of the crop has been delivered to the local buyers, but quite the contrary is true now, owing to the very unfavorable weather for curing and handling tobacco during the fall and winter, and then a great many have held to their tobacco to see what the outcome of the Growers' Association would be.

Under a law now in force in this State, when a written application, signed by three freeholders of a county is filed in a county court, asking that three commissioners be appointed for the county for the purpose of inspecting and exterminating "black knot" on fruit trees, the court is compelled to appoint three persons to act as such commissioners. The law gives the commissioners authority to go on any person's premises and inspect their fruit trees, and any part or all of a tree infected may be removed or destroyed. The commissioners may mark any part of a tree, and notify the owner or person in charge to remove and destroy by fire the parts so designated, or they may girdle and have the entire tree destroyed. If any owner or person in charge of infected trees, neglect, after notification, to remove, and destroy by fire, every tree or part of tree marked and girdled by the commissioners, such person is subject to a fine not exceeding $25 or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding 10 days, and they may be both so fined and imprisoned. The commissioners receive $2 per day for their services to be paid as other county claims. The fees and charges of the commissioners may be recovered by the county from the owner of the diseased trees, who caused such expenses to be incurred. Every package from a nursery shipped into this State from another State shall be labeled with the name of the consignor, consignee and the contents and certificates signed by a State or government inspector, showing that the contents have been examined and are free from San Jose scale or other destructive insect or fungus enemies, and when this is not done a justice of the peace, after summoning the consignee and agent of consignor, shall require the package to be returned to the shipper, and if this is not done, the justice may order the package destroyed. In complying with the above law and a written application filed in the county court, the court has appointed, W. H. Clayton, of Hebron; Clyde Berkshire, of Burlington, and L. H. Voshell, of Union, to act as commissioners under said law.

From the best information obtainable the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association has failed to secure the money necessary to handle the 1904 crop. The growers met every condition imposed upon them, but when Rockefeller, who is interested in the Continental took up the fight against the farmers, the capitalists proposing to finance the move took to the woods and others could not be induced to take their places, although a very determined effort was made by the gentleman who was sent east to close the deal with the capitalists. Just what effect the failure of the Growers' Association will have on the market from this time on is merely conjecture, but it is very evident it will not be to the advantage of the farmer.

James Riddell, of Hebron, was in town one day last week, and took a tumble on the icy sidewalk. Had he been carrying that 50 pound head of cabbage he produced in his garden in 1904, he would have been mashed as flat as a shingle.

February started in to break its record of badness, and we should be thankful that it only has twenty-eight days, and fourteen of them have passed by.

My Jersey Bull will be permitted to render service at $1. money due when service is render.
B. C. GRADDY, Bullittsville, Ky.

Albert Snyder continues to improve as does Samuel Adams, who is in a hospital in Cincinnati.

Monday would have been an awfully bad day for a bucket brigade to have battled with a fire.

B. S. Clore, the Ludlow liveryman, was transacting business in Burlington, last Saturday.

If cold weather is an enemy to microbes and germs 1905 ought to be a healthy year, sure.

Samuel Hall, who has been quite sick for the past two week, is now on the improve.

E. L. Grant is working up a telephone line from Bellevue to Petersburg.

Our friend Goode is running his advertisement in five sections this week.

Yesterday was St. Valentine's day. How many did you get?

If you want grass seeds write R. B. Huey & Co., at Walton.

Bad weather never fails to catch some people out of fuel.

The ground has not been frozen very deep this winter.

Many opportunities for putting up ice this year.

In renewing his subscription to the RECORDER, J. Frank Grant, of Baltimore, Md., and writes:

"Enclosed I hand you my annual check for which please send the RECORDER for another year. Those fifty-two letters from our mother land are most welcome visitors in our home, and I always get an opportunity to read them—after my wife has finished them. She reads the RECORDER with dinner care, patent inside, advertisements and all. Yes, and I must get hold of the paper promptly before she takes it through the second degree, which consists of clipping from its columns, and pasting into her scrapbook all the items she thinks she wants to preserve. If I wait until after that is done the remains look like it had done services as a Russian breastwork before a Japanese bombardment.

"Baltimore is rising in new and finer form from the wreckage of our great fire now a year in our history. Besides buildings completed and in progress of construction representing about $15,000,000, the city is spending $30,000,000 more in new docks, new streets, new sewers and great plazas. We shall be quite fine when it is all finished.

"Kindest regards to all my friends, and best wishes for yourself."

Nothing Equals Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. P. B. Spears, of Pinchard Ala., has become acquainted with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and uses it in his own family and in his practice. He says: "It beats any preparation I have ever seen for all bowel complaints. I do not think of recommending any other, and also use it with my own children." This remedy is for sale by all Druggists.

Don't Pay

5, 10 or 50c more for a bottle of Medicine than you ought to. We can save you that much on all you buy and give you the freshest goods besides.

The reason is we do not belong to the Druggist's Trust (Nation Association of Retail Druggists) whose object is to keep up prices.

—TRY US.—

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.,
—GROCER.—
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, KY.

DOELLER'S
Catarrh and Croup Cure

—IT RELIEVES—

Croup,
Grippe Cold,
Dry Catarrh,
Cold in the Head,
Catarrhal Headache,
Chronic Nasal Catarrh
Sore Throat,
Bronchitis,
Chapped Hands,
Dry Hacking Cough,
Pimples and Black Heads,
Throat and Lung Troubles.

Sent prepaid on receipt of price in coin or stamps. 25c each or five packages for $1.

Our Guarantee: Money Refunded if you are not Benefitted.

MANUFACTURED ONLY BY
J. W. HOWE & SON,
No. 30 High Street,
HAMILTON, OHIO.

J. P. HEMPHILL
THE DRUGGIST

at Rising Sun, Ind.,
....Carries a full line of....
DRUGS,
PAINTS,
OILS AND VARNISHES.

In fact any and all articles kept in a first class Drug Store, and wants to meet his Kentucky friends.

—CALL AND SEE HIM.—
Yours Respectfully,
J. P. HEMPHILL,
Rising Sun, Indiana.

Money and Health

Saved—Comfort and Pleasure gained by using

Golden Blend Coffee, per pound..... 20c
Money Worth Blend Coffee, per lb.... 17c
Three pounds for 50c.

GEO. C. GOODE,
Agent,
Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, KY.

Advance Shipment of SPRING GOODS!

We have gotten in our

Early Spring Goods

.....CONSISTING OF.....

Ginghams, Percales, Veils,
Laces, Embroideries, Etc.

Making our contracts early we were enabled to take advantage of the market, and this advantage we will give our customers in low prices.

INDIGO BLUE CALICO 5c yard.
AMERICAN SHIRTING CALICOS 5c yard.
LACES FROM 3c yard up to 15c yard.
EMBROIDERIES FROM 3c yard up to 25c yard.

Our Laces and Embroideries are especially fine and well selected and worth 25 per cent more than we price them. We invite you to come and inspect them.

W. M. Rachal & Co
UNION, KY.

H. G. BLANTON,
FUNERAL & DIRECTOR

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.
Special Rates to Traveling Men.

First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.

Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.

Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.

Tested Field and Garden Seeds.

Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.

Largest and Best Stock of
GROCERIES IN THE CITY.

Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.

When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Livery and Sales Stable.

ALLPHIN & HUME, Proprietors,
Walton, Kentucky.

Horses kept by the Meal, Day or Month. Good safe rigs for hire at all times.

Horses Bought, or Sold on Commission

Stable Near Southern Depot. BRUCE ROBERTS, Manager.
'Phone 172½, Hughes' Line.

CEILINGS. SKYLIGHTS. CORNICES

The Porter Iron Roofing & Corrugating Co

27 and 29 West Front Street,
CINCINNATI, - - OHIO.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Iron, Steel, Galvanized & Felt Roofing.

Our Agents will give you wholesale prices.

Agents:—Bruce Anderson, Constance, Ky. L. L. Tanner, Union, Ky.

Our Unexcelled "Heating Drums" are the best. Inquire for Prices.

OH! HOW DELIGHTFUL!
The Perfect Deodorizer and Disinfectant
FRAGRINE

Refreshes. Perfumes. Invigorates. Endorsed by Physicians. Most Pleasant of Toilet Requisites.

Most healthful of Household Necessities. Call and try it at JOHN ALLISON'S, Undertaker, Covington, Ky.

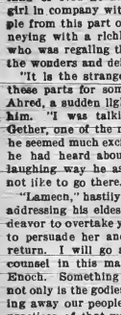
For Sale.

Business property in Constance, Ky., consisting of House, Store, Feed Room, Livery Barn of 20 stalls. Will sell property and invoice goods—will sell property and keep stock; also for rent a blacksmith and wagon makers shop.

C. W. ROBINSON,
Constance, Ky.

Dr. G. M. Terrill,
DENTIST,
Walnut Street,
LAWRENCEBURG, - INDIANA.

Subscribe for the Recorder.



THE MYSTERY OF ENOCH

OUR SERMON STORY by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher.

(A Vision Dr. Talmage Sees the Lines of God's Inspired Word.)

(Copyrighted, 1908, by T. DeW. Talmage.)

Scripture Authority:—"And Enoch walked with God; and he was not, for God took him."—Gen. 5:24. "By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God."—Heb. 11:5.

ADINA had fled. The household of Methuselah was in consternation and deep sorrow. That morning she had gone forth with her water pot to draw water from the spring, and late in the forenoon, not having returned, one of the boys was sent in search of her. In a short time he came running breathlessly back with her empty water jar, and the report that a sheep herder, who had just arrived at the watering place with his sheep, brought the tidings that far down on the road to the land of Nod he had met the missing girl in company with other young people from this part of the country, journeying with a richly-dressed stranger, who was regaling them with stories of the wonders and delights of his land.

"It is the stranger who has been in these parts for some time," exclaimed Ahred, a sudden light breaking in upon him. "I was talking last night with Gether, one of the neighbor's boys, and he seemed much excited over the stories he had heard about Nod. In a half-laughing way he asked me if I would not like to go there."

"Lamech," hastily directed the father, addressing his eldest born, "do you endeavor to overtake your sister, and seek to persuade her and those with her to return. I will go at once and obtain counsel in this matter from Father Enoch. Something must be done, for not only is the godless land of Nod drawing away our people, but the corrupting practices of that worldly-minded place are slowly but surely gaining foothold here."

While he was speaking the father had been busy fastening the leathern sandals to his feet, and reaching for his staff he passed out of the door, just as Lamech, who had completed his preparations, started down the road in the opposite direction.

As Methuselah strode rapidly along he pondered deeply on the conditions which had come to pass.

"Where will it end?" he asked himself. "The time was when our people were proud to be called God's people, but now they dislike and despise the name. With the exception of the aged heads of the families, they have quite forsaken their faith in God and are more and more completely centering all thought and ambition in material things. The corrupting influence of the land of Nod is spreading. Our young people are being drawn away by the glitter and pleasure of the world."

The picture grew blacker and blacker the deeper he went into the situation, and in despair he at last exclaimed, over and over again:

"What can be done? What can be done?"

And well might he be sad and troubled, for the religious decline at this time was serious and rapid. It is at such periods of darkness that God chooses sometimes to send forth His brightest light, and to work marvelously, and though Methuselah did not know or realize it, a thing was about to transpire which would set people's ears tingling and their hearts to pondering. God was not going to leave His people without exhausting every effort to turn them from their evil ways—He never does.

It is not strange that Methuselah should turn to Enoch in the present trouble, for ever since the death of Adam, 57 years before, he was the recognized spiritual leader and adviser of the people. His fame as an upright and godly man had spread to the land of Nod, for even the ungodly are quick to recognize purity of life and faithful devotion to high principles. Ever since he was a boy and at his great ancestor Adam's knee had listened with absorbed interest to the story of the creation, of the fellowship with God in the Garden, of sin's entrance and God's gracious dealings with sinful man, he had seemed possessed with a spirit of love and devotion to God. Thus in purity of life and unselfish service for others he had walked with God. No wonder that his was an ever-widening circle of influence and that at Adam's death he should be the one to whom the people would turn as their leader and counselor.

The eight generations of the sons of Adam in the line of Seth had gathered at the aged patriarch's bedside as the end drew near. There was Seth, whom God had given to Adam and Eve in the place of the godly Abel; there was Seth's eldest son Enos, and Enos' first born Cainan, and Cainan's eldest son Mehalaleel, and Jared his son, and Enoch the son of Jared, and Methuselah and Methuselah's son Lamech. Adam had rested his hand of blessing upon each one in turn, and then Death's strange hand had claimed him and left the body cold and lifeless.

At the simple but impressive funeral service the multitude of descendants had gathered, and a solemn hush fell upon all as Enoch pointed the lesson of the hour. He spoke of death as the punishment of God's word to Adam in the Garden, of how it was the consequence of sin, and then he dwelt upon the promises of God that Satan should be overcome and man delivered, and ended by pointing to the mystery of the sacrifice which God had made and the covering which He had provided for man. As he finished there came a voice out of the Heavens saying:

"God is pleased with thee, Enoch, for thou hast borne faithful testimony for Him."

And all the people wondered and trembled, and from that hour Enoch was recognized as leader and adviser. But the 57 years which had transpired since then had brought sad changes, and the impressions of that hour had long since vanished before the crowding interests and pleasures of this life.

The memory of all these incidents crowded upon the mind of Methuselah as he journeyed, and when at dusk he drew near to his Father Enoch's door his heart was filled with a multitude of emotions.

"Ah, that God's voice might speak again," he cried, "and make His people remember Him."

Was it the cry which through the gathering gloom reached Enoch's ear, or was it the voice of his own heart? All day his soul had been singularly stirred with the thoughts of God and the needs of His people. And now there had seemed to come a voice. Instinctively he turned towards the door, and father and son met on the threshold.

"What brings thee, my son, at this late hour?" asked Enoch, as he welcomed him with hearty embrace.

"A sad errand, father," responded Methuselah, after a painful silence. "Adina, drawn by the enticements of Nod, has fled thither, and not only is my heart heavy over her going, but also because on every hand there is a forgetting of God and indifference to His claims. Lamech has gone in effort to overtake her and persuade her to return, and I have hastened to you that you might counsel as to the right course to pursue in again turning the people to God."

Late into the night the men sat and talked earnestly. Enoch went over step by step the leadings and dealings of God with His children from Adam to the present time, and as they separated for the night, he said with rare sweetness and abiding confidence:

"God liveth in the Heavens, and will not leave His people without certain testimony of His nearness and His power."

Long did Methuselah lie pondering these words and then fell into a fitful slumber in which he seemed to see whole troops of angels passing to and fro while a glorious light shed by their iridescent robes filled all the place. Then strains of sweet music, the like of which he had never heard before, floated down, and as it ceased voices were heard in gentle converse. The rhythm of the sound seemed to lull him into deeper repose, and the voices and the light gradually faded and were gone, when suddenly the Heavens seemed to open and a great shaft of light shot down to earth, while a voice said:

"Come, thou shalt walk with Me in Heaven."

The scene was all so real and vivid, the voice so clear, the words so plain, that Methuselah sat bolt upright with a start and could not satisfy his own mind whether he had been asleep and dreaming or whether awake and had seen a vision.

The eastern light was just breaking over the earth. As though impelled by some unseen hand Methuselah moved to the place where his father had spread his mat.

It was empty!

The garments of skin were folded and placed at one side, with the leathern girdle resting on top, while at the head of the couch stood the familiar staff.

But Enoch was gone!

Whither? Methuselah needed naught more than the vision of the night to satisfy the query. Reverently he knelt. Long and silently he thus remained, and as he rose he fervently exclaimed:

"Surely, God hath spoken."

The household was soon astir, and to Methuselah's strange story gave almost incredulous heed. Messengers were quickly dispatched in every direction bearing the startling tidings.

The aged Seth listened to the story with kindling eye and then exclaimed:

"God is near! Heaven is but a step! Now will the people awake to the reality of God and realize that this life does not end all."

But, as in the later days when Elijah rode into Heaven in God's flaming chariot, the unbelieving prophets sought for him and found him not; so when Enoch was translated the people would not receive Methuselah's testimony until they had searched the country over for tidings or trace of the missing man.

And they found him not, for God had taken him. Even into the land of Nod they extended the search, some saying that he had gone thither in quest of his missing granddaughter, Adina, not knowing that Lamech had won the fair girl from her evil purpose and had brought her back home. And there the happy father found her next day as he returned home. A new fire burned within his heart, a new purpose ruled his life, and firmer faith reached up towards God. The translation of Enoch had begun a mighty mission, and stayed the progress of evil for a time among the people called by the name of the Lord. And thus does the Lord patiently and faithfully deal with His people, and exhaust all effort to bring them back to Him.

True Riches.

Leanness of soul is the portion of him who has gotten his wealth by fraud; but he who chooses poverty rather than dishonorable gain is richer than the mighty.—United Presbyterian.

CLOSE UP!

Must the Democratic Donkey Pull the Whole Outfit?

LAWS SHOULD BE ENFORCED

Legislation for the Classes Might Well Be Dispensed With by the Administration.

Admitting for the moment that the present interstate commerce commission is to be clothed with the rate-making power, and that the plan now before congress and imputed to President Roosevelt is enacted into law, it is entirely permissible, says the New York Sun (Ind. Rep.), to inquire whether any adequate provision, or any provision at all, is made therein for the rights of labor.

Admitting that it is just and equitable that the rights of property should be ignored, and that the welfare of the savings banks and of kindred vehicles of the thrift of all the people should be dismissed as of no concern, is it wise to ignore and wholly disregard the wage earner?

It is all very well for an intelligent press imperiously to demand cheap coal and to advocate the hanging of a coal operator for refusing to raise the pay of his miners. The principle is admirable, and we are now in the full enjoyment of its application. That is, we, the public, having taken a warm and sympathetic interest in the coal agitation, and having had a controlling effect on its adjustment, are now paying for the same out of our own pockets. That this is so is perfectly right and logical, but of argument most unprofitable. When the owner of the coal refuses to part with it unless he is paid for it, and the man who mines it has to have his price, the function of the public is to pay.

But in the case of the railroads who is to pay? Assuredly it is not the public. When Mr. Roosevelt establishes the rates that the public is to pay for transportation and organized labor demands more wages, where is the money to come from? There is no public in sight to pay for its sentimentality in hard cash as we now pay in hard cash for every ton of coal we burn. Organized labor can whistle for its wages. It will obviously be impossible for the railroads to comply with labor's demands, because they will no longer have the money at their command. The rates which the shippers of freight, who in the proposed legislation are the whole public, have had created for their benefit, will absorb all the profits of heretofore, and there will be nothing left for the coming requirements of labor.

From this it must appear that the legislation demanded by Mr. Roosevelt is essentially class legislation and of a kind that will surely produce the most embarrassing results. The men who work for the railroads and who depend on them for their living constitute a very large class. If the public pays the railroads $1,000,000,000 in the next 12 months, $600,000,000 of it will go, directly or indirectly, to labor. We do not dispute the proposition in the light of the law or the constitution, which all sensible men regard as obsolete, but we do most strenuously object on the score of expediency.

Would it not be more expedient to enforce the laws we have than to fly to others that we wot not of?

——Secretary of War Taft is said to have expressed disappointment because the public has shown so little interest in his report. He should console himself with the thought that the reports of most of his fellow cabinet officers are equally ignored. As a matter of fact, if the heads of the various departments would compile for popular use concise summaries of the main facts brought out in their reports they might get them read oftener.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

——"What is 'tariff revision,' father?" "'Tariff revision,' my son, is a 'good enough Morgan till after election.'"—N. Y. Herald (Ind.).

——Wouldn't it be a joke, if the ship subsidy bill should be the entering wedge for trouble to the tariff subsidy beneficiaries? A republican, Mr. Stevens, of Minnesota, has declared he will propose an amendment to the present subsidy bill to reduce the steel schedule ten per cent. He considers it apropos because shipbuilders in this country are paying about eight dollars more on steel than shipbuilders abroad.—Albany Argus.

DEMOCRACY IN THE BREACH

The Voice of the People Was Not Stifled by Victory of Republicans.

If any evidence was lacking that democrats have an undisturbed faith in their party and its principles it was supplied by the spirit which dominated the splendid gathering in Lafayette. What is true of the feeling there is true of the party membership everywhere. The result in November, while deplored, has not stifled the voice of the people nor blunted the conscience which, when thoroughly aroused, will bring about a better order of things. The democratic party's opportunity is bound to come and to come soon, and it must be prepared to grasp it, says the Indianapolis Sentinel.

The sincere well-wishers of the president hope that he will be able to accomplish some of the things that have been promised in his name. The party of which he is the representative is in full control of the government. It has in its hands all the machinery necessary to accomplish any end. The republican majority in both branches of congress is large. The executive and administrative departments of the government are in republican hands.

Upon the republican party must rest the blame for all failures to relieve the people from the exactions of the trusts, the railroads and the unjustly favored tariff beneficiaries. An honest consideration of the country's good would seem to guarantee proper legislation and its speedy enforcement. But what do we see? Instead of decreasing the burden of taxation it is proposed to take from the treasury immense sums of money and bestow them upon the ship-owners in the form of subsidies. Instead of effective action against the trusts there are delays and still delays—as in the case of the packers' combine. Instead of taking immediate steps to reform outrageous tariff schedules we have white house conferences which are nullified by the attitude of congress. The one who can see hope in the republican party is certainly a man of much faith in the faithless. It is to the democratic party that the country must look in the end, and it is beginning to look that way now.

COMMENT OF THE PRESS.

——The Bryan-Roosevelt railroad merger promises to become historic.—N. Y. World.

——Secretary Hill is heralded as the greatest of diplomatists. He can get the promises, but old Abdul Hamid of Turkey has them all beat-in not keeping them.—Chattanooga Times.

——Senator Hopkins, of Illinois, gets around the necessity for action thus: "A sentiment but no demand for tariff revision exists." So it seems that tweedledum and tweedledee are quite different, after all.—Minneapolis Journal.

——The administration's policy in making federal appointments is assuming definite form. It appears that the president will follow the recommendations of members of the congress any time they pick out the man he wants.—Washington Post (Ind.).

——The New York Evening Post's poll of the first thousand "Who's Who" on tariff revision is not likely to have much effect on the cynical legislators at Washington, thinks the Hartford Times (dem.). "Tariff revision will not come so long as it is merely a vague cry. We see no evidence that the American people are feeling very badly because they are paying the United States Steel corporation a bounty of seven dollars a ton or more on all the steel that concern produces. In fact, they seem to like to do it."

——Charles A. Edwards, secretary of the democratic congressional committee, was having a bad quarter of an hour with his little son, who wanted answers to all sorts of impossible questions. "Why am I a democrat?" said the child. "Who wants to know?" answered the father, suspiciously. "The teacher." "Well," said Mr. Edwards, "you tell the teacher you are a democrat because you possess the God-given faculty, after you have been rolled in the dust and kicked and cuffed, of rising and declaring to the world: 'Well, we lost this time; but we will win in 1908.'"—Chicago Chronicle.

STOPPING SMALL SMUGGLER

Customs Officers by Their Vigilance Are Gradually Subduing the Evil.

"Petty smuggling, the sort that is practiced by people who have bought some small articles abroad and want to bring them home without paying duty, is now being pretty well stamped out," said a man who was for several years in the United States customs service on the Pacific coast to a Kansas City Journal writer. "Of course, there never was so much of it in the west as on the Atlantic coast, but the vigilance of the customs officials and the severe penalties imposed on people who have been caught has had a tendency to break it up pretty thoroughly.

"As a general thing the people who try to smuggle in dutiable goods are now of two classes, the one composed of professional smugglers, who operate on a large scale, and the other of actresses and wealthy people of a certain sort, who take no particular pains to avoid detection, and who enjoy the notoriety which an escapade of the sort gives them.

"On the Pacific coast the two things to which the operations of smugglers are almost entirely confined are opium and silks. Both have to pay heavy duties, and both are comparatively easily concealed. Much of the silk brought in from China and Japan is of such fine texture that four or five ordinary sized handkerchiefs could be concealed in an English walnut shell.

"Some unique methods are used by opium smugglers. One day the wharfinger at San Francisco was standing near his office when he saw a lime fly over a high fence which inclosed a vacant lot just adjoining the wharf. Before long another one came in the same way. He thought nothing of it at first, as the boys are quite in the habit of throwing things at the rats around the wharfs. But when they kept on coming his curiosity began to be aroused. He stepped over to where the limes were falling, and where there were by that time probably a dozen of them, picked one up and cut it open. He found a small plug had been cut from the lime, as though with a leather punch, the hole filled with small pills of opium wrapped in oiled paper, and the outside part of the plug returned to its place. The limes had been thrown from the deck of a ship at anchor at the wharf to the vacant lot, where the smuggler expected to pick them up later.

"Of late the center of the opium smuggling has been transferred from San Francisco to the ports further north, as the men who were operating in that line became too well known to San Francisco officials. Now most of them come in through Portland, or further north, in the British possessions, where I understand the Canadian officials are now having a great deal of trouble.

"It was the custom for some time to allow a great deal of liberty to army officers returning from the Philippines, and to take their statements as to the dutiable goods in their possession without a very thorough investigation. But it was found that the privilege was being abused, and a stricter search was instituted. Shortly afterward a captain came through, with three big trunks, and declared that he had practically nothing of a dutiable nature. An inspection showed that in the bottom of one of his trunks were whole bolts of valuable silks, which he lost altogether by trying to cheat the government which he served."

Indian Novels by Indian Writers.

Of late years the number of writers among the Cherokees has greatly increased. There are historians in the tribe whose works are used as text-books in the Indian schools, and who are cited as authorities not to be disputed. There are also Indians who have written codes of law which before being put in permanent form had been handed down from generation to generation. The Indians to-day obey these laws with a greater reverence than they do the laws of the United States. There are Indian novelists—novelists who devote their time to entertaining the Indian mind with romance with entangled plots and blood-curdling climaxes. These books are popular among the Indians. Edition after edition of some works is published, and they are read by buck and squaw alike.—Kansas City Journal.

Manufacture of Chartreuse.

One of the few items of foreign trade of this district in which change is shown is alcohol, which is being imported now by the Carthusian monks, lately emigrated from France, who have transferred the manufacture of their renowned chartreuse to this city. They continue to receive spirits for its manufacture from the distilleries which they owned and are suspected of owning still in other countries. It is doubtful whether they will find it economical to continue under their present management owing to the custom house duties which they tried to avoid by pleading the re-exportation of alcohol after it is blended in their liquor. Drawbacks are unknown in this, the country of their adoption, and the claims were not allowed.

L. J. AGOSTINI.

Every Day Is Sunday.

Few people know that other days of the week than the first are being observed as Sunday by some nation or other. The Greeks observe Monday; the Persians, Tuesday; the Assyrians, Wednesday; the Egyptians, Thursday; the Turks, Friday; the Jews, Saturday, and the Christians, Sunday. Thus a perpetual Sabbath is being celebrated on earth.

Drivers Take Oath.

Before obtaining a license, St. Petersburg drosky drivers have to take an oath to be civil and not to overcharge.

"Do man dat puts on airs," said Uncle Eben, "is liable to give a good imitation of an airship. He makes a fine start, but he don' git nowheres in partic'lar."—Washington Star.

It Cures While You Walk.

Allen's Foot-Ease is a certain cure for hot, sweating, callous, and swollen, aching feet. Sold by all Druggists. Price 25c. Don't accept any substitute. Trial package FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Every man has a pretty good opinion of himself till he gets in public office and reads what a scoundrel he is.—N. Y. Press.

ACHED IN EVERY BONE.

Chicago Society Woman, Who Was So Sick She Could Not Sleep or Eat, Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Marion Knight, of 38 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Orator of the West Side Wednesday Club, says: "This winter when I started to use Doan's Kidney Pills I ached in every bone and had intense pains in the kidneys and pelvic organs. The urine was thick and cloudy, and I could barely cough to live. I felt a change for the better within a week. The second week I began eating heartily. I began to improve generally, and before seven weeks had passed I was well. I had spent hundreds of dollars for medicine that did not help me, but $6 worth of Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to perfect health."

MARION KNIGHT.

A TRIAL FREE—Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents.

WET WEATHER WISDOM!
THE ORIGINAL TOWER'S
FISH BRAND
SLICKER
BLACK OR YELLOW
WILL KEEP YOU DRY
NOTHING ELSE WILL TAKE NO SUBSTITUTES
CATALOGUES FREE.
SHOWING FULL LINE OF CAMPERS AND HATS.
A. J. TOWER CO., BOSTON, MASS., U.S.A.
TOWER CANADIAN CO., LTD., TORONTO, CANADA.

WHAT'S THE USE OF SAYING "GIVE ME A 5-CENT CIGAR," WHEN BY ASKING FOR A "CREMO"
YOU GET THE BEST 5-CENT CIGAR IN AMERICA
"The World's Largest Seller"

UNITED STATES
FARMS WESTERN CANADA FREE
IMPORTING CANADIAN WHEAT IS NOW A FACT.
Get a FREE HOMESTEAD in WESTERN CANADA, or buy some of the best wheat lands on the continent, and become a producer
The average yield of wheat this year will be about twenty bushels to the acre. The oat and barley crop will also yield abundantly. Splendid climate, good schools, and churches, excellent marketing facilities.
Apply for information to SUPERINTENDENT OF IMMIGRATION, Ottawa, Canada, or to
H. M. WILLIAMS, Law Building, Toledo, O
Authorized Canadian Government Agent.
Please say where you saw this advertisement.

Strawberry and Vegetable Growers
The Passenger Department of the Illinois Central Railroad Company have recently issued a publication known as Circular No. 13, in which is described the Best territory in this country
for the growing of early strawberries and early vegetables. Every dealer in such products should address a postal card to the undersigned at Dubuque, Iowa, requesting a copy of "Circular No. 13."
J. F. MERRY, Asst. Gen'l Pass'r Agent.

MOTHER GRAY'S SWEET POWDERS FOR CHILDREN,
A Certain Cure for Feverishness, Constipation, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders, and Destroy Worms. They break up Colds. Nurse in Child in 24 hours. At all Druggists, 25 cts. Gray's Home Sample mailed FREE. Address, New York City. A. S. OLMSTED, Le Roy, N.Y.

The Enterprising Housekeeper
A valuable little book of 200 tested recipes and kitchen helps. Sells for 25c. Mailed to anyone for 4c postage. ENTERPRISE MFG. CO., Phila., Pa.

PENSIONS on age at 62.—Civil War; or on disability, any war, and for widows. Have records of most loyal soldiers' service, and sure of Ohio men. 20 years practice. Laws and advice FREE. A. W. McCORMICK & SONS, 810 Walnut St., CINCINNATI, O.

BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP cures coughs and colds.

PATENTS 48-page book FREE. Highest references. Best results. 517 GERALD & CO., Box E, Washington, D. C.

A. N. K.—E 2061

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

FEED RACK FOR SHEEP.

Description of One Which Has Stood the Test of Use and Proved Its Value.

Some of our new subscribers desire a description of a good feed rack for sheep. Here is one described in this paper about this time last year, says the Prairie Farmer. This is a very important subject in connection with the care of sheep, inasmuch as it has to do not only with the economical use of the feed grown on the farm, but also with keeping the fleece of the sheep clean and in marketable condition. No form of rack should be used for the feeding of any kind of feed containing chaff or dirt that will permit the sheep to poke its head into the feed or that will allow the chaff, dirt or broken leaves to filter through cracks and fall onto the sheep. Any such dirt in the wool injures the sale of it very materially, not merely because the wool buyer does not care to pay wool price for dirt, but because it increases the labor and expense of preparing the wool for manufacture, and also injures the fiber itself to a greater or less extent.

A FEED RACK FOR SHEEP.

Some kinds, as the chaff of Timothy, are very difficult to remove. Where any hand picking is necessary to remove the adhering foreign matter, as is sometimes the case, the wool in its raw state must necessarily sell very low. A little care in such matters may mean a better opinion of the wool by the cutter on the part of the grower and of the grower on the part of the buyer, and several dollars more in the pocket of the grower when they get through with their transaction.

The accompanying illustration represents an end view of a very good and inexpensive form of rack for feeding the roughness. If desired a bottom may be put in so as to feed the grain in these racks also, but, as a rule, we prefer the plan of feeding the grain in troughs made separate from and independent of the rack for roughness. This rack is made about three feet in height, two feet and six inches wide and any length desired. The uprights are made from two by eight lumber. One slant cut making the sloping edge for two pieces, there is no waste in the cutting. The bottom of the rack is composed of a 12-inch or two six-inch boards nailed on the outside of these uprights, as indicated in the cut. The upper part for receiving the hay is made by nailing boards on the sloping edge of the uprights. These boards should be either shiplap or have their edges beveled and fit together so as to prevent any dirt rattling through on top of the heads and necks of the sheep as they eat.

If it is desired to put a bottom in the rack for the feeding of grain, probably the best plan is to make each side of this bottom into a movable trough that can be turned over to dump out the dirt and litter, as it is not convenient to clean troughs so situated in any other manner. In making a bottom of this kind, the stationary portion in the center should be placed above the troughs, so that any refuse will pass into the latter, where it may be dumped out. The troughs may be hung at the ends by means of a bolt passed through the end piece and the upright of the rack, and be held in place while in use by means of hooks or by pins to one side of the bolts.

PASTE THIS UP.

Some Pointers for the Farmer Which He Should Paste In His Stable.

Wide tires save much horse power.

A sandy or muddy road doubles the work.

Axle grease pays 1,000 per cent. profit.

The best drivers talk much to their animals.

A rise of only one foot in ten doubles the draft.

The whip costs more than it saves. Put it away.

Dark or damp stables cause low spirits and various diseases.

Any fool can ruin a team, but a wise driver maintains its value.

Quiet and patient drivers are worth twice as much as any others.

Your horse intends to please you, but does not always know your wishes.

Yelling and jerking the bit confuses a horse and advertises a blockhead.

The horse is man's invaluable helper and should be treated as a friend.

Balking is very often caused by abuse, overloading or tight harness.

You can get no more power from a horse than you give him in his food.

Never strike or hurt a balker. Stuff cloth in his ears or hold up his foot and tinker with it fully three minutes. Divert his attention and do it kindly. —Midland Farmer.

BEE CULTURE.

Comparative Tests by the Government as to the Best Type of Bees.

In bee culture comparative tests have been continued with the Caucasian and other types of bees and various crosses between these types themselves, with the effort to improve the domestic hive bee and secure certain varieties of special merit for different regions. The general conclusion reached is that the Caucasian race is by far the gentlest that has ever been brought to this country, and lends itself to manipulation and handling without the use of bee veil, and rarely of smoke. These bees also are excellent honey gatherers.

The frequent statements that comb honey can be artificially manufactured have been shown to be absolutely false, and the purchaser who gets his honey in the comb may rest assured that he is getting an article manipulated at least by bees.

A special investigation has been made of bee conditions over a considerable area comprising the middle west and western states, with the idea to familiarize the expert with the conditions in these regions and to determine the feasibility and the desirability of the importation and establishment of foreign honey-producing plants.

A model apiary of 50 or 60 colonies of bees has been secured, and it is proposed to establish it on the Arlington experimental farm as a basis for apiarian investigations and as a breeding station of races and types of bees. The importation of foreign queens of different races has been continued, and studies have been made of honey producing plants, methods of wintering bees, and of bee diseases.

HEN MANURE.

A Valuable Fertilizer Which It Will Pay the Farmer to Preserve Carefully.

It has been a fact of common knowledge for a long time that, as ordinarily stored, hen dung loses a large part of its nitrogen. Because of the small number of hens kept by most farmers, little attention has been given to means of preventing these losses. The Maine agricultural experiment station has made a careful study of the effects of chemicals upon the loss of nitrogen, and reaches the following conclusions:

By itself, hen dung is a one-sided nitrogenous fertilizer. As usually managed, one-half or more of its nitrogen is lost, so that as ordinarily used it does not carry so great an excess of nitrogen. Because of its excess of nitrogen it will be much more economically used in connection with manures carrying phosphoric acid and potash. As both acid phosphate and kainit prevent the loss of nitrogen, it is possible to use them in connection with sawdust or some other dry material as an absorbent so as to make a well-balanced fertilizer. For example, a mixture of 30 pounds of hen manure, ten pounds of sawdust or dry loam, 16 pounds of acid phosphate, and eight pounds of kainit would carry about 1.25 per cent. nitrogen, 4.5 per cent. phosphoric acid, and two per cent. potash, which, used at the rate of two tons per acre, would furnish 50 pounds nitrogen, 185 phosphoric acid and 80 pounds potash.

FROZEN EGGS.

If Properly Treated They Are Little the Worse for Cooking Purposes.

The time is near at hand when poultrymen of the north, who are so fortunate as to get any eggs at all, will be liable to get some frozen ones. Regarding the treatment of these the Poultry World says: "In the winter season quantities of eggs are frozen, and it is generally considered that such eggs are worth but little, or, to say the least, are much injured for cooking purposes. This, however, is not strictly true, for if properly treated they are but little injured. Instead of (as was the custom) putting them into cold water to take out the frost and waiting several hours for the thawing to take place, and then finding the yolks in such a solid state that they can be used with no satisfaction for cooking, try the following method: Place them in boiling water and leave them there from five to 20 minutes, according to the amount of frost in them, when, upon their being opened, the yolks will be found soft and in such a state that they can be used for almost any culinary purpose."

SMOKING MEATS SAFELY.

Method Which May Be Used with Great Satisfaction and Success.

Take an old stove and lead the smoke through a long stovepipe (b), into a large box (a). Set the box (a) a little higher than the stove. Drive nails through the top of the box and bend them into hooks (c), to hang your meat. Make a small door in the side to put the meat through. With a stove you can control your fire, says Farm and Home, and it is also much safer.

Keep Nest Boxes Sweet.

The nest boxes are a source of trouble, and yet can be easily kept clean and sweet. If thoroughly cleaned and whitewashed, care being taken that the whitewash flows freely into the cracks and crevices, the nest will remain sweet.—Inland Poultry Journal.

TO DINE ON HORSE.

QUEER MEAL IS PLANNED FOR FRENCH MINISTER.

Cabinet Officer Will Be Guest of Honor at "Hippophage" Fete Which Takes Place in Paris—Equine Food Becomes Popular.

Paris.—Some of the tasks of the French ministers are hard indeed. They can scarcely ever refuse to preside over any fete connected with an industry or trade from which a certain recognized section of the French people gain their livelihood. For example, M. Trouillot, the minister of commerce, has had to accept an invitation to be present at the "hippophage" fete.

The eaters of horse flesh are to be present in full number, but particularly the horse meat butchers and the class of middlemen who find, sell, or kill the poor animals in question.

The speechmaking, in which the minister of agriculture will also participate, will be followed by a "grand banquet," at which horse meat and various preparations from it are to have the place of honor on the menu; and after the banquet a grewsome demonstration is to be made, after the fashion of the Chicago stock yards, of the time it takes to transform a living equine into a succulent (?) succession of "beef" steaks.

The final tidbit on the programme of the day is the unveiling of a statue to the veterinary doctor, Decroix, who was the determined propagator of the horse meat doctrine in France, who claimed that it was scientifically better food than that of other animals, and who was influential in getting the consent of the French government to the establishment of horse meat butcheries.

The consumption of this article of food has greatly grown in Paris during the past few years, for the price of other meat has steadily risen. During the last six months 5,000 horses, mules, or asses have been thus slaughtered for the Paris market.

TO MOVE INDIAN CEMETERY

Remains of Many Noted Chiefs in Kansas City, Kan., to Be Interred in Other Places.

Kansas City, Kan.—The remains of more than 500 Wyandotte Indians are to be exhumed in Huron cemtery, one of the oldest Indian burying grounds in this city. They are to be taken to various places in Kansas and the Indian territory for final burial.

The Indian burial ground contains two acres of land and is desired for business purposes. It is valued at more than $100,000. The sale of the cemetery was finally determined upon at a meeting of Wyandotte Indians. It has been held in trust by the United States government since 1853, and the cemetery lots will be sold under the direction of the secretary of the interior.

Many noted Indian chiefs and leaders are buried there. More than 300 members of the tribe now in the Indian territory will attend the ceremonies being arranged for the removal of the bodies. They will again worship under the old oak and elm trees under which their fathers met more than half a century ago, and which still stand in the heart of the business district of the city. Many of the bodies will be taken to another old Indian cemetery at Quindaro, Kan.

The people of Kansas City, Kan., have long been trying to persuade the Indians to remove their dead from the center of the business district. The graves have been neglected, fences torn down, and paths made across the unmarked graves. This had much to do with inducing the Indians to remove their dead.

MARKET REPORT.

	Cincinnati, Feb. 11.
CATTLE—Common .	$2 65	@	3	85
Heavy steers	4 65	@	5	00
CALVES—Extra		@	7	75
HOGS—Ch. packers .	5 10	@	5	15
Mixed packers ..	4 90	@	5	10
SHEEP—Extra	5 10	@	5	25
LAMBS—Extra		@	7	75
FLOUR—Spring pat.	6 20	@	6	45
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 18	@	1	20
No. 3 winter		@	1	11
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@		46½
No. 2 white		@		47
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	32¼	@		33
RYE—No. 2	82	@		86
HAY—Ch. timothy ..		@	12	25
PORK—Clear mess..		@	14	25
LARD—Steam		@	6	40
BUTTER—Ch. dairy..		@		19
Choice creamery ..		@		33
APPLES—Choice ...	2 75	@	3	25
POTATOES—Per bbl	1 50	@	1	60
TOBACCO—New	b 00	@	13	00
Old	4 50	@	14	75
	Chicago.
FLOUR—Winter pat.	5 10	@	5	20
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 18½	@	1	19¼
No. 3 red	1 06	@	1	16
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@		43¼
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@		30⅝
RYE—No. 2		@		75
PORK—Mess	12 70	@	12	75
LARD—Steam	6 7½	@	6	75
	New York.
FLOUR—Win. str'ts.	5 50	@	5	85
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1	22
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@		54½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	36½	@		37½
RYE—Western		@		80
PORK—Family	13 25	@	13	75
LARD—Steam		@	7	25
	Baltimore.
CATTLE—Steers ...	4 50	@	4	95
SHEEP—No. 1 fat ..	2 25	@	2	50
LAMBS—Spring	5 50	@	6	50
CALVES—Choice	4 00	@	5	50
HOGS—Dressed	6 25	@	6	50
	Louisville.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1	17
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@		47
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@		34
PORK—Mess		@	11	00
LARD—Pure steam.		@	6	50
	Indianapolis.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1	18
CORN—No. 3 mixed.		@		45
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@		33

Crying Need.

When a man in Holland wants the police to stop an automobile that is going too fast—if anything goes fast in Holland—the machine is away across the border before he has finished the sentence, for the name of the automobile in Dutch is snelparelooomonderspoorwegpitreclrijtuig. There ought to be a cry among the automobubble owners of: "Stop the language!"—Brooklyn Eagle.

Solomon declared that there was nothing new under the sun, but Nahum, the Elkoshite, evidently foresaw the automobile when he wrote: "Chariots shall rage in the streets; they shall jostle one against another in the broad ways; they shall seem like torches; they shall run like the lightnings."—Boston Globe.

IT'S THE TERROR OF ALL WOMEN.

Backache Quickly Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills—Mrs. W. H. Ambrose Tells How Her Pains Vanished Never to Return When She Used the Great American Kidney Remedy.

Dover, Ky., Feb. 13th.—(Special)—So long has Backache been the terror of the women of America that the numerous reports of the complete and permanent cures of this ailment now being made by Dodd's Kidney Pills are causing wide satisfaction, and not the least remarkable of these cures is that of Mrs. W. H. Ambrose of this place. Mrs. Ambrose says:

"I had such pains in my back at times I could hardly move and other symptoms showed that my kidneys were affected. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills drove away all the pains and I have never been troubled since.

Backache is the kidneys' first notice that they are out of order and need help. If they get that help in the form of Dodd's Kidney Pills all will be well. If they are neglected the disease may develop into Diabetes, Bright's Disease or Rheumatism.

In a multitude of advisers there is confusion.—N. Y. Times.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

Man wants but little here below zero.—Chicago Daily News.

Piso's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of as a cough cure.—J. W. O'Brien, 322 Third Ave., N., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6, 1900.

Merely Robbery.

"In the business world to-day there is too much 'robbing Peter to pay Paul.'"

"That wouldn't be so bad, but nine Pauls out of ten are never paid at that."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

If some of the people in this and other countries trying to master the new universal language would give their time and energy to learning English they would acquire a linguistic asset that is worth talking about.—The Commoner.

When a footpad approaches you seize him by the center of the chin and press your thumb violently against a nerve in the inner elbow joint. The footpad will then probably shoot five bullet-holes in you while he shrieks with pain. This is jiu jitsu.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

WAS CURED RAPIDLY

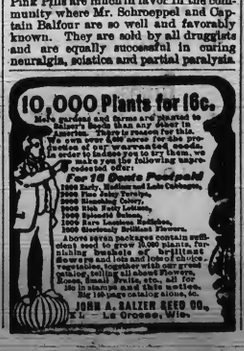
RHEUMATISM IN TWO SEVERE CASES MASTERED IN FEW WEEKS.

The Remedy Used by Mr. Schroeppel and by Captain Balfour in Great Demand in Vicinity of Their Homes.

In the winter of 1902-3 Mr. Schroeppel was confined to his bed by a severe attack of rheumatism. His doctor's treatment proved unsuccessful, but he subsequently regained his health by means which he describes with great enthusiasm.

"After five or six weeks of helplessness and pain," said he, "during which I was receiving regular visits from the doctor, I felt as bad as ever. Just then my mother, a woman eighty years of age, paid me a visit. She had received great benefit from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and she was confident they would help me. At her solicitation I gave up the doctor's treatment and took the pills in its place."

"And were you cured as the result of taking her advice?"



"Yes, quickly and thoroughly. Before the second box was finished I felt very manifest improvement, and within two weeks I was able to leave my bed and take up my neglected farm work. I continued to use the pills, however, until eight boxes had been taken, although long before that I felt that every vestige of the disease had been eradicated.

"Are there no traces left?"

"Absolutely none. For a year and three months there has never been the slightest return of the trouble. For this happy result I and my family freely praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Within the bounds of China township, St. Clair county, Mich., there is no better known farmer than Mr. Henry Schroeppel. His cure has therefore naturally attracted a great deal of attention. One of Mr. Schroeppel's neighbors, Captain George Balfour, after hearing of the salutary results in Mr. Schroeppel's case, decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for an attack of rheumatism from which he was himself suffering. He took eight or ten boxes and now declares himself free from the painful ailment."

It is little wonder that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are much in favor in the community where Mr. Schroeppel and Captain Balfour are so well and favorably known. They are sold by all druggists and are equally successful in curing neuralgia, sciatica and partial paralysis.

Health of American Women

A Subject Much Discussed at Women's Clubs—The Future of a Country Depends on the Health of Its Women.

At the New York State Assembly of Mothers, a prominent New York doctor told the 500 women present that healthy American women were so rare as to be almost extinct.

This seems to be a sweeping statement of the condition of American women. Yet how many do you know who are perfectly well and do not have some trouble arising from a derangement of the female organism which manifests itself in headaches, backaches, nervousness, that bearing-down feeling, painful or irregular menstruation, leucorrhœa, displacement of the uterus, ovarian trouble, indigestion or sleeplessness? There is a tried and true remedy for all these ailments. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored more American women to health than all other remedies in the world. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can. For thirty years it has been curing the worst forms of female complaints.

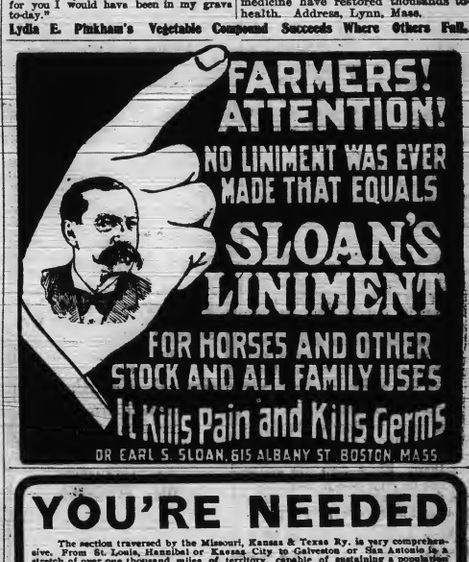
Such testimony as the following should be convincing.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Ia., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I can truly say that you have saved my life and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words. For two years I spent lots of money in doctoring without any benefit for menstrual irregularities and I had given up all hopes of ever being well again, but I was persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and three bottles have restored me to perfect health. Had it not been for you I would have been in my grave to-day."

Miss Mattie Henry, Vice-President of Danville Art Club, 429 Green St., Danville, Va., writes:



Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"Many years' suffering with female weakness, inflammation and a broken down system made me more anxious to die than to live, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored my health and I am so grateful for it that I want every suffering woman to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do for her."

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating, (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. No other medicine in the world has received such unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

A light heart, a cheerful countenance, and all the charms of grace and beauty are dependent upon proper action of the bodily organs. You cannot look well, unless you feel well.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice and medicine have restored thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

YOU'RE NEEDED

The section traversed by the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Ry. is very comprehensive. From St. Louis, Hannibal or Kansas City to Galveston or San Antonio is a stretch of over one thousand miles of territory, capable of sustaining a population many times that of the present. A thousand industries, soil of various degrees of fertility, a wonderful produce of plants and crops, oil, gas and minerals are to be found. Peopled by eager, pushing, wide-awake citizens who believe in the future of the Southwest and see the virtue of encouraging enterprises of every description and of getting more and better facilities, the opportunity is apparent.

The Southwest is ready in need of nothing save people. More men are needed—your help needed. There are vast areas of unimproved land—land not yielding the crops of which it is capable. The same thing in a different way is true of the towns. Few lines of business are adequately represented. There are openings for mills and manufacturing plants, small stores, banks, newspapers and lumber yards. The oil and gas fields of Kansas, Indian Territory and Oklahoma are practically new and offer wonderful opportunities for development along commercial lines.

THE OPPORTUNITY IS NOW

The M. K. & T. has no lands for sale, we are simply interested in the upbuilding of the country. We believe in the Southwest; and know that with its present needs and opportunities, the prospects are brighter and the future more hopeful than in the older and more densely populated States. We want you to investigate conditions and satisfy yourself of the truthfulness of this.

On February 7th and 21st and March 7th and 21st, the M. K. & T. Ry. will sell excursion tickets from St. Louis, Hannibal and Kansas City to Indian Territory, Oklahoma and Central and Eastern Texas, at

$15 For the Round Trip

You should take advantage of this opportunity to see the Southwest for yourself.

We are in possession of all sorts of information valuable alike to the investor and homeseeker. If you are interested, tell us what you want, how much you have to invest and we will gladly furnish the information.

Write to-day for a copy of our book "Business Chances." It's free. Address

GEORGE MORTON, G. P. & T. A., Box 967-Y, St. Louis, Mo.
C. W. SMITH, N. P. A., 208 Monadnock Building, Chicago, Ill.
H. F. BOWSHER, D. P. A., 406 Traction Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.
T. B. COOKERLY, D. P. A., 305 Citizens Nat'l Bank Bldg., Des Moines, Iowa.
G. A. McNUTT, A. P. A., Blossom House, Kansas City, Mo.

Free Book ON DEFORMITIES AND PARALYSIS

will be sent free, postpaid, upon request. This book is of a hundred pages, handsomely illustrated throughout and tells of an experience of over thirty years in the treatment of Club Feet, Spinal Deformities, Infantile Paralysis, Hip Diseases, Deformed Limbs and Joints, Etc. It tells of the only thoroughly equipped Sanitarium in this country devoted exclusively to the treatment of these conditions and how they may be cured without surgical operations, plaster paris or other severe treatment. Send for this book, and if directly interested, mention character of the affliction and special literature bearing on the subject will be sent with the book. The L. C. McLain Orthopedic Sanitarium, 3102 Pine St., St. Louis.

GREGORY'S PILES ANAKESIS given immediate relief in every case. Pamphlet free. Sold by druggists. Send 10c. for free sample address Dr. C. M. Gregory, 1122 Broadway, New York.

GEORGIA LETTER.

Amsterdam, Ga., Feb. 9th, 1905.

I have not been over the country very much since I came South, but have seen many beautiful and interesting sights. Every thing has a pretty green back ground, as there are many evergreens besides the pine.

A few days ago I was out hunting and found a piece of land, that was almost a solid grove of beautiful Holly trees. They grow to be about 20 to 30 feet high and are generally in a cluster, some 20 feet through the bunch and in this grove I speak of they were about 30 or 40 feet apart. It would be a great treat for some of you Holly lovers to see. They have a dark green leaf and the pretty, red berries shining among the leaves makes a lovely picture to behold. We also have the magnolia the red bay, live oak, sour oak, and jassamine, a vine. They are all evergreens. There is some walnut, beech, sugar, red, black and white oak, maple, hickory, sweetland, black gum, cedar and lots of cypress here. The people here use what they call Fat Lighter, for wood also for torches, etc. It is the long straw pine in a certain state. Under certain conditions it fills with an oil (the turpentine in it) and burns like coal oil, and it makes a very hot fire. The oil and turpentine that is in it preserves the wood and it will not rot for years. It is as heavy as lead and is fine for fence posts, and such like. Pine is used for almost every thing here—wood rails, (most all fences are rail where there are any) post, log cabins, boards, shingles, lumber, plant bed timber and fuel. All mills, gins and locomotives burn wood, and you may be sure it looked odd to me when I saw the first locomotive here with the tender loaded with pine wood. It is a shame the way the people here waste the fine pine and cypress timber. Just anyway to get rid of it, and just think what it costs up here. Here you can buy the best pine timber for $7.50 per 1000. The people here call the logs stock, and they are hauled with carts, the wheels of which are from 5 to 10 feet high. They drive astride a log, raise one end of it under the cart and are off. They know nothing about hauling logs on a wagon.

C. M. BALDON.

Another Case of Rheumatism Cured by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

The efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the relief of rheumatism is being demonstrated daily. Parker Triplett, of Grigsby, Va., says that Chamberlain's Pain Balm gave him permanent relief from rheumatism of the back when everything else failed, and he would not be without it. For sale by all Druggists.

About 11:30 Monday the burning out of the flue at Kirb Tanner's called the bucket brigade to that part of the town. A wooden mantle up stairs caught from burning soot that fell down the flue, but it was discovered before much damage was done. A few shingles were torn from the roof to see that there was no fire under the roof. The building was insured.

The ice in the river at Cincinnati moved Sunday and played havoc with many of the boats in the harbor there. River men are apprehensive of very heavy loss when the final break comes, as many boats and barges are badly exposed.

From the top of the hill at W. J. Rice's to the creek is the most popular coasting route anywhere near town. The sleds come down the hill at about 100 mile-an-hour rate, driving the zero wind clear through the coasters.

Farmers want some good weather in which to look after the preliminary organization for spring work. The weather for several weeks has kept them busy feeding and keeping their stock comfortable.

Judge Cason says he had no idea that there are so many bloodhounds in the county, and judging from the number of letters he is getting proposing sales, they must all be for sale.

Coasting has been very popular sport for several days, and no accidents have resulted. Kirb Tanner and Charles Westbay have a plunge bath finish at the end of their coasting route.

There has not been much doing among the sleighs and bells this winter, although snow has been in sight nearly all the time, but not in a shape to make sleighing desirable.

Misses Susie Roberts, Jennie Blythe, Essie Parish and Mabel Vest returned home, last Saturday evening, from a pleasant visit of a week with friends in Covington.

The hens have gone on a strike as usual when the prices of eggs are away up. It looks like everything works in opposition to the producers' interests.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of Execution No. 8561 directed to me, which issued from the Clerk's Office of the Boone Circuit Court, in favor of Mary L. Sullivan by her guardian, Woodie Sullivan against A. C. Porter, &c., I or one of my deputies, will, on Monday the 6th day of March, 1905, between the hours of one o'clock p. m., and 3 o'clock p. m., at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., expose to public sale, to the highest bidder, the following described property, (or so much thereof, as may be necessary to satisfy plaintiff's debt, interest and costs to-wit

The following described tract of land situated in Boone county, Ky., on the waters of Woolper creek adjoining J J Lillard, J. E. Walton and others and bounded thus, to-wit: Beginning at J. J. Lillard's corner, a Sugar tree and Horn Beau on Long Branch; thence up the meanders of the branch s 22 e 68 poles, s 50 e 23 poles, s 29 e 14 poles s 78 e 31 poles, s 9 e 33 poles to a stake on said branch, a little above the mouth of a small branch; thence up it s 83 e 21½ poles, to a corner with J. D Cloud on said small branch; thence with his line n 28½ e 86 poles to a stone; thence n 4 e 11 poles to a Beech tree, n 84 e 53½ poles to a corner with said Cloud—north fork of a branch; thence down the meanders thereof n 16½ w 24 poles, n 62 w 26 poles; thence n 22 w 13 poles to a Sycamore stump and Sugar tree on the north side of said branch, about 4 poles below Reuben Jarrell's Sycamore corner; thence s 83½ w 36½ poles to a stone a few links northeast of a Hickory on top of the hill; thence 68 w 52 poles to a stone in Thomas line; thence with it s 13 e 13 1-20 poles to a Blue Ash, s 17½ e 14 poles to the beginning, containing 84 acres and 3 roods. Also the following piece, a strip being an outlet: Beginning at a stone a corner in the Phillip Thomas line and corner to the above described tract; thence n 13 w 11 4 10 poles to a stake; thence n 32 w 24 poles poles n 1½ e 14 8 10 poles to the center of Woolper creek n 59½ e 1½ poles; then s 1½ and varying to be parallel with the north line of said outlet to the aforesaid tract of 84 acres and 3 roods making a road 20 feet wide, levied upon as the property of O. T. Porter.

Terms:—Sale will be made on a credit of six months, bonds with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, from day of sale and having the force and effect of a Judgment Amount to be made by sale, $1 395 30.

B. B. ALLPHIN, Sheriff B. C.

Feb. 14th, 1905

Sheep Fund Allowances.

Following is a list of claims allowed payable out of the Sheep Fund, of Boone county, which is 49 cents on the dollar:

W. A. Gaines	$17 15
John W. Hogan	3 92
W. A. Gaines	28 91
Jas. B. Allen	31 36
Jas. B. Allen	25 48
J. H. Stevens	3 92
Geo. B. Goodridge	29 40
H. C. Durcan	31 36
Thos. G Willis	9 80
R. L. Huey	37 24
P. P. Neal	22 05
James Morrison	4 90
R. K. Aylor	6 61
Jasper Sullivan	7 84
Charles Kelly	8 82
Geo. B. Goodridge	26 46
Jasper Sullivan	4 41
J. J Garrison	7 35
Howard Blankenbeker	29 05
W. B. Ryle	29 40

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,
GRASS SEEDS, FLOUR AND SALT.

We have it, you want it, come and get our choice Hay, Timothy, Clover, and Straw by

The Bale or Ton.

CORN by the car load or bushel—shelled or ear;
OATS, the best, in any quantity;
MILL FEED at lowest price for good quality of feed;
SALT that will not harden in the barrel;
GRASS SEEDS including Timothy, Clover and Blue Grass

THAT WILL GROW.

We are making a specialty of Good Blue Grass Seeds and have a nice lot of Fancy Cleaned Hand-Stripped Seed that has Been Tested and it Grows.

OUR FLOUR CAN'T BE BEAT!

It is made from the best wheat that can be had, and it makes good bread; Try a Barrel and if you don't like it bring it back and get your money back.

WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

We want your trade, give us a trial and be convinced that you .....Want Our Goods.....

R B. HUEY & CO.,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WHAT IS HOME
WITHOUT AN UP-TO-DATE
IRON FENCE?

—MAKES HOME ATTRACTIVE.—
Lasts a Lifetime. Low Prices-Surprising.
For Best Prices Call or Write to
HENRY QUICK, Hebron, Ky.,
—SPECIAL AGENT FOR—
The Stewart Iron Works Company,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Don't Forget

That our Gunpowder and Blended Teas are the finest to be had and you don't have to pay any extra price either.

40c, 60c, 75c lb.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.
Covington, Ky.
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington.

50 WOMEN
WILL BE TAKEN
BY THE
Cincinnati Commercial Tribune
ON A
TOUR OF EUROPE

They will go as guests of The Commercial Tribune absolutely

FREE,

With all expenses paid.

Read the Sunday Cincinnati Commercial Tribune for particulars.

FOR RENT
Farm of 45 Acre

Situated on the Lexington pike between Florence and Erlanger, known as the Abel Carpenter place. This farm is well improved, with a modern eight-room house and all necessary outbuildings. For terms apply to
MRS. MARY A. CARPENTER,
Florence, Ky.

Your neighbor's chickens are always the worst scratchers.

DURING FEBRUARY

I will offer all my ready-made Men's, Boys' and Children's Suits, Overcoats and Odd Pants at a discount of 25 per cent for CASH ONLY.

$20.00	Garments,	one-fourth off	$15.00
18.00	"	one-fourth off	13.50
15.00	"	one-fourth off	11.25
12.00	"	one-fourth off	9.00
10.00	"	one-fourth off	7.50
8.00	"	one-fourth off	6.00
6.00	"	one-fourth off	4.50
5.00	"	one-fourth off	3.75
4.00	"	one-fourth off	3.00
3.50	"	one-fourth off	2.63
3.00	"	one-fourth off	2.25
2.50	"	one-fourth off	1.88
2.00	"	one-fourth off	1.50.

All Odd Garments at a Discount of From 40 to 50 per cent.

H. F. BLASE,
534 Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, - KENTUCKY.

RINGS, WATCHES
and CLOCKS
CLAVED
AND REPAIRED
KNOWINGLY

For the Best Flour, Try
OLD KENTUCKY
BLENDE PATENT.
—GUARANTEED.—
For Something Good, Try
VIRGINIA OAK
WINTER PATENT.
—WARRANTED.—
Clifford E. Nadaud,
515 Chamber of Commerce,
CINCINNATI, O.
Room 10 Boone Block,
COVINGTON, KY.

What More Could You Possibly desire in Clothes

Than to have them made from thoroughly tested fashionable fabrics—have them tailored in the best possible manner—have them fit satisfactorily, and have them make you appear a thoroughly dressed man? that's the sort that you get from

PIPER & WALTON,
Merchant Tailors
142 E. Fourth St.,
Cincinnati, - - Ohio.
Rooms 2 and 3.

Our Fall & Winter Goods are now ready for inspection. Call and examine our stock. In attendance at Burlington County Court days with samples.

"Always Reliable."
W. N. HIND & CO.
Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
213 W. 5 h S., Cincinnati.

Rogers Bros.
General Merchants,
BELLEVUE, KY.
Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST, - Florence, Ky.
Officeat Burlington Every Monday. "at Latonia, Ky. Thursday-Friday the remainder of the time at Florence.
Remember I am a Painless Dentist.
PRICES REASONABLE.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
Extracting Teeth is only fun with my method.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.
AT UNION 1st MONDAY in each month.

Farm for Sale.

145 acres near Woolper creek in Boone county, Ky., now the property of Eneas Barrott, of Lawrenceburg, Ind. This farm has a large tobacco barn, large stable; two story frame house of 8 rooms, good cistern and well at house; large apple orchard and all other fruits. All this property is in first-class condition. For further information apply to R. B. Grant, who is now on the place, or to D. M. Snyder, Burlington, Ky.

DR. FENNER'S KIDNEY and Backache CURE

All diseases of Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs. Also Rheumatism, Backache, Heart Disease, Gravel, Dropsy, Female Troubles.

Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write Dr. Fenner. He has spent a life time curing just such cases as yours. All consultations Free.

"A gravel lodged in my bladder. After using a few bottles of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure, I passed a gravel half as large as a marble. The medicine prevented further formations. I was cured.
W. T. OAKES, Orrix, Va."

Druggists, 50c., $1. Ask for Cook Book—Free.
ST. VITUS' DANCE Sure Cure. Circular. Dr Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.
For sale by Aylor & Rider, Hebron

Take the Recorder.

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D Rouse's Store.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029.
Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of of his time at the Williamstown office.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1836.)
CAPITAL,..... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits $0,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK
INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... $30,000
Surplus,.. ..... $8.000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co. HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE in keeping their property Insured.

Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.

Edgar Cropper, Pres., Idlewild, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, "
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy., "
R. F. D—1, Ludlow, Ky.
W. M. Rogers, Agent, Walton, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, "
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

FARM FOR SALE.
The A. P. Collins Farm. Near Richwood, Ky.
Fine blue grass farm in Boone county, Ky., containing about 106 acres; good 6 room house and porches, barn, all kinds of out-buildings, good fencing, well watered with springs, wells, cistern and pond. A private avenue runs to the Lexington pike. The house is about 8 minutes walk to Richwood Station C. N. & T. P. R. R. Commuter rates to the city, 7½ a trip with four trains daily. Telegraph, telephone, express and post-office—four daily mails.

Also, 105 acres, the H. O. Rouse farm on the Union and Florence Pike; good house of 7 rooms and all necessary outbuildings; well watered and land mostly in grass Apply to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXX. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1905. NO. 19.

County Correspondence.

PLATTSBURG.

Richard Hensley is moving to John Baldon's place.

Glad to report Mrs. W. S. Acra as improving some.

In Lewis Sullivan's flock of sheep are 20 young lambs.

Your scribe crossed the river on the ice one day last week.

Claborn Campbell's baby has been quite sick for several days.

Woodie Sullivan and wife entertained several friends last Saturday.

Scott Wingate will move to the Younger Johnson farm this spring.

Egbert Nichols was the guest of Waller Campbell and wife, last Wednesday.

It was our pleasure to entertain Leslie Sebree and Thomas Hensley, a few days since.

Miss Grace Hensley, of Lincoln county, has been visiting her father, W. C. Hensley of this place, for several days.

o o o

FLICKERTOWN.

Food for stock is scarce,
The sick are improving.
James White's family has grippe.
Ask Charles Hensley about his valentine.

The renters' moving time is near at hand.

David Walton closed his school at Woolper, on Tuesday of last week.

Frank Voshell visited his sister and other friends here several days ago.

Charles Voshell, of Dearborn county, Indiana, was here on business, a few days since.

Lystra Smith had a good cow to fall on the ice and hurt herself so badly that she died.

Miss Alice Deck and David Walton were guests at Lewis Sullivan's Saturday night and Sunday.

Glad to hear that Albert Snyder is recovering, and hope that he will soon be entirely restored to health.

Some thief or thelves stole all the coal at Woolper school house one night last week, and the school had to close.

Charles Hensley visited his brother Ed and wife at Locust Grove, one day last week. He reported Mrs. Hensley who had been very sick for several days, no better.

The Petersburg and Waterloo telephone is sure to be constructed. Some of the poles have been hauled, and the work of setting them will begin as soon as the weather will permit.

o o o

HATHAWAY.

Feb 20—The grippe patients are convalescing.

Young lambs are putting in their appearance.

Born, on the 10th inst., to George Moore and wife, a son.

Gunpowder creek looks like the polar regions, we imagine.

J. C. White and family were on the sick list several days, last week.

Geo. L. Smith and wife spent last Thursday with ye scribe and family.

Mrs Claud Ryle spent several days with her parents of Buffalo, last week.

Stanley Rich, of near Big Bone, spent Saturday night visiting at C. S. Smith's.

Mrs. W. S. White spent last Saturday with her daughter, Mrs. Rector, near Waterloo.

Mrs. Ransome Ryle spent last Friday evening very pleasantly with Mrs. Sarah E. White.

Lee Adams, of Grant county, came down last week, to visit Chas. Stephens, of Locust Grove.

C. S. Smith made a trip to Big Bone Springs, last week, and found the roads ice-bergs all the way.

Miss Stella Taylor, of near Richwood, spent last Saturday night and Sunday at Mrs. Nan McElroy's, near here.

The Riddell's Run Telephone Company will order its material shortly and will commence work as soon as the weather will permit.

o o o

RICHWOOD.

Jule Bristow will return here in the spring and try farming.

Wiley Grubbs captured a hawk in a steel tray, a few days ago.

Mrs. Cahill's sale was well attended, and good prices prevailed.

There has been a great deal of sickness in our city and its suburbs.

Shelby Conner is home from Illinois, where he has been for a year.

Geo. Odenwald is pleased with his position as fireman on a Q. & C. train.

A horse belonging to Cap. Glacken fell on the ice and hurt itself so badly that it died.

Our industrious farmers have raised wonderfully large crops around Jackson's store stove this winter.

Mother earth has been in a very bad humor for several days, and liable to "fly up" and hit you in the face at any time without warning.

The supply of natural gas gave out last week, and our club was unable to have a meeting on account of the icy condition of the streets.

Several men have been seen slipping around here during the last week, but they meant no harm—only trying to maintain their equilibrium.

If we are to play base ball the coming season, why not organize a Saturday Afternoon League with a schedule. Last season Walton, Richwood, Erlanger, Florence and the Burlington Grays had evenly matched teams. Some of the teams from the lower part of the county could come in and make a seven or eight team circuit. If someone will push this proposition to a successful conclusion, we will have good games all the season.

We are in receipt of an interesting letter from Dr. M. J. Crouch, who is having a delightful time at Datona, Florida. He divides his time between fishing and hunting and is accumulating a large stock of fish stories. The letter was received too late to publish this week.

COMMISSARY.

Feb. 18.—We need not be thankful when we get all we desire, and we never are.

Ot Scott and family visited in this vicinity this week.

Gilly Weisickle bought a nice cow and calf of Jas. Haines for $40.

Mrs Harriet Slayback was taken quite sick with grippe, Thursday.

A letter from South Hogan, Ind., notified us that Mrs. Popham's folks are all sick.

Mrs. Ed Burres was quite sick with grippe the latter part of last week and first of this.

Gilly Weisickle has rented the Henderson farm and will move to it in the near future.

W. S. Acra, of Plattsburg, made us a short call last Sunday, and we had a pleasant half hour's chat.

The sick at Ben Cazon's are all better and able to be ont, and Mr. Parsons was able to go to Bellevue, Friday.

Gilly Slayback was knocked out by grippe. He was very brave but had to knuckle under. He is all right now.

W. S. Acra, of Plattsburg, spent Saturday night with Woody Sullivan and Sunday night with Woodford Sullivan.

Last Sunday was the worst and most lonesome day to us, we ever passed; nothing to read and no letters to write.

As cold as it was last Monday, we took Woodford Sullivan's mail box to him and we put it up, after which he entertained with a nice dinner in honor of the event.

We made a mistake in reporting Weisickles tobacco, last week, but reported it as given us. The total weight was 3,380 pounds instead 3,208; and 1,680 lbs of leaf instead of 1,500 lbs.

We wish to say to the persons that have been mailing us valentines at the Grant office to send them on—the more the merrier. They do not hurt or disturb us in the least, and they help our rural route make a good showing.

There is once in a great while a man who feels he needs a little friendly advice and will go to some one to get it and put them in a hole. If you give advice you are a fool; if you withhold it you are a bigger one. The only safe way is to take to your heels when you see him coming.

o o o

WALTON.

A large representative audience of Walton and Boone county people took advantage of the rare opportunity to hear Miss Schuster and company at the school hall, last Saturday evening. Those who have heard Miss Schuster certainly agree that in her unerring judgment in interpretation of a wide range of character and thought, and in her infinite variety of faultless expression, she has few equals. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Will Ransed, of Covington, Miss Gates and little Helen Ransom, of Cincinnati. Mr. Ransen's pleasing manner in dialect sketches and comedy won the hearty approval of the audience. The excellent vocal and instrumental music furnished by Miss Gates added much to the program while the singing and winsome ways of "Baby Helen" captivated the whole audience. As for money and public appreciation the entertainment was a decided success. It was a great source of pleasure and inspiration to the large elocution class of our efficient teacher, Miss Irene Hudson, to whose influence Miss Schuster's coming to Walton is due.

Miss Hudson's elocution class will give an entertainment in March, the exact date of which will be announced later.

The school entertainment planned for Feb. 22, had to be called off on account of sickness and inclement weather, which prevented the regular attendance of many of the pupils, who were expected to take part in the entertainment.

Those who desire to keep their children in school after the close of the public schools of the county, will do well by considering the merits of the Walton Graded School. The principal will gladly give any information desired. Write for a catalogue.

Honor roll of Walton Graded School

1st Grade—Mary Houston, Marie Meuefee, Blanche Jones, Beulah Jones, Etta Carroll, Harley Jones.

2nd Grade—Bertha Johnson, Susie Ransler, Mary Hance, Zula Mayhugh, Ruth Fullilove, Russell McKean, Harry Mayhugh, Clayton Roberts, Clifford Youell, Fleming Fields.

3rd Grade—Agnes Haley, Erroll Jones, Nannie Griffith, John Conrad, Isabel Tompkins, Ethel McKibben, Will Hance, Clifford Laws, Inez Stephenson.

4th Grade—Hoard Johnson, Mary Ransler, Bay Hicks, Lena Bollington, Bessie Houston, Goldie Young, Scena Byland, Holton Craig.

5th Grade—Edna Watson, Margarite Youell, Mary Graham, Estelle Ransler, Edith Fields, Jessie Cleek, Eunice Sullivan, Robert Lassing.

6th Grade—Annie Haley.

7th Grade—Edith Lipscomb, Pearl Stephenson, Harry Plumkett, Lewis Sullivan.

Freshman—Earl Robinson, Lucy Bearne, Maud Hume, Mary Vest, Geo. Kipp, Mamie Haley, Willa Hance Garnett Huey, George Hoffman.

Sophomore—Robert Craig, Charles Deady.

Junior—Zella Mayhugh, Estelle Huey, Ella Haley, Lucile Hiud, Gladys Wilson, Leslie Jones, Katie Bentz, Pauline Curley.

Senior—Nannie Chambers, Hattie Taylor, Charles Jones.

Reuben Akins and Paris Akins, from down on Woolper were transacting business in town Monday.

In this issue Mr. Belden of Petersburg, advertises his flour mill for sale. It is equipped with up-to-date machinery, and no doubt can be bought at a bargain.

MCVILLE.

Robert Rice has lagrippe.

Miss R. D. Akin is improving slowly.

The sick of our town do not improve much.

Mrs. Vina Bachelor is under care of the doctor yet.

The ice in the river moved last Sunday but gorged again.

Reilin Sullivan finished moving to the R. B. Huey farm Friday.

Perry Fresser's little daughter Fanny has been very sick for several days.

The McVille school closed Friday the 17th inst., after a continuous session of six months.

W. H. Williamson was out in the Waterloo vicinity on a fur buying expedition last week.

Wanted—A good steady man with team, to raise 6 acres of tobacco. Apply to J. L. Williamson, McVille, Ky.

Little Vernon, son of S. B. Scott, fell on the ice one day last week, burning himself badly about the knees and hands.

In closing up my items, I desire to thank the people of McVille and surrounding country, as well as the editor of the Recorder, for kindness shown me in times past, and hope that I have made friends of all and offended none.

o o o

LIMABURG.

Mr. Noah Craven is not improving.

E. L. Aylor is ill with inflammatory rheumatism.

Several in this neighborhood are suffering with the grippe.

Little Jessie Petit, who has been sick, is not much better.

Miss Annie Crigler, of Bellefontain, Ohio, is visiting friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Quigley visited Mr. John Quigley and wife at Hebron, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Ross and Joshua Beemon spent Sunday with Owen Ayler and family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Beemon entertained the young folks with a delightful party, Saturday night.

o o o

BULLITTSVILLE.

C. A. Gaines sold to Jonas Stephens a No. 1 Jersey cow and calf for $50.

Twenty one years ago last Tuesday the Ohio river had a considerably different appearance to what it had last Tuesday.

Mrs. Daisy Houston returned home Sunday, after spending about a month in Ohio and Indiana for the benefit of her health.

C. A. Gaines, of Ludlow, is here this week moving his stock and other property to J. A. Duncan's farm, which he has rented this season.

We think Idlewild's query box idea ought to prove a benefit to the readers of the Recorder if conducted in the proper manner and not run into foolishness.

Ernest Brown will move this week to R. C. Gaines' place near Idlewild, and Rev. Early, of Burlington, will move to the place vacated by Mr. Brown.

After about two months intense suffering Kenneth Baisly passed to his reward at 12:10 o'clock Wednesday night. The remains were placed in the vault at Bullittsburg Saturday to await final interment. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all.

o o o

PT PLEASANT.

Miss Carol White still improves slowly.

Query: What American Statesman was called "Old Bullion," and why?

Rev. P. A. Duncan filled his appointment here Sunday. Quite a large congregation was out to hear him.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gordon will move to Boone county shortly from Dayton to make it their home again.

Miss Flora Youell will teach the spring term of school at Limaburg and Mrs. A. V. Tanner will teach at Pt. Pleasant.

Web McGlasson and wife, Ed Riggs and family and Sherman Riggs and Fred Gross spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Welburn Riggs.

Miss Lucille Rucker returned from Lexington, Saturday night, to spend Sunday with her parents, bringing with her, her friend, Miss Stella Lurs.

o o o

CONSTANCE.

Mesdames Dolwick and Zimmer are on the sick list.

Mrs. Wm. Souther has been very ill for several days.

Numbers of people were crossing the free bridge here Sunday.

Our girls and boys received their share of valentines this year.

Mr. Elza Zimmer, of Cincinnati, called on relatives here Sunday.

The boys were glad to see the smiling face of Mr. Al Smith in town Sunday.

Mrs. Hudleson and son, Leroy, were visiting relatives in Cincinnati, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robenger, of Norwood, Ohio, were visiting relatives here Sunday.

Mr Harry Klaserner, of Cincinnati, was calling on relatives and friends here Sunday.

Mr. James Grimsley, of Anderson Ferry, Ohio, was calling on Mr. Leon Loder, Sunday.

Mrs. Denna England entertained with a birth day party Tuesday night, in honor of her son Charles.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by all Druggists, at 50c a bottle.

HAMILTON.

Feb. 20—The river is frozen to the bottom in some places.

Several in our neighborhood are on the sick list.

Mrs. Jennie Miller, who lives down at the mouth of Big Boue, is very sick.

Mrs. Cynthia Wilson and family spent last Sunday with Mrs. J. E. Markesbery.

T. J. Kite, of Big Bone, called on George Kite, of this burg, who is quite sick with grippe.

J. L. Horton, of Gunpowder, took supper with the pastry cook at Landing, last Saturday evening.

Wayne Adams and Robert Greene, of near Big Bone, were in Hamilton last Sunday afternoon. Some attraction, boys.

Mr. McGwane had the misfortune to crush one of his little fingers one day last week while trying to turn over a hog trough.

o o o

BIG BONE.

The backbone of winter is broken.

Lee Huey is buying tobacco—paying good prices.

J. M Rice has put in a 'phone on the Hughes line, No. 834.

Z. T. Baker and Joseph Black have serious cases of grippe.

Leslie Moore was in the city, last week, calling on his best girl.

J. D. Moore and Wm. Isbell were in Cincinnati, last week transacting business.

Rob Green and Lue Bradford attended the dance at Afterkirk's, last Friday night.

Bro. Wilson filled his regular appointment on the 17th and was entertained by Mrs. W. R Miller.

Never heard of so much sickness—no one has escaped. Dr. Ryle has been riding night and day. It is wonderful how he stands it.

Drury Bondurant's children are ont of danger. They have had a serious time of it. Mr. Bondurant's school will close on the 24th inst.

The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Adams was buried at the Hance cemetery at South Fork, on last Thursday. They have our heartfelt sympathy in their sad bereavement.

o o o

BEAVER.

The ground-hog has immortalized himself this time.

W. C. Johnson has had several good sheep to die in the past few days.

Dick Sleet's milch cow fell on the ice one day recently and broke her neck.

W. C. Johnson has sold his Latonia grocery to John Adams and Walter Rouse.

Some of our farmers are very blue over the failure of the Tobacco Growers Association.

There is several new cases of pneumonia in the neighborhood, and scarcely enough well people to attend to the sick.

R. A. Connelly arrived, one day last week, from Greencastle, Ind., where he has been spending the winter with his daughter.

On account of sickness in the neighborhood the Chapel choir failed to meet for practice last Thursday night, as is its usual custom.

John Taylor has returned from Hot Springs, Ark., after an eight weeks' stay for his health. His rheumatism is somewhat improved. He says he likes the water alright, but the climate is very bad.

In the west end of our little village and immediately on the old Buffalo trail, stood an Elm tree, the age of which no man hath the remotest idea. It was the only tree left of the heavy virgin forest, which covered that fertile tract of land. For centuries it had defied the passing storms as well as the torridness of summer and the frigidness of wiuter; under this tree the Buffaloes use to pass in making their semi-annual trips from the blue grass regions at Lexington to the salt springs at Big Bone; under this tree the red maid use to dash on her fiery steed in wild pursuit of those shaggy animals; under this tree our old citizens (many of whom have long since passed to that bourne from whence no traveler returneth), congregated on the first Monday in August to discuss the merits of the aspirants for office; under this tree the gallant Kirby Smith halted, ate lunch and refreshed himself as he passed here with his grand army in '62; under this tree there has been hundreds of horse trades, and many farms bought and sold; under this tree the boys use to meet on Saturday evenings (before local option times) and play seven-up for the drinks until it got too dark to see the spots on the cards; under this tree there has been enough whisky drunk to float the Str. Island Queen; under this tree there has been many discussions that were so hot its leaves would have wilted if it had not been for its height; under this tree one of our old citizens was found, one morning a few years ago unconscious and beaten to a pulp. He had been assaulted the night before and left for dead. Under this tree the school boys repaired to settle their difficulties, it being the nearest place out of sight of the school house; under this tree the weary traveler would stop to rest his blistered feet and cool his perspiring brow. But, alas! the ruthless woodman has laid his axe to the root of this venerable giant of the forest, and it no longer keeps silent sentry in our little town. Its remains are being fast cremated in a hot blast stove at the home of William Gilpin, and its ashes will soon be scattered to the four winds of heaven. Thy untimely distruction is lamented by many. Historic Old Elm, with regrets, we bid thee farewell.

o o o

ERLANGER.

Mrs. Joseph See, who has been quite ill, is very much better.

Mrs. Geo. J. Schoepful and daughter, Miss Helen, were the guests of Mrs. Frank Budd, of Cincinnati, last week.

Wm. Hedges has discontinued the butcher business and will become a tiller of the soil.

IDLEWILD.

Feb. 20.—William Brown, of Francesville, visited his uncle James, of this place, this week.

Query:—What county in Kentucky was named in honor of a lady?

Dr. Lewis Crisler had a professional call to Rice Bros.', a few days ago.

Mrs Pink Rice visited your reporter, one day last week. She made the trip on a farm sled, and enjoyed the ride very much.

Mr. and Mrs. John Early and Misses Maud Wingate and Pearl Crisler, of Petersburg, visited Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Baisly, of Bullitesville, last week.

F. P. Walton, of Covington; Irvin Baisly, of Springfield, Mo., and Mrs. Zada Clore, of Kenton county, attended Kenneth Baisly's funeral, Saturday.

St. Valentine's day was the most disagreeable day of the winter, and was not in accord with the character of the French Monk, who immortalized the day.

In answer to Hebron I will say that the object of my queries is neither to inform myself nor to cause others to read up, but to encourage the young people to instruct themselves by searching for useful facts.

Owing to the very bad traveling last Sunday, Bro. Early had a small congregation at Bullittsburg He is very desirous that every member be present at the meeting on the first Sunday in April, as he has something of importance to say to them.

Eugene Randall sold all his personal property, except his buggy and fiddle, and has gone to Southeastern Tennessee, taking his best girl with him. He had been leading the life of an old bachelor on his farm near Aurora ferry, and we don't blame him, as it is not well for man to live alone.

Gunpowder, I have searched the Bible, with the assistance of a Concord ance, and was not able to ascertain who David's mother was. Think yours must be a catch query. If it is not will you please inform the readers who she was? I can trace his ancestors on his father's side for several generations, but find no record on his mother's side.

At midnight, February 16th, the spirit of Kenneth, only child of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Baisly, of Bullittsville, was called away by God, after being theirs for nearly 22 years, from time to eternity, his precious soul crossing the river that divides this land of Egypt, with its sin, sickness and death, from that Canaan, where all is love and happiness eternal. Although so young he belonged to the Masons. He was just entering manhood, and was the pride and pleasure of his parents, which proves to us all that the jewel must not be idolized instead of the great Jewel. By his death every heart is saddened, and everyone who knew him extends their most sincere sympathy to his bereaved parents and relatives for we all have felt and known God's afflicting hand, but we can only offer them Christ, to feel resigned, realizing that God knows best. His suffering was so long and intense, that after all that could be done for him, but to no good, he suffered so that his parents wished him released. On Saturday the 18th, friends gathered at the home, and after short services by Rev. Early, the Masonic ceremony was conducted by the lodge of which he was a member. The pall-bearers were Masons. A large crowd followed the white casket, almost obscured by beautiful floral offerings of loving friends, to the vault at Bullittsburg, from which it will be consigned to its last resting place to sleep the sleep that knows no waking until Jesus shall come to claim His own.

LIZZIE B. WINSTON.

o o o

RABBIT HASH.

Feb. 20—Mrs. Z. T. Kelly is quite ill.

Mesdames Kate Keily, Ada Wilson and R. L. Platt, who were sick, are improving.

The ice in the river has not broken up yet. They are crossing at this place on the ice and in the ferry skiff also.

S. C. McConnell sold to Dr Hopkins a fine filly, last week, for $125. The doctor keeps several good steppers boney.

Mr. Constantine, of Rising Sun, purchased for the Continental Company, several crops of tobacco in East Bend last week, at 8½ to 10c per pound.

Word was received here of the death of Wm. K. Leathers, of Front Royal, Va. He was a brother of Mrs. Reuben Hager, and resided here several years ago. His death was sudden, caused by heart trouble.

o o o

PETERSBURG.

Feb. 21—About 15 grippe patients in town.

Lu Helms is nursing a badly mashed foot.

Eugene Randall has been heard from in California.

Capt. Alden has beached the Pauline and she is safe.

The tobacco buyers are receiving considerable tobacco.

Chas. Ruth is learning the barber's trade with E. L. Helms.

A cow belonging to Mrs. Geisler fell on the ice and broke a leg.

Miss Lou Allen is attending a millinery opening in Cincinnati.

E. A. Stott had a 6 o'clock birthday dinner Sunday. Several were present.

E. L. Grant's telephone line will serve 40 patrons, and will connect with the farmers' line.

Born, on Friday night to Lewis Jarrell, a boy; and on Monday night to Bernard Berkshire, a 10 lb. boy.

Enough grain for the distillery was hauled across the river on the ice to last the distillery and the cattle several weeks.

Mr. Terrill, the assistant yeast man at the mill was called home to Terre Haut, Ind., because of the dying condition of his child.

"The Deestrict Skule," will be given in Gordon's Hall, on the night of the 28th inst., for the benefit of the Christian church. It will afford amusement for all, and everybody is invited to attend.

WATERLOO.

Feb. 20.—Lewis Beemon, of near Grange Hall, spent Friday night and Saturday with his sister near here.

Charlie Batchelor will move to McVille.

Ed Utz, of near Buffalo, was in town Friday.

Dave Williamson purchased a horse of Charlie Clore.

Jeff Williamson is our champion checker player.

Doc Clore has been laid up with grippe for two weeks.

About the usual number of valentines were received here.

The past week has been very bad weather on sheep and young lambs.

Tommie Stephens was hauling telephone poles Thursday for P. E Gulley.

Joe Satchwill, Duquesne, Penn., was visiting friends at this place last week.

Monday Pope and wife will keep house for Wm. Phillipps, on Gunpowder, this year.

Robert Brady and wife, of Middle Creek, spent Friday at their son's, near Rabbit Hash.

Henry Dinkenburg has rented Mose Ryle's farm and will move about the first of March.

Kirb Clore, of Bellevue, will work for Wm Clore, of Clore's Ridge, the coming summer.

Chas Wilson, of Gasburg, spent a few days with his brothers near Rabbit Hash, last week.

Lewis Stephens, of East Bend, purchased a horse Thursday of Will Clore near Locust Grove. Price, $90.

Twenty of Chas. Stephens friends went to his woods last Saturday evening and cut him about 18 cords of nice wood.

Capt. Wm. Williamson, of McVille, was in town, one day last week, giving the boys some new ideas concerning the telephone business.

Word reached here that James McAtee, formerly of this place, but who has been attending school at Liberty, Mo., has the small-pox.

Feed is getting very scarce in this neighborhood, and some of the farmers have been hauling hay and corn from the East Bend bottoms.

The farmers here were very much disappointed when they heard that the Tobacco Growers' Association failed to be a success. Almost every crop of tobacco here was pledged to the organization.

About the only damage resulting from falls on the ice in this neighborhood, was when J. W. Ryle was going from his barn to the house with a bucket of milk, one evening last week. Just as he was climbing a fence near his house, one of his feet slipped, causing him to set the bucket down on the opposite side of the fence, and then he fell headfirst into the bucket, spilling the contents. Luckily Mr. Ryle received no serious injuries.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

Feb. 20.—J. C. Hankins and family of Hebron, called on the writer last Sunday.

There will be communion services at Hopeful next Sunday.

Elbert Senior and wife gave the young folks a party, last Friday night.

Lute Tanner, of Long Branch neighborhood, was in our burg last Saturday.

Ben Long, formerly of Covington, moved to the E. D. Crigler farm, last week.

Mrs. Lucy Tanner had a fall a few days since, and was badly but not seriously hurt,

After a stay of about a week Miss Dora Black returned to her home at Okauna, Ohio, last Saturday.

B. C. Tanner and wife were confined to the house several days last week with grippe. They are improving.

The joint council of the Boone county charge will meet at Hopeful next Saturday, the 25, inst., at 10:30 a. m.

Several of this neighborhood are having bad luck with lambs. George Barlow reports 25 dead and 23 living.

o o o

BELLEVIEW.

Pete Clore has grippe, the genuine article.

Some of our citizens are hauling coal from Petersburg.

The sick list is great, except Mrs. Neal, are on the mend.

Capt Bill Williamson has traded his straw hat for a white cap.

Harve Smith received a valentine from his best girl on the 14th.

Jeff Williamson was visiting relatives at McVille, Saturday and Sunday.

River men say it will take a nine foot raise to start the gorge in the river.

Tom Staley has moved into the house vacated by Oscar Beemon at McVille.

Mrs. Walter Lonaker and children spent Sunday with Roland McCarty

Conner's huckster wagon has been doing a rushing business since the river froze up.

Miss Stella McCarty is making her home with Funday Berkshire and wife, at Gasburg

A few more days of weather like Sunday and the river will break up without a rise.

Oscar Beemon, of McVille, moved to Hoosier, last week. He crossed two teams on the ice.

Hilly Rosebery, colored, while skating on the river here, broke through an air hole, Sunday, and got a cold bath.

St. Valentine slighted your scribe this year. No sweet scented little "billy doo" and not even a comic one was presented us.

Woody Sullivan bought some hay over in Hoosier, one day last week. Ray Cook and Harve Smith crossed it over the river for him on hand sleds.

A letter received by your reporter recently from W. E. Ryle, of Clovis, Cal., states that people there have pleasant gardens and some have peas in bloom.

Hebron, "All Sorts" appears in the Cincinnati Post and not in the Ky. Post, but we agree with you on the last part of your item. [It appears in Ky. Post also—Ed.]

REMARKABLE CAREER OF BLUEBEARD HOCH

NEARLY SIXTY DESERTED WIVES CLAIM HIM AS LOST LIFE-MATE.

FOURTEEN THOUGHT MURDERED

Finding of Poison in Stomach of "Next-to-Last" Spouse Points Accusing Finger at Versatile German Whose Record Covers Two Great Countries.

Holmes, Archfiend of History, Declared to Have Been His Teacher in the Terrible Art—Bigamist Then Known to Authorities as Edward Hatch.

Chicago.—Johann Hoch, whose record as a bigamist is said to surpass anything of the kind in police annals, and a formidable rival of "Bluebeard" Holmes, hanged in Philadelphia some years ago, has arrived here from New York to answer charges of homicide and bigamy. The Chicago authorities have already placed on this man responsibility in numerous cases of bigamy and murder, but he... a day passes that some deserted wife does not make herself known to the police, and, after having seen Hoch's picture, declare that in the versatile German lies her long-lost husband. The number of these cases has reached nearly 60, and new ones are constantly coming to the fore.

Hoch's alleged doings are, to say the least, remarkable in the extreme. It is declared that he has operated in towns in all parts of the country, and the names which he assumed in his dealings are, as one police official puts it, as numerous as Fourth-of-July "drunks." The list of cities in which it is believed Hoch operated is as follows:

New York,	Norfolk, Va.,
Chicago,	Wheeling, W. Va.,
Philadelphia,	Elkhart, Ind.,
Baltimore,	Argos, Ind.,
Brooklyn,	Aurora, Ill.,
St. Louis,	Evanston, Ill.,
Cleveland,	St. Paul, Minn.,
Buffalo,	Wurtemburg, Ger'y.
Milwaukee,	Berlin, Germany.

Besides these a number of Wisconsin and Iowa towns report traces of his work. Some of the names used by the German are as follows:

Count Otto von Kern,	Healy,
Schmitt,	Bustenberg,
Schmidth,	Busterberg,
Smitt,	Adolph,
Hock,	James,
Hoch,	Lucas,
Hohe,	Doetz,
Hoe,	Doess,
Hoh,	Hartel,
Hoff,	Mayer,
Hauff,	Brown,
Hauk,	Braune,
Huus,	Schultz,
Trick,	Bruescke,
Prager.

Strange as it may seem, no clear cases of Johann Hoch's work had come to the knowledge of the police anywhere in the United States until the present disclosure, although his marriage business, it is declared, has been carried on ever since 1881. This fact may be due to the desire of many sensitive women who have been duped by this man to keep their desertion from the public.

Worked from Town to Town.

Hoch's policy, it seems, was always to extract as much money as his intended victim could summon without a waste of time, and, after hegging leave of absence on some pretext, would disappear as if tae earth had completely swallowed him up. Then the tale of a wife in a near-by town, who would pitifully declare that she had given her newly acquired husband all her money, and that he had not been home for several days and some accident must have befallen him, would bring to light the fact that, in all probability, Mr Hoch was carrying on operations in the neighborhood.

Hoch's method was to advertise in the daily papers, preferably the German publications, saying that his loneliness had forced him to seek a life companion who could tend his wants. Some women answered out of curiosity, others who felt the same absence of some person to share their confidences, would communicate with him. Then the German would select what he considered the best for his purpose and devote his whole energies in that direction. Hoch never, according to reports, sought out those women whose beauty or other charms would make them the target for other men's affections, but women whom, by his superior will, he might find easy to persuade. These women, mostly German, had had little sympatby expressed for their welfare during their lives, and the tender passion which Johann Hoch expressed in his letters seldom failed to execute its aim.

Samples of His Courtship.

All through his missives to his intended victims runs a strain of feeling which would do credit to the most highly accomplished "Beau Brummel" of the old days of chivalry. One representative epistle that came to a Chicago woman, supposedly from Hoch when he was in San Francisco, simply breathed love to the woman who read it. A portion of it follows:

"Dear child, you took my heart by storm. I can't get over it, my dear Johanna. How is it with you, dear child, would like to spend the rest of your life with me? If you only feel toward me as I feel and could bring one-half your love to me as I to you, how lucky I would be. If you could wed your heart to mine the rest of our days I would be the richest man in the world." The intended victim, who had almost succumbed to the tender passion of Hoch, when she read a letter sent to him in her care from another one of the fair sex, ending with "love and kisses," became suspicious and upon Hoch's arrival in Chicago refused him.

Fourteen Thought Murdered.

Reports state that the following 14 women have been murdered by Hoch in furthering his plans:

Mrs. Emily Welker Hoch, 6030 Union avenue, died suddenly January 10, 1905. Coroner's physician found large quantity of arsenic in her stomach.

Mrs. Julia Steinbrecher, 333 Belmont avenue, died suddenly.

Mrs. Lena Hoch, died in Milwaukee, 1897.

Mrs. Mary Becker Schultz Hoch, St. Louis, 1903, disappeared.

Mrs. Maria Schulz, Argos, Ind., died suddenly, 1900.

Mrs. Hoch, sister of Mrs. J. H. H. Schwartzmann, Milwaukee, died 1898.

Mrs. Hoch, another sister of Mrs. Schwartzmann, Milwaukee, died 1897.

Mrs. C. A. Meyer Hoch, died May, 1892.

Mrs. H. Irick, Chicago, died suddenly, 1892.

Mrs. Jacob Huss Hoch, Wheeling, W. Va., died suddenly, 1896.

Mrs. Hoch, Norfolk, Va., died suddenly, 1899.

Mrs. Henry Bartel, Baltimore, died 1896.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Hoch, died Buffalo, 1898.

Mrs. Justina Loeffler, Elkhart, Ind., disappeared.

May Have Been Hatch.

Authorities from Englewood, one of Chicago's suburbs, have become possessed of the most sensational stories relating to the character and past life of Johann Hoch. It is actually believed there that this Hoch was a pupil of "Bluebeard" Holmes, the wholesale murderer, who, in his famous Sixty-third street "castle," crushed out the lives of almost two scores of men, women and children until his discovery, trial and confession finally brought him to the gallows. The Englewood people declare that the methods of the two men are so similar and that the pictures of Johann Hoch so nearly resemble the well-remembered face of Edward Hatch, said to be the right-hand man of Holmes, that they have little doubt but that Hatch and Hoch are one and the same person.

Awful Methods of Holmes.

Holmes' operations were of an awful character and would have done credit to the accomplished Spanish inquisitionist, whose tortures were achieved by means of weapons of force. Holmes, with honeyed words, enticed his victims to his so-called "castle" and with promise of future happiness would thrust them into a dungeon or secret vault and turn on the deadly gases which would soon end their lives. It is believed that many of the unfortunates who disappeared while attending the world's fair in 1893 came to their end through his enigmatical lust for human lives. Holmes admitted doing away with nearly 30 men, women and children, and how many more persons were victims of his cunning will probably never be known. This Holmes has been classed as the archfiend of history, and the very idea that Hoch should have been connected with his awful crimes makes one shudder for the realization of the facts which the near future is likely to bring forth. Holmes derived financial profit from his fiendish acts by doing away with many trusting innocent little children. The bodies were invariably hurned in quicklime, and so cunningly were the deeds accomplished that it is little wonder that so many years passed before his crimes were brought to light. The part which Edward Hatch, supposed by the suburban authorities to be Johann Hoch, took, was that of bandy man around the Sixty-third street "castle.". Such a man was indispensable in covering the tracks of the multi-murderer. Hatch's duty was to build secret walls and passages, lay floors and in many other ways prevent the discovery of the awful carnival of slaughter which had been carried on within the "castle" walls for years. Naturally such a helper was very much in the confidence of his employer. Holmes before his hanging accused this same Edward Hatch with the murder of the Peitzal boy, whose disappearance caused such a furor in the suburb at the time.

Hoch Appeared in Many Roles.

If all reports of the sudden appearances of Mr. Johann Hoch are to be accounted true, then that versatile German gentleman has appeared in almost as many roles as there are leaves on the trees. He has gone about, sometimes as a poor but honest artist, several times as a wealthy stock holder, very often as a gentleman of leisure touring for his health and endeavoring to rid himself of as much currency as time would permit. Probably the most notable of his poses is that in which he is said to have represented himself as the Count Otto von Kern, of Germany.

This little adventure took him to St. Paul. Here he is said to have introduced himself to Mrs. Hulda Nagel, whom he married after a brief courtship, in May, 1902. Very soon after the simple ceremony the "countess" induced the newly-made "countess" to turn her real estate and other possessions into cash, preparatory to taking a trip abroad, in which, incidentally, the pair were to inspect the estate of the "nobleman" in Germany. He left the "countess" to herself while he went to the city to purchase tickets for their trip. The count was never heard of after that, although a warrant was sworn out for his arrest. Just at present the "countess" conducts a boarding house at Austin, Minn., and upon being presented with a picture of Mr. Hoch, declared that the photograph was a life-like reproduction of her lost "count."

JOHANN HOCH, THE MODERN "BLUEBEARD."

How His Downfall Came About.

The last of Johann Hoch's alleged dupes, however, proved his downfall, and with the accusation of Mrs. Amelia Fisher, a Chicago woman, came the apprehension of a man whose career, the police say, is without an equal or even rival in the history of any city in this country. Last December Hoch inserted a matrimonial advertisement in a local German publication, stating his longing for companionship and asking that some kind woman become his life companion. Mrs. Marie Welker, a widow who owned a prosperous confectionery business, replied to his appeal by answering the "ad." After a brief courtship she allowed herself to be persuaded that she was the only woman who could relieve his loneliness. Hoch, who had previously rented and furnished a small flat, took his latest wife to the house, which, incidentally, happened to be near the location of the notorious Holmes "castle." She had disposed of her store and turned the money derived from its sale over to her husband, who, representing himself to be wealthy, said he did not care for the cash, but desired to invest it in a safe project, for her benefit. The day following her marriage she became deathly sick. A physician was called, and Mr. Hoch was informed that his wife was suffering from kidney trouble. The arrival of a trained nurse followed, but, although her condition was worse, the nurse was sent away the following day. Then Mrs. Fisher, the sister of the sick woman, came to care for her. One day later, while Mr. Hoch was alone with his wife, she died. Mr. Hoch went downstairs to inform the dead woman's sister, after which Mrs. Fisher went upstairs to clean the death chamber. Very soon after this operation the alleged bigamist proposed to Mrs. Fisher that she become his wife.

"I am an unfortunate man," Mrs. Fisher reports Hoch to have said to her. "Marie was not my first wife. I was married before, and my first wife was an invalid, and now, just as I thought I was to have another happy home, my new wife is dead. I am lonely and have no means. You are a good woman and a good housewife, and I want you to marry me. I will bring your children here from Germany and you can be happy with me."

Repulsed Then Accepted Hoch.

Mrs. Fisher has nine children in Germany. Continuing her narrative of the occurrence, she said:

"I resented his proposal, and told him he should not talk of such things so soon after his wife's death. January 15 I rode with him to the cemetery, and again, over his wife's grave, he asked me to marry him. The following Wednesday he came to my home and I consented to become his wife. He told me we would go out of town and no one would know of it until my sister had been dead a long time. I went with him to Joliet that afternoon and we were married. We came back and went to my house that night. The next morning he asked me to give him $750 I had saved to pay off a mortgage he claimed was held against the house and furniture on Union avenue. I went with him to the bank and got the money and gave it to him.—Then he disappeared." Mrs. Fisher says she believes that she and her sister have been made victims of a deep-laid plot to deprive them of their earnings and savings. She declares that she believes that, seeing that he could not disappear from the presence of Mrs. Welker and marry her without the knowledge of both, he formulated the plot to murder the first wife by some system and, securing what money he could from Mrs. Fisher, disappear for all time. Poison found in the stomach of Mrs. Welker, the police believe, practically corrohorates the statement of the latest wife of Hocb.

Cases in Other Cities.

Word has come to the local police from St. Louis, Cincinnati and San Francisco that a man who operated extensively in all those cities in the same manner as Hoch is thought to be the "Bluebeard." It is believed that more wives will he heard from in each of these cities as the picture of Hoch is more widely circulated.

Hoch's method with such of his wives as he did not find it necessary to otherwise dispose of is illustrated in the case of Mrs. Anna Schmidt Hendrickson Hoch, one of the women he deserted. He married this woman in Hammond, Ind., in 1903, and took her to live at 111 Watt street. Two days later he fled with $500 she had saved.

"The day after the marriage," Mrs. Hendrickson told Inspector Shippey, who is in charge of the Hoch case, "my husband told me he was heir to an estate in Germany. A few hours later he hurried in from downtown with a fake cablegram which read: 'Father is dead. Your brother, William.'

"He told me $21,000 was coming to him from his father's estate and I must prepare to leave for Germany with him the next night. He said he had no money for the voyage and asked how much I had. I told him $500 in the Illinois Trust and Savings bank.

"He asked me to draw it out and give it to him for our trip to Germany. Just to show that he was on the square with me, he said, he made his will in my favor. Then we went to the bank, I drew out the money and gave it to him. At the same time he handed me the will he had made out. Then he hurried away to buy the tickets. That is the last I have ever seen of him."

Calls Police "Foolishnesses."

Hoch, when approached regarding his alleged multi-marriages, emphatically denied ever having indulged in such an escapade as bigamy and in his quaint German way indicated that the very thought of such a thing was extremely repulsive to his highly toned character. He strenuously denies marrying as many persons as have appeared claiming Mr. Hoch as their long-lost life companion. In broken English he said that there were 8,000 deserted wives in Chicago, and if the police persisted in connecting him with so many, they must be "big foolishnesses." Mr. Hoch gives the following version of his trouble: "That's all humhug about 1881. How could I he running around marrying women when I wasn't here? I came to this country in the first week of July, 1895.

"When I first got to Chicago I opened a saloon. I paid $1,000 for it to a man named Louis Witte, but my trade is sheet metal working, and I found out in a few months that the best thing I could do was to go back to it.

"After that I worked for the Pullman company and the Northwestern railroad and the Rock Island. In 1900 I married Mary Hendrickson, and I had trouble with her. I guessed then I wouldn't stay home any more.

"Last December I got lonely, and I got my eye on a widow that I thought would make me a good wife. That was Marie Welker. I was told Mrs. Hendrickson had got a divorce, and so I got tied up again, but no sooner did I get tied than Marie died, and I am just the same as before.

"Then I said to myself: 'I'll marry her sister,' and I asked Emile if she liked me. She said she did, so I married her, and here I am.

"But I am not afraid. Let them come on, all these other women, 21, 61, 101. Let them all come who have been deserted and robbed by me."

"What about the arsenic, then, that the Chicago police say they have discovered in the stomach of your dead wife?"

Hoch fidgeted.

"Arsenic? Pooh! It was her kidneys that killed her. She was sick."

One Woman Hypnotized.

Mrs. Leo Prager, 1810 Cortez street, has been added to the list of "Mrs. Hochs." When she married Hoch, some time ago, it is said that he gave the name of Leo Prager. Mrs. Prager secured $6,500 through the death of her former husband, and shortly after the marriage to "Prager" she gave him $3,500, with which he started a second-hand furniture store at 704 Sixty-third street. They fitted out a flat at 4431 State street.

One day "Prager" purchased $1,200 worth of rugs from the A. S. Klein Carpet company, and when the goods were delivered the Sixty-third street store was found closed. "Prager" disappeared and has not been heard from since.

Amelia Hohn, 5122 Princeton avenue, declared she was married to "John Healy" December 12, 1900, and deserted by him after he had secured $100 of her money. She believes from the description that Healy was Hoch.

The story came to light through the good memory of Policeman Ward, of the Hyde Park station. He recalled the story the woman had told him, and, struck by the similarity of it to Hoch's methods, after a search of several days found the woman. She said the man, after six days' acquaintance, showed a roll of money and proposed marriage. After the wedding he disappeared. "He hypnotized me. I was compelled to obey him." Miss Hohn said.

Career Began Early.

It is very clear that Hoch's career has not been of the meteoric variety as have the developments in the lives of many great criminals. He began his career in this sort of life, it is said, in Germany, his native country, by petty swindling. From this, which he carried on in Bingen, Germany, he went to greater things. He was a wine merchant in Bingen and associated in high society, where he learned his charming manners, that have proven so captivating in this country. A swindle in a German town compelled his departure, and, leaving a wife and three children destitute, he "skipped." All over Germany where he has perpetrated his swindles there is great rejoicing because of his apprehension, and the belief is expressed that the magnitude of his crimes will be found to increase as developments proceed. A dispatch from Berlin contributes the following to the known facts:

Berlin.—Johann Hoch, whose many mysterious marriages are vexing the Chicago police, was compelled to leave Germany January, 1895, to escape imprisonment as an embezzler and common swindler. His real name is Jacob Schmidt. He was born in the town of Horrweiler, in the province of Bingen on the Rhine, November, 1862. After getting married he kept a small store in his native village and later became a broker and wine merchant in the city of Bingen.

In his capacity as a wine merchant he lived pretentiously and used his acquaintance with high society as the means of extracting large sums of money from business men, whom he impressed as a good fellow. There it was that Hoch learned the winning ways that captivated his American victims. However, the pace grew too fast for Schmidt in Bingen and after a farewell swindle of a sugar refinery he sailed for the United States, leaving a wife and taree children in utter destitution. A receiver was appointed for his business, but his creditors are still waiting for a dividend. The people in Bingen are grimly rejoicing that their former townsman is at last in the toils.

Hoch Will Feign Insanity.

From previous experiences Inspector Shippy declares that he believes the alleged bigamist will, as is usually the case when he has been placed on trial, profess insanity. His actions on the train en route to Chicago made it appear that possibly this might be his scheme when brought to account. His rambling talk, and repeated declaration that he was "an educated man and a gentleman" give the authorities the belief that this is to be the defense of Johann Hoch. And judging by what old men on the police force who have seen Hoch say, the man is no mere novice at the "insanity gag," and they declare that even the insane officials who have to deal with such cases of shamming almost every day, were fooled at a previous appearance before a law court in Chicago. "I rather expect Hoch will sham insanity," said Inspector Shippy. "When caught and charged with selling mortgaged furniture in 1898, he played the same dodge.

"On trial in Judge Baker's court he cut up queer antics, shook his head at F. J. Mageratadt, who had furnished four flats for him, and declared he never had seen him before, and when Mrs. J. H. Schwartzmann, of Milwaukee, pointed a dramatic finger at him and said: 'That man poisoned my two sisters,' he made faces at her. In the county jail he kept up the farce, raving like a wild man until the guards, who believed in the genuineness of the seizure, feared to come near him. As soon as Hoch realized his pretended insanity would not save him from hard work, he suddenly became as sane as any man."

Summary of His Life.

In an interview Johann Hoch vouches for the following summary of his career, ending with his arrival in Chicago, in 1895. It has been reported that his operations began in 1881, or about that time, but according to his own story he did not arrive in this country until two years later. The history is:

November 21, 1860, born in Horrweiler, Germany. Father, Wilhelm Hoch; mother, Margaret Hoch, nee Schiller.

1865-1876—Attended common school and gymnasium.

1876-1880—Learned trade of sheet metal worker.

1880-1882—Served as soldier.

1882-1884—Served as reserve.

1884—Left native town, went to Paris.

1884-1888—Worked at trade in Paris; lived at Rue de Seine, 43.

1888—Went to London.

1888-1895—Worked at trade in London; lived at 132 Eugenia avenue.

June 15, 1895, sailed from Southampton, England.

July 1, 1895—Arrived in Chicago.

July 15, 1895—Bought saloon at 1103 Western avenue.

When speaking of events during his stay in Chicago, the bigamist becomes greatly confused, denying his statements time and again.

Will Hoch Be Convicted?

Whether this character will be convicted of the crimes with which he is charged is merely a matter of conjecture, but whatever turns up it will be recorded in the annals of crime in the United States, and doubtless in the world, that no greater case of wholesale marrying and pitiless swindling has ever come into the public limelight than that which is charged against Johann Hoch, a man whose operations have been felt nationally in two countries and have attracted almost universal attention.

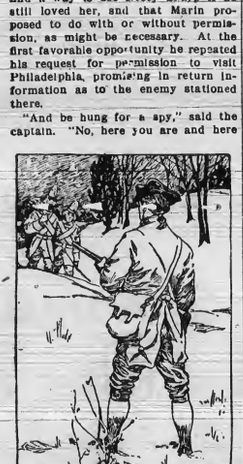
A FEW OF HOCH'S NUMEROUS ALLEGED WIVES.

Under Martin Roberback's tattered blouse there beat a sturdy, patriotic heart that knew not the meaning of fear, and had known not the meaning of love until the Continental army marched into Philadelphia in the fall of 1777. It was in Philadelphia that Martin met Beccy Sharp, a demure little Quaker lass, who returned Martin's ardent New Amsterdam affection, even though she could not bring herself to approve fully of the uniform he wore when that uniform meant the shedding of men's blood.

So long as Lord Howe left the Continental troops in possession of Philadelphia Martin cared not whether the war waged elsewhere or not. So long as he was free to go and come between Beccy's house and the camp he was entirely satisfied with his lot, nor did he mind the little lectures he received from her on the evils of war and the virtues of brotherly love. He was content to be a soldier under such conditions, even though his being one served no better purpose than the giving of Beccy something to lecture him about, for it was a great pleasure to hear Beccy talk.

But Lord Howe was not content that the Continental army should enjoy the comforts of city life. Philadelphia offered opportunities as a winter resort which he coveted, and Washington's tattered army not being strong enough to successfully resist, they were forced to march away to the desolate camp beside the Schuylkill at Valley Forge.

Deep down in his heart Martin rebelled at such a necessity, but there was nothing to do but go, and go he did. At any rate, thought he, it is not so bad for Valley Forge is but 14 miles from Philadelphia, and that is not much of a walk. He did not remember the double line of sentries between himself and Beccy, or if he did he snapped his fingers at them.



A week after camp was made at Valley Forge Martin asked permission to visit Philadelphia, and was promptly refused.

"To be gobbled up by the British, eh!" cried his captain. "No, they have enough of our soldiers now, and you will stay here."

Protestations of his ability to go back and forth through the British lines without being detected were of no avail, and he stayed, but only to ask again the second week. Again he was refused, but week after week the request was repeated.

In February there came a messenger from Philadelphia into the camp, and he brought with him a dainty feminine note for Martin. It said many things, to be sure, but it said more pointedly than anything else that Martin should find a way to see Beccy Sharp if he still loved her, and that Martin proposed to do with or without permission, as might be necessary. At the first favorable opportunity he repeated his request for permission to visit Philadelphia, promising in return information as to the enemy stationed there.

"And be hung for a spy," said the captain. "No, here you are and here you will stay. The general needs no information about Lord Howe and his roysterers in Philadelphia that you could get."

COMMANDED THEM TO SURRENDER.

But Beccy's little note tucked safely away in the pocket of his blouse kept his heart in a tumult. Fighting for one's country was all right, he thought, but one's country should not demand too much. There could not possibly be any harm in his going to the city for a day or two, and so leave his share of the scanty store of provisions for his hungry comrades and he went.

It was early in the forenoon when Martin turned into the street where Beccy lived, and rapped at her door. He had slipped away from the camp long before it was light, and he intended being back again that evening. If he should do that it was quite possible that he might escape detection, for he was on special duty and did not have to answer roll calls regularly.

But love laughs at good intentions, just as love laughs at a good many other things, and Beccy's sweet little lectures and her bright eyes were too entrancing to get away from easily. Besides Beccy promised that if he would but wait until morning she would consent to a cherished plan of his and they would be married. Such a promise was too much for even Martin's sense of duty to withstand. He had been afraid that Beccy would become enamored of some of the British in the city, and knew well enough that her parents would not strongly oppose such a match, and Martin stayed.

It was well towards noon when the simple marriage ceremony over, and

A DEMURE LITTLE QUAKER LASS RETURNED HIS AFFECTION.

Beccy a blushing bride, Martin started to leave Philadelphia and work his way through the British and American lines again. Well enough he knew that his absence had been discovered before that time, and well enough he knew that a period in the guard-house was in store for him. But he had Beccy safe and what cared he for such trifles as the guard-house.

Martin had slipped by the outer line of British sentries safely, and though he did not now expect to encounter any trouble with the British, he was too good a soldier not to keep a sharp eye for possible trouble. When he left camp he brought his gun away with him and secreted it in a hollow log before he reached the British lines. It was a relief to find the gun still in the log when he returned for it, and with it over his shoulder he felt more secure as he trudged campward through timber.

He was within two miles of the Continental lines when he detected the figures of men moving through the timber some distance ahead of him. Secreting himself in the brush he awaited developments and was rewarded by seeing two British soldiers approaching directly towards him, one of whom carried an enormous turkey. He had faced greater odds than two to one on many a battlefield, and hesitated not a moment when they were within a few feet of him, and with his gun at the "ready," commanded them to surrender.

"Now," said Martin, when he had the two soldiers at his mercy, "I will make a bargain with you. To-morrow is our general's birthday and he needs the very bird you carry for a dinner party. In fact, it was to secure it that I have been in these woods. If you will deliver the bird to me you can return to your well provided kitchens in the city. If you will not you can about face and march before me into camp."

It was more than a fair bargain that Martin offered and the British did not hesitate in taking advantage of it. With many promises of no attempt at retaliation they placed the bird in the snow and marched away toward the city, Martin watching them until they were well out of sight in the timber. Then, taking the turkey under his arm, he again set out for the Continental camp, which he soon reached.

"Who comes there?" hailed the sentry.

"A friend with a birthday dinner for the general," replied Martin; but the turkey would not serve as a countersign and the officer of the guard was called. To him Martin insisted upon being taken to the general's headquarters that he might present his prize in person.

"A birthday dinner to Gen. Washington with the compliments of Beccy Roberback and the Third New York foot," said Martin, when ushered into the presence of the commanding officer, "and with the hope that he will invite Capt. Rosterhouse, of that regiment, to eat a birthday dinner with him."

Then Martin explained Beccy's connection with the presentation and his own dereliction from duty, not forgetting a description of Beccy's bright eyes and rosy cheeks. It is needless to say that Martin did not go to the guard-house, and that the wrath of Capt. Rosterhouse was appeased when he was invited to dine with the general the next day, which, being February 22 all the army knew was the great man's birthday.

MONEY EARNS MONEY

NEW YORK BANKS PAY INTEREST ON MOST OF DEPOSITS.

Nearly Three-Fourths of Amount Held by Gotham Institutions is This Class According to Them

New York.—If the principle laid down by the clearing house in 1858 be accepted, that "the custom of allowing interest on current deposits is unsound," it is important to learn just what part of the deposits of New York are subject to the payment of interest.

On or about June 30 last the total deposits in all the national, state and savings banks and trust companies of New York and Brooklyn amounted to $3,074,355,453, or nearly one-third of all the deposits of the United States.

Of all the deposits in New York and Brooklyn $2,302,167,458 is paid for by interest. Thus interest is allowed upon nearly three-fourths of all the deposits in this city. This statement taken alone, however, would give a false impression. It is necessary to differentiate between the different deposits bearing interest. For instance, of the $2,302,000,000 of deposits bearing interest, $807,511,007 are savings bank deposits. These deposits bear interest properly.

Of the deposits bearing interest $876,393,609 are deposits in the trust companies. Here also a distinction should be drawn. A part of the trust company deposits, or, to be more definite, $183,989,629, is deposits in trust. These deposits are in no sense commercial deposits, and they properly bear interest. The remainder, $692,403,980, represents "general deposits" and deposits due to banks and trust companies. These deposits are in nearly every case subject to withdrawal by check, and therefore are closely allied in character to the individual deposits of the national and state banks. Of the deposits paying interest, $552,666,031 are deposits in national banks and $65,596,811 are deposits in state banks, making a total of $618,262,842 deposits in commercial banks that pay interest. These deposits are those due to banks, trust companies and other banks.

It may be said that of the deposits paying interest amounting to $2,302,000,000, that part which is in the savings banks and in the trust fund of the trust companies aggregating $990,000,000 is beyond all criticism. There can be no doubt whatever of the soundness of paying interest on such deposits. Of the balance, amounting to $1,312,000,000, there may be and there is a wide difference of opinion. The condemnation by the clearing house in 1858 of the practice of paying interest applies directly to the national and state banks which pay interest upon $618,000,000 of deposits due other banks and bankers. There is just one point of difference between these deposits and the individual deposits of the banks. The latter are freely checked out whenever desired, while the deposits of other banks and bankers are likely to be more stable in character. But these deposits of other banks and bankers represent the reserves of other banking institutions against their individual deposits, and so in the last analysis it comes down to payment of interest upon commercial deposits, and the practice of paying interest on these deposits, in addition to the other evils, has the effect of unduly concentrating money in New York, where it may be and often is used for purely speculative purposes, and this produces an unnatural and harmful condition of the money market.

MARKET REPORT.

Cincinnati, Feb. 18.

CATTLE—Common	$2 75	@	4 00
Heavy steers	4 85	@	5 25
CALVES—Extra		@	7 50
HOGS—Ch. packers	5 10	@	5 15
Mixed packers	4 95	@	5 05
SHEEP—Extra	5 30	@	5 40
LAMBS—Extra		@	7 75
FLOUR—Spring pat.	6 20	@	6 45
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 18	@	1 20
No. 3 winter		@	1 09
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	47½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	33½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	33	@	33¼
RYE—No. 2	84	@	87
HAY—Ch. timothy		@	12 50
PORK—Clear mess		@	14 10
LARD—Steam		@	6 87½
BUTTER—Ch. dairy		@	20
Choice creamery		@	34
APPLES—Choice	2 75	@	3 25
POTATOES—Per bbl	1 50	@	1 60
TOBACCO—New	5 00	@	13 00
Old	4 50	@	14 75

Chicago.

FLOUR—Winter pat.	5 10	@	5 20
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 20	@	1 23½
No. 3 red	1 08	@	1 18
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	44½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	30¾	@	31
RYE—No. 2		@	76½
PORK—Mess	12 65	@	12 70
LARD—Steam	6 72½	@	6 75

New York.

FLOUR—Wln. strts.	5 50	@	5 85
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 24
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	56
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	37	@	38
RYE—Western		@	80
PORK—Family	14 50	@	15 00
LARD—Steam		@	7 20

Baltimore.

CATTLE—Steers	3 50	@	4 50
SHEEP—No. 1 fat	3 25	@	3 75
LAMBS—Spring	5 50	@	6 50
CALVES—Choice	8 75	@	9 00
HOGS—Dressed	6 50	@	6 75

Louisville.

WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 17
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	47
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	31
PORK—Mess		@	11 00
LARD—Pure steam		@	6 50

Toledo.

WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 18
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	45
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	33

His Favorite Instrument.

"The tout ensemble of that orchestra is remarkably good," remarked Mr. Newrich's host at the box party. "Don't you think so?"

"You bet it is," responded Mr. Newrich, enthusiastically; "I like to watch the feller that's playin' it slide it back and forth—looks as if he was swallerin' it."—Cleveland Leader.

The New England $20-a-week clerk who won a $1,500 automobile in a raffle wishes to keep and ma[illegible] a machine, but cannot, and rails about the inequalities of fortune. He seems to be insensible to good fortune, as there are myriads of clerks who never win automobiles.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Between pretending to be what we are not and not to be what we are, we are under a considerable strain to keep up appearances.—Puck.

THE NEIGHBORS ALL USE THEM NOW.

Quick Cure of Rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills—How They Saved the Shop of a Kansas Blacksmith—Cure Was Permanent Too.

Goodland, Kan., Feb. 20th.—(Special) So quick and complete was the cure of N. E. Albertson, a local blacksmith, that it almost seems like a miracle. He had Rheumatism so bad he feared he would have to give up his shop. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills drove away all the pains and they have never returned. Speaking of his cure, Mr. Albertson says:

"I had Rheumatism in my shoulders and arms for years. Part of the time it was so bad I could not sleep at night. My arm hurt so that it seemed I would have to give up my blacksmith shop. I went to the drug store and bought one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and took them. I have not had the Rheumatism since. A great many of the neighbors are using Dodd's Kidney Pills since they saw how they cured me."

Some of us are too apt to confuse gratitude with the rate of interest.—Chicago Tribune.

CUTICURA PILLS

For Cooling and Cleansing the Blood in Torturing, Disfiguring Humors—60 Chocolate Pills 25c.

Cuticura Resolvent Pills (chocolate coated) are the product of twenty-five years' practical laboratory experience in the preparation of remedies for the treatment of humors of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, and are confidently believed to be superior to all other blood purifiers, however expensive. Complete external and internal treatment for every humor may now be had for $1.00, consisting of Cuticura Soap to cleanse the skin, Cuticura Ointment to heal the skin, and Cuticura Resolvent Pills to cool and cleanse the blood. A single set is often sufficient to cure.

The Pulajones are on the war path in Samar. This is the first outbreak that has occurred in the Jones family for over 40 years.—Minneapolis Times.

Millions of Vegetables.

When the Editor read 10,000 plants for 16c, he could hardly believe it, but upon second reading finds that the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., than whom there are no more reliable and extensive seed growers in the world, makes this offer which is made to get you to test Salzer's Warranted Vegetable Seeds. They will send you their big plant and seed catalog, together with enough seed to grow

1,000 fine, solid Cabbages,
2,000 rich, juicy Turnips,
2,000 blanching, nutty Celery,
2,000 rich, buttery Lettuce,
1,000 splendid Onions,
1,000 rare, luscious Radishes,
1,000 gloriously brilliant Flowers,

ALL FOR BUT 16c POSTAGE,

providing you will return this notice, and if you will send them 20c in postage, they will add to the above a package of famous Berliner Cauliflower. [N. L.]

Up in Michigan an editor tells of a hollow tree that was so full of squirrels that their breathing broke the bark.

Special Excursions to Southwest, Feb. 7 and 21, March 7 and 21, 1905, via Kansas City Southern Railway,

To Port Arthur, Beaumont, Tex.; Lake Charles, Galveston, Houston, San Antonio, Tex., and all other points on K. C. S. Ry., for tickets with 21 days limit and privilege of stopping off en route on both going and return trip.

For literature describing "The Land of Fulfillment" the country along the K. C. S. Ry. or for further information regarding these excursions, write to S. G. Warner, G. P. & T. A., K. C. S. Ry., Kansas City, Mo.

The less polish a man has the more reflections he is apt to cast.—Chicago Daily News.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot-Ease. It cures painful, swollen, smarting, sweating feet. Makes new shoes easy. Sold by all Druggists and Shoe Stores. Don't accept any substitute. Sample FREE. Address A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

It is always better to shake hands than to shake friends.—Chicago Daily News.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.

Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

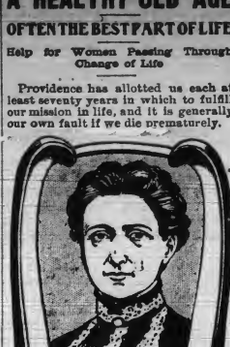
The heart has reasons that reason does not understand.—Bossuet.

Do not believe Piso's Cure for Consumption has an equal for coughs and colds.—J. F. Boyer, Trinity Springs, Ind., Feb. 15, 1900.

Good intentions are often too good to be true.—N. Y. Times.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.



To boast of one's honesty doesn't always prove it.—N. Y. Times.

A HEALTHY OLD AGE

OFTEN THE BEST PART OF LIFE

Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary L. Koehne, 371 Garfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years in my family and it never disappoints; so when I felt that I was nearing the change of life I commenced treatment with it. I took in all about six bottles and it did me a great deal of good. It stopped my dizzy spells, pains in my back and the headaches with which I had suffered for months before taking the Compound. I feel that if it had not been for this great medicine for women that I should not have been alive to-day. It is splendid for women, old or young, and will surely cure all female disorders."

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

PATENTS 48-page book FREE, highest references. Best service. Railed to anyone for 60 points. Write for Inv. FITZGERALD & CO., Box K, Washington, D.C.

Mixed Farming, Wheat Raising, Ranching.

FARMS WESTERN CANADA FREE

Three great pursuits have again shown wonderful results on the FREE Homestead Lands of Western Canada this year.

Magnificent climate—farmers plowing in their shirt sleeves in the middle of November.

"All are bound to be more than pleased with the final results of the past season's harvests."—Extract.

Coal, wood, water, hay in abundance—schools, churches, markets convenient.

Apply for information to SUPERINTENDENT OF IMMIGRATION, Ottawa, Canada, or to H. M. WILLIAMS, Law Building, Toledo, O. Authorized Canadian Government Agent.

Please say where you saw this advertisement.

Salzer's National Oats

Greatest out of the century. Yielded in Ohio 197, in Mich. 261, in Mo. 255, and in N. Dakota 210 bus. per acre. You can beat that record in 1905.

For 10c and this notice

we mail you free lots of farm seed samples and our big catalog, telling all about this oat wonder and thousands of other seeds.

JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO. LA Crosse, Wis.

PAXTINE TOILET ANTISEPTIC

FOR WOMEN

troubled with ills peculiar to their sex, used as a douche is marvelously successful. Thoroughly cleanses, kills disease germs, stops discharges, heals inflammation and local soreness, cures leucorrhœa and nasal catarrh.

Paxtine (50c. per box) in form to be dissolved in pure water, and is far more cleansing, healing, germicidal and economical than liquid antiseptics for all

TOILET AND WOMEN'S SPECIAL USES

For sale at druggists, 50 cents a box.

Trial Box and Book of Instructions Free.

THE R. PAXTON COMPANY BOSTON, MASS.

GREGORY'S Guaranteed SEEDS

Grow quickly. Free Catalogue.
J. J. H. Gregory & Son, Marblehead, Mass.

The Enterprising Housekeeper

A valuable little book of 200 tested recipes and kitchen notes. Sent for 2c. Mailed to anyone for 4c postage. ENTERPRISE MFG. CO., Phila., Pa.

Truths that Strike Home

Your grocer is honest and—if he cares to do so—can tell you that he knows very little about the bulk coffee he sells you. How can he know, where it originally came from, how it was blended—or with what—or when roasted? If you buy your coffee loose by the pound, how can you expect purity and uniform quality?

LION COFFEE, the LEADER OF ALL PACKAGE COFFEES, is of necessity uniform in quality, strength and flavor. For OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY, LION COFFEE has been the standard coffee in millions of homes.

LION COFFEE is carefully packed at our factories, and until opened in your home, has no chance of being adulterated, or of coming in contact with dust, dirt, germs, or unclean hands.

In each package of LION COFFEE you get one full pound of Pure Coffee. Insist upon getting the genuine. (Lion head on every package.)

(Save the Lion-heads for valuable premiums.)

SOLD BY GROCERS EVERYWHERE

WOOLSON SPICE CO., Toledo, Ohio.

YOU'RE NEEDED

The section traversed by the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Ry. is very comprehensive. From St. Louis, Hannibal or Kansas City to Galveston or San Antonio is a stretch of over one thousand miles of territory, capable of sustaining a population many times that of the present. A thousand industries, soil of various degrees of fertility, a wonderful produce of plants and crops, oil, gas and minerals are to be found. People by eager, pushing, wide-awake citizens who believe in the future of the Southwest and see the virtue of encouraging enterprises of every description and of getting more and better facilities, the opportunity is apparent.

The Southwest is really in need of nothing save people. More men are needed—you're needed. There are vast areas of unimproved land—land not yielding the crops of which it is capable. The same thing in a different way is true of the towns. Few lines of business are adequately represented. There are openings for mills and manufacturing plants, small stores, banks, newspapers and lumber yards. The oil and gas fields of Kansas, Indian Territory and Oklahoma are practically new and offer wonderful opportunities for development along commercial lines.

THE OPPORTUNITY IS NOW

The M. K. & T. has no lands for sale, we are simply interested in the upbuilding of the country. We believe in the Southwest; and know that with its present needs and opportunities, the prospects are brighter and the future more hopeful than in the older and more densely populated States. We want you to investigate conditions and satisfy yourself of the truthfulness of this.

On February 7th and 21st and March 7th and 21st, the M. K. & T. Ry. will sell excursion tickets from St. Louis, Hannibal and Kansas City to Indian Territory, Oklahoma and Central and Eastern Texas, at

$15 For the Round Trip

You should take advantage of this opportunity to see the Southwest for yourself.

We are in possession of all sorts of information valuable alike to the investor and homeseeker. If you are interested, tell us what you want, how much you have to invest and we will gladly furnish the information.

Write to-day for a copy of our book "Business Chances." It's free. Address

GEORGE MORTON, G. P. & T. A., Box 912-Y, St. Louis, Mo.
G. W. SMITH, N. P. A., 306 Marquette Building, Chicago, Ill.
H. F. BOWSHER, D. P. A., 405 Traction Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.
T. B. COOKERLY, D. P. A., 385 Citizens Nat'l Bank Bldg., Des Moines, Iowa.
G. A. McNUIT, D. P. A., Blossom House, Kansas City, Mo.

A Marvel of Relief

ST. JACOBS OIL

For Lumbago and Sciatica

BOONE CO., RECORDER
Wednesday, - - Feb. 22, 1905.
W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher

THE weather clerk is inclined to let the river men down easy, by having the breakup in the river pulled off gradually.

THE destruction of J. H. McDaniel & Sons' furniture factory by fire at Warsaw, last week, is a heavy loss to the town.

THERE is a woman in Germany who has become the mother of triplets twice in the last year. The present whereabouts of her husband are unknown.

There is a general almost a unanimous—demand on the part of the Democratic papers in Kentucky that Judge Hargis, of Breathitt county, resign as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee.

IN another column in this issue will be found an article on the tobacco question by Mr. J. C. Hughes, of Richwood, this county. Mr. Hughes has been a large handler of tobacco for many years, and has given the subject much thought. Read his proposition.

The Hon. E. K. Renaker, Representative of Harrison county, has been made defendant in a suit for $25,000 damages filed in the Harrison Circuit Court. The plaintiff is Miss Elizabeth Whitaker, a school teacher, who charges Renaker with defamation of character.

AT last the pension roll of the United States exceeds one million of persons, the number now being 1,000,781. It is thought the maximum has been reached. There has been a corresponding increase in the payments, but it is given out that the expenses of running the bureau are to be curtailed, and that in the near future some five hundred clerks may be dispensed with. Many of them are receiving larger salaries than they could earn if left to their own resources and reductions are proposed.

President Roosevelt has directed Commissioner of Corporations Garfield to begin immediately the oil investigation in accordance with the resolution adopted by the House on Wednesday. The investigation by the President's direction will be rigid and comprehensive. It is believed it will result in action against the Standard Oil Company, and Representative Campbell, of Kansas, who conferred with the President yesterday, expresses the belief that criminal prosecutions of members of the combine may follow the inquiry.

The commissioner of immagration is deeply concerned over a moral problem that effects many persons of eminent respectability. He finds that employers of labor are surprising acute in devising means for evading the alien contruct labor law, and that with this remarable acuteness there goes an equally remarkable obtuseness to the wrongs of fraud and law-breaking of which they are gbilty. He compares their conduct with that of "some of our worthiest and wealthiest citizens" who accept the prevaient notion that it is rather a credit than otherwise to outwit a federal customs officer.

If a man becomes great in after years the misdeeds of his youth are figured as the ecccentricities of genius. Did you know, for instance, that the immortal Abraham Lincoln once shook a girl at the altar? He was engaged to marry Ann Rutledge, of Bloomington, Ill., and she died. Her death, it is said, was caused by grieving over a lover in the East who had forgotten her, making the story more complicated. Five years after her death Lincoln met and became engaged to Mary Todd, of Springfield. The wedding was set for January 1841, the bride and guests and preacher were present, but Lincoln didn't show up. He later told Miss Todd that he was grieving over his lost love; "that the spirit of Ann Rutledge was near him, and he couldn't marry another." This was accepted as a sentiment showing the true heart of the young man, and Miss Todd, instead of giving him up, said that she loved him all the more, and he must marry her anyway. Almost a year later, in November, 1841, they were married. And history shows that Lincoln would have done better if he had obeyed his instincts and died from Miss Todd, for it was a very unhappy match.

[Winchester Democrat.]

The Democratic party of the State demands that Judge Hargis should resign his position as a member of the State Central Committee for the Tenth congressional district.

One of his boasts in the past has been his devotion to the Democratic party, and he can now show that devotion by resigning the position he holds on the State Committee. He could have shown it by not asking for the position when the last State convention met, but he didn't take that view. By trades and combinations he succeeded in getting the support of every delegation from the Tenth district except the one from Clark county. If he had then placed the party's interest above his own he would not have sought a "vindication" which he and his friends then knew he could get only at the price of great injury to the party he claims to love so well.

Common decency now demands that he shall retire from the committee, but a great many people in Kentucky believe that he is beyond the pale of common decency.

We are not acquainted with the party law, and therefore do not know whether or not it is within the power of the committee to remove Judge Hargis, but if the power exists the committee owes it to the party to exercise it promptly.

Representing one-sixth of the Democrats of the Tenth district, we protest against Judge Hargis being upon this committee.

More than five years ago, when Redwine was somewhat of an issue in Kentucky politics, the Inquirer took occasion to refer to the Hargises as being an element in the Democratic party that was working for their own interests and against the best interests of the State. They and their kind were responsible for Redwine at the Music Hall contention. They brought him forward and he was accepted as the man who would do anything that was wanted, just as the Hargises have always been able to find a man who would do what they wanted done. At a later date there were signs that the Hargises were responsible for the condition of things in Breathitt county and the charges were made. These things were then attributed by Democratic partisans to partisan opposition, the people knowing little about it, and refusing to believe that such things could be. The partisan papers that at that time upheld the Hargis doings are now silent, but there are numerous honest and fearless journals which have learned the truth and besides not fearing to tell it are demanding that the right thing be done. The demand for the removal of Jim Hargis from the Democratic Central Committee is great and growing.—Owensboro Inquirer.

Months ago we expressed our conviction that Judge James Hargis, chairman of the Tenth Congressional Democratic Committee should resign. Subsequent events have not caused us to change our mind. We regard his retention in Democratic councils or council's as a reproach and a disgrace to the Democratic party. If it is within the power of the State Central Committee or any other committee to remove him, the highest interest of self-respecting people demand that he be retired at once. Should any support be given him by the Democratic organization of Montgomery county it would be contrary to our conception of political decency, interest or honor.—Mt. Sterling Advocate.

The publication by the Louisville and Lexington papers of the deposition of Mose Feltner will, we hope, arouse the people of Kentucky to an immediate overthrow of the Hargis dynasty. Terribly shameful as the conditions revealed are, it is necessary for the public good that these conditions be made public. We stand to-day with the rest of the citizens who love their State, with head bowed in shame and disappointment. Feltner's depositions read like a true story. While they are hard to believe, from the facts presented we do not see how they can be otherwise than a true statement.—Bluegrass Clipper.

The confessions and depositions of Breathitt county murderers now before the courts reveal an alarming state of affairs in that godless country. A number of so-called prominent citizens are implicated in these crimes. There should be a thorough cleansing out of these fellows.—Calloway Times.

Well, what do you think about Jim Hargis as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee? Is he a suitable person? If so, we renew our motion that Curtis Jett, Jim Howard and Wharton Golden be put on as honorary members.—Paducah Register.

What Are They?

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. A new remedy for Stomach troubles, biliousness, and constipation, and a good one. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

CAPITOL FLOUR

the acme of perfection—positively the best Winter Patent Flour produced. Will make the whitest and lightest biscuit, bread, cakes or pastry of any flour on the market, and if you are not using it now just do us the favor and yourself the kindness to try a barrel on our guarantee. You take no chance.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.
GROCER,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, - Kentucky.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

The Covington Savings Bank and Trust Company, plaintiff.
against } Equity.
J. O. Carpenter, &c., defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Aug., term thereof, 1904, and also Supplemental Judgment rendered at the December Term, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court-house door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder at public auction, on Monday the 6th day of March, 1905, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being county court day, upon a credit of 6, 12 and 18 months, the following described property, to-wit:

Situated in Boone county Ky., on the Covington & Lexington Turnpike road, between Erlanger and Florence, and bounded thus: Beginning at a stone a corner to William Allen's 2½ acre purchase in Milton Goodridge's line; thence with the line of said purchase s 36½ w 16 poles to a stone, south east of a branch; thence s 10½ w 10 poles to a stone, also southeast of said branch; thence s 26 e 6¾ poles to a corner of said Allen's purchase, in the center of said Turnpike road; thence with its center s 64 w 24 poles; thence n 21 w 86 poles and 21 links to a stone in John Barton's line; thence with said line n 78½ e 23½ poles to a stone, a corner with Milton Goodridge; thence with his line s 36½ e 69½ poles to the place of beginning, containing eighteen (18) acres, one (1) rood and six (6) poles.

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $2 14) 15

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

SALE OF
HORSE BLANKETS And Lap-Robes.

An over stock of Robes to be sold at your own price, and 15 per cent discount on Blankets
CALL AND SEE US
before you buy your
Spring Harness

And you will see that you can save 10c on every dollar that you spend. The best stock of Collars and Harness in Town at Jackson's
New Harness Shop,
Walnut Street,
Lawrenceburg, - Indiana.
2½ blocks from Big 4 R. R.

When You Buy

a pound of our Pure Cream Tartar Baking Powder and say it is not just as good as any, and are not satisfied, tell us and we will refund your money. We absolutely guarantee every can of it.

Pound 30c.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, - KY.

My Jersey Bull will be permitted to render service at $1, money due when service is render.
B. C. GRADDY, Bullittsville, Ky.

NOTICE!

There are 900 Delinquent Tax-payers in Boone County. After 60 days all persons who have not paid their Poll-Tax will be advertised, and I will appoint a deputy to levy on property belonging to the Poll-tax payers of Boone County. If you don't want your names in the paper and your Horses, Buggies and Cows and other personal property advertised and sold you had better pay your taxes.

B. B. ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale at the residence of the late L. L. Tanner, in Union, Ky., on Tuesday, Feb. 28, 1905,

The following property:

1 2-year old Colt, broke to drive; 1 family mare, Mowing Machine, Road Wagon, Spring Wagon, Harrow, Heifer, will be fresh in 2 or 3 weeks; set of Carpenter's Tools, Grindstone, lot of Tobacco Sticks, lot of Hay in stack, set of Spring Wagon Harness, set of Wagon Harness, Sled, good Turning Plow, lot Shovel Plows, and some Household and Kitchen Furniture, &c.

TERMS—Sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of 8 months, without interest, will be given, purchasers to give note with good security negotiable and payable in the Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky., before removing property.

EZRA K. TANNER,
Sale to begin at 1 p.m. Admr.

C. J. WOLFF,
SPECIALIST FOR
TRUSSES, BRACES, CRUTCHES, Etc.
Personal attention given every case.
Experience 40 years.
13th & Race, opp. Washington Park, Cincinnati, O.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE

Thedford's Black-Draught comes nearer regulating the entire system and keeping the body in health than any other medicine made. It is always ready in any emergency to treat ailments that are frequent in any family, such as indigestion, biliousness, colds, diarrhœa, and stomach aches.

Thedford's Black-Draught is the standard, never-failing remedy for stomach, bowel, liver and kidney troubles. It is a cure for the domestic ills which so frequently summon the doctor. It is as good for children as it is for grown persons. A dose of this medicine every day will soon cure the most obstinate case of dyspepsia or constipation, and when taken as directed brings quick relief.

DANVILLE, ILL., Dec. 23, 1902.

Thedford's Black-Draught has been our family doctor for five years and we want no other. When any of us feel badly we take a dose and are all right in twelve hours. We have spent lots of money for doctor bills, but get along just as well with Black-Draught. IRA H. RADER.

Ask your dealer for a package of Thedford's Black-Draught and if he does not keep it send 50c. to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. and a package will be mailed to you.

THEDFORD'S BLACK DRAUGHT

WILSTAR,
Record 2171,
Will make the season of 1905 at McHenry's livery stable in Rising Sun, Indiana. Persons booking mares before the first of April will save $5. After that time the terms will be $30 to insure a living colt.
SCRANTON BROS., Owners,
aprl Rising Sun, Ind.

FOR RENT.

A good farm of 112 acres, with house and barn 1½ mile from Southern Railroad, near Buffington Station. Apply to Leona B. Stephens, 1049 Scott Street Covington, Ky.

For Sale
60 Acre Farm

Situated 10 miles west of Aurora, Indiana. Five acres in alfalfa, 15 acres in grass. Over ½ under cultivation, balance in timber. Good orchard. Convenient to school, church and R. F. D. A bargain. Good tobacco land. Address CHARLES MCKINSTRY Morgan Park, Illinois.

FOR SALE
Good Farm of 200 Acres,

Three miles north of Guilford, Ind., fine tobacco land; can be sold in parts. Six room brick residence, barn 40x60. Price reasonable. WARREN PEBBS, Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Deposits Earning Interest.

THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK & TRUST COMPANY, Inc.
N. E. Cor. Sixth St. and Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, KY.

Receives deposits of money subject to withdrawal after a specified time, or subject to check without notice,
ALLOWING INTEREST ON ALL DAILY BALANCES.

Interest is credited semi-annually on the first days of January and July and when the same is not withdrawn it is added to the principal AND DRAWS INTEREST.

It is not necessary to call in person to open an account, as all communications by mail receive prompt attention.

In its several departments, THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY
Acts as Agent; Collects Rents and Renders Accounts as desired; Loans Money on Approved Security; Rents Safe Deposit Boxes; Administers Estates and Acts as Guardian, Trustees, etc; Attends carefully to Trust Estates of Widows, Minors, Etc.
—ALL TRANSACTIONS CONFIDENTIAL.—

CAPITAL STOCK, $100.000.
Stockholders' Liability, $100.000.

JNO. P. ERNST, President. JOHN A. SIMPSON, Vice-President
C. W. SIMRALL, Sec'y & Treas.
Long Distance Telephone, South 214.

J. G. BENTLER & SON,
Lexington Pike, ERLANGER, KY.
Practical Horse Shoeing, General Blacksmithing
and Wagon Repairing of all kinds,
All kinds of Tool Grinding. - Also Bicycle Repairing.
Grinding of all Kinds to Order.

Hay and Grain,
AND ALL KINDS OF MILL FEED,
By Retail or Car Load. Call and Learn Our Prices.

CORN.

ARE YOU READY TO lay IN YOUR SUPPLY?

We are loading cars every day at our Elizabethtown Elevator in the Miami Bottoms, and you know what quality that is.

We are prepared to put it at any point along the Southern, and would like to hear from you when you are ready to buy.

Early & Daniel,
—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in—
Hay, Grain, Feed and Flour,
Pike St. and L. N. Ry.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

We have opened a BRANCH HOUSE at Erlanger at E. H. Riggs' old Stand, and will Keep a full line of Hay, Grain and Feed on hand, and would thank you to call and get our prices.

GOLDEN GRAIN FLOUR OUR SPECIALTY.

In our opinion a business conducted on an honest basis, furnishing the best "VALUES" possible for the "MONEY" and extending fair treatment to all

'ALWAYS WINS'

—Our Watchword has and always will be—

Honesty, -- Honest Clothing at "HONEST PRICES."

We show a fine line of Mens', Boys' & Children's

CLOTHING

Men's Suits.....$5.00 to $15.00.		Boys' Suits.....$4.00 to $10.00
Men's Overcoats.. 4.00 to 15.00.		Children's Suits.. 2.50 to 5.00
Childrens Overcoat 2.50 to 5.00.		Boys' Overcoats.. 4.00 to 10.00

These are made in every conceivable style and fashion.

Mens' Corduroy Suit, $5, $7.50, $10 and $12—these are made to stand the rough usage and abuse. We also carry a complete line of Corduroy and Jean Pants, Duck Coats, and other clothing necessary for health and comfort.

ROLFES & WACHS,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Subscribe for Your Connty Paper, $1.50.

Local News.

At last accounts Mrs. Reuben Acra was improving.

O. J. Ryle has recovered and is driving the mail wagon again.

The damp, foggy morning of yesterday was the tobacco buyers on the go.

The advent of lambs is keeping some of the farmes very busy. Some are having bad luck.

J. M. Craven, the Limaburg Hampshire swine breeder, was in town last Thursday.

Mrs. Kate Terrill, of Covington, has been a guest of Mrs. Laura Riddell since last Saturday.

H. G. Blanton, the Erlanger undertaker, has been very busy in this county for the last week or ten days.

Erlanger people are very much in hopes that the Covington Traction road will reach their city this summer.

Those who have been hauling goods from the city, pronounce the roads, last week, the slickest they ever hauled over.

Judge Lassing, of Walton, was in Burlington, a short time last Saturday afternoon. He had been out to visit Mr. J. J. Lillard.

The first question asked in every home by every member of the family returning from an absence on the streets is, "Where's mother?"

Correspondents will please bear in mind that a person who is not a subscriber to the RECORDER is not entitled to any free advertising of stock, &c., for sale.

An unusual number of coal houses are about exhausted, and the buying of fuel that has been in cold storage for months is rather expensive to the consumers.

They do say that Edson Riddell and Clifford Hedges are the most artistic coasters in the Burlington crowd. While going at lightning speed they can cake-walk and turn hand springs.

They have a chicken thief in the Georgetown jail, who stands a good chance to be sent to the penitentiary for life. He has served two terms in the pen, and a third term can be made for life.

This is Washington's birth day, and all rural mail carriers are required by the department at Washington to observe it, consequently no mail will be delivered on the rural routes today.

Coasting was the leading amusement with both the young and middle aged of Burlington last week. Records were made in some instances that would make lightning appear to travel slow.

Harry Adams and wife, of Covington, had the misfortune to lose their second son of diptheria, last week. The child was thought to be getting better up to within a few minutes before the end came. It was in its seventh year.

The localities in which there is most always considerable sickness at this time of the year, in this county, have been unusually healthy, while in the neighborhoods usually healthy there has been a great deal of sickness.

Lent will be late this year, as Ash Wednesday is March 8th, later than usual. Palm Sunday is April 16, and Good Friday is April 21. Easter Sunday, when all the world blossoms forth in lillies and new Easter bonnets, comes April 23.

We take this method of expressing our thanks and appreciation to our many, friends far and near, for their kindness shown us in our recent loss by fire, and especially to Mr. George Bohannon for his kindness. JAMES H. SNYDER and WIFE.

It is very seldom the mercury registers zero while the wind is coming from the south, but that is what it did at 6:30 a. m. last Thursday at Marce Riddell's store in Burlington. Zero weather comes from any point of the compass this winter.

The grand jury returned 35 indictments against the saloons of Georgetown Saturday. It is reported that this is only the beginning of the work, as hundreds of subpoenas have been issued for witnesses to appear this morning.—Georgetown News.

Poisons in Food.

Perhaps you don't realize that many pain poisons originate in your food, but some day you may feel a twinge of dyspepsia that will convince you. Dr. King's New Life Pills are guaranteed to cure all sickness due to poisons of undigested food—or money back. 25c at all Druggists.

All members of Burlington Lodge 109, K. of P., Burlington, are requested to be present at the next regular meeting, Saturday, February 25th, 1905. Business of importance. W. D. CROPPER, C. C.

I desire to extend my heartfelt thanks to my neighbors for their unceasing and untiring attention and kindness during the fatal illness of my husband, Charles E. Stephens.

MRS. LIZZIE STEPHENS.

Miss Lizzie Rogers, of Walton, was a guest of her sister, Mrs. C. C. Roberts, from Saturday afternoon until Sunday afternoon. Her mother, who had been a guest of Mrs. Roberts for a week, returned with her.

Prof. W. P. Dickey, Principal of Walton Graded School, will address the patrons and friends of Mt. Zion school district No. 45, on the subject of Education, March 1st, at 2:30 p. m. The public generally are invited—the patrons of the school especially.

Agonizing Burns

are instantly relieved, and perfectly healed, by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. C. Rivenbark, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., writes: "I burnt my knee so dreadfully that it blistered all over. Bucklen's Arnica Salve stopped the pain, and healed it without a scar." Also heals all wounds and sores. 25c at all Druggists.

I have completed and opened a well equipped livery stable on Carneal street near Elm, where horses and rigs will receive the best of attention. Boone county people will find it to their advantage to leave their horses and buggies with me.

I make two trips daily to the city with my express wagon.

B. S. CLORE, Ludlow.

A man in a neighboring county who secured his wife through a matrimonial agency is trying to secure a divorce. Just another instance of finding that mail order bargains are not just as represented and that a much better grade of the same article could have been obtained at home. Good enough for him; he ought to patronize home industry. The home grown article is usually the best.

In an address before the Principals of the public schools in Cleveland, Ohio, Dr. G. S. Howe, President of Case School of Applied Science, flayed the present system of teaching spelling in the public schools. He said:

"Spelling seems to me to be a lost art. It only takes an acquaintance with the examination papers of a body of college students to realize the fact. I maintain that the only way in which spelling can be successfully taught is by hammering away continually. In the days when I went to school, day after day we had spelling matches, and vied in spelling each other down. That is the only way to teach spelling. It must be hammered at without ceasing. The system of English spelling is atrocious, but we have to live under it, and a man cannot be considered educated unless he has mastered the spelling of English words."

In renewing his subscription, W. T. Crisler, of Brooklyn, New York, writes:

"It has now been over six years since I have been in Boone, yet news from there is always welcome. True, as time goes on things and names pass from my memory, and I find now in the RECORDER mention of many people and of many things that I am not at all familiar with, yet, the RECORDER is an ever welcome visitor to our home, and we find many things that interest us. It is not often that we meet with Kentuckians in this city. True there are some half dozen or so of us here, and occasionally have a few pleasant hours together. Frank W. Berkshire is a resident of Brooklyn; Warren Elliston, of Williamstown, U. S. Guager, has been located here now for more than a year; Dr. Carlton Crisler, of Ludlow, is at Bellevue Hospital, and myself with the Eagle Storage People. I wish I had the time and the ability to write a long letter to tell you of some of the interesting things in and around New York, but as that is impossible I must content myself with hoping my friends in Boone may some time make the trip to our big city. It is worth the while. I inclose here with a small pamphlet giving you some idea perhaps of our business. I might add that our house has to do almost entirely with furniture and household goods and we are only one in very, very many in the same line. We have had quite a hard winter, not had such extremely cold weather at any time, but have had cold weather right along for about three months, with an abundance of snow and ice."

Z. T. Baker, of Big Bone, who has been very ill for some time is said to be improving.

Mr. A. O. Hall is improving after a two weeks' sickness.

Kenneth Balsly Passes Away.

C. Kenneth Balsly, son and only child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Balsly, died at low twelve at his home near Bullittsville, this county, on the night of the 15th inst., in his twenty-second year, after 69 days severe but patient suffering of pneumonia. The deceased was a very affable young man, and made friends of all with whom he became acquainted, and no young man had more anxious friends to inquire after his condition during his illness. Although his recovery was despaired of from the first, the announcement of his death cast a gloom over the entire community. He was the pride of his father and mother whose grief over his death is intense and they are unconsolable. He was the youngest member of Burlington Lodge F. & A. M., both as to age and membership, and his brothers of that lodge, assisted by members of other lodges, had charge of his funeral, Rev. Early, of the Baptist church preceding their ceremony with a brief and very affecting religious service at the residence, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The remains were placed in the vault at Bullittsburg.

The grief-stricken father and mother are the objects of the deepest sympathy by all who know of the departure of their son, a young man worthy of all the affections they bestowed upon him.

At a regular meeting of Burlington Lodge No. 264 F. & A. M., held on Saturday, February, 18th, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Our dearly beloved brother, Charles Kenneth Balsly, has passed from the level of time to that bourne from whence no traveler returns,

Resolved, That in the death of brother Balsly, the youngest member of this lodge, we have lost a bright and shining light and an enthusiast in Masonry and his mother and father a devoted son; and while we deeply deplore the death of our beloved Brother we bow in meek submission to the mandate of the Almighty Ruler by which he has been called hence. Having an abiding confidence in His wisdom and goodness that forbids us to murmer at His decrees.

Resolved, That we tender to the father and mother of our deceased brother our heartfelt condolence in their deep affliction and point them to the Supreme Master for that comfort that none but He can give.

Resolved, That the Secretary be directed to spread these resolutions on the minute book of this Lodge and that a page of record be set apart to his memory, that he send a copy thereof to the father and mother of Brother Balsly, and also deliver a copy to the Boone County Recorder for publication.

Committee:—W. L. Riddell, O. S. Watts, A. B. Rouse.

N. E. Riddell, Secretary.

Another Good Man Dies.

Charles E. Stephens, of Waterloo neighborhood, died about noon last Saturday, after several weeks' severe illness. Dr. Whitacre, of Cincinnati, was called to see him, last Saturday afternoon, for the second time, and that night began to operate on him, but as soon as the incision and an examination were made it was apparent that an operation was useless, and it was not concluded. Mr. Stephens was an industrious, prosperous farmer, and one of the county's best citizens. He leaves a wife and three children and many friends. The remains were taken to Hebron, Monday, and placed in the vault.

Passes Away, Aged Ninety-Two.

Mrs. Minerva White, one of the county's oldest citizens, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Goodridge, last Sunday about 4 p. m., of infirmatives consequent upon old age. Had Mrs. White lived a few hours longer she would have died on the 92d anniversary of her birth. She was the widow of the late John White, who died many years ago. Two sons, Richard and George, and three daughters, Mrs. James D. Cloud, Mrs. Thomas D. Goodridge and Mrs. W. C. Goodridge, survive her. Her remains were interred by the side of those of her husband in the old family cemetery.

Pawnee Bill, the showman, has a buffalo ranch south of Pawnee, Oklahoma, and has at the present time a bunch of fat young buffalos, which he will kill and ship to the East for the holidays. He expects to realize close to $30,000 from his sales this season, as the average price will be $1.25 per pound. The hides will bring him $75 to $150, according to size. His ranch lies in the heart of the buffalo range of the 70's, where the growth of the buffalo grass is the heaviest. He proposes to try the experiment of crossing the buffalo with Galloway cattle. If successful he expects to have an animal of a much more kindly disposition than the buffalo.

If all men were true the world would soon be made new.

Nothing Equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. F. B. Speirs, of Pinchard Ala., has become acquainted with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and uses it in his own family and in his practice. He says: "It beats any preparation I have ever seen for all bowel complaints. I do not think of recommending any ... and also use it with my own children." This remedy is for sale by all Druggists.

Hall of Boone Union Lodge No. 304, F. & A. M., Jan. 30th, 1905.

Whereas, The Grand Master of the Celestial Lodge, in His infinite wisdom, has seen proper to remove our Dear Brother, L. L. Tanner, from our midst to meet with us no more, therefore be it resolved:

1st That in his death his lodge has lost a true and consistent member, his church, a devoted and worthy leader, his country a noble and patriotic citizen, his family a loving husband and father.

2nd That a copy of these resolutions be published in the Boone County Recorder and the Masonic Home Journal; also that a copy be furnished the family and spread upon the record.

Committee:—L. H. Voshell, J. W. Williams, O. B. Utz.

County Clerk Adams was going down Gunpowder, one day last week when his horse refused to go on the ice. Being somewhat vexed Bluford gave a terrible yank on the bridle reins, which started the horse backwards, when the bridle bit parted, letting Bluford fall backwards from the horse, the horse falling at the same time. Fortunately neither one was hurt. When they scrambled up each stood and looked at the other with astonishment.

For Sale.—Fresh Jersey cow with young calf. Apply to Legrand Utz, Limaburg.

Don't Pay

5, 10 or 50c more for a bottle of Medicine than you ought to. We can save you that much on all you buy and give you the freshest goods besides.

The reason is we do not belong to the Druggist's Trust (Nation Association of Retail Druggists) whose object is to keep up prices.

—TRY US.—

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.,

—GROCER.—

N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,

COVINGTON, KY.

DOELLER'S Catarrh and Croup Cure

—IT RELIEVES—

Croup,
Grippe Cold,
Dry Catarrh,
Cold in the Head,
Catarrhal Headache,
Chronic Nasal Catarrh
Sore Throat,
Bronchitis,
Chapped Hands,
Dry Hacking Cough,
Pimples and Black Heads,
Throat and Lung Troubles.

Sent prepaid on receipt of price in coin or stamps. 25c each or five packages for $1.

Our Guarantee: Money Refunded If You are not Benefitted.

MANUFACTURED ONLY BY

J. W. HOWE & SON,

No. 30 High Street,

HAMILTON, OHIO.

Money and Health

Saved—Comfort and Pleasure gained by using

Golden Blend Coffee, per pound..... 20c

Money Worth Blend Coffee, per lb.... 17c

Three pounds for 50c.

GEO. C. GOODE,

Agent,

Pike & Washington,

COVINGTON, KY.

FARM FOR SALE OR RENT.

Farm of 58½ acres near Grange Hall, adjoining Jos. Love and Samuel Stephens. Inquire of J. R. Clutterbuck, D. E. Castleman or W. E. Vest, Burlington, Ky. feb 22 3t

FOR SALE.

Boone County Roller Mills at Petersburg, Ky. Inquire of BEN BELDEN.

Advance Shipment of SPRING GOODS!

We have gotten in our

Early Spring Goods

.....CONSISTING OF.....

Ginghams, Percales, Veils, Laces, Embroideries, Etc.

Making our contracts early we were enabled to take advantage of the market, and this advantage we will give our customers in low prices.

INDIGO BLUE CALICO 5c yard.
AMERICAN SHIRTING CALICOS 5c yard.
LACES FROM 3c yard up to 15c yard.
EMBROIDERIES FROM 3c yard up to 25c yard.

Our Laces and Embroideries are especially fine and well selected and worth 25 per cent more than we price them. We invite you to come and inspect them.

W. M. Rachal & Co

UNION, KY.

H. G. BLANTON, FUNERAL DIRECTOR

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.

Special Rates to Traveling Men.

First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.

Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.

Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,

Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants

Tested Field and Garden Seeds.

Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.

Largest and Best Stock of

GROCERIES IN THE CITY.

Sole Agents for the Celebrated

RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.

When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.

27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Livery and Sales Stable.

ALLPHIN & HUME, Proprietors,

Walton, Kentucky.

Horses kept by the Meal, Day or Month. Good safe rigs for hire at all times.

—Horses Bought, or Sold on Commission—

Stable Near Southern Depot. BRUCE ROBERTS, Manager.

'Phone 172½, Hughes' Line.

CEILINGS. SKYLIGHTS. CORNICES

The Porter Iron Roofing & Corrugating Co

27 and 29 West Front Street,

CINCINNATI, - - OHIO.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Iron, Steel, Galvanized & Felt Roofing.

Our Agents will give you wholesale prices.

Agents:—Bruce Anderson, Constance, Ky. L. L. Tanner, Union, Ky.

Our Unexcelled "Heating Drums" are the best. Inquire for Prices.

OH, HOW DELIGHTFUL!

The Perfect Deodorizer and Disinfectant

FRAGRINE

Refreshes. Perfumes. Invigorates. Endorsed by Physicians.

Most Pleasant of Toilet Requisites.

Most healthful of Household Necessities. Call and try it at

JOHN ALLISON'S, Undertaker, Covington, Ky.

For Sale.

Business property in Constance, Ky., consisting of House, Store, Feed Room, Livery Barn of 20 stalls. Will sell property and invoice goods—will sell property and keep stock; also for rent a blacksmith and wagon makers shop.

C. W. ROBINSON, Constance, Ky.

Dr. G. M. Terrill, DENTIST,

Walnut Street,

LAWRENCEBURG, - INDIANA.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, - - - KENTUCKY

The French have a new word for carriages drawn by horses. They are "automobiles."

German locomotive engineers receive a gold medal and $500 for every ten years of service without accident.

The recent census in Bengal reveals the fact that there are 4,000 baby girls in that province alone who have been married, and of this number 600, all less than a year old, are widows.

A Finnish housewife buys a new broom every morning—a necessary extravagance, since she sweeps her whole house every day, and the broom she uses is just a bundle of fresh, green birch leaves, whose natural dampness licks up the dust.

H. Hollenback, of Boulder Creek, Cal., was kicked over a 200-foot precipice by his mule, but fifty feet down fell into a large woodrat's nest in a redwood tree, 150 feet from the ground. There he stayed until a party of rescuers got him down with ropes.

Railroad men report an unprecedented rush of pulp and pulp wood from Canadian points to American mills. An official of the Canada Atlantic railway says that wood pulp is being shipped at the rate of 1,000 tons a day from points along the Canada Atlantic railway, a connecting line through Quebec Province.

There have been many attempts to grow Egyptian cotton in India, but they have generally failed. Sometimes the soil was unsuitable, but more often the failure was due to the fact that little effort was made to imitate Egyptian methods for growing the staple, and almost invariably the cotton was sown too late.

The government has never issued a fifteen-dollar bill, but some enterprising counterfeiter made one and passed it. The bill, now in Chief Wilkie's possession, was made by adding a 1 to a five-dollar note. The fifteen-dollar bill was generally circulated in South Carolina until it reached a bank, when it was sent on to Washington, with inquiries.

One of the curiosities of Salt Lake City, in the eyes of the many visitors who have passed through the town recently, is the sight of the messenger boys riding bicycles easily along the streets with heavily laden trays on their heads. To Salt Lakers this seems quite natural; it is a sight they see every day, and have seen for years, but to the stranger it is quite a novelty.

A new type of engine, known as the "monkey motion" pattern, which, it is claimed, will revolutionize steam locomotion on railroads, has been successfully operated on the Southern Pacific tracks, when a train of 1,500 tons was run from Ogden to Wadsworth, Nev., hauled by one of the new engines. The new type of engine was designed by Edgar M. Luckett, of the Southern Pacific. Many advantages over the standard type are claimed for the "monkey motion."

After ten years of labor and the expenditure of $9,000,000, the new Cornell dam, near Canton-on-Hudson, in West Chester county, New York, from which New York will draw largely for water supply, has been practically completed. It is the largest piece of masonry in the world, except the Pyramids of Egypt. The floodgates have been shut down for the first time, and the dam has begun filling with water. It is estimated by the tenders that it will require about two years for the dam to fill.

J. S. Graves, who owns a farm bordering upon one of the inland lakes in Michigan, is harvesting not only a fine supply of ice for use next summer, but also a food supply in the form of fresh fish. When the ice began to form on the lake and before it had attained great thickness Mr. Graves scattered angle worms and grubs over some thin ice. The fish in the lake, attracted by the food, which they could see but could not obtain kept their noses pushed against the ice and soon were imbedded in the ice.

At the end of the first year after establishment of the French National Savings Bank there were registered 211,580 depositors, a number which on December 31, 1903, had swelled to 1,143,388, without any one year showing a decrease. This means that at present one out of every ten of France's 39,000,000 inhabitants has something in the savings bank. The amount deposited at the end of the first year, December 31, 1882, was $9,187,116, which at the end of 1903 had grown to $215,766,294, an increase of $204,579,178 in 21 years.

The goverament of the grand duchy of Baden has, within the past year, provided further for the comfort of the employes of its railways. The government now owns 2,936 apartment houses where officials and other employes reside. The train crews have been furnished with sleeping accommodations when their runs require them to be absent from home overnight, and small cooking stoves, of which there are now in use 220, have been provided where meals may be warmed and other conveniences arranged by the men.

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE BUSY READER

What Has Recently Transpired Throughout the World.

THE DOINGS OF CONGRESSMEN.

Labor's Unrest in Russia and Interesting Foreign News—Crimes and Casualities and Important Intelligence Culled and Noted.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senator Bard introduced an amendment to the Indian appropriation bill providing that no portion of the funds appropriated by the bill shall be available for the support of any sectarian or denominational school.

Senator Clark (Mont.), from the committee on foreign relations, reported favorably the bill authorizing the construction of an irrigation dam across the Rio Grande river between the United States and Mexico.

The conference report on the omnibus claims bill agreed to carries $2,321,810 direct appropriations for 1,759 claimants. It refers to the court of claims bills amounting to from $500,000 to $750,000.

The house entered an emphatic protest against the action of the senate in amending the agricultural appropriation bill so as to interrupt the drawback feature of the Dingley tariff affecting wheat.

The house committee on Indian affair authorized a favorable report on the McGuire bill authorizing an equal division of the lands and moneys of the Osage tribe of Indians.

The Mann bill, to provide a government for the canal zone, was passed in the house. The bill gives all the right of government of the Isthmian canal zone to the president until the end of the next congress.

In order to facilitate action at this session on the statehood bill the house passed a resolution sending that measure as amended by the senate directly into conference without an opportunity being afforded to debate it.

The senate passed the bill appropriating $9,340,000 for the District of Columbia and the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill carrying $2,156,000.

The senate terminated its controversy with the house over the amendment construeing the provision in the Dingley law relative to the drawback on imported wheat by receding from the amendment inserted in the agricultural appropriation bill as it passed the senate.

Representative Hearst introduced a bill prohibiting interstate commerce in any produce of labor of the soil or of mineral produced or controlled by a monopoly.

The pension appropriation bill, carrying $138,250,100, was passed by the house in record-breaking time.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The bill introduced at the suggestion of Gov. Folk by Senator Dickinson, which provided that witnesses who testify in bribery prosecutions be exempt from prosecution was defeated in the Missouri senate.

President Roosevelt was the guest of the Hungarian Republican club in east side, New York. He was well guarded by police and secret service men.

At the annual reunion of the New York Alumni association of the Western Reserve university, of Cleveland O., Charles F. Thwing, president of the university, lamented the fact that college faculties are no longer recruited from the strongest men in the country.

H. W. Fletcher lowered the world's automobile one mile record one second by driving the 60-horse power machine of O. F. Thomas that distance in 45 seconds.

Members of the Chicago Commercial club who went to Cuba two weeks ago to study the resources of that island, have returned, enthusiastic over the possibilities of the new republic.

F. A. Falkenburg, head counsel of the Woodmen of the World, died of a complication of nervous and kidney troubles at Los Angeles, Cal.

Marguerite, 16, and Mamie, 5, daughters of Ettan Brewer, a farmer living near Texarkana, Ark., were burned to death.

Fire partly destroyed the Brevoort house, Chicago, causing a loss of $100,000 to the building and hotel furnishings, and forcing 150 guests to make a hurried departure. Three firemen were injured.

An entire brigade of the New Jersey National guard will participate in the inaugural parade, and will serve as the personal escort of Gov. Stokes.

Secretary Hitchcock recommends the reduction of the amount of Osage Indian lands in Oklahoma covered by oil leases from upwards of 1,500,000 acres to 680,000 acres.

Alexander Mead, a colored man 116 years old, died at Toledo, O. Mead was born in slavery, October 24, 1789, near the Big Sandy river, in Greenup county, Kentucky.

Branch societies of the Red Cross are to be organized in each state and territory.

A fierce gale raged in Northern Indiana and snow was drifted higher than the roofs of cars. Railway traffic was almost paralyzed.

Fifty vessels will be added to Japan's naval strength as a result of salvage operations at Port Arthur in raising sunken vessels.

Ex-Gov. Horace Boise, of Iowa, is lying critically ill at Hot Springs, Ark., where he went for his health.

The Japanese minister had a long conference with Secretary Hay. After he left Count Cassini called. This was revived peace talk.

The Pacific mail steamship Korea sailed for the Orient with a cargo of 11,000 tons of merchandise, which includes a large amount of [illegible] material for the Japanese government.

United States district attorneys and marshals received an order from Attorney General Moody prohibiting them or any of their employes from doing any kind of lobby work before the Missouri legislature.

An entire detachment of Japanese cavalry which had destroyed the railway bridge between Mukden and Harbin was wiped out. Russian cavalry overtook the raiders, who are said to have refused quarters and fought until the last man was killed.

The Japanese began a heavy cannonading on the Russian right flank near Mukden, and the firing continued all through the next day. It is thought the Japanese are preparing for a general attack.

The president's message transmitting to the senate the new Santo Domingo protocol was read at an executive session. The subject of the Monroe doctrine is discussed at some length, especially as regards the relations of the United States to the republics of the south.

The pardon board granted a continuance of 30 days in the case of Mrs. Kate Edwards, who had been sentenced to hang for the murder of her husband at Reading, Pa. Her colored paramour, Samuel Greason, was granted a rehearing.

At Bridgeton, N. J., when the attempt was made to hang Frank Rasinger the rope broke and Raisinger dropped to the ground. The fall broke his neck.

Nearly 300 Filipinos, comprising the battalion of Philippine scouts, who have been at the World's fair for nearly a year, left St. Louis in a special train for Fort Thomas, Ky.

A movement is on foot to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln on February 12, 1909.

Surrounded by his family, Gen. Lew Wallace, author of "Ben Hur," one time minister to Turkey and veteran of the Mexican and civil wars, died at his home in Crawfordsville, Ind., aged 78 years. The health of Gen. Wallace has been waning for several years.

A diamond weighing 324 carats has been discovered in South Africa in the vicinity of the place where the largest diamond ever unearthed was recently found.

To successfully fight the trusts within its borders, a constitutional convention may be called to broaden the powers of the Kansas legislature.

The house committee on military affairs authorized a favorable report on a joint resolution providing that union and confederate battleflags in the custody of the war department shall be returned to the proper authorities in the states where regiments were organized.

The president has ordered an investigation of the Standard Oil Co. In a letter to Commissioner of Corporations Garfield the president outlined his views and ordered that the investigation be rigid and comprehensive.

If the senate does not pass the Townsend rate bill at this session the president will surely call an extra session of congress in the fall to wrestle with the problem.

Jay Cooke, 83, whose fame as a financier is world-wide, died at the home of his son-in-law, Charles D. Barney, at Ogontz, a suburb of Philadelphia.

Upon the pressure of President Castro the court has ordered the sequestration of the landed property of the American Asphalt Co. in Venezuela.

A United States squadron of 14 warships will visit Havana on March 10.

Funds with which to prosecute the inquiry into the methods of the Standard Oil Co. in Kansas were asked of the house by Secretary Metcalf, of the department of commerce and labor.

For the first time in history the legislative wheels of the government were stilled for a portion of a day to pay tribute to a woman's memory. The occasion was the formal acceptance by congress from the state of Illinois of a statue of Frances E. Willard, the first national president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The final signing of the British parcels post treaty is a source of considerable gratification to officials in Washington and a substantial increase in the volume of postal business is expected to follow.

Dr. W. S. Haines and O. W. Lewke, who have been analyzing the stomach and liver of Mrs. Marie Welker-Hoch, the latest alleged victim of Johann Hoch, declared definitely that the woman's death was due to arsenical poisoning.

A resolution introduced in the Kansas legislature provides for a vote of the people in 1906 on the question of calling a constitutional convention. The new constitution would be expected to be very strongly against trusts.

Health Officer Spratling at Cristobal, canal zone, states positively that it has not been shown that yellow fever does exist or has existed in Colon since July 1.

Three carloads of statuary and other plaster works of art sent by the recent Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co. for use in the inaugural ceremonies, have arrived in Washington.

Snow to the depth of from three to five feet fell in Northwestern Pennsylvania.

A bill for the establishment of a state oil refinery has been introduced in the Colorado legislature.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending February 16 number 243, as against 207 last week, 231 in the like week in 1904, and 188 in 1903.

The president favors the building of three new battleships instead of two, as the bill in congress now stands.

Charles E. Rogers, a wealthy lumber dealer of Brooklyn, was instantly killed by falling down a hatchway of the steamer Cuzza while he was inspecting a cargo of mahogany.

The final meeting for this congress of the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries was held. A bill was favorably acted on abolishing the requirement for licensed mates on sailing vessels.

The navy department has awarded contracts to Lind & Co., of New York, and McCall, of Baltimore, for the transportation of 60,000 tons of coal to the naval stations at Cavite, Philippine Islands.

Representatives of about 60 crude petroleum producing companies met in Chicago and took the first steps toward the formation of an organization which they declare will be of national strength inside of a year.

According to reports in circulation the Dowager Empress of Russia has received a threatening letter warning her that she will be the next victim.

Christopher W. Bergen, former congressman from New Jersey, is dead at his home in Havreford, a suburb of Philadelphia, aged 64.

President Roosevelt has not abandoned his idea of obtaining, with the leading powers of the world, definite, comprehensive and effective agreements as to a scheme of international arbitration.

Mrs. Sophia Westover died at Wyocena, Wis., in her 105th year. Her father assisted in the capture of Fort Ticonderoga, under Ethan Allen.

Fifteen thousand members of organized labor in Colorado will assemble in Denver March 2, when the legislature is scheduled to act on the report of the committee that has been investigating the claims of Adams and Peabody to the governship of Colorado.

Five men were killed and 13 injured in an accident on No. 2 slope of No. 1 colliery of the Lyttle operation, at Pottsville, Pa., by a fall of top rock while a "gunboat" loaded with 18 men on their way to work was going down the shaft.

Five people were burned to death in a dwelling house at Howe Brook plantation, about 50 miles north of Island Falls, Me.

The Mexican government has appointed a commission of artillerymen to make a report on a new explosive invented by a New York man who has offered the exclusive use thereof to Mexico.

Midshipman Samuel Westray Battle, of the second class at the naval academy, and a son of Surgeon Samuel W. Battle, U. S. N. retired, of Asheville, N. C., dropped dead in the Annapolis academy.

Rt. Rev. William E. McLaren, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Chicago, died in New York. His death was due to heart failure.

According to a dispatch from Mukden, special reports have been received at the place stating the surrender of Port Arthur occurred against the wishes of most officers of the garrison.

J. L. Crawford, president of the People's Coal Co., Scranton, Pa., died at his winter home in Indian River, Fla. He was well known in anthracite trade, and was prominent among the operators during the last strike.

Field Marshal Oyama reports that the Russians are continuing their defensive works in all directions. They continued to shell portions of the Japanese lines.

The Symes block, Denver, Col., a three-story structure occupied by stores and offices, was destroyed by fire entailing a loss estimated at $300,000.

Seven business houses were consumed at Tyler, Tex., entailing a loss estimated at $150,000.

John B Blackhawk, 26, a full blooded Winnebago Indian, just returned home from the Carlisle Indian school, has eloped with and married Olive Hart, the 19-year-old daughter of a Pender (Neb.) physician.

One person was killed, two others were injured and several narrowly escaped as the result of the collapse of a ruined building in West Fourteenth street, Chicago.

President Roosevelt sent a message of condolence to the Czar over the murder of his uncle, Grand Duke Sergius.

The Japanese navy department announces the seizure of the British steamer Silviana, bound for Vladivostok with Cardiff coal. The place where the seizure was made is not stated in the dispatch.

The strike situation in St. Petersburg is growing menacing. It has assumed the form of a lock-out, the Putiloff iron works, the Franco-Russian works, the Russo-American rubber works and a few smaller concerns having discharged all their employes with the notice that the works will be shut down indefinitely, throwing out thousands of workmen.

Sir Chentung Liang-Cheng, the Chinese minister, presented to President Roosevelt an oil painting of the Dowager Empress of China.

Robert L. Archer has been detailed for duty on the post office and courthouse building at Huntington, W. Va., as superintendent of construction.

Ennis R. Austin has been detailed as superintendent of construction on the postoffice building now being erected at Richmond, Ind.

Dr. G. H. Smith has been appointed pension examining surgeon at Newcastle, Ind., vice Dr. E. E. Kirk, resigned.

POINTS ON APPENDICITIS.

Jersey School Superintendent Turns Loose on Vermiform Misinformation.

Many a layman has been "stumped" in trying to master the intricacies of the vermiform appendix. But let everybody take heart, says the New York Sun.

In an aristocratic New Jersey suburb recently the superintendent of public schools was visiting a grade while a lesson in physiology was being demonstrated. The teacher was explaining the construction of the spinal column. She compared it to a string of beads in order to show its formation, and drew a diagram for further illumination.

When the lesson was finished, the superintendent suggested that a most important feature of the spinal column had not been explained.

"It is this curious, pointed section at the base," he said, indicating the end of the vertebral column, "which is called the vermiform appendix. You have all heard of appendicitis? Very good. Well, that is the name given to a disease which is caused by an inflammation of this appendix. An operation for appendicitis means an amputation of this useless appendix."

There is a new superintendent of public schools in that suburban New Jersey town.

NEW ORLEANS WINE CELLAR

Fine After Dinner Tale That Lacked the Element of Geographical Experience.

A lady newly arrived in Washington, of great wealth, was at a dinner a few nights ago and amazed everybody by telling the brand and vintage of a rare wine without seeing the bottle or label, says a Washington correspondent of the New York World.

"How can you do it?" she was asked.

"Oh," she replied, "I was born in New Orleans, you know, and was raised there. When I was a slip of a girl my father used to take me down into his great wine cellar under the house and show me the dusty bottles. He taught me all about wines down in those gloomy caves."

After the dinner the hostess said to her husband: "Wasn't it interesting to hear Mrs. So-and-So tell about her father's wine cellars?"

"Great!" cried the brutal husband. "Absolutely great! It was simply fine. You know, there isn't a cellar in New Orleans."

Pa's Edict.

Ma Twaddles—John, I'm interested in this "jiu-jitsu" I've been reading so much about in the papers.

Pa Twaddles—Mrs. T., if you bring another of those new breakfast foods into the house I leave. Now that settles it.—Cleveland Leader.

Variable.

Harry—What a sweet voice your wife has—I heard her talking over the 'phone.

Dick—Umhuh. She always talks that way over the 'phone.—Detroit Free Press.

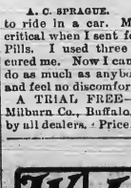
"I couldn't make it at poetry," said the author, "but I've struck it rich at last, for I've written a cook book, with only a rhyme here and there between the vegetables!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Millions in Oats.

Salzer's New National Oats yielded in Mich., 240 bu., in Mo., 255 bu., in N. D., 310 bu., and in 30 other states from 150 to 300 bu. per acre. Now this Oat is generally grown in 1905, will add millions of bushels to the yield and millions of dollars to the farmer's purse!

Homebuilder Yellow Dent Corn grows like a weed and yields from 157 to 260 bushels and more per acre! It's the biggest yielder on earth!

Salzer's Speltz, Beardless Barley, Macaroni Wheat, Pea Oat, Billion Dollar Grass and Earliest Cane are money makers for you, Mr. Farmer.



JUST SEND THIS NOTICE AND 10c in stamps to John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., and receive their big catalog and lots of farm seed samples. [K. L.]

"Wid some folks," said Uncle Eben, "bein' out o' work is a misfortune, an' wid others it's a habit."—Washington Star.

TORTURING PAIN.

Half This Man's Sufferings Would Have Killed Many a Person, But Doan's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

A. C. Sprague, stock dealer, of Normal, Ill., writes: "For two whole years I was doing nothing but buying medicines to cure my kidneys. I do not think that any man ever suffered as I did and lived. The pain in my back was so bad that I could not sleep at night. I could not ride a horse, and sometimes was unable even to ride in a car. My condition was critical when I sent for Doan's Kidney Pills. I used three boxes and they cured me. Now I can go anywhere and do as much as anybody. I sleep well and feel no discomfort at all."

A. C. SPRAGUE.

A TRIAL FREE—Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

HOW THEY MAINTAIN THE CHARMS OF THEIR SEX.

The Importance that Attaches to the Care of the Blood If One Wants Bright Eyes and a Clear Complexion.

Every sensible woman naturally wishes to appear attractive. She knows the value of bright eyes, delicate complexion and lively spirits. She knows also that good health is at the basis of her charms, and that good blood is the source of good health.

Miss Mamie Conway has a complexion which is the admiration of all who know her. Asked if she could make any suggestions that would be helpful to others less fortunate, she said:

"My complexion would not have pleased you, if you had seen it two years ago. It was then about as bad as it could be, and it gave me a great deal of dissatisfaction. If you want a good complexion you must take care of your health, especially of the condition of your blood. My health was at that time completely broken down. I was nervous, had frequent headaches, a torpid liver and a great deal of pain in that region. I suffered also from indigestion. It was clear that my blood was in bad condition, for pimples broke out all over my face."

"It is hard to realize that, for there isn't the slightest trace of such blemishes now."

"It was unfortunately quite otherwise then, and a long time passed before I found anything that gave me any relief. I became very weak and listless. The doctor's medicine did me no good, and I took a number of highly recommended tonics with no better result. As soon, however, as I began to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People my complexion cleared up, and after I had taken two boxes there was not a sign of a pimple left on my face. My cheeks became rosy, I gained flesh and have had perfect health ever since."

Rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes are merely signs of healthy blood. They have come not only in the case of Miss Conway, whose home is at 1211 East Eighth street, Canton, Ohio, but to thousands of women for whom Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made new blood. There is no surer way for you to obtain them, than to buy a box of these pills from any druggist and try them for yourself. They correct irregularities and banish weakness.

Positive, Comparative, Superlative

"I have used one of your Fish Brand Slickers for five years and now want a new one, also one for a friend. I would not be without one for twice the cost. They are just as far ahead of a common coat as a common one is ahead of nothing."

(NAME ON APPLICATION)

Be sure you don't get one of the common kind—this is the mark of excellence.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND

A. J. TOWER CO.
BOSTON, U. S. A.

TOWER CANADIAN CO., LIMITED
TORONTO, CANADA

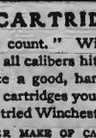
Makers of Wet Weather Clothing and Hats

PISO'S TABLETS

The New Boon for Woman's Ills.

SILENT suffering from any form of female disorder is no longer necessary. Many modest women would rather die by inches than consult anyone, even by letter, about their private troubles. PISO'S TABLETS attack the source of the disease and give relief from the start. Whatever form of illness afflicts you, our interesting treatise, Cause of Diseases in Women, will explain your trouble and our method of cure. A copy will be mailed free with a Generous Sample of the Tablets, to any woman addressing

THE PISO COMPANY
Clark and Liberty Streets, WARREN, PA.



Strawberry and Vegetable Dealers

The Passenger Department of the Illinois Central Railroad Company have recently issued a publication known as Circular No. 12, in which is described the best territory in this country

for the growing of early strawberries and early vegetables. Every dealer in such products should address a postal card to the undersigned at CHICAGO, ILL., requesting a copy of "Circular No. 12."

J. F. MERRY, Asst. Gen'l Pass'r Agent.

MOTHER GRAY'S SWEET POWDERS FOR CHILDREN,

A Certain Cure for Feverishness, Constipation, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders and Destroy Worms. They Break up Colds in 24 hours. At all Druggists, 25 cts. Don't Accept any Substitute. Sample mailed FREE. Address, MOTHER GRAY, LeRoy, N.Y.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

WINCHESTER

RIFLE & PISTOL CARTRIDGES.

"It's the shots that hit that count." Winchester Rifle and Pistol Cartridges in all calibers hit, that is, they shoot accurately and strike a good, hard, penetrating blow. This is the kind of cartridges you will get, if you insist on having the time-tried Winchester make.

ALL DEALERS SELL WINCHESTER MAKE OF CARTRIDGES.

LIVE STOCK AND MISCELLANEOUS ELECTROTYPES
In great variety for sale at the lowest prices by A. D. S. KELLOGG NEWSPAPER CO., 79 W. Adams St., Chicago

BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH
SYRUP cures coughs and colds.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION

NOAH, THE SHIPBUILDER AND PREACHER

OUR SERMON STORY by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher.

(A Vision Between the Lines of God's Inspired Word.)

(Copyright, 1906, by J. M. Edson.)

Scripture Authority:—"In the days of Noah, they did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all."—Luke 17:26, 27. "And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was evil continually. . . . But Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord, and walked with God."—Gen. 6:5, 8, 9. "By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith."—Heb. 11:7. "Noah, a preacher of righteousness."—2 Pet. 2:5. Read all of Gen. 6.

WEIRD, wild music fills the air. There is merry-making in the rude village. Javan, the leader of the town, had just taken to himself another wife, his third, who had met his fancy on a recent trip to the land of Nod, where the daughters were fair, and after whom the sons of God were fast ing drawn away. A reckless, wanton company of merry-makers had returned with him, bringing their music, and their liquors with them. Feasting and dancing and all manner of excesses marked these occasions. The desires of the flesh ruled supreme, and no bounds were placed upon the gratification thereof. Might not right decided issues, and won its desired ends. Violence and passion were unrestrained. God was forgotten.

Such a scene was Javan's festival, and while the wild frolicing was at its height, there suddenly strode into the midst of the company a man of commanding figure. All eyes were turned upon the intruder, but he never flinched before the unfriendly looks, and faltered not until he stood before Javan.

A painful pause marked the coming of the stranger. The look of recognition which Javan flashed at him was full of hatred, but he waited for the other to speak.

Javan, what meaneth this wicked revelry? Why these ribald companions, these godless sons of Cain? Hast thou, too, forgotten the admonitions of thy fathers? Hast thou altogether given thyself over to thy fleshy appetites and passions? Fearest thou not God? He who has made us, Who rules in Heaven, Who sees us at this moment, will surely bring thee and this people, who are turning altogether away from God, into judgment. In the name of the Lord, whom I serve, I command that this revelry cease, and that thou send this woman and her baseless companions back to the land from whence they came!"

Thus spake Noah, the preacher, and thus had he spoken again and again all through the land as he rebuked the rising tide of sin. Evil must berebuked. The godless must be told of God, so that they might be without excuse before Him. But evil persisted in and hugged to the heart becomes dearer, and each rebuke administered becomes more distasteful, until at last unrestrained anger blazes forth upon the one who dares to interfere or rebuke the evil.

So it was upon this occasion of Javan's merry-making. The wicked fellows with him were only too willing to fall upon the defenseless servant of God, and, dragging him forth and beating him at every step, they left him for dead under a clump of trees at some distance from the house, and then returned to renew the wild orgy with more reckless abandon than before.

How long he lay there Noah never knew, but with the return of consciousness it seemed as though he was lifted up, up, up. The wild music and the noise of revelry seemed to fade in the distance and then was gone, and in its place the sweetest strains of Celestial music fell upon his ears and soothed the throbbing senses to calm and rest. Then, although he saw no one, it seemed as though gentle hands were laid upon his fevered brow and aching head, and the pain was for Expectantly he waited, seeing naught, and knowing not where he was, and yet his brain and every sense were quickened and on the alert. Clear and distinct and authoritative came a voice he knew to be none other than the voice of God, saying:

"The end of all flesh is come before Me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and behold I will destroy them with the earth."

The voice ceased, and a sob burst from the lips of the heart-broken preacher. Was this, then, to be the end of all his struggle against sin?

How faithful Noah had been. The 500 years of his life thus far had been lived faithfully for God. His earliest years had felt the influence of the revival of religion which had followed the translation of Enoch. He had heard the wonderful story from his grandfather, Methuselah's, lips, and the impressions of those early years had deepened as he had grown to manhood and felt the mission of God resting upon him to preach faith in and obedience to Him. One after another he had seen the patriarchs pass away, and more and more he had found the rising generations turning from God and corrupting their ways upon the earth, until, as we have seen, Noah's rebukes are met by unyielding stubbornness and violence. And now as far as Noah knew there was none of his own people or relatives who stood with him or sympathized with him in his struggle for righteousness save his father Lamech, and his aged grandfather, Methuselah, and his faithful wife.

All this and and terrible condition passed before the mind of Noah when God had ceased speaking, and yet His words of judgment on a sinful and unrepentant world fell like a crushing burden upon Noah's heart, and he exclaimed:

"Let me plead yet a little longer with my people! It may be that they will yet hear Thy message."

"Yea, yet a little longer shalt thou be a testimony against the people of the earth, that they may be wholly without excuse," spake God. "Make thee an ark of gopher wood, rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch. And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of."

Long and carefully did God instruct Noah in the task appointed him. Minutely did he point out each detail and part of the work, and then came the vision of the completed ark as it would be when he had finished it, and with the vision he awoke.

The music and shouts and songs of the revelry broke on his ear, and as he slowly arose and made his way homeward he pondered deeply in his heart all that had come to pass, and found in his wife and father and grandfather sympathetic and interested listeners to his wonderful story.

"God spoke of sons who are to be sheltered with us in the ark, while as yet no child has come to bless our home," said Noah in conclusion.

A gleam of hope and joy sprang in the eyes of the wife, whose hungry heart had been waiting all the years for the coming of little ones, and she exclaimed:

"Surely, this shall be a sign unto us of God's presence and favor, and the promise of a new race and people."

The years rolled by, busy years for Noah, as he labored in gathering materials for his great ship, and trying years as he suffered under the ridicule and persecution of his countrymen.

Javan came around a short time after Noah had begun the task of gathering the materials for the ark. He listened to the story, and Noah warned him of the coming judgment of God.

"You needn't worry so much about the judgment of your so-called God, as you need to worry over the judgment of some of those against whom you are preaching so much," sneered Javan as he turned to go, and making a sinister motion towards the timbers Noah was preparing in the center of the grove of gopher wood.

Once Noah found his timbers cut in such a way that, had they gone into the ark undiscovered, they would have endangered the structure as it rode on the waves. At another time he found the planking bored full of holes and filled again with a substance that hid the holes but would have soaked out and admitted the water. Javan's hand was in it, as Noah knew, but the spirit of God made Noah keen to detect every attempt against the ark's safety.

But Javan was overheard to say one day:

"Flood or no flood, that thing will never float!"

In the early years of the building the promise of God of sons was fulfilled in the birth of three boys, and the glad parents named them Shem, Ham and Japheth. Noah saw in their coming the sign of God's favor and rejoiced as he labored.

So through the years the work progressed. The years lengthened into decades, and the decades piled up towards the century mark. The tenth decade had begun and the ark was nearing completion. The great hulk loomed up again the sky. From far it could be seen and during all these years multitudes had flocked to see it, and had heard Noah's warnings.

Father Lamech and Grandfather Methuselah, who were still members of Noah's household, had helped in the work of building. The pitching of the craft was almost completed. Another day was drawing near its close and Noah had gone home, while Lameeh lingered to put a few final touches upon some of the inner work.

A stealthy tread in the gallery below arrested his attention and hastening thither he saw in the gloom a crouching figure gathering chips and preparing to fire the inflamable structure, for with its pitch within and without it would have burned like tinder.

It was but the work of a second to knock the flaming torch from the hand of the intruder and stamp out its fire, and then the two men grappled in deadly strife.

The next morning the mystery of Lamech's absence was explained as Noah found his father's cold form stretched by the side of his old enemy Javan. Upon the face of Lamech there rested a joyful smile of victory, for he had triumphed over God's enemy and had gone to his reward, while horror and fear distorted the features of Javan as he entered the valley of death and came face to face with God.

This tragedy brought grief to Noah's household, but it also revealed to them the protecting presence of God in preserving the ark from destruction, and they were devoutly thankful.

Noah bore tidings of the ignominious death of Javan to his household. He spoke of God, and pointed out the certain punishment of sin and unbelief, and warned of the coming judgment. And that day Noah's preaching was not in vain, for three of Javan's fair daughters were brought to repentance and faith in God.

How mysterious are God's providences. Out of his enemy's household God gave Noah souls for his bire, and these three sisters found refuge and salvation in the ark as the wives of Noah's sons.

MET TERRIBLE DEATH.

Grand Duke Sergius, Uncle of the Czar, Assassinated.

A Bomb Thrown Under His Carriage Exploded, Tearing the Victim's Body Into Ghastly Fragments, Littering the Snow.

Moscow, Feb. 18.—Within the walls of the far-famed Kremlin palace, and almost underneath the historical tower from which Ivan the Terrible watched the heads of his enemies falling beneath the ax on the famous Red square, and within a stone's throw of the great bell of Moscow, Grand Duke Sergius, uncle and brother-in-law of Emperor Nicholas, and the chief of the reactionaries, met a terrible death. The deed was committed by a single terrorist, who threw beneath the carriage of the grand duke a bomb charged with the same high power explosive which wrought Minister von Plehve's death. The missile was packed with nails and fragments of iron and its explosion tore the imperial victim's body to ghastly fragments, which strewd the snow for yards around.

The assassin belongs to the noted "fighting group" of the socialist revolutionary party, which has removed other prominent officials and long since passed sentence of death upon Grand Duke Sergius. The grand duke knew that he stood in the shadow of death.

When the duke's carriage was in front of the courts of justice, where the walls of the triangle approach forming a narrow entrance to the Nikolsky gate, a man clad in workman's attire stepped forward from the sidewalk and threw a bomb which he had concealed beneath his coat. A terrible explosion followed and a hail of iron pelted the grim stone walls of the arsenal and courts of justice. A thick cloud of smoke, snow and debris arose. When it had cleared a ghastly sight was presented. On the snow lay fragments of the body of Grand Duke Sergius, mingled with the wreck of the carriage. The grand duke's head had been torn from his body and reduced to a shapeless pulp and the trunk and limbs were frightfully mangled. A finger bearing a rich seal ring was found lying several yards away.

The crimson tint and sickening smell of blood were everywhere. Only a few fragments of cloth indicated that the body had been once clothed.

The coachman lay moaning with pain beside a deep hole in the pavement. The horses, dragging the front wheels of the carriage, had dashed off, maddened with pain, to sink dying before they reached the gate.

Police officials rapidly gathered, but before anything could be done towards collecting the scattered fragments of the body, Grand Duchess Elizabeth drove up in an open carriage. She had dropped her work at the headquarters of the Red Cross and sped to the scene of the crime without waiting to don her outer wraps. She broke down entirely at the sight and dropped to her knees, sobbing bitterly.

The assassin was thrown to the ground and stunned by the force of the explosion, but he quickly arose and ran toward the gate, attempting to escape. His haste, and the blood streaming from his face where he had been wounded by fragments of the bomb, attracted the attention of a sergeant of police, who seized him before he could draw his revolver. The man did not deny his crime, but on the contrary, gloried in its success.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 20.—It has now been definitely decided that the remains of Grand Duke Sergius will not be brought to St. Petersburg for the present, but will be placed in a temporary receiving vault of the cloister of the Chandoff monastery, to await the completion of alterations now in progress in the Romanoff mausoleum in the cathedral of St. Peter and St Paul, where the permanent interment will occur, among the tombs of his ancestors. On account of lack of space in the mausoleum it was decided last year henceforth to bury only rulers of the dynasty in the old mausoleum and a new sepulchre in the new wing of the cathedral is now being built for other members of the imperial family.

So grave is the danger of a repetition of the Moscow tragedy that several of the grand dukes have not stirred out of their palaces since the murder, and instead of going to Tsarsko-Seio to attend the requiem there, they have participated in special services held in the chapels of their own palaces. This was the case as regards the Grand Dukes Vladimir and Alexis. A special requiem also was held in the winter palace that Gov. Gen. Trepoff might attend. Gen. Trepoff is known to be under sentence by the fighting organization of the social revolutionists, and so far as can be ascertained, has not left his quarters in the palace since the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius.

The Strike Spreading.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 18.—The strike is extending. About 6,400 employes of the Newsky thread works joined in the movement. The strikers now total about 30,000. The temper of the men is more threatening and Cossacks have been called out.

Appeals For Peace.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 18.—The Empress of Russia has received from the women of Moscow an address piteously appealing to her as a woman and a mother to use her influence with the emperor to secure peace.

FIRE IN INDIANAPOLIS.

Property Destroyed to the Amount of $1,100,000 in Wholesale District.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—For four hours the wholesale district, bounded by Georgia and Meridian streets, Jackson place and the Union depot sheds, were menaced by a fire which started in the wholesale warerooms of the Fahnley & McCrea Millinery Co.

At 9:30 o'clock three general alarms brought into action every department in the city and suburbs. When the fire was brought under control eight buildings, among which were three hotels, had been completely destroyed, causing a loss estimated at $1,100,000.

The following are the principal losses as estimated by a prominent insurance man: Fahnley & McCrea, building, $125,000; loss on stock, $260,000; insurance, $290,000. A. Kiefer Drug Co., building, $70,000; stock, $225,000; insurance, $245,000. Griffiths Bros., building, $50,000; stock, $150,000; insurance, $160,000. E. C. Dolmetsch Co. building, $50,000; stock, $40,000; insurance, $65,000. Sherman house, building, $45,000; stock, $10,000; insurance, $35,000. Savoy hotel, building, $20,000; stock, $10,000; insurance, $15,000. St. Charles hotel, building, $12,000; stock, $10,000; insurance, $11,000. Muir Millinery Co., building, $5,000; stock, $10,000; insurance, $13,000. Total loss, $1,100,000.

GEN. STOESSEL.

Lieut. Below Characterizes Him As a Coward.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 20.—Aboard the steamer Tartar, which arrived here, were Lieuts. Below and Bondy, officers of the Russian cruiser Sevastopol, captured at the fall of Port Arthur. They were released by the Japanese after giving their parole. The captain of the Sevastopol and a number of other prisoners recently released are expected to reach San Francisco shortly. Lieut. Below characterizes Gen. Stoessel as a coward. "The world will know Stoessel as he is," said Below. "He is a coward. Stoessel was burrowed a great deal of the time in a cave. The real heroine was Madame Zouhoneli, who, when her husband was killed, took command of a battery of three 11-inch guns at a point commanding the water supply and held them until she was also killed."

St. Petersburg, Feb. 20.—According to a dispatch from Mukden, special reports have been received at that place stating the surrender of Port Arthur occurred against the wishes of most officers of the garrison.

THE DYING CONGRESS.

Effort to Be Made to Consider the Statehood Bill in Conference.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The senate this week will consider the motion to appoint conferences on the joint statehood bill. The general understanding is that this action will prevail and that the bill will go to conference. In case the committee recedes from the important senate amendments a sharp contest probably will ensue.

Nothing but absolutely necessary legislation is the order in the house for the week. This legislation so far as can be indicated in advance will consist of the completion of the naval appropriation bill on Monday and consideration of the river and harbor and sundry civil appropriation bills, a program which will occupy the week.

The statehood bill is to be considered in conference, but there is nothing to indicate that an agreement will be reached before the session is in its last moments.

The public buildings bill is to be a matter of contest between the committee on rules and those members of the house who are enthusiastic in its support.

THOMAS W. LAWSON.

Senator Fisher Received a Telegram From the Financier.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 20.—A telegram received by Senator Fisher, member of the legislative committee investigating the Standard Oil corruption charges contained in the Elliott letter, from Thomas W. Lawson, Boston, states: "I would do anything possible to wipe 'Standard Oil' and the 'system' from the face of the earth. The people of West Virginia, as elsewhere, can depend upon me now or any time to do any and everything in my power to free them from the devilish oppression of these things."

The committee of which Fisher is a member has finished taking evidence but has not yet made its report.

Mrs. Chadwick's Wealth.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 20.—Collector of Customs Leach has so minutely traced the operations of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick during the last four years that he is in a position to know that she has saved from her many financial transactions $1,000,000 in cash and $150,000 in jewels.

House Conducted Memorial Services.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house in special session, the senate being represented, conducted memorial services in tribute to the memory of the late Senator Matthew Stanley Quay, of Pennsylvania. Mr. Dalzell presided.

To Teach Hygiene and Temperance.

Mexico City, Feb. 20.—The women members of the Anti-Alcoholic League are contemplating visits to workshops and large factories for the purpose of instructing operatives in matters of hygiene and temperance.

STATE NEWS PICK-UPS

SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR.

The Hunt Site Bill Is Now in Full Force and Effect.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 15.—Gov. Beckham signed and approved the "Hunt site bill" and it is now in full force and effect. The state house commissioners held a meeting and had all the owners of the Hunt site land before them endeavoring to reach an agreement by which the line on the north of the Hunt property, from Shelby to Logan streets, can be made straight, so that a broad street can be opened along the north border of the property. The property owners announced that they would agree among themselves to make the line straight. A proposition will be made to the city of Frankfort to purchase a strip of ground 40 feet wide and 400 feet long so as to make Main street 90 feet wide for its full length up to the Hunt site. If the city will do this the commissioners will open up a street 100 feet wide from Shelby to Logan streets, a distance of 900 feet.

CHARGED WITH SHORTAGE.

Sheriff Resigned and Was Arrested By His Deputy.

Hazard, Ky., Feb. 16.—Monday morning Sheriff E. H. Cornett handed his resignation to County Judge Eversole, and it is alleged fled to escape arrest by bondsmen for the embezzlement of $3,500.

Deputy Sheriff Combs is now on his way back to Hazard with Cornett in his custody.

Cornett's alleged shortage followed the failure to obtain his quietus from the state auditor in December. His bondsmen, however, immediately came to Cornett's rescue and put up the $2,700 necessary to get his quietus, which he secured just in the nick of time to execute his bond, as the law prescribes that a sheriff must have obtained his quietus and produced it in open court on the first Monday in January. The bondsmen say they will prosecute him to the fullest extent of the law.

COLORED MURDERER HANGED.

He Confessed To the Shocking Crime While on the Scaffold.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 18.—Roy Green, colored, was hanged here for the brutal murder of James Coomes, a white man, at the fair grounds on July 31, last year. A large crowd of farmers witnessed the execution in the jail yard. Green had previously maintained his innocence, but when he mounted the scaffold he confessed committing the cruel murder. He claimed, however, he killed Coomes in self-defense, but the evidence at the trial showed that the crime was one of the most cold-blooded and shocking ever perpetrated in this section of the state. After making his confession to the officers, the deputy sheriffs adjusted the black cap, and a few seconds later his body dropped into space. The fall broke his neck, and he was pronounced dead in six minutes.

A DISCHARGED EMPLOYE.

Shot and Wounded President Stewart, of the Stewart Iron Works.

Covington, Ky., Feb. 17.—R. C. Stewart, jr., president and treasurer of the Stewart iron works, was shot over the heart by George J. Woelfel, 50, of 1044 Russell street, Covington, formerly one of his highest-salaried employes. The shooting took place in the office of the company, Seventeenth and Madison avenue, and the wounded man was aided to his home, 1531 Madison avenue, where his condition was pronounced not critical. Woelfel was arrested by Patrolmen Doheny and Schmeing on a charge of shooting to kill.

Continued Until March Term.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 17.—The case of Lewis Mitchell, the negro servant charged with an attempt to poison the family of Judge James H. Mulligan, and which created such a sensation at the time, was called in the circuit court and continued until the March term.

Protests Against Assessment.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 19.—Charles H. Berryman, manager of the Elmendorf farm of J. B. Haggin, has filed before County Judge F. A. Bullock a petition protesting against the valuation as fixed by the board of supervisors upon various tracts of land owned by Mr. Haggin.

Little Girl Burned To Death.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Feb. 18.—Ruth Kerrick, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kerrick, of near town, lost her life by fire. Her clothing ignited from the fireplace and she was so badly burned that she died shortly in the greatest agony.

Brakeman Badly Injured.

Clay City, Ky., Feb. 18.—An L. & E. freight brakeman named Strickiin was caught between the drawheads of two cars and badly bruised. The chances for his recovery are doubtful. He was taken to the hospital at Lexington.

The Second Set of Twins.

Henderson, Ky., Feb. 18.—Twin girls were born to the wife of County Clerk L. W. Powell. This is the second set of twins in this family within two years. There are 18 children in all in the family.

CHARGE AGAINST OFFICERS.

It Is Alleged That They Robbed Two Women.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 16.—William Gatts and James Rhodes, members of the Owensboro police force, were arrested on warrants sworn out by Mrs. Forest Mason and her sister, Susie Fields, charging them with robbery and breach of the peace.

The women allege that the officers came to their home in the western part of the city, and demanded $25 from each. The policemen, the women say, beat them and knocked them about the room. They then drew their pistols and forced the women to get out all the money they possessed and give it to them. The women also charge the officers with taking the Fields girl to the front porch and tearing her clothes off. The thermometer was at zero at the time and she suffered intensely from the cold. The officers resigned from the police force.

THE HARGIS HEARING.

Chief Justice Hobson Postponed It Until February 25.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 18.—Chief Justice Hobson, of the Kentucky court of appeals, postponed until Saturday, February 25, next, the hearing before that court of the Hargis case, involving the question of jurisdiction between the Fayette and Breathitt county circuit courts in the murder trials.

The continuance was granted because of the illness of Magistrate Edwards, of Breathitt, the principal witness of both sides.

In continuing the hearing, the court ordered that the answer of the state be filed, and permits the attorneys for the Hargises to take the deposition of Edwards, to be used only in the event that he is not able to be here when the case is again called.

THE WINCHESTER COLLEGE.

The Methodist Board Has Decided To Rebuild the Structure.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 18.—Accepting an offer made by the people of Winchester to the educational board of the Methodist Episcopal church south, the latter body, which met here, decided to rebuild at once the college destroyed by fire in Winchester. Winchester people appeared before the board and offered to give any amount necessary to reconstruct the college buildings over and above the $20,000 insurance money. This left the board with nothing to replace but the library and furniture for the buildings.

W. E. BRADLEY.

The Well-Known Distiller Succumbed To Heart Disease.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 17.—W. E. Bradley, 63, assistant treasurer and general manager of the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Co., and brother of Edson Bradley, president of the company, of New York, and one of the promoters of the company, died of heart disease after returning from the theater. He was born in New York and is one of the best-known distillers in America. He leaves an estate of over half a million and is survived by a wife and two children.

Unknown Man Killed.

Covington, Ky., Feb. 16.—An unknown man was killed by a train on the L. & N. tracks back of the car barns in Central Covington. The man's neck was broken and his right arm and side were considerably mangled by the wheels of the train.

They Deny the Report.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 18.—Officials of the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railroad deny that they are planning to build their own line from West Point to Louisville, thus abandoning their present use of the Illinois Central tracks.

He Gave Bond.

Hazard, Ky., Feb. 18.—E. H. Cornett, late sheriff of Perry county, was arraigned, waived examination and gave bond. He is charged with the embezzlement of public money. His alleged shortage amounts to $3,000 or $3,500.

Young Man Shot By a Physician.

Smithland, Ky., Feb. 17.—Blunt Hodge, a young man of Smithland, was shot and dangerously wounded by Dr. Fred G. LaRue, who claimed that Hodge had broken up his home. The physician fired four times at Hodge, three bullets taking effect.

Made Special Judge.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 18.—Gov. Beckham appointed R. B. Petris, of Todd county, to serve as special circuit judge in Logan county for the coming term, the regular judge being unable to sit.

Had To Be Killed.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 17.—Col. Milton Young had the misfortune to lose a valuable and promising colt through an accident at the association track. The youngster was being led over the ground when he slipped on the ice and fell, breaking a leg.

Given Death Sentence.

Madisonville, Ky., Feb. 16.—The jury in the case of Garth Tompkins, colored, charged with the murder of Jim Brame, colored, two years ago last Christmas, returned a verdict of guilty and fixed punishment at death.

To the Tobacco Growers or Boone County.

Knowing that the farmers and tobacco growers are nearer united now than ever before, and that a failure now would be very disastrous, both now and hereafter, I desire to make through the RECORDER one more proposition to at least, partially hold together [illegible]

I have both warehouse room and force to care far at least 500,000 pounds of tobacco, and will agree to finance this much. And I propose if the owners of tobocco want to pool, and deliver their goods at my warehouse at Richwood, Ky., we will have a fair valuation put on all grades of tobacco and each holder of tobacco so delivered will be a stockholder and have a voice in electing a committee or board of directors to manage the sale or disposition of the tobacco. If any farmer should need his money, we will loan him two-thirds (⅔) of the full valuation of his crop and take his note bearing interest, his tobacco being the only collateral we will ask.

By every man paying the interest on what money he is using there will be no other expense on the tobacco, except insurance and handling.

We think that by pooling this way we can get the tobacco in quantity and in order, and keep it from being thrown on the market until the time comes to get paying prices, and will induce the manufacturers to come and hunt us up to buy it. This will give the grower a chance to hold his tobacco for better prices, and at same time have the use of his money.

If the growers of tobacco want to take advantage of this proposition, we stand ready now at any time to comply, and would be pleased to hear from them.

I believe if this one neighborhood will start the pooling business that other places will soon follow.

Respectfully, J. C. HUGHES.

[From The New York Times.]

What is marriage?

Marriage is an institution for the blind.

Why do some people never marry?

Because they do not believe in divorce.

When a man thinks seriously of marrying, what happens?

He remains single.

Does a girl ever think of anything but marriage?

Only that, and how to get married.

Should a man marry a girl for her money?

No. But he should not let her become an old maid just because she's rich.

Is an engagement as good as marriage?

It's better.

How may we tell when a courtship has progressed?

When the man takes to yawning in the girl's presence.

When two thin people become engaged, what happens?

They immediately grow very thick.

When a man has popped the question, is he finished?

No; he has yet to question Pop.

When asking papa, how should a young man act?

He should face papa manfully and never give him a chance at his back.

Why does a bride wear a veil?

So that she may conceal her satisfaction.

When a man marries has he seen the end of trouble?

Yes, but it is usually the wrong end.

What is greater than a wife's love? Her temper.

Do married women suffer in silence?

Yes, they all suffer when they may not talk.

When a man says he can manage his wife, what does he mean?

He means he can make her do anything she wants to.

Is it possible for a married man to be a fool without knowing it?

Not if his wife is alive?

What is a mother-in-law?

See General Sherman's definition of war?

How did the western man solve the mother-in-law question?

When she came to spend the summer with him, he hired a Christian Scientist to come and give the old lady absent treatment.

Was it effective?

Yes; she went away and never came back.

Another Case of Rheumatism Cured by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

The efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the relief of rheumatism is being demonstrated daily. Parker Triplett, of Grigsby, Va., says that Chamberlain's Pain Balm gave him permanent relief from rheumatism of the back when everything else failed, and he would not be without it. For sale by all Druggists.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by all Druggists.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, The Supreme Ruler of the Universe has in his infinite wisdom removed from our midst Brother James Smith, who departed this life Jan. 20, 1905. By his death Golden Grange No. 346, has lost a devoted, faithful and consistent member, one who loved and labored for the good of the order, and never lost faith in the ultimate accomplishment of its aims and purposes; and the long, pleasant and fraternal relations held with him in the faithful discharge of his duties in the Grange, makes it a labor of love, as well as eminently befitting that we record our kindest regards and appreciation of him, therefore

Resolved, That the removal of such a noble character and life from our Grange and community, leaves a vacancy and a shadow of gloom that is deeply felt and realized by his family, relatives, friends and members of the Grange, and will prove a great loss to our order and the community.

Resolved, That with deep and abiding sympathy with his family, relatives and friends, we express our hope that such a loss to all may be overruled for good by Him who doeth all things well

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be placed among our records, a copy be sent to the bereaved family and published in the Boone County RECORDER and the Grange Bulletin.

J. W. Kennedy,
Annie Bristow, } Com.
Nannie D Bristow,

By order Golden Grange.

When You have a Cold.

The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This Remedy liquefies the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by all Druggists.

Uncle Button Smith was in town yesterday the first time since the Saturday following the November election. He is looking very well.

Bluford Allen and wife, of Big Bone, are guests of his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Adams. Previous to last May he was located in the North west for several years, where he was married last June.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to be ware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you, is our name on the wrapper. Look for it, on all Dr. King's or Buckien's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. BUCKLEN, & CO., Chicago. Ill., and Windsor, Canada. For sale by all Druggists.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of Execution No. 8561 directed to me, which issued from the Clerk's Office of the Boone Circuit Court, in favor of Mary L Sullivan by her guardian, Woodie Sullivan against A. C. Porter, &c., I or one of my deputies, will, on Monday the 6th day of March, 1905, between the hours of one o'clock p. m., and 3 o'clock p. m., at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., expose to public sale, to the highest bidder, the following described property, (or so much thereof, as may be necessary to satisfy plaintiff's debt, interest and costs to-wit

The following described tract of land situated in Boone county, Ky., on the waters of Woolper creek adjoining J J. Lillard, J. E. Walton and others and bounded thus, to-wit: Beginning at J. J. Lillard's corner, a Sugar tree and Horn Bean on Long Branch; thence up the meanders of the branch s 22 e 68 poles, s 50 e 23 poles, s 29 e 14 poles s 78 e 31 poles, s 9 e 33 poles to a stake on said branch, a little above the mouth of a small branch; thence up it s 83 e 21½ poles, to a corner with said Cloud on said small branch; thence with his line n 28½ e 86 poles to a stone; thence n 4 e 11 poles to a Beech tree, n 84 e 53½ poles to a corner with said Cloud—north fork of a branch; thence down the meanders thereof n 16½ w 24 poles, n 62 w 26 poles; thence n 22 w 13 poles to a Sycamore stump and Sugar tree on the north side of said branch, about 4 poles below Reuben Jarrell's Sycamore corner; thence s 83½ w 36½ poles to a stone a few links northeast of a Hickory on top of the hill; thence 68 w 52 poles to a stone in Thomas line; thence with it s 13 e 13 1-20 poles to a Blue Ash, s 17½ e 14 poles to the beginning, containing 84 acres and 8 roods. Also the following piece, a strip being an outlet; Beginning at a stone a corner in the Phillip Thomas line and corner to the above described tract; thence n 13 w 11 4-10 poles to a stake; thence n 32 w 24 poles poles n 1½ e 14 8-10 poles to the center of Woolper creek n 59½ e 1½ poles; then s 1½ and varying to be parallel with the north line of said outlet to the aforesaid tract of 84 acres and 8 roods making a road 20 feet wide, levied upon as the property of O. T. Porter.

Terms:—Sale will be made on a credit of six months, bonds with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, from day of sale and having the force and effect of a Judgment. Amount to be made by sale, $1,895 30.

E. B. ALLPHIN, Sheriff B. C.
Feb. 14th, 1905.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,
GRASS SEEDS, FLOUR AND SALT.

We have it, you want it, come and get our choice Hay, Timothy, Clover, and Straw by

The Bale or Ton.

CORN by the car load or bushel—shelled or ear;
OATS, the best, in any quantity;
MILL FEED at lowest price for good quality of feed;
SALT that will not harden in the barrel;
GRASS SEEDS including Timothy, Clover and Blue Grass

THAT WILL GROW.

We are making a specialty of Good Blue Grass Seeds and have a nice lot of Fancy Cleaned Hand-Stripped Seed that has

Been Tested and It Grows.

OUR FLOUR CAN'T BE BEAT!

It is made from the best wheat that can be had, and it makes good bread; Try a Barrel and if you don't like it bring it back and get your money back.

WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

We want your trade, give us a trial and be convinced that you

.....Want Our Goods.....

R B. HUEY & CO.,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WHAT IS HOME
WITHOUT AN UP-TO-DATE
IRON FENCE?

—MAKES HOME ATTRACTIVE.—

Lasts a Lifetime. Low Prices-Surprising.

For Best Prices Call or Write to

HENRY QUICK, Hebron, Ky.,
—SPECIAL AGENT FOR—
The Stewart Iron Works Company,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

RINGS, WATCHES
and CLOCKS
LAVED
AND REPAIRED
KNOWINGLY

For the Best Flour, Try
OLD KENTUCKY
BLENDED PATENT.
—GUARANTEED.—
ooo
For Something Good, Try
VIRGINIA OAK
WINTER PATENT.
—WARRANTED.—
ooo
Clifford E. Nadaud,
515 Chamber of Commerce,
CINCINNATI, O.
Room 10 Boone Block,
COVINGTON, KY.

FOR RENT
Farm of 45 Acre

Situated on the Lexington pike between Florence and Erlanger, known as the Abel Carpenter place. This farm is well improved, with a moderm eight-room house and all necessary outbuildings. For terms apply to
Mrs. MARY A. CARPENTER,
Florence, Ky.

Don't Forget—

That our Gunpowder and Blended Teas are the finest to be had and you don't have to pay any extra price either.

40c, 60c, 75c lb.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.
Covington, Ky.
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington.

J. P. HEMPHILL
THE DRUGGIST
at Rising Sun, Ind.,
....Carries a full line of....
DRUGS,
PAINTS,
OILS AND VARNISHES.
In fact any and all articles kept in a first-class Drug Store, and wants to meet his Kentucky friends.
—CALL AND SEE HIM.—
Yours Respectfully,
J. P. HEMPHILL,
Rising Sun, Indiana.

50 WOMEN
WILL BE TAKEN
BY THE
Cincinnati Commercial Tribune
ON A
TOUR OF EUROPE

They will go as guests of The Commercial Tribune absolutely

FREE,

With all expenses paid.

Read the Sunday Cincinnati Commercial Tribune for particulars.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of L. L. Tanner, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned properly according to law.

EZRA H. TANNER, Admr.

What More Could You Possibly desire in Clothes

Than to have them made from thoroughly tested fashionable fabrics—have them tailored in the best possible manner—have them fit satisfactorily, and have them make you appear a thoroughly dressed man? that's the sort that you get from

PIPER & WALTON,
Merchant Tailors,
142 E. Fourth St.,
Cincinnati, - - Ohio.
Rooms 2 and 3.

Our Fall & Winter Goods are now ready for inspection. Call and examine our stock.

In attendance at Burlington County Court days with samples.

"Always Reliable."
W.N. HIND & CO.
Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
213 W. 5th S., Cincinnati.

Rogers Bros. General Merchants,
BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST, - Florence, Ky.

Office at Burlington Every Monday. " at Latonia, Ky. Thursday-Friday the remainder of the time at Florence.
Remember I am a Painless Dentist.
PRICES REASONABLE.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
Extracting Teeth is only fun with my method.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.
AT UNION 1st MONDAY in each month.

Farm for Sale.

145 acres near Woolper creek in Boone county, Ky., now the property of Eneas Barrott, of Lawrenceburg, Ind. This farm has a large tobacco barn, large stable, two story frame house of 8 rooms, good cistern and well at house; large apple orchard and all other fruits. All this property is in first-class condition. For further information apply to B. B. Grant, who is now on the place, or to D. M. Snyder, Burlington, Ky.

DR. FENNER'S KIDNEY and Backache CURE

All diseases of Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs. Also Rheumatism, Backache, Heart Disease, Gravel, Dropsy, Female Troubles.

Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write Dr. Fenner. He has spent a life time curing just such cases as yours. All consultations Free.

"A gravel lodged in my bladder. After using a few bottles of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure I passed a gravel half as large as a marble. The medicine prevented further formation. I was cured.
W. T. OAKES, Ortiz, Va."

Druggists, 50c., $1. Ask for Cook Book—Free.

ST. VITUS' DANCE Cure Cure. Circular, Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

For sale by Aylor & Hafer, Hebron

Take the Recorder.

G. C. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D. Rouse's Store.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
H. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029.
Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.

Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL,..... ...$80,000
Surplus and undivided profits 30,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptremitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... .....$50,000
Surplus,.. ..... $8.000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.
Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.

Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, "
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy., R F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
R. B. Huey, Agent, - - Walton, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington,
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

FARM FOR SALE.
The A. P. Collins Farm Near Richwood, Ky.

Fine blue grass farm in Boone county, Ky., containing about 106 acres; good 8 room house and porches, barn, all kinds of out-buildings, good fencing, well watered with springs, wells, cistern and pond. A private avenue runs to the Lexington pike. The house is about 8 minutes walk to Richwood Station C. N. & T. P. R. R. Commuter rates to the city, 7½c a trip with four trains daily. Telegraph, telephone, express and post-office—four daily mails.

Also, 105 acres, the H. O. Rouse farm on the Union and Florence pike; good house of 7 rooms and all necessary outbuildings; well watered and land mostly in grass Apply to
W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXX. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1, 1905. NO. 20

County Correspondence.

KIDVILLE.

Feb. 27—The sick have abont all recovered.

The fur trade has not been very brisk here this winter, as the catch was very small.

Chas. Moore and wife were visiting his father, John Moore, at Taylorsport, Sunday.

Several from here went to see the ice breakup in the river, Sunday, but it didn't break.

The Farmers Tobacco Trust has failed, but the local buyers are offering very good prices

One of Burlington's tobacco buyers was in our ville buying tobacco, Saturday. He purchased 3 or 4 crops—10c being the highest price paid and 8c the lowest.

o o o

BUFFALO.

Homer Clore and wife both have lagrippe.

Mrs. Ed Utz entertained several of her friends at dinner, last Tuesday.

Sorry to report the sick in this neighborhood not improving very much.

Joseph Huey entertained with a tobacco stripping, Thursday afternoon.

Wilton Adams, of Walton, was visiting in this vicinity, several days last week.

Elijah and Tommie Stephens made a trip to East Bend after a load of hay, last Tuesday.

Mrs. Joe Love and Mrs. Annie Huey spent the day, last Friday, with Ras Stephens and wife.

Mrs. James Sebree and Miss Jessie Utz and grandmother, spent Thursday with Mrs. J. Q. Elstun.

Lucien Love, who went to the city to work, several days ago, will move back to the country and will work in a dairy.

Joseph Weaver, the Hathaway merchant, spent a couple of days in the city, last week, visiting relatives and friends.

o o o

HATHAWAY.

Feb. 27—Spring lambs are among the looks now.

Mrs. E. C. Franks was quite sick last week with the grippe.

The mud roads have resumed a different stage the past week.

Several in this neighborhood have sold their tobacco at prices ranging from 7 to 10c per pound.

Wm. L Stephens has moved to the house on Riddell's Run, vacated by A. O. Rouse some time ago.

Mrs. Sarah White spent last Tuesday very pleasantly with Mrs. Cynthia White, down on Gunpowder.

W. S. White and son, J. C. White, attended the funeral of Mrs. Minerva White, near Burlington, last Tuesday.

John Smith, jr. of Grant, was in this neighborhood, last week, buying tobacco. He was paying very satisfactory prices.

John D. McNeely and son, Lee, of this place, made a flying visit to friends and relatives in Gallatin county, a few days since.

The season has opened up now so that the farmers can push the work of stripping their tobacco and get it in the hands of the buyers.

J. W. Cammon, of Newport, Modern Woodman organizer, arrived at Rabbit Hash, last Thursday, and organized a lodge at that place. Mr. Cammon is a fine instructor and a nice gentleman in every respect.

The firm of Houston & Weaver will close out their business as merchants at this place, March 1st, and Mr. Houston will move to his farm near Gunpowder and Joe Weaver will go to his farm he recently purchased near Union and pitch a large crop of tobacco, and will board with Ransom Ryle, who will move to his place in the near future.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment of these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the thirty years and more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used, we have yet to learn of a single case of a cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. It is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results. Sold by all druggists.

[Kansas City Star.]

Here's a problem that comes from Joplin. Can you figure it out? A man wanted a ticket to Olathe and only had a $2 bill. It required $3 to get the ticket. He took the $2 bill to a pawnshop, pawned it for $1.50. On his way back to the depot he met a friend to whom he sold the pawn ticket for $1.50. That gave him $3. Now, who's out that dollar?

The Colonel's Waterloo.

Colonel John M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo, from Liver and Kidney trouble. In a recent letter, he says: "I was nearly dead, of these complaints, and although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold and guaranteed to cure, Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Kidney Disease, by all druggists at 50c a bottle.

COMMISSARY.

Feb. 25.—Every time a man calls his wife an angel she thinks he's been drinking.

W. S. Acra, of Piattsburg, was the guest of James Cloud, Monday night.

Jessie Louden and family spent Sunday with Richard Louden and family.

Will Sebree sold to Conner & Hogan, last Tuesday, a small crop of tobacco—835 pounds, at 5 and 8c.

Will Rogers and wife, Will Arnold and sister, Flo, spent last Sunday evening with Mrs. Scott near here.

Bob Popham, of Gunpowder creek, was a guest of Joe Vinson, near Lawrenceburg ferry, Saturday night.

Mrs. Thos. Delph, of near Idlewild, is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Jas. Feeley, at Sunnyside.

Miss Luella Fleek, of near Limaburg, has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Ed Burres during her recent illness.

A yearling steer belonging to W. B. Walton slipped and fell on the ice and slid quite a distance down a hill into a ravine, breaking its neck.

Miss Koons, an accomplished young lady of Bacon Branch, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs Ed Burres near here last Saturday night and Sunday.

Frank Riley and wife have gone to Barkworks, Ind, where they expect to make their home. Sorry to lose them as they were a worthy couple.

Bob Popham, of Gunpowder, passed through here, last Saturday, on his way to visit his mother, Mrs. Sarah Popham, of South Hogan, Ind.

George and Jack Koons, of Bacon Branch, and Gilly Welsickle, of Middle creek, and Clyde Berkshire, of Long Street, attended W S. Acra's sale.

Flave Louden and wife and Miss Pearl McGuire spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Lonisker, mother of Mrs. Louden and grandmother of Miss Pearl.

This item is a little old, but as it was given us by a neighbor, and as a greater number of participants in the affair are old Kentuckians it will interest many readers in old Boone. Mr. Conrad Oser (Supt. of Saline county Home) and wife, of Marshall, Mo., entertained the three County Judges at dinner, Feb. 11th. It was a swell affair. Mr. Oser and wife are Kentuckians, Mrs. Oser is a sister of Richard Louden, and Mr. Oser has been Supt. for a number of years. One of the judges is William Gaines a former resident of old Boone.

Mr. Lillard has a bird dog that is the dog of Burlington rural route. Just before the arrival of the mail he places himself on the portico and watches for mail wagon. When he sees it coming he runs to the window and barks to let them know the mail is coming, and then runs to Tom's cabin and barks to notify him. When Tom goes down to the mail box the dog always goes with him and it was in this way he learned what he knows of rural delivery. He understands the signal to a finish. After notifying the family and Tom of the arrival of the mail he runs down to the box, and if the signal is up, when he returns he stands on his hind feet, but if down, he lays down. He knows there is always mail on Wednesday. He never allows Tom to leave the box after depositing the mail without raising, or leaving after taking mail out, without turning the signal down.

o o o

BULLITTSVILLE.

Sunday was an ideal spring day.

Charles Wilson moved from J. C. Hankins' farm to B. C. Graddy's place last week.

James Houston will leave for the sunny south to begin practice about March 10th.

Some of our citizens visit the city so seldom that the city air does not agree with their health.

Jas. Barnes, of Ohio, visited his daughter, Mrs. Daisy Houston, from Saturday until Monday.

Willie Gray delivered his crop of 2,000 pounds of tobacco to Riley, Saturday, at 9½ cents around.

Wild ducks are beginning to put in their appearance, and the nimrods are preparing for another season of sport.

Arthur Alloway and Hubert Burns, of Petersburg, passed here Saturday enroute to the city. They returned Sunday.

James Riley, our tobacco merchant, got out among the farmers, last week, and bought several crops at prices ranging from 8 to 10 cents around.

Mrs. John McCool bought Samuel Barnes' crop of 3 acres of tobacco, last spring, after it was planted and had started to grow, for $10. She and her 12 year old son tended it from that time until it was ready for market; and she sold it last week to Jas. Riley at 10 around. She had 3580 pounds.

o o o

LIMABURG.

E. L. Aylor is improving rapidly.

W. J. Tanner has gone south for his health.

Carl Craven spent Sunday with his parents near here.

Mrs. Clark Beemon is on the sick list with the grippe.

M. I. Baker was the guest of friends at Rebron, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wever were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Baker last week.

Misses Pearl and Laura Aylor visited their grandmother, Mrs. Betty Aylor, Thursday.

Mrs. Jerry Beemon and granddaughter, Miss Sadie, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Delila Utz.

On the 20th inst., Scott Chambers, of Idlewild neighborhood, had a tumor about the size of a hen egg removed from his right side. For five days after the operation he suffered intensely, but after that he began resting easy and has improved considerably, although he is not well yet by any means. Hope he will soon regain his health

VERONA.

Feb. 27.—Prof. J. H. Craven, of Covington, spent Saturday and Sunday at his old home near here.

Scott Myers lost a good cow during the recent sleet.

A good horse belonging to G. W. Roberts died one day last week.

Several crops of tobacco were sold and delivered to George W. Roberts, last week.

Last Monday, the remains of Frank Mansfield, of Cynthiana, were brought to New Bethel cemetery for interment.

The members of New Bethel church are requested to be present at the call meeting, Saturday, March 4th, at 10 a m.

Lafe Kennedy, the new postmaster has purchased a new office outfit, which adds greatly to the appearance of the office.

The Verona bank was closed last Thursday, on account of the death of Mrs. Blackburn, of Dry Ridge, who was a sister to J. E. Franks, present cashier.

The town was startled, last Wednesday night about 8 p. m. when it was reported that J. William Vest had committed suicide near the depot, by shooting himself in the forehead with a revolver, which he had procured before leaving town. He said he had been missing corn from his crib and wanted a revolver to scare off the thief. He was unconscious when discovered by a switchman. He was removed to his home and li[illegible] until midnight when he expired. No cause is assigned for his rash act, except that his mind had been unbalanced for some time. The deceased leaves a helpless wife and child to mourn his death. The remains were interred in New Bethel cemetery last Friday.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

Feb. 27.—Mrs. R. H. Tanner, of Florence, united with Hopeful church last Sunday.

William Emmerson has been on the sick list for several days with grippe.

L. C. Acra and wife entertained a number of their friends at dinner, last Sunday.

Mrs. J. H. Tanner, who has been suffering with rheumatism for two weeks, is improving.

Mrs. Lucy Tanner, who was badly hurt by a fall about a week ago, is improving slowly but it will probably be some time before she is fully recovered.

Judie Tanner, colored, who has been confined to her room nearly all winter, died last Wednesday, the 22 inst., was buried on Saturday in the W. A. Tanner burying ground.

I will say to Idlewild, in regard to my query, if it is not answered in a short while I will answer it. It is not a catch, for David certainly had a mother, and her name is given in the Bible.

George Barlow had the misfortune to lose his meat house and contents, on Thursday night of last week, by fire. Besides his meat there were various other things in the house, and were all destroyed. He estimates his loss at $150. There was no insurance.

Mrs. Ezra O. Rouse presented the writer with a piece of fruit cake that was on her wedding table 18 years ago. The cake was baked by Mrs. Sanderson on the Burlington place. It was in a perfect state of preservation and she prized it very highly as a relic and will keep the remainder of it as long as she can. We hope that she may have the pleasure of seeing it on the table when she celebrates her golden wedding.

At the meeting of the joint council at Hopeful, last Saturday, the following were present: W. L. B. Rouse, W. R. Rouse, F. Hoseman, of Hebron; J. B. Dixon, E. H. Surface, J. W. Hogan and B. C. Surface, of Ebenezer; N. C. Tanner, E. O. Rouse, Geo, and W. P. Barlow, J. S. Surface, J. H. Tanner, Pastor Slater and B. A. Floyd, of Hopeful. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: R. A. Floyd, chairman; G. O. Hafer, secretary; W. R. Rouse, treasurer and E. O. Rouse, G. O. Hafer and B. C. Surface, executive committee.

o o o

BIG BONE.

Sunday was a spring day.

Tobacco buyers have stopped buying.

Geo. O. Kite is very low with typhoid fever.

The river began to break up about noon Sunday.

R. L. Howlett has been hauling 46c corn from J. J. Harris' farm.

Mrs. R. L. Howlett has been nursing D. M. Bondurant's family during their illness.

Bachelor Tom has moved from Gallatin county to Sheriff Allphin's farm on Mud Lick.

Miss Johanna Gordon, of Petersburg, is at the bedside of her sister and two children, who are ill with pneumonia.

Judging from the number of wagons that have been hauling hay from the Harris farm, Mr. Harris will start an other bank soon.

Mrs. Lizzie E. Miller is in the race for the tour of Europe, and will be pleased to furnish stationery to any of her friends that want to send in votes. She is the only Boone county candidate.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured.

William Shaffer, a brakeman of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," "Finally I sent to McGaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." For sale by all druggists.

As soon as it was certain that the Tobacco Growers' Association would not be a go, fine weather for handling tobacco put in its appearance.

Next Monday is county court day and the latch-string to this office will be hanging on the outside.

MIDWAY.

The sun failed to show itself here at any time last Saturday.

The honey bees had an outing last Friday, the first for many days.

The singing class met for practice at Johnnie Connelly's, Friday night.

Dick Lindsey Dugeon has moved to B C. Bedinger's farm on the Beaver and Walton road.

Mrs. F. D Grubbs, of Latonia, is spending a few days here with her sister, Mrs. G. M. Moore.

While there are several sick here, yet, the health of the neighborhood has very much improved in the last week.

J. H. Johnson resumed business at school house Monday morning, after a lay off of six weeks on account of sickness among the pupils.

The Hughes Chapel choir, under the direction of Prof. A. Limburg, will give a concert March 18th. General admission, 15c. Reserved seats, 25c.

J. K. Glore and Will Wilson, contractors and builders, are erecting a commodious building in Beaver for G. W. Ossman, on the lot he recently purchased of J. C. Hughes, on the corner of Pike St., and Griffith ave., where Mrs. Ossman will engage in the millinery business.

J. E Markabery, of Hamilton, bought several crops of tobacco in this neighborhood, last week, paying from 8 to 9c per pound all round. Those who have delivered crops say he is a very pleasant man to deal with, gives good weight and "dige up" just as soon as tobacco is off the wagon.

Died, on the 22d inst., of whooping cough, little Nellie, twenty months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Jump. The remains were taken to the Beaver Baptist church on Wednesday evening at 1 o'clock, and after prayer and a few appropriate remarks by Bro. C. C. Sleet, they were laid to rest in the Baptist cemetery.

One of our neighbors called on your humble servant, one day last week, and stayed nearly two hours. During this time he broke up about 60 acres for corn and 6 acres for tobacco, all of which he cultivated himself, working for other people during the summer enough to pay a hand to help house his tobacco. He stripped this crop out before Christmas, sold and delivered it while it had the weight in it, realizing at least $400. He raised corn to keep 2 horses, 2 cows, fattened 4 hogs for meat, and had 75 bbls. to sell at not less than $2 per bbl., making $150. During this time his wife saved $50 out of her sales of butter and eggs, over and above paying for the sugar and coffee, after paying all necessary expenses that could possibly arise during the year. He came to the first of next March with $500 in the bank. All of this was done in a little less than two hours. Just see how easy it is to make a living if you only have the get up.

o o o

HEBRON.

Mrs. Will Clore has been quite sick for several days.

The public school at this place will close next week with an entertainment.

J. C. Cornelius, of Kenton county, visited relatives here several days last week.

Mr and Mrs. Chas. Goodridge spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. Isabelle Davis.

Miss Harriet Crigler fell on the ice during the recent severe weather and broke her leg.

Rev. Duncan, of Covington, passed through here Saturday afternoon, enroute to Petersburg.

C. E. Clore and family were guests of Mrs. Clore's mother, Mrs. Hicks, of Covington, Sunday.

While questions are the order of the day, we will ask who said, "America is another word for opportunity?"

Mrs. C. M. Mannin has been appointed exchange operator by the Farmers' Telephone Co., for the ensuing year.

Frank Hoseman will move to the Lundgren farm Wednesday, and B. E Aylor will move to the Hossman place.

A free entertainment will be given at the Town Hall by the pupils of Hebron school, Saturday, March 4th, at 2 p. m.

OBITUARY.

Just as another day had past and gone, leaving but a trace of its memory behind us, the bright young life of Kenneth Baisly was hushed into eternity, to be awakened on the judgment day. Noble, true—a fond idol of a mother and father's heart, he lived but a few short, happy years only to bring forth all the love and fervor of our hearts; then, Oh! then, he is gone like the fleeting moments of a joyous hour. "Man born of woman is of few days and full of trouble." Not so with him. All hope was centered in this promising young man, and nothing was unasked for in his short life. Eight long weeks of suffering, borne with such patient fortitude, and such a struggle for existence. Then the long fight was over—grim Death had wielded his sickle and gathered another garner for his sheath. Oh! Death, where is thy sting? Oh! Grave, where is thy victim? The good die young, so in the soft stillness of the night, Kenneth left us never to return. Shortly following the death of his beloved uncle, who died little more than a year ago, he has gone on to meet him, there to wait in sweet communion the coming of those dear ones left behind. Listen! Can that mother—can that father hear those foot steps, welcome that voice home again. But softly, tenderly as time rolls by they can not wish him back. No sorrow, tears or sadness for him. He dwells away from us, and "Our acts, our angels are our good or ill, Our fatal shadows that walk by us still." Weep not; yet, there are voices heard, lamentation and weeping and great mourning—weeping for their child, and would not be comforted because he is not. I can but quote my favorite Psalm: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of death: I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me, and Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me."

ONE OF HIS MANY COUSINS.

[illegible]

Feb. 27.—Miss Lizzie Stephens, of Cincinnati visited her mother near Bullittsville, last week

Query:—What three great events happened in the year 1832?

Welcome, Robin Redbreast, for all consider you as the herald of spring.

Joseph Feely will move to the farm of Scott Chambers, this week.

Sunday was a lovely day, and a few like it would make a good molasses season.

Mrs. N. S Walton dined several of her friends in her usual elegant style, last Wednesday.

Mr. Dixon, of Richwood, was the guest of his old friend, Mrs. M. Stephens, last Wednesday.

Cave Clore, of Francesville, visited his sister, Mrs. Lucy Walton, of Petersburg, last Sunday.

Mrs. Park Holton has returned from Walton after a visit of several weeks with her brother at that place.

We congratulate Rev. Edgar Jones and wife, of Cleveland, Ohio, upon the arrival of their new daughter.

Miss Ida Berkshire visited her sister Mrs. A. B. Parker, of Petersburg, last week. Mrs. Parker has been quite sick.

It is said that the river is frozen to the bottom in places, and that heavy rains will be necessary to cause a break up.

Steven Bros., near here, had a good horse to get badly hurt by a horse that was in the stable with it, a few days ago.

Mrs. L. Graves and Mr. and Mrs. James T. Grant, of Bullittsville, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Whitaker.

Mrs. Chester Davis, of Ludlow, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Gaines, at their pleasant hill top home near here.

Miss Pearl Botts and Mrs. Martha Randall, of Piattsburg, were guests of their aunt, Mrs. Thomas Whitaker, of this place, a few days since.

A government official was here this week to see that our merchant is cancelling the revenue stamps on tobacco and cigar boxes as required by law.

Crossing the river on the ice with teams at Petersburg was kept up until the horses would break through the ice. Fortunately there were no accidents.

Mr. Maines, the Aurora sawmill man, has brought considerable timber of W. A. Gaines, and is having it prepared for hauling as soon as the weather will permit.

Rev. Early has moved his household goods to the residence he rented near here, and will be ready to receive his daughter who are expected to arrive from Texas on March 2d.

Richard McMurry, of North Bend, who was bitten by a mad dog, last fall, has had the Dalbi mad stone applied twice, and it is believed that all the poison has been removed from his system.

Please correct the statement in this column, last week, that Eugene Randall had married. He did not marry, but left his fiddle and buggy with his best girl. We wish him success in Los Angeles.

Local tobacco buyers are on the go. So far James Riley has paid the highest price in this neighborhood, 11 cents for Tom Master's crop. James Thompson, of Petersburg, has bought the most tobacco in this neighborhood.

o o o

GRANT.

Feb. 27.—D. M. Snyder, of Burlington is here today.

Mrs. Neal is improving.

So far the Daisy has escaped injury from the ice.

Rowland McCarty will move to Jas. Rogers' farm.

King David's mother was Mrs. Mandy Nebuchadnezer.

Gilly Welsicle and Tom Wingate are on a real estate trade.

The telephone line from here to Petersburg was surveyed last Saturday.

J. P. Ryle has for sale eggs from full blooded Plymouth Rock hens, at 35 cents for 15.

Charles Bachelor has moved to McVille and will raise a crop of tobacco for W. H. Williamson.

There is very little ice in the river's here, it all having run out yesterday on the rise caused by the Miami river supply of water.

Joseph Riddell was an interested spectator at the ice carnival, last Sunday. He said the show was on a very much larger scale than anything of the kind he ever saw Gunpowder undertake.

Several of the growers in this neighborhood have delivered their tobacco here in the last week, at prices ranging from 7 to 11 cents a pound. We have two buyers, Wingate & Thompson, and E. D. Brady.

The base ball team of this place is a strong aggregation and has a good ground, and is very desirous to be a member of the local league about which the Richwood correspondent has been writing

We telephoned an item to the RECORDER, last Thursday about noon, and then went around to the postoffice and got my copy of the paper, and, behold, there was the item in print. That is what we call fast work.

When the ice began to move here the first thing it did was to throw up a pile of ice about 30 feet high in such a position as to give the McVille ferry boat complete protection, and not a splinter was torn from her.

As soon as the weather will permit Al Rogers will begin the construction of a commodious two story frame house on the lot opposite his store and known as the Kelly coal yard lot. It will be an up to date, modern residence, and an ornament to our town.

The ice gorge in the river here broke last Saturday and moved about a mile when it stopped on the bar at Rising Sun. It moved again Sunday morning and it is thought that there is no stationary ice below this point. In many places along the shore ice is piled to the hight of 30 ft and on the Rising Sun bar are piles of ice 50 feet high.

[illegible]BURG.

Very little moving will be done this season by tenants.

The festive crow visits us in great numbers every day.

The line for the telephone from Petersburg to Bellevue was run last week —distance 7½ miles.

The Terrill heirs will not build where the old Mosby house recently burned, but will divide the land, 285 acres, among the heirs.

Henry Terrill was the only one here to get hurt by falling during the slick spell. He fell face downward, skinning his nose badly and hurting both knees.

Born to Chas. Klopp and wife on the 15, a son—George Kirtley. To John Swaney and wife on the 21, a boy—Paris Parker. To Bernard Berkshire and wife on the 21, a daughter—Maud Rosaboom.

o o o

RICHWOOD.

Feed is high and scarce in our burg.

George Odenwald is sporting a new watch.

J. R. Carpenter's and J. J. Tanner's folks are improving.

Clarence Tanner and Cap Glacken lost horses last week.

Excelsior Grange meets next Saturday at 2 p. m. at the hall.

Sunday's spring time was chased away by Monday's mantle of snow.

Why are the rabbit and a nest of eggs emblematic and used in illustrating Easter?

With electric cars and light, a theatre and ball park our town would be a metropolis indeed.

If fifty men like Joseph Hughes were to give the Burley tobacco men the proposition he entertains, a majority of them could profit by it and the farmers could hold their own and dictate to the American or sell to them at their price.

Moves on the checker board of life: Geo. Rice from S. H. Lamptom's to Walton; Eli Carpenter to where Geo. vacated; J. C. Robinson to where Eli lived; J. Thornton to near Crittenden; Jas. Carpenter occupies the late Louis Rice homestead; Ira Aylor, the Kensington property vacated by R. L. Chambers, who occupies Wm. Lancaster's house here.

o o o

PETERSBURG.

Feb. 27—Sunday was a bright day.

Robins, harbingers of spring, have come again.

The sick in this community are all on the mend.

Miss Inez Hensley will visit relatives in Dallas, Texas, in a few days.

Harry McCarthy contemplates an Eastern trip in the early spring.

Miss Nettie Cave, who was visiting relatives at Indianapolis, is at home.

Miss Maud Harmon and sister, of Newport, visited their parents here, several days last week.

Earl Wilson has another horse afflicted with hydrophobia and it is in a serious condition and will die.

Misses Lula Thompson and Lou W. Allen have returned from Cincinnati, where they attended the millinery openings.

Mrs. Hurd, the venerable mother of Geo. Hurd, is very sick. She is 87 years of age and was born near Cynthiana. She has lived here the last 60 years.

Eugene Randall guessed the number of visitors that attended the opening day of the World's Fair and got $2,500 in cash, and has gone to California.

The gorge of ice in the river here passed out Sunday about noon, doing no material damage; but the gorge at Medco still holds, and river men are fearful that it may damage their fleets.

Mrs. Marrimon, wife of Rev. Merrimon, died at her home in Georgetown, one day last week. She use to reside here and was the mother of Mrs. W. J. Alloway, of this place. Her husband died here a few years ago.

Mrs. Emma Pess, wife of John Pease, died at her home in Lawrenceburg, one day last week. Her maiden name was Sebree, daughter of Erastus Sebree. Her remains were placed in vault and will be brought here for interment.

No. 6 is the largest bonded warehouse in Kentucky if not in the United States, and it is being emptied of 2,500 barrels of old whisky, preparatory to refilling with new. Its capacity is 21,500 barrels. It is seven stories high, and it takes one man five hours to open and close the window shutters.

Col. W. H. Lyons made the race for Representative of Campbell county on foot and beat his opponent in a walk. He now challenges any man in Boone county over 50 years, for a walking contest, and W. H. Sherrell, as soon as he gets groomed and in condition will try him a heat to Burlington and return.

John Kelsey, the Hebron wizzard, challenged Ed Richardson, of this place, for a match game of checkers. Ed accepted the challenge and Kelsey came down, last Wednesday. Richardson beat John ten straight games. We challenge Jeff Williamson, of Waterloo, and ask him to name date when he can meet Ed.

Superintendent Mathews has labored under a great many difficulties for several weeks getting grain for the distillery, and it is due to his energy and determination that the distillery was kept running. He has taken advantage of every opportunity to get the material here, and it was a difficult and hazardous job at times, but thousands of bushels of grain were sledded across the frozen Ohio, and hundreds of barrels of whisky were taken from here. The hauling was kept up till 8 p. m., Saturday night, and at 2 a. m., the ice was moving. Only one horse broke through and it was rescued.

The snow melted rapidly yesterday.

Dirt roads are donning their spring costume.

If this weather continues the hens will get busy.

W. H. Moore, of Big Bone church neighborhood, was in town, yesterday.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, - - - KENTUCKY

Tourists in Egypt are supposed to be provided with passports, but the law is not strictly enforced; a visiting-card suffices.

The British war office has under consideration a proposal for trying the plan of shooting with both eyes open during the musketry training of this year.

Since the beginning of the last century no fewer than 52 volcanic islands have risen out of the sea. Nineteen have disappeared and ten are now inhabited.

Mme. Makaroff, widow of the Russian admiral, who went down with his ship before Port Arthur, is one of the most beautiful and cultured women in Russia.

A Belgian swimmer a made a wager recently that he could stay in the water ten hours, swimming the whole time. He won the bet, performing the feat at the Antwerp baths.

Twenty-six millions six hundred and sixty-six thousand six hundred gallons of milk were Oregon's production for the year 1904. The sale of this output aggregated $4,000,000.

Fully 1,000,000 gallons of applejack were distilled last year in Northern New Jersey. The low prices prevailing for apples made this method of disposing of the fruit more profitable to the owners of orchards.

The city of Cashel, county Tipperary, was illuminated to celebrate the arrival of the first railroad train recently. A railway from Cashel to Dublin was authorized by parliament in 1844, but it has only just been built.

Wearing the stiffness out of new boots is a peculiar calling; yet a London bootmaker has a man who, for a consideration, is prepared to do this for wealthy customers. He is kept busily employed, too, averaging twelve hours' daily tramping in and about Hyde Park.

Last year the importations of wild animals into the United States were valued at $121,039, of which $23,519 was for scientific and educational purposes, and paid no duty, $19,580 in duties being collected on the rest, which were imported by circuses and private menageries. In 1903 the wild beasts imported were valued at $147,544.

The courage and valor for which the Japanese are famous is instilled into them from their earliest infancy, says a Japanese writer. When a baby cries his mother scolds him, and says: "What a coward to cry for a trifling pain; what will you do when your arm is cut off in battle? What when you are called upon to commit hara-kiri?"

Aided by wings the ostrich is the fastest runner, sometimes making 98 feet a second. In measured flights the Virginia rainpiper has a record of 7,500 yards a minute and the European swallow has exceeded 8,000 yards. The slowest creatures are snails and certain small beetles, a healthy snail's highest speed being five and one-half inches an hour.

Eli Whitney, the inventor of the cotton gin, got the germ of his great idea from seeing, through the interstices of a hut, an old Negro work a handsaw among the freshly-picked cotton stored within. The teeth of the saw tore the lint from the seed easily and quickly, and young Whitney (he was barely 13 at the time), realized at once that a machine working a number of similar saws simultaneously would revolutionize the cotton-growing industry.

More than 16,000,000 pupils, or 20.04 per cent. of the entire population, were enrolled in the common schools of the United States in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904. The total school enrollment for the year, including public and private, elementary, secondary and higher education, was 17,539,478 pupils, and to this there should be an addition made for evening schools, business schools, private kindergartens, Indian schools, state schools for defectives, orphans, etc., 648,440.

The report on crops, live stock, etc., in Manitoba in 1904, shows the total grain crop of that province to have been equivalent to 90,055,113 Winchester bushels, as compared with 85,108,649 bushels in the previous year, an increase for 1904 of 4,946,464 bushels. The area upon which this grain crop was produced in 1904 is given at 2,763,567 acres, as compared with 3,670,196 acres in 1903; in 1904 was included for the first time a small area of 2,471 acres devoted to the culture of corn. The figures are from the Manitoba department of agriculture.

The government of the United States occasionally imports a wild beast for the zoo at Washington, which is under the Smithsonian institution, but most of the animals out there have been presented. But Uncle Sam imports immense quantities of bugs. One particular kind of bug imported by the United States from Australia has earned $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 every year for 15 years, and has never received any wages. Another bug imported from Russia saved the farmers of Ohio and Indiana at least $45,000,000 in the year 1900.

SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

What Has Transpired During the Past Seven Days.

THE DOINGS IN THE CONGRESS.

Interesting Happenings Throughout the Globe, Given in a Condensed Form—News From Russia and the Far East.

CONGRESSIONAL.

A resolution was introduced in the house asking the attorney general to inform the house at the earliest convenience whether or not any proceedings have been instituted either civil or criminal against the armor plate trust, and if not, why not.

Senator Daniel introduced a bill to provide for celebrating the first permanent settlement of English speaking people in America by holding an exposition in the vicinity of Jamestown and near the waters of Hampton Roads, Va.

Representative Kehoe (Ky.) introduced a resolution for an investigation by the department of commerce and labor as to the cause of the difference between the price of leaf tobacco and the manufactured article, especially in Kentucky, Ohio and Tennessee.

Without a dollar being added or subtracted, the river and harbor appropriation bill passed the house. The total amount carried by the bill is $17,24[illegible].

The senate passed the military academy appropriation bill.

The house passed the Philippine tariff bill, practically as it came from the committee, with but little discussion.

The house passed a joint resolution authorizing the return by the secretary of war of union and confederate battle flags to the respective states in which the regiments which bore them were organized.

Senator Cullom reported to the senate, in executive session, amendments to the treaty prohibiting traffic in white women. The amendments are for the purpose of extending the restrictions under the treaty.

The house passed the naval appropriation bill, carrying a total of $99,914,359. The provision for two battleships, as reported by the committee on naval affairs, was retained.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The senate ratified a treaty between practically all nations for the exemption of hospital ships, in time of war from the payment of all dues and taxes imposed for the benefit of the state.

The will of the late Gen. Lew Wallace was admitted to probate. The residue of his estate is bequeathed to his wife, Susan E., and her heirs forever.

A bronze bust of Washington, a replica of the original in marble which was destroyed in a fire in the quarters of the library of congress in 1851, was put in place in the rotunda of the capitol.

The federal grand jury at Cleveland reported two additional indictments against Mrs. Chadwick in connection with her operations through the closed Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, O.

A resolution was introduced in the Kansas senate providing for an investigation of the following alleged combines: Beef, grain, implement, milling and lumber.

In preparation for an expected attack on Vladivstok by the Japanese, the Russians are throwing up entrenchments on the northern bank of the Tumen river.

It is understood that Miss Alice Roosevelt will accompany Secretary and Mrs. Taft on their visit to the Philippines next July.

Samuel Black McCormick, D.D., LL.D., was formally made chancellor of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

The czar has appointed the Grand Duchess Elizabeth, widow of the late Grand Duke Sergius, commander of the Fifth Grenadiers regiment at Kieff.

I. H. Hull, a farmer of Macon, Ill., killed himself by taking poison. His body was found in a barn and was taken into his house. His son, Linton, 21, affected by the occurrence, went to the barn and hanged himself.

Fire in the business district of Hot Springs, Ark., caused losses estimated at $90,000. The principal sufferers are Simon Mendel, dry goods, $45,600, and the Indiana club, $20,000.

At an auction in London at Christies an Elizabethan ewer of rock crystal, mounted on silver, only 6½ inches high, belonging to the Marquis of Anglesey, was sold to a London dealer for the sensational price of $20,000.

The Porto Rican legislature has passed a law for the maintenance of a permanent representative in the United States with headquarters in New York, to promote the commercial interests of the island and particularly those of coffee growers.

Nearly every shoe manufacturing center of the east and middle west was represented at a meeting held in New York for the purpose of organizing the National Association of Boot and Shoe Manufacturers.

The bill appropriating $125,000 for the establishment of a state oil refinery was favorably reported to the Colorado house by the finance committee.

Mrs. Carrie Nation, the saloon smasher, was saved from being ground under the wheels of a train by a local newspaper man at South McAlester, I. T.

Criminal proceedings against the officers and employes of the Prairie Oil and Gas Co. will be started at once. Cases will be brought in every Kansas county where the company does business.

Judge J. T. Smith, 68, died at Manhattan, Kan., of pneumonia. He was a native of Indiana and was a captain in the 75th Indiana infantry in the civil war. He served a term in the Indiana legislature.

Andrew Carnegie offered to give $500,000 to the University of Virginia on the condition that the authorities of the institution would raise a similar amount from other sources.

Ex-Secretary Long, in a speech said: "It is not desirable that this country should be a collector of debts for all the nations of Europe which hold claims against South American republics."

Mrs. Catherine Gallagher, of Beaver Island, Mich., aged 104 years, who claimed to have more surviving descendants than any woman of the northwest, is dead.

United States Minister Dawson, at Santo Domingo City, cabled the state department that an attempt was made there to assassinate President Morales, and that the attempt failed.

Gen. Kuropatkin reports he has received word that 20 Japanese torpedo boats and warships have been sighted off Vladivostok.

It is reported that the Japanese are closing in on the Russian east flank. As a result of this movement it is possible that there will be either a general engagement or at least a counter movement by the Russians.

Twenty-one buildings in Cape May village, N. J., valued at $65,000, was destroyed by fire.

St. Petersburg is the mecca of representatives of shipbuilders of various nationalities, who have been attracted thither by the prospects of rich contracts in connection with rebuilding the navy.

The jury in the case of Charles Kratz, on trial for alleged boodling while a member of the St. Louis city council, returned a verdict of not guilty.

The special auditor who has been examining the books of E. W. Miller, the former treasurer of Walker county, Alabama, reports a shortage of $11,034.

Senator Jacob Worth, of Brooklyn a New York politician and race horse owner, died suddenly at Hot Springs, Ark.

The body of Mrs. Hannah B. Ross, a wealthy octogenarian, was found in the ruins of her home in Mont Clair, N. J. The police believe she was murdered by her coachman and the house burned to conceal the crime.

Russian Ambassador Cassini says that the war in the far east will end when Russia is victorious and not a moment before.

The George Washington university, at Washington, which from 1821 until recently has been known as the Columbian university, was formally dedicated under its new name.

The American Bowling Congress hereafter will transact no business on Sunday. A resolution, growing out of another introduced by Daniel Jones, was adopted to this effect.

The Kansas senate passed a bill for the regulation of railroads. It provides that a state railroad board shall make changes in freight rates on due complaint.

There is an epidemic of pneumonia in Pittsburg. Since New Year's 600 persons have been affected, nearly one-half this number dying, and as yet there is no relief.

Under the auspices of the Yale class of 1894, a committee has been appointed to promote a movement for raising funds for five new dormitories at Yale.

An amendment to the Indian appropriation bill provides that no part of the indian funds shall be available nor be expended for the support of any sectarian or denominational school.

It is said that complaint against the Standard Oil Co., accompanied by new evidence of alleged violation of the anti-trust law, will soon be lodged with the attorney general of Ohio.

At Connelsville, Pa., Chas. Austin, 19, shot and killed Chas. F. Anderson, 22. They were rivals for the hand of Miss Clara Neth.

Neil Burgess, the actor, filed in the United States district court at Trenton, N. J., a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are placed at $21,000 and his assets at $25.

The president announces that all of the power of his administration necessary would be used in the investigation he is undertaking through the bureau of corporations into the affairs of the Standard Oil Co.

The volcano of Colima is emitting great clouds of thick smoke which rise high above the crater.

Every bridge on the Choopee river and Emanuel and Tatnall counties, Georgia, were washed away and are gone. The damage is estimated at $200,000.

Four men are dead and 14 injured, three of them seriously, as the result of the explosion of a stationary boiler at No. 1 mine of the Provident Coal Co., near St. Clairsville, O.

The Japanese government has determined on a fourth domestic loan of 100,000,000 yen, to be issued at 96 per cent and payable in seven years.

The Chicago police began the arrest of violators caught in the act of spitting on the sidewalks.

While in Philadelphia an unknown man attempted to make his way to President Roosevelt's carriage and was struck by the flat of a saber by one of the troopers guarding the president.

Rr. Adm. George F. Wilde, U. S. N., has retired from active duty after 43 years' service.

Railroad officials estimate that 125,000 cars of freight are tied up on railroads east and west of Chicago owing to the recent heavy snow storms. Of this number 75,000 cars are said to be sidetracked on eastern roads.

Dr. William R. Harper, president of the University of Chicago, underwent a serious surgical operation in the Presbyterian hospital. The operation from a surgical standpoint was a success.

In the Indiana house of representatives Representative Ananias Baker made the charge that he had been offered $100 in order to influence his vote against the anti-cigarette bill. An affidavit was issued for the arrest of O. A. Baker, a former senator.

C. M. Travor and O. C. Lillie, president and cashier respectively of the First National bank of Conneaut, O., were jointly indicted on 18 counts. They were accused of making false entries in the books of the bank and other misdemeanors.

The federal grand jury at Cleveland returned an indictment against B. P. Ohliger, president of the Wooster National bank, of Wooster, O. He is charged with embezzlement, abstracting the bank's funds and making false entries in the bank's books.

Dr. Otto W. Lewke, who has been conducting a chemical investigation to determine whether or not Mrs. Marie Welker-Hoch, last wife of Johann Hoch, was poisoned, declared that he had found conclusive proof of arsenical poisoning in the kidneys of the woman.

Capt. William S. Winder, confederate veteran, 71, shot and killed himself in Baltimore. Among his papers was found a duplicate of the address of Dr. William Osler, of the Johns Hopkins university, in which reference was made to the uselessness of men over 40 years of age.

In a fight at a dance near Greensburg, Pa., two men were killed and six badly wounded.

Miss Catherine McCready, who was found murdered at Casorta, Italy, was 60 years of age and the daughter of the late Dennis McCready, of New York. Her sister was the first wife of the late Frederick R. Coudert, of New York.

Mrs. Medley, widow of Rt. Rev. John Medley, metropolitan of Canada, is dead. Before marriage she was a nurse in England and had associated with Florence Nightingale, of Crimean fame.

The rescuers at work in the Virginia mine, near Birmingham, Ala., have recovered the bodies of two more victims of the disastrous explosion, which makes the total number recovered up to this time 103.

Notwithstanding the fact that the production of anthracite coal in Lackawanna county, Pa., was less last year than in the preceding one, loss of life in connection with the industry increased in a manner that was appalling.

The president named Senator Quarles as United States judge for the Eastern District of Wisconsin.

Carbolic acid was thrown in the face of J. D. Howe, chairman of the republican city central committee, at St. Louis, in his office by a young woman who was formerly his stenographer. A portion of the acid struck one side of his face near the eye.

Dr. William Osler, of the Johns Hopkins university, whose 'age limit" address at the commemorative exercises of the university has been the subject of widespread comment, says that he has been misquoted by the papers.

Suicide in the balcony of a crowded theater was the method of death chosen by an unknown man, about 22 years of age, who shot and killed himself at the Chicago opera house during a vaudeville performance.

What is said to be the largest real estate deal ever made in Pittsburg and one of the most important transactions in landed properties ever announced from that part of the country, was the sale of the Schenley farm in Oakland for about $3,000,000.

Through the death of Mrs. Harriet M. Littlefield, widow of George L. Littlefield, at one time a prominent manufacturer of Pawtucket, R. I., Brown university comes into the possession of the estate, real and personal, estimated at about $500,000.

The betrothal is officially announced of Princess Victoria of Connaught to Prince Oscar, eldest son of the crown prince of Sweden and Norway.

Independent crude oil producers and refiners from Kansas, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana joined in the formation at Chicago of an organization of defense against the alleged eradicating pressure of the Standard Oil Co.

At Denver James Walsh, M. P. Condon and Fred M. Johnson, election officers, were found guilty of frauds committed at the city charter election last spring. They were sentenced to jail for six months.

George C. Thomas, a retired millionaire banker of Philadelphia, has bought the famous painting, "The Laborer's Return," by Millet, for $70,000, the largest sum ever paid for a picture in this country.

A counterfeiting outfit operated by convicts was found in a cell at the Virginia penitentiary.

The sale of tickets for the inaugural ball has been entirely unprecedented.

Union labor is to have its own financial institution in Chicago. The stock subscription books are now open.

The engine of the regular passenger train on the Central of Georgia railway went through the bridge spanning the Chattahoochee river at Columbia, Ala. The engineer and fireman were killed.

The Russian second Pacific squadron, with colliers, totaling 70 ships were still at Nossi-Be on February 18. The Russians were buying stores largely, especially wines and liquors.

A MINE EXPLOSION.

Believed 23 Miners Are Dead in West Virginia Shaft.

A Large Rescuing Party Is at Work—The Cause of the Terrible Catastrophe Has Not As Yet Been Determined.

Bluefield, W. Va., Feb. 27.—As a result of an explosion in shaft No. 1, of the United States Coal and Coke Co., at Wilcoe, 23 miners are supposed to have lost their lives, and it is possible that the number will exceed this. Up to 8 p. m. 15 dead bodies had been taken from the shaft. A large rescuing party is in the mines. It is barely possible that some of the entombed miners will be rescued alive. The explosion was of terrific force and shattered glass windows a mile distant. Immediately after the shock great numbers of miners rushed to the shaft to find immense clouds of smoke and dust gushing from its mouth. The officials of the mines, including General Manager Reis, were soon on the ground and the work of rescuing the imprisoned men was begun.

RUSSIANS DEFEATED.

An Action of No Mean Proportions on Gen. Kuropatkin's Left.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 27.—An action of no mean proportions is in progress on the Russian left flank. The advantage thus far is on the side of the Japanese, though at heavy cost. From advices from the front it is difficult to say how severe the losses have been or how decisive the reverse, and whether the Japanese are likely to attempt to drive in the Russian left much further. Gen. Kuropatkin evidently has been trying to establish his left flank far in advance to command the crossings of the Taitse river, the operation being a counterpart of Gen. Gripenberg's movement on the right flank to secure the fords of the Hun river preparatory to the breaking up of the ice in the spring.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 27.—Gen. Kuropatkin has telegraphed the emperor, under date of February 25, as follows:

"At 5 o'clock this morning the enemy occupied Tsinkhetchen. Exact reports of yesterday's losses have not yet been received. There are 12 officers and about 300 men wounded in this hospital at San Lunyu. The percentage of killed is very large. The commander of the detachment reports acts of bravery by many detached bodies of troops."

Mukden, Feb. 27.—Fighting continues in front and west of Tiepass. On the extreme east the Japanese have taken the outlying positions and they now threaten the main defense.

A CONFLAGRATION.

Several Million Dollars in Property Destroyed in New Orleans.

New Orleans, Feb. 27.—Fire involving millions of dollars' loss in physical property and that strikes a serious temporary blow at the immense export trade of New Orleans, swept the river front and wiped out the vast freight terminals of the Illinois Central, known as the Stuyvesant docks. Nearly a dozen squares of modern wharves and freight sheds, two magnificent grain elevators, hundreds of loaded cars and vast quantities of freight, including 20,000 bales of cotton, were destroyed, together with a large number of small residences. It has not been determined whether there has been any loss of life. The ocean going shipping seems to have escaped serious damage. A number of firemen and employes of the docks were injured. Actual estimates of the losses are impossible, though they may exceed $5,000,000.

FIRE IN HOT SPRINGS.

Three Persons Known To Be Dead and a Loss of $2,000,000.

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 27.—Fire swept the southern portion of this city, doing immense damage, causing the known death of three persons and rendering 2,000 persons homeless. The losses are estimated at about $2,000,000.

Three charred corpses have been found among the ruins, and as several persons are reported missing the death list may be increased.

FINDS AGAINST RUSSIA.

Adm. Rojestvensky's Fire on the British Trawlers Not Justified.

Paris, Feb. 27.—The international commission of inquiry into the North Sea incident finds that "the opening of fire by Adm. Rojestvensky was not justified."

The decision was publicly announced at the closing session of the commission. It lengthily sets forth the circumstances and incidents, and gives the opinion of the admirals on the various important points involved.

Will Obey the Law.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 27.—Senator Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Co., by its rate men, has begun the preparation of a schedule making a rate for the transportation of petroleum. This is in compliance with the new act.

To Regulate Insurance.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Senator Dryden, of New Jersey, will introduce a bill in the senate to carry into effect the president's recommendation for the regulation of insurance by the federal government.

WHERE WAR STILL RAGED.

Something for the Correspondents to Do When Nations Were at Peace.

Even at the early dawn of Utopian civilization it became evident that the era of universal peace had arrived, says the New York Sun. "It" discovered that the great gun had been invented that would send a projectile through any armor, while, on the other hand, the armor had been invented that would resist the attack of any gun. The submarine boat had been tested that would destroy any battleship, that is, if not caught by the submarine destroyer, which in its turn might succumb to the submarine destroyer-destroyer.

Quite naturally this deplorable condition of worldwide peace frightened the Amalgamated Conclave of War Correspondents, whose members found their occupation gone. Accordingly at a meeting the president arose and presented a resolution for disbandment.

"There are no more conflicts. Cruelty and carnage is a thing of the past. We might as well go into other professions," he said.

Just then Richard Chefoo O'Higgins arose and objected in a speech that proved war correspondents to be still necessary.

"No carnage, no conflicts!" he roared. "Why, the editors can still send us to write up woman's suffrage meetings, college hazing and the Brooklyn bridge crush at six!"

Cured Her Diabetes.

Halo, Ind., Feb. 27th.—(Special)—If what will cure Diabetes will cure any form of Kidney Disease, as so many physicians say, then Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure any form of Kidney Disease. For Mrs. L. C. Bowers of this place has proved that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure Diabetes.

"I had Diabetes," Mrs. Bowers says, "my teeth all became loose and part of them came out. I passed a great deal of water with such burning sensations I could hardly bear it. I lost about 40 pounds in weight. I used many medicines and doctored with two local doctors but never got any better till I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured me so completely that in three years I have had no return of the disease. I am a well woman now, thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ailments from Backache to Bright's Disease. Cure your Backache with them and you will never have Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Rheumatism.

Dessection in a Meat Market.

Butcher—Come, John, be lively now; break the bones in Mr. Williams' chops and put Mr. Smith's ribs in the basket for him.

John (briskly)—All right; just as soon as I have sawed off Mrs. Murphy's leg.—N. Y. Times.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

KILLS PAIN

FOR FARM FACTORY AND FAMILY USE

AN ENTIRE MEDICINE CHEST

DR. EARL S. SLOAN. 615 ALBANY ST., BOSTON, MASS.

THE FARMERS ON THE FREE HOMESTEAD LANDS

FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

of WESTERN CANADA carry the banner for yields of Wheat and other grains for 1904.

100,000 Farmers

receive $55,000,000 as a result of their Wheat Crop alone.

The returns from Oats, Barley and other grains as well as cattle and horses, add considerably to this.

Secure a Free Homestead at once, or purchase from some reliable dealer while lands are selling at present low prices.

Apply for information to SUPERINTENDENT OF IMMIGRATION, Ottawa, Canada, or to

H. M. WILLIAMS, Law Building, Toledo, O. Authorised Canadian Government Agent.

Please say where you saw this advertisement.

PILES ANAKESIS gives instant relief and PERMANENTLY CURES PILES. For free sample address ANAKESIS, 1004 Prune building, New York.

GREGORY SEEDS

Have satisfied when others have failed.

Catalogue free. J. J. H. Gregory & Son, Marblehead, Mass.

The Enterprising Housekeeper

A valuable little book of 200 tested recipes and kitchen helps. Sent for 10c. Mailed to anyone for 4c postage. ENTERPRISE MFG. CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP cures coughs and colds.

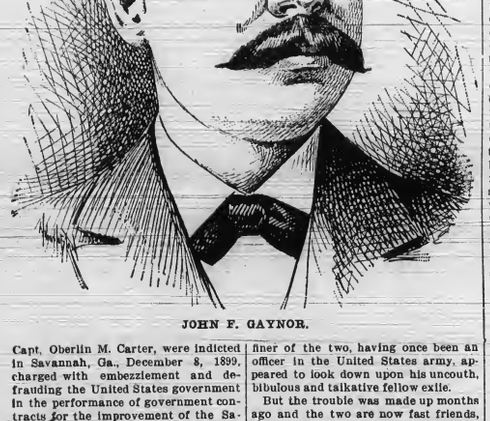
DESPERATE STRUGGLE TO ESCAPE THE LAW

FIGHT OF JOHN F. GAYNOR AND BENJAMIN D. GREENE TO PREVENT EXTRADITION FROM CANADA.

EXILE IS SPENT IN LUXURY.

Exciting Incidents Have Marked Careers of Two Americans Charged with Defrauding Government of Millions of Dollars.

Decision of British Privy Council Makes Return of Fugitives Possible---Story of Case That Has Attracted International Attention.



Quebec.—As the result of the recent decision of the British privy council, two fugitives from American justice will probably soon be taken to the United States to stand trial for their serious offense against the laws.

Years ago, before extradition treaties had been arranged with European countries, the Canadian dominion or the South and Central American republics, it was a common practice of American criminals to seek refuge outside the borders of the "States." Canada, being easy of access, was a favorite harbor for embezzlers and defaulters, and many there defied the efforts of justice to bring them to trial.

Even after agreements had been effected with most of the countries, men who had decamped with considerable sums preferred taking their chances with the extradition laws and with government officials whose decisions they could often influence with their ill-gotten wealth, rather than remain at home where certain punishment awaited them.

Brief History of Case.

The decision of King Edward's jurists was made in connection with a case that has attracted international attention; that of John F. Gaynor and Benjamin D. Greene, who, together with

JOHN F. GAYNOR.

Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, were indicted in Savannah, Ga., December 8, 1899, charged with embezzlement and defrauding the United States government in the performance of government contracts for the improvement of the Savannah river and other river and harbor work in that district, the illicit profits being estimated at $2,000,000.

Gaynor and Greene were arrested in New York. They contested extradition to Georgia and when the United States commissioners decided that they must go to that state and plead to the indictments they fled to Canada. They had been at liberty on $40,000 bail each, and this was forfeited.

Efforts to extradite Gaynor and Greene from Montreal were progressing favorably and the extradition commission was sitting in Montreal when Gaynor and Greene went to Quebec. A question arose as to whether they could be brought back and detectives kidnaped them and took them to Montreal. There was a big legal fight over this action and a Quebec judge issued a writ of habeas corpus which was served on the jailer at Montreal, who delivered up the prisoners without notification to the extradition tribunal and permitted them to be rushed back to Quebec. Efforts to quash the writ of habeas corpus under which they had been returned were denied by Justice Caron.

After a long legal controversy Gaynor and Greene obtained their liberty within the limits of the Province of Quebec. The United States government then appealed to the privy council of England, the highest court in that country.

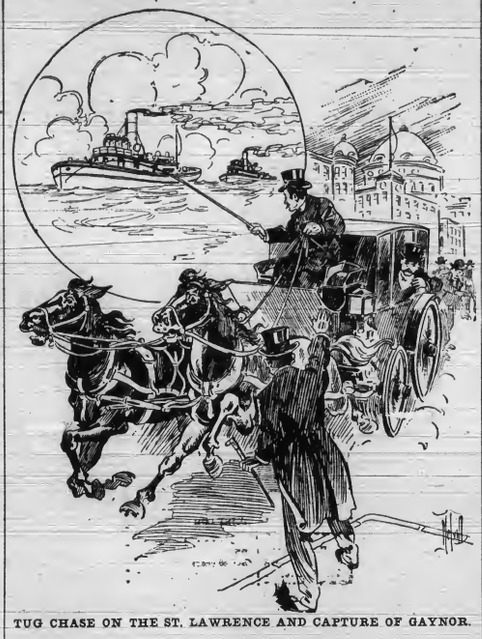
According to the decision the American government can now continue its work of securing the extradition of Gaynor and Greene. The whole question of their return to the United States is now in the hands of the Canadian extradition commission at Montreal. Judge Caron, of Quebec, set the two men at liberty on the ground that the extradition treaty did not cover the charge made against them, which was conspiracy to embezzle. The privy council has decided that Judge Caron had no right to interfere, and that the crime for which the two Americans were indicted comes within the terms of the treaty.

Woman Causes a Quarrel.

During their five years' residence in the Dominion these two fugitives, although living in luxury, were socially ostracized. For a long time after they fled to Quebec the exiles lived in sumptuous style at the Chateau Frontenac, where their lavish expenditures amused and sometimes awed the simple people of that city. They were together every day, but they had a quarrel and separated. For months they were not on speaking terms. It was this estrangement that led them to abandon their palatial quarters and take up separate private residences.

It is said that there was a woman in the case, and that Greene leased a house in the outskirts of the city in the name of Gaynor, which fact, when he discovered it, was bitterly resented by Gaynor for domestic reasons. Gaynor declared to his companions in the barroom of the Chateau Frontenac that Greene was ungrateful, and that he would not have a coat to his back were it not for him. Greene, who is an educated man and the finer of the two, having once been an officer in the United States army, appeared to look down upon his uncouth, bibulous and talkative fellow exile.

But the trouble was made up months ago and the two are now fast friends, busy in the joint effort to resist extradition to the United States. It is said that Gaynor is the moneyed man of the two and that Greene's means are comparatively limited. Gaynor is supposed to have pocketed the lion's share of the money secured from the United States.



The exiles are free men, but it is well known that they are shadowed night and day by agents of the United States, and that any attempt to escape now would be futile.

Fugitives Are Ostracized.

Greene and his wife live in a splendidly-furnished residence in the most fashionable quarter of Quebec, near the Governor's garden. They are waited upon by several servants, but they see little or no company. In fact they are bitterly ostracized, and the only persons with whom they are seen, though respectable enough, are not of the better class of local society. They are occasionally visited by relatives from their former home, such as children by Gaynor's former marriage, but apart from these they see very few persons except on business.

Gaynor spends most of his time in the barroom, where he is tolerated for his openhandedness by lawyers and politicians who drop in from time to time.

Mrs. Gaynor spends a good deal of her time in driving and horse riding, in which latter sport she has been taking lessons from an officer of the militia cavalry. Mrs. Gaynor is an occasional attendant at St. Andrew's, the local Presbyterian church, while Gaynor himself is once in awhile to be seen at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church. It is obvious that Gaynor has still plenty of money. Some time ago he dabbled in stock speculation, but he has abandoned that amusement now. On the other hand, Capt. Greene, who lives with his wife and servants in an equally fine house in the same quarter of the city, is practically a recluse and sees nobody but on the strictest business, applying himself entirely to study. In spite of their money, in spite of the clique of lawyers and politicians who have, for pay, helped them to defy justice, public sentiment in Quebec regards these two fugitives with scorn. Greene alone seems to understand the real nderness of his lot. And now that the privy council has overturned the plot by which he gained his freedom, he is more tacitum than ever.

TUG CHASE ON THE ST. LAWRENCE AND CAPTURE OF GAYNOR.

How Government Was Fleeced.

To understand this extraordinary case it is necessary to recall its events. On April 24, 1888, Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, of the United States corps of engineers, took charge of the improvement of rivers and harbors at Savannah, Ga., for which work millions of dollars had been appropriated. He so managed matters that the Atlantic Construction company, consisting of John F. Gaynor, Capt. Greene and E. H. and W. T. Gaynor, got control of the contract.

In May, 1897, Capt. Carter was appointed military attache of the United States legation in London against his protest. Capt. Gillette, the engineer officer appointed to succeed him in charge of the Savannah improvements, charged Capt. Carter with a conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the harbor contracts. In December, 1897, the secretary of war ordered the trial of Capt. Carter by court-martial. The charges were, roundly, that Carter drew the specifications for contracts so that no firm but the Atlantic Construction company would dare to bid on the work, that interior work and materials were accepted and that the surplus moneys above the actual cost were divided pro rata between Gaynor, Greene and Carter.

It was shown on the trial that these payments were frequent, and that when they were to be made Capt. Carter would go to New York, where he would draw a treasury order for the full amount, plus $75, his expenses on the journey; that this check would be handed to Greene, and that within a few days Gaynor would hand his check for one-third of the payment, plus $75, to Carter. The dates of the checks thus drawn corresponded with Carter's visits to the Union League club in New York, of which he was a member. It was estimated that Carter's share of the plunder amounted to $722,528.

Capt. Carter Convicted.

Carter was tried by court-martial, found guilty and sentenced to a fine of $5,000 and five years' imprisonment, besides being dishonorably dismissed from the army. He has expiated his offense and has regained his liberty.

It took a long time to secure Capt. Carter's punishment, and it was said that Gaynor and Greene were moving heaven and earth to hush the matter up.

In December, 1899, Gaynor and Greene and the other members of the Atlantic Construction company were indicted by the United States grand jury at Savannah for a conspiracy to defraud the United States of $575,949.90. A few days later the indicted men surrendered to United States Marshal Shields in New York.

Then followed a long struggle against extradition to Savannah. Gaynor and Greene had appeared in Savannah and had each given a bond of $40,000. Step by step the case was fought, and when the United States supreme court finally swept away all obstructions between them and their trial, Gaynor and Greene fled to Canada, and their bail bonds were forfeited. It is said that the bondsmen were afterward reimbursed by the fugitives.

The two men went to Montreal first and then to Quebec.

Kidnaped by Detectives.

Extradition Commissioner Lafontaine at Montreal issued a warrant for the arrest of the fugitives on the application of the United States. Then followed a dramatic event. On May 15, 1902, a party of detectives went to Quebec secretly with Commissioner Lafontaine's warrant, pounced upon Gaynor and Greene, thrust them into closed cabs, put them on the tug Spray, the swiftest vessel on the St. Lawrence, and started at full speed for Montreal. Gaynor shouted from the cab window to a friend in the street: "I am kidnaped!" A detective put his hand over the prisoner's mouth. But that signal was enough, and the cry was immediately raised by Mrs. Gaynor and her friends. The prisoner's lawyers went about Quebec declaring that their clients had been kidnaped. At once a boatload of Quebec officers was sent to overtake the Spray and bring Gaynor and Greene back.

Pursuit of the Fugitives.

The chase up the river was an exciting one, and the news spreading rapidly, the progress of the two boats up the St. Lawrence was eagerly watched. But the Spray was too fast to be caught. Realizing this, the chief constable of Quebec, armed with a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Andrews, of that city, hurried to Three Rivers on a special train, and, setting out in a boat with his officers, ordered the Spray to halt in the queen's name. No attention was paid to the challenge. Gaynor and Greene were taken to Montreal, where Commissioner Lafontaine committed them to jail.

The high constable of Quebec hurried back to Judge Andrews on a special train and secured another writ addressed to the Montreal jailer, who surrendered the prisoners; and so Gaynor and Greene went back to Quebec on a special train, feasting their official rescuers on the way. So fearful were the exiles that they would be kidnaped again, that they asked to be committed to the Quebec jail, where they felt reasonably safe from the Montreal and American detectives.

As the case developed, it was evident that Gaynor and Greene had laid their plans deeply. The law firm employed by them included in its membership the premier of Quebec, a son of the deputy attorney general and the Canadian minister of justice. The son of the extradition commissioner of Quebec was also employed by the fugitives.

The prisoners' lawyers appeared before Judge Andrews and consented to the vacating of the writ. Thereupon other writs issued by Judge Caron, who had had nothing to do with the case, were served upon the Quebec jailer. As soon as he heard of this, Judge Andrews dismissed the writs and ordered Gaynor and Greene to be taken to Montreal.

Judge Dismisses Proceedings.

Now came the final trick. Judge Caron issued a writ of certiorari, compelling Commissioner Lafontaine, of Montreal, to bring all the papers in the extradition proceedings into the court at Quebec for review. Immediately afterward Judge Caron allowed the prisoners to leave the jail and go to live at the Chateau Frontenac. A few days later the prisoners declared in court, through their lawyers, that Mr. Erwin, the lawyer representing the United States, had offered to consent to a dismissal of the case on the payment of $500,000. Mr. Erwin denied the charge. Greene admitted that he offered to pay $200,000 in settlement. On August 13, 1902, Judge Caron discharged Greene and Gaynor and dismissed the extradition proceedings.

After this Mr. Erwin reported the facts to the United States government and charged that Gaynor and Greene had so interested officials connected with the administration of justice in Canada that the ends of justice had been defeated. The United States appealed the case to the privy council, whose decision, just rendered, sends the matter back before Commissioner Lafontaine, at Montreal. Gaynor and Greene declare they will go through the fight all over again on new technical grounds, but it is predicted by unbiased men qualified to speak that they will be brought to trial within the next three months.

Comments on Case.

Friends of the exiles in Quebec in Canada, are attempting to create the impression that the decision of the British court "is only another evidence of the cringing and truckling policy which England has of late been following in her dealings with the United States, Canadian interests being sacrificed in every instance to the inordinate and aggressive demands of the United States."

That this feeling is not general is shown by the strong words of a leading Canadian lawyer upon receipt of the news of the court's decision. "Of all the infamies that have disgraced the annals of the administration of justice in Canada," he said, "this Gaynor and Greene case is the worst. It has shown us that our bench and bar are unhappily amenable to influences which were never suspected before and that, aided by the fortuitous presence of cooperative elements in the federal and provisional governments, the good name of our country and of two of its supposed unassailable bulwarks have been most ruthlessly sacrificed for the sake of temporary political and personal triumphs and the sake of personal gain. Happily we have in the judicial committee of the imperial privy council an independent and impartial tribunal that possesses the right and the power to set all such matters straight, to rectify all the wrongs perpetrated in the name of British or Canadian law, and, in this instance, to wipe out the stigma that has been cast upon our system by some of our very worst elements. The entire machinery of the Canadian administration of justice was paralyzed or prostituted to the service of Gaynor and Greene, who had to pay sweetly for their temporary triumphs. How far the political and legal cliques have bled them it is impossible to say, but it is fair to assume, from all the widespread ramifications, that it must have represented a considerable amount of solid cash. Everything that could help the great end in view was used."

Although the wheels of justice have ground slowly and it has taken five years of desperate and costly fighting to arrive at the present stage of the proceedings, the day of their trial is now almost in sight. Should they be found guilty and receive their just deserts, it will be time and money well spent, for it will teach a lesson to absconders and criminals that they can find no refuge in the technicalities of the extradition laws.

DETECTIVES HAVE BEEN CONTINUALLY UNDER SURVEILLANCE

THE GOOD OLD DAYS!

The Maid—Unhand me, sirrah! If you attempt to kiss me, I shall scream for help.

The Man—Trouble not, sweet one—I need no help.

THE CARE OF CUT GLASS.

Explicit Directions About the Important Matters of Washing, Rinsing and Drying.

To preserve glassware and keep it looking its best, great care must be taken in handling, cleaning and polishing. If the best ways of doing this are understood, the life of the piece will be prolonged and each will be ornamental as long as it remains in use.

Wash fine glass as quickly as possible. Standing in water for any length of time tends to take the luster from its cutting. Put one piece at a time into the water, wash, raise and set to dry. If a dish is sticky inside, fill it with lukewarm soda and shake until the surface begins to clear.

Several receptacles are needed to properly clean fine glassware. The dishpan should be hotter, at least half boiling, a broad shallow tray, covered with a clean, soft double thickness of cloth. Collect the soiled glassware on this, face down. Just in front have a deep receptacle of hot water for rinsing. Before filling the pan to begin washing, lay in the bottom of it a wide soft towel folded four double. Half a gallon of boiling water to three quarts of cold will give the right temperature for the first bath. The rinsing water should be hotter, at least half boiling. Wash with white soap and a tablespoonful of ammonia to the gallon. Never use yellow soap, for the rosin that is in it clouds the surface of the glass.

Taking a piece of glass at a time, cleanse it, using a clean, soft cloth and a very soft brush. Quickly dip it in the rinsing water and then put it by, turned upside down on a rinsing board covered with a towel.

There let it drain until the next dish is ready, and then take the first and plunge it in a deep box of sifted sawdust, either oak or whitewood. "Jewelers' sawdust" is good. None that is gummy is fit to use. Hot dust will dry glass quickest, and after being removed from it a light polish with a dry, soft cloth should make it ready to go back to the shelves. Never let glass get cold before wiping, and always use the best linen crash toweling, after softening it by two or three washings. New towels are too hard, and very common ones shed lint. Use enough towels to have them always dry.

Decanters and claret jugs often need special treatment. If not too finely cut they can be cleaned with a half dozen buckshot dropped into warm soda water inside them. Shake these about vigorously. If much incrusted the bottles should be filled with soda water, the stoppers put on and left to stand for six hours. The crust will come off with this treatment, but afterward a little vinegar must be poured in and also shaken. More fragile, deeply cut bottles should be cleaned with alcohol and coarse brown paper. Make very small pellets and drop in six. Pour in a half cup of alcohol and shake hard, holding the bottle sideways and shaking it round and round. Pour off the alcohol and keep for future use. Next repeat the shaking with water half boiling hot and wash like any other piece of glass.

All the dishes stained with milk or gelatine desserts must be thoroughly rinsed in cold water. If traces then remain give a second rinsing in blood-warm water, and still again in even hotter if needed. What is absolutely necessary is that they do not go into the wash water filmed over. Be sure that no food of this nature is left to stick between the cutting, for not only does it cloud the surface, but lodges a great deal of dirt.—Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

SOME LATE PREFERENCES.

Storm coats are made shorter—the three-quarter length alternating with a length about ten inches from the ground.

Overgaiters, which have been worn by smart women this winter, are going to be a distinct adjunct to the spring toilet. Not only in the contrasting shades, such as browns and grays, but also in colors to match the gowns they will be popular. While the idea savors of London town and Anglomania, yet when so many young women wear low shoes the winter through, gaiters are not only permissable, but an actual necessity.

Fine white bobbinet makes most satisfactory curtains for people of moderate means, as they launder well, drape gracefully and wear a long time. Simplicity should prevail in their arrangement.

Some of the daintiest collars are of white linen worked in white, or in soft muslin worked in black and white, scarlet or navy blue—in fact, with some color that shall match exactly the tone of the blouse or gown.

In the dainty crepe robes the neck is almost invariably cut low, either V-shaped or round. Cascades of lace in the form of elongated jabots finish most of the crepe gowns.

BOONE CO., RECORDER
Wednesday, - - March 1, 1905.
W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher

To the Tobacco Growers :

"If at first you do not succeed, try, try again," is an old adage and a true one. Through tiral and tribulations we are often brought to an understanding and realization of our true condition and the needs of the times.

The farmers of today are confronted with organizations in every branch of business and profession. The lawyers, doctors, bankers, manufacturers, wholesale merchants, working men, and jobbers in every line of products, are carefully organized and disciplined and prepared to enforce all orders and rules to advance and protect their interests, while the farmers, having 61 percent of population and 62 percent of wealth, and produce $5,000,000,000 worth of products per year, and could have paid out of the corn crop alone, last year, the national debt and the expenses of the government for eight months, and have had all other products left—have no organization, no discipline and no protection nor defense against the many organizations that exploit them year after year, except the Grange, which has not acquired sufficient strength in Kentucky, yet, to make its power felt; but in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and some of the western States, through organization and cooperation in the Grange, they have built their own elevators and secured better prices for their grain, and secured cheaper rates from the railroads for shipping, and through the Grange the eastern and northern States have benefitted themselves in buying their agricultural implements and supplies, convincing them that organization is necessary to cope with organization.

Kentucky farmers practically have accomplished nothing thru' organization. On certain occasions Kentucky farmers in different sections of the State, when object lessons have been presented to them, have shown signs of a spirit of retaliation, and have made feeble efforts at organization to resent the aggressions of monopolis and trusts, but not formidable enough to promote and protect their interests. A refusal to persevere in organization and organization on the part of Kentucky farmers is largely due to their lack of confidence in one another, their failure to inform themselves as to their environments and what is being done by organization in other branches of business, and their lack of ambition to keep up with the procession; but their experience in two attempts to organize the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, and its failure when so near success, will have an educational effect that will, I hope, bear fruit.

The plan of organization of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association was wrong in principle, impracticable and subversive of all theories of finance. It contemplated the control of $10,000,000 with $500,000 and allowing 60 per cent of the profits to the nine and one half million and the holders of the $500,000 taking 40 per cent of the profits and allowing no part of the profits to the grower, and calculating to get 800 per cent. on their investment. The Dutchman's one per cent has heretofore been the maximum of profits, but the abnormal greed of this infant octopus had an unusual limit.

In order to succeed in this undertaking the farmers must furnish the capital, take all the risk and assume all responsibilities and get all the profits. It should be a thoroughly cooperative Association for the benefit of the gorwers of burley tobacco, organized, controlled and financed by them without going to any syndicate for money, or depending on any helps, except such as are in sympathy, and whose business is identical in aim and purpose. Remember, and profit by the story of the lark and the farmer, that, when you determine to do a thing yourself it will be done, then the farmers will receive the honor as well as the profits.

I will suggest the plan. There are four elements in the tobacco trade, the producer, the dealer, the warehousemen and the manufacturer. The interests of the three first elements are identical. Their object is to get the best prices possible for the tobacco, and, united, they present a solid front to the manufacturer. The dealer is the second important factor in the Burley Association, for tobacco, after the producer has prepared it for delivery must be received somewhere, and put in condition for market.

The dealer has the necessary experience and the facilities for receiving and preparing the tobacco for market, and he needs the work, and when the dealer has prepared it for market the Association then needs a point of distribution, storage room, sales room, a uniform system of inspection, and men who have established a commercial reputation to make sales and manage finances. Cincinnati is the natural point of distribution of burley tobacco, and the proprietors of her tobacco warehouses are able to meet every requirement and discharge every duty. They are indispensable in the Association, and the three elements united make a complete outfit, and the Burley Association need not invest a dollar in real estate. The tobacco sold the money can be distributed. Dealers' fees and warehouse fees to be regulated by the Association. The capital of the Association is the tobacco grown by the producers and delivered in the dealer's warehouse in the several communities throughout the Burley District, the value of the producer's crop delivered to be amount of his stock in the Association. In order to arrive at a basis of just value of crop, establish a uniform system of grades, and let the dealer in charge of the warehouse and the owner of the crop grade and enter value as stock on the books, for which Association will give a receipt, and if the producer needs money to meet his obligations, let him give his note to the Association for an amount not to exceed 75 per cent of his stock, and the Association can get the money at local banks, and when the tobacco is sold, take out the amount of the note and interest and pay him balance on his stock with the profit.

If the crop can be signed upon this plan by the first of December, I will guarantee that every man will have all his money with a profit by first of June. Now, let me admonish the farmers not to hesitate in this matter for the want of confidence in oneanother. Transactions involving millions of dollars are accomplished yearly in the great organizations of the day without the scratch of a pen because they have confidence in the members of the organization. Why should not the farmers have like confidence in oneanother? They are just as honest, just as reliable and just as conscientious in their business transactions, and need not fear nor suspect oneanother.

Establish a Grange in every community, meet and discuss this matter, become acquainted, and establish social, friendly and fraternal relations that will establish confidence in oneanother, and put you in touch with oneanother all over the Burley District, then you will be in a condition to cooperate as a whole. This can be done with proper effort, and every pound of tobacco signed up before the first day of December, and you can begin delivering your tobacco as soon as it is ready. It will make no difference as to price established on reception, so it is uniform throughout the district, for you will get the benefit of the last and best price it can be sold for.

Do not let your prejudice against the dealers and the warehousemen influence you in the least, for they will be under the control of the Association and your success will be to their advantage. The dealer will know just what he is to receive for his part of the work. The warehousemen, with many contingent expenses eliminated and no loss of bad debts to provide for and no traveling solicitors, can handle the tobacco cheaper than heretofore, for everything can be done with precision and certainty.

Mr. J. C. Hughes makes a proposition in last week's RECORDER that is a good one as far as it goes. I made the same proposition two years and have advocated it in the absence of some better plan and am ready to receive and handle on the same plan for any one who wishes to hold his tobacco. Bring it on, but be sure to take steps to organize and make a success of the Burley Tobacco Association and show to the world what the farmers can do when united. I stand ready to assist as you may desire.

Respectfully, J. W. KENNEDY.

AN effort is being made by Mr. Hawkins and others to hold the Burley tobacco growers in line for an effor to cornert the 1905 crop. New men with a new scheme will have to come to the front before the corner can be successfully engineered. Mr. Hawkins and his plan have had their day.

THE Japs and Russians are engaged in another terrific battle.

Kentuckians who were drafted in the Federal army during the civil war and paid substitutes to take their places in the ranks in the cause for the North, now have a chance to recover from the Government. A dispatch from Washington says: "The recent decision of the United States Court of Claims declaring that the draft law of June, 1864, was invalid and those drafted under it could recover from the Government, has resulted in a flood of letters to members of Congress from their constituents on the subject. Many seem to think that all the Civil War drafts were unconstitutional and are asking the members to take them up for them. Under the decision of the court only under the June, 1864, law can recovery be had and even in that case it will be necessary for Congress to pass a bill making appropriation for such claims before final payment can be made. There is now no money in the Treasury available for these payments, even though a claim be proved. Senator Blackburn has introduced a bill authorizing the payment of the claims under the decision of the court, but it is hardly likely that the bill can get through in the little time remaining."

Six democrats—Goulden, Harrison, Rider and Scudder of New York, McDermott of New Jersey and Shull of Pennsylvania—voted against the rate bill, and by so doing forfeited any claim that they might have previously had to democratic respect or support A democrat who will refuse to vote for a railroad regulation bill which even a majority of the republicans were constrained to support may find 5ome excuse for calling himself a democrat, but democrats can surely find no excuse for calling him to legislative service while there is likelihood of a conflict between the people and the corporations. A democrat who acts with the railroads and against the people in such a crisis is a heavy load tor the party to carry. No matter how conscientions he may be his bias in favor of the corporations makes his connection with the party in an official capacity a detriment to the party. The party must rid itself of such misrepresentatives if it would win the confidence of the public.—Commoner.

It Never Disappo'nts.

If troubled with weak digestion, belching or sour stomach, use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will get quick relief. For sale by all druggists.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

The Covington Savings Bank and Trust Company, plaintiff
against } Equity.
J. O Carpenter, &c., defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the Aug., term thereof, 1904, and also Supplemental Judgment rendered at the December Term, 1904, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court-house door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder at public auction, on Monday the 6th day of March, 1905, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being county court day, upon a credit of 6, 12 and 18 months, the following described property, to-wit:

Situated in Boone county Ky., on the Covington & Lexington Turnpike road, between Erlanger and Florence, and bounded thus: Beginning at a stone a corner to William Allen's 2½ acre purchase in Milton Goodridge's line; thence with the line of said purchase s 36½ w 16 poles to a stone, south east of a branch; thence s 10½ w 10 poles to a stone, also southeast of said branch; thence s 26 e 6½ poles to a corner of said Allen't purchase, in the center of said Turnpike road; thence with its center s 64 w 24 poles; thence n 21 w 96 poles and 21 links to a stone in John Barton's line; thence with said line n 78½ e 23½ poles to a stone, a corner with Milton Goodridge; thence with his line s 36½ e 69½ poles to the place of beginning, containing eighteen (18) acres, one (1) rood and six (6) poles.

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment, with a lien retained thereon until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $2 147 15

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

When You Buy

a pound of our Pure Cream Tartar Baking Powder and say it is not just as good as any, and are not satisfied, tell us and we will refund your money. We absolutely guarantee every can of it.

Pound 30c.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, - KY.

NOTICE!

There are 900 Delinquent Taxpayers in Boone County. After 60 days all persons who have not paid their Poll-Tax will be advertised, and I will appoint a deputy to levy on property belonging to the Poll-tax payers of Boone County. If you don't want your names in the paper and your Horses, Buggies and Cows and other personal property advertised and sold you had better pay your taxes.

B. B. ALLPHIN, S. B. C.

CAPITOL FLOUR

the acme of perfection—positively the best Winter Patent Flour produced. Will make the whitest and lightest biscuit, bread, cakes or pastry of any flour on the market, and if you are not using it now just do us the favor and yourself the kindness to try a barrel on our guarantee. You take no chance.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.
GROCER,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, - Kentucky.

C. J. WOLFF,
SPECIALIST FOR
TRUSSES, BRACES, CRUTCHES, Etc.
Personal attention given every case.
Experience 40 years.
13th & Race, opp. Washington Park, Cincinnati, O.

TAKE WINE OF CARDUI AT HOME

Are you a sufferer?
Has your doctor been unsuccessful?
Wouldn't you prefer to treat yourself—AT HOME?

Nearly 1,500,000 women have bought Wine of Cardui from their druggists and have cured themselves at home, of such troubles as periodical, bearing down and ovarian pains, leucorrhœa, barrenness, nervousness, dizziness, nausea and despondency, caused by female weakness.

These are not easy cases. Wine of Cardui cures when the doctor can't.

Wine of Cardui does not irritate the organs. There is no pain in the treatment. It is a soothing tonic of healing herbs, free from strong and drastic drugs. It is successful because it cures in a natural way.

Wine of Cardui can be bought from your druggist at $1.00 a bottle and you can begin this treatment today. Will you try it?

In cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, The Ladies' Advisory Dept., The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

WILSTAR,
Record 2171,
Will make the season of 1905 at McHenry's livery stable in Rising Sun Indiana. Persons booking mares before the first of April will save $5. After that time the terms will be $30 to insure a living colt.
SCRANTON BROS., Owners,
apr1 Rising Sun, Ind.

FOR RENT.

A good farm of 112 acres, with house and barn 1½ mile from Southern Railroad, near Buffington Station. Apply to Leona B. Stephens, 1049 Scott Street Covington, Ky.

For Sale
60 Acre Farm
Situated 10 miles west of Aurora, Indiana. Five acres in alfalfa, 15 acres in grass. Over ½ under cultivation, balance in timber. Good orchard. Convenient to school, church and R. F. D. A bargain. Good tobacco land. Address CHARLES MCKINSTRY Morgan Park, Illinois.

FOR SALE
Good Farm of 200 Acres,
Three miles north of Guilford, Ind., fine tobacco land; can be sold in parts. Six room brick residence, barn 40x60. Price reasonable. WARREN TEBBS, Lawrenceburg, Ind.

My Jersey Bull will be permitted to render service at $1, money due when service is render.
B. C. GRADDY, Bullittsville, Ky.

Deposits Earning Interest.
THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK & TRUST COMPANY, Inc.
N. E. Cor. Sixth St. and Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, KY.
Receives deposits of money subject to withdrawal after a specified time, or subject to check without notice,
ALLOWING INTEREST ON ALL DAILY BALANCES.
Interest is credited semi-annually on the first days of January and July and when the same is not withdrawn it is added to the principal AND DRAWS INTEREST.
It is not necessary to call in person to open an account, as all communications by mail receive prompt attention.
In its several departments, THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY
Acts as Agent; Collects Rents and Renders Accounts as desired; Loans Money on Approved Security; Rents Safe Deposit Boxes; Administers Estates and Acts as Guardian, Trustees, etc; Attends carefully to Trust Estates of Widows, Minors, Etc.
—ALL TRANSACTIONS CONFIDENTIAL.—
CAPITAL STOCK, $100.000.
Stockholders' Liability, $100.000.
JNO. P. ERNST, President. JOHN A. SIMPSON, Vice-President
C. W. SIMRALL, Sec'y & Treas.
Long Distance Telephone, South 214.

J. G. BENTLER & SON,
Lexington Pike, ERLANGER, KY.
Practical Horse Shoeing, General Blacksmithing
and Wagon Repairing of all kinds,
All kinds of Tool Grinding. - Also Bicycle Repairing.
Grinding of all Kinds to Order.

Hay and Grain,
AND ALL KINDS OF MILL FEED,
By Retail or Car Load. Call and Learn Our Prices.

CORN.
ARE YOU READY TO lay IN YOUR SUPPLY?
We are loading cars every day at our Elizabethtown Elevator in the Miami Bottoms, and you know what quality that is.
We are prepared to put it at any point along the Southern, and would like to hear from you when you are ready to buy.

Early & Daniel,
—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in—
Hay, Grain, Feed and Flour,
Pike St. and L. N. Ry.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.
We have opened a BRANCH HOUSE at Erlanger at E. H. Riggs' old Stand, and will Keep a full line of Hay, Grain and Feed on hand, and would thank you to call and get our prices.
—GOLDEN GRAIN FLOUR OUR SPECIALTY.

In our opinion a business conducted on an honest basis, furnishing the best "VALUES" possible for the "MONEY" and extending fair treatment to all
'ALWAYS WINS'
—Our Watchword has and always will be—
Honesty, .. Honest Clothing at
"HONEST PRICES."
We show a fine line of Mens', Boys' & Children's
CLOTHING
Men's Suits.....$5.00 to $15.00. | Boys' Suits.....$4.00 to $10.00
Men's Overcoats.. 4.00 to 15.00. | Children's Suits.. 2.50 to 5.00
Childrens Overcoat 2.50 to 5.00. | Boys' Overcoats.. 4.00 to 10.00
These are made in every conceivable style and fashion.
Mens' Corduroy Suit, $5, $7.50, $10 and $12—these are made to stand the rough usage and abuse. We also carry a complete line of Corduroy and Jean Pants, Duck Coats, and other clothing necessary for health and comfort.
ROLFES & WACHS,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Subscribe for Your Connty Paper, $1.50.

Local News.

Any old kind of weather is in order now.

There is not the usual number of public sales for this time of the year.

This is March and sudden and frequent changes of weather are permissable.

The ice in the river began moving several hours sooner than it was expected to.

All those wanting weaving done please give Misses Lizzie and Mae Hewett a call,

In some places it is said the ground was frozen to the depth of eighteen inches.

A four inch snow fell here between Sunday midnight and ten o'clock Monday.

The remains of Mrs. Cowen were taken from the vault and interred in Hebron cemetery, last Thursday.

Conner Hogan & Riley have received about 50,000 pounds of tobacco at their Burlington warehouse.

The explosions of the dynamite used in blasting the ice in the river last week, was heard many miles out in the county.

When this snow melts it will increase the volume of water in the Ohio river until it will be sufficient to carry the ice out.

The weather, last Friday, was of the decent kind, and made the farmers feel like hiking to the fields with teams and plows.

Hear that petitions are out securing signatures requesting a vote on the proposition to make free the turnpikes in this county.

The sunshine, last Thursday afternoon, caused those of leisure to lineup along the court house fence, an omen of the approach of spring.

Eld. D. F. Sturgeon, of Gage, O. T., wishes to ascertain the address of members of the families of Daniel Milton, William Milton and Cathrine Corbin.

O. J. Ryle has moved to Everett Hall's house at the corner of Union and Jefferson streets. Mount Slayback and family will occupy the house Mr. Ryle vacated.

Thomas Adams, of Bullittsville, has a pair of well broken young horses for sale. One will be two and the other three years old this spring. Will sell as a pair or singly.

"Cap" Glacken, of Richwood, was lodged in jail here last Saturday evening, charged with incest. He confessed to the crime, and Esquire Watson, of Walton, fixed his bail at $5,000.

Those who keep informed on the subject say fruit buds are in good condition yet, but owing to the large crop of peaches, last year, it is not probable that that particular fruit will be plentiful this year.

Last week Rev. M. D. Early moved his furniture to the large residence owned by John Cropper on the Bullittsville pike near the toll gate. His wife will return from Texas, this week, and they will go to housekeeping.

Mrs. Susan Kirkpatrick has moved to Johnny Hogan's house in Burlington, and Mr. Jackson, of Bullittsville, has taken charge of the toll-gate, on the Petersburg pike, which Mrs. Kirkpatrick has kept for the last 6 years.

Next Monday circuit court will convene in Owenton. There are sixty nine appearance cases and 200 old suits. Divorces lead, with fifteen cases to their credit. This is the largest number of divorce suits ever on the Owen docket at one time.—New-Herald.

F. J. Williams, proprietor of the Hamilton Drug Co., Hamilton, Iowa, says Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is practically the only remedy he sells for cramps, diarrhoea and colic, for the plain reason that it never disappoints. For sale by all druggists.

The RECORDER is in receipt of a postal card from Col. Clifford E. Nadaud, of Covington, which reads in part: "I pen this in the shadow of Mt. Pelee at St. Pierre, standing upon the ashes beneath which rest the dust of 40,000 unfortunate souls." The Colonel is touring the West Indies, Cuba and Florida.

Mrs. Reuben Acra, 72, of Middle creek, died last Saturday afternoon after an illness of several weeks, of pneumonia. She was a daughter of the late Lawrence Pope. She leaves an aged husband and several sons, who have the sympathy of a large circle of friends. The remains were interred in the family burying ground last Monday.

Startling Mortality.

Statistics show startling mortality, from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King's New Life Pills. M. Flannery, of 14 Custom House Place, Chicago, says: "They have no equal for Constipation and Biliousness." 25c at all druggists.

I have completed and opened a well equipped livery stable on Carneal street near Elm, where horses and rigs will receive the best of attention. Boone county people will find it to their advantage to leave their horses and buggies with me.

I make two trips daily to the city with my express wagon.

B. S. CLORE, Ludlow.

A Favorite Remedy for Babies.

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by all druggists.

James Smith, the Bellevue mail carrier, started to cross the river on the ice with the mail pouch, last Saturday morning, but he did not go far until his head was the only remnant of his anatomy that was above the ice. By the time Mr. Smith had extricated himself from his icy bath he had concluded that the journey was too perilous to undertake unless business requiring it was more ugent than his.

Mrs. W. H. Clayton, of Hebron, says the name of David's mother was Nahash.

Answer to Idlewild's query: Jessamine county, established in 1798, was named for a Miss Douglas.

By referring to Chronicles, 6th chapter and 15 to 17th verse; and to second Samuel, 17 chapter and 25th verse, the Idlewild correspondent will learn who David's mother was.

*

Personal Mention.

Albert Snyder's health continues to improve.

Cashier Revill has been on the sick list for several days.

Miss May Clore, who has been sick for some time is improving.

Hubert Gaines was in the city, one day last week, selling horses.

Sammie Adams, who is in a Cincinnati hospital is improving nicely.

J. H. Clore, of Florence precinct, was transacting business in Burlington, last Friday.

Mrs. Dudley Rouse entertained with an elegant 6 o'clock dinner, last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Annabelle Ryle and Mrs. Lucy Walton, of Petersburg, visited in Burlington, Monday.

Mrs. F. P. Walton, of Covington, was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Dudley Rouse, several days last week.

J. C. Revill and wife spent last Wednesday and Thursday with Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Furnish, in Covington.

County Attorney Castleman went to Walton last Saturday to look after some violators of the penal laws.

A. G. Gaines has been looking after the insurance business for R. B. Huey, who has been quite ill of pneumonia.

J. O. Griffith, of Beaver, was in town last Friday, and reported everything in his part of the county in fair condition.

Cecil Gaines has been assisting with the work in the Boone County Deposit Bank since Cashier Revill has been laid up.

Mrs. R. S. Crisler visited Mrs. William Souther, of Constance, several days last week. Mrs. Souther has been quite sick for several days.

Lou Crutcher, of Hebron neighborhood, was in town one day last week. He reported Dr. Jacob Tanner as staying close to the house and wintering well.

O. E. Dixon, professional nurse, was in town last Thursday, enroute to his home at Richwood. He was returning from Mr. C. S. Balsly's, of Bullettsville, where he nursed Mr. Balsly's son Kenneth during his illness.

W. M. Rouse, of Kenton county, was in town yesterday. He will have a large sale of personal property on the 14th inst. It will be the largest sale had in the Crescent neighborhood in a long time.

Mr. Joseph N. Bell, of Washington, D. C., representing Bureau of the Census, is calling on the manufacturers in several counties in Kentucky, among them Boone county. Mr. Belle is a Kentuckian and a pleasant gentleman with whom to do business.

What the ice is to do for the river interests will be shown to day. The gorges can't stand old Sol's rays long.

Letter from Florida.

Datona, Fla., Feb. 17, 1905.

Editor of the Recorder:

I saw in the Cincinnati Enquirer that I had permanently settled in Alabama, which is not true. At that time I was quietly fishing in the beautiful Halifax river, Florida. This river is an arm of the Atlantic ocean, about 30 miles long and one mile wide. The tide ebbs and flows with the ocean, bringing with it all of the denizens of the deep. Oyster beds are plentiful and furnish abundant crops of that molask; but I must say that they don't look tempting until freed from their dirty shells. Along this river are a number of small villages, Datona being the largest and most beautiful. It is situated on the west bank of the Halifax river on what is known as high hammock land. It is only a mile from the beach, which is reached by crossing the Halifax river bridges and a narrow strip of land or peninsular.

The scenery here is just as nature left it, and man has merely cut away the undergrowth and enough of the native forest to nestle beautiful homes, cottages and hotels. Along the wide avenues are lordly water oaks, tall, tropical palmettoes, glossy leaved magnolias, fragrant bay and corral berried holly and many other varieties. Everywhere the gray Spanish moss drapes the trees and hangs in graceful festoons. Oranges, grape-fruit and kum quots grow in the yards everywhere. There are some fine orange orchards around here, and pine-apples are grown here under cover. When you see all these beautiful things, and tobacco, potatoes, onions and peas growing in the gardens, and butterflies flitting about, you naturally think it is summer time. You go on the river and ocean and see fishermen catching fine strings of fish, and ladies in shirt-waists and people bathing in the ocean, and you forget that it is only the middle of February and join in the fun and are happy. People here from Michigan, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago call this paradise and I don't blame them. It is lovely. It is even delightful; but I am still of the opinion that paradise is somewhere in Old Kentucky, and not far from Union. This may sound a little homesick; but I can't help it. When I see the flocks of robins around here I tell them I will beat them to old Boone it I can.

What I have seen of the south has impressed me very favorably as to the future prosperity and greatness of her resources; but I can't help but think that when a man sells good, old Kentucky soil and buys land down here he is making a mistake. It is alright here and wonderfully productive, no doubt, but I believe I would get mighty tired looking at red and white sand, pines and scrub palms.

Now, I promised to let you hear from me while down south, but I have gotten so lazy that I don't want to do anything but eat, fish and hunt, so I doubt very much whether I would or could have found time to scratch this much; but for two other facts: 1st.—I read that I had located in Alabama, which I have not and don't expect to, and 2d, that I promised many of my Boone county friends to write to them, and I take this lazy way of doing it all with one letter. Mrs. C. and I are both well and a very busy couple. I am busy eating, fishing and hunting, and Mrs. C. is busy counting the fish I catch.

Love to all. Good bye. Hope to see you soon and tell you the rest.

M. J. CROUCH.

P. S.—I have a few fish and snake items to tell you, but I am going to hold them in reserve to give the boys a surprise. I am thinking of offering a prize to the one who will make the nearest correct guess as to the number of fish I will catch this winter.

M. J. C.

Last Saturday night some of the Burlington young men were escorting some of their young lady friends home, when they were met by what they term a ghost. It matters not what the strange object was it gave the young people a great fright, and they gave it a hideous description.

Geo. M. Casey, for several years a resident of Walton, this county, died in Covington, one day last week. He was a son of the late John B. Casey and a brother of L. E. Casey, a well known newspaper man of Covington. For many years he was a valuable and appreciated contributor to the RECORDER. He was a man of a wide range of information and a forcible writer—a journalist of the old type.

William Hedges and wife have bought John Bachelor's farm on Gunpowder, known as the Thomas Underhill land, and Mr. Bachelor has rented of William Clore the land belonging to him and which use to be a portion of the Lewis Conner farm in Locust Grove neighborhood.

This snow will aid materially in clearing the ice out of the river.

A Missouri editor has figured out that an acre of land in clover will produce 800 pounds of pork; peas, 375 pounds; corn, 650 pounds; oats, 320 pounds; barley, 420 pounds, and wheat 225 pounds. The value of each crop in one acre when converted into pork is as follows: Clover, $32; corn, $22.40; peas, $15; barley, $16.80; oats, $13.20; and wheat $9, estimating pork at four cents per pound. Of course something depends on the prices ruling for the crops. The amount of produce per acre required to give the pork mentioned on an acre is 900 pounds of wheat, 1,680 pounds of barley, 1,320 pounds of oats, 2,240 pounds of corn, 15,000 pounds of peas and 12,000 pounds of green clover.

Mrs. Frances Price dead.

Mrs. Price, widow of the late Albert Price, and an old resident of Florence, died last Saturday of paralysis after a few days illness. She was a member of the Florence Christian church, where her funeral was preached by Rev. Edgar Riley, last Sunday afternoon, after which the remains were interred by the side of those of her husband who preceded her to the grave nearly 30 years. A large concourse of friends and relatives assembled to pay their last respects to the departed.

For a long time it has been the Indiana style to drink by himself. One of the law-makers now proposes to legalize it. He has introduced a bill in the Legislature making it a misdemeanor for any person to treat another at a bar or any other place where liquor is sold. The average Kentucky Colonel would rather go thirsty than take a drink alone.—Georgetown News.

A curious fact in regard to the drug trade is that we are today importing in considerable quantities ordinary medical plants which may be found growing wild in America on farms and are destroyed by farmers who condemn them as nuisances and an eye-sore that destroy the beauty of a well-kept farm. Among this class of despised drug plants are the common may weed, dandelion, burdock, couch grass and curlydock, and these might all be a source of income with a small effort to members of the farmer's family.

For Sale—A French coach stalion, weight 15 hundred. Apply to J. I. McWethy, Petersburg, Boone County, Ky.

Don't Pay

5, 10 or 50c more for a bottle of Medicine than you ought to. We can save you that much on all you buy and give you the freshest goods besides.

The reason is we do not belong to the Druggist's Trust (Nation Association of Retail Druggists) whose object is to keep up prices.

—TRY US.—

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.,

—GROCER.—

N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington, COVINGTON, KY.

DOELLER'S

Catarrh and Croup Cure

—IT RELIEVES—

Croup,
Grippe Cold,
Dry Catarrh,
Cold in the Head,
Catarrhal Headache,
Chronic Nasal Catarrh
Sore Throat,
Bronchitis,
Chapped Hands,
Dry Hacking Cough,
Pimples and Black Heads,
Throat and Lung Troubles.

Sent prepaid on receipt of price in coin or stamps. 25c each or five packages for $1.

Our Guarantee: Money Refunded if You are not Benefitted.

MANUFACTURED ONLY BY

J. W. HOWE & SON,

No. 30 High Street,

HAMILTON, OHIO.

Money and Health

Saved—Comfort and Pleasure gained by using

Golden Blend Coffee, per pound..... 20c

Money Worth Blend Coffee, per lb.... 17c

Three pounds for 50c.

GEO. C. GOODE,

Agent,

Pike & Washington,

COVINGTON, KY.

Advance Shipment of SPRING GOODS!

We have gotten in our

Early Spring Goods

.....CONSISTING OF.....

Ginghams, Percales, Veils,

Laces, Embroideries, Etc.

Making our contracts early we were enabled to take advantage of the market, and this advantage we will give our customers in low prices.

INDIGO BLUE CALICO 5c yard.
AMERICAN SHIRTING CALICOS 5c yard.
LACES FROM 3c yard up to 15c yard.
EMBROIDERIES FROM 3c yard up to 25c yard.

Our Laces and Embroideries are especially fine and well selected and worth 25 per cent more than we price them. We invite you to come and inspect them.

W. M. Rachal & Co

UNION, KY.

H. G. BLANTON,

FUNERAL & DIRECTOR

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.

Special Rates to Traveling Men.

First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.

Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.

Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,

Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants

Tested Field and Garden Seeds.

Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.

Largest and Best Stock of

GROCERIES IN THE CITY.

Sole Agents for the Celebrated

RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.

When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.

27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Livery and Sales Stable.

ALLPHIN & HUME, Proprietors,

Walton, Kentucky.

Horses kept by the Meal, Day or Month. Good safe rigs for hire at all times.

—Horses Bought, or Sold on Commission—

Stable Near Southern Depot. BRUCE ROBERTS, Manager.

'Phone 172½, Hughes' Line.

CEILINGS. SKYLIGHTS. CORNICES

The Porter Iron Roofing & Corrugating Co

27 and 29 West Front Street,

CINCINNATI, - - OHIO.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Iron, Steel, Galvanized & Felt Roofing.

Our Agents will give you wholesale prices.

Agents:—Bruce Anderson, Constance, Ky. L. L. Truner, Union, Ky.

Our Unexcelled "Heating Drums" are the best. Inquire for Prices.

"OH, HOW DELIGHTFUL!"

The Perfect Deodorizer and Disinfectant

FRAGRINE

Refreshes. Perfumes. Invigorates. Endorsed by Physicians.

Most Pleasant of Toilet Requisites.

Most healthful of Household Necessities. Call and try it at

JOHN ALLISON'S, Undertaker, Covington, Ky.

For Sale.

Business property in Constance, Ky., consisting of House, Store, Feed Room, Livery Barn of 20 stalls. Will sell property and invoice goods—will sell property and keep stock; also for rent a blacksmith and wagon makers shop.

C. W. ROBINSON,
Constance, Ky.

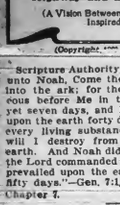
Dr. G. M. Terrill,

DENTIST,

Walnut Street,

LAWRENCEBURG, - INDIANA.

Subscribe for the Recorder.



On the Bosom of Mighty Waters

OUR SERMON STORY by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher.

(A Vision Between the Lines of God's Inspired Word.)

(Copyright, ..., by J. M. Edson.)

Scripture Authority:—"And the Lord said unto Noah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee I have seen righteous before Me in this generation. For yet seven days, and I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights; every living substance that I have made will I destroy from off the face of the earth. And Noah did according to all that the Lord commanded him. And the waters prevailed upon the earth an hundred and fifty days."—Gen. 7:1, 4, 5, 24. Read all of Chapter 7.

THE test of faith is always at the place of waiting. How true it is, as God declares, that "we have need of patience, that after we have done the will of God, we might receive the promise."

The ark was completed within and without. The provisions for man and beast and bird had been gathered and stored as God had commanded. And there the immense half-house, half-ship, reared its black form towards the sky. No water in sight, and the heavens as fair and cloudless as on the most perfect summer's day. And Noah waited.

But the scoffing and ridicule of the wicked cannot disturb the inner calm of true faith. He who waits on the Lord is sure of vindication and victory in God's own good time. And Noah waited.

Day after day thus went by. Methuselah, that aged patriarch and saint, did much to encourage and cheer the waiting Noah and his family.

"God will speak in His own good time," he reassuringly declared again and again, and then he grew reminiscent and, going back over the centuries, he retold the story of Enoch's translation and of how God had spoken to him.

One evening as the great glowing sun was sinking to rest behind the western hills, and the shadows were spreading their darkening folds over the valleys, and the heavens were transformed by the flashes of gold and crimson light, a solemn hush fell over the little group as [illegible] perished speaking. Suddenly he exclaimed:

"See—God's hand in the heavens is beckoning me home!"

The startled members of the household looked in the direction the grizzled hand of the aged patriarch pointed and saw the playing lights in the heavens, as though they had been the fingers of an outstretched hand slowly beckoning.

"It is well," continued Methuselah. "The Lord hath in my earlier years given me a vision of His glory in the translation of my father, Enoch, and in these latter days of apostacy and utter corruption He has permitted me to behold His wonderful plan of mercy and salvation to those who have faith in Him and obey His will."

Having thus spoken, Methuselah turned and, blessing Noah and his sons, laid back upon his couch. A peaceful calm rested on his face as he closed his eyes and while those about him looked and wondered his spirit, following the beckoning hand, sped through the brilliant gateway of Heaven.

The tidings of Methuselah's death spread rapidly, for his long and eventful career was closely interwoven with the history of the human race. He was the oracle from whom the living generations received the stories of the long, long past. He had heard from Adam's own lips all the wonderful accounts of the creation, the life in the garden and the story of the race since the expulsion.

From far and near the people came to the funeral. Down in the valley, in the shadow of the ark, they buried the dead patriarch, and Noah's heart was sad and heavy as he beheld all the assembled people and realized that they were under the judgment of God and were about to perish. He would make one last appeal. He would utter one last word of warning.

And by the grave of old Methuselah, where there were so many memories to soften the heart and turn the thoughts toward God Who had been forgotten, Noah preached as he never had preached before. It was the last call of God; the final appeal before judgment should fall.

When God speaks, the message either breaks the heart up into fallow ground where repentance and righteousness may find root to grow, or it hardens the heart yet more. Ah, that the world to-day might learn from the history of the past that God will not always chide, neither will He keep His anger forever!

As to-day so often, so on that day when Noah spoke God's message, it fell on ears that would not hear, on hearts that were wholly given to their own devices, and the people turned with scorn and ridicule away, saying that he had been preaching that same old message for a hundred years and the flood had not yet come.

Bowed in grief, which was but a reflection of the great grieving heart of God, Noah watched them return to their eating and drinking, their marrying and festive-making. The beautiful afternoon faded into the darkening shadows of the evening hour and still the broken-hearted preacher lingered by the new-made grave, which spoke of death, and by the side of the ark, which gave promise of shelter and life.

Alone he stood, and night, as though in sympathy with his thoughts, circled him about with its blackness and seemed to speak of the coming darkness of judgment. But above the stars flashed a brighter message. They spoke of a God ruling there, and Noah found cheer in the thought as he lifted his eyes upward, that though a people were about to perish in their sins, yet God doeth all things well, and it was blessed to abide in His will.

The hearts of God's children never reach up after Him, but that in loving fellowship He comes down and abides with them. So that night, God came and spoke to Noah:

"Come thou and all thy house into the ark; for yet seven days, and I will cause it to rain upon the earth 40 days and 40 nights; and every living substance that I have made will I destroy from off the face of the earth."

Earth was just awakening to another day and the sun was gilding the eastern sky with its glorious light, when the stir in Noah's household betokened some unusual proceeding. That was the beginning of seven busy days for Noah and his sons and their wives. Faithfully did they perform all that the Lord had commanded them to do, and ere the seven days were ended they had gathered together the beasts of the field and the fowls of the air and the creeping things, and sheltered them in the places appointed them in the ark.

God's spirit wrought mightily during those last seven days of preparation, and made every living creature obedient to Noah's word.

When it was noised abroad that Noah and his family were moving into the ark, it brought curious crowds to watch the unusual proceedings.

"My daughters shall never go into that hulk with that old fanatic," one determined-looking woman was overheard angrily to say, while her eyes flashed bitter hatred. It seems that some years before this the three daughters of this woman had been converted under Noah's preaching, and had found an asylum from the persecution which broke out against them in Noah's home. Here an attachment had sprung up between them and Noah's sons and their marriage had followed.

"It is an outrage that he should have broken up your home," spoke up another who knew the history of the family quarrel.

"Well," fiercely exclaimed a young man, evidently a son of the woman who had first spoken, "our sisters have got to quit their fool religious notions. That old man Noah is crazy, and we'll never let him shut the girls in his old prison."

"But have the girls given no evidence of changing their minds?"

"No! In spite of all our efforts, they stubbornly refused to yield to reason," was the reply.

Thus in that early day the choosing of God and God's people brought the sundering of family ties as it does, sometimes, to-day. It meant bitter persecution and relentless opposition then, as is often the case to-day. And no amount of pleading or abuse or persecution could turn them from their course.

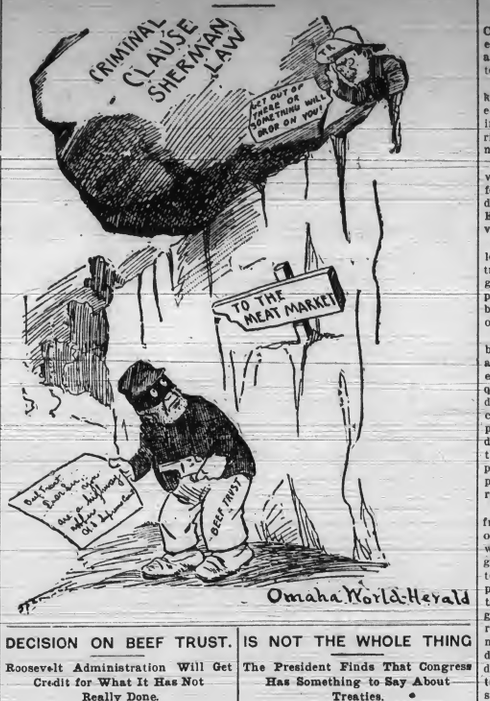
The last of the seven days came, clear and beautiful as the days which had preceded it. The ark rested in the valley and the scoffing, but curious people gathered on the hillside adjacent. Noah and his family had come down to the ark, and Noah and his sons were busy attending to some of the final details, while their wives waited at some distance apart from them.

Here the relatives of the three sisters found them, and again they tried to coax and drive them to return home. When they found that they could not win the girls from their purpose, the smoldering fires of passion and hate blazed forth. With awful oaths they roughly seized the now frightened and trembling girls before Noah and his sons could interfere. They half dragged, half carried them towards the waiting crowds on the hillside. No power but that of God could save them now, for Noah and his sons were no match for this angry mob. But they failed to reckon God into the account, as evil in its plottings always does.

Suddenly a sound as of thunder broke from the heavens, a flash of light and low at the feet of the helpless girls their captors lay rigid in death. Thus freed, they fled back and quickly entered the ark with Noah and his family and the Lord, with invisible hand reached down and shut them in.

And by the power of that same hand the black clouds were soon rolling up from every part of the heavens—black, dense, awful clouds. Without the ark was darkness and despair, within the ark, light and peace and safety; without the ark, unrepentant, godless people, fleeing to the mountain tops to escape the judgment their unbelief had brought upon them; within the ark, faith and obedience receiving their reward in God's protecting care.

It is a terrible thing to fall into the hands of the living God; it is a blessed thing to abide under His wing and to feel His sheltering care. God rolled oceans of water into the heavens and poured it out upon the earth. To those without the ark it meant death as the deluge crept up, up, up towards the highest mountain peaks. To those within the ark it meant life as the great ship gently floated out on the bosom of the waters whither God would have it go.



Thus during those 40 awful days and nights, death ruled in the black waters. Of no avail now were the cries and groans of the perishing. The day of grace had passed; the day of judgment had come.

And "as it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man."

Christ's words of warning!

Oh, that the world to-day would listen as it would not in Noah's day, and hear God's call to repentance and to faith in Him!

WILL HE "STAND FROM UNDER?"

DECISION ON BEEF TRUST.

Roosevelt Administration Will Get Credit for What It Has Not Really Done.

The decision of the United States supreme court against the so-called beef trust is important, though it establishes no new precedent. It follows in a general way the decision of the court in the Addyston pipe trust case of some years ago, just as the judgment against the Northern Securities company followed that against the Trans-Missouri Freight and Joint Traffic association cases. Taken in connection with the opposite decision of the court in the sugar case, says the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, these various judgments thus define the scope of the Sherman anti-trust law of 1890. It applies to combinations of parallel and competing railroads, whether such combinations be duly incorporated or not; it applies also to unincorporated alliances, conspiracies and concerted actions among various corporations, firms or individuals, engaged in manufacturing or trade, making for a restriction of output, uniform prices and monopoly practices generally; but it does not apply to combinations of manufacturing concerns, no matter how far extended, when they are incorporated.

But such combinations are, of course, the most important of all, and the present decision of the court only makes the more glaringly defective its opinion in the Knight or sugar trust case, which permitted incorporated manufacturing combinations to escape the law altogether. Evidently, if the beef trust concerns were incorporated they might be prosecuted for seeking and accepting special railroad favors, but they might otherwise do everything charged against them in this case and escape prosecution or restraining orders. This presents an absurdity in judicial construction which calls for correction. It can obviously make no difference to the public whether the same acts of equal effectiveness, in monopolistic restraint of trade, are performed through an incorporated or an unincorporated combination; and as the law was intended to protect the public against such acts, it should be applied wherever such acts are manifest, regardless of the precise methods pursued, or it should be repealed or made more amenable to a trust organization of industry.

Still the decision will stand in the public view as another vindication of the Roosevelt administration in its anti-monopoly character, and will greatly enhance the president's popularity. There evidently exists some sort of a combination among the big dressed-meat concerns, and it now appears to have been brought up with a round turn through the efforts of the department of justice. The injunction stands; such is the decision, but it remains to be enforced, and this is the feature of the case which most interests the public, as it will most tax the efforts of the government prosecutors.

Meantime the great mass of the trusts remain untouched, and beyond the reach of the law as interpreted by the court. It would seem that the administration, in order to round out its reputation for zeal in the protection of the people against monopolistic practices, should start another prosecution that the supreme court might be brought to a reconsideration of the inconsistent position taken by it in the sugar trust case.

——Give the old medicines a thorough trial before prescribing new remedies for the cure of trust evils. It may well be that if the anti-trust law as it stands shall be enforced there will be no need of further legislation. With two or three of the more conspicuous members of the beef trust cooling their heels in the penitentiary a great advantage will have been made in the effort to do away with rebates, the misuse of private car lines, and private terminal facilities, and all the other contrivances for illicit gain at the expense alike of producers, consumers and honest carriers and shippers.—Philadelphia Record.

IS NOT THE WHOLE THING

The President Finds That Congress Has Something to Say About Treaties.

President Roosevelt has suffered an obvious and deserved check in his San Domingo plans. Even his "protocol," designed to give him practical control of a foreign country, had to be laid before the senate, says the New York Post. Ingeniously calling it a protocol instead of treaty does not help matters. The essential thing is that the president of the United States has to consult somebody before committing this country to a policy fraught with momentous consequences. He cannot make foreign alliances, or guarantee the integrity of alien territory, or erect his flat into law, all off his own bat. It may be a disagreeable necessity for one wise and powerful to have to take the opinion of those whom he knows to be ignorant and impotent, but, unhappily, the constitution ordains that he must—let all the Gardiners say the contrary to executive Canutes, as they may. The total result of this little misery of the administrative life will be wholesome, both at home and abroad. It is particularly desirable to teach foreign governments that Mr. Roosevelt is not the American nation; That lesson they may also learn from the deliberate and overwhelming rejection by the house committee of the president's naval proposals. By 13 to 4 it voted that he may have two new battleships only, and that his estimated naval expenditure must be kept by $15,000,000 or so. Foreign naval experts who have been writing in awed tones of "President Roosevelt's formidable naval programme," will please take notice. People and congress have something to say, after all. The Army and Navy Journal, to be sure, declares that "the president has no patience with those members of congress" who are against granting his demands, and has threatened to "call an extra session to take up the matter of naval increase immediately after the 4th of March." Doubtless, Mr. Roosevelt has used wild and whirling words on that subject, as upon others; but doubtless, also, after this session of congress has expressed its mature judgment against him, he will cool off and quiet down, and turn with unabated energy and enthusiasm to other questions momentarily of eternal importance to him.

LATE POLITICAL NOTES.

——What the president seems to need most is an arbitration treaty with the senate.—N. Y. World.

——The beef trust does not care who makes the supreme court decisions so long as it can make the meat price lists.—Washington Post.

——Another reason some of the republican senators have for opposing the administration's railroad measure is that they are convinced it is wrong, because the democrats are favoring it.—Washington Post.

——And congress has less than a month to live! And there is no attempt at tariff legislation yet. How runs that verse about the "childhood's hour" and nursing a "fond gazelle" and all that sort of thing? Alas!—Utica Observer.

——Despite the republican rejoicing over the administration victory in the bout with the Northern Securities company, it will be noted that the merger securities are booming. The government's "victory" seems to have been sadly exhausted in the press notices.—The Commoner.

——Tariff revision, even walking with the big stick, limps and halts.—Atlanta Journal.

——Mr. Roosevelt evidently regards treaty-making as merely the promulgation of Executive Order No. 79.—N. Y. World.

——Unless President Roosevelt or the republican campaign committee shall provide $2,100 or induce the railroads of the country to carry Indians from the west to Washington for participation in the inaugural parade free of charge, this feature of the pageant will be missing, the Tammany Indians being otherwise engaged, at present.—Albany Argus.

RELATED OF ROYALTY.

The engagement is announced of Count von Alexander Hatzfeldt-Trachenberg, attache to the German legation at Tokio, to a Japanese girl, a daughter of Viscount Aoki.

The young queen of the Netherlands knows all about tulip culture, has visited countless bulb farms and is much interested in some promising other varieties that will come into the market next year.

Queen Alexandra is a great lover of violets and lilies-of-the-valley, and is fond of wearing them. The once radiant, but now sorrowing and desolate Empress Eugenie was also devoted to violets, the Bonaparte flower.

Emperor William is endeavoring to lessen luxury in the army. An equestrian festival planned in Berlin has been given up on his request. His majesty pointed out that the costumes were to be of a character too expensive for the officers expected to participate.

Princess Stephanie, of Belgium, has been described as the most ardent of all royal horsewomen. It is not generally known, perhaps, that the late queen of the Belgians, who was herself devoted to horses, instituted a private circus at Laeken, to which the leading professional riders of Europe were bidden to instruct her and her daughters in the equestrian art. And the young princesses, it has been said, could ride a pony of shocked long before they could read or write.

Grand Duke Serge, recently removed from his post as governor of Moscow, is one of the most hated men in Russia, where many regard him as the czar's evil genius. When Nicholas was still in his teens Serge surrounded him with dissipated and extravagant companions, flatterers and weaklings, and secured a great hold on the youth by professing romantic devotion to the latter's mother, now the dowager empress. The grand duke is a devoted adherent of the orthodox church. While governor and military commander he drew the colossal salary of $1,500,000 a year.

Good Authority.

"You told me you had a diary. Where is it, old man?"

"Over there."

"Why, that is your wife."

"Well, she keeps account of all I do."—Chicago News.

Two Views.

"I shall remain single and retain my liberty," said the bachelor.

"And I," rejoined the young woman, "expect to marry and retain mine."—Cassell's.

IT IS IN THE BLOOD

Neither Liniments nor Ointments Will Reach Rheumatism—How Mr. Stephenson Was Cured.

People with inflamed and aching joints, or painful muscles; people who shuffle about with the aid of a cane or a crutch and cry, Oh! at every slight jar, are constantly asking, "What is the best thing for rheumatism?"

To attempt to cure rheumatism by external applications is a foolish waste of time. The seat of the disease is in the blood, and while the sufferer is rubbing lotions and grease on the skin the poison in the circulation is increasing.

Delays in adopting a sensible treatment are dangerous because rheumatism may at any moment reach the heart and prove fatal. The only safe course for rheumatic sufferers is to get the best possible blood remedy at once.

Mr. Stephenson's experience with this obstinate and distressing affliction is that of hundreds. He says:

"About a year ago I was attacked by severe rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. The pains were worse in wet weather, and at these periods caused me the greatest suffering. I tried a number of treatments and ointments, but they failed to alleviate the pains."

Then he realized that the cause must be deeper and the pain only a surface indication. He adds:

"I had heard Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People recommended as a cure for rheumatism, and when I found that I was getting no relief from applications, I made up my mind that I would try them. Before the first box was gone I noticed that the pains were becoming less frequent, and that they were not so severe as before. After the second box had been used up I was entirely free from discomfort, and I have had no traces of rheumatism since."

The change in treatment proved by almost immediate results that Mr. Thomas Stephenson, who lives at No. 115 Greenwood street, Springfield, Mass., had found the true means for the purification and enrichment of his blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are without doubt the best of all blood remedies. They effect genuine and lasting cures in rheumatism. They do not merely deaden the ache, but they expel the poison from the blood. These pills are sold by all druggists.

ALL SICK WOMEN

SHOULD READ MRS. FOX'S LETTER

In All Parts of the United States Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Effected Similar Cures.

Many wonderful cures of female ills are continually coming to light which have been brought about by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and through the advice of Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., which is given to sick women absolutely free of charge.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox

Mrs. Pinkham has for many years made a study of the ills of her sex; she has consulted with and advised thousands of suffering women, who to-day owe not only their health but even life to her helpful advice.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox, of 7 Chestnut Street, Bradford, Pa., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered for a long time with womb trouble, and finally was told by my physician that I had a tumor on the womb. I did not want to submit to an operation, so wrote you for advice. I received your letter and did as you told me, and to-day I am completely cured. My doctor says the tumor has disappeared, and I am once more a well woman. I believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women."

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She asks nothing in return for her advice. It is absolutely free, and to thousands of women has proved to be more precious than gold.

VERY FEW, IF ANY, CIGARS SOLD AT 5 CENTS, COST AS MUCH TO MANUFACTURE, OR COST THE DEALER AS MUCH AS

"CREMO"

IF THE DEALER TRIES TO SELL YOU SOME OTHER

ASK YOURSELF WHY?

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

A. N. K.—E 2063

W. L. DOUGLAS

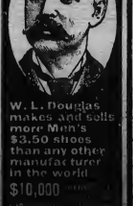
UNION MADE. $3.50 & $3.00 SHOES FOR MEN.

W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are the greatest sellers in the world because of their excellent style, easy fitting and superior wearing qualities. They are just as good as those that cost from $5.00 to $7.00. The only difference is the price. W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes cost more to make, hold their shape better, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other $3.50 shoe on the market to-day. W. L. Douglas guarantees their value by stamping his name and price on the bottom of each shoe. Look for it. Take no substitute. W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are sold through his own retail stores in the principal cities, and by shoe dealers everywhere. No matter where you live, W. L. Douglas shoes are within your reach.

BETTER THAN OTHER MAKES AT ANY PRICE.

"For the last three years I have worn W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoe and found it not only as good, but better than any shoe I ever had, costing from $5.00 to $7.00."—Chas. L. Farrell, Asst. Cashier The Capital National Bank, Indianapolis, Ind.

Boys wear W. L. Douglas $2.50 and $2.00 shoes because they fit better, hold their shape, and wear longer than other makes.



W.L.DOUGLAS $4.00 SHOES CANNOT BE EQUALLED AT ANY PRICE.

W. L. Douglas sees Corona Colt skin in his $3.50 shoes. Corona Colt is considered to be the finest patent leather produced.

FAST COLOR EYELETS WILL NOT WEAR BRASSY

W. L. Douglas has the largest shoe mail order business in the world. No trouble to get a fit by mail. No extra charge for delivery. If you desire further information, write for Illustrated Catalogue of Spring Styles.

W.L.DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASSACHUSETTS

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more Men's $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world

$10,000

STATE NEWS HAPPENINGS

EDWARD CORRIGAN.

Quarrel With a Preacher Marked His Coming To Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 25.—A quarrel with a preacher on a train marked Edward Corrigan's coming to visit his Freeland stud here. Between Frankfort and Lexington a woman left her seat for a few minutes and on returning found the preacher occupying it. Corrigan overheard her explain that it was her seat and the minister's reply that she could have half of it, but that he would not move. The organizer of the new turf body here took a hand when he said that no gentleman would hold a seat claimed by a woman when there were a dozen others vacant. The preacher replied: "If I were not a minister of the Gospel I would make you swallow that." Slapping him on the shoulder, Corrigan replied: "Now don't let that bother you, old man. I do not mind your being a clergyman." He then told the interloper that unless he moved he would move him by force, and the preacher vacated. Both the minister and the woman were strangers to Corrigan, and being through passengers their names could not be learned. The incident created considerable excitement.

HEAVY ICE GORGE BROKE.

The Steamer Big Kanawha Sunk and Other Boats Damaged.

Maysville, Ky., Feb. 25.—The heavy ice gorge in the Ohio river at this point was dislodged by the Kanawha river rise. The steamer Big Kanawha was torn from her moorings, tearing the larboard side off the steamer Lawrence and taking the larboard fantail off the steamer Tacoma. The Big Kanawha careened until it stove in the cabin, upset, setting fire to the boat which was extinguished before much damage was done. The boat floated down a quarter of a mile when the ice tore a hole in the hull. The Kanawha then sunk, and the ice completely wrecked her. The steamer Tacoma was pushed on to the shore and sprung a leak, and it is feared is badly damaged.

COVINGTON MAN.

Lost His Suit Against the Defunct Investment Company.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 24. The court of appeals affirmed the case of Chas. Vokes vs. J. H. Eaton, etc., from Covington. Vokes invested $1,600 in the National Bond and Security Co., to be paid back in coupon installments like the other investment companies. The company failed and Vokes sued Eaton and others to recover his money on the ground that the company was a fraud, and known to be when he was induced by misrepresentation to invest. The lower court decided against Vokes and the higher court upholds the lower one.

BISHOP WOODCOCK.

Formally Welcomed To Kentucky at a Banquet in Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 24.—Bishop Woodcock, recently installed at the head of the Episcopal diocese of Kentucky, was given a formal welcome in this city at a banquet tendered by the clergy and laity of the diocese. Two hundred guests participated, and a... by the speakers to the toasts presented were Bishop Woodcock, Bishop Burton, Dean Baker P. Lee, Rev. R. R. McCready, of Dayton, O.; Rev. A. C. Chinn, of Cincinnati, and Rev. F. A. McMillan, of Covington.

SOUGHT AN OUTLET.

Flame Shot Up From a Hole In the Icy Covered Creek.

Carter, Ky., Feb. 24.—In the creek which runs through the center of town made a loud, hissing noise, and a boiling of the water up through the ice occurred near the middle of the stream. Upon investigation it was found that the gas from the unused gas well, about 100 yards away, had broken through and was seeking an outlet. When a lighted match was put to the opening, a blaze several feet high burned fiercely, the flame coming out from the ice.

Attempted Suicide.

Covington, Ky., Feb. 23.—William Kahan, whose wife conducts a restaurant at 419 Scott street, made an attempt to kill himself by taking carbolic acid. Mrs. Kakan procured his arrest Sunday.

John Montague Dead.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Feb. 24.—John Montague, aged 70 years, died at his home in this city. He was a member of the 14th Kentucky confederate cavalry, and a survivor of the Johnstown, Pa., flood.

Noted Architect Expires.

Newport, Ky., Feb. 25.—E. P. Wilson, 83, one of the oldest and best-known citizens, died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Shaw, Highland avenue, Fort Thomas, after a long illness. Mr. Wilson was an architect and contractor.

Richardson Will Resign.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 25.—Prison Commissioner James B. Richardson, of Glasgow, was here and announced his intention to resign to take effect March 3, but his resignation was not given to Gov. Beckham.

MANY CONVERSIONS.

A Remarkable Religious Revival Movement in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 23.—Louisville is at present agitated by a remarkable religious revival movement. Thus far 4,000 conversions have been announced, and it is confidently expected that the close of the services on Sunday next will find that number doubled. During the first week of the revival, which began February 12, one thousand persons professed Christianity, and on Sunday last, which was "Decision day," three thousand more declared their faith.

But the most remarkable scenes were witnessed Wednesday when the ministers in charge of the movement, taking advantage of the holiday, conducted a day of prayer at the 24 points where revival services have been in progress. Many business houses and factories closed, some for an hour or two, and some for half a day at the request of the ministers. It was a common spectacle during the noon hour to see grave business men and their clerks scurrying along the street, bolting their luncheons from their hands in order to have more time for the prayer services. Thousands of employes who had but the noon hour to spare took their lunch boxes to the churches. The attendance figures show that 45,000 people or one-fifth of Louisville's population, attended the services, and at many points large numbers were turned away. The attendance is the more remarkable in view of the fact that the meetings were held especially for busy workers and the women and home staying portion of the city were requested to remain at home.

BREATHITT GRAND JURY.

Seven Men, Including the Hargises and Ed Callahan, Indicted.

Jackson, Ky., Feb. 23.—With the examination of Sebastian Williams the grand jury closed its investigation of the assassination of James Cockrill. Indictments were found against the following parties: James Hargis, Alex Hargis, Elbert Hargis, Ed Callahan, John Smith, John Abner and Jesse Spicer. Judge Riddle and Commonwealth Attorney Roberts stated that no indictments in the Cockrill case would be permitted to be filed in court until the court of appeals had passed on the question as to whether Breathitt or Fayette county has jurisdiction in this case.

A BOY'S HEROISM.

It Prevented Babe From Being Burned To Death at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 24.—A juvenile hero was found here in Robert Richardson, the ten-year-old son of C. P. Richardson. He saved his two-year-old brother Willie from death by burning, but was painfully burned himself. The child's clothing caught fire from an open grate, and Robert, who was alone with him, batt'ed bravely with the flames until he put them out.

Engagement Announced.

Versailles, Ky., Feb. 25.—The engagement of Dr. Alexander J. Alexander and Miss Katherine Holloway, of Kansas City, was announced. Dr. Alexander is the eldest son of the late A. J. Alexander, and has been manager of the Woodburn estate since his father's death.

No Action This Session.

London, Ky., Feb. 25.—D. C. Edwards, who has been in Washington for several weeks in the interest of his contest against Hunter for a seat in congress, reached home. He says the committee will hardly take any action on the matter before adjournment.

No Shortage Exists.

Paducah, Ky., Feb. 24.—State Inspector Hines has arrived and an investigation of the books of Sheriff Potter is under way. Nothing has been given out by the inspector for publication, but it is said that no shortage exists, the irregularities consisting of overcollection of taxes.

For the Kentucky River.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 24.—A mass meeting, presided over by Gov. Beckham, was held and resolutions were adopted urging congress to include in the pending rivers and harbors bill an appropriation of about $400,000 to complete the improvement of the Kentucky river.

After Trading-Stamp Concerns.

Newport, Ky., Feb. 24.—At the meeting of council Mr. Schweikert introduced an ordinance making the business of trading stamp companies a misdemeanor and imposing a fine of from $25 to $100 and confinement in the city jail for not longer than 90 days.

Policemen Held To the Grand Jury.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 24.—William Yates and James Rhodes, until a few days ago members of the Owensboro police force, were given an examining trial before Judge Stirman on the charge of robbery. They were held to the grand jury.

Fatally Hurt in An Explosion.

Madisonville, Ky., Feb. 24.—A report received here from Providence, Ky., says that as the result of a gas explosion in the Shamrock coal mines near that place three men have been fatally wounded.

Taken at His Word.

Canon McAlpine recently delivered an address to Irish unemployed at Clifden, county Galway, declaring that people would be fools to starve "so long as fat sheep were grazing on the hillside or sleek kine were browsing on the plain." A few nights afterward a humorist stole all his reverence's turkeys and left a note thanking him for the gift.

The Lady Suspected.

"Don't you think," asked Mrs. Oldcastle, "that our minister is inclined to be hypercritical?"

"Oh, my, no!" replied her hostess. "I believe he's just as good as he pretends, but I ain't so sure about his wife. If she ain't a good bit of a hypercrit I don't know what one is."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Priest of the People.

Father Gapon, the Russian priest who is such a prominent figure just now, is said to be guilded in great measure by this epigrammatic advice given him long ago by his father: "Be a priest, but do not forget to be a man. Love the oppressed and remember that the only religion worth living and dying for is justice."

Island for Drunkards.

The Glasgow corporation is considering a scheme under which the city's chronic inebriates shall be banished to the islet of Shuna, one of the Hebrides group. This islet is leased to a farmer, and has been practically forgotten by the corporation of Glasgow, who have owned it for a century.—St. James' Gazette.

No Tobacco There.

Ascum—Why don't you try one of those tobacco cures on your son?

Wiseman—That wouldn't have any effect on him.

"O, yes; they simply kill all appetite for tobacco."

"But he smokes cigarettes."—Philadelphia Press.

The Persian Minister.

Gen. Morteza Khan, the new Persian minister to this country, is a bachelor, extremely wealthy and comes of a noble line. His father was the first man in the empire to introduce European ideas and started the Iran, the first publication approaching the newspaper as Americans understand it.

Woman's Great Need.

Some day a great reformer in whose aspirations sense is duly blended with enthusiasm will make and win a great fight for adequate pockets in women's street clothes. Why woman does not have more and better pockets in her clothes is one of the mysteries of civilization.

Woman Writer's Watches.

The famous Austrian novelist, Mme. Mary von Ebner-Eschenbach, possesses one of the finest collections of watches. A number of these timepieces are over 200 years old, and many of them are set in diamonds. The collection is said to be worth over $50,000.

Room for Blind Pigs.

After the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as a state the sale of liquor is to be prohibited there for 21 years. It is safe to say that the blind pig will at once take a prominent place among Oklahoma institutions.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Daily Thought.

Nothing is so contagious as enthusiasm; it is the real allegory of the fate of Orpheus; it moves stones; it charms brutes. Enthusiasm is the genius of sincerity, and truth accomplishes no victories without it.—Bulwer.

MARKET REPORT.

	Cincinnati, Feb. 25.
CATTLE—Common	$2 75	@ 4 00
Heavy steers	4 85	@ 5 25
CALVES—Extra	6 25	@ 6 50
HOGS—Ch. packers	5 20	@ 5 25
Mixed packers	5 10	@ 5 20
SHEEP—Extra		@ 5 50
LAMBS—Extra		@ 8 00
FLOUR—Spring pat.	6 00	@ 6 35
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 20	@ 1 22
No. 3 winter		@ 1 09
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@ 48
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@ 34
RYE—No. 2	84	@ 87
HAY—Ch. timothy		@12 50
PORK—Clear mess		@13 90
LARD—Steam		@ 6 35
BUTTER—Ch. dairy.		@ 22
Choice creamery		@ 36
APPLES—Choice	2 75	@ 3 75
POTATOES—Per bbl	1 60	@ 1 75
TOBACCO—New	5 00	@13 00
Old	4 50	@14 75

	Chicago.
FLOUR—Winter pat.	5 10	@ 5 20
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 18½	@ 1 19¾
No. 3 red	1 10	@ 1 19
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	45¼	@ 45½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	30⅝	@ 31
RYE—No. 2	75	@ 77
PORK—Mess	12 35	@12 40
LARD—Steam	6 70	@ 6 72½

	New York.
FLOUR—Win. str'ts.	5 50	@ 5 85
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@ 1 23¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@ 57½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	37	@ 38
RYE—Western		@ 80
PORK—Family	12 75	@13 50
LARD—Steam		@ 7 00

	Baltimore.
CATTLE—Steers	3 50	@ 4 00
SHEEP—No. 1 fat	3 00	@ 3 50
LAMBS—Spring	6 50	@ 7 00
HOGS—Dressed	6 25	@ 6 50

	Louisville.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@ 1 18
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@ 48½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@ 34½
PORK—Mess		@11 00
LARD—Pure steam		@ 6 50

	Indianapolis.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	@	1 18
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	@	45
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	@	32

BOUND TO BE DAMAGED.

Wanted to "Soak" the Company, but Didn't Want to Suffer Himself.

Apropos of the suits for damages that are continually being brought against railway companies, relates the New York Tribune, President Francis, of the St. Louis exposition, said:

"Many of these suits, of course, are mere cases of unjust extortion. I've it often, though, that the victim of an accident is as alert and resourceful as a man of whom I heard the other day.

"A man and his wife were riding in a car that was derailed. Crash, bang, it went, and then bump, bang, bump, down a steep hill. The man howled with terror, but the car soon came to a stop. He examined himself all over carefully, and found that he was quite unharmed. Then he thought in the same breath of damages and of his wife.

"'Are you hurt at all, old girl?' he asked.

"'No, thank Heaven!' the woman answered.

"'Then,' said the man, 'I tell you what. Let me black your eye, and won't we soak the company hard for damages! It won't hurt you much. I'll just give you one good punch.'"

Unfortunate.

"Miss Cayenne is very unfortunate."

"She has a remarkable gift of repartee."

"Yes. When she tries to be sincerely complimentary people take it for granted that she is being sarcastic."—Washington Star.

Political forms touch the life of the people intimately. Thus, under a monarchy or a theocracy or an oligarchy, a man with long hair passes for a poet, whereas under a republic he is thought to be paying an election bet, merely.—Puck.

SALT RHEUM ON HANDS.

Suffered Agony and Had to Wear Bandages All the Time—Another Cure by Cuticura.

Another cure by Cuticura is told of by Mrs. Caroline Canle, of Waupaca, Wis., in the following grateful letter: "My husband suffered agony with salt rheum on his hands, and I had to keep them bandaged all the time. We tried everything we could get, but nothing helped him until he used Cuticura. One set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills cured him entirely, and his hands have been as smooth as possible ever since. I do hope this letter will be the means of helping some other sufferer."

"I will have a great deal to say when I get started. "My friend," answered the veteran, "it isn't the man who has things to say that counts. It's the man who gets a chance to say them."—Washington Star.

Special Excursions to Southwest, Feb. 7 and 21, March 7 and 21, 1905, via Kansas City Southern Railway,

To Port Arthur, Beaumont, Tex.; Lake Charles, Galveston, Houston, San Antonio, Tex., and all other points on K. C. S. Ry., for tickets with 21 days limit and privilege of stopping off en route on both going and return trip.

For literature describing "The Land of Fulfillment" the country along the K. C. S. Ry. or for further information regarding these excursions, write to S. G. Warner, G. P. & T. A., K. C. S. Ry., Kansas City, Mo.

Cut what you want in half, subtract what you would like to have, add nothing, and multiply the result by nought, and you get what you get in this vale of tears.—Boston Globe.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.

Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if Pazo Ointment fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

All the world's a stage, but the sad thing about it is that the majority of men and women are merely supers.—Baltimore American.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

The social millennium will not have arrived until every man is richer than his neighbors.—National Magazine.

I am sure Piso's Cure for Consumption saved my life three years ago.—Mrs. Thos. Robbins, Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

A man has no business with religion who has no religion in his business.—Chicago Tribune.

The Great Difficulty.

"One-half of the world's happiness is solved when a person learns to mind his own business."

"Yes, but it's the other half that causes the most trouble."

"What's that?"

"Getting other people to mind theirs!"—Detroit Free Press.

Billion Dollar Grass.

When the John A. Salzer Seed Co., of La Crosse, Wis., introduced this remarkable grass three years ago, little did they dream it would be the most talked of grass in America, the biggest, quick, hay producer on earth, but this has come to pass.

BILLION $ GRASS

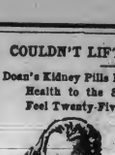
Agricultural Editors wrote about it, Agr. College Professors lectured about it, Agr. Institute Orators talked about it, while in the farm home by the quiet fireside, in the corner grocery, in the village post-office, at the creamery, at the depot, in fact wherever farmers gathered, Salzer's Billion Dollar Grass, that marvelous grass, good for 5 to 14 tons hay per acre and lots of pasture besides, is always a theme worthy of the farmer's voice.

Then comes Bromus Inermis, then which there is no better grass or better permanent hay producer on earth. Grows wherever soil is found. Then the farmer talks about Salzer's Teosinte, which produces 100 stocks from one kernel of seed, 11 ft. high, in 100 days, rich in nutrition and greedily eaten by cattle, hogs, etc., and is good for 80 tons of green food per acre.

Victoria Rape, the luxuriant food for hogs and sheep, which can be grown at 25c a ton, and Speltz at 20c a bu., both great food for sheep, hogs and cattle, also come in for their share in the discussion.

JUST SEND 10c IN STAMPS and this notice to John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., for their big catalog and many farm seed samples. [K. L.]

Philosophy, in the final analysis, seems to consist of convincing oneself that it is easier, on the whole, not to want things than it is to get them.—Puck.



Don't Get Footsore! Get Foot-Ease.

A wonderful powder that cures tired, hot, aching feet and makes new or tight shoes easy. Ask to-day for Allen's Foot-Ease. Accept no substitute. Trial package FREE. Address A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

A Chicago man calls his dog Weiner because it is the worst dog in the block.—Chicago Chronicle.

COULDN'T LIFT TEN POUNDS.

Doan's Kidney Pills Brought Strength and Health to the Sufferer, Making Him Feel Twenty-Five Years Younger.

J. R. CORTON.

J. R. Corton, farmer and lumberman, of [illegible], N. C., says: "I suffered for years with my back. It was so bad that I could not walk any distance nor ride in an easy buggy. I do not believe I could have raised ten pounds of weight from the ground, the pain was so severe. This was my condition when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They quickly relieved me and now I am never troubled as I was. My back is strong and I can walk or ride a long distance and feel just as strong as I did twenty-five years ago. I think so much of Doan's Kidney Pills that I have given a supply of the remedy to some of my neighbors, and they have also found good results. If you can sift anything from this rambling note that will be of any service to you, or to any one suffering from kidney trouble you are at liberty to do so."

A TRIAL IS FREE. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents.

MOTHER GRAY'S SWEET POWDERS FOR CHILDREN,

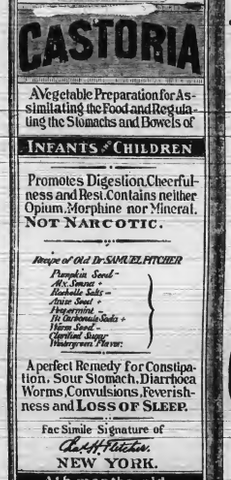
A Certain Cure for Feverishness, Constipation, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders, and Destroys Worms. They Break up Colds. Nurse in Child in 24 hours. At all Druggists, 25 cts. Mother Gray's Home, Sample mailed FREE. Address, New York City. A. S. OLMSTED, Le Roy, N. Y.

PENSIONS on age at 62—Civil War; or on disability, any war, and for widows. Have records of most loyal soldiers service, and agent of Ohio men. 20 years practice. Law and advice FREE. A. W. McCORMICK & SON, 918 Walnut St., CINCINNATI, O.

PATENTS 48-page book FREE, highest references. Best results. Terms low. Advice FREE. Write FITZGERALD & CO., Box R, Washington, D. C.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.



The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

Conviction Follows Trial

When buying loose coffee or anything your grocer happens to have in his bin, how do you know what you are getting? Some queer stories about coffee that is sold in bulk, could be told, if the people who handle it (grocers), cared to speak out.

Could any amount of mere talk have persuaded millions of housekeepers to use

Lion Coffee,

the leader of all package coffees for over a quarter of a century, if they had not found it superior to all other brands in Purity, Strength, Flavor and Uniformity?

This popular success of LION COFFEE can be due only to inherent merit. There is no stronger proof of merit than continued and increasing popularity.

If the verdict of MILLIONS OF HOUSEKEEPERS does not convince you of the merits of LION COFFEE, it costs you but a trifle to buy a package. It is the easiest way to convince yourself, and to make you a PERMANENT PURCHASER.

LION COFFEE is sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages, and reaches you as pure and clean as when it left our factory.

Lion-head on every package.

Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.

SOLD BY GROCERS EVERYWHERE

WOOLSON SPICE CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Free Book ON DEFORMITIES AND PARALYSIS

will be sent free postpaid upon request. This book is of a hundred pages, handsomely illustrated throughout, and tells in a concise way of thirty years in the treatment of Crooked Feet, Spinal Deformities, Infantile Paralysis, Hip Diseases, Deformed Limbs and Joints, Etc. It tells of the only thoroughly equipped sanitarium in the country devoted exclusively to the treatment of these conditions and how they may be cured without surgical operations, plaster paris or other severe treatment. Send for this book, and if directly interested, mention the character of case desired and you will receive by return mail, in a plain envelope, without cost, the most interesting book ever written on the subject that will be sent into the world. THE L. C. McLAIN ORTHOPEDIC SANITARIUM, 3102 Pine St., St. Louis, Mo.

SOUTHERN CONDITIONS AND POSSIBILITIES.

In no part of the United States has there been such wonderful Commercial, Industrial and Agricultural development as along the lines of the Illinois Central and the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley Railroads in the States of Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, within the past ten years. Cities and towns have doubled their population, splendid business blocks have been erected. Farm lands have more than doubled in value. Hundreds of industries have been established and as a result there is an unprecedented demand for Day Laborers, Skilled Workmen, and especially Farm Tenants.

Parties with small capital, seeking an opportunity to purchase a farm home; farmers who would prefer to rent for a couple of years before purchasing; and day laborers in fields or factories should address a postal card to Mr. J. F. Merry, Asst. General Passenger Agent, Dubuque, Iowa, who will promptly mail printed matter concerning the territory above described, and give specific replies to all inquiries.

FREE TO WOMEN

Secrets of the Toilet

To every woman reader of this paper we will send absolutely free a beautifully illustrated book which will tell you how to defy time and keep your face looking young, also a box of

PAXTO SKIN FOOD.

A marvelous beautifier that will change a relaxed, sallow, lifeless skin back to the healthy, wholesome bloom of youth.

Send no money — just your name and address plainly written on a postal card. Address THE R. PAXTON COMPANY, Pope Building, Boston, Mass.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

Birth Day Dinner.

On the evening of the 19th inst., Mrs. A. A. Stott and Miss Annie Stott celebrated the 32d birthday of their husband and nephew. Miss Annie presided over the culinary department and Mrs. Stott, assisted by her charming young friend, Miss Ione Buchanan, tempted the palates of the several gentlemen, who were seated around the festive board, with the exquisite cookeries they so gracefully and insistently served, inducing them to tax their stomach beyond their average capacity, which, in several cases produced a failure in the proper functions of digestion. This, unfortunately, caused several of the gentlemen to leave earlier than they had expected. Miss Annie is the queen of the art cookery and the dinner she provided would have tempted the palate of a king. Turkey, oysters, salads—all the vegetables, cakes, ice cream, fruits salted peanuts and toothpicks. The table was adorned with beautiful flowers, fresh from the green house. When the gentlemen entered the dining room they thought a wedding feast had been prepared. Ed is one of those jovial, unselfish, generous hearted souls, who makes his guests enjoy the full measure of bliss while under his roof. The following gentlemen were the honored guests: Wm. Stott, John Berkshire, R. A. McWethy, S. Buchanan, F. M. Wingate, B. Belden, Dr. Arnett, Sid and James Gaines, G. C. Grady.

A Narrow Escape.

Our friend, Z. H. Roberts, of Cedar Hill, had a narrow escape from death last Saturday. The cause of his danger was a big shorthorn bull, and but for the ice-covered ground, the fight, which lasted ten minutes or more, would very likely have ended badly for Mr. Roberts. Late in the afternoon he had gone to the barn lot to feed, where he was attack and knocked down by the vicious brute. The animal followed up its charge by trying to gore Mr. Roberts while on the ground, but the slick surface of ice allowed him to slip so easily that no resistance was offered and consequently his horns could not penetrate the body of his intended victim. He kept steadily at it however, until he had nosed and pushed Mr. Roberts about one hundred yards or more, and finally gave up the job in apparent disgust. About the only damage consisted in some slight bruises and rent garments, but Mr. Roberts says the experience was sufficiently exciting.—Owenton News-Herald.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers of real estate have been recorded since our last report:

Wash Tanner and wife to Wm. Goodridge, 7 acres on Elijah's creek—$225.

Almira Stephens and husband to Walter S. Ryle, 90.31 acres, part of the T. C. S. Ryle—$3,000.

Henry O.Rouse,&c., to M. J. Knaley, 106 acres, near Union—$7,300.

B. S. Clore and wife to O. P Dye, 46 acres on Elijah's creek—$1,625.

Victoria Arnold to A. C. Booth, 64.84 acres near Walton—$3,100.

Lora Rouse to Victoria Arnold, lot in Walton—$1 &c.

Commissioner Boone Circuit court to Susie E. Clutterbuck, 58.46 acres near Union.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his, eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye. Good for burns and ulcers too. Only 25c at all druggists.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction has decided that where a public school district has less than 25 pupils within the school age, it can not draw any of the public school money. Under this ruling Superintendent Snyder says there are several school districts in this county that will have to be abolished and the pupils assigned to other districts.

Born, to Mrs. Pearl Warner and husband, a handsome 9 pound girl baby—Martha Ann. She is pronounced by all who have seen her the handsomest baby they ever saw. She has been the recipient of numerous handsome presents. One of her great-great-grandfathers is living as is also one of its great-great grand mothers.

Prof. and Mrs. Hughes' school had Lincoln—Washington—Longfellow birthday exercises, last Monday. They consolidated the celebration of the three birthdays, and had quite an interesting afternoon of it. The little ones took great interest in preparing for the occasion.

The RECORDER is in receipt of a letter from E. Y. Randall, who is located at Los Angeles, California, where he is engaged with the Mt. Gaines Consolidated Mining Co., who's claims to present the greatest possibilities for those who go west.

It was my pleasure to witness the closing exercises of the school at Florence, on the 24th of Feb. This school is under the supervision of A. M. Yaley, as principal, and having several graduates in the District he had, as part of the program, commencement exercises. The preliminary exercises consisted of recitations by many of the primary department, and to do them justice, we are proud to say they all did well. Being a Kentuckian, we make special mention of "C.—Old Kentucky Hills" by Jessie Hampton. This was especially interesting, and voiced the sentiment of every one in the large audience. Following these exercises were the "Commencement Exercises," consisting of recitations from each of the recent graduates as well as former graduates. I noticed, with pleasure, the improvement made by the former graduates. After these exercises came an address by Rev. Wilson, followed by a few remarks from the writer. Mr. Yaley announced that he would begin a private school on the last Monday in March which caused a clapping of hands in the audience. The patrons seem to realize that Mr. Yaley is giving them value received for their money and I trust he will continue to serve them efficiently.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT

Strikes Hidden Rocks!

When your ship of health strikes the hidden rocks of Consumption, Pneumonia, etc., you are lost, if you don't get help from Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. J. W. McKinnon, of Talladega Springs, Ala., writes: "I had been very ill with Pneumonias under the care of two doctors, but was getting no better when I began to take Dr. King's New Discovery. The first dose gave relief, and one bottle cured me." Sure cure for sore throat, bronchitis, coughs and colds. Guaranteed at all drug stores, price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

This legend appeared over the Pennsylvania agricultural exhibit at St. Louis:

Old Brindle yielded to those who milked her $35,860,110.

Oil wells gave up to those who pumped them but $1,088,016.

The little hen turned eggs to the value of $9,080,725.

The iron mines dug out but $1,-890,100.

In Webster county, Mo., there is an apple orchard of 86,000 trees. This is probably the largest orchard of the kind in the world.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of Execution No. 8561 directed to me, which issued from the Clerk's Office or the Boone Circuit Court, in favor of Mary L Sullivan by her guardian, Woodie Sullivan against A. C. Porter, &c., I or one of my deputies, will, on Monday the 6th day of March, 1905, between the hours of one o'clock p. m., and 5 o'clock p. m., at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., expose to public sale, to the highest bidder, the following described property, (or so much thereof, as may be necessary to satisfy plaintiff's debt, interest and costs) viz:

The following described tract of land situated in Boone county, Ky., on the waters of Woolper creek adjoining J. J. Lillard, J. E. Walton and others and bounded thus, to-wit: Beginning at J. J. Lillard's corner, a Sugar tree and Horn Bean on Long Branch; thence up the meanders of the branch s 22 e 68 poles, s 50 e 23 poles, s 29 e 14 poles s 78 e 31 poles, s 9 e 33 poles to a stake on said branch, a little above the mouth of a small branch; thence up it s 83 e 21½ poles, to a corner with J. D. Cloud on said small branch; thence with his line n 28½ e 86 poles to a stone; thence n 4 e 11 poles to a Beech tree, n 84 e 53½ poles to a corner with said Cloud—north fork of a branch; thence down the meanders thereof n 16½ w 24 poles, n 62 w 26 poles; thence n 22 w 13 poles to a Sycamore stump and Sugar tree on the north side of said branch, about 4 poles below Reuben Jarrell's Sycamore corner; thence s 83½ w 86½ poles to a stone a few links northeast of a Hickory on top of the hill; thence 68 w 52 poles to a stone to Thomas line; thence with it s 13 e 13 1-20 poles to a Blue Ash, s 17½ e 14 poles to the beginning, containing 84 acres and 3 roods. Also the following piece, a strip being an outlet: Beginning at a stone a corner in the Philip Thomas line and corner to the above described tract; thence n 13 w 11 4-10 poles to a stake; thence n 32 w 24 poles poles n 1½ e 14 8-10 poles to the center of Woolper creek n 59½ e 11 poles; then s 1½ and varying to be parallel with the north line of said outlet to the aforesaid tract of 84 acres and 3 roods making a road 20 feet wide, levied upon as the property of O. T. Porter.

Terms:—Sale will be made on a credit of six months, bonds with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, from day of sale and having the force and effect of a Judgment. Amount to be made by sale, $1,895 30.

R. B. ALLPHIN, Sheriff B. C.

Feb 14th, 1905

FARM FOR SALE OR RENT.

Farm of 58½ acres near Grange Hall, adjoining Jos. Love and Samuel Stephens. Inquire of J. R. Clutterbuck, D. E. Castleman or W. E. Vest, Burlington, Ky. feb 22 3t

FOR SALE.

Boone County Roller Mills at Petersburg, Ky. Inquire of BEN BELDEN.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky

Julia F. West, adm'xr, Plff vs } No. 2449 Notice.
R. K. West, &c., Defts.

Notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of E. S. West, deceased, must present them to the undersigned properly proven according to law. He will begin his sittings to hear proof of claims Mch. 7th, 1905, in the Circuit Clerk's office and continue from day to day (Sundays excepted) until April 6, 1905.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,

GRASS SEEDS, FLOUR AND SALT.

We have it, you want it, come and get our choice Hay, Timothy, Clover, and Straw by

The Bale or Ton.

CORN by the car load or bushel—shelled or ear;
OATS, the best, in any quantity;
MILL FEED at lowest price for good quality of feed;
SALT that will not harden in the barrel;
GRASS SEEDS including Timothy, Clover and Blue Grass

THAT WILL GROW.

We are making a specialty of Good Blue Grass Seeds and have a nice lot of Fancy Cleaned Hand-Stripped Seed that has

Been Tested and it Grows.

OUR FLOUR CAN'T BE BEAT!

It is made from the best wheat that can be had, and it makes good bread; Try a Barrel and if you don't like it bring it back and get your money back.

WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

We want your trade, give us a trial and be convinced that you

.....Want Our Goods.....

R B. HUEY & CO.,

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WHAT IS HOME

WITHOUT AN UP-TO-DATE

IRON FENCE?

—MAKES HOME ATTRACTIVE.—

Lasts a Lifetime. Low Prices-Surprising.

For Best Prices Call or Write to

HENRY QUICK, Hebron, Ky.,

—SPECIAL AGENT FOR—

The Stewart Iron Works Company,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

RINGS, WATCHES
and CLOCKS
LAVED
AND REPAIRED
KNOWINGLY

FOR RENT

Farm of 45 Acre

Situated on the Lexington pike between Florence and Erlanger, known as the Abel Carpenter place. This farm is well improved, with a modern eight-room house and all necessary outbuildings. For terms apply to

Mrs. MARY A. CARPENTER,
Florence, Ky.

Don't Forget

That our Gunpowder and Blended Teas are the finest to be had and you don't have to pay any extra price either.

40c, 60c, 75c lb.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.
Covington, Ky.
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington.

J. P. HEMPHILL
THE DRUGGIST

at Rising Sun, Ind.,
....Carries a full line of....
DRUGS,
PAINTS,
OILS AND VARNISHES.

In fact any and all articles kept in a first-class Drug Store, and wants to meet his Kentucky friends.

—CALL AND SEE HIM,—

Yours Respectfully,

J. P. HEMPHILL,
Rising Sun, Indiana.

For the Best Flour, Try
OLD KENTUCKY
BLENDED PATENT.
—GUARANTEED.—

For Something Good, Try
VIRGINIA OAK
WINTER PATENT.
—WARRANTED.—

Clifford E. Nadaud,
515 Chamber of Commerce,
CINCINNATI, O.
Room 10 Boone Block,
COVINGTON, KY.

50 WOMEN

WILL BE TAKEN
BY THE

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune

ON A

TOUR OF EUROPE

They will go as guests of The Commercial Tribune absolutely

FREE,

With all expenses paid.

Read the Sunday Cincinnati Commercial Tribune for particulars.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of L. L. Tanner, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

EZRA K. TANNER, Admr.

What More Could You Possibly desire in Clothes

Than to have them made from thoroughly tested fashionable fabrics—have them tailored in the best possible manner—have them fit satisfactorily, and have them make you appear a thoroughly dressed man? that's the sort that you get from

PIPER & WALTON,

Merchant Tailors

142 E. Fourth St.,
Cincinnati, - - Ohio.
Rooms 2 and 3.

Our Fall & Winter Goods are now ready for inspection. Call and examine our stock. In attendance at Burlington County Court days with samples.

"Always Reliable."

W.N. HIND & CO.

Furniture,
Stoves,
210-12 W. Fifth Street,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

Rogers Bros.
General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST, - Florence, Ky.

Office at Burlington Every Monday. "at Laconia, Ky. Thursday-Friday the remainder of the time at Florence. Remember I am a Painless Dentist. PRICES REASONABLE. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

☞ Extracting Teeth is only fun with my method.

Dr. J. L. Adams,

DENTIST,

208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.
AT UNION 1st MONDAY in each month.

Farm for Sale.

145 acres near Woolper creek in Boone county, Ky., now the property of Enos Barrott, of Lawrenceburg, Ind. This farm has a large tobacco barn, large stable, two story frame house of 8 rooms, good cistern and well at house; large apple orchard and all other fruits. All this property is in first-class condition. For further information apply to B. B. Grant, who is now on the place, or to D. M. Snyder, Burlington, Ky.

DR. FENNER'S
KIDNEY and Backache CURE

All diseases of Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs. Also Rheumatism, Back ache, Heart Disease, Gravel, Dropsy, Female Troubles.

Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write Dr. Fenner. He has spent a life time curing just such cases as yours. All consultations Free.

"A gravel lodged in my bladder. After using a few bottles of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure I passed a gravel ball as large as a marble. The medicine prevented further formations. I was cured.
W. T. OAKES, Orrix, Va."

Druggists, 50c., $1. Ask for Cook Book—Free.

ST. VITUS' DANCE Sure Cure. Circular, Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

For sale by Aylor & Hafer, Hebron

Take the Recorder.

G. C. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.

Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.

Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D Rouse's Store.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.

Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW

Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029. Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of of his time at the Williamstown office.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.

Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. ☞ All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK

(Incorporated 1886.)

CAPITAL,..... $80,000
Surplus and undivided profits $0,000
—)o(—

Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptremitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK

(INCORPORATED 1893.)

ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY

Capital Stock paid in..... $50,000
Surplus,.. ..... $8.000

Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its RATES are LOWER Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co. HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE in keeping their property insured.

Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.

Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, Ky.
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Southes, Secy.,
R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
R. B. Huey, Agent, - Walton, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, Ky.
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early,

FARM FOR SALE.

The A. P. Collins Farm Near Richwood, Ky.

Fine blue grass farm in Boone county, Ky., containing about 105 acres; good 6 room house and porches, barn, all kinds of out-buildings, good fencing, well watered with springs, wells, cistern and pond. A private avenue runs to the Lexington pike. The house is about 8 minutes walk to Richwood Station C. N. & T. P. R. R Commuter rates to the city, 7½c a trip with four trains daily. Telegraph, telephone, express and post-office—four daily mails.

Also, 105 acres, the H. O. Rouse farm on the Union and Florence Pike; good house of 7 rooms and all necessary outbuildings; well watered and land mostly in grass Apply to

W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

C. L. GRIFFITH,

DEALER IN

REAL ESTATE

and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.

If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXX. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8, 1905. NO. 21.

County Correspondence.

UNION.

Miss Elva Utz has been suffering with tonsolitis.

Miss Lillian Corbin is the guest of relatives at Erlanger.

Mrs. S. H. Adams, of Walton, visited friends here, last week.

The "Sox Social" was quite a success both financially and socially.

Miss Virginia Conner visited relatives at Richwood, Friday.

J. Linn Frazier attended church at Richwood, Sunday morning.

Larry Judge, of Nicholasville, is the guest of his brother, T. J. Judge.

Rev. Phillippe preached Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian church.

Miss Helen Dickey began teaching a two months spring school, Monday.

Miss Alva Williams was the guest of Miss Eva Smith from Saturday until Monday.

Miss Florabel Shephard spent Saturday and Sunday, with her parents in Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wolf and children, of Richwood, spent Tuesday with Mrs. Mag Tanner.

Dr. and Mrs. Robinson and daughter visited friends in Dayton, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Martha Lassing has returned home from a visit of several days with relatives at Walton.

Mrs. Willis, of Covington, was the pleasant guest of her sister, Mrs. John Garrison, a few days last week.

Mrs. J. W Taliaferro and Miss Statira Childress, of Erlanger, spent Wednesday with Mrs. N. S. Bristow.

Those on the sick list are Mesdame G. V. Rouse, J. W. Kennedy, J. W. Conner, Harriet Taliaferro, and little Norma Rachal.

Rev. J. S. Wilson and wife returned to their house in Carrollton, Monday, after a visit of several days with friends and relatives at this place.

o o o

BUFFALO.

Miss Russell's school will close next Friday.

The sick in this neighborhood are improving.

Julius Bristow had a tobacco stripping last Wednesday.

John Moore has returned from the hospital, but is not doing so well.

David Marshall, of Saturday was Sunday with his parents near here.

Mrs. Mary Aylor and children spent last Wednesday with Mrs. J. Q. Elston.

J. D. McNeely and family spent last Sunday with N. H. Clements and family.

J. S. Mason and Kenneth Aylor made a business trip to the city, one day last week.

W. L. Moore will move to Hathaway to attend to the postoffice and engage in the grocery business.

John Aylor caught a hawk in a steelstrap a few days ago. It measured 3 feet and 4 inches from tip to tip.

Miss Martha Rich, who was stricken with paralysis, is no better, and there is not much hope of her recovery.

o o o

HEBRON.

Born, to Hubert Conner and wife, Saturday March 4th, a boy.

Hear that W. L. Aylor will go to the city to live in the near future.

Thos. Hafer and family were visiting J. Clore and wife of Constance, Sunday.

J. W. Riddell, W. O. Hafer and Elaine Robinson, of Ludlow, came down, Sunday.

Will Goodridge is now located on the farm he purchased, some time ago, from Frank Hossman.

The school entertainment was postponed on account of the serious illness of one of the pupils, Miss Leona Hafer.

Woodaswinga are the order of the day, one at Huey Aylor's, last Thursday, and several are on docket for this week.

Ben Utz, Keeler Stephens' faithful "man of war" for about 20 years, is now working for J. W. Clore, having moved to the latter's place on Dog Leg road.

Tell Mrs. Idlewild as we remember the events of 1832, as learned back yonder in our school days, they were as follows: The great cholera epidemic that swept this country; Black Hawk war and South Carolina's Nullification Acts.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

March 6.—The spring term of school will begin at Pleasant Ridge, March 20th with Miss Blanche Northcutt teacher.

S. A. House, Union's noted politicians, was in our burg last Friday.

Clint Blankenbeker and wife spent Sunday in the Beaver neighborhood.

Albert Underhill was confined to his room several days last week with grippe.

Mrs. Frances Beemon, of Limaburg, was aunt Minnie Tanner's guest, last Sunday.

John Blaake moved to the J. C. Hankins house near Hopeful church, last week.

Mrs. Susie Surface was seriously sick the latter part of last week, but is improving.

The query was answered correctly by Mrs. Clayton, of Hebron. David's mother was named Nahash.

Pony Rouse, who had a paralytic stroke some time since, is in a critical condition, and his friends entertain some doubts as to his recovery.

We are sorry to hear that H. O. Rouse has been confined to his bed ever since he arrived at Spring Place, Ga., with a severe case of pneumonia. He is somewhat improved.

Dr. A. E. Threlkeld, of Wheatley, Owen county, who married Miss Pauline Winston, of this county, fell on the ice a few days ago, and broke both bones in his leg.

HATHAWAY.

March 6.—March came in nicely.

The roads are in a bad condition in some places.

The movers are exchanging residences rapidly.

Considerable tobacco was delivered from this section last week.

R. S. Houston & Co., have been doing a big business in the last few days, selling on at cost.

Elmore Ryle delivered his crop of tobacco to John Smith, of Bellevue, at 9½ cents per pound.

Mrs. Pearl Brady, of near Landing, spent last Saturday visiting her mother, Mrs. Sarah White of this place.

The Riddell Run Telephone company have about all of their posts set and will put up their line in a few days.

Mrs. G. N. Smith, of Beech Grove, who was thought to be improving, was taken worse again last Friday, we are sorry to hear.

o o o

FLICKERTOWN.

The sick are all improving.

Mr. Let Nichols lost a valuable cow ... week.

Mrs. Carrie Hensley visited at Petersburg, last Friday.

James White made a business trip to Waterloo last Thursday.

Charles Beemon has moved to his new home on the Woolper pike.

Richard Kettel moved to J. I. McWishy's place, on ... this week.

There is a dangerous place in the road at the Woolper school house.

Some of the farmers are complaining of bad luck with their sheep and lambs.

Harry Acra, of Middle Creek, visited L. Nichols and wife, one day this week.

Wm. Warford and family, of Cleves, Ohio, visited Mrs. Laura Sebree and family, several days last week.

Dick Hensley had a wood sawing one evening last week. 25 hands and ten saws cut him a nice lot of wood.

George and Willie White were visiting there grand parents at Hathaway, the latter part of last week.

The Petersburg and Waterloo telephone line has half of its poles set and expects to be in running order by the first of next month.

James Feeley moved from ... J. Lillard's place to Scott Chamber's one day last week, and Charles Wilson moved to the house Feeley vacated.

o o o

FLORENCE.

The death angel came on February 25th and summoned our dear sister, Frances Price to her eternal home; she was prepared for she had been a sincere follower of the Lord Jesus Christ for sixty years, and her quiet, christian spirit has been an inspiration to her many friends. She was a very charitable woman, doing many kind deeds that were scarcely known, and, through the many changes she remained true to every trust, faithful to every duty, and bore many burdens for her loved ones. She will be tenderly remembered by the writer as a true friend, always giving comfort and consolation in time of trouble. Her funeral was conducted by Bros. Riley and Haskins at the Christian church in Florence, after which her remains were laid by the side of her husband, Albert Price, who died 30 years ago. While we deeply feel our loss let us comfort ourselves with the thought that it is her eternal gain.

MARY CARPENTER.

o o o

BELLEVIEW.

Feb. 6—Mrs. Laura Botts improves slowly.

Considerable sickness in this community.

The willow growers began cutting a good crop last week.

Considerable tobacco is being delivered to the local buyers here.

Mrs. Florence a Clore is confined to her bed with something like grippe.

James Rogers has gotten better of his cold and is able to look after his stock.

Pollie Snelling packed his trunk and left for Hoosier, last Thursday, to work on a farm.

Many wrecks of coal barges and boats and other crafts passed down, last week in the ice.

There is a prospect of Gilly Weisickle and family becoming citizens of our town, shortly.

Andrew Acra, of Middle creek, purchased a lot of nice fodder of Mrs. Belle Clore, last week.

Archie Aora and wife, of Rising Sun, Ind., were over Monday, to attend his mother's funeral.

Boys, watch your tobacco or John D. will swipe it and pay you with coal oil at 20 or 25 cents a gallon.

Mrs. Lourena Scott and Mrs. Ott Scott, of Commissary, were visiting at Mrs. Will Roger's, last Wednesday.

Elder Edgar C. Riley preached, last Sunday for the Christian church—morning and evening. Good attendance at each service.

Hubert Brady, of Rabbit Hash, was circulating among the tobacco growers here, several days last week, making some purchases at reasonable prices.

Dr. Hopkins has been very busy in this vicinity lately. He is called the lightning doctor. Some say they have stood on the roadside and say yonder he comes, here he is and there he goes, nearly all in one breath. That's what we want when we send for a doctor. Don't want him to stop to count the fence stakes along the road.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured.

William Shaffer, a brakeman of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," "Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." For sale by all druggists.

FRANCESVILLE.

The public school here will close on the 10th.

Some of the farmers had bad luck with their lambs.

Miss Annie Henry has been visiting her uncle Bruce Henry near here.

Mrs. Jerry Estis fell, recently, and injured one arm and one shoulder.

Miss Adelia Scothorn and Mrs. Kate Wilkie McFee were quite sick a few days ago.

Miss Mae Kilgour was a pleasant guest of her grandmother near here a few nights since.

Edgar Graves has opened his sugar camp. Charlie Beall has opened the John Stephens camp.

Joseph Graham's old family horse was so badly injured by slipping on the ice that it had to be shot.

Mrs. Nellie Markland and son, of Cincinnati, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Graham, a few days ago.

Charlie Graves, of Memphis, Tennessee, visited his brother, Temp, near Bullittsville, a few weeks since.

A few days since Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kilgour entertained Miss Jessie Conner and C. D. Scothorn and family.

We are in full accord with Dr. Howe of Cleveland, Ohio, in his address before the principals of Case School of Applied Science, on the subject of spelling.

o o o

COMMISSARY.

March 4.—Beware of the tireless worker, who is always trying to work you.

Mrs. Harriet Slayback is still under the care of the doctor.

Mr. Ot Scott and wife were guests of James Botts and wife, last Tuesday.

W. B. Walton got tired of town life and moved back to the farm, Wednesday.

Neighbor W. T. Ryle was considerably indisposed a part of last and first of this week.

Why is it that witches are always pictured as old women, just as though there was a dish hidden in wrinkles?

Ed Burres had a wood sawing last Monday afternoon. Ed and Commissary were champions. Quite a nice lot of wood was sawed.

Did you ever see a woman drive a nail? We did a few days since. The only nail a woman can drive and hit plumb, is on her thumb.

James Feeley did adieu to Sunnyside and moved on to the farm of Scott Chambers, last Tuesday, and Charles Wilson moved to Sunnyside, Wednesday.

N. B. Snelling, of Rock Spring, was a guest of his uncle, John Snelling, of Petersburg, last Saturday night, and on Sunday night he called on his best girl.

Miss Luella Fleek, who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Ed Burres, during her recent illness returned to her home near Limaburg, last Sunday.

When passing the Commissary stop and see the Merrygoround. It is the only one on our R. R. You ought to have seen the smile of the carrier, last Monday.

N. B. Snelling, of Rockspring, left Thursday for Indiana, and will work during the summer season for Andrew Cook, living between Aurora and Lawrenceburg.

There is a little girl down on Middle creek less than 6 years of age that can answer the question as to who King David's mother was, or almost any other biblical question.

Carl Cason was around this week making up a subscription school in the Cason district for his sister, May, who taught there last year. Miss May is well liked as a teacher.

Pep Smith, of McVille, was circulating among the tobacco growers in this vicinity last Tuesday, and gave us a few minutes call. Those that do business with Pep will find him square on the deal, at least we always found him a square man to deal with.

President W. T. Ryle informs us that a change has been made in the telephone line running from Petersburg to Waterloo on the Waterloo end of the line. It now runs to the site of the old Universalist church; thence straight, or as near as possible, to Waterloo.

A plank that Mrs. Hunt, mother of Mrs. T. J. Walton, was walking on to keep out of the mud and water, slipped and she fell backwards in the mud and water. The wetting gave her a severe cold, and the fall hurt her hip and back, from which she is considerably disabled.

We will not give his name nor the district in which he taught, but the story is too good to keep. After the close of the school of one of our young teachers he called on his sweetheart before going to his home a few miles away. His sweetheart was very proud of his talents. While talking on the subject of education he said, "when I get interested in a subject I never stop until I have embraced it thoroughly." "That's nice," was his sweetheart's reply, "I wish I were an interesting subject." And she was, judging from what her little brother said, who was laying in one corner of the room on a lounge, but they were not aware of his presence.

The Colonel's Waterloo.

Colonel John M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo, from Liver and Kidney trouble. In a recent letter, he says: "I was nearly dead, of these complaints, and although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold and guaranteed to cure, Dyspepsia, Billousness and Kidney Disease, by all druggists at 50c a bottle.

John Hartman, of Beaver neighborhood will have a big sale of livestock, farm produce, farm implements, &c., on the 17th inst. Watch for bills containg list of articles.

PETERSBURG.

March 6.—River falling and no ice running.

Wingate & Thompson have received a large quantity of tobacco.

Miss Bessie Glass, a popular young lady of Aurora, is a guest of the Misses Berkshire.

Ben Berkshire shipped 10 hogsheads of tobacco to the city, Sunday night.

Don't judge your friends by what their next door neighbor says of them.

Walter Kelly is the revenue bookkeeper at the distillery, and is rapid and accurate.

Dr. E. P. Berkshire, of Nashville, Tenn., is visiting his brother, Ben, and family at this place.

The Lawrenceburg ferry boat went through the ice gorge alright, and is floating like a duck.

The Cincinnati was the first boat to land at our lookout harbor. She was loaded to the guards.

Miss Julia Hamilton, of Newport, was the guest of Miss Pearl Crisler for several days last week.

The Pauline took refuge in Tanner's creek during the passing of the gorge and came out unharmed.

Lloyd McGlasson, of Taylorsport, was calling on his lady friends here last Saturday and Sunday. He brought his violin and rendered some excellent music.

Roy Goodpaster, a young man of Aurora, who was taken suddenly and dangerously ill here, one day last week, is very sick yet.

The grain boat at the distillery was left piled upon a gorge of ice and the Workum could not budge her Sunday, after several attempts.

Benjamin Neal, yeastmaker at the distillery, received a telegram last Wednesday, announcing the death of one of his children at his home in Terre Haute, Indiana.

Ben Drake tied up an insignificant looking barge that was floating upside down, and it proved to be a pump boat valued at several thousand dollars. It contained much valuable machinery and a big lot of ropes.

A great sensation will be sprung here in a short while when some parties begin digging for hidden wealth, which has been revealed by a mysterious stranger, who has outlined the tree and stone which surrounds the treasures.

Elijah Acra and Miss Anna Delph were married at the residence of Rev. Selby, last Thursday, at 7 p. m. Napoleon Snelling, of Middle creek, and Miss Cook, of Indiana, were married by Rev. Selby the same evening at the residence of John Klopp, near Aurora ferry.

Mrs. Jane Hurd, one of the oldest and best citizens of the town, died, last Tuesday evening, aged 86. She had lived in Boone county nearly all her life, and had been a member of the Christian church for 70 years, having joined under the preaching of Alexander Campbell.

The Petersburg and Waterloo Company has distributed the sorriest lot of poles ever seen in this town. Have a little pride about you, gentlemen, and use respectable material. The town council should protest against the use of fishing poles for telephone poles.

The North Bend gorge broke last Tuesday at noon and by 2 p. m., the Str. New South and 60 coal barges were in sight. The New South floated to the Indiana shore and touched it, but no effort was made to tie her; in all 107 coal barges passed here—some loaded and some empty and crushed to pieces.

James M. Thompson, one of our best known citizens and business men, met with a painful and serious accident, last Friday morning. He went ont on the farm of N. S. Walton to look at a crop of tobacco, and, in riding from the barn, his horse slipped and fell on him breaking his leg in three places—one near the ankle and two between the ankle and knee. One fracture snapped his leg off which is causing him much suffering.

MRS. JANE HURD.

Obituary.—Mrs. Jane Hurd, wife of the late Caleb Hurd, an old citizen of Boone county, departed this life February 28, at her residence in Petersburg. Mrs. Hurd was born October 15th, 1819, hence she was in her 86th year at the time of her death. She was the mother of seven children, only two of which are living. Mr. John Hurd, of Covington, Ky., and Mrs. George Hurd, of Petersburg. She leaves behind to mourn her death, a number of grandchildren and greatgrand children. She became a Christian at the age of 18 years, accepting Christ curing a meeting held by Alexander Campbell, the great Christian reformer. She was faithful to her profession unto death, and died in the triumphs of an abiding faith in her Savior. She was the oldest member in the Petersburg Christian church, and perhaps, one of the oldest members of the Christian church in the State. She was one of the very few living, to this date, that came into the church under the immediate preaching of Alexander Campbell. The funeral services were held at Petersburg, Ky., Thursday, March 2d, in the presence of a large number of friends and neighbors, P. H. Duncan preaching the funeral sermon. Sister Hurd was faithful unto death, and will wear the crown of life eternal.

OYSTER SUPPER.

The young ladies of Petersburg will give an oyster supper in Gordon's Hall, in the interest of the park, on Friday evening, March 10th, 1905. Everybody invited.

The exposition given by the Decstrict Skule was a decided success in every particular. The hall was taxed to its utmost capacity to accommodate the 400 guests in attendance, and the interest manifested by the audience in the exercises was inspiring to the master and school, and prompted them to do their best. The receipts at the door were very gratifying to the ladies of the Christian church, who conceived the idea of reproducing a Decstrict Skule of 50 years ago. The costumes worn by the pupils were of antique fashions, no two being dressed alike, except in the case of two pair of honey-suckle twins. Old chests and closets had been ransacked, and dresses, bonnets, coats and hats that were laid away more than 50 years ago, were brought out and used by several of the pupils. A bonnet deserving especial notice was worn by a visiting teacher from an adjoining decstrict. It was about 75 years old, in perfect condition and up to date in style for a lady past middle age. It would tax the trained skill of a milliner who conid boast of deriving her inspiration from Paris, to make and trim a bonnet that would be more beautiful and artistic in its arrangement than this one. I will not undertake to describe the various costumes that were worn, nor have I the gift of language sufficient, nor the space allotted, to undertake to pay individual compliments to each one of the ladies and gentlemen who took part in the exercises. I will content myself with a general compliment by saying that each of them acquitted themselves with much credit and to the general satisfaction of all present. You will pardon me for saying a word or two about the costume and deportment of uncle Billie Stott, onr good Skule Master. He wore a stiff crown, broad rim, grey beaver hat that his grand father, Lunsford Stott, wore more than 75 years ago. It is in perfect condition. He wore a wig of long, heavy locks that reached to his shoulders; a grey jeans military coat that his uncle Morrisson Carson wore in the Confederate ranks during the civil war. In one of the pockets of this coat is a piece of tobacco as old as the coat. This scarlet waist coat was of antique fashion whose age cannot be traced. The pants were of grey jeans supposed to have been his grandfathers, they did not quite reach his shoes. ... were the most remarkable specimen of antique skill I have ever seen; the flat circular lenses are mounted in heavy metal frames, the bows and bridge are at least an ½ of an inch wide and the sides a ½ of an inch wide—they were undoubtedly made by hand. Willie Crisler has inherited these glasses from his great-great-great-great-grandfather. They must be 200 years old. With this outfit Uncle Billy looked like the instructor of antiquary times, and played his part with dignity and gravity.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At the regular meeting of Workum Lodge No 66, K. of P., March 3, 1905, the following resolntions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, At the wife of our Bro. John Pease has passed to the Great Beyond from wheuce no one returns, be it

Resolved, That in the death of sister Pease the lodge has lost a helper and her husband and children a devoted wife and mother, and while we mourn the loss, we must bow to the will of the Supreme Ruler, having faith and confidence in His wisdom.

Resolved, That we tender to the husband and children our heartfelt sympathy in their affliction and point to Him Who alone can give comfort.

Resolved, That the K. of R. and S. be directed to spread these resolutions on the minute book, that he send a copy to our brother and family, and a copy to the Boone County Recorder for publication. W. T. Buchanan,
E. E Walton,
J. M. Botts,
} Com.

o o o

CRESCENT.

Howard Edwards spent Saturday with friends in the city.

G. S. Browne, of Cincinnati, is the guest of friends near here.

Mr. Hogriffe, formerly of this place, but now of Independence, is reported seriously ill.

Henry Groger and family spent Saturday with Ed and Mrs. John Powers, of Richwood.

Alfred Tanner, of Norwood, Ohio, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at this place.

Operator ... Norton ... has purchased a typewriter, and will now take trade dictation "a mill."

Robert Franks, of Mt. Zion, Grant county, will remove shortly to the farm of T. B. Williams, near here.

Miss Carrie Glass, of near here, and Frank Waller, of Independence, were married in Covington last Thursday.

W. Northcutt, of the Latonia Springs School, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Northcutt.

Our friend, Robert Sandford, of South Latonia, is spending several weeks with friends near Bradentown, Florida. He is the guest of Jack Harris and family, formerly of Independence, but now a resident of the "Land of Flowers."

o o o

LIMABURG.

The saw mill was very busy last week.

The grippe patients are all on the mend.

Mrs. A. G. Beemon and Miss Georgia Hammons are on the sick list.

Tanner Garnett is very sick with rheumatism and heart trouble.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. M. L. Rouse, of Lexington, is very ill.

W. J. Tanner arrived home Tuesday from a visit to friends in Georgia.

Miss Lena Davis spent several days last week with H. O. Rouse and wife.

Mesdames Fannie and Alice Adams, of Burlington, spent one day last week with Mrs. Jerry Beemon.

Rev. Taylor moved to Alexandria, last Wednesday, and John Summers moved into the house he vacated.

Miss Pearl Aylor was the guest of her grandfather, Mr. Albert Beemon, from Tuesday to Thursday of last week.

James Waters delivered his tobacco to Conner, Hogan & Riley, at Burlington, last week. Price 8 and 6 cents.

Mrs. Wm. Houston, of Covington, and Mrs. Clint Weaver, spent Monday with their mother, Mrs. M. L. Crigler.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly and son Howard, entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Utz, Milton and Franklin Aylor and Emmet Baxter of Florence, last Sunday.

VERONA.

The public school will close this week.

Health of the neighborhood moderately good.

Those having maple camps opened report a good run and water very sweet.

Elmer Myers, who has been working in the city, was at home on a visit last week.

Rev. L. M. Theobald has been called to serve New Bethel church the ensuing year as pastor.

The tobacco merchants here are buying the weed right along at prices from 4 to 10 cents per pound.

Jacob Showers has purchased the Dock Sleet land joining Mr. Shower's property near town. W. E. Vest surveyed the tract a few days since.

The trustees of school district No. 40 have levied a tax of 5 cents on the $1 worth of property, and 25 cents poll tax on each male citizen over 21 years of age, to paint, insure and repair the school building. A. C. Roberts has been appointed to collect said taxes.

We have been requested by Miss Annie G. Hind to say to her friends not to be unnecessarily alarmed or excited about her running away and getting married as was stated in the Williamstown Courier, from Walton, last week. Be calm and quiet, for too much excitement will bring about heart trouble; nor don't try to hold your breath until that event comes off, as you may be a long time dying and may die very hard.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

March 6.—Last Monday's was the 30th snow.

Virginia, daughter of R. C. Gaines, is quite ill of a cold.

John Cropper was the guest of his brother Edgar, last Sunday.

Miss Jane Cleveland, of Indiana, is the guest of Miss Mattie Kreylich.

Mrs. Courtney Walton entertained several friends Sunday after church.

Rev. Early and James T. Gaines had telephones put in their residences last week.

Query—What two Presidents of the U. S. died on the same day—when and where?

Mrs. Kreylich entertained Miss Maggie Bullock and friend, of Hebron, Sunday.

The remains of Kenneth Baisly were consigned to their last resting place last Thursday afternoon.

The farmers are having bad luck with their lambs, and some are losing a good many of their ewes.

Clyde Baisly, the Burlington fruit tree man, was here one day last week in the interest of the nursery he represents.

Mrs. James T. Gaines entertained Miss Bernice Duncan and Mesdames Edgar Cropper and W. A. Gaines, one day last week.

Mrs. B. C. Graddy entertained Mr. and Mrs. James T. Gaines and their daughter, Mrs. Chester Davis, of Ludlow, last Sunday.

J. C. Hood, our mail carrier, failed to come further than Hebron, Monday, and A. S. Winston was deputized to take the mail to him.

Miss Bernice Duncan was the guest of Mrs. Herbert Grant, and attended the Decstrict Skule in Petersburg on the night of the 28th ult.

The weather, last Monday, was a great disappointment, it being such a great change from that of the day before. Sunday was certainly a beautiful day.

John Rucker, wife and daughter, of Constance neighborhood, visited Mrs. N. S. Walton, of near here, and some of their friends in Petersburg, last week.

Glad to report Scott Chambers, who has been sick for several weeks, as improving. Dr. G. M. Terrill and a lady friend of Law reneburg, were his guests Sunday.

Misses Lou Allen and Lula Thompson, of Petersburg, passed here one day last week, enroute home from Cincinnati, where they attended the spring millinery openings.

Miss Ida Berkshire went to Petersburg Saturday to visit her relatives and go to Aurora to assist in the commemoration of the 76th birth day of her aunt, Mrs. Riddell.

The sisters of the Burlington and Bullittsburg churches, and all other friends, will have a social reunion and an old fashioned house warming at the home of Rev. M. D. Early, on Thursday afternoon. Come one, come all.

Dr. A. E. Threlkeld, of Wheatly, Owen county, fell and broke his leg in three places. He was taken 3 miles to his home before the injured limb was set. The fractures are between the knee and ankle. At last accounts he was doing very well.

Our people are distressed over James Thompson's sad accident of last Friday morning. He was riding along a steep hill side, going from the pike to the creek near the Holt house on N. S. Walton's farm, when his horse slipped and fell on him, breaking his leg in two places between the knee and the ankle. Mr. Walton was with him and assisted him to Mr. Holt's, whose tobacco he tried to buy while awaiting the arrival of a doctor. Mr. Thompson was taken to his home in Petersburg in a spring wagon.

o o o

HAMILTON.

George Kite, who is very low of typhoid fever, is no better.

J. E. Markesbery was transacting business in the city last Monday.

Mrs. Ed Brady, of near Gunpowder, was at Hamilton last Thursday afternoon.

The river is once again clear of ice, and the boats are making their regular trips.

George Huff, of Hamilton, who had ticket No. 18 on the graphophone at Rising Sun, won the instrument.

Mrs. Cynthia Wilson, Miss Carrie Huff and Miss Nora Simpson, of Indiana, were pleasant guests of Mrs. J. E Markesbery, Sunday.

THE RAINBOW COVENANT

OUR SERMON STORY by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher

(A Vision Between the Lines of God's Inspired Word.)

(Copyright, 1905, by J. M. Edson.)

Scripture Authority:—"And God spake unto Noah and to his sons with him, saying, And I, behold, I establish My covenant with you and with your seed after you. This is the token of the covenant which I make between Me and you, and every living creature that is with you, for perpetual generations: I do set My bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between Me and the earth."—Gen. 9:8, 9, 12, 13.

AD God forgotten? As the weeks lengthened into the months, and two months, three months, four months had passed, this question with increasing frequency kept rising to the lips of the dwellers in the ark. There was no way in which they could keep track of the days as they passed, but Noah and his sons knew that it must be months since they had entered the ark, for the great store of provisions was nearly half gone. Each day as they fed the beasts and birds and creeping things with them in the ark, and provided for their own simple wants, they saw the food supplies grow less, and found themselves asking the question: "Has God forgotten?" Need we wonder at the doubts which kept rising in their hearts when we to-day under less trying experiences ask the same question?

But Noah's faith failed not, and on the last day of the fifth month since entering the ark in reply to the anxious queries of the women, he said:

"The ark will find a resting place in God's own good time. We need to—"

But the sentence was not finished, for at that moment the three sons who had been busy below burst into the room, excitedly exclaiming:

"We're grating on the rocks! We're grating on the rocks!"

Noah hastened below, and as he reached the hold of the ship the sound of crunching and grinding was plainly audible, as though the great heavy bulk of the ark was slowly settling down upon some firm foundation. But instead of alarm, a look of triumphant joy illuminated his face, and turning to his sons he said, with a voice shaking with suppressed emotion:

"My sons, you have an answer to your question: 'Has God forgotten?' God has brought our ark to rest. The waters are receding."

One day something over two months after the grounding of the ark, Noah was keeping lookout at the little window. As he swept his eyes over the great expanse of waters his attention was attracted by a dark object in the distance. His sharp outcry as he realized that it was some mountain top quickly brought the other members of the family to his side, and dispelled their gloom. Ah, how good that mountain top looked! How it revived their drooping spirits! How it renewed their faith! All through the afternoon they feasted their eyes on that precious speck, and as the evening shadows crept over the face of the waters and shut it out from view they reluctantly lay down to rest, and eagerly waited for the coming of the morning's light.

The first gray streaks of dawn found eight pairs of wistful eyes straining for the first glimpse of the mountain top. The sharp vision of Mrs. Shem was the first to see it, and her exclamation was quickly followed by the voices of the others as they, too, sighted it.

"And there is another," Mrs. Shem cried as she pointed to a speck at some distance beyond the first object seen.

"And another," exclaimed Japheth's wife. And so it went all day and the days which followed. The moments which were not taken up with the cares of the ark were spent searching out new mountain tops, and watching those already in view grow larger and larger. Thus the days now quickly sped. The water was far below them, while the mountains all around stood out black and grim. One day Noah said:

"It is now 40 days since we first saw the mountain top appear. I remember that it was 40 days that the flood was descending upon the earth, and may it not be that in these 40 days since first the land appeared the waters may have left the earth. I am minded to send forth a raven and a dove to see what report they may bring us."

Anxiously they waited for the return of the birds, and as the twilight was deepening into the evening darkness the dove came wearily fluttering in at the window, but the raven returned not.

Another seven days and Noah sent out the dove again. This time she returned with an olive branch, indicating that vegetation had sprung into life. Yet seven days more and the dove went forth and did not return, for she had found a home for herself and mate in the fruitful trees.

Still Noah waited, and over a month passed. The rest of the family were impatient to leave the ark, but Noah insisted that they must wait for the command of God. But to appease them somewhat, he removed the covering of the ark, and went forth to view the land, and behold, the face of the ground was dry.

"Let us leave the ark at once," exclaimed the three sons, when the raven brought back his report, and the approving nods of the women showed how eager they were to begin life again on the dry land.

"Nay, my sons," Noah firmly replied, "we must wait until God bids us leave. We entered the ark at His bidding, and surely He will call us forth when the earth is ready to receive us."

But Ham, whose later conduct revealed his true character, was obdurate, and would have openly rebelled against his father's judgment, had not his brothers restrained him. And the weeks dragged wearily on, and they waited, but no sign or word came from God. Nearly two months thus passed, and only the firm faith of Noah, and his unwavering obedience to God, kept the impatient, rebellious spirit of Ham from stirring up trouble.

As the days dragged on, the determination to leave the ark with or without his father's consent took possession of Ham. For the last few days he had been secretly preparing to go, and had told his wife his plans, and won her reluctant consent to go with him. The morrow was the time he set for action. He was astir early, for he planned to get away before the others were up.

As he crept by his father's room he heard voices, and paused to listen. It was a strange voice speaking, and he heard the words:

"Go forth of the ark, thou and thy wife and thy sons, and thy sons' wives with thee."

He waited to hear no more, but hastened to find his wife and tell her what he had heard.

"It must have been God speaking to your father," said Mrs. Ham. "Let us wait and see what your father will say to-day."

Thus it came to pass that Ham was saved from his wicked folly, and his father and the rest of the family never knew what he had planned to do. Presently they heard his father's voice calling, and when he and his wife reached the place where Noah was standing they found the others there before them listening to the glad message.

"The Lord hath spoken, children," Noah triumphantly and joyfully said, "and has bid us go forth this day, with all that are in the ark. Let us proceed at once."

The creatures in the ark were no less eager to be free from their narrow quarters than were Noah and his family, and the work of disembarkation was speedily accomplished. But ere they moved down the mountain side into the valley below, Noah took of the stones lying about and builded an altar unto the Lord. He then took of every clean beast and of every clean fowl, and offered burnt offerings on the altar. Thus at the very beginning of the new life on the earth was there the confession of man's sinfulness before God, and the need of cleansing through the shedding of blood.

And the Lord smelled a sweet savor: and the Lord said in His heart: "I will not again curse the ground any more for man's sake; though the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth; neither will I again smite any more everything living, as I have done. While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night, shall not cease."

While Noah stood thus ministering at the altar, and the others were bowed in silent worship about him, there came a cloud and overshadowed them, and a voice spoke out of the cloud, and Ham instantly recognized it as the same which he had heard speaking with his father early that morning. And God said, as He blessed them:

"Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth." Long and earnestly God communed with them, and spake of the laws which should govern the new life on the earth.

The voice ceased, but the cloud still overshadowed them, and as they gazed upon it a rainbow of the most dazzling brightness spanned its white folds.

"How beautiful," they all exclaimed, as they feasted their wondering eyes on the splendor of the scene.

"In the long years of my life," said Noah, "I have seen many rainbows, but none which could compare with this one. God has some message for our hearts in this glorious display."

While they stood beholding and talking together, the voice of God again came out of the cloud, saying:

"And I, behold, I establish My covenant with you, and with your seed after you. And this is the token of the covenant which I make between Me and you, and every living creature that is with you, for perpetual generations: I do set My bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between Me and the earth. And it shall come to pass, when I bring a cloud over the earth, that the bow shall be seen in the cloud: and I will remember My covenant, which is between Me and you, and every living creature of all flesh; and the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh. And the bow shall be in the cloud; and I will look upon it, that I may remember the everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh that is upon the earth."

The voice ceased, and the cloud vanished from their sight. Noah and his sons and their wives and every living creature with them then moved down the mountain side to the valley below, where they took up life anew upon the earth which God had restored to man, but the memory and the record of that day has continued to the present time, and the testimony and the token of God's covenant still brings cheer and hope to the hearts of men as they see the bow in the heavens and know that God rules His world and cares for His children.

KEEPING GLOVES CLEAN.

The Well-Dressed Woman Is Very Particular About the Care of These Easily Soiled Articles.

If she finds a stain on her glove, she cleans it immediately with benzine, not putting it away for the stain to become set and immovable. Gloves should never be rolled nor folded, as either treatment makes them look crumpled and unattractive.

Gloves can be saved in many little ways and their term of usefulness prolonged. The handle of a chatelaine bag will wear a glove white, so it should be carried on the wrist, and the tidy girl uses her handkerchief to save her gloves, particularly when boarding a car, carrying an umbrella or drinking a glass of soda or hot chocolate at the drug store.

In large cities dyers will clean gloves in 24 hours for ten cents a pair. The tidy girl in the small town is often compelled to clean her own gloves. Here are several methods worth trying:

To clean gloves the first thing necessary is to buy the best grade of gasoline and have a soft toothbrush and a covered ironing board. Now pour some of the gasoline into a bowl and then wet the gloves thoroughly. You can either put them on, leaning your hand on the covered board, or if they do not fit you, place them on the board. Then take the toothbrush, dip it in the gasoline and rub the gloves until clean, rubbing them with a piece of flannel or bath towel until dry; after which hang them in the sun or in a window where the wind blows; in this way some of the odor will be removed.

A white glove should never be worn more than once without cleaning. If it is cleaned promptly after each wearing it can be used indefinitely, as the spots do not become set.

The tidy girl always washes her own silk and lace gloves in summer and takes particular pride in her washable white kids. These gloves are both practical and economical, and may be worn for a considerable length of time with careful handling in their laundering. If care is not exercised, however, they will shrink and thicken up so as to become quite useless. They should be washed on the hands, in tepid water, and afterward rinsed in several clear tepid waters while still on the hand. Do not pass the soap through the hands, but always use sudded water. A drop or two of ammonia in the second and last rinsing waters will prevent the gloves from becoming yellow. These washable gloves should be allowed to dry on the hands; if removed while only partly dry they will stretch out of shape.—Washington Star.

MOURNING FASHIONS.

What to Wear and What Not to Wear During Period of Casting Aside of Gay Apparel.

Young women in mourning do not wear bonnets. Simple toques and turbans, and even wide hats, are perfectly good form. Crape veils are worn for deepest mourning, but net bordered with crape are less expensive and generally more becoming. The face veil, which is always worn, is of plain Brussels net, crape bordered. No other face veil is admissable on any terms.

In this country widows do not wear caps. They are undeniably pretty and piquant, but the meaning is rather obvious. Caps put one in mind of the wigs of old-fashioned Jewesses, blackened teeth of the Japanese and soot-painted faces of certain Indian women. All of these are badges of immolation—signs that the wearer has retired from the world. American widows do not immolate themselves. The suttee, even the emotional suttee, has gone out of fashion.

The proper fur to wear with deep mourning is Persian, astrakhan or any of the dead black furs. Sealskin is sometimes worn, nor does it look at all out of place.—N. Y. Post.

WORTH KNOWING.

If you wash black stockings in a warm lather of soap and water—no soda—and add a little vinegar to the rinsing water, they will keep a good color until worn out.

Ink spots on mahogany may be removed by touching with a feather dipped in oil of vitriol diluted with twice its quantity of water. The spot should be well and quickly rubbed.

A good way to clean zinc is to dip a piece of cotton in kerosene and to rub the article. It be cleaned with it until all dirt is removed; well rinse with hot water afterward and dry with a clean cloth.

When the painted woods of the interior of the house are soiled or spotted get a plate of very good whiting. It will cost only a few cents. Dip a piece of flannel into warm water, squeeze nearly dry and dip it into the whiting, then rub the paint with the whiting, and all the dirt and grease will disappear and the paint will look like new, no matter how delicate.—Good Literature.

Fruit and Nut Salad.

Mix half a pint of whipped cream with two yolks of eggs, add the juice of one lemon, a half teaspoonful of salt and a half teaspoonful of sugar. Pour over the salad. Mix together in a bowl half a cupful of pecan nuts boiled in salted water for ten minutes, a half pint of finely cut apples, the same quantity of finely sliced oranges and half a cupful of chopped celery. Open a head of lettuce and remove the heart. Mix half of the dressing with the fruit, nuts and celery and fill the center of the salad. Pour over the remaining dressing and decorate with slices of oranges, apples and pecan nuts.

RADICAL REPUBLICANS.

Troublesome and Disturbing Element to Conservative Leaders of the Party.

The New York Sun undertakes to demonstrate that in the present rapprochement between the Roosevelt republicans and the Bryan democrats, it is the president who has "flopped" to Bryan rather than Bryan who has "flopped" over to the president. This is a contention which appears to be well established, says the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

Nevertheless, the truth is that there has been no particular amount of "flopping" on either side. There has long existed in the republican party a strong radical element, at heart in sympathy with the Bryan reorganization of the democracy, but held to its old party allegiance by the ties of habit and prejudice, strengethened mightily by the continued presence of a solid south. Nationally this element has been securely held in line and under the domination of the conservative and corporate powers within the republican party. But locally it has now and then asserted itself sporadically and temporarily, as under the leadership of Pingree of Michigan, La Follette of Wisconsin and Cummins in Iowa—affording occasional and striking evidence of the existence of strong volcanic forces within the mighty mountain of conservatism, vested republicanism.

These uprisings of a discontented and radical republican element have been too infrequent and spasmodic to be viewed with serious alarm by the dominant capitalistic influences in the party, and as late as the reelection of President McKinley in 1900 there was no more chance in the natural order of events that radicalism in any noteworthy measure would obtain control of the party in its national capacity than that syncopated capital would forget its power and cunning and be delivered up without a struggle to its enemies.

It was through accident solely that the presidency and the republican leadership fell under so much of the radical influence as Mr. Roosevelt represents. While never regarded as "dangerous," after the manner of Bryan, he was considered a troublesome and disturbing factor to the conservative leadership, and was given the vice presidency to get him out of the way, and not put him full-footed in the way; and once gaining the presidency by accident, he had to be accepted as a candidate for the full term on penalty of producing a great party ruction in the face of a presidential contest.

And that is how the radical republican element comes to be at the moment in the ascendency of the party and the control of the government. How long it will be able to hold its position is a question full of national interest and replete with possibilities in relation to party realignments in the United States. If Mr. Roosevelt should prove a thorough-going reformer of the radical type throughout his full term, it is not impossible that the liberal masses within the republican party will have been at last cut away from the conservative control, and left free either permanently to assume the party mastery with the support of the Bryan democrats, or, more likely, to join the latter in a re-reorganized democracy, which will appeal to the industrial classes of the north, and let the solid south shift for itself. But all depends on the depth and breadth of Mr. Roosevelt's radicalism, and that remains to be determined.

OPINIONS IN POLITICS.

—If the senate continues contumacious the "big stick" may yet become only a bar of soft soap.—Brooklyn Eagle (Ind.).

—Secretary Morton seems to be the man with a past in President Roosevelt's cabinet.—Elmira Gazette (Dem.).

—Louis XIV. only said "I am the state." President Roosevelt says "I am the whole United States and the entire western hemisphere."—N. Y. Herald (Ind.).

—Uncle Joe Cannon is reported in an explosive, objurgatory temper over the liberties taken by the senators with his and the house's double-barreled statehood bill. He's about as fond of the senators, collectively, as Tom Reed was.—Hartford Courant (Rep.).

—There is no probability that the democratic party will cease to exist as a [illegible] organization, but there seems to be little hope for it in the future as a radical party. The republican party apparently fills that bill to the entire satisfaction of the "advanced elements" in the country.—Baltimore Sun (Ind. Dem.).

—President Roosevelt's announced plans evidently preclude all thought of a special session of congress, next spring. He is to leave Washington on March 25, visiting the south and southwest, returning about the middle of May, and then leaving for Oyster Bay, for the summer, about the middle of June. No doubt this southern trip will be utilized for speechmaking purposes, in behalf of the Bryan-Roosevelt railroad regulation policy.—Albany Argus.

—It was high time for the senate to assert its rightful powers under the constitution as an inseparable part of the treaty making power.—N. Y. Sun (Rep.).

—The meat trust, like the sultan of Turkey, will no doubt be glad if things keep right on happening so that the public may be induced to look the other way.—Chicago Record-Herald.

—The Fifty-eighth congress is winding up in a blaze of glory. The senate sits as an impeachment court and the house of representatives as a police court.—Providence Journal (Rep.).

RELIEF LOUDLY CRIED FOR.

Monopolistic Concerns Hit by Discrimination Set Up a Big Howl.

One of many oppressive features of the so-called Dingley tariff—so called in spite of the fact that it is not the tariff that Nelson Dingley intended to stand unchanged for more than [illegible]—is the duty on hides. It is grievously burdensome to one of our great industries, and is helpful only to the malodorous beef combine, says the Washington Post. We will not assert that it was imposed at the instance of that combine, in recognition of campaign contributions, for we have no positive proof of such a transaction, but there is a good deal of circumstantial evidence in support of that widely prevalent belief.

The New England Shoe and Leather association appears to have no doubt that such was its origin. At its annual meeting in Boston, on the 18th instant, that association freed its mind on this question, shouting to congress, with leather lungs, as it were, for prompt and greatly needed relief. The prescription adopted tells the story of the birth of the affliction. Then comes the resolution, "Inasmuch," it says, "as the duty benefits only the beef trust—a monopoly—and foreign users of American-tanned leather, while it imposes grievous and unbearable burdens upon our own leather and shoe industry, the greatest and most important industry in Massachusetts and in New England, we demand of congres, on behalf of our tanners, currriers, shoe manufacturers, shoe menders, harness and saddlery makers, trunk, bag, hose, and belt manufacturers, jobbers, wholesalers and retailers the capital which they use the workmen whom they employ, and also on behalf of the consumers of leather in any and every form, the immediate repeal of the 15 per cent. duty on hides."

That is sufficiently explicit, and is by no means lacking in emphasis. Indeed, it is a fine example of [illegible] comprehensive expression. Nor is the grievance confined to New England. St. Louis is rapidly becoming the successful rival of Boston in the shoe industry, and shoe factories are doing a large business in various cities of the old northwest. We have a suspicion that none of these concerns is particularly desirous of a continuance of the tax they are compelled to pay for the benefit of the beef trust. There is, however, no possible chance of relief at the hands of the fifty-eighth congress. It has neither time nor inclination to do anything toward repairing any of the glaring defects of tariff schedules that are robbing other industries and plundering the masses in the interest of audacious, overbearing monopolistic combines. The leaders in congress seem determined to exhaust the patience of a long-suffering country, and, unfortunately, there is no opposition party.

THE JOB OF CONSTABLE.

Uncle Sam Acting as Peace Preserver for Turbulent Pocket Republics.

Mr. Roosevelt, advised by Mr. Elihu Root, says that we cannot keep up the Monroe Doctrine unless we undertake to make South American republics behave decently.

George Washington was not thinking much of South American republics—they were scarce in his time—and we cannot go back to Thomas Jefferson for proverbs or precedents. We must muddle away at it for ourselves, says the St. Louis Republic.

With one eye on the constitution and the other on this Castro, the worst rascal of a long Venezuelan line, Uncle Sam admits that somebody must castigate Castro. If we are going to get excited whenever England or Germany tries to enforce obligations in Venezuela, certainly we must invent a way to enforce them on our own responsibility.

How would it do to organize a Pan-American tribunal to pass on all claims; the United States and the South American republics agreeing to carry its decisions into execution? If that will not satisfy European countries, maybe our government must accept the function of "international police power."

But the old-fashioned American can hardly realize that pocketing Hawaii, benevolently assimilating the Philippines and making the rounds as constable for South America have so quickly become the foreign policy of a nation which for a hundred years boasted that it never meddled outside of its contiguous territory.

—The supreme court must be brought nearer to the people. A whole month has passed and the court's decision in the beef trust case has not yet reached the ears of the local butchers.

—The Albany Argus remarks that "the annual process of filling the hole in the state treasury, with brand new taxes, will now proceed." It would be interesting to know how long these brand new taxes are expected to be at the disposal of the gentlemen who are looking after the filling of that hole in the treasury.—Binghampton Leader.

—It looks like the senate is inviting a test of the President's recently acquired jiu jitsu.—N. Y. Commercial (Rep.).

—The more you think about it the more you are compelled to wonder what the corporations are getting in return for all their campaign contributions Judge Parker says they gave Mr. Cortelyou.—Syracuse Herald.

—Roosevelt says he will now tackle the Standard Oil. Yet the beef trust still lives. Fighting dragons is what we want, but we would like to see just one either bound or killed.—St. Louis Republic.

DERANGED NERVES

DISTRESSING TROUBLES LEFT BY ST. VITUS AND GRIP.

Woman Afflicted for Years by Strange Spells of Numbness and Weakness Recovers Perfect Health.

When she was fourteen years old, Mrs. Ida L. Brown had St. Vitus' dance. She finally got over the most noticeable features of the strange ailment, but was still troubled by very uncomfortable sensations, which she recently described as follows:

"One hand, half of my face, and half of my tongue would get cold and numb. These feelings would come on, last for about ten minutes, and then go away, several times a day. Besides I would have palpitation of the heart, and my strength would get so low that I could hardly breathe. As time went on these spells kept coming oftener and growing worse. The numbness would sometimes extend over half my body."

"How did you get rid of them?"

"It seemed for a long time as if I never could get rid of them. It was not until about six years ago that I found a remedy that had virtue enough in it to reach my case. That was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and they have since entirely cured me."

"Did it take long to effect a cure?"

"No! I hadn't taken the whole of the first box before I saw a great improvement. So I kept on using them, growing better all the time, until I had taken eight boxes and then I was perfectly well, and I have remained in good health ever since with one exception."

"What was that?"

"Oh! that was when I had the grip. I was in bed, under the doctor's care, for two weeks. When I got up I had dreadful attacks of dizziness. I had to grasp hold of something or I would fall right down. I was just miserable, and when I saw the doctor was not helping me, I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills again. In a short time they cured me of that trouble too, and I have never had any dizzy spells since."

Mrs. Brown lives at No. 1705 DeWitt street, Mattoon, Illinois. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are without an equal for the rapid and thorough cure of nervous prostration. They expel the poison left in the system by such diseases as grip and are the best of tonics in all cases of weakness. They are sold by every druggist.

What They Say.

It is not often in these busy times that people comment favorably upon things in general when appeal to them is satisfactory way. We give thanks, too often, perfunctorily, not meaning what we say. This, however, was not at all the spirit in which the following letter was recently written to a ticket agent of the Rock Island System:

"Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. —, 1905

"Dear Mr. —: We arrived here Saturday safely and enjoyed our trip very much on the Golden State Limited. All of our party voted this train the finest that they have ever traveled upon. The accommodations were first class in every respect—the Sleepers, the Observation Car, the Diner, the Buffet-library smoker, with bath and barber could not have been improved upon. The entire train crew were gentlemanly and very obliging—doing all they could to make everybody enjoy themselves and feel at home. I shall try to get my friends and relatives to take this train when coming to California."

John Sebastian, passenger traffic manager, singles this out as one of the many commendatory letters that have been received in his office. The Golden State Limited is maintaining first place among transcontinental limited trains.

Men who wait for reforms never lead processions.—The Commoner.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

SOUTHERN CONDITIONS AND POSSIBILITIES.

In no part of the United States has there been such wonderful Commercial, Industrial and Agricultural development as along the lines of the Illinois Central and the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley Railroads in the States of Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, within the past ten years. Cities and towns have doubled their population. Splendid business blocks have been erected. Farm lands have more than doubled in value. Hundreds of industries have been established and as a result there is an unprecedented demand for Day Laborers, Skilled Workmen, and especially Farm Tenants.

Parties with small capital, seeking an opportunity to purchase a farm home; farmers who would prefer to rent for a couple of years before purchasing; and day laborers in fields or factories should address a postal card to Mr. J. F. Merry, Asst. General Passenger Agent, Dubuque, Iowa, who will promptly mail printed matter concerning the territory above described, and give specific replies to all inquiries.

BEST BY TEST

"I have tried all kinds of waterproof clothing and have never found anything at any price to compare with your Fish Brand for protection from all kinds of weather."

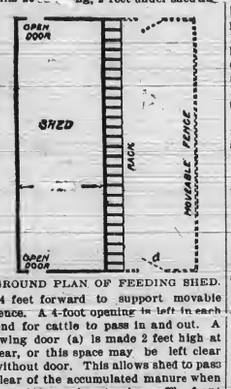
(The name and address of the writer of the unsolicited letter may be had upon application.)

A. J. TOWER CO. Boston, U. S. A.

TOWER CANADIAN CO., LIMITED Toronto, Canada

The Sign of the Fish

TOWER'S FISH BRAND



Makers of Warranted Wet Weather Clothing

261

FEEDING CATTLE IN THE OPEN

Movable Shed Which May Be Constructed—Is a Great Saver of the Feed.

It is often necessary, or at least convenient, to feed cattle in the open field during the summer and fall months. In doing so a large quantity of feed is wasted unless some means are provided for feeding cattle that saves all of the manure and mixes with it such feed as is wasted under foot. Sheds, as shown, may be built of any suitable length, one accommodating ten to 15 cattle, I find most convenient, writes an Indiana correspondent of the Orange Judd Farmer.

GROUND PLAN OF FEEDING SHED.

The sheds I have are built with end silla 20 feet long, 2 feet under shed at 14 feet forward to support movable fence. A 4-foot opening is left in each end for cattle to pass in and out. A swing door (a) is made 2 feet high at rear, or this space may be left clear without door. This allows shed to pass clear of the accumulated manure when moved from place to place. The front of the shed is left open 3 or 4 feet above the trough (c). Vertical bars (b) are put in 14 inches to 2 feet apart to prevent cattle from getting into feed rack.

My buildings are made of boards nailed to 2x4 inch scantling, and the roof covered with paper. Any number of these sheds may be placed end to end far enough apart to permit free passage of cattle. The load of feed is driven in at one of the gates (d), and the gate closed to prevent cattle entering feeding yard. In moving the shed, which I do once a week, the team is hitched to the fence end of the runner sill outside of the fence and shed moved to next feeding place.

SHARPENING OLD FILES.

Treatment to Which They May Be Subjected Which Will Give Them a New Lease of Life.

Dissolve four ounces saleratus in one quart water and boil the files in it for half an hour; then remove, wash and dry them. Put in a glass or stone vessel one quart rain water into which add slowly four ounces best sulphuric acid and keep the proportions for any amount used. Immerse the files in this from six to twelve hours, according to the fineness of them. Then remove, wash clean, dry quickly and put a little sweet oil on to cover the surface. If the files are coarse they will need to remain in about 12 hours, but for fine files six to eight hours is sufficient. This plan is applicable to blacksmiths', gunsmiths', tinners,', coppersmiths' and machinists' files. Copper and tin workers will only require a short time to take the particles out of their files, as the soft metals with which they become filled are soon dissolved. Files may be recut three times by this process. —Farm and Home.

The Horseradish.

Horseradish usually is given a corner of the garden and there left to take care of itself. In this way it will grow and supply an uncertain amount of roots. On clay soil it becomes a troublesome weed, but on the light land it spreads slowly. A much better quality of root can be grown with a little cultivation. The roots are cut in pieces three or four inches long. Small roots that are unfit for grating may be used for this purpose. These are planted, top end up, between the rows of peas at the time of sowing or late, all that is necessary is to make a hole with a stick deep enough so that the top of the root is about three inches below the surface. When the peas are cultivated the tops are cut off if any get above the ground. After the peas are out of the way the horseradish is allowed to grow. It will soon cover the ground with its broad leaves and will need no further attention till fall, when it may be dug and stored for use as desired. If the soil is loose and fertile the roots will be large and of a superior quality. When grown in this way it does not interfere with early crops and affords a covering for the ground during the hot, dry part of summer. In many places the surplus may be sold at a good profit.—Farmers' Voice.

Milk Test.

In a recent address Prof. Pearson told of examining four lots of milk that had been held at temperatures of 45, 50, 55 and 60 degrees for 24 hours. They contained the following numbers of bacteria at the end of that time: 445, 3,100, 67,000 and 124,000, the quantities of milk being the same. The bacterial content at the beginning of the 24 hours was the same.

STRAWBERRY CULTURE.

Some Hints That Will Prove Valuable in Growing Next Year's Crop.

It is advisable to plant as early in the spring as possible, for early set plants will grow off better and the loss of plants will be little or none. As soon as the ground is sufficiently dry in the spring, therefore, I would prepare it. Be sure to work it until it is thoroughly pulverized and then pack the surface all you can with roller or drag. I have better results from planting on firm soil than on that which is very loose. I also find, says a correspondent of the Prairie Farmer, that the later in the spring the plants are set the better condition the ground should be in and the firmer the surface should be.

After the ground is thus prepared we mark it off both ways. The rows the wide way should be four feet apart and the distance the narrow way depends on the variety grown. If it is a rank-growing variety two to two and one-half feet will be close enough. If a shy plant-maker 18 to 24 inches is the proper distance. The best marker we have ever used, and we have tried several, is made by bolting a pair of straight shafts to a piece of timber two by four inches and 12 feet long; brace it well. We bore holes in the piece every four, two and one-half feet. These holes are made slightly slanting. In every four-foot hole we bolt a square iron rod about three feet long, sharpened at the lower end. When the horse is hitched to the shafts you have a device something like a rake, only the teeth slant back so as not to catch on obstructions but slip over them. You are then ready to lay off your ground the wide way. By letting one tooth run in the last mark each time your rows will all be the same width. One boy and man can operate this and mark many acres in a day.

When ready to cross and mark the narrow way, put in extra teeth the distance apart that you wish the rows. A mark thus made is not blotted out by the rain, but will show plainly even after a hard rain.

I always use a spade for planting, a man and a boy working together. The man uses the spade and carries the basket of plants on his left arm and faces the way the row runs. With his right foot he forces the spade into the ground, pushing the handle forward, which leaves an opening behind the spade. The boy on the left of the row places the plant in the opening, down to the bud, holding it thus while the spade is removed, and the man presses the soil firmly to the plant with his left foot.

CUTTING SMALL BRANCHES

A Right and a Wrong Way of Performing the Task of Pruning Small Plants.

There is a right and a wrong way to cut small branches. The right way is shown at a, in the accompanying illustration, the wrong ways at b, c and d.

RIGHT AND WRONG WAYS OF TRIMMING.

A sharp knife is best for pruning small plants, says the Farm and Home. Cut near a bud at an angle of 45 degrees, placing the edge of the knife opposite the bud and about level with its lowest point. This brings the top of the cut at about the top of the bud. The cut at d was made too low, and leaves the bud exposed, so there is danger of its being broken. Cut e was made too high and the limb must die back before the new growth can grow over it. Cut at b has the same objection, but in a lesser degree.

STRIPPINGS.

Barn the cows on wet, cold days.

The rusty milk pail belongs not in the dairy.

Sunlight and fresh air in the barn will do much to insure a clean milk product.

Extreme care in keeping milk clean is the basis of good quality in dairy products.

The quality of milk from the common goat is said to be as good as that from any other.

Don't buy a "family" cow from a professional cow trader. Chances are his veracity is off the same "bolt" as the "hoss" trader.

In Prince Edward Island the entire dairy education and dairy supervision is under the control of the Provincial Dairy association. If the factories do not come up to a proper sanitary condition the association can close them up.

Swiss Cheese Making.

Prof. F. B. Mumford, of the University of Missouri, has recently visited Switzerland and there inspected a good many of the factories in which cheese is made. He says it is a mistake to suppose that all Swiss cheese is good. Even the Emmenthaler varies in quality, though as a general thing it is good. It is more uniform in quality than would be supposed to be possible, when it is considered that it is made, not in one large factory, in one place, but in numerous factories in different places.

Fertilizer for Plants.

Ammonia is an excellent fertilizer. Add one tablespoonful to about three quarts of water and thoroughly water the plants with this once a week for a period of about six weeks. You will notice a marked change in growth and color as well as in the bloom.

London's Cats.

That the London institution for lost and starving cats does a good work is apparent from the 1904 report, just issued, says the London News. The institution is the largest of the kind in existence, and the only one which collects lost, starving, injured or diseased cats. In eight and a half years the enormous number of 90,324 homeless cats has been brought to the institution—a daily average of about 60. In default of a home, the animals are dispatched by chloroform in the lethal chamber.

Turning Hour of Life.

There are no times in life when opportunity, the chance to be and to do, gathers so richly about the soul as when it has to suffer. Then everything depends upon whether the man looks to the lower or to the higher helps. If he looks to God, the hour of suffering is the turning hour of life.—Phillips Brooks.

In Harmony.

"Yes, sir," says the ice-dealer, "the price of ice will be much higher next summer. You see, there has been a poor ice crop this winter."

"But you deal in artificial ice," argues the patron.

"Certainly. Necessarily, I have to put up an artificial excuse."—Judge.

She Didn't Respond.

"You are the first one to whom I have shown this poem," the young poet went on. "I was wooing the muse last night—"

"Poor fellow!" replied the editor, handing back the manuscript. "It's too bad she rejected you."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Roman Shoes.

The Romans made use of two kinds of shoes, the solea, or sandal, which covered the sole of the foot and was worn at home and in company, and the calceus, which covered the whole foot and was always worn with the toga when one went abroad.

Ask and Answer.

"What are college yells good for, anyway?" asked the pessimistic person.

"Oh, answered the self-made cynic, "they are useful in training the voice for pleading with Texas steers on a western ranch after the graduation act."—Chicago Daily News.

Queen's Superstition.

Queen Elena of Italy is said to believe in the Montenegrin superstition that it is unlucky for a child to sleep in a room into which any light penetrates and lightproof shutters are the order in the nursery at Rome.

Social Wrinkle.

Mrs. Hogan—Oi thought yez were goin' to have yer party at noight.

Mrs. Grogan—Oi decided on the nixt mornin' becus thot's the toime Oi always think av the witty retorts.—N. Y. Sun.

The Transmitter.

Lilian—Wasn't it sweet of your husband to send you a kiss by wire?

Adelle—I haven't decided yet; I'm suspicious that that telegraph operator was a woman.—Detroit Free Press.

Swarming Rabbits.

Explorers who have lately returned to Adelaide from the interior of Australia declare that large tracts are swarming with countless rabbits, on which the blacks now mainly subsist.

Mother Goose's Husband.

The name of Mother Goose's husband was Isaac Goose, and her rhymes were first printed by her son-in-law, Thomas Fleet, a printer in Boston.

MARKET REPORT.

Cincinnati, March 4.

CATTLE—Common	$2 75	@	4 00
Heavy steers	4 65	@	5 00
CALVES—Extra	6 25	@	6 50
HOGS—Ch. packers	5 15	@	5 20
Mixed packers	5 05	@	5 15
SHEEP—Extra		@	5 50
LAMBS—Extra	7 85	@	8 00
FLOUR—Spring pat.	6 00	@	6 35
WHEAT—...o. 2 red.	1 16	@	1 18
No. 3 winter		@	1 14½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	48
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	33½
RYE—No. 2	84	@	87
HAY—Ch. timothy		@	13 00
PORK—Clear mess		@	14 35
LARD—Steam		@	6 42½
BUTTER—Ch. dairy.		@	22
Choice creamery		@	35
APPLES—Choice	2 75	@	3 75
POTATOES—Per bbl.		@	1 60
TOBACCO—New	5 00	@	13 00
Old	4 50	@	14 75

Chicago.

FLOUR—Winter pat.	5 10	@	5 20
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 14¼	@	1 16⅝
No. 3 red	1 05	@	1 14
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	45¾
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	32½
RYE—No. 2	75	@	77
PORK—Mess	12 40	@	12 45
LARD—Steam	6 80	@	6 82½

New York.

FLOUR—Win. str'ts.	5 50	@	5 85
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 21
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	58
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	38½	@	41
RYE—Western		@	80
PORK—Family	12 75	@	13 50
LARD—Steam		@	7 20

Baltimore.

CATTLE—Steers	3 50	@	4 00
SHEEP—No. 1 fat	3 00	@	3 50
LAMBS—Spring	5 00	@	6 00
HOGS—Dressed	6 25	@	6 50

Louisville.

WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 13
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	48½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	34½
PORK—Mess		@	11 00
LARD—Pure steam		@	6 50

Indianapolis.

WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@	1 18
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	45
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	33

Needed Chair.

"I'm going to endow one of the universities," said the millionaire—"going to establish a chair."

"Chair of what?" asked his friend.

"Well, I don't know what you'd call it for short; but it's a chair that's badly needed—a chair to teach graduates how to get a job."—Brooklyn Life.

Striking a General Average.

"Their pay is shockingly small for some of our public officials," said the broad-minded man.

"Yes," answered the cynic, "but it averages up. Some of the public officials are shockingly small for their pay."—Washington Star.

It is the part of wisdom to make as many friends as you can, and to ask them as few favors as you can.—Ottawa Free Press.

Doing Great Work.

Ward, Ark., March 6th.—(Special)—From all over the West reports come of cures of different forms of Kidney Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills and this place is not without evidence of the great work the Great American Kidney Remedy is doing.

Among the cured here is Mr. J. V. Waggoner, a well-known citizen who, in an interview, says: "Dodd's Kidney Pills have done wonders for me. My kidneys and bladder were badly out of order. I used many medicines but got nothing to cure me till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two boxes of them fixed me up so that I have been well ever since."

"Tell the poor kidney and bladder diseased people to take Dodd's Kidney Pills and get well."

No case of kidney complaint is too far gone for Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure. They are the only remedy that has ever cured Bright's Disease.

The man who said a person can get used to anything probably never tried living with his relatives.—Puck.

Earliest Green Onions.

The John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., always have something new, something valuable. This year they offer among their new money making vegetables, an Earliest Green Eating Onion. It is a winner, Mr. Farmer and Gardener!

JUST SEND THIS NOTICE AND 16c.

and they will send you their big plant and seed catalog, together with enough seed to grow

1,000 fine, solid Cabbages,
2,000 rich, juicy Turnips,
2,000 blanching, nutty Celery,
2,000 rich, buttery Lettuce,
1,000 splendid Onions,
1,000 rare, luscious Radishes,
1,000 gloriously brilliant Flowers.

In all over 10,000 plants—this great offer is made to get you to test their warranted vegetable seeds and

ALL FOR BUT 16c POSTAGE,

providing you will return this notice, and if you will send them 26c in postage, they will add to the above a big package of Salzer's Fourth of July Sweet Corn—the earliest on earth—10 days earlier than Cory, Peep o' Day, First of All, e.c. [K. L.]

We find no better feelings in others than we foster in ourselves.—Chicago Tribune.

SKIN PURIFICATION.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills Cleanse the Skin and Blood of Torturing Humors—Complete Treatment $1.00.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of scalp, as in scaled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ring worm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills are such stands proven by the testimony of the civilized world.

According to Russian dispatches there are things yet more deadly than the cigarette.—Chicago Chronicle.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease. A certain cure for swollen, sweating, hot, aching feet. At all Druggists, 25c. Accept no substitute. Trial package FREE. Address A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

"A pretty telephone girl may be preferable, but a plain one will answer."

To Cure a Cold in One Day

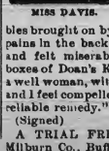
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

Applause is the spur of noble minds; the end and aim of weak ones.—Colton.

Piso's Cure for Consumption is an infallible medicine for coughs and colds.—N. W. Samuel, Ocean Grove, N. J., Feb. 17, 1900.

Croakers always advertise their own swamps.—Chicago Tribune.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.



Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if Pazo Ointment fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

Only the chosen few are fitted for success.—N. Y. Times.

FROM MISERY TO HEALTH.

A Prominent Club Woman of Kansas City Writes to Thank Doan's Kidney Pills For a Quick Cure.

Miss Nellie Davis, of 1216 Michigan avenue, Kansas City, Mo., society leader and club woman, writes: "I cannot say too much in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they effected a complete cure in a very short time when I was suffering from kidney troubles brought on by a cold. I had severe pains in the back and sick headaches, and felt miserable all over. A few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills made me a well woman, without an ache or pain, and I feel compelled to recommend this reliable remedy."

MISS DAVIS.

(Signed) NELLIE DAVIS.

A TRIAL FREE—Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents.

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Mrs. J. W. Lang and Mrs. S. Frake

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Mrs. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. The Vegetable Compound acts in harmony with the laws that govern the entire female system, and while there are many so called remedies for kidney troubles, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women, and thousands have been cured of serious kidney derangements by it. Derangements of the feminine organs quickly affect the kidneys, and when a woman has such symptoms as pain or weight in the loins, backache, bearing-[illegible], urine too frequent, scanty or high colored, producing scalding or burning, or deposits like brick dust in it; unusual thirst, swelling of hands and feet, swelling under the eyes or sharp pains in the back running down the inside of her groin, she may be sure her kidneys are affected and should lose no time in combating the disease with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the woman's remedy for woman's ills.

The following letters show how marvelously successful it is.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: a Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

Mrs. Samuel Frake, of Prospect Plains, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

I cannot thank you enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I first wrote to you I had suffered for years with what the doctor called kidney trouble and congestion of the womb. My back ached dreadfully all the time, and I suffered so with that bearing-down feeling I could hardly walk across the room. I did not get any better, so decided to stop doctoring with my physician and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am thankful to say it has entirely cured me. I do all my own work, have no more backache and all the bad symptoms have disappeared.

I cannot praise your medicine enough, and would advise all women suffering with kidney trouble to try it.

Mrs. J. W. Lang, of 626 Third Avenue, New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

I have been a great sufferer with kidney trouble. My back ached all the time and I was discouraged. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure kidney disease, and I began to take it; and it has cured me when every[illegible]. I have recommended it to lots of people and they all praise it very highly.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from kidney trouble, or any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of the great volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than likely she has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Say Plainly to Your Grocer

That you want LION COFFEE always, and he, being a square man, will not try to sell you anything else. You may not care for our opinion, but

What About the United Judgment of Millions of housekeepers who have used LION COFFEE for over a quarter of a century?

Is there any stronger proof of merit, than the Confidence of the People and ever increasing popularity? LION COFFEE is carefully selected at the plantation, shipped direct to our various factories, where it is skillfully roasted and carefully packed in sealed packages—unlike loose coffee, which is exposed to germs, dust, insects, etc. LION COFFEE reaches you as pure and clean as when it left the factory. Sold only in 1 lb. packages.

Lion-head on every package.

Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.

SOLD BY GROCERS EVERYWHERE

WOOLSON SPICE CO., Toledo, Ohio.

troubled with ills peculiar to their sex, used as a douche is marvelously successful. Thoroughly cleanses, kills disease germs, stops discharges, heals inflammation and local soreness, cures leucorrhœa and nasal catarrh.

Paxtine is in powder form to be dissolved in pure water, and is far more cleansing, healing, germicidal and economical than liquid antiseptics for all

TOILET AND WOMEN'S SPECIAL USES.

For sale at druggists, 50 cents a box.

Trial Box and Book of Instructions Free.

THE R. PAXTON COMPANY BOSTON, MASS.

The Enterprising Housekeeper

A valuable little book of 200 tested recipes and kitchen helps. Sells for 25c. Mailed to anyone for 2c postage. ENTERPRISE MFG. CO., Phila., Pa.

PATENTS 48-page book FREE, highest references. FITZGERALD & CO., Box E, Washington, D.C.

Twenty Bushels of Wheat to the Acre

IN THE RECORD ON THE FREE HOMESTEAD LANDS OF WESTERN CANADA FOR 1904

The 150,000 Farmers from the United States, who during the past seven years have gone to Canada to participate in this prosperity,

The United States will soon become an importer of Wheat. Get a free homestead or purchase a farm in Western Canada, and become one of those who will help produce it.

Apply for information to SUPERINTENDENT OF IMMIGRATION, Ottawa, Canada, or to H. M. WILLIAMS, Law Building, Toledo, O. Authorized Government Agents.

Please say where you saw this advertisement.

MOTHER GRAY'S SWEET POWDERS FOR CHILDREN,

A Certain Cure for Feverishness, Constipation, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders, and Destroys WORMS. Over Fifty Million Boxes Sold. They Break up Colds in 24 hours. At all Druggists, 25 cts. Sample mailed FREE. Address, New York City: A. S. OLMSTED, Le Roy, N.Y.

BEGGS' BLOOD PURIFIER

CURES catarrh of the stomach.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

A. N. K.—E 2064

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors silk, wool and cotton equally well and is guaranteed to give perfect results. Ask dealer or we will send post paid at 10c a package. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO. Unionville, Vt. Quincy, Ill.

BOONE CO., RECORDER

Wednesday, - - March. 8, 1905.

W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher

It looks like the Japs are going to capture the Russian army that has wintered at Mukden.

The big fire at New Orleans reduced the supply of cotton to the extent of twenty thousand bails.

If the Russian navy cannot distinguish between a torpedo boat and a fisherman's craft, on what grounds can anything be expected of it?

The price of votes in the Colorado legislature has been fixed at $5,000 each in the Peabody—Adams gubernatorial contest. The votes come high but the contestant must have them.

The Kansas legislature is putting up a pretty stiff fight against the Standard Oil Trust and the other States are peeping through the cracks in the fence to see how it results.

The action of the United States supreme court in declaring the Kansas anti-trust law constitutional opens the way to the prosecution of the coal trust of that state, which will be commenced at once.

The Philipino scouts who were located at St. Louis during the fair, were very successful in capturing the affections of the young ladies of that city, and several of them have left their homes and followed the scouts east.

Nearly 500 Daviess county farmers have formulated plans to handle their own tobacco product by means of the warehouse system. An Owensboro firm backed by Louisville capital has agreed to advance $4 a hundred on tobacco and prepare the weed for the market.

Covington's new city building appears to encourage the development of muscle as well as an increase of legal lore, and every few days some member of the legal profession develops a pugilistic tendency, and now the city council is considering the advisability of doubling the force of peace officers about the building in order to maintain quiet.

A very large element in the Democratic party in Kentucky is anxiously awaiting the announcement of Judge Hargis' resignation as a member of the Democratic State Executive Committee but those who know the man say it will never come, and it looks very much that way, as under the circumstances any man respecting himself and his party would have stepped down and out months ago.

The President of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association has called a meeting of the growers of Fayette and surrounding counties for the 13th inst. at Lexington. He says: "Let's drop all idea of going East for money. We have it at home and instead of the grab demanded by the sharks of Wall street let's divide our profits among our stock holders and our banks in our own God favored land."

President Johnson was impeached for resisting a statute of dubious constitutionality. If he had arbitrarily closed a postoffice established by congress, or appropriated money for pensions by an executive order, or seized a foreign custom house without congressional consent, or made war in Panama without the consent of congress—if President Johnson had done any or all of these things the result of the impeachment trial might have been different.—Commoner.

William Corbin, Secretary of the Continental Building—and Loan Association, of San Francisco, California, who has filed with the California State Senate an affidavit making specific charges of boodling against four of its members, is a native of this (Boone) county, and was raised by Dr. Jacob Tanner, near Hebron. His wife is also a native of this county, and was a Miss Helm. It seems that the Examiner, of San Francisco, has fallen out with the Association of which Mr. Corbin is secretary and has been trying to drive it out of business, for which purpose it bribed several State Senators to do its bidding, as charged by Mr. Corbin in his affidavit filed in the Senate, giving the names of the senators bribed, and which resulted in their indictment and arraignment in a criminal court.

Spring Announcement 1905,
PIPER & WALTON,
Merchant Tailors,
142 E. Fourth St., Cincinnati, O.,

Are pleased to inform the readers of the Boone County Recorder, wherever located, that their Spring Stock is now in, and that they will be pleased to have them call and make their selection.

Our Prices are reasonable, and our Work is first class.

Mr. Jos. A. Drexelius, formerly of Covington, well known as the most fashionable tailor in that city, is our cutter and fitter, which is a guarantee of our equipment in that line.

The fact is we have the latest and most stylish goods in the market, picked from home and eastern samples; a high class cutter and fitter, no better can be had; the best coat, vest and trouser makers in the city, the same as work for Logan, Maue and the finest in town. We buy the best trimmings and use them.

Write us for samples if you can't come, and we will come to see you. We want your trade and will work for it.

We guarantee our work, fitting and goods. We do all kinds of cleaning, dyeing and pressing.

Our Boone county friends have been very kind to us and we thank them for it, and it is worth 100 cents on the dollar. You don't know what a good bunch of people you are.

Speaking before the house committee on ways and means, Secretary of War Taft said that it would be as just to establish a tariff between the states of Ohio and Pennsylvania, as between the United States and the Philippines. He insisted that free trade would have to come between the islands and the United States if we continue to hold them.

By order of Congress, Col. William Michael, chief clerk of the State Department, has published a book giving an illustrated history of the Declaration of Independence, with the biographies and portraits of the signers and the secretary of congress. Because of the historic value of the book which Col. Michael has compiled, congress has ordered it to be printed as a government publication.

The Maysville Ledger claims there was a "nigger in the woodpile" as regards the late Tobacco Association. Here's the article:

"The cat's at least partly out of the bag already.

All along President Hawkins of the Burley Growers' Association has assured the public that he was working for the good of the farmers alone.

But facts that have come to light since the failure of the deal, show that he was working the farmers for the good of Hawkins; and Colonel Sam Stairs will please stand up and take notice!

Hanging over the Burley Tobacco Growers Association since last December has been a contract signed in New York between President W. B. Hawkins of the Association and Joseph Huffaker, a "promoter" of Louisville.

Under this contract the Association was to get 95 per cent of the profits.

President W. B. Hawkins and Huffaker were to get 10 per cent and the financial institutions which the McIvor people wer to secure the loan were to get 25 per cent.

At a heated session in a New York hotel while the negotiations were on there, Hawkins it is declared fell on his knees before Huffaker and begged him to release the Association from the contract, but Huffaker refused.

Some of the farmers from Kentucky, who had been in session with Stuart when Hawkins arrived, were so incensed when they heard of the affair that they made threats and Huffaker left at midnight for Louisville.

And there's more to come!"

It Never Disappoints.

If troubled with weak digestion, belching or sour stomach, use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will get quick relief. For sale by all druggists.

It takes more than the Sunday suit to make the solid saint.

Don't Pay

5, 10 or 50c more for a bottle of Medicine than you ought to. We can save you that much on all you buy and give you the freshest goods besides.

The reason is we do not belong to the Druggist's Trust (Nation Association of Retail Druggists) whose object is to keep up prices.

—TRY US.—

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.,
—GROCER.—
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, KY.

GRANT.

Why is a fast bicycle rider called a scorcher?

The local pilots have returned to their boats.

Al Rogers and Cy Kelly went to the city Monday to buy goods.

Jno. P. Ryle, of Rabbit Hash, delivered 2,025 pounds of tobacco here Monday at 7 cents a pound.

It is very muddy at the landing, and at some places along the river boats cannot land on account of the mud.

BIG BONE.

D. M. Bondurant has gone to Gallatin on business.

J. M. Baker and wife are out to see his father, who is very sick with lung trouble.

A stock company is negotiating for the old mill property and will start a distillery there.

Farmers are doing well saving their lambs. They are saving more than one and one half to the ewe.

Mr. Bondurant and wife request me to thank one and all who was so kind and good to them during their serious sickness.

Ed Richardson can beat all the checker players together, if he is the same Ed that I knew on Scott street, Covington.

There has been mere sickness here than ever known, only a few deaths but a great many will not get well till warm weather.

W. H. Isbell has opened up the Clay House for the spring, thinking he would do business earlier on account of the fire at Hot Springs.

RICHWOOD.

O. E. Dixon is at home now.

Kenneth Carpeuter is on the sick list.

People are having very good luck with their lambs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carpenter are still on the sick list.

Robert Robinson is nursing a fine case of chicken-pox.

Mr. Thomas Flemming has been confined to his room for some time.

We hear that Walter Robinson and Ben Northcutt are to take an inspection trip to Georgia.

Our gas and gossip club had a rousing meeting at their rooms in Jackson's block, last week.

We were sorry to hear of the death of our fellow scribe, Geo. Casey, formerly of Walton, whom we have known for several years.

Hubert Rogers and Mr. Lipscomb passed through here with their furniture, Wednesday, on their way to the Rogers homestead.

Prof. Weighorn, of Covington, exemplified the principles of oscillation and osculation to a small and unappreciative audience, at Walton last week.

We are glad to see one of our Congressmen has asked for an investigation as to the cause of the failure of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association. This is a move in the right direction.

Prof. Dickey's address on education was an able effort, but the crowd was small. Supt. Snyder also gave a short talk which was appreciated. Mrs. Laura Wolfe, the Mt. Zion teacher, closed her school on that day and pleased her pupils with prizes awarded for especial efforts. Otis Richards, with his graphophone, entertained with a few musical selections and dialogues.

FLORENCE.

Miss Bettie Hoggins is recovering from a severe attack of grip.

Edwin Skirvin, of Covington, spent Sunday with his mother here.

Mrs. Mary Sidney is able to be out after an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Joe Stephens is suffering from a very hard fall received recently.

James Robert Rice spent a few days last week with relatives in Union.

Miss Alpha Hance, of Big Bone, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Carl Price.

Mrs. Lizzie Bartell has returned from a nine weeks' visit at Gunpowder.

Dr. Will Corey is very ill at the home of his sister, Mrs. Alice Coke, in Covington.

Several young people from here attended the ball at Ludlow, last Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mitchell and son, John, of Erlanger, spent Sunday with Mrs. Cigler.

Mrs. Lloyd Aylor, of Hebron, was visiting her mother, Mrs. F. S. Clutterbuck, last week.

Mrs. A. W. Smith and daughter, Ritta, of Oak Park, Ill., are visiting Mrs. Harrison Fisk.

The remains of Mr. Nicholson, of Elsmere, were buried in the Florence cemetery, Saturday.

Miss Nancy Latham and Elva Watson spent Sunday with Mrs. George Kyle, in Covington.

Rev. Haskins, of Erlanger, was the pleasant guest of Mrs. Harry Fisk, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Price have returned to Eminence, after a week's stay with relatives here.

Andrew Price, of Chicago, attended the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Frances Price, last Monday.

Mrs. J. Vernon Hall has returned to her home in Evanston, Ill., after a short stay at this place.

Misses Minnie and Golda Baxter had for their guest, last week, Miss Edna Johnson, of Walton.

Mrs. Fannie Hampton and granddaughter, Jessie, spent Friday and Saturday with friends in Erlanger.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment of these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the thirty years and more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used, we have yet to learn of a single case of a cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. It is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Saunders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results. Sold by all druggists.

PRUNES

NICE, SWEET CALIFORNIA PRUNES ARE THE BEST AND MOST HEALTHFUL FRUIT ONE CAN EAT.

Extra Large Fancy 20 to 30 to the pound, lb..... 12c

Fancy— 30 to 40 to pound, lb.... 10c

Fancy— 40 to 50 to pound, lb.... 7c

Stewing Figs per pound..... 7c

Dry Apples per pound..... 7c

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, - KY.

C. J. WOLFF,
SPECIALIST FOR
TRUSSES, BRACES, CRUTCHES, Etc.
Personal attention given every case.
Experience 40 years.
13th & Race, opp. Washington [illegible]

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a condition powder, not a cheap ... Though put up in coarser form than Thedford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.

It costs 25c. a can and saves ten times its price in profit.

Pittsburg, Kas., March 25, 1904.
I have been using your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time. I have used all kinds of stock food but I have found that yours is the best for my purpose.
J. S. HASSON.

For Sale
60 Acre Farm

Situated 10 miles west of Aurora, Indiana. Five acres in alfalfa, 15 acres in grass. Over ½ under cultivation, balance in timber. Good orchard. Convenient to school, church and R. F. D. A bargain. Good tobacco land. Address CHARLES MCKINSTRY Morgan Park, Illinois.

My Jersey Bull will be permitted to render service at $1, money due when service is render.
B. C. Graddy, Bullittsville, Ky.

Money and Health

Saved—Comfort and Pleasure gained by using

Golden Blend Coffee, per pound..... 20c

Money Worth Blend Coffee, per lb.... 17c

Three pounds for 50c.

GEO. C. GOODE,
Agent,
Pike & Washington,
COVINGTON, KY.

FOR RENT.

A good farm of 112 acres, with house and barn 1½ mile from Southern Railroad, near Buffington Station. Apply to Leona B. Stephens, 1049 Scott Street Covington, Ky.

Deposits Earning Interest.

THE COVINGTON SAVINGS BANK & TRUST COMPANY, Inc.

N. E. Cor. Sixth St. and Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, KY.

Receives deposits of money subject to withdrawal after a specified time, or subject to check without notice,
ALLOWING INTEREST ON ALL DAILY BALANCES.

Interest is credited semi-annually on the first days of January and July and when the same is not withdrawn it is added to the principal AND DRAWS INTEREST.

It is not necessary to call in person to open an account, as all communications by mail receive prompt attention.

In its several departments, The Covington Savings Bank and Trust Company
Acts as Agent; Collects Rents and Renders Accounts as desired; Loans Money on Approved Security; Rents Safe Deposit Boxes; Administers Estates and Acts as Guardian, Trustees, etc.; Attends carefully to Trust Estates of Widows, Minors, Etc.

—ALL TRANSACTIONS CONFIDENTIAL.—

CAPITAL STOCK, $100.000.
Stockholders' Liability, $100.000.

JNO. P. ERNST, President. JOHN A. SIMPSON, Vice-President
C. W. SIMRALL, Sec'y & Treas.
Long Distance Telephone, South 214.

J. G. BENTLER & SON,

Lexington Pike, ERLANGER, KY.

Practical Horse Shoeing, General Blacksmithing
and Wagon Repairing of all kinds,
All kinds of Tool Grinding. - Also Bicycle Repairing.
Grinding of all Kinds to Order.

Hay and Grain,

AND ALL KINDS OF MILL FEED,
By Retail or Car Load. Call and Learn Our Prices.

CORN.

ARE YOU READY TO lay IN YOUR SUPPLY?

We are loading cars every day at our Elizabethtown Elevator in the Miami Bottoms, and you know what quality that is.

We are prepared to put it at any point along the Southern, and would like to hear from you when you are ready to buy.

Early & Daniel,

—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in—
Hay, Grain, Feed and Flour,
Pike St. and L. N. Ry.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

We have opened a BRANCH HOUSE at Erlanger at E. H. Riggs' old Stand, and will Keep a full line of Hay, Grain and Feed on hand, and would thank you to call and get our prices.

GOLDEN GRAIN FLOUR OUR SPECIALTY.

In our opinion a business conducted on an honest basis, furnishing the best "VALUES" possible for the "MONEY" and extending fair treatment to all

'ALWAYS WINS'

—Our Watchword has and always will be—

Honesty, -- Honest Clothing at "HONEST PRICES."

We show a fine line of Mens', Boys' & Children's

CLOTHING

Men's Suits.....$5.00 to $15.00. | Boys' Suits.....$4.00 to $10.00
Men's Overcoats.. 4.00 to 15.00. | Children's Suits.. 2.50 to 5.00
Childrens Overcoat 2.50 to 5.00. | Boys' Overcoats.. 4.00 to 10.00

These are made in every conceivable style and fashion.

Mens' Corduroy Suit, $5, $7.50, $10 and $12—these are made to stand the rough usage and abuse. We also carry a complete line of Corduroy and Jean Pants, Duck Coats, and other clothing necessary for health and comfort.

ROLFES & WACHS,

RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Subscribe for Your Connty Paper, $1.50.

Local News.

Judge Cason made a business trip to Covington, last Friday.

The farmers are having their plows put in order for the spring campaign.

The local tobacco firm is putting the weed on the market as fast as it can be handled.

Raymond Jackson has been hauling loose hay to the city and returning with baled hay.

There has been a tremendous loss of coal in the Cincinnati harbor during the last few weeks.

Dynamite is not to be compared with Old Sol's rays when it comes to moving a gorge of ice in the river.

Herbert Kirkpatrick, local fur dealer, made a considerable circuit last week, and collected a nice lot of furs.

The public school closed in the Burlington district last Friday, and the pay session began on Monday morning following.

The loss of property in Cincinnati and vicinity, occasioned by the break-up of the ice in the river is estimated at $800,000.

Master Holman Wingate, of Petersburg, came up last Friday to spend a few days with his uncle and aunt, W. J. Rice and wife.

The town of Florence had a mad dog scare one day last week. Extreme weather, be it hot or cold, seems to be condusive of hydrophobia.

The robins and blue birds have returned and the boys have begun playing marbles. Each of these is an indication that spring is at least near at hand.

W. B. Walton moved back to his country home, last week. As soon as the little lambs began skipping on the green, town life had no more attractions for Mr. Walton.

The pile of ice on the bar at Rising Sun last week was the largest ever seen at that point. The wall was so high the Rising Sun wharfboat could not be seen from Rabbit Hash.

Records have accumulated in the county clerk's office until more shelf room is necessary, and Henry Quick, the Hebron mechanic, is putting a lot of new shelves in the vault room of the office.

The Waterloo package of RECORDER's reached its destination several hours ahead of time, last week, for which it is under obligation to Leonard Kite, one of the obliging citizens of that neighborhood.

CARD OF THANKS:—We desire to extend our thanks and appreciation for the kindness shown us by our relatives and friends during the late illness and death of a wife and mother. REUBEN ACRA AND SONS.

Representative Gooch's bill for reimbursement of Wm. C. Watts, of Boone county, for $5,620 overcharges on tobacco was reported favorably to the House and is now on the calendar for passage. The claim has been pending in Congress for 22 years.

J. F. Lambert, one of the RECORDER's faithfuls, was in town one day last week. He is a resident of Locust Grove neighborhood, and will be many miles from the county seat when the dirt roads get navigable, which is generally about this time of the year.

F. J. Williams, proprietor of the Hamilton Drug Co., Hamilton, Iowa, says. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is practically the only remedy he sells for cramps, diarrhoea and colic, for the plain reason that it never disappoints. For sale by all druggists.

Having sold his farm Tony Bentler will have a big sale of stock, farm produce, farming implements, &c., on the 16th inst. See sale advertisement in another column. Mr. Bentler expects to locate at Riverside, Ohio. His friends here will hate to see him and his family leave.

A. C. Roberts, Verona correspondent for the RECORDER, was in town last Friday. A school tax has been levied in the Verona district, and Mr. Roberts, who had been appointed the collector, came down to the county clerk's office to make up a list of property on which to collect the tax.

James Thompson, member of the firm of Wingate & Thompson, of Petersburg, dealers in livestock and tobacco, got one of his legs broken in two places, last Friday. The horse he was riding slipped and fell with him on a hill side, with the above result, making the third time his leg has been broken.

When thawed through the ground will soon settle.

There are now two vacant houses in Burlington, and a third will be added in a few days.

Plant bed smoke will begin going up from hill and valley in a few days if the ground drys out.

The dirt roads have not been bad enough to create turnpike fever anywhere in the county, this winter.

The owners of boats and barges have been busy for the last week trying to ascertain what they have left.

William Hedges and family will move to their country home, recently purchased, in the next few days.

Some who keep posted as to the movements of the finny tribe say that fish will be numerous in the creeks this year.

The nimrods are watching for the appearance of wild ducks. They are expected to be very plentiful in the Ohio river this spring.

That ghost has not made its appearance in Burlington for several days, and the young men who saw it recently, are keeping a close watch for it, and are ready to do some going should they see it.

A postal received from Rev. Geo. N. Buffington, who has been wintering at Petaluma, California, directs his RECORDER changed back to Bnffington, Kenton county, at which place he will arrive in the next few days.

Charles Birkle has bought of D. E. Castleman the Wilkes house and three acres of land. He moved to his purchase last Friday. It was there that Mr. Birkle's grandfather settled when he came to this county from Covington about 30 years ago.

Read W. M. Rouse's sale advertisement in this issue. It takes place on the 14th inst. at his residence near Crescent postoffice on the Q. & C., and will dispose of a very long list of articles. If the day is favorable a very large crowd will attend.

Some of the farmers are having good luck with their lambs while others are losing a great many of them. The weather through the month of February was not at all favorable to the advent of these young animals, owing to the snow and ice and excessive cold.

As Mrs. B. W. Adams was coming home from Gunpowder neighborhood, last Friday, the horse attached to the buggy pulled loose when near Tony Bentler's, leaving Mrs. Adams and the buggy in the middle of the road. Some gentleman came along and got the horse, repaired the breaks and she came on home.

Startling Mortality.

Statistics show startling mortality, from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King's New Life Pills. M. Flannery, of 14 Custom House Place, Chicago, says: "They have no equal for Constipation and Billiousness." 25c at all druggists.

I have completed and opened a well equipped livery stable on Carneal street near Elm, where horses and rigs will receive the best of attention. Boone county people will find it to their advantage to leave their horses and buggies with me.

I make two trips daily to the city with my express wagon.

B. S. CLORE, Ludlow.

Roy Clutterbuck has been nursing a bone felon on the index finger of his right hand, for several days, and it has proven a very annoying and painful pet. Sheriff Allphin, who has had three bone felons on his fingers says the only quick and sure cure treatment is to split the finger wide open to the bone just as soon as it is ascertained that the trouble is a felon.

A Favorite Remedy for Babies.

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by all druggists.

A mad dog created considerable excitement in the Waterloo and lower Gunpowder neighborhoods the first of last week. It is known that several dogs were bitten, and there will be a general slaughter of dogs in these neighborhoods. Jeff Williamson and Wade Ryle killed the rabid animal after it had made a thorough canvass of the above neighborhoods. It was a large brindle bull dog with some yellow about its neck. It was a stranger in that part of the county.

Editor of the Recorder:

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 25, 1905.

I have just received from a friend of mine your paper of Wednesday, Feb. 15th, 1905, in which it refers to my failure in business in San Francisco.

If a statement made by the San Francisco Examiner meant a failure in business then I have failed badly but, as a matter of fact, this Company is to-day stronger than at any time in its history and we are doing business at the same old stand during the usual Banking hours. I am sending you, under separate cover, two copies of the San Francisco Bulletin which will give you some idea of the dramatic scenes which California has experienced during the past fortnight.

Some one has said that a lie might travel around the world while truth was pulling its boots on; another has said that a lie might ride from San Francisco to New York in a Pullman car with its feet on the back of a velvet cushioned seat and puffing at a good cigar, while truth would be compelled to walk all the way on the ties but, when truth arrived, it would raise such a disturbance that it would annihilate the falsehood.

I enclose herewith a copy of a letter which I have just sent out to our stockholders and, if it is not asking too much of you, I should be pleased to have it printed in your paper as I know of no way of reaching my friends so readily as through the columns of your valuable paper.

Yours Truly,
WM. CORBIN,
Sec. and Gen'l Mgr.

The letter above referred to by Mr. Corbin is quite lengthy, and shows the stockholders of the Continental Building and Loan Association that the Association is in a prosperous condition notwithstanding the libel suit recently made against it.

It is reported that the state has found a witness in the person of an old man, who saw James Gillespie running toward the Seward residence immediately after the shot was fired which killed Elizabeth Gillespie, confirming the story brought out by the state during the trial of Gillespie of the sound of hurried footsteps and the click of an iron latch as the assassin passed out of sight. It is also said that had this witness appeared before the jury which found Gillespie guilty there would have been no hesitation in imposing a death penalty. The state is understood to be preparing for the trial of the other defendants, and it is reported that the testimony of this old man will prove an important link in the chain of circumstantial evidence. The identity of the witness has been established, but the man refuses to confirm or deny that he was a witness to the flight of Gillespie.

Union, Ky., Feb. 25th, 1905.

Whereas, it has pleased God, in His infinite wisdom, to take from among us our dearly beloved brother, L. L. Tanner, whom we shall greet no more on earth:

Therefore, be it resolved 1st That we, as Patrons, extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved and sorrowing family.

2nd That the Grange has lost a consistent and conscientious advocate; the community a noble, upright citizen; his church, a devout member; his family, a loving husband and father.

3rd That a copy of these resolutions be handed to the family, also that they be published in the Boone County RECORDER and be suitably engrossed on the records of Golden Grange, No. 346.

Committee:—L. H. Voshell, Anna Smith, Harry Wilson.

If a campaign for free turnpikes develops in this county, it will produce one of the warmest times known in Boone in a long time.

It is said that before the smoke had quit rising from the site of Uncle Noah Barlow's meat house that burnt one morning recently he had, bought and hauled his lumber for rebuilding and had contracted for several fat hogs from which to stock the new building with a supply of meat. Uncle Noah is one of these old time people who recognizes a well supplied meat house is necessary to happiness.

The construction of the dam across the Ohio river at Home City will put a stop to the gathering of coal in the fall off of the sand bars for some distance both above and below the dam. Several sand bars between Lawrenceburg and Delhi yield great quantities of drift coal every fall, and besides supplying the owners of the bars with fuel they have been a source of considerable revenue, all of which the dam will cut out.

We are agents for the Oliver Chilled Plow, and all its repairs. We will have in stock in a few days 2-car loads of the Lawrenceburg, Ind. Snow Flake, best brand, Mill Feed, which, with any kind of feed you may want, we will sell at the lowest possible prices.

J. C. BENTLER & SON,
Erlanger, Ky.

Personal Mention.

Miss Olga Kirkpatrick was shopping in the city last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Booth, of Walton, were guests at W. E. Vest last Sunday.

N. E. Riddell was transacting business in Petersburg, one day last week.

Mrs. Ott Scott, of Petersburg, was the guest of her sister Mrs. J. R. Clutterbuck, last week.

F. P. Walton, was in town Monday talking spring suits to his Boone county constituents.

Atty. Walker C. Hall, of Covington, was investigating records at the county clerk's office, last Saturday.

A. B. Rouse was in command of a considerable force of spreaders of rock on the Florence pike several days last week.

Commissary visited Burlington, last Thursday, the first time for many weeks. The cold weather and the rural mail delivery, combined, gave him an excuse to remain closely domiciled this winter.

O. P. Conner spent several days last week with his son-in-law, J. E. Rouse, at Payne's Depot, Scott county. While there he and Mr. Rouse bought about 75,000 pounds of tobacco which they will redry.

Hon. Samuel W. Adams, of Erlanger, was among the visitors to Burlington, last Thursday. Mr. Adams is serving his second term as representative from the county district in Kenton county, and his constituents are pleased with his record as a legislator.

C. L. Griffith, the Walton real estate man, was in Burlington, one day last week, having with him a Mr. Case, of Crittenden. Grant county, to whom he was endeavoring to make a sale of Tony Bentler's farm about a mile out on the Union road. Mr. Griffith is making quite a number of good sales, and he is much pleased with the business.

Later—Since the above was put in type Messrs. Griffith and Case returned and closed up the trade, Mr. Bentler getting $2,500 for his 104 acres of land.

Honor Roll of Burlington School for February:

Primary Department.

Virgil Gaines, Jessie Clore, Walton Dempsey, Shirley Maxwell, Laura F. Riddell, Howard Aylor, Mary [illegible] Ball, Edwin Duncan, Sally Castleman, David Beall, Margaret Hughes, Mary L. Castleman, Harold Gaines, Pearl Clore, Carrie Porter.

Grammar High School.

Edna Riley, Grover Snyder, Dudley Blythe, Cleveland Snyder, Mary Roberts, Cecil Gaines, Jenny Lee Castleman, Alice Carver, Mattie Truesdale, Laura Porter, Lester Gulley, Bessie Hall, Willie Duncan, Tommy Hensley, Nellie Berkshire, Gordon Gaines, Garnett Tolin, Craig Baldon, Ida Crisler, Eddie Bentler, Frances Grant, Robert Gaines, Shirley Tolin, Laura Maxwell, Tommy Fowler, Henry Adams.

Adam Bauer, of Florence, bought the J.O.Carpenter property, Monday

Strikes Hidden Rocks!

When your ship of health strikes the hidden rocks of Consumption, Pneumonia, etc., you are lost, if you don't get help from Dr. Klug's New Discovery for Consumption. J. W. McKinnon, of Talladega Springs, Ala., writes: "I had been very ill with Pneumonias under the care of two doctors, but was getting no better when I began to take Dr. King's New Discovery. The first dose gave relief, and one bottle cured me." Sure cure for sore throat, bronchitis, coughs and colds. Guaranteed at all drug stores, price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

PIPER & WALTON,
Merchant Tailors
142 E. Fourth St.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.
Have Spring Suitings to show you.

FOR RENT.
Farm of 140 acres near the Miami River, 13 miles back of Cincinnati, O. For particulars address
H. F. RUSSELL,
R. F. D. No. 1, Ludlow, Ky.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,
GRASS SEEDS, FLOUR AND SALT.
We have it, you want it, come and get our choice Hay, Timothy, Clover, and Straw by
The Bale or Ton.
CORN by the car load or bushel—shelled or car;
OATS, the best, in any quantity;
MILL FEED at lowest price for good quality of feed;
SALT that will not harden in the barrel;
GRASS SEEDS including Timothy, Clover and Blue Grass
THAT WILL GROW.
We are making a specialty of Good Blue Grass Seeds and have a nice lot of Fancy Cleaned Hand-Stripped Seed that has
Been Tested and it Grows.
OUR FLOUR CAN'T BE BEAT!
It is made from the best wheat that can be had, and it makes good bread; Try a Barrel and if you don't like it bring it back and get your money back.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.
We want your trade, give us a trial and be convinced that you
.....Want Our Goods.....
R B. HUEY & CO.,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,
FUNERAL & DIRECTOR

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.
Special Rates to Traveling Men.
First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.
Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.
Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.
Tested Field and Garden Seeds.
Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.
Largest and Best Stock of
GROCERIES IN THE CITY.
Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.
When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Livery and Sales Stable.
ALLPHIN & HUME, Proprietors,
Walton, Kentucky.
Horses kept by the Meal, Day or Month. Good safe rigs for hire at all times.
Horses Bought, or Sold on Commission
Stable Near Southern Depot. BRUCE ROBERTS, Manager.
'Phone 172½, Hughes' Line.

CEILINGS. SKYLIGHTS. CORNICES
The Porter Iron Roofing & Corrugating Co
27 and 29 West Front Street,
CINCINNATI, - - OHIO.
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Iron, Steel, Galvanized & Felt Roofing.
Our Agents will give you wholesale prices.
Agents:—Bruce Anderson, Constance, Ky. L. L. Tanner, Union, Ky.
Our Unexcelled "Heating Drums" are the best. Inquire for Prices.

OH, HOW DELIGHTFUL!
The Perfect Deodorizer and Disinfectant
FRAGRINE
Refreshes. Perfumes. Invigorates. Endorsed by Physicians.
Most Pleasant of Toilet Requisites.
Most healthful of Household Necessities. Call and try it at JOHN ALLISON'S, Undertaker, Covington, Ky.

For Sale.
Business property in Constance, Ky., consisting of House, Store, Feed Room, Livery Barn of 20 stalls. Will sell property and invoice goods—will sell property and keep stock; also for rent a blacksmith and wagon makers shop.
C. W. ROBINSON,
Constance, Ky.

Dr. G. M. Terrill,
DENTIST,
Walnut Street.
LAWRENCEBURG, - INDIANA.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, . . . KENTUCKY.

MARCH...1905
Sun.	Mon.	Tues.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
			1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28	29	30	31

N. M. 6th. F. Q. 14th. F. M. 20th. L. Q. 27th.

A medical authority says that in railway collisions the passengers who are asleep escape the bad effect of shaking and concussion.

An engineer declares that 50,000 people now do the work with the aid of machinery which needed 16,000,000 people to do a few years ago.

The total length of the Russian railway system on January 14 was 37,571½ miles. In 1904 there were thrown open to traffic 679 miles.

Two stags fought a duel lasting more than two hours in the Bois de Boulogne, Paris, in full view of the public. Neither of the combatants was seriously injured.

The organization of chemical study and research in Germany for industrial purposes was begun by Prof. Justus von Liebig, who set up the first up-to-date university laboratory at Giessen, about fifty years ago.

The Simplon tunnel engineers knew their business. Boring parties started at each end of the 12-mile cut through the Alps, and the other day they met midway. The tunnel means great things for Italy and Switzerland, whose governments have guaranteed the cost, which is placed at $150,000,000.

With the increased realization of the benefit accruing from the handling of forest tracts by professionally trained foresters, there will develop a large demand for young men who have taken up this new and interesting active profession which so happily combines scientific study and commercial ends and has the ... of an active, ourt-of-door life.

The Carnegie institute, which has the spending of the $10,000,000 donated by the great ironmaster, has been asked to set aside a good-sized appropriation for the research work to discover an antidote for snake venom. It is probable that the request will be granted. For thousands of years the secret has been sought in vain.

Dr. William Osler, of Johns Hopkins University, has almost shaken society on its foundations by the declaration, in a scientific lecture, that nothing is accomplished in the world by a man more than forty years old; that men of sixty years should be retired or chloroformed; that American medical colleges are teaching hybrid systems of medicine; and that Europe is far ahead of the United States in medical universities.

Forty, as a matter of fact, is the age to begin, not the age at which to end. At 40 a man begins to realize that life is real, that knowledge is the only thing worth while. The man of 40 should begin his real life, his real study, his real thinking and his real work. If he has done anything before that and got a good start, so much the better. But let no man think himself mature at 40 or past the age of work and achievement.

The appropriation of $1,000,000 of the Peabody educational fund to the George Peabody School of Teachers at Nashville is a step by the trustees towards the dissolution of the trust which has administered the fund since it was created by George Peabody. The donation was subsequently increased to $3,000,000, and placed in the hands of a carefully selected board of trustees, who have been using the interest of the fund for the education of both white and colored children in the South. Peabody was greatest of our early philanthropists.

John F. Wallace, the chief engineer, thinks a sea-level canal better than a lock canal. According to the estimates of the previous canal commission, a canal 90 feet above sea-level could be built for $200,000,000 in from seven to ten years; a canal 60 feet above sea-level for $225,000,000 in ten years; a canal 30 feet above the sea-level, for $250,000,000 in 12 years; and for $300,000,000 a sea-level canal that could be ready for business in 12 years, and absolutely finished in 20. These figures are somewhat in the nature of guesses.

The sensation created in London by Minghnow, the human mammoth, is still unabated. The marvelous man is 9 feet 8½ inches tall, and who at the appointed eating times consumes six times as much food as a common mortal with a pretty fair appetite. When nine years old Manchnow was 5½ feet in height. When the giant was transported from the railroad station to the Coliseum, where he is being exhibited, no roofed vehicle could be found to accommodate him, so he made the journey in a moving van. The child is of normal size.

NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD.

Happenings of Interest Gathered and Condensed for the Busy Reader.

PROGRESS OF WAR IN FAR EAST.

Interesting Information From the Capital of the Nation, With a Selection of Foreign Notes—Casualties and Crimes.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The senate in executive session ratified and made public a treaty with all nations for the repression of the trade in white women.

Three supply bills were passed in the senate. They were the post office bill, carrying $181,526,843; the pension bill, carrying $138,000,000, and the river and harbor bill, carrying, in immediate appropriations and continuing contracts, $38,350,899.

The house passed the general deficiency appropriation bill, the last of the great supply measures to be acted on during this congress. The total amount carried is $31,224,079.

The senate passed the sundry civil appropriation bill, carrying about $68,000,000. Various amendments were offered to the measure.

Representative Butler (Pa.) introduced a resolution authorizing the naval committee to investigate the action of the navy department for making the awards for blue flannel cloth for the navy.

A bill to provide in one of the territories a leprosarium for the segregation of lepers and to prevent the spread of leprosy in the United States was defeated in the house of representatives.

All the appropriation bills have been passed by the senate and house.

The total permanent and annual appropriations made at the session of the late congress were $693,048,104, while the estimated revenues for the next fiscal year were $725,590,515.

Speaker Cannon, of the house, was presented a handsome loving cup, the tribute of affection and esteem of the members, regardless of party.

President Roosevelt took the oath of office and was inaugurated as president for his second term. Senator Fairbanks was inaugurated as vice president.

The 58th congress adjourned and the senate of the 59th congress was called in extraordinary session to act on appointments and other matters.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mrs. Jane L. Stanford, widow of the late Leland Stanford, California millionaire and railroad magnate, who founded Leland Stanford university, died in a hotel in Honolulu. It is suspected that she was poisoned.

There were no less than 662 grains of strychnine in the bottle of bicarbonate of soda from which Mrs. Jane L. Stanford took a dose and died soon after in Honolulu. A member of the woman's household is suspected of putting it there.

High sheriff of Honolulu denies that he said that he had found strychnine in the bottle from which Mrs. Jane Stanford took a dose of medicine and died later.

The Japanese occupied Chanten after a desperate fight with bayonets. A detachment took Petaltsz, seven miles east of Chanten, and the left wing occupied Wuaputza, on the Nenglo river, northeast of Chanten. Altogether, the Japanese have occupied nine miles of the Russian right's position.

The Japanese have occupied the first Russian station east of the Liao river. The Mukden trail is closed and persons who have invested thousands of dollars in contraband goods are threatened with bankruptcy.

The thunder of cannon is heard from all positions. Putiloff and Novgorod hills are hidden by the smoke from the guns. The bombardment was resumed after the repulse of an infantry attack by Japanese.

The bill authorizing a loan of $4,000,000 for public improvements unanimously passed the Porto Rican house.

The students of the clerical seminary at Minsk, Russia, wrecked the houses of the director and inspector of schools and burned all their papers.

The Weckerling brewery, of New Orleans, burned. Loss, $200,000.

Battling Nelson, of Chicago, practically knocked out Young Corbett, of Denver, in the ninth round at San Francisco.

The Missouri house, by a vote of 116 to 9, passed the bill prohibiting bookmaking and pool selling at race tracks or elsewhere in the state.

Formal ratification of the 99 year lease of the Pere Marquette railroad system to the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton system was made in Detroit.

Marshall Field, Chicago merchant, is confined to the house with a broken leg, the result of a fall on an icy sidewalk.

The monthly circulation statement shows that at the close of business on February 28, 1905, the total circulation of national bank notes was $469,203,840, an increase for the year of $38,879,530.

Monthly coinage statement shows that the total coinage executed at the mints of the United States during February, 1905, was $5,001,190, as follows: Gold, $4,304,580; silver, $559,660; minor coins, $135,610.

Secretary Hitchcock in a statement transmitted to the house stated that no part of any funds appropriated by congress has been used in the purchase of rations for the children attending the Indian sectarian schools.

Terry McGovern issued a direct challenge to Jimmy Britt, "Young Corbett" or Battling Nelson for a fight at 130 pounds, ring side, or 126 pounds at 3 p. m.

The statement of the government receipts and expenditures shows that for February, 1905, the total receipts were $44,606,072, and the expenditures $41,461,234, leaving a surplus for the month of $3,146,838.

The steamer New South, which was torn from her moorings at Cincinnati, was captured at Madison, Ind.

In the Mrs. Chadwick hearing in the bankruptcy court, at Cleveland, Henry Wuerst, of Elyria, O., testified that he had made Mrs. Chadwick several loans. On one of these, for $2,500, he had charged a bonus to Mrs. Chadwick of $500 in addition to 6 or 7 per cent. interest.

One of the new battleships authorized in the pending naval appropriation bill will be named, it is said, the South Carolina.

No package of printed matter of any kind mailed in the United States addressed for delivery in the republic of Panama shall weigh more than four pounds and six ounces.

By the breaking up of the hugh ice gorge in the Ohio river at Cincinnati property to the value of about $600,000 was destroyed or badly damaged. Club boats, coal barges and other craft were torn from their moorings and either demolished or carried down stream.

The public debt was decreased $355,461 during February.

John L. Sullivan, once champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, knocked out Jack McCormick, of Galveston, Tex., in the second round of a four round boxing match.

Senator Wetmore presented to the senate the report of the joint commission to report on plans for the extension and completion of the capitol building.

Preliminary examinations for the appointment of assistant surgeons in the army will be held on May 1 and August 1, 1905, at points hereafter to be designated.

Senators Emmons, Bunkers, Wright and French were expelled from the California senate for receiving bribes.

The police at Tsarskoe-Selo who since the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius have redoubled the ordinary ... for the protection of the imperial family, have arrested a suspect who claimed that he is a nephew of Gen. Fock.

Former United States Senator Edward O. Wolcott, of Colorado, died at the Hotel De Paris, Monte Carlo.

Numerous conferences on the statehood bill again failed to bring about an agreement by which legislation for either one or two states may be had at the present session.

The Russian government's wholesale concessions to railway strikers has contributed largely to the revival of the labor movement in St. Petersburg.

In the Oskar coal mine in the Ratibor district, Germany, fire broke out, cutting off 15 miners, whose rescue was impossible owing to poisonous gases. It is believed all are dead.

Emperor Nicholas has issued a rescript to the minister of the interior, stating that he has decided to convene an assembly of elected representatives of the people to elaborate and consider legislative measures.

Seven persons were killed and probably 50 injured in a terrific rear-end collision on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad eight miles west of Pittsburg. One special, containing a batallion of Ohio National guard, with ladies and officers, stopped on account of a hot box. Before a flagman could be sent back a special following containing the members of the Tippecanoe club, of Cleveland, O., their wives, sisters and sweethearts, crashed into the first train.

A train leaving New York for Washington loaded with troops and people going to the inauguration was unique in that it ran in 60 sections, probably the largest number ever sent out over one road.

Six packing companies, Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Schwarschild & Sulzberger Co. and Cudahy Co. slaughtered in the year 1903, 5,521,697 head of cattle out of a total indicated slaughter in the United States of 12,000,000 head, or about 45 per cent.

The ultimatum sent by the workmen to the Russian government, demanding immediate reforms, has been rejected. A general strike again seems inevitable.

Serious disorders broke out at the Poinanski cotton mill, Lodz, while the men were being paid off. Troops were summoned to restore order and three workmen were killed and 42 injured. A general strike is expected.

Will I. Nect, 25, of Tulsa, I. T., shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide. At the inquest it developed that the tragedy had been planned, as both had written letters.

Gov. Broward, of Florida, appointed James B. Taliaferro to fill the ad interim term as United States senator. Senator Taliaferro's present term expires on March 4 and the legislature does not meet until April.

A decision against railroad companies was rendered in the United States district court at Springfield, Ill., for violation of the safety appliance act of the inter-state commerce law.

The Canadian camp ate a rhinoceros dinner at the Hotel Astor, New York. The guests included many women and numbered 250.

A request by Nan Patterson's father that she be allowed to go to Washington from New York in custody of a keeper to see her sister, May Queen Milburn, who, he said was dying, was denied by District Attorney Jerome.

The Texas legislature went on record in both houses in a warm endorsement of President Roosevelt's policy in regard to the Standard Oil Co., and the alleged beef trust.

Dr. William R. Harper, president of the University of Chicago, who recently underwent an operation, left the Presbyterian hospital and was taken to his home.

A sumptuous farewell banquet was tendered Ambassador Meyer by the diplomatic corps and political leaders. The leading American residents of Rome were present.

Marc Catlin, of Chicago university, established a new world's record in the Illinois-Chicago track meet by making the 50-yard high hurdles in 0.64-5, beating his own record of 0:7.

Father Gopon, leader of the Russian workmen on January 22, who had been in Geneva for two days, left for London by way of Paris.

Locked in their cells, keys to which were in the possession of the absent jailer, J. D. Reaves and Henry Crow, awaiting trial for murder, were roasted alive at Bentonville, Ark., before assistance could be rendered. Other prisoners had narrow escapes.

Louis Moore, a potter, 21, was instantly killed at East Liverpool, O., by a fragment of brick, which took off the top of his head. The brick was hurled from the top of the walls of the burned George P. Ikirt building, which workmen were demolishing with dynamite.

Because her husband, Lieut. E. B. Chandler, of the United States army, had filed suit for divorce from her, Mrs. Bessie Chandler, niece of the present governor of Maryland, committed suicide in the Paxton hotel, Omaha, Neb.

J. Edward Reese, proprietor of the Reese Printing Co., Louisville, Ky., shot and killed himself.

Dr. Walter S. Christopher, a former Cincinnatian, died at Chicago, where he occupied a chair in the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He was the author of several works on child study.

Charles Holton, 28, night foreman at the Woodward avenue carhouse of the Detroit United railway, was electrocuted while using the railway company's private telephone line. It was evident that the telephone current ... crossed with the current used for operating the cars.

Johann Hoch, multibigamist, has been indicted by the grand jury for murder at Chicago. The specific charge on which the indictment was found is that Hoch murdered his last wife but one, Mrs. Marie Welcker-Hoch.

Mary White, an 88-year-old insane woman, and Della Owens, 35, feeble minded, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the main building of the county poor farm, Hillsdale, Mich.

His nerve deserting him after he had started to cut his throat with a bread knife, Charles Stollberg, 26, of Newark, N. J., was taken to a cell at the police station, where he again attempted to end his life by swallowing his false teeth.

At Jacksonville, Fla., one of the boilers of the city electric light works exploded, instantly killing John Davis, the negro fireman, and fatally injuring Capt. Fred W. Ellis, the engineer.

A. L. Faulkner, of Dunkirk, Ind., was elected president of the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers of America.

As a result of a head-on collision between two freight trains on the Baltimore & Ohio four miles east of Defiance, O., Fireman Samuel Beadle, was instantly killed and J. E. Cogley, fireman, and Thos. Carr, brakeman, all of Garrett, Ind., were seriously injured.

Two persons are dead and six injured as the result of a collision of a freight train and the west-bound "Twin Cities" express on the Northern Pacific at Bear Mouth, Mont.

William Dunshee, a former well-known coal operator, died in Pittsburg, aged 85 years. Death was due to pneumonia.

It is known that President Roosevelt has under consideration the appointment of Charles W. Anderson a prominent colored lawyer of New York, to succeed Charles H. Treat as ... of internal revenue for the district of New York.

A train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, filled with passengers bound home from Washington, was saved from destruction by the quick wit of Thomas Bain, a coal miner, at Possum Hollow, 24 miles east of Pittsburg, in flagging the train.

The London Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Tokio states that the Japanese Col. Mimada was killed at the capture of Seikajo and that Col. Klober, commander of the second Manchurian army, was wounded.

A negro who killed Dr. Wm. B. Oliphant was taken from the outskirts and strung up at Helms Station, Miss.

The California assembly, by a vote of 43 to 20, has passed the bill prohibiting pool selling or wagering on a horse race and providing a fine. The anti-prize fighting bill has been passed by the senate.

The largest coal deal in the history of the bituminous region of Pennsylvania was consummated when the Westmoreland Coal Co. took over the Pennsylvania Gas Co. for about $3,700,000.

Adolph J. Bloch, of Washington, Pa., confessed to a murder for which his brother Eugene was hanged at Allentown, Pa.

THE RUSSIAN ARMY.

Field Marshal Oyama is Driving in Both Flanks.

Large Quantities of Stores and Other Spoils Captured By the Japs—Bloody Fighting and Heavy Losses on Both Sides.

Tokio, March 6.—Field Marshal Oyama is continuing his great drives around both flanks of the Russian army. His front is now a huge bow, the base on the Shakhe river, the right arm reaching a point east of Fushun, and the left arm extending to a point west of Mukden. He is steadily tightening the great cord of men and steel. Gen. Kuropatkin is striving desperately to check the Japanese advances, contesting the flank encroachments and hammering the Japanese center. The Japanese are making heavy gains of ground west of the railway and have captured great quantities of stores and other spoils. There has already been bloody fighting and heavy losses, and this will be vastly increased when the masses of infantry meet.

Estimates of Gen. Kuropatkin's force between Shakhe and Tie Pass, prepared here, give a total of slightly more than 400,000, composed of 325,000 infantry, 33,000 cavalry and 35,000 artillery, with 1,504 guns. This estimate does not include troops at Vladivostok and other garrisons, railway guards and other employes. The grand total east of Lake Baikal is estimated at 700,000 men.

ANDREW CARNEGIE.

Trustee Loeser and County Prosecutor Call on Him.

Cleveland, O., March 6.—Trustee of the Chadwick assets, Nathan Loeser, and County Prosecutor Harvey R. Keeler called by appointment upon Andrew Carnegie at the home of Sylvester T. Everett in this city. Mr. Loeser brought with him the famous $5,000,000 note and the equally famous trust agreement. The officials obtained specimens of Mr. Carnegie's handwriting for the purpose of comparing it with the writing on the paper which Mrs. Chadwick used as security for many of her transactions. Mr. Carnegie was amused when he saw the documents bearing his name. The dis... between ... ture which Mr. Carnegie wrote for Mr. Keeler and the signature which was reputed to be his on the bank paper was marked.

A second purpose of the visit of Mr. Carnegie was to learn if Mr. Carnegie could be dispensed with at the second trial which Mrs. Chadwick and her husband will have to undergo upon state indictments.

RECIPROCITY TREATY.

Germany Wants One With the United States.

Washington, March 6.—The Berlin advices indicating a purpose on the part of the German foreign office to renew its efforts to secure something in the nature of a reciprocity treaty with the United States have attracted much attention in official circles here as it has been known for some time past that this was in contemplation. In fact, this matter has taken shape semi-officially through the presentation of Secretary Hay of resolutions adopted by the American board of trade of Berlin favoring such an arrangement.

A New Zion City.

Chicago, March 6.—The mission of A. Gladstone Dowie, who visited Zion City as the ambassador of his father, Dr. John Alexander Dowie, has been disclosed at a secret meeting of the elders and members in high standing of the Christian Catholic church. The part made public was the definite announcement that a new Zion is soon to be established near the City of Mexico, where Dr. Dowie now is.

Only One Bill Vetoed.

Washington, March 6.—Only one bill, which passed both houses and was presented to the president, failed to receive his signature. This bill amended the present anti-smoke law of the District of Columbia, and was intended to be less severe on those who have not complied with the present law.

President's Quiet Sunday.

Washington, March 6.—President Roosevelt passed the first Sunday after his inauguration quietly at the white house. Surrounded by the members of his family and his house guests, he spent the day in recuperation.

To Investigate So-Called Beef Trust.

Austin, Tex., March 6.—The joint committee of the Texas legislature has begun the work of preparing data to assist the federal government in investigating the methods of the so-called Beef Trust.

Japan's New Loan.

New York, March 6.—The Yokohama specie bank opened subscriptions in this city for Japan's new $50,000,000 internal loan. The minimum issue price was stated to be 90 yen, with the New York equivalent placed at $45, payable in Japan.

Raised Intense Interest.

London, March 6.—The intensely dramatic situation in Manchuria developed by Gen. Nogi's rapid advance and its strategic possibilities have raised excitement in Europe to the highest pitch.

For Cupboard Corner

St. Jacobs Oil

Straight, strong, sure, is the best household remedy for

Rheumatism

Neuralgia Sprains
Lumbago Bruises
Backache Soreness
Sciatica Stiffness

Price, 25c. and 50c.

Special Excursions to Southwest, Feb. 7 and 21, March 7 and 21, 1905, via Kansas City Southern Railway,

To Fort Arthur, Beaumont, Tex.; Lake Charles, Galveston, Houston, San Antonio, Tex., and all other points on K. C. S. Ry., for tickets with 21 days limit and privilege of stopping off en route on both going and return trip.

For literature describing "The Land of Fulfillment" the country along the K. C. S. Ry. or for further information regarding these excursions, write to S. G. Warner, G. P. & T. A., K. C. S. Ry., Kansas City, Mo.

HE HAD THEM SCRAMBLED.

Gave His Order ... Somewhat Puzzling Way, and Something Happened.

A salesman in a department store who possesses considerable wit entered a restaurant in the central section of the city the other day, and, finding the waiter had been a recent arrival from Ireland, told him he wanted two fried eggs, says the Philadelphia Press.

"I want one egg fried on one side, and the other egg fried on the other side, and I want them quick," the salesman added.

"Would you kindly write that on a piece of paper?" said the waiter.

"I haven't got time. Be quick, I tell you."

"One fried egg fried on both sides and the other fried egg fried on the other side," muttered the Irishman as he was leaving the table.

In a few minutes ... salesman heard much commotion in the kitchen. There were loud words and they were punctuated with sounds which seemed like blows.

Presently the waiter appeared much excited, and, rushing up to the salesman, exclaimed:

"Say, I had a terrible fight wid the cook about those eggs and you'll have to take them scrambled."

Unpleasantly Suggestive.

When the editor of an English paper received a fine chicken he believed it to be a token from some appreciative reader. After the editor had enjoyed a dinner in which the supposed gift played a part, he received a letter from a man who said: "I sent you a chicken in order to settle a dispute which has arisen here. Can you tell us what the chicken died of?"—Albany Journal.

A corner in eggs is a cheerful announcement. After the eggs have been "held up" in the corner for a week or two, will they be marketed as "strictly fresh?"—N. Y. Tribune.

THE TRICKS

Coffee Plays on Some.

It hardly pays to laugh before you are certain of facts, for it is sometimes humiliating to think of afterwards.

"When I was a young girl I was a lover of coffee but was sick so much the doctor told me to quit and I did, but after my marriage my husband begged me to drink it again as he did not think it was the coffee caused the troubles.

"So I commenced it again and continued about 6 months until my stomach commenced acting bad and choking as if I had swallowed something the size of an egg. One doctor said it was neuralgia and indigestion.

"One day I took a drive with my husband three miles in the country and I drank a cup of coffee for dinner. I thought sure I would die before I got back to town to a doctor. I was drawn double in the buggy and when my husband hitched the horse to get me out into the doctor's office, misery came up in my throat and seemed to shut my breath off entirely, then left all in a flash and went to my heart. The doctor pronounced it nervous heart trouble and when I got home I was so weak I could not sit up.

"My husband brought my supper to my beside with a nice cup of hot coffee, but I said: 'Take that back, dear, I will never drink another cup of coffee if you gave me everything you are worth, for it is just killing me.' He and the others laughed at me and said:

"'The idea of coffee killing anybody.'

"'Well,' I said, 'it is nothing else but coffee that is doing it.'

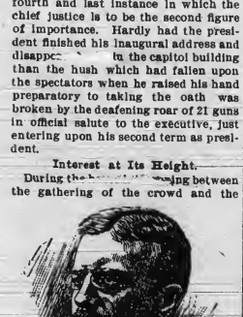
"In the grocery one day my husband was persuaded to buy a box of Postum which he brought home and I made it for dinner and we both thought how good it was but said nothing to the hired men and they thought they had drank coffee until we laughed and told them. Well we kept on with Postum and it was not long before the color came back to my cheeks and I got stout and felt as good as I ever did in my life. I have no more stomach trouble and I know I owe it all to Postum in place of coffee.

"My husband has gained good health on Postum, as well as baby and I, and we all think nothing is too good to say about it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

PRESIDENT BEGINS HIS SECOND TERM

ROOSEVELT TAKES OATH BEFORE IMMENSE AUDIENCE.

SOLEMNITY MARKS EVENT.



Multitude Awed as Chief Executive Repeats Binding Words—Twenty-One Guns Boom Salute—Fairbanks Is Inducted.

Washington, D. C., March 4.—"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and, to the best of my ability, protect, preserve and defend the constitution of the United States." With these words Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States for the past three years, was Saturday inaugurated for another term to the highest office which it is the privilege of an American citizen to attain.

Chief Justice Fuller, with all the solemnity of the three other occasions of like character in which he has figured during his career, administered the oath to the president. This was the fourth and last instance in which the chief justice is to be the second figure of importance. Hardly had the president finished his inaugural address and disappeared in the capitol building than the hush which had fallen upon the spectators when he raised his hand preparatory to taking the oath was broken by the deafening roar of 21 guns in official salute to the executive, just entering upon his second term as president.

Interest at Its Height.

During the [illegible] waiting between the gathering of the crowd and the ceremony there was no letting down of the tension of interest. The passing of a uniformed horseman was sufficient to call forth cheers, although in some sections the multitude showed signs of restlessness. This was true particularly on the outskirts of the throng where, pressed by constantly arriving recruits, many struggled to get nearer to the point of interest. The effect upon the densely packed multitude was a continuous surging backward and forward—a turbulent sea of humanity.

Theodore Roosevelt.

The rendezvousing of the troops, committees and civic societies entertained the crowd throughout the long wait incident to the schedule. The various organizations arriving by different routes passed into the narrow defiles which the police kept open, the brilliant uniforms of the troops, the bright sashes of the committees and the rich caparisoning of the horses lending themselves to a kaleidoscopic, panoramic effect. Cheers upon cheers greeted the constantly shifting picture.

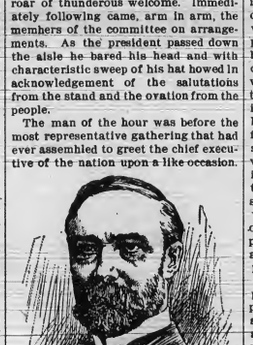
As rapidly as the troops arrived they took the positions assigned them. The military escort stretched far to the left and consisted of all branches of the service—horse, foot and artillery. To the right were grouped division after division of state troops, and in different places of honor the other organizations took their stand to await the signal to move.

The movements of the gathering troops and organizations were not all the crowd had for its entertainment. Directly in its front preparations were in progress for the inauguration itself. The monster stand, in the form of an open amphitheater, accommodating 7,000 persons, had been erected on a line with the rotunda of the capitol and there decorators were engaged in arranging for the ceremony and ushers busied themselves learning the sections to be assigned to the various officials and distinguished guests.

Notables Begin to Arrive.

Shortly after noon, just following the induction into office of Vice President Fairbanks, the monster stand, decorated with plants, flowers, flags and bunting, began to fill with the people who had just finished witnessing the ceremonies in the senate chamber, and scarcely a half hour passed before this coign of vantage was filled to overflowing. Added to the color afforded by the plants and hunting were the brilliant costumes of the women, and these put on a touch of variety which rivaled the occasion of four years ago. Every ledge about the capitol and the windows were filled to the point of overflowing with their human burdens, and long before the official party appeared the streets were jammed as far as the eye could reach.

Several minutes before one o'clock an extra loud burst of cheers from the multitude just in front of the main capitol door called the attention from the brilliant parade of uniforms in the street to the official party, which had just come through the main door. "The president, there he is," and similar cries came from the assembled populace, but the nation's chief was not to come for some moments.



A hush was noticeable in the crowd. The official entrance was dramatic. All except those who were participating in the ceremony were seated. When the justices of the supreme court, with the exception of Chief Justice Fuller, emerged from between the Corinthian pillars and marched down the sloping carpeted aisle to their station they were greeted with applause. The justices wore their robes and skull-caps. Then came the members of the diplomatic corps, in their gorgeous uniforms, and they evoked thunderous applause. Led by Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador and dean of the corps, and followed by the others in order of precedence, they took seats on the right of the stand. Strolling in after them came members of the cabinet, senators and representatives in con[illegible]

Hush as President Comes.

Following on the heels of the official party came Mrs. Roosevelt and a party of friends; then, but a moment later, the new vice president, Mr. Fairbanks, and his escort arrived and were greeted by tremendous bursts of applause. As soon as Vice President Fairbanks seated himself the cheers ceased, the military presented arms, every hat in the committees came off and the great ocean of people set up a perfect roar of cheers, fairly shouting itself hoarse.

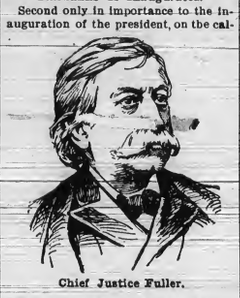
Quick as a flash every sound was stilled and President Roosevelt, quiet and composed or demeanor, came from between the gigantic pillars, escorted by Chief Justice Fuller. A random burst of cheers came from the front of the crowd as with measured tread, in harmony with the dignified step of the chief justice, the president advanced in state down the long aisle of distinguished guests. By this time all were standing and nothing could be heard above the roar of thunderous welcome. Immediately following came, arm in arm, the members of the committee on arrangements. As the president passed down the aisle he bared his head and with characteristic sweep of his hat bowed in acknowledgement of the salutations from the stand and the ovation from the people.

The man of the hour was before the most representative gathering that had ever assembled to greet the chief executive of the nation upon a like occasion.

Charles W. Fairbanks.

President Roosevelt's manner was not that of a man upon whose head fell the great responsibilities of a nation's care. Three years of experience as chief executive had changed this man as much as did Lincoln's liberation of the black man change that great statesman. While he waited for the applause to die out he stood in triumph, with no show of vanity, with no evidences of political enmity, apparently no memories of the campaign gone by, and nothing more disconcerting than a huge gathering of loyal Americans.

Oath Is Administered.



Chief Justice Fuller stepped to the front of the pavilion constructed especially for the use of the president during the ceremonies, and his clerk came forward bearing a Bible. A hush, followed by absolute silence, fell over the crowd, which but a moment before was cheering itself hoarse. President Roosevelt raised his right hand and took the oath which binds him in supporting the laws and constitution of the United States, with great reverence and amid deep silence. So great was the awe of the assembled multitude that not the semblance of a demonstration followed. When the president began his inaugural address, and as soon as he had finished and disappeared within the capitol the signal was flashed to the navy yard and the salute of 21 guns told the end of the ceremonies and the initial step of the president's entrance into his second term of office.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TAKING THE OATH OF OFFICE.

Fairbanks Is Inaugurated.

Second only in importance to the inauguration of the president, on the call-endar of events for the day, was the induction of Senator Fairbanks, of Indiana, into the office of the vice president of the United States in the senate chamber. The ceremony was brief and simple to the extent of being severe. Immediately following the address and oath of Vice President Fairbanks came the final adjournment of the Fifty-eighth congress and the beginning of the special session.

Chief Justice Fuller.

Many other events, such as the swearing in of almost a third membership of the senate and various routine duties, which were in themselves of great import, were thrust into the background by the impressive ceremonies which preceded. "Solemn and yet brief" is the way the taking of the oath impressed the spectators. It consisted of a promise, made with uplifted hand and bowed head, to perform the duties of the office and to support and defend the constitution of the United States. This was the oath of office, and it was administered by Senator Frye as president pro tempore of the senate. The two officials stood confronting each other on the elevated platform on which rests the desk of the preceding officer of the senate, practically on the same spot on which all the incoming vice presidents for the past 50 years have stood.

Regarding the notables who were present at the ceremony in the senate, practically the same personages were seen at this event as were present about an hour later at the inauguration of the president. Every niche and cranny in the gallery was filled with people. That section which is generally used privately by the senators was turned over to the executive party and directly opposite that quarter newspaper men were busily engaged portraying the scenes about them. Outside of these two quarters of the gallery persons holding special tickets were seated.

Shortly before 12 the special guests began to arrive. The president was seated in a big red leather chair immediately in front of the desk of the presiding officer and was an interesting spectator of the ceremony in which he himself had participated four years ago. The induction ceremony did not consume more than two minutes of time and was administered by Mr. Frye, presiding officer of the senate.

With the last positive thump of the gavel upon the desk Senator Frye relinquished his position as president pro tem. by announcing the end of that body. Taking a seat to one side Mr. Fairbanks took his place and began his inaugural address. This was followed by the prayer of Dr. Edward Everett Hale. Then the organization of the senate was completed, the oath in each case being administered by Mr. Fairbanks. Immediately upon the adjournment the guests began to file out of the gallery and preparations were begun for the inauguration of the president.

OUR DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

CAUSE FOR THANKFULNESS

He Says We Have Obligations Both to Ourselves and to the World and Can Shirk Neither.

Washington, March 4.—The following is the text of President Roosevelt's inaugural address:

My Fellow Citizens: No people on earth have more cause to be thankful than ours, and this is said reverently, in no spirit of boastfulness in our own strength, but with gratitude to the Giver of Good Who has blessed us with the conditions which have enabled us to achieve so large a measure of well being and of happiness. To us as a people it has been granted to lay the foundation of our national life in a new continent. We are the heirs of the ages, and yet we have had to pay few of the penalties which in old countries are exacted by the dead band of a bygone civilization. We have not been obliged to fight for our existence against any alien race; and yet our life has called for the vigor and effort without which the manlier and hardier virtues wither away. Under such conditions it would be our own fault if we failed; and the success which we have had in the past, the success which we confidently believe the future will bring, should cause in us no feeling of vain glory, but rather a deep and abiding realization of all which life has offered us; a full acknowledgement of the responsibility which is ours; and a fixed determination to show that under a free government a mighty people can thrive best, alike as regards the things of the body and the things of the soul.

Much has been given to us, and much will rightfully be expected from us. We have duties to others and duties to ourselves; and we can shirk neither. We have become a great nation, forced by the fact of its greatness into relations with the other nations of the earth; and we must behave as beseems a people with such responsibilities. Toward all other nations, large and small, our attitude must be one of cordial and sincere friendship. We must show not only in our words, but in our deeds that we are earnestly desirous of securing their good will by acting toward them in a spirit of just and generous recognition of all their rights. But justice and generosity in a nation, as in an individual, count most when shown not by the weak, but by the strong. While ever careful to refrain from wronging others, we must be no less insistent that we are not wronged ourselves. We wish peace; but we wish the peace of justice, the peace of righteousness. We wish it because we think it is right, and not because we are afraid. No weak nation that acts manfully and justly should ever have cause to fear us, and no strong power should ever be able to single us out as a subject for insolent aggression.

Our relations with the other powers of the world are important; but still more important are our relations among ourselves. Such growth in wealth, in population and in power as this nation has seen during the century and a quarter of its national life is inevitably accompanied by a like growth in the problems which are ever before every nation that rises to greatness. Power invariably means both responsibility and danger. Our forefathers faced certain perils which we have outgrown. We now face other perils the very existence of which it was impossible that they should foresee. Modern life is both complex and intense, and the tremendous changes wrought by the extraordinary industrial development of the last half century are felt in every fiber of our social and political being.

The conditions which have told for our marvelous material well-being, which have developed to a very high degree our energy, self-reliance and individual initiative, have also brought the care and anxiety inseparable from the accumulation of great wealth in industrial centers. Upon the success of our experiment much depends; not only as regards our own welfare, but as regards the welfare of mankind. If we fail, the cause of free self-government throughout the world will rock to its foundations; and therefore, our responsibility is heavy, to ourselves, to the world as it is to-day, and to the generations yet unborn.

Yet, after all, though the problems are new, though the tasks set before us differ from the tasks set before our fathers who founded and preserved this republic, the spirit in which these tasks must be undertaken and these problems faced, if our duty is to be well done, remains essentially unchanged. We know that self-government is difficult. We know that no people needs such high traits of character as that people which seeks to govern its affairs aright through the freely expressed will of the free men who compose it. But we have faith that we shall not prove false to the memories of the men of the mighty past. They did their work, they left us the splendid heritage we now enjoy.

Definition of Duty.

A small boy went to Sunday school. When he went home his mother asked him what the lesson was about. "Faith," says the boy. "What's that?" his mother asked. "Believin' what you've got every reason to suppose ain't so," the boy replied. "And then," he afterward remarks, "there was some talk about duty, too." "What's duty?" his mother asked him. "Oh, duty," he replied, "is any old thing that you have got to do when you want to play baseball."—Chicago Chronicle.

INTERESTING STATE NEWS

FRANCHISE VALUES.

State Board of Valuation and Assessment Fixes Them.

Frankfort, Ky., March 3.—The state board of valuation and assessment fixed the franchise value of the railroads in Kentucky as follows: Louisville & Nashville, $11,032,400; Illinois Central, $5,536,400; Chesapeake & Ohio, $4,272,440; Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific, $3,708,816; Southern Railway Co. in Kentucky, $1,403,330; Mobile & Ohio, $959,071; Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis, $742,400; Ashland Coal and Iron Railway Co., $620,300; Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, $345,780; Lexington & Eastern Railway Co., $845,683; Louisville & Eastern Railway Co., $220,000; Camden Interstate railway, $156,126; Tennessee Central railway, $159,517; Glasgow Railway Co., $66,500; Licking River Railroad Co., $11,000; Central Transfer Railway & Storage Co., $4,460; Cadiz Railroad Co., $14,120.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

Child Brides Figure In Marriage Ceremonies.

Louisville, Ky., March 2.—Iva Hornback, 14 years old, became the bride of Frankie Crail, aged 21 years, at the courthouse. Lura Watkins, 16 years old, who assisted them, from Upton, Ky., accepted the child bride's banter to participate in a double marriage, and with one ceremony Magistrate Joseph M. Keyer joined the destinies of four people [illegible]

The girls met their lovers while on the way to school. They barely had time to catch a train coming to Louisville.

FOR THE SECOND TIME.

A Mother and Daughter Were Simultaneously Adjudged Mad.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 4.—Mrs. Patience I. Henderson, wife of James Henderson, a Todd county planter, and Miss Pearl Henderson, their daughter, were for the second time simultaneously adjudged of unsound mind and brought to the Western lunatic asylum here. Christmas eve, 1903, they were sent to the asylum, but soon released as cured. Lately they have both become so much worse they have had to be returned to the institution.

KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY.

Board of Curators Decide To Open a Law College.

Lexington, Ky., March 4.—The board of curators of Kentucky university met in special session here and decided to open a law college at the university next fall. Judge Lyman B. Chalkley will be the dean of the college. The following named will constitute the faculty: John T. Shelby, John R. Allen, Charles J. Bronson, George R. Hunt, Judge Mat Walton and Judge J. H. Hazelrigg.

Admits Combine.

Covington, Ky., March 3.—The Stone Lake Ice Co., of Cincinnati, one of a score of Cincinnati and Covington ice companies that were indicted two years ago in this city on charge of forming a trust to regulate ice prices, entered a plea of guilty before the circuit court, through its attorneys. The court assessed a fine of $600.

Sues Railway For Damages.

Paducah, Ky., March 3.—J. W. Hutson, of this city, as administrator of the estate of his son Harry, has filed suit at Memphis, Tenn., against the Illinois Central for $25,000 for the death of his son, who was an engineer, and who was killed some time ago at Millington, Tenn., a switch being left open.

Governor Approved the Finding.

Frankfort, Ky., March 2.—Gov. Beckham approved the finding of the court-martial, which fined Capt. Robert A. Burton, of Louisville, $75 and declared him guilty of failing to report the property of the government in his possession, as required by the Dick law.

Death Sentenced Pronounced.

Lexington, Ky., March 4.—Overruling the motion for a new trial, Judge Parker passed sentence of death upon James Piersall, the negro convicted of a criminal assault upon Mrs. Lucy Wagoner, in this city, and fixed the day of his execution for Friday, May 5.

Cooney Howell Acquitted.

Paducah, Ky., March 3.—Cooney Howell, a white man, who shot and killed Harris Freeman, a burglar, at Grand Rivers, Ky., was acquitted by County Judge Thos. Evans at Smithland, the court holding that he was justified in killing the negro.

Remains Will Be Cremated.

Covington, Ky., March 3.—Dr. Chas. E. Ellis, 39, died at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Wron, West Ninth street. The deceased had practiced medicine in Covington for 12 years. The remains will be cremated at the Cincinnati crematory.

Dryer To Succeed Byars.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 3.—The Hopkinsville tobacco board of trade elected Fred Dryer inspector to succeed the late F. M. Byars. There were 19 candidates, and Mr. Dryer was elected on the 37th ballot.

A JAIL DELIVERY.

Three Alleged Murderers and Two Thieves Freed.

Madisonville, Ky., March 4.—There was a sensational jail delivery in this city in which three murderers and two thieves were freed, and the officers are much alarmed, as three of the men were in on dangerous charges and are considered dangerous men. The delivery was made by some one from the outside cutting the iron bars from a rear window of the jail, and permitting the men, who had not been locked in their cells the night before, to walk out. They were: Louis Wilcox, murder; Jeff Morgan, murder; John Hall, murder; Lee Abbott, 65 charges of forgery; Othe Armstrong, house-breaking. The delivery was made some time between midnight and daylight. Officers are after the fugitives.

TO READJUST RATES.

The State Railroad Commission Will Take Action.

Owensboro, Ky., March 3.—Capt. W. T. Ellis, attorney for the local shippers, made a motion which was sustained before the state railroad commission which has been in session here for the past four days for an investigation of the ownership of the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis Railroad Co. L. J. Irwin, general freight and passenger agent for the railroad company, stated on the stand that he did not know who owned the controlling interest in the road. It is thought that the freight rate investigation here will result in a readjustment of rates all over the state.

NEW STATEHOUSE.

Plans For the Structure Have Been Completed.

Frankfort, Ky., March 3.—The board of statehouse commissioners held a meeting, at which Architect Frank M. Andrews was present. He told the board his plans and specifications were all ready and that advertising for bids for the erection of the new statehouse could begin at once. He said if the bids received were acceptable to the board there was no reason why work on the new building could not begin by June 1. The deeds for the Hunt site are in readiness, and as soon as the attorney general completes the examination of the titles the property will be taken over by the state.

Broken Back Cured.

Louisville, Ky., March 2.—H. L. Smith, of Bertha, Ky., has been successfully operated on here for a broken back. After being suspended by straps in an upright position at University hospital for five weeks, he was released from his position and sent home.

Wound Proves Fatal.

Newport, Ky., March 3.—Katie Weltner, the 17-year-old girl who was accidentally shot by her brother, died at her home near Cold Springs. The fatal 22-caliber bullet from a flobert rifle penetrated the throat, lodging in the back of the neck.

Imprisonment and Fine.

Louisville, Ky., March 2.—Howard Spillman, of Peters creek, Barren county, pleaded guilty in the United States federal court to the charge of fraudulent use of the mails, and was sentenced to five months' imprisonment in jail and to pay a fine of $500.

Prof. J. W. McGarvey.

Lexington, Ky., March 4.—The official announcement was made that at the end of the present scholastic term Prof. J. W. McGarvey, now president of the Madison Female institute, at Richmond, would resign to become a member of the faculty of the Campbell-Hagerman college in this city.

The Quarantine Was Raised.

Bowling Green, Ky., March 4.—The quarantine placed upon unvaccinated persons coming from Simpson to this county has been raised, as the citizens of Simpson county have complied with the general vaccination order to such an extent as to put a stop to the disease.

Four Killed By Dynamite.

Paintsville, Ky., March 4.—While thawing dynamite in powder cans in the railroad camp of A. H. Calligan, of the C. & O., the dynamite exploded, and Will Van Hoose, foreman; Rans Adkins, Anderson Robinson and Will McGuire were killed.

Respess Acquitted.

Covington, Ky., March 4.—J. B. Respess was acquitted by a jury in the circuit court of the charge of renting or permitting premises owned by him to be used for poolroom purposes.

Clay For Minister To Switzerland.

Washington, March 4.—Brutus Clay, Richmond, Ky., is slated for minister to Switzerland. The post pays $7,500. It is said the president had considered him for the post at Copenhagen. Clay is the son of the late Gen. Cassius M. Clay.

Seven Years For Detaining a Woman.

Versailles, Ky., March 4.—Bronston Jones, a negro, was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary for detaining a woman against her will. Jones was charged with pursuing Miss Lucy Fogg, of near Ducker.

In Memory of Mother.

The subject of this sketch Mrs. Permelia Jane Acra, was a daughter of the late Lawrence and Jane Pope. She was born near Culpepper Court House, Virginia, May 30th, 1830, and came to this county with her parents when but two years of age. She resided here the remainder of her life. She was united in marriage with Reuben Acra, January 7th, 1847. To this union eleven sons and one daughter were given, seven of whom preceded her, several years, to their home beyond. The five who survive her are Chas. H., William L., Andrew B., Archie L., and Harry E. She united with the Old Baptist church at Bethel, near Union, in 1889, of which she remained a faithful and consistent member until called to the church triumphant above. She departed this life Feb. 25th, 1905, of pneumonia. The remains were laid to rest in the family graveyard near her home on Middle Creek, Feb. 27, 1905, where her departed children are interred. Her religion was not of that somber cast, which looks to the beyond for the beginning of its enjoyments, or the first actual realization of its rewards. It was of a deeply devout nature. Her sense of dependence upon God and her faith in the Christ were as sincere and abiding as they were artless and spontaneous. It was her present happiness, or accounted the chiefest means of it, and she did not fear to be happy here and now; and this happiness so unabating, so uniform, so inartificial, seemed not to need the stimulus of conscious effort, but to impart it to others was her obvious hope and the end of her utmost endeavor. Naturally of a cheery, sunny disposition, she seemed to carry all the brightness and buoyancy of her childhood forward, even to her latest years. Disappointments and griefs, she undoubtedly had her own and shared those of others in deepest sympathy; but these, while distressing and painful, could not chill or blight the seeds from which the greater joys of her life sprang. Were any sick or bereaved it was hers to add consoling words and prayers. Need mention be made of her unconcealed though unobtrusive devotion to her husband and children, or the supreme charm and blessedness of his home-life. Here, indeed, is a shrine all too sacred to be profaned by more than a mere reference even by the tenderest of friends, who lovingly speak her praise. Let it suffice to say that this supremest of virtues was the brightest of all which adorned the life and character of this loving wife and mother. I have brought this little casket of sweet memories, all unworthy as it is, to break upon the grave of one whom we all loved for her own loveliness, and while we cannot but weep as we look upon the many tokens of her labors while with us, let us devoutly endeavor to bow our heads in humble submission to the divine will.

None knew her but to love her,
None named her but to praise.

C. H. A.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye. Good for burns and ulcers too. Only 25c at all druggists.

Lost—Between Orva Petty's on Richardson and Lexington pike and G. W. Walton's, a bundle containing clothing and blankets. Any information will be thankfully received by Geo. H. Walton, at Erlanger, Ky.

Mr. A. C. Passons has sent us a copy of the tab he has kept on the weather, this winter, and it shows that snows have been on the ground ever since the 13th day of last November. This tab was kept at the Flickertown weather station on Woolper.

Mr. Hizer, a tobacco buyer of Covington, was in the Gunpowder neighborhood last week, and bought several crops. He paid Clarence Mitchell $10 around for his; James Baily, $10 for all but a small lot for which he gave him $4; Glen Crisler $7 75.

The ladies of Florence Baptist church will give a supper for the benefit of the church on the night of the 18th inst. Tickets, 25 cents. All are invited.

Carl Rouse has rented the farm west of town, and, until recently, occupied by Bert Gaines. He moved to it last week.

Chas. Shepherd, of Rising Sun, died last Saturday. He was a nephew of Mr. A. C. Passons, who lives down on Woolper.

For Sale—No. 1 Shorthorn cow; fresh in 3 week. Apply to Bruce [illegible], Burlington.

[illegible] Stephens sold a saddle to B. B. Allphin, Monday, for

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale at my residence (known as the Dr. Swetnam homestead) ½ mile east of Dixon Station, Ky., on Tuesday, March 14, 1905,

The following property:

1 all-purpose Station, Ben Hur—good saddle and harness horse, 16 hands 1½ inches high, weight 1270 lbs.; good all-purpose family mare, gentle nice driver, No. 1 work and harness horse; 2 good cows—fresh; road wagon, hayframe; Buggy, cart, mowing machine, hayrake, 2-h. sled, Chill plow, 2 Malta double shovel plows, 2-h. jumping shovel plows, 2 single shovel plows, hillside plow, "A" harrow, corndrill, five-hoe wheatdrill, wagon harness, 2 sets buggy harness, plow harness, cider mill, 30 good tomato boxes, washing machine, sewing machine, incubator, 2 heating and 1 gasoline stoves, Estey Organ, Household and kitchen furniture, 75 bushel corn, lot fodder in barn, 10 bushels potatees, 5 dozen pure Barred Plymouth Rock hens, pullets, 1 dozen cocks and cockerels.

Terms—Sums of $5 and under cash; on sums over $5 a credit of six months will be given purchaser to give note with good security negotiable and payable in the Erlanger Deposit Bank before removing property.

W. M. ROUSE,

Sale to begin at 10 o'clock a. m.
A. Bentler, auctioneer.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at the residence of the late J. A. Sanders, in Walton, Boone county, Ky., on Saturday, March 18, '05,

The following property:

1 good draft horse, 1 good draft mare, 1 good driving mare—kind and gentle; 2 milch cows that will be fresh in a few days; lot of hay in barn, 3 carriages, 3 buggies, 1 open buggy, 2 spring wagons, 2 mowing machines, hayrake, grind stone, road wagon, hay bed, rock bed; hayfork, rope and pullies; rock bed, scalding box; 100 new cotton sacks, lot wagon and buggy timber ready for use; lot black locust posts; single, double shovel and breaking plows; wheat and corn drill, "A" harrow, double and single trees, new scraper, forks, shovels, hoes, 4 sets single harness, 2 sets double harness, 40 shocks fodder, lot lumber, farm bell, 30 perch building stone.

Terms—A credit of six months without interest will be given on all sums over $5, purchasers to give note with good security; $5 and under, eash.

J. W. CLEEK, Admr.

Tony Bentler, Auctioneer.
Sale to begin at 10 a. m.

Public Sale!

Desiring to make a change in my business, I will sell to the highest bidder, at public auction,

Wednesday, Mch. 29, 1905

on the Lystra Aylor farm, one mile below Hebron, Ky., on the Bullittsville and Covington pike, the following property, to-wit:

4 Milch Cows, Mare and colt, Ewes with lambs, lot of Shoats, Sow, 2 Farm Wagons, Boxbed, 2 Haybeds, Binder, Hayrake, two Smoothing Harrows, Disc Harrow, Wheatdrill, Power or Hand Feed Cutter, 2 Breaking Plows, and other F[illegible] too numerous to mention, some Household Goods.

Terms—All sums of $10.00 and over a credit of 6 months will be given, purchasers to give notes with good security, payable in the Boone County Deposit Bank; all sums under $10.00, cash.

W. L. AYLOR.

Tony Bentler, Auctioneer.
Sale to begin at 1 o'clock p. m.

Don't Forget

That our Gunpowder and Blended Teas are the finest to be had and you don't have to pay any extra price either.

40c, 60c, 75c lb.

GEO. C. GOODE, Agt.
Covington, Ky.

N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington.

FOR SALE.

Farm of 33½ acres, good new house of 5 rooms, good water in the yard year round; on rural route and telephone line, near Plattsburg.

SAMUEL HENSLEY,
Petersburg, Ky.

WHAT IS HOME

WITHOUT AN UP-TO-DATE

IRON FENCE?

—MAKES HOME ATTRACTIVE.—

Lasts a Lifetime. Low Prices-Surprising.

For Best Prices Call or Write to

HENRY QUICK, Hebron, Ky.,
—SPECIAL AGENT FOR—
The Stewart Iron Works Company,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

PUBLIC SALE

—OF—

Live Stock, Farm Produce and Farm Implements.

Having sold my farm, I will have a public sale on the premises on the Union road, one mile south of Burlington, Ky., on Thursday, Mch. 16, 1905,

The following property:

Two work Horses, 4-yr. old Gelding—good driver; yearling draft Filly, saddle and harness Filly; 6 Milch Cows, 1 fresh; 5 nice Jersey Heifers, Registerd Jersey Bull, pedigree furnished; 4 Sows with pig, Boar, 8 ewes and 6 lambs; Milwaukee Binder, 2 Mowing Machines, Hayrake, Land Roller, Disc Harrow, Hinge Harrow, new Fertilizer Corndrill, Plows—all kinds; Scalding Box, Sausage Mill, Lard Press, 2 Iron Kettles, Road Wagon, Box and Haybeds, Buggy and Harness, lot of other Harness, Platform Spring Wagon, new 2-h. Sled, Tool Chest, 8 rolls No. 9 Fence Wire, 1500 ft. Beech Lumber, 5 doz. Chickens, 4 Turkeys, 100 bus. Corn, lot of Hay, some Fodder, 20 bus. Early Ohio Potatoes, 50 yds. Rag Carpet, 50 yds. Matting, large Hanging Lamp, Gasoline and Cook Stoves, Bentwood Churn, lot of Stoneware, Household Furniture and various other articles.

Terms—A credit of 9 months without interest, will be given on all sums over $5, purchasers to give notes with good security, payable in Boone County Deposit Bank at Burlington, Ky., sums of $5 and under, cash. Terms must be complied with before removing property.

ANTHONY BENTLER.

Geo. Burkett, Auctioneer.
Sale to begin at 10 o'clock am.

FARM FOR SALE OR RENT.

Farm of 58½ acres near Grange Hall, adjoining Jos. Love and Samuel Stephens. Inquire of J. R. Clutterbuck. D. E. Castleman or W. E. Vest, Burlington, Ky. feb 22 3t

FOR SALE.

Boone County Roller Mills at Petersburg, Ky. Inquire of BEN BELDEN.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky

Julia F. West, adm'xr, Pltf
vs } No 2449 Notice.
R. K. West, &c., Defts.

Notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of E. S. West, deceased, must present them to the undersigned properly proven according to law. He will begin his sittings to hear proof of claims Mch. 7th, 1905, in the Circuit Clerk's office and continue from day to day (Sundays excepted) until April 6, 1905.

J. A. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

FOR SALE.

A good Store-house and lot, also a stock of goods—a splendid stand; also tobacco warehouse and lot equipped for handling leaf tobacco, located at Bellevew, Ky., address
M. J. CORHIN, Grant, Ky.

FOR SALE.

White Plymouth Rock eggs for sale—pure stock. Fishel and Orebaugh strain. 13 for $1.00. JAS. T. BRISTOW 1mch8 Union, Ky.

WILSTAR,

Record 2171,

Will make the season of 1905 at McHenry's livery stable in Rising Sun, Indiana. Persons booking mares before the first of April will save $5. After that time the terms will be $30 to insure a living colt.

SCRANTON BROS., Owners,
aprl Rising Sun, Ind.

For the Best Flour, Try
OLD KENTUCKY
BLENDED PATENT.
—GUARANTEED.—
For Something Good, Try
VIRGINIA OAK
WINTER PATENT.
—WARRANTED.—
Clifford E. Nadaud,
515 Chamber of Commerce,
CINCINNATI, O.
Room 10 Boone Block,
COVINGTON, KY.

SALE OF

HORSE BLANKETS And Lap-Robes.

An over stock of Robes to be sold at your own price, and 15 per cent discount on Blankets

CALL AND SEE US
before you buy your

Spring Harness

And you will see that you can save 10c on every dollar that you spend. The best stock of

Collars and Harness in Town

at Jackson's

New Harness Shop,

Walnut Street,
Lawrenceburg, - Indiana.
2½ blocks from Big 4 R. R.

RINGS, WATCHES
and CLOCKS
LAVED
AND REPAIRED
KNOWINGLY

J. P. HEMPHILL
THE DRUGGIST
at Rising Sun, Ind.,
....Carries a full line of....
DRUGS,
PAINTS,
OILS AND VARNISHES.
In fact any and all articles kept in a first-class Drug Store, and wants to meet his Kentucky friends.
—CALL AND SEE HIM.—
Yours Respectfully,
J. P. HEMPHILL,
Rising Sun, Indiana.

FOR RENT
Farm of 45 Acre

Situated on the Lexington pike between Florence and Erlanger, known as the Abel Carpenter place. This farm is well improved, with a modern eight-room house and all necessary outbuildings. For terms apply to
Mrs. MARY A. CARPENTER,
Florence, Ky.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of L. L. Tanner, deceased, must come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

EZRA K. TANNER, Admr.

Notice of Election.

The stockholders of the Burlington and Bellevue Turnpike Company are hereby notified that an election for president and four directors will be held in Burlington on the first Monday in April, 1905.

J. J. WALTON, Secretary.

"Always Reliable."
W. N. HIND & CO.
Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
210-12 W. Fifth Street,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

Rogers Bros.
General Merchants,
BELLEVUE, KY.
Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST, - Florence, Ky.
Office at Burlington Every Monday. "at Latonia, Ky. Thursday-Friday the remainder of the time at Florence.
Remember I am a Painless Dentist.
PRICES REASONABLE.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
Extracting Teeth is only fun with my method.

DOELLER'S
Catarrh and Croup Cure
—IT RELIEVES—
Croup,
Grippe Cold,
Dry Catarrh,
Cold in the Head,
Catarrhal Headache,
Chronic Nasal Catarrh
Sore Throat,
Bronchitis,
Chapped Hands,
Dry Hacking Cough,
Pimples and Black Heads,
Throat and Lung Troubles.
Sent prepaid on receipt of price in coin or stamps. 25c each or five packages for $1.
Our Guarantee: Money Refunded if You are not Benefitted.
MANUFACTURED ONLY BY
J. W. HOWE & SON,
No. 30 High Street,
HAMILTON, OHIO.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.
AT UNION 1st MONDAY in each month.

Farm for Sale.

145 acres near Woolper creek in Boone county, Ky., now the property of Eneas Barrois, of Lawrenceburg, Ind. This farm has a large tobacco barn, large stable, two story frame house of 8 rooms, good cistern and well at house; large apple orchard and all other fruits. All this property is in first-class condition. For further information apply to B. B. Grant, who is now on the place, or to D. M. Snyder, Burlington, Ky.

DR. FENNER'S
KIDNEY and Backache CURE
All diseases of Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs. Also Rheumatism, Backache, Heart Disease, Gravel, Dropsy, Female Troubles.
Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write Dr. Fenner. He has spent a life time curing just such cases as yours. All consultations Free.
"A gravel lodged in my bladder. After using a few bottles of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure I passed a gravel half as large as a marble. The medicine prevented further formations. I was cured.
W. T. OAKES, Orrix, Va."
Druggists, 50c., $1. Ask for Cook Book—Free.
ST. VITUS' DANCE Sure Cure. Circular. Dr. J. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.
For sale by Aylor & Hafer, Hebron
Take the Recorder.

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections. Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D. Rouse's Store.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
N. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029. Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed [illegible]cally.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1856.)
CAPITAL,.....$30,000
Surplus and undivided profits 80,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in.....$50,000
Surplus,.....$8.000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.
Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V-Pres., Gunpowder, "
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy.,
R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
R. B. Huey, Agent, - Walton, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, "
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

FARM FOR SALE.

The A. P. Collins Farm Near Richwood, Ky.

Fine blue grass farm in Boone county, Ky., containing about 105 acres; good 6 room house and porches, barn, all kinds of out-buildings, good fencing, well watered with springs, wells, cistern and pond. A private avenue runs to the Lexington pike. The house is about 5 minutes walk to Richwood Station C. N. & T. P. R. R Commuter rates to the city, 7½c a trip with four trains daily. Telegraph, telephone, express and post office—four daily mails.

Also, 105 acres, the H. O. Rouse farm on the Union and Florence 'pike; good house of 7 roms and all necessary outbuildings; well watered and land mostly in grass Apply to
W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXX. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15, 1905. NO. 22

County Correspondence.

WATERLOO.

Carl Kelly and family will move to Indiana, shortly.

Hubert White is going into the poultry business this year.

Jesse Kelly, of Aurora, was visiting his daughter, near here, recently.

William Rector delivered his tobacco to H. D. Brady at 7½ and 10c per lb.

Will Woods will work for William Clore, near Locust Grove this summer.

Wm. White sold a good work horse to Sam McConnell, of East Bend, a few days since.

Forest and Thurston Rice were sojourning in the Big Bone neighborhood a few days recently.

Asa Delph delivered his crop of tobacco to H. D. Brady, having 7415 pounds, this does pretty well for one little man.

Tom Stephens killed a dog a few days ago that was supposed to have hydrophobia. It bit several other dogs in this neighborhood and attacked everybody who happened to be in its way.

o o o

RABBIT HASH.

Mrs. Jas. A. Wilson has been poorly. Glad to report Dr. L. Platt improving.

Truman Riggs does not improve very fast.

Benjamin Merrick's entire family has been sick.

L. L. Stephens has had a telephone put in his house.

Jim Hager will work this summer for Lewis Stephens.

The heirs of the late Jas. A. Wilson have divided their father's estate.

The Grangers had an entertainment at the K. of P. Hall, Saturday night.

Robt. Wilson and wife, and Nannie Scott were visiting at Ben Stephen's, last Tuesday.

Cad Wilson, of Illinois, has been spending the last few weeks with his uncles at this place.

One night not long since, our local coon hunter, Hubert Brady, accompanied by Cad Wilson, went on a coon hunting expedition and captured four very large coons.

o o o

COMMISSARY.

March 11.—Every man knows how different he would act if he were some other man.

James Moreland was a guest of Richard Louden last Sunday night.

Mrs. Rebecca Louden spent last Sunday with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rose Louden.

Gilly Weisickle changed his mind and did not purchase the Birkle property as stated last week.

Commissary spent last Saturday evening with Alfred Cason and took his order for the Cincinnati Daily Post.

Mrs. Sarah White, of the vicinity of Hathaway, sister of W. T. Ryle, spent Sunday and Monday with him and his family.

Those who heard him, say that Bro. Riley preached a most excellent sermon at the morning service at the Bellevue Christian church, last Sunday.

We can make room on the Commissary Merrygoround for two more boxes. Will order a box and put it up for any of our neighbors that wishes to be in the ring.

Clarence, your intimating that W. T. sent Stroller those valentines does not lead him to believe that he did. Stroller is not as easily thrown off the trail as the Bellevue fox hounds.

John Smith, the hustling tobacco buyer of McVille, bette rknown as Pep or Pepper, bought Joe West's crop last week at 9½ cents around. Weight, 5,280 pounds, amount of sale, $501 60.

Mr. Irvin Johnson and Mrs. Mamie Murray, of Holden, Mo., son and daughter of Mrs. Mary Johnson, arrived at Mr. Lillard's Tuesday, and Wednesday Joseph Johnson, another son arrived.

Charles Slayback, of near Erlanger, came down last Saturday and joined his wife, who had been visiting relatives here for several days. They spent Saturday night with Mrs. Slayback's father and mother and on Sunday returned home.

One of our young married ladies, with her first baby, said to her husband. "I wish you could see Mrs. Lou Kelly's baby. It's perfectly lovely. Such a delicate, sweet little creature as it is. It's a perfect cherub, with the loveliest eyes, the sweetest little mouth, the cunningest little nose, and eyes of heavenly blue. It looks as if it had just dropped from heaven and every tiny feature has been fashioned by the angels." Husband—"Is it as nice as our baby." Wife—"Mercy, no, indeed." Their baby must have been a peach.

Mrs. Mary Johnson received a short time since, an express package from California, containing among other things a calendar mounted on a portion of a redwood shingle. The side of the shingle on which the calendar was placed was burnished; the other was left in its natural state. The shingle was taken from the cupola of a church, and sent Mrs. Johnson by Miss Minnie Thomas, an Indian girl. Mrs. Johnson says she has been in the church, and that every inch of lumber used in the construction of the building, even to the seats and pulpit, was made from the tree the shingles were made from. Mrs. Johnson has a paper that gives the dimensions of the tree, but had forgotten the exact dimensions, but it was probably 80 to 60 feet in circumference. Judge Lassing told of riding through a tree in a hack drawn by four horses. The tree was standing at a point where it was impossible to pass on either side and a road was tunneled through the tree. This may seem unreasonable, but it is true. We have been reading upon the subject and found accounts of much larger trees than the one the Judge mentioned—even found an account of this tree. We found an account of a tree that was hollow and so large that 16 horses could be conveniently stabled inside of it. Nature had made a door for entrance.

o o o

BELLEVIEW.

March 13.—Very little preparation made, as yet, towards cropping, the ground being in no condition to work.

Harve says that wedding is sure to be a go.

Miss Emma Fleek improves very slowly.

G. T. Rue shipped a nice bunch of porkers to the city, one night last week.

The telephone line from Petersburg to Bellevue will be completed in a few weeks.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. W. H. Pope, of Huntsville, is not improving rapidly.

Caddie Maurers and wife have gone to housekeeping in the latter's old home in Bellevue.

Miss Blanche Kelly came home last Friday after five weeks' stay in school at Aurora, and remained with her parents until Monday.

Mrs. Sallie Cutcheon, after several weeks' stay with her aunt, Miss Juila Dinsmore, left for her home in New York, last Saturday.

The Swan resumed her trips last Monday in the Aurora and Patriot trade. She came out of the ice gorge with slight damage.

Mrs. Nancy Adams has resigned as P. M., and E. E. Kelly has been appointed and will take charge of the office on the 1st of April.

Gilly Weisickle is getting a hustle on, and will start his plow and make tobacco beds this week. He has purchased a team, new harness and wagon.

Mrs. Corda Scott is visiting her brother, Will and sister, Miss Flo Arnold. We learn Ott and his wife will go to housekeeping in Petersburg shortly.

Kirb Cox, of Petersburg, was down Saturday in the interest of Wingate & Thompson, who have about 100,000 pounds of tobacco purchased here by Pepper Smith.

Quite a number attended the entertainment given in the I. O. O. F. hall here, Saturday night, by the young folk[illegible] of this [illegible] and Rabbit Hash. It was both instructive and entertaining.

Will the Gunpowder reporter please state the book, chapter and verse in the bible that tells us that Nahash was the mother of king David? [That was stated in an answer given two or three weeks ago.—ED.]

o o o

BUFFALO.

Joe Love had a tobacco stripping last Tuesday.

Mrs. Grace Clore has a very bad case of neuralgia.

Mrs R. R. Houston was on the sick list several days last week.

Mr. Clark Rouse went to Erlanger for a load of hay last Thursday.

Miss Emma Clements entertained with dinch Saturday afternoon.

C. M. Utz entertained Joe and Robt. Green last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rouse spent last Monday with Joe Huey and wife.

Mrs. Omer Adams spent last Monday afternoon with Mrs. Houston.

Chas. Abdon has moved to S. H. Marshall's farm down on Gunpowder.

Mr. and Mrs. Jullus Bristow made a business trip to the city, last Thursday.

Mrs. Daisy Presser and little daughter, of Hathaway, spent last Thursday with her mother.

Master Bryan and Goebel Aylor spent the past not long since with their old Buffalo friends.

Houston & Weaver pulled up stakes and moved to their farms, and N. L. Moore moved to Hathaway.

Mrs. E. G. Spooner has gone to the Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home at Louisville. She hated to leave the place of her childhood. Charity ought to begin at home, and her church and relatives and friends ought to take care of her, and make her comfortable in her old age.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment of these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the thirty years and more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used, we have yet to learn of a single case of a cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. It is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a drug gist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years, I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results. Sold by all druggists.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Aylor announce the marriage of their daughter Miss Willa to Jesse C. Jones Tuesday, March 21 at two o'clock p. m. at home 1905.

HATHAWAY.

March 13.—The sick are convalescing.

Wild ducks are plentiful on the creeks, it is said.

Gunpowder creek was high all day last Wednesday.

Last week furnished nice weather for stripping tobacco.

Lafe Presser lost an old horse and a yearling calf, recently.

Joe Weaver moved his goods and chattles to his farm, Thursday.

G. A. Ryle and wife Sundayed with their son, Ransom and wife, near here.

Clay White and family visited Ennis Nixon, of Gasburg, last Friday and Saturday.

Robert Houston moved from here to his farm in the Gunpowder neighborhood, last Friday.

Mrs. Fannie McNeely spent last Friday very pleasantly with Mrs. Madison Ryle, of Beech Grove.

Cage Stephens, of Woolper, moved last Thursday to the place he purchased of S. H. Marshall, on Gunpowder.

Wade Ryle, of this place, was the first fisherman in this neck o' woods to cast his hook and line for the finny tribe, last Friday.

N. L. Moore has moved into the house vacated by Mr. Houston, and will run the drygoods store at this place, luck to him.

W. S. White and wife, J. C. White and family and George and William White, of Flickertown, spent Sunday at Clay White's at this place.

o o o

WALTON.

Honor Roll of Walton Graded school 6th month:

1st Grade—Marie Menefee, Blanche Jones.

2nd Grade—Alice Carpenter, Etta Carroll, Fleming Fields, Harry May bugh, Clayton Roberts, Allee Houston, Zula Mayhugh, Mary Hance, Viola Fornash.

3rd Grade—Agnes Haley, Erroll Jones, Nannie Griffith, Isabel Tompkins, Ethel McKibben, Clifford Laws, Iuez Stephenson, John Conrad, Will Hance.

4th Grade—Hoard Johnson, Mary Ransler, Bessie Houston, Holton Craig, Scena Byland, Bay Hicks, Lambert Rouse, Harley Baker, Lena Bolington.

5th Grade—Edna Watson, Robert Lassing, Mary Graham, Eunice Sullivan, Edith Fields, Jessie Cleek.

6th Grade—Anna Haley, Hallie Carroll.

7th Grade—Howard Huey, Pearl Stephenson, Lewis Sullivan, Harry Plumkett.

8th Grade—Clifford Brown, Robert [illegible], Harry Dahling, Robert Coffman.

Freshman—Earl Robinson, Lucy Hearne, Maude Hume, Mary West, Mamie Haley.

Sophomore—Robert Craig, Charles Dendy.

Junior—Zella Mayhugh, Estelle Huey, Lucile Hind, Ella Haley, Gladys Wilson.

Senior—Nannie Chambers, Hattie Taylor, Charles Jones.

o o o

UNION.

Joe Weaver has moved back to this place.

W. M. Rachal has been quite sick the past week.

Miss Marietta Riley is at home from the city for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Bristow and family spent Sunday in Erlanger.

Miss Rachel Wilson spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Elva Utz.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Rice are contemplating moving back to the city.

There will be a meeting of Golden Grange, Thursday afternoon, the 23d.

Mrs. James Gaison returned, Sunday, from a week's visit with her daughter in Covington.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid and Mission Society meets with Mrs. J. A. Huey, Thursday, March 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hedges entertained the young people with a delightful dinch party, Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Wilson have returned from a visit of several weeks with Mrs. Jones, of Bank Lick.

Several of the ladies of the Presbyterian Society spent a very pleasant day with Mrs. J. W. Williams, Wednesday.

Miss Therese Lassing has returned home after several months' stay in the city, and is now boarding at the Eagle Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Clegg and children, and Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, of Beaver, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Utz.

o o o

RICHWOOD.

Mrs. A. E. Hughes lost a very fine cow, Sunday night.

Eli Carpenter will move Wednesday, to the Lampton place.

Wm Clark, of Ludlow, was visiting friends here, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cove Carpenter spent Sunday with his sister.

Miss Angie Odenwald spent Monday with Mrs. G. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dobbins spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Powers.

Alfred Tanner, of Norwood, O., was visiting M. Grubbs and family, last Sunday.

We regret to hear that the Odenwald family are going to move to Ludlow, which they will do as soon as they pro cure a house.

The Colonel's Waterloo.

Colonel John M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo, from Liver and Kidney trouble. In a recent letter, he says: "I was nearly dead, of these complaints, and although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold and guaranteed to cure, Dyspepsia, Billousness and Kidney Disease, by all druggists at 50c a bottle.

BEECH GROVE.

We have muddy roads.

Miss Etna McAtee's school closed last Thursday.

Sorry to say that Mrs. Sallie Smith improves very slowly.

Mrs. Susie Stephens has been on the sick list for several days.

Mrs. Bertie Smith has been on the sick list for several days.

Mrs. Sallie Williamson has been on the sick list for several days.

Bud Rector sold a horse to Sam McConnell, of East Bend, for $125.

Walter Rector and French Stephens had a tobacco stripping recently.

Lawrence Pope had the misfortune to lose one of his horses recently.

We are glad to say Mrs. Ed Hensley, of Locust Grove, has about recovered.

Mose Pope and wife have gone to housekeeping with Billy Phillips on Gunpowder.

Tommie Stephens sold and delivered his crop of tobacco to Pep Smith, of McVille, for 8 cents around.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

March 13.—Virginia, daughter of R. C. Gaines, is improving but is quite sick yet.

Mr. Thomas Whitaker has been sick of a cold.

Hubert Grant and wife visited her parents, last week.

Miss Zayda Gaines spent today with friends in Petersburg.

James Houston, of Bullittsville, has gone south to play ball this season.

Menter Graves, of Ludlow, one of our old citizens, is here among his old associates.

Mrs. Lizzie Kreylich and daughter were guests of Mrs. H. C. Duncan, last Wednesday.

Winston Gaines and Dr. Hays went to Petersburg, last Friday to assist the ladies to eat their oyster [illegible].

Messrs Clutterbuck and wives, of Burlington, were guests of Mrs. Fletcher Clore, near here, last Sunday.

Query:—What county seat in Kentucky has the christian name of a lady, and for whom was it named?

All our farmers are done with the 1904 crop of tobacco, and some are burning plant beds for the 1905 crop.

Milton Souther chased a red fox into a log, a few days ago, after which he set a steel trap and caught the fox as it came out.

Simeon Terrill, until recently of Chilicothe, Missouri, has moved to a farm about six miles back of Lawrenceburg, Indiana.

Wm. McMurry, of North Bend, has moved to the Younger Johnson farm near Plattsburg, and will help Doc Grant farm this year.

C. E. Stephens and wife visited Mrs. Stephen's parents, at this place, last Sunday. Milton Souther and wife were also guests at Mr. Winston's that day.

On the 8th Lent began and the time of sacrifice for forty days, both of meat and pleasure will be in order for the Catholics, and eggs will be in demand until Easter, which is April 23d.

A man from Bracken county was moving to Indiana, last week, and not being able to get across the river at Aurora or Lawrenceburg, he had to go back to Cincinnati to get across.

Maple sap is running freely today, and if the Editor is fond of the syrup, no doubt some friend will soon send him some to sample.—[Fond of it! he is for shure, and, besides, he is an expert at sampler, and will keep up, no matter how fast, nor how many, samples are sent.—ED.]

Miss Mary Early requests the lady members of Bullittsburg church and all other lady frends to meet with us at her home at 2 p. m., March 25th, for the purpose of organizing a Mission Society. The subject to be discussed at that meeting is, "The strangers within our gates; or, what we as Southern Baptists are doing to carry the Gospel to the foreign population in our land?"

Although the weather was very gloomy last Thursday afternoon, about 23 ladies met at Rev. Early's, bringing with them such articles as potatoes, hams, lard, soap, chickens, butter, eggs, nearly 100 jars of fruit, jellies, preserves and tomatoes. The variety was extensive. Only four of our brethren were present, among them two loyal members of the church at Burlington, Bros. J. C. Revill and D. E. Castleman. After a social time Rev. Early gave a very appropriate talk on the bond of fellowship between pastor and church, and expressed the gratitude of him and his wife for the many useful gifts. Bro. Castleman read the 103d Psalm, and Bro. Revill invoked God's blessings. It was an occasion that will be long remembered, and was very similar to the housewarming given our beloved pastor, Rev. J. L. Sproles several years ago this month.

o o o

BIG BONE.

John Lockhardt will move to the Charles Slater homestead.

M. E. Hance bought his tenants' tobacco at 8c, 7c and 6½c per pound.

J. J. Smith will move to his farm in Gallatin. Boone will lose a good citizen.

J. D. Moore is going to cultivate his land this year. He has bought him a blooded horse.

L. L. Childress, who handles Rockefeller's coin for him in this section, replenished the several oil tanks at this place, last Friday.

Tom Black was out trying to dispose of his mother's property. They will move out to W. L. Baker's farm as soon as he moves to the Rice farm.

Mr. Editor, will the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company of this county pay insurance on a building that burns when it is vacant?—[It will if the building is insured in that company.—ED.]

T. J. Hughes, our telephone manager, has made arrangements with the Boone County Company, whereby his patrons can talk over their line free of cost, which is a great convenience to this end of the county. Jake is a hustler, and aims to give his patrons all he can, leaving a small profit for himself.

HAMILTON.

March 13.—The river is rising rapidly.

George Huff, of [illegible] place, is on the sick list.

The Swan made her first trip Saturday morning.

Thos. Huff, one of our prominent merchants, was in the city last Monday purchasing dry goods and groceries.

Misses Carrie and Lulie Huff, Mrs. Cynthia Wilson and Mrs. Eliza Markebery, took a very pleasant boat ride Sunday afternoon.

It is said that Mr. Whorton, of Cleves, Ohio, will occupy the house below Hamilton, belonging to Mr. Blufe Adams, of Burlington.

Miss Rose Adams, who has been on the sick list several weeks and had to postpone her school, will begin teaching again Monday and finish the term.

Henry Feltman, Jr., one of Cincinnati's largest tobacco dealers, made a flying trip through our town last Saturday, and took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Markesbery.

George Kite who suffered for several weeks with typhoid fever, passed to his reward on the 9th. In his death we lose a good neighbor and citizen. He was a kind father and a loving husband. He leaves a wife and three small children. His funeral was conducted by Rev. Wilson, last Friday, at Hughes Chapel, in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing friends, after which the remains were interred in the Beaver cemetery. The family has the sympathy of all in its sad bereavement.

o o o

FLORENCE.

Miss Bridget Casey is suffering with pneumonia.

Mrs. Joe Skirvin is slowly improving from an attack of grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Demoisey, of Madisonville, spent Sunday with relatives here.

Wallace Tanner and wife, of Limaburg, spent Sunday with Mrs. Emma Rouse.

John Dulaney had for his guests Sunday, Harry and Charles Stephens, of Erlanger.

Miss Lena Tanner is spending a week with her cousin John William Powers, of Verona.

Frank Bauers bought the land of Jim Carpenter, on the Lexington pike, and will move into it shortly.

The remains of Mrs. Ned Goloway were taken from the Hopeful vault and buried in the cemetery at that place, Sunday.

Miss Jesse Hampton entertained a number of her friends Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Marguerite Smith, of Chicago. The [illegible] were spent in games, after which delightful refreshments were served. Those present were Ruby Corbin, Virginia Buckner, Edith Carpenter, Maggie Goloway, Marguerite and Elizabeth Fiske, Agnes Carroll, Osie Castleman, Lucille Berkshire and Marguerite Smith.

o o o

MIDWAY.

John Delahaunty and wife, of Union, were visiting Mrs. D's father, Saturday night and Sunday.

The renters' grand change took place here last week. Each one seemed anxious to get to his new home.

Mrs. B B. Hume and Mrs. Jas. W. Cleek, of Walton, were visiting at Big Bone Springs, last Thursday.

Howe Cleek has moved to his farm recently purchased of Hugh Roberts in the Salem church neighborhood.

Mrs. Childers passed through here Friday enroute to Hamilton in charge of one of John D's big oil wagons.

The prospect for small grain was never worse in this neighborhood at this time of year, than at present.

The strike that has been on so long has at last been broken, and the rural matron can be seen once more in the evening with her apron full of eggs.

Regular services at the Beaver Christian church last Sunday morning were deferred on account of the burial of Mrs. William Whitson, which took place at the Hance burying grouud near South Fork at 12 o'clock.

The sacred concert to be given at Hughes Chapel for the benefit of the church under the direction of Prof. A. Limburg promises to be one of the most popular musical events of the season. The largest house is being taken and if weather conditions are favorable a full house is expected. Remember the date, March 18th, 7:15 p. m. General admission, 15 cents; reserve seats, 25c. Seats can be engaged over the 'phone from Miss Kate Green, who presides at the T. J. Hughes exchange parlor.

The remains of George Kite, who died at his home near Hamilton, last Thursday morning, were brought to Hughes Chapel Friday at noon, and after an appropriate sermon by Rev. Wilson, were laid to rest in the Chapel cemetery. He was a son of Oliver and Mary Kite, of Gallatin county, but formerly of this county, neither of whom was able to be at his bed side during his sickness or attend his funeral. He was a son-in-law of Paris Stone, who was buried at Bethel Church, last week. He leaves a wife and three small children, who have the sympathy of many friends.

o o o

LIMABURG.

Tanner Garnett, who has been very sick, is better.

Ed. L. Aylor is improving, but is not able to be out.

Mrs. Delila Utz is on the sick list with the grippe.

Born, to James Waters and wife, last week, a boy.

Mrs. Israel Rouse and Miss Annie Crigler spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. William Garnett.

Miss Flora Youell will commence teaching the spring term of school here Monday, March 20th.

Misses Ora Delph and Lena Davis were pleasant guests of Misses Esele and Sadie Beemon, Saturday night and Sunday.

ERLANGER.

Mrs. Geo. J. Schoepfel was visiting friends in the city, last week.

Charles Hilker has returned to the city after a pleasant stay with friends here.

Mrs. Robert Rice, of Florence, was the guest of Mrs. Jeff Stevens last Sunday.

Rev. J. E. Jaster, and Mr. Eugene Sayers and daughter, Miss Prudence were guests of Mrs. Ballard, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard Buckner and daughters, Misses Lucy and Sophia, of Carroll Parish, La., are guests of their sisters, the Misses Buckner on Commonwealth avenue.

Mrs. K. Berkeling, the venerable mother of Mrs. Mathew Huerkamp, died at her home in Cincinnati last Friday. Mrs. Berkeling had many friends here, who regret to learn of her death.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

Mch. 13—Woodsawings are the order of the day.

Pony House is still in a very critical condition.

Some lambs have been sold, the price being about $4.

B. F. Utz and wife were guests at B. C. Surface's, last Sunday.

We welcome Bob Houston and wife back to this neighborhood.

Allie Conner is buying considerable timber for a Cincinnati firm.

Considerable metal is being put on the Florence and Union pike.

Mrs. W. N. Surface has about recovered from several days' serions illness.

Miss Blanch Northcutt's school at Pleasant Valley, closed Wednesday.

Perry Aylor and J. H. Corbiu came out of their winter quarters last week.

No plowing has been done in this neighborhood, and some of the farmers are getting a little anxious.

After spending the winter in this neighborhood, Wm. Emerson, left for his home in Chicago, Monday.

Mrs. J. H. Tanuer, who has been suffering with rheumatism for several weeks, has not improved any since our last report.

While waiting at Ludlow, one day last week, we called at the hospitable home of C. T. Davis and, wife, and it being near the noon hour, we enjoyed a bountiful dinner that was tastefully prepared by Mrs. Davis. We found Chester a very busy man at the bank. We also met Mike Clore and Jeff Snyder, the polite druggists, who were at their post and have their share in that line of business.

o o o

BULLITTSVILLE.

Mch. 13.—We are having unusually fine weather for March.

H. J. Casey and wife have gone to housekeeping in Covington.

Lee Masters and son spent Sunday with relatives and friends on Garrison.

Mrs. Robert Day visited relatives on Woolper and Middle creek, last week.

Mrs. Herbert Grant, spent several days last week with her parents here.

Six wagons went from this neighborhood to mill at Petersburg, last Friday.

J. L. Riley has received considerable tobacco, and is prizing and shipping it as fast as he can.

Lester Jones spent last Saturday and Sunday with his father and sisters at St. Joes, Ohio.

William Bowman will move, this week, from the mouth of Garrison to T. G. Willis' farm.

Rev. Early and wife went to Petersburg, Sunday, where he will hold a meeting this week.

Rev. Haskins preached an excellent sermon to a large and attentive congregation, last Sunday.

Willie Gray killed five wild ducks at one shot, last Thursday—[That's shootin'em old Gun—ED.]

Will Jones has 35 ewes that have 51 lambs, which is considerably above the average in the neighborhood.

Scott Wingate passed here Saturday with his household goods enroute to the Johnson farm near Flickertown.

James Houston will leave Tuesday for the sunny south to begin practice. He has signed for the season with the Macon, Georgia, nail team.

Jos. Bickle has rented Allie Corn's shop, and will move here and open a blacksmith and repair shop as soon as Charles Robinsou and family vacate the house they occupy.

W. L. Aylor has purchased C. S. Baisly's store and stock of goods, and will take charge the first of April. He will have a line of stock and farming implements on the 29th inst.

o o o

RABBIT HASH.

March 13.—Asa Delph moved to Indiana, today, to work on Hugh French's farm.

According to our Bible we think Nahash was a man.

Kate and Lutie Stephens are visiting their sister, Mrs. Alice Aylor, near Aurora.

Henry Clore and Noah West delivered a crop of nearly 10,000 pounds of tobacco last week.

J. H. Walton and tenants delivered a tobacco crop of 20,000 pounds to H. D. Brady, last week.

Query—What are the real names of the following authors: M. Quad, Mark Twain, Bill Arp and Josh Billings?

Messrs. Kennedy and Hughes, we suggest that you [illegible] tobacco growers of this county to meet at Burlington and discuss plans for an organization for the [illegible] [illegible] all tobacco growers and buyers support the move.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured.

William Shaffer, a brakeman of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," "Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." For sale by all druggists.

FOR CONSIDERATION BY THE THOUGHTFUL.

A Tribute to Weather Conditions in Western Canada.

During the early portion of February, of this year, the Middle and Western States suffered severely with the intense cold and winter's storms. Trains were delayed, cattle suffered, and there was much general hardship. While this was the case, throughout Western Canada, now attracting so much attention, the weather was perfect.

One correspondent writes: "We are enjoying most beautiful weather, the gentlemen are going to church without top coats, while the ladies require no heavier outer clothing than that afforded by light jackets." In contrast with this it is interesting to read in a St. Paul paper of February 13 the following, in double headlines, and large bold-faced type:

"Warm Wave Near Arctic Zone,

"Calgary Much Warmer Than St. Paul

"Balmy Breezes are Blowing in Northwestern Canada while people are freezing to death in Texas and other Southern States."

Warm in Canada;

Freezing in Texas.

St. Paul	24
Omaha	16
St. Joseph	16
Fort Worth, Tex	Zero
Burlington	7
Moorhead	10
Duluth	6
Havre, Mont	18
Williston, N. D	11
Miles City, Mont	4
Medicine Hat, Can	Zero
Calgary, Can	24
Edmonton, Can	20
Leadville, Col	32

During the month of January of this year the number of settlers who went to Canada was greater than any previous January. The movement northward is increasing wonderfully.

The vacant lands of Western Canada are rapidly filling with an excellent class of people. The Government Agents located at different points in the States, whose duty it is to direct settlers, are busier than ever. They have arranged for special excursions during the months of March and April, and will be pleased to give intending settlers any desired information.

Elastic Currency.

When Columbus reached the island of Hayti on his second voyage he observed that the natives used crude rubber as a medium of exchange.

"These people," he wrote in his diary, "are so highly civilized that they possess an elastic currency."

Which was when we began listening to the financiers of effete Europe.—Chicago Journal.

Big Packers Exonerated by Garfield.

The report of Commissioner Garfield on the methods under which the business of the so-called beef trust is conducted has been published and a closely printed book of over 300 pages is the result of the examination to which that industry has been subjected. The report is very full and complete, every phase of the business having been investigated with the utmost care and thoroughness, as is shown by exhaustive tables of figures, with authentic-trated facts and statistical data covering almost every detail of the business.

After a careful reading of this report it is impossible to arrive at any other conclusion than that for some time past there has been a great deal said and written about this great industry that has had no foundation in fact. It would appear that a popular clamor has resulted from newspaper comment and the passage of many resolutions by those who, as plainly shown by the report, were without any definite information. This report the result of an inquiry in compliance with a congressional demand upon the secretary of commerce and labor, is so complete and detailed that, as a whole, it will not of course be read by the public at large, but the facts and figures authenticated by government expert examiners, which it contains, show with indisputable certainty that the hue and cry raised during the past year against the packers has been at least unreasonable and much of it, indeed, has been hysterical.

These officially ascertained facts are a surprise to very many who have been impressed by the denunciatory language they have read and heard for some time past, for they now find that, instead of the great profits said to be made by western packers, the business is being conducted upon a smaller margin of profit than prevailing in any other industry. Commissioner Garfield himself says: "The year 1902, instead of being one of exorbitant profits, as has been commonly supposed, was less profitable than usual," and this will be remembered as the year when the highest prices ruled and the packers were being everywhere accused of extortionate methods. Regarding this very year when the complaints of injustice were the loudest and the most unanimous, the commissioner says: "In fact during the months when the prices of beef were the highest, some, at least, of the leading packers were actually losing money on every head of cattle slaughtered" for the reason, he continues, "it was not possible to advance the prices of beef in full proportion to the great advance in the prices of cattle at that time."

The report also shows that the public belief that enormous profits are usually characteristic of the beef business is entirely erroneous, as it proves, after full investigation, that the maximum net return on the several investments was two and three-tenths per cent. and the minimum one and eight-tenths per cent.

The report is made up in detailed and extensive to attempt any thorough review, but it clearly demonstrates that there has been a great deal of unnecessary alarm on the part of the public as to the meat situation and a good deal of loose denunciation of packers about whose methods and business there has been little or no real information. The conclusions of Commissioner Garfield are all the more valuable as the investigation was by no means commenced in anything like a friendly or partial spirit and that it has been full and complete is shown when he says: "All the statistics taken from the books of the companies were checked in the most thorough manner. Totals selected at random were verified by the items. Many typical bunches of cattle have been traced from the time of purchase to the time of sale as dressed beef, thus obtaining accurate information from original records of costs, of actual selling prices and of ultimate profits. In many cases the statements of cattle purchased by the companies were compared with accounts of the commission houses through whom the cattle were sold. The various checks thus employed insure the absolute accuracy of the figures."

NIMROD THE MIGHTY ONE

OUR SERMON STORY by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher

(A Vision Between the Lines of God's Inspired Word.)

(Copyright, 1903, by J. M. Edson.)

Scripture Authority:—"And Cush begat Nimrod: he began to be a mighty one in the earth. He was a mighty hunter before the Lord: Wherefore it is said: Even as Nimrod the mighty hunter before the Lord. And the beginning of his kingdom was Babel, and Erech and Accad, and Calneh, in the land of Shinar. Out of that land he went out into Assyria and builded Nineveh, and the city of Rehoboth, and Calah, and Resin, between Nineveh and Calah: the same is a great city. . . . Unto Shem also, the father of all the children of Eber, the brother of Japheth the elder, even to him were children born. . . . And unto Eber were born two sons; the name of one was Peleg; for in his days was the earth divided; and his brother's name was Joktan."—Gen. 10:8-12, 21, 25.

RUE piety and unswerving devotion to God are always an enigma to the ungodly. Conscious of an element in the character and life of the one who is under Divine leadership and control, which is not understood, and is superior to human influence or dictation, the man who knows not and cares not for God is not only puzzled, but is exasperated thereby. There is nothing which is so disconcerting and tantalizing to the one given to evil thoughts and purposes and wholly worldly ambitions as to see the inner calm of the godly and their unwavering obedience to a higher spiritual power.

It was for this reason that the mighty Nimrod, the fearless hunter, the powerful ruler, the intrepid leader, the all-conquering warrior, was troubled in spirit. Never before had he met an issue that would not yield to his unbending will and his fierce spirit; never before had he been so baffled and defeated in his plans and purposes; never before since he was a youth and had domineered with a high hand over his associates had he found one he could not mold to his will and control to the carrying out of his purposes, until he had met the man Eber.

People all through the country counted him as a prophet of God, and wide and deep and strong was his influence. With no apparent effort, leadership, with no evident ambitions for wealth or power, with no desires present ruling his life but those of unselfish devotion to his fellow men he exercised a control over the affairs of men, and possessed a power of which any potentate of ancient or modern times might well be proud. But his power and influence were not of that character which molded kingdoms and organized armies and directed mighty energies of human skill and industry, but were rather of that spiritual character which permeated the deeper currents of human life and directed their flow and determined their ultimate destiny as the will of God was wrought out in the affairs of men. Such was the man Eber.

In a cool retreat by the riverside, under the giant palms that spread their canopy of great leaves and sheltered from the hot rays of the sun, a group of men were gathered. Like a low rumble of thunder came the voice of the leader as he angrily exclaimed between his clenched teeth:

"I swear by the waters of this great Euphrates, whose flow no power can check, that I will no longer be thwarted! This night this trusty spear which has never failed me yet shall drink the blood of Eber. These bands shall wring from him the last faint gasp of his dying breath. These eyes shall gloat over the fall of the one man in all the earth who has dared to defy my will and thwart my plans."

All power and wealth and honor from human standpoint were his, the earth was subdued before him, and yet he was not satisfied. There was one man he had not conquered, there was one purpose which had been foiled. The man Eber would not swerve a hair's breadth from his allegiance to his God, or from following what he, Eber, called the revelation of God to him. As a prophet of the Lord he had dared to cry out against Nimrod's godless and fierce rule, and had prophesied his destruction. And now had come the latest offense, that of declaring a division of the earth according to a revelation from God and which was in entire contravention of Nimrod's plans; and such was the influence of Eber over a large part of the people that powerful as he, Nimrod, was he could not overcome it.

Time and time again had Nimrod planned Eber's destruction, and as often had the latter miraculously escaped him. His secret messengers sent to take him had always suffered the humiliation and disappointment of having their quarry slip through their grasp. On one occasion they had entered the house where Eber was stopping and were binding the prophet with fetters to bear him back to their chief when some unseen power palsied their arms and sundered the fetters and they had helplessly watched the prophet depart and disappear. This incident had increased the influence of Eber, and had intensified Nimrod's hatred and dread of him. It was not long after this that Eber had received the revelation from God in reference to the division of the land among the people of the earth, and that Nimrod should not much longer oppress the earth. When Nimrod heard thereof, he was mad with rage, and resolved that he himself would pursue Eber, even to the ends of the earth, and would take his life. And this purpose explains the presence of the band of men under the palm trees by the banks of the Euphrates.

Spies sent out during the night had returned bearing tidings of the whereabouts of the prophet and declaring that they were able to lead Nimrod thither. They assured their leader that his presence was not known, for the only one whom they had met on the journey had been pierced by their spears and left dying by the roadside. Dead men reveal no secrets! There would be no difficulty in taking Eber completely by surprise. But they had also brought the disconcerting news that the latest orders which Nimrod had given in reference to the taxing of the land and the transportation of certain tribes to a distant province and the giving of the land to some of his favored followers had not been obeyed. The people were all excitedly discussing the latest message of Eber, and felt that it was a message from God. Hence the sudden burst of rage of Nimrod and his fierce avowal which fairly made his followers quake.

Plans were quickly laid, and the body of men were soon moving rapidly forward.

In the hamlet towards which they were journeying, Eber, all unconscious of the proximity of his deadly foe, was sitting peacefully conferring with a group of earnest men who had sent for him that they might learn more fully in regard to the latest revelation. The conference ended, Eber arose to go.

"And do you not fear the wrath of the mighty Nimrod?" asked one of the group.

"Nay, why should I when I am in God's hands?" quietly replied Eber. "God's plans never miscarry, His words never fail!"

So saying he bade the friends goodby, and started along the pathway which led off in the direction from which Nimrod and his men were coming. Little did he dream that every step which he took brought him nearer the clutches of Nimrod. Little did the friends whom he had just left behind realize the peril into which he was plunging.

Onward moves the prophet, and nearer and nearer draw Nimrod and his men. Were it not for the heavy foliage on either hand and the winding pathway, they would be in full view of each other, now. The sound of the approaching footsteps catches the prophet's ear, and he pauses to listen. But that instant off to one side he hear, a low, faint moan.

Following the direction of the sound he plunged eagerly into the dense shrubbery, for no cry of distress ever came to his ear but found him anxious and ready to help. There on the ground before him he saw by the dim light which crept in an uncertain and flickering way through the interlacings of the thick foliage, the form of a man. Stooping over him and being absorbed completely in the task of reviving the man if possible, he did not note the passage of footsteps along the pathway. He could detect no heartbeats. The man was dead. It must have been his last expiring moan which he had heard. He opened his garments and found the cruel wounds made by the spears. Murder had been done, he thought, by robbers and he would hurry back to the village and summon help.

Ah, had the dead man only been able to speak, how he might have warned him! But, all unconscious of danger, Eber hurried back in the direction from which he had but so recently come, and had not the eagerness of the band of men to capture the quarry which they thought awaited them given wings to their feet, he would have overtaken them.

As he drew near the village an unusual commotion smote on his ear. There were shouts and curses, groans and moans, and just as he reached the scene there was a terrible crash and part of the rude brick building fell, crushing those within. What did it all mean? Lying about on the ground he noticed several inert forms, and bending over the one nearest to him he discovered it was one of the friends to whom he had such a short time before said his farewells. As he turned him over and raised his head the wounded man opened his eyes.

An amazed and startled look sprang to his face, and he gasped between the paroxysms of pain;

"In the Lord's name, Eber, where did you come from?"

Then as he realized his friend's danger, he cried:

"Flee, Eber, flee! Nimrod and his men have come to take you. They will kill you! Leave me and escape!"

But with a sublime composure and perfect trust, Eber replied:

"My place is with those in need, and here I stay. But how came this to pass?"

And while Eber bent down his ear, his friend with his dying breath rehearsed the story of how, a short time after Eber had departed, Nimrod and his men had come to the house, and being enraged at the statement that Eber had gone, and doubting its truth, they had searched the premises and not finding him they had fallen upon them and pierced them with many wounds. Then, beside himself with rage, Nimrod with his men had again entered the house, believing that in some secret recess Eber lay hid. In the frenzy of the search the powerful Nimrod ripped and tore the building apart, and with a tremendous crash the walls had given way and crushed those within under the ruins.

Thus ended the life of Nimrod, while Eber, miraculously preserved through many a danger, lived long, and saw the family line established in Abraham, and rejoiced in the call to the father of the Hebrew race, and knew that in Abraham all the nations of the earth were to be blessed.

PARTIES WILL REALIGN.

Democracy Now Being Promoted by Bryan Will Be Well Recruited.

The Washington Post has an interesting article on the future of parties in which it expresses the belief that the democratic party now being promoted by Mr. Bryan will have a larger contingent of republicans in it than had the tri-partite combination that he led in 1896; this as indicated by the recent agreement of Roosevelt and Bryan on public policies. It continues:

"That Mr. Roosevelt will intentionally essay the role of wrecker of his party is impossible even of suspicion. That, without such intent, but with a firm purpose to strengthen his party by keeping it up to its duty as the ruling power of the nation, he may fail, and by his failure promote an exodus of the radical element, is not by any means impossible. President Cleveland's experience with the democracy is a suggestive lesson.

"But, regardless of what President Roosevelt may or may not do, we have no doubt that there will be something like a realignment of parties in 1908; that there will be a formidable organization of the radicals of all parties under the democratic name, and that the conservatives will rally under the republican standard. The magnitude of the inevitable republican defection will depend very much on how many and which of its mistakes and offenses the republican party continues to stand for or to stand pat on."

It ought to be added, says the Indianapolis News, that the number of new additions to the republican party in the realignment will also depend on the mistakes and the offenses for which the party shall continue to stand pat. If it still show itself the faithful guardian of privilege, stifles tariff reform and an advanced rate regulation and generally writes itself down as for the classes against the masses, its new recruits will be few.

STRONG SUPPORT FOR TAFT

Material in Connecticut Which Would Furnish Him with a Stirring Argument.

While Secretary Taft does valiant battle for the Filipinos before the ways and means committee of the house, 90,000 bushels of onions in the Connecticut valley stand ready to lend him their support, says the Chicago Post.

Mr. Taft asks that the Filipinos be permitted to send his tobacco into the United States through a breach representing about a quarter the height of the Dingley tariff wall. But the Connecticut farmer—who does a little tobacco growing himself—stands glowering behind the wall and says to the secretary: "Hands off!"

At this point the Connecticut onion advances to the fray and the farmer would be wise in listening to its arguments. Onions are now worth a dollar a bushel. This does not affect the Filipino, who knows little or nothing about onions, but it should appeal to the Connecticut farmer, because there is much more in onions at a dollar a bushel than in Connecticut tobacco at present prices.

Now, if Secretary Taft, even for a moment, can divert the attention of the farmer from the tariff on tobacco to the strenuous pleadings of the Connecticut onion, he may get a break in the wall large enough to admit a bale of Philippine tobacco before the farmer has got through wiping his eyes and depositing the proceeds of his bumper crop of the odoriferous vegetable.

Every now and then there is a touch of pathos in Secretary Taft's pleading for the Filipino; and, if he could get the Connecticut onion—at one dollar a bushel—before the committee for a few minutes, victory for the Filipino might be won amid tears of joy from the secretary and of necessity from the committee members.

Trusts Should Take Heed.

